More Women Use Medicare

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — More women than men used medicare during its first year, but average medical costs for the women were lower, a government statistician said Tuesday.

Dorothy P. Rice said the federal government program of medical care for the aged cost $3.2 billion in its first year for five million admissions to more than 6,800 hospitals and 10.9 million bills from doctors.

She presented some evidence that the proportion of persons in the plan increased with age — from two-thirds of those covered in the 65-74 age bracket to nearly three-quarters of those aged 85 and over.

"In addition, average charges increased with age, from $83 per enrollee in the youngest age group to $109 in the oldest age group," Mrs. Rice said.

"A somewhat larger proportion of aged women used medical services than did aged men — 71 and 62 per cent, respectively. However, average charges for women were lower," her report stated.

Accused Mass Murderer Dies Today

LOCK HAVEN, Pa. (AP) — Accused mass murderer Leo Heid died today at Lock Haven Hospital of bullet wounds suffered in a blazing gun battle with police Monday.

BLOOD CLOT
A hospital administrator said Heid's death about 6:30 a.m. resulted from a blood clot to his heart.

Heid, a 40-year-old former school board member, was charged with murdering six persons and wounding six others during a shooting spree.

His death rules out the chance officers will ever learn what triggered the rampage. They had not questioned him because of the critical nature of his wounds and because of fear of violating his constitutional rights.

FUNERAL

Funeral services were set for today for one of the victims, Elmer Weaver, 37, who worked with Heid at a paper company in this central Pennsylvania town, as did four of the others killed.

The sixth victim was Floyd Quiggle, 27, Heid's neighbor, who was slain after the shootings at the Hammernill Paper Co., while he and his wife were in bed. Mrs. Quiggle, critically wounded, is in Williamsport Hospital.

One of the wounded, Mrs. G. Schuyler Ramm, 37, was shot at the Piper Aircraft Co. plant, where she worked as a telephone operator. She had belonged to a car pool which had dropped Heid for his alleged reckless driving. Heid had driven there after the shootings at Hammernill.

MYSTIFIED

Authorities, Heid's family and area residents are still mystified as to what prompted the shootings by the laboratory technician.

Heid was wounded by state and local police during a gun duel in his backyard.

Five of the persons wounded in the shootings remained in Lock Haven Hospital. Three are in critical condition, one is serious and the other is satisfactory.

Campaign Edges To 60 Per Cent

Webb Air Force Base gave the United Fund Drive a big boost Wednesday morning as the drive reached 60 per cent of its goal.

The $69,849.37 reported by divisions included out-of-town, $8,751; big gifts, $31,698; special, $3,753; employes, $17,478.73; Webb AFB, $7,223.64; public employes, $38.50; metropolitan, $994.50; and rural, $10. Morris Robertson Body Shop reported 100 per cent participation in the employe division.

Found Guilty Of 5 Murders

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Robert Benjamin Smith was sane when he killed four women and a child at a Mesa beauty college and should die in the gas chamber, a Superior Court jury decided Tuesday night.

GUILTY

After deliberating an hour and 49 minutes, the seven-woman, five-man jury found Smith, 19, guilty of five counts of first-degree murder and two counts of assault with intent to commit murder against the two survivors of the November 12 shooting spree.

The slender, dark-haired defendant sat quietly as the verdict was read to a hushed courtroom where his parents sat with about a dozen spectators. Only after they were out of the courtroom did Mrs. Robert L. Smith bury her head in her husband's arms and cry softly.

Presiding Judge Lorraine T. Wren said he would set a sentencing date within the next two weeks. The defense had maintained throughout the trial that Smith was mentally ill at the time of the shootings. It never denied he was the killer.

COYNESS

Defense attorney Rod Wood said later that "the notes undermined our case. They showed a certain coyness on the part of Smith."

Community Losing Webb Unit

4760th CTS WILL BE PHASED OUT

There were definite reports today of the final dissolution of the Air Defense Command unit based at Webb AFB, and a "phase-out" by January seems certain, although the military had made no official announcement.

CERTAIN

There was sufficient off-the-record evidence, however, to make it certain that the community will be losing the unit, now known as the 4760th Combat Crew Training Squadron.

The Herald learned through Washington sources that a release is due shortly from the Department of Defense. This was to be in the nature of an announcement of the termination of a military assistance program in training of foreign students, in which program the squadron had been involved.

Meanwhile, officers at the base said they were without authority to make any announcement.

The Herald learned that there are plans to disperse the squadron's aircraft — it has been flying the F-104 Starfighter — and to re-assign all personnel. This represents a heavy reduction of people associated with the base, since the 4760th's recent strength has been in the neighborhood of 285 officers and men. A big majority of these have resided in the civilian community.

It is possible, according to unofficial reports, that some of the squadron personnel could be reassigned to the Air Training Command mission at the local base, although the Air Defense Command has jurisdiction over the men.

There was also some rumor — unconfirmed — that study is being given for putting to other uses the physical facilities the 4760th has occupied at the north-west corner of the Webb complex.

The Combat Crew Training Squadron came into being in February of this year, when a program was set up for training of foreign students. This later was cancelled out.

WAS 331ST

Prior to last February, the unit had operated as the 331st Fighter-Interceptor Squadron, which had been based at Webb since 1958, and which had at one time reached a strength of approximately 600.

The 331st was put on the list for deactivation back in December, 1965, as a part of an overall consolidation of military facilities, ordered by Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara, as an economy measure. The 331st was due for final phase-out by October of this year, and much of its personnel was reduced in subsequent months, until the changeover to the Combat Crew training mission.

The 331st FIS first came to Big Spring — to be a tenant organization at Webb — in August, 1958. While it operated here, the squadron won some signal honors for combat readiness. It was dispatched out of here on the occasion of two crises — in October, 1962, when the Cuban threat was at its height, and again in May, 1965, during the Dominican Republic outbreak. The squadron received special citations for outstanding performance on both occasions.

The old 331st dates back to World War II, having been organized originally in California in 1942. It was operational again during the Korean conflict, was based on Long Island and at Newburgh, N.Y., before being transferred here. In 1960, it was enlarged by the input of another increment from Ethan Allen AFB, Vermont.

The squadron has flown F-86D's, the F-102 Delta Dagger, and later the F-104 Lockheed.

COMMANDERS

It has had five commanders. Lt. Col. Dick Watson brought the first elements here. He was succeeded, in order, by Lt. Col. Dick Crowell, Lt. Col. Jack Price and Lt. Col. (now a colonel) M. W. Shareck Jr. Col. Jack Bailey came here only a few months ago to command the 4760th combat crew training operations.

New Firing Breaks Out Along Egyptian Canal

Suez Refineries Are Still Blazing

Conflict

Bomb burst located Suez in Egypt where an Egyptian oil refinery is burning after an artillery and mortar duel between Israeli and Egyptian forces. Today an Israeli plane fired on firemen fighting fires at the refinery. Cross indicates the area where an Israeli destroyer was sunk Saturday by Egyptian missiles.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — New firing broke out today near Egypt's still blazing Suez oil refineries, as the Soviet Union pushed for support in the U.N. Security Council to condemn Israel as the aggressor in Tuesday's three-hour artillery battle.

The council resumed its session this morning on the new Middle East flareup. The 15-nation body quickly decided, however, to recess until 3 p.m. to give members time to try to reach agreement on a generally acceptable resolution aimed at stopping the fighting.

SPRAY BULLETS

Newsmen touring the ravaged Egyptian port at the southern end of the Suez Canal reported an Israeli plane penetrated Egyptian air space and sprayed machine-gun bullets at men struggling to put out fires set off by Israeli shells the day before.

But Israeli military officials across the canal in Port Taufiq said nervous Egyptian flak gunners opened up on one of their own Soviet-made Sukhoi 7 fighters as it swept low over Egypt's west bank of the canal. Flak bracketed the craft, the Israelis said, but it did not appear to be hit.

"He was lucky," an Israeli officer said. "Our gunners might have opened up."

NO CASUALTIES

The Israelis charged Egyptian forces raked Israeli positions with machine-gun fire at the southern end of the Great Bitter Lake, about 15 miles north of Port Taufiq. There were no casualties and the fire was not returned, they said.

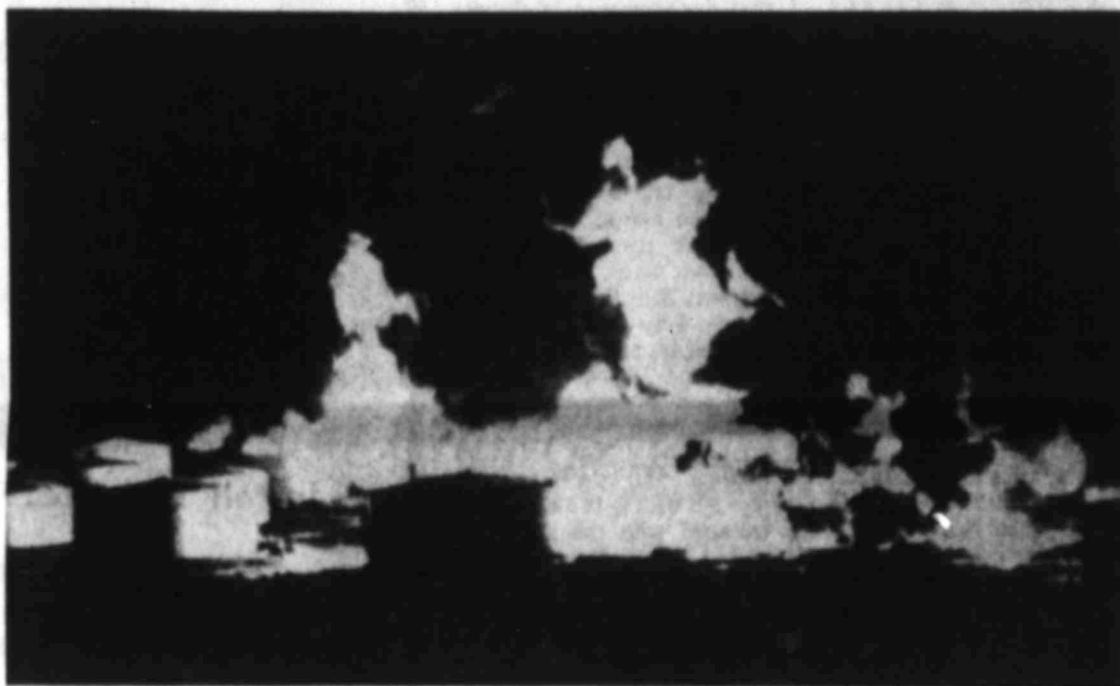

Thick smoke curled from at least five fires in Suez and cast a huge shadow over the canal's southern entrance. A long black stream of smoke trailed 20 miles into the Suez Desert.

The Israeli army reported trouble on another frontier. It said two Israeli soldiers were killed, another was seriously wounded and an Arab was killed in a clash between troops and Arab infiltrators seven miles north of the Damya Bridge spanning the Jordan River.

LITTLE CHANCE

At the United Nations, there seemed little chance the Russians could round up enough votes to secure approval of their resolution condemning Israel. Chief U.S. delegate Arthur J. Goldberg brushed aside the Soviet resolution, terming it a "midnight rerun of this stale record." He introduced a resolution calling on the council to condemn all violations of the Arab-Israeli cease-fire.

Israel and Egypt blamed each other for triggering the fierce artillery and mortar duel at the southern end of the Suez Canal. Fires still roared today in Egypt's two major oil refineries in the city of Suez which produced 80 per cent of Egypt's petroleum. The pipeline terminal at nearby Port Taufiq also was ablaze.

Egyptian Oil Tanks Burn

Flames from burning oil storage tanks light the Egyptian sky over Suez last night after being pounded by Israeli artillery yesterday. Two oil refineries were hit during an artillery duel across the Suez Canal between Egyptian and Israeli forces. The refineries produced nearly three-quarters of Egypt's petroleum.

Warbirds Strike Big Base Again

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. warplanes flew through challenging MIGs and heavy flak today for followup strikes on North Vietnam's biggest air base and a new raid on the mile-long Doumer Bridge in the capital of Hanoi.

