Ike Says Sell Nuclear Armament

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower proposes a drastic overhaul of the Atomic Energy Act to provide for the possible sale of nuclear weapons and submarines to North Atlantic defense nations.

As a former supreme commander of NATO, Eisenhower said he had felt, "We should seek authority to sell appropriate nuclear weapons to other governments under special conditions and arrangements — to be approved by the NATO organization — that could operate effectively in the defense of Europe."

STRANGE
He found it strange, he said, "that even though the Soviets long ago succeeded in developing a nuclear capability of great strength and efficiency we have been forced, by law, to keep any useful knowledge about the science from most of our partners in NATO."

Eisenhower also indicated the present level of American troops kept in Europe stems in part from failure of the allies to raise expected ground forces. He said that while nothing should be done to antagonize the French people to make up the deficit from France's pullout from NATO's system, the other allies — especially Germany — should be encouraged to develop more military power.

Johnson administration policy continues to be committed to a maintenance of American troop strength in Europe, U.S. officials have been favoring greater defense efforts by the other NATO members, including Germany.

and Rep. Kelly, head of a House Foreign Affairs subcommittee on Europe, made the letter public Saturday night.

Eisenhower's proposals collided with the position the Senate-Atomic Energy Committee has taken against the transfer of nuclear weapons to any other nation.

They also seem to cut across current efforts by the Johnson administration to obtain a non-proliferation agreement with Russia. The Senate voted unanimous approval of these efforts this week.

BASIC PROBLEM
Eisenhower did not go into the basic problem of what to do about West Germany in the revisions in NATO that are going to be forced by the withdrawal of French forces, except to advocate encouragement for the Germans to develop more military power.

As for France, he said, "I believe that we should take the attitude that while we are saddened that France has seen fit to act independently of all other nations in the alliance, all are still ready to accept her back into the fold whenever she might desire to return," he said.

Miss California Wins Crown

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A dimpled, brown-haired beauty from California who is studying to become an atomic scientist was crowned Miss U.S.A. Saturday night.

The new queen, Maria Remenyi of El Cerrito, came to the United States in 1965 as a Hungarian refugee. Miss California, a University of California junior, has 35-23-35 measurements. She is 26 years old.

First runnerup was Miss Connecticut, Pat Dennes, who refused to let hairdressers alter her straight, shoulder-length blonde hair for the contest. She will carry out the duties of Miss U.S.A. if Miss California should become unable to do so.

Reviewing The Big Spring Week

The 33rd annual Big Spring Reunion and Rodeo went into history Saturday night, and it went into the records as one of the liveliest shows. Weather cooperated fairly well, and although attendance could have been better, it has been worse. Fans were agreed it was one of our better ones.

This is an artsy season. One private art show was in progress, and so was the West Texas Ceramics Show in Highland Mall. A week from today at First Federal Savings and Loan Association, the Big Spring Art Association sponsors a large spring art show.

Mixed emotions go with the announcement that Champ Rainwater will become assistant to the vice president of Pioneer Natural Gas at Lubbock. His many friends are happy for the promotion, grieved at prospects of losing one of the city's most faithful workers and real persons. And that goes for wife, Margie, too.

Forsan cleared the last hurdle toward its building expansion program. The $350,000 bond issue was sold last week for 4.995 per cent, and Gary and Hohertz were turned loose on

Espinosa Is Big Winner Of 33rd Annual Rodeo

The 33rd annual Big Spring Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo closed out Saturday night with thrills and spills, and when it was all over, Louis Espinosa of Lonepine, Calif., appeared to be the big winner.

He had the best average in bareback bronc riding and also copped second in the second round and second in the bull riding event. This put $643.41 in his pocket.

Sonny Davis, Kenna, N. M., sacked up the calf roping honors with 22.7 seconds for two calves.

Guy Weeks, several times a world champion in saddle bronc riding, again demonstrated his mastery and came in with top average. His brilliant ride Saturday night turned the trick.

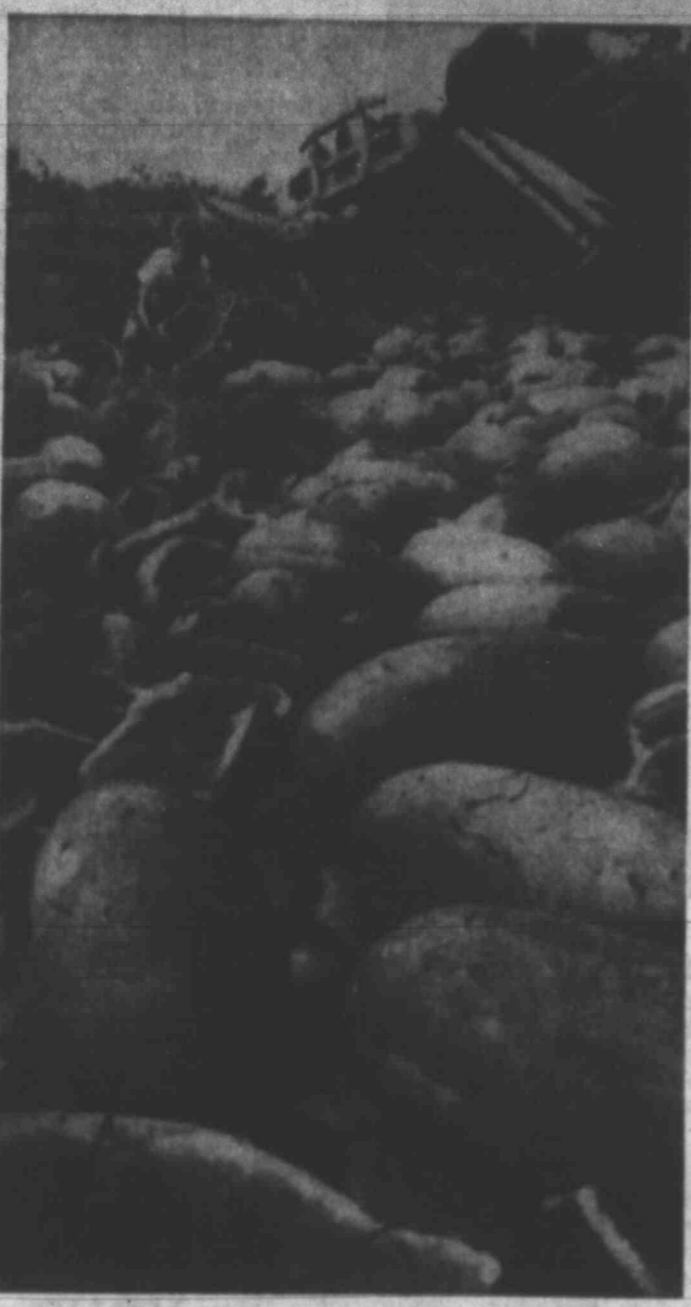

In the sudden-death bull riding event (riders got only one bull for the entire show), David Glover, Clarksville, was the top man.

C. B. Boucher, another of the old pros who wore a world title as recently as two years ago gave a demonstration in steer wrestling, downing two steers in a total of 15.1 seconds.

Mary Sanders, Roaring Fork, Colo., was the top woman.

Top honors came to former Big Spring High students. At the Air Force Academy prep school, David Perron, son of Col. and Mrs. Gregory H. Perron, was given the top honor of "Mr. Cadet Candidate." Mike Jarratt was announced as one of the top 10 graduates coming up at Southwestern Medical College.

Bill Tid Bradley, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Bradley, has accepted election as high school band director. He will fill his own shoes, not those of Doug Wiehe, and he brings splendid credentials. Before going to college and an outstanding record, Bradley was one of the best musicians BSHS ever produced. There'll be a lot of sentiment. (See THE WEEK, P. 4-A, C.1)

Watermelons Everywhere

Young Kenneth Downs, son of Mecklenburg County Solicitor Kenneth Downs, picks over some of more than 4,000 watermelons strewn over US 21 and surrounding property in the wreck of a truck and a car Saturday. Five persons, including the truck driver, William C. Michael, 29, of Rt. 2, Wilkesboro, N. C., were treated and released from a Charlotte, N. C., hospital. A number of the melons spilled onto Downs' farm as the truck trailer jackknifed and broke open as it overturned. (AP WIREPHOTO)

George Chapman, Waynoka, Okla., made a desperate gamble with his steer in the bulldogging event and missed his mark. He lay crumpled on the arena floor for a minute or two, then before an ambulance could reach him, staggered to his feet and waved his helpers off.

MAJOR TESTS AHEAD

Peace Candidates Find Rough Going

WASHINGTON (AP) — Candidates seeking congressional nominations on "peace" platforms protesting U.S. involvement in Viet Nam are finding rough going in primary election contests. Some major tests still lie ahead.

Only 3 of 14 House candidates who based their campaigns on advocacy of an early end to the Viet Nam fighting have won primaries so far, all in normally Republican districts where their chances of being elected in November are considered slight.

At least 26 other "peace" candidates, virtually all Democrats, are seeking nomination to the House, and a few are trying for the Senate.

A number of Democratic congressmen face primary challenges because they support the administration's stand in Viet Nam.

The most clear-cut contest may be the one in Oregon Tuesday between Rep. Robert B. Duncan, an administration supporter, and former Federal Power Commissioner Howard Morgan, a Johnson critic, for the Democratic Senate nomination.

A similar contest is taking place for Duncan's House seat with former Rep. Charles O. Porter, an administration critic, opposing County Dist. Atty. William Frye, who supports the President, in the Democratic primary.

KENTUCKY
In Kentucky Tuesday, peace candidate Philip V. Baker is rated an underdog to state Rep. Norbert Blume for the seat of retiring Rep. Charles P. Farnsley, a Democrat. The winner faces a tough fight against Republican William O. Cowger, former mayor of Louisville.

In Florida Tuesday, a peace

Rebels Warned Against Attacks

Buddhists Send Out Talk Offer

DA NANG, South Viet Nam (AP) — Rebel leaders holding out in a pagoda here offered Sunday to negotiate with the generals leading government forces against them — providing the U.S. Marine commander in Viet Nam guarantees their safety.

The offer to talk was carried out of the Tinh Hoi pagoda for delivery to Lt. Gen. Lewis W. Walt, commander of U.S. Marines in Viet Nam.

There was no immediate response from Walt. The message from the leaders of the Buddhist-led Struggle Committee in the pagoda complex, the last stronghold of the dissident elements, said they would be willing to talk at 4 p.m. — 4 a.m. EDT Sunday.

There were no details on exactly what would be taken up, a compromise or surrender of the rebel force.

The Struggle Committee leaders said, however, Gen. Walt would have to guarantee their safety and security if the talks were to be held.

Exodus Could Slow War Effort

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Endangered by the battle of Da Nang, some U.S. warplanes sped from the strategic Da Nang Air Base to other fields in South Viet Nam Saturday in an exodus that could slow the war against the Viet Cong.

Rebel shelling of the base boomeranged into an American warning to Buddhist leaders: American troops will strike back in case of further such attacks on U.S. installations.

JUMPOFF
The Da Nang field, only about two miles from the center of the fighting between government troops and a rebel force of armed Buddhist civilians and defected soldiers — has been a jumptoff point for strikes against the Communists both north and south of the border. Most of the missions have been aimed against the Viet Cong.

Military sources said the dispersal is bound to have some military impact, but just how much could not be gauged immediately.

At the same time, the United States was reported to have put new pressure on Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's government to cut short the revolt that menaces the massive American commitment in South Viet Nam.

UNITY NEED
President Johnson emphasized that the Americans are trying "to bring the various factions to an understanding of the need for unity while the constitutional (election) process is moving forward."

"We are not in Viet Nam to dictate what form of government they should have," Johnson said in a statement issued at a White House news conference. "Our wish is to see them increasingly able to manage their own affairs, with the participation of an ever-broader share of the population. We regret any diversion from that task and from efforts to defeat the Communists' attempt to take over South Viet Nam."

Whether from American suggestions or his junta's judgment, Ky's troops tightened a ring of steel around rebel holdings in Da Nang even as he summoned the civilian-military National People's Congress for a session Tuesday to weigh the situation.

RIOTING
Rioting rocked Saigon for the second straight day. Police turned back a crowd of 5,000 in one anti-government demonstration, and 1,000 torch-bearing youths in another, preventing them from leaving a limited perimeter around the central pagoda.

For the first time in a week of fighting at Da Nang, there were American casualties. Fifteen U.S. servicemen — 11 Marines, three Air Force men and a naval officer — were injured in scattered incidents from the fire of both sides.

Most were caught by shell

Continental To Start New Plant

A new terminal building for Continental Trailways Bus, Inc., will be started here soon.

The modern structure will be located on a 140x150-foot tract which Continental owns at Third and Nolan, directly north across from the City Auditorium.

The announcement was made by H. L. Gilson, Dallas, vice president and general manager of Continental. A similar structure is to be built at Abilene, starting Monday. Earl Rose Construction Company of Abilene has a contract for both buildings.

Details of the plans were not available here, said Frank Rice, veteran terminal manager for Continental, but the plan is on modern lines, with brick tile and glass construction.

Big Spring will continue as division point for Continental for its Texas and transcontinental runs. Twenty drivers operate out of here, representing an annual payroll of around $175,000.

Completion of the new facility here is due by August. At that time Continental will shift its operations from the Crawford Hotel annex, where it has had a terminal for more than 20 years. Currently four shifts a day are operated both ways through here.

In June, 1965, Continental acquired three lots near the City Hall from Standard Oil of Texas, and this area will also provide ample space for storage of extra buses and equipment, said Rice.

CIA Watchdog Fight Is Forecast

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk says there is a "tough struggle going on in the back alleys all over the world."

He referred to the dark workings of espionage. Much of it is prosaic research and the feeding of information into data processing machines.

COMPUTER CODES
Some of it involves the rarefied world of space science and the brain-busting mathematics of computer codes.

And some of it is hazardous work of nervous men. So nervous, says Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., that even public Senate debate on the Central Intelligence Agency tends "to chill these sources of information. . . might cause them to clam up" in fear for their lives.

Now the CIA finds itself in the limelight of a struggle over a move to change the Senate supervision of the big spy agency.

The Senate-Foreign Relations Committee is asking the Senate to expand the present watchdog panel by adding three of its own members.

STIFF FIGHT
The move promises a stiff floor fight and has already been challenged in debate by members of the present panel, the "Secret Seven" headed by Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., chairman of the Armed Services Committee.

The others on the panel are senior members of the Armed Services and Appropriations Committees.

But a majority of members of the Foreign Relations group — led by Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., and Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn. — feel they should have a role in the supervision because of their contention that the CIA influences U.S. foreign-policy decisions.

Involved in the Senate dispute are jealously guarded prerogatives, the general question of whether a bigger group would increase the possibility of dangerous leaks, and the more specific issue of whether the Foreign Relations Committee can keep secrets.

COMES TO BOIL
The dispute may come to a boil Monday, when Fulbright is expected to introduce the resolution in the Senate. Russell plans to try to sidetrack it.

Johnson 'Regrets' Mounting Turmoil

WASHINGTON (AP) — Calling for unity in South Viet Nam, President Johnson said Saturday he regrets any diversion from the war effort there or from the attempt to build democracy.

