Rich Tramp's Double Life Is Revealed

BLACKPOOL, England (AP) — Julian Ellis-Morris dressed like a tramp and sold razor blades, shampoo and soap door to door in this resort on the west coast of England.

But in Paris the gray-haired old Englishman was a wealthy eccentric who lavished chocolates, flowers and cigarettes on two girls at the Folies Bergere.

When he died in March at 75, he left a fortune of $174,697 including $2,800 to the two Parisian entertainers.

Tattered Shoes

He bequeathed $1,400 each to Micheline Roine and Nicole Delattre, $140 to Micheline's daughter Danielle and $350 each to the unnamed women owners of two Montmartre hotels where he stayed during his jaunts in the French capital.

The double life of Ellis-Morris was revealed Wednesday when his will was published.

Dressed in an old army overcoat and tattered canvas shoes, he went from house to house selling cheap toilet goods from a tray.

Three TV Sets

At night he returned to a luxurious bungalow where he had three television sets and two automobiles, including a chauffeur-driven Daimler limousine. He vacationed at Nice, Cannes and Paris.

During World War II he swept the floors at an aircraft factory.

He kept his private life secret, though he once told friends that when Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip visited Blackpool he was invited to meet them aboard the royal train.

Once, he said, the Prince of Wales — now the Duke of Windsor — sent a message to his table as he dined in London.

Shy Old Man

According to his death certificate, Ellis-Morris was the son of a London auctioneer.

"He looked like a tramp and talked about being skint (broke)," said Johnny Miller, the steward at a Blackpool Working Men's Club.

Yet he was a regular customer — seat A15 — for 15 years at the Folies Bergere. Each night he sent chocolates, flowers and cigarettes backstage to Micheline Roine and Nicole Delattre.

When the shy old man plucked up courage to meet them he and the girls became close friends. His closest friends were in the Salvation Army. He stayed at its hostels and attended its services every Sunday.

He left the biggest part of his money, $98,000, to Annie Graves, a 36-year-old Salvation Army worker. "I am surprised at anyone," said Miss Graves. "I only used to talk to him and ask him how he was."

Gullible Gerbil Game

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Don't let more shyster pet dealer put off a cheap kangaroo rat on you for a genuine gerbil because gerbils are hard enough to tell from another gerbil.

You just got to be careful, man. Gerbil dealer Stover Hampton, 59, warned Wednesday that fastbuck operators in Dallas are selling kangaroo rats to gullible gerbil customers at gerbil prices.

To urge restraint in the midst of the booming, inflated gerbil market is to whistle in a windstorm, but Hampton indicated the best advice for gerbil shoppers is to consult a reputable gerbil dealer.

Wild Rush

The wild rush for gerbils has left Hampton's own store, Stover's Pet Shop, temporarily out of gerbils. Nobody is ever permanently out of gerbils. They can produce young once a month.

Hampton has 15 pairs of breeding stock. They'll put him back in the gerbil game before the month's out.

There was a time, although most gerbilmen have forgotten, when gerbils weren't universally loved. "Three years ago I tried to sell gerbils for $2.39 each and nobody wanted them," said Mrs. Thelma Kelly, 55-year-old owner of a popular pet shop.

Seeks Role

Gen. Moshe Dayan, 52, is in line for a role in Israel's confrontation with the Arab world, either as minister of defense or as a field commander, political informants in Tel Aviv said today. Dayan was the chief of staff who piloted the Israeli war machine in its successful 1956 war. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Envoy Warns United States

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Egyptian envoy has warned the United States to avoid involvement in Egypt's blockade of the Gulf of Aqaba — termed by the Israeli ambassador "our second lung."

Ambassador Mostafa Kamel of Egypt said Wednesday that if a third party enters the Arab-Israeli dispute, "this will really make the crisis serious."

His statement came after a one-hour session with Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

President Johnson met with his Cabinet to discuss the crisis, but the White House continues to remain silent on any developments. This follows a policy, announced last week, of working through diplomatic channels to resolve the dispute.

DENIAL

The State Department denied newspaper reports that Turkey has pledged to block U.S. use of Turkish bases if war breaks out in the Middle East.

Robert J. McCloskey, State Department press officer, said the question hadn't arisen. He said there are no U.S. bases in Turkey, but acknowledged some Turkish facilities are available to the United States under various agreements.

Other U.S. officials said privately U.S. involvement in the Middle East would not require use of Turkish bases.

OIL EXPORTERS

McCloskey also refused to discuss the Egyptian-Jordanian mutual defense pact — solemnized at a meeting Tuesday of Egypt's President Gamal Abdel Nasser and Jordan's King Hussein, long-time foes.

George Christian, White House press secretary, did say Wednesday's Cabinet session included discussion of petroleum. The Arab nations are major oil exporters and U.S. companies are involved heavily in Middle East oil operations.

Shortly after Kamel's news conference, his Israeli counterpart — Ambassador Avraham Harman — said the foundations of international law and order are at stake in the present crisis.

CANAL CLEARANCE

Speaking to the Rabbinical Assembly of America, Harman pictured the Gulf of Aqaba as "our second lung" through which "Israel breathes in its relations with Africa and Asia."

Egypt's blockade of the gulf thus is not just "a question of abstract principle or national prestige," added Harman.

The first lung, the Suez Canal, has for some time been cut off to Israeli shipping by Egypt.

The Defense Department announced during the day that the 41,000-ton aircraft carrier Intrepid is scheduled to begin passing through the Suez Canal, in Egypt sometime this evening.

A spokesman said Egyptians gave the carrier routine clearance to use the canal.

Officials remained silent, however, on whether the big ship would be stationed in the Red Sea and thus available if needed in any Middle East explosion. Diplomatic sources said the ship was headed for the Far East.

U.S. Embassy Maps Airlift For Americans

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — The U.S. Embassy is making plans to begin an airlift Saturday of some 700 Americans from the breakaway eastern region of Nigeria as war threatens between the rebels and central governmental forces.

U.S. Ambassador Elbert G. Mathews advised American firms to withdraw dependents from the eastern region which its military governor, Lt. Col. C. Odujumu Ojukwu, has declared the independent republic of Biafra.

Beginning Saturday, chartered DC4 planes will evacuate 700 elderly persons, children, pregnant women and others deemed as "unable to travel quickly during an emergency." Most of them will come from Port Harcourt, where about 800 of the 2,000 Americans in eastern Nigeria live. The evacuation is expected to continue for a week.

FLIGHTS BAN

The embassy has not yet obtained permission to run a daily airlift to Enugu, capital of the secessionist state. U.S. officials must negotiate with authorities of both the central and eastern governments since flights to the east from the rest of Nigeria were banned as part of the sanctions against Ojukwu's regime.

British and Italian authorities also began making arrangements to withdraw 3,000 Britons and 300 Italians who live in the 30,099-square-mile eastern territory.

SPECULATION

The 27,300-ton British aircraft carrier Albion broke off from exercises near the Scottish coast and sailed for an "unknown destination," the British Defense ministry disclosed. There was speculation in London that it might be bound for Nigeria, if not for the Middle East.

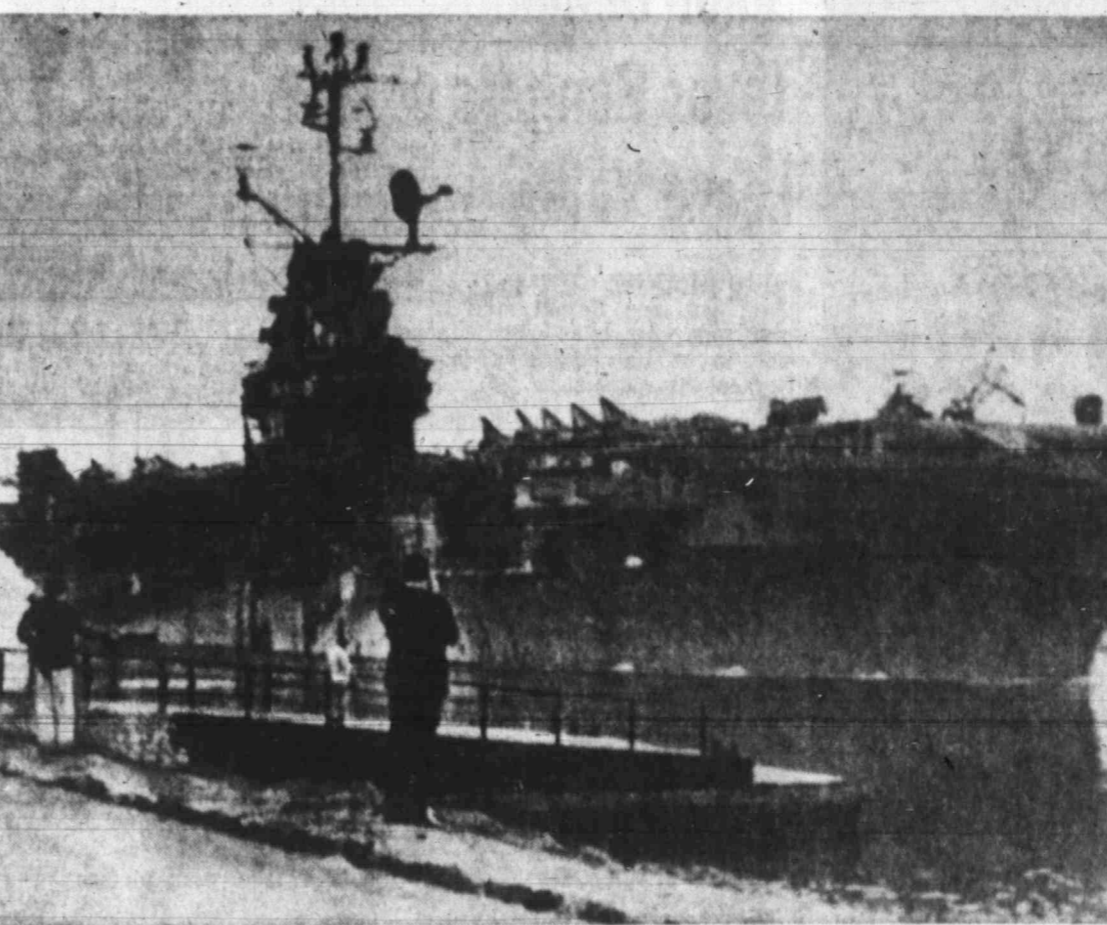

Diplomats said fighting appeared imminent as Lt. Col. Yakubu Gowon, head of the central government, began mobilizing Nasser's armed forces.

The navy ordered officers and men on leave to report for duty and military reservists and ex-servicemen were ordered to register. Registration started in Lagos Wednesday with about 50 former servicemen heading up the line.

TROOPS MASS

Gowon has been massing troops for several months in the northern region adjoining Ojukwu's area. The federal government chief has also proclaimed an embargo against eastern ports, but there has been no word of any interference with shipping, including the million tons of crude oil exported each month from the eastern port of Bonny.

U.S. Carrier Headed For The Red Sea

The U.S. aircraft carrier Intrepid passes through the Suez Canal today heading for the Red Sea. The 41,000-ton vessel went through the Egyptian port of Port Said earlier. As the tension in the Middle East continues to rise, diplomatic sources said the carrier was headed for Vietnam with its complement of 78 jet fighters. (AP Wirephoto by cable from Cairo)

Subs Shadow U.S. Carrier In Red Sea

CAIRO (AP) — Shadowed by two Egyptian submarines, the U.S. carrier Intrepid sailed into the Red Sea today after passing through the Suez Canal.

About 300 Egyptian demonstrators screamed epithets at the carrier from the canal bank, apparently convinced the 41,000-ton ship will try to break Egypt's blockade of the Gulf of Aqaba. The Defense Department in Washington insists the Intrepid is sailing for Vietnam.

Cairo newspapers reiterated charges that the Intrepid would take up a position off the Gulf of Aqaba, which President Gamal Abdel Nasser has barred to Israeli shipping.

CRISIS BOILS

The Egyptian submarines passed through the canal ahead of the Intrepid, then began shadowing her as she entered the Red Sea.

As the Middle East crisis simmered, troops from Iraq and Kuwait joined Arab forces against Israel, and Britain urged maritime powers to declare the Gulf of Aqaba and the Strait of Tiran at its mouth, international waters open to all ships, including Israelis.

The United States pushed for adoption by the U.N. Security Council of a resolution urging both the Arabs and Israelis to cool off while diplomats continued efforts to resolve the Middle East crisis.

The United States was told by Egypt to avoid involvement in Egypt's announced blockade of the Gulf of Aqaba and by Israel that not only Israel's interests but the foundations of international law are at stake in the Aqaba issue. The Gulf leads to the Israeli port of Eilat, through which 90 per cent of the Jewish nation's oil is imported.

WARNING

In a pointed warning to Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser, British Foreign Secretary George Brown told the House of Commons that the British government will consider any unilateral closing of the Gulf of Aqaba an act of belligerence.

