Opening Performance Tonight Of Annual Rodeo

Big Springers put on their Western garb today as the 35th annual Big Spring Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo opens tonight in the Rodeo Bowl.

At the 3 p.m. registration deadline Tuesday, a total of 156 cowboys and cowgirls had signed up to participate in the five major events — calf roping, bulldogging, bareback riding, bull riding, saddle bronc riding and girls' barrel racing. In charge of registration at the Settles Hotel is Mrs. Mildred Farris.

HOSPITALITY

were Guy Weeks, Abilene, a former world's champion saddle bronc rider; Olin Young, Peralta, N.M., one of the top calf ropers for several years, who ranks 13th in championship standings this year; Glen Franklin, House, N.M., the current world's champion calf roper, who is in the lead for the position again this year; Jim Bob Altizer, Del Rio, who ranks third in championship standings for the calf roping competition; and Jaames Bynum, Waxahatchie, a former steer wrestling world's champion.

Of local interest will be the performance in the calf roping division of Skipper Driver, young rancher who was critically burned in a welding mishap at his ranch last year. Driver has made various rodeo circuits for a number of years.

Breakdown of entries in each division includes barrel racing, 34; calf roping, 58; steer wrestling, 20; bareback riding, 20; bull riding, 21; and saddle bronc riding, nine.

SCARCE
According to Mrs. Farris, the saddle bronc cowboys, who make the rodeo circuit, have had hard luck in the past few years and their number is dwindling. Both rodeo judges—Dennis Reiners of Clara City, Minn., and Bob Walker, of Carlsbad, N.M. — are confined to the sidelines indefinitely. Both are top saddle bronc riders — Reiners currently ranks fourth in championship standings but has a cast on his leg now, and Walker has a few broken ribs suffered from one particular tumble.

The judges were drawing positions and stock numbers today. Tommy Steiner, Austin, rodeo producer, was expected to arrive later this afternoon, and Tom Hadley, Kerrville, rodeo announcer, was in town Tuesday.

Grand entry is at 8 p.m. daily. The Rodeo Bowl is located just off US 80 west, south of the intersection of Air Base Road and old US 80.

The parade this afternoon was expected to kick off at 4 p.m. with a number of floats and 17 sheriff's posses from neighboring communities in competition for prizes. Host posse was the Big Spring Sheriff's Posse, and among the list was the San Angelo Posse which was due to perform a special drill at the opening performance.

DANCE
At Tuesday's street dance, nearly 50 square dancers from Midland, Colorado City and Big Spring provided entertainment, with a local band. "The Majors and One Minor," leading off the festivities. Callers were Curtis Thompson, Roger Fleckenstein and James Moore.

Hundreds of Big Springers are expected to be at City Park and at the Fair Grounds building late this afternoon to dine on the barbecue which members of the Kiwanis Club have been cooking all day at the barbecue pit.

In addition to the barbecue, the diners will have big helpings of pinto beans, slices of onion, pickles, bread and the other traditional staples of a West Texas barbecue.

Tickets have been on sale for two weeks by all Kiwanians and can also be bought at the City Park Old Settlers pavilion, or at the rodeo arena.

Price of the tickets is $1.25 and serving begins in the park and at the arena at 5 p.m.

These annual rodeo barbecues are served by the club on the first day of each year's rodeo week.

MEALS
The Kiwanians have a contract with the Big Spring Cowboy Reunion association to provide meals for the association's special guests on opening night. At the same time, the club offers the same meal to the public.

Any profit derived from the dinners goes to the Kiwanis fund for work with boys and girls of the community.

FOR RAY Attorney Will Not Fight Extradition

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The attorney who tentatively has agreed to defend James Earl Ray says he does not plan to fight extradition which would return the accused assassin of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. to this country from England.

Arthur J. Hanes, a former FBI agent and former mayor of Birmingham, Ala., made the comment here late Tuesday as he boarded an airplane for Washington, D.C., to check on passport arrangements for his upcoming trip to England.

He was accompanied by his son, 26-year-old Arthur J. Hanes Jr., who also is an attorney.

In an interview with Radio Station WSB, the elder Hanes was asked specifically if he intended to fight U.S. demands that Ray be returned to this country for trial in the King slaying.

"I'm not going over there for that purpose," Hanes said. "I do not expect to engage in those legal maneuverings."

Hanes said he had no personal knowledge of the prisoner.

Injured In Fire

CHESANING, Mich. (AP) — Two persons were hospitalized following a fire which destroyed an 80-year-old hotel today in this community of 2,700, located 20 miles south of Saginaw.

As many as six persons were originally reported missing by a Saginaw County sheriff's deputy as firemen fought the blaze, which broke out around 5 a.m. and was brought under control about two hours later.

When the owner of the hotel, Henry A. Moldenhauer, arrived at the scene at about 7:30 a.m., authorities began tracking down the 18 residents of the building and determined that all had escaped.

Two persons were admitted to Owosso General Hospital, both for treatment of injured ankles and one for a burned foot. Two others were treated and released.

Moldenhauer estimated that the fire did $160,000 damage. Cause was not immediately known.

Ike's Heart Flutters

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army doctors reported today that former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has newly experienced "occasional irregularities" of the heart beat in his fight against his latest heart attack but these are "responding to appropriate therapy."

It was the first change of any kind recorded in the progressively optimistic medical bulletins that have been issued at Walter Reed Army Hospital since Eisenhower, 77, experienced a major heart attack Saturday night.

However, the wording of today's bulletin appeared to indicate that the newly noted condition was responding satisfactorily to treatments.

The medical bulletin, issued shortly after 10:30 a.m. EDT, further defined the irregularities of the heartbeat as "extra systoles," or premature contractions, of the heart in its beating action.

Draft Call Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon announced today an August draft call of 18,300 men for the Army, a slight increase over the July quota.

The August call will support "currently approved force levels and will assure a timely flow of replacements for men completing their terms of service," the announcement said.

The new quota compared with the 15,000-man call in July, the lowest since May, 1967.

Scuffle With Demonstrators

Police grapple with Mexican-American demonstrators near the White House yesterday. This most violent incident of the five-week Poor People's Campaign came as campaign members prepared for today's "solidarity day" mass rally.

Police Ready As Marchers Gather

WASHINGTON (AP) — The first of what planners hope will be thousands of Americans, black and white, gathered on the grounds of the Washington Monument today to demonstrate their support for the Poor People's Campaign and its demand that the government do more to abolish poverty.

The sun was shining and the temperature was in the 70s at the start of the demonstration centered around the tall, marble monument and the Lincoln Memorial, a half mile away.

But the U.S. Weather Bureau predicted rain, which has plagued the campaign since its start six weeks ago, might fall before the day ends.

As the relaxed crowd milled about on the monument grounds some persons held signs saying "All Rights For All People" and "I Have A Dream: One America," a quote from the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.'s speech at the massive civil rights demonstration on these same grounds in 1963.

Mrs. King, widow of the slain civil rights leader who conceived the campaign, said Tuesday her husband thought of it as "America's last chance to solve our problems nonviolently."

Despite promises from campaign leader the Rev. Ralph David Abernathy that there would be no civil disobedience and marchers would conduct themselves in "the finest nonviolent tradition," law enforcement officials took no chances.

About 4,300 police and National Guardsmen were on hand, most of them deployed along the half-mile line of march from the monument past Resurrection City to the Lincoln Memorial.

About 5,000 police and Army troops were used in 1963 when 200,000 marchers demonstrating for racial desegregation and equal opportunity walked the same route and nearly filled the space between the two monuments.

Washington Public Safety Director Patrick V. Murphy said some Army units also will be on "high alert" close to the capitol, even though there is "no reason to expect" anything other than a peaceful march.

"I don't think it's necessary," said Abernathy of the security precautions.

MARCH

Demonstrators were scheduled to gather until noon, then leave the broad lawns around the Washington Monument along three lines of, march—down Independence Avenue, or through West Capitol Park on either side of the Lincoln Memorial's reflecting pool.

Following the march the demonstrators were to hear speeches by United Auto Workers President Walter Reuther, the Senate's only Negro member, Edward R. Brooke of Massachusetts, civil rights leaders Roy Wilkins and Whitney Young and Patrick Cardinal O'Boyle of Washington.

Planned originally as a day in which sympathizers from across the nation could show Congress they supported legislation to satisfy campaign demands, the march comes at a time when leaders admit their efforts are not as extensive as they would like.

Several times early in the campaign, when the march was still set for Memorial Day, leaders talked in terms of a crowd as large as the one in 1963.

The Rev. Bernard Lafayette, coordinator for the entire campaign, even mentioned one million persons at a news conference, but said later he had exaggerated.

Estimatesthen began falling as problem beset both the campaign and the march until march director Sterling Tucker would say only "more than 25,000."

He revised that estimate upward to 40,000 in the past few days, after a late announcement that 22 big city mayors had endorsed the campaign's goals.

Tucker said more than 1,000 volunteer parade marshals—mostly off-duty police and firemen from New York City—will be on hand to prevent incidents such as took place Tuesday at the gates of the White House.

Four adults and five juveniles were arrested after a brief, club-swinging melee when, police said, they had refused an order to keep walking on the sidewalk.

Not Much Progress In Peace Talks

PARIS (AP) — North Vietnam accused the United States today of a lack of good faith in the Paris peace talks. Striking back the U.S. delegation accused North Vietnam of a grotesque distortion of American aims in the conflict.

North Vietnamese Ambassador Xuan Thuy told U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman that the United States has been escalating its fight in spite of President Johnson's statement that he was de-escalating. He claimed the number of air strikes on territory of the North had gone up from 2,500 in March to 4,700 in May.

CHANGES
Harriman called Thuy's speech "quite a strong attack" and indicated it had forced him to change his own statement in the meeting today—the ninth since May 13. Answering Thuy, he denounced "indiscriminate attacks and shelling of Saigon" by the enemy.

Harriman declared the United States wants to make peace on the basis of the Geneva accords of 1954. He sketched a five-point program which he said the United States favors.

The essence of the 14-year-old agreement which the United States advocated today, Harriman told Thuy, is "military disengagement, restoration of the status of the demilitarized zone, the renunciation of the use of force, international supervision, and elections free from coercion or outside interference."

Harriman had said on going into the meeting that he planned to talk about the Geneva accords, which ended French rule in Vietnam and left the north-south division. But he turned his speech in part to a counterattack after Thuy, who spoke first, had blasted the United States.

After Thuy declared air strikes has increased in total over his country, though the target area is limited, he accused the United States of increasing strength in Saigon and bombing residential areas.

"These facts," he told Harriman, "show that not only has the United States not shown good faith in bringing these official conversations in Paris to results, but it has even created obstacles preventing the conversations from making progress."

Harriman said Thuy had "consistently misconstrued the words and deeds of the United States." He said he particularly found it hard to believe North Vietnam really thinks that the United States wants to hold on to South Vietnam as a colony and military base.

"If it does," he declared, "it is a grotesque distortion of American objectives and a formidable obstacle to progress here. The United States does not seek permanent military

Allowable For July Higher

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Railroad Commission reversed the sliding trend of statewide oil allowables today, hiking the market demand factor for July to 46.4 per cent of potential.

The July allowable will permit maximum production of 3,482,982 barrels a day, compared to 3,407,077 under June's factor of 45.2 per cent.