This was as close as Johnson came, during a news conference in his office, to chiding the Vietnamese for mounting political turmoil that, officials concede, has hampered some military operations.

MINIMIZE
But he made no attempt to minimize the seriousness of the situation, saying the Vietnamese have "a hard and frustrating job, and there is no easy answer — no instant solution — to any of the problems they face."

But at almost the same time Johnson was saying this, another high administration official sought to play down the idea that the present struggle between the Ky regime and dissident forces is likely to spread into civil war paralyzing South Viet Nam.

This official, who stipulated he not be quoted by name, portrayed the strife in the Da Nang-Hue area as a localized, small-scale conflict likely to defeat the Communist attempt to take over South Viet Nam.

Johnson declined to state his current attitude toward Premier Nguyen Cao Ky, target for Buddhist demands for a new Saigon government.

UNDERSTANDING
Reading a prepared statement, beyond which he declined to venture, Johnson said the situation was being watched closely and asserted: "We believe everything possible should be done to bring the various factions to an understanding of the need for unity while the constitutional process is moving forward. That is what our people are trying to do."

After speaking of this constitutional process, Johnson said, "We regret any diversion from that task and from efforts to wind up in a political settlement.

As for U.S. strategy, he said no consideration was being given here to any basic change in the plan for heavy commitment of American troops in South Viet Nam until Communist aggression is halted.

CONCEDES CONCERN
Johnson conceded mounting concern and dissatisfaction among Americans with the course of events in Viet Nam.

Answering a question, he said: "The longer we are there, the more sacrifices we make, the more we spend, the more discontent there will be."

Taking the situation further, he added: "The more dissatisfaction there will be, the more wish and desire there will be to get out. Leading that parade is the President."

Coahoma Senior Sermon Is Today

Thirty-nine Coahoma High School seniors this week complete the first major step in their education.

The baccalaureate will be held at 8 p.m. today in the Coahoma High School auditorium with the Rev. Dan Oglesby, pastor of the Midway Baptist Church, officiating. His son, Wayne, a member of the graduating class, will play a piano solo.

Murph Thorp's Living It Up Now That He's Retired

By SAM BLACKBURN

Most fellows, when they reach the age of retirement and step aside from active careers, set up plans to do a lot of traveling.

"Not for me," observed Murph Thorp, pioneer Big Spring paint store operator who recently closed out his business. "No traveling—I had all of that I wanted when I was a young fellow following the radio operating business aboard ships."

Thorpe, who owned and operated a paint store in Big Spring for 35 years, was the oldest, in years of service, Pee-Gee paint dealer in Texas.

NET DEALER

"The company changed management many times and changed ownership several times, but they always made Pee-Gee paints and, for all of the years I was in business," said Thorp.

Things are not happy for old timers with the company now, Thorp says. "They have a bunch of Harvard fellows running it," he pointed out. "If you haven't got a degree you've no chance in the upper management bracket. They are changing the whole pattern of paint selling."

Meantime, with his store closed down, and the fixtures disposed of and even the building itself sold, Thorp says he has enough work lined up around his home at 339 Hillside and at his cabin on Lake Colorado City to "keep me busy for two years."

TOO MANY MOUTHS

Thorp was born in Mertzon, the son of a pioneer ranching couple.

"One morning," said Thorp,

"I sat down at the breakfast table. I looked around the table. I said to myself, 'There's too many kids here for my dad to have to feed.' So I packed up and left."

He was 14 at the time.

He went to Adrian, Mich., where he lived with relatives and later attended the Dodge Institute of Telegraphy and the Brown University, both of Valparaiso, Ind.

ABOARD SHIP

When he had graduated from the Institute, he became a radio operator in the merchant marine. He served for a while on a British freighter and later, for a number of years, with the fruit ships cruising between the southern coast and South and Central America.

"I had to quit that job," he explained, "because you couldn't make any money. Cost too much for clothes—you had to wear white around the clock."

Prior to coming to Big Spring 25 years ago, he was with the South Texas Lumber Co.

He was married in 1927 to Elsie Fiest in Big Lake. She was a native of Boveena.

Two years later they came here and he opened his first paint store.

CHANGED LOCATIONS

"I started in the old Reed Hotel building," he recalls. "Then I moved to 123 E. 3rd and later to 211 Runnels. After the war I built the building at 109-11 W. 4th and continued there until I closed down a short time ago."

The Thorps have two children. Their daughter is Mrs. Roger Dale Brown, wife of a local attorney, and their son, Murph Thorp Jr., lives in Iran.

Brown and his law partner, Lanny Hamby, Thorp said, have bought the building where the paint store was and will remodel it into a modern law office.

Meantime, Thorp is living it up.

"This is a breeze," he said, referring to the lawn mowing which was occupying his attention at the time.

"One thing's sure, I am through with trying to work in the business world. When you get to be 65 you ought to try doing some of the things you never had time to try before. It's swell."

Cotton Congress Speakers Listed

DALLAS—The American cotton industry's hopes for regaining and possibly expanding foreign markets will be discussed at a meeting here June 3 by Dr. M. K. Horne Jr., Memphis, Tenn., an expert on cotton marketing. Dr. Horne, chief economist for the National Cotton Council, will address the annual American Cotton Congress at the Baker Hotel.

The Congress is a forum for the presentation of new developments in production, processing, marketing and utilization of cotton. Burris C. Jackson, Hillsboro, is chairman of the organization.

Dr. Aaron M. Allschul, New Orleans, who is spearheading the development of food protein for the Department of Agriculture's Food for Peace program, will speak at a luncheon.

"Bubba, I couldn't read the blackboard very well. What's our new assignment?"

This happens many times every day. A seeming lack of interest in school work, and poor grades, may be due to faulty vision. Since more than eighty per cent of what a child learns in school is directly dependent upon his ability to see, make sure your child sees as well as he should. Insist on regular professional eye examinations from T S O Doctors of Optometry. Should glasses be the required treatment, the fee for T S O eye care including the examination, finest quality single vision lenses and frame, is as low as $15. # Normal Life Disrupted By Diamond Hunters

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH BANGUI, Central African Republic (AP) — Diamond fever has come to this country, and the lucky prospectors have been bottles to show for it.

The Central African Republic, just north of the Congo, is one of the world's poorest and most undeveloped areas. Now it is in the grip of a diamond rush that has disrupted normal life in large areas. Tens of thousands of peasants have left their homes, stopped growing food and abandoned their coffee and cotton plantations to burrow into the gravel of river beds hoping for a diamond bonanza.

Thousands more have drifted in from as far away as Mauritania, Mali or Libya to dig for the army of traders and middlemen profiting from the sudden wealth.

The heart of the diamond fever is at Carnot, a once peaceful jungle village 200 miles west of Bangui, the capital. The frenzy is spreading to other areas, particularly a virgin forest region along the Sudanese border.

The diamond rush began in a big way two years ago, when the government abandoned an attempt to keep the gem trade under state control.

American, French and Israeli companies were authorized to set up purchasing offices. The nation's diamond exports have multiplied tenfold since 1961 and last year exceeded $14 million, almost half the total exports.

In a country where more than 95 per cent of the population is illiterate and lives in primitive mud-brick huts far from any contact with urban civilization, the white man's eagerness for the transparent pebbles has created a new aristocracy: beer bottle owners.

The diggers receive only a small proportion of the value of their finds. But it is enough to make many rich by African standards — and much of their wealth goes on beer.

A bottle of beer costs up to $3 in the Carnot area. Diggers proudly pile their empty bottles around their huts as a symbol of wealth and status. Excited prospectors have been known to trade a 10-carat diamond worth $2,000 for a crate of beer.

Middlemen who buy the diamonds from the prospectors and sell them to the purchasing offices make the biggest profits. They are mostly Moslem traveling merchants from the fringe areas of the Sahara. Unlike the diggers, they know the value of the gems and sometimes haggle for days before parting with an unusually fine piece.

Their wives are dressed in gold brocade or pure silk, and some of their luxury automobiles are fitted with air conditioners.

One middleman recently sold an 88-carat diamond to an American buyer for $44,000. When the huge stone was examined on arrival in New York, it was found to have tiny flaws which cut its value to barely half what was paid for it.

MONEY FOR MONEY-SAVING IDEA
Charles Dickson, right, wins award held by Weldon Bryant, assistant postmaster

Idea For Saving Earns Postal Clerk A Check

Charles Dickson, postal clerk, noted that there was a problem of manpower during certain hours at the Big Spring Post Office in connection with the handling of the general delivery window and the parcel post window. The two points were separated rather widely.

He worked out a plan which, he felt, would expedite things and perhaps save work and money.

The post office department examined his plan. The department agreed that it would do what he said it would—that it would probably save the Big Spring Post Office as much as $500 a year.

So the department, to show its appreciation, sent Dickson a check for $25.

Dickson has been with the post office since July 17, 1960. He lives at 905 E. 13th.

His official title is cost ascertainment clerk and it was in relation to this work that he hit upon his money saving idea for the post office.

He also serves on the local board of civil service examiners.

Committee To Meet Monday

A special meeting of the advertising and promotion committee of the chamber of commerce will be held Monday at 4 p.m. at the chamber conference room. R. W. Whipkey is chairman.

TEC Office Follows Trend

Big Spring office of the Texas Employment Commission statistics for April were in harmony with those for the state at large, Leon Kinney, manager, said Saturday.

There were decreases noted in the number of non-farm and farm placements for the month compared with last April.

Here in Big Spring, there were 207 non-farm placements compared with 229 in 1965. Farm placements for April this year dropped to seven compared with 13 for last year.

Openings at the office showed a decrease. There were 263 listed for April, 1965, compared with 192 this year. By the same token, there were fewer applications accepted—145 for this past month compared with 196 a year ago.

Statewide, the TEC had 47,377 non-farm placements compared with 47,413; farm placements of 23,722 compared with 22,884 a year ago.

Non-farm openings in the state showed a slight increase to 60,768 last month. Applications for jobs also increased 6.6 per cent to 55,952 last year. Unemployment compensation paid under the state unemployment acts were made in April, total compensation in April was down 4.6 million. This year the 44 per cent over a year ago, total was $2.5 million to $8,184. Last year, 168,186 benefit pay-beneficiaries.

DEAR ABBY

A Lesson For Hubby

DEAR ABBY: First let me explain that I have five children (two are not in school yet), a nine-room house to take care of, and no one to help me. When my husband comes home from work he always asks, "What do you do around here all day?" Abby I could sock him! How should I answer this?

BOILING IN DOVER, N.J.
DEAR BOILING: Don't answer him. But tomorrow, do absolutely NOTHING! And when your husband comes home and finds the beds unmade, breakfast and lunch dishes piled in the sink, the laundry basket spilling over with unironed clothes, and not a trace of supper started, he will demand, "WHAT HAPPENED ANYWAY?" Then it's your cue to say, "You're always asking me what I do around here all day. Well, today, I didn't do it!"

DEAR ABBY: Some good friends of ours went on an extended trip thru the orient recently and ever since, each time we enter their house, we are a captive audience for the slides they took. The last time, we had to be almost rude to get away at 2:30 a.m. They took 2,000 (honest!) pictures, and at 15 seconds each, I figure we still have another six solid hours of viewing ahead, not counting reruns.

Abby, we are genuinely fond of these people, and are interested in their experiences, but only if they would organize their presentation and edit out the overexposed, repetitions, and redundant, the slides could be fascinating. I am sure our sentiments are shared by many. Any advice for us stay-at-homes?

FOND FRIENDS
DEAR FRIENDS: Yes. Avoid their home until the novelty of that trip has worn off. For some strange reason, friends who accept criticism on everything else with good humor and equanimity, become hostile when guests take a dim view of their slides.

DEAR ABBY: Another girl and I work at a candy counter. She is a nice girl, but she never smiles. She waits on customers with a long face, and the way she says, "Thank you," sounds like "I hope I never see you again." I always smile when I wait on customers.

I think that is the way to get them to come back. My coworker says people don't care whether you smile or not. They usually buy on the impulse and will come back anyway. What is your opinion? ALL SMILES
DEAR ALL: What a customer REALLY wants of a salesperson, believe it or not, are courtesy and EFFICIENCY, not smiles! The salesperson who is too busy chatting with another salesperson to notice that a customer is waiting, or one who can't make change or will never up a sales slip efficiently, will not compensate with a smile.

But the salesperson who is courteous, efficient, ready to serve, AND smiles, ah! Her price is above rubies, her paycheck shall runneth over, and her boss will rise up and call her "buyer."

New Handbook Has No Propaganda

By GARTH JONES
Associated Press Writer

Tourists to the Texas Capitol will be glad to hear a new sightseeing handbook is in the makings—although it may not be available until most summer vacations are over.

Right now much of the informational literature handed out in various offices and buildings has a distinct political tinge. Much of it is printed at private expense for the obvious purpose of helping one specific person or group.

Visitors to the Texas House are given a little booklet, "Facts About Texas," with the notation it is compliments of the House of Representatives. Inside the cover is a full page photograph, with the Capitol dome in the background, of Speaker Ben Barnes (candidate for re-election and potential gubernatorial candidate in 1968).

In the Senate, visitors get a "Not Printed at State Expense" pamphlet, "Welcome to your Texas Senate," carrying an autographed photo on the cover of Lt. Gov. Preston Smith (candidate for re-election and potential gubernatorial candidate in 1968). There also is available a folder "The Texas Senate in Action" telling how to watch senators from the gallery.

In the governor's reception room school children often get full color pictures of bluebonnets, the state flower. Special visitors and those who write letters get a packet of bluebonnet seeds bearing the photograph of Gov. John Connally (candidate for re-election and a possible gubernatorial candidate in 1968) with his instruction for planting and the notation: "Not printed or mailed at state expense."

At the attorney general's office you are offered a leaflet "Annual Report of the Attorney General's Department" with a front cover photograph of Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr and the Capitol dome in the background. It is marked "Not printed at state expense."

The General Land Office has distributed beautifully decorated state maps that bear greetings from and the photograph of Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler (candidate for re-election).

The outstanding exception of currently available sightseeing literature is a full color, neatly printed folder, "Texas Capitol guide," compiled and published by the Texas Highway Department which also operates an information bureau in the rotunda. The folder also contains such interesting facts as: The Capitol cornerstone weighs 16,000 pounds and the tip of the Texas dome is seven feet higher than the dome on the Potomac.

The 1965 Legislature decided Capitol tourists, from 300 to 1,000 daily, deserve a better break. Legislators authorized the Texas Legislative Council to prepare and the Highway Department to publish "an omnibus brochure" similar to the fancy booklet designed for the national Capitol at the suggestion of former Rep. Frank Bkard.

The "take home material" would "satisfy the deep hunger for an inspirational document about the state Capitol which the thousands of tourists bring with them," said the 1965 legislative resolution.

However, the "deep hunger" wasn't enough to get speedy publication of the brochure. Almost a year passed while political campaigns, illness, Washington trips and other causes kept the Legislative Council committee of two senators and three representatives from getting together for a final decision.

ASSOCIATION SEEKING WAYS TO ERADICATE BRUSH

Mesquite Winning War For Soil, Water, Sunlight

By MIKE COCHRAN
QUANAH, Tex. (AP) — The energetic blonde frowned, then said:

"A nation that can put a man in space . . . make the atom bomb . . . can surely eradicate the great Southwest of mesquite and other brush."