Brown said his government is seeking a clear declaration from the international maritime community that "the Gulf of Aqaba is an international waterway in which and through which vessels of all nations have the right of passage."

British Prime Minister Harold Wilson refused to tell Commons what he would do if Egypt tried to bar any British ships from the gulf. But he repeated an assurance by Brown that arrangements were being made to meet such a situation.

BRITISH BUILDUP

With a British naval buildup already reported around Aden, at the southern end of the Red Sea, the British aircraft carrier Hermes was recalled to Aden because of the crisis. She had been en route to the Far East.

The arrival in Egypt of forces from other Arab nations added little numerically to the 80,000 Egyptian troops Nasser has concentrated in the Sinai Peninsula on Israel's southwest border. But the arrivals underlined the growing Arab unity Nasser is forging.

An advance unit of the Iraqi army arrived by plane in Egypt Wednesday, and more Iraqi troops were scheduled to arrive today. Among them was the son of Iraqi President Abdul Rahman Aref, a young lieutenant.

Cairo Radio said an army contingent from Kuwait also arrived in Egypt.

In Jordan, the latest Arab recruits to Nasser's cause, reservists rolled into an army camp about four hours' drive from the Israeli border Wednesday for outfitting with American and British weapons. "Victory will be ours," they chanted.

Jordan came into the anti-Israel front when King Hussein and Nasser signed a mutual defense pact Tuesday.

Southern Baptists Urged To Back Peace Statement

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Almost 15,000 Baptists were asked today "not to be blinded by distorted appeals to false patriotism" and to endorse a peace statement which questions U. S. motives in the Vietnam war.

"In view of the precarious balance of terror which exists in this nuclear age, the waging of peace is a responsibility believers can evade only at great cost," said the report of the Christian Life Commission of the Southern Baptist Convention. The Southern Baptists have 10,952,463 members in 33,949 churches.

DISTURBED

The commission said it was "disturbed both by the large weight of world opinion which questions the wisdom of our current policy and by those here at home who doubt the patriotism of anyone who questions our government's official position."

After surviving an attempt Wednesday on the floor of the 110th annual session to abolish the commission for its report, the group placed the document before members for a vote.

Sen. Mark Hatfield, R-Ore.,

an outspoken opponent of U. S. involvement in Vietnam, speaks immediately after the vote but his prepared speech mentioned only the war on poverty.

He urged the 320,000 U. S. church congregations to divide the problems of the "one million so called unemployable people" among them, three per church. Hatfield said then the "problem would disappear."

The vote on the report highlighted a debate between factions in the religious group which favor preaching alone over those who advocate social action.

State Lottery

Gets Under Way

$600 At College

Big Spring school district's teachers will get the full $630 pay increase — about 10 per cent — approved by the recent action of the State Legislature.

In a special meeting Wednesday, trustees approved maintaining the current local increment of $650, which is added by the local district to the state minimum pay scale for teachers. Mrs. R. B. G. Cowper made the motion, which was seconded by Roy Watkins, and Jack Alexander joined them in the vote. Jerry Currie abstained. Grant Boardman and Dr. Carl Marcum were not present.

ASKED DECISION

Sam Anderson, superintendent, asked the trustees for a decision on the matter because it is contract time for teachers and he said many are asking what the pay scale would be next year. In addition, work has started on drawing up the budget for the fiscal year beginning Sept. 1.

A shifting of tax money between the general fund and the interest and sinking fund was proposed by Don Crockett, business manager, to provide some $81,000 needed in the new budget. Of this total, Anderson explained about $20,000 would be the normal increase, whether the salary raise was approved or not. $36,485 would finance the pay hike for teachers on the

NEW YORK (AP) — Tickets for the New York State lottery went on sale at 12:01 a.m. today and within minutes customers were lined up in one hotel waiting to lay out a dollar for the chance of a $250,000 return.

First to purchase a ticket from the tuxedoed salesman at the Americana Hotel was Patricia Nelson, a Bronx housewife, who said, "I know I'm not going to win, but if I do I'll probably spend it."

Forty-five minutes after the booth opened for business, the hotel had sold 171 of the green and white $1 tickets, including a number to out-of-staters who first received assurances that they were eligible to win.

GOOD LUCK

Robert Goldfarb of St. Thomas, V.I., bought five tickets and gave one to a reporter. "That's good luck—an old lottery custom," he explained. "You give somebody a ticket you've bought."

Most outlets, which include some 4,000 hotels, motels and banks throughout the state, did not plan to start selling tickets until later in the day.

The state hopes to sell 30 million a month to bring in $360 million a year or enough for a $198 million net profit, all of which must be used for education.

'HORSEBOWL'

At the monthly drawings, there will be 240 prizes totaling $300,000 for each $1 million worth of tickets sold. The awards will range from $100,000 to $150. In addition there will be a once-a-year superprize of $250,000.

All tickets sold in a given month will be put in a drum for a drawing the following month, with the first tentatively scheduled for July 29 in Albany. Winners will be notified by telegram. New York State voters authorized the lottery in a referendum last November making the state the second in the nation, after New Hampshire, to go into the business.

It has been dubbed a "horse-bowl" because winners are determined both by fishbowl-type drawings and the results of a horse race run at a New York track.

In addition, some special duties were given other adjustments: The raise also applied to the administrators, with the exception of the president, whose contract runs for two more years.

NEW POSITIONS

In addition, two new faculty and one administrative positions were created. Two faculty replacements were hired.

The increase approximated $32,400. The new positions will cost the college $21,400, making around $53,800 added to the budget at the meeting. Under the state aid approved by the legislature, HCJC will receive $66,000 over the past year, according to Dr. W. A. Hunt, president.

A breakdown of the distribution shows 32 faculty members receiving $19,200 raise, plus about $1,500 in special duty raises. The administrative raises come to $4,200. HCJC's share of the vocational salaries involved would be $7,350 additional.

Science And You

The Taste Of Things To Come

By DR. LEONARD REIFFEL

The Russians are making some remarkable experiments on chickens and pigs. It's becoming almost traditional these days for scientists of various inclinations to be worried about the population explosion. Enormous food shortages are already upon us in some areas. In other areas shortages haunt the near future. Many exotic techniques for increasing food supplies of the world are therefore under investigation.

One of the most interesting has come out of Russia and envisions the use of single-celled plants — the algae Chlorella — as the only foodstuff on which to raise chickens and pigs. Imagine a farm full of chickens and pigs fed solely on tiny single-celled plants! Of course, they are easy to come by and great quantities of algae are used in this process, but the fact remains that algae can provide the total diet of perfectly healthy chickens and pigs. Chickens fed on the algae weighed something like 20 per cent more than chickens grown on an ordinary diet and, on top of everything else, they laid nine per cent more eggs.

Front Edges Into Texas

Warm air fanning inland from the Gulf of Mexico as a new cool front edged into the Texas Panhandle threatened another round of turbulent weather today for northern areas of the state.

It was calm in early morning, however, for the first time in several days across a broad stretch of countryside flailed by fierce thunderstorms and soaked by torrents of rain.

Moving slowly southward along an east-west line, the latest cool front eased past Amarillo before dawn. Behind it the mercury sagged to 50 degrees at Dalhart and 60 at Amarillo.

Looking ahead to a collision of the warm and cool currents, forecasts promised scattered showers and at least a few thunderstorms across the north half of the state tonight and Friday.

Bradford explained that a scholar needing information in a certain field will be able to question the network about what is available in any of the 18 libraries, if he should need only a few pages, it could be copied and sent by machine to him in a matter of minutes.

The Bexar County legislator, one of eight senators who asked the removal of Texas rangers from the county, said he would first talk with Capt. A. Y. Allee, the man in charge of a Ranger detachment stationed in the county during the melon harvest.

The Rangers have arrested 57 persons since the cantaloupe and honeydew melon harvest began early in May. Farm labor union spokesmen have voiced almost daily complaints against the Rangers.

FLIGHT CANCELLED Bernal, arriving on the first anniversary of the union's activities here, said he also would talk with County Atty. Randall Nye and with a group of growers.

Two other senators were scheduled to accompany Bernal, but he said their flight from Austin to McAllen was first postponed because of bad weather and later cancelled. Bernal drove from Austin to McAllen.

14 ARRESTED He reached the scene of the labor dispute less than 24 hours after 14 persons were arrested on illegal picketing charges by Rangers and Starr County sheriff's deputies and on the day the dispute between the growers and the new farm workers' union became a year old.

Organizer Eugene Nelson first announced a strike against eight large growers on June 1, 1966. He has since stepped back behind the scenes in activities of the United Farm Workers and spends most of his time editing union publications.

HOT MARCH Nelson, the man who led a small band of farm workers on a long, hot march to Austin and brought national attention to his movement, is seldom seen by newsmen these days.

"I am going to find out all I can about the situation," Bernal said shortly after reaching McAllen Wednesday night.

NO PICKETS Union officials said they were going to picket the train at Mission, but no pickets were seen as the Missouri Pacific freight passed through the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

SERIOUS WORKER Her voice has its familiar lilt as she races from one subject to another, yet the gaiety of Maria and Millie is missing. The fan magazines suggest she is torn between her husband, designer Tony Walton, who is usually a continent or ocean away, and director Blake Edwards, who has been closer at hand.

FIRST TIME Ray Rochester, vice president and general manager of La Castita, signed complaints against the pickets arrested near his 1,600-acre farm. It was the first time Rochester had taken such action. His farm has been the scene of almost daily picketing since the dispute began.

Two Bandits Loot Army Post Office SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Two men slipped into a U.S. Army base post office near closing time Wednesday, locked three employees in a vault and got away with $3,331.

That's all right; I've got fast film," he said bravely. "Poor boy!" said Miss Andrews as she rode the elevator to the fourth floor suit reserved for her use. "I'm sure the film will turn out black: But he was too flustered to take another photo."

She entered the suite with the entourage expected for the superstar of the 1960s: hairdresser, makeup man, wardrobe woman, a lady photographer who snaps Julie Andrews at lunch, Julie Andrews in a dress fitting, etc. All these plus a reporter from Hollywood and a Pinkerton man who guards the $250,000 diamond ring she is wearing as a prop in the movie.

There is a faint air of melancholy in Julie Andrews' triumphal return to New York City. She is at the height of a remarkable career: Three of her films, including "The Sound of Music" financially the most successful movie in history, are enjoying long runs in Manhattan.

Those arrested Wednesday were 12 persons near La Castita Farms and two pickets who stood near the railroad track as the melon train left Rio Grande City.

The first 12 were released in the evening after posting $400 bonds.

These and other exotic sources of protein certainly have a long way to go before they begin to supply quantities of food comparable to what we get from ordinary farmlands. But the pressure on the world's food supply is getting heavier and heavier and it just may be that one day around the end of the century, or maybe sooner, you'll be eating a dinner based primarily on single-celled algae or possibly even on petroleum.

One of them was carrying an old-fashioned, long-barreled revolver.

A Devotional For The Day

Whoever therefore shall confess me before men, him will I confess also before my Father which is in heaven. (Matthew 10:32)

PRAYER: O Lord, our God, may we never forget that Thou art indeed the Savior of the world. Let us know Thy will in our lives, and make us instruments of Thy peace. Through Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Generally Sound Record

On most accounts, the 60th Legislature acquitted itself well in the session just ended. It moved successfully in a number of areas, fared on others. It met a number of challenges, and it perhaps set the stage for meetings to come. Regrettably, but understandably, a number of pressing problems were left unresolved.

The record, in retrospect, is more impressive because there was every prospect at the outset that the session would degenerate into a incoherent jockeying by both houses. Yet, in the closing days, leadership pulled together and major legislation accomplished.

Among the most significant developments were those which may have set a pattern for modernizing state government. For instance, the one-year appropriations plan may prove vastly more realistic than the biennial. The optional sales tax for cities may not only open an urgently needed new source of income for municipalities, but it might mean the beginning of a trend toward further relief in areas other than revenue.

The pay boosts for teachers and state employees, while not measuring up to some hopes, were substantial and a stride in the right direction. No business—and no level of government—can operate effectively if it does not have capable people.

Tightening the traffic code may contribute to greater safety on Texas highways, and to the over-all objective of curbing deaths and injuries. Revising the criminal code to remove some of the seeming shackles to law enforcement officers without surrendering anything of basic freedoms was a little heralded but important accomplishment. So was the bill calling for open meetings of state agencies, whose activities certainly should be made known to the people who support them. Strides toward systematic and sensible water development and pollution control will have long range effects of tremendous import.

The legislature faltered on some other fronts, notably in coldness toward county government reforms; in clinging to the short terms for office holders; in staying with the biennial session idea; in not coming to grips with the problem of revising the 90-year-old constitution. However, it may be that the shadow of trends established in the session may fall across these. For example, the one-year appropriation will call for a special session next year. If this pattern is to persist, most argument against annual sessions will have vanished. The mounting pressure for county government reform may argue eloquently for an overhaul of the state constitution. Thus, setting a pattern may be one of the major accomplishments of the 60th Legislature.

