Copter Crash Kills Iraqi President

President Abdel Salam Aref of Iraq, right, has been killed in a helicopter crash, Baghdad Radio announced today. The broadcast went on to say that Premier Abdel Rahman Bazzaz, left, will be acting president until a successor is named within a week. A sandstorm was blamed for the crash, near the Persian Gulf port of Basra. Aref was 45. (AP WIRE-PHOTO)

Iraqi Chief One Of Ten Copter Dead

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) - President Abdel Salam Aref of Iraq, who survived repeated violent political upheavals in the past eight years, was killed Wednesday night in the crash of his helicopter 20 minutes after taking off from a political rally near Basra, Baghdad Radio announced.

The Iraqi Radio said Interior Minister Maj. Gen. Abdel Latif Daraji and Industry Minister Mustafa Abdullah also were killed in the crash near the Persian Gulf port.

TEN PERISH Ten persons were aboard the helicopter, and all died in the crash, the radio said. Among them were the governor of Basra Province and the secretary-general of the presidential palace staff. All were burned beyond recognition except Aref.

Premier Abdel Rahman Bazzaz will be acting president until the Council of Ministers and the National Defense Council elect Aref's successor within a week, the broadcast said.

The councils are composed mostly of ranking army officers. Aref's brother, Gen. Abdel Rahman Aref, is chief of staff of the army and had been considered a possible successor to the presidency. The general is in Moscow as the head of a visiting military delegation.

Diplomatic observers in London said Aref's death seemed likely to set off furious political infighting, and perhaps worse, over the succession. Baghdad Radio said a curfew had been proclaimed from noon today until further notice. It asked the people "to be steadfast in the face of this national disaster."

Aref was 45. Since the military made him president in February, 1963, he had maintained a precarious dominance over his country's bitterly feuding political and religious factions.

A Pan-Arab group wants Iraq to unite with President Gamal Abdel Nasser's United Arab Republic while a rival nationalist faction is against giving poverty-stricken Egypt access to Iraq's huge oil revenue.

McNamara Consulted Less Often On Plans?

WASHINGTON (AP) - Once upon a time Robert Strange McNamara could seemingly walk onto the field, throw a few warmup passes and then massacre his opponent, any opponent, 68-0.

"But those days of the lopsided scores are over," says an old friend of his. The secretary of defense is no longer always on offense.

In Congress, where he has scarcely lost a battle, McNamara has, as one legislative aide put it, "lost his halo." And the public seems more critical of the man whom, rightly or wrongly, it expects to win or end a war that has, rightly or wrongly, been named for him.

McNamara has been secretary of defense longer than any other man. "In that job you use up your assets, then you begin to accumulate liabilities," said a former Pentagon executive. But if after five years it has seemed time to some to take shots at McNamara, it also is an appropriate time to take stock of him. Friend and foe agree almost unanimously he has been the Pentagon's best boss. The fact that the United States can fight at all in South Viet Nam without hocking the family jewels is testimony to the brilliance and foresight of his administration. The proof of the Pentagon is its ability to fight. That it is doing.

Ironically, however, it is undoubtedly the war in South Viet Nam that has put McNamara on a spot. He runs the Pentagon. The Pentagon runs the war. But he is also a major maker of Vietnamese policy second only to President Johnson. Therefore if South Viet Nam has become controversial, so inevitably has McNamara.

Business Not Always Loser On Guidelines

NEW YORK (AP) - The dramatic encounters in recent months over wage-price guidelines seemingly always have ended in victory for the administration and defeat - and price rollbacks - for business.

But is it so? In the immediate conflict business has been the loser. But there is evidence business learned quickly how to get its way while apparently observing the guidelines.

BURDEN ON BUYER

This has been done by mixing price cuts with price advances, by making increases small, by making no announcements of increases, by dealing with customers individually, by maintaining the old price list but putting more of the transportation burden on the buyer and by eliminating discounts.

In addition, an attempt at a price or wage increase, publicly announced, has a good chance of attracting no reprisal from Washington. The administration has been selective. Some increases get by.

Early in March, U.S. Steel Co. boosted prices on a big tonnage item, steel plate, by an average of $2.92 a ton. At the same time it cut prices on another product it said could be substituted.

U.S. Steel called the net result a "standoff." And Gardner Ackley, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, commented: "In the Council's judgment, relative price adjustments can contribute to economic efficiency when they take place within a framework of price stability."

But was it a standoff? Although the increase - decrease arrangement could confuse an electronic computer - U.S. Steel tossed away its price lists for some nails and a type of wire rod and decided to negotiate prices instead - some observers now feel the full impact was an increase. For one thing, the increase in the total price of steel caused by U.S. Steel's price rise seems to be of the same magnitude as would have been caused by Bethlehem Steel Co. abortive attempt to raise prices Jan. 1.

For another, the price decrease on sheet steel - which U.S. Steel hoped could be made without the purchase of costly new machinery by the buyer. Wages also have gone beyond the guidelines. The Labor Department said major 1965 wage increases averaged 3.9 per cent, the highest since the guidelines were established.

The Thunderchiefs spotted 12 trucks on Route 15 at the entrance to the bottled-up pass. At least four were destroyed, an Air Force spokesman said. He also said aerial photographs confirmed that the pass was completely blocked by landslides.

The mountain roadway links up with the Ho Chi Minh Trail in neighboring Laos, the major infiltration route to South Viet Nam.

In the south, Air Force and Navy jets set off three secondary explosions followed by 11 more blasts in 90 sorties against what appeared to be a Communist ammunition dump 65 miles northwest of Saigon.

CASUALTY LISTS For the first time in the war, the number of South Vietnamese troops killed in a week of fighting dropped below American battle deaths. This was considered a reflection of the diminished activity of government troops during the political crisis.

The U.S. military command announced that 95 Americans were killed, 501 wounded and four missing in action in the week of April 3-9 compared with 101 killed, 690 wounded and nine missing the week before.

The new casualty report increased American combat deaths to 2,505 and the number of Americans wounded to 15,228 since January, 1961.

SHARP DROP A Vietnamese spokesman said 67 government troops were killed and 204 missing last week compared with 155 killed and 26 missing the previous seven days. The government does not disclose its wounded figure.

Fierce Thunderstorms Sweep Southern States

By The Associated Press Severe thunderstorms, with heavy rain and hail in some areas, continued today across parts of Louisiana and Mississippi.

The storms swept a seven-state area Wednesday from Texas to the Carolinas.

Hail stones hammered Stoneham, La., south of Shreveport. Hail also pelted Shreveport and more than two inches of rain doused Baton Rouge, with more than one inch at New Orleans.

Much-needed rain splashed across the middle Atlantic region. Rain, and rain mixed with snow in some areas, fell in a belt northward from the Carolinas to New Jersey.

CHILLY WEATHER Chilly weather gripped the Great Lakes region with temperatures in the 30s and lower. The mercury during the early morning dropped to the 20s and teens in the northern Great Lakes.

Buddhists Victorious, Viet Election Pledged

U.S. Routing Cong From Rice Paddies

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) - Several thousand U.S. Marines opened a new search operation today in the rice paddies overlooking the South China Sea, while Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs caught a dozen trucks near the entrance to North Viet Nam's landside-clogged Mu Gia Pass.

The Leathernecks killed 14 Viet Cong, captured five and took 67 suspects in tow at the outset of a multibattalion search and destroy operation 23 miles south of Chu Lai. The area has been in Viet Cong hands for years.

SEIZE SUSPECTS Ten Marines stripped to the waist and moved with pistols and flashlights through a network of tunnels where they seized 15 Vietnamese suspected of being Viet Cong. Some pajama-clad fighters were seen fleeing the maze beneath the hamlet of An Hai a short time before.

The Air Force jets returned Wednesday to the strategic pass on the Laotian frontier, 230 miles south of Hanoi, where B52s dropped 1.4 million pounds of bombs on Tuesday in the first raid by the stratofortresses on North Viet Nam. Military sources in Washington said some of the big bombs were rigged with delayed-action devices to explode days later, thereby discouraging Communist road-clearing work.

RED TRUCKS The Thunderchiefs spotted 12 trucks on Route 15 at the entrance to the bottled-up pass. At least four were destroyed, an Air Force spokesman said. He also said aerial photographs confirmed that the pass was completely blocked by landslides.

Vote Decried For Civilian Government

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) - Thousands of jubilant Buddhist demonstrators marched peacefully through Saigon today in a victory celebration after the military regime decreed elections for a civilian government in three to five months.

A ranking Buddhist leader said the junta's formal pledge "satisfies our main demands."

The willingness of the Buddhist hierarchy to accept the election pledge may mean the survival of the U.S.-supported military government until the nationwide elections. On Sunday, the Buddhists had demanded the immediate resignation of the junta.

VICTORY MARCH When the Buddhist leaders received word of the decree, they at first called off a planned antigovernment march into the city and decided instead to hold a "meeting of good will" on the grounds of the Buddhist Institute on the outskirts of Saigon.

But as thousands of their supporters flocked to the compound in a carnival atmosphere, the Buddhists decided to stage the march as a "victory celebration." The marchers initially were only to go two blocks, but then the Buddhist leaders amended themselves again and let the huge throng walk on.

After walking through some main streets, the crowd made its way back to the Buddhist Institute at dark.

CARRY BANNER Scores of the marchers carried antigovernment banners they had brought out before the character of the demonstration was changed.

In contrast to the clashes last week between demonstrators and police and troops, police cleared the way for the marchers and held back watching crowds as the demonstrators moved slowly along.

The military chief of state, Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu, signed the election decree at the close of a three-day political congress called by the military junta to recommend ways to achieve the changeover to civilian rule.

EASE BOYCOTT The Buddhists softened their boycott of the congress by sending a lay observer to the final session. Premier Nguyen Cao Ky summoned the congress on April 3 in an effort to stem the rising tide of antigovernment demonstrations in Saigon and Buddhist strongholds in the north.

Thich (Venerable) Tam Chau, the chairman of the Buddhist Institute, said in a public letter to the co-leader of the recently formed antigovernment Buddhist Struggle Forces, Thich Thien Minh: "BUDDHIST ANTI-BOYCOTTMENT The decree indicates that the government has agreed to some proposals asked for by the Buddhist people and also informed us that a national assembly will be formed in the near future."

The Buddhist Institute wishes to inform all branches of the faith about this development."

DEER FINDS Fresh Milk

MARION, N.C. (AP) - Mrs. S. L. McCoy has a cow that used to give a couple of gallons of milk a day.

Lately, the cow's production has dwindled.

Curious, Mrs. McCoy fastened her cow in the stall and loosened the dirt around it. Next morning, she found four tiny footprints in the dirt.

A hunter said the footprints belonged to a baby deer.

The deer won't have to look for milk. Mrs. McCoy doesn't have the heart not to share it.

NEW YORK (AP) - The stock market rallied vigorously early this afternoon on the heaviest trading of the week.

The market was showing strength not only in the glamor group but also in some of the bread-and-butter stocks which have been relatively neglected.

The market was showing strength not only in the glamor group but also in some of the bread-and-butter stocks which have been relatively neglected.

COPPER STRONG Copper stocks, which rose in a body Wednesday in anticipation of such news, were strong again as word came that Chile actually had raised copper prices in the export market to 62 cents a pound. The price boost also was reflected in the copper commodity futures market.

Selective improvement among oils, chemicals, steels, motors, drugs and tobacco gave a better-rounded look to a market which has been lopsided for weeks in favor of the color television-electronics - airline-aero-space group.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.9 at 350.3 with industrials up 4.0, rails up .3 and utilities up .4.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 7.46 to 945.82.

Sperry Rand won renewed trading interest showing a 1-point gain after rising 1/2 to 22 1/2 on a block of 92,000 shares.

UP 17 POINTS IBM ran up more than 17 points, possibly in anticipation of some news about computers.

Prices advanced in heavy trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. Treasury bonds were mostly unchanged.

Red Chinese Isolate Selves

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Red Chinese are doing a remarkable job of isolating themselves. There is fear that the more isolated they become, the more violently they are apt to oppose a search for negotiated peace in Southeast Asia. As some here view it, China's reverses make the dragon more dangerous all the time.

Peking has suffered setback after setback in areas important to its policies and ambitions. It has sustained painful political-diplomatic reverses in Asia, Africa and Latin America. Its maneuvers have been so clumsy and so inept as to make it seem the Chinese were almost deliberately intent on losing friends and influence.

SHOWS DETERMINATION
As the process continues, Peking's propaganda reflects a determination to prevent the Soviet Union from re-establishing its influence in Communist North Viet Nam or from reaping any benefits from a negotiated peace in that area.

Moscow, evidently regarding the Viet Nam conflict as a threat to its own internal development program, seems preparing for an inevitable showdown in which — perhaps in the spring — Communist party leaders around the world will be obliged to stand up and be counted. Moscow has had considerable success in getting former dissidents back into line. While the Russians appear to be winning in this contest for influence among revolutionaries in the underdeveloped world, this could be a mixed blessing for the United States. Moscow counsels that there are both violent and nonviolent ways to Communist power, but such a competition could impel it to support armed revolution in areas where it might consider the risk of its own deep involvement to be not too great.

REVOLUTION KEY

In any event, Peking's insistence that it holds the only key to world revolution is rapidly piling up points for the Muscovites. Peking's blunders have culminated in such things as denunciation of China by Cuba's Fidel Castro — once an ardent admirer of the Chinese way — and an open clash with populous, strategic Indonesia, which not long ago heavily supported China's foreign policies.

It appears that Peking, in the event of a showdown with Moscow, can rely on the support only of the Japanese, New Zealand and Albanian Communist parties and a few odd splinter groups.

Hope's Show Sometimes Falls Short

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV - Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Bob Hope is such a fine generous man and associated with such good causes that it almost seems ungrateful to be less than enchanted with any of his television programs.

But the truth is that sometimes — and Wednesday night was one of them — the "Bob Hope Comedy Specials" on NBC are not terribly amusing and seem to have been tossed together as casually as a salad.

4 WEEKS AGO

The program Wednesday night was taped for broadcast four weeks ago but that was the night when the TV networks devoted the entire evening to covering the Gemini 8 splash-down and the recovery of the astronauts.

Hope's opening monologue, usually the brightest part of the show, is so current and topical that the original one was discarded and a new one substituted.

MOVIE SPOOF

Favorite subject of Hope sketches over the years seems to be a burlesque of a current movie or television show. Wednesday night there was a comedy sequence based on a movie, "The Magnificent Seven" and called "The Putrid Six." This involved a lot of slapstick gun play between Hope, playing a Mexican bandit, and Lee Marvin as a bounty hunter. This may have been mighty funny to those who have seen the movie but it was pretty well lost on those of us who had not.

SEN. JACOB JAVITS

Solons Differ On Possible Viet Pullout

WASHINGTON (AP) — Many senators disagree on whether the political situation in South Viet Nam may force the United States to pull out of the war.

Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., told his colleagues Wednesday that if the South Vietnamese don't want to continue the war "it's obvious the United States should not do it for them."

Sens. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., and Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, felt that the possible fall of Nguyen Cao Ky's military regime may force a reassessment which could end with American withdrawal.

Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., expressed belief at a New York news conference that "intensified military action north of the 17th Parallel is not going to be a substitute for the right kind of political action south of the 17th Parallel, in South Viet Nam."

Suspect's In-Law Slain In Shooting

SWEENEY, Tex. (AP)—Police held an unemployed farm worker after he was arrested following a shooting at a farm house which left one person dead and two others wounded.

Brazoria County officers said Albert Ondras, 38, was forced from the farm house with tear gas after he traded shots with 15 policemen for more than an hour. He was charged with assault with intent to murder.

IN-LAW SLAIN

Killed was Mrs. Mary Ondras, about 40, sister-in-law of the arrested man. Her body, with three bullet wounds, was found in the driveway of the house.

