MARCHING DOWN MAIN
Steer Band leads off Friday parade

Hundreds Of Graduates Return For Homecoming

Saturday reunions drew hundreds of former Big Spring High School graduates, marking it as the largest homecoming in history and the first one in 10 years. The three-day get-together began with Friday afternoon's parade, featuring everything but horses, and in the excitement of approaching festivities even they weren't missed. Following the color guard was the 208-member Steer band, marching for the first time in new uniforms which had arrived only two days earlier. Behind them were queen candidates, floats, cars loaded with exes, motorcycles and the victors, and in the excitement of approaching festivities even they weren't missed. Following the parade, featuring everything but horses, and in the excitement of approaching festivities even they weren't missed. ## Halves' Future Called Secure WASHINGTON (AP) — The Treasury Department says that while Kennedy half dollars are still scarce and the production of them has slowed down, the coin's future is secure. Miss Eva Adams, director of the mint, said Friday the mint was producing 24 million half dollars a month earlier this year but the output dwindled to 15 million monthly in October. One reason for the lower rate of production, she said, is that the shortage of halves has eased from last year's critical stage and they now circulate more freely. Treasury officials said the mint will reach its goal of producing 295 million halves this year. Another 100 million are to be minted in the first six months of 1968. Officials said that while production of the coin will continue, there's always the chance the Joint Commission on Coinage will recommend that Congress authorize removal of silver from it. The half dollar is the only U.S. coin now being made which contains silver.

Eleven Minor Wrecks Listed On Police Blotter

Minor traffic accidents dotted the police activity sheet Friday and Saturday, as 11 mishaps occurred in less than 24 hours. Friday, Fifth and North Aylford was scene of a collision between Sylvia Armon, 605 Manor, and Frank Weaver, 812 Ohio. Arvil Henry, 1423 E. 6th, and Dewey Martin, 800 E. 6th, were in collision at Second and Main. A car driven by Rita Kay Langley, 2700 Crestline, and the parked car of Sgt. Randall L. Smith, 1401 E. 15th, were involved in a traffic mishap in the 1200 block of Benton. A car driven by Guadalupe N. Barraza, 2405 W. 16th, and another which left the scene were reported in collision at US 87 and IS 20 Friday night. Early Saturday morning William Calvin Sherman, 701 Wyoming, and Barry Keith Ham, Leuders, were involved in an accident at the North 66 cafe parking lot. Minutes later Sherman and the parked car of Leonard Ray Evans, 810 NW 3rd, were in collision at the same parking lot. ## Robot Cameraman Snaps Earth's Pix

SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex. (AP) — A brilliant crescent earth gleamed Saturday in the farthest actual photos ever taken of our planet, sharp color shots snapped Thursday by a robot cameraman during the Saturn 3 superrocket's triumphant flight. The pictures released by the Space Agency show Antarctica and the southern tips of South America and South Africa, with a big low pressure system boiling up a storm in the chilly South Atlantic. Antarctica is covered by a brilliant white cloud mass, and the ocean is a deep royal blue color, punctuated by bright flashes of reflected sunlight. A computer aboard the Apollo 4 spaceship told the 17 millimeter Maurer camera, like that used by Gemini astronauts, when to start shooting. The camera peered through the window the command pilot would use on a manned Apollo flight, but, being a robot, spent much of its film shooting blank pictures of dark, deep space before the craft tilted and brought earth into view for her portrait. The farthest picture was taken about 90 seconds before the spacecraft reached the 11,234-mile high point of its flight, soaring over the east coast of South Africa. Three hours later, spacecraft and camera were dunked into a rainy Pacific after a skipping return through earth's atmosphere. The film was rushed to the Manned Spacecraft Center at Houston for processing.

Weather Forecast
Rain is forecast Sunday for the Pacific northwest, with snow flurries inland. Showers are due in the western Lakes region and southern Florida. Flurries also are expected in the northern Lakes region. It will be colder on the west and east coasts, and mild in the southeast.

Mild Cool Front Shoves Across State

By The Associated Press
A mild cool front shoved across Texas Saturday, touching off some showers and pushing pea-soupy fog in its vanguard. Rains were lighter Saturday than in the previous two days of fairly general showers. Galveston got 1.60 inches from the northern fringe of a big thunderstorm that roamed the Gulf of Mexico. Lufkin had .99 inches in the 24 hours ending at 6 p.m. Saturday. Tyler .48, Palacios .35, Houston .42 and measurable amounts at Victoria, College Station, Beaumont and Cotulla. Fog in the early hours reduced visibility to zero at many points in the state. Daytime maximum temperatures ranged from 85 degrees at Presidio down to 66 at Midland. Rain and fog continued to plague the southeastern portion of Texas during the day, however, with scattered showers and patches of heavy fog being reported from Laredo eastward to the upper coastal areas. "Ceiling Zero" was the report from scores of Texas cities early Saturday as the heavy fog engulfed much of the state. Traffic was slowed to a crawl as motorists, with lights on, could see only a short distance ahead. Behind the front skies were mostly bright although some points had high clouds. Temperatures at midday ranged from a chilly 53 degrees at Abilene, where fog still clung to the ground, to a warm 80 degrees at Brownsville. In contrast the heavy downpours earlier in the week, rains during the 24 hours ending at 7 a.m. Saturday were widespread in the south and southeast portions but were mostly less than half an inch. Lufkin's .99 inches was the heaviest report.

Baylor Choir To Sing Here

The Baylor University a cappella choir, fresh from a successful concert in Carnegie Hall, New York City, will present a sacred concert at First Baptist Church next Sunday at 11 a.m. The program, composed of music ranging from 15th and 16th centuries through the Classical and Romantic period up to 20th century composers, features a double choir number, "An Apostrophe to the Heavenly Host," by Healey Willian; "Glorification," from "Celestial Spring," by F. M. Christiansen and "Thanksgiving," a number using soprano and a rito to solos, a narrator and chorus. Of great interest to West Texans is the number "I Am Music," by Macon Sumerlin, a native of West Texas and professor of music at McMurry College in Abilene.

