Saga Of Patched Leg

By SAM BLACKBURN

The man was deaf and dumb. He could read and write only one language—French. He was broke, and so was his leg. The broken leg, it should be explained, was of the artificial variety. A part of the ankle mechanism had snapped. The man showed up first at the Cowper Hospital and Clinic. It was decided by Truett Thomas, hospital superintendent, that the fracture was not in the realm of medical surgery and fell more under the listing of rehabilitation.

therapist, is trained neither in French nor in repairing broken artificial legs. The nearest place, Jim discovered, where repairs could be made on the leg was Lubbock. He got this message across to the "patient," who gestured and made faces. "Where was Lubbock?" he seemed to want to know. He had never heard of Lubbock. When he finally grasped that it was 100 miles north, he blew up. He could not, he indicated, walk 100 miles on a broken leg. Thompson decided to send the man to the VA Hospital. Maybe, he figured, something could be done there. Another taxi ride was arranged and the stranger wound up in the hands of Rex Bishop, coordinator of physical medicine, who figured an alternate solution. He located an old, discarded artificial leg and took the ankle segment from it to replace the broken part in the "patient's" leg. Miss Helene Morrow, the VA Hospital librarian, is multilingual and communicated with him in French. It developed that the man, whose name was not obtained, was a French-Canadian from Montreal. He was hitching to New Orleans, he said. No one seems to have learned why. But with his patched up leg working good as new, he hit the road. Probably he's well along toward New Orleans by now.

Air Force, Navy Ordered To Increase Pilot Training

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, moving to ease a shortage of combat pilots, has given the Navy and Air Force the go-ahead to sharply boost their pilot training next year. This was revealed Thursday night by well-qualified sources who also said the secretary will sign an order within the next few days granting the Army additional funds to nearly double its pilot training output. McNamara's decision to increase pilot training comes amid repeated reports that the armed services are facing severe shortages of young fliers due to the increasing demands of the Viet Nam war. The defense chief, however, has consistently denied that such shortages exist. But the sources said McNamara now has approved an Air Force request for a ninth training base — to be named later — and also ordered it to accelerate pilot training programs. The goal, said the sources, is to boost pilot output at the eight bases now in operation from 2,200 pilots next year and 2,500 bases now in operation from 2,700 to 2,920. McNamara also has ordered Air Force planners to get the new base in full operation by next July 1. It was learned the Navy will not get new bases, but instead has been ordered to increase its facilities at training locations in Pensacola, Fla., Meridian, Miss., and Corpus Christi, Tex. Under the McNamara plan, these bases are expected to turn out about 1,800 pilots this year; increased training.

Pan Am Strike Deadline Extended

NEW YORK (AP) — The Transport Workers Union (TWU) agreed today to an hour-to-hour postponement of a strike that would ground Pan American World Airways, the nation's largest international airline. A union leader said at 11:50 a.m. that the noon strike deadline was being extended because of progress in contract negotiations with the airline. POISED The union's 13,000 members had been poised to strike at noon if contract terms had not been reached by then. The union spokesman said progress at the morning bargaining sessions, during which union and management representatives met separately, prompted the union to put off the strike "on an hour by hour basis."

flights to the far east and Viet Nam would be exempted from the strike. Earlier today, a union negotiator, who did not identify himself, said Pan Am had made a new offer to the union. He reported the offer as negotiations resumed at 9 a.m. FINAL OFFER He said Pan Am called the offer "final." He said, "This is the third final offer from management." The public relations officer for the union said he had no knowledge of the reported Pan Am offer.

UNEMPLOYMENT DROPS BACK, EMPLOYMENT AT ALL-TIME HIGH

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's unemployment rate dropped back to its 1966 low of 3.7 per cent last month and total employment hit an all-time November high of 75 million, the Labor Department reported today. The jobless rate declined from 3.9 per cent in October to 3.7 per cent in November. It was the third time this year the rate had hit that level, the lowest in 13 years. The number of unemployed last month was 2,650,000. Total employment soared by 300,000, compared with a usual November drop of 600,000. "Some of the increase is a purely temporary phenomenon," said Asst. Commissioner Harold Goldstein of the Bureau of Labor Statistics. He said several hundred thousand women got temporary jobs election day and this surge in jobs disappeared the following week. But, Goldstein added, "some of the employment increase is real and reflects a continuing strong job situation."

Thant Assured Of New Term

Council Gives Unanimous Okay Today

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The re-election of U.N. Secretary-General U Thant for a new five-year term was assured today when the Security Council gave its unanimous approval and sent its recommendation to the General Assembly for ratification later in the day. The 15-nation council acted in a closed meeting after the 57-year-old Burmese diplomat had bowed to continued pressure and reversed his announced intention to retire.

ONE FACTOR One factor which influenced Thant's decision to take another term, diplomats said, was the assurances given by the big powers that he would have full authority to use his initiative in peace making. The council adopted a declaration reaffirming a charter provision stating that the secretary-general may call the council into session whenever he believes peace is threatened. A meeting of the 121-nation assembly was called for 5 p.m. EST to formalize Thant's election and to fix the date for the expiration of his new term as Dec. 31, 1971. Approval was expected to be unanimous. PASSED WORD Thant passed the word among members last January that he was thinking of bowing out at the close of his first term, which expired Nov. 3. He announced Sept. 1 that he had decided against a second term. But the wording of the announcement left members in doubt. When the General Assembly opened its policy debate three weeks later, a parade of foreign ministers and top delegates appealed to the Burmese diplomat to reconsider. Thant, 57, made plain that he felt frustrated over failure to launch peace negotiations on Viet Nam and by the financial plight of the United Nations, which has a peacekeeping deficit estimated at between $30 million and $50 million. Just before his term expired one month ago, Thant agreed to stay on until the end of the assembly session, expected Dec. 20.

NEW APPEAL This week the council launched a new appeal to Thant. The secretary-general agreed to postpone his final decision, set for Wednesday, for two days. Some delegates expressed the view that Thant's decision may have been influenced by the improving financial situation. Japan announced Thursday that it was helping out with a voluntary contribution of $2.5 million. Britain already has contributed $10 million, Canada $4 million and Sweden, Denmark, Norway and Iceland $5-780,000. The Soviet Union and France, the two principal debtors, have made no contributions, but reliable sources say they have indicated to Thant that they will do so soon.