Deputy Sheriff Barney Woodward was cut about the face when a rifle bullet smashed the windshield of his patrol car. Douglas Schureg, an ambulance driver for the Sweeney Fire Department, was struck in the left elbow by a rifle shot that pierced the door of his vehicle. Neither was seriously injured.

Brazoria County Sheriff Robert R. Gladney said officers went to the farm house owned by A. B. Johnson, about a mile east of Sweeney, when Johnson telephoned from a neighbor's house that someone was shooting at him from his house while he worked in a nearby field.

Eddie Ondras, a brother of the arrested man, was working with Johnson in the field, police said.

BEGINS FIRING

Gladney said arriving officers saw the body of a woman in the driveway and then someone began firing at them from the house.

Officers said five rifles, a shotgun and assortment of ammunition was found in the house after Ondras surrendered.

Ondras was charged with two counts of assault with intent to murder at a hearing before Justice of the Peace C. W. Ellis at Angleton.

Further charges in connection with the death of Mrs. Ondras were pending further investigation, Dist. Atty. Tom Kenyon

Investigators said no one knew when Ondras, who lived near the Carlton community in southern Brazoria County, arrived at the farm house. Officers said he drove to the farm in a pickup truck in which a variety of ammunition was found.

Gibson's Will Open Annex On Scurry Street Friday

Friday at 9 a.m. another Gibson's Discount Store—the Scurry Street Annex—will open in Big Spring. The new store is a combination warehouse and sales building, according to Worth Brooks, manager.

The new building, located just behind the main Gibson's store is in the 2300 block of Scurry Street and contains 5,400 square feet of sales area and 17,100 square feet of warehouse area—22,500 square feet in all.

GROWTH

The erection of the new store, begun in January, is an indicator of the phenomenal growth of the Gibson chain, both in Big Spring and all around the nation, Brooks said.

was built, we felt it would be adequate," Brooks said, "but Gibson's has been so well accepted here that business has grown to the point that we have a parking and space problem at the main store, so it was decided to build this new annex."

He also said the new annex storage area will better serve the various areas Gibson's stores, and will serve as a weekend store, featuring large promotions that are too big or otherwise unsuitable for the main store across the street.

"With the new building, we now have two warehouse areas," Brooks said. "The one downtown and this one. The increase in warehouse space meant that we could convert all the warehouse space in the main store to sales areas, which we did, and by doing it, increased the sales area in the main store by 5,000 square feet."

11 EMPLOYEES

At present, the new store will operate with 11 employees—three in the stockroom, two checkers and six department representatives—and will represent six of the Gibson departments, soft goods, hardware, outdoor, houseware, sporting goods and the candy department.

However, the sales area will be open, for the time being at least, only on weekends for special weekly promotions, mostly of goods which are too large to be displayed in the main store. It will be open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Saturdays, and from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m. Sundays.

Gibson's has grown from only one store (the Big Spring store) to the chain's 33rd to nearly 300 in just seven years. Plans are to have 50 new store openings during 1966.

In Big Spring, an average of five huge truck-loads of merchandise are brought to the warehouses each day of the year, according to Brooks. Gibson's began here in 1960, and the new main store was opened only three years ago.

MANY ITEMS

Some of the reasons for the phenomenal growth of the Gibson chain are that of the 16,000 separate items the chain handles, 14,000 are nationally-known brands; that Gibson's only handles merchandise which they can sell at discount; and huge, volume buying.

"Gibson's is the largest account with Dupont paints, Hazel Bishop cosmetics, Champion Oil, Zerex's western zone, Northbrook Hose, Mohawk Paper, and is one of the biggest buyers of Federal ammunition," Brooks said.

Allies Inspect Soviet Union's Downed Plane

BERLIN (AP) — The crash of a Soviet plane in a West Berlin lake gave the Western Allies their first inspection of a new Russian all-weather fighter.

The wreckage of the plane, which crashed eight days ago in the city's British sector, was delivered Wednesday to a Soviet pontoon raft in the Havel River near the East German frontier.

A British spokesman confirmed for the first time that the two-seat, twin-jet plane was of an advanced type previously relatively unknown in the West.

"The aircraft appeared to be the YAK28 type," the spokesman said, adding, "This is a most modern type of Soviet all-weather fighter."

The plane's two crewmen were killed, and their bodies were turned over to the Russians last Friday.

FIRST LOOK

Informed Allied sources said, "This was the first look we have had at such a plane in any circumstances." The sources added that they understood the plane had been outside the Soviet Union for only about three weeks at the time of the crash.

It was a mystery, the sources said, why the Soviets had brought such a plane so near to the West.

Martin Reaches Pool Quota

STANTON (SC) — "Civic Pride" was the program by Woodford Sale and Stanley Wheeler for the Stanton Rotary Club Wednesday. Dr. Jack Woodrow, vice president, had charge of the business meeting. Ken Clark of Big Spring was a guest.

Judge Jim McCoy reported the Martin County quota had been reached in the contribution to the fund for a swimming pool for the Abilene State School.

Pleads Guilty

James Vernor Clayton, charged with operating a motor car with a suspended driver's license, pleaded guilty to the charge Wednesday afternoon. He was fined $25 and costs by County Judge Lee Porter.

Final Arguments Set In Estes Plea

EL PASO (AP) — Both sides apparently left large questions hanging Wednesday over the accuracy of testimony by onetime fertilizer tycoon Billie Sol Estes and others on his plea for a new trial.

A three-day hearing before U.S. Dist. Judge Leo Brewster ended except for the final chapter—closing arguments, set for 2 p.m. (MST) next Tuesday, and the judge's decision.

That meant Estes, once a multi-millionaire promoter of farm-based enterprises, must wait at least five days to learn whether his 15-year sentence for mail fraud and conspiracy shall be set aside or he goes back inside the Leavenworth, Kan., federal prison.

BACK IN JAIL

Until his lawyers and the prosecutors come back with their proposed findings and conclusions based on the law, as directed by the court, Estes was sent back to the El Paso County jail.

Testimony was completed in a flurry of contradictions. Estes himself testified for the first time since his 1963 arrest about transactions in worthless fertilizer tank mortgages aggregating more than $25 million with some of the country's biggest loan companies.

Key points in the hearing were (1) A contention by Estes that all persons in such deals knew there were no anhydrous ammonia (fertilizer) tanks and therefore no fraud occurred; (2) Insistence by a finance company executive that he was unaware the tanks were fictitious; and (3) An El Paso lawyer's statement he told this executive there were no tanks and would be none.

ESTES' CLAIM

Estes himself claims he negotiated secretly with Hilbert Kreeger Jr., then an assistant secretary of the Walter E. Heller Co. in Chicago, to loan $5 million on mythical tanks.

Kreeger, testifying at the fraud trial of Estes here in 1963 and the current hearing, maintained he never saw or talked with Estes prior to the trial three years ago. He also insisted the Heller Co. was unaware there were no tanks to secure about $7 million in notes the Heller Co. bought from Estes Associates. In arguing the conviction should be set aside, the defense argued that Kreeger lied in denying he met and dealt with Estes, and that new evidence from an El Paso lawyer supported the demand for voiding the defendant's convictions.

Richard Feuille, the El Paso lawyer, testified he thought a tank deal by one of his clients with Heller was fraudulent and he so informed Kreeger by long distance telephone — evidence which Estes counsel claims was unavailable at his trial. Kreeger acknowledged that an unidentified man phoned his home in 1961 to ask that the transaction be cancelled. He said, however, that he could recall nothing about a lawyer volunteering such information.

Estes told the court that Kreeger visited his Pecos home probably about May 24 or 25 late in May of 1961 and they also met two days later at Plainview, the West Texas center of Estes grain storage operations, in working out an agreement.

TRACE WHEREABOUTS To counteract this testimony, the government started yesterday to call witnesses to testify about the whereabouts of Estes May 24-28, 1961. Defense counsel, to save time, agreed that he left home the morning of May 24, flew to Abilene, Dallas and Washington, started back May 28, spent the night in Abilene and reached Pecos next day.

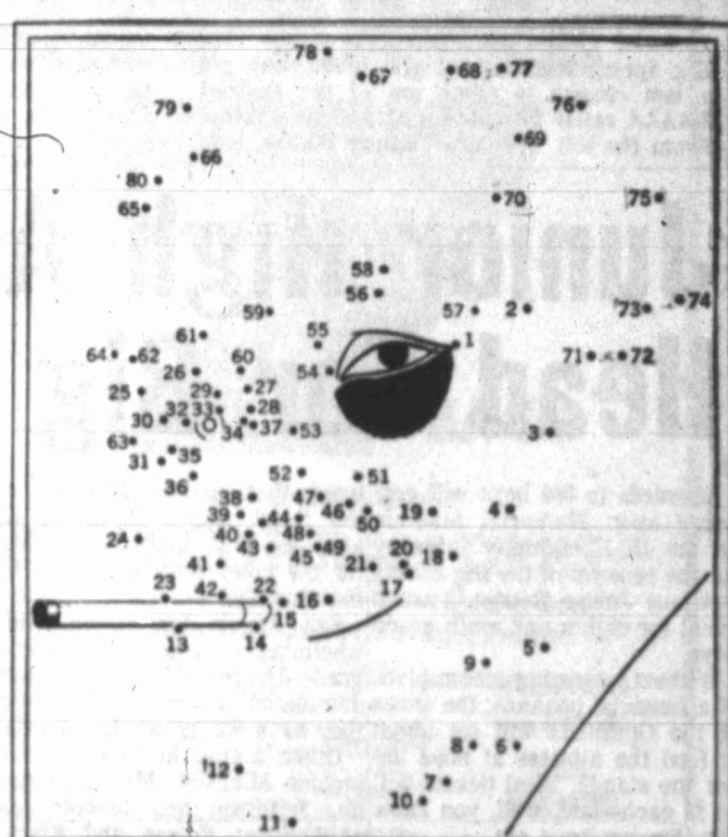

Estes then returned to the witness stand, said he previously had approximated the dates he saw Kreeger and their meetings occurred shortly before he left for Washington. Previously Kreeger stated he started a trip across West Texas from El Paso on May 23 of that year, spent a night in Pecos and went on to Plainview and Amarillo but did not see Estes.

At the same time he admitted detouring from the highway to pass the plush Estes home, attributing this partly to curiosity—since Estes had applied to the Heller Co. for loans—and partly to a practice of inspecting the homes of prospective borrowers to assess their financial responsibility.

Junior High Athletes Head For Big Spring

Upwards of 500 boys will converge upon Memorial Stadium on the HCJC campus Saturday for the renewal of the Big Spring Optimist Junior Relays, a track event for eighth and ninth grade boys.

Without assuring themselves of a financial bonanza, the wives of the Optimists will set about to feed the athletes at noon under the stands. Meal tickets will be $1 each—and, well, you know how hungry boys eat.

That will be one of the features that makes this one of the finest sports shows of its kind in West Texas. At stake for the chief contenders will be fine medals.

San Angelo Lee is an overwhelming favorite in the ninth grade division. The Rebels have dominated all meets in which they have competed this season.

Other teams in that division include Madison, Mann, Franklin, Jefferson and Lincoln, all of Abilene; Edison and Blackshear, both of San Angelo; San

Newbill Won't Be Back As Coach At Lee High

MIDLAND — Midland Lee High School will have a new football coach this fall.

That fact was confirmed Wednesday with the announcement that Joe Newbill was being relieved of his duties as head mentor. The news came as a shock to Newbill, who said he was mystified by the decision. Dr. Harold H. Hitt, superintendent of schools here, said Newbill would be reassigned within the system.

Newbill, former Baylor coaching aide, still has a year to go on a $10,000 contract. Spring football workouts were scheduled to begin Wednesday but have been postponed at least a week.

Newbill has been head coach

at Lee the past three seasons. When told of the decision, Newbill remarked:

"I would very much like to know what is going on, myself."

Dr. Hitt revealed the action was taken on the recommendation of Dr. Douglas Brown, principal at Lee High School, adding that Newbill is free to appeal to the school board, if he so desires.

Newbill was only the second head coach in the history of Lee High School. He worked under coach John Bridgers at Baylor before moving to Lee. Prior to that, he was coach at Bryan. At Lee, his teams won nine and lost 21 games. His best season was in 1964, when his team won five and lost five.

His over-all record as a head coach includes 81 wins and 35 losses.

Coahoma Ace Has 3rd Best Time

COAHOMA—No other Class A athlete in the state has come close to the 1:55.2 clocking achieved by Mike Mosley of Coahoma in the half mile this season.

The smooth-striding senior has consistently been under two minutes in his specialty this spring. He already holds the State Class A record in that event, having been timed in 1:55.6 in Austin last May.

Only two half-milers in the state have bettered Mosley's best time this year and both are with Class AAAA schools.

One is Milton McCrum of Lubbock Monterey, caught in 1:54.1; and the other John Robertson of Dallas Sunset, timed in 1:54.2.

Coach Spike Dykes of Coahoma reasons his star could match strides with either boy. No one has pushed Mosley this spring, so there is little telling how fast he can run the two laps.

Last week, Mosley switched off and ran the quarter mile in the first annual Bulldog Relays at Coahoma and finished all

Clay, Cooper May Collide May 21

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Negotiations are in progress for Cassius Clay to defend his heavyweight title against British champion Henry Cooper next month in London.

The likely date for the fight is May 21, said Gordon B. Davidson, an attorney for Clay's Louisville sponsoring group.

Davidson said Wednesday arrangements for the bout might be completed within 10 days.

"Assuming that we can get a contract—and permission from the draft board—it seems likely that Clay will fight at least one more time before he goes into the Army," Davidson said.

by himself with a 49 seconds flat clocking.

Mike is ideally built for a half-mile. He's tall and willowy. He's an all-around athlete, too. He was a star end for Dykes' championship football team and a regular on the basketball team, which was coached by Bill Easterling.

No one has committed himself but, quite probably, Mike will concentrate on track in college. Great half milers like him don't come along very often and coaches from all over the area are apt to be camping on his doorstep before long.

LADY GOLFER BLAZES PATH

Karen Hughes staged a coup on the golf links at the Big Spring Country Club Wednesday. With the aid of her handicap, she beat the resident pro, Jerry Green, with a nifty 32 over nine holes.

Green settled for a 36 and that was good enough to overshadow the play of any of the other 13 women in the field.

Mrs. Hughes and the other fem linksters had gathered at the course for the regular Wednesday Play Day. Inclement weather probably kept others from responding to the challenge.

Next week, the Country Club women golfers will diversify. They will be at home to wives of Webb AFB personnel Tuesday morning. Play will begin at 11 a.m. Lunch will be served in the clubhouse following the golf.

Mickey Marcum will be in charge of arrangements at the club.

Tiger Reasons He Can Win By KO

KIAMESHA LAKE, N.Y. (AP) — With the battle of champions only 11 days away, both middleweight king Dick Tiger and welterweight ruler Emile Griffith are getting more confident. At least, they're talking that way.

"I think I can knock him out," said Tiger, who risks his middleweight crown against Griffith at Madison Square Garden April 25.

"I'm confident I can beat Tiger," said Griffith Wednesday. "He's too slow."

Baseball To Appeal Roller's Decision

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — The National League, faced the threat today of a forced uprooting from its potentially rich new territory in Atlanta unless it bowed to a Wisconsin court order and restored baseball to Milwaukee.

The ruling by Circuit Judge Elmer W. Roller Wednesday night struck at the protective coating that has shielded baseball from antitrust laws since 1922 and left the young 1966 season under long legal shadows.

Roller, 64, found the Atlanta Braves and the National League in violation of Wisconsin antitrust law for pulling the Braves out of Milwaukee while refusing to grant the city a replacement team.

The judge said the Braves must return to Milwaukee, their home from 1953 through 1965, if the league fails to submit by noon May 16 a 1967 expansion plan that would include Milwaukee.