Four of 14 major buyers of Texas crude oil wanted more oil next month than in June, five asked for the same amount and five sought less than this month bers. Thursday, the leadership plans to lay out Gov. John Connally's tax bill, and a full day of amendments and arguments is expected.

Probably the Connally bill (HB2) will serve chiefly as a vehicle for the House to kick

Appropriations Bill Headed For Conference

AUSTIN (AP) — Senators set the stage today for a House-Senate conference committee to start work on a compromise $2.5 billion general appropriations bill.

In rapid order, the Senate took up the House version of the spending bill, substituted its own and unanimously passed it on a quick voice vote.

The House is expected to reject the substitution and call for a 10-man conference committee to adjust the differences. The Senate quit for the day, leaving appointment of conferees until Thursday.

House members, exhausted from two grueling days of debate on mixed drinks and state spending, planned to debate bills designed to cut down on tavern shootings and drunk driving.

Ready for action are San Antonio Rep. Frank Lombardino's bill making it a felony to carry a gun or long knife into a tavern and Austin Rep. Don Cavness' implied consent alcohol test bill.

Lombardino's bill would provide prison sentences up to five years for violation of its ban on guns and knives in drinking places.

The Cavness bill states that a motorist gives his implied consent by the act of driving on a public road, to a blood or breath test if he is accused of driving while intoxicated. Refusal would mean suspension of his driver's license. If his blood were found to contain one-tenth per cent alcohol by weight, that would be prima facie evidence he was under the influence of liquor.

Today's calendar came as a respite for weary House mem-around a variety of money-raising ideas. Some possibilities are a college tuition increase, an across the board sales tax hike, taxation of tickets to professional athletic events and a natural gas production tax boost.

Texas Teenager Discovers Comet

BISHOP, Tex. (AP) — A 16-year-old Bishop high school junior who "didn't have anything else to do this summer" set out to find a new comet.

He found one.

Mark Whitaker is the youngest person credited with discovering a new comet.

HOME-MADE
The Whitaker-Thomas comet, spotted by Mark with a home-assembled 4-inch telescope June 14, is named for him and Norman G. Thomas, a professional astronomer at Lowell Observatory in Flagstaff, Ariz., who confirmed Mark's observations.

Thomas spotted a mysterious light, which turned out to be the comet, June 17 on a photographic plate made to trace the asteroid Icarus.

"I didn't really expect to find one," Whitaker said Tuesday. "But I didn't have anything else to do. I had all summer to find a comet and I found one."

He found it on the third night of his watch. "I didn't know if it was a new or a periodic comet so after observing it two days I decided to send a report. Most astronomy books I have always mentioned the Harvard Observatory. I tried by telephone and they referred me to the Smithsonian."

The Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory and the Harvard Observatory are located in Cambridge, Mass. The Smithsonian keeps track of new celestial sightings.

Whitaker said any time it's clear is a good time to spot comets. "I stay up till the moon rises. When the moon gets up it throws too much light and spoils searching for any dim object like a comet."

Whitaker plans to study astronomy after he graduates from high school. Now, he is building an eight-inch telescope.

NO TAIL
The comet he found apparently has no tail and is too faint to be seen with the naked eye. But with telescopes it can easily be spotted low on the southern horizon in Southern sections of the United States.

Mark is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Troy Whitaker. Bishop is a town of about 4,000 a few miles inland from the Gulf Coast and east of Corpus Christi.

Rally At Monument

Supporters of the Poor People's Campaign gathered today on the Washington Monument grounds at the start of the Solidarity Day.

Seeks Pueblo Release

Mrs. Lloyd Bucher, wife of the commander of the captured U.S. intelligence ship Pueblo, is disappointed in efforts of government to obtain its release. She's been contacting families of crew members in effort to encourage them during long wait.

Pueblo Skipper's Wife Critical Of Efforts

SAN DIEGO (AP) — "Remember the Pueblo!" That's the battle cry of Mrs. Rose Bucher, wife of the skipper of the captured U.S. intelligence vessel which has been in Communist North Korean hands for nearly six months.

Mrs. Bucher believes that her husband, Cmdr. Lloyd Bucher, and the 81 other American crewmen will be freed but she vigorously protests the slow pace of diplomatic effort to win their release.

"The Navy really doesn't have anything to do about it. The State Department is responsible. If our military leaders had been in control, we'd have the ship back."

Mrs. Bucher, who has two teenage sons, is critical of the Defense Department for refusing to give her a list of crewmen's families. But she has managed to contact about three-fourths of the families.

"I feel an obligation as the commanding officer's wife to give words of encouragement. We give each other encouragement. It's our son, our husband or our loved one."

The Department of Defense said it was a matter of policy and would be invading people's privacy. "I'm sure some don't want their name and address released. But others say it's okay. I guess they thought I was a rabble-rouser who would descend on Washington. Have we become so inhuman that people's feelings and human lives mean nothing?"

What About Her Driver's License?

DALLAS (AP) — A 20-year-old Dallas woman received a phone call from City Hall recently. "Congratulations," a secretary said. "You've been certified as a result of the exam you took as a Civil Service court clerk."

"What?" the woman exclaimed. "I thought I was taking a driver's license exam." She added, "I thought they were asking a lot of personal questions."

Unsettled Weather Scatters Alerts

By The Associated Press Threatening conditions caused the Weather Bureau to put 20 counties in the upper Panhandle under a tornado watch much of the evening. It expired without word of storm damage.

Appearance of a funnel cloud eight miles north of Waco prompted a brief tornado warning for seven Central Texas wards in the Panhandle-Plains counties as thunderstorms raged through the area, across the forming a north-south line 80 miles long.

A bit earlier the Weather Bureau reported the sighting of a waterspout—a seagull tornado—in the Gulf of Mexico northeast of Corpus Christi.

Thunderstorms bounded across the north part of the Texas Panhandle also, with as much as 40 inch of rain falling at Dalhart, and thunderstorms were widespread from near the Midland Texas Coast into Louisiana.

Alerts in South Texas measured 103 inches of rain and the mercury didn't climb above 78 degrees. Top marks at other points ranged up to 98 at El Paso and 103 at Presidio in far West Texas.

Congress OK Asked On Texas Construction

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army Engineers asked Congress Tuesday to authorize for future construction four flood control projects, and improvements to navigation in Texas.

The projects were among 40 presented to a House Public Works subcommittee considering an omnibus authorization bill that would include all types of water projects.

The subcommittee also was told that other authorizations will be needed in the near future of 15 river basin projects.

In dealing with a river basin, Congress authorizes individual projects but then places a ceiling on the over-all authorization. This action requires that the engineers return periodically for additional authorization.

Visitor Services Receive Few HemisFair Complaints

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — The man who heads HemisFair's Visitor Services Inc. (VSI), an organization charged with aiding world's fair visitors and holding the line on prices, said Tuesday his office has received only 199 complaints so far.

Lt. Gen. (ret) Robert W. Colglazier said twelve of the complaints involved persons who thought they were overcharged at restaurants, 150 came from occupants of motels, hotels and other housing organizations in the VSI organization.

There have been frequent rumors in Texas cities, Colglazier said, that there is not a room available in San Antonio. Such, he said, is not the case.

"We have never been in a position where we couldn't offer people accommodations at reasonable rates," Colglazier said.

Through Tuesday, HemisFair VSI claims access to 6,709 apartments convenient to the downtown area. Many more are available, VSI says, outside San Antonio. Some private homes, trailer facilities and the like are included in the VSI network.

Colglazier says more than 3,000 persons had been lodged in private homes, at varying rates, for the fair to date. He said persons staying in private homes did so at their own request, however, since hotel and motel accommodations have not yet been booked solid for any period to date.

VSI had made reservations for 230,800 persons as of June 13, Colglazier said.

One Prisoner Still At Large

JACKSONVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Police sought today the last of six prisoners who escaped Tuesday from county jails in Lufkin and Jacksonville.

Still at large is William Davis Durrett, 20, of Jacksonville. He and James W. Johnson, 21, of Palestine slipped through some unfinished air-conditioning ducts Tuesday from the Jacksonville jail. Johnson was captured a few hours later in Palestine.

After a 12-hour hunt Tuesday, Angelina County officers captured four men who escaped from the jail at Lufkin after overpowering a deputy.

Taken into custody in a thickly wooded area were Garland Ray Brimer, 22, of Center; Emmett Ray Ashworth, 24, of Lufkin; Laverne Johnson, 22, of Lufkin; and Fritz M. Farr, 29, of Lufkin. All except Farr were in Lufkin on bench warrants from the Texas Prison System.

Gun Ban Bill Winning Favor

WASHINGTON (AP) — With the Judiciary subcommittee opposition melting under public pressure, a bill to ban the mail order sale of rifles and shotguns has been sent to the Senate by the committee, for years a graveyard of such legislation. The committee, meeting today on the bill, rejected it originally 10-6 just a few hours before the April 4 sniper-slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

But, against a backdrop of the Sen. Robert F. Kennedy assassination and a mounting public opinion, a clear majority now favors the bill and its chances are rated excellent—not only to reach the floor, but perhaps for quick passage, too.

Barnes Calls Cars Weapons

AUSTIN (AP) — Eventually drivers must answer the question of how safe we really want to be on the highway, says Speaker Ben Barnes.

Neither the legislature, nor the governor, nor the police, nor even the federal bureau can answer it, Barnes told the Texas Good Roads Association Tuesday.

"We have had examples lately of tragic deaths from assassins' bullets. Much has been made of these pointless murders, and rightly so," he said. "At the same time, hundreds of Americans were dying tragically and pointlessly on the highways and streets. Not so much was made of those because we have come to expect them," he said.

"A pistol in the hands of a madman is a fearsome thing. But as a dealer of wholesale death, it can't compare with a high-speed automobile in the hands of an average citizen," he said.

U. S. Gov. Preston Smith also addressed the organization, saying that Texas can solve future highway problems using "the most modern methods and the freshest ideas available to us." Those who use the highways should pay for them, Smith said, but there is no need for new taxes. Careful use of present taxes will handle it, he said.

Elects President

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—The International Consumer Credit Association Monday elected as its new president Glen W. Carter, credit manager of Texas Electric Service Co. of Fort Worth.

The Judiciary subcommittee opposition melting under public pressure, a bill to ban the mail order sale of rifles and shotguns has been sent to the Senate by the committee, for years a graveyard of such legislation. The committee, meeting today on the bill, rejected it originally 10-6 just a few hours before the April 4 sniper-slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Under committee rules, however, a single member could request that action be put off for a week. Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., a foe of the bill, told a reporter he hadn't decided whether to invoke the rule but wanted to be sure the measure receives thorough consideration.

The subcommittee's vote revealed switches in position by Sens. Roman L. Hruska, R-Nebr., Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., and Birch Bayh, D-Ind. Dirksen also shifted on the bill submitted to Congress by President Johnson after the Kennedy shooting June 5.

"If there is a demand for it, why should I resist it," Dirksen asked when questioned at a news conference about his change of position.

Most surprising was Hruska's statement that he would support the administration bill, although he said he hoped to win approval of some amendments. During debate on the crime control bill recently passed by Congress, Hruska led the fight against an amendment by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., to prohibit sales of shotguns and rifles by mail order and to persons under 18.

