government have met six major times before today in efforts to thrash out differences between the two world powers, with highly mixed and often controversial results.

Today's meeting between President Johnson and Premier Alexei N. Kosygin will add the name of Glassboro, N.J., to such places as Potsdam and Yalta, Geneva and Camp David - where issues affecting history have been discussed but seldom

World War II

Three leadership meetings during World War II, when the United States and Soviet Union were allied against Nazi Germany, marked the high point of cooperation between the two world giants.

The first, at Tehran, Iran, in November, 1943, brought together President Franklin D. Roosevelt. Soviet Premier Joseph Stalin and Prime Minister Winston S. Churchill of Great Britain.

Invasion

The discussion centered on U.S.-British plans for an invasion of Europe, strongly pushed by Stalin to ease Nazi military pressure on the Soviet Union. Roosevelt issued a post-conference statement say-"We came here with hope and determination. We leave here, friends in fact, in spirit and Roosevelt met once again with Stalin and Churchill, at Yalta in the Soviet Crimea, in February, 1945-three months before the President's death. The U.S. and British leaders agreed at Yalta to Soviet demands that a government friendly to the U.S.S.R. be established in Poland.

Security Council

Stalin, in turn, conceded to U.S. proposals for the makeup of the Security Council within the United Nations and secretly pledged to enter the war against Japan within three months after an Allied victory in Europe.

The cast for the third summit meeting included President Harry S. Truman, Stalin, Churchill and Clement Atlee, soon to succeed Churchill as prime minister. It was held in Potsdam just outside bomb-shattered Berlin on July 17, 1945.

It was during this meeting that Truman learned of the successful U.S. test of the world's first atomic bomb. He issued a declaration warning Japan of "prompt and total destruction" unless it

Truman's Decision

At Potsdam Truman agreed to Polish occupation of a portion of defeated Germany.

'The spirit of Geneva" - meaning warm cooperation and friendship - was a term emerging from the July, 1955, meeting in that Swiss city among President Dwight D. Eisenhower, Soviet Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin, Prime Minister Anthony Eden of Britain and Premier Edgar Faure

But little actually was accomplished and a year later the Soviets militarily repressed an uprising in Hungary, bringing a return to icy relations between the two major powers.

Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev-who had accompanied Bulganin in 1955-met informally at the presidential retreat of Camp David, Md., in September, 1959. Their talks were termed cordial and "the spirit of Camp David" was heralded as a step toward easing world ten-

Angry Exchanges

But a year later, in May, 1960, plans for a Paris meeting between Khrushchev and Eisenhower broke up amid angry exchanges when the Soviet leader demanded U.S. apologies for using planes to spy on the Soviet Union. An American U-2 spy plane had been shot down by the Soviets a month earlier and its pilot captured.

The last U.S.-Soviet summit meeting before today's was in June, 1961, in Vienna between Khrushchev and President John F. Kennedy. It gave the newly elected Kennedy a chance to size up his new adversary but little concrete was accom-

Senate Votes Dodd Censure LBJ, Kosygin Examine On One Count

Senate voted today to censure Sen. Thomas J. Dodd for converting to his personal benefit funds obtained "from the public through political testimonials and a political campaign."

This was one of two counts on which the Senate ethics committee recommended that the Connecticut Democrat be censured for conduct that tends to bring the Senate into dishonor and disrepute.

TIME WILL TELL He was only the sixth senator in the nation's history to have his conduct censured or condemned by his peers.

Still to be voted was a second count charging Dodd requested and accepted reimbursement for travel expenses from both the Senate and private organiza-

TOWER DEFEAT

The only vote at Thursday's session was on a surprise proposed amendment by Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., to reprimand rather than censure Dodd for his use of campaign and testimonial funds. The Senate rejected Tower's amendment 87 to 9, thus again refusing to soften the bipartisan ethics committee's recommendation that Dodd be censured for conduct tending to bring the Senate into dishonor and disrepute.

Ohio Senator Gigs Newsmen

WASHINGTON (AP) - Sen. Frank Lausche, D-Ohio, has told newspapermen "they can all go to hell" with any criticism of his role in the debate on censure of Sen. Thomas Dodd, D-Conn.

Lausche shouted his denunciation Thursday, charging an unidentified newsman with trying to browbeat him. The Ohio Democrat said he was accused of being a straight man for Sen. Russell Long, D-La., after asking questions which seemed to favor Dodd's side of the censure case. "The statement was made to browbeat me, to destroy my judgment, to make me break my oath," Lausche asserted.

