ONE OF THE TOPICS which we have brought up occasionally in this column was espoused in a couple of other places this week. Maybe it is an idea whose time has come .... or will come someday, if we ever decide that tradition is worth breaking.

The topic to which we refer is the "secession" of the Panhandle area from the rest of the state.

The latest champion of this cause is Buck Ramsey, who argues in its favor in the current issue of "Accent West," a magazine which preaches the virtues of the Amarillo area.

Ramsey points out that back as early as 1853, Governor Elisha Pease had drawn up his own plan for dividing up the state, and began trying to sell it off to the Federal Government for use as an Indian Reservation.

Fortunately for us, he did not succeed, but unfortunately, as Ramsey points out, this attitude toward the Panhandle seems to have held sway downstate ever since.

Ramsey's tongue-in-cheek article points out that if such a new state were created, the traditional southern boundary would be a line roughly from Lazbuddie to Kress to Quitaque. "But we might want to drop down another tier of counties, and make the boundary posted by Maple, Lum's Chapel, Roaring Springs and Chalk," Ramsey says.

He points out that the proposed 51st state would not be a great populated area, containing an estimated 430,400 souls according to recent estimates. That would rank it only 49th, ahead of Alaska and Wyoming--we'd be one of those sparsely populated western states. Area-wise, the new state, dubbed "Cheyenne" by the magazine would contain 31,289 square miles, and this would be close to "average" in size, ranking 39th, ahead of such states as

County History

Parmer County are being reminded that July 20 is the deadline for submitting information for family histories for the Parmer County History book, which is to be printed in the very near future.

If any of you don't want to be disappointed in this book, please get your history completed. Then contact relatives, friends and neighbors to do likewise. Your help is urgently needed to make this book a complete History of Parmer County.

The following paragraph was written by Mrs. Vera Beil and is being used as a reminder of the consequences of putting something off too long.

"My husband, Travis, and I lived in Stonewall County for over 30 years. He worked for the county for 14 years then served as a County Commissioner for another 16 years, while I taught school.

"After his death, I moved back to Friona, where we were married, to be close to my sister, Laverne Burrow. Shortly thereafter, I started receiving notices from the Stonewall Historical Commission urging me to write our family history and mail it so we would be included in the Stonewall County History book. I just kept putting it off until it was too late. Now, the book is out and our family isn't represented in it.

"I have nothing to hand down to our grandchildren and friends showing what we did for the county where we lived and worked so long.

"I am sorry that I did not respond to the letters sent to me. Since we were married here and I live here now, I plan to contribute to the Parmer County History book, and urge all others who live here now or have lived here in the past, to do likewise."

Anyone who desires to write about deceased parents, has several options available. The parents may be included in the 500 words of free space, or special spaces may be purchased for memorials or tributes.

For more information about purchasing space for memorials or tributes, contact Otho Whitefield, Route 1, Friona, Texas, 79035, or Mrs. Glenn E. Reeve Sr., 510 West Tenth Street.

Whitefield said that by the end of the current week, the book committee will have mailed out over 5,000 letters, to all parts of the country.

Payment of the book will be through sales, plus a memorial section, business history section and a tribute section.

"We want each family unit to be written up--not just your parents and grandparents, but everyone," Whitefield says.

South Carolina and West Virginia. You may or may not know it, but the state of Texas, under the treaty by which it entered the union in 1845, retained the right to divide up into as many as five states. This possible redivision apparently was one of the major topics taken up by the state legislature during the first 50 years of statehood, but gradually dwindled as a popular item, as Texans no doubt became "size conscious."

We might not gain any stature in Washington, but it would be a foregone conclusion that we'd have more political clout in the new state capitol. And where would that be? Why, in Washburn, according to Ramsey, which would be the exact center of the new state. Washburn is a small community just east of Amarillo.

THE SAME DAY we read Ramsey's article, we happened to be listening to KGNC radio when their "Spectrum" series from CBS was broadcast, and lo and behold, the possibility of carving up of states was the topic for that particular editorialist.

The radio personality pointed out that creating new states is a topic of conversation in at least five states. He mentioned California, Florida, New Jersey and Michigan in addition to Texas. He mentioned Texas' unique five-way proviso, so apparently the secret is out.

