Probable President Of Uruguay

Senator and poet Alba Rovallo hugs Oscar Gestido, 65-year-old retired general, at Colorado party headquarters in Montevideo early today after returns from yesterday's national elections in Uruguay showed him to be the probable next president. Gestido was leading his Colorado party opponent, Jorge Batlle, by about 40,000 votes in incomplete returns. If the voters approve a change from the present council form of government to a single president system, the leading candidate of the winning party becomes president. It would be Gestido. (AP Wirephoto by radio from Montevideo)

Arab Nations Subsidized Violent Riots In Jordan?

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — Prime Minister Wasfi Tell charged today that the violent antigovernment demonstrations in Jordan were subsidized with considerable amounts of money from the two hostile Arab nations.

Tell declined to identify them, but the United Arab Republic and Syria, both antimonarchist, have been waging a vehement propaganda campaign against King Hussein's regime.

The situation in West Jordan, center of the disorders, is returning to normal, Tell said, and most curfews have been lifted.

ARMY RAID
 Armored squads of Jordan's Arab Legion checked new demonstrations Sunday in towns along the border. The demonstrations followed an Israeli army raid on three Jordanian frontier villages earlier this month. When Jordan did not retaliate, the demonstrations took on an antigovernment tone.

Tell said four civilians and a soldier were killed in the West Jordan demonstrations — last week.

He told a news conference the riotous demonstrations began as a "genuine expression of indignation and anger against Israel and a demand for arms and the strengthening of border forces against Israel." GENUINE ANGER

 "There is no doubt the anger was genuine," the prime minister said. "It was a perfectly healthy phenomenon. I would join such demonstrations myself if I were not prime minister."

However, he said, the demonstrations were exploited by subversive elements "and when the situation got out of hand the police intervened." He added that the Jordanian army moved into the trouble areas "only on the request of the citizens themselves."

The official Syrian Arab News Agency reported that Saudi Arabian forces had crossed the border to help King Hussein, but the report was not confirmed elsewhere.

CURFEW LIFTED
 Jordanian troops and armored cars surrounded the northern town of Nablus and two nearby camps of Arab refugees from Palestine after dispersing demonstrators. A curfew that had sealed off Jerusalem for six days was lifted for a short time in the morning, then put into effect again.

The town of Hebron in the south had armed patrols on every block. The mosque, shops and homes were closed, and troops guarded two camps of 11,000 Arab refugees. Gov. Youssef Mubaiden said the army would enforce a 24-hour curfew.

Shops were reopened in Ramallah after the curfew was lifted. But young demonstrators gathered in streets filled with rubble from previous disturbances, troops moved in and the curfew was renewed.

Soldiers manned checkpoints on all roads north and south of Jerusalem. In the city, the curfew was removed during daylight hours and the only incident was a demonstration by a group of women. Many shops stayed shut as troop patrols and armored cars remained in the streets.

UNMARKED FRONTIER
 The 200 miles of Jordan's open and mostly unmarked frontier with Israel were peaceful. There was little military activity in the hills where shepherds moved their flocks about as usual.

The Arab refugees and other groups began demonstrating after Israeli forces destroyed the border village of Samua Nov. 13. The demonstrators demanded the frontier be fortified.

King Hussein ordered strengthening of border defenses, but Gov. Mubaiden said he was still waiting for instructions and reinforcements to carry out the order.

In the Israeli sector of Jerusalem, Israeli Premier Levi Eshkol said the U.N. Security Council's censure of Israel for the Nov. 13 attack ignored the causes of the border tension. Israel made the attack in reprisal for Arab terrorist raids.

Government officials said the principal leaders of the Saigon government have been in the field visiting their troops and have just returned to the capital.

This is expected to speed up consultations and result in an agreement one way or the other in the next few days.

Over the weekend, the Viet Cong radio announced Communist troops would observe a cease-fire for 48 hours over Christmas and for the same duration over the New Year holiday.

The White House acknowledged Saturday that discussions were under way with the South Vietnamese government on the possibility of observing such a cease-fire.

Christian also was asked about reports that the U.S. 6th Fleet, based in the Mediterranean, had been put on alert as a result of the crisis in Jordan.

"This report is completely untrue," Christian said. "The fleet has not been alerted and has not been moved."

Christian said Johnson was being kept informed of the crisis in Jordan and other developments around the world by Secretary of State Dean Rusk. The President and Rusk talked by phone today, Christian said.

Johnson, he said, also talked by phone with Budget Director Charles L. Schultze and other officials in Washington. The President worked at his desk on the budget and other papers forwarded from Washington.

First-Born Quintuplet Wages Fight For Life

Lung Ailment Claims Three

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Another of the Aranson quintuplets died today, leaving only one of the tiny girls still struggling to survive.

The same ailment that killed three of her sisters claimed the life of Marci Jill, last-born of the quintlets delivered 2½ months prematurely Saturday to Mrs. Michael Aranson, 22, onetime kindergarten teacher.

'KICKING'
 The surviving child, Roni Sue, was reported in good condition. "She is kicking and crying and we are very hopeful," said one physician.

Roni Sue was the first-born and the largest at one pound 12 ounces.

The lung ailment first claimed Susan, the third-born, who died at 2:15 a.m. Sunday just short of 24 hours after birth. The second-born, Amy Beth, died at 2:15 p.m. and the fourth-born, Kimberly Ann, at 3:40 p.m.

BRAIN DAMAGE
 Dr. Lee Bass, chief of pediatrics at Magee-Women's Hospital, said there also was a possibility that Marci Jill's brain had been damaged by lack of oxygen.

A tube was inserted into the infant's windpipe — trachea — through her mouth and a mechanical respirator was breathing for her.

Roni Sue was in a heated and glass-enclosed incubator. Her breathing was somewhat labored but not artificially aided.

CRUCIAL PERIOD
 "Roni Sue continues to look very good," Bass said. "There's still the crucial 72-hour period to get through for the respiratory problem, but if she gets through that there is a good chance she can be a healthy baby."

Aranson and his wife, Patti, "are very anxious to get one live baby and are praying," the doctor said.

Bass said preliminary autopsy reports indicated the three deaths were due to hyaline membrane disease, a common cause of death among premature infants, but that this would have to be confirmed by more detailed studies.

IN SECLUSION
 The disease causes a glassy film to form over the inner lining of the lungs, preventing the delivery of oxygen to the blood.

The Aransons were kept in seclusion following the deaths. Hospital spokesmen said they were "holding up as well as can be expected."

Dr. Wilfred J. Finegold, head of the three-man team of obstetricians that performed the delivery, said the Aransons had known since X-rays were taken

Oct. 19 that they would have quintuplets.

There are five known living sets of quintets. The most recent set, four girls and a boy, was born to Mrs. D. W. Lawson of Auckland, New Zealand, on July 27, 1965.

J. R. Humphrey Dies In Crash

Word was received at Webb AFB this morning that a former instructor pilot assigned here was killed in South Viet Nam Saturday.

Capt. John R. Humphrey, 35, died of injuries he received when the plane in which he was a passenger crashed shortly after takeoff.

(An Associated Press story Sunday told of the crash of a C-47 transport into a rice paddy shortly after takeoff at the Tan Son Nhut airport near Saigon Saturday night. Tentative cause of the crash was listed as mechanical. Presumably, Capt. Humphrey was aboard this craft.)

Capt. Humphrey formerly was assigned to the 3560th Pilot Training Squadron at Webb, and was reassigned in July, 1966, to the 388th Tactical Fighter Wing in South Viet Nam.

Capt. Humphrey was born Sept. 19, 1931, in Chetopa, Kan., however, he listed his permanent home as Fair Oaks, Calif., where his parents live.

His wife, Shirley Thelma Humphrey, and two sons, Dale Allan and Scott Allan, live in Big Spring at 4210 Parkway. Memorial services at Webb are pending.

FIRST GIFTS IN CHEER FUND

Some old friends responded promptly to the new appeal of the CHRISTMAS CHEER FUND.

Gifts were received today from Mrs. T. S. Currie, $10; Agnes Currie, $10; and from Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Dabney, $15; who said they "honored the firemen who risk their lives in all kinds of weather for our safety."

Firemen repair the toys that delight poor children at Christmas, and the Cheer Fund makes possible the equipment for them to do this work. It also stands by to help any poor child who is sick or any destitute family in dire trouble.

The above gifts start the Fund off at a total of $50. If you will help, please make check to CHRISTMAS CHEER FUND, and send to The Herald for acknowledgment.

BUDGET BOARD
 AUSTIN (AP)—The Legislative Budget Board, which has not met since the stormy Aug. 29 power struggle between Speaker Ben Barnes and Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, will meet again Dec. 12, it was announced today.

Smith alone can convene the board. There had been speculation after he lost the battle to keep longtime board Director Vernon McGee that he would not call another meeting before the legislature convenes Jan. 10.

McGee was fired at the Aug. 29 meeting in a 5-3 vote with two abstentions. Barnes favored McGee's removal. Smith tried to save his job.

Barnes said later that he thought McGee had become too powerful in his role as adviser to the 10-man board. McGee had been the board's only director since its creation in 1950.

Another meeting of the board is necessary before it can make money recommendations to the legislature, something Gov. John Connally does not favor.

'Echo From Abroad' Bothering Brandt

FIRST GIFTS IN CHEER FUND

BONN, Germany (AP) — Mayor Willy Brandt of West Berlin said today he is concerned about foreign criticism of Kurt Georg Kiesinger, the Christian Democratic candidate for chancellor. The criticism has been based largely on Kiesinger's Nazi past.

Brandt's Social Democratic party has agreed in principle to go into a "grand coalition" under Kiesinger and Brandt is expected to take an important post.

"I am concerned about the echo from abroad," he said when asked about Kiesinger in an interview. "But there have also been some strongly exaggerated statements and I very much hope that in the foreseeable future this question will be regarded in a more sober way."

CORRECTION
 Brandt was originally quoted by a pro-Socialist press service as saying he was "not too concerned." The service later issued a correction, reversing the sense of the quotation.

He praised Kiesinger as "ready and able for objective cooperation, with honest intentions."

Socialist members of the Bundestag approved the coalition after a 10-hour debate Sunday. The Christian Democrats vote today. Once they approve, the trading for cabinet posts will begin in earnest.

FORMER NAZI
 Opposition came from Socialist groups in West Berlin, Munich and the state of Schleswig-Holstein, but a sampling of politicians in Bonn produced the opinion that the party leadership is strong enough to overcome the opposition.

The coalition would have 44 seats in the Bundestag, with the remaining 49 seats belonging to the Free Democrats, former coalition partners of the Christian Democrats. The Social Democrats have 202 seats and the Christian Democrats 245.

The government crisis was set off last month when the Free Democrats cut Chancellor Ludwig Erhard's coalition over a budget dispute.

BAD WEATHER
 Continued monsoon rains and generally bad weather over North Viet Nam sharply reduced U.S. air raids again Sunday, limiting pilots to 32 missions.

The giant B52s flew in from Guam and bombed the suspected site of the Viet Cong's Central Office of South Viet Nam in jungles of Tay Ninh Province near the Cambodian border. The province, northwest of Saigon, was the scene of the massive U.S. Operation Attleboro, a 43-day sweep which ended Saturday.

SCATTERED ACTION
 In the scattered ground actions today, a unit of the U.S. 101st Airborne Division reported killing six Viet Cong and capturing two in a 15-minute firefight 19 miles northwest of Tuy Hoa, on the coast.

A unit of the 1st Cavalry, Airborne, Division reported killing six Viet Cong and capturing two in an hour-long skirmish 22 miles northwest of coastal Qui Nhon.

Across the country near the Cambodian frontier, a company of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division also reported six enemy killed in a 10-minute scrap 19 miles northwest of the U.S. Army Special Forces camp at Plei Djereg. This area has been the scene of sporadic fighting for two weeks and was hit by a B52 raid Sunday night for the sixth straight day.

WAITING LIST APPROVED

Feuding Farmers Signing Up

PORTALES, N.M. (AP) — Roosevelt County farmers, some of whom have been camping a government parking lot more than a week, began signing today for federal farm money after ending a dispute about who would be first in line.

Fourteen farmers, two from each of the seven agricultural divisions in the county, voted 10-4 Sunday to accept a waiting list of more than 175 names, started Nov. 19, as the basis for determining the order of sign-up.

EXTRA POLICE
 Extra police were expected to help preserve order. The farmers are applying for funds under the 1967 cropland adjustment program which provides payments for land taken out of production and not used for grazing. It's aimed at reducing farm surpluses.

The county has a $120,000 limit with each of the seven divisions allocated a certain amount. When all the funds for a division are used up, no one else from that division can apply.

This is one reason a dispute grew over who would be first in line.

Some farmers started a waiting list 10 days ago at the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office. $6,000 INCOME

To stay on the list, farmers could not leave the area of the office for longer than two hours. Farmers camped out in pickup campers, trailers and cars at the service's parking lot.

Most of the farmers in Roosevelt County, along the Texas border in eastern New Mexico, grow peanuts, cotton and grain sorghum.

One estimated he could get as much as $6,000 income a year for not growing crops on his land. Payment depends on acreage and estimated yield of land involved.

Where Fire And Panic Killed 493

On a wartime Saturday night 24 years ago today fire broke out in Boston's Coconut Grove night club, where more than 1,000 persons were frolicking in space for about 600. The fire, and the panic resulting from it, took 493 lives. Above, rescue workers attend some of the victims. Below, firemen inspect ruins near the bar. The club site is now a parking lot. Flames Panic Passengers Aboard Crippled Aircraft

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A U.S. Air Force captain told today how he slammed his crippled transport into trees to knock down passengers who panicked when liquid flames poured from the plane's ceiling.