CANCER
"It's just like a cancer," she declared. "You got it and what are you going to do?"

"At least they're trying to cure cancer!"

Speaking in her own inimitable manner, Mrs. Carroll Koch, publisher of the Quanah Tribune-Chief, voiced the sentiments of ranchers all across the Southwest.

Her concern reflects the mounting alarm brought on by the quinine and other worthless brush once lush grasslands in Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico.

"Worthless brush is slowly and surely suffocating the livestock industry in Texas and the Southwest by robbing ranchers of their soil, water, sunlight and plant resources," reports state conservationist H. N. Smith of Temple.

UNPROFITABLE
"Millions of acres of grazing lands are now so heavily infested with woody plants that production of nutritious forage is greatly reduced, making the range unprofitable for livestock grazing."

"It is hard to believe that when the first settlers came to these plains they reported grass growing belly deep to a cow, and that these vast grass plains fed millions of buffalo."

Attempts through the years failed to restrict the silent killer, and now Mrs. Koch and a vigorous band of Northwest Texas ranchers have accepted the challenge.

They created the Southwest Mesquite and Brush Eradication Association, an organization devoted essentially to destroying mesquite and other brush.

Headed by W. C. Howard, Quanah rancher, the group is seeking to establish first a public awareness of the problem and consequently a research program to provide a solution.

CAMPAIGN
The Association, immediately attracting widespread support, kicked off the campaign last December with an unprecedented demonstration designed to show the futility of current methods of control.

Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman headed an assemblage of state and federal officials who descended upon a mesquite infested farm near Quanah to view the field show.

"We tried to give everybody a chance to show what they could do against mesquite," Howard said. "None worked. We convinced Freeman, I think."

"He said afterwards, 'You fellows really brought it in loud and clear.'"

Howard said ranchers have spent the last 25 years trying to control mesquite. "They should realize," he said, "that we can't control it. It must be wiped out."

VALUE
"And we've got to have some kind of a treatment that won't be economically prohibitive, because we only have a certain value on our grass per acre."

Howard feels the answer lies in an inexpensive chemical, "because spraying by airplane is the only way to get over large acreage."

He said the famed King Ranch near Corpus Christi employs six caterpillars in its brush warfare, and many ranchers feel rootpulling is the best method of control.

"You know, though, those things are expensive," he added.

One Northwest Texas rancher, Howard said, has spent more than $500,000 in the last 25 years on mesquite control. And he said a prominent Jones County cattleman contends mesquite will soon drive him out of business.

Association members feel, at least privately, that sufficient research has not been conducted by either chemical companies or state or federal agencies.

"We must get more research in some way," said one, pointing out that "We've tried everything."

A seemingly effective and inexpensive eradication method is spraying by plane with chemicals which kill leafy vegetation like those which kill weeds on your lawn.

Driving across West Texas you see thousands of acres of mesquite killed this way. But if you look closely, you also can see sprouts of young mesquite peeping out in the grass which sprang up luxuriously after the tall mesquite brush was killed. Soon the mesquite sprouts will become brush which will cut off sun and water and kill the grass again.

NONE EXISTED

An oldtimer recalls that when he came to North-Central-West Texas in the 1870s, not a single mesquite existed. Now the family ranch is almost solid mesquite.

Howard quoted conservation figures showing that some 38.5 million acres, or 32 per cent of the state's once luxurious grasslands, are now infested with mesquite and other damaging brush.

He said 54 million acres or 50 per cent are so densely covered and the grass so suppressed that little improvement can be expected without a stepped up research program for control and eventual eradication.

"We believe," he said, "that a concentrated and accelerated mesquite eradication research program backed by state and federal funds and from the landowners themselves can be successful."

ALL-OUT

Conservationist Smith, who considers total eradication impossible under present concepts, said an "all-out approach will involve research, financing, educational and operational agencies."

He stressed the special need for "unified and widespread and continuing action by the livestock operators themselves through their soil conservation districts, associations and other organizations."

The brush problem, he said, "affects economic, social and other phases of our wellbeing, and will do so to a greater extent in the future."

"Yet, along with its reality are some virtual intangibles . . . It's baffling, but we've got to face it."

NO PUNCHES

Mrs. Koch, who devoted an issue of her newspaper to the topic, pulls no editorial punches in outlining the seriousness of the mesquite problem.

She spoke of the "economic catastrophe that threatens to place into oblivion both small and large landowners over the three-state area unless a solution is found."

Judge Denies Mandamus Of Second J-P Hearing

Judge Ralph Caton, 118th District Court, has denied a petition by Carroll Trantham to mandamus Justice of the Peace Jess Slaughter into giving him a second preliminary hearing. The judge made his ruling shortly after 2 p.m. Friday. Gil Jones, defense attorney, told the court he planned to appeal the ruling. Judge Caton had taken the matter under advisement after a heated session on Friday morning in which Slaughter and the attorney clashed over questions asked and answers offered. The court held that it was powerless to mandamus the lower court to grant the defendant, accused of robbery by force, with a second preliminary hearing.

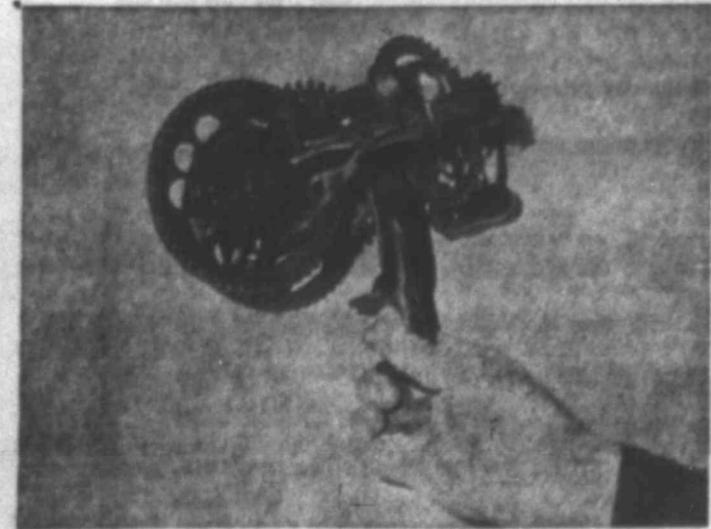

Jones argued Slaughter's denial was arbitrary. The court in its ruling Friday afternoon pointed out that had Trantham asked a preliminary hearing of the justice of peace and had Slaughter refused to give the defendant a hearing, it might be that the higher court could, on a mandamus action, order the lower court to hold such a hearing. However, once a hearing had been granted the court was powerless to order a new hearing simply because the lower court had not acted as the defense had wished.

Three senior members of the Big Spring Composite Squadron, Texas Wing, Civil Air Patrol, attended a briefing last Saturday of the 1966 Texas Wing Effectiveness Test, to be held in Odessa June 3-5. Representing the Big Spring squadron were 1st Lt. E. L. Mulkey, commander; CWO Christine Mulkey, commandant of women; and M. Sgt. K. D. Lawhon, information officer. The effectiveness test is to evaluate each squadron on emergency preparedness as a rescue unit, either airborne or ground. Lawhon said the test consists of two parts, air search and rescue and decontamination in the field of civil defense. A film of the new F-111 plane used by General Dynamics Corporation, Fort Worth, was viewed Saturday at Wilhoycomb Hall, Webb AFB, by members of the squadron. Tentative future plans include a visit to the plant in Fort Worth to view the F-111 in production.

On May 11, Slaughter had ordered Trantham bound over to the Howard County grand jury in a hearing where the only witness heard was John Bingham, an employe of the hijacked Vernon's Liquor Store. He had identified Trantham as the man who staged the robbery. The justice court at that hearing refused to permit the defense to place a number of witnesses it called on the stand, upholding a state argument that the persons called were state witnesses. Jones sought a new preliminary hearing to present additional testimony to refute the evidence offered by Bingham.

Sister Of City Man Succumbs
George O'Brien, 2801 Navajo, was notified Saturday of the death on Friday of his sister, Mrs. O. G. Jones, in Forest City, N. C. O'Brien will not be able to attend the funeral which is to be at 2 p.m. Monday in Greensboro, N. C. She is to be buried beside her husband, the late Dr. O. G. Jones, who died in 1943. Mrs. Jones and her husband formerly lived in Big Spring. He was a Presbyterian minister and organized a number of churches in West Texas including those in El Paso, Lubbock, and one in Lovington, N. M. They moved away from Big Spring in 1916. She had been ill for sometime. Mrs. Jones was nearing 90 years of age.

Trans-Texas Airways, Inc., has reported record financial and traffic gains for the first quarter of 1966. Revenues totaled $5,926,019 in 1966, as compared with $5,158,766 in 1965, while operating income totaled $289,895 in 1966 and $143,026 in 1965. In local T-TA news, Cliff Hearne, San Angelo, relief agent for T-TA, is filling in for Sorrels, who is on vacation. Up in the Cherokee of Howard County Flying Club this week were Charles Dodson, Dawes, and Zan Dawson, and in the Colt, Robert Lebkowsky and Moore. Dawson was on a cross-country early in the week. Up in the Cessnas of Big Spring Flying Club were Mrs. Jo Polone, the James Merricks, Charles Cooper and Robbie Sanders.

What's Zis Odd Gadget?

Oldtimers may not have any trouble identifying this maze of cast-iron wheels, springs and axles but very few of the younger folk recognize it. The machine, picked up in a junk store, is now owned by Aubrey Weaver. He doesn't know its age, but from its design it must go back a good long time. If you can't figure out what it is for, turn to Page 10-A.

Cotton Study Bill Stalled

LUBBOCK — A strong, sustained effort is being made to secure passage of the Cotton Research and Promotion Act, hold the required referendum and institute the program in time for the 1966 crop. But success appears more difficult with each passing day, says Donald A. Johnson, executive vice president of the Plains Cotton Growers.

Passage of the bill and the approval of producers in a referendum would authorize a uniform $1 per bale check-off on cotton, with producers retaining the right to request and receive a refund. The money would be used to carry out research and promotion projects designed to turn the tide of cotton's declining markets.

Projects would be drawn up by a "Cotton Producer Organization" and submitted to a "Cotton Board" then to the secretary of agriculture for his approval.

The CPO would be made up of delegates from the various cotton producer organizations, selected essentially in the same manner as those now in the Cotton Producers Institute. Passage of the referendum would require two-thirds of the cotton producers voting or two-thirds of the cotton production represented by those voting.

At the moment the House-passed bill is in the Senate subcommittee on agriculture and no report is due before this week. Sen. Allen Ellender, agriculture committee chairman, doubted the sub-group could turn out a report prior to his full committee meeting by June 1. The next possible date would be June 15.

Summer Recreation Offering For All Children Complete

The 1966 City - Wide Summer Recreation Program for youngsters in Big Spring, the work of the City of Big Spring, the Big Spring Schools, the United Fund and the YMCA, will begin Monday, June 13, and run through Friday, July 29. Pamphlets, with application blanks, have been given to school children to take home. Parents are urged to read it, select activities and then register their children.

Elementary age children will participate in gymnastics and tumbling, relays, gym and outside games, softball, swimming, trampoline, arts and crafts and a fitness testing program, with the results being recorded and sent home for the parents to study the fitness level of their youngsters. There will also be many contests, awards, and surprises, according to program officials.

Youngsters may register for the program, when accompanied by their parents, at the YMCA Tuesday, May 31, to Saturday, June 11. Kate Morrison and Lakeview areas will register at the Lakeview YMCA, beginning Wednesday, June 1. Time for each group will be from 9 a.m. until noon. The fee is $1 per youngster to help cover the cost of materials in the arts and crafts, but no child will be refused the program for lack of the fee.

Program officials said that they hoped most parents will be able to provide transportation for their children, but for those who can not, there will be a Monday and Wednesday group made-up of youngsters from Marcy, College Heights, Park Hill and Airport schools. The bus will leave College Heights at 8:30 a.m., Marcy at 8:35 a.m., Park Hill at 8:40 a.m. and Airport 8:45 a.m. and transport the children to the YMCA. The Tuesday and Thursday groups and bus schedule include Washington, 8:30 a.m.; Kentwood, 8:35; Cedar Crest, 8:40. All children will be returned to their respective schools at noon. The program for the Northeast Park and Pool will begin Monday, June 13, and will consist of games, relays and swimming Monday through Thursday.

Toastmasters Honor Area

Toastmasters International recently honored the Permian Basin by selecting Midland as the Toastmaster Town for May. Midland, with five Toastmasters Clubs, was selected on the basis of its contribution to communication, improvements for businessmen and the community.

Big Spring hosts three Toastmasters Clubs, the Talon and Flying Tumbleweed Toastmasters and the Downtown Toastmasters. The first two are military and civilian clubs at Webb AFB, meeting on alternate Wednesdays and Thursdays respectively. The Downtown Toastmasters, oldest in this area, currently holds joint meetings with the Flying Tumbleweed Club.

Roy Thruston, immediate past district governor and a member of Downtown Toastmasters, together with nearly a dozen delegates from Big Spring, was represented in Area 4, District 44, of the District Speech Contest in Midland Saturday.

Capt. Henry Hill, area governor, invites anyone interested in the work of the Toastmasters to contact him at AM 3-3117.

Hull & Phillips Announce Plans For New Building

Hull & Phillips Grocery will start soon on a new 14,000-square foot building to be located at 611 Lamesa Highway. In addition to housing the company's No. 2 store, which is operating on the site at this time, the building will be large enough to accommodate a Lewis Five and Ten Store as well as an automatic laundry.

Paved parking will be provided for 80 cars on the 5 1/2-acre lot. Ted Hull, who with Elmo Phillips and Pete Hull operates the home-owned food outlet, said that the new building will be constructed immediately behind the present store, thus not interrupting its operations. When the structure is complete and ready to open, the present plant will be removed to add to the parking area.

One feature of the new food center will be its huge overhead span. Steel for this has been secured from the demolished Vealmor gym, and it will account for an oval roof and a 78-foot span free of any obstructing beams, etc. Thus, the entire store may be seen with one unimpeded sweep.

The building will be of brick and tile construction. Leroy Phillips has been a part of the Big Spring business scene for more than 20 years. One of its main outlets is located at Ninth and Scurry.

Preference For Local Mechanics Is Suggested

To the Editor:

The article in Tuesday's paper about HCJC building progress stated that it was requested that local mechanics be used. The membership of Local union 1634 Carpenters and Joiners of America wish to clarify the part about use of union mechanics from our local unions. We feel that on projects where tax money is involved that men who do this work and are permanent residents of this county have a right to be allowed to do this work whether they be union or non-union. Whether the contractor uses union men is strictly up to him.

There is a good deal of work here in Big Spring and the large majority of the men are busy. But the HCJC job could be moved with residents from this county. We can furnish any kind of mechanic needed—laborers, bricklayers, carpenters, electricians, plumbers, welders, pipefitters, tinners. Any craft you want to name, we have them in Big Spring and Howard County; we have plenty of men in each craft that are top notch superintendents and foremen.

We have heard the slogan "Try Big Spring First," and we are all for it 100 per cent. But why not let it extend a little further than just covering merchants—let it cover every citizen.