"When I go home tonight I want to lay my head on my pillow and feel that I have acted honestly, in accordance with my own judgment, without dictation from outsiders.

"In the fear of being condemned," he said, "I say they can all go to hell. As far as I am concerned I will perform my duty first and surrender to them

JACKSONVILLE, N.C. (AP) -Two huge troop-carrying Marine helicopters collided in flight at the New River Marine Air Facility today and reports said at least 20 were killed and a dozen injured. The helicopters, one a HUE1 and the other a CH53A "Sea Stallion," crashed at the end of a runway in a wooded area. The Sea Stallion was carrying Marine troopers on a routine training mission and was coming in for a landing, a base spokesman said. The other craft was practicing touch-and-go landing.

The spokesman said the second craft apparently rose from the runway and struck the other helicopter in its belly.

Diplomats Keep Attuned To Glassboro Meeting

(AP) - Diplomats pursued intensive private discussions at the United Nations today on the tangled issues of the Middle East crisis with one eye on the meeting between President Johnson and Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin.

Behind the scenes consultations at the United Nations were considered still in an embryonic stage. Most delegates predicted a long period of hard bargaining before the emergency session of the assembly receives a resolution that could command the two-thirds majority necessary for adoption.

COMPROMISE PLAN But feeling was widespread to a great extent on the outcome of the summit meeting in Glassboro, N.J. sion of the assembly debate also was focused on the statement by Premier Ion Gheorge Maurer of Communist Romania, who has been taking a leading role in trying to work out a compromise resolution. He was one of six speakers listed for the morning session.

One Romanian source said his government was not rejecting the strong support given the Arabs by the Soviet Union and other Communist countries but wanted to explore the conflict fully in an attempt to alleviate the tensions and find a solution that could lead to permanent peace in the area ANTI-ISRAEL BILL As to the harsh anti-Israel resolution introduced in the assembly by the Soviets, the source said it was "too early to pronounce ourselves on any resolution."

A factor in this attitude apparently was that Romanian Foreign Minister Cornelius Manescu is slated to become

Because the Middle East is expected to remain a dominant problem at the United Nations for some time, Romania seems to want to maintain a flexible stand that would do nothing to jeopardize Manescu's impartiality as presiding officer of the assembly.

CONDEMNATION CALL The assembly has before it two resolutions, that of the Soviet Union and one submitted by the United States.

Historic Meet Is Under Way

President Johnson and Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin shook hands today and went into a historic summit meeting to examine major tensions threatening world peace.

Johnson and Kosygin arrived a half-hour apart at this little South New Jersey college town for a meeting arranged after days of suspenseful diplomatic negotiations.

they shook hands and exchanged greetings.

"You have chosen a nice place," Kosygin commented on the meeting site as he and the President surveyed the grassy lawn with its shelter of elms, oaks and linden trees.

The President had to wait 35 minutes at the doorway of Dr. Robinson's stately home before the Soviet party, with Kosygin's black limousine in the anguard, pulled to a stop. It had been preceded by a squadron of police cars flashing red

POLICE ON ALERT

While he waited, the President chatted with Gov. Richard J. Hughes of New Jersey, who had, with Mrs. Hughes, greeted him on his arrival by helicopter from Philadelphia. As he talked, the President's expression was solemn. Johnson drove a quarter of a mile from the helicopter landing site to the Robinson home with his aides, in an eight-car motorcade.

All along the routes of both the President and the Soviet leader, police were on the alert. Kosygin had traveled the twolane Route 322, guarded all the way by state police. Along the way, householders, even with little notice, had found time to hang out American flags.

HANDSHAKES

When Kosygin finally arrived, President Johnson stepped quickly to the side of his limousine. With the President was Secretary of State Dean Rusk. There were handshakes and smiles exchanged all around between the American and Russian contingents.

Both men were aware of the implications of their historic meeting, brought about only by the most delicate of negotia-

Then he shook hands warmly with Dr. Robinson, the college president suddenly thrust into a world limelight.

There were introductions all around - Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara and other presidential aides.

Johnson shook hands first with Kosygin and then with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko when the Soviet party first arrived in the mansion.