What's Cooking?

The Civil Aeronautics Board has granted a non-stop service from Midland-Odessa to Dallas-Fort Worth, noting that there has been no objection filed.

There must be more than meets the eye in this development. While the non-stop flight carries no subsidy, who is to say that this cannot be changed once it is operative and demonstrates a need for help in the interest of public convenience? And who can say if there is sufficient traffic to warrant a service which duplicates that provided by a major carrier now? Could this be part of a chess game?

The CAB notwithstanding, Big Spring did file a protest to this service. This was not as a dog in the manger act but rather to gain some assurance that service will be upgraded here while the lily is being gilded elsewhere.

David Lawrence New Plan On Political Financing

WASHINGTON — At last Congress is coming to grips with the problem of how to finance political campaigns. Up to recent months, the subject has been bypassed, and many irregularities have either been condoned or overlooked.

If candidates for public office must depend on other citizens or on organizations with a vested interest in legislation to put up the money to help elect them, they will inevitably feel under some obligation to repay the favor by their acts in public office.

PRESIDENT Johnson has just submitted to Congress a comprehensive plan. Some of the same points were made in these dispatches in August, 1966, including the fact that no candidate except wealthy ones can possibly raise all the money that is needed nowadays to finance a political campaign and that the government should supply some of the funds.

Even for a presidential campaign alone the task is overwhelming. This is because large amounts are needed for television and radio and for advertisements in the newspapers as well as for travel around the country.

Billy Graham

Some of my friends say that Christ had no choice in going to the cross, that He was forced to die. What is your opinion? G.D.

The Bible clearly indicates that our Lord laid down His life willingly for the sins of the race. True, God had ordained Him to be "the Lamb of God slain from the foundation of the world," but He was in thorough accord with the sacrifice and atonement He was to make.

They did not take His life from Him. He gave it!

He was not a helpless, unwilling martyr. With the full significance of the cross in view, He said, "Unto this end was I born and for this cause came I into the world." He said, "I am the Good Shepherd. The good shepherd giveth his life for the sheep."

I lay down my life for the sheep.

His life was freely and willingly given. "Who gave himself for our sins. . . . Walk in love, as Christ also loved us, and hath given himself for us. . . . Hereby perceive we the love of God, because He laid down His life for us."

True, Isaiah said, "The Lord hath laid upon Him the iniquity of us all," but our sins were laid upon willing shoulders. The Christian says, "I live by the grace of the Son of God who loved us and gave himself for us." In gratitude we give the best we have to Him who gave His all for us.

James Marlow Nasser's Action To Spark War?

WASHINGTON (AP) — If it were just a matter of bugle-blowing, calling men to the colors, and whipping up patriotic frenzy and hatred in Israel, Egypt, Jordan, Syria and elsewhere in the Middle East the crisis there might melt away without war.

But Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser gave all of it a show-down tone when he barred Israeli shipping from the Gulf of Aqaba, and announced he could never be persuaded to drop his blockade.

ELATH, at the southeast tip of Israel on the north end of the Gulf of Aqaba, is its port for direct shipping to and from Asia and East Africa. Ninety per cent of Israel's oil is imported through Elath.

If Nasser can keep it closed to all vessels bound for Israel through the Gulf of Aqaba, then they will have to travel around all of Africa and through the whole length of the Mediterranean.

SINCE HE seized the Suez Canal in 1956 Nasser has barred all shipping to or from Israel through that channel, which lies within Egyptian territory.

But the Gulf of Aqaba, connected with the Red Sea, is bounded by four nations: Israel and Jordan at its northern tip, the west and Saudi Arabia on the east.

The United States has declared the Gulf of Aqaba an international waterway. The Suez Canal might be considered the same but, after the uproar over Nasser's seizure of it, the world permitted him to bar Israeli shipping from it.

EVENTUALLY, as the result of pressure in the present furor, Nasser may agree to let ships bound for Elath use the Gulf of Aqaba so long as they do not bear the Israeli flag.

But, if he is permitted to do that, he will have established his right to bar ships, if only Israeli-owned ships, from the gulf. Then, the next time the mood seized him, he could argue his right to bar all shipping bound for Elath.

After the Middle East war which followed the creation of the state of Israel in 1948, Nasser did bar Israeli shipping from the gulf but he lost that control after the Israeli-British-French attack on Egypt in 1956.

AT THAT time the Israeli forces swept down through Egypt's Sinai Peninsula—bounded on the east by the Gulf of Eoaba and on the west by the Gulf of Suez—and drove Egyptian troops from Sarm el Sheik, a key point in this whole business.

Israel has indicated it won't stand still more than a few weeks for what Nasser did. If, by the end of that time Nasser hasn't backed down and the United Nations can't find a solution, the shooting probably will begin.

To Your Good Health Keloid—A Scar That Grows Too Large

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
Dear Dr. Molner: Please explain a keloid. Our 26-year-old son had a small mole removed from the belt line and immediately went into the Navy. A keloid formed. They operated but another formed. It looks terrible and we are worried.

How dangerous is it? Could it turn malignant? Is there anything we can do about it? — MRS. C.E.R.

When a wound — whether from a surgical incision or injury — heals, it does so by fibrous tissue growing into the area.

It may be red or purple for several months, but the color fades, and for most of us the scar is reasonably flat.

In other persons, the scar may be thickened and raised. It may be tender. It often is a cosmetic problem — doesn't look good.

Some of these are keloids. Others are called hypertrophic (thick) scars.

size. The process is painful so it is done under a local anesthetic.

I am not aware of any indication that keloids become malignant.

Incidentally, distinguishing, if possible, between a keloid and a hypertrophic scar can be significant because the hypertrophic one frequently becomes smaller with time; a keloid does not.

Much heart trouble is preventable. Write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald for your copy of his booklet, "How To Take Care of Your Heart," enclosed a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim

What's The Point?

I'm still surprised to hear that hazing continues as a pastime of teenagers moving from one grade — or one school — to another, as the case may be. It makes no sense in an age when there is so much to do and so much to be done by the coming generation.

AFTER ALL, what does it prove except that older boys can dominate younger ones, or that a larger number can give a smaller number a rough time? Even teenage girls, long renowned for being a step or two ahead of the boys in maturity, have, on occasion, taken up such pranks.

I can recall a few such incidents in a time that is now considered almost medieval. They never amounted to much. A belt-line was the favorite in that age, and it was always quickly broken up by the teachers.

MOST OF THE time, the parents were called to the school to extricate their youngsters from the firm hand of a principal who was prepared to apply punishment then and there, far worse than the playful "initiation." You might call it barbarous today, but it solved the problem of hazing. Most of the fellows I knew preferred the swift hand of the principal to the more determined rigging of their fathers.

THE ADULTS were in agreement at least on that account — there would be no hazing. In fact, the victims had to offer volunteer cooperation before even a belt-line would be attempted, in many cases.

There was another time when even the seemingly inoffensive requirement that freshmen wear mis-matched socks or a short-sleeved shirt in winter was frowned upon by the school officials. Putting it briefly, they didn't allow it.

TEENAGERS today appear far more mature at their age than we were; for that reason, I am always surprised when they tend to disprove it. I believe most any youngster moving to a higher grade will readily admit he might be bested by older boys and certainly by a larger number of them. What possible point can be proved by the bullies who cause the problems?

One more question: Why aren't the parents of the miscreants doing something about their wayward youngsters? — V. GLENN COOTES

Holmes Alexander 'Honeycombed With Communists'

WASHINGTON — They were walking around, as the saying goes, as if the floor were sanded with gunpowder. They didn't like it at all when one of these articles noted their timidity in a crisis of national survival.

Who are they? What crisis? They are the two arms of Congress which supposedly protect this country from Communist subversion — the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee, and the House Un-American Activities Committee (HUAC). And the crisis is that an enemy Fifth Column is making an onslaught. This prong of subversion is operating within our citadel while the other hostile prongs advance to the battles of Vietnam, the Middle East, Greece and elsewhere.

TELEPHONE conversations from Internal Security and HUAC into this office protested my reporting of the gingerly caution with which these two committees approached their duty. I'd said that Cleveland Police Sergeant Uruguay had been shushed when he very nearly testified that communism had infiltrated the Black Power training cadres. And I'd said that HUAC Chairman Willis (D., La.) had given assurance (I might have added under White House pressure) that his committee would not try to relate Red Power to Black Power. The Senate and House, through spokesmen for these committees, told me "I'd done 'em wrong."

BUT SINCE then, there has come a lieutenant general, retired, who said aloud what a mere police sergeant didn't quite say. Lt. Gen. Arthur Trudeau has been Chief of Army Intelligence, Chief of Research and Development, as well as a Division and Corps Commander in the Korean War.

"I can state," said Trudeau, "that nearly all the radical student organizations, the so-called pacifist organizations, and civil rights groups are honeycombed with Communists."

THE GENERAL said a good deal more that needs to be reported, and will be. It's enough for today to note that for the first time in a long while, a Senate committee sat still and heard a competent witness declare that the Communists are synchronizing an attack inside the citadel with an attack on the outside. Demonstrations in our streets, Trudeau said, are timed with battles in the field, and he specified:

"THE APRIL 15, 1967, demonstrations in New York were coordinated with the savage fighting around Hill 811 near the demilitarized zone in Vietnam. I had first-hand experience in a similar situation (at Pork Chop Hill in Korea in July, 1963 . . . the battle not fought for possession of Pork Chop Hill, but for Communist political and propaganda reasons (in Panmunjon . . .))."

To an extent, then, Internal Security has stopped tiptoeing around this Fifth Column subject. I am told that HUAC, in a subcommittee under Rep. Bill Tucker (D., Va.), will also quit its toe-dancing and will confront communism in the streets.

IN JUSTICE to both committees, they are being scowled down by the White House. They have been frustrated by the three attorneys general who have served the Kennedy-Johnson administrations. Now, perhaps for the first time since Joe McCarthy's death, we're going to be warned that we're in a many-fronted war and that the "home front" is no joke. It's another part of the battle.

The Doves Become Hawks

WASHINGTON — This has been a bad week for the doves and the hawks. Nasser's decision to close the Gulf of Aqaba to Israel has made hawks out of doves and doves out of hawks. The doves of the past want the United States to act immediately, and the hawks of Vietnam want us to cool it in the Middle East.

Even my friend Brinkerhoff, a devout pacifist, was in turmoil. When I saw him this weekend he was sticking a knife into a photograph of Nasser and screaming "Kill! Kill!"

"BRINKERHOFF, how can you talk that way when you've been one of the leading advocates of peace in the world?"

"I'm still for peace in the world, but you'll never have it with that dirty rat Nasser in the Middle East. Kill!"

"Now, wait a minute, Brinkerhoff. If you're going to be a pacifist, you can't be going around screaming 'kill,' and stabbing photos of Nasser in the newspapers."

"That's how much you know about pacifists."

Let me ask you this, Brinkerhoff. Would you advocate the use of force to reopen the Gulf of Aqaba to international shipping?"

"Only if we bomb Cairo first," Brinkerhoff said.

"But you're against bombing. Don't you remember, Brinkerhoff?"

"Stop telling me what I was against. Ask me what I'm for."

"All right, what are you for?"

"BLOWING UP the Aswan Dam, B-52 raids on the Suez Canal and the complete 'defoliation' of Jordan."

"If I didn't know you better, Brinkerhoff, I would think you've become a hawk."

"I'm not a hawk. I'm a dove who's lost his temper. I say there's only one solution to the Middle East crisis, and that's to escalate. Egypt must be made to pay for its aggression."

"But Brinkerhoff, the hawks in the United States say the matter should be settled peacefully in the United Nations."

"THE HAWKS are chicken. The United Nations can't settle anything. The only thing the Arabs understand is force. We should nuke 'em."

"Nuke 'em a taste of nuclear war."

"GIVE 'em a taste of nuclear war."

WHAT OTHERS SAY

Just a few years ago it was perfectly apparent to every deep thinker that the computer and other tricky gimmicks would soon replace people entirely. Things looked bad, and perhaps they still do. But for those who worry about it, there is some encouraging news.

The New York Times reports that it now takes about 250,000 people, working as programmers, to operate the nation's computers. These are jobs which did not exist before the computers began to replace people. Right now industry could use another 50,000 programmers, otherwise known as people, if it could get them. It can't, and is doubling its efforts to train them. By 1970, just four years hence, the economy will need between 30,000 and 300,000 additional programmers who know enough to operate the computers. This is another half a million jobs that don't exist now.

Eventually, of course, some computer will figure out a way to run computers with computers. But in the meantime the outlook for people who know how to program the darned things couldn't be brighter. Market-wise, they could not be in a better position. — CHARLESTON, W. Va., DAILY MAIL

Fast Draws And Hog Eye

By ED SYERS

Recently, a Houstonian asked if it were possible he'd seen seagulls as far inland as North Texas. Having driven some Texas miles, I knew better, but reported anyhow. As often, I was wrong. Hear Arlington's Mrs. A. H. Linschmidt:

"We have had the sea gulls in our fields in the spring, and my father-in-law said they went inland when a storm was coming in off the Gulf. We didn't have a radio then but he seemed to be right, as one or two days later, we'd hear of a storm down there somewhere."

