Gunfire Kills Trio Son Shuns Funeral

GEORGETOWN, Tex. (AP) — James Wolcott, who won't be 16 years old until Aug. 14, was held to await a juvenile delinquency hearing after gunfire killed the other three members of his family. Victims of the slayings in their home early Saturday were Dr. Gordon Wolcott, 56; his wife Elizabeth, 43, and their pretty daughter, also named Elizabeth, 17.

The father was a biology professor at Southwestern University in Georgetown. He formerly worked with the U.S. Public Health Service.

No Charges Filed

Funeral services for young Wolcott's parents and sister were set for today at the First Methodist Church.

Late Sunday night the youth said, "For all concerned it is best that I don't attend."

Officers said he had made an oral statement about the three deaths but they disclosed no details. He has been held in the Williamson County jail since the shootings. No charges had been filed.

Seven Shots Fired

County Judge Sam Stone said he would set the juvenile delinquency hearing, a civil proceeding, after burial of the slain Wolcotts.

Police chief Frank Masur said seven shots from a .22 caliber rifle killed them.

The professor was found on a living room floor, two bullet wounds in his chest. His attractive daughter was found in her room, apparently shot twice as she prepared for bed. Mrs. Wolcott and Elizabeth were also killed.

'Pretty Hard To Take'

Sheriff Henry Matyssek, who earlier had said the son could attend the funeral if he wanted to go, went to the boy's cell—once kept for juveniles here—Sunday night. He quoted the youth as saying he wouldn't attend, adding "it would be pretty hard for me to take."

Burial of the Wolcotts has been set for Columbia, S. C., where Dr. and Mrs. Wolcott met while for 10 years he was a scientist there for the U.S. Public Health Service.

'Seems Real Calm'

Police Chief Masur said James had not requested a lawyer. He described the youth as a "typical shaggy-haired teenager."

The sheriff said young Wolcott "seems real calm. He doesn't have much to say. He's kind of downhearted."

Dr. Wolcott is survived by a brother, James N. Wolcott, and a sister, Mrs. Clarence G. Meeks, both of Eatontown, N. J. Mrs. Wolcott is survived by a sister, Mrs. Joseph S. Civil, Columbia, S. C.

Mrs. Meeks visited young Wolcott in his cell Sunday afternoon.

Triplets Celebrate

LUBBOCK (AP) — G. C. Adams and his two sisters suspect they may be the nation's oldest living set of triplets.

They celebrated their 80th birthdays at a party Sunday and President Lyndon B. Johnson was among those sending congratulations.

Adams is a retired school teacher from Ardmore, Okla., and the other triplets are Nettie Clay of Lubbock and Cora Comer of Plainview.

Their birthdays actually rolled around a day earlier, but it seemed more feasible to hold the party Sunday at the Broadway Church of Christ. About 60 friends and relatives took part.

Spirit Of Unity

Congratulatory messages also came from Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney, D-Okla., Rep. George Mahon, D-Tex., and Texas' acting Gov. Preston Smith. It was Aug. 5, 1887, that the triplets were born at McKinney, Tex., to Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Adams. The family moved to what was then the Oklahoma Indian territory when the youngsters were five, and Ardmore later became the Adams home.

They recalled that a strong spirit of unity always bound the family together.

Placed On Exhibition

When the triplets were six weeks old they were put on exhibit at the State Fair of Texas in Dallas. Later they were told about a wealthy couple seeing the infants there and offering the parents $1,000 for the privilege of adopting Mrs. Comer. The reply from the elder Adams and his wife was an emphatic no.

Two Detroit Cops Charged With Slayings

DETROIT (AP) — Two Detroit policemen today were charged with murder in connection with the slaying of three young Negroes at a motel during the recent riots.

The three were found July 26 in the Algiers Motel on Woodward Avenue, Detroit's main street. At first they were believed killed by police in an exchange of fire with snipers. But later, witnesses from within the motel told officers that Aubrey Pollard, 19, Carl Cooper, 17, and Fred Temple, 18, were shot to death by a white Army National Guard warrant officer inside the motel.

POLICE PRESENT

Witnesses said policemen were present at the time.

Wayne County Prosecutor William Cahalan said today that policemen Ronald August and Robert Paille had been charged in the deaths. He said August was charged in the death of Aubrey Pollard and Paille in the slaying of Fred Temple. He gave no further details.

Cahalan said the policemen would be arraigned this afternoon.

REMINDERS

Gov. George Romney has lifted a state of emergency during the weekend of the riots that erupted in the nation's fifth largest city.

Romney lifted the state of emergency after a meeting with state and local officials Sunday.

"Recent days and nights have indicated a return to normalcy in the metropolitan area," the governor said.

That was the signal for withdrawal of the last of some 7,000 National Guard troops ordered to the city and the return of law enforcement responsibilities to local officials in Detroit and the suburbs of Highland Park, Hamtramck, River Rouge and Ecorse.

THREE DEATHS

Three more deaths were added to the city's riot toll over the weekend, raising it to 42. A Detroit fireman injured by a falling power line while fighting a fire died Friday. Two Negroes shot and wounded by National Guardsmen died Saturday.

The list had numbered 41 victims until the weekend, but two fatalities were found to have resulted from nonriot causes and were dropped. Then the three weekend deaths brought the list to 42.

GUARDS VANISH

By midafternoon, all National Guardsmen had left the city of 1.7 million. State police, called to reinforce Detroit police, had returned to normal duty.

Detroit police, however, remained on extended duty. Police Commissioner Ray Girardin said he will continue cancellation of furloughs and leaves to keep a full complement of officers on duty.

U. S. Army General Hit By Communist Gunners

Presidential Vote Seekers Blast Regime

SAIGON (AP) — Some of South Vietnam's civilian presidential candidates angrily accused today of deliberately wrecking their first campaign trip Sunday. But others said it was just a misunderstanding.

A group of 10 candidates or their representatives flew 425 miles to the north Sunday to address 1,000 Vietnamese waiting at Quang Tri. They flew back again without making a single speech after adverse winds forced them to land 10 miles from their reception committee.

OFFER NIXED

The candidates refused a U.S. Marines' offer of two open trucks to take them to Quang Tri from the Marine air strip at Dong Ha and left while a welcoming committee was en route from Quang Tri to pick them up.

"The government tried to sabotage the trip yesterday," candidate Hoang Co Binh said at a news conference called by the candidates today. "The government has no sense of responsibility at all."

Vice-presidential candidate Phan Quang Dan, among those taking a more moderate view, said "So far, everything the government has done for us has worked fine. Radio, television, everything is working fine. The incident Sunday shows only that something didn't work right."

KEY TICKET

A spokesman for Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu and Premier Nguyen Cao Ky said: "There may have been a lack of organization in Quang Tri but there was no conspiracy by the government against the candidates."

The military regime had arranged 22 all-candidate trips to counter criticism that the Thieu-Ky ticket was unfairly using government planes for campaigning.

Thieu and Ky, apparently confident they will be elected president and vice president Sept. 2, did not make the first trip Sunday. Some candidates charged this showed the government had meant the trip to be a fiasco.

Ky complained today that "the candidates wanted deluxe cars to meet them. We don't have cars for them up there."

He said he would go on future trips if all the other candidates do, but not if they merely send representatives. Previously, both Thieu and Ky had indicated they would ignore the trips.

Scientists Await Clear Moon Shots Four Children Shot To Death

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Scientists engaged in mapping the moon awaited results from Lunar Orbiter 5 today—hoping for new, clear views of the rugged, pock-marked lunar surface.

The 860-pound craft's mission was to photograph five possible new astronaut landing sites and work at clearing up the old riddle of whether the moon's features were caused by meteors or volcanoes.

Spokesmen at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory said the first pictures would be flashed on television monitor screens at the laboratory.

'HOT SPOTS'

The shiny craft's camera system began working Sunday as it swooped low over the moon's surface. Scientists said after the landing site survey it would begin mapping most of the hidden side of the moon.

They hoped, through the new photographs, to see what causes "hot spots" on the moon's surface that are observable from earth. Some contend they may be sunlight reflecting off clouds of gas escaping through volcanic fissures.

LANDING SITES

Others believe the spots are merely lighter-colored materials on the surface.

Of particular interest were the craters Aristarchus, Censorinus, Dionysius, Dawes and Tycho—the hot spots.

DUNSTABLE, Mass. (AP) — The bodies of four children, all of whom had been shot, were found today following an early morning fire at their Main Street home.

Dist. Atty. John J. Droney of Middlesex County said the children's mother, Mrs. Mary Connolly, about 40, had been booked and that the charge would be murder.

Droney said the four children had been shot and apparently had been dead since Sunday night.

The victims were the children of Mr. and Mrs. Francis G. Connolly Jr. Officials said the parents had returned to their home at 7 a.m., after the fire, which was discovered by a neighbor about three hours earlier, had been extinguished.

Six Accused Of Planning To Kill Castro Displayed

HAVANA (AP) — Five partisans of Fidel Castro hijacked a Colombian airliner with more than 70 persons aboard to take them to Havana Sunday. Meanwhile, the Cuban government displayed six captured invaders from Florida whom it accused of planning to kill Castro.

The Cuban government said the plane, whose passengers included four U.S. citizens, was free to resume its flight today. All the passengers were reported safe.

The six captive Cuban exiles, paraded at a four-hour news conference, all said they were recruited and trained by the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency in Florida.

POISON BULLETS

Two said they carried poisoned bullets intended for Prime Minister Castro. Two others said they were CIA agents. Cuban authorities declined to say whether the captives would be shot.

Guests at the news conference included delegates to the meeting of the Latin American Organization of Solidarity—OLAS—a gathering of revolutionaries from 27 nations. Cuba apparently aimed to use the captives to offset Venezuelan charges that Cuba landed guerrillas near Caracas in May.

The Colombian government said the DC4 plane, flying from Bogota to the Colombian islands of San Andres and Providencia in the Caribbean, carried 71 passengers and four crewmen. It said the pilot, Rafael Madero, telephoned from Havana to report that a group of pro-Castroites had forced him to fly there.

Havana Radio said the plane had 78 passengers and four crewmen and that the armed men who took it over were four Colombians and an Ecuadorian. It said the hijackers asked to remain in Cuba and the government was considering the request. There was speculation the hijackers wanted to pay a dramatic visit to the OLAS meeting.

HONEYMOON

One passenger, U.S. Army Capt. Harris Wheeler, 25, honeymooning with his wife, Helga, 19, of Modesto, Calif., said the pilot announced the plane was being diverted to Panama.

"I didn't know we were coming to Havana until I saw a MIG over the airfield and I was sure I wasn't in Panama," Wheeler said. The Wheelers were married Saturday. His parents live in Barranquilla, Colombia, where the plane made a stop. Along with the rest of the passengers, they were taken to a downtown Havana hotel by bus. The other U.S. citizens on the flight were Mr. and Mrs. Victor Estrada of Chicago.