Baseball's reaction to the ruling, which climaxed a 38-day trial, was cautious.

A spokesman for Commissioner William Eckert issued a statement saying baseball intended to file an immediate appeal to the Wisconsin Supreme Court.

Later, Eckert telephoned The Associated Press and asked that the statement be withdrawn. "I have no comment now," Eckert said. "I will take it under advisement."

Walter O'Malley, president of the Los Angeles Dodgers, said, "It seems to be utterly impossible to comply with the court's decision, but we'll be guided by the attorneys who have represented us in the litigation."

Wisconsin officials were delighted by Roller's decision, which gave the state precisely what it had sought. Not only did Roller order the Braves' return in the absence of expansion agreement, but he assessed the National League and its 10 members fines of $5,000 each.

The judge also ruled that the state is entitled to "costs and disbursements." State costs in the case could run into hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Atty. Gen. Bronson LaFollette hailed the decision and said Wisconsin "will have the benefit of a major league franchise operating in full compliance with the laws of this state."

LaFollette did not say how this would be done, nor did Willard S. Stafford, chief counsel for the state in the case.

But Wisconsin is expected to seek contempt citations against the defendants should baseball ignore the May 16th deadline.

Contempt machinery would allow Wisconsin to seek support of states with National League teams in enforcing Roller's order.

Should even one of eight such states agree to comply, the National League schedule could be in shambles.

"The next move is up to baseball," said Stafford, who stalked the courthouse corridors through a nerve-wracking day of waiting Wednesday. "If they can live with it, so can we," he said.

Roller, who worked 37 consecutive hours to put the final judgement in shape, said the delay in completing the 176-page document Wednesday was significant.

The judge would not elaborate on what he meant by significant but said settlement offers had been received both "before and during" the trial which ended April 6.

"All I can say is that there was discussion but no consummation," Roller said.

The judge said no baseball officials had contacted him recently to discuss a possible solution to the legal tangle.

Red Schism Has Deep Foundation

By The Associated Press
A wave of applause rippled away. The atmosphere at the secret session was charged with nervous excitement. Nobody present doubted something of monumental importance was about to happen.

In the great hall of the Kremlin Palace, Nikita Sergeyevich Khrushchev adjusted his spectacles, placed his voluminous speech before him on the lectern and peered searchingly at the fidgety audience. Behind him, seated in tiers across the huge stage, the eyes of Communist leaders of the world and the U.S.S.R. were riveted on the Soviet party's first secretary.

"Comrades," he began, "in the report of the Central Committee of the party at the 20th congress, in a number of speeches by delegates, quite a lot has been said about the cult of the individual and about its harmful consequences."

DELEGATES TENSE
Khrushchev paused. Tension rose among 1,400 delegates, the elite of the Soviet party, and an array of Red leaders from around the world.

Khrushchev got to the point with unaccustomed swiftness. It was impermissible, he proclaimed, "to elevate one person to transform him into a superman possessing supernatural characteristics akin to those of a god."

Then, often sobbing with emotion, Khrushchev drew a shocking portrait of Joseph Vissarionovich Stalin — three years dead — as a Byzantine brute responsible for the torture and death of thousands of "innocent comrades," a blunderer who cost the nation dearly in the war, a "sickly suspicious" tyrant whose slogan was "beat, beat and again beat," who, toward the end even plotted the annihilation of his closest collaborators.

Thus Khrushchev exploded forever the myth of the "genius leader."

POLITICAL BOMB
Stunned Communists could not then have assessed the full implications of what was said by the man claiming to lead the world Communist movement. That day in February, 10 years ago, Khrushchev detonated a political bomb whose echoes still reverberate around the world. The blast abruptly ended an era and began another. Clearly, this was a dramatic turning point in world affairs.

When the text of the speech became public in the outside world in June, it hit the Communist movement with the force of an ideological atom bomb.

That Feb. 24-25 secret session began the process which demolished the concept of a single center of authority for a monolithic movement. It destroyed the infallibility of a Kremlin upon which all Communists had relied for final answers to all questions. It produced a concept of "polycentrism" among European Communists, denying that leadership in all matters revolutionary must come from one source. It laid the foundations for a deep schism in the world movement, now apparently unbridgeable, and raised prospects of progressive splintering.

Oscar Show Festivities Coming Up

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "It's a nice job," Joe Pasternak observed ruefully, "for making enemies."

It seemed an unlikely statement from Pasternak, the friendly, Hungarian-born producer who has made sunny musicals with well-fed songstresses from Deanna Durbin ("Three Smart Girls") to Ann-Margret ("Made in Paris"). He was referring to his extra-curricular post as producer of the Academy Award telecast.

AGREED AGAIN
"I was out of my mind to accept the job last year," he said. "Then I agreed to do it again this year. What was I thinking of!"

After his exercise in Hollywood hyperbole, he admitted that the assignment was a challenging and sometimes satisfying one. Especially if the show comes off well, as it did last year.

"I think Monday night's show will be just as good," said the producer. "We'll have a few surprises, but there's not much you can do that is different. Any major change in the presentation requires a vote of the board of directors, so we're stuck with the same format."

"GOOD SHOW"
"Within that framework, I think the Oscarcast is a good show. The main thing we try to do is present an entertaining program while preserving the dignity of the organization. Bob Hope is great for that purpose."

Hope will again be conducting the festivities next Monday at the Santa Monica Civic Auditorium, and he will be joined by 40 other top names. Included are all of last year's acting winners: Julie Andrews, Rex Harrison, Lila Kedrova and Peter Ustinov.

Puzzle of Wednesday, April 13, Solved

AND SPOTLIGHT

GOP's Bliss Shuns Fights

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ray C. Bliss, a politician who prefers the telephone to the speaker's rostrum, has spent a year trying to convince Republicans that there is no such thing as a GOP heretic.

RAY C. BLISS

As national chairman of a party torn apart two years ago by missionaries of the left and right, Bliss shuns ideology, controversy and the public eye.

He deals instead with the technical side of politics—with precinct organization, research, voter registration.

"I've tried to be fair to all elements of the party," Bliss says.

WOUNDS HEALING

Bliss doesn't claim that all the wounds of 1964 — when some Republicans read each other out of the party in a bitter clash of political philosophy — are gone. But he believes they are healing.

"This takes some time," he said. "I tell everybody that we must be tolerant of the deeply held views of others." Bliss and his associates view the ideological side of politics as a dead end for party professionals out to build organizational muscle.

The GOP chairman believes his approach is working. "At the time I took over," he said in a recent interview, "everybody was gloomily predicting the demise of the party. That's a far cry from what you hear today."

CAN'T DISAGREE
"There will always be differences of opinion within the party," he said. "But nobody can disagree with my approach."

Bliss has his critics among Washington's professional politicians. But they generally agree that with an approach which delights few and offends almost no one, Bliss has achieved some measure of success in his quest for a united, well-organized Republican party.

Bliss became national chairman 12 months ago, on April 1, after his party's massive defeat under Barry Goldwater.

Hours after the votes were counted, liberal and moderate Republicans had begun their outcry for the ouster of Dean Burch, the man Goldwater put in charge of Republican headquarters.

ENDORSED CHANGE

Two months after the November, 1964, election, the party's leaders turned to Bliss, a 30-year veteran of Ohio Republican politics. With a party-splitting showdown in prospect, Goldwater endorsed the change of command in the name of party unity.

Bliss still insists that he never sought the job, but accepted it with some reluctance because the party's warring factions could not agree on anyone else.

And he adds that the task has proven more difficult than he anticipated. "A year sounds like a long time," said Bliss. "But remember, this party organization had been eroding for 14 years."

Livestock Marketing Expert Sees 'Ironies'

DALLAS (AP) — A Texas A&M University expert said today it doesn't make sense that laws permit a large rancher to own supermarkets but prevent a supermarket from owning a small ranch.

The statement came from Edward Uvacek Jr., a livestock marketing specialist, prepared for the National Advisory Commission on Food and Fiber.

"It makes little sense that Mr. X's supermarket cannot integrate vertically downward, but that Mr. X's ranch enterprises can be and are being stimulated to integrate vertically upward."

ANOTHER LIMIT
Uvacek said a still more restrictive bill pending before the legislature is designed to limit cattle raising and feeding by packers while encouraging feeders to enter the packing business.

Because of legislation, he said, some packers and retail stores have been forced to resort to techniques other than feeding to obtain consistent high acceptability for beef.

CITES LIST

These include, he said, Armour's "Beef Cattle Improvement Program," which centers on the hereditary transference of tenderness; Swift's "Pro-Ten" technique of artificially improving the tenderness of beef; and Kroger's "Tender Ray" process, which uses special lighting within the cooler to stimulate more rapid aging of beef.

Uvacek said he believes the government should allow retailers to operate feed lots and grow beef because enough acceptable beef was not available from the smaller feed lots.

He said the same was true in lamb and pork production.

Opening lead: Queen of ♠
Failure to execute a safety play, while developing his long suit, led to South's downfall in the three no trump contract presented today.

North was confronted with a choice of calls on the second round. Over South's rebid of two clubs, he could have proceeded directly to three no trump himself. However, with a good six card major suit and only single stoppers in diamonds and spades, he chose instead to jump to three hearts, which is of course forcing to game. When South proceeded to three no trump, North accepted the decision.

West opened the queen of spades and the ace was played from dummy. A club was led,

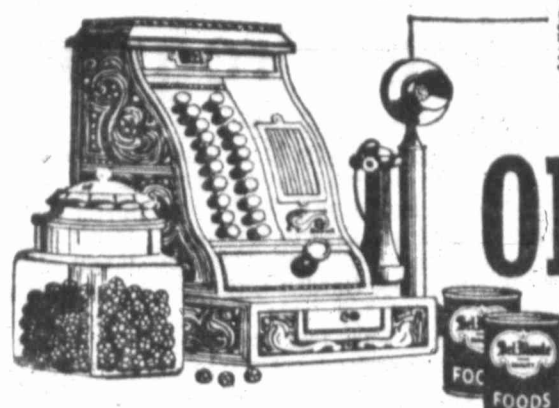

East followed with the seven and declarer put up the jack which won the trick. He continued with the king and East was in. A spade return dislodged South's king. He played the queen of clubs; however, East showed out and West was revealed to have a second stopper in the suit. When the letter got in, he cashed enough spade tricks to send the declarer down to defeat.

South could have won the hand by leading a small club instead of the king after the jack hold, for East is left with the lone ace. However, this is an unnatural play and would have been based on a peek at his opponent's holding.

A more legitimate play was available to the declarer which would have enabled him to salvage his contract. It is suggested that, when the first club is led from dummy, South put in the nine from his hand. Altho this gives West an opportunity to win a cheap trick with the ten, the latter is not in position to continue the attack in spades without giving South an additional stopper in that suit.

West's best return is a heart. Declarer puts up North's ace, enters his hand with the ace of diamonds and leads the king of clubs. East is in with the ace and returns a spade. South puts up the king, cashes the queen and jack of clubs, pulling the remaining cards in that suit, and runs for cover with nine tricks—four clubs, two diamonds, one heart, and two spades.

LBJ Bound For Mexico

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson flies to Mexico City today for a brief, informal stay that may be a warmup for a later state visit.

In advance of Johnson's afternoon departure, Robert H. Fleming, deputy press secretary, twice emphasized that the 24-hour trip is informal and that a possible state visit in the future is under consideration.

However, no effort was made to cloak White House hopes that the President's first visit to a foreign capital will draw a tumultuous crowd. Officials here quoted Mexican officials as predicting 1 million Mexicans will line Johnson's 9-mile motorcade route into the city.

MILITARY GREETING
A traditional 21-gun salute and other formal military honors were prepared for Johnson's arrival this evening at the 7,000-foot-high Mexican capital. Airport speeches were being written both by Johnson and Mexico's President Gustavo Diaz Ordaz.

Mrs. Johnson, flying here from Washington to pick up her husband, will spend the night with him in Mexico's White House — the Los Pinos residence of Diaz Ordaz.

LAY WREATH
The presidents and first la-idies of the two countries planned an evening together before Friday's formal ceremonies — a Johnson wreath-laying at the monument commemorating Mexico's independence and the unveiling of a statue of Abraham Lincoln.

The $150,000 bronze statue was financed by the U.S. government as a gift to the Mexican people, to symbolize principles binding nations of the hemisphere.

Mrs. Johnson will pull a cord for the unveiling, which will come on the 101st anniversary of Lincoln's assassination.

FOCAL POINT
Originally she and Secretary of State Dean Rusk were to head the American delegation at the ceremony but the President announced Tuesday he would make the trip and, of course, he immediately became the focal point of the occasion.

The First Lady and Rusk, however, will remain in Mexico for an additional 24 hours after the chief executive's return to his Texas ranch late Friday afternoon. Mrs. Johnson will rejoin the President in Texas Saturday for the weekend. They are expected to return to Washington early next week.

Giant Jets For Airways

NEW YORK (AP) — Pan American World Airways today ordered 25 new 490-passenger subsonic jet airliners at a cost of $525 million from the Boeing Co.

The order was one of the largest ever placed for commercial aircraft.

The new type plane will be known as the Boeing 747. Its seating capacity will be 2½ times that of existing aircraft.

A Pan Am spokesman said use of the huge planes is expected to cut air fares drastically.

The order included 23 passenger planes and 2 all-cargo craft. Deliveries of the subsonic craft will begin in September, 1969. It is not to be confused with a supersonic — or faster than sound — aircraft on which Boeing and Lockheed aircraft have submitted plans to the government.

Pan Am said the 747 will have greater speed than present jet airliners, which can attain 620 miles an hour.

The plane will be able to carry 490 passengers in thrift class or 378 in mixed economy and first class configuration. Separate staterooms for eight persons, in addition to the control cabin for the captain and flight crew, are being designed for the second deck.

Liquor Calms, Hikes Anxiety

NEW YORK (AP) — A cocktail before dinner can relax tensions temporarily, but its long-range effect may be to make the boss, the mortgage and the kids tougher to take than ever, says an expert on alcoholism.

Whether one drink or ten, liquor inevitably calms a man down but then, without exception, sends him above his normal anxiety level, says Dr. Stanley Gitlow of the New York Medical College.

TAKES ISSUE
In a speech to the National Council on Alcoholism Wednesday night, Gitlow took issue with physicians who recommend before-meal drinks to soothe the tired and perplexed businessman.

The doctor, who described himself as a "social drinker," called such advice "misguided" and said liquor "cannot be used to dispel a medical need."

NEXT DAY
"Several drinks or even one,"

Gitlow said, "are going to make things difficult the next day."

Gitlow said experiments have shown that alcohol's sedative effects reach a peak about two hours after intake. When they begin to wear off, however, alcohol level in the blood remains high and psychomotor activity or anxiety goes up, he said.

"You have the situation," the doctor said, "where a fellow falls asleep easily after having a few drinks, but finds himself up early the next day. The anxiety has outweighed the sedative element."

This uncomfortableness, characterized by irritability and problems in concentration, can extend into the normal man's next working day, Gitlow said.

"The sedative period is short and acute," he said, "while the agitation is long and subtle."

LOW-FAT FOOD

...Please Pass The Dish Of Spun Fiber

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Promising results were reported today with a "spun-fiber" diet designed to reduce blood fats under suspicion as contributors to heart attacks.

The diet — made up of predissolved soybean protein spun into fibers to give the product a meat-like texture — is designed to give Americans deemed needing it the low-fat properties of the average oriental diet, but one having "the appearance of Western food." The wispy fibers are compacted into tiny morsels, and flavored and colored for serving.

Dr. Robert Hodges of the University of Iowa, who described it at a scientific meeting here, said people in the Orient have long been known to have much lower rates of atherosclerosis — a form of hardening-of-the-arteries believed by many doctors to be the forerunner of heart attacks — than Americans.