(Note: Now I think of it, I've watched many a gull follow the wake of a ship's bow, waiting for man's scraps. Maybe the plow cuts the same swath. Maybe also, as we grow, we can leave something better behind.)

HE SAW HARDIN SHOT

Organ, New Mexico's H. B. Weisner (Box 131) on gun-slinger John Wesley Hardin who was so fast he had to be shot in the back: "He was on the Hardin shooting in El Paso. Four years ago, I tape recorded the recollections of then 99-year-old (now deceased) John Sherman Stevens — seven hours that check accurately on all points I can find.

"Mr. Stevens stated all the particulars of Hardin's death and claims to have been standing at the bar when John Selman (who killed him, claimed by some, from the back) came in. If you're interested in what Mr. Stevens has to say, write and make arrangements. I'll gladly let you listen. (Note: Mr. Weisner, this is an ornery trick. What happened at the bar?)

Court Frees Texas 'Lifer'

AUSTIN (AP) — Because a state prison inmate had no lawyer at a 1928 trial, the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals ruled Wednesday he must be set free.

The high court ordered the release of Alfred Punched, serving a life sentence imposed in 1941 under the habitual criminal law.

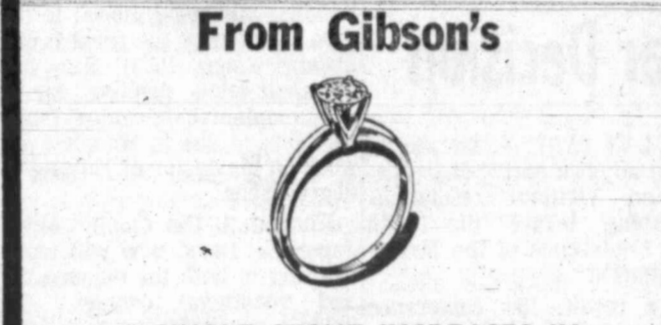

Punched said he was indigent and without counsel when he pleaded to burglary in 1928 in Milam County. The conviction was later used for enhancement again of burglary in 1941. Under the habitual criminal law, which allows courts to sentence a man to life imprisonment if he has been convicted of three felonies, Punched was sentenced to life. The court said Punched had served more than 12 years and was entitled to be released.

East's lack of enterprise during the auction was matched by an equally wooden performance in the play of the hand, and the result was that South was literally handed a vulnerable game contract without a contest.

South opened the bidding with one spade, West overcalled with two hearts and North gave a free raise to two spades. East should have suspected at this point that the opposition could make a game. Since his own holding constituted a good fit for his partner, he should have raised West immediately—preferably to four hearts.

South would no doubt have gone on to four spades; however, West would have been encouraged to sacrifice at five hearts, if East had given him any encourage-

Over 50 Youngsters Turn Out For Volunteer Service

Jackie Williams and Roy Conner were the first girl and boy to register and attend the VA Hospital's Voluntary Service Youth Volunteers' orientation and training session, which got under way this morning in the recreation hall.

Over 50 youths, between the ages of 15-18, signed up to become junior volunteers to help the patients and staff directly or indirectly at the hospital.

These youth volunteers will serve a need and learn as they assist in laboratories, help nurses with bedside care, provide escort and messenger service, help feed disabled patients, help with the educational program for patients, serve as disc jockeys and performers for hospital radio, ward, and assist in various hospital activities such as pharmacy, chaplaincy, library, psychology, nursing, recreation, and occupational therapy, among others.

Who can become a junior volunteer? Any young girl or boy between the ages of 15-18 who is without summer work or who wants to volunteer their time in learning special skills can become a volunteer.

Stock Mart Tape Lags

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market rebounded Thursday with trading heavy early in the afternoon.

After a mixed opening the market rose, gradually widening its gains until plus signs outnumbered minuses by nearly eight to three.

The ticker tape lagged a few minutes behind transactions in the morning.

Stocks rose from fractions to a point or better along a broad front. Some of the higher-priced glamour issues or specially-situated stocks snapped back several points from sharp losses taken Wednesday.

The Wednesday decline, based on trepidation about the Middle East situation, was the biggest of the year.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 2.4 to 219.2 with industrials up 4.3, calls up 3 and utilities up 4.1.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 6.57 at 89.15.

Chicago & North Western held a gain of seven points after closing about 10 in early dealings. The Milwaukee Road, prospective merger partner of North Western, rose more than three.

Kawnee Oil Co. of Odessa will dig the No. 7-C Murray in the Lutan (San Andres) field of Howard County. The old well plug back will be 1,850 feet from the south and 900 feet from the west lines of section 2-30-T1, T&P survey, five miles east of Coahoma, plugged back to 2,125 feet.

Lions Hear Col. Butcher

The Armed Forces are instruments of defense and of national policy. Col. C. J. Butcher, commander of Webb AFB, told the Downtown Lions Club at the Settles Wednesday noon.

The responsibility of the components of the military service is to implement rather than make policy.

One of the questions which had confronted the Air Force in the Vietnam war, he said, was whether the aerial branch possessed sufficient flexibility. It certainly does, in the view of Col. Butcher, and he cited the use of everything from helicopters and 30-year-old C-47 (goonies) to sophisticated, supersonic fighter-interceptors.

The Air Force, he thought, was giving a good account of its stewardship, particularly in strikes around Hanoi and Haiphong, which possess essentially the same advanced defenses as might be expected at Moscow.

Col. Butcher had high praise for the young men who come to the Air Force as pilot trainees. They are, he said, a cross-section of America at its best.

The colonel carried a commentary of motion pictures which showed the various types of planes in action over Vietnam, also the vast research and development program that is being carried on. He also being carried on the volunteer citizen service which airmen and officers, as well as those in other branches, are performing in Vietnam. He concluded his presentation by answering a series of questions.

Ice Delays Air Travel

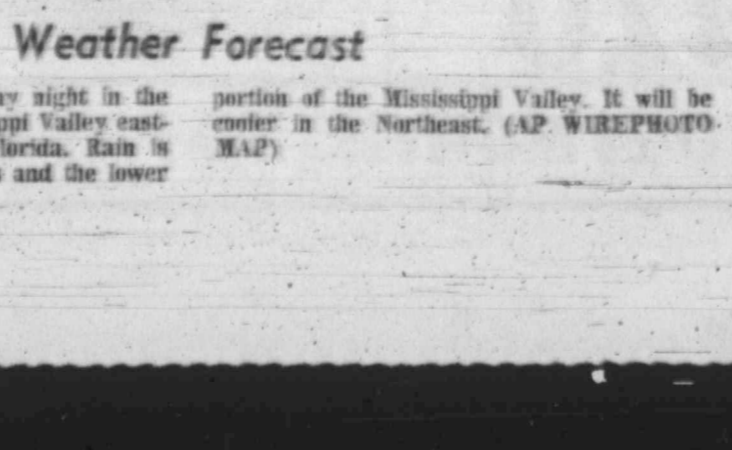

More rain splashed wide areas from the Southeast across the central part of the nation to mountain sections in the West today.

Unseasonably cool weather continued in the North Central and Northeast states. Mild temperatures covered much of the Southland.

The snowstorm in the Sierra Nevada covered highways with ice and delayed air travel. A Reno, Nev., man was believed drowned after his car skidded off Interstate 90 into the Truckee River near Boca Dam.

Skies were generally clear in the cool belt, in areas near the Mexican border and in parts of the Far West.

Orientation Heard By Teachers

Mrs. Kassie Jordan, Kate Morrison school nurse, (left) informs 13 teachers from throughout West Texas about the Head Start Program. The teachers are attending a short summer course at Texas Tech to receive instructions and aids in teaching in the Head Start program. In order for the group to see actual classes, Texas Tech chose Big Spring Wednesday as one of the example schools. Four directors of the group are shown together in the center of the picture, from left, J. L. Hunt, Ralls, L. G. Boyd, psychologist, of Ralls, Leonard Rayva, Del Rio, and Benjamin Vera, Ralls. Also attending with the group (but not pictured) was Mrs. Jeanette Jenkins, instructor of the Home and Family Life Department at Texas Tech, and Mrs. Theresa Ashdown, executive secretary, Lubbock Day Care Association. COLLEGE Texas Storm Watch Issued

KANSAS CITY (AP)—This severe thunderstorm watch was issued today for portions of Southwest Oklahoma and Northwest Texas.

The threat of a few severe thunderstorms with large hail and damaging winds will exist in these areas from current time until 5 p.m. CDT this Thursday.

The severe thunderstorms are expected in an area along and 60 miles either side of a line from 30 miles northwest of Lubbock to 40 miles east of Wichita Falls.

The weather bureau said the Texas area is bounded by lines linking Nocona, Weatherford, Stamford, a point 40 miles southwest of Lubbock, to 30 miles southwest of Amarillo, to 40 miles northeast of Childress.

The Dallas and Fort Worth areas are not included.

Officers Jail Bandit Suspect

MARSHALL, Tex. (AP)—FBI and other officers arrested a man and charged him today with the $9,990 robbery of the Merchants and Planters State Bank in Mount Enterprise Wednesday.

Taken before U.S. commissioner Don Rives was Arthur O'Dell Whiddon, 31, of Longview. Whiddon was arrested in Longview about 8 a.m. by an FBI agent, a Mount Enterprise constable and a Rusk County deputy sheriff.

Rives set bond at $50,000. Authorities said most of the bank's money was recovered.

Double Blaze

Wednesday apparently wasn't Dub Fryer's day — at least according to the fire department. At 2:38 p.m. Wednesday 20 acres of land belonging to Fryer burned before firemen arrived, 15 miles north on the Lamesa Highway. At 3:29 p.m., at least 15 acres more had burned before firemen arrived to extinguish a second blaze, 15 miles north on the Lamesa Highway, also belonging to Fryer.

Driver Released On DWI Charge

A charge of driving while intoxicated was lodged Thursday in County Court against Leroy Spires Jr.

He was picked up by officers in connection with a chase which began in Big Spring and ended in Stanton shortly after 11 p.m. Tuesday. The car was halted when Martin County Deputy Sheriff G. B. Thervanger fired shotgun blasts into the tires of a car which veered around a roadblock.

Spires was brought to the Howard County jail and was released on $500 bond.

Transfers To Be Considered

Deadline for filing for transfers from contiguous school districts would fall applications in the hopper at deadline time Wednesday, County Judge Lee Porter said today. He is ex-officio county superintendent.

The county board will meet at 7:30 p.m. June 6 in the judge's chambers to consider the applications.

There were 48 applications for transfers from Big Spring to Fursan; 21 from Big Spring to Burden County; 18 from Big Spring to Coahoma; two from Big Spring to Sands. There were 15 applications from various districts into Big Spring.

EDUCATOR CLAIMS: 'Genteel Segregation' Helps Rich Taxpayers

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—The Edgewood Independent School District, he added, with $25.4 million property valuations has 16,973 pupils.

He said only token results have been attained in attempting to overcome the handicap of low income Mexican-American children, an educator said Wednesday.

"The result of this genteel segregation," said Dr. Jacques M. T. Wilson, "is that those least able to bear the cost of education have to bear a disproportionate tax burden."

Wilson, foreign language department chairman at Our Lady of the Lake College in San Antonio, was a witness before a U.S. Senate subcommittee on bilingual education.

PILOT PROGRAMS Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., is holding several hearings on a proposed $30 million measure that would establish a pilot program in the field of bilingual education.

Fed Planners See No Need For Rationing

WASHINGTON (AP) — If wartime rationing should ever become necessary again, the government has a standby blueprint ready along with other nonmilitary mobilization plans. But don't get edgy.

Federal planners gauging the impact of the Vietnam war on the U.S. economy stress they see no need on the horizon for rationing, a fading memory of World War II.

"I don't know of any substantial, serious proposal that we have on rationing or wage and price controls," says a top official of the Office of Emergency Planning — OEP.

BLUEPRINT

Any presidential bid for rationing would need congressional approval before the blueprint became effective.

However, no one in Congress seems to be worrying aloud about rationing although there have been some mentions of the possibility of going back to wage-price controls.

Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., says he sees no likelihood of wage-price action by Congress this session "although pressure for it will be building up." And Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., says any substantial broadening of the war will require more controls because of "soft spots in the economy."

CLOSE TO ZERO

A spokesman for the National Association of Manufacturers said that organization has given no thought to the return of controls. More emphatic was a spokesman for the President's Council of Economic Advisers who said the need for them is "as close to zero as you can get."

Still, OEP is ready to go if the wind changes.