Beneath The Students, Sproul Plaza Under this mass of humanity lies Sproul Hall Plaza, focal point of University of California's periodic uprisings. With an estimated 10,000 students and non-students jammed into the area, it is difficult to see the concrete, macadam and brick design of the plaza. Building in the background is the Student Union, scene of the current protest against Navy recruiting team which resulted in arrest of 10 persons. Strike, called by the students, is continuing. Administration Plans No Fast Action Against Boycott BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Rain, impending final exams and a wait-and-see response by the administration are weakening the student nerve for a classroom boycott at the University of California. Despite those factors, some 10,000 persons stood in a drizzle in front of the Berkeley campus administrative building Thursday and shouted for continuation of the boycott. There are 27,500 students at the campus. Estimates of the boycott's effectiveness varied. The boycott was called to protest the arrest of four students and six nonstudents Wednesday during a sit-in against a Navy recruiting table in the Student Union. Chancellor Roger W. Heyns, who was attending conferences at Harvard and Princeton universities, cut short his trip and flew back to the campus. He met with his staff, faculty and student leaders. Heyns refused to see newsmen and declined to comment on the boycott. A university spokesman said Heyns felt that a slow, thoughtful solution was better than a quick response to student activities. Daniel G. McIntosh, president of the Associated Students of the University of California, the student governing body, said the students were boycotting classes to force the dropping of the charges and threats of punishment against persons involved in the sit-in so that recruiters for government bodies will be subjected to the same regulations on campus as any other nonstudent organization, and to make the university promise that outside police agencies will not be used to control on-campus demonstrations and activities.

Unaccounted for were two of the Morrell's lifeboats. "If the men had gotten into one of those boats, they could still be alive, floating around out there somewhere," said Lt. Kenneth Cutler, Coast Guard rescue coordination officer at Cleveland. "We admit it's only a strand of hope and very improbable."

Boat Disaster Puzzles Experts

HARBOR BEACH, Mich. (AP) — With 20 bodies found, the Coast Guard today pressed its search for eight missing but almost certainly dead crewmen of the Daniel J. Morrell as a board of inquiry planned an investigation of some puzzling aspects of the tragedy. In the worst Great Lakes disaster in eight years, the 603-foot ore carrier split apart and went to the bottom of Lake Huron early Tuesday during a gale that concealed her fate for 34 hours. There was one survivor, Dennis Hale, 26, a deck watchman from Ashtabula, Ohio. Hale was asleep in his bunk when awakened by the battering that ripped the 12,500-ton Morrell in two. Hale will be the only eyewitness before the board of inquiry appointed Thursday by Adm. Willard J. Smith, the Coast Guard commandant in Washington. Among the puzzling aspects of the tragedy were these: —The Coast Guard reported receiving no distress signal from the Morrell, which sank about two hours after it sent a routine message stating its position in the storm-lashed waters. —Why did the 60-year-old Morrell go down when its sister ship, the E.Z. Thermometers Nosedive As Cold Front Attacks

By The Associated Press Thermometers nosedived far below freezing in the Texas Panhandle as a weakening cold front crawled deeper into the state today. Readings before dawn ranged as low as 13 degrees above zero at Amarillo and Dalhart, and 14 degrees at Perryton. Early morning marks were considerably warmer in most other sections, including Lubbock 20, Childress 22, Wichita Falls 29, Big Spring 31, Abilene 33, Midland 38, Dallas and Fort Worth 40, El Paso 41, Texarkana 43, Tyler 51, Longview 52 and Waco 55. And in Galveston, the island resort city on the coast, it was a warm 68 degrees. Skies were partly cloudy across the east half of Texas and clear in the west. Except for the possibility of a few showers near the coast, no moisture was in prospect. Forecasts promised another cool night in northern areas of the state, with lows down to 29 in the Panhandle and 30 in the north central and northeast sections. Rising temperatures were predicted in the north Saturday and little change in the south.

Gales Pose Ship Threat

LONDON (AP) — Radio distress signals crackled from at least half a dozen ships today as gales lashed the British Isles and surrounding seas. The winds, gusting to nearly 130 miles an hour, blew heavy trucks off roads and left a trail of havoc. Snow and heavy rain hit England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales. Among the ships reporting trouble were the 7,176-ton Panamanian steamer Humboldt in the North Sea; the 900-ton Norwegian freighter Vinland off the Holyhead coast; the English lightship Varne in the Channel; the 2,739-ton British freighter Grit, the 1,946-ton Egyptian freighter Helvan and a Greek ship reported to be the 1,287-ton all in the Irish Sea. Rain pattered Italy from the Alps to Sicily and waters rose again at Venice and Florence, the chief centers stricken by the great flood of Nov. 4.

Kosygin Blasts West Germany

PARIS (AP) — Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, in France on a state visit, made a biting attack on West Germany today and sounded a warning against the resurrection of "the forces of fascism." DENUNCIATION Kosygin turned what was expected to have been a ceremonial visit to the Paris City Hall into a denunciation of what he said were West German ambitions for territory and nuclear arms. "The present situation in Europe is far from reassuring," the 62-year-old Kremlin leader said. "Demands for revision of postwar frontiers, coupled with pretensions for nuclear armament, carry the threat of upsetting the equilibrium and the peace of Europe," he said. "The forces of fascism and war, defeated on the battlefield, are reappearing in broad daylight, unembarrassed and arrogant. The results of the recent elections in West Germany — in Bavaria and Hesse — constitute a new warning which should put even the most unconcerned on their guard." Kosygin was referring to the recent electoral successes of the rightist National Democratic party, which succeeded in winning a few seats in the Bavarian and Hessian legislatures for the first time. The Soviet premier said the only lasting bases for European security are "the inviolability of existing frontiers, particularly the Oder-Neisse frontier, and the denial of West German access to nuclear arms, under any form whatsoever."

LONGEST CONTINUOUS SERVICE ON THE CITY PAYROLL

Skeet Foresyth Marks 38th Year

By GLENN COOTES

When R. V. (Skeet) Foresyth signed on the City of Big Spring payroll, the prairie town was still trying to catch up with an oil boom and sometimes had a difficult time meeting the payroll.

He went to work Nov. 28, 1922, and last Monday quietly marked his 38th year as a municipal employe, ranking him first in continuous service among the city's army of veteran employes.

Today, Foresyth is supervisor of a vast yard of equipment, numbering 192 pieces of rolling stock valued at some $511,681. But in 1928, the city could boast only one Model T pickup truck, a Dodge coupe for a police car and one fire truck, all valued at about $11,000.

MULE TEAM

The pride and joy of the street department in 1928 was a span of mules and a grader blade. Foresyth harnessed the mules and graded the major streets each day of the week. He had a rotary broom which the mules pulled one evening each week. He said it took about two hours to sweep all downtown then, and it takes about the same time today, using modern mechanized sweepers.