The amendment was defeated, 53-29, but since the assassination of Robert Kennedy members of Congress have been flooded with demands for stronger gun controls.

Ironically, Kennedy's assassin used a pistol and the crime bill provides for a ban on mail order sales of handguns and prohibits their over-the-counter sales to nonresidents of a state and to persons under 21 years of age.

The senator's brother, President John F. Kennedy, was assassinated in 1963 with a mail order rifle, but efforts then to prohibit mail order sales of long guns were beaten back.

Hruska, in a statement on his change of position, said that "in the past week public opinion has crystallized. It is reasonable for Congress to review its work in the light of changing circumstances."

The juvenile delinquency subcommittee agreed to hold hearings, beginning next Wednesday, on bills to require registration of all firearms and licenses for their purchase or possession.

TRINITY RIVER JOB

Lawmakers Call For End Of Delay

WASHINGTON (AP) — Texas lawmakers called Tuesday for an end to delay on the Trinity River navigation project after results of a restudy projected a higher economic yield from the project than nine years before.

"This is a very significant step forward for the Trinity project," said Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex.

Rep. Jim Wright, Fort Worth Democrat and one of the original sponsors, said he thought the Corps of Engineers restudy "should settle once and for all the question of whether the Trinity canal is economically feasible. It definitely and unquestionably is feasible and will yield even greater benefits than we had expected."

The study by the Southwestern Division Corps of Engineers now must be reviewed by the headquarters, the Department of the Army and the Bureau of the Budget.

The last cost-benefit statistics in 1958 showed that for every dollar invested, the barge canal would return $1.40 in benefits. The restudy showed that ratio had risen to $1.50 for every dollar invested.

Congress approved construction in 1965 of the overall Trinity River development, including the barge canal which would allow navigation from the Gulf of Mexico to Dallas and Fort Worth. Congress went along with a Budget Bureau recommendation, however, that the economic feasibility be restudied before any funds were allotted for navigation features of the project.

The restudy was projected to take six months but took three years.

"I'm extremely pleased," Dallas Rep. Earle Cabell said of Tuesday's news that the economic feasibility of the canal had improved.

"I'm unhappy there has been so much foot-dragging and so many efforts to kill it. But it's a tribute to the project that the feasibility study showed a 15 to 1 ratio. There is absolutely no reason for further delay."

An aide to Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., said the senator hoped there would be no more studies or other varieties of delays and that he was encouraged by the feasibility report.

Similar expressions came from Reps. Graham Purcell, Wichita Falls, and John Dowdy, Athens, both Democrats.

Yarborough said he is asking the Corps of Engineers to "take the vital final steps as quickly as possible and to give its stamp of approval as it has before to this worthwhile navigation proposal."

"Similarly, I hope the secretary of the Army and the Bureau of the Budget will expedite it. The Trinity project has been a dream too long. It's time it became a reality," said Yarborough.

The senators and congressman expressed doubt that recent House Appropriations Committee action eliminating $1 million to help build bridges across the proposed canal would be remedied this session.

The House was to consider the appropriations bill Wednesday in the Senate, the budget-cutting of public works projects also has been severe. Final action on the navigation restudy might not come in time to affect any Senate maneuvering to restore the $1 million to the final bill, sources said.

Wright acknowledged the time lag expected when he said he hoped the necessary agencies "will complete their reviews in time for an appropriation request to be included by the President in next year's budget."

The Trinity River is 548 miles long but a barge canal would take a considerably shorter route without meandering locks. The barge canal would be 150 feet wide and 12 feet deep, equal to the measurements of the Gulf Intracoastal Waterway to facilitate exchange of traffic between the two facilities.

Three per cent of the nation's population, and 20 per cent of Texas' residents, live in the 17,845 square miles that comprise the Trinity River watershed.

'Big Thicket' Study Finished

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Park Service's field crews have completed a comprehensive survey of East Texas' Big Thicket and have sent their report to the Washington headquarters.

A review and final approval of the study is expected within several weeks to a month, Park Department sources said in an interview.

Rep. John Dowdy, Athens Democrat, said he checked with the department recently but got no inkling of the field findings. Differing theories for developing the East Texas area as a national park or monument led Dowdy to request the federal study. Dowdy earlier said a park totaling about 35,500 acres could encompass the nine separate segments of land which are valuable for their animal or plant species. He has said the Park Service study would be a key to his ultimate decision on any Big Thicket bill.

Sen. Ralph Yarborough and Rep. Jim Wright of Fort Worth, both Democrats, have introduced bills but not pushed for action proposing parks of "not more than 75 acres."

S'west Workers Getting Younger

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The number of workers under 25 years of age in the Southwest will increase from the 11 million in 1960 to 22 million by 1980, the Bureau of Labor Statistics estimates.

The bureau said the rate of increase is expected to be in occupations requiring the most education and training.

The bidding:

Opening-lead: Five of ♣

An unfavorable division in the club suit apparently doomed South's three no trump contract. Declarer was able to effect a last minute recovery, however, by means of an unusual squeeze and endplay against his opponent.

West opened his fourth best heart and, when East put up the king, he was permitted to win the trick. He continued with the ten which was also ducked. The ace of hearts dislodged the deuce as dummy discarded a club.

Declarer had eight top tricks—three spades, three diamonds, one heart, and one club. The club suit offered a good chance to develop a ninth, provided that West could be kept out of the lead in the process. In order to avert the possibility of West's getting in with a singleton honor, South first cashed the ace of clubs from his hand.

When West showed out by discarding a diamond, declarer's hopes dimmed, for East apparently had three stoppers in the club suit since he retained the K-Q-9 in back of North's J-10.

A moment's reflection convinced South that he need not abandon hope, provided that he could locate East's short suit. He cashed the ace of diamonds first and, when East followed with the nine, declarer continued with the king and then the queen.

On the third round of diamonds, East was obliged to make a discard. If he surrendered a club, it would allow declarer to establish the fulfilling trick in that suit by driving out the king and queen of clubs. East accordingly discarded a spade.

South proceeded to play three rounds of spades which eliminated all of the other suits and reduced the North, East, and South hands to three clubs a piece. The Jack of clubs was led and East was endplayed. After he cashed the king and queen, he had to surrender the last trick to North's ten.

Rocky Tries New Attack

NEW YORK (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller is beginning to use a new campaign weapon — comparing election records — in his effort to overtake Richard M. Nixon in the race for the Republican nomination for president.

A Rockefeller campaign placard trumpets, "He has never lost an election."

Nixon, of course, was defeated in his last two races, for president in 1960 and for governor of California in 1962.

Rockefeller cites their respective showings in heavily Democratic New York City. He said in New Jersey Tuesday that Nixon lost the city in 1960 by 791,000 votes whereas he lost it in 1966 by only 70,000.

The governor pointed out to Republican congressional leaders that in 1962, he polled 395,000 more votes than the combined total cast for New York candidates for Congress. He said Nixon, running for governor of California that year had 147,000 fewer votes than the total for congressional candidates there.

Rockefeller is elated over the results of a poll taken in another predominantly Republican city, Philadelphia, late last week. It showed him running ahead of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, 47.4 per cent to 46.3 per cent.

"Look at the record," Rockefeller told newsmen. "Nixon lost Philadelphia by 300,000 in 1960 and (Sen. Barry) Goldwater by 400,000 in '64."

The use of these election statistics is designed, of course, to persuade Republican delegates to the GOP national convention that Rockefeller has drawn more votes from Democrats and independents than Nixon. Since the Republicans are the minority party nationally, their candidate must do this to win the presidency in November.

After meeting with Republican senators and congressmen in Washington Tuesday, Rockefeller said, "It looks a lot better now than when I saw them the last time."

That was in 1964, when he was a candidate for the nomination for president.

"The atmosphere is different this time," he said. "You can tell when politicians are doing something out of politeness. This time I felt they were interested."

Rockefeller met with the New Jersey delegation after he left Washington. As in other such meetings, he discussed issues and answered questions.

The 40-man delegation is uncommitted. However, some New Jersey politicians said they believed 28 delegates favor Rockefeller and 12 are for Nixon.

Rockefeller takes his campaign today into Ohio—a state that could be crucial in his drive for the nomination.

It has 58 delegates. At the moment, they are united behind Gov. James A. Rhodes as the favorite son. He has said they would go to the convention uncommitted.

Rotarians To Install New Slate Of Officers

The new officers of the Rotary Club will be installed at a dinner July 2, it was announced at the meeting Tuesday. The affair, at 7:30 o'clock, will be at the Big Spring Country Club.

Joe Price will be installed as president, succeeding Bill Coleman. Lowell Jones is vice president-elect, William T. McRee, secretary, and John Hill, treasurer. It will be ladies night and the club will omit the regular noon meeting that day.

Erven Fisher, district manager of the Social Security office, spoke on the new laws enacted during 1967. Highlights of these include new, higher benefits, payment to working women with dependents and earlier disability payments in some cases. Fisher said nearly 11,000 people in the seven counties served by the local office are receiving monthly benefits. The total amount paid out each month is $682,000, he said. Fisher was introduced by Leroy Hollingshead.

Jerry Worthing announced that the club would host a party June 28 for an undergraduate pilot class. The affair will be on Scenic Mountain.

Circuit Riders Planning Picnic

Residents of Unit 5 at the Big Spring State Hospital, accompanied by Circuit Rider volunteers, will go to Lamesa Tuesday for an all-day picnic at the Lamesa City Park.

The Circuit Riders are coordinating this activity, according to Mrs. Dorothy Baker, and the patients will be transported by bus and automobile. Unit 5 staff members will accompany the group, as will Dr. Frankie Williams, Desmond Powell, Walter Widger and Mrs. Mary Cochran.

Junk Car Owners Being Notified

Owners of junk cars throughout the city are being notified by city police to remove their junk vehicles, under the city's junk car ordinance. Police have notified over 30 residents of violations of the ordinance and will continue to serve notices throughout the week.

Dear Abby

He Wants To Be An Actor

DEAR ABBY: I applied to a well-known school of drama because I have always wanted to be an actor. I am a high school senior and have done only amateur things, but people who are supposed to know talent have said I had great potential.

To make a long story short, I was accepted. Naturally, I was overjoyed, but here is the catch. Now my parents won't let me go. They knew I applied, but they didn't say anything. Now they say they didn't raise any objections when I applied because they didn't think I had a chance. My parents say that "acting" is no profession. They would rather see me be a doctor or a lawyer.

My teachers and friends say that I would be foolish to pass up this opportunity, but what about my parents? Your answer will help me decide.

LOVES TO ACT

DEAR LOVES: If you are unable to pursue your education in drama without your parents' consent (and more important, their financial help) it would appear your "decision" has already been made for you, unless, of course, you choose to defy them and try to make it on your own. "Acting" is a fine profession, but requires more determination, patience, and "luck" than most, so don't blame your parents for their attitude. On the other hand, parents who will help their children only in careers which they themselves select, do their children a disservice.

DEAR ABBY: I just read in your column where some man told his wife he was not leaving her anything because he didn't want some other man spending his money.

After 15 years in the insurance business, I have run across my share of these characters. In the first place they usually don't have enough life insurance for Sweetie Pie to buy a ticket to the state line. I am always surprised when the husband thinks it's HIS money. Seems to me, both of them have worked for it. I wonder if the husband remembers just who kept the house, made the meals, diapered the kids, walked the dog, drove him home when he was drunk, and listened to him cry about how his boss didn't appreciate him.