Materials from which ration stamps and books could be printed are in standby storage right now in many parts of the country. Their existence isn't a secret but people are forever "discovering" it and raising concern about any imminent return of rationing.

PAPER AGENCY

When such a flap arises OEP explains that this is just preparedness material, put out at the local level because in a future war there might not be time to distribute it from Washington.

Should a really big war come, coordination of all nonmilitary mobilization would be centralized in the Office of Defense Resources, an agency that now exists just on paper. The head man would be America's "mobilization czar," an OEP official said.

By presidential order, OEP and other federal agencies engaged in preparedness planning draw up their proposals to meet emergencies on an ascending scale. At the bottom is "international tension" then limited war, general war, and finally national attack.

Some of the preparations for this last category strike a grim note in a nation which has escaped serious invasion since the War of 1812.

To help wandering and homeless families find missing loved ones after an attack the Post Office Department has in readiness a registration system that in effect would be a refugee tracer service.

NEW MONEY

The Federal Reserve Board has stored $18 billion in new bills in vaults around the country to keep the currency in circulation at normal levels for two years in case the Bureau of Engraving is destroyed.

More than 2,600 packaged disaster hospitals have been stored throughout the country. When uncrated, each contains everything needed for a 200-bed hospital except the building.

Several hundred radio stations are receiving fallout protection for their transmitters so they could remain on the air after an attack. These same stations are receiving emergency power generators — a number of which got a workout in the big 1965 blackout.

The $6.8-billion stockpile of strategic and critical materials includes 180,000 pounds of opium to be used in pain-relieving drugs after any nuclear attack.

STOCKPILE

The stockpile is a group of 77 minerals, pharmaceuticals and other substances stored against the possibility of wartime shortage. One thing that isn't stockpiled is food-basics such as flour.

While plans in the "national attack" category may never get a tryout, some at the limited war level are in use now.

The Business and Defense Services Administration, a unit within the Department of Commerce, has for about two years been managing war production by following the procedures it had framed years before.

It makes the decisions that expedites one defense order at the expense of another when both carry priorities. Because of the Vietnam buildup it is being called on to intervene in 9,000 such priority longjams a year.

Kitten In His Cups

Kittens are playful creatures at any time, but especially when spurred on by their human playmates. Denton Record Chronicle photographer Raymond Crouch ran across this kitten in a hay barn and decided to introduce the tiny animal to the wonderful world of picture taking. Crouch put the kitten in a pitcher and waited for the reaction. Here's the result—a fightin' mad feline emerges from his place of incarceration. (AP WIREPHOTO)

South Pacific Cruise Sportsman's Paradise

The South Pacific is a paradise for sports enthusiasts, whether you are an active participant or just like to watch others perform.

Some of the world's finest fishing, hunting, surfing and skiing regions are found along the route of the Matson liner Mariposa, which will sail from Los Angeles July 24 on a 42-day South Seas cruise, sponsored by The Herald.

Outdoor sports opportunities abound both aboard ship and in the ports of call. The Mariposa will visit Bora Bora, Tahiti, Rarotonga, Auckland, Sydney, Noumea, Suva, Niuafo'ou ("Tin Can Island"), Pago Pago and Honolulu.

IN THE SUN

Swimming, surfing and sunbathing, of course, are the prime pursuits of many passengers on the South Seas cruise. No other itinerary can match the expansive, golden beaches, the warm waters and perfect surfing conditions offered by these ports of call.

Golfing is great throughout the Pacific. There are many excellent courses, including the Auckland Golf Club, Monash Country Club in Sydney, the Fiji Golf Club in Suva, and the Millani Golf Course in Honolulu. Golf buffs also can practice aboard ship, using the driving range at the after end. Other shipboard sports include shuffleboard, trap-shooting, deck tennis, ping pong and swimming.

SPEAR FISHING

Fishing is wonderful in many places along the route. You can go spear fishing in Tahiti, where the lagoons teem with exotic fish and the surrounding ocean abounds with game fish. Fiji, too, is emerging as a big game fishing area, and Hawaii long has been a mecca for sports fishermen.

But New Zealand is, indeed, the sports wonderland of the cruise route.

In New Zealand, you can land a marlin in the morning, shoot a deer in the afternoon and catch the limit of good-sized trout before dinner. No big game fishing license is required, and there are no closed seasons nor closed waters.

New Zealand's inland lakes are alive with rainbow and brown trout of almost legendary proportions. A 17½-pound catch was recorded a few years ago and 12 pounders are not uncommon. Rainbows average 3½ pounds. Lake trout less than 14 inches must be thrown back.

BEACHES

Australia offers fine hunting and fishing, too, but the country's famous ocean beaches attract the most attention. There are 25 magnificent beaches in the immediate vicinity of Sydney, where swimming, surfing and yachting are a way of life.

Sydney, an incubator for tennis stars, has many tennis courts where visitors are welcome. They city also is a spectator sports fan's dream, with horse-racing, Australian rules football, track or swimming meets exciting the populace the year around.

Information and reservations are available from Trimble-Baldridge Travel Service, 523 W. Beauregard, San Angelo.

TI Lands Navy Job

DALLAS (AP)—The Navy announced today a $6.2 million contract to Texas Instruments Inc. of Dallas to continue production on the solid-fuel, air-launched Shrike missile.

The latest contracts brings to $55 million received by Texas Instruments for work on the Shrike, designed for the Navy, Marine Corps and Air Force tactical fighter planes.

TI's apparatus division here supplies engineering and manufacturing support for the missile which has been developed under the technical direction of the Naval Ordnance Test Station at China Lake, Calif.

Jazz Composer Strayhorn Dies

NEW YORK (AP)—William "Billy" Strayhorn, 51, one of the nation's most noted composers and arrangers of jazz, died Wednesday of cancer. Strayhorn, 28 years ago knocked on the backstage door of a Pittsburgh theater where Duke Ellington was appearing and handed him the song "Something to Live For." The song was a smash hit, and the beginning of a relationship with Ellington which lasted until Strayhorn's death. The two men composed such songs as "Take the A-Train," "Lush Life," and "Chelsea Bridge."

Interim Committees Prepare For Action

AUSTIN (AP) — The 60th legislature just ended arranged for about 70 separate committees to think up new problems for future legislatures.

The number of interim study and investigating committees authorized by the Senate and House, either separately or jointly, exceeds the 68 standing committees that handled more than 2,000 bills during the regular 140-day session.

CAMPAIGN YEAR

But 1968 is a political campaign year and when legislators are on committee business they must repair "necessary expenses." Senators, also will be drawing $1,000 a month and representatives $200 a month for office expenses during the crucial campaigns.

The largest special interim group will be a 20-member commission authorized by the House to study and make recommendations on revision of the state constitution to the 1969 legislature. The commission members will be named by the governor, lieutenant governor, speaker and chief justice of the supreme court.

ACTION READY

There have been no sensational investigation subjects announced but both the House and Senate have general investigating committees ready for action if necessary. In previous years, investigating committees have paved the campaign way for a number of senators and representatives to better jobs.

Some of the other major interim committees include the committee on state and local tax policy that will make new tax recommendations, the Texas Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Justice, a Senate-House study of land and water use and air pollution, a joint study of highway safety problems, a study of slum problems and slum clearance, a study of housing and care of the criminally insane, another study on juvenile crime and delinquency, and the usual interim study of economy in state government.

UNINSURED DRIVERS

Other interim committees will touch on more specific subjects, many of them sparked by controversial action in previous legislatures. These committees will study uninsured motorists coverage, importation and grading of eggs, marketing and pricing procedures in Texas, the Texas dairy industry, depressed prices of fruits and vegetables, problems of home improvements contracts, ways of improving the structure of county government, ranking or classification of school teachers, public accessibility to Texas beaches, and unethical practices in the sale of insurance.

Some of the other committees

Texas Elks Meeting

HOUSTON (AP) — The State Convention of the Texas Elks got under way today with some 1,000 delegates expected before the meeting ends Sunday.

Ray Dobsor of Minot, N.D., grand exalted ruler of Elks, was to speak at the opening session. Dobsor also is publisher of the Minot News.

During business sessions, Elks will discuss possible sponsorship of a Houston Oilers exhibition football game on Labor Day next year.

Proceeds from the game would go to help support the Texas Elks Crippled Children's Hospital near Gonzales. The hospital is the state organization's prime project.

Texas has 25,000 of the 1.5 million members in the national Elks organization.

Job Corps Center Contract Renewed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Renewal of a contract with Texas Educational Foundation Inc. for operation of Gary Job Corps Center another two years was announced Wednesday by the Office of Economic Opportunity.

A spokesman said estimated cost of the first year of the renewal, beginning July 1, is $14,105,000. Second year costs will be negotiated next year.

Texas Educational Foundation, a state agency, has operated the center, near San Marcos, since it began in 1965.

and commissions authorized will consider subjects not exactly of statewide application. There is a commission to consider renovation of the governor's mansion, another to find an exhibit picture of the 35 former lieutenant governors.

PARKING PROBLEM

One formal body will ponder the parking situation around the state Capitol. Another special study subject concerns the ways and means of encouraging the entertainment industry to locate in Texas.

One group will study ways of improving the accuracy of population research studies and another will study the feasibility of establishing an academy in crime prevention.

A joint Senate-House group of 10 members will make a study of emergency hospital treatment of indigent patients in public and private hospitals. A House group will study the distribution of printed information by the state library and state agencies.

Then there is the Senate group of one or more to be appointed to visit lawmaking bodies in other states and determine how much it would cost to install a loud speaker system in the Texas Senate.

Three More Texans Killed In Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon listed three Texans Wednesday as dead in Vietnam.

Army Pfc. Gary L. James, son of Mrs. Madi W. James, Box 593, Santa Anna, was killed in action.

Army Spec. 4 Paul D. Skelton II, husband of Mrs. Martha J. Skelton, 112 N. 44th St., Waco, was listed as dead due to hostile action. Skelton previously was carried as missing.

Army Capt. Floyd W. Kaase, husband of Mrs. Renate W. Kaase, 7500 Higherest St., Houston, died not as a result of hostile action.

Here's Proof Glory Passes

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Proof that glory passes from even the most regal and proud and powerful came in this statement a few days ago by Lord Mancroft, deputy chairman of Cunard, the big British shipping concern.

"Now that I have taken over from Lord Watkinson (as chairman of a trade group), my first job is to try and export the Queen Mary and the Queen Elizabeth."

OLD LADIES

Lord Mancroft meant, simply, that he wanted to get rid of the dowdy old ladies, sell them if possible to the United States.

The alternative: scrap. This is quite a contrast to the uproarious welcome given the Queen Mary as she cruised into New York Harbor on June 1, 1936, acclaimed then as monarch of the seas.

Such an inglorious and abrupt disposition of the two great ships results from the simple but embarrassing reason that they haven't been paying their board for several years.

CANT' COMPETE

Cunard, their owner, once earned $7 million a year on the queens and their sister ships. They dominated the North Atlantic passenger routes, over which more than a million travelers were carried in 1957, the year before the big jet airliners arrived.

Cunard concedes that it cannot compete head-on with the jets. It does not, however, foresee the end of its passenger traffic altogether. But it does feel the dowdy queens are waltzing when they should be swinging.

FATE

In response to his appeal, Lord Mancroft said more than 300 offers have been received for the $1,000-ton Queen Mary, which is to be retired this fall.

The Queen Elizabeth will sail an additional year.

The fate of the queens now depends on which of 10 "viable" offers are accepted. Among these are two that give a hint of the possible fate of the Queen Mary.

One of these, reportedly, is from Export Consultants, Inc., of Atlanta, Ga., which would make the ship a floating trade center for the promotion of American gifts. The offer: $2.25 million.

Wherever You Go, Mao, Mao, Mao

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is a report from an observant Japanese woman recently on a tour in China — a country few U.S. reporters have been allowed to see in the past 18 years. She is Chie Nishio, 37, a photographer of social documentaries.)

By CHIE NISHIO

PEKING (AP) — Wherever you go, Mao, Mao, Mao.

The Chinese don't seem to get tired of reading about Mao Tse-tung, hearing about him, seeing his face plastered across walls, shops, and buildings all over China.

When we crossed the border from Hong Kong to Shumchau, each member of our party received a copy of Mao's quotations. Then we went to another room of the station to watch a 20-minute song and dance performance by 15 musicians and dancers. The theme: Chairman Mao Tse-tung.

'SOFT SEAT'

On the 2 1/2-hour train ride to Canton, in the first class, or "soft seat" section we got tea and the conductresses began another performance. But first, an interpreter urged us to read from our little red Mao books.

The songs were of Mao's greatness, or taken from the book of quotations. On the blouses of our 20-year-old conductresses were pinned small red cameos of Mao.

After a while we got used to opening our books; we sort of liked it.

We'd sing songs when the conductresses asked us. We didn't mind because they were fun.

ARMY SHOW

As the train rolled through the countryside, with its red soil, its poor — and sometimes prosperous — farms, its sparse trees and broad vistas, I thought how they built the Great Wall. How many people — without machines; so many, many years to build, like the pyramids of Egypt; the suffering, the hard life.