Capt. Richard A. Nagel Jr., 34, of Kenmore, N.Y., managed to crash land the plane despite a smoke-filled cockpit and fire raging out of control in the cabin.

All but one of the 37 persons on board escaped serious injury in the crash at Dau Tieng Saturday. One U.S. soldier-passenger reportedly has serious internal injuries.

Nagel was making his fifth takeoff of the day ferrying soldiers at the end of Operation Attleboro, the biggest U.S. operation of the war. His twin-engine C123 Provider was hit by intense ground fire just after lifting from the airstrip.

WINDOWS OPEN

"We had been warned of possible ground fire," said Nagel. "We fly with our windows open so we can hear it. This sounded like it was coming from four locations. Then we heard the slugs ripping into the plane about midway along the fuselage. Immediately a fire broke out above the left wheel well." Nagel was sitting in the copilot's seat checking out a Thai air force officer as aircraft commander. The American took command of the damaged craft and swung back toward the field.

Panic swept the passengers when liquid fire dripped from ruptured hydraulic lines in the ceiling. They grabbed the few available parachutes and tried to pry open emergency windows, Nagel said.

'I SAW IT'

Airman I.C. Ray A. Houck, 20, of Cement City, Mich., was fighting the flames with a fire extinguisher and pushed passengers away from windows. Nagel and Houck tried to keep all windows closed to slow the spread of flames.

Some, in their panic, burst into the cockpit and tried to climb out a side window. From it they would have dropped into the spinning propeller. Nagel said that five persons were scrambling around the cockpit with the two pilots.

"We had to get the bird down in a hurry and the first thing I saw was a road. We'd just about decided to put it down there when an Army Caribou overhead called and told us to keep turning. We did and then he said the runway was right on our nose. I saw it."

GEAR FOLDS

The Dau Tieng airstrip was carved out of a rubber plantation. A Provider should have a 40-foot-wide runway, Nagel said. The Dau Tieng runway is less than 30 feet wide and lined on both sides by mine fields.

Nagel said the airplane was put "badly out of trim" by the passengers running about.

"If we hit with them still standing they would have been thrown all over the aircraft. Intentionally, I nosed it down and dragged it through the tree tops. The first jolt put everybody, including Houck, on the floor.

"We scraped over a rice paddy approaching the strip and I just kept flying it until we ran out of air speed. We hit right on the edge of the runway, the nose gear collapsed and we skidded to a stop about 300 feet down the blacktop.

"It wasn't until we stopped and I started climbing out of my side window exit that I realized I had a passenger sprawled across my lap the whole time we were landing."

Nagel's wife is living in Chandler, Ariz. Houck has been in Viet Nam less than two months but was on his 199th combat sortie.

Youth Arrested After Gun Play

After some gunplay, an 18-year-old Latin American was arrested early Sunday morning, when officers discovered Fox's Pawn Shop, 210 N. Gregg, had been burglarized.

Detective Reuben Gonzales discovered a rock had been thrown through a window of the shop to gain entry. Other officers came to assist, and a waste basket filled with guns and jewelry was found back of the building, all taken from inside.

Sgt. Avery Falkner saw the youth trying to hide in the alley and called for him to surrender. As the boy fled, he fired a shot. In the ensuing chase, several other shots were fired. The youth next tried to hide in some tumbleweeds near 209 NW 2nd, when he was discovered. Gonzales arrested him.

Police said he had over $39 in his possession when arrested, but Ralph Fox said $100 was missed from the store.

STORE BURGLARIZED

A. J. Carroll, at Cowboy's Liquor Store, 4207 US 80 west, reported a burglary during the weekend. Police said locks were broken on the door to force entry, and a money box containing $300 in cash and some checks is missing.

Silvino Vardin Ortiz, a Mexican national, told officers two women robbed him of $60 behind Marquez' Place, 401 NW 4th.

Bobby Tidwell, at the Burger Chef, 2401 Gregg, reported thieves took a case of lettuce, eight 100-pound sacks of potatoes, and three 50-pound sacks of onions. The produce had been left at the cafe by the supplier.

A man was charged with drunkenness after he fired a pistol in the alley behind Emmitt's Lounge, 508 NW 3rd, Saturday night.

Shirley J. Ledbetter, Clinton, Tenn., told police a watch valued at $85 was taken from his truck at the North Phillips 66 truck shop.

Traffic Death Record Posted

A record holiday traffic death toll was set when 728 persons were killed in highway accidents during the four-day Thanksgiving weekend. Victims under 18 years of age numbered 125.

This compared with a non-holiday weekend two weeks ago when 546 died in traffic. Eighty-one were under 18.

Both 102-hour periods covered the span from 6 p.m. (local time) Wednesday, to midnight Sunday.

The record toll outstripped the former Thanksgiving holiday death record of 615 set during the four-day period last year, and the all-time traffic death record for a holiday, set during the 1965 Christmas period when 720 died in a 78-hour count.

MULTIPLE DEATHS

Many accidents resulted in multiple fatalities, with two to five persons killed in a single crash. Five persons including two married couples died in one head-on collision near Dryden, N.Y., Saturday. Several four-death smashups were reported.

Sunday was by far the deadliest day with nearly 250 deaths. Apparently, the unusually mild, pleasant weather over most of the nation during the holiday lured unprecedented numbers of persons onto the highways. Millions crowded the roads going home on the last day of the weekend, many running into unfavorable weather conditions posed by widespread rain in the central section of the country, and some snow and freezing in the northern states.

95 MILLION DRIVERS

The National Safety Council reports that 49,000 persons died in traffic accidents last year. The count through September of this year reached 38,190 — about 20 per cent more than for the first nine months of 1965.

This year the nation has about 95 million drivers, and they are expected to travel considerably more than the 880 billion traffic miles estimated last year.

Ovcarik Dies Of Injuries

James Monroe Ovcarik, 25, of 2206 Morrison, died today in a local hospital of injuries received in a car mishap which claimed the life of another Big Spring man, Ronald McCuiston, last week.

Ovcarik was a passenger in the McCuiston car when the accident occurred near Wall. He was hospitalized in San Angelo until Saturday, when he was transferred to a hospital here.

Services are pending at the Phillip and Luckie Funeral Home, Giddings. The body will be at the Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home until Tuesday morning.

He was born Jan. 29, 1941, at Dime Box and graduated from schools there. He married Betty Volkner April 8, 1961, at Giddings and was employed by Montgomery Ward store here in 1965, transferring to Big Spring from the Ward's Austin office.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Betty Ovcarik, Big Spring; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Ovcarik, Dime Box; his grandmother, a Mrs. Schmidt, Paige; also several uncles and aunts.

Snow Chills Great Lakes

Rain turned to snow and lashed the nation's midsection today and icy winds drove temperatures down.

The snow, centered over the upper Great Lakes region, fell from Wisconsin and Upper Michigan to Illinois and Indiana.

A storm with wind gusts up to 45 miles per hour drove snow and sleet into Lower Michigan Sunday night and knocked out electric power in parts of eight counties.

The storm was centered just north of Houghton Lake in north central Michigan and brought heavy rain to several other parts of the state.

The winds brought 12-foot waves crashing on the Lake Michigan shore at Grand Traverse Bay and hurled rocks as big as footballs up to 30 feet inland.

Four inches of snow fell at Marquette, Mich., in six hours, adding to the three inches already on the ground.

The cold air was pushed south across the Great Plains and the Mississippi Valley by winds circulating around the storm. Early morning temperatures were in the 40s as far south as the western coast of the Gulf of Mexico.

Unseasonably mild weather prevailed east of the storm. The springlike temperatures were carried into the area by southerly breezes.

In the western half of the nation clear skies prevailed from the Rockies to the Mississippi River. A few light showers fell along the Pacific Coast.

Weslaco Man Crash Victim

GREENVILLE, Mich. (AP)—A Weslaco, Tex., man was killed Sunday night when his car was hit from behind and shoved into the path of an oncoming vehicle four miles north of Greenville, in Central Michigan.

He was identified as Calixto Cuellar Jr., 25.

Cuellar's address was given by state police as 301 Nerrada, Weslaco.

Jury Being Selected To Decide Suspect's Sanity

A jury was being qualified Monday morning to say whether John Marvin Peters, charged with burglary, is now sane enough to stand trial.

Peters, who was sent to the State Hospital for the Criminally Insane at Rusk nearly two years ago and who has now been declared mentally well by the hospital staff, was returned to Howard County Sunday.

Former Base Man Is Crash Victim

Donald Haines, who died recently in a private plane crash between Austin and Waco, formerly was stationed at Webb AFB, friends here advise. He was assigned to the helicopter section for the three years he was at Webb. During that time, the family lived at Webb Village.

Haines, who had moved to Waco upon retiring from service, leaves his wife, Margie, and a son, Donnie, 13.

Texas law requires he now be tried by a jury on whether he is sane or insane. A jury at the earlier hearing, had ruled the man insane.

The Peters case is the first to come up for hearing at this week's jury docket before Judge Ralph Caton in 118th District Court.

The second case set for trial is a charge of possession of a narcotic drug, habitual, against Roberto Morales. This matter is set for trial on Wednesday. Peters attracted considerable publicity in 1965 when he confessed to a number of murders in Texas and New Mexico. His confession led to his being interrogated by officers from several cities and counties. After extensive questioning, the officers said that Peters could not have committed the crimes he had confessed. He had been arrested for burglary.

At his trial for burglary, Peters made two unsuccessful attempts to commit suicide. The sanity hearing followed and a jury ruled the man be sent to the Rusk hospital.

DEAR ABBY

'Touch Up' Won't Help

DEAR ABBY: My husband, who admits to being 70, thinks he is quite the Romeo about town. He is always running after some woman. It's harmless to be sure. It couldn't be anything but. Yet, it annoys me.

I am 61, slim, and not bad looking. My husband keeps asking me to touch up his hair. He has lots of it, but it's all white. Would you if you were me? I have enough trouble with him as it is.

SHIRLEY

DEAR SHIRLEY: Tell him he may as well leave the snow on the roof as long as there's no fire in the furnace.

DEAR ABBY: I am an only "child" — if you can call an 18-year-old girl a child. I am also a college freshman, living away from home for the first time. Before I went to college, my parents and I agreed that I should have a certain monthly allowance. I have been living on that allowance and haven't asked for any extra money.

Now I get this letter from my father asking me for an accounting of how I have been

Safety Chief Finds A Flaw

WASHINGTON (AP) — The head of the government's effort to eliminate safety hazards on automobiles found one in his own car while driving to work one day last week.

Dr. William Haddon Jr., administrator of the National Safety Agency created by Congress this year, confirmed Saturday he had what he called a fluke problem with the accelerator pedal of his car — a Ford Fairlane sedan.

Haddon said he was driving to his office in Washington on the George Washington Memorial Parkway. He took his foot off the accelerator, but the pedal was caught in a fold of carpet and failed to spring back.

Haddon said he believed the case, caused by the mat being not completely tied down, was "one of a kind" and added "We have no reason to think that particular accelerator problem is widespread."

He said that his agency has records of accelerator problems "of a variety of other types on a variety of vehicles," but none matching the incident with his own car.

Haddon said he had no difficulty kicking the pedal free of the mat.

Toll-Free Phone Plan Rejected

BEAUMONT (AP) — City Council refused to approve a plan which would have allowed toll-free telephone calls between communities in the Jefferson-Orange county area.

The plan had been advanced by the regional chamber of commerce council as a method of helping attract industry.

City Hall received more than 1,000 calls and letters opposing the plan which would have meant a $1.25 increase in monthly telephone bills for each customer.

Gamco Industries Created By Merger

Stockholders of companies involved voted at a special meeting today for a merger that now creates an integrated corporation to direct one of Big Spring's fastest-growing local industries.

The new concern is Gamco Industries, Inc., created from a merger of Gamco, Inc., and Math-Master Labs, both formed a number of years ago with George McAlister as founder and directing head.

By a stock exchange formula, the two are now under the one corporate heading, and this will, in turn operate four special divisions. McAlister is president of the new corporation and Harold Davis vice president.

The operating divisions will be Math-Master, with Auriel LaFond as general manager; Creative Visuals, Jim Gillespie, manager; Gamco Chalk Boards, Harold McAlister, manager; Educational Computers, Allen Fulmer, manager.

George McAlister started his companies originally to offer classroom teaching aids and to manufacture an improved chalk board. Over recent years, expansion and acquisitions have greatly broadened the production, and the complex of companies is now offering a wide variety of educational devices, including the most modern computer system of programming and grading.

"The growth of our companies and the expansion into broader fields of educational aids prompted the consolidation of the original companies," said the president. "We feel now that we are in corporate position to handle more efficiently the management, financing, production and distribution which we are confident will continue to expand.

Cotton Classing At Season Peak

Classing probably reached a peak this week at the USDA Cotton Classing Office in Abilene. Officer in charge B. B. Manly Jr. reports 48,200 bales were classed for the week ending Nov. 25 as compared to 45,500 for the previous week. This brings the seasons total classed to 166,000. Around 10,500 samples came from Martin, Midland, Glasscock and Howard counties. Two shifts are now working six days a week in an effort to stay current with receipts.