I wonder how much business merchants of this town get from out-of-town workmen who come in Monday morning, work all week and on Friday take their pay checks right along with them. They may buy a tank of gas to take their check home. They buy their groceries at home and bring them back to a small apartment shared by three or four men to keep down high rent cost.

Mr. Editor, this is the opinion of some of the workmen who live here, work here, spend our money here, and carry our fair share of the tax load.

To the Editor:
The GOP wants a name for their elephant. I suggest "Conservative," since most Republicans are just that. Even Barry Goldwater says that the GOP is the conservative party.

The so-called liberals of both parties should join with the ADA-ers and the advocates of the New Deal and High Society (high cost, that is). Then they can call their donkey some appropriate name.

The self-proclaimed conservative Democrats should fish or cut bait. In other words, all real conservatives should get with the conservative party and let the others go where they can be headed. This way we can have a truly two-party system.

Living Costs Up But Wages Lag

WASHINGTON (AP)—Americans are stretching the already strained family budget even tighter with a sharp new rise in living costs. At the same time millions of breadwinners are bringing home smaller paychecks.

Latest government reports show living costs climbed faster for this time of year than in any similar period since the Korean War, while manufacturing cutbacks sliced the average pay of some 14 million factory workers.

The Labor Department said prices for food, clothing, housing, transportation, medical care, recreation, and other living costs went up four-tenths of 1 per cent in April, the third straight substantial rise in the monthly consumer price index.

There was no direct word from the White House on whether the developments might trigger some action, hinted at earlier by President Johnson, to raise taxes or drastically revise his wage-price guidelines aimed at halting inflation. But in a speech telephoned Friday night to a United Auto Workers convention in Long Beach, Calif., Johnson said the nation's economy does not depend on the stock market, which has been erratic of late, or on war spending.

He said it is time to "start thinking more soberly and realistically about the fact that ours isn't a roller coaster economy any more." This was one of a number of generalized suggestions the President made after asserting the nation "must go on a new agenda."

The price index, at 112.5, showed it took $11.25 to buy items that cost $10 in the 1957-59 period on which the figure is based.

Since January, the Labor Department reported Friday, living costs have gone up 1.4 per cent, the largest increase for that period since 1951. It was matched only once before in any three-month period, in 1958.

Demand For Driver Ed Continues Strong Here

Enrollment in approved driver education courses in Texas high schools dropped to 33,887 students in 1964-65, a little more than half the 61,200 reported the year before, according to the Southwestern Insurance Information Service.

Another 27,000 students were enrolled in courses consisting of 30 hours of classroom instruction only, as opposed to 18,492 enrolled in such courses in 1963-64.

Locally, Dr. C. L. Ainsworth, director of instructional services for the Big Spring Public Schools, said that there has been a "continual increase" in students enrolling in the driver education program each year. "We offer three driver education classes now, with a summer program," Dr. Ainsworth said. "Upwards of 300 students are enrolled each year. We do not foresee any decrease—it's a popular and important class."

A spokesman for the Texas Education Agency, which records driver education enrollment, said he believed a partial explanation for the drop was the shift of the program in many schools from the regular school year to the summer. He added that many students are not financially able to pay tuition.

More than 180,000 students are eligible for the "30 & 6" driver program, which is now offered in 862 schools. Costs range from $5 to $65 and are usually paid by the students.

F. Darby Hammond, executive director of the Southwestern Insurance Information Service, a public service association of insurance companies, expressed alarm at the decline in enrollment.

A state-supported driver education program in Texas could help keep down the rising cost of automobile insurance by reducing the number of accidents, he said.

He pointed out that about 25 per cent of the 3,928 persons killed in Texas traffic accidents last year were between the ages of 14 and 24.

"The driving record of young men is abominable," Hammond said. "Consequently, auto insurance costs them almost twice as much as other age groups, but many companies give reductions if drivers have passed driver education courses. Girls have had rates comparable to adults, but their record is getting worse."

YMCA Planning Summer Slate

The new summer schedule of activities for the YMCA has been announced by Curtis Mullins, general secretary.

Included in the group of old swimming classes, with special emphasis this year on junior and senior life saving and a "drownproofing" class; regular open gym activities; arts and crafts classes; basketball, volleyball; women's trim-fit classes; and many others.

New at the Y are boys basketball league play, handball instruction, beginner instruction in swimming for teens only, folk guitar instruction and tennis for both beginners and advanced.

The present schedule will terminate May 27, Mullins said. From May 31-June 11, there will be recreational swimming for elementary age in the morning and junior high in the afternoon. The regular swimming schedule is begun June 13.

"The Y is offering more swimming classes now," Mullins said, "and those enrolled have their choice of either morning or afternoon classes. Children can join classes at any time, be taken at their skill, level, and then progressed."

"Programs for boys and girls in the junior high - high school age area will have an added emphasis, with lifesaving, beginners swimming, girls volleyball and boys basketball.

"And, for those who are interested in becoming teaching assistants, the tiny tot and beginners swim classes both need volunteers. Orientation will be given to either high school girls or mothers who would like to volunteer."

Summer schedules are being distributed by the YMCA now, Mullins said. Families can secure one by calling the YMCA at AM 7-5234, he added.

Instructors for several of the courses include Jim Gilbert, Y physical director, girls volleyball; Allen Simpson, high school coach, boys basketball; Jack Tayrien, boys body building; Pat Nelson, handball instruction; Mrs. Nancy Miller, women's trim-fit class; Mrs. Ora Burson, ballet and tap instruction; Mrs. Bill Hill, guitar instruction for beginners (co-ed); Carol McCombs, baton twirling; A. J. Pirkle, tennis.

Heart Confab Due Monday

Dr. Malcolm J. Thomas Jr., thoracic and cardiovascular surgeon from Lubbock, will be the guest speaker at the final meeting of the Howard County Heart Council for this year. The meeting will be held Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the Ramada Inn.

Dr. Thomas, a graduate of Tulane University, New Orleans, La., interned at Jefferson Davis Hospital in Houston and completed a general surgical residency training program at the Baylor University College of Medicine there. He formerly was in postgraduate surgery at the University of Texas M. D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute.

Dr. Thomas, a member of various medical and scientific societies, is a consultant in thoracic and cardiovascular surgery at Reese AFB Hospital, Lubbock, and the Veterans Administration Hospital, Big Spring.

A brief business meeting will include the installation of new officers and members of the board of directors and recognition of area Heart Sunday chairmen.

Woman Gets Heart Pump

NEW YORK (AP)—Doctors at Brooklyn's Maimonides Hospital have implanted an artificial heart pump in a woman, the Daily News reported Saturday. The newspaper said the patient was in good condition.

The surgery was done Wednesday by a team headed by Dr. Adrian Kantrowitz, a heart specialist who performed a similar operation at the hospital last February. That patient died a day later because of a liver disease.

Neither Kantrowitz nor hospital officials would comment on the latest surgery.

"We are under orders not to talk about the operation," said one hospital source. The News said the device used in the operation was a plastic pump designed to relieve the heart of work by bypassing the left ventricle, the chamber which pumps blood through the body.

Unsafe Building Removal Program Getting Results

By TOM BARRY

After a year and a half, the city's hazardous structures program has produced excellent results, according to Larry Crow, city manager.

In all, 249 structures, deemed hazardous under the ordinance, have been removed, either by the city or by the owners, moved or repaired by the owners, as of May 20.

"Only 32 of the 249 were demolished by the city," Crow said Friday. "The rest have been cleared by the owners, either demolished or moved from the city."

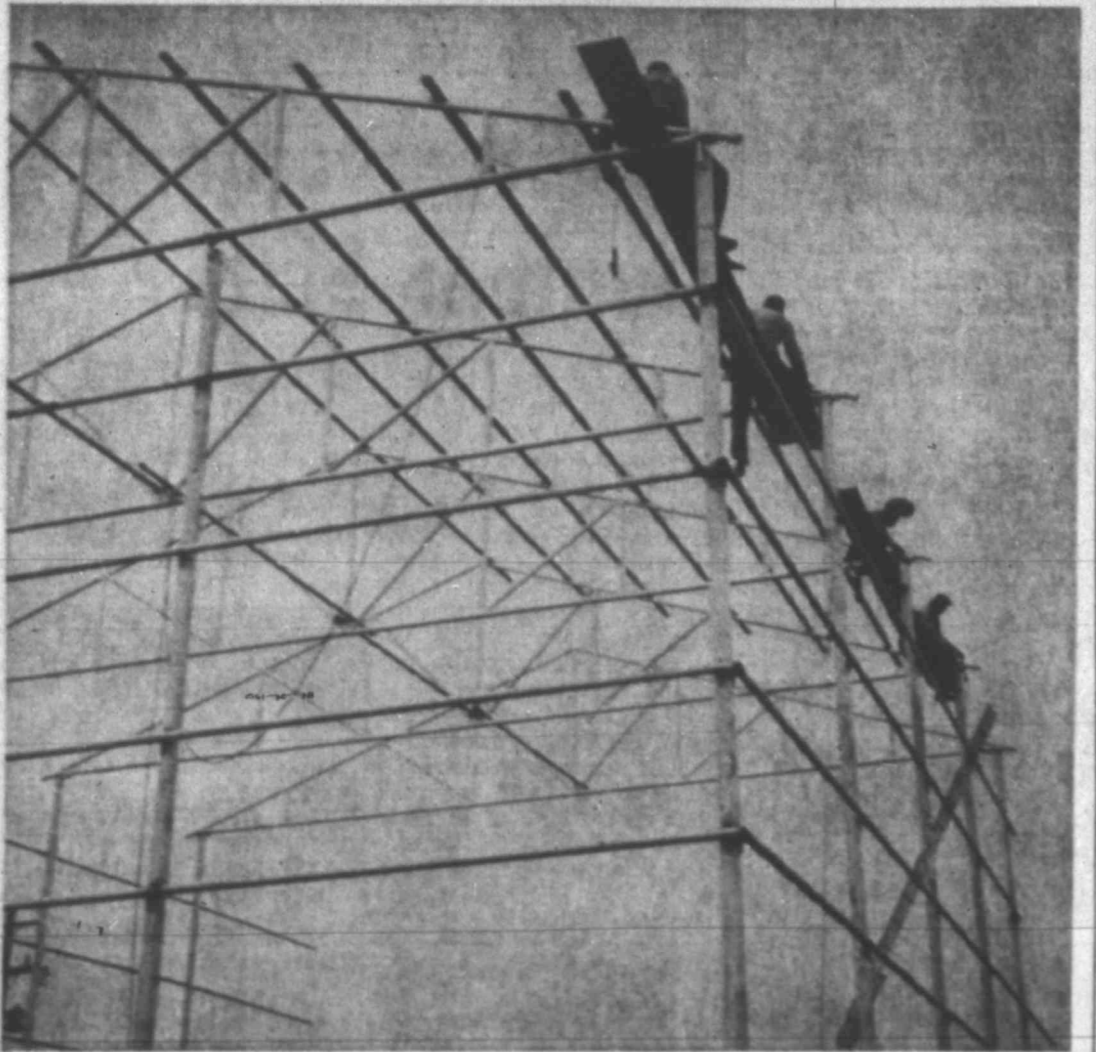

Besides the 249 structures, a significant number of others have been cleared as a result of what Crow calls "informal urging by city inspectors." Included were some old tourist courts and old business buildings.

"Generally," said Crow, "people have been cooperative and the program has moved forward smoothly."

While the "Neighborhood Improvement Program," is not unique to Big Spring, it is the brainchild of Crow and city attorney John Burgess. City commissioners passed an ordinance, and the first moves began in November, 1964.

COUNTY'S NEW GIN TAKING SHAPE
Framework towers for $250,000 plant now under construction

Planters Starts Work On $250,000 New Gin Facility

Howard County will have its first brand new gin in several years this fall when the cotton harvest gets under way.

Construction has started on a $250,000 completely new facility for Planters Gin Co. The new plant will be located just north of the U.S. Experiment Station property and half a mile east of US 87. A road will be built to turn off the highway at the Ford Tractor Co. building on the highway. Planters is building the gin with its own crew.

J. M. Bradley, district manager for Planters, said the new gin will be rigged to process 12 to 15 bales an hour. It is to be housed in a building located on 28 acres of land which Planters acquired from Glenn Cantrell.

He said the new gin will be completed and ready for service by the time the 1966 cotton crop is being harvested. It will feature all of the latest ginning improvements.

The Planters company will not run the gin it now has on Northeast Second Street in 1966, thus the number of gins in the county will remain unchanged.

The Fairview gin, north of town, was rebuilt completely a few years ago, and housed in a new building but the location was unchanged. Planters rebuilt their Luther gin a couple of years ago, and several other county gins have been modernized from time to time.

Planters Gin Co., with headquarters in Fort Worth, has 40 gins in Texas. The West Texas district office is located on Northeast Second Street. Bradley has supervision over 16 of the company's gins.

Here in Howard County, the company has gins in Knott, Big Spring and Luther. It also has a gin just over the county line in Ackerly.

There are 12 gins in the county. Three are in Big Spring, three at Knott, two at Coahoma, one each at Luther, Fairview, Lomax and Vincent. There was another gin in Big Spring until last season when it was razed.

HELENA, Mont. (AP)—Barry Goldwater predicts an impending United States push to win the Viet Nam war because, he says, President Johnson is beginning to realize he is "playing domestic politics with a foreign war."

Bond Prospectus Work Is Nearing Production Stage

Information for a bond prospectus for the new Colorado River Municipal Water District issue—possibly for $30,000,000—is about complete.

O. H. Ivie, general manager of CRMWD, completed the last of the narrative about member and customer cities, and Freese, Nichols and Endress, consulting engineers, were almost finished with statistical and engineering data. Possibly within a week all this will be in the hands of Richard Locke, who is shaping up this portion of the financing for Eastman, Dillon, and Union Securities, Inc., the fiscal agents.

It is not improbable that everything can be ready for receiving bids in late June.

Meanwhile, the district is edging forward on plans for construction of a four-mile long dam across the Colorado River just above Robert Lee. Last week another small tract of land was acquired, and negotiations were under way for two other parcels. CRMWD so far has acquired over 3,600 acres, almost all in the dam site. The entire project will require nearly 17,000 acres.

Contacts have been made with oil companies relative to getting some three dozen oil wells in the basin "in the dry," and with the state highway department for relocation of about eight miles of SH 158.

Engineers have been pressing for a completion of plans by the first part of July, but they will be hard pressed to do this.

Memorial Day Program Set

Waggoner Carr, attorney general of Texas, will be principal speaker at the Big Spring Memorial Day program set for 2 p.m. next Sunday at the Main Entrance to the Veteran Administration Hospital.

The program is being arranged as a cooperative effort by the American Legion, the Disabled American Veterans, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Veterans of World War I and the Veterans Administration Hospital.

It is being held one day ahead of the holiday proper in order to have Carr as speaker and in the hope that a large number of Big Spring and Howard County residents will take part.

The day itself—Monday, May 30—will be noted by general closing down of all the downtown and outlying stores and shops. All public offices, with the exception of the agencies needed to cope with emergencies, will note the holiday.

The program on Sunday, May 29, will be opened by Dr. Halvor T. Hansen, master of ceremonies, who is a member of the American Legion Post No. 255.