In Canton, another show, this time by the army. They were waiting for us at the station, with a picture of Mao and posters proclaiming: "Down with Liu Shao-chi." Soldiers gripped Mao's little red book in their hands.

Before eating dinner we read from Mao's thoughts. I asked our interpreter about religion. She told me the Chinese have freedom of religion and freedom of being antireligion. Religion is superstition, she said; we have Chairman Mao, so there is no

Trans-Texas Must Refund Subsidy

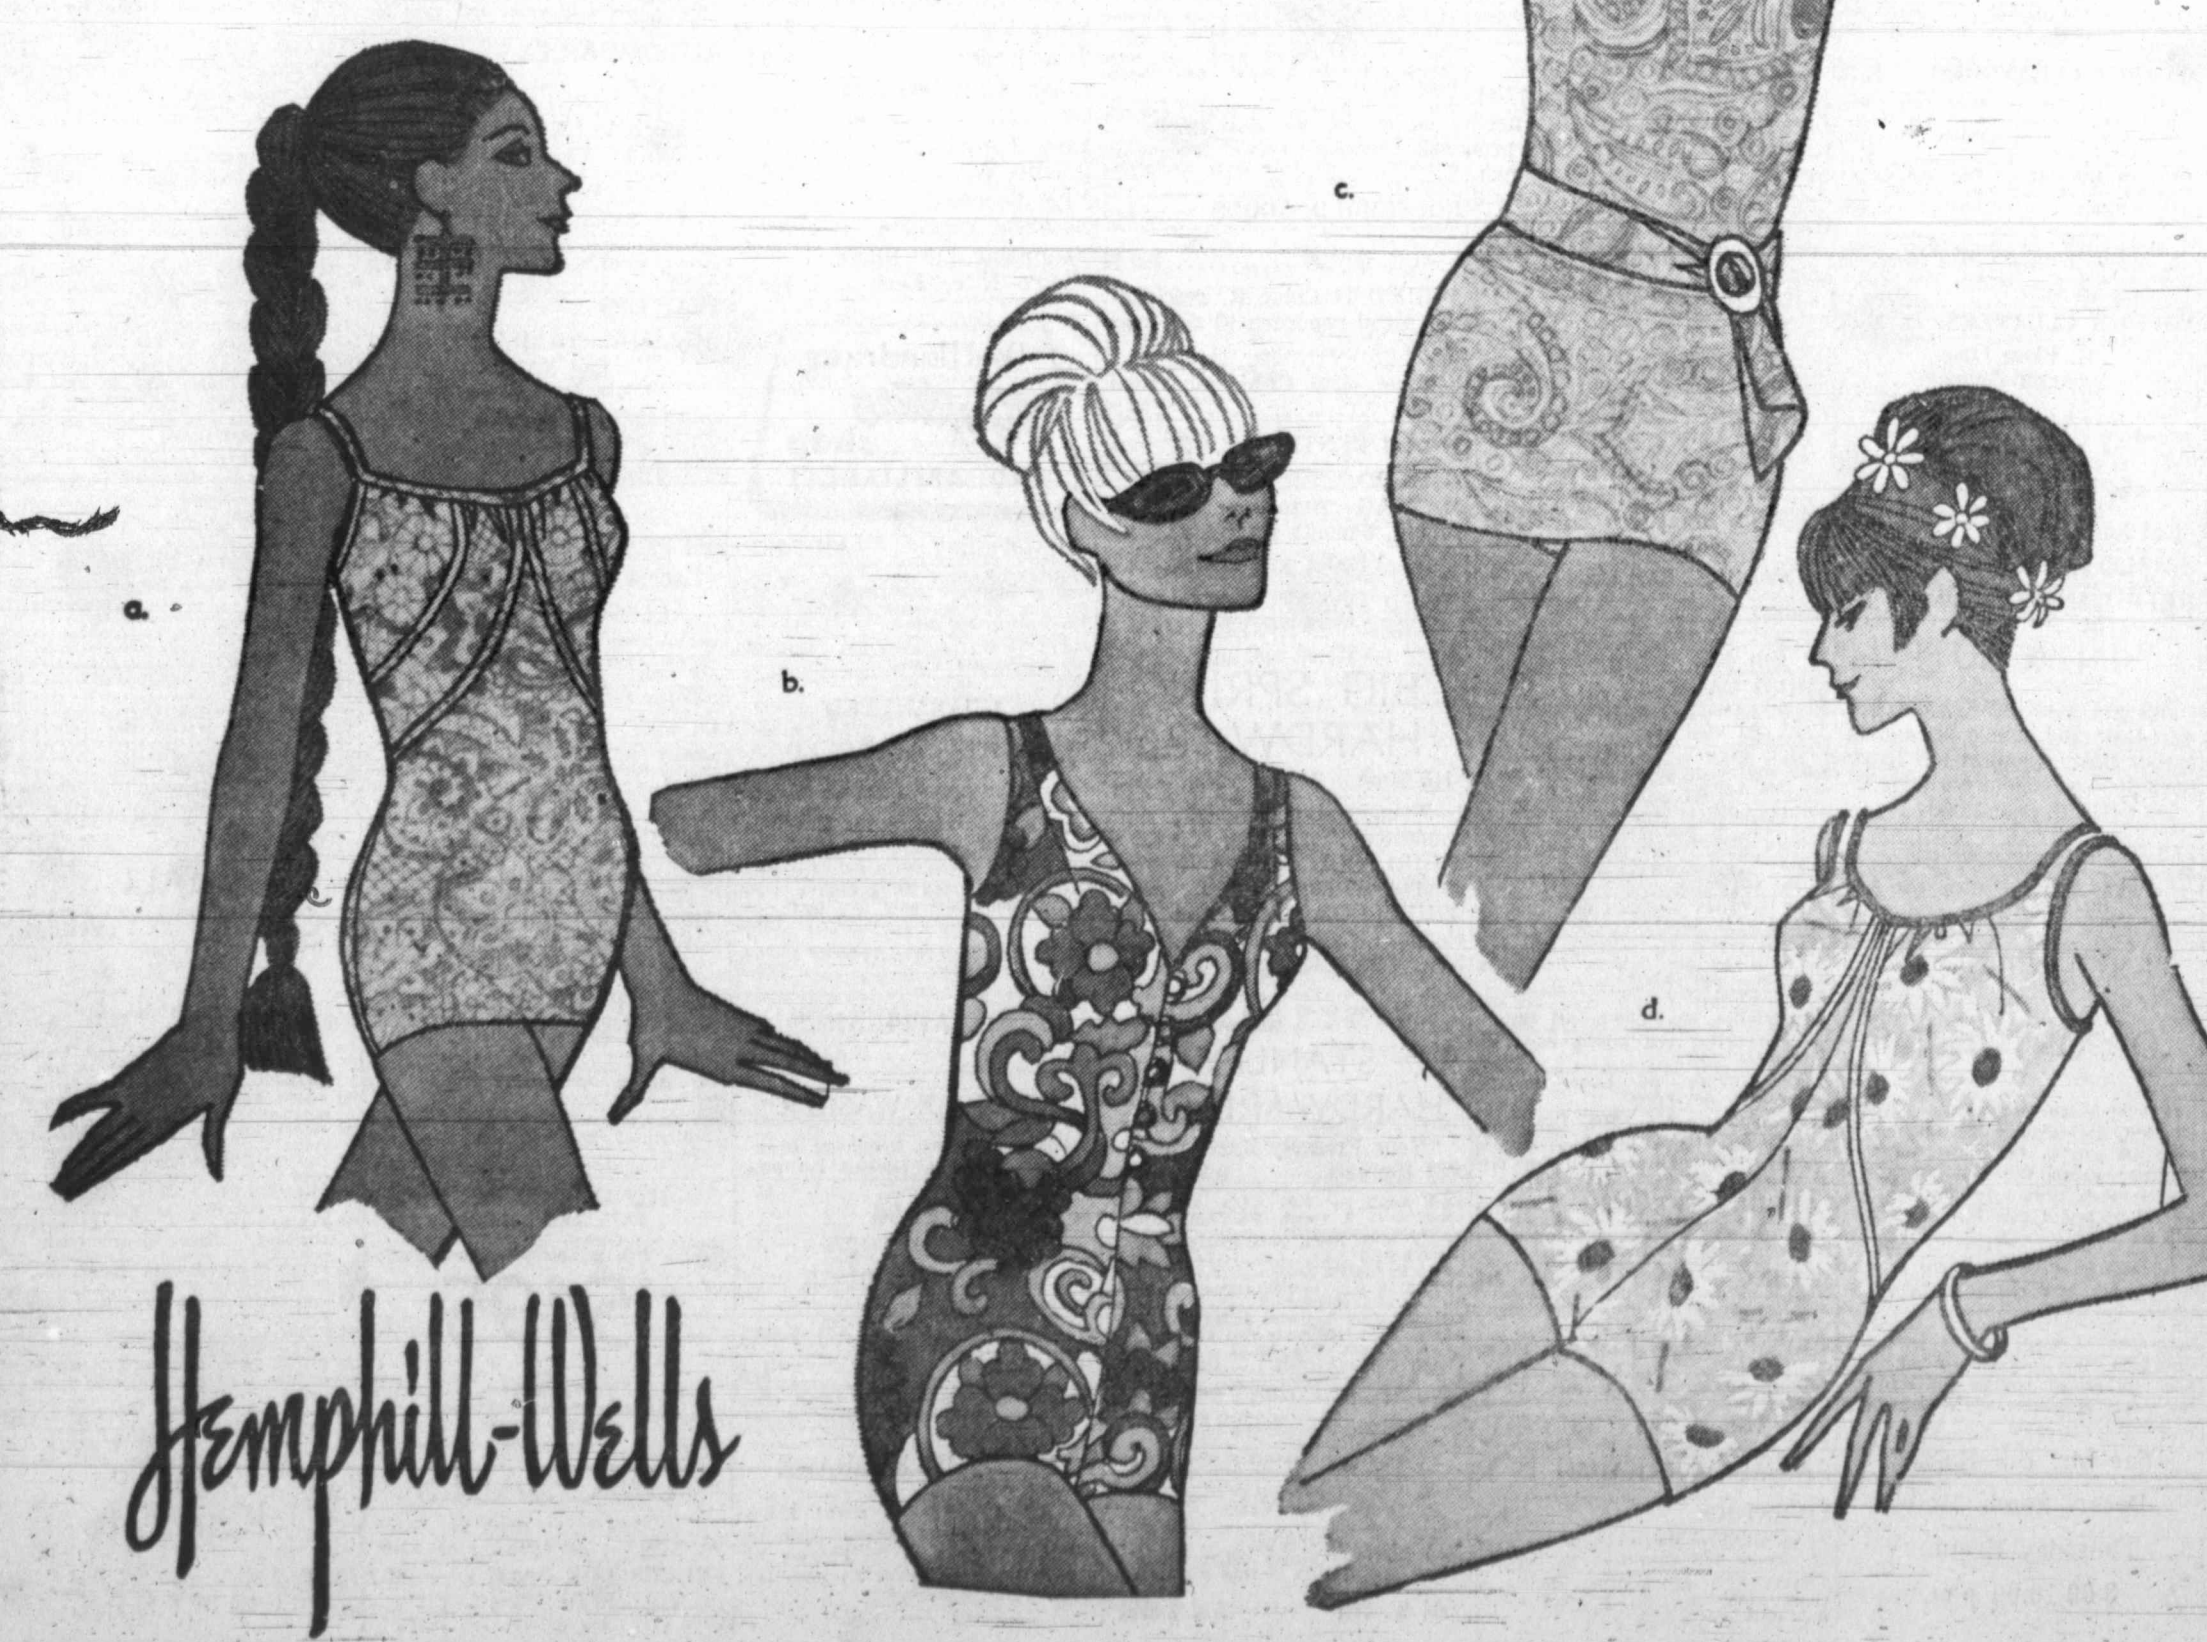

WASHINGTON (AP) — Trans-Texas Airways must refund $352,592 in federal subsidy paid during 1964, the Civil Aeronautics Board ruled Wednesday.

CAB said its ruling was under its profit-sharing arrangement with local service airlines.

Net refund, however, will be only $234,820 since CAB had already withheld $117,772, the agency said.

Reducing Clubs Help Dieters 'Stick-To-It'

By MARY SUE MILLER
A lovely writes: A group of friends is interested in forming a reducers' club. We have heard about them and how the members help each other to stay on a diet. Does it work? If so, I would appreciate advice on how to conduct meetings.

The answer: Reducing clubs have helped legions of women to lose weight. Group effort increases know-how and will power. Backsliders feel abashed when the rest get results.

Club organization varies. Some clubs are conducted by trained personnel and open to public membership for a fee. Composed of friends, others meet weekly on a rotation basis in the homes of members. Whatever the setup, every member must have her doctor's permission to diet and exercise.