TIMING OFF

When Johnson's helicopter landed, Kosygin's motorcade was 10 miles away, in the vicinity of Camden, N.J. It had been proceeding slowly down the turnpike, apparently in an effort to time the arrival to that of the President. The calculations were a bit off, however. The Russian delegation included Anatoly F. Dobrynin, Soviet ambassador to Washington, and one of Kosygin's secretaries, Yuri Firsov.

In the President's party, in addition to the secretaries of state and defense, were Walt W. Rostow, presidential assistant for national security affairs; Llewellyn E. Thompson, U.S. ambassador to Moscow: McGeorge Bundy, on leave of absence as president of the Ford Foundation; press secretary George Christian and Marvin Watson, a presidential assistant

WARM WELCOME

For the most part, the welcome to Kosygin in the quiet little college town was courteous and warm, although one dissenter did cry out "No welcome, Kosygin. As he waited for Kosygin, the President went into Hollybush and looked over the meeting After he looked around, the President emerged again to wait for the Russians. The White House said there was no agenda for the meeting but indicated the President planned to raise such issues as the Middle East, Southeast Asia and Vietnam, the proposed treaty to check the spread of nuclear weapons, and the U.S. proposal to limit the U.S.-Soviet Tough On The Cowhands antiballistic missile race. FACE-TO-FACE

However, the Big Two meeting was expected to last little longer than two hours - Kosygin wanted to be back in New York by 3 p.m. - so there was small prospect of summit solutions today to basic East-West issues. Diplomats looked for less tangible results:

- It is the first face-to-face meeting of the men on each end of the Washington-Moscow hot line. Even if they reached no substantive agreements, they might understand each other and the other's position better. - Those around the globe who look to the great powers for evidence of their interest in avoiding conflict might feel reassured by the meeting. At the last U.S.-Soviet summit, in Vienna in May, 1961, President John F. Kennedy and Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev agreed on neutrality and independence for Laos. But they disagreed over Berlin, which (See LBJ, Pg. 8-A, Col. 2)

"WITHOUT CHRIST A HOPELESS END — WITH CHRIST AN ENDLESS HOPE"

A Devotional For The Day

Let us therefore come boldly unto the throne of grace, that we may obtain mercy, and find grace to help in time of need. (Hebrews 4:16)

PRAYER: Our heavenly Father, we thank Thee for Thy Word and the encouragement it gives us to bring all our needs to Thee. We are grateful for the prayer that Thy Son has taught us: "Our Father who art in heaven . . . Amen." (From the 'Upper Room')

Deadly Delay

There is a saying in diplomatic drums of water and food to the Egchannels that there is nothing more deadly than delay. While this is applied to ideas and to maneuvers, it can be applied literally with tragic

The columnist Drew Pearson, frequently in the news as in the Sen. Dodd expose, tells how President Johnson read in the Washington Star a pathetic story by Smith Hempstone on how Egyptian soldiers wandering in the Sinai Desert were dying of thirst. Hempstone had flown over the area and reported seeing great numbers of the men walking in the burning sand and raisings arms imploringly. One observer blurted: "May God have mercy on their souls!"

According to the columnist, the President ordered the U.S. Air Force to fly planes from Lybia to drop yptian soldiers. Just as the Air Force was set to go, the bureaucratic machinery began spewing its maze of red tape. The State Department decided that the International Red Cross should be notified; there was debate whether Egypt or Israeli should be notified or who controlled the Sinia.

After a day, IRC took a neutral stand. Meanwhile, Air Force equipment, supplies, and Arab - speaking personnel to man loudspeakers stood by ready to go. Another day was passed and by that time it appeared the mission was too risky. Perhaps the delay and final decision (if the information is correct) were technically proper, but to hundreds of stragglers, it may have been just as deadly as though it has been cooly cal-

Cause For Concern In Any Event

There is cause for puzzlement as well as deep concern in the Federal Bureau of Investigation report that the incident of serious crime was up 20 per cent the first three months of 1967. Taken at face value, and considered in the light of earlier outcries about the crime rate, this is quite literally a horrifying increase. It suggests that the United States is beleagured as never before by the underworld.

The picture may not actually be quite as dark as it seems. The President's Crime Commission recently added its voice to recurrent doubts as to how dependable crime statistics are. The commission claims that the crime picture is not accurately reflected because not all police agencies use the same reporting proce-

Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark is among others who have taken figures with some reservations. Even FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover has contributed somewhat to the puzzlement over his agency's figures by declaring himself at a loss to account for the spectacular increase.