These knotheads don't realize that if it weren't for the little woman's scrimping and saving to accumulate a few bucks, he wouldn't have anything to leave anybody. Somebody should tell these dumbbells that a man will never have a better friend than his wife.

Frankly, I want mine to get every nickel I have. I wish I could leave her a million! And if she finds some other guy to spend it with—good for her. I hope they have a ball.

Very truly yours, SAM SHAW, MT. VERNON, ILL.

A LOVELIER YOU

Make Western Hash During This Month

By MARY SUE MILLER

When you wish to create a glamorous effect, you cannot underestimate the power of atmosphere. Attractive surroundings make you feel attractive. Like candlelight at dinner.

It follows that one logical place for atmospheric is in the makeup area. Grubby cosmetics, jumbled together in an untidy drawer, can hardly provide the psychological lift that is a part of their reason for being.

Grimy makeup tools — applicators and containers — actually do a disservice to both one's femininity and skin. Soil triggers and spreads blemish. A pity, when clean-ups are easy and really a matter of habit.

After every makeup, it's a good habit to wipe off all containers with tissue, to rinse eye makeup brushes in water and clean contour brushes on a swatch of terry towel; to swab eyelash curlers and lipstick brushes with mild antiseptic.

Once weekly, some tools require cleaning in depth. Cosmetic sponges, powder puffs and all brushes need sudsing and air-drying. While suds are in play, it's a fine time to dry suds containers, perfume bottles and storage spaces.

To help keep storage, drawers and shelves in order, there are pretty little bowls and divided trays. Cosmetics, neatly stowed, are as charming to see in a lady's chamber as on my lady's face.

Sparkle With Free Beauty Treatment

A smile is nature's own beauty treatment and it's free. Speaking of smiles, you will want your teeth to look nice when you smile. So brush them when you get up, and again when you go to bed. Brush them after each meal, if you can. Use toothpaste and brush up and down, not across. This gets rid of food which can cause decay and bad breath.

Face Hem With Bandage Gauze

Most little girls grow so fast that the hems of their dresses have to be lengthened frequently. When you run out of leftover dress material to use as facing, use bandage gauze. The gauze doesn't pucker when the dress is washed and ironed, and it also makes a nice flat hem that lays well.

Foam Backed Drapes Enhance Window Appeal

Foam backed draperies are being added to nearly every manufacturer's line in the market.

The foam backings, first introduced last season, now appear on the fiberglass fabrics, linen and wool. The jacquard weave takes the primary position, but the backing appears on plain weaves, including prints and solids.

The backings will penetrate the retail scene in many variations during the rest of the year. This fall the first Milium elastomer foam backed draperies will be introduced on the market. These Milium insulated draperies will be available in white, eggshell, and pastels.

Another firm will also introduce this fall a crushed foam backing for draperies in the moderate priced range. It will offer complete opacity by removing the "spongy air bubbles" that give the present foam backings a kidskin effect.

There are several advantages to having foam backed draperies. The lining foam helps insulate against heat and cold, possesses some acoustical qualities, protects the fabric from sun fading and gives the drapery body, depth and dimension.

The backing is permanently bonded to the fabric by a machine, but it may be picked loose. Most are guaranteed not to crack or peel under normal wear. If the foam is bonded to a washable drapery fabric, it too is machine washable, but otherwise it should be drycleaned. Be sure to read the label to determine the correct method of cleaning.

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

If this area had not had such cool weather so late in the spring we probably couldn't stand the heat at all by now. Even the pesky sparrows that inhabit every available space in the trees and vines stop chipping for a short time each day. Probably the heat gets them, too.

Have you noticed that in the residential areas during the period just after noon and until about four o'clock even the traffic slows down?

Here from Tallahassee, Fla., are the son of MRS. OMER WILLIAMS, DON HOLT; his wife and their four children, Tere, Emily, Tina and Carol. They will be here through this week with Mr. and Mrs. Williams.

MRS. GAIL BONNER is enjoying a visit from her son, Petty Officer BILL BONNER JR., who is on 21 days leave from his duties in the US Navy. His home port is in San Francisco and his cruises have recently taken him to the Philippines and into the Gulf of Tonkin off Vietnam. His ship supplies ammunition to the troops in South Vietnam.

During his visit here he and his mother will go to San Antonio to see MRS. OMAR PITTMAN who fell recently and suffered a broken hip.

A small group of friends gathered at the home of MRS. FRED CROSLAND Tuesday evening to visit with LT. (J.G.) and MRS. THOMAS CROFTS who are visiting in the Crosland home. The Crofts are stationed in Newport, R.I., and will leave tomorrow for a visit in Terrell before returning to Rhode Island.

When Lt. Crofts' ship came into port in Naples, Italy, last April, Mrs. Crofts flew there to spend the 10 days period with him. When his ship sailed she went to Berlin where she spent a week with a girlhood friend and former Big Spring resident, MRS. ROBBY ALLEN. Mr. Allen and Bronwyn incidentally, Mrs. Allen recently had a long telephone visit with MRS. GEORGE McALISTER, who, with her family is touring Europe.

Detergent Helps Stop Infection

Bathing baby with a detergent helps to keep him infection free — when the detergent contains three per cent hexachlorophene.

Controlling skin infections, particularly "staph" infections, is a constant problem in hospital nurseries. A recommendation of the American Academy of Pediatrics for overcoming it is "washing of the skin of the newborn and all who come into contact with him with detergents containing hexachlorophene."

During a 12-month period 283 newborn babies in a Kansas hospital were washed routinely with a mild detergent skin cleanser containing three per cent hexachlorophene. All were found to be free of infection both while in the hospital and after discharge, providing their mothers continued the baths. Neither the babies nor the nurses and mothers using the skin cleanser developed skin irritation.

Decorating Skill

Once upon a time, a window was a window. Today, a window can be a many-splendored thing, receptive to all nuances of decorating. You can leave a sweeping picture window free to pull a breathtaking scene into your room, just flanking it with a soft, out-door blending green drapery fabric.

For the room without a view, put your windows in a frame: a plywood cutout covered with burlap in the color note of your room—or in a sharp accent shade. Then the housewife can bask in her creativity, and in the knowledge that whatever her window design, the materials she selects are guaranteed color and light fast, if they're made with quality dyes.

Cotton Is More Free From Virus

Wearing cotton may be one way to keep well! Medical researchers have discovered that viruses do not live as long on cotton as they do on other fabrics. While a virus may live for three months on some fabrics, it will only last about three days on cotton. If the cotton fabric is treated with a wash and wear chemical, the virus only lives one day.

Clean Bird Bath During Summer

The feathered friends appreciate a cool, clean bath during the summer days. To keep the welcome mat out for the songsters, the bird bath should be cleaned frequently.

Once a week is not too often to scrub out the bird bath and refill it with water. Fresh water can be added every few days. Or each time someone has the hose out, the bowl can be rinsed out and refilled.

Twenty-seven visits to the sick were reported by the 30 members attending.

Couple Resides In Big Spring After Wedding

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Williams Jr. of Escoto was the setting, June 2, for the wedding of Miss Carol Foust McNeal and George Wallace Peoples, both of Big Spring.

'Hi! I'm Hugo'

That was the way Hugo Vihien greeted sailors of the USS Grenadier when they accidentally surfaced near him 218 miles southeast of Miami, Fla. A commercial air line pilot, he was on the last leg of his voyage across the Atlantic in his six-foot boat April Fool when a U.S. Navy submarine surfaced beside him. Crewmen of the USS Grenadier gave him bread and water and he bobbed off for his Homestead, Fla., home. This photo was made from the deck of the Grenadier Sunday and released Tuesday night when the sub made port.

Clerk, Toy Gun Frustrate Robbers

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — A clerk at a Cincinnati hotel armed with a toy gun, frustrated the efforts of two would-be robbers Monday, but nearly got shot in the process. Gerald McGreal, night clerk at the Kemper Lane Hotel, said he spotted two masked men approaching him, one carrying a revolver, and shouted, "I've got my gun too." He then ducked behind the desk and one of the men responded by firing two shots, just over his head. The two men fled without any money after the shots were fired.

The first known talks between the poor during the campaign and Texans in Congress came Tuesday when seven Mexican-Americans spent 20 minutes with Sen. Ralph Yarborough, Democrat. They talked mainly about the low employment and the low wage scales along the U.S.-Mexico border. They were from Laredo, San Antonio and Beaumont and were part of a 43-member contingent that arrived by bus from Texas Monday.

Gonzalez visited Resurrection City and a school where San Antonio and Lower Rio Grande Valley poor persons were staying. He said no one took him up on his offer to come by his office and talk at length. Gonzalez said he wasn't surprised that the San Antonio residents left rather than staying for the duration of the campaign because he said they "fell into the domination of Reyes Tijerina, the self-appointed leader of the Mexican-Americans."

Discussions Deadlocked, Telephone Strike Possible

SAN ANGELO (AP) — A union spokesman said communications workers of America members await word from their international convention in Washington on a possible strike against General Telephone Co. of the Southwest. Company and CWA negotiators resumed talks Tuesday on a contract to replace one which expired May 31. Their discussions had been recessed since June 4, when both sides reported a deadlock. Union leaders said employees of the firm, which operates in five states, since then have voted overwhelmingly in favor of a strike. The CWA spokesman, L. A. Sykora of Dallas, said local president Jack Limmroth of San Angelo flew to Washington Tuesday and will confer with the international union officials. Sykora said a petition has been filed asking the parent tracts were renewed but would union to authorize a strike and not comment on whether there set a date for it. "The executive board and the president will make a determination as to when and if we have a strike," Sykora said. "I imagine we'll be hearing from them at the end of the (Washington) convention." A work stoppage would affect about 4,300 General Telephone employees, including 1,300 who worked for Southwestern States Telephone Co. until the two General Telephone firms merged recently. General Telephone, with headquarters in San Angelo, serves about 720,000 telephone sets in Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana. It is a to only 84 employees, with some subsidiary of General Telephone & Electronics Corp. Owen N. Some people plant tomatoes in the spring

Others plant carrots, or onions, or cucumbers, or asparagus, or lettuce. But there's one thing you can plant now that will create a variety of tastes. A gas barbecue grill.

We have several varieties. Any one lets you harvest a delicious meal any time of the year. Its perfect heat control and permanent briquettes give you year round cooking pleasure without the mess of a charcoal fire.

For best results, we recommend early planting. This will guarantee larger yields because you can start your harvest immediately.

New lower prices on the '66 models are in effect through July 31st. Prices start at $77.52 cash (includes installation and tax) or as little as $2.50 a month, whichever you prefer. After that, it will only cost a few cents per month for us to feed it.

Call us. We'll plant a gas barbecue grill in your yard. That is, if you have a taste for the outdoors.

Buy a PATIO PAIR (one gas light and one gas barbecue grill) and save $26.00. Prices start at $103.70 (includes installation and tax) or $4.00 a month.

OVERPOWER HUMPHREY, KENNEDY DELEGATE SLATES

McCarthy Forces Score Upset In New York

ALBANY (AP) — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy jolted state Democratic forces today by over-empowering Humphrey and Kennedy delegate slates while a McCarthy supporter scored an upset victory in a three-way Senate race.