And he said that while other factors in addition to dietary ones may aid the Orientals in that respect, their low-fat diet is believed to play a significant role.

Hodges indicated at a news conference at the annual convention of the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology that the Orientals' dietary staple — rice — might serve the same purpose as the new diet. But he said the latter "is far more acceptable to Americans than rice."

Patients treated with the soybean diet eat the usual constituents of the American diet, Hodges said.

MEASURED FAT
But, in addition to make-believe "ham" and "beef" the spun-fiber diet comes in simulated forms of "fish" and "poultry." A measured amount of fat is incorporated.

Hodges said "profound decreases" in levels of blood fats, especially cholesterol, were achieved by giving the diet to some Iowa State Prison volunteers and some University of Iowa students in a six-month test.

The doctor said the spun-fiber diet — not yet commercially available, but one that should be moderate in cost when it is — was prepared by a commercial food-processing firm (General Mills, Inc., of Minneapolis).

Soil Studied In Attempt To Halt Tilt Of Tower

PISA, Italy (AP) — The Leaning Tower of Pisa may one day lean too far and become a heap of white marble.

Italians, appalled at the prospect of the famous tourist-lure toppling, have been trying for years to stop it from tilting further.

No one has been able to do it yet, but the search for a solution may be in its last stages.

Today workmen and machines can be seen alongside the eight-tier marvel in Pisa's Piazza del Miracoli—Square of Miracles. Tall drills extract samples of the sandy, unstable soil which caused the medieval structure to lean in the first place. The tower, begun in 1174, was to be a belfry for the local cathedral.

gone about 165 feet deep.

The tower, 180 feet high and weighing 15,000 tons, began to tilt in 1185, eleven years after its construction began. Since annual measurements began 47 years ago it has shifted at the rate of roughly a millimeter—about 4 thousandths of an inch—a year. Last June it was 14.4 feet off perpendicular.

Tourists still flock to Pisa, 150 miles north of Rome—about 300,000 each year—and are allowed to climb a stairway to the top of the tower.

Family From Newfoundland Leaves In 'Come Home' Year

By JO BRIGHT

Off the eastern coast of Canada there is an island with an area of over 155,000 square miles and an airport—Gander—which is known as the "Crossroads of the World." Newfoundland, once the oldest colony in the British Empire, became in 1949, the tenth province of Canada, and its capital, St. John's, is the most easterly city of the North American continent.

Newfoundland's inhabitants are mostly of western English stock, with a sprinkling of Scottish and Irish.

Personifying the national characteristics of pioneer forefathers is the George Butts family of Curling, Corner Brook, Newfoundland. As visitors this week in Big Spring, they are realizing that it also took a special breed of people to become settlers on the Texas plains.

Mr. and Mrs. Butts and their children, Douglas, 6, and Linda, 4, are guests in the home of M. Sgt. and Mrs. Charles Schiell, 247-A Langley, where they plan to remain another week. Mrs. Butts and Mrs. Schiell are sisters, and their mother, Mrs. Margaret Parsons of St. John's, Newfoundland, has been here with the Schiells since January. She will return home with the Butts family after having had the opportunity of experiencing the Texas sand storms of which her daughter had written.

RATHER SNOW
"I'd rather have snow or rain, any day," said Mrs. Parsons, the soft burr of her voice confirming her Scottish ancestry. "The sand is something that would take getting used to, but there is much that is beautiful here, and we will see more before our travels end."

The families are planning a couple of quick side trips, either to San Antonio, the Sand Hills or Carlsbad Caverns before the Newfoundlanders start the long trip home. On the way down, the Butts family drove through 12 states, gathering post cards and decals which will later serve to recall their trip to the Lone Star state.

"We registered 3,226 miles from the time we backed from our driveway until we pulled into Chuck's place here," said Butts, who is manager of the Bank of Montreal in Corner Brook. He was in Texas once before. In 1951, as a member of the International Air Cadet Exchange, he spent 17 days in Dallas.

Sgt. Schiell, who is originally from California, met his wife when he was stationed, in 1949, at McAndrew Air Force Base in Newfoundland. They were married in 1951 at Argonia, and Mrs. Schiell has been home only twice since that time. However, she has been able to accompany her husband during his tours of duty in Germany and France as well as numerous stations in the United States. Their children are Randy, 13, Stephen,

B&PW Discuss By-Law Changes

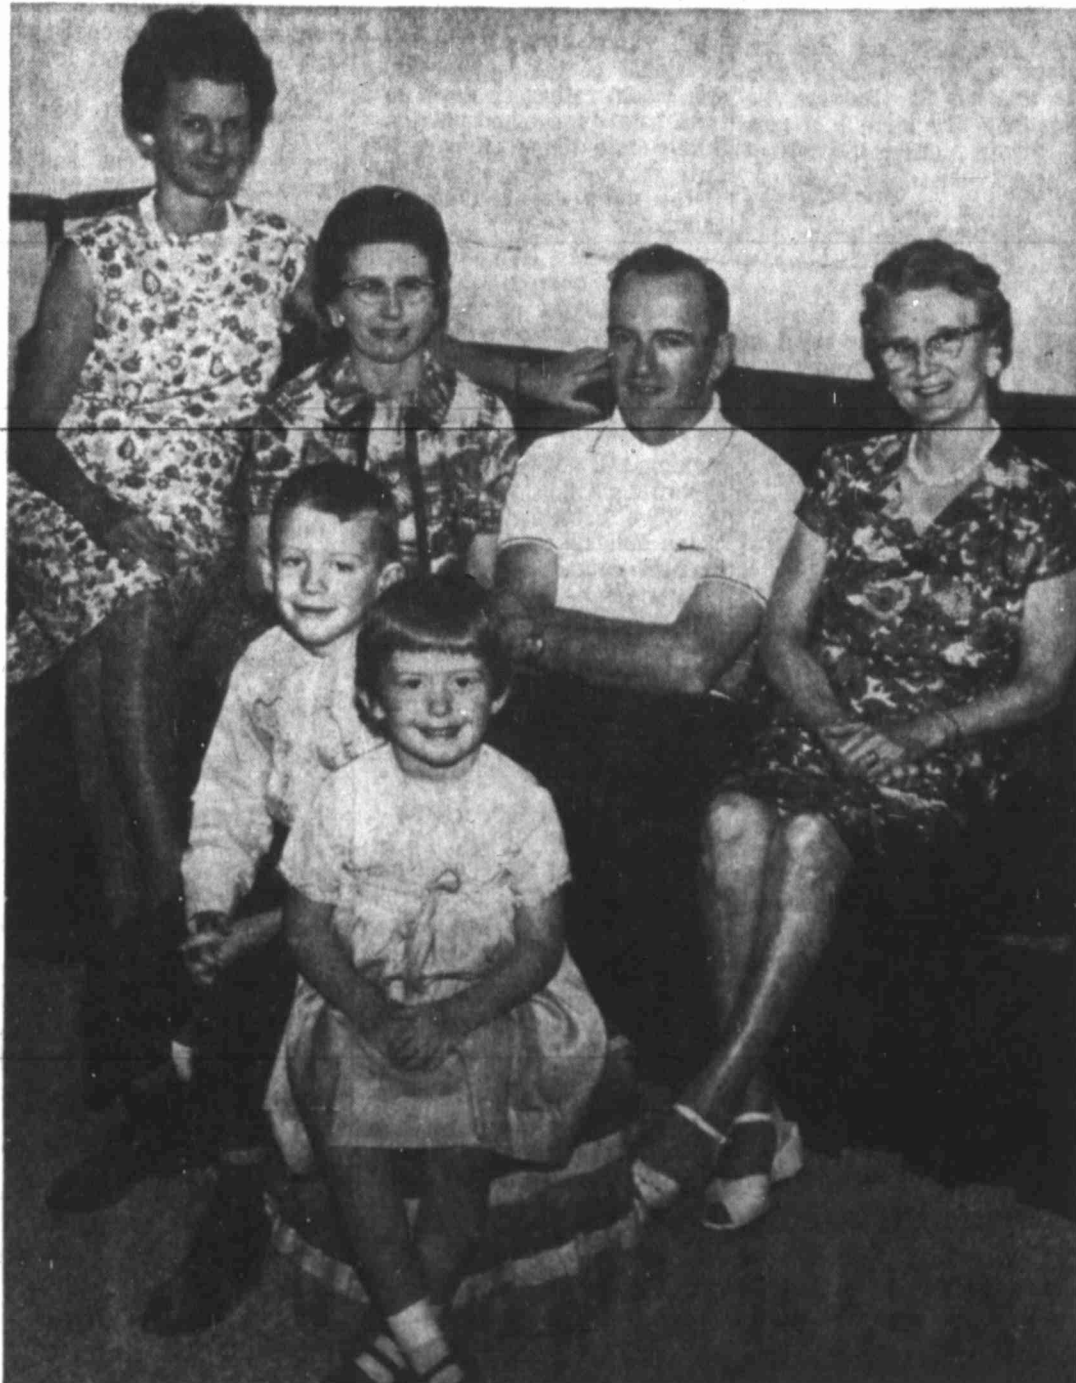

Plans to revise the by-laws were discussed during the Tuesday evening meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club at the home of Mrs. A. D. Franklin, 1301 E. 18th. Mrs. Bert Affleck was cohostess.

Mrs. Cass Hill presided, and Mrs. George Dawson reported on the recent legislative meeting in El Paso.

Plans were made to attend the June 3-5 state convention in San Antonio where Mrs. Hill will be installed as District 8 director. The next meeting will be April 26 at Coker's Restaurant. Mrs. Aubrey Webb will be in charge of the program, and Jack Dunn will be guest speaker.

Stretch Curtains

To stretch curtains without a frame, fold the curtain double lengthwise, then pin it on a tightly stretched line with many clothespins and slip a clean pole inside the curtain.

Newfoundlanders End Journey

Mrs. Charles Schiell, a native of Newfoundland now making her home here, recalls her life there with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. George Butt of Corner Brook, Newfoundland, and her mother, Mrs. Margaret Parsons of St. John's. The children are Douglas and Linda Butt.

11, and Nancy, 7. The Butt's point of departure from Newfoundland was Port aux-Basques at the south-west tip of the island. It was a seven-hour trip across Cabot Strait to Sydney, Nova Scotia, and on the mainland, at Fredericton, New Brunswick, the travelers noted that the temperature was two degrees below zero as they drove through the city. Following the sun, they felt more warmth on their faces each day as the highway shortened to the south, and a summer day had somehow gotten ahead of spring by the time they arrived here.

Butts explained that their home city, Corner Brook, is tucked into a cove of the Bay of Islands and has a population of approximately 35,000. Possessed of a green lushness, it too, has a flaw—a too-short summer and too much rain in the spring and fall, according to its otherwise contented citizens. However, it was at Corner Brook that Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip chose to stay during their royal tour of Canada in 1959.

The Buttses said it is only coincidence that they left for Texas during "Come Home Year" in Newfoundland. The observance is being held to celebrate the building and paving of over 600 miles of highway from St. John's to Port aux-Basques as part of the Trans-Canada Highway. Boats going to Newfoundland are already booked solid from June through August, and the festivals and boat regattas are expected to draw many tourists as well as

Planters Welcome New Member

Mrs. Opal Cunningham was welcomed as a new member during the Wednesday afternoon meeting of the Planters Garden Club at the home of Mrs. E. O. Sanderson, 817 W. 7th. Mrs. R. L. Collins presided, and nine attended. Plants were exchanged among the members. The next meeting will be May 12 at the home of Mrs. R. O. Carothers.

Garden Club Shown Press Book Award

A show of awards won during the recent district meeting at Lubbock were presented during the Wednesday afternoon meeting of the Four O'Clock Garden Club at the home of Mrs. Jesse Crane Jr., 433 Hillside.

Mrs. Edward Kohanek presided and exhibited the club's awards for first place on schedules and for third place on press book.

Mrs. Joe Horton and Mrs. Carroll Cannon reported on the special education school monthly project. The children assisted with the replanting of the school's flower beds. An informal judgment of individual line arrangements was conducted by Mrs. B. C. Swindell during the program session. It was announced that the state garden club week will be April 17-23, and May will be anti-litter month.

Following the meeting, the members toured the garden of Mrs. Carl Hollingsworth, Hilltop Road. Plans were made to visit Mrs. J. Gordon Bristow's garden at the May 11 meeting.

Rich Land

Newfoundland has provided Canada with access to one of the world's greatest fishing grounds, and cod-fishing is its staple industry. Its lumber resources and paper mills add to the country's wood and pulp industry, and its natural resources have only begun to be tapped. The mining industry grows, thriving on iron from Bell Island and lead, zinc, copper, gold and silver at Buchans. There are airstrips at places like Frenchman's Cove, St. Anthony's and Deer Lake—and Gander has become known as a dateline the world over.

But for this week, at least, the Butts family is enjoying another world—that of sunny days, cloudless nights and, if they look quickly, the sight of a jack rabbit or horned toad darting behind the cactus plants.

DR. CHARLES RICH

Child Study Club Hears Clinical Psychologist

Dr. Charles Rich was guest speaker during the Wednesday afternoon meeting of the Child Study Club. The 18 attending met at the home of Mrs. Tommy Vick, 2305 Lynn. Mrs. Cecil Richardson was cohostess.

Dr. Rich, clinical psychologist at the state hospital, discussed the problems of the emotionally disturbed child. He stressed that child observation and personal interviews with the parents were the key factors in helping the child. Mrs. Tommy Hart presided during the business meeting, and a new slate of officers was approved by acclamation. To be installed in May are Mrs. Josh Burnett, president; Mrs. J. K. Hatch, vice president; Mrs. Richard Grimes, secretary; Mrs. David Hodnett, treasurer; Mrs. Glenn Faison, parliamentarian; and Mrs. Byron Orand, historian.

Miss Susan Ivey was welcomed as a guest.

Six tables were in play for duplicate games played Wednesday at Big Spring Country Club.

Winners were Mrs. J. D. Robertson and George D. Pike, first; Mrs. James Duncan and Mrs. R. H. Weaver, second; Mrs. Dan Greenwood and Mrs. Ray McMahan, third; Mrs. J. H. Fish and Mrs. Elvis McCrary, fourth; and Mrs. E. M. Bunn and Mrs. J. Gordon Bristow, fifth.

Sandra Dixon Exhibit Seen By Auxiliary

Miss Sandra Dixon was guest speaker during the Tuesday evening meeting of the National Association of Letter Carriers Auxiliary No. 1973. The members met at the Community Room of First Federal Savings and Loan Association building with Mrs. Melvin Brown presiding.

Miss Dixon told of her experiences since she was paralyzed following an auto accident in 1962. She described her efforts to complete her education and become a teacher, and exhibited several of her paintings and poems.

Other guests were Mrs. John Roden and Miss Diana Oliver. New yearbooks were distributed, and it was announced that a theater party for members will be held April 25.

At the May 10 meeting, Mrs. Ayra Cunningham, director of Plans for the initiation ceremony on April 19 were discussed during the Tuesday evening meeting of the John A. Kee Rebekah Lodge No. 153 at the Lodge Hall. Mrs. Odell Buchanan, noble grand, presided. Mrs. Jones Lamar, team captain, reminded members of the drill practice to be held Friday at 7 p.m. Twenty-two visits to the sick were reported by the 24 attending.

Pink, Blue Shower Held

COAHOMA (SC)—Mrs. Rube McCowen was the honoree at a pink and blue shower held Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Robert Miller with Mrs. Robert Helm as cohostess.

Fifteen guests were served from a table covered with a white cloth and centered with a stork. The white cake was decorated with a stork holding a baby, and cutglass and silver appointments were used.

The hostesses gift to the honoree was a gown and robe.

An out-of-town guest was Mrs. Charlie McCowen of Cross Plains.