No complacency whatsoever is justifiable, however. All due weight must be given to Mr. Hoover's pointed assertion that "these crime increases are real and the law enforcement machinery needs the full support of government and citizens alike."

Even if the figures on the crime rise are discounted to some extent because experts in criminology do not quite trust their accuracy, it is evident that there has been a substantial increase in recent months. That is cause for enlightened alarm, and for greater effort in society's unending battle against the underworld.

U Thant's Decision Questioned

WASHINGTON — The usefulness of U Thant as secretary - general of the United Nations has come into question. Without placing the matbefore the U.N. General bly, he granted promptly last month President Nasser's request that the U.N. peace - keeping force be withdrawn from the armistice line on the Israeli border. This led to the outbreak of hostilities in the Middle East.

TWO PERTINENT documents now have been made public. One plainly sets forth the views of the late Dag Hammarskjold, who, as secretary-general in 1956, arranged with President Nasser for the U.N. force to go on duty at the armistice line and stay there "until the task of the force was completed." The other is the reply just made by U Thant to the Hammarskjold memorandum. It is clear that Mr. Hammerskjold knew there was a delicate point involved, and he left for future guidance a carefully written record and analysis of the whole subject. U Thant now brushes this aside as an interpretation not binding upon him.

BUT THERE is a difference between an argument over the right of Egypt to ask for the withdrawal of the U.N.'s peace - keeping force and the obligation of the secretary-general to submit the whole matter to the General Assembly for its consideration and decision.

The real issue is what Secretary-General Thant should have done about

Billy Graham

What is your opinion of Dr. Hugh Schonfield's so-called "Passover Plot" in which he claims to use modern scholarship to "demolish" the Christian myths built up around Jesus? I would be most interested in having your view of

First, I would say that the argument that Dr. Schonfield presents in the "Passover Plot" is not new. Such a plot was anticipated by Christ's contemporary enemies. They said: "We remember that this deceiver said, while he was yet alive, 'After three days I will rise again.' Command therefore that the sepulchre be made sure until the third day, lest his disciples come by night and steal him away, and say to the people, 'He is risen from the dead': so the last error shall be worse than the first. So they went, and made the sepulchre secure, sealing the stone, and setting a watch." Matthew 27:63-66.

But despite all these precautions, Christ came forth from the dead as He said He would, and as the prophecies predicted He would, and the res-urrection became the keystone of Christianity It is not at all strange that an unbelieving world repeatedly tries to discredit the cross and resurrection of Christ. The Bible says that "it is to them that perish foolishness." The real marvel is that there are not more

Egypt's request. He consulted on May to brand Israel an aggressor 17 with the members of the advisory committee of the United Nations emergency force - representatives of Inzil, Yugoslavia and Canada. Some of these envoys warned him that he should take the matter up with the General Assembly

UNFORTUNATELY, however, the secretary - general had already advised Egypt that, if it formally requested withdrawal of the peacekeeping force, this would be granted. It was really not too late even then for a special meeting of the General Assembly to be called to deal with the problem, but U Thant took no such steps and said that "it is not within the competence of the General Assembly to act." He felt that he himself had no choice but to grant the request from Nasser for the withdrawal. This he did on May 18.

THE HAMMARSKJOLD memorandum of August, 1957, on the other hand, argued these same points and emphasized that Egypt had made a 'good faith" agreement not to withdraw its "consent" to the presence of the peace-keeping force without submitting the matter to the General Assembly.

Mr. Hammarskjold also mentions that he put squarely to President Nasser the necessity for an "agreement on withdrawal" with respect to the peace - keeping force, and told him that, "unless an agreement of this type was made," the secretary - general would recommend to the General Assembly the immediate withdrawal of the troops which had just been sent in to police the armistice. Egtypt's president was so anxious to have the peace-keeping force established that he acquiesced in the agree-

THE PRESENT secretary - general now says that, while he was aware of the Hammarskjold memorandum, it was not an "official document." The making of vital decisions is the function of the Security Council or of the General Assembly as set forth in the charter itself. As it turned out, the one-man ruling gave encouragement to Egypt, which promptly mobilized its forces on the borders of Israel, and war ensued.

ACTUALLY, when I pinned on my wings, picked up my briefcase and hardened my heart against the charm of muchly - married captains, the company was hauling everything with the revered workhorse of the airlines - that lovely old DC-3.