The Minnesota senator jubilantly hailed the results of the state's primary as one of his greatest victories.

Partial returns slowed by hand-counting of paper ballots gave McCarthy 51 of the 123 convention delegate slots at stake. Delegates who said they were remaining pledged to the ideals of the late Sen Robert F. Kennedy won 20 while backers of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey had one.

The voting trend indicated that McCarthy would maintain the wide lead in delegates.

The surprise Senate victor was Paul O'Dwyer, a former city councilman and brother of former mayor of New York City. He defeated Eugene H. Nickerson, Nassau County executive who came into the race at the urging of Kennedy and Rep. Joseph Y. Resnick, of upstate Ellenville, a Johnson-Humphrey administration supporter.

In a phone call to O'Dwyer headquarters here, McCarthy said, "It's going to be very difficult for party leaders in New York to read the results and not tremble."

An O'Dwyer spokesman said later that McCarthy would make an unscheduled campaign visit to New York City late today, presumably to capitalize on the psychological lift the victory was expected to give his campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination.

There was no immediate comment from the Humphrey camp. He had not mounted a major personal effort in the state.

McCarthy delegates were entered in 37 of the state's 41 congressional districts. Slates pledged to Humphrey ran in 23 districts, while the Minnesota senator's World Press Preoccupied With Violence In U.S.

LONDON (AP) — Violence in the United States continues to preoccupy the world press, and one commentator expresses doubt that America has learned anything "from the series of shattering assassinations."

Desmond Rushe, of Dublin's Irish Independent, wrote after covering the funeral of Robert F. Kennedy: "A baffling incongruity in the United States—and one which leaves a sour, bitter and angry feeling against America and Americans—is the communal and political attitude toward firearms control."

"The shaking indignation can still be felt, the shame and the self-accusing despair of Americans after the assault of Los Angeles," said Schwelen. "But don't deceive ourselves: soon the indignation will die down and leave room to the careless equanimity which always sets in anew after political murders."

Missing Yachtsman

Jean De Kat, 27-year-old Frenchman, is shown aboard his trimaran Yaksha in Plymouth, England, shortly before start of solo trans-Atlantic yacht race from England to Newport, R.I., June 1. Ships and aircraft searched the Atlantic today for De Kat drifting in a rubber dinghy after abandoning the Yaksha. He messaged Tuesday that he was abandoning his yacht in heavy seas about 600 miles west of Ireland.

Damages Asked

A suit for $8,800 damages was filed Tuesday afternoon in 118th District Court. Nate Chavez and his wife are the plaintiffs and E. J. Russell, defendant. The suit is the outcome of a traffic mishap of April 27 which occurred on US 87, north of town.

Convention Expenses More Than Expected

By GARTH JONES
Associated Press Writer

Here's a message for Texas Delegates to the national Democratic and Republican conventions: "Take along more money than you think you will need—because you will need it."

Preliminary scouting trips by newsmen and politicians to Chicago and Miami Beach indicate that the epidemic of deflated pocketbooks resulting from the 1964 trips to San Francisco and Atlantic City is about to re-occur.

The Democratic National Committee estimates that its delegates and guests will leave about $12.5 million in Chicago after its national conclave beginning Aug. 26. If all the 120 Texas delegates and 104 alternates make the trip, the Texas contribution alone will be close to $90,000, or more.

There has been no national estimate on spending at the Republican convention, opening Aug. 6 in Miami Beach. However, if all 56 Texas delegates and 56 alternates attend, the Floridians, and airlines, are likely to be richer by at least $56,000 when the Texans leave.

A nationally distributed guide book for 1968 lists the rates for the Texas GOP delegation's headquarters hotel, the Barcelona starting at "$35 up" for single rooms with $20 to $29 for each person in a double room. Several persons who have received hotel reservation confirmations recently noted that the starting price listed on them was "$50 single or double" for each room.

A Texas newsman who visited Miami Beach said his most astonishing find was "the blunt demand for bigger tips—10 and 15 per cent is not enough." A head waiter at a restaurant informed him that he usually was tipped $2 for finding a vacant table. A hotel doorman turned down a quarter tip for opening a taxi door and said he usually got at least 50 cents.

Round trip commercial airline fair to Miami is $151 from Dallas and $165 from Houston—plus $5.50 taxi fair to Miami Beach. This air transportation, plus a $35 a day hotel room for five days, plus a meager $30 daily for meals, ground transportation tips and entertainment adds up to $476 to $490 at least for the Miami Beach trip.

Chicago will be a little cheaper for the Democrats, on the basis of present reports.

The Conrad Hilton, the Texas delegation's headquarters hotel, is listed in the national guide book as having single room rates of $16.50 to $22 and doubles $25 to $33. The round trip air fair to Chicago is $131 from Dallas and $168 from Houston. Allowing $25 a day for meals, transportation, tips and entertainment for five days, the Chicago total reads $365 to $405.

Brandt Is Silent On Talk Results

BERLIN (AP) — West German Foreign Minister Willy Brandt said today he was neither encouraged nor discouraged after a meeting with the Soviet ambassador in East Berlin about new East German restrictions on travel to West Berlin.

"There are still difficulties," he told newsmen as he flew back to Bonn. The former mayor of West Berlin declined to give any details of his eight-hour conference Tuesday night with Ambassador Pyotr Abram-simov.

Brandt said he would report on the meeting to the West German Cabinet.

The East German Communists appeared to have been caught flat-footed by Brandt's surprise visit to East Berlin. Long after he had passed through the Berlin Wall at Checkpoint Charlie, the official East German news agency ADN was still protesting his presence in West Berlin as a "provocation."

The foreign ministry said Brandt was invited to Abram-simov's country home and the two talked over "questions of interest to both sides."

The meeting was the first such trip into East Berlin by a West German foreign minister since the Berlin Wall was erected in 1961. But for Brandt, this bold move was not unprecedented.

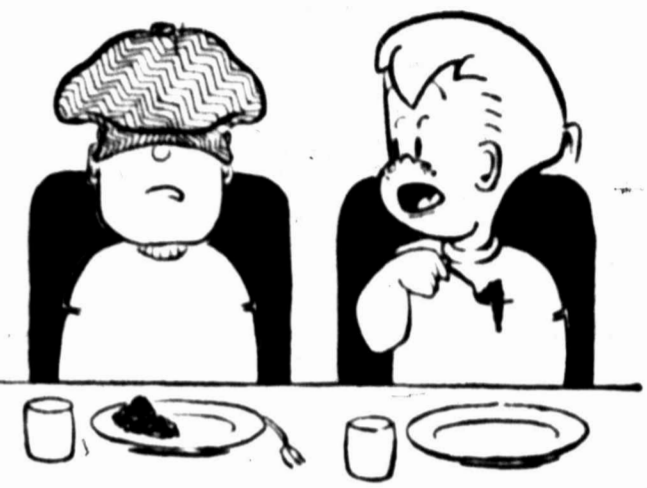

In October, 1966, two months before he became foreign minister, he made another surprise trip through the wall to see Abram-simov about Berlin problems.

West Germany does not recognize East Germany, but Abram-simov in Western eyes remains the Soviet high commissioner for Berlin under the World War II occupation agree-

Scores From Second

Ed Charles of New York Mets slides home for a run in second inning of first game of two-night doubleheader against Houston Astros in New York Tuesday. Charles scored from second on a single by Al Weis. Astro catcher Ron Brand leaps in vain for ball coming from left fielder Bob Watson, who drew error on the high throw. The Astros won the opener 3-2 and the nightcap 6-5.

New Managers Are All Smiles After Wins

By The Associated Press

Harry Walker and Bob Skinner, baseball's newest managers, did double-takes Tuesday night but it was the New York Mets and San Francisco Giants who couldn't believe their eyes.

The Houston Astros, who had lost six straight games and fallen deep into the National League cellar, made Walker's first day a rousing success by sweeping a two-night doubleheader from the Mets 3-2 and 6-5.

Skinner, who succeeded Gene Mauch as Philadelphia skipper on Sunday, got his first two victories as the Phillies walloped the Giants in a two-nighter 10-2 and 9-1.

10. Cincinnati defeated Atlanta 7-5 and Pittsburgh nipped Los Angeles in 10 innings 3-2.

"You can't do a lot of things at this stage," Walker said after replacing Grady Hatton at the Houston helm Tuesday afternoon. One of the things the Astros have almost always been able to do in the seven years of their existence is beat the Mets first day a rousing success by sweeping a two-night doubleheader from the Mets 3-2 and 6-5.

Skinner, who succeeded Gene Mauch as Philadelphia skipper on Sunday, got his first two victories as the Phillies walloped the Giants in a two-nighter 10-2 and 9-1.

nings of shutout relief. "If all had gone well with the club we'd all have been happier, myself included, to keep things just as they were," said Walker, who was the Astros' batting coach and a close friend of Hatton's.

Walker previously piloted the St. Louis Cardinals and Pittsburgh Pirates. The latter club fired him last July and he joined the Astros four days later.

Skinner, like Walker a former hard-hitting big league outfielder, was managing the Phillies' San Diego farm team in the Pacific Coast League when he was tapped to replace Mauch. He lost his debut to the Dodgers but looked on in delight Tuesday night as the Phils pounded out 13 hits in each game, posted their first doubleheader sweep since last August and climbed into third place.

Southpaws Chris Short and Woody Fryman went the route and batted in two runs apiece. Richie Allen who had his troubles with Mauch, and Cookie Rojas both slugged a pair of homers. The Phils salted away the first game with six runs in the fifth inning and scored four in the fifth inning of the nightcap for a 5-0 lead.

Mack Jones turned on his former Atlanta teammates by crashing a two-run homer in the ninth inning that powered the Reds past the Braves. Pete Rose cracked five straight hits for the Reds, including three doubles, while rookie catcher Johnny Bench batted in two runs with a homer and double.

Bobby Tolan's first homer of the season and Nelson Briles' eight-hit pitching carried the Cardinals increased their lead to 5 1/2 games over Atlanta in winning for the 17th time in their last 21 games.

Matt Alou's run-scoring single in the 10th inning scored Maury Wills from second base and gave Pittsburgh its seventh straight win and put the Pirates in a virtual tie for sixth place.

Don Brysdale, the Dodger starter, left the game after seven innings with a 2-1 lead and a pulled back muscle. Willie Stargell's mammoth homer, his 12th, tied the game 2-2 in the eighth and came off Jim Brewer.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

The last player cut by the Dallas Chaparrals last season, Big Spring's Eddie Nelson will give professional basketball another try shortly when he pops up in Los Angeles to engage in training with the NBA Lakers.

Eddie has been working at a local nursing home, pending word from his draft board. His knees, which have been turned this way and that several times in athletics, could deprive him of the chance to serve his country as a military man.

Nelson was an all-time great for Big Spring High School, Howard County JC and Howard Payne College. He's not very tall as basketball players go, standing only about 6-3, but that height is deceptive. He can jump like a startled frog.

Eddie will carry with him a strong letter of recommendation from Cliff Hagan, the Dallas coach, who had planned on keeping the boy until Charley Beasley showed up. Beasley, having played Southwest Conference ball, has a natural following in the Dallas area and the management reasoned he would be good for the box office.