CMS statistics show grades for District 1 dropped slightly this week. Fourteen per cent was classed white as compared to 22 per cent last week, 74 per cent light spotted as compared to 71 per cent last week and 12 per cent spotted as compared to seven per cent last week. Predominant grades were eight per cent Middling, six per cent Strict Low Middling, 32 per cent Middling Light Spotted, 21 per cent Strict Low Middling Light Spotted and nine per cent Middling Spotted.

Predominant staple lengths were 14 per cent 29-32; 57 per cent, 15-16; 11 pct., 31-32; six pct., one inch; and six per cent, 1 1/4 and longer.

Micronaire readings were lower this week. Seventy-one per cent read in the desirable 3.5-4.9 range. Other percentages were three pct. 2.7-2.9; 13 pct., 3.0-3.2; 12 pct. 3.3-3.4. Only one per cent read 50 or above.

Demand for cotton continued strong. Middling Light Spotted cotton is selling 40 to 70 points over government loan price. Spotted cotton and lower light spotted grades are bringing 75 to 100 points over. White cotton in the shorter staples is selling at about loan price to 25 points above. Good Acala cotton is still bringing up to 500 points over loan but mike readings are dropping too low on much of it.

Lamesa Office Hitting Stride

LAMESA — Sample receipts increased last week as peak harvesting continued according to J. U. Dedear, officer-in-charge of the Consumer and Marketing Service's Lamesa office. The USDA office classed 27,450 samples to bring the season's total to 70,922 samples. This compares with 45,000 samples this time a year ago.

Three classers were added to the staff to make a total of nine classers on duty. Approximately 20,000 unclassified samples were on hand Friday afternoon.

The predominate grade was a middling light spotted with 65 per cent. A further breakdown shows strict low middling light spotted 12 per cent and middling spotted five per cent.

Staple length increased last week. A breakdown shows the following per cents: 15-16 inch, 65 per cent; 31-32 inch, 35 per cent; and one inch, four per cent.

Micronaire readings were follows: 2.7-2.9, six pct.; 3.0-3.2, 27 pct.; 3.3-3.4, 17 pct.; and 3.5-4.9, 48 pct.

'Name Of Game' Filled The Bill

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Wire Service

NEW YORK (AP) — "Fame Is the Name of the Game" a two-hour motion picture made for initial television broadcast, proved to be very satisfactory viewing in many ways.

The NBC broadcast Saturday night was a bright, slick retreat of one of the most familiar plots in movieland. It was of particular interest inside the industry because it may start a trend now that the supply of old movies is running low. After NBC has shown the million-dollar movie several times, it will be released for theater distribution.

The story line was as old as the talkies: The intrepid, wisecracking star reporter who talks back to his boss, confounds the cops and solves the murder. It was spiced with blackmail, illicit love affairs, fights, gunplay and nightclub scenes, but the dialogue and the musical score were modern.

LOTS OF CLOSEUPS

Because it was made for television's small screens, there were plenty of closeups and large, busy scenes were avoided. It was designed to fit the time period and to accommodate the breaks for commercials. At no time did the viewer feel that some editor had chopped out an important hunk of plot to make room for a sales pitch.

There were some engaging people, too. Tony Franciosa played the star reporter eager for the scoop as if he had invented the character. Jill St. John, the beautiful blonde temptress, may have telegraphed the windup by her aggressive behavior but she added some zing to the business.

The show must be counted as a successful experiment. It was not a major motion picture, but it was lively, gay and held one's attention to the end. The real name of the game is entertainment — and this one filled the bill.

AMATEURISH

ABC's "Scope" which has concentrated for almost a year on the Viet Nam conflict, almost timidly showed excerpts Saturday from an off-Broadway protest play, "Viet Rock," violently anti-war and anti-Viet Nam war particularly.

The scenes from the play seemed amateurish and over-emotional, but host Howard K. Smith was so nervously eager to disassociate himself with the whole thing he was almost rude to the young woman who had authored it.

GOREN ON BRIDGE

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1 — Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

▲K62 ♠75 OK964 ♣872

The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South	West
1 ♠	Pass	1 NT	Pass
3 ♣	Pass	?	?

What do you bid now?

A.—Three no trumps. While it is true that partner's jump rebid is not forcing, nevertheless your response was based on sound values and did not involve any shading. The routine call of three no trumps is therefore recommended.

Q. 2 — East-West vulnerable, as South you hold:

▲842 ♠83 ♣K987 ♣5

The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South	West
1 ♠	Pass	1 NT	Pass
3 ♣	Pass	?	?

What do you bid now?

A.—Happy to have improved the contract, you should relax and feel that you have done your full duty by this hand. There is no second call that should even tempt you.

Q. 3 — Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

▲A1086 ♠AJ10752 ♣6 ♣73

The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South	West
1 ♠	Pass	1 ♠	Pass
2 ♣	Pass	2 ♣	Pass
3 ♣	Pass	?	?

What do you bid now?

A.—Things have not progressed very smoothly. Partner presumably has five cards in each of the minors and only three spades. With four spades he would have supported that suit at once instead of returning to clubs. He, therefore, will not have enough trumps to handle your hearts. This misfit calls violently for a pass.

Q. 4 — Both sides vulnerable and as South you hold:

▲AK642 ♠7 ♣AJ63 ♣AK8

The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	1 ♠	Pass
2 ♣	Pass	2 ♣	Pass
3 ♣	Pass	?	?

What do you bid now?

A.—Four clubs. In fact we would not look askance at a direct leap to game. Altho partner's bid over the double does not show strength, it should be based on a long club suit which is just about all you require from him to score a game.

Q. 5 — Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

▲QJ ♠K95 ♣876 ♣AK1084

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West

1 ♠ Pass 2 ♣ Pass

2 ♣ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Happy days are here. Partner has described a holding that contains five hearts and four spades, but, what is more, by bidding his suits in this order has advertised a strong hand, one containing the equivalent of at least 19 points. A bid of six hearts is therefore not out of line, but a call of five hearts contains barely place the game in jeopardy and that is the call that receives our first choice.

Q. 6 — East-West vulnerable, as South you hold:

▲A1093 ♠J104 ♣AQJ976

The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	1 ♠	Pass
2 ♣	Pass	?	?

What do you bid now?

A.—The suggested bid is one spade. There are several choices which include a rebidding diamonds and supporting hearts. The hand is too strong for a mere two diamond rebid, and not quite strong enough for a jump to three diamonds, so that the choice narrows down. While the bid of one spade is not forcing, partner will nevertheless in these circumstances exert every effort to speak again and a better idea of the contents of his hand may be obtained from his next move.

Q. 7 — Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

▲K843 ♠K52 ♣AK43 ♣J6

Partner opens with one club. What is your response?

A.—Inasmuch as your hand is the equal of an opening bid it is your purpose to reach a game contract. You have the necessary values (14 points) for a two no trump response and such a call is acceptable. My own preference, however, is for a temporizing bid of one diamond, to afford partner the opportunity to show a mild four card spade suit at the level of one. In that case I would support the major. If the three of spades were a club the only acceptable response would be two no trump.

Q. 8 — As South you hold:

▲54 ♠KJ10872 ♣AK4 ♣93

The bidding has proceeded:

East	South	West	North
1 ♠	Pass	Pass	Pass
1 ♠	Pass	Pass	Pass

What is your opening lead?

A.—You should start drawing trumps at once to prevent declarer from using any of his little ones for ruffing. The best lead is the king of hearts. This allows for the remote chance that dummy or partner has a singleton queen. If declarer has the ace and queen, it makes no difference because he must make them both.

Traffic Accidents Claim At Least 35

By The Associated Press

Traffic accidents claimed the lives of at least 35 persons on Texas streets and highways over the four-day Thanksgiving holiday period.

Wet highways and gusty winds were blamed for some of the wrecks Saturday, but the weather was generally fair Sunday.

The Associated Press tabulation began at 6 p.m. Wednesday and went through midnight Sunday.

The latest accidents included: A two-car wreck south of Fort Worth on US 81 Sunday night killed John H. Doty, 33, of Fort Worth. Five other persons were hurt, one critically.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Lindberg, 27, of Pasadena, Tex., were killed Sunday in a car-truck collision on Farm Road 1462 seven miles west of Alvin.

after his car hit a concrete post one mile south of Happy in the Texas Panhandle. He was 30.

Jodie White, 26, of Arlington was fatally injured Saturday when his motorcycle and a car collided in Arlington.

Pamela Catherine Dipprey, 18, a student at Midwestern University in Wichita Falls, died Sunday from injuries suffered Saturday in a two-car wreck in Wichita Falls.

A two-car smash-up Sunday afternoon two miles south of Pecos on Texas 79 killed Thomas L. Hutson, 36, of Charlie. Two other persons suffered serious injuries in the wreck.

College Selects Man-Of-The-Year

BROWNWOOD, Tex. (AP)—Dr. E. Lamar Cole, who established the only Southern Baptist hospital in Mexico, has been named the Howard Payne College Man-of-the-Year.

Solon Predicts Income Tax Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Hale Boggs, the third-ranking Democratic leader in the House, predicts President Johnson will ask the new Congress for a $10-billion to $15-billion increase in the income tax. But the Louisiana says Johnson "hasn't told me so."

Boggs, back from talks with Johnson in Texas last week, said Sunday on the CBS radio-television program "Face the Nation" that projected expenditures of $125 billion will bring "a deficit of a considerable magnitude" over revenues pegged at between $115 billion and $118 billion.

Boggs added: "I would think that both parties, having committed themselves to fiscal responsibility, will face up to such an issue. I just don't believe that we would want a deficit of that proportion, particularly where the deficit is called for as a result of national defense commitments."

Dr. Walter W. Heller, former chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers under John F. Kennedy and again under Lyndon B. Johnson, urged a five per cent across-the-board income tax boost as a device to slow the economy.

On the NBC program "Meet the Press," Heller said Sunday a tax increase should be coupled with an easing of interest rates. He said this would not bring on a recession.

Heller, now a University of Minnesota economics professor, based his tax increase advocacy on a $20-billion increase in government spending, four to five per cent boost in plant spending and an increase in war costs of $10 billion to $12 billion.

Farm Workers Receive Food

RIO GRANDE CITY, Tex. (AP)—Dissident farm workers in the Lower Rio Grande Valley are the richer by 10 tons of food and clothing today in their protracted strike against melon and other fruit growers.

An official of the Texas AFL-CIO estimated that was the amount of supplies brought to the workers Sunday in a caravan of 65 cars and four trucks, from Austin, San Antonio and other South Texas points.

MINIMUM WAGE

The strike began in June in an effort to organize the farm workers, most of whom are of Spanish descent. They seek a minimum wage of $1.25 an hour, and claim they now receive only from 40 cents to $1 an hour.

Henry Munoz Jr., equal opportunity director for the state AFL-CIO, said at a Rio Grande City rally Sunday that the labor organization would support the strikers "until hell freezes over."

"We want you to know," Munoz told a crowd of some 250, "there are 350,000 members of the Texas AFL-CIO who are behind you every day of the week."

Speakers at the rally stood in the back of a pickup truck in front of the Starr County courthouse.

Members of the crowd shouted "Viva La Huelga" (Long Live the Strike) from time to time. On hand were members of the United Farm Workers Organizing Committee, which is spearheading the strike, and students from the University of Texas who organized the caravan.

APPLAUSE SPIRITED

Eugene Nelson, who got the strike moving six months ago, drew the loudest applause of the day when he said:

"We are going to sweep the dirt right out of this county. I will remain in this county until all the farm workers are organized and we have justice for the laborers."

El Paso Sun Queen

Susan Joan McKee, 19-year-old blonde and a sophomore at the University of Colorado, will be crowned queen of the annual Southwestern Sun Carnival at the Coronation Ball to be held in El Paso Dec. 27. Granddaughter of the late R. E. McKee, worldwide contractor who built much of New Mexico's atomic installations, she was one of the first babies born in Los Alamos, while her father was directing construction there. (AP WIRE-PHOTO)

Cotton Fire Loss Small

Prompt action by J. R. Dillard, who lives on the gin yard at the Fairview gin was credited with keeping loss from a Sunday afternoon fire to a reasonably low figure.

Three bales of ungned cotton on a trailer parked on the gin lot, burned and the trailer was slightly damaged.

The fire was discovered by Dillard shortly after noon. Dillard rallied help and the smoldering trailer was hauled away from the lot on which were several hundred bales of cotton. About a mile west of the gin, workers flipped the trailer over and dumped the burning cotton out.

A fire truck from the Big Spring fire department came to the scene and put out the blaze. Several other trailers in the vicinity of the one which ignited were sprinkled. No other fires followed.

The cotton was owned by E. M. Newton. The blaze was more than a hundred yards from the gin proper. A brisk breeze aggravated the fire threat.

Former Resident Dies In Carlsbad

W. J. (Jack) Walker, 50, former resident of Big Spring and the husband of the former Miss Velma Kilgore of this city, died Sunday morning in a hospital at Carlsbad, N. M.

Death was due to heart involvement. He had been ill for six weeks.

Services are to be at 11 a.m. Tuesday at Carpenter - Denton Funeral Home in Carlsbad with Kenneth Andrews, pastor of Hillcrest Baptist Church officiating.

Mr. Walker, who had been employed in the Potash mines at Carlsbad, left here about 12 years ago.

Survivors in addition to his wife include one daughter, Edie, two sons, Jaes and Grant, of the home address; three brothers, Sam, A. A. and B. B. Walker, all of Amarillo; three sisters, Mrs. Ozzie Green, Amarillo; Mrs. Al Nuthman, Rocky Hill, Conn., and Mrs. J. J. Walker, Dallas.