EXILES NAMED

The passengers said they never saw the armed men, but Enrique Hernandez, his wife said they were sitting near the crew's quarters and knew something unusual was going on. The flight from Barranquilla to Havana took about 4½ hours.

In Miami, Maj. Armando Freitas, leader of an anti-Castro military group, the Second Front of Escambray, said four of the captured exiles paraded in Havana Sunday were members of his force—Pablo Garcia Roqueta; Alberto Laucericia Diaz; Francisco Avila Aczuzy and Jose Roy Rodriguez.

The four said on Havana Radio Sunday night that another member of their band—Placio Hernandez—was wounded when they were captured July 18 and was in a Cuban hospital.

TERRORISM

Freitas said the Second Front aims to kill Castro as part of a campaign of "irregular warfare" to topple Cuba's Communist regime.

Details of the plot against Castro were not given. Asked by newsmen if he felt his group could have carried out an assassination, Laucericia smiled and replied: "Circumstances force me to say no."

Cuban officials said the four Second Front men were captured near Honda Bay in Pinar del Rio Province after coming ashore from an "armed mother ship." They displayed arms and explosives they said the four had brought for sabotage and terrorism.

Red Soldiers Storm Camp Near Border

SAIGON (AP)—A U.S. Army brigadier general was wounded in the leg today when Viet Cong fire hit his helicopter as he was trying to rescue two crewmen from a downed helicopter on the outskirts of Saigon. U.S. sources reported.

There were other reports that three U.S. helicopters burned after being shot down and that two more were badly damaged in action 12 miles north of the capital.

GOOD CONDITION

The sources said the general, wounded in the lower right leg, was taken to the U.S. Army 3rd Field Hospital in Saigon, where he was reported in good condition. They said his aide, a lieutenant, was wounded in both legs and was also in good condition.

The names of the two officers were not disclosed pending notification of relatives.

The U.S. sources said the general was directing an air mobile assault of one American company and a company of South Vietnamese rangers when he saw that the helicopter had been shot down.

CREWMEN RESCUED

Just as the general's helicopter set down to try to rescue the crew, Viet Cong guerrillas opened fire with small arms and automatic weapons.

The helicopter quickly took off again without picking up the downed crewmen, the sources said. The crew of the general's helicopter was not hurt.

Military spokesmen said ground units were within 100 yards of reaching the two crewmen.

60 BODIES

In other action, North Vietnamese troops stormed a U.S. Special Forces camp near the Cambodian border, inflicting moderate casualties on 600 South Vietnamese irregulars and their families. The Vietnamese army said the Communists left the bodies of 60 of their men when they withdrew after hours of fierce fighting.

There was no word if any of the dozen or so Americans in the camp were casualties.

In the air war, bad weather around Hanoi limited U.S. warplanes to strikes in the southern part of North Vietnam, with 134 missions flown against truck parks and storage areas. But Air Force pilots reported setting off 20 secondary explosions at one truck park just north of the demilitarized zone and believed they hit either surface-to-air missiles or artillery pieces.

PLANES LOST

The United States lost three more planes: an F4 Phantom shot down in the north with two crewmen missing, and a F100 Super Sabre shot down just south of Saigon, and a small observation plane shot down on a reconnaissance mission just below the demilitarized zone.

A total of 637 U.S. combat planes now have been reported lost over North Vietnam and 197 over South Vietnam.

The attack on the Special Forces camp at Tong Le Chan, 54 miles northwest of Saigon, began with a rain of mortar shells. Then the Red soldiers, believed to be the 16th North Vietnamese regiment, stormed the camp.

BAD WEATHER

Otherwise only small scattered actions were reported in the 34 allied ground operations that have been announced.

While the weather was bad over Hanoi, it was clear over North Vietnam's southern panhandle, and Navy pilots from the carriers Oriskany and Constellation said they blasted two enemy torpedo boats out of the water, damaged another and damaged 49 boats of other types.

The U.S. cruiser St. Paul and the Australian destroyer Hobart shelled a North Vietnamese radar station on Hon Mat island, 20 miles north of Vinh, and reported they left the area in flames.

In Kontum Province, 275 miles northeast of Saigon, a South Vietnamese paratrooper battalion tangled with an enemy battalion Sunday.

Texan Unearths Auto Tag Cast In Porcelain

WICHITA FALLS (AP) — Perry Clark digs into the past for a hobby.

In 15 years, he has unearthed some old coins—one an 1856 American dime—and 3,000 antique bottles, some more than 150 years old.

The most recent antique Clark found with his home-made metal detector is a Texas license plate cast in porcelain. Clark has no idea how old it might be. He found it one Sunday 18 inches underground in an abandoned dump ground two miles south of Throckmorton.

LOUDSPEAKER
The porcelain numbers—011 Texas—blue on a white background cover an area about 6 by 8 inches. Since there is room for only three numbers, Clark reasons there were less than 1,000 cars registered in the state then.

Clark, 52, owner of a television and electronics shop in Wichita Falls, devised his own metal detector. It consists of a piece of aluminum tubing for a handle, a wooden disc with copper wiring on one end and a four-by-five inch rectangular box on the other end containing "all sorts of stuff" like a loudspeaker, transistors, resistors, condensers and coils.

Shopkeepers Padlock Doors In Jerusalem

By The Associated Press

Arab merchants and shopkeepers in the former Jordanian sector of Jerusalem padlocked their doors today in protest against Israel's unification of the city. Observers termed the strike nearly 100 per cent effective.

Israel and Jordan meanwhile resolved a deadlock that had been blocking repatriation of an estimated 200,000 Arabs who fled from the west bank of the Jordan River during and after the six-day June war. But Egyptian postponement of the transfer of Egyptian civilians from the Israeli-occupied Sinai desert into central Egypt.

SUMMIT SLATED

Cairo newspapers reported an Arab summit conference will be held in Khartoum, the Sudanese capital, starting Aug. 29. The foreign ministers of the 13 Arab nations ended a conference in Khartoum Saturday with a call for the meeting and a pledge to "eradicate all vestiges of Zionist imperialist aggression."

Nearly all the more than 2,000 shops and stores inside the walls of the Old City of Jerusalem and in the new part of the Arab sector were closed by the strike. Only three bakeries were open.

FORMS OKAYED

Israeli officials claimed the strike was instigated from outside Jerusalem and that it was called to coincide with the arrival in Israel of U.N. Secretary-General U Thant's personal representative, Nils G. Gussing, who arrived in Jerusalem Sunday from Amman.

The Israelis and Jordanians finally agreed Sunday on forms on which residents of Israeli-occupied Jordan who fled from their homes can apply to Israel for permission to return. Israel says those who it does not consider security risks can come back.

Jordan rejected the first forms from Israel because they bore the heading "State of Israel." The Jordanians feared this would be considered implied recognition of the Jewish state. They finally agreed on forms adding to that heading the markings of the kingdom of Jordan and of the International Red Cross, which helped work out the agreement.

BITTER WRANGLES

Because of the delay in agreement on the forms, Israel extended the deadline for the repatriation from Aug. 10 to Aug. 31.

The oil embargo imposed by most Arab states touched off bitter wrangles at the Khartoum parley. Kuwait, Libya and Saudi Arabia said the embargo was hurting the Arabs through lost sales more than the United States, Britain and West Germany, against whom it was directed. The Arabs have charged that these three nations helped Israel in the brief war. The Arab foreign ministers agreed to have their finance, economic and petroleum ministers meet in Baghdad Aug. 15 to discuss whether to continue the oil embargo.

Dear Abby The Facts Of Life

DEAR ABBY: Because I was pregnant when I was married, I am now wondering what to tell my daughter and son when it is "facts of life" time.

Would it be wise to tell them of their parents' "mistake" and hope we have raised them well and they'll do better?

WONDERING MOTHER
DEAR WONDERING: The "facts of life" remain the same regardless of what the facts of your life may have been. As long as your children believe their parents have practiced what they've preached, permit them their illusions. If one day they "find out," don't lie. They will understand.

DEAR ABBY: Even though we've been married more than 40 years, I still am embarrassed by the way Bernie talks. Profanity is his second language. We go out a lot socially, and it is extremely humiliating for me to listen to him. Every other word is a cuss word. Swearing is as natural for Bernie as breathing. He was raised in a good home and has been through college, so you know he's not an uneducated bum.

Our old friends are used to hearing Bernie swear, but when we are with new acquaintances for the first time, they look at me as if to ask, "Is that husband of yours a mental case?"

'Hot Line' Slated To Aid Newsmen

Police Chief Willie Bauer said the telephones, color red, would give speed, accuracy, better news coverage and saving of manpower hours for the police department.

Based on a six-month trial, the service will allow approximately five seconds from the time a call of major proportions is received and given to the patrol cars to the time it will be received by newspaper, radio and television.

Tax Collections Up

BEAUMONT (AP) — During the past fiscal year, the city of Beaumont collected $3.54 per cent of the current tax levy or $6,179,008.09 in a levy of $6,584,443.74.

This collection exceeded the 1965-66 total by $169,404.31.

Rioting Might Be Big Issue In 1968, Say Dirksen And Kennedy

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's summer rioting—already generating changes in the Capitol Hill legislative outlook—could be a major issue in the 1968 elections, say Sens. Robert F. Kennedy and Everett M. Dirksen.

Dirksen said Sunday the riot issue will have an election impact and the political party that can maintain order and move to alleviate underlying conditions of riots "is going to receive support next year."

Dirksen, the Senate Republican leader, said unless urban problems are lessened before the election, "it's going to be one of the monumental issues in '68."

Kennedy, a New York Democrat, said it initially could cost $2 billion to $4 billion to fight city slum conditions. Dirksen hinted Congress might be willing to vote more money than previously, observing "maybe we haven't spent enough on the problem of cities."

Kennedy, noting the costs of the Vietnam war, said, "I think also it's more essential that we do what is necessary here for our own people."

"If it's going to be a question of one or the other, and I hope it would not come to that, then I would put the priority here in our own country."

TAX INCENTIVES

He suggested local communities develop their own programs with the federal role being aid and investment, along with tax incentives to private enterprise to invest in slum improvement.

Dirksen spoke on CBS' "Face the Nation." Kennedy on NBC's "Meet the Press."

Already there are indications the Senate will consider broader housing legislation than was planned prior to riots in Detroit, Newark and elsewhere.

A housing subcommittee will begin work on legislation Tuesday with prospects seen for a program to help slum families buy or rent homes.

Chairman John Sparkman, D-Ala., of the subcommittee said Saturday the bill is sure to include an administration-backed program to fight rats. The House turned down that plan earlier.