A capsule plan for home meetings follows:

First Meeting. Weight members and start a weight chart for each. Then distribute copies of an approved diet. (No fads allowed.) Also distribute instructions for spot-reducing exercises. Through discussion, pinpoint the special problems and weight goals of all.

Subsequent Meetings. Weigh members and note results on chart. Next hold a 20 minute exercise session. Thereafter, have members discuss the whys of their success or failure. Close by assigning research projects for future discussion. Such subjects as low-cal recipes, party menus and packaged foods are good starters.

Refreshments? Yes, a no-cal beverage served in style. And right there you pick up a clue to successful dieting — attractive service!

MR. AND MRS. A. E. (PREACH) TRUE

Open House To Mark Wedding Anniversary

The 40th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. (Preach) True will be celebrated Monday during an open house in the home of Mrs. Mamie Lee Dodds, 3232 Drexel. Friends are invited to call between the hours of 5 and 8 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. True were married June 5, 1927, in Colorado City and have reared five children, Mrs. Dodds, Mrs. Claudis Merle Petherbridge of Panama City, Fla.; Brady Piper of Washington, D. C.; and Doyce and James R. Piper, both of Big Spring. They also reared two grandchildren, Art Dodds and Mrs. Robert Haynes, the former Biddie Dodds. There are 18 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

True, who was born in Bell County in 1895, moved to Big Spring with his parents, the late Dr. and Mrs. G. S. True, in 1909. His wife was born in Burnett County in 1895 and moved here when the couple was married.

True played professional and semi-professional baseball for many years and is a veteran of World War I. He was Scoutmaster of Boy Scout Troop No. 2 for nine years, at one time having an enrollment of 60 boys. He discontinued Scout work following a heart attack.

At the time of his retirement, True was a letter carrier for the Big Spring Post Office where he worked for 20 years. Prior to retirement, he and Mrs. True were active in veterans organizations and still find time to assist widows of WWI veterans.

In 1945, the couple moved to Sand Springs. They are members of the First Methodist Church where he is a member of the Men's Bible Class and she is affiliated with the Susana Wesley Sunday school class and serves as secretary to the nursery department. Also, they are members of the National Association of Letter Carriers and Auxiliary.

At present, they spend their time gardening and working as volunteers at the Veterans Administration Hospital and traveling to visit their grandchildren.

Out-of-town guests will be Mrs. True's brothers and their families, Mr. and Mrs. I. Y. Sims of Gatesville; Mr. and Mrs. C. Frank Sims, San Antonio; and Mr. and Mrs. Kyle G. Sims, San Saba; her sisters and their families, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Batsell, Fort Stockton; Mr. and Mrs. John Gary, Athens, Texas; and Mrs. R. V. Littlepage, Goldthwaite.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a gown of pure silk organza. Venise lace covered the Empire bodice, and a flowing bridal coat was worn over the slender silhouette. A queen's crown of satin and Venise lace petals formed her headpiece, featuring a bouffant veil of pure silk English illusion.

A reception was held in the banquet hall following the ceremony. The couple left immediately for a wedding trip to Lake Travis and San Antonio.

Treat Company To Hor D'oeuvres

Beat softened cream cheese with finely chopped fresh vegetables. Spread on crisp crackers, then top with sliced ripe olives, herring or crumbled bacon. Humdinger hors d'oeuvres!

Supper Casserole Made With Tuna

Prepare packaged macaroni and cheese as label directs. Fold in drained canned green beans and flaked tuna; heat through for a hearty and easy main dish.

Package Beef For Food Variety

When you're stocking up on ground beef in the freezer, have it packaged in two ways. Some of it should be in patty form so it can be cooked, without lengthy thawing, as hamburger in quick time. The remainder should be packaged in state-amounts to suit other needs of the family, like 1½ to 2 pounds for meat loaves, spaghetti or pizza sauces.

For meat loaves the ground beef will need to be thawed, preferably in the refrigerator. For sauces and mixtures that call for browning the meat, it may be started in its frozen state.

Shredded Beef Varies Macaroni

Vary your favorite macaroni and cheese dinner by adding some shredded dried beef to it. Not only will this be colorful but it's a protein booster as well.

Marinate Kabobs Before Cooking

Sirloin steak or sirloin roast or tip steak, cut into one and one-half inch size pieces for kabobs, respond to marinating for interesting flavor. A good marinade for this purpose uses ¼ cup salad oil mixed with 2 tablespoons lemon juice, ¼ cup chopped onion, ½ teaspoon garlic salt, ½ teaspoon salt and ¼ teaspoon pepper.

Allow the cubes of beef to marinate in this several hours or overnight. After threading on a skewer, grilling time will be from 15 to 20 minutes, depending upon the degree of doneness desired.

Oven Fry Chicken With Flour Coat

Chicken pieces, coated with seasoned flour, may be oven-fried in a shallow pan in a hot oven. Use a quarter-pound of butter for one chicken. Bake skin-side down for half an hour, then turn and continue baking for another 30 minutes.

SUMMER BACKYARD MEAL
Assortment of cold cuts with salad

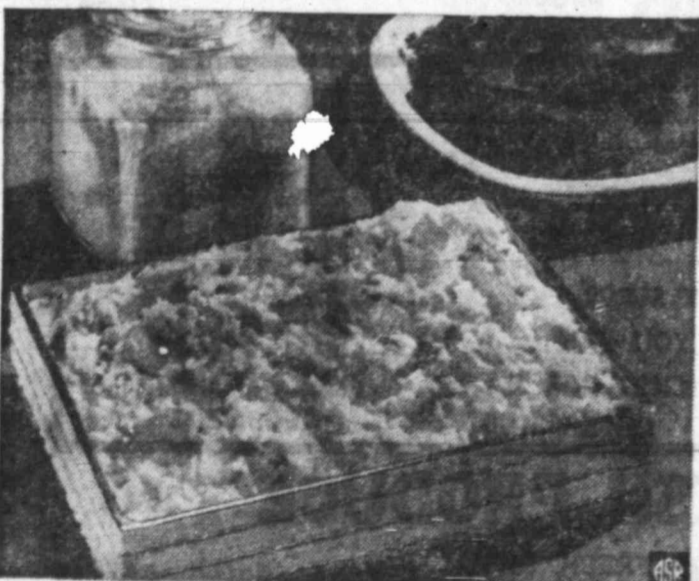

Make Potato Salad For Porch Party Potluck

Porch party potluck is a family affair where platters of cold meats, potato salad, and deviled eggs are carried to porch or backyard for a leisurely meal. It takes only minutes to arrange a platter attractively and the eye appealing result is well worth the extra time.

In many homes an assortment of flavorful sliced luncheon meats is always handy in the refrigerator. There are hearty dry sausages such as salami and cervelat so popular with the men. Another favorite is P&P loaf, delicately seasoned meat with bits of pickle and pimiento for color and flavor accents. Cold meats come in a variety of shapes and sizes too. New England Specialty and Bologna are popular rounds. Pepper loaf and cooked ham are square cut to fit between slices of bread. All are fully cooked.

Each of the sliced cold cuts which are branded with the two most trusted words in meat is the result of years of experience in sausage making. Selected cuts of meat expertly seasoned and cooked are sliced and vacuum packaged in transparent wrappings. They are rushed to nearby markets at the peak of freshness.

RICE AND FRUIT
Delicious served together

Make Gourmet Rice, Serve With Meats

If Gourmet Rice didn't have celery in it, the dish would serve beautifully as dessert. But because of the bit of celery used, Gourmet Rice is just the combination to serve as an accompaniment to broiled, roasted or sauteed meats, poultry and seafood, too.

The fruity mixture happily replaces a starchy vegetable in a several-course meal. It is best served piping hot, to accompany a hot entree, though chances are if any is left over, refrigerator raiders won't mind its chilly temperature.

This recipe for Gourmet Rice is an excellent example of the compatibility of rice and fruit. Tender cooked rice with its bland flavor and delicate texture takes on the flavors of fruit and blends them in a delicious way. Any kind of U.S. grown

3/4 cup dairy sour cream

Versatile Oranges Offer Good Bargain Selection

Today's plentiful supply of good oranges makes them an especially attractive choice for a variety of uses, says Frances Reasonover, Extension foods and nutrition specialist at Texas A&M University.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture estimates of the crop now being harvested were recently increased by nearly one and a half million boxes. Even the earlier estimates set the harvest as the best on record.

With a sharp knife and imagination, you can turn this bargain fruit into a table-full of interesting ideas. Here are a few recommended by Miss Reasonover.

Orange Sections. Peel orange. Cut sections halfway between segment walls so that membrane is in center of the "meat." Sections add tang and color to many dishes. Remember that the "meat" and segment walls contain important food values.

Orange Flower. Place unpeeled orange on end. Starting at top, cut orange in half. Leave skin at bottom uncut to hold or gather together. Cut in half again, forming quarters. Make two more cuts, forming eights. Spread petals gently, and eat "watermelon" style.

Orange Bits. Cut unpeeled cartwheels into bite-size triangular shapes and slice off rim of peel or leave it on. For a good in-between meal fruit snack, serve on a plate and spear each piece with a pick. Bits also make great "dippers" for avocados, cheese, and other dips.

Orange Wedges. Place unpeeled orange on end and cut into six equal pieces. Quickly prepared, they're handy eating at breakfast time, snack time, or picnics.

Cartwheels. Slice peeled or unpeeled oranges crosswise, making circles, or cut the circles in two. Eat plain, in a salad, or as a garnish on a meat plate. Add interest to the punchbowl, too, for party time.

eggs. Chop egg whites and add to potato mixture. Press egg yolks through a sieve and combine with sour cream, salad dressing, vinegar and mustard. Fold dressing mixture into potatoes. Chill well. Serve with a variety of sliced luncheon meats.

Good Buys In Dairy Products

Like most consumers, you are probably particular about the dairy foods you buy. Since June is "Dairy Month" and you are likely to take advantage of the many dairy specials to be offered, you'll be looking for the best in quality.

Variations in flavor, texture and aroma can easily be detected in such products as butter, cottage cheese and cultured sour cream.

Manufacturers of dairy products know that to maintain a good reputation for their brands they must strive for high quality and stability, or keeping quality control measures from the time the milk is produced to the time the finished products leave the dairy manufacturing plant for the market.

A quality control service which the Consumer and Marketing Service makes available to processors of dairy feeds, helps plants in their efforts to manufacture high quality products.

The service provides an impartial, uniform system of evaluating the quality of dairy products. Used nationwide, it is based on established, well-recognized U.S. standards for grades and quality specifications.

The service is available to all manufacturers who voluntarily request it and agree to follow the dairy inspection and grading specialists' recommendations on plant facilities, equipment, quality of raw milk supply and practices for maintaining sanitation.

Dairy products inspectors are assigned by the U.S. Department of Agriculture to approved plants on a full-time, resident basis. Inspectors are specially trained and qualified for their work. They evaluate the quality of the product throughout its manufacture.

They also grade products in bulk packages and issue certificates for use in commercial trading.

Succulent Burgers With Puffed Cereal

Use puffed oat cereal, crushed fine, to bind tomato and cheese seasoned ground beef when you prepare burgers for your next outdoor supper. Cereals help hold in meat juices during broiling. They produce a patty with a pleasing "bite" as well. Puffed oats are economical sources of food energy, protein, minerals, and the B vitamins, too. In this recipe the crisp cereal along with melted butter and Parmesan cheese forms a succulent topping.

CHEESED CEREAL BURGERS
1 1/2 cups puffed oat cereal, crushed to make 1 cup cereal
1 1/2 pounds ground beef
1/2 cup tomato juice
1/3 cup finely chopped onion
1/4 cup shredded Parmesan cheese
1 egg
1 tbs. Worcestershire sauce
2 tps. salt
1 tsp. oregano
1/8 tsp. pepper

TOPPING
2 tps. butter or margarine
1 cup puffed oat cereal, slightly crushed
1/4 cup shredded Parmesan cheese

Combine cereal, beef, tomato juice, onion, cheese, egg, Worcestershire sauce, and seasonings; mix well. Shape into six patties. Broil three inches from heat source 12 to 14 minutes or to desired degree of doneness, turning once. Make topping. Melt butter or margarine. Remove from heat; stir in cereal and cheese. Top burgers with an equal amount of cereal and broil until lightly browned. Yield: Six burgers.

PANTRY PICK-UPS

Use a 10-inch skillet when you are preparing scrambled eggs made with six whole eggs and six tablespoons of milk, light cream or water.

A pastry brush dipped in water will do a good job of washing down crystals from the side of a saucepan when making candy.

When a recipe directs you to cook a sugar mixture until it "spins a thread," use a candy thermometer and cook to 230 to 234 degrees.

It's helpful to have two wire cooling racks in a kitchen. After a baked product is inverted on one rack and the pan removed, the second rack may be used to turn the product (usually cake or bread) right side up.