Ex-Houston Bank Officer Promoted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wayne G. Weachman, former Houston, Tex., bank officer, was named special assistant to the controller of the currency.

The announcement made Sunday night said Weachman was assistant vice president in charge of business development for the Southern National Bank of Houston before joining the Treasury Department last year.

Vet Actor Dies

PARIS (AP) — Jean Herve, veteran actor of the French classical theater including the Comedie Francaise, died in his Paris home Saturday night. He was 82.

Mold Attacks Masterpieces

FLORENCE, Italy (AP) — A leading Italian art restorer said today mold has started to attack Florence's flood-damaged masterpieces.

Dr. Giovanni Urbani, director of the Central Institute of Restoration in Rome, said there is little that can be done about it until a "hospital" for soaked paintings goes into operation.

This is a large building behind the Pitti Place being equipped with furnaces and air blowers for months of controlled drying. Urbani said the building will be ready to function in two days.

He added that even before the long drying process can begin, however, the hospital—a huge single room nearly 500 feet long—would have to be filled with a special gas to kill the mold. After that the furnaces and blowers will be put in operation to control the degree of humidity and regulate the rate of drying.

"Without this," said Urbani, who came to Florence to assist local art authorities, "the damage to the paintings would be truly fatal."

Of the 1,300 masterpieces counted damaged, more than 900 were on canvas or wood.

Scattered Frost Hits Rio Valley

By The Associated Press
Scattered frost reached as far as the Lower Rio Grande Valley in far South Texas today as crisp temperatures and fair skies ruled most of Texas.

The frost was at Mission, which reported 37 degrees, while Rio Grande City reported 29 degrees but no frost.

The local Weather Bureau office forecast patches of frost again tonight in the mid-Valley. Low Valley temperatures included Harlingen 38, Raymondville 38, San Manuel 36 and McAllen 42.

Minimum temperatures ranged down to 22 degrees at Dalhart in the Upper Panhandle and Alpine in far West Texas as a Canadian cold front kept most of Texas cold to cool.

COOL IN AMARILLO
Some representative low other temperatures included Amarillo 26, Lubbock 29, San Angelo 24,

Abilene 31, Dallas 36, Austin 41, San Antonio 32, Corpus Christi 45, Houston 42 and Texarkana 34.

The mercury climbed into the low 70s in South Texas Sunday but Amarillo's maximum was only 50, the coolest in the state.

NORTH TEXAS SHOWERS
A Canadian cool front touched off showers in North Texas over the weekend, with precipitation amounts including 1.16 inches at Sherman, .92 at Bronson, .70 at Gainesville and .65 at Newport.

Rainfall of generally a half-inch was reported from Wichita Falls eastward to the Dallas-Fort-Worth area.

Brisk winds Sunday intensified the chilling effects of the Canadian air. High pressure from the west chased off further rainshower possibilities.

Republicans Hold Cards

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans hold the cards which could divide the influential Senate Foreign Relations Committee equally between critics and supporters of President Johnson's Viet Nam policies in the new Congress.

Their Senate ranks increased by three in the Nov. 8 election. Republican leaders are expected to demand greater party representation on foreign relations and other important committees.

Democrats now outnumber the GOP 13 to six on the Foreign Relations group headed by Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark. Under the new party division of 64 to 36, the Democrats would be entitled to only 12 members.

NO VACANCIES

There are no vacancies on the committee, however, and Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield and Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen have a way of compromising such matters.

An increase in membership to add one more Republican could open the way under the seniority system for Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., a former ambassador to India, to claim the new spot if he chooses to do so. Most of the GOP members who outrank Cooper in length of Senate service seem already set with the committees of their choices.

As the committee now stands, it has 10 members who have given general support to Johnson's Viet Nam course and nine who have been critical at times of the President's actions. Cooper falls in the latter category.

CHOICE SPOT

Republicans also probably will be asking for larger representation on the Armed Services Committee, headed by Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., where they now are outnumbered 12 to five by the Democrats.

Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, R-Mass., retires in January and thus there might be two spots open if that committee were reauthorized also.

Saltonstall's retirement opens a Republican place on the powerful Appropriations Committee, now controlled by the Democrats 18 to nine. Sen. Wallace F. Bennett, R-Utah, leads in seniority among those who might be interested in this choice spot.

Latin America Data Compiled

AUSTIN (AP)—Data soon to be computed at the University of Texas is expected to provide an important basis for studies on factors affecting Latin American economic development.

The data, compiled during a three-month interview period, focuses on residential and occupational mobility in Monterrey, Mexico, and how they relate to economic development.

The study is a joint project between the University's Population Research Center and the University of Nuevo Leon's Center for Economic Research.

Rocking Embassy Proves Costly

LONDON (AP) — Commonwealth Secretary Herbert Bowden returned from Rhodesia today and said rebel Prime Minister Ian Smith had made "some minor concessions" toward averting a final split between Britain and the breakaway colony.

Bowden would not say whether his meeting with Smith had brought agreement nearer. He went at once to report to Prime Minister Harold Wilson and the Cabinet.

A Cabinet decision that Smith's new proposals offer hope of settlement would open the way for renewed negotiations with Rhodesia, whose white government declared independence a year ago in an attempt to preserve the rule of the white minority. Otherwise, Britain is pledged to ask the U.N. Security Council to vote mandatory sanctions against Smith's regime.

BONN, Germany (AP) — U.S., British and West German negotiators began another round of talks today on the requirements of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Taking part in the meeting were John J. McCloy, former U.S. high commissioner in Germany; British Ambassador Sir Frank Roberts and Karl Carstens, the No. 2 man in the West German Foreign Ministry.

They are expected to produce an interim report on how many American and British troops are needed in Western Europe and how the foreign exchange costs of these troops can best be met. The report is due before the NATO foreign ministers' meeting in Paris in mid-December.

OSLO, Norway (AP) — A 20-year-old student has been sentenced to a 30-day suspended jail term and ordered to pay $185 in damages for throwing rocks at the American Embassy last August.

The student said he had been drinking beer with a friend before they went to the embassy building. He said he had intended to hit the coat of arms near the entrance with the rocks but broke two windows instead.

The youth said he has been deeply disturbed by the war in Viet Nam.

Stock Market Prices Drop

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices were slightly lower in moderate trading early this afternoon.

Problems of the steel, automobile and construction industries contributed to investors' cautious attitude, according to brokers.

Changes of most key issues ranged from fractions to a point or so.

Steels, motors, rubbers, mail order-retails, aircrafts, electronics, chemicals, oils and airlines were mostly lower. Nonferrous metals, tobaccos and drugs advanced.

With the steel industry reporting declining orders from the automakers, Republic was down nearly a point and U.S. Steel, Bethlehem and Jones & Laughlin were off by minor fractions.

General Motors pared an opening loss of 1 1/2 points to about half a point. Chrysler also was off about half a point.

The Associated Press 60-stock average at noon was off 9 at 293.4 with industrials off 1.4, rails off 4 and utilities off 3.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials at noon was off 4.74 at 798.60.

The averages were pulled down by a loss of more than a point by Du Pont.

Goodyear and Goodrich lost about a half a point and U.S. Rubber was up by a small fraction.

Boeing fell more than 2 points and United Aircraft dropped more than a point.

RCA dipped half a point and Sperry Rand was off by a lesser fraction.

American Telephone, (ex-dividend) eased a minor fraction. International Telephone and Consolidated Natural Gas rose about half a point.

Polaroid and Xerox fell more than 2 points.

Prices declined in active trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Eight Traffic Mishaps Occur Over Weekend

Police traffic officers investigated eight minor traffic accidents during the weekend, none involving injuries or serious damage.

Larry Foster, 2409 Main, was the driver involved in a crash with the parked car of John Arnold, 424 Westover. Bill Pitchford, Webb AFB, and Mackie Gene Adams, 1103 Mesa, crashed at Airbase Road and US 80 west.

Sylvia Barbee, 4107 Hearn, was involved in a crash with a stop sign at Hearn and US 87 south. Manuel Doque, P.O. Box 137, and Tommie Hutchinson, 1006 NW 3rd, were in a wreck on the US 87 via duct.

Oliver Lewis, 2805 Gollad, and Eva Coker West, Lamesa, collided at Fourth and Main. Priscilla Molinay, 805 N. Aylford, struck the side of the Nichol's Laundry building, on Northwest Second.

Cathy Lynn Young, Midland, and Patricia Rudd Rhoton, 2801 Lawrence, collided at Third and Birdwell. William (Bill) Brown, Big Spring Motel, hit a fence post in the city's overnight camping park.

Presbyterians Have Good Response To 75th Birthday

The widow of a former pastor and the daughter of a charter member were among the many who shared Sunday in the 75th birthday of the First Presbyterian Church.

The sanctuary was filled Sunday morning when Dr. William Elliott, pastor of Highland Park Presbyterian Church and himself the son of a pioneer area Presbyterian preacher at Colorado City, delivered the Diamond Jubilee message.

A small group of Colorado City Presbyterians had initiated the organization of a church here in 1891.

Many friends of the church joined again with the congregation at 5 p.m. to hear Dr. Elliott speak a second time as part of the 75th anniversary observance.

Dr. R. Gage Lloyd, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church and currently the moderator of the Texas synod, joined other members of the church in thanking over the response to the jubilee.

Dr. Lloyd has been pastor of the church for over 20 years, longer than any other man in the congregation's history.

Mrs. Jones is the daughter of Mrs. Lavinia Ross Winn, one of the charter members of the church.

Several former members were on hand, including Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Fahrenkamp and Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Freeman of Fort Worth.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hawkins, Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Stamps, Seminole; Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Keith, Kermit; and Bill Read, Monahans; Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Reese, Austin; were out-of-town guests.

Mrs. L. O. Cunningham, widow of the pastor in 1910-11 and 1917-18, came from Kerrville for the occasion and was guest of Mrs. T. S. Currie, a ranking member of the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen Jones, Dallas, were among participants.

North Howard Test Spotted

Midland Production Corp. No. 1 Baldwin is a Howard County wildcat to check the prospects at 8,500 feet. It is located 1,980 from south and east lines of section 42-32-3n, T&P survey.

Ray Smith Drilling Co. has spotted a location in the Garden City, West (Wolfcamp) field as the No. 3 J. B. Calverley Estate. It is projected for 8,100 feet, and is 660 from north and west lines of section 44-34-3n, T&P survey, and six miles northwest of Garden City. There are only two wells in the field.

No New Wildcat Strike In State

AUSTIN (AP) — Oil and gas wildcaters were shut out last week, failing to bring in a single one, the Texas Railroad Commission reported Saturday.

But there were 99 oil well completions, bringing the yearly total to 6,641, compared to 6,204 a year ago.

There were 38 gas well completions during the week, raising the 1966 total to 2,056, compared with 2,224 last year at this time.

The committee said 125 wells were plugged, including 77 dry holes.

AIR FORCE HONORS CIVILIANS

C. H. Rainwater (left) and Dr. Carl B. Marcum (right) receive certificates of appreciation for leadership in military-civilian relations in a ceremony Monday morning. Presenting the honors was Brig. Gen. J. W. Little, deputy chief of staff for materiel for the Air Training Command.

Two Honored By Air Force For Community Assistance

Two men who have been leaders in liaison activities between the Big Spring civilian community and Webb Air Force Base received certificates of appreciation today from the Air Force.

Presentations were made Monday morning by Brig. Gen. J. W. Little, deputy chief of staff for materiel, Air Training Command, Randolph AFB. The ceremony took place in the office of Col. Chester J. Butcher, Webb wing commander, before a few close friends of the honorees.

Rainwater, before his transfer from here, had served as co-chairman of the Base-Community Council, and Marcum for the past year has been co-chairman of the Public Relations - Good Citizenship group of the council, leading in many of the functions that have established cordial relations between military and civilian.

Outside their official offices, both men have been intimately associated in various base-community activities. Their scrolls of appreciation were signed by J. P. McConnell, chief of staff of the Air Force, and Harold Brown, secretary of the Air Force.

The presentation to Rainwater read: "To C. H. Rainwater for rendering meritorious service to the United States Air Force from 21 Oct. 64 to 29 Nov. 65 as Co-chairman of the Base-Community Council Webb Air Force Base, Big Spring, Texas. Through his expert direction, support and influence, the Base-Community Council rendered important and valuable services to Webb AFB and materially contributed to harmonious base-community relations. The distinctive accomplishments of Mr. Rainwater have reflected his patriotic motivation and have earned for him the sincere gratitude of the United States Air Force."

And that to Marcum: "To Carl B. Marcum, M. D. for rendering meritorious service to the United States Air Force from 21 Oct. 64 to 29 Nov. 65 as Co-chairman of the Prestige - Public Relations - Hospitality - Good Citizenship Committee of the Base-Community Council, Webb Air Force Base, Big Spring, Texas. Motivated by a strong sense of patriotism, Doctor Marcum ably guided his committee in rendering important and valuable services to Webb Air Force Base thereby materially contributing to harmonious base-community relations. The distinctive accomplishments of Doctor Marcum reflect great credit upon himself and have earned for him the sincere gratitude of the United States Air Force."

Dr. Marcum, M. D., of Big Spring, Texas, is a member of the Air Force Reserve and has served in various capacities during his military career. He is also a member of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce and the Big Spring Rotary Club.