California has, due to its extreme length, a North-South situation, with population centers for each. Florida has an East-West difference of opinion, with a Panhandle of its own. Michigan has a natural division, with Lake Michigan dividing the state not quite in half.

New Jersey residents have circulated a petition asking for a proposition to place the voters on the matter of dividing. So, this may be the first real "test case."

What will the U.S. map look like in 20 years? Will it be the same, or have some changes? Tune in around July 1, 2000, and we'll tell you.

this week, as citizens were reminded to help with conservation of city water.

Residents of the city were in the second week of water rationing, after two city wells ceased to function on the afternoon of June 22, placing the city's water system in a bind.

Residents of Friona who live to the west of Grand Avenue have been asked to water their lawns and gardens only on the even-numbered calendar dates. Residents living to the east of Grand Avenue are asked to do their watering only on the oddnumbered calendar dates.

All residents are urged to be as conservative as possible with city water, and cut back water usage as much as possible.

City manager Jake Outland said that the water rationing plan has helped the city have enough water to go around for the "bare necessities," but that it has been virtually impossible for the storage facilities to regain anything resembling their usual capacity, due to the continued

July 4th Activities Are On Tap

Friona's annual July 4th celebration was slated for Friday, under the sponsorship of the Friona Chamber of Commerce.

Among the events on tap for the annual celebration will be a barbecue luncheon at the Community Center, beginning at 11:30 a.m. Tickets are on sale at the door for the luncheon.

Activities slated for Friday afternoon include bike races, the World's Championship Turtle Race, a baseball throw, a "42" tournament, and a ping-pong tournament.

A doubles tennis tournament began earlier in the week, and a slowpitch softball tournament also is in progress at the softball fields.

A Community Choir will present "I Love America" at 8:30 Friday at the Community Center.

The fireworks display will be presented for the 12th annual time, at Reeve Lake, beginning at about 10 p.m.

produce, the other five city wells have been running non-stop in an attempt to produce the needed water for Friona residents.

The city's consulting engineer, M.R. (Red) Smith of Lubbock was in the city this week performing engineering tasks relating to the drilling of the new well and tying it into the city's water system.

Outland said that drilling and piping the new well would not take as much time as tying the well into the city's system. The entire process is expected to take five or six weeks, putting it into August before Outland said that preliminary tests on the new well site indicate a production of approximately 300 to 350 gallons per minute. "We had hoped for a 400 gpm well," Outland said.

Big T Pump Co. is also working to reclaim the well at 9th and Grand. It is hoped that some production can be salvaged from that well, which was dug in 1970.

Meanwhile, residents have been sweltering under a second week of high temperatures which topped the 100-degree mark.

DISPLAY SET.... A sample of what will be in store for residents Friday, July 4th is this photo of the 1979 display by photographer Stanley Ellis. All residents are invited to attend the display at about 10 p.m. Friday.

Friona is to have its first real talking picture in the Marvellette Theatre Saturday night and it is expected that a large number of Friona people will take advantage of the opportunity to see a real talking movie. Manager H.P. Eberling has gone to a large expense and a large amount of labor to install this up-todate and first class photophone apparatus so that Friona might boast of as good as the best in tone moving pictures. . . . .

During a week of hard downpours, Parmer County received an average of from six to eight inches of moisture, according to reports from farmers in different sections of the county. Concensus of the area farmers seems to be that the crops were not damaged to any great degree, and that if the sunny weather continues, crop prospects are good. ....

The contract for purchase of 7.81 acres of land for the location of the Friona Nursing Home was signed this week, with the City of Friona purchasing the land from Tommy Jones. The council was also shown the architect's drawing for a 60-bed facility. The drawings included the floor plan and a front elevation.

Work on the new post office building is progressing nicely. The walls were completed this week and the building's roof installation was begun. The new post office may be ready for use by the early part of August. # Joint Services Held For Spearman Couple Joint services for Bobby F. Everson, 32, and his wife, Judy Ann, 30, who were killed near Lubbock in a collision involving a dune buggy and a pickup truck were held Wednesday in Spearman.