He originally went to work in the water department, he remembers, which had a crew of five. His primary work was digging the right of way for new water lines and installing water taps. Two weeks later, he transferred to the street department, which boasted a crew of two, and he has remained in that department continuously since.

For a street department of two, the city limits stretched far and wide — way out to Eighteenth Street on the south, to the Edwards Heights area on the west, Benton Street on the east, and most of the present North Side.

LITTLE PAVING

Almost all of this vast area had dirt streets, the only paving being on Scurry, Main and Runnels, between First and Fourth streets. The City Hall and warehouses were located on what is today the northwest corner of the courthouse square.

One of his chores was to bed down the mules each evening, and even to this day, he sees that all the city's equipment is on the warehouse grounds before he leaves for the evening. In 1930, the city sold its mules and changed entirely to mechanized equipment. By 1934, the street department swelled to a force of eight, and Foresyth was named foreman.

When 1939 rolled around, the city fathers decided the growing city needed a regular garbage collection department, and Foresyth was named to head it, in addition to his street department duties. He started with 22 commercial customers, as most residents preferred to burn their garbage rather than worry with keeping it in cans for pickup.

DEPARTMENTS GROW

The first sanitation department had four men, and the first dump ground was out on East Sixth Street, in the vicinity of the present location of Ponderosa Apartments. Foresyth remembers the gate to the dump grounds was located near the present site of Pinkie's Liquor Store, and it was considered so far out of town that crews carried their lunch when they had to make the long trip.

His street department has grown to 21 men today and the sanitation department has burgeoned to 17. In 1955, he was also tapped to supervise the city's garage operation, which has eight men.

But through the years, he has worked in practically every city department, now considered "public works." This includes the parks, cemetery, water distribution, and others.

It was during the war that the city first put a charge on garbage collection, and today the city collects some 37 tons per day with five modern packer trucks and utilizing more than 300 special containers for large accounts.

City employes worked a 48-hour week in the early 1930s, he recalls, and with the onslaught of the Depression, employes were easy to find.

DELAYED PAY

"We could hire all the men we needed at $2 per day," he said. But there were problems. He remembers that twice the city could not meet its payroll — once employes had to wait 30 days for their pay envelopes.

In the early days, most of the street department work involved drainage, as most of the rain falling south of the city found its way into the downtown area — sometimes in flood proportions.

One of the first major water diversion projects was a deep ditch in the Eighteenth Street area, which began at Runnels and reached across to Lancaster. This ditch caught most of the water entering the city and carried to the deep ravines west of the populated area, he said. It has since been filled and other diversion dams built to replace it.

Another major project was leveling the hill where the present city hall stands. This plot was on the edge of town and quite a huge mound. The huge mound was leveled for the city hall site entirely by hand-crews using long-handled shovels.

SUPERVISES LARGE FORCE
The public works warehouse was moved to the site where Gibson's now stands during the 1930s, and was relocated on East Second, the present site, in 1948. Recently, the city purchased additional land in the area for future expansion.

Foresyth, now street and sanitation superintendent, has 47 men under his supervision — three of them with over 20 years service and five others with more than 15 years.

He was born in Eastland County, and came to Big Spring when still a lad, attending school here. Big Spring adopted the city manager form of government in 1926, and Foresyth has worked for all seven of the managers the city has had.

He has two sons, Jerry Wayne Foresyth, who works at Cosden, and Jimmy Doyle, in engineering with the Texas Highway Department.

Although Foresyth has the longest continuous service with the city, three other veterans make it a tight race. Lee Nuckels, water distribution superintendent, joined the city in the fall of 1926, but interrupted his service in 1927 and again in 1941-42.

Roy Hester, superintendent of the water filter plant, joined the city a few weeks after Foresyth — on Dec. 15, 1928. The next year, on Dec. 27, 1929, Fire Chief H. V. Crocker started fighting fires.

'Dracula' Curtain Goes Up Today

Jerry Whitlock, director of the upcoming Big Spring Little Theatre production of "Dracula," said today the cast has the play ready for the opening performance this evening at 8 o'clock.

The cast includes: Jack Meeker, as Count Dracula. Meeker, who uses the stage name of Jack Richards, is one of the more experienced workers in the little theatre program here. He has directed six of the organization's productions, as well as productions in the Air Force, and in professional and semi-professional theatre in his home state of California. He has appeared on the legitimate stage, college stage, and in television. He has had parts in "The Rainmaker," "Stalag 17," "John Brown's Body," "Romeo and Juliet," "Hamlet," and "Bus Stop."

Private Life Clothes For Someone Special

By MARY SUE ILLER

At-home clothes are surely among the better fashion happenings. In this workaday world, what a pleasure it is to get out of one's workaday clothes and slip into something that savors of ease and private living. It makes us and those around us feel special.

The choice of at-homes differs, of course, with individual tastes and requirements. For full enjoyment a selection must above all suit your evening activities. Otherwise you are headed for trouble, like the bride who wore a floating chiffon peignoir to fry fish.

At-home collections cater to every want. The flower-sprigged flannel pantsuit has the Miss Teen's name on it. Needing to combine the pretty and practical, busy careerists and homemakers might well take to sleek, gentled cotton T-dresses, slim of sleeve and ankle-length, in gay paint-box plaids. For women with a leisurely approach, a pale sheer wool or velvet caftan should hold appeal.

At-homes for entertaining range from the informal to the elegant. Informal translates to silky, wildly printed, wide-legged jumpsuits and p.j.'s with an overblouse.

Elegance reigns in trailing Medieval gowns of embroidered enve-brocade. Straight from The Lady of the Lake!

Of course you may have entirely different ideas. No matter, as long as they lead to a delightful appearance.

KNOWS NO AGE
Some women age before their time; some retain their youthful beauty and charm. Why? The secrets of non-stop attractiveness are revealed in "Beauty Knows No Age." Advice covers ways to a youthful figure, skin and hair; to flattering make-up, hairstyles and fashions. ## TEXANS AT WAR Finding Enemy Hardest Thing

By The Associated Press

Maj. Billie Williams, a Texan at War, commanded a 1st Cavalry Division troop instrumental in setting up the Viet Nam war's biggest battle, the Battle of the Ia Drang Valley.

That was the pitched fight in November of 1965 in which North Viet Nam's regulars stood up and slugged it out with crack American troops for the first time. The Americans won mightily.

Williams, 35, of Linden, was with the first contingent of the 1st Cav which was sent to Viet Nam in August, 1965.