Tax Clinic Set Tuesday

A tax clinic, designed to be of special help to the average and small businessman in the Big Spring area, will get underway at Cosden Country Club Tuesday.

Twenty have been pre-registered for the clinic, and many more are expected to sign during the registration period from 8:30 a.m. to 9 a.m. The Chamber of Commerce, a sponsor of the event, urged business operators to take advantage of this one-day seminar which may be the means of saving money or avoiding tax trouble. The fee of $5 includes the cost of the luncheon.

A battery of Certified Public Accountants will serve as lecturers. R. L. Tollett will open with a talk on the importance of tax planning. He will be followed by Neil G. Hilliard on small business corporations, and George Thorburn on travel and entertainment expense.

Afternoon topics include depreciation and investment credits by Royce Scott; deferred profits, R. Clyde Hollingsworth; and capital gains and losses, Maxwell D. Green.

COMPLETIONS
A West Virginia Marine in Viet Nam recently bet his buddies he could get 400 letters from West Virginians through a letter writing campaign.

He won the bet and more than he bargained for, receiving some 7,000 letters.

The Marine is Lance Cpl. Bobbie L. Ruble of Parkersburg, who wrote Gov. Hulett C. Smith earlier explaining the wager. The governor's office then spread the word to the press, and the 7,000 letters resulted.

"When the letters started coming in," Ruble said in a letter to Smith, "they weren't in bundles, they were in bags. My buddies didn't know what to say."

Smith's office released Monday copies of the letter written to the governor by Ruble, dated Nov. 17.

"I'm going to read every letter that came to me and write their addresses down," Ruble pledged. "Then I'm going to start answering every one of those letters. It's going to take time, but if people are kind enough to write me, then I'd better get busy and write my friends back."

BALTIMORE (AP) — Frank Robinson of the Baltimore Orioles, recuperating from a knee operation, leaves for his Los Angeles home today with a detailed list of exercises designed to strengthen his leg.

The slugging outfielder had a cracked cartilage and a piece of bone removed from his right knee last Tuesday. He was discharged from Johns Hopkins Hospital Sunday.

Robinson left the hospital on crutches, which he has been told to use until Dec. 5, unless his knee progresses enough so that they can be discarded.

Another Crown

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Kathy Whitworth plays it safe at the Titleholders Golf Tournament, and her caution has paid off with back-to-back championships.

The Jal, N.M., golfer successfully defended her title Sunday with a 73 on the final round for a 72-hole total of 291, two strokes in front of her nearest challengers.

DOMODOSSOLA, Italy (AP) — Six old railway coaches that aren't ever going anywhere again are taking hundreds of Italian children on a trip toward health.

The old coaches, now called "The Train of Hope," ended up there, high in the Alps near the Swiss frontier, 12 miles from the nearest railway line.

They have been refitted as bedrooms and dining rooms, repainted, and put into use as a vacation resort and mountain health center for the children of Italians working in Switzerland.

Ortiz Is Favored

NEW YORK (AP) — Flash Elorde, a millionaire fighter from Manila, might reach the end of the boxing line tonight in a second bid for Carlos Ortiz world lightweight title at Madison Square Garden.

Ortiz, a sharp boxer and a crisp hitter, is a 3-1 favorite over the 31-year-old world junior lightweight (130 pounds) champion from the Philippines in the national television 15-rounder. Starting time is 10 p.m. EST.

Elorde almost grabbed the 135-pound division crown from Ortiz in Manila 2 1/2 years ago when he was leading the Puerto Rican-born New Yorker after 13 rounds. But in the 14th Elorde was cut over the eye and the bout was stopped.

BY BELL TELEPHONE Long Distance Rates Reduced

A state-wide reduction in telephone users since the end of World War II. "Although technological development continues to play a major role in keeping the cost of telephone service at a reasonable level, this reduction in Long Distance rates is due in no small part to the telephone users themselves," the company spokesman said.

Largest item in the forthcoming reduction is a further lowering of intrastate (calls within Texas) Long Distance rates, effective Jan. 1, 1967.

With the reduction, most station-to-station calls over 56 miles in distance in Texas will have lower rates, varying from five to 15 cents less for three minutes depending on distance. Reductions are even greater for calls over three minutes.

For example, here is how the reductions will lower rates for station-to-station calls made during the "day" period:

Present	New
Big Spr.-Abilene $.70	$.65
Big Spr.-W. Falls $.90	$.85
Big Spr.-Austin 1.05	$.95

Along with these reductions, all intrastate station-to-station calls which are made after 8 p.m. and all-day Sunday will get the lowest night rate. At present, only station-to-station calls which are prepaid (charged to the number placing the call) and credit card calls are charged at this low rate.

This is the 10th reduction in long distance rates for Texas telephone users since the end of World War II.

Other changes now in effect will enable residence customers to have several telephones installed or changed at one time for the single service charge.

Introduction of a flat-rate charge for installing residence service, ranging from $6 down to $3.50, depending on the size of the flat.

This flat-rate, one-time Residence Service Charge will replace the service connection charges now in effect and will enable residence customers to have several telephones installed or changed at one time for the single service charge.

Reds Display Top Defector

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The Vietnamese military command today displayed a man it said was the highest ranking Viet Cong defector. He was identified as Lt. Col. Le Xuan Chuyen, alias Thanh Son.

Government military spokesmen said the 37-year-old man gave himself into government hands on Aug. 2 because "he was not satisfied with his assignment as well as the Communist political stand."

Wearing a white, short-sleeved shirt and blue-gray trousers, Chuyen was presented to newsmen at the regular military Vietnamese military briefing. Spokesmen said he had been a member of the Communist party 20 years, but he explained he had joined when the organization was known as the Indochinese Workers party.

A government statement said Chuyen joined the Viet Nam army in 1945 and in 1960 was promoted to lieutenant colonel and named commander of the 66th Regiment, 304th Viet Cong Division.

It added that in March 1966, he became ill "and taking this opportunity, he asked to be nursed at Miss Hiep's house in Suoi Kiot of Hoa Duc District until April 1966. He married this girl who rallied to the government of Viet Nam together with him."

In answer to questions, Chuyen said he was "not satisfied with their way of dominating."

NOW HE FIGHTS VIET CONG

'I Hated Americans'

By JOHN NANCE
WAR ZONE C, South Viet Nam (AP) — "For years I wanted to fight Americans. I hated them!"

Danh Tranh Minh, 21, smiled and shook his head as he said it. Shortly before he had guided a force of these once-hated Americans through the jungle toward a vast hospital complex of the Viet Cong.

Minh knew the route well. He had studied, trained and fought six years as a Viet Cong soldier in these same jungles. Last spring he defected to the government.

He recalled his past at a base camp of the U.S. 1st Infantry Division. It was deep in the War Zone C, a long-time Communist stronghold in Tay Ninh Province along the Cambodian border.

The Americans were in the largest operation of the war, searching for elements of the Viet Cong 9th Division.

Minh helped them and also remembered an earlier fight when he had been on the other side. It was last February, about 25 miles northwest of Saigon.

"We reached it in three days," he said. "We slept only two hours a day—from noon to 2 o'clock—and took 45 minutes three times a day to cook and eat our rice."

"Whenever possible," he said, "we had a routine of walking 10 minutes, then running 5. We repeated this over and over and over."

had to slow down, but out in the open we walked and ran again, across fields, paddies, or straight as we could go day and night.

"If an airplane approached, we lay flat, head to toe, in a long line. The idea was to appear from the sky like a trail. Apparently it worked."

They reached their destination at noon. They slept, ate and rested until 8 a.m. the next day, then moved into battle positions.

It was the first time Minh and his fellow troopers had been in this area. Local guerrillas were fighting the Americans when they arrived.

The propaganda was stepped up against the United States and from 1961 on became increasingly harsh.

"SUCK VIET DRY"
"All the time I wanted to fight the Americans," Minh recalls. "We were told they would make slaves of our families and suck Viet Nam dry."

"I was fiercely strong in my belief we were doing right," Minh said, "until about mid-1965. Then we began to get a new line in our political education classes. The ideologies of Marxist-Leninism, Maoism and Khrushchevism were made distinct and separate."

"I became troubled over more and more talk of Chinese thought and Russian thought. There was increasing reference to the war as a part of the international Communist movement instead of a war for a free Viet Nam."

"Why? Who did it? I asked her."

"She said she didn't know. I asked the village Viet Cong leader about it, and he said he knew nothing. But after two days of checking I found out. My father had been shot with a 45-caliber pistol through the head and in the side and stomach and hip."

"I became troubled over more and more talk of Chinese thought and Russian thought. There was increasing reference to the war as a part of the international Communist movement instead of a war for a free Viet Nam."

Hines Heads 25-Year Club

M. M. Hines was elected president of the Cosden 25-Year Club when the organization held its annual meeting and dinner-dance Saturday evening.

He succeeds R. W. Thompson, who presided for the Saturday affair, which saw 11 new Cosden veterans inducted into the club and presented with their diamond emblems.

Presentations were made by R. L. Tollett, Cosden president, and congratulatory remarks were extended by Marvin M. Miller a former senior vice president.

Other new officers are Jack Y. Smith, vice president; Otto Peters Jr., treasurer; and Helen Green, secretary.

The Cosden 25-Year Club has 103 names on its roster. Six of these are deceased and 19 have retired from active work with the company.

YOUR Horoscope Forecast

By Carroll Righter
for Tomorrow

MONDAY GENERAL TENDENCIES: All kinds of difficulties are present for whomsoever tries to force you into any position in which a considerable number of small jobs, odds and ends need to be done. Carry through with that big plan that you wish to see succeed and concentrate your efforts upon showing you are in no way petty, picayune, trifling, or fussy.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) It is better to get right of those duties ahead of you instead of trying to find excuses and run off to some foolish tangent. Don't nag anyone. This could get you into a peck of trouble that is best avoided.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Stepping out to the barber or beautician early is a good way to spruce up your spirit as well as for the busy day you can have. It's all up to you. Plan something interesting, gratifying, then carry through with pride, assurance.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You are feeling somewhat nervous. You could make errors, so be sure to check everything you do, think before you speak. You may be using word systems. Try doing just the opposite and see what happens.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Confiding in others just now with regard to personal affairs could bring unwarranted criticism. Think objectively and you get even answers. Read more and you can operate far more efficiently.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 31) Be more patient with friends and listen to their side of the case. Show that you are understanding. Avoid the social in B.M. since such contacts could lead to arguments, etc. Read more.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 21) Don't risk spoiling your reputation now by venting your ire on one who has more power over your particular affairs. Get busy at your special job and do it well. Then all goes very well all around.

LIBRA (Sept. 22 to Oct. 21) Confer with those who have had vast experience in whatever field you are most interested right now. Bring the ideas, advice, brilliant reactions, word to be heard. Give them the floor.

SCORPIO (Oct. 22 to Nov. 21) Show gratitude for assistance given you by objective thinking persons who have your interests at heart. To get busy and become even more productive. Show much attention to home and family tonight.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Don't step into some argument that may be brewing between an associate and a higher up. Who is it? If you can act decisively, be of real help. Keep personal affairs separate from demands of partners.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Forget about going off on some tangent and keep focused on obligations that simply have to be taken care of. Be patient with co-worker who is quite upset. Control your temper at home tonight.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Certain amusements crop up that had best be studied first or you could get yourself into the mud before you know what is cooking. Accept, only the best. Then get busy later on that hobby that fascinates you.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Impress others favorably by showing that family comes first and they cannot get you to do their bidding very easily. Get busy with work that needs to be done. "Forge ahead and others respect you more."

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN tomorrow he, or she, will be one of those exceptional people who derives more pleasure by taking a round-about way of doing almost anything. His quality lends itself well to the field of inventions, promotions, police, detective work, etc. Dealing in new products is also fine here. Early teach to complete any work that has been started and then the child becomes most successful. Give sports.

CLASSES RESUME

Agreement Reached In Teachers' Strike

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Classes were resumed for public school pupils here today as striking members of the Youngstown Federation of Teachers returned to the classrooms after an agreement for a collective bargaining election in 1968.

The election will be conducted by the American Arbitration Association and will determine whether the federation or the Youngstown Education Association represents classroom teachers.

EXPIRES IN '68

The association's contract as bargaining agent for the teachers expires in 1968.

An agreement reached Saturday with School Supt. Dr. J.H. Wanamaker was approved by the federation Sunday night by a vote of 238 to two. The executive board of the Youngstown Education Association later approved the agreement.

Cuban Baptist Annual Red China Decision Looms Gains Release

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—A Baptist missionary sentenced to 10 years in prison in Cuba has been released conditionally so that he may receive medical treatment, the Southern Baptist Home Mission Board announced today.

The Rev. Herbert Caudill, 62, of Omega, Ga., was among 32 Cuban Baptists sentenced last year.

Dr. Arthur B. Rutledge, executive secretary-treasurer of the Home Mission Board, said Caudill had been freed from the prison to receive medical treatment at his home in Havana.

"I believe the condition is that he will not leave Cuba," Rutledge said.

The Rev. David Fite, 31, of Waynesboro, Ga., sentenced to six years in prison, remains a prisoner.

Rutledge said Caudill suffered a detached retina and is blind in one eye and is having difficulty in seeing with the other.

"He has been treated in a government hospital and a clinic, but they have not been able to help him," Rutledge said.

"He will be permitted to live at his home in Havana and receive other treatment."

Rutledge said Baptist officials here talked with officials in Havana today, and were assured that Caudill has been released from prison.