Midland Case May Change Many Local Governments

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court focuses its attention this week on an oil-rich county in West Texas with the very structure of the nation's local governments hanging in the balance.

There's plenty of sky but not many people outside the City of Midland. The 1960 census lists 66,225 people lived in the city and only 1,492 elsewhere in Midland County.

And yet, the city elects only one of the four voting commissioners on the county governing body, called the Commissioners' Court. For this reason, Midland—and its mayor, Hank Avery—may make history.

In June, 1964, the Supreme Court ignited a revolution in state government. Seats in both houses of a two-house legislature, it held, must be apportioned substantially on a population basis.

What about grass-root government, the city and county councils, school districts and township boards that derive their powers from state legislatures?

Must they be based, too, on one-man, one-vote?

The court pondered the questions last term in cases from Alabama, Michigan, New York and Virginia. It never gave a definitive answer. About all it did was to seemingly exempt from the one-man, one-vote doctrine local bodies that exercise administrative rather than legislative functions.

The suit began in December, 1962, by Avery, one-time independent oil operator and architect, may bring the constitutional answer. If he wins—and the Justice Department is on his side—many local governments will have to change radically.

"Discrimination," said the Justice Department in a brief, "is neither greater nor lesser, whether malapportionment exists at the state or at the local level."

And, the department said, "so long as the Midland County Commissioners Court performs important governmental functions which significantly affect the city residents—and has a general taxing authority over them—the equal population principle applies and requires that districting for seats on that body be based on population."

Much of the argument before the Supreme Court this week could turn on that point: The kind of powers the Commissioners Court really has.

The Avery camp says the commissioners perform both legislative and administrative functions; they can levy taxes, own and operate hospitals and airports and adopt budgets for all county expenditures.

The Commissioners Court's argument will be that its legislative functions are negligible, that it essentially is a judicial and administrative body.

Besides, this argument goes, the important county affairs administered by the court—such as construction of roads and bridges—are of concern mostly to the rural residents.

Would it be fair, then, to base representation purely, or even primarily, on population?

Even the Justice Department concedes that in Midland County's rural areas the result could be harsh, that the people who live in those areas could be deprived "of any effective voice."

Shirley Takes On Demos In Friday Debate

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (AP) — Shirley Temple Black, poised for the special election next Tuesday that will decide if she'll be a congresswoman, squared off in debate against four male Democratic opponents Friday night.

Mrs. Black, wearing a two-piece red suit in her debut debate, faced a generally young audience of 900 persons who applauded louder for dove-like Edward Keating, one of the Democratic opponents.

The former child actress, whose position is more hawkish, is campaigning against a host of Democratic and Republican candidates for the California congressional seat left vacant by the death of J. Arthur Younger.

Mrs. Black said that 70-75 percent of the targets in North Vietnam have not yet been bombed and asked: "How can you say 'stop the bombing' when you can make a case that it hasn't started?"

Later, though, she told the audience in the partially-filled high school auditorium: "I am not for escalation of the war. I am not for more bombing."

Keating, former publisher of Ramparts Magazine, won loud applause when he said he and Mrs. Black "live in two different worlds."

Mrs. Black, who sought the confrontation with Democratic rivals, has said she didn't want to debate fellow Republicans in the interest of party harmony.

Gluey Blobs Suggested For 'Soft Weapon' Use

WASHINGTON (AP) — Development of an arsenal of non-lethal supplementary weapons—including a device to fire gluey blobs to cause rioters to literally stick together—has been recommended to police forces by a government study.

The report was prepared by the Institute for Defense Analyses for the President's Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Justice.

It suggests a central research agency be set up to develop "soft" weapons which, it said, might include: Dyes and markers to aid in identification, a foam generator to block streets and spray crowds, itching powder to clear an area during a sit-in demonstration, a net which could be dropped over a crowd from a helicopter, a super water pistol to hold back a mob and plastic confetti which, when spread on the ground, would make walking difficult.

It also urges research into explosively or mechanically spread sticky strings, globules or pellets to slow crowd movement by "linking people together or to themselves."

The report said research is needed to develop these and similar weapons which "minimize the likelihood of death or permanent injury and which are not likely to be grossly damaging, permanently crippling, or leave unsightly marks, scars, or frightful memories."

THE WEEK

Diseases Are On Increase

Communicable diseases are on the increase, according to the weekly report of the Howard County Health Unit. This week's report shows 15 diseases with a total of 390 cases while last week there were 274 cases of 13 diseases.

This week upper respiratory infections lead the list for the second week with 83 cases and last week's total was 65. Gastroenteritis is second on the list with 80 cases, an increase of over 47 cases last week. There was an increase of nine cases of tonsillitis bringing the week's total to 72.

There were 31 cases of flu and 28 cases of virus. Virus showed a decrease as last week there were 33 cases. Bronchitis cases reached 22. Diarrhea cases increased from 23 cases to 25 and pneumonia from 11 to 26. There were seven cases of impetigo and six of strep throat. Pertussis and G. C. each had three cases. There were two cases of ringworm and one each of pink eye and syphilis.

Officially, we haven't had a killing frost, but last weekend had enough bite to nip tops of tender plants although the temperature didn't show to be freezing. Most everyone had predicted an early frost. Now we're past the average date.

The United Fund has pushed past the $90,000 mark, but that still leaves us more than 25 percent from the goal. There are hundreds upon hundreds of individuals and businesses which have not yet had a part in this essential gathering of funds to sustain vital community agencies. Please don't delay; turn in your part or your card to the UF headquarters. This is your community.

Our town paused Saturday morning to observe Veterans Day in brief ceremonies at the VA Hospital. Many frustrations and disillusionments have dulled much of the sparkle of innocent hope when this was first Armistice Day, but that doesn't lessen the debt of gratitude that the nation owes men and women who offer their time, their energies, their dedication, and sometimes their lives in the armed services.