Friend, you don't know what cold is till you've stepped in that thing at Amarillo at 5 a.m. on a winter morning. Maybe you do-because there may be those among you that I welcomed aboard. Invariably, when they were offered, several passengers were not that hungry. In that case, my habit was to take the remainder to the cockpit where they were devoured by famished pilots. Your're right, after I had a cigarette and started back down the aisle, some mild little man would tug at my sleeve and say, "Miss, I believe I will have one of those sandwiches

Reservations About Dodd Trial

WASHINGTON - "There never was such a trial from the beginning of the world until today." — Beveridge's "Life of John Marshall."

THE SENATE, like Queen Guinevere was on trial for its chastity. One does not comment on a lady's virtue, Kosygin might be flying back to nor the Senate's. But that was the question all the same. Was Sen. Tom Dodd of Connecticut, the free spender of testimonial funds, an unfit person to sit amid his peers? Was he worse than they? Must they assert their purity by condemining Dodd? He was proving, if not his inno cence, at least his essential nobility. "I would rather be dead than dishonored!" he told this house of peers.

knew, things that this proud Roman of a senator would not do to save himself. Advisors had hammered at him late into a night before he would agree to raise his hand and swear his deeply believed innocence on the Senate floor. He thought it beneath the dignity of his office, but he consented. The same advisors hammered in vain, however, to get him to release a private document which would have proved a central point about the testimonial dinners, but which also would have made a liar of another public figure.

DODD'S VISAGE, hawk - featured and silver - crowned, was a tragic mask. In dramatic contrast, was the comic mask of his defender, Sen. Russell Long of Louisiana.

THE WIFE of another senator had pleaded with Russell Long not to take Dodd's side. She knew her friend's ambitions. He hoped to become Majority Leader some day, and perhaps vice president. But already at this session Long had clashed with Mike Mansfield over the bill to subsidize presidential elections. He had tried the patience of his mates. Without the goodwill of other Democratic senators, this wise and sympathetic young woman told Long, he might as well bid his ambitions farewell. Don't do it, she begged him. But Russell Long said he was going to do it anyhow.

THE REASONS? They were manifold and complex. Russell Long is a Senate-man. He worships the institution of that body, and he dreaded to see it sink into the hypocrisy of condemning a member for misconduct that is not uncommon. Long knew that Dodd considered himself innocent by the accepted standards of Connecticut politics. Dodd, always outside the organization and usually competing against millionaries, had been given money to spend as he liked.

NOT WITHOUT gallantry are these two men, Dodd and Long. And if their sides are taken by a number of conservative columnists, that could be the reason why.

Some of us, considering how well Dodd and Long behaved in spite of some lapses, how rottenly Dodd was brought to book by treachery and scurrility, how much in question the Senate's chastity stood, have had our reservations about the whole strange

Marquis Childs Toward Mass Destruction

WASHINGTON - In an isolated

corner of the world inhabited only by primitive tribesmen a new terror of modern warfare has been tested for the first time. The Egyptians have bombed Yemeni villages with nerve gas, technically a V-agent, killing and seriously injuring several hundred men, women and children.

IF AFTER the horror piled on horror of this century mankind still has a conscience that can be aroused there may yet be time to stop short of disaster. Genocide as a way of warfare - an accepted convention in the contest between nations - is the threat inherent in the V-agent. Used by Arab against Arab in the Yemeni war, as verified by the International Committee of the Red Cross, a wholly Swiss committee, it causes a special revulsion.

THE THREAT of this new agent of mass death is underscored by what is apparently a fact, as yet officially unconfirmed, that quantities of nerve gas contained in artillery shells were stored in the Sinai Peninsula just prior to the Arab-Israeli war. It was not used. If it had been used the Israelis' frantic last - minute errors to obtain gas masks and supplies of the only known antidote could hardly have prevented large casualties.

WHAT HAPPENED in the Yemen and what might have happened in the Sinai must be seen not as an isolated incident but as one more step in a succession in which science has put itself at the service of death. It began on April 22, 1915. A strange green vapor released from German artillery shells floated across the trenches held by the French at Ypres.