The Baptists were accused of spying for the United States.

$1 Million Plant Expansion Revealed

DALLAS (AP)—In a move to broaden its product line, Capital Wire and Cable Corp. plans another $1 million expansion of its Plano plant, Vincent A. Rego, president, announced.

The addition of 30,000 square feet will house machinery to fabricate aluminum and copper into heavier wires and cables serving electric utilities and industrial markets.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.

(AP)—The U.N. General Assembly today neared its annual decision on the admission of Red China to the world organization. Diplomats predicted a close vote on an Italian resolution referring the issue to a special committee for a year's study.

The assembly was expected to vote late tonight on the Italian resolution and two others . . . one the annual Communist proposal to oust Nationalist China and seat the Communists, was believed certain of defeat.

The other, the annual U.S. resolution calling for a two-thirds vote to change China's representation, appeared likely to be approved.

NARROW MARGIN

Some sponsors of the Italian resolution predicted the 121-nation assembly would adopt it by a vote of about 45-40, with some 35 abstentions. But some of its opponents guessed it would be defeated by a margin of one or two votes.

The Italian resolution hints that both Chinas should be in the United Nations. It speaks of the need to promote universality in the organization and "pave the way to an appropriate solution, taking into account the existing situation and the political realities of the area."

STUDY SITUATION

It would have the assembly name a committee of U.N. member countries to study the situation and recommend an "equitable and practical solution" to the assembly's 1967 session which begins next September. Without mentioning the rival Chinese regimes, it "appeals to all governments concerned to give assistance to the committee."

Both Chinese governments rejected the Italian proposal and the two-China solution that it appeared to be a prelude to.

Former Sterling Ranchman Dies

John C. Blackburn, 50, Valley Springs, Ark., well-known former Sterling County rancher, died Sunday en route to his ranch in Valley Springs. He had lived in Sterling City for a number of years and had farmed and ranched throughout the county for a time.

Survivors include his wife, Mildred; a brother and two sisters.

Graveside rites for Blackburn will be held in the Sterling City Cemetery at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday. The funeral home there is in charge.

ELK SHAKES CHAIN FENCE FROM ANTLERS

STONEWALL, Tex. (AP)—Fritz, the six-point elk, got help from a tranquilizing gun and a human today in shaking a heavy chain link fence from his antlers.

For more than 24 hours, Fritz had pawed the ground and shaken his head in frustration after he became entangled in the discarded fence.

Fritz' owner, Simon Burg, called in a Hunt, Tex., ranch hand and told him to bring his tranquilizing gun. The gunman, Alfred Zimmerman of the Patio Ranch, fired two tranquilizer needles from an air gun at Fritz and waited five minutes for the elk to settle into a placid inertia.

Then Zimmerman cautiously strolled toward Fritz and with three tugs freed him from the nine-foot length of fence.

A female elk friend of Fritz watched from a distance.

When the humans left, Fritz was still dazed from the tranquilizer.

Curtis Cokes To Meet Josselin

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Curtis Cokes, the World Boxing Association welterweight champion, tonight meets the man indirectly responsible, at least, for Cokes being in the position of defending his title.

Jean Josselin, the stubby Frenchman, was the fighter who beat Brian Curvis, the Welshman, and knocked him out of an elimination to decide the champion.

And so, tonight at approximately 10 p.m. (CST), Cokes gives Josselin a chance to take the title away from him. They meet at 15 pounds in Memorial Auditorium, which seats 10,500. Cokes is a 7-5 favorite.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Guard Linens From Too Much Bleach

Dear Folks: We have had so many letters of complaint about tiny holes appearing in linens, that we contacted a laboratory at one of the largest manufacturers of linens. Here is their reply:

"Dear Heloise: "As Director of Homemaking Service for a large manufacturer of household textiles, I answer thousands of letters from homemakers describing "small holes" in sheets. Others complain about changes of color in laundering towels.

"In investigating these complaints, our laboratory usually traces them to careless use of bleach in laundering. As you know, this definitely affects the wear of towels and sheets.

"The problem in using bleach is that women do not take the trouble to read directions. They pour the bleach right into the laundry load.

"Wherever material touches the bleach, it forms holes. It should be diluted first in water without touching any of the fabric. . . Ruth Leigh"

I think Ruth is a dream boat to clue us in on the cause. Thanks oodles ole dear!

I would like to add my two cents worth about something else I found that causes holes: Many of us are guilty of using too strong a bleach on our dish rags, hanging them up to dry, then dumping them in the laundry hamper. Don't do this.

Those rags might be in the hamper three or four days before you get around to doing your laundry.

In the meantime, the bleach from this cloth will get on your nice sheets and clothes. It might damage the fibers. Perhaps you won't see the tiny holes the first time you wash them but just wait three or four times later. Oh boy!

So always rinse bleached articles thoroughly. . . Love, Heloise

Dear Heloise: I have covered permanent hem marks by sewing braid over them.

It is easy to find rickrack to blend in with most material.

Or one could use the embroidery attachment on the sewing machine. I've found this adds a little different touch to my dresses and does not disfigure them. . . Vernie Coffey

Dear Heloise: Why do dill pickles get soft and pithy after the jar is half used and it sits on your shelf for a while? . . . Love 'em

Can anyone tell us the answer? Mine do the same thing. Just drop us a line care of this paper. We sure would love to

A LOVELIER YOU

Find Free Food For Recommended Diet

By MARY SUE MILLER

A lovely writes: Some foods recommended to reducers are called "free foods." Why? No food I ever heard of is free of calories and that's what counts with dieters.

The answer: The term is something of a misnomer. Coffee and tea (without cream, milk or sugar), some diet colas and water come in "free." No calories!

To a greater or lesser degree, those pesky calories lurk in every food, natural and processed. Calories decrease in ratio to the amount of fat, sugar and starch (carbohydrates) contained in a food.

The squash family makes a good example. A cup of summer squash at 34 calories has a trace of fat and eight grams of carbohydrates. A cup of winter squash, with only a trace of fat, contains 22.6 grams of carbohydrate and 97 calories. Neither one is free, but summer squash uses up a great deal less of the reducer's calorie budget.

Salad greens, celery, radish, green pepper, asparagus and zucchini count so little that a dieter is urged to eat all she wants, freely. If, that is, she does not dose them with high-calorie dressings. Besides their low-calorie feature, all such foods provide vitamins, minerals, and bulk in superior quantities. Just what the dieter hear from you. Heloise

Dear Heloise: When cooking my spaghetti sauce, I always place a steel colander up side down over the pot (dutch oven).

No spatters on the walls. Also, the sauce remains thick and never gets thinner than you want. The steam escapes through the holes instead of dropping back in the way it does when you put a lid on the pot. Carol P. MacCord

Dear Heloise: For Mrs. Homemaker who wants to match the present color that is on the walls of a room:

You will find that most of the light switch plates are painted the same as the walls. So, remove one and take it to your paint store to be matched.

Always remember that the color will vary slightly due to age. James Neri

Dear Heloise: Last Christmas I used your white nylon net to put under the Christmas tree.

I used four yards and just crumbled it up in a pile.

For an added touch, I put several colored balls inside the net, and had a very effective decoration.

This year I'm buying my net

Gardeners Get Advice

COLLEGE STATION — The fall and winter season is the time to check and decide whether replacement plants are needed in the home landscape.

Maybe a rose bush has died or failed to live up to expectations or there is a gap in the shrub border where a new plant is needed, suggests Everett Janne, Extension landscape horticulturist at Texas A&M University. Was shade adequate in the outdoor living area, he asks?

Make a list of your landscape needs and be ready to take advantage of the selections offered early buyers by nursery and garden centers, advises Janne.

The natural inclination, he says, is to put off garden work until late spring when everything is greening up and the spring flowers are in bloom. Then suddenly comes the urge to plant trees and shrubs and a rush to the nursery or garden center for plants only to find picked-over stock remaining.

Janne adds that balled and burlapped plants and those grown in containers can be transplanted any time of the year. Many of the deciduous plants, those that lose their leaves each fall, can be more easily handled or transplanted in a bare root condition. For best results, however, bare root plants should be set out in the late fall and winter from mid-November through February in most areas of Texas, the horticulturist says. Planting during this period gives ample time for good root development before spring growth begins, he adds.

With proper care, he says, bare root plants can be set out as late as March and April. Their success, however, is dependent upon condition of the nursery stock used and the care they receive for six months after planting.

For ease of maintenance and to reduce the amount of disease and insect damage, Janne suggests that landscape plants which are native or adapted to the area be selected.

Coffee Held On Friday Fetes Two

Mrs. Boone Powell Jr. of Abilene and Mrs. Janet Brigman, a student at Texas Tech in Lubbock were honored with an informal coffee held Friday morning in the home of their mother, Mrs. J. E. Hogan, 509 Westover.

Refreshments were served from a buffet centered with an oriental arrangement of spider chrysanthemums and greenery. Approximately 20 guests attended. Those from out of town were Mrs. Dana Snyder, Irvin; Mrs. Jerry Thomas, Alamogordo, N. M.; Mrs. Jerry Graves, Odessa; and Mrs. Abbe Ledbetter Jr. of Houston.

Teenagers Need Added Protein

Athletic teenagers and those "go-getters" in school activities, especially, need lunches high in protein. Sandwiches with both meat and cheese are one answer to supplying a high quota for these tissue-building nutrients. For those who must also count calories, a small serving of cottage cheese adds the pro-

Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Irving E. Johnson, 1005 E. 21st, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Sonnet Chloe, to Robert H. Herman Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Herman Sr., of Dallas. A Devotional For The Day

Be ye therefore perfect, even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect. (Matthew 5:48)

PRAYER: Dear Lord, grant that I may reach great heights of perfection in my service for Thee, that there may be no sin in my life. Thou hast asked me to go on to perfection; help me not to be content with less. Make me perfect in every good work to do Thy will. In Thy name. Amen.

(From the "Upper Room")

The Real Value

John Ben Sheppard, president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, is a man of many ideas. Never before has the constituency of the regional chamber been challenged with so many worthwhile projects within the compass of a single year.

One of the things which has concerned Sheppard, and which should concern the area, is the trend of most small towns and communities. Census figures show that almost all of them lost population during the last decade.

The welfare of the region is wrapped up in its small city and towns just as well as in the larger places and metropolitan points. Their vigor could contribute to the health of all West Texas.

Fifteen communities, two of them in this immediate vicinity, have been selected as pilot points for self surveys, analysis and suggestions by a task force. Ultimately, there will be conferences in which findings will be given local leaders.

The most hopeful point of the project is in the latter step. Most communities have a fair knowledge of what they have, although they may not have gone through the useful exercise of taking an inventory. Most of them can be fairly objective about the strong points and the obstacles when stimulated to it.

But the crucial element in determination is in leadership. If the surveys do nothing but turn up an inventory of what communities have in the way of people who are willing to use their heads, their hands and perhaps their hearts, it will be entirely worthwhile. To the extent that it does, the project will produce results.

Timely Project

It has been a long, tedious process, but the Howard Johnson Commission Court has completed the acquisition of right of way for FM 700 from Goliad to US 80 west.

Now that the last parcel has been obtained, the Texas Highway Department will schedule the letting on this important project for January. Construction could require a year or more. While this project will be of immediate benefit in the movement of an increasing volume of traffic, its ultimate worth will be proven several years hence. The county and the commissioners court can look back then in even greater pride in having taken this forward step while it could still be taken.

Background For A President

WASHINGTON — Because of the number of Republican governors who have just been elected or re-elected, there has naturally been a tendency to look for potential presidential candidates among them. This raises a question that has often been discussed but never settled—whether the best presidents of the United States have come from those holding federal office or those occupying state or local posts.

THERE ARE many good arguments in favor of selecting a governor to be the party nominee, since he has served as chief executive of a state government, but the real problem is finding the man with the right kind of training for the particular issues that are dominant when he takes office. Few governors, for example, have had much experience in dealing with international questions. Yet today these are of a critical nature and can have a tremendous impact on the whole domestic economy.

In nearly every case where a governor has reached the White House, he has had to spend much of his time in the first year or two acquiring an intimate knowledge of national and international affairs. But there were instances in which some of the senators, too, were not familiar with the background of developments abroad.

BACK IN 1960, this correspondent wrote in these dispatches that, among the men being boomed for the presidency, there were two who really had an intimate knowledge of the relations of Congress and the executive, and knew more about the background of national affairs than the other potential nominees. These two men were Vice President Richard Nixon and the then-majority leader of the Senate, Lyndon B. Johnson. There is no question about the fact that Senator Johnson—who won the vice-presidential nomination with the support of the Speaker of the House—had had an unusual training in Congress and that this has helped him to a large extent in dealing with legislative matters since he became President.

A GOVERNOR who has the responsibilities of a state office and yet wants to be nominated for the presidency must begin to study national and international problems, and unless he has the money to build up a staff of his own, he is not likely to be as well prepared as some rival who has private resources.

Governors are handicapped, too, by the fact that generally they are not too familiar with politics outside of their own states, and it requires a lot of time for them to line up support in other states. They usually must be at the mercy of political organizers, some of whom they may not know too well.

THE SENATOR or member of the House who achieves political prominence, on the other hand, makes friends with the members of Congress from other states. Also, being in Washington, he is likely to be frequently in contact with the national headquarters of his party.

In the final analysis, much depends upon the ability of the winning candidate to learn quickly the background of the main issues and then to apply good judgment in making national and international policies.