Robert Nicholse Visit Relatives

KNOTT (SC)—Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nicholse and family have returned from a trip to visit relatives in Houston and Waco. Nicholse suffered an attack of appendicitis in Waco and returned to Big Spring as a patient at Medical Arts Clinic and Hospital.

Miss Ila Herren returned Monday from a visit with relatives in Snyder, Dunn and Big Spring.

Mr. and Mrs. Porter Motley returned Monday afternoon after spending the holidays with friends in Dunn, Anson and Abilene.

Kitchen Memories Recalled Of Growing Family Cooking

By JO ANN PHINIZY

The essence of memories can be found in the kitchen of a home where a flock of children grew up. One can easily recall the counterpoints of noise, when things were going well; or the stillness when calamity was close.

Such a kitchen custodian is Mrs. C. O. Hitt, 1301 Pennsylvania. She laughed and cried through the growing years of six children, and remembers it all with absolute gaiety.

Says she, "First there's Mary Alice; she is now Mrs. C. E. Hogue and lives in Midland. Clark Jr. and Bill live in Dallas; Bowling is in Fort Worth; Harold is in Bothell, Wash.; and Ben lives in Big Spring.

"With all of them off somewhere minding their own business, it sometimes gets kinda dull just cooking for Chaplain Hitt and myself.

BOBBING CORK
"But when the children were here, we had lots of ups and downs and there was always a crowd around. About the only thing I really got tired of was being the bobbing cork at P-TA meetings."

The kitchen was the hub of the Hitt home and that's where Mrs. Hitt spent most of her time. She says that one of her worst moments was when the kitchen table served as a pallet for Bowling, who had just crashed into the wrong end of a baseball bat.

Most of the time, things were on the humorous side. There was the day when Mary Alice tried to tone things down by tacking up "This is Not a Nursery" signs.

A common occurrence was the case of the vanishing hot rolls. Mrs. Hitt would have hot bread cooling and would make the mistake of letting her attention wander.

"The boys would swoop through like a dozen cyclones and clean out the place," she said.

"Another thing, I could gage my children's temperature by how many cocoa pies they would eat. It's the easiest of all desserts. Just blend cocoa and sugar together, mix in drops of butter and put several spoonfuls on a pie pastry, fold it over and bake. Fits fine in any lunch box."

Mrs. Hitt said her children would eat "about" anything — except for Bill.

PROBLEM EATER
"I never got a glass of milk or a bite of liver down him. He and I both tried every trick in the book, and in the end, he would just plain out run me."

Mrs. Hitt remembers the summertimes best. She said that no family ever ate more fried chicken and fresh vegetables than her family.

"We raised our own chickens

MRS. C. O. HITT

and grew our own garden," she said. "There just isn't anything like fresh vegetables. Even one garden tomato can change the taste of a whole meal. Now days everything has a commercial whang."

When some of the Hitts encourage visit their parents, Mrs. Hitt says she enjoys the mark of a "senior citizen."

"I prepare in advance," she said. "Everything is planned and cooked ahead of time."

Regardless of Chaplain and Mrs. Hitt's busy schedules, they always allow for a vacation in their cabin at Tin Hat, Colo.

Mrs. Hitt says that the ultimate in cooking is Rainbow Trout seasoned with lemon butter and cooked on a wood-burning stove.

In selecting her recipes, Mrs.

Hitt chose "some" of those she likes best.

DIP FOR APPLES
1/2 cup creamy style peanut butter
2 tbsps. chopped crisp bacon
1 cup sour cream
1/2 cup prepared horseradish
Mix all these ingredients together.

Slice apples, leaving the peel on or off according to taste. Arrange slices on a platter with a bowl of peanut butter dip in the center.

BUTTERMILK PIE
1 1/2 cups sugar
2 heaping tbsps. flour
2-3 cup butter
3 eggs
1/2 cup buttermilk
1/2 tsp. vanilla
Cream sugar and butter. Add yolk of egg and beat. Add buttermilk and fold in slowly stiffly beaten whites of eggs. Pour into pastry shell and cook slowly.

BOILED CUSTARD
7 eggs
1-1 1/2 cups sugar
4 tbsps. flour
1/2 gallon milk
Beat eggs well; add sugar with flour mixed in it. Have the milk heating to scalding (do not let boil). Stir from the bottom of container constantly while pouring the sugar and egg mixture in slowly. Continue to stir until it coats the spoon lightly. Remove from the fire at once. Keep stirring, for it is here that it can curdle if too hot and not stirred.

Strain into jars. Add pinch of salt and 1 teaspoon vanilla to each quart. Let cool, then chill well and serve in punch cups with whipped cream on top.

U.S. HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES RESTAURANT BEAN SOUP
2 lbs. No. 1 white Michigan beans
1 smoked ham hock
Salt and pepper
Cover beans with cold water and soak over night. Drain and re-cover with water. Add a ham hock and simmer slowly about 4 hours until beans are cooked tender. Salt and pepper to taste. Just before serving bruise with a large spoon enough to cloud. Serves 6 to 8 people.

SOUR DOUGH PANCAKES
3/4 cup flour
2 cups lukewarm water
1 pkg. dry yeast
1 cup milk
2 tbsps. sugar
1 tsp. salt
For starter: Mix well 2 cups flour and 2 cups lukewarm water and yeast. Put in glass container away from all metal. Use waxed paper to line metal lid. Put jar containing mixture in a place away from drafts and keep over night. By morning it should be bubbling pleasantly. Starter can be kept in refrigerator for very long periods of time.

For Sour Dough Pancakes: Night before, take out contents of starter jar and put in a bowl. Add the remaining ingredients and mix well. In the morning, refill starter jar with some of the mixture. To the remaining mixture, add:

1 scant tsp. soda in 1/4 cup boiling water
1 or 2 slightly beaten eggs
3 tbsps. bacon grease
Cook in soup spoon amounts on a 390 degree griddle. Put starter jar back in refrigerator. This starter recipe is over 50 years old. Came from an old prospector.

OAT MEAL BREAD
1 cup quick-cooking oats
2 cups boiling water
1/2 cup molasses
1 tsp. salt
2 tbsps. shortening
1 yeast cake
1/2 cup warm water
6 cups flour
Place oats in boiling water in a bowl, stir and let cool. Add molasses, salt and shortening. Dissolve yeast in the 1/2 cup warm water. Add this to oat mixture and then add flour. Cover with towel or waxed paper, and let rise to double. Knead down, and put into two greased loaf pans. Let rise 2 1/2 hours and bake at 375 degrees for 50 minutes or less. Makes two cakes.

CHICKEN LOAF
4 large chickens (cooked and cut into small pieces)
8 cups dry bread crumbs
4 cups cooked rice
4 tbsps. salt
16 eggs, beaten
1 cup butter or chicken fat
12 cups chicken broth
1/2 cup pimiento (optional)
2 tbsps. paprika
Combine ingredients, and pour into shallow pans. Bake at 350 degrees for 1 to 1 1/2 hours, depending on size of pans, or until egg is set.
Mushroom soup may be thinned with cream and used as a sauce. Serves about 48.

Raisins Have Long History

Raisins are one of the oldest of known human foods.

Yet the refreshing, distinct taste of a raisin is always new. No wonder they've remained such a steady favorite down through the centuries.

Nutritionists of the U.S. Department of Agriculture add to the praise of raisins. They're a good source of iron and contain fair amounts of other minerals and the B vitamins. Because they are high in natural fruit sugars, often less sweetening is required in cooking.

The raisin has a history reaching back at least 2,000 years before Christ, when the Egyptians and Persians grew raisin grapes. A r e m e n i a was producing raisins as a great industry in 400 B.C. From there, raisin production generally spread to Greece and Spain.

Spanish missionaries brought the first grapes to California, which now produces nearly half the world's supply of raisins. The first truly raisin-type grape appeared in California in 1851, when a San Diego rancher grew an Egyptian grape called the Muscat of Alexandria.

All of the U.S. raisin crop is grown within a radius of about 75 miles of Fresno and within the San Joaquin Valley. This region is the only area in North America — and one of the few areas in the world — where climatic conditions are exactly right for the growing and sun-drying of raisin grapes.

California's raisin production last season totaled 272,000 tons — the largest crop since 1952. This means supplies are plentiful this April, according to USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service. You'll likely find attractive price tags, too.

Keep raisins on your shopping lists.

CELEBRITY RECIPES Vice President Describes Soup That Becomes Family Favorite

Hubert H. Humphrey, as a boy in South Dakota, loved the hearty foods of the prairie country, where beef was king. Early habits, they say, linger long, and today the Vice President of the United States still would rather sit down to a traditional "meat and potatoes" family-style dinner than suffer through the strained formality of the most elegant diplomatic banquet.

A man of Mr. Humphrey's position and energy, on the go 26 hours out of every 24, has little time to enjoy the pleasures of cooking his own meals. Fortunately, Mrs. Humphrey, a talented homemaker who does much of her own dress-making and designing, is also a superb cook and sees to it that the Vice President gets plenty of his favorite foods, particularly Beef Soup.

"My father used to love to make this," she says. "It is now very famous because my husband loves it very much and has proclaimed it all over the United States."

"His soup gives him his vim and vigor."
MURIEL HUMPHREY'S BEEF SOUP

1 1/2 lbs. stew beef or chuck and stew bone
1 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. pepper
2 bay leaves
4 or 5 medium carrots, sliced
Pinch of oregano (any other spice you may prefer)
1 No. 2 can Italian style tomatoes
1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
1 beef bouillon cube
1/2 cup chopped onion
1 cup chopped celery

1 cup chopped cabbage
Cover heavy with cold water in a heavy three - quart kettle. Add salt, pepper and bay leaves. Let it come to a bubbling stage while preparing the vegetables. Turn heat low and add celery, onions, carrots and cabbage. Simmer at least 2 1/2 hours, or until meat is very tender. Remove bone and bay leaves and cut meat into bite-sized pieces. Add tomatoes, Worcestershire sauce and bouillon cube. Simmer for a half hour longer, and serve.

Mrs. Humphrey says of her Beef Soup: "It is especially good for a light supper meal with fruit salad, a glass of milk, lots of crackers and dessert. It is low in calories, but high in food value."

Jelly, Peanut Butter Makes Popular Pair

Take that popular twosome—jelly and peanut butter. Spread lavishly on bread then dip in an egg-milk mixture and grill to a golden doneness. Top with a quick dusting of confectioners' sugar and nutmeg and you've a guaranteed success.

The crusty exterior blends toothsome with the sweet fruit flavored filling on the inside. It's an ideal lunch for the school crowd; fine, too, for a quick and easy family supper on those days when Mom is involved in afternoon civic activities. And preparing any jam or jelly and Peanut Butter Sandwiches is a fun way for the young lady of the house to begin the test of her culinary skill.

JELLY AND PEANUT BUTTER SANDWICHES
Grill or skillet
12 slices white bread
1 jar (10 to 12 ounce) preserves, marmalade or jelly, any flavor desired

3/4 cup peanut butter, creamy or chunk style
3/4 cup milk
1 tsp. sugar
1/4 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. vanilla
2 eggs, beaten
1/4 cup butter or margarine, melted
Confectioners' sugar
Nutmeg

Spread 6 slices of bread with desired preserves, marmalade or jelly. Cover with remaining bread slices spread with peanut butter. Add milk, sugar, salt and vanilla to eggs. Stir until sugar dissolves. Dip each sandwich into egg mixture quickly; turn and quickly remove from egg mixture. Drain. Brown on both sides in butter or margarine, turning sandwich only once. Sprinkle with confectioners' sugar and nutmeg and cut in half diagonally. Yield: 6 sandwiches.

Exhibit Features Fruit Juice

Frozen orange juice concentrate may be an old story to most homemakers, but not so to Britshers. And that is why orange juice was one of the nine U.S. food products featured recently in a U.S. Department of Agriculture exhibit in London.

The USDA exhibit, put on in cooperation with U.S. commodity organizations, the Department of the Interior, and two U.S. airlines, was part of the International Hotel and Catering Exhibition, Europe's largest trade fair for all those engaged in "public hospitality."

Orange juice concentrate attracted a good many new customers among those attending the show. The exhibit featured fresh fruits and vegetables, specially flown from California and Florida for the show; also California prunes and raisins, frozen and canned poultry products, cranberries, lard, rice, and fishery products.

This is the latest in a continuing series of U.S. exhibits in foreign trade fairs, and part of USDA's efforts to expand exports of American food and farm products.

Dredge chicken in flour seasoned with salt and pepper. Heat butter or margarine in a large skillet and brown the chicken pieces in it. Combine chili sauce, catsup, horseradish, Worcestershire, lemon juice, red pepper sauce and water. Pour this mixture over well-browned chicken, cover skillet and stir occasionally. If the sauce cooks down, add a little water to prevent chicken from sticking. Cook about 45 minutes or until chicken is fork tender.

DEAR ABBY

Mother's In The Way

DEAR ABBY: After one year of marriage, my husband was drafted into the United States Army. He has been in basic training camp for four weeks. Next weekend I plan to fly 1,200 miles to visit him. He will get a pass for the weekend days, but he'll have to spend the nights on the base. My mother-in-law wants to go with me. This would make it very awkward since my husband and I would probably be spending quite a large part of the day in our hotel room. How can we explain to his mother that we'd rather be alone? We are both so afraid of hurting her feelings that we would almost rather have her make the trip. But if you can think of a nice way to tell her to stay home, I would certainly appreciate it.

DEAR IRISH: You can't tell your mother-in-law to stay home. She knows how much time her son will have off the base, and also that you will want time alone together. If she goes anyway, she'll have to be satisfied with whatever time she has with her son.

DEAR ABBY: My mother is the moodiest person on earth. She can wake up feeling fine, and then if anyone does one thing wrong, she's mad for the day. I am 16 years old, and I am sick and tired of her actions. I realize that some women have a difficult time at a certain age, but enough is enough. Could you please give me some advice on how to enjoy living at home with her? (Thank you.) DENISE

DEAR DENISE: Yes. Just for one day, refrain from doing any of the things you know will irritate her. And try to do all the things you know will please her. Such as cleaning your

Antigravity Idea Feasible

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Folks who dote on flying saucers — and believe the unidentified objects hurry around the sky using antigravity — may have something in theory, says a scientist who doesn't believe in flying saucers.

"If there are flying saucers, which I doubt, and if they are manned by living beings, which I also doubt," said Dr. Robert L. Forward, "then the only force that could explain the movements of the saucers would be antigravity."

By antigravity, scientists mean that a flying body would have its own gravitational field and be immune to the earth's gravitational pull. Thus people, or anything else inside a flying saucer, could travel safely without being subject to enormous stress, inside the saucer's field. "Without antigravity," Dr. Forward said, "the beings inside the saucers would be crushed — if the saucers accelerate and turn as reports indicate."

Dr. Forward, a member of the technical staff at the Hughes Aircraft Co. research division at nearby Malibu, said, however, that practical use of antigravity seems to be a long way off — perhaps centuries.

Nursing Home Rules Stiffer

DALLAS (AP) — A spokesman for the American Nursing Home Association says certain standards imposed on nursing homes under Medicare could "inflate an already serious shortage of professional workers."

Charles Hoffman, Washington, D. C., was among 200 association council members at a three-day meeting here.

"Medicare will require one registered nurse and several licensed practical nurses to man each shift at a nursing home," Hoffman said, and more revenue will be needed to meet the requirements.

He questioned the part of Medicare which provides for participants to stay 60 days without charge in a hospital but only 20 such days in a nursing home.

Funds Raised By Jack Benny Tour

FORT WORTH (AP) — Jack Benny raised $83,500 for symphony orchestras on a spring tour of three Texas cities. Benny played concerts at Corpus Christi, where he raised $20,200; Austin, which brought in $38,000; and Fort Worth where ticket sales netted $25,100.