The election to decide on whether to authorize the creation of a Howard County Airport Authority and $750,000 in bonds to insure port developments, will be held Dec. 16. The Howard County commissioner's court decided in acting on petitions. Several groups have come out in support of the plan, and one raised a voice of dissent.

Howard County had a mild Wolfcamp discovery in Monsanto No. 1 Whitmire in the southeast part of the county. After acidizing and testing, the venture was to set a pumping unit. Monsanto staked a southeast offset as No. 2-A Hutto, which location also is a southwest offset to the Hutto field discovery. In Sterling County, Apache No. 1 McEntire will be a 9,000-foot wildcat northwest of Sterling City.

Those Big Spring High School band members have looked good all year, but in their new uniforms Friday they were great. To almost double the membership in a year's time means that probably two-thirds were marching for their first season, yet the band won first division rating. At the homecoming parade and game, the band was downright impressive.

The Big Spring Steers put on a show to match the band's, first shocking the Odesa Bronchos, then sinking behind only to solve some riddles and get a recharge at half-time. Roy Lee Warren and Lonnie Clanton turned in great and exciting runs, but they had some tremendous blocking. Team defense saved and set up the game, and the offense finally nailed down the victory. The team deserves good backing in the last game Friday in San Angelo.

The past week was an exacting one for many long-time residents, among them Gene Crenshaw, Murph Thorp, Mrs. Charles Dublin, and a former old-timer brought back here for final rest — Mrs. Mary Delbridge. The ranks grow thinner and thinner.

Big Springers are abounding on Baptist boards. The Rev. R. F. Polk was named to the executive board of the Baptist General Convention; Roy Reeder to the Hendrick's Memorial Hospital board; Lester Morton to the Hardin-Simmons board. Already on the Wayland College board is Dr. P. W. Malone and on the H-SU board R. W. Whipkey.

That St. Lawrence festival gets bigger and better. Last weekend an estimated 4,000 visitors swarmed the southwest Glasscock community, which forced emergency runs to town to replenish food supplies, and which almost exhausted two tons of sausage made for the occasion.

Cong Releases Prisoners, Believed Brainwashed

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — The Viet Cong "symbolically" turned over three captured U.S. sergeants to an American antiwar activist today, and a U.S. document said the men had been through Communist brainwashing programs. They gave an apparently memorized statement of thanks to the Viet Cong and to Tom Hayden, who said he represented a peace committee led by Dr. Martin Luther King, folk singer Joan Baez and Dr. Benjamin Spock.

But Hayden said after the ceremonies that the prisoners were not in his custody. He said they were taken away in a car, but he would not say where.

Asked if the men were free, Hayden said: "I believe so."

"They are in the process of going home," he said. He added he would see them later in the day.

The U.S. document concerning brainwashing was released by American officials in Saigon. In it, Donald Rochlen, a psychological warfare adviser to the South Vietnamese government, told of an interview with a Red defector who said he personally took part in the indoctrination of two of the prisoners.

Release of the document followed the elaborately staged "release ceremony" at which the Viet Cong said they hoped the sergeants would "contribute usefully" to the antiwar movement.

At a news conference reminiscent of similar situations in the Korean war, two of three prisoners recited brief statements, apparently committed to memory, thanking Hayden and their captors. Then, blinking under television lights, they sat virtually motionless through 40 minutes of propaganda oratory.

The two were Sgt. Daniel Lee Pitzer of Spring Lake, N.C., and Sgt. James E. Jackson Jr. of Talcott, W. Va. The third American, Sgt. Edward R. Johnson of Seaside, Calif., was said by the Viet Cong to be in the next room, too sick with dysentery to appear. But no outsiders saw him.

The prisoners were brought to Phnom Penh today, Cambodia has previously served as intermediary in the transfer of U.S. prisoners from North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong.

Racketeer Convicted Of Bankruptcy Fraud

NEW YORK (AP) — Racketeer John "Johnny Dio" Dioguardi, the one-time protégé of the old Murder, Inc. leaders, stands convicted with two codefendants of bankruptcy fraud in milking a meat firm of $35,000.

A U.S. District Court jury of eight men and four women returned the verdict Friday against Dio, 53, his cousin, Thomas Plumeri, 36, and David Perlman, 54, a butcher. Dio's stepson, Dominick, 25, was acquitted on all counts.

Judge Walter R. Mansfield ordered Dio's bail increased from $15,000 to $50,000 after Asst. U.S. Atty. Otto G. Obermaier asked that Dio be remanded into immediate custody.

Three Suits Ready To Try

Three civil suits were announced ready when Judge Ralph Caton called the docket for this week in 118th District Court Friday afternoon.

The first case to be called for trial is D. C. Buchanan vs. Billy Ray White, damages. No. 2 case on the list is styled Texcrete Co. of Odessa vs. Jones Construction Co., debt. The third case announced ready was A. K. Turner Jr. vs. Charles R. Jones, note.

A jury panel is to report to the court at 10 a.m. Monday for duty in the trial of these cases.

All of the other matters on the lengthy docket were either passed by agreement or announced as settled out of court.

Arrested For Threatening LBJ

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Charles Blackmon, 24, a pupil at Wichita State University, was arrested early Saturday at his home and appeared before a U.S. commissioner on a charge of threatening the life of the President.

Blackmon has claimed to be a national representative for Students for Democratic Society, a group refused permission to appear in a Veterans' Day parade here.

Two Secret Service agents and three Wichita detectives made the Blackmon arrest.

Bond was set at $25,000 and he was removed to jail.

Wichita was on President Johnson's schedule Saturday at mid-day on a cross-country tour of service bases.

Engineers Plan Symposium

A one and a half day production technology symposium will be held Thursday and Friday at the KoKo Palace in Lubbock. Technical topics range from fracturing and waterflooding to scale deposition and lease consolidation.

Some 15 papers prepared for and presented at the Society of Petroleum Engineers fall meeting in Houston will be used. Sponsoring is the South Plains section of the SPE, along with the Texas Tech student chapter of SPE.