SUCCESS IN the presidency is, after all, largely a matter of individual capacity, though in Great Britain, Canada and other countries no one ever wins the highest post unless he has been active in the parliamentary body itself. Out of all the potential candidates for the presidential or vice-presidential nominations next time, only three men—President Johnson, Vice President Humphrey and former Vice President Nixon—have had any leadership role in the legislative branch of the federal government as well as experience in the executive branch.

Billy Graham

Even though I love God, is it possible that I'm not a Christian because I cannot tolerate people who are critical or selfish? H.R.

It is a contradiction when we say that we love God, but do not love people. The Bible says: "He that loveth not, knoweth not God, for God is love." Gripping, hatred and bigotry are spiritual malignancies that can only be cured by the Great Physician. You should look upon those who are suffering from these with pity and compassion, but instead you are critical of them. This is a Pharisaical spirit, and the spirit that Jesus condemned so often.

You ask if it could be that you are not a Christian—I would say you are a Christian—in name, but not in deed. To decadent Christians the Bible says: "Thou hast a name that thou livest, but art dead." The word "Christian" is one of the most challenging words in any language, but if it is only a name, and not buttressed by a righteous life, then it becomes meaningless. In fact, false Christianity can be a blight on society.

Your Christian responsibility is to "adorn" the name you have taken and make it ring with fidelity. The Bible says: "Not purloining, but showing good fidelity; that they may adorn the doctrine of God our Savior in all things."

Red China Biggest Mess Of 1966?

WASHINGTON (AP) — In less than 35 years mainland China has moved from a dilapidated medieval condition, complete with war lords, to one of the great powers of the earth. But that can change fast. Meanwhile, the youths could perform, schools have been closed, factories idled, railroads tied in ferred yet, it can be assumed that, whatever his reason for what has happened, Mao still has the backing of the military. But that can change fast. Meanwhile, the youths could perform, schools have been closed, factories idled, railroads tied in

It is unified but only to the extent that it is controlled by one organization, the Communist party, and one group of chieftains, the party leaders under the thumb of the father of it all, Mao Tse-tung.

But it is so ripped by internal dissension that it looks like a nation on the fringe of lunacy, acting out a fantasy.

DESPITE all the interpretations of Red China's troubles, much if not most are basically guesswork which tries to patch fragments of information together about a nation where few outsiders are privy to Red China's insiders.

But even the rest of the Communist world seems stupefied by the antics of the Red Chinese leadership and over the weekend the Soviet Union called on the Chinese to put a curb on Mao.

Under him China has had one disaster after another in foreign relations, climaxed by their break with the Soviet Union, one-time partner and biggest neighbor.

What seems to have happened is this: Mao failed to rivet control; or at 72 he got careless about it; or some of his top lieutenants, anxious about the future of the country or hungry for power of their own, began to plot or disagree among themselves on the succession to Mao when he dies or fades; or Mao, inflexible to change, sticks to a vision of China which seems outdated in his underlings.

WHATEVER the cause of what's happening now, the result is chaos: He has mustered to his support millions of Chinese youths who, under the badge of the "Red Guard," have tried by violence and numbers to terrorize the nation into a docile obedience to Mao.

Since the army has not interfered yet, it can be assumed that, whatever his reason for what has happened, Mao still has the backing of the military. But that can change fast. Meanwhile, the youths could perform, schools have been closed, factories idled, railroads tied in

When a dictator has to depend on youngsters by the millions to chant his slogans as a symbol of unity, the picture is one of revolution by irresponsibility, even of childishness.

Is Your Front Door Obsolete?

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

One of every three babies born today will live to be 80. But science doesn't seem to be speeding up very quickly to the time when nearly everyone will achieve a longevity of 100 to 150 years.

Is your front door becoming obsolete? Studies show that in suburban homes 90 per cent of the traffic is between the garage and a side or back door.

LEPROSY, one of the oldest of man's ailments, still remains something of a mystery. Now generally known as Hansen's disease, it affects some 12 million victims throughout the world.

Medical researchers are still uncertain how the disease enters the bodies of those it strikes.

Are you keeping in a drawer as family heirlooms or good luck pieces any old U.S. silver dollars? Well, look for one dated 1904. A coin dealer may pay you several thousand dollars for it.

Liabilities from business failures in 1946 totaled $67,349,000. The total for last year was more than $1.3 billion. The rule of prosperity seems to be, "The more you make, the more others lose."

Quotable notables: "You must learn day by day, year by year, to broaden your horizon. The more things you love, the more you are interested in, the more you enjoy, the more you are

Around The Rim

Telling Them Off With Stickers

In this enlightened age, the car owner who doesn't display a bumper of some kind is not in step with the times.

It's estimated that, in a political year, upwards of 40 million such signs will be printed and displayed across the land. When politics are not an issue, the production remains good but not sensational — upwards of 18 million will be distributed to the citizenry.

THE IDEA of tipping your mitt on how you feel about an issue is not as popular in this section as in the metropolitan areas but it's catching on.

Whereas, out this way, there were times when you'd see stickers displayed like:

"If You Can Read This, You're Too Damn Close" and "Pass to Left, Right Side; Pass to Right, Suicide," and you're now more apt to creep up on a motorist who has hung out this sort of sign:

"Impeach Earl Warren" or "He's Not My Kind of Texan."

THE FOREMENTIONED stickers are purely political and need very little explaining. Those motorists who display them are clearly unhappy with the manner in which the country is being run—in the legislative, judicial and administrative branches.

The unpleasantness with which we have been occupied in Southeast Asia comes in for its share of criticism from the people who like to display their feeling publicly (if often times humorously) through the use of bumper stickers.

ONE SUCH form of advertisement reads:

"War Is Good Business, Invest Your Son."

Another suggests:

"Draft Beer, Not Boys."

And a third, with obvious undertones:

"Kill For Peace."

And there is a simple one which gets right to the point: "Get Out of Viet Nam."

One motorist, with a hopeful air, had this phrase printed for bumper display:

"Phase Out McNamara."

THE LATTER didn't set too well with people around the Pentagon, who ordered the closing of a military base in California after it appeared on cars around the West Coast. Perhaps the decision to shut down the installation was coincidental.

One of the wittiest signs displayed during the recent gubernatorial campaign in California, distributed to people who obviously planned to try and retain the incumbent, read:

"Things Are Bad Enough the Way They Are."

WHY DO MOTORISTS choose to put-putt about with mobile signboards?

One psychologist puts it this way: "It gives the individual a sense of mastery over phenomenon he realistically cannot control."

In other words, it makes us feel a little less like sheep.

Two Victims Of Too Much

WASHINGTON — Lyndon Johnson and J. Edgar Hoover, friends of the road, now find themselves companions of prosecution, so to speak.

The President is to go on trial in London before an International War Crimes Tribunal for his alleged misdeeds in Viet Nam. The FBI Director stands publicly charged in Washington with violating the Federal laws against wiretap in the case of Mr. Johnson's former aide and Senate staffer, Bobby Baker.

IT WON'T DO to say, as yet, "How the mighty have fallen!" for the prosecutors of Johnson and Hoover have not come to court with sound minds and pure hearts. The President's chief tormentor and the sponsor of the International Tribunal is a public fool, the 94-year-old Lord Bertrand Russell, the philosopher of "peace." The FBI Director's inquisitor is a corporate scold, The Washington Post.

If international judicial bodies and the U.S. Supreme Court were more in the mainstream of rational thought, one might predict with some confidence that the distinguished men on trial would walk away—as so many fortunate killers and rapists are doing these days. But what man, however renowned and guiltless, can feel his reputation secure at the hands of post-Nuremberg and Warren Court law?

GOVERNMENTS are instituted of among men, says the Declaration of Independence, to secure certain self-evident rights, but that was a long while ago. Both Jefferson and Hamilton, agreeing on little else about government, warned against making too many laws.

Mankind, they knew, doesn't stop when it's got a good thing going like democracy. One parliamentary assembly leads another, and statutes breed like rabbits whenever politicians get together. The Nuremberg Tribunal, on which Lord Russell's drumhead court is modeled, sprang from the loins of a quasi-government, the Allied Powers of World War II, which were also the parents of a multi-headed child, the 117-member United Nations.

LUCKILY, the President is to be tried in absentia, but the FBI Director has no ocean between himself and his would-be punishers. The Washington Post has been saying in its news stories of the Baker pre-trial proceedings that J. Edgar Hoover is technically in violation of the Federal Communications Act and the Fourth Amendment as well. The Post's editorial page archly concedes it is to "altogether unlikely" that Hoover "will be prosecuted for . . . a crime, punishable by 10 years in prison and a $5,000 fine . . ." But it is a hurried reader who does not find much gloating in both the news stories and editorials—a gloating to be shared by J. Edgar Hoover's myriad enemies among the crooks and the communists, the liberalissimos and all anti-Americans. For those of us who have feared Mr. Hoover has stayed too long in office, there must be regret and indignation that he has been made a casualty in L'Affaire Baker.

HOW MUCH mischief might be averted if it were not for the propensity of mankind to make too much of a good thing? Each year we are overwhelmed in Congress with the surplus offspring of self-government: too many laws. Around the world we are entangled with the progeny of international love matches: too many treaties. At Nuremberg, at the UN, in Geneva, we pick up the scepter and put on the wool sack for the reigning and the judging of the world's multitudes. Isolation? Maybe it wasn't so bad.

Problems Other Than Prices

NEW YORK (AP) — Some big problems hang over the stock market today that have little to do with prices. They involve, instead, the administration of the market place itself.

A measure of their size is reflected in the talk of Wall Street, which frequently these days is not about prices and investments but, instead, about matters such as these:

1. The accounting profession's responsibility, and sometimes its failure, to provide shareholders with accurate information.

2. THE GROWING role, perhaps even danger, of increasing institutional ownership and trading of stock.

3. The distribution of information — or the failure to distribute it — so stockholders will have an equal chance of evaluating the worth of a stock.

Viewing these problems in a little more detail:

Accounting — Lawsuits by shareholders are becoming more common, and one large firm has been indicted for fraud in preparing a stockholder report. But there are varying degrees of misrepresentation or confusion short of fraud.

SOME CERTIFIED public accountants have been accused recently of succumbing to corporate pressure to make an annual report look better than it is.

Another problem is the variety of alternatives that can be used in reporting results. Companies with very similar experiences may report figures that vary widely. This, of course, confuses even the experts.

Institutional ownership — The billions of dollars that institutions — funds, insurance companies, trusts, etc. — invest in the market sometimes causes wide price fluctuations and wide concern also.

HOW MANY of the 20 million people who are now shareholders can afford the wide price swings that result from institutional buying or selling? The question is getting some serious examination at the highest levels of the financial community.

Institutional ownership creates another big problem. Since funds often concentrate so much money in the stock of a company they may acquire a dominant financial position. Should they then tell management how to run the company?

INFORMATION distribution — This is a subject that increasingly occupies the time of the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Large investors, it seems, can receive trading information well ahead of small investors, thus permitting them to act faster. Or, by the very nature of their position, professional investors seek out and obtain information not available to small investors.

The big question here is what constitutes "inside" information; that is, information that should be available only to the officers of a company until the time it is released simultaneously and impartially to the public? (Contributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

Ladies Get Runs At Ballpark

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Female fans wearing short skirts to San Francisco's Candlestick Park report they are running into a new problem this season. Besides risking sunburned knees, the girls are snagging stockings on the ballpark's wooden seats.

Meanwhile, this rival baseball city seems to have the problem licked. They are testing fiber glass seats in the Los Angeles Coliseum. Initial results show these seats are splinter-proof, eliminating the snagged stocking problem.

PIZZA HUT'S PIZZAS ARE A REAL TREAT

The Secret's The Sauce, Says Pizza Hut Manager

A special blend of herbs is credited with setting apart the fresh - daily pizzas served by the Pizza Hut at Highland Shopping Center from plain old pizzas. Fred Maddux, operator of the Pizza Hut, says the herbs are used in the sauce. And the sauce and dough are always fresh, never frozen. As a result, patrons have come to know the Pizza Hut as the place where one may obtain the hottest, freshest, juiciest and biggest pizzas in Big Spring.

Thirsty? Pick up the coldest beer, tea and soft drinks at the Pizza Hut. Featured are Michelob light and Budweiser dark beers, served up in frost-free mugs.

Pizzas are served in two sizes, 10 and 13 inches in diameter. The place has 10 varieties of the succulent dish including Mozzarella cheese, green pepper, sausage, mushroom, pepperoni, Pizza Supreme, onion, anchovy, sausage and cheese half-and-half, shrimp and hamburger.

Outside the Pizza Hut has plenty of parking space for customers' automobiles while inside the refrigerated brick building is space to seat 80 persons in cool comfort.

Call your order ahead of time (it takes only 20 minutes to prepare pizza) and eat it there, fresh and hot, or take it home with you.

The Pizza Hut's telephone number is easy to remember, too, AM 3-3333.

Planning a pizza party? Give the Pizza Hut a call and the friendly folks there will supply hints for pizza parties at home. Hours are from 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. on Mondays through Thursdays, from 11 a.m. to 1 a.m. on Fridays and Saturdays, and from 4 to 10 p.m. on Sundays.

The Pizza Hut, one of 120 in a 10-state chain, is owned by H. H. Blankenship and B. Bevis Enterprises, Midland. The chain was started in Wichita, Kan., in 1956 by Frank Carne and his brother, and its success indicates the quality of Pizza featured at all locations.