Democratic leaders in the House also indicate a slowdown in other antipoverty legislation because of concern about the political effect of rioting in the cities.

The Education and Labor Committee, scheduled to start work Tuesday on an antipoverty bill, now will take no action on it for at least two weeks.

An Associated Press poll of Democrats shows a sharp drop since rioting began in the number who would vote for the administration's $2 billion antipoverty program.

Senate Judiciary Committee hearings on the House-passed antiriot bill also have generated fresh controversy over the antipoverty program.

They were to resume today.

Style Show Depicts Days Of Yesteryear

In a more gentle era of time when days were long and sometimes leisurely, women were praised for their devotion to home and family, and skirts swished ankles instead of thighs.

A man in a cloth cap was not a beatnik, and streets were rough, because of cobblestones instead of chuck holes. Housewives bought pickles straight from the barrel, and courtships were accepted or denied in the front porch swing.

This time in the past was recaptured Friday evening at the Cosden Country Club when wives and members of the Antique Car Club of America, West Texas Region, modeled costumes worn in the years from 1892 to 1942. Awards were given for the most authentic costume in the year represented. A banquet preceded the style show.

A musical quartet from Midland, called "The Sweet Adelines," presented close harmony in a number of selections including "Heart of My Heart," "Sweet Rosie O'Grady," and "Come Away with Me, Lucille." They wore polka-dot pantaloons and bathing dresses, with matching scarves.

Roy Alford, Odessa, served as master of ceremonies, and C. C. Michel, Odessa, was narrator. A white wrought-iron archway, framed in large paper flowers, and matching period furniture provided the garden setting for the fashion show. Table decorations were black ceramic high-topped lace shoes and high-topped button shoes with dainty parasols and bouquets of paper roses.

There were nine categories in the style show, in which contestants were judged. In the children's division, age seven and under, Amy Matthews was awarded first place, and Toya Banks, second place.

Leo Short was first place winner in the children's group, age eight and up. Darrell Anders placed second. Children of all ages were entered in the third category with Julie Matheaus, San Angelo, first place winner, and Chuck Mitchell and Jeffrey Mitchell, placing second and third respectively.

Styles depicting the years 1898-1912 were modeled by Mrs. Emma K. Barth, San Angelo, first place winner; Mrs. Ruth Freeman, Lubbock, second place; and Mrs. Marie Epting, Midland, and Mrs. Ruby Flickling, tying for third place.

In the woman's division, years 1913-1922, Mrs. Ann Matheaus, San Antonio, won first place, and Mrs. Reba Short, Olney, second place.

James Wylie Daves, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

Johanna Gramh served as flower girl.

For traveling on their wedding trip, the bride chose a pink bonded knit suit with pink accessories and the corsage from her bridal bouquet.

Top Contenders In Mississippi Governor's Race

Rumors, Tips Flood Police

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Rumors, tips and reports of suspicious incidents have flooded police after the disappearance of a second small girl within a month.

But the result was the same as a month ago when the first child vanished—a lot of searching and investigating but no results.

A massive search that involved as many as 600 persons was called off Saturday, two days after Brenda White, 6, disappeared from the neighborhood around her suburban Midwest City home.

When Judith Ann Elwell, 5, vanished July 6 from her north-west Oklahoma City home, a search produced only a single shoe that belonged to her.

Mississippi To Stage Governorship Primary

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Mississippi holds a Democratic primary election for governor Tuesday and for the first time there is a possibility that a significant number of Negroes will vote.

There have, however, been no signs of attempts to organize bloc voting among Negroes.

No candidate for governor has asked for Negro support. Civil rights leaders are optimistic that Negro candidates will win some local and county offices. More than 50 Negroes are running in the primary, and others will run in the general election. None is in a statewide race.

HARD ROAD
For any of the seven candidates for governor, a victory in the primary would be only one stop on the hard road to the governor's office. The consensus among political observers here is that the top two candidates will meet in a runoff second primary Aug. 29.

The victor in the second primary will face Republican Rubel L. Phillips in the general election Nov. 7. Phillips is a proven vote-getter who ran for governor in 1963 but lost to Paul B. Johnson.

Observers generally agree that the leaders in the campaign for governor are Barnett, 69, whose determined opposition to integration of the University of Mississippi brought him national notice in 1962; U.S. Rep. John Bell Williams, 48, who bolted Democratic party discipline in 1964 to support Republican Barry Goldwater for president and as a result was stripped of his congressional seniority; and state treasurer William F. Winter, 44, whose record as an administrator has been established in a series of state offices he has held.

NEGRO STRENGTH
William L. Waller of Jackson, the district attorney for three counties, and James E. Swan of Hattiesburg, part owner of a radio station WBKH, are also considered strong contenders, but not strong enough to earn places in the second primary. Two other candidates are in the contest, but have not campaigned seriously.

Negro groups and organized labor have avoided endorsing candidates, although James H. Meredith, the first Negro the University of Mississippi knowingly admitted, has recommended that Negroes vote for Barnett and Johnson if they cannot make up their minds.

Estimates of Negro voting strength range from 150,000 to 200,000 of the total voting population of about 700,000. State officials expect about 650,000 voters to cast ballots.

Temple Square Is Staked Out After Rumors

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Police cordoned off Salt Lake City's famous Mormon Temple Square Sunday morning after rumors that a racially-motivated attack was eminent.

Police Chief Dewey Filis said Temple Square was one of four targets of a group of West Coast "Negro agitators".

Filis bolstered normal Sunday forces with a riot-control contingent of 100 to 150 men. They were armed with shotguns, tear gas, rifles and side-arms.

'TIP' REVEALED
Temple Square, site of several religious landmarks of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (Mormon), was closed prior to a national radio broadcast by the Mormon Tabernacle Choir.

Police cordoned off the area for four hours, admitting only choir members. Their performance went off without incident.

Filis said three other potential targets were also staked out by police. He did not elaborate.

A force was called out shortly before 6 a.m. Sunday after a "tip" to County Commissioner Marvin Jensen, who said he feared trouble might break out prior to the Mormon Choir broadcast.

RABBLE ROUSERS
Filis said about four carloads of Negroes had a variety of weapons including rifles, side-arms and hand grenades. There were also reports of automatic weapons being assembled.

Officials explained privately that one reason the Mormon Temple Square might have been a potential target is the church's refusal to admit Negroes into the priesthood.

Salt Lake City is the headquarters for the 2.5-million-member Mormon church. The city has less than 8,000 Negroes in its 400,000 population.

Filis said there were no incidents during the show of force. He would not identify the groups of Negroes who had been rumored en route to town, but charged that "they were part of a group that's been going around the country...Acting as rabble rousers."

Science And You Mud-Pies On The Moon
—By DR. LEONARD REIFFEL

The standard mental picture of the moon's surface, certainly the one held today by most scientists, is of a land with a very gritty, rocky and completely dry character. This image has been built up by all the photographs and other data we have obtained recently from various remarkable space missions to our nearest heavenly neighbor. The question does arise, however, as to whether the moon has always been so dry and gritty.

One of the interpretations of many of the fascinating features we've discovered on the moon is great lava flows. Huge outpourings of lava may have occurred eons ago and spread over the lunar surface to form lake-like pools. The pools then cooled and were pulverized by constant bombardment of meteorites. The final result, it could be argued, is the material we see today in the great lowlands of the moon where our spacecraft have landed.

But recently an alternative idea has been put forward, it's suggested that at one point in its history the moon was not dry at all but really very wet. This argument is based on the fact that certain stony meteorites falling on the Earth may have come from the moon. They contain a lot of carbon. If the carbon originated on the moon, it may have formed in a process involving ancient lunar lakebeds—but not lava lakes, real ones!

Also, there seem to be little fragments embedded in some of the meteorites which appear to be shaped by frictional effects within some flowing material. It is actually possible that large amounts of water appeared on the moon for at least a short period after the moon was captured by the Earth (if indeed it was thus captured).

Arson Blamed For Flames

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Investigators blamed arson for three San Antonio fires Sunday and said they were suspicious about the origin of two others about 3:30 a.m. today.

They estimated the loss at $5,000 in a blaze which started in an empty storage building and spread to a photography shop and cafeteria at Sidney Lanier High School.

A bit later a fire broke out across the street from the high school in a building used by the San Antonio Youth Organization. Damage was placed at $1,000.

Firemen were quick to quench flames soon afterward at the J. T. Brackenridge Elementary School, limiting the loss to $100.

The flames early today damaged outdoor tables and awnings at two restaurants on the San Antonio River. Officers said a teenager was being questioned.

Eisenhower Tests Are Encouraging

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, suffering a minor digestive ailment, continued under observation today at the Army's Walter Reed General Hospital, his condition unchanged since Sunday, a spokesman said.

The hospital issued a one-sentence statement saying, "There has been no appreciable change in General Eisenhower's condition; medical observations continue."

IMPROVES

The 76-year-old five-star general became ill Friday night at his home in Gettysburg, Pa., and was flown to Walter Reed on Saturday by helicopter.

His ailment has been described by hospital spokesmen only in general terms, as a "minor gastro-intestinal upset."

On Sunday his condition was reported as greatly improved, and the statement said Eisenhower probably would not stay long in the hospital.

Medical tests and X-rays, they said Sunday, were encouraging.

ACUTE ATTACK

Eisenhower's doctors, it was announced, planned to take advantage of his present stay to perform routine examinations and dental work which had been scheduled for later this month.

Eisenhower suffered an attack of acute gastroenteritis — an inflammation of the lining of the stomach and small intestine — last May and was hospitalized for eight days.

There has been no indication whether his present illness was a recurrence of that ailment.

Pool Receipts

Swimming pool receipts for the first week in August ran close to the budgeted figure of $300 as the three city pools collected $304.45 in admission charges. Weekend totals accounted for the major portion — $169.05.

Thieves Make Cash Haul

Over $600 in cash was reported stolen during the weekend, along with one white dress, a bicycle and car stereo unit.

Claude Heath, Colorado City, told officers today that $500 had been stolen from him late Sunday night. Sam Williams, 107 NE 9th, said $51 in cash was taken from him as he slept in his car early Sunday morning. Another $40 was allegedly taken from James Eatman, 1400 1/2 E. 6th, when his wallet was taken while he worked at a laundry at 1111 W. 3rd Sunday night.

Edith Baker, 1006 W. 6th, reported a white dress valued at $9 was taken from her clothesline Friday afternoon. A bicycle belonging to Dennis Nowlain, 1219 W. 3rd, was reported missing Saturday night from the Ritz Theater parking lot. Mrs. Carla Seidenberger, 1302 Barnes, told officers a car stereo, two tape cartridges and a tachometer — estimated value $145 — were missing from her car.