Initially stationed at Qui Nhon, a Central Highlands coastal town, he took part in operations "Shiny Bayonet" and "Silver Bayonet" before the historic Ia Drang encounter.

"The hardest thing was finding them," he said of the preliminaries of the clash.

TROOP COMMANDER

"I was commanding C Troop, which was supplementing the 3rd Brigade. We'd been patrolling near the Cambodian border.

"We knew the North Viet regulars were there. It was a question of flushing them out.

"On Nov. 3, we were screening the west flank of the border. Suddenly, there they were. We hit them hard with an ambush and they never quite recovered. A week later, the 3rd Brigade engaged them in full array and cut them to pieces."

VINDICATED

The clash vindicated the American strategy, then untested, of using massed helicopters to carry large forces over jungle terrain impassable by foot, setting them down battle-ready in strength.

Williams now is chief of academic training analysis at Fort Wolters, key school for helicopter pilots executing this strategy.

Williams said the most difficult aspect of Ia Drang, aside from the firefight itself, was finding suitable landing zones for helicopters.

Kiwanians Take Another Bite For Their Party

There are more youngsters living in the vicinity of the West Side park this year than a year ago, and there are fewer Kiwanians to act as Santa Claus than last December.

Therefore, each Kiwanian is charged with providing not two presents, as has been the rule in the past, but three for the West Side Christmas party. The party, annually staged by the Kiwanis Club, is a luncheon affair held in the community house at the park.

Boys and girls of the area, selected by social workers familiar with children who make use of the park playground, will each receive a gift. The club members are limited to spend not more than $2 per gift.

The kids and Kiwanians are served sandwiches, cold drinks and cookies. Santa Claus hands out the presents.

Plans for the party were outlined at the Thursday luncheon of the club. Jim Thompson, chairman of the committee, handed each member a list of three names.

Announcement was made that the recent chili supper netted about $200 profit and that some additional funds are yet to be received.

Farm Workers Get Pay Boost

LONDON (AP) — A pay increase was negotiated Wednesday for 400,000 British farm workers, the first for a major union since the government decreed an austerity freeze in July.

The raise of 84 cents a week is the lowest won by the farm union since 1962 and was 60 per cent of what it sought. Basic pay is $30 for a 44-hour week.

City Asks Bids For Gasoline

The City of Big Spring will receive bids Dec. 29 for supplying gasoline to the city for the six months period beginning Jan. 1, according to Roy Anderson, assistant city manager.

The bid involves about 30,000 gallons of Ethyl gasoline and 45,000 gallons of regular gasoline, he said. The bids will be opened at 2 p.m. in the City Hall, then submitted to the City Commission for consideration.

Opening lead: King of ♠
South developed too elaborate a plan of campaign in attempting to bring home his five diamond contract, and thereby paved the way for his own downfall.

When North opened the bidding with one no-trump, South decided that there was no scientific way to determine the best contract with his highly distributional holding and he chose to shoot it out for game by leaping directly to five diamonds.

West opened the king of clubs and the ace was played from dummy. South ruffed a club with the Jack of diamonds and then led a small trump. West was in with the ace and he returned another club which was trumped by declarer.

A spade was led to the ace and a small spade was ruffed with the queen of diamonds. Dummy was entered with the nine of trumps, the king of spades was cashed on which South discarded a heart, and the remaining spade was trumped in the closed hand leaving this four card position:

South led a small heart from his hand—it was his intention if West followed with a spot card, to play the nine from dummy. If East won the trick with the queen or king, he would be employed on the return. The play of a black card would present declarer with a ruff and discard, while a heart lead would be directly into the dummy's ace-jack.

West was aware of South's intention and he fooled his opponent in a very neat manner. When the four of hearts was led, declarer could not afford to cover with the ace, inasmuch as he had no convenient reentry to his hand to lead another heart.

South was obliged to let West hold the trick. The latter exited with the deuce of hearts and declarer finessed dummy's jack, in the hope that West had both the king and queen. When East turned up with the king, the contract was set.

Toronto Diocese Has Bold New Job

By IRVING C. WHYNOT
Canadian Press Writer
TORONTO (AP) — Four years ago the Toronto Diocese of the Anglican Church gave one of its priests a new job: Get Anglicans and Jews talking together.

The Rev. Ronald de Cornielle, who got the job, has been talking ever since, almost with missionary zeal, although that probably is the description he'd like least since he has taken great pains to emphasize the absence of any conversion motives.

Even so, some Toronto Jews aren't convinced; others are reserved; some see hope in the program for a better interfaith understanding. Father de Cornielle isn't dismayed.

"After 2,000 years of persecution," he tells his Anglican study groups, "can anyone blame them for being suspicious?"

He has already brought thousands of Christians and Jews together for talks in what he calls "this new relationship."

And while there are some Anglicans as well as Jews who doubt the program's chances of success, it has been something of a pacesetter as far as the church generally is concerned.

So much so that Father de Cornielle's just-published book, "Christians and Jews: Dialogue," will be used by the National Council of Churches, representing the major non-Roman Catholic faiths in the United States, for interfaith conversations there. The program also has attracted attention in Europe.

Father de Cornielle, 39, is a native of Switzerland whose father was at one time Protestant chaplain-general of the French army.

"Christians and Jews: Dialogue" sets out the guidelines. Father de Cornielle uses in his study sessions with Anglican lay groups.

How do the Jews feel about it all?

Four Toronto rabbis were reserved about the project when it was announced four years ago. Here's what they said then, and what they say now:

Rabbi Bernard Rosenzweig — 1962: "I have a feeling that this in effect is another, more subtle, conversion attempt and Jews should be wary." Now: "There is an honest attempt among the more liberal elements of the Church to come to an understanding with Judaism, but we are still wary of the general approach of conversion of the Church."

Rabbi Walter Wurzbarger — 1962: "I feel that a mass movement involving laymen simply would be another missionary effort even if it had a new name." Now: "Dialogue is of value only on an academic level. It's impossible to translate the faith commitments of one religion to another."

Rabbi Gunter Plaut — 1962: "I welcome this new approach. Religion has been a divisive force for too long." Now: "I think we have made some progress, though not as much as first was hoped for."

Six Soloists Featured In 'The Messiah' Sunday

Handel's Christmas oratorio, "The Messiah," will be presented Sunday at 5:30 p.m. at the First Methodist Church, with the church's Chancel Choir, the Howard County Junior College Choir and the Texas Technological College String Orchestra in recital.

James Ball, church organist, will accompany the ensemble on the church's new Reuter pipe organ, and Paul Ellsworth of the Texas Tech music faculty will direct the string symphony.