SECOND RAID

It was the second consecutive raid on the vital MIG airfield at Phuc Yen, previously on the Pentagon's restricted target list, and the second strike at the Doumer Bridge which was hit once before on Aug. 11.

The bridge carries most of the city's road and rail traffic across the Red River on the heavily travelled northeast route to Red China.

It was the second consecutive day of maximum effort raids by Air Force fighter-bombers from bases in Thailand.

Radio Hanoi declared North

Vietnamese planes, anti-aircraft guns and missiles shot down 19 planes in the Hanoi-Phuc Yen area today.

There was no comment from American authorities in Saigon. Against North Vietnamese claims to have felled nine American planes Tuesday, U.S. headquarters had reported the loss of four.

RUNWAY

The heavily laden F105 Thunderchiefs swept over Phuc Yen to again crater the 9,170-foot runway and to blast maintenance and support facilities north of the field which were untouched in Tuesday's raids.

The initial reports of the raid on Hanoi's Doumer Bridge said the bombs were "on target" but did not have further details. The Aug. 11 raid dropped a span in the dead center of the mile-long, 19-span concrete structure. The bridge is 1.7 miles from the city's center. The Air Force said photos showed the bombed out span had been repaired and the bridge was again carrying road and probably rail traffic.

TANGLED TWICE

A U.S. military spokesman said the raiders tangled twice today with MIG interceptors but reported no kills for either side. U.S. pilots reported the North Vietnamese had filled in some of the bomb craters from the first assault during the night.

The U.S. Command reported earlier that 10 MIGs were destroyed or damaged and the air base put out of action for at least five or six days in the biggest raid of the war.

U.S. headquarters disclosed that four American planes were lost over North Vietnam Tuesday instead of two as previously announced. But a spokesman said none was shot down in the Phuc Yen area.

Four fliers were missing.

LAD WINS CASE

Stand Re-Opened

SATELLITE BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Eleven-year-old Billy Churchill's sidewalk ice-pop stand has been re-opened by Gov. Claude Kirk in what the governor termed a young man's "victory over bureaucracy."

Kirk became the first customer Tuesday at the sixth-grader's tiny business since it was closed down by a county health department order last Sept. 8.

The freckle-faced youth had been selling ice-pops for about two years at his sidewalk stand until someone complained that the boy had no permit.

Health officials said they were just enforcing the law so Billy's father wired Kirk last week. An aide was dispatched who helped the boy secure his permit.

For his help in cutting the red tape, Billy offered the governor a lime-flavored ice-pop for free. He normally charges three cents each.

Food Poisoning

CAMERON, Tex. (AP) — Doctors blamed food poisoning for the illness of about 75 pupils and employees of Cameron public schools Tuesday.

One of the physicians treating some of them at a hospital said the symptoms developed shortly after they ate in the lunchroom at Henderson Elementary School. It feeds about 200 a day from all grades.

Twenty pupils from 10 to 18 years old and one adult were kept in two Cameron hospitals overnight.

Three who commute to classes here were treated at a clinic in Rosebud.

A physician estimated 40 to 50 other persons were treated at doctors' offices or obtained prescriptions at drug stores.

Second Coming

By The Associated Press

Texas shrugged off the effects of one cool front today while another hit the road this way from the Pacific Northwest.

Temperatures slipped to freezing or below in parts of the Panhandle but most other sections had readings in the 40s to 50s—and it was almost balmy along much of the state's coastline.

The norther also stayed dry until the forward edge dipped into the Lower Rio Grande Valley and isolated showers developed in early morning. Brisk winds marked the front's passage through the coastal plains into the Gulf of Mexico.

In the Panhandle, thermometers slumped to a chilly 29 degrees at Perryton. Dalhart recorded 32, Lubbock 35 and Amarillo 38.

Heidi Moving Out

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Weakening Hurricane Heidi just barely retained hurricane strength today as she continued to move east far out in the Atlantic, the National Hurricane Center in Miami reported.

Heidi was reported almost 1,000 miles east of Bermuda with her highest winds down to 75 miles per hour in squalls near the center. Hurricane force winds are 74 m.p.h. or higher. Heidi also had winds of 40 m.p.h. or higher stretching out 250 miles from her center.

Forecasters said Heidi would continue to move eastward at about 12 m.p.h. and lose strength.

Audit Has Detailed Information On HCJC

Howard County Junior College has grown in the space of 20 years to be an institution with assets of $3,875,622, on which is owed $1,801,033. Of this indebtedness, $500,000 is in Student Housing system revenue bonds, leaving only a million and a quarter in tax supported bonds outstanding.

As impressive as this record may be in the first score of years of operation for the college, the more meaningful story is in students.

During the 20th year, HCJC had an autumn enrollment of 942 (the peak came this year, and the 1,900 mark was crossed the previous year) and a spring enrollment of 867. Summer sessions saw 261 and 195 signed for courses. In the fall there were 559 fulltime students and in the spring 505.

These and a myriad of other facts are crammed into the annual HCJC audit completed by Neil G. Hilliard, Wilson and Co. The report contains breakdowns on just about every type of information that might be needed on the college operations. Its format was designed to make information for a parade of reports available instantaneously.

HIGHLIGHTS

Some of the audit's highlights include:

The college has accumulated a $1,966,998 equity since it was activated in the fall of 1946.

During the past fiscal year (ending Sept. 30, 1967), the college had local revenues of $694,695 (including $356,101 in taxes and $140,566 in tuition and fees); state revenues of $276,792; federal aid (including $261,590 paid toward the new science and library buildings) of $327,710; other revenues (including transfers and loans) $72,630; making a grand total of $1,351,827.

Expenses aggregated $1,738,956, and the difference is due to the building program (for which the college had voted $500,000 in bonds the year previously) and every category of expense. It also includes comparison with the previous year and with the revised budget for the fiscal year. In the recapitulation, the general fund expense of the year (this is purely for operation) amounted to $700,957 and debt service $112,249, making a basic budget expenditure of $813,206. In addition, the Student Housing system had expenditures of $112,462, plus $42,696 transferred to the SH debt service fund.

OTHER AREAS

There were other areas outside the regular program which are detailed. For instance, federal and state supported programs accounted for expenditures of $77,679. Included were $58,093 in work study program (jobs to help young people attend school), $16,914 for vocational training, $2,672 for Educational Opportunity program.

At the end of the year, balances included $25,678 in the EO grant fund, and $25,813 in the work study program.

Special activities, which include all types of donations, trusts, etc., had receipts of $6,546, disbursements of $6,157 and a balance of $1,580; student organizations receipts of $3,137, disbursements of $2,642, a balance of $795; the Dora Roberts Student Loan Fund (which received another $10,000 gift during the year) had loans of $3,065, and a balance of $17,951.

TAX PULL

An interesting comparative is in the tax roll for the past 10 years. In 1958 assessed valuations stood at $46,947,436, yielding net collections of $267,766. In 1967 (the tax deadline is Jan. 31, 1967) the assessed valuations stood at $62,781,929 and net collections $348,633. Curiously, the percentage of collections has varied between 96.12 (in 1959) to 96.82 per cent (in 1963), never falling below 96 per cent. During the past four years the amount of delinquent taxes outstanding has increased at the steady rate of $3,000 per year. The outstanding taxes at the end of the fiscal year were $57,825.

These are the bond issues and outstanding amounts on which the college is paying: 1946 (original) bonds $120,500; 1948 refunding $137,000; 1955 building bonds $293,000; 1965 building bonds $455,000. The Student Housing system has $500,000 outstanding, but this is repayable solely out of revenues generated by the SH system.

No One Wants The Leavings

NEW YORK (AP) — They've torn down the old Met, and no one wants to pick up the pieces.

An organization planning a cultural center for the site of the 1964-65 World's Fair had hoped to get $100,000 for two decorative paintings and four relief sculptures salvaged from the razed home of the Metropolitan Opera. But the sale price was only $1,500 for one painting and $250 for one sculpture.

A disappointed executive of the sellers said bids on the other four objects did not even meet minimum standards.

The sold painting was by Italian American artist Robert Bonvenuto. The sculpture was a clay bust of Wagner, executed by the Spaniard, Domingo Mora.

Althe North held the values for an immediate jump shift when his partner opened the bidding with one spade, he elected to make a simple forcing response of two hearts. After South's two spade rebid, North came out in his true colors by jumping to four diamonds.

South was more or less obliged to rebid spades again, inasmuch as a five club call would be a bit drastic on this minimum holding. When North gave him another chance by raising over game to five spades, South came to life and bid a small slam.

West opened the king of clubs and declarer ruffed in dummy. The four of spades was led at trick two and East played the king. South put up the ace, however, he was not happy to see the high spade honor appear; it seemed likely that West held all the missing trumps which meant that declarer was in danger of losing two trump tricks on the deal.

The ace and king of hearts were cashed, followed by a small heart which South ruffed with the five of spades as the opponents followed suit. The ace of clubs came next and then a club was trumped with the eight of spades. The three top diamonds were cashed permitting declarer to dispose of his remaining clubs, and both West and South were down to nothing but trumps.

A diamond was led from dummy and declarer who was left with Q-10-6 of spades, trumped with the six. West still retained the J-9-7 of spades and he could overruff with the seven, on the return he was obliged to surrender the last two tricks to his opponent.

South's only loser on the deal was the seven of spades.

Officials Divided, But Worried Over 'Weed'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Top federal officials are widely divided in their views on marijuana. But they're concerned and trying to learn more about it.

The division was underscored following the statement last week by Food and Drug Commissioner Dr. James L. Goddard that he believes marijuana is less dangerous than alcohol.

Goddard recommended relaxing severe laws against marijuana to eliminate penalties against possession. He said penalties should be retained for distribution or sale.

Taking a sharply different position, U.S. Narcotics Commissioner Henry L. Giordano testified before Congress earlier this year that marijuana "is not, as some people say, less (dangerous) than alcohol or less than smoking tobacco. Some way we have got to get this across to the public."

And Dr. Philip R. Lee, assistant secretary for scientific affairs for the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, told The Associated Press, "We just don't have enough information" to know the dangers of marijuana.

But federal officials agree the growing use of marijuana is of serious concern.

To fill the gap in scientific data on the drug, the government has put high priority on new research by the National Institute of Mental Health.

The Institute's new Center for Studies of Narcotic and Drug Abuse hopes to have solid evidence in about two years.

Acting center director Dr. Roger Meyer acknowledged in an interview that the center is under heavy pressure—both public and governmental—to get the answer fast. And he said the question policymakers want to answer is whether marijuana should be legalized.

For now, says Lee, the administration's policy is that there should be no change in the law, which equates marijuana with the extremely dangerous opiate heroin and with other strong narcotics.

The Federal Narcotics Act provides for a mandatory prison term of two to 10 years for first offenses on possession of marijuana, though discretionary sentences are allowed for offenders up to age 28.

In Colorado, the death penalty is provided for second convictions involving persons under 25 with narcotics—including marijuana.

What are the dangers of marijuana?

Federal officials agreed in a series of interviews that it's easier to say what the dangers are not.

The President's Crime Commission said earlier this year marijuana isn't habit forming physically, although users may become psychologically dependent on it; the user doesn't feel the need with time to increase the dosage as do opiate users; there is no conclusive evidence marijuana users graduate to more powerful drugs or that it causes crime; there are no obvious lasting physical effects and have been no known deaths.

But the commission found it to be by no means harmless, saying "it can cause anxiety, confusion or disorientation... (and) induce temporary psychotic episodes in predisposed people."

Slain Official's Car Located

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — The car of a former University of Oklahoma official found slain Jan. 19 in Texas has turned up in Canada.

Royal Canadian police notified Oklahoma authorities that they found the car in New Brunswick after it had been sold twice. The first sale was made April 19 by a man using papers of a wrecked car.

Jay Frank Elise, assistant bursar at the university, disappeared from his job Jan. 17. A body found near Brownsville, Tex., two days later was identified as Elise. He had been shot twice.

Four Locals Give Okay To New Ford Contract

DETROIT (AP) — Skilled tradesmen and production workers in four locals of the United Auto Workers union have approved the new contract with Ford Motor Co. by comfortable margins.