Commissioners To Study Welfare, Water System

Big Spring City Commissioners will be asked to participate in county welfare spending and get a look at the costs involved in expanding the water system during the regular meeting Tuesday.

Backers of the plan to launch a child welfare unit here will point out that the county has agreed to a trial program, provided the city picks up half the cost. In a tabulation prepared for the commissioners, the city of Sweetwater is the only city in the area making a significant contribution to such a program. The cities of Midland and Snyder do not participate in their county programs, and Lamesa and Odessa make token contributions — less than $100 per month — to general county welfare funds.

Additional storage and distribution lines in the water system, to cost almost half a million dollars, will be discussed. The city already has ample funds to finance the project.

A lease with E. W. Richardson, to use his property for a sanitary landfill project, will be considered. The city will pay Richardson $100 per year for the lease, if approved.

A resolution authorizing a lease with the Big Spring Boys' Club for use of the Northeast Park and swimming pool is to be considered.

Public hearing for an on-premises beer consumption permit for Tommie Lee Hutchison to operate Tommie's Place, at 401 NW 4th, is also scheduled.

War On Home Front At Valley Forge

A huge tank crushes rear of parked sports car near Valley Forge, Pa., after the tank, on display at a war veterans' convention, rolled from its position and went up over the car. Police said youngsters were seen playing around the tank earlier and expressed the belief they may have released the tank's brakes. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Forest Fire Dies On Isle Of Capri

CAPRI, Italy (AP) — A forest fire that raged over the center of the Isle of Capri died out Sunday after 1,000 firemen, police, soldiers, citizens and tourists battled it for nearly two days.

Miles of underbrush was blackened in the mountainous middle of the vacation island off Naples.

Four soldiers were hurt fighting the blaze, but the fire destroyed the roof of only one villa. Hotels, homes and other structures were untouched.

Puzzle of Saturday, August 5, Solved

Horse Triggers Five-Car Crash

SOUTH PLAINFIELD, N.J. (AP)—A horse touched off a five-car accident in which it was fatally injured early today.

Police said the horse, a gelding owned by Roger Young of South Plainfield, apparently wandered onto Route 287 after getting out of its corral about a quarter of a mile away.

The animal was knocked down and probably killed when a car driven by Edward Haluszka of Metuchen, N.J., slammed into it, police said.

Another car then hit Haluszka's vehicle, touching off a gas tank explosion.

A third car ploughed into the carcass of the horse.

Two other cars also hit the carcass.

All wound up strewn alongside the roadway.

Four Face Arson Raps

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—Four men, including the former head of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in New Haven, have been charged with arson in connection with two fires in Hartford's North End.

Police said a firebomb burned out a grocery early Saturday, causing an estimated $200,000 damage. Four hours later, police said, gasoline was poured through a kitchen ventilator at a restaurant and then was ignited, causing heavy damage.

Arrested were John Barber, 29, and Leroy Moton, 22, both of West Haven, and James Brown, 23, and Maron Brown, both of Hartford. They were held in lieu of $20,000 bail each.

Barber was identified as the former New Haven NAACP head. He is a graduate of Morehouse College and holds a political science degree from Yale.

Moton was identified as a former civil rights worker, originally from Selma, Ala., who had been riding in a car alongside Mrs. Viola Lizzuo when she was shot to death in Alabama May 25, 1965. Moton was said to have been working with Mrs. Lizzuo, a white woman from Detroit, and others in transporting civil workers to Selma.

Maron Brown, police said, was the twin brother of Aaron Brown, who was shot to death June 25 in what they said was an apparent personal feud in the same restaurant—the Keney Park restaurant on Barbour Street—that was burned early Saturday.

A Devotional For The Day

Whosoever heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them, I will liken him unto a wise man, which built his house upon a rock. (Matthew 7:24)

PRAYER: "In thee, O Lord, do I put my trust; let me never be ashamed: deliver me in thy righteousness. Bow down thine ear to me; deliver me speedily: be thou my strong rock, for an house of defence to save me. For thou art my rock and my fortress; therefore for thy name's sake lead me, and guide me." Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Congressional Ethics

Both chambers of Congress are working with foot-dragging reluctance on codes of conduct for their respective memberships. Whether Congress has the will to put such codes into effective action remains to be seen. And whether Congress is the best judge of what the ethical standards should be is an open question.

Of course, Congress, and Congress alone, unquestionably has the constitutional authority to judge the qualifications and conduct of its members and to punish, even expel, them for "misbehavior." But the Constitution offers no help in prescribing ethical, or even minimum acceptable, standards of conduct.

There should, then, be substantial value in the Ford Foundation-financed $160,000 two-year study by the prestigious New York City bar of congressional "ethical standards and conflict of interest." Perhaps Congress will be moved to earlier action by the knowledgeable citizens of unimpeachable integrity, the foundation's requirement. (The special study committee will be headed by Louis M. Loeb, former city bar president, with research directed by Prof. James C. Kirby Jr. of Northwestern University Law School, former chief counsel of a Senate subcommittee on constitutional amendments.)

If current delaying tactics continue, Congress is unlikely to get around to adopting ethics codes before the New York bar study's recommendations are in hand to serve as useful guides. In any event, the independent study and its recommendations should help give the public a good measure by which to judge Congress' effort—or lack of it—to clean its own house.

City-Bound Farm Boys

There is something in the American tradition that makes it seem desirable for country boys to stay on the farm when they finish their education. But Americans might as well reconcile themselves to the fact that most rural youths are now headed for the cities.

A recent University of Illinois survey of 2,929 of the state's rural high school juniors and seniors found 95 per cent of them looking toward nonfarm jobs. This does not mean that they are seeking bright lights and easy living. They are merely facing the fact that today's farm structure can use only a limited number of new farmers. One estimate is that only one out of 10 of today's farm boys now reaching "productive age" will be needed to raise crops.

In the light of this trend it might seem that there would be little business for agricultural colleges. But this is not the case.

A survey of 14 state universities in the Middle West made by Iowa State University finds industrial and the professions grabbing up agricultural students as fast as they get their degrees. Last year the business sector got 23 per cent of the graduates. Others went into military service or the professions. Farming? A slim nine per cent returned to the land.

This trend away from farming as a way of life is regrettable. But ambitious youth seeks opportunity. Society's concern should be to see that every rural youth gets an education for the changing world he will live in. And that those who really want to farm get the chance to do it well.

John Cunniff

Doubts Cast On 'New Economics'

NEW YORK (AP)—President Johnson's tax message to Congress discloses that such basic miscalculations of revenue have been made in the recent past as to cast doubt on the ability of the New Economics to function properly.

THE NEW ECONOMICS is an activist policy. It proclaims, among other things, that flexible taxing and spending, precisely timed and applied sensitively, can prevent expansions from deteriorating, as they often have, into recessions. One of its requirements is precise and accurate forecasting of trends. But, in eight paragraphs near the middle of Johnson's 3,000-word tax document there is evidence of very poor forecasting. Johnson frankly concedes that some of the present fiscal problems of big bills and too little money to pay them are caused by the inability to foretell the economic picture even a few months ahead. The Vietnam war, of course, complicates matters.

"THE HISTORY of war," he explained, "teaches one clear lesson: the costs of conflict can never be precisely estimated nor fully foreseen." Defense spending may, therefore, exceed the January budget by $4 billion, he said.

This inability to forecast Vietnam's costs was, of course, verified before. Just last year a multibillion-dollar underestimate helped throw the economy out of a long period of equilibrium and rekindle the inflation embers.

But it isn't just the Vietnam war that has brought about the present situation, which could produce not just high taxes but a high cost of living as well. The errors in forecasting were everywhere.

"SINCE JANUARY," Johnson continued, "revenue estimates have been revised downward by a total of $7 billion."

Billy Graham

My husband and I feel that you are being dogmatic at the end of the Hour of Decision program when you say, "Just receive Christ as your Savior." G.A. It is not dogmatic to be explicit as to the truth. Many considerations are matters of opinion in which there is no clear solution and final answer. One can speculate about the weather, for while meteorology is a science, we do not know with exactness enough of its detail to be dogmatic as to cause and effect. We are dogmatic, however, in mathematics. In pure numbers, two and two always equals four. That is dogmatic.

"Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved." My intention is to speak with all the kindness of my heart, but also with all the accuracy of the truth.

LBJ Faces Ru gged Workout

WASHINGTON (AP)—Troubles are piling up on President Johnson the closer he comes to the 1968 election, now only 15 months away. He is a political master but he is headed for his toughest workout.

Some but not all of his troubles are piling up on President Johnson the closer he comes to the 1968 election, now only 15 months away. He is a political master but he is headed for his toughest workout.

Vietnam, with no solution visible, was bad enough. It split American thinking. Everything about the war is intangible except him. As President he is the symbol of American involvement.

Therefore, he has become the target for the opponents' blame. Then the riots mushroomed. He can't be blamed for them directly but he is the symbol of American law and order and some of the public concern will be dumped on him.

WORST OF ALL, from a political standpoint, is the fact the cost of the war forced him to ask for a tax increase which will affect nearly everybody, if Congress approves, and therefore create new antagonisms toward him.

Hal Boyle
Worth Remembering

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

If you had all the gold ever mined by man, it would be worth $112 billion and could be stacked, 90-feet deep, within a single baseball diamond. Incidentally, gold is so well distributed throughout the earth's crust there is probably some right in your own back yard—about a penny's worth per ton of dirt.

THERE ARE only three kinds of animals in the world that have black tongues— polar bears, chow dogs, and children who eat licorice.

The spirit-electrifying words of Jesus Christ have been translated into scores of languages, but if He returned to earth and spoke again in the same tongue, He would be understood only in three small villages on the Syrian-Lebanese border. They are the only places left where Western Aramaic, the language of Christ, is still in daily use.

NO, MATILDA, "blueberry slump" isn't a posture ailment among underprivileged berry pickers. It's a type of bread pudding popular on Cape Cod.

Still room for more: Despite all the worry about the population explosion, the United States is far from crowded. Only 6 per cent of our land is used for residential purposes.

So, as of now, Johnson's political fate is in his own hands.

spirit is a mark of life.—Dr. Karl Menninger.

CAN YOU recall later in the day the dream that seemed so vivid last night? Inability to do so may indicate you're aging. Tests show that young people remember their dreams better than old people.

How it began: In the 12th century Emperor Shun-ho of China became so annoyed with the bickering in his harem that he invented a game played with 120 cards to keep his quarreling wives quiet. This may have been the first forerunner of the modern bridge club.

Quips from our contemporaries: Catholic Digest magazine reports this sign in a toy store: "If you don't see what you want, just cry for it."

PLEASURES of the rich: For a man once believed to be the wealthiest in the world, the old Nizam of Hyderabad, who died last February, had a couple of inexpensive hobbies: he liked to write poetry—and to watch surgical operations.