BSHS Grad To Conduct Research In A Tunnel

COLLEGE STATION—Equipment for a Texas A&M University graduate student's dissertation research includes a mountain, 17,581-foot Mt. Blanc on the French-Italian border.

He will situate electronic equipment in the seven-mile long Mt. Blanc tunnel to measure high energy particles that come from the upper reaches of the earth's atmosphere.

Actually, Gene Cantrell, 35, who is the son of Mrs. Viba Cormas, 1020 Bluebonnet, Big Spring, will be one of three Texans and a number of Frenchmen involved in the Mt. Blanc Tunnel underground experiment. Dr. Nelson M. Duller, associate professor in A&M's Physics Department, and Dr. William R. Sheldon of the Southwest Center for Advanced Studies in Dallas, will oversee electronics installation and operation for the experiment.

The group of scientists will study the earth penetrating power of muons, one of several classes of particles born in the upper tenth of the atmosphere from cosmic radiation. Muons lead a brief life due to effects of its speed, which is near that of light.

Data will be compared with measurements taken at sea level in Texas in the study under an Air Force Office of Scientific Research grant.

In the Mt. Blanc tunnel, integral spectra will be taken on the number of muons penetrating the mountain's granite flank, as a function of the particles' direction and energy, according to Cantrell.

"A&M and SCAS are designing and constructing electronic components to be mounted in a French Army truck," the physics instructor added. "The vehicle will be parked in garages within the tunnel, to make measurements on muons passing through as much as 3,000 feet of rock."

"We are doing final design on electronics for the geiger counter hodoscope, which will take the data," Cantrell explained. "The equipment will fit on a shelf seven feet long, three feet high and one foot deep in the truck."

The doctoral student from Big Spring said scientists from the University of Toulouse and other French institutions will provide the truck, geiger tubes and other mechanical parts. They will conduct the experiment and furnish muon counts over a period of four to six months. Sheldon, Duller and Cantrell will accompany the electronic gear to Chamonix, France, set it up in the truck and see that it works. Target date for assembly is early next spring.

Cantrell, who is a 1949 graduate of Big Spring High School, received his bachelor and masters degrees in physics at A&M in 1955 and 1965. He designed and supervised construction of the mechanical parts of the Big Spring spectrometer telescope being built at A&M. It is the prototype to a 12-ton model that will be installed on Mt. Chacaltaya near La Paz, Bolivia.

ROMANTIC PORTRAIT COIFFURE—BACK

ROMANTIC PORTRAIT COIFFURE—FRONT

AMERICAN PORTRAIT COIFFURE

Headed For Holidays

You new hair style for the coming winter holiday season will give you all of the sentimental beauty of a living portrait, according to the Official Hair Fashion Committee of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association. And, fittingly, the new collection of styles is called the Living Portrait Coiffures. They were unveiled at the National Hair Fashion Show in New York.

Highly romantic in feeling, the new styles are essentially pretty. They are charming and easy for day, and spiritedly romantic or dreamy for evening.

From the front, the shape of the Living Portrait Coiffures gives the illusion of a slender oval with the greatest width located above the eyes. This gives the new styles more shape, added flare and a higher fit than did styles seen during the fall season.

As in fall styles, the curves dominate one section of the head, while curls play in another. However, the curls have moved up to the front in many of the styles.

Bangs were shown in most of the new coiffures, wide full bangs sweeping down in soft curves or tumbling forward in a cascade of seemingly deranged ding-dong curls. All bangs just miss the eyebrows, provoking a peek-a-boo air of mystery to the eyes.

For highly dramatic effects, particularly gala affairs, false curls can be used to your heart's content. Strikingly effective is an explosion of lavish ribbon curls in combination with tiny mini-braids, both in brightly contrasting colors.

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE
That was a peppy parade to start the homecoming activities, and didn't the band look handsome in the new uniforms? They are by far the best looking our band has ever had, and the members this year deserve them... they waited long enough.

MAJ. and MRS. ANDRE ARCAD are back home and have selected Big Spring for their permanent hometown. The major retired Nov. 1 after 20 years of service and was awarded the Air Force commendation medal for meritorious performance during his assignment at the Pentagon.

There are three Arcand children: Cecilia is a freshman at HJC, Teresa is a Gollia d eighth grader, and Thomas is a senior at Eastern Carolina University in Greenville, S. C. The Arcands plan to operate a television and radio repair shop and will be with her parents, the TOM ROSSONS, until they find a house. Mrs. Arcand is the former PAT ROSSON.

FRED CORCORAN who left Big Spring in 1918 and now lives in Sacramento, Calif., is here for a visit with his brother, STEVE CORCORAN, and Mrs. Corcoran who live on the Gail Route. He plans to leave Monday. He has visited at Fort Bliss and also has been in Kansas City prior to his visit here.

We got filled in on the whereabouts of the WAYNE (RED) SMITH family while Mrs. Smith waited for Red to attend the meeting here Wednesday of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Industrial Conference. They live in Borger where he is with the Chamber of Commerce, she is back at nursing, Hughie is a sophomore pre-pharmacy major at Frank Phillips JC, Nancy is living in Lubbock with her husband and son, and Cathy is married and has a son and they live in Iowa Park.

In Austin for the weekend and the Texas-Baylor game were MR. and MRS. THURMAN GENTRY who are guests of the son and daughter-in-law, MR. and MRS. TOM JORDAN GENTRY. Also there is DAVID PICKLE who is visiting his brother, Gary.

MR. and MRS. LUTHER KELLY and Sarah saw the Andy Williams - Henry Mancini concert in Lubbock and visited their son, Warren, who is a junior at Tech... The DONALD LOVELADYS also were in Lubbock for the entertainment.