The portion of the heart muscle not had the continued treat or cost of printing and han ... Coughing, choking, dying, as the chlorine gas penetrated their lungs the French fled in panic. They left a four-mile gap in the line. But, because of the failure of earlier small experiments on the Polish front, the German high command had had little confidence in the outcome of this first gas attack and was, therefore, not prepared to take advantage of the

THE STEPS down the steep and slippery slope are only too well known. In World War II the Nazis exterminated 6,000,000 Jews, Russians and Poles in a calculated policy of genocide. In August, 1945, the United States dropped the first atomic bombs on Hiroshima and Nagasaki, with dead and maimed in each city from 70,000

The despairing question being asked today is whether there is any leadership visible that could start back from the slope threatening to end in total destruction. The poison gases of World War I were as innocent as cap pistols in comparison with the new V-agents. These new gases, odorless and colorless, are in the arsenals of the great powers, with the United States spending a sizable sum each year on chemical warfare.

WHERE THE Egyptians obtained the nerve gas, which appears beyond their scientific capability, no one can say with certainty. An international convention drafted in 1925 outlawed the use of poison gas. Egypt signed that convention in 1928. Gas was not used in World War II if only because the circumstances of that war were not conducive to its use.

The death wish is part of the lar jargon of the age of Freud. Fleeing from his native Vienna as the Nazis took over, Freud saw not single individuals, disturbed and desperate. bent on suicide, but humanity itself in search of self - annihilation. This might be put down to the despair of a prophet who had suffered much. But each step in mass destruction since 1915 lends weight to his despair.

Ever since the Warren Commission issued its report on the assassination of President Kennedy a violent debate has raged over its findings. Critics of the report have been many and vocal. Their charges have brought a doubt of uneasiness over a subject which was once thought closed.

For the last six months, Associated Press special writers, Bernard Gavzor and Sid Moody, analyzed the report and its 23 supporting volumes, interviewing the Commission staff, reading papers in the National Archives. They have written their conclusions in a history-making, 25,-000-word report-

Helping Hand

Tom Belcher is not one to let retirement stand in the way of a helping hand. He has helped with the maintenance of Grace Baptist Church for several years, and when the new plant was announced, he looked for some extra way to help. He did this by furnishing materials and building 21 pulpit stands. These lecterns will go in the assembly rooms of the new building. (Photo by Frank Brandon)

The general contract was handled by Quality Contractors of R Electric of Big Spring had the electric contract; Hester's Sheet Metal the air conditioning; Frank Griffin Brownwood, the church furniture, Sam Robertson, mechani cal engineering.

The sanctuary has an offset design which stems from massive prefabricated arch beams, one side arching gently well pas the center of the nave, and the other side rising at a sharper angle. The main aisle parallels the roof line and is therefore to the right of the center of the sanctuary. The panel ceiling and roof rest on long strips of 6x10-inch pearling, which makes for an easier distribution

Aisles and chancel area as well as the rostrum are all carpeted. The new pulpit and communion table are of light walnut. To either side are the piano and the organ, and back of the rostrum is the choir loft, overlooked by the baptistry. The choir loft may be entered from the choir room to the east, and the fibre glass baptistry is flanked by robing rooms for candidates. Illumination is indirect from the east side and from the lofty clear window lights on the west side. Global drop lights add to the effect, and bullet lights spotlight the pulpit area.

LARGE NURSERY

The nursery has 14 beds, each with new mattress and bedding, separated by plywood baffles that extend well above the bed level. The room also contains storage and is adjacent to a service room with a combination sink, range and refrigerator for preparing, warming formulas, etc. This service area also opens to nursery No. 2 for toddlers. # Plans Long Time Shaping

Grace Baptist Church has been dreaming of a new church plant for nearly half a dozen years. Once the idea almost took form in major enlargement of the existing facilities at 109 Wright, but this subsided in the hopes of a new and more accessible site.

Leaders of the church, including the pastor, the Rev. Roy Honea, surveyed the southwest part of town and picked out a spot on FM 700 opposite the National Guard armory. This, alas, was tied up in the Edwards estate.