Worth remembering: "There is no use going back to look for a lost opportunity. Someone else has found it."

Money to burn: Despite the popularity of the credit card Americans still wear out about $40 million in paper currency each day, which the government consigns to the flames. They say it makes a lovely light.

To Your Good Health
Wants To Try Out Sister's Pills

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: My doctor told me I should not take reducing pills and should watch my diet, but I continued to gain. Then he prescribed pills to control fluid retention and I lost several pounds but became nauseated.

Two days ago my sister suggested I try some of her reducing pills. They are orange and heart-shaped. After one day I had the same effects as with fluid retention pills.

Can you tell me what the pills contain and are the side effects harmful? I would like to take them for a while because they have done wonders for my sister. Would it be dangerous? —Mrs. W. H.

I refuse to guess what the pills are. I might guess wrong. If you accept my advice you will either (a) have nothing to do with these pills, or (b) take one to your doctor. There may be a brand name or symbol by which he can identify them.

The only way he can guide you intelligently is to know what you are taking, and how much.

Will your sister's pills be harmful? I don't know. One woman's pill can be another's poison. The fact that your sister uses them with success doesn't mean you can use them safely.

Swapping pills blindly is a dangerous habit and a lot of people get in serious trouble that way.

Dear Dr. Molner: I read in a newspaper several years ago about some doctor giving injections of protein material from the lenses of fish eyes to clear up cataracts in the eyes of older people. Can you tell me where to get more information on this? —W. T. B.

I can give it to you. That was one of the famous — or let's say infamous — medical frauds. The man posed as a physician, actually had a criminal record. He hornswoogled a scientific journal into printing an account of his "discovery," and the newspapers picked up the story, assuming it to be genuine.

The truth promptly emerged, but that's the way with these things. Many people saw the false story but did not see the denial. The fish-eye protein business is totally worthless.

daughter, 3, our two children, aged 4 and 6, and a neighbor boy who is 7, disrobing a 4 "playing doctor" in our garage the other day.

She was quite upset and left no doubt that she considered our children very evil, nasty-minded and a bad influence on her daughter.

We refused to get as upset as she was, and I commented that while I didn't condone what they did, I knew that children had a natural curiosity about all parts of their bodies, and that I considered this behavior to be normal. I also suggested that we ought to be more aware of where the children were and what they were doing at play.

We have tried to teach our children the facts of life as their questions have come up.

For future reference, could you tell me how you would have handled the above situation? —Mrs. L.C.P.

I think you handled it admirably. When youngsters from 3 to 7 "play doctor," they aren't being nasty-minded; just curious. Tell your older boy that this isn't considered good manners and let it go at that. Your neighbor is making too much of an incident that has happened countless times.

Those Higher, Higher Taxes

One thing and another: If you are part of that group of citizens who believe property taxes are getting all out of reason (and if you do, join the lodge), perhaps you protest to the wrong people.

You can complain to your neighbor and he'll join in the lament, but the voice of dissent is apt to go no further than that.

THE INDIVIDUALS to contact are those who set the tax rates and, all too often, levy what they themselves can pay. Often, people of substance who have no difficulty meeting such payments: make up the tax-levying agencies.

I have long maintained that the voice of the modest wage-earner who owns property is too seldom heard by the taxing bodies and too often ignored when such individuals do speak up.

MOST PUBLIC service agencies are going to spend all the revenue that comes their way or run the risk of having their budgets cut the following year. It may take an extra employe to plan where all the money goes, but it will be spent.

INCIDENTALLY, if you're in the mood to blame somebody for something, you could point an accusing finger to the late president, John F. Kennedy, for something that has to do with your income and outgo. President Kennedy made it a practice to give all his salary away. Today, the crowd in Washington is making everybody do the same thing, and much of it disappears before it ever comes to you.

I LIKE THAT SIGN painted across the windshield of an old-model, beat-up rattletrap of a car by an enterprising salesman. It read:

"I may look like an old tomato can, but I'm not hiding from the finance man."

SOMEONE SAID recently that a farmer today must not only remember what he didn't grow but also what field he didn't grow it in.

DID YOU EVER stop to think: If the British had won the Revolutionary War (and they would have, had they not been abrasive with the French at the time), there would have been no Civil War, which has done this country more damage than all its other wars put together.

The British passed an anti-slavery act as early as 1833 that would have applied to the American colonies. Parliament appropriated $100 million as compensation to slave owners.

And Great Britain eventually would have granted the colonies their independence, just as they are now doing to people in other lands around the globe. —TOMMY HART

Tax Increase Not The Whole Answer

WASHINGTON — The Johnson administration is still not facing up to the fact that "butter and guns" during a war are impracticable and can only result in a floundering economy.

The President's message, proposing a surcharge of 10 per cent on the taxes of individuals and corporations together with some other technical devices to increase revenues, does not go to the heart of the problem of inflation. Usually during a war, not only is an excess-profits tax imposed, but wage-and-price controls as well. The President has suggested cuts in certain expenditures, yet the total budget seems likely to go soaring upwards just the same.

THE MESSAGE sets forth a policy of trying "to provide the fairest and least disruptive means of sustaining—without inflation—America's unprecedented period of uninterrupted prosperity." The current inflation, however, is already noticeable as prices have been steadily rising, with higher wages being demanded at the same time. The President is promising that spending will be reduced, but members of Congress in both parties are skeptical about such a result.

THE TAX BILL will not be passed until a little later in the present session of Congress when there is a clearer idea of just what the total federal budget is going to be. It seems certain, however, that there will be tax increases, as this will be regarded by members of both parties as the lesser of two evils. There is a hesitancy, for instance, to pass wage-and-price-control legislation or to impose an excess-profits tax.

MR. JOHNSON says the currently projected deficit of 29 billion dollars, if not offset by increased revenues, "poses a clear and present danger to America's security and economic health." He predicts that it could cause a spiral of inflation which would bring "brutally higher interest rates and tight money which would cripple the home builder and the home buyer, as well as the business-man."

But the real question is whether the 7.4 billion-dollar increase in revenues will cut down the 29-billion-dollar deficit by about a fourth will produce in the minds of economic experts any feeling of confidence. For a 16 billion-dollar deficit is almost as ominous as one of 29 billion, since large deficits are becoming an annual affair.

UNDOUBTEDLY the Vietnam war is a big factor in the government's deficit, but this is not the whole story. The public is confused by the maze of figures and the constant reference to the Vietnam conflict as a war of prolonged expense. The "great society's" programs nevertheless have expanded steadily. Federal outlays and grants have been authorized on a truly unprecedented scale in American history.

IT IS OBVIOUSLY difficult for an administration which faces a presidential-election campaign within the next twelve months to suspend those domestic expenditures which mean votes in various areas of the country. So the new tax proposal and the size of the budget are designed to interfere as little as possible with the flow of government funds into the economy.

The tax measure will mean a relatively small diversion of private funds into the Treasury. The high rate of government spending will continue, and if "inflation" can ever be called "prosperity," then the two terms will coincide at least until after the 1968 election. Eventually there will have to be a day of reckoning, because the current fiscal policy is based largely on political expediency. (Copyright, 1967, Publishers-Hall Syndicate)

Russia Still Marches On

WASHINGTON—Russia's re-investment in the defeated Arab States, particularly Egypt, is best understood if regarded as an extension of Moscow's imperial design—its historic habit of occupying a vacuum.

This was Stalin's strategy in 1945, when he seized all of devastated East Europe, as far to the westward as he could go until meeting Anglo-American opposition, as far southward amid the ruins as he could shove until he was balked in Greece, Turkey and Iran by the feisty Mr. Truman, who was helped by the defection of Tito.

BUT STALIN, and now Kossygin, have been adopters rather than originators of the policy that invests in beat-up nations. The czars and their ministers, competing against the more powerful imperialists of 19th Century Europe — Britain, France, Germany—used the same methods with singular success in beating a path to the Pacific Ocean. The maneuverers of the late 1890's, which made a Far Eastern power of Russia, are very similar to those now employed by the Kremlin to plant the hammer and sickle in the Middle East, not so much as a military banner but as a trade-flag under which Moscow could monopolize business throughout Africa.

HISTORY IS BEING repeated in Russia's unopposed progress in the Middle East, more helped than hindered by the wallowing sustained by Egypt at the hands of Israel. The weaker a Russian client, the better for Russian designs.

NASSER'S HUMILIATION, the shut-off of revenue from the Suez Canal and other disasters suffered by Egypt and its allies, smooth the Russian road to the Indian Ocean. The adjacent eastern shoulder of Africa does not have even nominal protection by the U.S. Sixth Fleet. The model for this Soviet penetration across war-prostrated Arabia goes back to the mid-1890's when imperial Russia became a postwar investor in the huge China which had been defeated by a relatively Israel-seized Japan.

RUSSIA'S AIM, then as now, was overland progress to an ice-free seacoast. Builders of the Transsiberian Railroad were slugged through the deserts of Northern Asia with the dismal prospect of reaching some ice-bound outlet on the coast. But in September, 1894, Japan scored lightning victories over China's outnumbering forces—"a rabble of tramps," said Lord Curzon in words equally descriptive of the Arab armies. Japan imposed an indemnity of $150 million against the Chinese, as well as territorial cessions in Korea and elsewhere.

WHERE WOULD China find that sort of money? When British and German bankers refused to loan, the most money-shy country in Europe moved in with financial aid. Russian diplomats turned to France, agreed to underwrite the funds, and lend sufficient sums to cover 94 per cent of the indemnity at 4 per cent to the prostrate China. But the stipulations were the establishment of a Russo-China Bank in Shanghai and permission to shorten the Railroad by running it across Chinese territory and terminating it at the war-water harbor of Port Arthur.

ALL THE EUROPEAN powers, as well as Japan, had reason to suspect and regret the bargain. None took steps to block it. Russia became a Far Eastern power; and still is by a play that very much resembles what we now see taking place in the Near East. (Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

Reagan Scores Fiscal Victory

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Republican Gov. Ronald Reagan emerged from his long battle with a Democratic-controlled legislature today as a fiscal winner—the man who bailed California out of a financial crisis.

The longest session in the California Legislature's history closed late Sunday amid the exploding firecrackers and traditional tomfoolery of the final night.

The 217 calendar days left Reagan with some big wins, and plenty of losses.

He failed in a last-minute bid to modify the state's open housing law and thus appease the voters who spoke against it by a 2-1 majority in a 1964 ballot initiative.

TAX TRIUMPH

Reagan's modification was rejected by a two-house conference committee in the session's final hours, and the law banning discrimination in most housing in California remains on the books. The 1964 initiative was overturned by the U.S. Supreme Court. However, there was a chance Reagan would call a special session on the subject in September, when lawmakers must return anyway to consider veto overrides.