The Big Spring High School band and a cappella choir, directed by Douglas Wiehe and Mel Ivey, will open the program with special selections.

The Webb AFB color guard will present the colors, and the invocation will be by the Rev. Leo K. Gee, of First Methodist Church.

Gold Star Mothers of Howard County, who will be honored guests will place a wreath at the base of the flag pole and lead in a moment of silent prayer to the memory of deceased veterans.

The welcome will be extended by Donald D. Van Meter director of the VA hospital, and Dr. Hansen will introduce Attorney General Carr.

After the address by the attorney general, the benediction will be by Chaplain C. O. Hill of the VA hospital.

Tom Newton, when he spots a structure that may be hazardous. Newton makes an inspection, and if he finds the building is hazardous, a notice is tacked to the wall, and a copy mailed to the property owner — by certified, return mail.

The owner has several choices — he can either bring the structure up to standards, move it out of the city limits, demolish it himself, or let the city do it for him.

If the owner wishes to contest the decision, he may appear before the Appeals Board, though so far all complaints have been made directly to the city commission.

Of the 249 structures so far affected by the city program, the city has got into litigation in only two cases.

TWO CONTESTS

In one, the city demolished the structure, after a year of notices and extensions, after which the owners filed suit.

The other case involved a foul-up in which the city mailed notices to the wrong address. This case also wound up in a lawsuit against the city.

"The city cannot be in the position of salvaging or selling the structures," Crow said. "since the program is in every way strictly a removal program. If the city started salvaging or selling condemned buildings, we would invite criticism."

So, when forced to destroy such a building, the city uses the most economical means possible and hauls the debris on city trucks to the city dump.

THE RECORD

Sixty-seven structures have been demolished voluntarily without notice being given; 58 cleared by owners after having been notified; 88 removed from the city by owners. Another 32 were demolished by the city after public hearing, and four repaired or demolished by the owners.

There are several pending actions, however. One will be cleared by the city. Nine structures have the notation that notice has been given but no action taken. Three extensions are pending; and hearings have been recommended on seven others, making the grand total of structures affected by the city program 269.

"We have had a great deal of interest from other communities because of our program's success," Crow said. And a lot of people who live in areas where these structures prevail have expressed appreciation and pride in the program.

"A lot of these structures are heavily insured and heavily populated by 'winos,' vandals and children," he declared, "and therefore the fire rate is excessively high for those buildings. The city's program therefore offers improved safety for the citizen, and helps to lower the city fire insurance rate by removing the structures instead of risking loss by fire."

PICTURE CHANGED

Many of the dilapidated buildings affected have been in the Northside area of the community, which for years had more than its share of submarginal buildings. Others have been in central areas of the town.

Last year, a Herald reporter accompanied Meador on an inspection trip through the Northside area's worst sections, and saw 50 or 60 of what loosely may be called buildings. They were filled with winos, children, piles of unhealthy appearing material — bottles, rags, human and animal excrement, old rotting boards, with rusty nails protruding. More than eyesores, they were definite health hazards.

Many of these have disappeared, thanks to the program. But many hazardous buildings remain in Big Spring, the manager stressed; how many, no one knows. When a building is vacated (all those affected by the program have been vacant), deterioration sets in quickly — from the weather, vandals, and trespassers.

City officials hope to continue the program's activities whenever hazardous structures are reported, in an effort to make Big Spring better appearing and healthier.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Angus Broussard arrived home and found a man leaving their front door. Challenged, the man replied: "Out of my way. I don't want to kill you."

As Broussard struggled with the fellow, Mrs. Broussard dashed into the house, emerged with a rolling pin and bopped the man over the head. The pin broke. She went back and got a fireplace shovel.

She whacked the man until he got dizzy and gave up. Mrs. Broussard kept it at the ready until her husband called the police, who booked Manuel Matos, 54, on suspicion of burglary.

Mike Jarratt Has Good Spot

A former honor student in Big Spring High School, who ranks in the top 10 of his medical school class, has been chosen as an intern at Stanford University Hospital.

He is Michael Jarratt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Felix Jarratt.

Michael will graduate from Southern Medical School in Dallas with his M.D. degree June 6 and will begin his intern year at Palo Alto, Calif., June 25.

When he completed his high school work here in 1959, he was high ranking boy with a 95.26 average and was awarded a four-year, full tuition scholarship at SMU. During his freshman year there, he had a remarkable 4.0 (straight A) average. In his sophomore year he was a student laboratory instructor in chemistry; in his junior year he was accepted by Southwestern Medical School with a tuition scholarship. He also was named to Phi Eta Sigma, freshman scholastic honorary society and pledged Kappa Alpha social fraternity.

In medical school he pledged Phi Chi in his freshman year, was named chapter secretary his sophomore year, delegate to the national convention his junior year, and became its president in his senior year. He was named the outstanding senior, and was elected to Alpha Omega Alpha, national medical scholastic honorary society.

Raton Rider Is Killed At Track

RATON, N.M. (AP) — A 26-year-old jockey at La Mesa Park was killed Saturday when thrown from a horse he was training at the Raton track.

Johnny Duran, of Raton was dead on arrival at a Raton hospital of a broken back and internal injuries, doctors said.

Duran was riding a 2-year-old filly, Nasrugal, down the home stretch and crowding the rail, a witness said. The horse seemed to trip over the rail and fall.

Duran was thrown on his back. It wasn't known if the horse rolled on top of him. The filly, which has never been in an actual race, lay motionless for about three minutes and then got up.

It wasn't learned if the animal was hurt.

Duran had been riding at La Mesa for several seasons. He had finished in the money on 11 of 39 mounts this season.

The track ambulance was only 70 feet away when the horse fell 30 feet from the finish line.

Religious Journal Excites Interest Of Ohio Museum

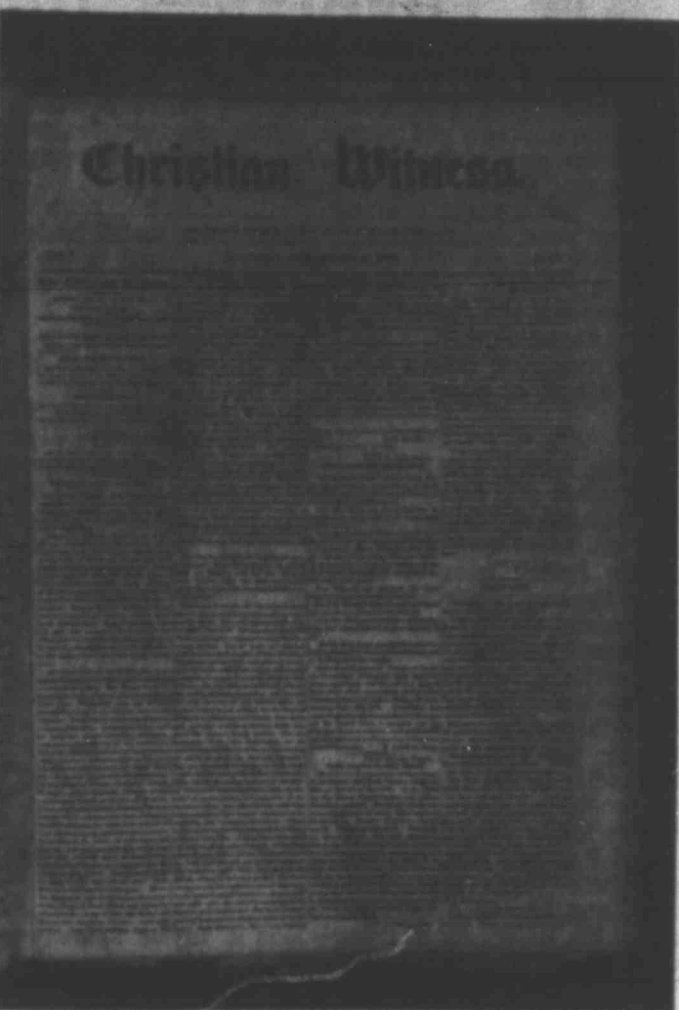

A book and coin collector who has several volumes of mid-19th century books in his possession may have a chance to place all of them in a well-known historical museum.

Museum officials from the Ohio State Museum, Columbus, Ohio, located on the campus of The Ohio State University, have expressed an interest in one of Mr. K. Britton's volumes. "The Christian Witness" and several of the others. "The Christian Witness" is a collection of weekly papers from Columbus, Ohio, written and published by the Rev. J. F. Given during the Civil War years.

Britton, who lives at 2300 Marshall, recently moved to Big Spring from Midland. He picked up the volume of papers hauling a load of garbage in Midland. He has eight other old books in his possession, dating from the years 1852-1873, including both copies of "General William T. Sherman—Written By Himself." There are several medical books, too, including the 1852 original copy of "Midwifer." At one time Britton had a set of law books published in 1800, but he lost track of them.

In correspondence with Mrs. Elizabeth H. Martin, head librarian at the museum, Britton found out that his volume of weekly papers was started Nov. 1, 1863. After the Rev. Given's death on Aug. 31, 1867, the Rev. A. D. Biddison took charge of the paper. There is some doubt as to its final expiration date. Britton's Volume I dates from Feb. 18, 1864, to April 19, 1865. The Ohio State Museum has Volume III in its files, dating from June 22, 1866, to Nov. 28, 1867.

The paper itself deals with affairs of the Evangelical United Brethren Church. In the opening edition, its principles were listed: "The Christian Witness will be in the ... interest of

Included in the paper were philosophical writings, quotes from the Cincinnati and New York markets, brief items about the war, prose, poetry, communications from ministers, and quotes and lessons from the Bible.

One short item reported the assassination of President Abraham Lincoln. There was no follow-up story in the succeeding issue.

Japan May Change On Nuclear Arms

By EUGENE LEVIN
TOKYO (AP) — A growing debate in Japan over its relations with the United States and Red China is bringing forth the first vague hint that the general Japanese attitude toward nuclear arms may be changing.

The debate, centered on the Japan-U.S. security treaty and Communist China's atomic weapon potential, has focused attention on controversial proposals for a Japanese military buildup.

In this country, that suffered the world's only atomic bombings, the whole idea of rearmament — especially with nuclear weapons — has been shunned for two decades.

Now the government is proceeding more boldly with plans for a defense buildup. It also is taking a subtle stand on the question of a nuclear proliferation treaty, leaving the way open for Japan to have its own atomic weapons as long as others do.

For years to come, the military buildup is likely to be a nonnuclear one. Japanese opposition to atomic bombs goes deep. The idea of a rearmament Japan, even without nuclear weapons, is enough to make other Asian nations shiver — and Japanese officials know this.

It all started with debate over the security treaty which gives the United States the right to maintain bases in Japan while pledging to help defend the Japanese. The treaty was revised in 1960 amidst bitter rioting that forced President Dwight D. Eisenhower to cancel a scheduled trip to Japan. Either country can request another revision after 1970.

The Japanese Socialist party, which often echoes a pro-Peking line, has long waged a campaign to scrap the treaty. The Socialists cite the Viet Nam war as a reason for getting rid of American bases in Japan. They say this country could find itself involved in an Asian war against its will.

The Viet Nam war has been one reason for the early debate on the treaty revision. Prime Minister Eisaku Sato's strategy also may be responsible. Some observers think he has deliberately plunged into the debate, saying the treaty should remain unchanged, in an attempt to sway public opinion. It is said that he does not want to wait until the last minute — 1970 — and find himself in the midst of new riots.

Some government supporters on the right agree with the Socialists that Japan should try to end its dependence on American military strength. But there is a difference. The Socialists want a defenseless Japan that trusts in the good will of its neighbors. The conservatives want a Japanese military buildup that would permit this country to defend itself.

With Japan showing a more independent line in world affairs and a vague tendency toward an Indian-type nonalignment, the chances of a defense buildup are becoming more likely.

tal, .45 caliber national match course, and grand aggregate total.

Sgt. Pistone, who reported for duty at Webb early in May, is rated near the top in Air Force rifle firing. The Marfa match was his first pistol competition in almost five years.

Sgt. Bobby D. Swindell, son of Mrs. Lloyd OM Swindell, 1934

LeRoy Rd., Dallas, Tex.

Pfc. Phoenix Esparza, son of Mrs. Olivia P. Esparza, 115 N. Acme, San Antonio, Tex.

Double Plea

Action Picks Up As Land Dries Out

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP)—Action picked up on Texas farms during the week. Drying fields permitted farmers to get on with long delayed jobs, said John E. Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

He said ranges are improved in all areas except where rain was light. Grazing prospects are good. Replanting, he said, will be heavy in sections of excessive rain, adding further to the lateness of crops.

Only three counties in the Panhandle have adequate moisture — Armstrong, Gray and Donley. Moisture is very short in all others. Some grain sorghum is being planted in the southwest. Ranges are below average.

Tractors are humming over the South Plains (Lubbock) where cotton and sorghum planting are in full swing. Planting moisture is adequate in all except one or two isolated spots. Ranges are making a rapid recovery, irrigated wheat is heading. Sugar beets and vegetables are making good progress.

In the Rolling Plains (Vanhook), 19 of the 22 counties have sufficient moisture and grains improved. Wheat rust damage is showing up. Cotton and sorghum planting is being resumed as fields dry and some replanting has started. Alfalfa is being harvested.

Some field work is being resumed in North Central Texas, mostly replanting and cultivating. A high percentage of the cotton will be replanted after the heavy rains. Ranges and pastures are making excellent growth.

Northeast Texas farmers are still straightening out from the excessive rains. Field work has been limited by wet soils. Cotton will be late due to replanting, but early hay cuttings are expected. Labor is expected to be short.

Moisture in far West Texas improved but the wide ranges in temperature slowed cotton growth. Ranges are improving. Some livestock have been lost due to poisoning in the shin oak areas. Grain is beginning to ripen and alfalfa yields are excellent.

Moisture is adequate in most West Central Texas and farmers are planting sorghum and getting ready to plant cotton. Grain is making some growth but some oats are being cut for hay or grazed out. Fruit and pecan prospects are good. Sheep shearing is two weeks late. The wool market is strong and some lambs are moving to market.

Central Texas farmers are getting back into their fields and cultivating corn and sorghum, planting and replanting cotton and preparing for peanut planting. Grains are maturing rapidly. Sheep shearing has been delayed by the rains.

In East Texas, moisture is adequate to surplus. Replanting of feed crops in some areas has started, and hay is being harvested. Pecan and fruit insects are showing up.

Moisture in Southeast Texas is surplus and grass and weeds in crops are a severe problem. Much field work is needed.

Moisture in South Central Texas is excessive in low areas but cotton, corn and sorghums are recovering from the heavy rains. Some replanting will be necessary. Harvesting of hay, flax and vegetables has been hampered by wet fields. Much of the flax will be sample graded due to the excess moisture. Livestock are doing well but mosquitoes are bothering them in some areas.

Cultivation and weed, disease and insect control are keeping South Texas farmers busy. From 50 to 95 per cent of the flax has been lost due to excessive rains. Some potatoes, onions and cabbage has been lost. Some cotton will have to be replanted. Small grain harvesting has started as the cucumber and sweet corn harvests. Labor is short.

Not Much Success Seen For Clarity On Gas Prices

By MAX B. SKELTON
HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The nation's two largest independent oil operator associations have renewed pleas that Congress clarify federal authority to control wellhead prices of natural gas.