The D. D. DYERS have recently returned from Washington, D. C., where they visited their daughter and her family, SMS and MRS. JAMES SWINEA and Susan. The Swineas have lived in Washington for four years, having been stationed there when they returned from the Azores. Mrs. Dyer had a telephone visit with CHAPLAIN and MRS. WILLIAM BARKER who were stationed at Webb AFB several years ago. They asked to be remembered to many Big Spring people who they said they remembered as the kindest and friendliest of the many places they have been stationed.

The L. S. BONNERS have received the good news that their son-in-law, BERNARD M. SAVAGE, has been promoted to the rank of lieutenant colonel. The Savages are stationed at Beale AFB, Calif. She is the former ADELE BONNER.

Here for homecoming at BSHS is MRS. JONATHAN LANCASTER who lives in Kermit.

Africa Sets Theme For YWA Affair

STANTON (SC) - Elaborate decorations carried out the theme, "Africa Calls," for the African supper held Wednesday for the Young Woman's Auxiliary of the First Baptist Church. The focal point was a life-sized replica of an African woman with cooking pot, and tables were arranged before a backdrop of green paper streamers displaying African shields and masks. The head table was centered with a standing cutout of Africa on a base designed as a river bank. The "river" ran the length of the tables and was accented with crocodile favors.

African placemats and napkins were used, and at each place was a drum-shaped quiz folder and program shaped as luggage. The food and program were listed in a manner to depict Africa. Cindy Davis, president, served as "chieftain" to lead the program which was the conclusion of the foreign mission study book, "So Sure of Tomorrow," presented by Mrs. Irvin Myrick. Hostesses were members of the Mary Stamps Circle and provided the supper.

Ropes Of Beads A Fashion Must

Ropes of beads give limitless looks. Take a rope - tie, loop, pin or swing it. Double it, triple it, mix it with a pendant. Every vested suit, big for fall, needs at least one rope of beads, fashion authorities insist. For her wedding, the bride chose a white wool street-length dress designed in an A-line with long sleeves and a cowl neckline. She wore black accessories. Mr. and Mrs. John Collett of Laredo served as the couple's only attendants. Mrs. Collett wore a blue suit with matching accessories. The couple took a wedding trip to Monterrey, Mexico, and will be at home in Laredo. The bride is a graduate of Big Spring Senior High School and attended North Texas State University, Denton, and the University of Texas, Austin. The bridegroom is a graduate of NTSU.

Wendell G. Browns Honored With Coffee

Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Gene Brown, who arrived here last week from Europe, were honored with a coffee Friday from 5 to 8 p.m. in the home of his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Brown, 112 Lincoln.

The Wendell Browns were married in England in July and have been touring the continent for the past three months. They plan to reside in Dallas or Houston, and he will be associated with the furniture business.

Guests were relatives and close friends who were introduced to the bride. She was attired in a white sleeveless, A-line wool dress and was presented a corsage of yellow carnations. Receiving guests with her were the hostess, who wore a sleeveless red wool dress, and the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Mary E. Brown, who chose an off-white wool dress and yellow corsage. Refreshments were served from a table covered with a white linen cloth and centered with an arrangement of white, yellow and bronze chrysanthemums. Thirty-five attended.

MRS. CHESTER D. MATHENY

Office Orchid

Mrs. Chester D. Matheny, assistant office manager at Cosden Oil and Chemical Company, had no idea her association with the company would last so long when she first accepted an offer of a job on May 26, 1948. When she was interviewed on that date she was asked to go to work as a billing clerk within a few hours, and her responsibilities have increased greatly since that time.

As assistant to L. T. King, Mrs. Matheny supervises the service department (supplies, reproduction, mail room, etc.) interviews job applicants and gives necessary tests to applicants. She has held this position since Oct. 15, 1966.

The daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Harvey L. Rix, who operated a furniture store here for 40 years, she graduated from Big Spring High School in 1934. Her first job was with Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Eubanks where she remained for ten years before resigning to help her mother and operate the office of the furniture company when her brother, the late Lewis B. Rix, went into service.

Later, she worked for six months as secretary at Big Spring Bombardier School, then was busy "being a housewife" until she joined Cosden.

Mrs. Matheny was widowed almost eight years ago and now resides at 407 Pennsylvania. She is a member of the First Methodist Church.

Long a booster of Big Spring and the oil business, she is a charter member and former treasurer of the Desk and Derrick Club and has attended seven of its national conventions. She will serve as treasurer again in the coming year. Also, Mrs. Matheny is a member of the advisory board of the Vocational Office Education program. She has no particular hobbies but is an avid football fan.

Guest Speaker Views Varied Texas Culture

The Rev. John Wagoner, assistant pastor of the First Methodist Church, brought the program, "The Varied Cultural Strength of Texas," at the Thursday meeting of the Boydstun School Parent-Teacher Association.

Students displayed art work depicting historical events in Texas and showed portraits of outstanding Texas leaders. A replica of an old Army Fort in Texas was displayed. All grades participated in the display.

Cub Scouts of Den Three, Pack Four, presented the program, followed by a talk by Dr. Paul Koshi, pack leader. Reports were heard from Mrs. Roy Watkins concerning the fall workshop held at Highland School in Roscoe.

Membership drive winners were Mrs. Ray Cantrell, first; Mrs. Lena Davis, second; and Mrs. Thel Watts, third. Mrs. Floyd Hall's room won first prize in the savings stamp sale with sales totaling $88.85.

The project committee was named and include Mrs. Nelson Ball, chairman; Mrs. Watts, Mrs. Jack Lee and Horace Smith. Members were reminded of the dedication ceremonies at Big Spring Senior High School at 2 p.m. this afternoon.

Mrs. Watt's class won the room count. Twenty-seven attended.

Casually Yours

By JO BRIGHT

Well, guess this is one time Big Spring would be a nice place to be from since all the exes are being winned and dined in style so many places. "Mingling" unobtrusively is right down my alley—and I'm willing to play the game—so maybe I can borrow a booster button and no one will be the wiser. If you've seen my attic, you know there's a pair of saddle oxfords up there somewhere!