Ultimately, the estate became marketable and Connie and Buddo Edwards agreed to sell a three-acre tract to the church. When it came down to closing the deal they fixed only a nominal price, but then there had been two deaths among heirs, which caused a delay of many months

However, when title was secured the proposal was put before the church, and on Oct. 18. 1965, the congregation voted

PRAYERS IN PETER'S BEHALF RESULT IN HIS DELIVERANCE

The early church had undergone persecution from external foes, but God provided deliverance if it coincided with His will of the world

In like manner, God carries out His will in both the death and deliverance of His saints: An incident in the life of the apostle Peter (Acts 12:5-17) shows God's will of Peter's life and ministry, and is the subject of the uniform Sunday school

Herod had killed the apostle James, and when he had seen that it made him more popular with the Jews in Jerusalem, he arrested Peter. The people of the early church were in constant prayer for Peter, for he had been sentenced

God heard their prayers, and the night before Peter's execution. He sent an angel to deliver him from his fate. and as Peter arose, his shackles and chains fell from him. Peter, having been awakened with such a surprise, imagined he was dreaming and was in a daze. After he and the angel had passed the first two sentries on duty and reached the iron gate at the city's edge, Peter's trance lifted, and he realized that God had delivered himnot only from Herod, but also from all the expectations of the Jews. The prayers of the church in Peter's imprisonment had truly conformed with the will of God and were blessed

The rose comes very close to man's standard of perfection. Its delicate beauty seems to mock every effort of the artist or camera to capture it.

But is the rose really God's masterpiece? Hardly!

For its beauty is passive. It brightens life only for those who seek it out and gaze upon it. And in but a few days it withers and is ugly.

God's masterpiece is MAN. For with all his waywardness and selfishness, Man is capable of reflecting the love of God. When he lets God touch his life he is able to bring happiness and faith to others. He doesn't have to wait until he is noticed. He can actively bring spiritual blessings to his fellow men.

As the gardener cultivates the rose, the Church cultivates the lives of men. Always it strives to help us become all that God wants us to be.

Chairman Russell B. Long, D-La., of the Senate Finance Committee scheduled hearings on the measure for next Monday and Tuesday. Long said he hopes it can be brought to a floor debate Wednesday.

GOP OPPOSITION

It had been another story in the House, which stunned President Johnson's administration June 7 by defeating 210 to 197 a bill to increase the borrowing ceiling to $365 billion.

Republicans voted solidly against debt ceiling increases both times, insisting Johnson provide more information on the fiscal outlook and scale down

The GOP's initial victory was possible through the help of Southern Democrats and a sprinkling of Northern Democratic liberals, some of whom claimed their opposition resulted from Johnson's Vietnam war

MONEY CUSHION

But the House leadership reclaimed 14 of these votes Wednesday, splitting the dissident Southerners about in half and picking up all but a handful of the antiwar faction.

The White House said later Johnson "congratulated the House leadership for this act of fiscal responsibility."

In addition to the $358-billion ceiling provided by the new measure, a $7-billion cushion goes into effect July 1, 1968. Intended to provide for the fluctuations in income and outgo during the year, the cushion is to be renewed annually. It will expire, however, one day before the end of each fiscal year.

DEAR "HITTING HOME" COLUMN:

Ever since our baby started to creep, he's constantly been underfoot in the kitchen, playing with the pots and pans. We bought him lots of nice toys and try to keep him in the living room, but he goes into a tantrum there. What in the world makes him act that

I. M. WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED:

All little children love pots and pans. Why not let him have some old ones in the living room? If this doesn't work, better see a doctor! He's probably allergic to your carpet. If that's it, the only answer is to change to allergy-free carpet-wool, nylon or acrylic. I suggest you go to Big Spring Furniture for best selection of famous name carpeting, in all sorts of roomflattering weaves and colors. They're known for thrifty prices, they'll give you a generous tradein allowance on your old carpet and easiest

South led a club from his hand, West followed with the eight and the ten was played from dummy. Without a sign of hesitation, East put the deuce of clubs on the trick. From South's point of view, the queen was apparently located in West's hand. He accordingly led back to the ace of diamonds to repeat the club finesse.

His plans received a severe jolt, when East topped dummy's jack of clubs with the queen. A diamond return placed considerable pressure a small spade to the nine, so that he could begin work on the club suit. This enables him to save the ace of trumps for a reentry to make a second play in clubs, without having to open up the diamond suit. Had he coordinated his play of the spades and clubs, East's deft footwork would have gone for naught. Declarer had it in his power to save the day even after East had permitted North's ten to win the first club trick. All South has to do is to lead a small club from the dummy at this point. East will make his two club tricks; however, North's long card in the suit will provide a parking place for South's losing diamond.

Even if West turns up with the queen of clubs, declarer can lead a club later up to dummy's king-jack in order to establish the necessary discard. The suggested play may cost an overtrick, but surely that is a negligible price to pay for assurance of