Studio Lets In Tourists — For Fee

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — For a fee a historic studio takes you on a tram tour of its 410 acres of movie-making marvels. One of the most interesting attractions is a 21-year-old named Suzanne Bragg. Universal inaugurated its sidehine in mid-1964, transported 530,000 camera-clicking fans in 1965 and is heading toward 650,000 this year. With vacation-planning time here, a look at current offerings seemed due. They include: — Stunt men leaping off two-story buildings and showing how they slug one another without getting hurt. A brick hurled into the startled crowd is made of rubber. — Rubber boulders as big as yourself but so light you toss them like footballs. — Make-up men giving some lucky lady from the audience the treatment a Shirley MacLaine or Leslie Caron gets before her big scene. Miss Bragg is one of 15 guides for the year-round tours. An oil executive's daughter from nearby San Marino, she is 5 feet-6½, pert and pretty, with creamy skin and sparkling, dark-chocolate eyes. She has ridden in the Tournament of Roses parade and hopes to do television commercials.

Her flaming orange coat and white boots match the tram's colors. She sits up front, facing backward, holding a microphone, and pointed out where: — "Uncle Carl" Laemmle — Bavarian-born ex-clothier from Oshkosh, Wis., who opened the studio in 1915 — raised white Leghorn chickens and sold eggs to his cowboy and Indian actors. — "The Hunchback of Notre Dame," "Phantom of the Opera," "All Quiet on the Western Front" and, especially, current films were made.

The tram passes acres of oil paintings, statuary, armor and other old props — "More than five million," said Suzanne. Acres of old scenery — "everything is catalogued and numbered." Streets and towns — Western, Eastern, European, Mexican, Colonial, South Seas — many with no interiors. A sound stage has a rustic living-room set but no actors. "Ninety per cent of filming is done inside because we can make our own weather." The tourists look more at Suzanne than at the dusty scenery.

You're Mr. 0100101000 To Internal Revenue Service

AUSTIN (AP) — The Internal Revenue Service has your number. Not your name. Your number.

If your name is James Randolph Throckmorton, it appears on IRS computer tape as 150 ones and zeroes in code. Even if you have a short name like Al Poe, it comes out like this: 010001-100011-100011-010101.

SNIP OF TAPE That's the way you look on a snip of tape (596 characters per inch) stored at the National Computer Center at Martinsburg, W. Va.

The tape got there by way of one of seven regional service centers built by the IRS to automate checking of tax returns. Come along as we follow a tax return through the Austin regional service center, which serves eight Southwestern states — New Mexico, Louisiana, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Colorado, Wyoming and Texas.

INDIVIDUAL RETURNS This is the first year of operation for the Austin facility on individual income tax returns. It dealt in some business returns last year. The return arrives by mail in the Control and Service Branch in the center's hangar-like building.

The building covers five acres. Still, there isn't enough space. It was designed to accommodate 1,300 employees but nearly 2,000 will be working three shifts in April.

The first thing they do with your form is give it an identification number. This isn't your name number. It's another number.

Don't let this give you the idea they have anything against the English language. They don't. Some of the employees, in fact, are put in a class to teach them how to write simple, clear English in letters telling you in effect you could use a course in numbers and how to add and subtract them.

The next thing they do is check your form to be sure you've put the proper data in the proper places and signed your name. A key-punch operator gets it you all about it even if the error was in the government's favor.

The national center has several advantages. It eliminates multiple refunds, for example.

Ervin B. Osborn, director of the regional center in Austin, said a prison inmate once got 35 refunds simply by filing that many fraudulent returns and W2 forms.

Osborn said taxpayers shouldn't get the idea IRS has some kind of monster machine that reduces the taxpayer to a cipher and catches all errors.

The computers at the national center simply say something may be wrong with a tax return that doesn't ring true on the tape, he said.

A human is still needed to actually check the data to see what is wrong.

Mule Art Due For Cowboy Hall

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — A painting of 20 mules will be Arlington's contribution to the Cowboy Hall of Fame in Oklahoma City.

The painting is by Joe Ruiz Grande, 36, of Arlington, who quit his job as apartment house owner to devote full time to art.

E. Europeans Coddle Westerner With $$$

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (AP) — A new type of aristocrat is being bred in Eastern Europe, where communism was set up with pledges of equal treatment for all.

He is the visitor from the capitalist West, who pays his way in hard currency — preferably in U.S. dollars, British pounds or Swiss francs (traveler's checks freely accepted).

For him the best hotels are available and the best cooks prepare his meals.

OBJECT OF ENEMY

In his own country he may be just an average citizen. Here his favored position as possessor of Western cash makes him a member of an envied elite.

He can buy his favorite Western products in East European capitals and very often he is spared the nuisance of waiting in lines at airports, in banks and shops.

He does not have to learn the local languages — residents who deal with him have learned his Eastern European has put on a big smile for visitors from the West who bring hard cash — and with it the hope of economic recovery.

$$ FRIENDSHIP

The breakdown of rigid Marxist economic concepts in the bulk of the Communist world has prompted this campaign of commercial friendship for Westerners.

Gone are the days of grim frontier officials, tommyguns barring the way and the threat of secret police pursuing lonely travelers through sleepless nights behind the "Iron Curtain."

The term "Iron Curtain" has disappeared even from the diplomatic jargon. It was replaced by colored posters pleading in all languages of the West for Westerners to come — and have a good time.

NOT "IRON"

The curtain does exist, although at this stage it is no longer "iron." It emerges occasionally when a young Ameri-

Golden Gate Suicides Now Total 300

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The California Highway Patrol has listed the 300th suicide from Golden Gate Bridge but acknowledges its official figures may not be large enough.

Since the span was opened May 27, 1937, the patrol has listed 105 other possible suicides, saying that clothing, notes and automobiles have been found on the bridge in cases where bodies were not recovered.

Another 244 attempted jumps have been prevented, either by persuasion or by forcible restraint.

Listed as the 300th death was Michael Detata, 20, a San Francisco bank clerk who plunged from the bridge this week.

Victim
Chicago insurance executive John J. Steinbach, above, 58, died of head injuries aboard the storm-tossed Italian luxury liner Michaelangelo as it neared New York. Two others aboard the vessel lost their lives and 11 were injured when the ship was struck by a violent storm in the North Atlantic. The vessel made port Wednesday. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Hungry Millions In World Pose Threat To Civilization

By The Associated Press

Because hungry people don't care how or by whom they are ruled—

Because millions of children are doomed to die painfully of hunger—

Because millions of others will grow up physically and mentally retarded from hunger—

THIRD OF HUMANS

Because mass poverty of a third of all human beings is beyond the comprehension of rich countries—

Because of all these things, a world calamity of vast proportions can be just around the corner. For some areas, the dreaded tomorrow already has dawned.

Unchecked, the gathering catastrophe can bring disease, pestilence, revolution, perhaps more and crueler Viet Nams, perhaps even world war. It can threaten the security of the whole Western world.

There has been one reliever already in the lucky circumstance of an American embarrassment of abundance.

CRUCIAL DECADES

That delayed the catastrophe. It did not avert it. The experts are unanimous: The next decade or two will be the most critical in mankind's history.

Had it not been for American food surpluses, says an official of the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization, "the disaster would be upon us right now."

President Johnson now has launched a new war on world hunger, his "Food for Freedom program." It can prove to be the most important war the American people ever have undertaken.

The problem of what to do about huge food surpluses impelled the U.S. Congress in 1954 to adopt Public Law 480 — Food for Peace — under which $15 billion worth of basic food and supplies went abroad in 12 years, much in exchange for local currencies, some of it outright gifts.

Tensions Chill Hopes For U.S., Soviet Tourist Swap

MOSCOW (AP) — Times have changed since Leon Gilles of Richmond, Va., and his family drove their horse-drawn covered wagon across Europe and into Moscow back in October, 1964.

Nikita Khrushchev had just fallen from power and the new Soviet regime fostered hopes in the West of improved understanding. Both Moscow and Washington viewed tourists, however unorthodox their arrival, as a chance to build bridges on a personal level.

TENSIONS DEVELOP

But tensions over Viet Nam and the death of American tourist Newcomb Mott Jan. 20 have altered the picture radically. American tourism here now appears to be turning into a cold war factor.

After Mott's death, the U.S. State Department warned American tourists that they could encounter difficulties on coming to the Soviet Union.

Soviet officials reacted by charging that Washington was discouraging tourism here because it was afraid American tourists would find out the truth about "the successes of communism." The Russians said tourists who come here with an open heart always get a warm welcome.

SOVIET CONCERN

Behind the Soviet stand lies the deep Soviet concern about protecting its tourist trade, an important earner of foreign currency. This is badly needed to buy essential goods in the West such as wheat.

The American stand stems directly from the Mott case.

Mott had been convicted of entering the Soviet Union without a visa. He was being taken from prison to a labor camp by train when he died. The Russians said he committed suicide.

Washington, still awaiting an official report on the death, maintained that the Russians dealt harshly with the young American on a minor offense and should have let him go.

There was also the fear that the Soviets might arrest American tourists on trumped up charges and hold them in hopes of exchanging them for Soviet spies held in America. Mott, perhaps at Soviet urging, had suggested such an exchange and was turned down.

NOT GIVING UP

Despite the current rough water, the Soviets are still counting on expanding tourist trade and building new facilities to handle it.

Last year, according to Intourist, the official agency that handles tourism here, more than 1.2 million people visited the Soviet Union. That was a 50 per cent increase over 1955.

Intourist claims 20,000 Americans visited the Soviet Union last year. The American Embassy here, which does not register all American tourists in the Soviet Union, puts the figure at 12,000 to 15,000.

Intourist doesn't say how much money is made from tourism but the figure is considerable.

Nile Skeleton Find Studied

DALLAS (AP) — Southern Methodist University has determined that 70 skeletons found in Nile River deposits in Egypt are 14,000 years old.

The skeletons were found last year, along with a large number of artifacts. The age has been determined by carbon dating—a process where age is determined by loss of radiation.

The project was the first launched under the school's newly established Institute for the Study of Earth and Man.

Bus Crash Part Of Ceremonies

DALLAS (AP) — People trying to gain notice through groundbreaking ceremonies are at their wits end to arrive at something new.

The Dallas Transit System dedicated a new building and with a bus crash.

Nothing was hurt however, for the bus crashed through a huge paper sign extolling the virtues of the new building.

Farm, Ranch Income Gains

WASHINGTON (AP)—Texas ranked third in farm and ranch income during 1965, the Agriculture Department reports. Texas sales of crops, livestock and livestock products totaled $2,532,938,000. Only California with $3.6 billion and Iowa with $2.9 billion showed larger incomes from agriculture.

Crops brought more to Texas than did sales of livestock and livestock products, amounting to $1,931,399,000 and $1,161,539,000 respectively. The 1964 total was $2,304,411,000. Actually, the crop-cattle income to Texas farmers and ranchers totaled $2.75 billion in 1965 and $2.4 billion in 1964. Their receipts from marketings was supplemented by $198,307,000 in government payments last year and $173,539,000 in 1964.

FOURTH RANKING
Fourth ranking state was Illinois, with marketings of $2.4 billion. These first four states, whose relative rankings remained unchanged from 1964, counted for nearly 30 per cent of the total receipts from crop, livestock and livestock product sales. The national total in 1965 was $38.9 billion, as compared with $36.8 in 1964. Additionally, government payments amounted to $2.4 billion last year, $2.1 billion in 1964.

The realized gross income by Texas farms and ranches last year averaged $14,324, up from $12,476 last year and $3,924 in 1964.

TEXAS GAINS
Commenting on Texas' 27 per cent gain in net income, the department said: Cash receipts from marketings were well above a year earlier as receipts were up sharply for cattle and calves, cotton lint and sorghum grains. Receipts were a little lower for wool and mohair. Government payments were above a year earlier. Production expenses in the aggregate were somewhat higher.

The national average gross income was $13,174 last year, the net income $4,182.

POVERTY BATTLE
The government's antipoverty drive is bringing a new deal to the downtrodden migrant farm workers of the nation, a big percentage of whom are persons of Latin-American background who call the San Antonio and Rio Grande Valley areas home but work the crops as far north as Canada.

Rep. Henry Gonzalez of San Antonio, the first Texan of Mexican descent to serve in Congress, says the education programs financed by the Office of Economic Opportunity is showing that all the migrants need to get ahead is a break.

MIGRANT HARVESTERS
"They have been kicked around from state to state and farm to farm, stopping only to help harvest the crops without which we would hardly be an affluent society or a well fed people."

"Compounding their misery and their exploitation was the feudalistic bracero program, wisely and successfully terminated by Congress last year."

"Under this program, hundreds of thousands of Mexican nationals were imported annually to do farm and ranch work."

"One of the great myths that has existed in some places is that the migrant farm workers, particularly those of Mexican descent, are especially suited for 'stop' labor and that they cannot or will not learn the skills that would open up greater job opportunities."

CITES PROGRESS
Gonzalez, describing the progress being made through establishment of training program financed with OEO funds, said:

"Some time ago the Office of Economic Opportunity granted $3.3 million for an adult education program in South Texas."

"Never before had any sustained manpower training program between attempted in this area for migrant workers . . . I am happy to say that even in the short time that the South Texas adult migrant education program had existed, the myth of the migrant has been proven false."

"The 3,000 adult migrant farm workers that have enrolled in the current training program have amazed everyone with their earnestness, their willingness to learn, their enthusiasm for the program, and their attendance."

He said similar programs are under way in San Antonio, Laredo, Robstown, McAllen, Roma and Rio Grande City, adding: "Without exception, these programs have been completely sold out, in terms of applicants for enrollments. In fact, hundreds of migrants have had to be turned down because of the amount of funds and resources available . . ."

Center May Change Name
A proposal to change the name of the Howard County Rehabilitation Center will be a major item on the agenda of the center's board of directors today at 5:15 p.m.

Nearly 75 persons are expected to attend the meeting and the volunteer recognition program following. Award certificates for hours of work will be presented, including 11 volunteers receiving 25-hour certificates; eight getting 50-hour certificates; and four receiving 100-hour certificates.

Mrs. Larry Crow is handling arrangements, assisted by Mrs. Clyde Angel and Bo Bowen. Gene Adkins will furnish the entertainment.

Robbie Smart To Represent Lions

Robbie Smart, 1809 Settles, will represent the Big Spring Evening Lions Club at the Lions District 2-A1 Queen Contest Friday night. The contest will be one of the highlights of the District 2-A1 convention held at San Angelo. District 2-A1 covers 25 counties with over 2,800 members in 60 clubs.

Miss Smart, a sophomore at Big Spring High School, will be accompanied by her mother, Mrs. R. A. Smart. She lists as her hobbies sewing, and collecting records and drinking glasses.

Carroll Smith's Brother Dies In San Angelo

Services for John Smith, brother of Carroll Smith, Herald shop foreman, are pending at Johnson's Funeral Home in San Angelo. Mr. Smith, 88, a longtime resident of San Angelo, and wholesale distributor for the San Angelo Standard-Times, died suddenly early Wednesday while on his route.

He is the father of Larry Smith, formerly a printer on the Herald staff.

Carroll Smith is in San Angelo, where he was called by the death of his brother.

Mr. Smith had stopped at Baptist Memorial Hospital in San Angelo to deliver newspapers when he became ill.

He was born in Junction Dec. 22, 1907, and lived there until 1910, when he moved to Sonora with his family. He lived at 901 N. Madison here in San Angelo.

Mr. Smith attended Sonora and San Angelo schools and started working for the Standard-Times in the circulation department in 1928 and worked there until 1949. He also worked for Sunset

Motor Lines as a dock superintendent.

He was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Smith of Sonora. He moved to San Angelo in 1922.

After 12 years with the motor line, he returned in 1964 as distributor for the paper on the city newsstand delivery routes.

While working in the Standard-Times from 1929-1949 he was employed in the mail room, as a route supervisor and worked with area circulation agents.