Nelson feels he can play in the NBA. If he can stick with the Lakers he'll have it made financially, since the club is a strong gate lure and pays well. Eddie feels his chances are good, since pro basketball keeps experiencing growing pains and is desperate for new talent.

Nelson has been working out here with Thurman (Big Daddy) Randle, the huge football lineman who will try to earn his spurs in the play-for-pay ranks.

Randle held out for a while after the Philadelphia Eagles had tendered a $13,000 bonus offer but is now in the fold. He'll dictate a good salary with the Eagles, if he makes the ripple, since the Philadelphia team averages 60,000 at home games and, of course, benefits from the TV largesse.

A third Big Spring boy now in professional athletics, Charley West, reportedly passed up a $25,000 bonus offer extended by the Minnesota Vikings to attach his name to a base ball contract offer by the Cincinnati Reds. The bonus consideration there reportedly was $40,000.

He's now at Tampa and doing reasonably well. I hear Charley had been told he could expect an offer approximately $120,000 from pro football but that was before the two leagues got together and decided a signing war was suicidal. Too, Charley wanted to play with the Los Angeles Rams rather than Minnesota.

The upcoming major league all-star game in Houston, already a sellout, could be the most engaging one of them all—since it will be played at night and televised in prime time.

This is one of the jewels offered by baseball when it improved its TV contract and NBC intends to see that the game has maximum exposure.

Judge Roy Hofheinz of the Houston club, although he had been pilloried in the Dallas and Fort Worth newspapers, is a tremendous host and a gracious man.

Those same sports writers, incidentally, who have been accepting Hofheinz's hospitality for years are now seeking to repaint his public image as a money-grubbing miser.

Their motives are largely selfish. Few of them know anything or have had anything to do with professional baseball. The area probably was not ready for a franchise.

Two men (Lamar Hunt and Tommy Mercer) had taken the lead in trying to land the area a club. At least 50 responsible men were needed to insure the success of such a drive and professional baseball knows it.

Many of the scribes in that area, feel they are outside their element if they are discussing anything but football. Consequently, they keep it "in season" the year around.

Had the judge wanted to be devious and protect his public image, he could have easily conned some other National League magnate into negotiating the Dallas offer. It took one vote to veto it. I admire Hofheinz's courage, even though it would have been nice (for West Texans) to have big league baseball so close.

Pro Gridder Fatally Hurt

URBANA, Mo. (AP) — A Kansas City Chiefs' American Football League player, attempting to get his military obligation out of the way before the start of practice sessions, was fatally injured Tuesday in a highway accident near this southwestern Missouri community.

The victim was identified by the Missouri National Guard as Bruce McLenna, a 26-year-old fullback.

McLenna signed with the Detroit Lions of the National Football League after graduating from Hillsdale, Mich. College. He was traded to the Baltimore Colts and the New Orleans Saints before signing with the Chiefs last year.

A guard spokesman said McLenna had received permission to train with another unit, since his unit wouldn't go to camp until after the Chiefs' training camp opened next month.

Trevino Will Pass Up Canadian Meet

TORONTO (AP) — An aura of mystery surrounded the disappearance of Lee Trevino from the scene of the Canadian Open Golf Championship Tuesday morning and became more bewildering later in the day.

Trevino, of El Paso, Tex., was reported to have withdrawn from the 72-hole tournament because of the serious illness of his daughter. It was later learned, however, the child had only a slight cold and Trevino wanted time to review a series of financial offers received following his U.S. Open victory. Trevino said he will rejoin the PGA tour in two weeks for the Cleveland Open.

Devils Score In Seventh To Defeat Braves, 3-2

The Devils scored a run in the seventh to topple the Braves, 3-2, in National Little League play here Tuesday evening. The Devils are now 7-9 in the standings while the Braves dropped to 8-7.

Three other withdrawals were also announced before the starting draw was completed Tuesday. U.S. professionals Bob Goaly and Gay Brewer decided not to play. Goaly is suffering from a shoulder injury and Brewer's daughter was reported to be undergoing surgery.

Cougars Favored In NCAA Play

LAS CRUCES, N.M. (AP) — The 71st annual NCAA golf championships open today at New Mexico State University with a premium on team play.

George Hannon, coach of the University of Texas, stressed team play as the most important commodity in collegiate golf. He said it would take a unified effort by his team and golfers of other teams to beat the favored University of Houston.

Russell Felts, who pitched only the final inning, received credit for the win. The loser was Noe Nuevenos. Tony Shaffer labored the first six innings on the hill for the winners.

Each team collected six hits, with Al Valdes collecting a double and a single for the winners. K. Froman and Taylor each had two blows for the Braves.

Practically every big-name golfer on the U.S. circuit is here for the tournament over the par-70, 6,792-yard St. George's Golf Club layout.

Billy Casper played an 18-hole practice round Tuesday, although he did not keep score. Arnold Palmer arrived late in the day and played 11 holes—the first 10 and the 18th. Jack Nicklaus was scheduled to arrive today.

Also here are three-time winner Sam Snead, two-time winner Doug Ford and Jim Ferrer. Gary Player of South Africa and Tony Jacklin of England.

Helping hands gave Cleveland's Sam McDowell and Baltimore's Tom Phoebus the means to an end. Helping themselves got the Washington Senators nowhere.

HARRY WALKER (R) TAKES OVER
Grady Hatton (L) changes jobs

Walker Rings Bell In Hurry

NEW YORK (AP) — You have to wonder at Harry Walker's strategy as the new manager of the Houston Astros, but you can't argue with the results.

Only nine days ago he was in a Houston hospital, scared stiff that he was suffering a heart attack. But today he is feeling little pain after the Astros presented him a 3-2, 6-5 twilight doubleheader victory over the New York Mets in his first day at the helm.

Some grandstand doctors might question Walker's move out of a hospital bed into the worries of leading the National League's last-place team.

"Sure I took the job. Baseball is the only thing I know," he said after Jimmy Wynn's homer won the first game and four unearned runs assured the second.

"Sitting upstairs as batting instructor is not sitting on the bench calling the shots."

Of course, the job of batting instructor is no snap with the Astros, the worst hitting team in the league. It might have led him indirectly into the hospital.

"I pitched batting practice for three straight days, about an hour each day before we left Houston and I might have pulled something in my back," explained the 47-year-old former manager of the St. Louis Cardinals and Pittsburgh Pirates.

"Then I had this pain in my chest and down my arm. I'd heard this is the way with heart attack — and I thought 'This is it.' The doctor wanted to take me to the hospital, and I was more than happy to go."

"They had me doped up for seven days so I wouldn't move around. They think it was a muscle spasm in my back and I got out last Saturday."

He accepted the manager job Monday night and took over a team with a six-game losing streak and six games in last place.

The Astros still are in last place, but the losing streak is no more. Wynn made sure of that in the first game Tuesday night with his seventh homer of the season that shattered a 2-2 seventh inning tie.

Denny Lemaster, 6-6, made it stand up, outdueling Nolan Ryan, 5-5, with a six-hitter and striking out 10 to Ryan's 12.

Houston jumped to a 5-0 lead in the nightcap against hard-luck Don Cardwell as Rusty Staub followed a first-inning error with his fourth homer and J.C. Martin's error in the third led to three more runs.

But the Mets tied it in the third before rookie Jim Ray blanked them the rest of the way with help from Fred Gladding in the ninth.

Another error, this time by Phil Linz, who failed to cover second base on a steal in the seventh inning, decided the game against Cardwell, 1-8. Julio Gotay reached third on the play and scored on Bob Watson's sacrifice fly.

"Yeah," this is a good way to start," Walker said, "but it isn't going to change overnight. Managing is a pain in the neck."

"But if you manage once, you always want to, as long as the

SENIOR RAMPAGE

The Senators exploded for eight runs in the last two innings at Minnesota, twice overcame the torrid Twins, but still came up on the short end of a 9-8 count that ran their losing string to seven games.

First place Detroit edged Boston 2-1 and California subdued the New York Yankees 3-1 behind rookie Tom Murphy in other American League games.

McDowell, Cleveland's south-paw strikeout king, braked the Indians' skid after seven straight losses, striking out seven and yielding six hits before giving way to Williams in the ninth. McDowell, 7-5, had a four-hit shutout until the Sox scored in the eighth on a walk and singles by Ken Berry and Wayne Causey.

The Indians did all their scoring in the sixth against Gary Peters. Max Alvis' two-run single capped the rally.

"That was the most important game of the season," said McDowell. "Now we're ready to roll. After all we scored four runs tonight. That's almost unbelievable."

PHOEBUS ON BEAM
Phoebus, 6-6, allowed six hits and fanned 10 until the ninth, when he was lifted with nobody out and the tying run on second base. Richert got Danny Cater to line into a double play, choking off the rally and bringing the Orioles' five-game losing streak to an end.

Jim Nash stopped Baltimore on three hits until the seventh, when Frank Robinson singled and Brooks Robinson homered, tying it 2-2.

Andy Etchebarren led off the Orioles' eighth with a single moved to second on Phoebus' sacrifice and third on Don Buford's single before scoring the tie-breaker as Fred Valentine forced Buford at second.

Washington, trailing 4-0 with two out in the eighth, struck for six runs—two on Frank Howard's 23rd homer and the last three on Paul Casanova's first of the year.

But Ted Uhlaender slammed a three-run homer in the bottom of the inning, giving the Twins a 7-6 edge. Back came the Senators on RBI singles by Ken McMullen and Mike Epstein in the ninth for an 8-7 lead.

Then Rich Rollins singled with one out in the Twins' ninth and Frank Quilici tripled him home before scoring the winning run as Cesar Tovar grounded to second baseman Bernie Allen, who bobbled the ball and missed his chance for a play at the plate.

Quilici, surfacing for the first time since he played a key role in the Twins 1965 pennant drive, has stroked eight hits—five of them for extra bases—in 22 at-bats, a .364 clip.

The victory, fifth in a row for the Twins, left them in fourth place—one-half game back of Cleveland, one behind Baltimore and nine off Detroit's pace.

The Tigers rolled to the 12th victory in their last 15 starts behind Earl Wilson, who got ninth inning help from Pat Dobson and beat Boston for the seventh time in eight decisions since the Red Sox dealt him to Detroit two years ago.

Jim Northrup doubled home a first inning run off loser Jose Santiago, then singled in the sixth and eventually scored on a single by Willie Horton.

The Red Sox closed in on Ken Harrelson's run-scoring single after Dobson replaced Wilson in the ninth. Harrelson took third on a single by Reggie Smith, but was thrown out at the plate on Rico Petrocelli's tap back to Dobson. The reliever then fanned pinch hitters Dalton Jones and Jerry Adair to wrap it up.

Texas Loses M. Johnson

BLANCHARD, Okla. (AP) — University of Texas' No. 2 quarterback, Monty Johnson, says he's quitting football and transferring to the University of Oklahoma to devote full time to his studies.

"What his reasons are I have no earthly idea," said R. M. "Pat" Patterson, Texas assistant coach who coached Johnson at Amarillo Tascosa.

"I told him we'd be in touch with him and if he decided to come back, he would be welcome," Patterson said Tuesday. Johnson alternated with Eddie Phillips of Mesquite as the starter on the undefeated Short-horn freshman team last season.

Plans Shaping Up Here For Red Raider Program

Plans are crystallizing here for the Wednesday, July 10, meeting between local friends of the school and representatives of the Texas Tech Red Raider Club.