Shoppers at Highland South may make the rounds of the stores in the center until noon, then drop into the Pizza Hut for a delicious luncheon and a cool beverage, returning to their shopping refreshed.

For Insurance, See Permian

At the offices of Permian Insurance Agency downtown in the Permian Building, the agents sell protection and service.

When a prospect spends money on a product or a service, he must feel he's getting something for his money. He knows what he's received when he purchases a radio or an automobile. With insurance, however, it's not so readily apparent. Many people do not know what a policy says or does.

That's part of the service offered by Permian Insurance Agency, at no added cost.

When a prospect wants to purchase life insurance or hospitalization, or wants to renew the insurance on his car or home, agent Jeff Brown asks the customer for a few moments of his time. They endeavor to determine the insured's needs, to see if he has too much insurance or not enough, to explain the benefits of their policies and to explain what is covered and what is not. When a customer leaves the offices of Permian Insurance Agency, he knows what insurance he has bought, why he bought the policy he did, and what he can expect if he has a claim.

For expert insurance service, contact Brown at AM 7-2575.

Prager's Has Apparel For All Men And Boys

Prager's Men's and Boys' Wear features quality, fashion-oriented clothing at popular prices, and has done so for the past 38 years.

A. J. Prager has the most complete boys' department you are likely to find. It is completely separated from the men's department and features all nationally-advertised goods—known brand names—and offers a complete satisfaction guarantee on everything sold.

Prager's is fully stocked with jeans by Levi's, Farah and Wrangler, knit shirts by Dan Moore and button-down or regular collar shirts from Model. Coats and jackets by Tom Sawyer and Eskay are always in stock. A full line of boys' accessories, toiletries, under-clothing and anything else today's boy needs are carried.

To complete the ensemble, Prager's has Pedwin boys' shoes, Acme cowboy boots and a complete stock of Keds. The boys' department also is an authorized Boy Scout Trading Post, with everything the Boy Scout needs.

The reason boys from 2 to 20 buy at Prager's is that the store is famous for youth clothes made for boys—and boys like that.

The latest stylings are on hand in Prager's men's department. Prager's keeps up with fashion and keeps fashion merchandise at popular prices—all merchandise must, of course be quality.

The accessory line is absolutely complete—Prager's has 23 top brands of toiletries as well as belts, ties, cuff-links, tie clasps and tacks and many other items. A feature line of long and short sleeved shirts in different styles, colors, fabrics, fashion colors, in regular sizes and tall sizes gives the customer what he wants. Suits are available in traditional Continental and regular models. Shoes are the best—Pedwin, Weyenburg and Nunn-Bush as well as the ever-popular Hush-Puppies.

A terrific line of coats and sweaters is at hand for the winter season. Prager's has the largest variety of fine sweaters in Big Spring—and not only in quality is the selection outstanding but also in fashion, a Prager's tradition.

Sports coats and slacks in almost any size or style are available, as well as the latest British mod clothing for the high-fashion-minded young man.

Whenever you're thinking about clothes for man or boy, think of Prager's at 102 E. 2nd. You'll be glad you did.

Alabama Bidding For First Spot

By The Associated Press

It appears as if Alabama, the only major unbeaten and untied team, will shoot the works against Auburn at Birmingham, Ala., on Saturday in an effort to retain the national collegiate football championship.

The Crimson Tide ranked third behind Notre Dame and Michigan State in last week's Associated Press poll. The Sugar Bowl-bound Tide has a 9-0 record to 9-1 for Notre Dame and Michigan State.

"I just wish the players and I knew what the people who were wanted and we'd do it," Bear Bryant, Alabama coach, said Saturday after Alabama crushed Southern Mississippi 34-0 at Mobile and Notre Dame routed Southern California 51-0 at Los Angeles.

"This is by far the best college football team I've ever had and it's the best college team I've ever seen," said Notre Dame Coach Ara Parseghian after the Irish had rebounded from their 10-10 tie with Michigan State to drop the Trojans.

"This is our most important victory," Parseghian said. "I think our team demonstrated it is No. 1."

Now harken to Bryant: "Back in January when we were voted No. 1 our players started preparing to win it again this year. In September we were voted No. 1 in the pre-season poll and we thought that meant they expected us to win. Well, we've been winning."

"If the voters want something besides winning," the Alabama coach continued. "We'll try triple reverses, forward laterals, lateral forwards, dippy-doodles or even run a quarterback sneak on third down and nine."

This indicates the Auburn Tigers are in for a rough Saturday afternoon in the top game of a slim national program this weekend. Only two other major games are listed, Oklahoma at Oklahoma State and Utah at Houston.

Army's 20-7 upset victory over Navy at Philadelphia shared the headlines with Notre Dame and Alabama in the final big weekend of the regular season last Saturday.

Abilene Cagers Manage Split

ABILENE — Abilene high school basketball teams split a Saturday night.

Cooper mauled South Oak Cliff of Dallas, 75-46, but Abilene High was beaten by Richardson, 75-62.

Jerry Hoff led Cooper with 16 points, the same number scored by Richard Mulky of Abilene High.

Midland Places

AMARILLO — Midland High won third place in the Amarillo Palo Duro Basketball tournament here Saturday night, coming back to topple Hereford, 75-55, after first yielding to El Paso Bowie, 47-46.

Southwest Season Is Different From Others

The Southwest Conference football campaign is at an end with several things setting it apart from past races:

1. Southern Methodist upset the Texas-Arkansas dynasty that had existed for seven years (one or the other won or tied for the title) by taking the championship.

2. The greatest attendance in history—1,585,043 for 41 games, an average of 38,661. There were 31,250 more fans and the average was up 1,665 per game over the highest of the past.

3. Texas staggered under the burden of the most injuries ever and still managed to close out in a blaze of glory by capturing four of its last five games to earn a spot in the Bluebonnet Bowl.

4. Texas Tech pulled one of the big upsets of all time when it beat Arkansas 21-16 to knock the Razorbacks out of at least a championship share. Arkansas had beaten Southern Methodist decisively after Southern Methodist beat Texas Tech.

5. There wasn't a single game all season, something unusual in the Southwest Conference.

Bronte-Vega Tilt In Brownfield

CRANE — Bronte, District 4-B champion, defeated Fort Hancock, 38-12, in bi-district football play here Saturday night.

The Longhorns will oppose Vega Friday night at Brownfield to determine the regional champion. Class B teams do not progress beyond regional.

Doug Matcosen, leading scorer in West Texas, scored a total of 30 points for Bronte. David Corley got the other eight.

Lee Cops Tourney

MIDLAND — Midland Lee won its own invitational basketball tournament here Saturday night, defeating El Paso Austin, 65-53, in the finals of the four-team meet. The Rebels had earlier beaten Plainview, 74-70.

Snyder Hosts Game

SNYDER — Sonora and White Deer will meet here at 7:30 p.m. Saturday in the Class A Regional championship game.

Sonora ran roughshod over Seagraves Saturday night in Andrews, 36-0, to win the right to oppose White Deer.

PACIFISM ENTRENCHED

Defeat Brings Mixed Blessings To Japan

TOKYO (AP) — The trip proud, newly named head of the hammers and air drills halt their ear-shattering din. A Shinto priest in stiff, black hat murmurs a prayer for the rising office building or the ship poised on the ways.

—Crack! wood meets leather as prize center-felder Isao Shibata lofts the ball into the stands to lead the Yomiuri Giants to the eighth Japan pro baseball series title.

—“Biet Nam sensoo hantai!” — Down with the Viet Nam war — chant the snake-dancing students as they charge past the U.S. Embassy. “Ne age hantai!” — Down with high prices — shrill their mothers and aunts massed in front of the prime minister's residence.

—The bands blare and the never recognize the Japan of today.

There are 30 million more Japanese than the 70 million of 21 years ago. But instead of the ragamuffins rooting in the debris for something to wear or eat, they now are the best-fed, best-dressed, best-paid and most literate people in Asia.

With American help and know-how, native industriousness, and a boost from Korean war orders, the Japanese have accomplished an economic miracle. Fifth among the world's industrial giants — first in shipbuilding, second in television manufacture, third in steel-making — they are riding a wave of exuberant economic growth.

WORK OVERTIME

The Shinto priests, who grace all auspicious occasions, are working overtime waving their paper wands over mushrooming hotels, office buildings, steel complexes, shipyards, automobile plants, grain elevators, nuclear reactors, superhighways subways and pachinko pin-ball parlors.

Japan has a constitution which outlaws war, makes no provision for punishment of espionage. It also has no spy problem and has fought in no foreign conflicts since 1945. None of its citizens is subject to conscription. Its defense expenditures are low, its army small. No revolutions or massive civil commotions have marred the tenor of its ways for 21 years. It is a record many of its conquerors must envy.

WORLD'S BIGGEST

Exports, ranging from toy light bulbs to giant tankers, are expected to bring in a record $10 billion this year.

Shipbuilders, on the way to new highs, have received unprecedented orders for 215 vessels, totalling 4.8 million tons in the first half of 1966. On the way: a 205,000-ton tanker, the world's biggest.

The steel industry, which passed West Germany last year to place third after the United States and the Soviet Union, this year will exceed its 1965 mark of 41.1 million tons.

The little man is helping to pay for all this. Exports are selling abroad for half what they command at home. The aroused consumer is demanding to know why. Price fixing is a national scandal.

Tanaka-san, Japan's Joe Average, is vaguely aware of all this. His tendency, as long as the pay check is good and the rice bowl full, is to shrug and enjoy himself.

In sports, “beisboru” still is the No. 1 favorite. Yo-chan, Tanaka's young son plays it with the neighboring kids in a vacant temple lot. Shibata, the year's most valuable player in the Central and Pacific leagues, is the national idol.

Sumo wrestling attracts fans of all ages but particularly, because of its traditional nature, among the middle-aged. Its hero is Yokozuna — Grand Champion — Taibo, a cherubic 315-pounder whose televised bouts disrupt office routines through the country.

Skiing, mountain climbing, golf, the martial sports — judo, kendo, karate — are enjoying an unprecedented boom.

Much of the old, alas, is disappearing. New buildings of doubtful style are replacing graceful ones of long and dignified life. Sushi Alley, the winding lane hung with paper lanterns and neon signs next to Tokyo's Yurakucho Station, soon will make way for a modern building and park.

Topless Trials Exciting Show?

NEW YORK (AP) — Topless goes on trial in the city Tuesday and the bare-breasted cause has a star witness—Carol Doda. Carol, in the forefront of the fad since it started in San Francisco, arrived Sunday, promising expert testimony and “moral support” for two topless waitresses charged with indecent exposure and creating a public nuisance.

“Topless trials are the most exciting show in New York,” the Doda woman said. “I don't think they have any topless law. Bosoms never went out.”

The two waitresses, arrested Nov. 15, could receive a maximum penalty of a year in jail and a $500 fine on each misdemeanor count if convicted.

Bonds Approved

DENTON, Tex. (AP)—North Texas State University's regents have authorized sale of $2 million in state ad valorem tax bonds for construction of a Language Building for use by the fall of 1968.

The bonds were sold to First National City Bank of New York at an effective interest rate of 5.91136 per cent.

Returned For Trial

John Marvin Peters, slated for release from Rusk State Hospital for the Criminally Insane, and Bobbie Jack Nichols, serving a sentence at Huntsville State Penitentiary, were both returned to Big Spring over the weekend. Sam Roberts, deputy sheriff, was dispatched to bring the pair back. Both are scheduled to face trials in 118th District Court here.

WASHINGTON HIGHLIGHTS

Louisiana Demo Nixes New Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Hale Boggs, a member of the Warren Commission, says he doubts that the investigation of President John F. Kennedy's assassination should be reopened without new evidence.

Boggs, a Louisiana Democrat, said Sunday on the CBS program “Face the Nation” that all the controversy surrounding the commission's report, he has found no question not already raised by the commission.

But he said “if new evidence can be presented it should be looked at objectively.”

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. commissioner of education suggests that schools should examine new ways to bring children of all races and backgrounds together—but he says the government is not going to force such moves.

Harold Howe II, in a copy-right interview in U.S. News & World Report magazine, suggested supplementary education centers as one means to mix children and acknowledged that so-called educational parks are another.

The supplementary center would concentrate, for example, expensive science facilities which would be available to all students from a wide area. The educational park enlarges school districts and cuts the number of separate schools.

Howe said he does not want to do away with neighborhood schools, but he questioned whether the neighborhood is always accurately reflected. “School authorities should not willy-nilly preserve schools if it turns out that neighborhood schools will not answer the problems of education,” he said.

Senate hearings into problems of cities reopen Tuesday for a three-week run under direction of Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn.

What'd you expect us to put our Overhead Cam Six in?

An ordinary car?

Our revolutionary 165-hp OHC 6 is so revolutionary we had to do something special with it. So we made it standard in all Tempests and Le Mans.

You see, it was inspired by those famous overhead cam engines in expensive European sports cars. With a few Pontiac refinements, of course.

That's why it'll keep running and running until somebody turns it off. And with a power reserve for expressway passing you'd normally expect from a V-8.

We even offer a 215-hp version that makes a lot of big V-8s seem awfully extravagant. Which is why we say, with a 6 like this who needs an 8?

Incidentally, a four-way hazard warning flasher, backup lights, and GM's energy absorbing steering column are some of the safety features also standard in all Tempests and Le Mans. So how can you possibly resist seeing your Pontiac dealer right now?