A member of the First Methodist Church, he married Elizabeth Jennings, Nov. 8, 1931 in San Angelo.

Survivors include his widow; two sons, Larry R. Smith, San Angelo, and Airman I.C. Ronald Smith, stationed in Thailand; two brothers, Bill Smith, Sonora, and Carroll Smith, Big Spring; three sisters, Mrs. Arthur Sitas and Mrs. Rob Bricker, both of San Angelo, and Mrs. A. J. Willeke, Odessa; and three grandchildren.

Patrol Boats Enter War

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Navy has started river patrol boat warfare in South Vietnam and plans to have 160 machine gun-equipped craft ready to run down Viet Cong vessels by July.

Indications are this is only the beginning of a large-scale operation — the first of their kind for the Navy since the days of the American Civil War.

The first two of the Navy's new 31-foot fiberglass, water-jet propelled PBR's (patrol boat, river) began operating Sunday in river waters about 30 miles southwest of Saigon. They halted and inspected 19 junks.

By summer the Navy will have scores of the high speed craft skimming along rivers which wind seaward through the rice-rich area below Saigon. The boats have a speed capability of 25 knots.

Thousands of junks and sampans traverse canals and streams interlocking the rivers — and many are Communist vessels hauling food and, to a lesser extent, arms northward to Viet Cong strongholds.

In an effort to choke this many-veined pipeline, the Navy is embarking on "game warden" patrols.

Already 750 men are being trained for what Rear Adm. Leroy V. Swanson, director of fleet operations, calls the initial phase of the operation. In Viet Nam the game warden patrols are under operational control of Rear Adm. Norvell G. Ward, head of U.S. naval forces there.

The PBR has sparked enthusiasm among Navy enlisted men — perhaps mainly because they'll be in charge of running armed vessels for the first time. First or second class petty officers are being assigned to head the four-man crews.

Rail History Told To Lions

STANTON (SC) — James Mims of Midland, brought a historic program on the evolution of the American railway system, for the Stanton Lions Club Tuesday.

Election of new officers resulted in John Wood, president; Horace Blocker, first vice president; Roy Pickett, second vice president; Allen Fisher, third vice president; John Rouche, secretary - treasurer; Finley Rhodes, Lion tamer; George Costlow, tail twister; Mrs. Pauline Wood, Lion Sweetheart; Rev. C. R. LeMond, chaplain; and Cliff Hazlewood, Paige Filand and Bill Terry, members of the board.

This is left to the Vietnamese river assault group — the black berets — with its slower, armored vessels which penetrate between-river canals to look for trouble or transport troops.

The armed boats are powered by noisy engines which tip off Viet Cong. But the PBR is virtually silent at low speeds.

Viet: Brushes With Death....

BEN CAT, South Viet Nam (AP) — He was the oldest and wisest GI in the group, had seen three wars, and outranked everyone else sitting around the bunker.

So when the subject got on to death, Sgt. Donald R. Logan, cleared his throat with authority.

"You can't tell how you're gonna get it, and I've seen 'em get it in plenty of ways in this and the big war. I'm a professional soldier, and the Army's a good life if you don't get killed. You got to be fatalistic about this, but then looking at some of the statistics, like the Labor Day weekend back in the States, they do up more people than we do in a couple of months over here. I don't know which is worse, defensive driving or fighting from a foxhole."

BIGGEST MAN
 Sgt. Raymond Linsky, 21, with two years in the Army and at 6 feet 3 by far the biggest man there, had his say.

"I guess everyone's a professional as long as he's over here. If you're not a professional you're not going home. The way I look at it, trying to rationalize, I'm going out there to get him, he's not gonna get me. I'm a much better man than he is."

The voice of Sgt. Douglas H. Warden of Harrington, Texas, cut through the afternoon air on the Vietnamese hillside where they were talking.

"You're gonna get it when your time comes. When that sergeant got hit I was in front of him, missed me completely and got him. It's not the bullet with your name on it you have to worry about, it's the one marked 'to whom it may concern.'"

They were men of the 1st platoon, A Company, 2nd Battalion, 28th Regiment, 1st Division, U.S. Army and they had just finished building bunkers to protect an engineer battalion putting down a new road.

Now it was late afternoon. The men were sitting on a hillside, lightly wooded with rubber trees, not far from Ben Cat in South Viet Nam. For the moment there was nothing to do except wait forchow time.

BULL SESSION
 Like soldiers from time immemorial, they started a bull session, swapping stories of war, of things back home, of women — and death.

Linsky: "It's fate, and you can also be at the wrong place at the wrong time. You know him pretty well, you've slept in the same hole with him. Then one day he's not with you anymore."

Warden: "What about the squad leader the other day who everyone liked. He got killed and everyone felt sorry. Remember how he used to holler a lot, he had strong lungs. But then he was the type of man who got easily worried, got easily excited. There he was, going down Thunder Road in a truck minding his own business when bam he gets hit with a mine, and just shows it doesn't pay to get excited about it."

WORTH IT?
 With the subject of death so close to every man there followed a discussion of whether the whole business was worth while.

Logan: "I don't know if we have the answer, the way we're doing it now. I'll leave that portion of it to the bigger brains than mine back there. A lot of times on our level down here it doesn't seem correct when we are actually doing it. But again we got an awful small TV screen. They've got the big picture. I just hope they know what they are doing. We don't have idiots at the head of our government, not yet."

Linsky: "We should definitely be here. We got to stop the Communists somewhere. We can't lose face now. If we stop or pull out it will make America look like a dog."

Logan: "Well, we got some friends here. Australia seems to be doing all right. So do the New Zealanders and the Koreans."

Linsky: "We need some Turks."
 Logan: "I'd like to see some Chinese Nationalists over here. The West Germans are sending a hospital ship, but I'd rather see a battalion than a hospital ship. I'd like to see more nations over here. We've been giving all these years. I think we could stand a bit of help here right now, manpowerwise."

Linsky: "And let's get some of those Vietnik protesters over here. Let's get them filling sandbags."
 The crack of a bullet echoed through the trees near where the men sat.

Linsky: "Oops, somebody shootin'!"
 Logan: "Steel pot time, everybody."

Spec. 4 Raymond Rasmussen, 23, from Hutchinson, Minn., a father of five, began reflecting on the personal aspects of being in Viet Nam.

DREAM OF HOME
 "I dream about home, cause that's all there is. All the time I dream about the wife, and the kids jumping into bed with us at four in the morning. That can give you quite a scare. The day I left for Viet Nam I had a baby daughter born. I want to see her, I want to see Janice."
 Logan: "My family doesn't like me being over here one bit. They seem to be holding up pretty well, judging from the letters, but they constantly want me home. Those letters are a great morale factor. I get a letter every single day."
 Linsky: "My family doesn't say too much, and I keep off the topic when I write home. I should be here, rather than seeing my nephew or my son come over later on. I would rather do it myself. And this is the only place in the Army where I felt I was accomplishing something. Sure, it's a bit dangerous, but it can be dangerous getting out of bed in the morning."

A Devotional For The Day

Whoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him shall never thirst; but the water that I shall give him shall be in him a well of water springing up into everlasting life. (John 4:14)

PRAYER: Our Father, we praise Thee for giving us Thy Son, our Lord. We thank Thee that Thou dost offer us eternal life. Help us to accept Thy gift and thereby drink of the water which satisfied the soul. In His name. Amen.
(From the 'Upper Room')

Bill With Many Bad Features

Pending in Congress is HC 8282 which would make all states conform to the federal pattern in unemployment taxes as benefits.

Texas employers who have not yet voiced an opinion on this may want to communicate with the House Ways and Means Committee, for the measure will drastically affect costs and perhaps add to employment problems.

First off, this measure would increase the employer tax from 4 to 5.5 per cent. The .5 per cent increase may seem innocent enough, but it is a 31 per cent hike. This, however, pales into insignificance when it is considered that the tax base would rise to an eventual $6,000 instead of the current $3,000. When the increase in tax on the present base is added to the total tax on the additional base, it is easy to see that the employer's tax cost will be more than doubled.

Another reason for taking a close look at the measure is that unemployment compensation taxes would be paid to anyone who leaves a job for any reason except criminal acts. This means that even those who are dismissed for misconduct could qualify. Moreover, a person could continue to draw unemployment insurance even though suitable employment elsewhere was found for him.

Also, the current flexible duration of eight to 26 weeks would become a flat 26 weeks. The present latitude in imposing penalties of one to 26 weeks would be restricted to a flat six weeks penalty. This latter item alone could cost Texas $6,000,000 annually.

Further, charitable, religious and non-profit organizations would be burdened under the terms of the act. Farmers using 300 man hours a quarter might also fall under terms of the act.

Finally, the measure goes beyond the intent of bridging the gap between unavoidable unemployment and the next job, and instead becomes a new welfare program which would encourage professional idlers for the simple reason they could draw benefits for 25 per cent more time than they actually worked.

Clean-up Week

Don't look now — but it's Clean-up Week.

This year's observance starts in the middle of the week rather than on a Monday, and the reason is simple. Perhaps you will find time this weekend to tackle your yard or surrounding area and clear it of trash and weeds, placing the accumulation near your garbage can.

In that way, the material will be ready for city trucks when they begin the rounds on Monday. Heretofore most residents have had to watch the trucks go by before they got the fever. This always meant that their trash got left or it was a long time in being picked up.

You know all the reasons for cleaning up your place. It looks a whole lot better—like you have pride. It's safer. It's healthier. And it's good for the community's attitude as well as appearance.

So please do your part. Plan now to do something this weekend about cleaning your place.

Art Buchwald Get In There And Pitch

WASHINGTON — Vice President Hubert Humphrey threw out the first ball of the baseball season at D. C. Stadium Monday. How and why the Vice President was chosen for this important task can now be revealed.

The Vice President was home when he received a call from the President. "Hubert, I'm sorry to bother you." "Oh, that's all right, Mr. President. Muriel and I were just going over the plans for our new $750,000 house."

"Fine, Hubert, I have a job that I can only entrust to you."

"YOU WANT me to go back to Viet Nam and talk to the Buddhists?" "No, Hubert. It's trickier than that. I want you to go out to D. C. Stadium and throw out the first ball of the baseball season. Are you up to it?"

"Yes, sir, Mr. President. Does that mean you're not going?"

"That's right. If I go out there and throw out the first ball, that means I'll commit myself to the Washington Senators team, and after Hawaii I'm not about to commit myself to anybody."

"I think you're wise, sir. If Washington loses, you can always blame it on me."

"THERE'S A couple of things, Hubert. Where were you going to throw the ball?"

"Where do you want me to throw it, sir?"

"Throw it towards first base."

"That's exactly where I thought I'd throw it."

"And don't put a curve on it. If I threw it they'd expect a curve, but I think you'd look better if you threw it straight."

"I've got you, sir. What's the White House policy as far as the Washington Senators are concerned?"

"YOU CAN SAY we support them, that we of course would like them to win, but it isn't enough just to win. There must also be social and economic reforms for the players. We want nothing for ourselves. We just want them to be happy and to decide their own destiny without outside interference."

"That makes sense, Mr. President. I'll draft a speech to that effect."

"You'd better not make it a speech, Hubert. They're supposed to play in the afternoon and if you spoke they might be forced to play a night game."

"I guess you're right, sir."

"ONE MORE thing, Hubert. Don't offer the Washington team any financial aid. I know how you get carried away."

"I won't, sir. I learned my lesson in India."

"You can take my helicopter, Hubert, and I'll send Jack Valenti along with you. He can help you throw out the ball."

"I'd appreciate that, sir. Jack can be very helpful at times like this."

"WELL, THAT'S about it, Hubert. I'll be watching you on TV and I know you're going to make a throw that will long be remembered."

"I'll put everything I've got behind it, Mr. President."

"I'm sure you will, Hubert. I put you on the Johnson team because I knew you would always be ready to go out there and pitch."

DUFFTOWN, Scotland (AP) — This ancient Highland town is getting a new coat of arms—featuring a whisky distillery.

Sir Thomas Innes of Learney, the Lord Lyon of Scotland whose function it is to look after coats of arms and other heraldic business, suggested the new coat of arms at the request of the Dufftown city fathers. Dufftown is a distilling center.

'WISH SOMEBODY WOULD ADVISE US ADVISORS'

James Marlow

Buddhists May Be Relying On U.S. Divided Opinion

WASHINGTON (AP) — When the full story behind the Buddhists' maneuvering in South Viet Nam comes out it may prove to be one of the slickest pieces of Machiavellianism in our time.

The Buddhists are trying to overthrow their government. The U.S. government doesn't seem well-informed on what's going on among the Buddhists and what's driving them on, or if it is, it's keeping the information to itself.

For that reason no one seems able to say whether the Buddhist leaders are in a deal with the North Vietnamese Communists to seize the South Vietnamese government, ask the Americans to leave, and let the Reds take over.

IT MIGHT appear at first, if this is what the Buddhists are in mind, that they are operating on sheer gall since this country is backing the government of Premier Nguyen Cao Ky and has enormous forces in Viet Nam.

But they might be banking on something else to help them carry the day: divided American opinion.

When the history of these days is written the effect of what has happened here in the field of one of America's most prized possessions — freedom of speech — may appear as a strong factor in the Buddhists' thinking.

PRESIDENT Johnson's policy on Viet Nam has been under attack from many quarters in this country—particularly in the Senate and the academic world — and perhaps he can't gauge its full effect on him.

For instance: Would he have pursued the war harder, been less reluctant to bomb North Viet Nam more extensively if the critics weren't on his back? But any effect on Johnson is only part of the total possible effect of the criticism.

For example: What has been the effect of Americans' criticism of their own government on the thinking of the North Vietnamese Communists about continuing to fight?

OR ON the South Vietnamese Buddhists about their chances of overturning their American-backed government and getting away with it?

Johnson apparently has felt confident, despite the criticism, that he had the support of a majority of Americans for his Viet Nam policy.

But the criticism here at home could leave no doubt in the minds of the Vietnamese, North and South, that American thinking was divided not only about how to wage the war but even about continuing it at all.

For instance, Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., said the American people are going to "repudiate this administration and they should. You just can't justify our being in war over there."

HE CALLED the U.S. position in Viet Nam "shockingly immoral" and said that if the South Vietnamese were ever to choose freely a Communist government, the United States should support it.

NEW YORK (AP)—"Him? I didn't think you even knew he existed, Ellen."

"Really, Jason, I don't think you even know what love means."

These are a couple of remarks I heard my daughter, Tracy Ann, make recently over the telephone, an instrument which has become so firmly attached to her ear that I am thinking of having it removed by surgical means.

I AM not a parent who believes in eavesdropping but kids today follow their secrets into a phone so loud you can hear them all over the house.

What do 12-year-old kids talk about? Well, believe it or not, they talk about each other.

Does Judy like Rodger? What does Susie see in Spencer? And how about Dick and Christine?

The other night, with both a radio and television set turned on, my daughter sat and talked over the phone with a chum about the antics of a seventh-grade Romeo for exactly an hour and 15 minutes. Finally, I went into her room and broke up the conversation.

"WHAT ON earth are you doing?" I demanded. Tracy Ann pointed at an American history book open on her lap.

"Studying the Monroe Doctrine," she replied. "While listening to the radio, watching television, and talking on the phone?"

"Yup." I noticed six boys' names written on her small blackboard, and asked who they were.

"My boy friends." "Only six?" I inquired with heavy sarcasm.

"Oh, I've got lots more," she said airily. "But those are the ones I like best—now."

I WENT out and grumbled to my wife. "Oh, dry up, Rover," said Frances. "Let her alone. She's still in the puppy love stage."

Puppy love? Oh, no, no, indeed. Whatever this jabberwocky over the telephone between small fry amounts to, it isn't puppy love.