But defeats were overshadowed by his smashing triumph in persuading the legislature to give him a $1-billion, two-year tax increase. It was enough to balance his record $5.08-billion budget, pay off old state debts, boost school aid, and permit Reagan to go through the 1964 election year without asking for another tax hike.

GIMMICKRY

An admitted partisan, Republican Lt. Gov. Robert H. Finch, sized up Reagan's year this way: "I would say the major characteristic of this legislature will be remembered for is that after eight years of fiscal gimmickry, we had to face up to a very bad fiscal problem and pass the biggest tax increase in the history of the state—in the history of any state."

"Next year, he added, "I hope there can be more programs coming out of the administration."

PLEDGE KEPT

Reagan's backers contended that he had carried out his January pledge to restore California to fiscal responsibility, enhancing his stock as a potential 1968 Republican presidential candidate.

In addition to his fiscal triumph, Reagan: —Turned aside, at least for now, legislative attempts to eliminate his spending cutbacks at mental hospitals, in the University of California and state colleges. —Made good on campaign

30,000 Persons Pray For Victims

HIROSHIMA, Japan (AP)—About 30,000 persons gathered at Hiroshima's Memorial Park Sunday to pray for the scores of thousands killed on Aug. 6, 1945, by the first atomic bomb ever used in war and to pray for peace.

Estimates of the number killed outright by the bomb range from 78,150 to 124,000. The names of 62,423 positively identified victims are in a cenotaph in the park.

Hiroshima now is a city of 540,000 and has been completely rebuilt, except for the bulk of the old commerce building.

Bomb Kills Prosecutor

JEFFERSON, Ga. (AP)—A bomb exploded in Solicitor Gen. Floyd Hoard's automobile early today, killing him instantly, Sheriff L.G. Perry reported.

The sheriff said the prosecutor was leaving his home for work when the explosion occurred.

After the blast, Mrs. Hoard and her four children ran into the yard to find the automobile demolished and Hoard dead.

Perry said he was unable immediately to determine any cause for the bombing.

"We have sent up a number of people for car theft in this county in recent months," he said. "But I don't know of anyone who hated Mr. Hoard enough for this."

Gift From Convicts Presented Museum

SAN ANGELO (AP)—A hand-carved chest made by Texas prisoners about 1910 has been presented to Fort Concho Museum here.

Donors are children of the late Brown F. Lee, a one-time San Angelo mayor and Texas legislator. Lee was credited with instituting sweeping reforms in Texas prisons. He received the chest as a gift from prisoners. A bill sponsored by the San Angelo was aimed at correcting brutality and improvement in prisoners' diets.

Making the gift were Mrs. Leslie Stringer of Wichita Falls and Don Lee of Bryan.

7 Nonwhitemen Held For Trial

PRETORIA, South Africa (AP)—The Supreme Court today ordered 7 nonwhitemen held for trial on Sept. 11 on charges of terrorist activities in South-West Africa.

It is the first case to be heard under the Terrorism Act adopted by Parliament earlier this year. The defendants could be given the death penalty if found guilty.

The 41-page indictment charged them with armed robbery, firing on police or otherwise resisting arrest for terrorist acts and conspiring with SWAPO—the outlawed South-West African Peoples' Organization—to overthrow the government of the territory by violent revolution between June 27, 1962, and May 20, 1967.

Dallas Bus Driver Insulted Two Ways

DALLAS (AP)—Dallas Transit driver Donald Grubbs recently got taken two ways. A passenger, alone with the driver, robbed him of $33 in change and tokens. Then he made Grubbs take him back over a part of the route—and didn't pay his second fare.

The 41-page indictment charged them with armed robbery, firing on police or otherwise resisting arrest for terrorist acts and conspiring with SWAPO—the outlawed South-West African Peoples' Organization—to overthrow the government of the territory by violent revolution between June 27, 1962, and May 20, 1967.

McMahon Indians Get Hi Junior Area Crown

SAN ANGELO — The McMahon Indians, behind the four hit pitching of Jodie Flores, won the District 4 Hi Junior Baseball tournament Saturday, edging the San Angelo Jaycees 3-2. The title game began at 11:30 p.m., winding up after 1 a.m. Sunday. The victory sends the Tribe into the playoffs against the Houston district winners in the opening bracket of the state tournament. The state meet will also be staged at Odessa, in the American Legion stadium, with the Big Spring game at 3 p.m. Wednesday.

FLORES STEADIES

The Big Springers put up two on the scoreboard in the opening stanza when Felix Martinez walked. Wooley got on base with an error, both advanced when Flores was out on a fielder's choice, then Jeff Thomas clubbed a single to push across the two runs.

The Jaycees knotted the score in their end of the initial inning, when Flores put two men on base with walks, then a fielding bobbie allowed both men to score. But from that point on, Flores clamped down, scattering his four safeties.

In the second inning, the Indians rang up the winning run when Johnny Rutherford got on base with a fielder's choice, then scored on Johnny Hedges' single.

Jim Ferris, 15-year-old pitcher, came on for Flores in the seventh inning, setting down the losers in order, with two strikeouts.

JUNIOR CHAMPS NEED HELP TO GO TO STATE TOURNEY

The McMahon Indians needed no help in sweeping three games Saturday to win the sectional Hi-Junior title at San Angelo.

But they need help for their next quest — the state title. "These boys put out a great effort for Big Spring," said Eddie Acrl, "and we need to support them. Their league can't send them to the state, so it's up to the local fans to help."

Those who can help are asked to leave donations at Gregg Street Cleaners, 17th and Gregg, and Family Finance, 206 Gregg. Any amount will be appreciated.

Damascus Looks Like Shoo-In

By The Associated Press

The way things are going Damascus may have a walk-over in the Travers Stakes at Saratoga a week from Saturday.

Only a week ago the Travers had shaped up as one of the most exciting races of the year with Damascus, the Preakness and Belmont Stakes winner, seeking to even the score with Mile at Aqueduct.

Since then Dr. Fager has been declared out of the Travers after running a temperature and Damascus' easy victory in the $120,000 American Derby at Arlington Park last Saturday probably scared away other eligibles for the Aug. 19 stake at Saratoga.

Damascus, ridden as usual by Willie Shoemaker, romped home by seven lengths in the American Derby and set a track record for the 1 1/8 miles of 1:46 4/5.

Subpet made a strong stretch run and beat the favored What A Pleasure in the $120,705 Sapling Stakes for 2-year-olds at Monmouth Park last Saturday before a getaway crowd of 42,000.

White In Comeback

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Bill White has raised his batting average 45 points in the last 20 games but the Philadelphia Phillies' first baseman isn't satisfied that he has made it back from a crippling injury.

White slammed a three-run homer during an eighth inning rally to lock up an 8-4 victory over Houston for the Phillies Sunday. His average has soared from .172 to .217, and he is swinging the bat in the manner expected of the long time premier National League first sacker.

White suffered an injury to his right heel last December while playing paddle ball near his Des Peres, Mo., home. He tore an Achilles tendon, one of the most serious injuries an athlete can receive. It's been a long struggle to health let alone success on a major league baseball field.

"I don't feel I'm back yet," said White when someone observed he was swinging the bat like the White of yore. "When I can play baseball like I played it before the injury, then I'll be back."

Jo Jo Jockeys Team To Victory

By The Associated Press

Jo Jo White, manager of Delfort White, made more moves than a chess champion Sunday night in mastering the Spurs to a 5-4 victory in 12 innings over El Paso.

When the game ended, outfielders Mike White and Gene Etter were at third and shortstop, respectively, catcher John Felski was in left field and pitcher John Upham in center. Chuck Benson at second and John Kindl in right wound up where they had started.

Wilson scored the winning run on catcher Brendon Ounjian's wild throw. Don Larsen, who pitched 3 1/2 innings of hitless relief, was the winner and Dan Keller the loser.

Amarillo stretched its league lead to nine games over El Paso by beating Arkansas 7-5. Jim McDonald's three-run double was the crushing blow for the Sonics.

Albuquerque took advantage of three Austin errors to whip the Braves 5-1 and keep them in the cellar.

Sudden Rains Give Chance Perfect Mini-Game Sunday

By The Associated Press

Fun-loving Dean Chance didn't let a little rain spoil his day.

In fact Chance was grateful for the precipitation that ended his mini-perfect game against Boston in the fifth inning Sunday.

The Minnesota right-hander had mowed down the first 15 batters he faced and was leading 2-0 after 4 1/2 innings when the rain came. After a 57-minute wait, the game was called and Chance had a somewhat abbreviated no-hitter.

"Believe me boys," Chance said later, "I'm glad it rained. How do I know what would have happened if the game had continued, I could have gone back out and thrown, but they might have got 10 runs off me."

The victory was Minnesota's third straight over Boston and moved the Twins into second place in the American League, 2 1/2 games back of the Chicago White Sox, who lost a doubleheader to Baltimore 5-2 and 4-0.

In other games, Washington dropped California 7-2, New York topped Kansas City 9-6 and Detroit split a doubleheader with Cleveland, winning 7-3 and losing 6-3.

Chance's game probably won't make it into the record books. He gets credit for a complete game but baseball records list perfect games and no-hitters only of nine innings or longer.

So, he won. It was his fifth shutout of the season and his 14th victory. He leads the league with 190 innings pitched and 26 starts.

SOX FALL
The White Sox were victimized by Russ Snyder's three-run pinch homer in the first game and Tom Phoebus' six-hit shutout in the nightcap.

Snyder connected in the seventh inning and Wally Bunker, who worked four innings of air-tight relief, gained credit for the victory. Phoebus drove in two runs in the second game and Paul Blair hammered a homer.

It's Kathy Again

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Kathy Whitworth edged Susie Maxwell by one stroke Sunday with a 212 to win the Ladies Professional Golf Association Midwest Open.

Bellows Leads Skeet Matches

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP) — The 12 gauge title and the high over-all honors in the 1967 World Skeet Championship were captured by James Bellows of Lackland Air Force Base, Tex.

Bellows blasted 410 consecutive clay targets Saturday and polished off the final 50 targets of 546x550. In 1965 he captured the high over-all honors with 544x550.

Bellows had to hit only the final 50 birds to win over-all honors, but he won in 1965, was more difficult. Eleven skeetmen were tied with perfect scores at the end of the regulation 12 gauge contest.

Ed C. Shearer of Waukesha, Wis., who won the 20 gauge title in 1958, was the last to drop out after 369 targets. He won runner-up honors.

The Lackland AFB team of Col. R. A. Rowden, E. Herring, Jack Johnson, Cecil Trammel and Bellows took the high over-all five-man team honors with a total of 2714x2750 and the 12 gauge honors with 1243x1250.