The entire oratorio will be directed by Van C. Hale, music director at First Methodist Church and chairman of the music department at HCJC.

Tenor soloist will be Dr. Robert L. Clinton Jr., superintendent of schools in Snyder. Dr. Clinton holds bachelor and master degrees from North Texas State University and a doctor of education degree from Texas Tech. He is an active Methodist layman, as well as an accomplished musician.

Bass soloist will be Mel Ivey, choral director at Big Spring High School. Ivey has received both a bachelor and master of music degrees from North Texas State University. While studying in Denton, he was soloist with the NTSU a cappella choir and was soloist at the Denton First Methodist Church. He is presently the second vice president of Texas Choral Directors Association and is choral director for St. Mary's Episcopal Church.

Three soprano soloists will be featured in the oratorio. One is Mrs. Carl Bradley, who is a music teacher in the Big Spring Public Schools. Mrs. Bradley graduated from Big Spring High School and attended Howard County Junior College before obtaining her bachelor of music degree from NTSU. While at NTSU she sang in many of the University's choral groups and in 1958 toured Europe with the All-American Chorus. She is a member of the First Methodist Choir and sings with the Midland-Odessa Chorale.

Mrs. Don Newsom is a soprano soloist with the First Methodist Church Choir. She is a graduate of Texas Christian University. While in Fort Worth, she sang with the Fort Worth Civic Opera Association. She has sung professionally with the Lubbock, Amarillo and Midland-Odessa Symphonies.

Mrs. Don Brinegar sang professionally with the Vaidia Musical Comedy Singers and the Light Opera of Miami, Fla. While in Florida, she gave weekly concerts for the Miami Beach Recreation Department. She studied voice with Ladislav Viada and Mana-Zucca. She is a graduate of NTSU, holding a bachelor of music degree. She is presently singing with the First Methodist Church Choir and the Midland-Odessa Chorale. Mrs. Brinegar is the daughter of Mrs. Ann Houser, well-known musician and piano teacher in Big Spring.

The alto soloist for "The Messiah" will be Mrs. Gwendolyn McLaughlin. She is a graduate of McMurry College, holding a bachelor of science degree. She has studied voice with Dr. Richard C. Von Ende. For five years she was choral director at Snyder Junior High School. Mrs. McLaughlin has done solo work in the surrounding area and is presently a teacher in the Big Spring Public Schools.

The Rev. Leo K. Gee, pastor, and the Rev. Harold Rucker, assistant pastor, have extended an invitation to all members of the community to attend.

St. Paul's To Install Pastor

The Rev. Dan Sebesta, new pastor of St. Paul Presbyterian Church, will be installed in special ceremonies Sunday at 7:30 p.m. at the church.

Rev. Sebesta will preach his first sermon in the church here at the Sunday morning worship service. He comes to Big Spring from Eldorado.

The women of the church are in charge of arrangements. Mrs. Don Wiley is the president, and spearheading the reception arrangements after the installation are Mrs. Joe Horton and Mrs. Bill Gibson, chairmen of the women's circles.

All friends of St. Paul Presbyterian Church are invited to attend.

Christians Are Not Patriots?

MONTREAT, N. C. (AP) — Christians "are seldom patriots—at least in the sense in which patriotism connotes a stupid allegiance to the mythology of a nation," William Stringfellow told a Christian-action conference sponsored by the southern Presbyterian church.

The New York attorney, an Episcopal layman, added that "a Christian is free to be first of all a mature man in this world, free from the idolatry of nationhood, even in its more beguiling forms" and that "free from the fraudulence of myth, free from the blasphemy inherent in any mythology," he is "free to revolt."

PROPHECIES OF PEACE

The message of peace is still dramatic and important, as Isaiah points out in the International Sunday School Lesson for this Sunday. He puts his hope in prophesying the Birth of Christ, not in social programs, social security, economic planning or treaties or power politics. He puts it in a change in the human heart.

Until there is a desire for peace in the individual heart, there will never be peace between nations.

Text comes from Isaiah 9:2-7; 11:1-9.

GOVERNOR RECOMMENDS SEPARATE POLLUTION AGENCY

Asks Funds For Water Boards

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. John Connally recommended Thursday a total of $11,667,948 be appropriated for fiscal 1968-69 for the Texas Water Development Board, Water Pollution Control Board and Water Rights Commission.

The governor's budget request also contained a recommendation that the pollution board, now part of the State Health Department, be made a separate agency. The Water Development Board and Water Rights Commission are separate agencies.

Connally also requested "passage of an administrative water rights adjudication act by the 60th Legislature."

The appropriation request for the development board is $7,525,152. For the pollution control board $2,442,484 is asked, and for the Water Rights Commission $1,699,412.

The governor said his recommendations also are highlighted by fund proposals to:

- Continue state leadership in water planning and development by providing an enlarged staff and additional planning and implementation capability for the Water Development Board.
- Provide for a water pollution control board — river authority cooperative water quality monitoring and surveillance program.
- Strengthen the water rights administration capability of the water rights commission through an enlarged staff.
- Provide continuing supervision of the Texas river compacts by the Water Rights Commission.

"No other single natural resource is as important to Texas as water. These recommendations represent not a cost but an investment for the present and future benefit of all of Texas," Connally said.

The development board's appropriation recommendation for each year is about twice what was appropriated by the last legislature. For the current fiscal year — $1,844,961. He noted that the board has lots of work left to do on the statewide water plan and warned: stand ready to determine our economic fate as a state if we dare default. Our water is too important to us for this fate to befall us ever."

The pollution control board's total recommended appropriation included $400,000 in federal funds. Each year's total appropriation proposal was more than three times the sum the board has to spend now — $62,528.

Connally said the board has taken steps since its inception in 1961 "to assure the quality of our waters, but the board has been handicapped. It has had no staff of its own — until 1966 and, then, a very limited staff."

He said the scope of the recommended 1968-69 program "will cover the problem areas — the metropolitan areas where high density concentration of people and industrial plants require immediate attention."

The governor recommended a 36-member board and staff, headed by an executive director making $20,000 a year.

Provided in a $375,000 appropriation recommendation, he said, are funds to allow the board "to develop cooperative programs with river authorities where they are presently feasible (such as the San Antonio River Authority) and to provide its own field staff in areas such as Harris-Galveston Counties, where no river authority has jurisdiction."

Connally's annual recommendation for the Water Rights Commission — about $775,000 — compares to $331,731 appropriated for it in the current fiscal year.

He recommended 15 new jobs on the commission.