Production workers voted heavily for the pact Tuesday while skilled tradesmen approved it by a better than two-to-one margin. Some skilled tradesmen had made a last minute bid for rejection of the contract.

The remainder of the UAW's 160,000 Ford members in 101 fallen drastically this month.

The dissident tradesmen, led by Chris Manning, president of a Chevrolet local, purchased a half-hour's television time and attacked the contract, urging its rejection.

Reuther appeared immediately before Manning in an unprecedented television appeal for ratification. He told some 80,000 Ford members in Michigan that "if you strike for three more months, it is our judgment there will be no substantial improvement in this contract."

The union said it purchased the television time because the new pact is complicated and because of the strike, now in its 49th day. There would have been no rush if the strike was not in progress, a UAW spokesman said.

"Our purpose," he added, "is to get the plants back in operation as fast as possible."

He said the pact, which offers a guaranteed annual wage, gives Ford workers $700 million to $800 million over its three-year span in wages and fringe benefits.

Seized Safe Has $50,000

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—Federal tax agents say a safe they seized at the home of Philip Silbert, one of four men charged with operating what has been called a $10 million gambling ring, contained $50,000 in cash.

Silbert is the brother-in-law of Sheldon S. Cohen, U.S. commissioner of internal revenue. Federal agents Monday described Silbert in affidavits as "one of the most important numbers bankers in the Baltimore area."

In addition to the $50,000, agents who seized the safe Tuesday, said it contained two $100 Canadian bills, English currency and a gold certificate.

Also charged in the case are Jessie Bondroff, William Schreck and Maurice Silbert, Philip's brother. All are free on $2,500 bond.

In addition to the money seized from Philip Silbert's home, agents said they seized $13,749 from Schreck's house and $8,700 from raids on nine other locations throughout the city.

Pickets City's Dump Grounds

GRANTS PASS, Ore. (AP) — About 25 antigarbage sympathizers picketed the Grants Pass city dump Tuesday.

The new dump was supposed to have begun its first day of operations, but the picketers refused to let garbage trucks through.

The protesters—most of them residents of the area—carried signs such as, "Doesn't make our well water taste good."

COKATO, Minn. (AP) — A photograph from North Vietnam has renewed a father's hope that his son is alive in a prisoner of war camp although the Pentagon has listed him as dead for several months.

Hanoi's Vietnam News Agency released a picture Monday, showing the man with a group of Asians. In Tokyo, VNA identified him only as "U.S. Capt. Schumann" and said he was commander of a unit captured by Communist forces.

The Pentagon said it had no such name on its missing list. After a copy of the Communist photograph was supplied to defense officials, officers said the American apparently was Capt. John R. Schumann.

He was originally listed as missing, but the Defense Department said last March he died in a Communist prison camp in South Vietnam.

The soldier's father, John P. Schumann, was shown a copy of the Communist photograph at his home Tuesday and said, "It looks a lot like him."

The elder Schumann whose wife died of a stroke a few weeks ago, found his hopes bolstered that his son was still alive.

"In my own mind, I didn't think he was dead. He isn't the kind who would give up that easily," said Schumann, 61, who works for a farm implement dealer.

Mrs. Howard Lind, Bloomington, Minn., the soldier's younger sister, said, "I'm just baffled. I don't know what to think of this. I don't know when the picture was taken."

The elder Schumann acknowledged that it would be hard to tell whether the picture might have been taken before his son reportedly died. Mrs. Lind said the family was informed last March by the Defense Department that Schumann had died in July, 1966, of pneumonia and a kidney disease.

She said another prisoner-of-war who was released because of the lunar new year truce made the report. According to the government statement, said Mrs. Lind, "John had died in his arms."

Now, brethren, I commend you to God, and to the word of his grace, which is able to build you up, and to give you an inheritance among all them which are sanctified. (Acts 20:32)

PRAYER: God of our fathers, we thank Thee for Thy love and care for the children of men. Give us Thy grace that we may search the scriptures for Thy will, hopefully trusting in the promise, "Lo, I am with you always." In Christ's name. Amen.

Jury System Works

Any lack of faith in the jury system in the South should have been removed by the action of a Meridian, Miss., trial jury. Seven Mississippians were convicted and eight others acquitted by an all-white federal court jury on conspiracy charges arising from the 1964 slaying of three young civil rights workers.

It was not a pleasant case by any standard. The three young men, one of them a Negro, were taken from jail to a point in the countryside and there shot to death. Their bodies were buried in the earthworks of a dam and not located until several weeks after death.

Most of the jurors probably felt that the young men had no business in Mississippi; they were probably considered "trouble-makers." Their civil activities touched the most sensitive nerve of whites in the Deep South.

Nevertheless, when presented with compelling proof, jurors set aside their prejudices and brought in a finding of guilty against seven defendants. The maximum penalty that can be assessed against each defendant is a 10-year penitentiary sentence, a $10,000 fine, or both.

Justice may not be completely color-blind in the Deep South. But Southern juries can lay aside their prejudices when presented with persuasive evidence.

And their contemporaries can stand behind them courageously as witness the numerous outspoken praises by Mississippi newspapers for the jury and its forthright concern with justice.

Deterioration Of Demonstration

One of the impressions that astute observers gained from the anti-war demonstrations (and indeed, from many other demonstrations) is that the bulk of the crowd is made up of hanger-oners.

While there may be a core of individuals who believe sincerely and devoutly in the cause they espouse, most of those who finally show up are fringe elements looking for some way to attract attention, some place to go, something to do.

Any citizen of the United States of America has a right to be for or against the involvement in Vietnam, or for or against any other issue for that matter. Any citizen has the right to assemble peacefully, the right to petition. But when assemblage deteriorates into destructiveness and obstruction, it ceases to be a right. No additional rights accrue to members of a mass because of the weight of numbers or the anonymity of a mob.

Those who court arrest by defying law, even in the matter of traffic, safety and sanitation, are due their reward of being carted off to jail. They demonstrate much less ability to take it than dish it out when they cry police brutality.

If demonstration has reached the point of merely promoting confusion, it is ill advised. This is not useful; on the contrary, it is useless, wasteful, and only cheapens the image of this nation.

Holmes Alexander Have We Pulled Another Aswan?

TEHRAN, Iran — Did we blunder in Iran as we did in Egypt?

Somewhat more than a decade ago, John Foster Dulles (not a bad one as our Secretaries of State go) theatrically cancelled American participation in the Egyptian Aswan Dam. He was peevish because Egypt, freed at last from centuries of ancient imperialism and, in particular, the Soviet Union, was beginning to accept Russian arms. Now, in the 1960's, there is an inexact similarity, not an immediately perilous one, but noteworthy. We have shoved another Middle East country, the Western-oriented Kingdom of Iran, into a big deal with the Russians.

ON CORONATION DAY (October 26) amid the many celebrations that mark the crowning of the Shah, there will be the symbolic opening of Iran's industrial age — the dedication of machinery for a steel plant.

Like the Aswan Dam, which the Russians took over as principal constructors, the Iranian steel plant comes to a developing country — by courtesy of the Communists. We could have done it, had the credit for doing so, had whatever control goes to the supplier of capital and to the granter of wishes. For fully 20 years, the Iranian government has vainly begged the United States and Western Europe to invest in the steel-making potential of this richly endowed but undeveloped country. Time after time, as the various officials here have told me, the State Department and American companies have rejected the pleas. And so, the Shah has turned to the Soviets who have gladly oblige.

IN TURNING to the Russians, the Shah of Iran (he, personally, makes every important decision for this country) struck an audacious and picturesque bargain. The American and European oil firms, operating from remote sites in the southeastern part of Iran, have had little use for the natural gas that gushed from the petroleum wells. The gas has been burned off — "flared" — at an estimated loss of $88 million a year. Gas cannot be economically tanked and shipped, and there were no industries in the area to use it up — although petrochemical companies have recently started to move in.

The nearest customer for natural gas was Russia, and the nearest feasible port of entry to Russia was Astara on the edge of the Caspian Sea. Astara is 700 miles from the producing wells around Agha-Jari in southern Iran. The overland route covers some of the most spectacular mountain ranges in this part of the world. A Houston oilman in business here tells me that the projected pipeline is comparable to the lines that run from southern New Mexico into the Pacific Northwest.

THE SHAH'S DEAL, as everybody must know by now, was to barter natural gas, delivered at the border, for the construction of a steel mill in the same sort of wild terrain that gas comes from. Thus there are two huge projects to be undertaken in Iran during the closing years of the 1960's. Americans, Germans, Britons and French will take part in laying the pipeline. The Russians will come in to construct the steel plant.

But merely to make these statements is no adequate tribute to the enormous economic, technological, political undertaking that will bring men, materials and international complications from afar. The industrialization of Iran, which was ancient Persia, is a world event. It is a physical as well as an intellectual revolution in a country which is conservative and evolutionary by tradition. It is an event that is quite likely to equal in significance and repercussions the 1948 establishment of Israel in another part of the Middle East.

James Marlow Lined Up Against LBJ

WASHINGTON (AP) — The five Republicans most talked of as their party's presidential candidate in 1968 don't agree on how to handle the war in Vietnam but, with one exception, they have managed very briskly to team up against President Johnson.

THE ONE EXCEPTION is New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller who says he doesn't want to be a candidate at all.

The other four sound alike in questioning the Johnson administration's truthfulness in telling the American people about the war. They are former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Govs. George Romney of Michigan and Ronald Reagan of California, and Sen. Charles H. Percy of Illinois.

Of the five Republicans, Romney is the one who has been all over the lot. At one time he said America had a moral right to be involved in the war. At another time he said getting involved was a bad mistake.

AT ONE TIME he was for stepping up the bombing. But now he is against it. At the same time he is also against pulling out. He talked about the moral rightness of American involvement in November, 1965, after he and other governors had visited Vietnam.

Nine of the governors who went to Vietnam with Romney disputed his brainwashing charge. And Nixon, who went to Vietnam nine times to Romney's twice, said he had no complaints about the briefings he got on his visits there.

IT WAS ON Romney's brainwashing complaint that Rockefeller came closest to joining the chorus against the "credibility" of Johnson. But he was very guarded.

REAGAN AND NIXON are all for stepping up the pace of U.S. military action in Vietnam. Reagan has called on the government to throw its full military punch into the war to win it as soon as possible. He proposed "sharp escalation" but said nuclear bombs weren't necessary.

Nixon says the war must be shortened by use of "massive pressure" and he, too, wants to avoid nuclear weaponry.

Hal Boyle New Name Tag

NEW YORK (AP) — It has become something of a game to give name tags to the different generations.

FOR EXAMPLE, the period following the U.S. Civil War has been called "The Gilded Age." And Gertrude Stein lumped all the sad young men in Paris after the close of World War I in the expressive term, "The Lost Generation."

How, then, could the present older generation be classified? That would cover anyone 50 or over.

Why not "The Bossed Generation"? They certainly have been bossed by change, circumstance, challenge and children.

MEMBERS of the Bossed Generation have never quite been able to keep their feet on the ground because the ground has kept sliding out from under them.

In mankind's past, many generations have known a period of safety, serenity or certainty—a lull in life's storms.

Not the Bossed Generation, however. It has never had a chance to get set, to lick its wounds, to recover from the blows that have continually bewildered it.

Consider the plight of one of these hardy veterans:

To Your Good Health New Wrinkle For Perspiration

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: There was a letter in your column from a man plagued with skin problems in his armpits due to use of a deodorant or anti-perspirant.

About 10 years ago I suffered such a problem. Treatment was expensive, involving antibiotics and various prescription medicines, and it was difficult for me to go about holding my arms away from my body because of the pain and irritation. (I am a pianist and teacher.)

SHAVING LOTION

My solution was this: I stopped using any of the commercial products and substituted a simple application of after-shave lotion. I had to be careful at first because some lotions sting, but gradually I found those which were pleasant as well as effective.

Since then I have passed the idea on to my physician and to a few students with the same problem. Perhaps this will be of service to other readers. — J. C.