A few of the boys are going to miss the distress of being told their hair is thinner and their waistline is thicker. They left town. Dr. Clyde Thomas and R. H. Weaver are piloting the planes and joining them for the exodus were Frog Koger, Don Womack, Dr. Robert Johnson and Jerry Grimes—maybe others—and they will spend the weekend pheasant hunting in Nebraska. Some of the same crew were down by Houston recently to hunt geese—and by the time they return this time, their Thanksgiving goose may be cooked!

Another local boy is celebrating a homecoming by introducing his wife to the family. Wendell Gene Brown and his pretty British bride said their hovyds at a coffee hosted Friday by Mr. and Mrs. Roger Brown. The couple has been touring the continent for several months and plan to make their new home in Houston or Dallas.

Either city would be exciting—almost as much as Cape Kennedy where another ex-Big Springer, J. C. Prevo, a mechanical engineer, helped nudge Saturn Four off the launch pad. He's a brother to Mrs. Paul Bruns who was down to visit him in the summer.

Don and Carmela Van Meter may be the only couple in town that recently went to Las Vegas to rest. Sure, just lolled by the pool and made the effort at golf, but not a single show or bit of nightlife. Guess they are ready for the local holiday season, though, more so than you and I. I've been flush and fever-blistery, so had to mss the reception that Mr. and Mrs. K. H. McGibbon and Mrs. Ann Gibson Houser gave for Dr. Charles Webb and Wally Hornbrook following their piano concert Thursday evening. Heard the gentlemen were just as charming in person as they were in performance.

Growing pains of John Hodges and Jerry Worthing were eased a little with the nice birthday dinner hosted by their wives Thursday evening. One of the well-wishers was Mrs. J. Y. Robb who also celebrated a birthday recently, and unless I pulled it out of thin air, wasn't Mrs. Hodges' birthday the 31st?

The old gang is beginning to gather for coffee out at Tobys, Ltd., again so I'll be expecting Roy Peet to buy me a cup of coffee the first Saturday morning we get there at the same time. He and Q. T. Coats of Estab's Flowers were in Amarillo couple of weeks ago where they were guest designers at the meeting of the West Texas and New Mexico Florist Association.

Deadline. Call me?

Alpha Chi's Make Doll Clothing

The Alpha Chi Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha met Thursday evening for the program, "Santa's Helpers," conducted by Mrs. C. W. Utley and Mrs. Walter Maynard. Mrs. Frank Perry, 1207 E. 18th, was hostess, and the evening was spent cutting and sewing dolls clothes which will be sent to the children's home in Pyote.

Mrs. D. M. Moore was named chapter beauty.

It was announced that tickets are now available for the formal Christmas dance Dec. 16 at Cosden Country Club.

A cookware party is slated Nov. 16 in the Pioneer Gas Flame Room, and the next regular meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Moore, 211 Circle, where the program will be "Our Golden Link to Christmas Fun."

HD Clubs Hear Programs On Interior Decoration, Nutrition

Home Demonstration clubs throughout the county convened during the week for study programs on color and interior decoration, and for nutritional studies on economic food planning. Members made plans to assist with the Herford sale, and dress dolls for the Salvation Army.

AIRPORT CLUB
Mrs. Delaine Crawford, county HD agent, spoke on "Color in the Home," at the Tuesday meeting of the Airport HD Club in the home of Mrs. Raymond Key, 1109 E. 6th.

Mrs. Crawford cited several rules to remember in home decorating. She said to use something dark, something light, something soft and something bright. She pointed out that dull colors make furnishings or accessories recede, and bright colors cause items to advance. She stressed that light colors can make a room or area look larger while dark colors diminish the room size.

Plans were completed to assist with the Herford sale on Dec. 2, and a Thanksgiving dinner was announced for Nov. 21 in the home of Mrs. Omer Decker, 1402 Harding.

COLLEGE PARK CLUB
Mrs. Crawford brought the program on color at the Tuesday meeting of the College Park HD Club in the First Federal Community Room.

Mrs. Ralph Grantham served as hostess, and roll call was answered with one of the Ten Commandments. Plans were made for a Christmas party at Mary's Nursing Home, and Mrs. Bud Hart and Mrs. Bruce Hatfield will visit the home on behalf of the club before the next meeting.

The Home Demonstration Club Council Christmas party will be held at 2 p.m., Dec. 11. Members will assist with the Herford sale on Dec. 2, and will make dolls clothes for the Salvation Army during the next month.

Refreshments were served from a lace covered table centered with yellow and purple chrysanthemums. The next meeting will be in the HD agent's office, with Mrs. James Shelton and Mrs. Frank Caldwell serving as hostesses.

Fourteen members and five guests attended. Guests were Mrs. Frank Caldwell, Mrs. Roy Weaver, Mrs. Alton Marwitz, Mrs. Melvin Newton and Mrs. Crawford.

LUTHER CLUB
Mrs. Ed Simpson hosted the Thursday meeting of the Luther HD Club in her home. Mrs. John Couch brought the devotion, and Mrs. Crawford discussed the use of color in the home. Mrs. Louis Underwood received the travel prize and will dress dolls for the Salvation Army. The next meeting will be Nov. 30 in the home of Mrs. Webb Nix.

FAIRVIEW CLUB
Mrs. Frank Wilson presided, and 10 members attended the Fairview Home Demonstration Club meeting Tuesday in the home of Mrs. H. S. Hanson. The program, "Eat Well for Less," was given by Mrs. Hanson and Mrs. Shirley Fryer. They prepared a low cost, nutritional meal recommended by the Texas A&M University Extension Service. The menu included weiners in crust, three-bean salad, corn and tomato chowder and gelatin.

The next meeting will be at 10:30 a.m., Nov. 21, in the home of Mrs. Fryer where a covered dish luncheon will be served.

CITY CLUB
Mrs. Grady McCrary, 1611 E. 17th, was hostess to the City HD Club Friday afternoon, and the 11 attending answered roll call with their plans for Thanksgiving.

Mrs. Bob Reagan was a guest, and Mrs. Merle Hodnett directed games with the prize being won by Mrs. McCrary.