Lackland's two-man team of Johnson and Trammel won the high over-all two-man honors.

High over-all husband and wife honors went to Val and Jack Johnson of San Antonio, Tex. Mrs. Johnson took the high over-all ladies title with 527x550.

Cubs Are Not Singing

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Cub dressing room is quiet these days. There's no singing, shouting or telling of jokes.

The players sit in front of their lockers with empty stares on their faces. When they speak to each other, they speak in whispers.

Following Sunday's 6-4 loss to Atlanta — the sixth in a row and 11th in 14 games since July 24 when the Cubs were tied for the National League lead — the only noise in the dressing room was the eerie hissing from the steaming showers.

Over in Manager Leo Durocher's private quarters which are separated from the players area by a winding concrete walk, the action was nil.

Only a couple of weeks ago, Leo came into his office, kicked off his shoes, tilted his chair against the wall and said, "Okay, boys, what do you want to know?"

It's different now. Leo kicked off his shoes Sunday, said "Hello boys" to the three writers who ventured into the room and then slipped into the shower room where he began shaving. He was still shaving when asked "Leo, what's wrong other than the fact the club isn't getting any hitting and pitching?"

"Not a thing, you said it all," said Durocher.

FIFTH PAN-AM GAMES

Powerful U.S. Squad Wins 120 Gold Medals

WINNIPEG (AP) — The fifth Pan-American Games, which many skeptics figured would never get off the ground in Winnipeg, has ended a highly successful 15-day run for the United States and Canada.

Uncle Sam's powerful squad romped off with a record-tying 120 gold medals and still caused an upset on the playing field by winning the baseball title for the first time.

Winnipeg and Canada earned accolades for staging a beautifully organized program, thanks largely to the community efforts of thousands of youngsters and adults in this city of 500,900.

Maybe as a reward for their herculean efforts, the sun shone brightly during the impressive and colorful closing ceremonies Sunday and Canada's Jim Day captured the final gold medal of the games—the individual equestrian jumping, Brazil won the Nation's Cup team title.

GOOD ATTENDANCE
Between 18,000 and 22,000 spectators thronged to Winnipeg stadium for the equestrian finale and the closing ceremonies. In between approximately 400,000 spectators paid above $600,000 to see various events, including such minor sports as field hockey and volleyball.

The United States, in tying the gold record of 120 set by it in 1959 in Chicago, swept 28 of the 33 medals in swimming and diving, 30 of 35 in track and field, all eight in wrestling, 11 of 12 in shooting, six of seven in rowing, 10 of 14 in gymnastics, five of seven in weight-lifting and captured the team titles in men's and women's volleyball, water polo and men's basketball.

Brazil won the women's basketball crown from the defending United States and Mexico captured the soccer title.

BASEBALL UPSET
In the baseball windup Saturday night, America defeated Cuba 2-1 for a 2-of-3 victory after losing two games to Cuba in the preliminary round. In basketball, the Yanks trounced Mexico's smaller men 93-74.

In all the United States had a total of 227 medals, 120 gold, 63 silver and 44 gold. Canada was second in both golds and totals with 12-37-45-82. Then came Argentina 9-14-11, Cuba 8-14-23, and Mexico 5-14-34.

Columbia, whose city of Cali will host the 1971 Games, had one gold, two silvers and five bronze.

Nicklaus Whips Ache To Win

CHICAGO (AP) — Jack Nicklaus' left ear ached and he couldn't hear out of it. When he putted, that old click was gone. Some 21,000 fans followed him but it was just half that many to him.

A doctor treated him for a fungus brought on by swimming. He plugged up Jack's ear, gave him a shot and what must be the world's greatest golfer went out and won the Western Open Sunday.

Nicklaus did it by coming in the back door. It was left open by Doug Sanders' collapse with bogeys on the last two holes.

Nicklaus, playing ahead of Doug, sat on the last green and watched him come in—a struggling, brightly garbed veteran trying desperately to lick a slump that has left him with only one tourney victory this year.

BOGEY, BOGEY

After missing the green on the 17th and taking a bogey, Sanders found the same trouble on the 18th and bogeyed to finish with a 72 for 276.

He had a chance until the last two holes. Nicklaus had three-putted the 18th to close with a 69 for a 274 total, 10 under par.

Sanders said later that "I just used the wrong club."

As Sanders faded, someone asked Nicklaus to smile for a picture. He frowned instead.

"Do you think I-like to win this way?" he said quietly. "Doug played fine golf. He lost it. I didn't win it. It's like coming in the back door. I don't like to win on somebody's misfortunes."

PLAY BY FEEL

"I didn't want anybody to know about my ear," he added. "I had to play by feel out there. All the clicks were gone. The ball plopping into the cup wasn't there. There are sounds in golf that mean a lot."

Nicklaus, picking up $20,000 for a year's bag of $101,148 to become the first to win a hundred grand for five seasons, had seven one-putt greens and three tapped only the 18th. He could see pretty well.

Miller Barber, one of a trio thataced the 125-yard 12th during the tourney, and Steve Opperman of Daly City, Calif., shared third at 278.

Ellis Ready For Spencer

HOUSTON (AP) — It is not known whether the winners in Saturday's Astro-dome quarter-finals of the world heavyweight elimination "tournament" will meet later in the series, but the man who manages Jimmy Ellis says his fighter is ready for Thad Spencer.

Ellis is the Louisville fighter who reminds some of the other boxer from that town, Cassius Clay, who caused the World Boxing Association series to be set up when he refused to be drafted.

The man who trains Ellis, Angelo Dundee, predicted Saturday after Ellis finished off Leo Martin of Philadelphia on a ninth-round technical knockout that Spencer would knock out Ernie Terrell, the 8 to 5 favorite.

Spencer managed a knockdown in the second, but no knockout, winning on points. He was aided by a two-point penalty. Terrell drew in the 10th for hitting low.

Dundee last visited the Dome in February, tending Clay's corner in the champion's most recent title defense, a thorough defeat of Terrell.

It is Spencer's tendency to leave his chin open while body punching, and that makes Dundee believe Ellis would have the advantage if the two should fight.

Martin's battered lip is evidence supporting Dundee's claim. Doctors used more than 30 stitches closing a cut, which left the lip dangling by the time the fight was halted.

The tournament continues Sept. 16 when Karl Mildenberger meets Oscar Bonavena. Floyd Patterson fights Jerry Quarry Oct. 28.

Cards Take 5th In Row, Giants Move Into Second

By The Associated Press

The year of the streak in the National League is continuing along and about all the opponents of the St. Louis Cardinals have to console themselves with is a bit of ancient history.

The Cards won their fifth in a row Sunday, edging Cincinnati 3-2, while the Chicago Cubs lost their sixth straight, 6-4 to Atlanta, and fell into third place nine games off the pace.

The Cardinals should beware, however. It was almost exactly 10 years ago today that they started a nine-game losing streak while the Milwaukee Braves—remember them?—won the first of 10 in a row and went on to the pennant.

In other National League games Sunday, San Francisco swept two from New York 9-7 in 10 innings and 4-1, Philadelphia beat Houston 8-4 and Los Angeles edged Pittsburgh 5-4.

The Giants moved into second place on the strength of their two victories over the Mets. Ty Cline drove in the deciding run in the opener with a single in the 10th and Willie McCovey's three-run homer in the eighth won the nightcap.

Bill White clubbed a three-run homer, highlighting a five-run Phillies' rally in the eighth inning. It was the sixth win in a row for the Phillies. Ron Davis and pitcher Dave Giusti homered for the Astros.

Len Gabrielson had three hits and Ron Hunt drove in two runs for the Dodgers, who ended a five-game loss streak. Bob Miller beat the Pirates out with men on first and third in the eighth by getting Don Clendenon to hit into a double play.

Fatal Eighth Sinks Astros

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. (AP)—Late-inning lightning struck the Houston Astros again Sunday and when the smoke cleared the Philadelphia Phillies had walked away with an 8-4 National League victory.

Faulty relief pitching once more sank the Astros after a promising start.

Ron Davis hit the first pitch of the game for a home run, pitcher Dave Giusti swatted a two-run homer and catcher Dave Adlesh singled across another tally to give Houston a 4-0 lead through five innings.

Giusti appeared to tire in the sixth and gave up a single and a walk. Astros manager Grady Hatton decided to bring on a front line starter, Don Wilson, to protect the lead. But Wilson served up two triples and the Astros had a bare 4-3 lead going into the fatal eighth inning.

Two walks brought on left-handed relief pitcher Dan Schneider, who gave up a bunt single and a bloop single. An error by Adlesh at the plate gave the Phillies a 5-4 lead and Bill White iced it with a three-run homer off Barry Latman.

Hutcherson Is Dixie 400 Victor

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Dick Hutcherson, leading the Dixie 400 for the last 35 to 40 laps, found the seat of his 1967 Ford Fairlane a pretty uneasy chair.

"I just knew something was going to happen," he said, "and I sat there praying that nothing would."

Nothing did. He crossed the finish line still in front Sunday to win his first super-speedway race since he joined the NASCAR ranks two years ago after several years on dirt tracks.

"They don't pay the money until the checkered flag comes down," said Hutcherson, who averaged 132.245 miles per hour and picked up $16,565.

Anti-Ballistic Missile System Measure Pushed

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Senate Appropriations Committee has urged President Johnson to authorize an antiballistic missile system costing an estimated $20 billion to $40 billion because of Red China's emergence as a nuclear power.

The committee said the United States should build the system regardless of any possible agreement with the Soviet Union to limit such a high-cost arms race. Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara has said talks between this country and the Soviets could lead to such an agreement.

The administration also has argued that Red China can't build an intercontinental nuclear missile before the Senate House Atomic Energy Committee reported last week that China's nuclear capability could be achieved by the early 1970's.

WASHINGTON (AP) - With Congress getting ready for its annual shutdown on foreign aid, 80 prominent Americans have called for a re-examination of how the United States can best serve its own interests in distributing such aid.

The group backed the idea of a continued large-scale program. But the Senate Foreign Relations Committee has voted to cut $77 million from President Johnson's $3.1 billion bill for this year, and the House has approved a $305 million reduction.

The 80 citizens, members of the National Planning Association, include labor leaders I. W. Abel and Walter Reuther; Richard M. Bissell Jr., a former aid and intelligence official; Arnold S. Zander of the United World Federalists and Lauren K. Soth, editorial page editor of the Des Moines Register and Tribune.

They said among the questions needing a searching re-examination is whether there's a conflict between the earlier emphasis on U.S.-administered aid and the more recent stress on self-help by countries receiving aid.

WASHINGTON (AP) - If you're in the market for a car, why not contact the Embassy of Ghana in Washington?

The embassy has a fine, custom-built limousine which nobody there wants to drive because although it was just delivered, it had been ordered by Kwame Nkrumah, who was deposed last February by Ghana's president. The new government paid for the car but wants to get rid of it.