Not real puppy love, anyway. Real puppy love isn't noisy and carefree and gossipy. Real puppy love is solitary, silent, soulful suffering—the spirit laid bare and shuddering and helplessness to cure its own agony.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim

With A Fine Tooth Comb

George Zachariah was the last member of that city commission that some years ago rang up a milestone in budget investigation. I doubt that it had ever been done before, and it hasn't been done since.

ZACHARIAH left the commission this week. Others on that sleuthing expedition, and who have since left the city service, were Dr. Lee O. Rogers, John Taylor, Paul Kasch and Tom South.

For several weeks, these men turned their attention to every detail of the budget and quizzed city administrators on the need for each and every expenditure, then discussed whether it was actually needed. Such thorough examination took a lot of time, and many evenings were spent in the commission room, as well as one Sunday. Hamburgers were brought to the commission room, as they whacked away through meal-times.

FEW GOVERNMENT bodies can boast having members so well informed as those men were at the end of the session. Few would spend so much of their time, searching out where every municipal penny is spent.

Budgets, whether for the city, county or school district, are complex enough without listing every single item. Many things are lumped together under some general heading. It was the purpose of those budget sessions to break open the lumps and find out what was being paid for.

THOUSANDS of dollars was clipped from the budget, during those long sessions. Some money was shaved off in one area, and welded on in another, where the need was felt to be more pressing.

Doubtless, the taxpayer gained the most that year, as a tax increase was the spectre in the background at all the meetings. The spectre did not become real. In fact, it was not until this year that the city finally had to resort to a tax increase to pay its bills, far longer than many competent observers felt it could be put off. Even now, the increase goes largely to pay higher salaries to deserving city employees.

PROBABLY such a thorough examination is not necessary every year, though certainly it would be welcomed. But occasionally, and particularly for the benefit of new members who face the problems of governmental expenditures and income, it is most worthwhile. Certainly, the benefits wind up in the taxpayers' best interest.

What's The U.N. For?

WASHINGTON — The American people are paying a good deal of money into the U.N. for so-called "peace-keeping" purposes. But except for pious advice, the United Nations is completely ignoring the war in Viet Nam.

The action of the Security Council a few days ago in adopting a resolution authorizing Great Britain to use armed force, if necessary, to stop any ships from transporting oil, directly or indirectly, to Rhodesia has set a precedent which is bound to be embarrassing in the future.

FOR IF THE United Nations feels it has the authority to impose embargoes against a country where there is a domestic dispute, it certainly could authorize similar action against countries which are sending arms and ammunition to be used against a constituted government.

It is acknowledged that military assistance is being rendered by Red China to rebel forces in Viet Nam and that war supplies are going in the ships of various nations to ports in North Viet Nam.

The excuses being made by the United Nations for acting in the case of Rhodesia and refraining in the case of Viet Nam are superficial.

BUT THE United Nations is supposed to be concerned with the preservation of peace and with the adoption of measures that will lead to peace discussions. Certainly to pass a resolution which authorizes military force against shipping destined for Rhodesia is a far more serious step by the Security Council of the U.N. than authorization of a commission to initiate a peace conference in Viet Nam would be.

THE FRENCH representative at the Security Council took the position that the Rhodesia affair is strictly internal, and implied that only if there were a threat to international peace, would intervention be justified. United States Ambassador Goldberg defended the resolution, declaring that to impose legal sanctions to halt and search merchantmen on the high seas was a major step for any trading nation to take in wartime. He implied that the conflict between Great Britain and the rebel government in Rhodesia has a direct relationship to international peace. The French dispute this view.

BUT SO FAR as Viet Nam is concerned, there are no such legal doubts. The war there involves Southeast Asian nations as well as the United States. This country has sent an army of more than 235,000 men to South Viet Nam, and military forces, though in smaller numbers, from other countries are engaged in the fighting there. Not only is a war going on, but a threat to the peace of a continent is evident. Yet the United Nations does nothing about it.

The big question is how long public confidence can or will be reposed in the U.N. when it deliberately avoids taking any steps to end the war in Viet Nam.

MANY PEOPLE have hoped that the United Nations would provide a forum for the discussion of international questions and that it could also bring together peace-keeping forces which would be able to intervene in situations like that which has arisen in Viet Nam. The American people have been patient and have struck by the United Nations notwithstanding its many frustrations.

There arises now, however, a question as to what good it is to this country to pay millions of dollars a year to the support of the United Nations, when in a crisis such as exists in Viet Nam nothing is done either by the Security Council or by the General Assembly to authorize collective action by member nations under the auspices of the organization itself to secure peace.

The New Crop Of Congressmen

WASHINGTON — He is one of the 71 Democratic freshmen Congressmen, a "coattail rider" on President Johnson's sweeping victory in 1964 — but he didn't talk like a man beholden to LBJ.

"Listen," said this Pacific Coast Congressman, "Mr. Johnson is an old man in my book. He thinks of himself as a descendant of the Roosevelt New Deal. Well, Franklin Roosevelt is just a historical figure to me. We're the GI generation of World War II, and we don't believe in the old political adages. The idea that the in-party is bound to lose House seats in an off-year election is bunk. Every man will be running on his own."

HERE IS another Democratic member of the Class of '64, this one from the Rocky Mountain area, and his attitude toward the President is one of resentful antipathy.

"I was told last autumn to vote for a certain bill and then to bring my wife to the White House. Well, I don't care to be invited on any such conditional basis. That White House is just as much mine as his, the way I see it. I don't like the sort of political manipulation that's been going on to get our votes lined up. When the President talks to me on the phone, I can tell from his voice that he does not like something I've done. And there have been times when I have been treated at the White House with contempt — utter contempt."

HERE IS a third of the Democratic freshmen, from the Midwest, and he is a little more anxious about re-election than the other two.

"One term is no good. I wouldn't think of introducing any important legislation. All my district wants to know is what I have done for it lately. If I'm re-elected it will be because I have answered the mail and gone home frequently."

YOU CAN pick up this kind of conversation among the coattailers of '64 if you don't put them on the spot by attaching their names. Out of their dialogue emerges an idea that may be heresy to the old politicians who run both parties. One of the interviewed Congressmen called it "incumbency." He meant that being a Democrat or Republican in 1966 didn't count so much as how much the incumbent was in tune with the times — how well he had discharged his duties.

This viewpoint, if valid, would mean that we are in the twilight of political partisanship. To everybody's surprise the other day, the Machinists' International Association, a labor union often regarded as an adjunct of the Democratic party, endorsed 12 Republican Congressmen and five Republican Senators for re-election.

HERESY IS the word for this sort of thing. At least, it is by the orthodoxy of the Old Pro in the White House. He would be horrified to hear that whippersnapper Congressmen should think of him as a has-been Democrat, or should resent being told by a leader how to vote, or should look upon a measly one-year record on Capitol Hill as grounds for re-election, more or less regardless of party backing. For years, Mr. Johnson has been trading favors for support, telling yearlings how to vote, teaching Democratic solidarity as the way to political responsibility and pay-off.

BUT THERE are signs that the old assumptions may not apply this November. If the signs read as they seem to do, it may mean every man for himself in November — devil take the party label.

ZEMUM, Yugoslavia (AP) — City council of this town just outside Belgrade discussed a proposal to move factories outside the city limits because of the smoke nuisance.

But Zemum has a chocolate factory which city council said should not be moved.

"It may smoke a little," one councilman said. "But it's mighty nice smelling smoke."

German 'Sea Devil' Of War I Dead

MALMOE, Sweden (AP) — Count Felix von Luckner, who sank 14 Allied ships in World War I without taking a life, is dead at 84.

Von Luckner's death Wednesday of an undisclosed illness ended a life of daring that earned him fame as the "Sea Devil."

During the World War I he commanded an innocent-looking windjammer which carried concealed guns and a powerful motor.

Play Launches Odessa's New Globe Theater

ODESSA, Tex. (AP) — Paul Baker's "Julius Caesar," produced by the Dallas Theater Center's repertory company, has opened at the Globe Theater of the Great Southwest here.

Odessa residents call the reconstruction of the theater in which William Shakespeare produced his plays nearly 400 years ago "the world's most authentic."

PARIS TRIUMPH

The Dallas company won the Special Jury Prize at Paris' Theater of Nations in 1964. It was the highest award ever given an American theater company in the French capital. Baker's company has staged "Julius Caesar" in repertory since 1962.

Funds to build the $175,000 theater here were donated by area citizens. It has been under construction since 1958, work being done on it as money was available.

The octagonal, 6-story building surrounds the 14½-foot stage in a semi-circle. Walls are hand rubbed stucco and hand-hewn wood, simulating the plaster and wood of Elizabethan London. Located on the Odessa College campus, the building and its landscaped grounds are surrounded by a wall to give it an air of isolation from today's world.

IN 1599

The original Globe Theater was built in 1599, just outside London's city limits. It burned in 1613 when a cannon was fired from the stage during a performance of Shakespeare's "Henry VII," and a wadding from old artillery piece set fire to the thatch roof.

The theater was rebuilt, but in 1644 the politically powerful Puritans finally outlawed and destroyed all public theaters.

Drawings and accounts of the theater remained, however, and through years of research, Mrs. Marjorie Morris and architect J. Ellsworth Powell have reconstructed the theater in its original size, appearance and detail.

Prof Says Women Still Plagued By Job Bias

NEW YORK (AP) — A Columbia University professor said today most employers still prefer "dumb men to smart women."

The professor, Dr. Eli Ginzberg, a manpower expert, sounded a call for sweeping changes to help educated women overcome what he said are prejudices against them and live a more balanced life.

Ginzberg, who heads the President's National Manpower Advisory Committee, contended modern society hasn't faced up to the potential of married women in a man's world.

He debunked a view held by some social critics — many of whom are women — who argue that women today are torn between the home and the outside world and don't know which way to turn.

"All those people who have been harping about women's problems and conflicts have made this up largely out of their own imagination," he said in an interview. "Many women nowadays are able to have the best of both worlds and there is no reason why they shouldn't."

Ginzberg presents evidence for his thesis in a book released Wednesday entitled "Life Styles of Educated Women" in which he examines the views of 311 women who pursued higher education at Columbia University over a six-year period.

"Three-quarters of these women did not regard their lives as being full of frustrations," he said. "In fact they were willing, given the chance, to fulfill their potentiality outside of the home."

But, Ginzberg suggested, shortsightedness on the part of employers, the federal government and universities in their attitudes is hampering women in attaining such a goal.

Ginzberg pointed out that 24 million women are now employed each day on a fulltime or part-time basis.

French Ban Paris Rites

PARIS (AP)—A French official said today the banning of an American memorial service for U.S. soldiers who fought in the liberation of Paris reflects a ruling applying to "all individual veterans' groups, French and American."

Marcelle Thomas, who disclosed the French refusal for the annual service here said earlier the government had given her no reason for the action. Miss Thomas, who is president of the Kelly Memorial Association, said the June 10 commemoration will be held instead at the U.S. military cemetery at Suresnes, just outside the capital.

A spokesman for the French Defense Ministry said the association was told last July it would no longer be able to hold its services at Les Invalides, site of Napoleon's Tomb and the French War Museum.

IRS Agent In Bribe Case

ROSWELL, N.M. (AP) — An Internal Revenue Service agent has been charged with soliciting and accepting a $4,000 bribe from a nightclub owner who was indicted March 22 on a federal tax evasion charge.

The agent, C. Wayne Spence, 55, was arrested Tuesday night. U.S. Atty. John Quinn of Albuquerque said his office had been advised by Roswell nightclub owner Melbourne C. Scott of a bribe offer about three weeks ago.

Scott, 49, has pleaded innocent on a charge of attempting to evade income taxes.

Formfit Rogers

Sleep pretty, and let your ruffles do the dancing! Short, sweet baby doll with a Go-Go hemline of crisp, contrast-tipped frills. Spaghetti straps hold a whirl of doubled, nylon sheer over briefest Baby Doll panties, or, let yourself go for the Go-Go Bikini. Beruffled nylon tricot bra top, "Oula-la" Bikini with a flirty contrast bow.

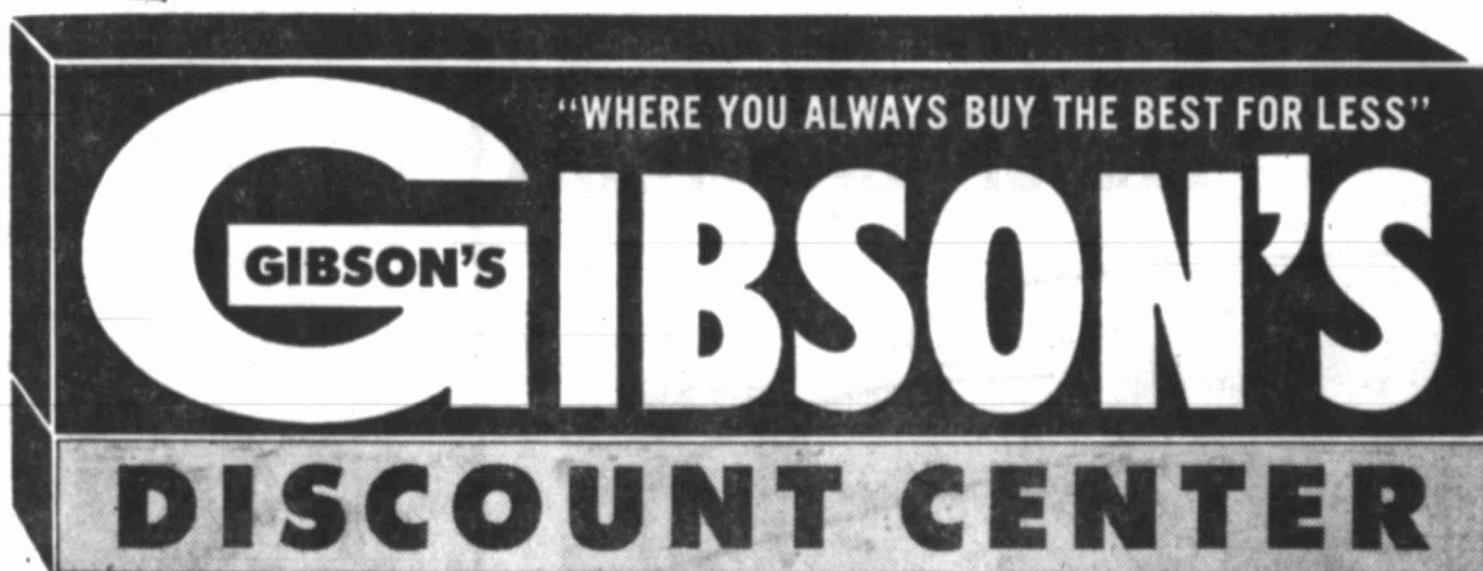

Both styles in smash colors, Lemon, Ice, Petal Pink or White.

THE POLAROID SWINGER

It's the hottest camera in the country and we have it. The incredible Polaroid Swinger, the camera that gives you a finished black and white picture in just 10 seconds. The camera that tells you when to shoot (it actually says "yes" to you right in the view-finder). The camera that stops action. That never has to be focused. That swings from your wrist ready to use for each new, exciting shot. Come in today and let us show you The Swinger — before they're all gone!

No question about it, a color shot ready in 60 seconds is still the greatest thrill in photography. We have a whole line of the famous Polaroid Color Pack Cameras at prices to fit every budget. Let us make a color portrait of you and see if this isn't your kind of photography!

KODAK Instamatic 104 outfit

Loads instantly... easy-to-use... low cost

Gives into action instantly—anywhere. Drop in a film cartridge—the "104" is loaded. No setting to make, just aim-and-shoot. New case for flash pictures, too. Pop as a flashcube and shoot up to four shots in succession without changing bulbs. Flashcube rotates automatically after each shot. After four shots, pop off flashcube, pop on another. Supplied in complete outfit.