Mild, dry weather was the norm in Texas last month. San Antonio had its driest November in 63 years to tie a record set in 1894. The Alamo City received only a trace of rain on one day during the month.

Seal Money Goes To Help Those With Lung Trouble

The money that is received through the sales of Christmas Seals by the Howard County Tuberculosis Association goes a long way toward bringing active cases of tuberculosis to light and their victims back to health.

In Howard County recently five active cases of tuberculosis were located and all of them are now under treatment, some at their home in isolation and others at the McKnight Sanatorium. The cases were found through the local unit's worker in charge of case finding.

All the money sent in by those who receive seals through letters mailed by the association is used to help those afflicted by tuberculosis, emphysema and other respiratory diseases.

There is a fourfold mutual goal of the Texas Tuberculosis Association: 1) To bring TB control services into every part of Texas, 2) to tuberculin test school children and people in close contact with them, 3) to afford health supervision to arrested TB patients, and 4) to educate the public to the need for the above.

According to facts found by the state association, one in six Texans has TB germs in his body. In 1965, in 2,655 of those Texans, these germs brought down their victims with active tuberculosis. Although there have been great strides in the detection and treatment of TB, some 610,000 Americans are directly affected by this disease and 110,000 are known to have active disease. There are 250,000 who have had TB recently and might suffer a relapse.

The nation can't afford to treat tuberculosis, emphysema, asthma and bronchitis lightly... and Big Spring can start by responding to the Christmas Seal Sale, association officials said.

Georgians Throng Farm Offices

BLAKELY, Ga. (AP) — Dozens of farmers — some of whom will receive thousands of dollars and others sure to be disappointed — have applied for the government cropland adjustment program after standing in line for days in near-freezing weather.

Warren Cleveland, manager of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office in this South Georgia town in the peanut belt, said 89 farmers signed up to be paid by the government for not planting allotted acreage.

Court's Civil Docket Has Slight Decline For Month

A slight decrease in the total cases on file in the 118th District Court in November compared with October was reported today by Fern Cox, district court clerk.

There were 1,036 cases on hand when the month opened. Forty-three new cases were filed during November. Fifty-five cases were disposed of and the total at the end of the month was 1,024.

Divorce suits on file showed a drop of 16 for the period. The month began with 217 on file. Eleven new cases — a small number for this category — were filed. Twenty divorces were granted and seven cases dismissed. The total at the end of the month was 201. Annulments remained unchanged with four on file as did tax suits. There were 308 tax suits pending Nov. 11 and the same number on Dec. 1.

Other civil cases showed a slight increase. There were 441 of these on file as of Nov. 1. Thirty-two new cases were filed. Eight were tried before the court and 10 were dismissed.

Further, he said in a speech to the New York Society of Security Analysts, the firm will boost sales to $800 million in 1968.

to leave the total as of Dec. 1 at 455.

There was a decrease of 10 in the criminal file. Five cases were tried before the court and five others were dismissed on motion of the district attorney.

From the left, top row, they are coach Buddy Travis, Larry Linder, 6-4; and Barry Linder, 6-5, both of Waco; Jack Thompson, 6-7; Ysleta; Simon Terrazas, 6-4, Big Spring; Jack Hosley, 6-4, Leadville, Colo.; and coach Verdel

HC At Home Tonight To Powerful TWC

TWC MENTOR Jerry Hale

Coach Buddy Travis couldn't have picked a tougher opponent for his HCJC Jayhawks for this home basketball opener, scheduled for 7:30 o'clock this evening. At that hour, the Hawks square off with the Texas Western College freshmen, who represent the best of the splendid talent offered the El Paso school in the wake of TWC's sweep of the NCAA championship last March. This Western team has been recruited in places as far removed as Azusa, Calif., Detroit, Mich., and Mt. Vernon, N. Y. The TWC's tallest player, however, is a home-grown product, 6-8 Tom Issac of El Paso, who weighs 200 pounds. Only an inch less is another El Paso high school graduate with the team, Loy Wells, who weighs 180. John Ruid, 6-1, 180-pounder, is the Azusa, Calif., lad with the TWC frosh. The young man who hails from Mt. Vernon, N. Y., is 6-2 Walter Keys, 175 pounds. The TWC freshmen made their first start of the season at home last night against Co-chise JC, Arizona. HCJC will repay the visit, but not until Feb. 18. HCJC carries a 2-2 win-loss record on the floor, not outstanding but good, considering the calibre of teams it has played.

The Hawks have won over Odessa and Garden City, Kansas; and lost to Cameron, Okla.; and Dodge City, Kan. The last three games were in the Garden City, Kan., Holiday Classic. In their four starts, the Hawks have been averaging 75.8 points a game, compared to 73.5 for the opposition. Probable starters for HCJC are five sophomores — Lee Leonard, 6-4, Eunice, N. M.; Leon Smith, 6-5, Austin; Henry Willis, 6-5, Levelland; Jack Hosley, 6-4, Leadville, Colo.; and Bill Sinches, 6-2, San Angelo. Leonard leads the Hawks in scoring with a 14.8-point average.

Rebel-Bobcat Tilt Headlines Action

Almost two-thirds of the four-division star spangled quarter-finals of the Texas schoolboy football race will be played tonight but the big game — the one they've been swinging toward all season — comes Saturday afternoon. That's when Amarillo Tascosa, unbeaten and untied in 12 games, clashes with San Angelo, a grim and ominous shadow on the gridiron trail. Here, they say, is the game that will mean most in the battle for the Class AAAA championship. Tascosa could run its course. San Angelo could reach the pinnacle once conceded to it before an unexpected defeat at the hands of Odessa Permian. Tascosa beat Permian, which should make it the favorite, but

Pro Champs Could Earn $23,000 Each In Bowl

NEW YORK (AP) — Each player on the team winning the professional football championship may receive a bonanza of $23,000, a record for a team sport. The pay for two games would almost double the all-time high of $12,794 for a baseball World Series winner for a minimum of four games. The Los Angeles Dodgers of 1963 hold the baseball record.

Alice, speared by the passing of Duke Barry and running of Bobby Clemons, clashes with San Antonio MacArthur in the other game tonight. This is the only one matching undefeated, untied teams. The Alice-MacArthur game could be a wild one and the Mike McLeod-led San Antonians could make it wilder than Alice might want.

Pensions Due To Mushroom

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Major league baseball clubs have agreed to finance an $8.2-million pension plan in which a player could receive as much as $1,000 a month at age 65. Under the terms of the new plan — the cost of which has been shared by both owners and players in the past — a player, manager, coach or trainer who was active for 10 years will receive approximately $500 a month at the age of 50. That's twice as much as in the past. If the individual leaves his retirement income in the plan until he is 65, he would receive about $1,000 a month.