It may well be — a certain number of people are sensitive to the commercial preparations. The shaving lotion sounds like a handy answer, if it will do the job for a person. Probably rubbing alcohol (perhaps diluted) would serve also. It is astringent and also an antiseptic. Other readers with this problem may want to try this. I don't say it will work for everybody, but it makes sense. However, what works for one person does not always suit another.

Dear Dr. Molner: What could cause bald eyebrows? Half of each brow has completely disappeared and now my "half-brows" are becoming sparse, and this is happening also to my eyelashes. — Mrs.

You haven't given me enough information, including your age to give me much to go on. Some women at or past menopause tend to have a thinning of hair in all parts of the body. A thinning of the outer half of the eyebrows is seen in hypothyroidism (low thyroid function). An examination by your doctor and evaluation of such possibilities may provide a useful clue to your problem.

Dear Dr. Molner: Doctors said my deafness was due to a dead nerve and that nothing could be done to correct it. That was 10 years ago. Is it still true? — C. E. W.

Unfortunately yes. No way has been found to bring a dead nerve back to life, and since sound impulses have to be transmitted (from the ear to the brain) by the auditory nerves, there is nothing to do for that

Around The Rim Ye Olde Calf Doctor

When you get stuck for a topic, just ask one of your colleagues. "I'm desperate," I confessed to our exec-ed. "I'm completely dry on subjects for the column."

"Well," he shot back with a spontaneity that frightened me and made me not a little wary, "why don't you talk about screwworms?"

I WAS WARY, all right, for Mama always considered this such a horrid word that it seemed almost indecous. Before I could demur, he broke in:

"News stories say that Hurricane Beulah played havoc with the screw-worm control — it blew them up from Mexico by the multiplied thousands. Maybe they're coming back. Why don't you tell us how it was in the old days before they controlled the screwworm?"

OLD DAYS indeed! I'll have him know that wasn't so long ago when this wild idea about sterilizing the male fly by radiation and turning him loose to fire blanks: Funny thing, it worked. It worked so well that now it almost takes an expert to confirm that a suspected case of screwworm is indeed the real thing. And when that happens, the control boys flock to the point of discovery and again saturate the area with sterilized flies.

Another reason I couldn't qualify about the "old days" was that I really never had much personal experience with the screwworm. I confess, I wasn't a cowboy. My closest brush with screwworm turned out to be a near disaster.

MY PARENTS had some acreage near town and kept two or three cows. One of the few times that they took a vacation, we volunteered to keep things going at the place. One of the cows chose this moment as the time to deliver a calf, a handsome little critter if I do say so. I saw to it that he got all the milk he needed to get off to a good start.

One day the calf seemed a little less frisky than usual, and I gave it a close going over, and gee whiz there was a first class case of screwworms on his belly. I went up to the barn and got one bottle labeled "Screwworm Killer," also a jar of black stuff to smear on the wound and keep off any additional flies.

THE CALF took it well as I worked over the place, and then I poured in a liberal dose of the magic medicine. He sort of quivered and stiffened his legs. Touchy, I mused, and gave him another shot. Then I applied the tar stuff and stood back to admire the results.

"Baw!" cried the calf, quivering again, his eyes rolled back in his head, and his tongue stuck out of the side of his mouth. Then he sort of heaved as though it were his last.

I LOOKED on the label for reassurance. The words I hadn't seen before now leaped out: "CAUTION! Do not put in the navel of young calves." Oh great day in the morning. I thought, what have I done? How am I going to tell my Pappy I frittered away a calf by not reading the label until after I doctored it? Poor little thing. That must have been pure dynamite to the bowels.

I judged the limp form gently with my toe. "Bawwww!" snorted the calf, staggering to his feet. "Bawwww!" And he bounced off in stiff-legged indignation, leaving me wiser but happier about screwworm doctoring.

—JOE PICKLE

David Lawrence Two Views On Vietnam War

WASHINGTON—Two United States senators, both conscientious men—one a Democrat and the other a Republican—have just made suggestions as to what the American policy in Vietnam should be. Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri, Democrat, thinks there should be a pause in the fighting to find out what the enemy will do. Sen. Wallace Bennett of Utah, Republican, calls for a realistic appraisal and says that "the third world war, Communist style," has been going on for 20 years. He adds that the United States faces a grave crisis unless it pursues a firm course and rallies the other nations of the world to support its leadership in the effort to safeguard human freedom.

AS FOR Sen. Symington's idea—to stop the bombing and all military operations and see what would happen—an Associated Press dispatch from Hanoi, contributed by an Australian who is a correspondent for Communist papers, makes it clear that the North Vietnam government doesn't want "negotiations" and merely seeks "talks" that could last ten years. Presumably it would continue to infiltrate and attempt to take over South Vietnam.

SEN. BENNETT's speech in the Senate on Monday of this week, in describing "the third world war, Communist style," says the present battle of South Vietnam "may turn out to be as decisive in the third world war as the battle of the Bulge and the battle of Midway were in World War II." He declares that the weakness of the Communist countries, due to postwar exhaustion in 1945 and thereafter, did not permit "any massive attack." He adds:

"INSTEAD OF OPEN warfare, they proceeded to foster internal revolutions in these nations, begun with subversion and pursued through the use of native Communist guerrilla forces. This time the world was not to be swallowed whole but chewed up in little bites. This time they hoped to consume many key areas without arousing the sleeping giant which is the United States. This time they even hoped not only to conceal the relationship of these wars to their worldwide objectives but also to give them a noble purpose by calling them decapitatively, 'wars of national liberation.' . . .

"WHAT WOULD happen now if the United States withdrew before the situation in South Vietnam is stabilized? . . . If we allow this to happen, all free nations, particularly the small ones, would be justified in believing that we are unworthy to be trusted as the leader of the free world . . ."

"It is my firm belief that we should not go into any negotiations with anyone until we can be sure that at the end of the negotiations South Vietnam will still be free and independent."

The Utah senator believes that "premature withdrawal" or "capitulation" would put all nations in the Pacific—including Korea, Japan, Australia, New Zealand and the Philippines—into jeopardy.

MR. BENNETT explains that to us negotiation is "a process by which decisions are reached through mutual concessions," but that to the Communists "it is merely an extension of the conflict on a different level." He points out that in Korea "negotiations" are still going on after 15 years of "fruitless peace conferences in Geneva."

John Cunniff Far Different Plan

NEW YORK (AP)—The guaranteed annual income plan now being considered by Ford Motor Co. workers is far different from the much-publicized guaranteed income that is often suggested as an antidote to poverty.

THE FORD plan would provide laid-off workers a bit less than $5 per cent of their take-home pay for a limited period, with the funds coming from company contributions and from the worker's state unemployment compensation.

The guaranteed annual wage that has often been proposed as part of the war on poverty would provide federal government funds to a family whether the breadwinner has ever held a job or has a skill.

There is very little precedent for guaranteeing money specifically to nonworkers. These plans aren't designed so much for security as to avoid abject poverty and its consequences.

HOWEVER, the plans have more in common than their names. Both have as their basic motivation the desire to free human beings from the ups and downs of the economic cycle, to enhance dignity, to promote purchasing power.

Both also depend on much more planning than was attempted, or even possible, just a couple of decades ago. During these decades the concept of the controllable economic cycle has gained wide acceptance.

This concept, sometimes called the New Economics, asserts that a low level of unemployment, a high level of productivity and relative price stability are attainable through delicate fiscal and monetary policy.

WHETHER THIS is true is still debatable, but the wide swings from boom to bust are now far less discernible than they were earlier in this century.

With such relative stability, industry also has less fear of the future. Its business projections are rather accurate. Since the future is not the gamble it once was, it can commit itself to a plan such as a guaranteed wage.

Nevertheless, a guaranteed income may produce adverse repercussions for the less affluent corporations, specifically for the financially troubled American Motors, which may find a guarantee difficult to uphold.

The guaranteed income plans related to poverty demand considerable government initiative, even interference into the old "hands off" concept that tied man's lot to production. No production, no wages.

HOWEVER, the rapid advance of technology has made obsolete a lot of the minimal skills and knowledge some individuals without the chance of earning a living wage. As more human skills become obsolete these numbers may swell.

The growing relief rolls, in part, are the result of technological advance, although certainly other factors are involved. Partly as a result, some of the guaranteed income plans are proposed as replacements for welfare.

Play It Safe! Take Care Of Tinted Hair

By MARY SUE MILLER
Play it safe . . . Take extra good care of tinted hair!

Color products are predisposed to treat hair kindly. But, to insure lasting results, the coloring process must increase the hair's porosity. Thus brittleness becomes an ever present danger.

It follows that conditioning treatments must keep pace with tinting. Too, all the grooming products used — shampoos, setting lotions and hairsprays — must be formulated to provide corrective care without affecting color. Such preparations are labeled accordingly. So do look at labels before you leap to buy.

If you'd rather be safe than sorry, always wear an adequate head covering when the hair is exposed to sun, smog or wind. Those who have not obeyed the dictum this summer are already sorry about locks turned to straw.

Purely for the looks of the thing, retouching plays a vital part in the care of tinted hair. A retouch is in order every three weeks and perhaps more often. Between touch-ups, regrowth can be disguised as desired by the use of a temporary, after-shampoo rinse. Color sticks and combs make quick work of the task when haste is of the essence.

That about sums up the care program for tinted hair. Those who follow it can be sure of lively hair and shimmering color.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Here's Holder For Blanket Control

Dear Heloise: It's getting to be the time of year when everyone is digging out their electric blankets.

If you don't have a place to put the blanket control so it will be at your fingertips . . .

All you have to do is go to the dime store and buy one or two (whichever you need) wire soap dishes that have hangers on them that fit over the edge of the old-fashioned bath tubs.

Bend the wire to fit the side boards on the bed. The blanket controls fit in the soap dish fine and are always right there!

Lois Cooper

Dear Heloise: I would like to know what can be done about long-line bras with the wide boning. I always have the problem of this boning coming through the bra before I can get a chance to wear it very long. . . Mrs. J. W.

The first thing you do, my dear, is to trot right down to the drug or dime store and buy some moleskin plasters that are ordinarily used for corns. It is not a brand name. It is a type of thick padding with stickum on one side.

Cut the size you want (I cut mine about the size of a nickel) and stick this to the inside of your bra where it hurts.

If you use this method BEFORE the bra gets a hole in it, you most likely will prevent the hole. The thing I like about it best is that it keeps from making another hole in our SKIN! . . . Heloise

Dear Heloise: Losing a needle when sewing is both exasperating and dangerous. I found one by going over the suspected area with the magnet on my flashlight. It not only located the needle but picked it up for me. . . Helen Moore

Dear Folks: For those who make tiny or fancy sandwiches and find they can't cut the crust off without tearing or smashing the bread, just try using an electric knife!

If you don't have one, a serrated knife does the same job except you have to go a little bit slower with it.

The best thing I've found (if you're going to cut all the crust off a loaf of bread for a bunch of sandwiches) is to remove it while it's still frozen, then prepare to make your sandwiches. It is absolutely lush and easy. Never tears a'fall. . . Heloise

Dear Heloise: For those of us who sew at home and have little girls (say one to three years of age), zipper closures can be a problem — especially in skirts. (A six-inch placket takes up most of the side seam!)

So I buy the little zippers made for the teen doll clothes. They're the perfect size for "little people," too! . . . Barbara Hiller

Dear Heloise: If you don't use a ball point pen for a while the ink in the point goes dry and you frequently rush to the store for a new one.

I just hold the point of mine against the light bulb on my desk for a few moments, make a few dry scratches on paper and the ink starts flowing.

It works for me every time. It's the heat in the bulb . . . Alex Kuharic

Dear Heloise: When following a recipe from a thick cookbook that won't stay open to the right page, I set a clear glass pie plate on the page. It keeps the book open and you can read right through the pie plate.

Besides, it even magnifies the print and keeps the book clean. . . Mrs. Wanda Peroddy

Dear Heloise: To clean radiators, use a baby bottle brush.