Neither group, however, voiced much optimism over prospects for success, at least this year.

The 6,000-member Independent Petroleum Association of America pledged cooperation in every possible way with a nationwide gas supply committee that is being organized to seek remedial legislation.

Cosden Process Gives Better Plastic Color

Back in 1956, Cosden was demonstrating one of its innovations when it initiated the world's first fully integrated program of polystyrene manufactured from crude oil to plastics.

In the eight years that have followed, polystyrene production capacity has spiraled from the original 20 million pounds annually to an anticipated volume of 119 million pounds when current expansion is completed this year.

HELP DEVELOP POLYSTYRENE COLOR PROGRAM
Elton Carlile, Max Coffee, Milton Brown check output

Now another innovation has emerged from Cosden and is being widely publicized. This is the unique Surface Pigment Bonding technique, for which a patent application has been filed.

polystyrene beads flow more easily than pellets. When processing beads, the temperatures and pressure are slightly lower than those needed for equivalent material in pellet form.

BETTER PRODUCT
Superior physical characteristics have resulted from bead production. Spectral gloss, impact, elongation and flexibility are all improved over these qualities in pellets.

Leaders of the new effort have not as yet indicated what their strategy might be in meeting this problem.

The nationwide committee was formed last fall and the national trade group for independent operators was told at its May 8 meeting in Los Angeles the organization, talent and money now is available "to do the job we think must be done."

The Permian appeal could delay a new push, now indicated for 1967, for congressional relief. A ruling by the 10th Circuit Court of Appeals is not expected before early next year.

The national association indicated a congressional hearing might serve a useful purpose while the new legislative effort is being organized.

Teenagers Miss An Eerie Death

ELKHART, Ind. (AP) — Three teenagers survived an eerie brush with death Friday in a gas-filled sewer which empties into the St. Joseph River.

A boy and a girl collapsed in the five-foot pipe while hunting 50 cents dropped by a companion in a previous expedition through the sewer.

They were pulled to safety unconscious by firemen wearing gas masks after the third youngster groped his way out and hailed a passing motorist who went for help.

Neil Crofoot, 13, was found 300 feet from the mouth of the sewer, and Carol Foster, 13, was 200 feet further inside. Her limp body was hoisted to safety through a manhole.

Collections Ease Deficit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The tax collector has good news for Uncle Sam's budget balancers: Net tax receipts for April were 16 per cent above those of the same month last year. And if the trend continues — as government experts expect it will — the anticipated budget deficit for the fiscal year ending June 30 could shrink by $1 billion to $2 billion.

The Treasury's monthly report showed net tax receipts for the first 10 months of this fiscal year totaled $79.1 billion. May and June, historically the best tax months, are still to come. The $9.9 billion in net receipts during April compares with $8.5 billion for April of last year. Last January, the administration estimated net receipts for this fiscal year at $100 billion. They forecast a budget deficit of $8.4 billion. Since then, there have been these developments:

1. Higher than anticipated receipts which could add $1 billion to $2 billion to the positive side of the ledger.
2. An administration campaign to cut spending by $1.1 billion during the rest of the fiscal year.
3. A new Treasury policy to step up collections from corporations of the income and Social Security taxes they withhold from employee paychecks. This procedure is scheduled to begin in mid-June and would mean an extra $1 billion in tax collections before June 30.

Anti-Litter Film To Be Projected

Members of the Garden Club Council, along with Dr. Robert Johnson, chairman of the Anti-Litter Month campaign, have arranged for the film, "Money to Burn," to be shown in the Big Spring Public School.

According to Mrs. O. S. Womack, project chairman, the film is intended to give school-age children an insight into the ever-spreading problem of litter and what to do about it.

Sam Anderson, superintendent of schools, said that the film is now making the rounds of the elementary schools and will be shown in the secondary schools as time permits. The film is available to any interested organization from the Texas Highway Department, Austin.

SOMETHING OF SENTIMENTAL VALUE

GRADUATION DAY

MODELING HIS MORTARBOARD is Don Shive, a graduating senior and Key Club president at Big Spring High School. Sandy McCombs adjusts the tassel as Bobby Griffin and Harvelyn Adams admire the effect.

BOOKS WILL BE the basis of learning for seniors who are already preparing for college this fall. Class officers planning to continue their formal education are Sue Burns, secretary; Robert Gossett, president and Marilyn Meacham, treasurer.

COMMENCEMENT WILL CLIMAX the twelve years most young people spend on college preparation. Among those participating in this year's commencement exercises are Janet Jones, Phillip Dean Hall, Mary Frances Newton and seated, John Seitzler.

THE BACCALAUREATE PROGRAM will be staged in Memorial Stadium on May 28. Preparing for their parts in the event are Patricia Haralson, Phillis Jean Hall, Don Hal Haney and Sheryl Gambill. At left is Sue Frazier, senior class vice president and school beauty who participated in this weeks rodeo celebration.

SOMETHING OF SENTIMENTAL value, and a mark of academic achievement, are the senior rings shown by Jerry Thurman, Cheryl Kasch, Cindy Jones, Pam Lurting, Susie Engle and Jimmy Johnson. The group has assisted in constructing the ring replica which will be a part of the Ring Dance at Big Spring Country Club immediately following commencement.

Casually Yours

By JO BRIGHT

The closing of the racing season at Juarez, Mexico, drew a number of local people to the border, and there were several ex-Big Springers in the crowd as well as some from Ruidoso, N. M. who are known here.

The Buddy Reddons and Tommy were there. So was Dick Fitzgerald who was with friends in the Winner's Circle. There on business (the District Four, Texas Municipal League meeting) were John Stanley and Ernest Lillard and their families along with Arnold Marshall.

The races at Pike's Peak Meadow, near Colorado Springs, will be seen this weekend by Mr. and Mrs. Champ Rainwater and Marvin Miller. They will be entertained by Mrs. Howard J. Withycombe and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Miller, operators of the track, who have visited here on several occasions. Understand Mrs. Withycombe hopes to be here later in the summer to attend some farewell parties for the Rainwaters.

Some oldtimers who have been visiting here are Mr. and Mrs. Clyde M. Bell of El Paso who were guests in the home of his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil B. Bell. The travelers said the city "sure has grown" since the boys grew up on a ranch south of town.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Jones, 1308 Pennsylvania, have as their guests, Mrs. A. L. Henderson of Formby, England. Mrs. Henderson has been visiting her cousins, Col. and Mrs. J. P. Cordova of Randolph AFB, San Antonio. She leaves Monday to attend graduation ceremonies at Sewanee University, Chattanooga, Tenn., after which she will go to New York to embark for Liverpool, England.

Remember pretty Lois Tarbox? The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Tarbox, former residents, was named sophomore class favorite in a recent election at Texas Christian University. She is a member of Delta Delta Delta and a representative of the TCU student congress. The Tarboxes are now living in Lubbock where Elmer is in the runoff for state representative, Dist. 78, Place 2.

Col. and Mrs. Chester J. Butcher will be hosting a cocktail buffet in honor of Col. and Mrs. J. H. Sherwood and Col. and Mrs. Edwin J. White who will soon be leaving Webb. Understand Mrs. Sherwood may make her home in Lubbock to be near the college-age youngsters while her husband is overseas.

Planning to be in Brownwood for the Shrine Ceremonial were Mr. and Mrs. Ted O. Groobl, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tompkins and Mr. and Mrs. George Bair as well as members of the motor patrol.

Mrs. Odell Womack expects her sister, Mrs. Herman Lovell of Archer City, and her daughter, Marsha, a student at Midwestern, to be here on the 23rd. They'll stay several days. Odell and Jimmy Johnson are attending the Colonial Golf Tournament and understand that's where Mr. and Mrs. Jack Irons will end up their business trip. The D. S. Rileys are off on a hospital business jaunt, and the Lee O. Rogerses have returned from their New York trip. Sid Mellinger was in New York City last week, too.

I'm told that W. A. Underwood is a patient at Malone and Hogan Hospital Foundation. He's the father of James and Forrest Underwood and Mrs. George Elliott. Better news about Tommy South, though—his head is mending very well after the accident in Midland. Call Me?

Different Shapes

In addition to many colors, shapes and sizes, domestic ceramic tile also has different types of edges. Some tiles have curved edges and are known as cushion edged tile and others have flat edges.

Mothers' Club Hears Program Of Music

Musical selections by a father's combo was the highlight of the Thursday evening meeting of the Immaculate Heart of Mary's Mothers' Club. The members met at the parish hall with Mrs. Lois Casillas presiding.

The members of the combo were Luis Puga, Jimmy DeLeon and Joe Puga. Representing the bachelor set was Eddie Chavez.

Mrs. Casillas appointed new committee chairmen for the coming year. They are Mrs. Israel Longoria, ways and means; Mrs. Luis Puga, school; Mrs. Douglas Hattenbach, spiritual development; Mrs. Howard Stevens, telephone; Mrs. Bob Harbison, welcoming and hospitality; Mrs. Sylvester Sulak, library; Mrs. Ed Davis and Mrs. Royal Mills, school health; and Mrs. Maurice Smith, Diocesan Council of Catholic Women.

Mrs. J. P. Williams gave a brief summary on the lives of saints reviewed during the past year, and plans for the summer vacations were discussed. It was announced that the next meeting will be Aug. 25.

The attendance prize was won by Mrs. Leo Gibson, and refreshments were served to 40 members and guests, the Rev. Francis Beazley and sisters of the school.

Tells Plans

Mrs. Geraldine Palmer of Pasadena, Texas, is announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Lynnette Ruth, to Rosalee Edwina Burks, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Burks, Rt. 1. The couple plans to be married July 9 in the First Methodist Church in Pasadena.

Try Needles To Fasten Patterns

Thin needles used to fasten pattern pieces will not leave as large holes in the material as do pins. This is important on fine materials such as silk and satin.

Tollett, Lone Star District chairman; Paul Soldan, Bill Bradford, Ben Crocker, Winston Harper, John E. Fort Jr., Jack Gulley, Jack Alexander, Bill Crooker and Jimmy Kondo.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Williams, Don Jr., Lisa, Leslie and Lynn of Fort Worth spent last weekend here with Williams' parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Williams, and his sister and family, the Paul Sheedys.

Mrs. Doris Perkins returned to her desk on a part-time basis Thursday after an extended recuperation period following surgery.

L. E. Burks, electrician leadman, left Thursday for Trinidad, West Indies, for six to eight weeks. He will assist W. E. Grace & Co.'s subsidiary, Federation Chemicals Limited, in the check-out and adjustment of instrumentation in the new ammonia plant addition being installed there.

J. T. Wilkinson of the Fina Dallas office is here for a few days visiting his son, Tom Wilkinson, and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Rosa Balch.

Saturday Coke Party Honors Fran Long

Miss Fran Long was honored with a graduation Coke party Saturday morning in the home of Mrs. Travis Carleton, 1701 Harvard. Her daughter, Connie, served as hostess.

Mrs. Carleton was joined by the honoree's mother, Mrs. M. A. Long, in greeting guests who called between the hours of 10 a.m. and 12 o'clock noon. Miss Long's guest list included 25.

Miss Long and her mother received yellow tissue paper corsages, and Miss Carleton presented Miss Long with a blouse.

In the den, Miss Sherry Hampton and Miss Luan Carleton assisted in serving Cokes from a bright metal bucket. A turquoise linen cloth covered the table which was centered with an abstract floral arrangement of yellow and gold calendulas accented with black. Each guest was asked to give her interpretation of the arrangement, and the winner received a gift of note paper. The party concluded with each senior girl telling of her future plans.

Miss Findley Weds Mack V. Henderson

Miss Sara Lea Findley became the bride of Mack Vaughn Henderson Saturday evening at the Airport Baptist Church. The Rev. Ronnie Bostick officiated for the double ring rites.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Roy Findley, Rt. 2, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Henderson, Sterling City, Mo.

The altar was centered with a mixed arrangement of white gladioli, chrysanthemums and carnations flanked by branched candelabra holding cathedral tapers. Forming the background were emerald fern trees. White standards and white satin bows marked the altar isle.

Miss Nancy Jo Anderson, accompanied by Miss Dianne Banks, sang "O Promise Me" and the "Wedding Prayer." Traditional wedding music was presented by Mrs. James Norman, organist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown of peau de sole and Chantilly lace. Double bands of lace adorned the slightly belled skirt which fell to a chapel-length train. Her shoulder-length veil of illusion was attached to a headpiece of peau de sole roses. Among the traditional items, the bride wore a double strand of pearls.

A top a white Bible she carried a cascade of white gladioli backed with satin pearl leaves and showered in white satin streamers.

Serving her sister as maid of honor was Miss Linda Findley. Bridesmaids were Miss Nelda Henderson, Miss Juanita Henderson and Miss Linda Henderson, all sisters of the bridegroom.

Gift Party Held For Bride-Elect

Miss Candy Combs, bride-elect of Monty Clendenin, was the honoree Friday evening at a gift shower in the Flame Room of Pioneer Natural Gas Company. Calling hours were from 7 to 9 p.m., and 125 were included on the guest list.

Hostesses were Mrs. Vaughn Martin, Mrs. Duke Baker, Mrs. Sidney Clark, Miss Janice Bolinger, Mrs. Rufus Tuckness, Mrs. Richard Johnson, Mrs. William Banks and Mrs. Thomas A. Brown.

A blue carnation corsage was presented to the honoree, while her mother, Mrs. Gene Combs, and her fiance's mother, Mrs. R. A. Clendenin, received white carnations.

Refreshments were served from a table covered with a floor-length cloth of white tulle over white satin. The centerpiece was white wedding bells placed on a pedestal with blue sweetpeas at the base. Crystal appointments were used.

The couple plans to be married June 17 at the Berea Baptist Church.

Keep Floor Clean While Sewing

When about to settle down to a sewing session, take a sheet from the laundry hamper and spread it on the floor beneath your sewing table.

After sewing, you can pick up the sheet and take it outside to shake out all the little threads which would otherwise mess up the floor.

Kits Offered For Home Paneling

Popularity of paneling as a practical and convenient way to redecorate and remodel is findings its counterpart in a variety of panel adhesives in cartridge form, designed for use with a caulking gun. Application of paneling to dry-wall and solid plaster, as well as to studs and hurring strips, is facilitated with the new adhesives.

Paneled Doors Need Paint Jobs

There's a right way and a wrong way to do everything... and painting paneled doors is no exception. The National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association suggests you first paint the panels themselves, then the center rail, the top and bottom rails, and the verticle stiles, leaving the edges for last. An enamel paint offers greatest protection for woodwork.

Warning Given For Chewing Gum

Chewing gum has its place — or so we're assured by both tots and teens. But its place isn't in the water. Swimmers and tiny waders shouldn't chew gum while in the water. A sudden gasp can lodge the gum so deep in the larynx that those administering first aid can't reach it, even if they know it's there.

Medicare Explored In Luncheon Speech

Don Vilven of Midland, district director of Blue Cross-Blue Shield of Texas, discussed Medicare when he was guest speaker at Thursday's luncheon for the Big Spring Credit Women's Club.

Mrs. Pyle Bradshaw, president, welcomed a large number of guests, and Vilven was introduced by Mrs. A. G. Eitzen.