At the same time San Angelo and Tascosa joust at Amarillo Saturday afternoon, Dallas Bryan Adams will be clashing with Carrollton at Dallas. This is the most lightly regarded game of the week since neither team is considered of championship caliber. Bryan Adams was slashed 39-17 by Tascosa in an early season game. McKinney and Bridge City take the spotlight in Class AAA because they are the teams favored for the finals. McKinney plays Ennis at Arlington tonight, expected to wade through to the semifinals with a great show of power. Bridge City meets Clear Creek, an upstart in the state race, at Baytown Saturday night.

The only defending state champion left in the race will show its strength in Class AA as Plano takes on Daingerfield tonight. The winner will face the victor in an Iowa Park-Granbury clash at Abilene at the same time. This game sends unbeaten, untied teams at each other.

Steers, Odessa Meet In Odessa Tourney

ODESSA — Big Spring won its fifth straight basketball decision here Thursday evening, 60-53, in a first round game of the Odessa Invitational tournament. The Steers earned the right to oppose the tournament favorite, Odessa High, in the semifinals at 8:45 o'clock tonight. Odessa bombed Amarillo Kermit, 60-53, in a first round game that was much more one-sided than the score would indicate. In other first round games

Tide Game Is On Television

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — The controversy over Alabama's claim to a third straight national championship has overshadowed the bitter rivalry between the Crimson Tide and Auburn, who close out the 1966 football campaign Saturday. Coach Raul (Bear) Bryant says his team deserves the national crown "if we can whip Auburn."

LOOKING 'EM OVER With Tommy Hart

Coach Herman Smith of Big Spring, who predicted San Angelo's defeat at the hands of Odessa Permian earlier this fall, reasons the Bobcats may cop the duke over Amarillo Tascosa by playing ball control. Gene Mayfield, who has sent his club against both teams this season, hesitates to pick a winner but expressed an inclination to go with Tascosa — if he had to stake his life on the outcome. Mayfield would also relish the chance to meet both clubs again. His Panthers lost to Tascosa, 6-0, and won over San Angelo, 12-6. Smith is of the opinion San Angelo will make good use of its air arm to throw the Tascosa defense into occasional confusion.

STEERS (40) Green, Clendenin, W. Johnson, McGuire, Jackson. KERMIT (53) Baker, Scott, Samuel, Sims, McDougal, Peden, Porter. Big Spring Kermit.

Big Spring's Eddy Nelson suffered a knee injury in Howard Payne's recent basketball game with Southwestern and will be sidelined indefinitely. Coach Glen Whittis hopes to have him back by the first week in January.

Time was when Southwest Conference school coaches would not grant an audience to junior college mentors who wanted to sell the four-year schools on the merits of their basketball players. Times have changed radically for the better. The SWC people now approach the juro mentors with hats in hand, seeking the wealth of talent available in the two-year schools. No class of basketball has improved in recent years like that found on the junior college level. The JC's may not be as deep in material as the senior colleges but it is generally agreed they played a faster brand of ball and one that the cage buffs find more appetizing. A good example of the manner in which a top-flight junior college product was wooed was HCJC's Kurt Papp. Gene Gibson, the Texas Tech mentor, invested considerable time in trying to sign Papp for his school (and, oh, how he could have used him now, in the wake of the injuries and resignations that have occurred at Lubbock). Quite probably, Gibson over-sold himself and his institution. Papp, a sensitive youngster who built an impressive record in the classroom, wound up enrolling at the University of Texas where he figures to be a big help in coach Harold Bradley's rebuilding program.

Other junior college graduates now on SWC rosters include Jim Nelson of Texas Tech, signed out of Tyler JC; Jim Allen (Dallas Baptist); Stan Schleuter (San Angelo) and Ed Thorpe, all at Baylor; and John White (Wharton), TCU. Dr. Bruce Cameron, a Houston orthopedic surgeon, has developed a football shoe which he believes will decrease the number of knee injuries suffered by players. Dr. Cameron says most knee injuries occur because cleated shoes forced into the turf don't allow thigh and shin bones to move as a unit as nature intended. He points out that this is too much torque for the knee joint to absorb and cartilages pop out under the strain. He has hit upon a shoe with a ribbed rubber heel which provides a skidding effect. Four rubber sole cleats are attached to a steel plate that revolves 360 degrees. How Big Spring's Johnny Hughes could have used one as a freshman at ACC last year.

Here's how the weekend playoff games look to me: ALABAMA 35, Auburn 0. The Crimson Tide still hopes something can be done to change the balloting for the National championship. HOUSTON 27, Utah 6. Could be worse. The Cougars are hungry for prestige. SAN ANGELO 16, Tascosa 6. A couple of weeks ago, I would have been inclined to go with Tascosa but the Bobcats appear to be a hungry club bent on going places. Besides, they say that Pat Pattison's Tascosa teams are not as poisonous in the playoffs as they are in mid-season. Either way it goes, this should be a good one. VERNON 21, Monahans 7. This Monahans club has been living on borrowed time long enough. SONORA 28, White Deer 22. White Deer has the poise in the playoffs but Sonora has up a great head of steam and wants the state title. This one should be all-offense.

Forsan, Coahoma Win In Two Divisions

FORSAN - Both Forsan teams registered victories in the first round of competition in the Forsan Invitational tournament here Thursday.

The Forsan girls breezed to a 64-36 triumph over San Angelo Lake View, after which the Forsan boys had an easy time with Barnhart, winning by a score of 67-42.

Coahoma also put two teams in the semifinal bracket today. The Coahoma girls turned back Merton, 53-34, while the Coahoma boys toyed with the Big Spring Sophomores, 52-28.

In other results Thursday, the Garden City boys manhandled Lorraine, 56-33, while the Garden City girls blitzed the Merton team of the same school, 64-25.

First round play will be completed today in girls' competition, the Flower Grove Dragons square off with Post at 12 noon while Andrews JV has it out with Flower Grove in boys' play at 1:30 p.m.

Play will continue through the afternoon and evening and will be resumed at 8 a.m. Saturday. Championship finals are at 5 p.m. (girls) and 9:30 p.m. (boys) Saturday.

In semifinal games of the girls' bracket, Garden City tangles with the Flower Grove-Post survivor at 11 a.m. Saturday while Coahoma and Forsan square off at 7 o'clock this evening.