Joe Price, in charge of local arrangements, intends to call a meeting of local members of the Red Raider Club to discuss final plans for the afternoon and evening of fellowship.

The club will have charge of the program at the noon luncheon of the Downtown Lions' Club July 10. That much has been assured.

An afternoon of golf is also planned at the Big Spring Country Club. Quite probably, there will be an evening of visitation at the Country Club, although such plans have not yet firmed up.

The Tech delegation is usually headed by Ed Smith, Red Raider Club president; Leete Jackson, executive vice-president of the organization; Tech athletic director Polk Robinson; and head football coach J. T. King.

The West Texas tours of the Lubbock group started June 11 in Gaines County and will be concluded July 24 in Ralls.

Red Raider Club officials conceived the idea of the summer visitations to rally the public in general behind the school and to create a scholarship program for worthy candidates.

The Tech group will stop at Tahoka July 11 and in Midland July 18.

New Champion Is Extended Big Welcome

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Lee Trevino is home for a rest.

The U.S. Open golf champion returned to this border city of 350,000 persons and a rousing welcome from a crowd of about 600 Tuesday.

For 15 minutes he wasn't the gay caballero who sprang into the golf limelight Sunday by winning the U.S. Open—his first tournament victory after a year on the tour.

After he stepped off his airplane at the El Paso airport and embraced his wife he pulled a green handkerchief from his jet-black sport coat and wiped off the tears he couldn't keep back.

In contrast, Trevino blazed his way to a U.S. Open record of four straight sub-par rounds and provided lively wisecracks about his golf.

After he won the $30,000 first place prize money, Trevino told newsmen he was going to buy the Alamo and give it back to Mexico.

But the crowd of 600, including a mariachi band strumming and trumpeting snappy Mexican songs, knocked the brashness from him.

"Oh, it feels great to be home. I wish I could stay..." he said as men, women and children swarmed around him handing out congratulations and seeking autographs.

After the excitement had died down, the 28-year-old Mexican-American, who only two years ago worked for $30 a week in lesson fees at nearby Horizon Hills Country Club, once again started reeling off his wisecracks.

"As you know it was Fathers Day and my wife didn't give me anything, so I had to give myself something," he said about the Open victory.

Trevino said he will bypass this week's Canadian Open to rest, see his family and review financial offers in connection with his new-found stardom.

He said he will rejoin the PGA tour in the Cleveland Open next week, follow up with the Buick Open in Detroit and cross the Atlantic for the British Open.

French Yachtsman Adrift In Ocean

LONDON (AP) — Ships and aircraft scoured the Atlantic today for a French yachtsman drifting in a rubber dinghy after abandoning his yacht on the singlehanded trans-Atlantic race.

As the search went on, bitter argument was revived among yachtsmen over multi-hulled craft, many saying they are unsafe.

Jean De Kat, 27, messaged Tuesday that he was abandoning his 50-foot trimaran Yaksha in heavy seas about 600 miles west of Ireland. He reported his mast and rudder were broken and one of the yacht's three parallel hulls was torn away.

Weather ships, freighters, the 25,000-ton liner Empress of Britain and British Atlantic Patrol planes from Northern Ireland converged on the spot. The first report of wreckage came from the Dutton, a U.S. Navy ballistic missile support ship which has the latest search and navigational aids.

Search experts directing the Royal Air Force's Shackleton Patrol planes rated De Kat's survival chance as good provided visibility held and he had been able to get his dinghy's cover up.

Yaksha is one of 13 multi-hulled craft — twin-hulled catamarans and three-hulled trimarans — among the 35 original entries.

Their great virtue is speed. Even in moderate breezes a multihull can reach up to 20 knots because instead of heeling it stays upright and the sails catch up in the wind.

But in heavy weather the risk of capsizing is high and the strain on the bridge between the parallel hulls immense.

Conventional yachts, though their speed seldom exceeds 10 knots, are less prone to capsize. Even if they are knocked down by squalls their heavy ballast keels are usually enough to right them again.

John Pymun, technical secretary of the Royal Yachting Association, said:

"The traditional yacht may break its mast and rigging when it capsizes but it usually rights itself and leaves its crew with some shelter and control."

"But a cat or a tri in the same situation will probably stay upside down and break up. These beasts are ultimately unstable if pushed to the extreme."

Losses among multihull enthusiasts have been heavy. Arthur Piver, leading American designer, disappeared in a trimaran while qualifying for the current race. South African designer Tom Corkhill was lost in the South Atlantic two years ago.

'ARE THE SEEDS NURTURED IN MOVIES, TV, OTHER MEDIA?'

Violence In Entertainment Under Scrutiny

By BO THOMAS
AP Television-Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — And now the entertainment industry comes face to face with the issue of violence.

The matter has been debated for years, as social critics deplored the outpouring of brutality on theater and home screens. But it took months of rioting in city streets and on college campuses and, finally, two political assassinations to bring the issue squarely before public scrutiny.

President Johnson issued the challenge: "Are the seeds of violence nurtured through the public's airwaves, the screens of neighborhood theaters, the news media and other forms of communication that reach the family and our young?"

The President posed this question at the convening of his new commission on violence, formed after the slaying of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy in Los Angeles. He assigned Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower to head the 10-member panel, known as the National Commission on the Causes and Prevention of Violence.

The commission might be able to fulfill a mission long recommended by certain responsible leaders: to determine whether portrayed violence induces violent behavior. There are two schools of thought on this matter:

1. Some argue that by viewing dramatized violence, human beings get rid of their repressed emotions. This theory was expressed by Aristotle, who declared that art could function as a catharsis so that tragedy "through pity and fear, effects the proper purgation" of destructive emotions.

2. Others believe that repeated exposure of impressionable minds to sadistic and criminal behavior on the screen is bound to result in imitative action.

The latter concern was considerably increased with the advent of television. Nowadays youngsters are exposed to dramatized violence before they are even able to talk or to read.

Many social observers have viewed with special alarm the Saturday morning shows aimed at the very young audience. The shows are almost totally cartoons, and the majority of them are of a violent nature, either on the cat vs. mouse or the superhero vs. villains level.

The television networks have responded to the President's call in different ways.

CBS President Frank Stanton stated, "CBS shares the President's concern as to the possible effect of the content of television entertainment programs upon the nature of our society. We will, of course, cooperate in every way possible."

Stanton added that it might take "a considerable length of time to determine whether there is a causal relationship between the fictional portrayal of violence in the mass media and any increase of actual violence in American life." He said that CBS would sponsor meetings between its programmers and series producers and writers in an effort to de-emphasize violence.

NBC declared, "The assassination of Sen. Kennedy has given rise to discussion of violence in our society and violence as reflected in the entertainment and news media, including broadcasting in the news field. We seek to cover, through reporting an analysis, all developments on which public information is vital in a democracy, and we regard such coverage as an important part of our obligation. In the entertainment field, we have established policies and procedures to guard against the depiction of violence for its own sake.

"We intend to continue pursuing these policies with responsibility and vigilance and we will certainly cooperate with the inquiry to be conducted by the commission appointed by President Johnson.

ABC withheld any statement pending the return of television chief Elton Rule from England, but the network declared it is studying the subject of violence as a matter of concern."

Speaking by telephone from his Washington headquarters, Jack Valenti, president of the Motion Picture Association, said the film industry would cooperate wholeheartedly with the commission.

"I hope the commission will help establish psychological and social measurements of the effect of violence, not only in movies but in all media," said Valenti, former White House aide. "That would be enormously helpful, because no one really knows the answer now."

Valenti remarked that he has been pleading for self-restraint on the part of film makers and said that his pleas have met with "more success than disappointment." But he pointed out that he deals only with the eight member companies of the producers association.

"We have no jurisdiction over the making of pictures abroad that might be purchased for distribution here by our companies," he said. "That brings up the Italian Western situation. Nor do we have any control over nonmembers among American film makers. But I have been talking to every top theater circuit head in an effort to bring some control over the situation."

The Italian Westerns have brought a new brand of brutality to American screens; although made outside the production code, they are nevertheless released by companies that are subject to the code.

American-International is not a member of the producers association. The company, which once aimed at the teen market with innocent beach movies and Edgar Allen Poe fantasies, discovered the box-office appeal of motorcycle gangs and dope parties. Its latest release was given a condemned rating by the National Catholic Office for Motion Picture for "wanton exhibition of sadistic brutality and coarse sex."

American-International says it is now, "like the rest of the industry," re-examining its programming.

The major companies have also offered a share of film violence with such films as "The Dirty Dozen," "Bonnie and Clyde," the James Bond films, "The Mercenaries," "Rosemary's Baby," "The Long Day's Dying," "The Detective," etc., etc.

The concern of one segment of the public over the outpouring of violence was expressed last week in an advertisement that appeared in the Los Angeles Times. It was paid for by students of Monroe High School in nearby Sepulveda.

The text: "PLEASE . . .

"We, students of James Monroe High School, wishing to express our sincere concern with the violence in our country and its effects on the future of our nation, feel obligated to take some positive action.

"We feel that the presentation and glorification of acts and words of violence, especially through mass media, are creating a society insensitive to human suffering and death. We therefore urge our parents, friends, and members of the

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Jones, visiting Big Spring from Formby, England, were impressed with American supermarkets, highways and the "vastness of the country." They are guests of Robert E. Jones, 7 Coachman Circle.

Britons Impressed By Supermarkets

By JEAN FANNIN

Want to know how to impress a British visitor? Take him to a supermarket.

According to Mr. and Mrs. Francis H. Jones of Formby, England, an American supermarket is the most impressive sight they have seen since their arrival Thursday in Dallas.

They were met at the airport by Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Jones, 7 Coachman Circle, who took time out to show them Dallas before bringing them to Big Spring Sunday.

The men are brothers. Robert came to the United States in 1932 and "I'll never go back,"

Name Linked To Releases

HOUSTON (AP) — The name of former Westec Corp. board chairman James W. Williams was used on several news releases before the firm collapsed in August, 1966, the firm's public relations manager testified Tuesday.

Williams, 36, is on trial before U. S. Dist. Judge James Noel on charges of mail fraud and conspiracy to prepare and disseminate false financial reports.

Williams authorized a news release that showed revised earnings shortly before trading of the holding company's stock was halted, testified Mrs. Betty Athanasios, public relations manager.

"What happened six days later?" asked Asst. U. S. Atty. Malcolm Dimmitt.

"They took us off the market," said Mrs. Athanasios, who testified she owned 1,200 shares when trading was suspended Aug. 25, 1966, on the American Stock Exchange.

Dimmitt said that Williams and former Westec president Ernest M. Hall Jr. announced earnings that had no basis.

Their goal was to build a conglomerate company and "essential to their plan was the importance of showing dramatic earnings," Dimmitt said.

Defense attorney J. Edwin Smith said Williams was not aware of the conspiracies at Westec until the collapse.

"Mr. Williams had to rely on the accounting department and the controller, both of whom were under the immediate direction of Ernest M. Hall Jr.," said Smith.

Smith placed the blame for what he called "unlawful and fraudulent transactions" on Hall, who had pleaded guilty of conspiring to manipulate Westec stock.

"The defendant knew the corporation had retained some of the biggest, most efficient and respected law firms in this city . . ." Smith said. "He believed the advice and the approval of those law firms."