Mrs. W. N. Norred presided as plans were made to assist with the Herford sale Dec. 2, and the Christmas party was slated Dec. 8. The club will help with games at the Bennett House on Nov. 29.

Mrs. M. E. Anderson, food leader, presented ideas on how to eat well for less and distributed recipes. The second half of the program was given by Mrs. Crawford who showed slides on color and interior decorating. She suggested that a person should choose colors they like and not follow fads or vogues in decorating. The three different types of color schemes from which one may choose are monochromatic, related and contrasting.

The special prize went to Mrs. Anderson.

REV. AND MRS. FORREST ROBINSON, KEVIN, KERRY AND KELLY

Texas Looking Good To Native Kentuckians

By RHODA LEMONS
It was mid-August when native Kentuckians, the Rev. and Mrs. Forrest Robinson and their three sons moved to 610 State to make their home and take over pastoral duties at the Highland Church of God.

They had lived in Madisonville, Ky., seven years and had known substantial growth in the church membership, as well as completing a modern place of worship.

According to Rev. Robinson, he had everything a pastor could want except "challenge," and he feels that this is the place for him and his family at the present time.

The Highland Church is small membership with 150 enrolled in Sunday School. The church has only been in existence five years, and is well established considering its longevity. Rev. Robinson feels that churches have distinct personalities, maturity levels and growth patterns. Highly hopeful of his ministry here, he wants to enter into phases of community work when time permits.

Rev. and Mrs. Robinson have been married 11 years. The ceremony took place in Houston while he was attending the Gulf Coast Bible College. They have three sons, Kerry, 9, and Kevin, 7, both students at Boydston Elementary School; and one small son, Kelly, 22 months.

Other colleges Rev. Robinson attended were Paducah Junior College in Paducah, Ky., and Butler University in Indianapolis, Ind. He has six weeks evangelical leave each year, and is presently booked until 1970.

membership in the YMCA, and all are interested in sports. Mrs. Robinson swims and participates in the exercise program offered at the Y. She enjoys cooking, especially baking, and almost always has something available when her boys come home from school.

The Robinsons are very sports-minded. Rev. Robinson is a former athlete, both in high school and college. Their son, Kerry, plays football for the Boydston school, and his father is assistant coach of the team. Mrs. Robinson is co-chairman and room mother at the school.

Although, their lives in the past have been deeply rooted in the South, the Robinsons are eagerly anticipating the challenges and the traditions of a new adventure in West Texas.

Neutral Tile Is Housewife's Pick

When decorating their homes, many women feel that if a color is neutral, they will find it easier to live with. This is true with long-life purchases such as resilient tile floors.

Reports indicate beige and off-white are by far the best-selling colors in asphalt and vinyl asbestos tile.

Because a resilient tile floor is a fairly permanent installation, many homeowners wisely choose one in a neutral tone, when the floor acts—as it usually should— as a background to highlight other furnishings.

But the rest of the room needn't be as neutral as the floor. Furnishings such as side chairs, toss pillows on sofas, pictures on walls and curtains may be chosen from the lively palette of colors available today.

A restful floor color allows more freedom with other furnishings, and can be more easily tied in with the room's total decorating scheme.

By coordinating colors you can focus attention on particular parts of the room. With a beige floor, upholstery colors could be in orange and yellow tones with accents of bright green. Such a room would present a very inviting appearance.

First Mass Of Kind Held Here

The Rev. Francis Beasley of Immaculate Heart of Mary Catholic Church celebrated the first "Neighborhood Mass" in this area Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Philip Mitchell and Mrs. W. C. Gray, 601 Scott Drive.

The event was held to emphasize the relevance of common worship in the midst of contemporary life.

The group gathered at a table which had been converted into an altar to offer sacrifice, sing hymns and share the eucharistic banquet in commemoration of the masses which early Christians celebrated in their homes. Twenty-five attended.

The next such mass will be held at 6 p.m., Nov. 17, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Maestas, 4102 Bilger.

Volunteers Report Fire Calls Have Been Quite Rare

Rural fires have been extremely rare for the past two months or so.

The county's three volunteer fire departments, put in operation when the city-county fire fighting contract was terminated, have had to make only three runs through Friday.

None has been serious and all have been kept from causing any important loss.

Meantime, the truck for the Luther - Gay Hill department is on the lot at the County Barn ready for action. It has been put in good shape and will be turned over to the volunteers to be based at the Gay Hill School.

Knott volunteer department is well established and has its truck stowed in a space built in the old gym building.

Sand Springs is still waiting to start building its fire station and is housing the truck assigned to the community in temporary quarters. The county commissioners agreed to spend up to $6,500 on the building to house the truck, after the citizens had secured a lot and agreed to do the construction of the second hand trucks.

The fourth truck was in the worst repair of any of the lot and the mechanics have "borrowed" parts from it to put the other three in good shape. The county is negotiating for another.

Women Claim They Got One

TOKYO (AP) — A broadcast dispatch from Hanoi said women of North Vietnam's militia shot down a U.S. jet plane with their rifles Saturday.

The official Vietnam News Agency reported the plane was felled over Thanh Hoa Province, about 80 miles south of Hanoi.

There was no confirmation from American authorities.

OFF THE BEATEN TRAIL

Trips By Canoe Or Raft Down Big Bend Canyons

By ED SYERS

Few quick vacations or long weekends offer more renewal, this time of year, than running one of Big Bend's mighty canyons (safest, by raft-float). If you're experienced with canoes, however, Sierra Clubber E. O. Kindschy of Pasadena may be your man.

Kindschy will lead Texas Sierrans, Nov. 23-26, through Rio Grande's Mariscal Canyon, in the remote southern tip of Big Bend: two days of canoeing, one in canyon camp.

"We meet at Panther headquarters at Panther Junction, 3 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 23," advises the trip leader. "We'll camp at our cars that night. We spend Friday night in the canyon and are back to the cars Saturday night."