The embassy didn't get down to talking price but anyone interested in buying the car should check his bank balance first. The embassy paid $42,000 for it.

Capital Footnotes The State Department has announced a limited easing of the travel restrictions imposed on Soviet and East European diplomats in this country, and in return, similar restrictions on U.S. envoys in the Soviet Union have been eased somewhat.

Warren Christopher, who was one of President Johnson's representatives in Detroit during the recent riot there, has been sworn in as a deputy attorney general. He is a 41-year-old former Los Angeles lawyer. The ceremony was held in the White House Saturday.

DeMolays Bring Back Trophies

The Big Spring chapter of the Order of DeMolay brought back a pair of trophies from the Astro conclave at Houston.

Two grand master plaques were received for being the only chapter to institute two grand master classes during the year. Bruce Bright captured second place in the junior golf tournament.

Twenty-one boys, accompanied by their advisors, A. J. Prager and Floyd Moss, and by Dorothy Aichison, chapter sweetheart, and Mrs. Elzie Worthan, returned Saturday evening after two days in Houston, including visits to the Astrodome, San Jacinto battlefield, and Battle-ship Texas as well as the state capitol in Austin.

Legal Technicality Halts Andrews Plan

ANDREWS, Tex. (AP)—A proposed Board of County Development here has foundered on a legal technicality. A 1955 amendment which provides that no county with a population of less than 100,000 may establish such a unit has prompted citizens working on the proposal to drop the effort.

Livestock Slaughter Declining

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department said today that livestock slaughter is declining from the high levels of early this year, with prices more favorable to producers.

Looking ahead in a livestock situation report the agency said fall slaughter rates are expected to be lower than a year earlier. Producer prices of most classes of livestock are expected to be higher.

The price decline in late 1966 and the first part of this year have influenced livestockmen to curtail operation somewhat in the hope of encouraging price improvements.

It appears, the report said, that the nation's cattle inventory will decline in 1967 for the third consecutive year. The decline was forecast at 500,000 head or more from the 108.5 million on hand the first of the year.

The report said fed cattle prices next fall are expected to show added strength and average well above the $25 a hundred pound average last October-December.

The report said hog producers are cutting back production because of higher feed costs and lower hog prices during the last fall and winter. Hog prices this fall are expected to average a little above last year's. October-December average of $29.37 per 100 pounds.

Trouble On The Peace Parade Route

Few Trouble Spots Mar Racial Peace

By The Associated Press
Civil peace, with only a few minor exceptions, prevailed across the nation today amid federal, state and local efforts aimed at solving racial problems and preventing further rioting.

The trouble spots Sunday were: Wichita, Kan., where a white man was wounded by a sniper's bullet; Great Bend, Kan., where a Negro tavern was firebombed; and Pittsburgh, Pa., where teenagers rioted after a rock 'n' roll show.

Reporting no disturbances were previously riot-wracked Detroit, Providence, R.I., Milwaukee, Wis., and Cambridge, Md.

SNIPER SCORES

While many Negro and white leaders and legislators sought ways to head off further racial storms, H. Rap Brown, chairman of the Student Nonviolent (SNCC), termed recent riots only forerunners of "revolution." At Wichita, as the city entered its second night of police-enforced curfew Sunday, a sniper shot a man in the leg. Six policemen were injured, none seriously, in a collision of two patrol cars at the shooting scene. The sniper was not found. Tension had eased during the day in the wake of a dry goods store fire and the arrest of 19 curfew violators on Saturday night.

UNLUCKY SEVEN

A firebombing early Sunday in Great Bend was followed by a meeting of white and Negro civic leaders Sunday night at which a spirit of cooperation was pledged.

Seven youths were arrested after three firebombs were thrown. Earlier, police said, about 15 white and Negro youths battled at a drive-in parking lot, but the fight broke up before officers arrived. Great Bend has had no racial trouble in the past. It has a population of about 18,500, with about 350 Negroes.

PANES SMASHED

In Pittsburgh, police said about 4,000 youths got tired of waiting for buses after a show and tossed rocks and bottles in which windows were smashed and eight persons were injured, none seriously. A few items were stolen from a sporting goods store.

Although most of the crowd was Negro, said police Supt. James A. Sussler, "there were no racial overtones to the incidents." At Providence, Mayor Joseph A. Doolittle Jr. ordered a curfew and ban on liquor sales lifted Sunday in South Providence after four nights of calm.

CURFEW CONTINUES

Michigan Gov. George Romney Sunday ended a two-week state of emergency for Detroit and four nearby suburbs. The last of 7,000 National Guardsmen headed for home, a city spokesman said.

At Milwaukee, National Guardsmen were being gradually withdrawn Sunday, a week after rioting flared in predominantly Negro sections. However, the nightly curfew remained in force. Police Chief Harold Brier said there were 279 arrests from 4 p.m. Saturday to 3 a.m. Sunday, but that most were for violation of the curfew and for drunkenness.

Cambridge, Md., officials reported an estimated $300,000 in property damage resulting from rioting July 24.

WHITE GENOCIDE

H. Rap Brown, Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee chairman, headed a rally Sunday in New York and told 700 cheering, stomping Negroes that they should arm themselves against a white "conspiracy of genocide."

As Brown spoke, he was guarded by Mau Maus carrying machetes.

Also in New York, Robert Mangum, chairman of the State Commission on Human Rights, predicted Sunday on a radio program that there would be further violence in the cities, adding: "I think the country is in trouble. I wouldn't be surprised to see it (violence) go on even beyond the long hot summer." William Booth, chairman of the New York City Commission on Human Rights, spoke Sunday on another radio program and criticized middle class Negroes for laxity when it came to helping minority groups.

RIOT IMPACT

Both Mangum and Booth are Negroes. On Capitol Hill, the political implications of the summer riots were stressed by U.S. Sens. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., and Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., the Senate minority leader.

Kennedy said Sunday the riot issue would have an impact on the 1968 elections. He said the political party that can maintain law and order and move to alleviate riot-inducing conditions "is going to receive support next year."

Dirksen said unless urban problems lessen before the election, "it's going to be one of the monumental issues in '68."

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ BY CHARLES H. GOREN

(© 1967 by The Chicago Tribune)

Q. 1—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠AQ2 ♥KJ64 ○QJ7 ♣AQ3
The bidding has proceeded: South West North East 1♣ Pass Pass 1♦ ?

What do you bid now?
A.—Pass. There is no one so broke as a partner who is unable to keep a one club bid open. It would, therefore, be pointless to prolong the struggle and might lead to a disastrous penalty if the outstanding strength is concentrated behind you.

Q. 2—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠A1096 ♥75 ○A9873 ♣KQ
The bidding has proceeded: North East South West 1♣ 2♥ 3♣ Pass 4NT 5♥ ?

What do you bid now?
A.—Five no trump. When an adverse overall is made over a Blackwood four no trump bid, the responding hand starts counting from his opponent's suit. In this instance, a pass would show no ace, five spades would show one, five no trump, would show two, etc.

Q. 3—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠KJ9 ♥AJ6 ○KQ8 ♠10974
The bidding has proceeded: South West North East 1♣ Pass 1♠ Pass 1NT Pass 2NT Pass ?

What action do you take?
A.—Three spades. Since you have a point over minimum and well distributed values you should accept partner's invitation. Therefore, the suggested call is three spades, affording partner a choice. He will realize that you have a balanced hand and probably only three trumps but that you failed to raise at once.

Q. 4—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠A93 ♥AK74 ○5 ♣AQ543
The bidding has proceeded: South West North East 1♣ Pass 1♠ Pass ?

What action do you take?
A.—You must attack this problem in a roundabout way. A three spade rebid is not acceptable because we avoid such jumps with less than four trumps. No thought is to be given to any such mild bid as a single raise. The compromise bid is, therefore, two hearts, "a reverse" showing about 19 points. When spade support is shown later it will mark you with 4-4-3.

Q. 5—Both vulnerable and as South you hold:
♠J864 ♥KQ93 ○J4 ♣A105
The bidding has proceeded: South West North East Pass 1♥ 1♠ Pass ?

What action do you take?
A.—Three spades. This bid shows strong support for spades but is not forcing. If partner has a sound overall he is asked to carry on.

Q. 6—East-West vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠AK643 ♥A4 ○10662 ♣22
The bidding has proceeded: East South West North 1♥ 1♠ Pass 2♠ Pass ?

What action do you take?
A.—Pass. Partner has offered a mild raise asking you to proceed if your overall has something to spare. In our view this raise as a moderate overall with the ability to win only about five tricks. In the absence of a double raise from partner there should be no good play for game.

Q. 7—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠K54 ♥A64 ○K8 ♠109742
The bidding has proceeded: North East South 1♣ 1♥ ?

What action do you take?
A.—One no trump. Your 19 points in high cards justifies such action. This is a far superior call to a single raise in clubs. It will permit partner to bid at a glance whether there is a reasonable chance for game.

Q. 8—East-West vulnerable and as South you hold:
♠A4 ♥KQ10953 ○A93 ♣52
The bidding has proceeded: North East South West Pass Pass 1♥ 1♠ Dbble. Pass Pass 2♥ Pass Pass 2♥ Pass ?

What action do you take?
A.—Four hearts. In view of partner's display of strength a game should be reached but it should be clear that no trump is not the spot. It is apparent that North has only one club stopper; if he had two he would surely have doubled two clubs. Therefore, East and West will have their clubs established before the ace of hearts is disclosed.

Toledo Papers Peace Brief

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—The labor peace in the Toledo newspaper industry was a short one.

The Toledo Blade Co., publisher of the city's two daily papers, the morning Times and afternoon and Sunday Blade, was struck Saturday. The Times wasn't published today, but company officials said the Blade would be published despite the stereotypers' strike that began Saturday.

The papers resumed publication in March after a five-month strike by several unions. That strike was called after contracts expired.

The latest strike, by the International Stereotypers and Electrotypers Union, concerned a work crew dispute. The company said after the elimination of one Sunday Blade edition that it was required to schedule only 32 stereotypers on weekends. The union "insisted we had to put on 34," a company spokesman said.

Using supervisory personnel, the Blade published a 54-page Sunday edition, about 100 pages less than scheduled. The company said the American Newspaper Guild and Photo-engravers were the only unions whose members crossed picket lines.

Prince Keeps Post

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP)—Prince Norodom Sihanouk, Cambodia's chief of state, said today he would continue to be premier also.

Sihanouk said Saturday he was giving up the premiership and had asked the legislature for nominees. No list was forthcoming, and he decided to retain the post.

Paris inspired the dandy suit. We have it for you in a novelty tweed light weight wool blend accented with a bright scarf and lining.