Vilven began by noting that Medicare is now a matter of law whether or not all people are satisfied with the program. He estimated that 19 million people in the U.S. are eligible to participate in the program and that approximately 18 million have already enrolled. The program is designed to furnish hospital coverage, care and doctor's service to those over 65 years of age who might not otherwise afford it.

Vilven stressed that benefits under Medicare are not necessarily automatic. There are two parts, or sections, to the program. Part "A" of Medicare provides mainly hospital services (beginning July 1, 1966) and nursing home services (beginning Jan. 1, 1967) and some calls at home (visiting nurse, physical therapist, etc.) are available following a hospital illness. This part will be automatically provided for people 65 and over now receiving Social Security or Railroad Retirement benefits. Others have to

Mother-Daughter Banquet Held

Mrs. J. M. Morgan, life member of Drove No. 81, received a gift of perfume at the BPO Does Mother-Daughter Banquet Wednesday at 8:30 p.m.

Other gifts went to Miss Kay Smith, Mrs. Morris Prager, Mrs. Paul Jenkins and Mrs. Kathleen Williams.

Hostesses were Mrs. Glen Gale, Mrs. L. D. Jenkins and Mrs. W. R. Rogers. The centerpiece was a yellow container filled with purple larkspur and yellow irises. Completing the decorations were larkspur placed on streamers down the tables. Favors were purple baskets of mints.

To Marry

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Ward, Lufkin, are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Alice, of Jacksboro, to Donald Clay Brandenberger of Coleman. He is the son of Mrs. Nita Brandenberger of San Saba and Dayton Brandenberger of San Angelo. The engaged couple are former residents of Big Spring where both were employed with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. They will be married June 25 in the First Presbyterian Church at Lufkin.

Parties Given By Church Council

Mrs. J. D. Cole presided during the Friday morning meeting of the United Council of Church Women at the First Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Marshall Brown gave the opening prayer, and reports were given on recent parties for patients at the state hospital and children at the Westside Center.

Cohostesses were Mrs. W. G. Wilson and Mrs. Grady McCrary, and it was announced that the next meeting will be in September at the First Christian Church.

Keep Shoes Tied For Baby's Step

Baby's first halting steps are a thrill to watch. But as he builds up speed and venturesome spirit, it isn't always possible to keep him in eyesight. To help avoid dangerous tumbles, keep his shoe laces well tied at all times and starch laces with instant laundry starch. It will help keep them tied longer.

Pre-Nuptial Luncheon For Miss Thompson

Miss Carolyn Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Thompson and bride-elect of Bill Smith, was complimented with a pre-nuptial luncheon Saturday in the Blue Room of Cadden Country Club.

Hostesses were Mrs. Horace Garrett, Mrs. C. M. Phelan, Mrs. Ralph Gossett and Mrs. Toots Mansfield.

The honoree, who was attired in an aqua silk blouson sheath, received a silver bowl from the hostesses and a corsage of white irises. Her mother was given white carnations. Handmade lace placemats were used on the table which was centered with large paper wedding bells. Extending from the bells were long satin streamers decorated with Dutch irises and daisies. At the honoree's place was a bouquet of Dutch irises, and at each guest's place was a corsage of daisies to which a wedding ring was attached.

Approximately 20 attended. The couple plans to be married May 28 in the First Methodist Church.

Most Teenagers Hair Care Buffs

Teen behavior is confusing. The young woman who refuses to put one foot after the other to walk to school proves a real do-it-yourself buff when it comes to her hair care.

She spends more time shampooing and setting her hair than her mother does and also began to select her own hair care products when 11 or 12 years old. A report of a teen publication survey shows young women from age 11 and up use five times more of hair care products than their mothers do.

Various teen surveys in the last year show how personalized hair care is. It isn't beauty salon a-go-go for them. Only four per cent reported going regularly. Yet their concern over well-groomed top-knots comes through when slightly more than 85 per cent said they worry about hair problems. And to take care of such woes as oiliness and dandruff more than half shampoo their hair twice a week.

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

A group of friends gathered at the Big Spring Country Club Friday evening to bid farewell to MR. and MRS. J. B. MULL, who left Saturday morning for their home in San Rafael, Calif., after spending five days as guests of MR. and MRS. C. O. NALLEY. The Mulls made their home here for several years during the 1940's. Their daughter, MARILYN, is in her third year as a teacher in the U.S. Army school in Germany. Gilbert, the son, is an engineer with the Richard Oil Co., in Anchorage, Alaska.

The Mulls have been in Indiana where they attended the 45th reunion of his class at Purdue University and also visited relatives. They then drove down through Kansas where they spent some time with relatives of Mrs. Mull.

We always are happy when people who have lived in Big Spring think kind thoughts of us when they are transferred or move for some other reason to some other town. A letter this week from MRS. JACK LEMMONDS who now lives in Boulder, Colo., tells of a rather unusual incident. The Lemmonds were transferred to Big Spring in January of 1953 and lived here for only a short time due to the nature of his work. Now their youngest daughter, Kathy, has come full circle. She and her husband, LT. HAL M. WARD, and their son, Bert, have moved to Big Spring to establish their first real home. LT.

Ward has recently graduated from Oklahoma State University and has been assigned to Webb AFB, and the family is at home at Park Hill Terrace. Incidentally, the Lemmonds still have the kitten that was born in February, 1953, and is the offspring of the cat that was in a Newcomer picture that The Herald ran of the Lemmonds family in the Jan. 25, 1953, edition.

MELVIN RAY underwent surgery at Scott and White Hospital in Temple and a note from his wife says that he is doing well and at that writing he was in intensive care and had not yet been assigned to a room.

Recent visitors to the Astrodome in Houston were MR. and MRS. PAUL GARRETT and their son, and MR. and MRS. M. W. GRIFFICE and daughter, and they were as delighted with it as all the rest of the visitors have been. The next time we go I hope to watch the ballgame.

The cold drink companies are so thoughtful about putting machines just about every place they can be connected to electricity but I have a suggestion. There are many of us who prefer to have one of the dietary types of cooler. Why not arrange the machines so that they can hold some of the drinks with less calories?

MR. and MRS. JOE MOSS and Joe David have been in Austin where they attended the wedding of a cousin and also visited her parents, MR. and MRS. F. D. REESE.

In Mexico for fishing, so I'm told, are the CARL MARCUMS, the TRUMAN JONESSES and the W. E. RAMSEYS.

MR. and MRS. GEORGE MELEAR are in Waco to be with his two sisters, MISS GRACE MELEAR and MRS. ANNIE PRESCOTT, both of whom are in a hospital. Miss Annie has a broken leg and Mrs. Prescott had surgery.

RICKY JOE PERRY, who formerly attended school at Fort San, Coahoma and Marcy Elementary here, has been named an honor student at Henderson Junior High in Little Rock, Ark. He was named to the national honor roll society, then to the National Junior Beta. He is the son of MR. and MRS. OTIS PERRY, 9108 Byron Drive, Little Rock.

Gets Scholarship

A Howard County Junior College scholarship, given annually by the local unit of Altrusa International, was presented to Susan Horbath during the senior assembly Friday at Big Spring Senior High School. Miss Horbath, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Horbath, 2102 Main, received the scholarship from Mrs. M. W. Knowles, president.

First Baptist Class Told Early History

Memories of early day ministers were recalled during the Thursday luncheon meeting of the Berta Beckett Sunday school class of the First Baptist Church. The members met at the Downtown Tea Room, with Mrs. Della K. Agnell giving the opening prayer.

During the program session, Mrs. W. R. Douglass described scenes of her childhood home in Forest, Miss. She told of a tribe of Indians who lived near her home and of her father's efforts to teach them religion.

Mrs. Hallie Pearce, daughter of a pioneer Baptist preacher, told experiences of her father in obtaining an education, and of his graduation from the Baptist Seminary in Louisville, Ky., and from Baylor University, Waco.

Mrs. A. M. Eubanks, Dallas, was welcomed as a guest, and Mrs. O. N. Green gave the devotion.

A $30 donation to the orphan student educational fund of Mary Hardin Baylor College, Belton, was approved, and it was announced that Mrs. Green will teach the TEL class during the summer.

The luncheon tables were decorated with arrangements of spring flowers from the garden of Mrs. Douglass. Mrs. Pearce gave the closing prayer.

Home Service Unites Couple

Miss Karen Lawson exchanged wedding vows with Johnny Harrison Jr. Friday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Lawson, 3915 Hamilton. The Rev. Charles Carter, Baptist minister, officiated for the single ring ceremony.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Harrison, 1194 E. 4th.

The altar decorations included baskets of yellow and white chrysanthemums flanking a candelabrum with white wedding tapers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street-length dress of white bridal satin. The dress featured long lace sleeves ending in petal points above the wrists and a scooped neckline with a lace collar. For her bouquet she carried white roses.

Miss Patsy Gooch, Forsan, was maid of honor. She wore a yellow satin, street-length dress with a scooped neckline.

Jerry Fuqua was best man.

Following a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, the couple will reside at 1704 Johnson.

The bride attended Forsan High School where she was a cheerleader. The bridegroom graduated from Big Spring Senior High School and attended Sul Ross College, Alpine, where he was a member of the Rodeo Club. He is employed at Gibson's Discount Center.

Following the wedding, a reception was held at the Lawson home where the honored couple, parents and attendants welcomed guests.

The refreshment table was covered with a white lace cloth over a yellow underlay and centered with an arrangement of yellow roses. The frosted white sheet cake was monogrammed with the couple's name. Milk glass appointments were used.

Miss Karla Lawson, sister of the bride, assisted at the serving table.

MRS. L. E. ROSE

Petite Widow Rules Roustabout Business

By JO BRIGHT

Depending on roustabouts and gang pushers, a pretty, pint-sized widow is determined to keep her husband's name alive in a business she feels contributed to his death.

Mrs. Joyce R. Rose, widow of L. E. Rose, has continued since 1964, to operate Rose Construction Company with a core of men who worked with her husband. The business, which does oil field contracting, has a payroll which varies from 12 to 25 men, depending on the jobs going from month to month.

Earl Mays is general manager, and there are three gang pushers who have been with the company since Rose founded it in 1961. The numerous roustabouts "come and go."

Mainly, the business is concerned with laying pipelines, connecting tank batteries and setting pumping units on bases. If needed, it provides sand blasting, coating and patching of batteries, and on occasion, the men have built water flood stations. The jobs are usually within a radius of 75 miles of the local office.

Mrs. Rose is the former Joyce Thompson, born near Lampasas. She was married to Rose in 1959 when he was in the same type business in Hobbs, N. M. They moved here in January of 1961 when he began to manufacture and sell portable bases for pumping units.

That year he began the Rose

Construction Company with two pickups, one winch truck, and one man. He was now in the "roustabout" business and within two months was working 25 men. The company flourished—as Rose's health failed—and he was advised to get out of the business.

When she was widowed, Mrs. Rose decided that she would continue the business her husband had worked so hard to establish. She knew the language of the oil fields and something of the procedures—and had a loyal crew to support her. Expenses were cut by moving the headquarters to her home on the Andrews Highway where a bedroom was made into an office and a garage converted to another office and "hang out" for the men.

She hired a manager and bookkeeper but still puts in a full day's work herself.

Mrs. Rose has a son, Richard Kenan of Hobbs, N. M., who is in hydrodynamics work with an Odessa firm, and another son, Elwood Kenan, who is in the Air Force. Her daughter is Mrs. C. M. Gregory of Lovington, N. M. On rare occasions when the family can get together, she has four grandchildren to enjoy.

Mrs. Rose said that when she and her husband were first married, they traveled extensively and "liked any place where we were doing alright." She still likes to travel, preferring to fly because of the short weekends, and if possible, to someplace where the fish are biting. Her main hobby is music, country and Western mostly, and she has a new stereo that makes the guitars sound mighty pretty.

She holds membership in the First Methodist Church and the Scenic Chapter of the American Business Woman's Association.

WEBB WINDSOCK

By HELEN SHAW

Members of the outgoing executive board and chairmen honored those who are taking their respective offices for the next year at a luncheon held Monday in the Fireplace Room of the Officers Open Mess. ## Now Every Woman is entitled to look YOUNGER!

A new startling discovery has been made by a small group of skin physiologists. They found a way to make the skin of face and throat actually drink tiny but sufficient quantities of water, to quickly gain an appearance of fresh, smooth youthfulness. It hasn't had for years. Facial lines, particularly around the eyes, and throat creases are said to more or less "get lost" as this water gets beneath the skin's surface to push them out of sight.

By special arrangement with the discoverers of this remarkable technique, a semi-lotion has been formulated which makes home application easy, pleasant and effective. The name of this preparation is 2nd Debut. This amazing discovery fresh from an American triumph, now comes to you—if you want to make heads turn your way once more and again enjoy the rapt attention bestowed upon you in that first Spring!

Your face will look younger, you will acquire a fresher smoothness, which restores the extra all-important aspect of the beauty your facial features have always had. Get a bottle today. The 4-oz. bottle is $3.00. Clinical trial only $1.00.

HOW 2nd Debut TAKES YEARS OFF YOUR LOOKS

The active ingredient that enables 2nd Debut to make facial skin younger has been named CEF900. It penetrates the outer layer of skin and carries millions of tiny droplets of pure water that the skin has lost during its natural aging process. This water finds its way under the lines and wrinkles, and as it accumulates there, pushes those unwanted indentations upward. Progressively the face and neck fill out and look smoother and younger again. The result is startling.

This ingredient (CEF900) is compounded into smooth-flowing and delightful-to-use 2nd Debut. Use nightly (and daily under make-up) so that during 24 hours of the day it is carrying water into your skin bringing it new life, new youth and new beauty.

FOR THE YOUNGER WOMAN TOO! The younger woman who does not need the full help of 2nd Debut will find it unique in quickly overcoming the problem of dry skin.

A LOVELIER YOU

Don't Strive To Be Sun-Burned Beauty

By MARY SUE MILLER

There is no such thing as a sun-burned beauty. It would be better never to get a tan than to get a burn. Worse than the ugliness and pain of a burn is the serious damage it inflicts on the skin. Why tempt fate? You can acquire a gorgeous color, safely, by taking a few precautions:

Apply a reliable suntan product before and during every exposure — all summer. Moisturized sun-screen lotions, creams and foams safeguard most skins. When a skin is allergy-prone, however, hypoallergenic products are indicated. If you freckle, sun-blocks help to control an increase, but they also deter tanning.

To ward off sear, lips need the protection of a clear or tinted sunstick. Clear sunsticks, worn over lipstick, boost shimmer while blocking burn.

Avoid "owl eyes" — the white rings that form tanning behind sunglasses — by removing specs for 10 minutes. Be sure, though, to cover the eyelids with water-dampened cotton or herbal pads. Also film undereye areas with sun lotion or apply eye-oil stick.

Always time your exposures, even after you have a golden tan. And that's what you want. Lifeguard tans are not for lovelies.

At this point, the last article in the series, you have the means of attaining a blue-ribbon figure — beautifully proportioned, groomed, graceful and golden. But remember, you must run the race to win the prize. Do it and you'll be the

Loan Sources Allow Buying, Remodeling

"Know Your Home Financing" is the current study under way at the weekly area home demonstration club meetings. The study includes a detailed account of the various ways to remodel or purchase a new home.