The handle is flexible and will reach spots your vacuum would probably miss. It really gets around corners. . . Leona

Tigers—Real And Air Force Type

To prove that he's entitled to wear the coveted General Electric "tiger by the tail" patch on his flying suit for completing 1,000 hours in the F-104, Major Wes Brown, operations officer of the 4760th Combat Crew Training Squadron at Webb

AFB, does it the hard way. Captain Norman Fogg, another 1,000-hour man, is being urged to take his turn by GE's flight propulsion division representative, Gene Waugh.

TIGER BY THE TAIL

Tough Award To Take

Completing 1,000 hours of flying time in the F-104 fighter aircraft may not come easy, but it could be easier than accepting an award that marks the distinction.

VETERAN PILOTS

Two veteran pilots of the 4760th Combat Crew Training Squadron at Webb AFB (formerly the 331st Fighter-Interceptor Squadron), recently hit the 1,000-hour mark. They are Maj. Wesley E. Brown and Capt. Norman Fogg.

When pilots attain this record, General Electric (whose J-79 jet engine powers the F-104) presents them with a "tiger by the tail" patch to wear on flying suits.

Generally a routine affair—but Gene Waugh, GE flight propulsion representative with the squad, Tuesday dreamed up a more exciting presentation. He took both pilots out to the Pet-A-Zoo, where they were introduced, first-hand, to a tiger weighing 500 pounds and encouraged them to grab his tail while a photographer captured the whole thing on film.

This all required the cooperation of A. D. Blount, Pet-A-Zoo owner, who handles the tiger, a 24-month-old fellow named Billy who is strong enough to drag two or three men across the floor of the cage.

CALMED BILLY

Blount calmed Billy, while the pilots approached, obviously with some qualms. But Waugh showed he was willing to take Billy by the tail, and the affair ended up with a couple of 1,000-hour F-104 pilots getting the real tiger treatment.

Threat Of Second Hauler Strike Looms

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The threat of a second steel haulers strike loomed today with drivers accusing some trucking firms of refusing to rehire them.

William Kusley, leader of the bitter strike that tied up highway steel shipments for nine weeks, says he and about 50 other drivers are out of a job.

He said a dozen trucking firms in four states—Indiana, Michigan, Ohio and Pennsylvania—have violated the strike-ending agreement promising no reprisals or loss of seniority.

"If we can't get everybody back to work, we'll just have to pull all the trucks off the road. I don't know what else we can do," Kusley said Tuesday.

Most of the 10,000 to 20,000 haulers returned to work Tuesday as steel mills began pushing out orders backed up since the strike began in Gary, Ind., and spread through eight states.

Kusley, who organized the owner-operators into a rebel group called the National Steel Haulers Protest Committee, said he's working with the Teamsters Union in an effort to iron out the problem. About 60 per cent of the independents belong to the union.

The strike-ending settlement granted the independents a five per cent rate hike, and payment of $10 an hour for every hour they have to wait in mills for their trucks to be loaded beyond the first four hours.

AVERAGE FAMILY OF FOUR
Living Costs: About $8,000 A Year

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — It will cost a well-established Dallas family of four persons an average of $8,472 to maintain a moderate standard of living in the autumn of 1967—Texas' highest but still about nine per cent below the U. S. urban average, statistics showed Tuesday.

The U.S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics showed Dallas was 21 per cent below New York-Northeastern New Jersey, the mainland area with highest costs.

The study showed Austin, Tex., with the lowest total budget for 39 individual metropolitan areas studied with $8,029.

The total annual cost of the budget in autumn 1966 ranged from $7,855 in small Southern cities to $11,190 in Honolulu.

Houston with an average of $8,387 was $85 per family below

Dallas in the cost of living. The cost in Dallas included an average of $6,861 for goods and services, $2,021 for food, $1,891 for housing, $821 for transportation, $916 for clothing and personal care, $478 for medical care, and $734 for other items used in family living.

Total costs for a moderate living standard in small cities averaged about 10 per cent lower than in metropolitan areas.

Red Pilots Gain Edge In Dogfights

WASHINGTON (AP) — Improved training and combat experience are credited with enabling North Vietnamese fighter pilots to duel American jet pilots on better than even terms in recent dogfights.

The Pentagon disclosed Tuesday that North Vietnamese MIGs outkilled American jets six planes to two during a period of running from late August to mid-October.

This reversed the better than three-to-one ratio in aerial kills scored by U.S. pilots over North Vietnamese fliers throughout much of the air war which began in February, 1965.

This turnabout, plus a significant rise in the aggressiveness of North Vietnamese air force combat sorties, led U.S. officials to order American Air Force, Navy and Marine jets to attack the important Phuoc Yen airfield 18 miles northwest of Hanoi.

Over-all, the U.S. fliers still claim an 86-26 advantage over the North Vietnamese air force in dogfight kills from the beginning of the air war to the point at which Pentagon figures ease off.

American fliers returning from the war zone have been telling newsmen of the growing professionalism of the North Vietnamese air force.

Air Force Col. Robin Olds, the leading MIG killer of the Vietnam war, told a news conference Oct. 3 "there was a notable increase in their aggressiveness and their capability" over the year of his tour.

"Either they've done an awful lot of training or they've run in a new ball team," Olds said.

are utilizing their speed to dash into favorable firing position, to unleash their air-to-air missiles and then to get away.

The MIG21 as an interceptor is rated on a par with the U.S. F4 Phantom fighter.

GOP Has Cutbacks In Spending Ready

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans have $5 billion and $2 billion moves ready in their effort to win Senate approval of a multibillion dollar cutback in federal spending.

The administration, beaten in a similar fight by the House, is trying to block the attachment of any across-the-board spending curbs to an otherwise-routine money resolution.

Senate votes were expected today on the resolution, which extends until Nov. 15 the authority for many federal agencies to continue to spend government money.

Congress has not completed action on these agencies' regular appropriations for the budget year which began July 1. An earlier interim spending authorization expired at midnight Monday.

Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., wants to add a provision establishing a $131.5 billion federal spending ceiling for this fiscal year. That's estimated to be worth a $5 billion cut and is almost the same as one provision the House tacked onto the resolution last week.

The House also added a broader directive to the President to reduce expenditures by $6 to $8 billion in the present year.

Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., proposes a 5 per cent cut in all appropriations except those for defense and for items fixed by law such as interest on the national debt.

He estimated this would reduce appropriations by nearly $2 billion.

Williams told the Senate Tuesday the nation is in a "chaotic financial situation" and that President Johnson has contributed heavily by "false economy promises" and by "juggling the budget figures in an effort to mislead the American people as to the true extent of deficit spending."

Chairman Carl Hayden, D-Ariz., of the Appropriations Committee said the House riders seek to make economies "by blind, across-the-board reductions" and it is impossible to know their real effect.

Meanwhile, progress continued in pushing through the regular money measures. Six have been enacted and nine are pending.

Senate-House conferees completed work on a compromise $2.2 billion measure to finance the departments of State, Justice and Commerce.

The House passed and sent to the Senate a $2.1 billion military construction bill, carrying $800 million less than Johnson originally asked.

Both the House and Senate sent back to conference a $10 billion catch-all money bill for another try at agreement on two major administration programs designed to improve city slums and house low-income families.

These are rent supplements, for which the House voted nothing this year and the Senate $40 million in contract authority, and model cities, for which the House allowed $237 million and the Senate $537 million.

Each voted Tuesday to stand by its position but leaders said a compromise probably would be worked out.

President Johnson signed bills appropriating $1.58 billion for the Department of Transportation and $4.95 billion for the Department of Agriculture. They are $137 million and $69 million less respectively than he sought.

Bad Break For Radioman On Governor Cruise Ship

NEW YORK (AP) — California Gov. Ronald Reagan credits luck and accident for his interception at sea of a White House radiogram—but the break may have been a bad one for the chief radio officer of the SS Independence.

Ship's Capt. Charles E. Reilly announced Tuesday the head man in the radio shack has been suspended pending completion of an investigation of the affair by American Export-Isbrandtsen Lines.

Commenting on the suspension, Reilly said later: "It's shocking. It was so obviously easy for a mistake of this kind to happen. I know for a fact that it happened with other messages. This action smacks of persecution. This is the Great Society at its benevolent best." Reilly said Chief Radio Operator Charles Berger was one of three men in the radio shack when the White House message arrived, one week ago.

The message, addressed to former Texas Gov. Price Daniel, was one of instruction on tactics to deal with Republican governors who later blocked an endorsement of President Johnson's Vietnam war policy by the floating 59th National Governors Conference.

Reagan got a copy and made it public. In Sacramento, Calif., Reagan said it was sheer accident, and denied that any member of his party had a part in obtaining the message.

"I did not intercept someone else's mail," Reilly added. "I did not read someone else's mail knowingly." He said he never tried to find out how the message got to him. "Why should I inquire into my luck?" Reilly said. Reilly announced suspension of the radio operator after the Independence docked in New York, with 26 governors still aboard. Others, Reagan among them, had flown home earlier from the Virgin Islands. That ended an eight-day governors' voyage that blended politics with tourism in the Caribbean sun. The Reagan-radiogram affair added a dash of political intrigue. Just how the message strayed remained a mystery. But Charles F. Dunigan, vice president of American Export, said his company intends to find out.

Second Turns Down Academy

nise. She is the second daughter of the Laurence Goulds of Fennville, Mich., to receive an invitation to attend one of the service academies.

Her sister, Antonie, now a sophomore at Michigan State University, turned down an offer from the Naval Academy. Both girls were semifinalists in National Merit Scholarship tests, which is how the academies got their names.

'Kismet' Could Hardly Miss

By CYNTHIA LOWRY AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — With music like "Stranger in Paradise," an Arabian Night romance for a plot and the rich oriental colors of a lavish production, ABC's "Kismet" Tuesday night could hardly miss. It was an ear-satisfying and eye-filling 90 minutes—particularly for television viewers who saw it in all its lovely hues.

The story served primarily as an excuse to introduce the assorted musical numbers. It was a tale of the beautiful daughter of a beggar who won the love of the caliph, and, on an earlier level, the beggar's romance with a lovely lady with a roving eye.

The plot and its ramifications did have a tendency to bog down occasionally, but there was soon a musical number and things picked up again. Anna Maria Albergheiti, in the role of the young girl, acquitted herself well. She is very pretty and has a sweet true if small soprano voice. George Chakiris, as the handsome caliph, was a delight in the big dance production number.

In the Broadway play, the memorable role was that of the crafty beggar, Jose Ferrer in the television version seemed mature and downright portly when he should have been dashing. In fact he resembled King George V dressed for a masquerade ball more than an arrogant poet of ancient Baghdad living by his wits. His singing voice, while adequate, was not particularly impressive.

Barbara Eden, who must be pretty familiar with this Arabian Nights business after two years of playing TV genie, contributed the more sly comedy moments as the faithless wife of the vizier and Hans Conried as her foolish husband played his part in almost slapstick fashion.

The real star of "Kismet" in any production is Alexander Borodin, who composed the lovely music which was given words and adapted to stage use.

Earlier in the evening NBC broadcast "A Hard Day's Night," the critically acclaimed film starring the Beatles and made three years ago at the peak of their popularity. It was pell-mell comedy, full of sight gags, one-line jokes, sudden changes of pace but often incomprehensible bits of dialogue in muffled Liverpool accents.

NBC filled its entire evening from 7:30 to 11 with movies—a situation which pessimists insist will be commonplace in television before too long. It followed "A Hard Day's Night" with an old Jerry Lewis comedy, "Cinderella," with Anna Maria Albergheiti as his leading woman. Thus Miss Albergheiti competed for audiences simultaneously on two rival networks.

Tonight ABC's entire evening schedule will be taken over by special broadcasts. First there will be a showing of the 18-year-old film version of "The King and I" with Deborah Kerr, Yul Brynner and Rodgers and Hammerstein score. Then comes a program built around Sophia Loren and shot mostly at her home near Rome.

Ordinance Has A High Price

NEW YORK (AP) — A 1787 copy of the Northwest Ordinance—one of the key documents in the development of the United States—has been sold at auction for $33,000 to a New York City rare book dealer.

The ordinance, passed by Congress on July 13, 1787, provided for the government of the Northwest Territory which later became the states of Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin and part of Minnesota.