GREAT GORGES

"Mariscal is one of the three spectacular gorges in Big Bend, the walls in places towering 1,500 feet above the river. There are no major rapids inside, but several spots where an unwary or inept canoeist could be spilled. "The trip is not recommended for persons without experience handling canoes, and your equipment and experience must be approved before you will be permitted to join. Please check well in advance for approval and complete details." (E. O. Kindschy, 1008 Eva Ave., Pasadena 77501.)

(Note: Statewide Sierra trips are frequent and varied for members. This one allows members' guests. If you qualify and make the run, OBT's hunch is that you'll want to team up with these outdoor-wise, friendly folks. For a raft run (your own, or Park Concession operated, write Big Bend National Park directly; permission-reservation must be cleared in advance.)

BARBED WIRE

Corsicana's Mrs. L. R. strings our recent inquiry of barbed wire in Texas: "It was patented in Illinois (J. F. Glidden, 1874); but was really proven in Texas.

My grandfather said his father, a storekeeper, believed he saw the first real demonstration in San Antonio, about 1876.

"A young salesman, John W. ('Bet-a-Million') Gates, who later became a great financier, built a barbed wire enclosure on open ground in the city. He challenged cattlemen that his frail-looking fence would hold a herd. The cattlemen laughed at him and ran in some steers to flatten his fence; but one touch of the barb kept them away and the fence held. Afterwards, the salesman was busy filling orders. There may have been some Texas wire sold before this, but... I have always understood the San Antonio demonstration was what achieved its wide acceptance."

(Note: Not quite an overnight thing was barbed wire's acceptance: the '80s saw the violent fence-cutting wars over free, fenced or farmed range, brought on severe fence-cutting laws.)

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

The Background of Integrity

There are millions of men in this world whose word is trusted—whose handshake is a binding contract—whose integrity others accept without question.

We've come a long way from the days when a strong man and a stout club were the social graces.

And this growth in man's capacity for integrity has paralleled his growth in religious expression.

Of course, the cynics will point to men and nations who still live by the code of the cave man. Must we believe that the clock of progress has turned . . . is running backward?

The sound, the sensible, the sincere still feel the strength of God's Bible in every handshake. With their children they are finding new spiritual opportunity and hope in the churches they cherish.

Are you with them? Are you, too, pushing forward the frontiers of faith?

Crippled Children's Clinic Scheduled At Rehab Center

The Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center in cooperation with the Howard County Easter Seal Society, will conduct its third Crippled Children's Clinic Saturday, Nov. 18, beginning at 9 a.m. Parents of children may pre-register by calling the center, 267-6387, or may register the day of the clinic until noon.

The clinic will be under the supervision of the Center's medical advisory committee composed of Dr. B. Broadrick, Dr. M. W. Talbot Jr., Dr. Neil W. Sanders, Dr. Louise Worthy and Dr. Lowell Suckow.

Dr. Thurston Dean, orthopedic surgeon from Midland, will be medical director. Local pediatricians will alternate to supply pediatric services.

All children and youth up to 21 years of age are eligible to attend. This will include children from the surrounding area as well as from Big Spring and Howard County. According to Jim Thompson, center director, it is hoped that children from Lamesa, Colorado City, Snyder, Lorraine, Stanton, Sterling City, Garden City, and other cities as well, will benefit from this clinic. No charge will be made.

Parents of crippled children who wish to have their children seen in this clinic should contact their family physician for a referral, or contact the center, or register the day of the clinic.

The purpose of the clinic is to offer a diagnostic and evaluation service to crippled children through the team approach. The team will consist of an orthopedic surgeon, pediatrician, physical therapist, speech therapist, public health nurse and a brace man. The clinic will help to determine what kind of treatment is best for the child. The child might need one or a combination of the following types of treatment: physical therapy, speech therapy, surgery, braces, corrective shoes, drugs, or a home exercise program.

Children who have not been treated, might be located and treated through the clinic. It is essential that children who are eligible for the state's crippled children program be seen by a physician who is a member of the Board of Physicians approved by the Texas Crippled Children's division before they can be placed under this program. The clinic will offer such a physician in Dr. Dean.

There were 23 crippled children seen at the first clinic and 26 at the second one.

Dear Abby

—ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Blot Out That Tattoo

DEAR ABBY: Do I have the right to insist that my boy friend remove the tattoo from over his heart? It says Sharon. Before we started going together, he went with this girl named Sharon. I never knew her, but I am very jealous of her.

My boy friend says you can never remove a tattoo once it's on, but I have heard that you can. I suppose he could cover it with a piece of adhesive tape, or maybe go back for some more tattooing and change the Sharon to some kind of a scene or design.

Anyway, I can't see marrying a guy with Sharon on his chest. He says it doesn't bother him. Well, it bothers me. Am I wrong to feel this way, and isn't there some way to get it off?

DEAR MILLIE: Assuming your boy friend doesn't still have Sharon under his skin, he could easily get her off his chest. Tell him that a skin specialist can remove the tattoo. And he won't have to hold still for any further needling.

DEAR ABBY: The other evening while I was preparing supper, my husband's unmarried sister dropped in, as she often does. She asked me to call her mother and tell her a lie as to why she wasn't going to be home for supper that night. I told her if her mother found out that I lied to her she wouldn't think much of me as a person, and I just didn't want to do it.

She replied, "Well, she doesn't think much of you anyway. She is always talking about the way you dress, and the way you do your hair and your make-up — how overdone it is."

Abby, I was crushed. I always try to look my best and people are always complimenting me on how fashionable I look. I never thought I overdid it. I have been just heartsick about it. Should I discuss it with my husband? Should I take it up with my mother-in-law, or what?

DEAR HURT: You don't say how old your sister-in-law is, but if she's more than 19 she's a nitwit. Don't discuss it with your husband. And don't take it up with your mother-in-law. Maybe she said it and maybe she didn't. Avoid your sister-in-law. Either she's too unreliable to be believed, or she's a first class troublemaker.