In the boys' division, Coahoma opposes Garden City at 12:30 p.m. Saturday while Forsan meets the Andrews-Flower Grove winner at 1:30 p.m. today.

DEAR ABBY

'Plain Jane' Needs Chance

DEAR ABBY: With the school social season just commencing, you would be doing a real service to remind girls not to pass up a boy just because he's short. Thru high school and college a truly wonderful fellow tried many times to date me. He was bright, well-liked, kind, and had a great sense of humor, but he had one "fault." He was shorter than I. So I never went out with him. Well, I married one of the big, brawny athletic stars. He's conceited, lazy, and dumb. We live from hand to mouth.

The short fellow is now a very successful professional man, admired and respected by all. He married a beautiful girl who positively adores him. She's half-a-head taller than he is, but nobody seems to notice. She lives in luxury and has status and security. Every time I see her I think, "There but for my asinine childishness go I." Print this. Many girls can learn from it.

MISSED THE BOAT
DEAR MISSED: And speaking of boats that have been missed, let's look at the guys who've left themselves on the dock.

I refer to fellows who scorned a girl because she was a little too short, or tall, or skinny, or plump. She may have been intelligent, kind, lots of fun and eager to please, but because she had less-than-lovely limbs, or an unfortunate complexion, she was bypassed.

These men married the beautiful-but-dumb girls. And when the beauty faded there was nothing left.

So now that the school social season is commencing boys, look around. Give the plain girls a chance. You may do yourselves a favor that will last about 50 years.

DEAR ABBY: My husband refuses to tie his shoe laces. He steps into his shoes and lets the laces drag. We have a son in the 1st grade who lets his laces drag on purpose. When I tell him to tie them he says, "Daddy don't."

Now I don't know what to say or do. At school the children are graded on neatness, and junior always gets a black mark because his shoe laces are never tied. I've tried to tell my husband he is setting a bad example for our son, but it doesn't help.

So how do you train a child to tie his laces when his father doesn't? And when he gives me this "Daddy don't" talk, what do I say?

DEAR BEAT: When the boys say, "Daddy don't," say, "I know—but daddy SHOULD. And Daddy is too big for me to spank. But YOU'RE not!"

Troubled? Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

After 26 years of active service, Senior Master Sergeant Thomas R. Orenbaum III has retired from the Air Force.

Chorale Due At Odessa Saturday

The Roger Wagner Chorale will be the second presentation of the Odessa College Fine Arts Series at 8:15 p.m. Saturday, in the college auditorium.

Presented by S. Hurok, the chorale is making its 11th coast-to-coast tour and its fourth with full orchestra. Wagner, in addition to his duties as conductor of the chorale, is director of choral music on the Irvine Campus of the University of California. Among the chorale itself are many artists who have performed independently. Theodor Uppman is a Metropolitan Opera baritone and Salli Terri, mezzo-soprano, has attained distinction as an authority on folk music. Baritone, Harve Presnell, has appeared in both the stage and Hollywood versions of "The Unsinkable Molly Brown." Admission is $1.50 adults, 75 cents students.

Orenbaum enlisted in the Army Air Corps in 1942. He has served in Alaska, Arizona, California, Colorado, Florida, Nevada, South Carolina, Oklahoma and Texas.

Sgt. Orenbaum saw action during World War II in the South Pacific as an armored gunner in the B-25. During the Korean conflict he was stationed on Okinawa and assigned as an armored gunner in the B-29.

"The service has treated me well," Sgt. Orenbaum said. "The Air Force has given me and my family an excellent chance for education and travel."

Sgt. Orenbaum and his wife, Lucille, plan to make their home in Big Spring. They have two sons: William L., 21, who attended the University of Arkansas and is married to the former Joy Beth VerLee, and Thomas IV, 23.

Judge Cracks Down On Draft Violators

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — A U.S. District Court judge says he may soon increase the sentence for military draft violators.

After sentencing a young man to three years in prison, Judge John F. Kilkenny said Wednesday he may make it five years for future violators of draft laws.

The young man sentenced was Brian Phillip Savage, 22, Santa Clara, Calif., who refused to report for civilian work in lieu of entering the armed forces.

The judge also revoked the probation of seven other young men, all Jehovah's Witnesses, who also refused civilian work in lieu of military induction.

They already had served six months in jail. The revocation will mean another 18 months in prison for them. All are from Oregon.

Brando Is Fed Up With Free-Lancers

ROME (AP) — Marlon Brando is fed up with making movies in Rome because he feels his privacy has been interfered with by the city's free-lance photographers.

GIs Shoot From Hip

FT. MONROE, Va. (AP) — The Army is teaching soldiers to shoot from the hip here, to perfect a new "quick-kill" technique.

object is to eliminate aiming through a weapon sight — a time-consuming maneuver during close-in fighting. Instead, soldiers using BB guns — as training aids only — learn to shoot from the waist, aiming over their arm.

The Army said it is using the BB guns since both the weapon and the ammunition are cheaper than standard issue rifles.

YOUR Horoscope Forecast

for Tomorrow
By Carroll Righter

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You now find that you need to make sure that every comment you make is absolutely accurate for most everyone is questioning the motives and the specific details and in a rather harsh light. The daytime is the most annoying period and by evening you find a change in the atmosphere and others are more kindly disposed.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) While you want to go out for pleasure during the day, it is best you keep promises made to the letter. Be neutral when others do not agree with you. Evening is then ideal for having a wonderful time as you prefer.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Getting out to whatever pleases you most in p.m. is fine, but be sure to devote time to an associate who has certain debts to discuss with you during day. Show that you are considerate of all times.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Making certain that your labors are completed during day will give you a chance to enjoy company with close friends in p.m. Improving your health is very important. Take exercise that is invigorating.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Be patient and do whatever family requires of you during day, but tonight follow own inclinations. Slip and think you can make your life more ideal. Success can come for more easily in the days ahead.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) A little more excitement where your fun life is concerned would be best for you today. Making good plans for the days ahead is very important. Slip and think you will do some writing in the p.m.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Get busy and shop keep appointments on time. make out reports, etc. Don't just sleep the day away. Evening is then best for romance. Certain debts that need completing should be handled during day.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) Property and financial matters are best dealt with during day, since tonight much fun can be had with those close to you. Be on your best behavior with good friends. They then support you loyally.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21) Some time spend at improving your good looks, health is wise before you step out to do some social gallivanting, or meeting business bigwigs. Some evening affairs could be very important. Attend SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You need to get into puzzling situations before you go out for a little light entertainment. Ideas should be nicely pruned. Candids are in a very gay mood later in the day and much gaiety is possible.