It spelled out the steps by which territories could become states in the Union and has been called by historians one of the main guarantees of the Constitution of American freedom. The copy sold Tuesday was printed in New York in 1787 and was part of the Thomas Winthrop Streeter collection of Americana. It was auctioned at Park Bernet galleries to dealer John Fleming.

Dear Abby

Needs A Psychologist

DEAR ABBY: Last week a neighbor came to our door with a disturbing story. It seems our son, age 10, had undressed her son, age 6, and whatever else took place, she was supposed to have seen.

We have never had any trouble like this before. Our son's exact words were, "I don't know what I did wrong."

This neighbor didn't know that there was a third boy there, who was older. When I questioned him, he assured me that nothing serious took place.

We appreciated this neighbor telling us, so that if we do have a problem we can correct it in time, but what we didn't appreciate was her telling the whole neighborhood.

The next day, none of our son's friends would play with him. Three days later, the POLICE called to question us in reference to this incident. (Such tales can really get out of proportion, can't they?)

What should we do if they continue to press the issue? WORRIED DAD
DEAR DAD: If by "pressing the issue," you mean they continue to persecute your child by refusing to allow their children to play with him, moving from the neighborhood would not be too drastic, if it's at all possible. Tales of this nature live a lot longer than they should.

DEAR ABBY: I am an 18-year-old boy with a problem. First let me explain that I AM clean, I LOOK clean, and have never been in any kind of trouble, but I guess you wouldn't say that I was "in" with the popular crowd. I have liked this 16-year-old girl for a long time, and finally got up the nerve to ask her for a movie date. She accepted and I thought we had a good time, but the next time I asked her for a date she said she was busy.

I asked her again, and then she told me that her father did not want her to go out with me. I asked her why, and she said her father doesn't give reasons, he just gives orders. This bothered me a lot because I only saw her father once to shake hands with on the night I took her out. I finally got up the nerve to call her father and ask him why he didn't like me, and when I told him what his daughter had told me, he said he never said anything of the kind. — Could the father be lying? Or could the girl have lied to me? I need your advice. LIED TO DEAR ABBY: Obviously, SOMEBODY lied. Either way, my advice to you is to forget the girl.

Troubled? Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

New Civil Rights Bill Slips Through On Narrow Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — An administration-backed civil rights bill squeaked through its first test in the Senate Judiciary Committee today by an 8-7 vote after a dramatic transatlantic flight by Sen. Hugh Scott.

Scott, a Pennsylvania Republican, flew from England Tuesday night in a military transport at the request of the White House for the showdown on the legislation.

Scott told newsmen the committee voted 8 to 7 to adopt the administration's measure in place of a substitute sponsored by Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C.

The administration victory followed a secret strategy huddle at the Capitol earlier today, participated in by Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark and John Doar, the head of the Justice Department's civil rights division.

Emergency Crop Loans Approved Due To Drouth

Howard, Glasscock and Mitchell County farmers will be eligible for emergency loans because of general adverse weather conditions this year, Rep. Omar Burleson advised Wednesday.

The Department of Agriculture has designated the counties as being eligible for the emergency loans through June 30, 1968, when credit is not available from regular conventional sources.

The legislation is designed to provide federal protection for Negroes against interference, by violence or threats, with the exercise of federally guaranteed rights. Similar protection would be afforded to civil rights workers.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Robert Nichols to the 33 present. Guests were Mrs. Coleman and Joanne and Mrs. J. S. Jackson, Vealmoor.

Allen Loses Appeal Try

Carrie Allen, who has been 16 months in the Howard County jail, Wednesday lost his appeal from a 20-year conviction for armed robbery. Unless he is able to file some new delaying action, as soon as the mandate comes down from the appeals court, Allen will be taken to the penitentiary.

Allen and Allen Lamar were arrested June 14, 1966, shortly after a grocery store here had been held up and robbed of money and cigarettes.

Both men were tried in 118th District Court and found guilty. Allen was given a 20 year sentence by a jury in the court Aug. 30, 1966. Lamar has been given a 25 year sentence a short time earlier.

Both men bombarded all of the courts in the area with letters demanding new trials, writs of habeas corpus, and other relief.

Death Penalty Is Confirmed

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Court of Criminal Appeals affirmed by a 2-2 vote today the death penalty conviction of Alton Charles for the 1966 shotgun murder of Andrew Judge Roe, retired lake property caretaker and game warden at Caddo Lake in Harrison County.

Charles, then 18, was taken to the district attorney's office nine days after the murder, warned of his rights, and was then taken before a justice of the peace, who also warned him of his rights.

Renewal Of The Spiritual Said Vital

The world's complete answer to the world's problems is a complete spiritual revival, Big Spring Rotarians were told Tuesday at their luncheon session.

The speaker was the Rev. Edmund W. Robb, Abilene, who is here conducting a revival at the First Methodist Church.

The world, with all its progress in various fields, has not yet learned to live together in Christ, said the speaker. He cited almost continuous warfare through this century, and the toll this has taken. He mentioned the race problem, and said, "This issue cannot be settled by law, but in the hearts and minds of men."

And he cited the rapid growth of crime in this country, an unhealthy preoccupation with violence, and a breakdown in morality. A moral reformation must come, lest this nation destroy itself, said Rev. Robb, and this can only occur in the wake of a revival of Christianity.

Mrs. Gene Moore, musical evangelist at the First Methodist series this week, gave a solo. Club members were given a briefing on the proposed Howard County Airport Authority by Dr. Milton Talbot.

This in-service training is designed to help solve problems unique to schools with less than 500 enrollment and to keep up-to-date in teaching techniques, use of available materials, and developing new ideas to better educate the individual child as well as the communities as a whole.

Personnel from the Glasscock ISD attended their respective sessions.

Every morning, Mrs. Winters said, the first chore she does is to go turn on her windmill.

"My many cats," she said, "are waiting for me to back door. They parade ahead of me to the windmill and await until I turn it on."

"The cats then head back to the house ahead of me in a fairly uniform line."

Monday morning as Mrs. Willis, preceded by the feline escort, started back to the house from the mill, one of the cats, its hair on end, crouched in a menacing manner and began spitting at something in the grass.

That something turned out to be a rattlesnake. Mrs. Mrs. Winters killed it with a hoe.

Sam Anderson Ends Tenure As President Of TSTA

S. M. (SAM) ANDERSON

When an expected 10,000 persons arrive in Houston Thursday for a three-day session of the Texas State Teacher's Association, Sam Anderson, superintendent of the Big Spring Independent School District, will be presiding as a climax to a year as TSTA president.

Side effects of the convention will be evident locally, as all city schools close Friday permitting teachers to attend. Anderson leaves Tuesday afternoon to preside over pre-sessions.

Theme for the 89th state convention is "Be Concerned With Their Education," accenting a need for Texans to become more concerned with the quality of their public schools.

TSTA changes and improvements will be main topics throughout the meeting, with 12 constitutional changes up for consideration when the final session meets Saturday.

The convention proper begins at 7:30 p.m. Thursday with general session speakers John W. McFarland, dean of the school of education at the University of Texas at El Paso, and U. S. Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough of Texas. Humorist Sam Levenson is the Friday morning headliner, appearing with NEA president, Braulio Alonso, and Texas P-TA president, Mrs. L. L. Ledger.

Providing entertainment Friday night is Sammy Kaye and his Orchestra. Following his program, a reception honoring Mr. and Mrs. Anderson will be held on the U. S. S. Rice Roof.

The final meeting will convene at 9 a.m. Saturday in the music hall adjoining Sam Houston Coliseum. During the past year Anderson, the only Big Spring superintendent ever to hold his highest office, has made numerous trips to appear at TSTA sectional meetings all over the state, and has been in Austin frequently to confer on legislative matters and with the state TSTA staff. During the summer, he went to Europe as the official observer of the TSTA.

Computer Keeps Office Hopping

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A busy computer at the State Revenue Department chucked out letters to 92,000 Georgians telling them their tax returns had been rejected. The machine also promised more news.

Five weeks have gone by, and there's been nothing.

Deputy State Revenue Commissioner Paul L. Hanes said Tuesday that when the whirring computer discovers a mistake, it tosses the return back to his tax people. They have to refigure each return, and that takes time.

Cranes Turn Off Hunters

PLENTYWOOD, Mont. (AP) — Three birds turned off the hunting season at the Medicine Lake Wildlife Refuge for about 10 days.

When the trio of rare whooping cranes dropped into the refuge last week to feed and rest on their southward migration, fish and game officials promptly barred the area to shotguns.

It appeared the birds left early this week, headed to wintering grounds at the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge on the Texas Gulf Coast.

However, just in case they decided to return, Medicine Lake officials ordered that the waterfowl season remain at a standstill until today.

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus, a two-time winner and the defending champion, led golf's top-ranking professionals into the first round of the $100,000 Sahara Invitational Tournament today, a 72-hole event that will mean $20,000 to the winner next Saturday.

Regular With Lions

Tim Smith of Big Spring, a 195-pound tackle, has helped the East Texas State University Lions register wins over Southwest Missouri and Sul Ross this season. After last week's 31-0 triumph over Sul Ross, coach Ernest Hawkins said of Tim: "He used his head in more ways than one. Most of the time he outthinks the other man, and when he can't do that, he puts his head down and runs over them to make a play."

Jimmy Newsom has been elevated to the presidency of the Big Spring Golf Association, which is planning a Turkey Shoot for Nov. 18-19 at the Municipal course.

Steers Must Find New Grid Foes

Big Spring will be seeking two new non-district football opponents next season, all because District 3-AAA schools have voted to play a round-robin schedule in 1968.

That conference now has 11 schools, which means that all ten games of each club's schedule will be against a conference foe.

Big Spring has been meeting both Lamesa and Snyder in non-conference play the last several years. Schools in 3-AAA voted the round-robin schedule by a vote of 6-5 after several representatives expressed the fear they would be unable to fill out their programs if the league decided to operate as a two-zone circuit.

Vol Is Named Back Of Week

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Tennessee's strategy against Alabama was to stop the Crimson Tide running attack and force quarterback Kenny Stabler to throw.

The strategy worked, giving the Volunteers a 24-13 victory, boosting them from seventh to fourth in The Associated Press football poll and bringing Back of the Week honors to defensive back Albert Dorsey.

Saturday was Dorsey's 22nd birthday and he celebrated by intercepting three Stabler passes, the last of which he ran back 31 yards for a touchdown. Two other Stabler tosses were picked off by Vol defenders.

Both Tennessee Coach Doug Dickey and Alabama Coach Paul "Bear" Bryant called Dorsey's thefts key plays in Tennessee's triumph.

"Coach Dickey teaches us that you have to stop your opponent before you can beat him," Dorsey said. "It was part of my job to stop Alabama and I was certainly happy I could help do it."

"The touchdown I scored against Alabama was my first and it certainly was the biggest thrill of my life."

Dorsey said he was thankful for platoon football. "I'm too small (5-foot-11 and 178 pounds) to play offensive football," he explained. "I don't suppose I'd get to play if we didn't have a defensive team."

St. Louis Hawks Add To Streak

By The Associated Press

There's nothing that goes quite so well with a cold beer as a hot streak. But sometimes both are difficult to come by.

It took St. Louis Coach Richie Guerin several minutes to get the beer because he couldn't find an opener in the Hawks' crowded dressing room at New York's Madison Square Garden.

It took his Hawks considerably longer to keep their streak hot, but they did—winning their seventh National Basketball Association game in as many starts by outlasting the New York Knickerbockers 135-130 in overtime Tuesday night.

In other NBA action, Philadelphia drubbed Detroit 124-102 in a game preceding the Hawks-Knicks contest, San Francisco topped Cincinnati 116-106 and Baltimore whipped Seattle 136-125.

Kentucky edged Anaheim 128-127 and Minnesota trounced Pittsburgh 104-86 in the American Basketball Association.

The Hawks trailed 117-110 with three minutes remaining in regulation time. But then the Hawks took advantage of some sloppy New York play and charged to a 119-119 deadlock, the tying points coming on Paul Silas' field goal with 39 seconds left.