Toothpicks will help you hold two cake layers together after they have been filled and frosted. The picks should, of course, be removed before serving.

A drop or two of tabasco sauce will perk up mayonnaise to be served with fish or seafood.

Toss fresh bread crumbs with butter and seasonings and use as a stuffing for baked tomatoes. The pulp removed from the inside of the tomatoes may be added to the stuffing. If mushrooms are on hand (sauteed fresh or drained canned) they make a savory addition to the dressing.

A oil clove of garlic added to a vinegar salad dressing gives robust flavor. Allow the garlic to stand in the dressing overnight, then remove it—it will have done its best!

Ever cut frankfurters in short lengths and add them to baked beans before heating. Along with a salad of tossed greens and carrot curls, this bean dish will make a good main course.

Ever scramble eggs in a double-boiler? To do so, beat the eggs with the usual seasonings and cook over (not in) gently boiling water, stirring often—at the bottom and the sides of the saucepan.

When you are broiling slices of Canadian bacon, notch the edge of the bacon so the slices won't curl up.

Sprinkle grapefruit halves with sugar and sherry and broil. Nice as a first course for a company brunch or as a dessert for dinner-time guests.

The mixed spice in cheese-cloth and add to the water in which you cook shrimp. Save the shrimp cooking liquid to use as a base for fish soup.

An interesting way to make a lobster salad is to cut up the whites of hard-cooked eggs and add to the lobster. The hard-cooked egg yolks should be mashed and blended into the salad dressing.

Custard baked in a shallow dish will need less cooking time than custard made in a deep dish.

Extra Contrast Goes In Salad

This salad has interesting flavor and texture contrast.

PLUM - TOSSED SALAD
1 qt. torn mixed salad greens
4 large or 8 small radishes, thinly sliced
3 fresh prune-plums
French dressing
Toss together the salad greens and radishes. Rinse plums; cut in quarters or eighths (depending on size) and remove pits. Add to vegetables. Toss with enough French dressing to moisten and give good flavor, add salt and pepper if necessary. Makes four servings.

Orange Dessert

Cut oranges into halves; scoop out pulp and dice. Return to shells and top with marshmallow cream mixed with roasted diced almonds and chocolate bits.

MRS. PAUL KASCH

Homemaker Collects Navajo Rugs, Jewelry

By RHODA LEMONS

The home of Mrs. Paul Kasch, 906 Mountain Park, is as interesting and unusual as its hostess. The house is both charming and comfortable; the large rooms offer privacy for each member of the family and the terrace backyard is edged by a small garden where corn is growing three feet high. Other vegetables are black-eyed peas and beans, both of which are flourishing, which were planted and are cared for by Mrs. Kasch.

Mrs. Kasch lives with her husband, co-owner of Kasch Brothers Commercial Construction, and their three children. Nancy Thomas, 9, is a third grader at Park Hill Elementary School, and Jerry, 5, is busy at home with his mother. They also have a black Mynah bird named Ivanhoe, who talks incessantly.

Hunting is the favorite sport of Mr. and Mrs. Kasch. They pursue the sport almost each weekend in Ozona, where they have a hunting lease and a self-contained camping trailer. Once a year, Kasch goes hunting for bigger game in Canada, and although Mrs. Kasch has joined him on occasion, she usually minds the home fires while he is away.

The Kasches have two large freezers in their home which they use for meats. One is used for storing sides of beef and the other is used for game including duck, quail, dove, wild turkey, deer and wall-eyed Pike. Mrs. Kasch does not freeze vegetables, as she enjoys them garden fresh in summer and buys them during the winter.

Mrs. Kasch has joined her husband on trips to Mexico where they go deep sea fishing, or on to Guatemala where they enjoy the same sport. They usually bring home quite a haul. Kasch serves as weekend chef, and according to his wife, makes a "delectable" gourmet dinner. Mrs. Kasch makes the salad and the dessert, and they often invite friends over to join them.

The family enjoys weekends most of all because then all of them can be together for meals and camping trips.

Mrs. Kasch is an avid collector of Navajo rugs, and has them in many colors and designs. The designs are varied in her collection of approximately 25 rugs, but all are symbolic and meaningful. She also collects Indian jewelry and turquoise, and has many beautiful pieces. She has necklaces, bracelets, belts and an ornament for her hair, but her favorite is a concho belt given her by her husband which contains 900 turquoise stones. She has a necklace made from raw turquoise, which her father-in-law, the late A. P. Kasch, had set in gold for her in South America.

Another interest of Mrs. Kasch's is the collection of authentic teapots and Toby jugs. Her rather extensive collection of jugs are the "Characters" by Royal Doulton. She has done some painting, and her preference is working in oils and pastels.

Mrs. Kasch mixes the old with the more contemporary in her home, and one chair in the foyer is of needlepoint. She had the wood stripped and refinished making a handsome and useful addition to the entry way.

"My kitchen is the foundation of my home," said Mrs. Kasch. The kitchen looks rustic and cozy, while featuring all the latest in modern equipment. It has wood cabinets of natural birch with a brick wall and is designed as an island in the center of the house.

"The rotisserie is my favorite appliance," Mrs. Kasch said. "I don't know whether we could get along without it." Mrs. Kasch and her husband use it for cooking most of their meats and game.

Mrs. Kasch spends much time reading. Bookshelves overflow in the spacious den, and some of the books are worn from much use. She is reading a collection of the classics now and enjoys most those on philosophy and poetry.

Mrs. Kasch feels that her children are doubly blessed, living in the same town with both their grandmother, Mrs. T. W. Cantrell, and their great-grandmother, Mrs. L. M. Gary, who reside together at 435 Hillside. They assist Mrs. Kasch with the younger children, and are efficient at sewing on loose buttons or offering solace to young boys or even older sisters.

"I never want to get so involved with things that I don't have time to enjoy my family, my home or my books," said Mrs. Kasch. Judging from her serene attitude and her happy demeanor, she seems to be accomplishing her goal.

Senators Support Action To Preserve Israel

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators today urged the United States to preserve Israel's territorial integrity.
Presidential critics and backers of Israel are joining forces in support of action to preserve Israel from the pincers of war threatening Arab nations.
While any immediate solution for the crisis triggered by Egypt's closing of the Gulf of Aqaba to Israeli shipping obviously eludes them, they agree the United States has committed itself to carry out to preserve Israel's territorial integrity.

Surprisingly, some of the most vigorous critics of U.S. involvement in Vietnam are willing to go it alone in the Middle East if that is necessary to save the Jewish state.
One of these, Sen. Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska, told the Senate Wednesday it was commendable for the United States to seek cooperation from other crisis — something he said it was too bad it didn't do in Vietnam.

"Nor can the United States stand idly by and permit Egypt to starve Israel for the United States has definite commitments to Israel — commitments given repeatedly in no uncertain terms by presidents from President Truman on."
"The United States cannot stand idly by and permit its flagships to be searched by United States should make it clear in advance that it will not act alone. Stennis, who has complained that political restrictions are limiting the military effort in Vietnam, said this country cannot become "the sole policeman of the entire world."

Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, who has opposed escalation of the Vietnam war, called for a multina-tion accord on the Middle East. He added: "But United States exploration of this possibility should not be misconstrued as any weakening of our solemn undertaking" to "honor our commitment to Israeli security and territorial integrity."

FREE PASSAGE
Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, who is against stepping up the Vietnam conflict, suggested that if the United Nations fails to produce any satisfactory settlement the Big Four nations be called upon to act.

Mansfield said he thinks the United States, Great Britain, France and the Soviet Union should be able to work out free passage of ships in the Gulf of Aqaba by an agreement similar to the 1936 accord under which shipping flows through the Bosphorus and the Dardanelles.
Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen, agreeing that Israel must be saved, skirted any commitments until Johnson decides how to act in the crisis. Dirksen, who has supported the President's Vietnam actions, said he assumes Johnson will ask and get congressional backing for any decision he makes.

Maj. Reno Is Cleared

WASHINGTON (AP) — Maj. Marcus A. Reno has been cleared of charges of brawling, drunkenness and taking liberties with another man's wife that led to his dishonorable discharge from the Army 37 years ago.
The action probably means little to Reno, who died here of cancer in 1939. But it does permit removal of his body from an unmarked Washington grave to a national cemetery where only the honorably discharged may be buried.
Reno once was accused of cowardly failure to aid Col. George A. Custer at the Battle of the Little Big Horn where Custer and his unit were wiped out in 1876. Although a court of inquiry cleared him of that charge, he was kicked out of the Army four years later on the other charges.
Charles Reno, 54, a New York City bartender and great-grandnephew of the major, filed a petition last October to have his great-uncle's name cleared.
An Army board for correction of military records reviewed the case and said Wednesday "the recent loss of Reno's wife, his state of bachelorhood in a desolate frontier fort and in the field and the attendant primitive conditions were not conducive to producing 'plaster saints'."
Secretary of the Army Stanley R. Resor then ordered the Army adjutant general to correct Reno's record. Charles Reno now wants to rebury the major at Custer National Cemetery in Montana.

Daly Gets VOA Tips

WASHINGTON (AP) — John Charles Daly, due to become director of the Voice of America next August, already is getting advice about running the show.
Daly has been quoted this week as saying he intends to have the Voice of America report "fully and fairly the divisions in the country," including the conflicting opinions on Vietnam policy.
But, replied Rep. Charles S. Joelson, D-N.J., "the Voice of America is to promulgate our government policy. If that policy is wrong, we should change it here, not broadcast statements opposing that policy."
Rep. John J. Rooney, D-N.Y., agreed, saying Daly "is going to have to realize he's not on 'What's My Line?' anymore. His job is purely administrative. It has to do with contracts and the purchase of equipment. And where he does get into programming, he should realize his job is to promote our way of thinking."

Blonde Secretary Thwarts Robber

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Anna Marie Iff, a blonde secretary, took a holdup man's toy gun away from him after he ordered her to undress so she couldn't follow him.
Miss Iff, 28, was alone in the Swiss National Tourist Office Wednesday when the robber pulled his gun and demanded money.
"I didn't have the combination for the safe so I gave him $11 from my purse," Miss Iff said.
"Then he told me to go to the back of the office and take my clothes off so I wouldn't try to follow him."
"He grabbed my blouse when I hesitated and he forgot about his gun so I grabbed it. That's when I found out it was a toy."
She screamed then. Howard Wilcox, 37, a clerk working in the basement, ran up into the office but the robber had fled.

MARY!... IT'S SUCH A RELIEF... RUNNING INTO YOU!... I TRIED TO PHONE YOU IN LOS DADOS!... FROM POINT-A-PITRE!
"POINT-A-..." EXCUSE ME, FOR A MINUTE, CONNIE! I'D LIKE TO SAY GOOD-BYE TO THESE PEOPLE!
NOW! YOU WERE ABOUT TO EXPLAIN WHY YOU WEREN'T AT HOME... WHEN I FLEW OUT HERE TO HELP YOU THROUGH SOME SORT OF A GRAVE CRISIS!
OH! THAT!... REEF AND I HAD A SILLY QUARREL!... BUT WE MADE UP... AND I SUGGESTED A SECOND HONEYMOON ON GUADELOUPE!... AND WE LEFT IN SUCH A WHIRL THERE WASN'T TIME TO LET YOU KNOW!
BUT NO HARM WAS DONE, I GUESS! I'M SURE YOU'VE HAD A LOVELY WEEK WITH YOUR FRIENDS!

REX MORGAN

HOW BADLY IS HE HURT, REX?
SHE'S STILL UNCONSCIOUS! I'M HAVING A NEUROLOGIST SEE HER!
AND GARROWAY?
HE ESCAPED WITHOUT SERIOUS INJURY!
WHAT HAPPENED?
WENDY'S BEEN HURT! SHE WAS OUT WITH CLARK GARROWAY!... AND I SUGGESTED A SECOND HONEYMOON ON GUADELOUPE!... AND WE LEFT IN SUCH A WHIRL THERE WASN'T TIME TO LET YOU KNOW!

TERRY

"AIR FORCE!" "BLACKMAIL!"
MOTHER! BUCKY AND I JUST HAPPEN TO LIKE EACH OTHER!
INDEED! MY FRIENDS IN CONGRESS WILL STILL BE CURIOUS WHY HE CHOSE THE DAUGHTER OF AN AIR FORCE CRIT!
AND THEY'LL FIND THERE'S NOT A THING TO SUCH A RIPULOUS CHARGE!
... BUT LONG AFTER THE DETAILS ARE FORGOTTEN, HIS SUPERVISOR WILL REMEMBER MISTER WARROW AS THE ONE WHO CAUSED THEM SOME EMBARRASSMENT!

SMITTY

BONNIE SAYS SHE'S MY GIRL - SHE'S WAITING FOR ME!
IF YOU'VE FINISHED YOUR LESSON, YOU MAY GO, HERBY!
HOW ABOUT THAT, YOU WOULDN'T FIND MANY GIRLS WHO WOULD WAIT FOR A GUY...?