Rufus Higgins, 2710 Lynn, Big Spring, is studying geology and meteorology in an Earth Science Institute at Texas A&M University.

Junior high science teachers participating in the program are taking graduate credit courses designed to aid teaching effectiveness during the school year. Studies of rock and mineral origins and weather principles will conclude July 12.

A Central and West Texas tour during the last week will enable observations of various formations and historical sites.

Smoking Banned
TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — A cigar factory has banned smoking on the premises after a fire damaged inventories. The blaze was started by a discarded cigarette, the manager said.

It's the things we leave out of a Volkswagen that make it work so well.

We leave out the radiator, so the engine will never boil over or freeze and leave you stranded somewhere. (Don't worry, it's air-cooled.)
We leave out the water hoses and water pump, too. Still fewer parts to break down and leave you stranded.
We leave out the drive shaft. You know the long bulky thing that transfers power from the engine up front to the drive wheels in back. (Always losing a little power along the way.)
Instead, we put the engine in back, right over the drive wheels. Where it'll put its power right to work moving the car.
As soon as we can think of something else to leave out, we'll leave it out. Just as soon as we can decide on the best place not to put it.

Marines Pursue Regulars, 128 Enemy Soldiers Die

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Marines, artillery and aircraft pursued a force of North Vietnamese regulars all day Tuesday through bomb-scarred valleys south of Khe Sanh and killed 128 of the enemy, the U.S. Command reported today.

Moving in at 3 a.m. under cover of a mortar barrage, the North Vietnamese probed for a weak spot in the defenses around a Marine position nine miles south of the combat base in the northwest corner of South Vietnam.

Unable to penetrate the Leathernecks' lines, the enemy withdrew and the Marines went on the attack. With artillery and air strikes clearing an explosive path before them, the ground troops maintained contact until nearly dusk. Then the North Vietnamese broke away.

A U.S. spokesman said 11 Maines were killed and 30 wounded. It was the second big battle in the Khe Sanh area in four days. On Saturday, North Vietnamese troops tried unsuccessfully to overrun another Marine field position. The Marines said 219 of the enemy and 16 Marines were killed.

Since withstanding a 77-day enemy siege of the Khe Sanh combat base earlier this year, the Marines have been sweeping far afield and have clashed repeatedly with units of the North Vietnamese 304th Division. The enemy has been trying to cut Highway 9, the only overland supply route to Khe Sanh.

Saigon came under a feeble Viet Cong shelling, with two mortar rounds falling in a dock area but causing no casualties or damage, a government spokesman said. They were the first shells to hit the capital since Sunday despite a Viet Cong threat to rain 100 shells daily on the capital for 100 consecutive days beginning last Monday.

The rocket threat still hung over Saigon, but troops of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division removed some of it Tuesday when they found 32 warheads for 122mm rockets.

The warheads, wrapped in brown paper and covered by bushes, were spotted by Sgt. James N. Brown of Mansfield, Ohio, beside a canal eight miles north of Saigon.

The infantrymen searched along the canal and also found nine mortar tubes, 80 mortar rounds, 26 cases of mortar fuses and charges, 14 rifles and 13,680 rounds of rifle ammunition.

Viet Cong resistance continued to crumble in the northern suburb of Gia Dinh today and 28 more enemy soldiers surrendered. This brought to 178 the number of Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops who have given up since Tuesday morning in the greatest mass surrender of the war.

Out of food, short of ammunition and exhausted from weeks of steady fighting, they began surrendering when government marines encircled them and broadcast appeals for them to give up.

A Vietnamese military spokesman said that while 150 of the holdouts were surrendering Tuesday, another 77 were killed in three skirmishes with the marines. The latter suffered light casualties, the spokesman said.

With these pockets of Viet Cong resistance crumbling, it appeared that the May 5 "second wave" offensive against the capital might finally be at an end.

A Vietnamese military spokesman said 50 to 80 guerrillas may still be in the area, but they have been splintered into "small, demoralized groups without leadership." Not even sniper fire was reported today as the marines continued searching for holdouts.

About 100 miles east of Saigon, South Vietnamese troops and a unit of the U.S. 173rd Airborne Brigade reported killing 44 enemy troops Tuesday two miles north of Phan Thiet, a provincial capital on the coast. U.S. headquarters said there were no American casualties and South Vietnamese casualties were light.

There still was no clarification from the U.S. Command of the weekend action near the demilitarized zone reportedly involving North Vietnamese helicopters. A U.S. spokesman would say only that an investigation into all related incidents was continuing.

In a 30-hour period beginning Saturday night, Vietnamese reports said, two to 12 North Vietnamese helicopters were shot down. In addition, a U.S. Navy Swift boat was sunk with five men lost, and a rocket attack from a U.S. warplane hit the Australian destroyer Hobart, killing two men and wounding seven.

truder. "I knew I was being trained as a weapons system," he says. "I didn't mind it one bit. I wanted to get over here and do my part. Peace—sure I hope we can have peace. But until that time I think that what I am doing is right."

How did he feel on that first mission?

"Well, it's hard to explain," he recalled, waving his hands in the incurable manner of pilots. "The night before I was like a kid sitting up for Christmas, sort of wide-eyed and I couldn't get to sleep."

"But along toward morning I got a couple of hours and then got up early. It was a 4:30 brief and 6:30 take off."

The target was a heavily defended road complex. The tracers started coming up, bright and lethal, as the intruders rolled in, led by the squadron commander, Lt. Cmdr. Jerry Clyde Patterson, a combat veteran of 38 from Phoenix, Ariz. "It was the 'old-dad' leading in the young 'un,'" Dudson grinned. "The old adrenalin started pumping in pretty good about then. I just wanted to do the best I could and get in there and get out of there."

His nerves under control, Dudson banked into a perfect carrier landing on his return, snagging the No. 3 arresting cable which is the ideal target on the angled flight deck.

"I felt like a character from a John Wayne movie," Dudson said. Then, giving way to youthful exuberance, he pulled off his bulky plastic flight helmet and emerged from the cockpit wearing a World War I leather helmet and goggles he had confidently carried along for the occasion.

He felt a long way from his home at Lauderdale-by-the-Sea in Florida, where he had tinkered with antique cars and joined the Navy after taking 10 hours of flying lessons in a monoplane. Nor was it precisely the way he imagined it in flight training and later when he married his college student wife, Kay, in Harlingen, Tex.

"But this was it," Dudson said. "This is what I was getting ready for. I know that you don't wear scarves and go zipping around after the 'Red Baron' any more. But after my first ride in a jet, an old T2 trainer, I knew right then that this had to be it. I guess it got in my blood. There is nothing else I would rather do."

FORT WORTH (AP) — An enthusiastic supporter of Democratic presidential candidate Eugene McCarthy drew a $64 fine Tuesday for wearing a "McCarthy button."

Airman I. C. Francis Gibbons of Boston, Mass., was fined in a summary court martial for refusing to remove the political pin from his uniform.

"If we let him get by with this," said an officer at Carswell Air Force Base, "people would be showing up in pink socks and everything else."

A Carswell spokesman said Gibbons was charged with "violating his commander's lawful order to remove a political pin from his military uniform."

The verdict is subject to review by the base commander.

The spokesman said Gibbons tried to take a McCarthy poster to a base reception last month for President Johnson. He was let off with a verbal reprimand.

Gibbons' car, the spokesman said, is covered with McCarthy campaign materials. It looks a "circus wagon," he added.

Ship's Youngest Pilot Makes First Strike
VIET NAM (AP)—You put a $5-million airplane into the hands of one young pilot and you never know how he will act until the first day he's shot. Barely 23, big and easy-talking, Ens. Jim Dudson had two years to think about it while he went through the Navy's training program. Then, when the carrier America joined the 7th Fleet, the youngest pilot on the ship was in the first strike against North Vietnam.

Horoscope Forecast FOR TOMORROW —CARROLL RIGHTER

GENERAL TENDENCIES: One of your best days and evening to be on the go, towards whatever mental or physical aims impel your activities in a forward direction and you can certainly be very articulate in stating what you want — and how you would like to see anything you find that a warm and happy feeling in the air makes conditions pleasant.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19): This can be a day when you are able to do pretty much what you wish or you could just sit down and accomplish absolutely nothing. It is up to you. Others are going great guns. See to it that you do likewise.

Taurus (April 20 to May 20): You may find that you have to do some investigating if you want to clear up certain matters that are puzzling right now. One who has been in hot water for some time now returns some favor you have extended in the past. Have fun later.

GENIUS (May 21 to June 21): Some personal interests can give you real pleasure and success now, so get busy with them. You look really charming today and can get just about anything you want. Others are ready to assist you at every turn.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21): New situations are now arising but you have to be equal to them if you are to get the benefits you want, and friends in particular are very clever in helping you. Take advantage of this and change your attitude somewhat. Then all is fine.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22): Showing those you love how affectionate you are and keeping promises you have made can bring them much closer to you now. Add to present good will. Stop being so lackadaisical and all goes better for you.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23): You have to be more willing to assist your associates instead of trying to tell them what to do. If you want to get the best results, keep busy. This can be a very fruitful day and a happy evening for you.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): There is much work to be done and you had better do it yourself instead of depending on others so much. These coworkers

Business Of Religion Examined By CBS Report
By CYNTHIA LOWRY AP Television Editor
NEW YORK (AP) — CBS Reports' dug boldly into a touchy, controversial subject in its Tuesday night program, "The Business of Religion." The hour show raised the question of taxing churches—Protestant, Catholic, Jewish and all others—which always have been exempt.

The program presented the question from the points of view of churchmen and government officials. It took public, congressional and clerical opinion polls on various kinds of tax exemption. In addition, it undertook some difficult, original research.

Narrator Charles Kuralt opened the program by noting that the practice goes back 3,700 years to the Egyptians who exempted priests from tithes and taxes, and that it never occurred to the Founding Fathers in its simplest terms: Churches are rich; the government—local, state and federal—needs money; churchmen hesitate to discuss taxation because it might have a crippling effect on the institutions, and government officials hesitate because they do not want to appear to be anti-religious.

The program presented some awesome statistics: More than 350,000 churches; an estimated 130-million church members; week-by-week religious contributions estimated by a former Internal Revenue Service head at between $7½ and 8 billion a year, and tax exempt church property estimated at $79.5 billion, equal to almost double the assessed valuation of New York City.

To the question of whether the church should be taxed, most of the eminent churchmen of many denominations gave qualified affirmative answers.

There was general agreement that church buildings, schools, hospitals and homes for the aged should be tax free, but that the business and commercial interests of churches—real estate, hotels, manufacturing companies acquired by gift or purchase—should be liable for income taxes as are the incomes of their competitors.

The program was jammed with statistics and facts, and it reflected the varying points of view by moving from interviews with churchmen to tax experts and real estate specialists.

It ran into trouble arriving at money totals partly because some of the most important figures are not disclosed and partly because some totals have never been compiled.

"The CBS news survey clearly indicates that the time has come for a full and frank discussion of this subject in America," concluded Kuralt. "This broadcast has been our attempt to open that discussion."

And it seems certain that the hour, despite its tone of cool impartiality, will cause some waves.

Since it consisted primarily of assorted interviews, it did not add up to much in visual terms. But it was an important and even brave program and therefore a valuable public service.