The Hawks thought they had won it 121-119 on Gene Tormohlen's final shot—but the officials ruled that he didn't get the shot off before the 24-second time limit had expired.

Knicks ahead 121-119 in overtime, but then the Hawks reeled off 10 straight points and held off New York for the victory.

Hal Greer scored 38 points and Billy Cunningham 25 in leading the Philadelphia rout.

Obie Bristow To Attend Grid Anniversary Party

Obie Bristow, accompanied by his wife, Estelle, leaves here Thursday for Pryor, Okla., where he plans to attend the 50th anniversary of Pryor's first high school football.

Obie, who later became a second All-American fullback at the University of Oklahoma, was one of 12 players on the club, which played a six-game season.

The club consisted of only 12 players, several of whom are now dead. One of the stars of the team, a full-blooded Indian named Jesse Mays, succumbed only last week in Pryor, Bristow has learned.

Homecoming ceremonies will be held in connection with the reunion. Pryor plays Sand Springs. Coach of the 1917 Pryor club was the late Harry Faulkner, later a coaching aide at Texas A&M. Faulkner was general manager of the Lubbock West Texas-New Mexico baseball league at one time.

Obie says, with tongue in cheek, that the '17 Pryor club pioneered in two-platoon football — it sent the 12th player onto the club when it went on defense.

The Pryor club ran off the short punt and single-wing club, Bristow recalls.

After leaving the University of Oklahoma, Bristow played several years of professional football before starting his career as a coach.

Packer Given NFL Honor

NEW YORK (AP) — If Dave Robinson doesn't make all-league linebacker this season, there will be eyebrows raised around the National Football League.

Robinson, a 6-foot-3, 245-pound hunk of man who plays left linebacker for the Green Bay Packers, is the Defensive Player of the Week in the NFL according to The Associated Press.

The man who pressured Don Meredith into an interception in the closing seconds of last season's Green Bay-Dallas title game, put on a show for the New York Giants last week at Yankee Stadium.

Within a space of about two minutes in the third period, Robinson intercepted two of Fran Tarkenton's passes. The first came on a ball that bounced out of the hands of Joe Morrison on New York's 26. A clipping penalty forced the Packers so deep they had to give up the ball. The second came on the Giants' 18, leading directly to a field goal by Don Chandler.

Leaping into the air to grab Tarkenton's toss with one hand, Robinson made his second interception one of the most spectacular defensive plays of the season.

"That was as fine a defensive play as you'll ever see," commented Coach Alie Sherman of the Giants, who still was in the ball game, losing only 17-14 at the time. The final score was 48-21.

Forsan Fems Win Again

FORSAN — Mollie Condon and Gloria Dodd led the Forsan girls to their second straight basketball victory over Flower Grove here Tuesday night. Final score was 66-43.

Condon bucketed 22 points while Dodd chipped in with 20. The Buffalo Queens built up a 29-12 edge at half time and coasted in. Ann Haggard paced the Dragons with 25 points.

In B team play, Flower Grove won, 34-33. Rita Hightower tallied 14 points and Beth Holcomb nine for Forsan while Connie Dunagan had 14 for the Forsan club.

They'll Be At Crossroads Friday Night

The Sands Mustangs (pictured here) will either fade from contention in the District 3-B eight-man football race Friday night or firm up their chances to finish on top. They go to Garden City to oppose the rugged Bearkats. The Ponies lost a heartbreaker last week to Sterling City, 8-6. Front row, from the left, they are Gavino Rodriguez (student manager), Joe Grigg, Alfonso Calvio, Ray Rodriguez, Perry Gillespie,

Colorado, Pokes And Irish Favored

NEW YORK (AP) — Like the bitter lemon to the Web-foots of Oregon. Colorado over Oklahoma State: The Cowpokes are strong on defense but they never have encountered anyone who can puncture a line with the speed and efficiency of Wilmer Cooks, the 215-pound Buffalo fullback.

Tennessee over Louisiana State: If the Volunteers could beat Alabama last week with a third string quarterback, what will they do to LSU now that everyone is healthy?

Local Dragsters Claim Victories

Three Big Spring drivers who entered cars in races at the Concho Drag Way in San Angelo last Sunday between them won four trophies and other prizes.

Bill Moore driving a 1960 Corvette in E-Stock Sports competition, finished first. In addition, he was runnerup in Street Eliminator.

Jerry Huckabee, at the wheel of a 1965 Mustang, won B-Stock Class. Jerry Price, driving a 1966 Mustang, won the 6 Pure Stock class.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hert

Realignment of the state's athletic districts by the Texas Intercollegiate League, although the Big Spring district was left pretty much as it was, will have its effect in this area.

For one thing, now that Odessa Ector has been admitted to Class AAAA, each of the competing schools in what will now be known as District 3-AAAA will have one less practice tilt. For another, conference play will get under way one week earlier than before. Chances are competition within the league will start as early as the second week of the campaign.

The realignment also means that one of the clubs will wind up a week earlier than the others and several of the schools will have to arrange non-conference tilts after they have started 3-AAAA competition.

The change in the league's designation from 2-AAAA to 3-AAAA means, too, that the district's champion will oppose the Amarillo-Lubbock winner in the first round of the playoffs, rather than the survivor in the El Paso district, because the El Paso area has grown to such an extent that it now includes 12 schools and, for that reason, has been divided into two districts.

The playoffs will extend an extra week in Class AAAA, which means they will continue for five weekends following the regular season.

That means, in all likelihood, that the state champion will not be determined until around Christmas Day, an arrangement that is not exactly ideal.

District 3-AAAA won't be the largest in the top classification in the state—4-AAAA will be. It has ten teams. In District 3-AAA, however, there will be 11 clubs, which means the circuit may have to be zoned. District 4-AAA will have the same number of member schools, but both will take a back seat to 7-AAA, which will field 14 teams.

Only six college football teams have scored 50 points or more against a major opponent this season.

Two of those were SWC teams: Rice, 30-6 over Northwestern and Texas Tech, 32-0 over Iowa State.

A departed District 2-AAAA football coach, discussing the problems he had keeping the attention of a former player: "He probably didn't apply himself fully at all time. After all, he already had as much money in the bank as I will ever have."

In acknowledging that his defensive line at the University of Texas has been "too porous," Coach Darrell Royal rationalized the weakness by adding: "But then we haven't been the little sisters of the poor."

The Kansas State University freshman team, for which Big Spring's James Carver is a starting offensive tackle, lost its opening game to Missouri recently, 10-7.

Have you heard about that battle of signs taking place on the bulletin board outside a Methodist Church in Shelbyville, Ky.?

The minister, the Rev. William E. Hisle, posted this thought-provoker on the board: "A layman in church is worth two on the golf course."

A few days later, Hisle went to North Carolina. When he returned he found this sign: "A preacher in town is worth two in North Carolina."

He has no reason to suspect a golfer but he does.

Astros Name '68 Coaches

HOUSTON (AP) — Mel McGaha, Salty Parker, Buddy Hancken and Jim Owens will be the Houston Astros coaches for the 1968 baseball season.

Astros General Manager H. B. Richardson announced the appointment of the four Tuesday. Parker, 54, who managed 17 years in the minors and recently resigned as coach and interim manager of the New York Mets, will handle third base coaching duties for the Astros.

McGaha, 41, a former major league manager at Cleveland and Kansas City and who managed the Astros' Oklahoma City farm club the past two seasons, will be first base coach.

Hancken, 51, a catcher in the minor leagues for 15 years and last year's manager of the Astros' Amarillo farm club, will coach the catchers and handle other duties.

Owens, 33, a pitcher for 15 seasons in professional baseball including 11 in the majors and two and a half with Houston, will be the pitching coach.

Manager Grady Hatton said the new coaches also will join special instructor Harry Walker in the overall instruction of the team.

The new coaches replace Al Heist, Nelson Fox, Gordon Jones, and Jim Busby who had been given their releases earlier.

Richardson said a manager at Oklahoma City and at Dallas-Fort Worth, which replaces Amarillo as Houston's Texas League entry, will be announced later.

Steers Hopes Bouyed By Cats, Says R. S.

R. S. Higgins, who scouted a great combination.

Among other outstanding ball players for the Cougars, according to the Big Spring sleuth, are fullback Richard Richburg, halfback Randy Allen, linebacker Skitch Rouquey, tackle Mike Shelton and guard Mack Eubanks.

Head coach Spike Dykes told the gathering that the Steers were savoring their victory over Abilene High last week but were soberly facing up to their task ahead.

"We consider it an honor and a privilege to play the No. One team in the state," Dykes said, "and we're going to be ready for the test."

Dykes had lavish praise for his team in their effort against Abilene.

Among those he repeatedly praised were Mike Gartman, Chuck Smith, Jerry Ryan, Don Malone, Gary Don Newsom, Greg Lewis, Mike Irons along with R. J. Englert, Ronnie Wrightsill, Bill Burchett, Roy Lee Warren, Snake Turner, Lonnie Clanton, Curtis Barnes, Joey Baker and Steve Russell. Gartman, Smith and Ryan delighted at cutting down the opposition with lead blocks, he said, while the others were tremendous in so many ways.

"We still made a lot of errors," Dykes told his listeners, "but we played together better as a unit than we ever have before."

Biggest turnout of the fall was on game for the discussions and the game films.

Dykes got a big laugh when he recalled he was approached by one of his boys after Abilene had gone ahead in the contest with Big Spring, 14-13. The boy reassured him: "We've got them where we want them now, coach."

Progress reports on other football teams within the local system were made by other coaches.

In addition, basketball mentor Kirby Pugh was called upon to tell what the Steer cagers were doing.

Carolina Record Is Endangered

ROCKINGHAM, N. C. (AP)—The North Carolina Motor Speedway's qualifying record of 116.684 miles per hour was expected to be broken today as qualifying began for Sunday's American 500 stock car race.

The first eight positions were to be determined with several Ford drivers challenging Plymouth's Richard Petty for the favorite's role.

Four Ford drivers broke the qualifying record in practice on Tuesday. Dick Hutcheson had the fastest time—117.4 m.p.h.

Cooper Sent 2,504 Ducats

More than 2,500 people will likely follow the Abilene Cooper Cougars here Friday for the District 2-AAAA football game with Big Spring.

A total of 1,504 adult and 1,000 student ducats were dispatched to Abilene earlier this week for sale.

The local sale of tickets for the contest went on sale at the School Business Office 1 1/2 morning. The pasteboards will remain available there until Friday afternoon and will also be offered at the gate.

If the weather is good, the game will likely attract the biggest home crowd of the season.

Russia Has No Golfers

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Soviet athletes swept event after event in Mexico's Pre-Olympic Games but they won't be any competitors next month during the World Cup golf tournament.

The Russians don't play golf. "NO ONE PLAYS."

"We'd like them to start and get in some of these international tournaments," said Fred Corcoran of New York, tournament director for the International Golf Association (IGA). "But we took a survey and found out they don't even have a golf course."

Corcoran said a course was built in the Soviet Union during the presidency of Dwight Eisenhower in anticipation of a visit by the U.S. president to the Soviet Union.

"We're told that it never was used and has grown up in weeds," said the man who will supervise the World Cup tournament Nov. 9-12 at the Club de Golf Mexico.

"A Russian team would add interest to our tournament and with all those good athletes there they should be able to develop some fine golfers," Corcoran said.

The absence of the Soviet Union, however, distracts not a bit from the tournament which is larger this year than ever before.

The World Cup, formerly called the Canada Cup, pits the two best professional golfers a country has against the best from other nations in a 72-hole battle of international pride and prestige.

Bison End

Pictured here is David Avery, an end on Stanton High School's rejuvenated football team this fall. Bryan Boyd's team goes to Slaton for a major District 4-AA test Friday night.

Tide Seeks Comeback

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP) — Football Coach Paul "Bear" Bryant considers one defeat a losing streak.

Tennessee defeated the Crimson Tide 24-13 Saturday and Alabama, the only team to finish in the top 10 every season since 1958, dropped from among the nation's elite.

"We certainly hope to get back to winning, and snap our losing streak," Bryant said today.