Other loan considerations are down payment, premium charges, types of mortgages, and closing costs.

Points on building a new home or remodeling an old home were discussed. These included such things as construction loans, home repair loans and transfer of ownership charges.

VA Seeks Young Volunteer Help

In his advice to physicians, Hippocrates said: "Sometimes give your service for nothing, calling to mind a previous benefaction or present satisfaction. And if there be an opportunity of serving one who is a stranger in financial straits, give full assistance to all such. For where there is love of man, there is also love of the art."

Youth volunteers who are willing to meet this challenge are being sought by the VA hospital this year to serve in the Youth Volunteer Service. Each summer, girls and boys between the ages of 15-18 from Big Spring and the surrounding areas participate in the summer program, getting a first-hand glimpse into all phases of the hospital's operations. From their experience, some begin study for health careers.

An orientation and training session will be held June 1 in the hospital's second-floor recreation room, with registration beginning at 8:45 a.m. Following the orientation and training, there will be a tour of the hospital and interviews with the division and service chiefs.

Mrs. Ara Cunningham, director, voluntary service, said that this is the eighth year for the youth volunteers to participate in service work at the hospital. "Youth may work in a variety of areas," Mrs. Cunningham said. "Some of these include chaplain's office, laboratory service, medical administrative service, nursing service, physical medical and rehabilitation service, radiology service, supply warehouse and office."

"There have been three youths who have served over 1,000 hours each in their work here. Jonnie Goswick, the third youth, completed his 1,000 hours of service two months ago, and will receive special recognition later at a program in honor of all youth volunteers."

Various organizations sponsor the youth volunteers, Mrs. Cunningham said, including the American Legion Auxiliary, American Red Cross, Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary, Kiwanis Club, Disabled American Catholic Community Service and the P-TA City Council, the Explorer Scouts and the Future Homemakers of America also participate.

"We need the strength and help that the youth volunteers have to offer," she said. "Anyone interested in more information about the program should call the hospital at AM 3-7361 and ask for the volunteer office."

No Comfort, But It's Season For Twisters

By SAM BLACKBURN

If you are one of the countless hundreds of folk who are acutely tornado conscious and fearful each time a billowing black cloud rolls up, be prepared for your ordeal of terror.

Texas is now in the deep middle of its annual tornado season. The Department of Public Safety, in a release sent out last week, notes that in the 50 years between 1916 and 1965 there were 1,691 tornadoes reported in Texas.

Of that number 1,062 occurred in April, May and June. May is the month of tornadoes—the records show there have been 442 such storms recorded in that month in the past half century in this state. April is a close second with 341 and June a fair third with 278.

HEAVY SEASON

The DPS says that 63 per cent of all the state's tornadoes occur in April, May and June.

The tornado season, actually fires up in March and runs through August. March has accounted for 151 tornadoes in the 50 years. July has fewer tornadoes to its credit than June, and August less than July but all are well ahead of the other months in the year.

Tornadoes are no respecter of areas. They have been reported in all sections of Texas. However they do occur with greater frequency in the north-central part of the state and are quite rare in the mountainous region of the Trans-Pecos and south-west portion of the Edwards Plateau.

If this is any consolation to those who dread the twisters, there is a slightly less possibility of one here than if you lived in the vicinity of Wichita Falls or Gainesville.

HOT SPOT

The area, the DPS reports, along the Red River from Childress to Ardmore, Okla., has the highest tornado frequency of any area of similar size in the United States.

Known tornadoes in the half-century span 1916-1965 caused 579 deaths in Texas.

The DPS said the most disastrous tornadoes ever to hit Texas were the ones which struck Goliad in 1902 and Waco in 1953. Each claimed the same number of lives—114.

The year 1937 has the debatable honor of having had the most reported tornadoes in the state's history—146. Last year, the state had 108 reported tornadoes.

Tornadoes vary widely in size. The granddaddy of all on record was one which swooped down on White Deer, Glazier and Higgins, Texas, and Woodward, Okla., April 9, 1947. The path of its huge vortex, the department records show, was one and a half miles wide at times and it stretched across 221 miles of unique distinction. He is one of only three men ever known to have looked inside a tornado and lived to describe what he saw.

Statistically, here are some additional facts about these weird and destructive twisters: AFTERNOON BAD TIME

They can occur at any hour of the day or night, but they appear to form most readily in the hours closely following the warmest part of the day. This would usually be between 3 p.m. and 7 p.m. The fewest hourly number occur between 7 p.m. and 8 a.m.

Surface winds in connection with developing tornadoes, the DPS says, usually are from the southwest. Most tornadoes move from that direction toward the northeast. The speed of the average tornado is about 40 miles per hour. This varies, though. Some have been sighted which were stationary; some have been clocked traveling at 88 miles per hour.

Average width of the tornado path in Texas is about 250 yards but this varies, too. There have been tornado paths two miles wide; others only a few feet.

The baby of all Texas tornadoes, the DPS reports, struck at Austin, May 17, last year. The tip of this tiny funnel was estimated at not more than 6 feet in diameter at its biggest part. This little bizzer was rough, though. It uprooted a single 50-foot elm tree.

Of all the tornado paths that have been measured, the DPS reports the greatest number fall between one-half and five miles in length.

Doug Davis Will Receive Degree

Word that the Department of Labor had lodged a complaint against him came as a complete surprise, D. D. Johnston, painting contractor, said Friday. The first intimation he had was a short item in The Herald. He said it had been seven months since the public contracts division had contacted him relative to some work done out of state, and he said he thought all requirements had been satisfied. He has received no notice of a suit being filed.

R<sub>2</sub> SENSIBLE ADVICE FOR SUN WORSHIPPERS

Unless you use a good protective lotion or cream you may get a serious burn or an aging skin. Start now, before the sun reaches its higher intensity. Liberally apply one before exposure. Do not rub it in forcibly. Pat it gently on the skin so that the sun screening chemical, good products contain, remains on the skin's surface to ward off the ultraviolet rays.

Wear good sunglasses to protect your eyes. After sun exposure apply a nourishing cream to replace the natural oil your skin loses.

Gazzara Emerges With A Success

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV - Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Ben Gazzara, who traveled west on a tour of Broadway, came home for a visit recently, a commercial success.

Gazzara has emerged as one of the television year's few real success stories. He made the grade in NBC's "running man" series, playing a young attorney given two years to live because he suffers from some carefully unidentified mortal disease.

Sporting a deep Acapulco tan and wearing the Hollywood actor's off-duty uniform — slacks, well-cut sports jacket and open-neck shirt — in the unlikely confines of a Rockefeller Center restaurant, vacationing Gazzara was full of enthusiasm and ideas about the care and feeding of a television series that survived for a second season.

"I'm going back to Hollywood and start shouting again now that I've got my voice back," he explained with a grin. "That is very important. I learned a lot of television lessons when I was in 'Arrest and Trial'."

Gazzara's first plunge into a series as a regular performer came two seasons ago when he costarred with Chuck Connors in a 30-minute ABC series. The thoughtful, intense Gazzara played the low-key detective who, in the first part of the show, caught the defendant. Then Connors, playing the ebullient defense attorney, came along and, most times, got the defendant off.

The series, spotted to cut across the beginnings and ends of rival programs on other networks, had terrible script troubles. Often — too often — Gazzara, having made an arrest, would come around begging Connors to see what he could do about helping the fellow get acquitted. Anyway, it was neither a commercial hit nor a prestige item and disappeared into syndication after a season. What it did do, obviously, was teach Ben Gazzara, an innocent from Broadway, the facts about Hollywood life.

The actor ordered a steak sandwich, rare, and a bottle of beer and then relaxed as he explained with dry humor the importance of screaming.

"It is the only thing to do," said Gazzara, owner of a big percentage of his "Run for Your Life" series. "It is a war of attrition, and you are lost the minute they think you are satisfied."

"I believe that the most important thing we have in our series is good scripts. And if the show's ratings are good, that's the place they are tempted to try to save some money. Then the hacks move in, the quality of the scripts drops off, and finally the show disappears.

"But if you scream — and fight for good scripts — and never satisfied, I think you have a good chance of going on longer."

Gazzara, who talked bravely, had some private worries about playing a doomed hero. Would the public find it a bit macabre? Would it be an unpleasant weekly reminder of human mortality? But he found that this basic book on which the series hangs seems to have disturbed few viewers. Besides, there is always a chance that science may find some cure for the unnamed disease if it is necessary. Any way, it is a cinch that Gazzara's character will not succumb until the last juice is wrung from the series, any more than "The Fugitive" will be caught.

The quiet-mannered, dark-haired actor, now 33, is a product of New York's East Side tenements. His interest in acting was aroused as a youngster when he helped put on plays at a boys' club. Later he studied at the Dramatic Workshop of the New School for Social Research and went on to the famed Actors' Studio and "the method." He made his first big impression when he was only 22 and in his first Broadway show, "End as a Man."

Gazzara, married to actress Janice Rule, is now a bona fide Californian, with his own home and acreage in the San Fernando Valley and a horse for the two children. But with a bit of basic caution, he still hangs on to their 10-room apartment in New York — just in case.

STAMP NEWS

Israel To Honor Dual Occasion With Issues

By SYD KRONISH
AP Philatelist

Independence Day and Memorial Day are celebrated simultaneously in Israel. To honor this dual occasion, Israel has issued two sets of stamps, reports the Israel Philatelic Agency in America. There is a single stamp for Memorial Day and a set of three for Independence Day.

The Memorial Day stamp features the monument in Upper Galilee which is dedicated to the brave men who died in Israel's War of Independence. It is a 48 agorot value. The Independence Day stamps are as follows: 12 agorot showing flags of Israel flying over a city; 20 agorot depicting fireworks in the sky over Tel Aviv on Independence Day (as is done in the United States); 80 agorot illustrating scenes of military strength including jets in the sky and destroyers on the sea.

U.S. Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien announced the issuance dates for three upcoming commemorative stamps. The Polish Millennium stamp is scheduled for July 30, Marine Corps Reserve on Aug. 29 and Beautification of America on Oct. 5. All are to be issued with first-day ceremonies in Washington, and are 5-cent denominations. Further details as to design will appear in this column soon. First-day cover collectors are reminded to mail their requests prior to the dates given.

The spring issue of "Minkus State Journal" is well worth the reading. It contains interesting feature articles for the specialist or the new collector. Included are stories with photos on Viet Nam stamps, designs that didn't make it, a trip to Tanzania, SIPEX and a delightful one on "Perf, the Philatelic Poodle." Although the cost is 30 cents per issue, a special charter subscription rate of $1 per year (for four issues) is available by writing to "Minkus State Journal," 116 W. 32nd St., New York, N. Y. 10001.

Austria has issued a new 3 schilling commemorative stamp honoring the 50th anniversary of the death of Marie von Ebner-Eschenbach, noted writer and poetess. The red-blue stamp depicts a portrait of the woman in her later years and bears the dates 1830-1916. She received many honors from Emperor Franz Joseph. Her stories and poems are still read with fervor in Austria. On her 70th birthday — Sept. 13, 1900 — she received an honorary Ph.D. from Vienna University.

Survival Struggle Told In Ritz Film

"The Flight of the Phoenix," which opens today at the Ritz, tells the tale of a crash-landing in the sun-drenched wastes of the Sahara Desert, and of the heroic struggle by the airplane's crew and passengers to survive and overcome its surroundings in hopes of returning to civilization.

The lonely stretches of desert west of Yuma, Ariz., was selected as a substitute for the Sahara. For 40 years these sand dunes have been used 22 times by Hollywood film-makers for the same purpose, beginning with the silent version of "Beau Geste." The camera site, located 17 miles outside of Yuma, bears the unlikely name of Buttercup Valley, and was leased from the U.S. government. To reach the location from the main highway, more than 6,000 feet over and around winding dunes was the order of daily travel for the huge company of actors and technicians. Transportation to the set was possible only by Sandbuggies and Sprytes, the latter "converted" snow vehicles.

The weather was sizzling and extremely appropriate for the film's atmosphere as summer set in, and it was easy for the cast and crew to imagine that the miles of sand were really part of the Sahara setting. Following six weeks of exterior shooting, the Sahara was recreated on one of the largest sound stages for intimate, dramatic scenes which could be more satisfactorily and comfortably photographed beneath an overhead roof than an open sky.

To keep the company in a cool frame of mind while working in the hot desert, the following daily refreshment rations were arranged: 1,200 pounds of ice, 100 five-gallon water bottles, 15 cases of soft drinks and 1,000 cans of assorted fruit juices.

"The Flight of the Phoenix" features an all-star international cast headed by James Stewart who marked his 30th anniversary as a screen actor with this film. Other Americans in the cast are Borgnine, Dan

For Short Runs

NEW YORK (AP)—Burgess Meredith and Zero Mostel have chosen the first two plays for a Broadway repertory project they plan to launch next season.

The veteran actors collaborated on a staging of "Ulysses in Nighttown" in 1958, and have picked that drama to initiate the experimental venture. A new play by Paddy Chayefsky (working title, "The Latent Heterosexual") is to follow. Altogether, the pair hope to present four plays for short engagements.

and Manufacturing Corp. McKnight previously acquired the St. James Theater, another favorite Broadway theater for musical comedy exhibit, and playhouses in Philadelphia and Boston.

'My Fair Lady' Film Claims Many Awards

A near-record of Academy Award winners was involved in the preparation and performance of "My Fair Lady," which opens a limited engagement Wednesday at the Ritz.

A year of painstaking effort and care went into the Technicolor and Panavision film, which adds a new dimension to its success as a stage play. Based on George Bernard Shaw's "Pygmalion," "My Fair Lady" was the longest-running musical ever presented on the Broadway stage. It opened in March, 1956, and closed in September, 1962, after 2,717 performances.

The part of Prof. Higgins is given by Rex Harrison, who created the role on the New York stage, and won the Academy Award for best actor for his performance in the film.

Another Academy Award went to the director, George Cukor, whose patience and past record of accomplishments on the screen make him the ideal man for the directorial undertaking. Cecil Beaton, a man of plural distinctions, was production, scenery and costume designer. The assignment which, covered almost everything visual, resulted in still another award for Beaton.

Harry Stradling, one of the screen's most distinguished cinematographers, showed his talents by winning the Oscar in 1965.

The task of taking a score and making it better was given to Andre Previn, who received

Texas Auto Sales Continue Plummeting

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas automobile sales plummeted 14 per cent in April and early figures show they are continuing to drop in May, the Bureau of Business Research reports.

The bureau did not mention by name recent congressional investigations into the safety of automobiles. It said: "Various explanations are being offered for the slowing of new car sales, but it should be remembered that this slowing is from a very high level of car sales which has not only been sustained since the introduction of the new models but goes all the way back to the early spring of last year."

"That is, new car retail volume could weaken considerably and still give no cause for alarm. Automobile manufacturers are still unanimous in forecasting a continued high level of car sales through the remainder of the 1966 model year.

"These forecasts are in the expectation, of course, that there will be no considerable weakening of general economic and business activity in the immediate future."

Total retail sales in Texas during April, after seasonal adjustment, dropped six per cent from the preceding month and were about the same as for April, 1965.