Perhaps he was remembering 1965 when the Tide lost to Georgia, was tied by Tennessee and yet won the national championship with a 39-28 victory over Nebraska in the Orange Bowl.

Florida State tied Alabama to begin this season and the Tide defeated Southern Mississippi, Mississippi and Vanderbilt before running into the determined Vols at Birmingham Saturday.

To snap the "losing streak" Saturday, Alabama will have to defeat Clemson in what Tiger Coach Frank Howard calls "Death Valley," Clemson's home stadium.

"I'm probably the biggest bonehead in America for ever letting ole Frank talk me into playing up there," Bryant said, "but it's too late to change it now."

Despite the rare defeat, Bryant said he plans no major changes in preparation or personnel for the Clemson game.

Tittle Marks Fall In NFL

NEW YORK (AP) — Johnny Unitas of the Baltimore Colts has taken over as top passer in the National Football League's weekly statistics but he would trade it all for victories instead of ties in the last two games.

Unitas has been breaking records each week. The latest was the mark for career completions, previously held by Y.A. Tittle. The 29 completions in Sunday's 20-20 tie with Minnesota led on a combination of a 60.1 completion percentage, 10 touchdowns, 2.9 interception percentage and 8.14 yards average gain.

Norm Snead of Philadelphia, last week's leaders, dropped to third and Sonny Jurgensen of Washington moved into the No. 2 spot.

Leroy Kelly of Cleveland, heading for his second straight 1,000-plus yard season, counting the 111 on 18 carries Sunday against Chicago, Johnny Roland of St. Louis is second with 459 yards, picking up 71 yards on 17 attempts against Philadelphia.

Jim Bakken, St. Louis' place kicker, continues to pull away in the spring department with 70 points on 17 field goals and 19 extra points. His closest competitor is Homer Jones, New York's split end who has scored nine touchdowns or 54 points.

Jones is ninth among the pass receivers, but his 25.4-yard average and eight touchdowns are tops. Charley Taylor of Washington has caught the most passes, 35.

Pat Studstill of Detroit still leads the punters with a 45.4 yard average.

Donny Anderson of Green Bay has the best punt return average, 13.7, and John Love of Washington has the best kickoff return average, 39.8 yards.

Mary Woodson of Pittsburgh still has the most interceptions, five.

Thomas Stocking New Royal 660

The latest in electric typewriters is the Royal Model 660 at Thomas Office Supply, 101 Main. The Royal 660 is a revolutionary new concept, inside and out. It is the result of research and development systems of Litton Industries teamed with the skilled tradition of Royal's reliability engineering.

The Royal 660 is the first typewriter designed for the computer age and comes in decorator's colors of Tahitian beige, Arctic white, Persian green or Tropic blue. The exclusive Royal Magic monitor automatically senses and computes exact type bar impact for crisp legible results, and never allows embossing. This is just one of the revolutionary computer-age features incorporated into the Royal 660.

The advanced styling of the keyboard gives you eight repeat controls that repeat only when you want them to. The Royal "error control" is another feature which gives half-forward spacer for fast corrections. Exclusive on and off action light tells when the machine is in operation and is a safeguard against careless power loss or burned-out motors.

The new Royal 660 electric offers posture-planned comfort and exclusive "finger-flow" keys permit maximum word speed with minimum fatigue. Contour key shape cradles fingers and uniform short dip insures steady rhythm and fewer mistakes.

Another typewriter featured at Thomas Office Supply is the Royal 550 which offers big electric efficiency and saves $125 over other electric machines. Several of the features of the Royal 660 are found in the Royal 550, such as half-forward spacer for corrections, magic monitor which automatically adjusts the type bar for quality performance and a finger-flow keyboard and keys designed for fast action and comfort.

The touch control selector enables the typist to adjust the machine to his individual needs. It increases typing comfort and reduces fatigue which often causes errors. The "twin-pak" permits ribbon changing in a matter of seconds and with no need for the typist to touch the ribbon.

The Royal Ultronic portable has office electric performance in a new personal size for home, professional or office use. It is flexible enough to suit any typing requirements, type fast or at hunt-and-peck speeds. Every important control on the Ultronic is fully electric; carriage return, repeat space bar and keys, tabulator, back space key and pivot shift.

Royal guarantees the Ultronic motor for five years. They will replace any defective part at no charge, other than labor and shipping except rubber parts, ribbons or parts damaged by accident or misuse within five years of purchase. There would be no labor charges within the first 90 days. Whether you are a student, office manager or a professional, the Royal Ultronic would be a good buy at less than $200.

If you do not desire an electric typewriter, the Royal 440 will fill any typing needs. Before placing the Royal 440 on the market, it went through relentless research and testing. Mechanical fingers pounded out 200,000 business letters. Enough to prove that this typewriter provides satisfaction three times longer than normal expectancy.

Royal's years of research and testing have produced the only finger balanced keyboard. Each key has an individual spring, specially adjusted to the strength of the finger that touches it. This results in the lightest, most evenly balanced touch of any manual.

Thomas Office Supply carries a complete line of portable typewriters priced from $49.50 to $125. There is also on hand a large stock of used typewriters. Whatever your need in the typewriter line, Thomas has the machine for you.

The Royal electric adding machine is also stocked at Thomas Office Supply. The compact adder comes in several models and is light enough to be moved from one desk to another by a woman.

HESTER'S SHEET METAL

Trip To Rome Won In Contest

Roy Hester, owner of Hester's Sheet Metal, and his wife, Joy, left Thursday morning for Dallas where they joined other Carrier dealers leaving by plane for a week's stay in Rome, Italy.

The all-expense paid trip is a result of winning a contest sponsored by the Carrier Corporation in which Hester competed with other dealers in Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma.

Hester expressed his appreciation to the residential and commercial users of Carrier air-conditioning in the Big Spring area for they made the trip to Rome possible.

Carrier is the world's largest and oldest manufacturer of air-conditioning, heating, refrigeration, humidifiers and electronic air-cleaning equipment. All these items are sold and serviced by Hester's Sheet Metal, Snyder highway.

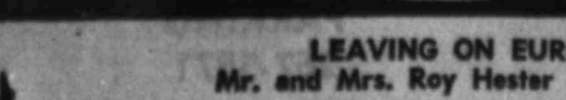

With latest consumer reports showing in the next year home owners will add more central heating and refrigerated air-conditioning than ever before, Carrier is offering a new model of cylindrical condensing unit. This will offer the consumer an opportunity to have Carrier's dependability and quality at an economical price. Also featured in the new units is lower electrical consumption per B.T.U. of cooling.

As Hester's starts its sixth successful year in Big Spring, he wishes to remind home owners that as winter nears it is time to have their present furnace serviced or new one installed. He offers total electrical or gas-fired heating manufactured by Carrier.

A call to 263-3196 will give you help on either residential or commercial heating needs. Hester's will install and service your Carrier unit.

Council Gives First Reading On Annexation

First reading was given for annexation of eight tracts, public hearing was held for two, and city commissioners Tuesday evening turned down a request for annexation of still another tract.

The First Federal Savings and Loan Association asked that the commission annex four lots in the area east of Allendale Road, at Twenty-Fifth Street and Central. The request stipulated that only water and garbage service be furnished.

Commissioners turned down the request, suggesting that the applicant get adjacent landowners to also be considered in some future request. The four lots are not contiguous to the city limits, and commissioners decided annexation of them would create more problems than it would solve.

DON'T WANT IN

Darrell Shortes, who has nine acres on Hearn Street, and Dr. Jim Roberts, who lives at 2508 Allendale, were on hand to protest the first reading of annexation for tracts affecting their property. Both urged that their property be left outside the city.

Shortes told the commission there are no advantages in being annexed, as his property is too low for sewer service, he is already served with city water, and he has the lowest fire insurance rate obtainable for his house.

"We can't make an exception in your case," George Zachariah said, and Jimmy Morehead pointed out he was already getting city benefits and should be included in the city limits.

Shortes also explained that he has horses and cows on his property and asked if he would be allowed to keep them. City Attorney Tom Huckaby said city ordinances prohibit keeping livestock in the city.

Dr. Roberts said he is happy with the way things are, and did not want to be annexed. He said he gets no city services and does not want them.

FIRST READING

Commissioners gave initial reading on the eight annexation ordinances, including those described as: Wasson Corners, Immaculate Heart of Mary Catholic Church, Hearn Street and City Park, tract at Gollard and FM 700, tract at Twenty-fifth and Birdwell Lane, Allendale Road area, city sewer plant and adjacent area, and the south end of Hamilton Field. Public hearing was held for two tracts on FM 700 west, including right of way of FM 700 and the National Guard Armory. There was no one on hand regarding either tract.

Second reading was given a beer consumption permit for the Silver Star Restaurant, requested by Daniel O. K. Mar.

SPRING PROJECT

Marvin Springer, city planner for the Master Plan, was authorized to proceed with the planning for the "big spring" site. Larry Crow, city manager, said the Big Spring Planning Committee discussed the matter with Springer last week, then recommended he be employed by the city to draw plans for the project. Springer said he would like to work with a local architect on the project.

Police Chief Jay Banks said his department gets numerous calls about barking dogs. Huckaby explained that many cities have ordinances against barking dogs, although such laws are difficult to enforce. Commissioners decided it is a city wide and serious problem, and instructed the attorney to draw such an ordinance for consideration at a future meeting.

MEMORIAL RESOLUTION

Commissioners also asked Crow to check into the enforcement of the city's drive-in ordinance, particularly as it refers to keeping adequate trash cans and preventing litter.

A resolution was adopted ex-

Cracks Delay JFK Plaza

DALLAS (AP) — County architect Clarence Overbeck disclosed Tuesday that faults discovered in earth and rocks below the surface will delay further the construction of Kennedy Memorial Plaza and an underground parking garage.

Consulting geologists, using cameras borrowed from the U.S. Engineers, photographed inside a dozen core hole borings. Overbeck said the pictures showed subterranean cracks in all 12 shafts.

The downtown area is near the spot where an assassin killed President Kennedy in 1963. Costs of the project at the latest estimate totaled $2.54 million.

Overbeck said final plans due to be finished early next month, probably will not be completed until late December or early January.

A retaining wall and rock bolts will be used to overcome the faults, the architect said.

Dallas County plans to build a 475-car parking garage beneath the memorial plaza. Officials have said the work will require about 14 months after contracts are awarded.

Fabulous Crown Designed For Iran Shah's Empress

By DAVID LANCASHIRE
Associated Press Writer

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — The crown that the Shah of Iran will place on Empress Farah's head at his coronation Thursday was the biggest job ever undertaken by the famous Parisian jewelers Van Cleef and Arpels, Pierre Arpels said today.

"It is the first crown we have ever made," the jeweler said in an interview.

The Shah's crown was made in Tehran for his father in 1921 by a Russian refugee.

Shahbanou (Empress) Farah, the 29-year-old brunette beauty who was an obscure architecture student in Paris until she became the Shah's third wife eight years ago, will be the first woman ever to be crowned in a coronation ceremony in the 2,500-year history of the Persian monarchy.

The four-pound gold and platinum frame of her crown holds a 150 carat emerald, 499 diamonds, 36 rubies, 37 more emeralds and 105 pearls.

"It has been on my mind for more than a year," Arpels said. "Eighteen jewelers worked on it for four and a half months in Paris and eight more took another month and a half to finish it here."

"Fifty designs were submitted and 30 of them came from us. We had to do designs without dreaming what jewels we would see in Iran—and I have never seen jewels like these before."

Gems for the crown were taken from Iran's crown jewels, which support the country's currency and are considered to be one of the richest collections in the world. They are kept in the basement vault of a Tehran bank.

"No stones could be taken from the vault of the bank," Arpels continued, "so once our design was accepted, I spent 10 days in the vault, much of the time thinking."

"We did 12 charts for each operation for making the crown,—like building a car. A crown isn't something you just make—it is very special."

"Since our workshop was about 4,000 miles away in Paris and we could not take the stones with us, I made plaster casts of every stone so we would have exact sizes and shapes. The pearls were ancient and already had holes but every hole was a different size and we had to know each one exactly.

"We could not afford to have the crown rattling like jingle bells."