Officiating was the Rev. Russell Pogue. Burial was in Gruver Cemetery by Boxwell Brothers Funeral Home.

Also killed in the accident was Daniel Benson, 17, of Lubbock, driver of the dune buggy in which the Eversons were passengers.

Lubbock resident Thomas Cook, 36, driver of the pickup involved in the collision at 8:20 p.m. Sunday, remained in critical condition at Lubbock General Hospital, a spokesman said.

Jerry Brock, 27, of Snyder, also a passenger in the dune buggy, was reported in serious condition in Lubbock General.

A.J. Hamlin, 43, of Woodrow, a passsenger in the truck, was treated and released from the hospital.

A Texas Department of Public Safety spokesman said the dune buggy was westbound on a country road west of Woodrow, about ten miles south of Lubbock, and the pickup was eastbound when the headon collision occurred. Investigators said the dune buggy, a converted Volkswagen, apparently ran off the road and onto the right shoulder, then swerved back onto the roadway and into the path of the pickup.

Everson was born in Pampa and had resided in Spearman 13 years. He was employed by H&H Water Well Service and was a member of the Moose Lodge.

He and Mrs. Everson were married in October 1967 in Spearman.

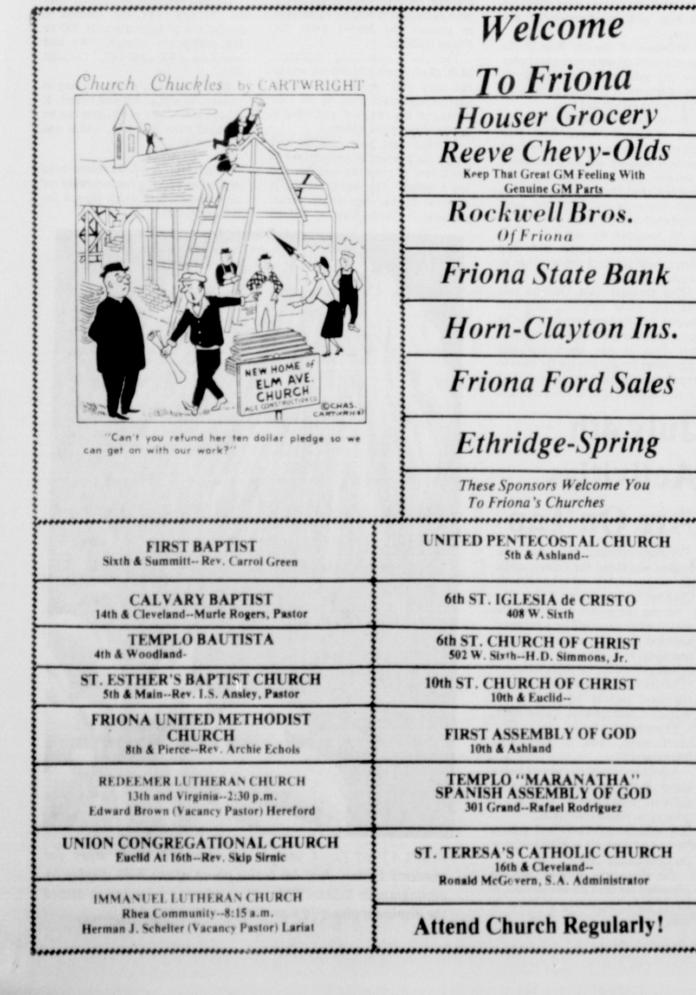

Mrs. Everson was born at Shattuck, Oklahoma, and had resided in Spearman nearly all of her life. She was a member of the First Baptist Church.

Survivors include two sons, Jim and Todd, and a daughter, Anissa, all of the home.

Everson is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. N.J. Everson of Perryton; a sister, Mrs. Judith Peach of Perryton; and his grandparents, Mrs. Lilly Lawley of Pampa and R.E. Matthews of McLean.

Mrs. Everson is also survived by four sisters, Mrs. Marilyn Harris and Mrs. Carolyn Hahn, both of Canadian, Mrs. Donna Fallwell of Friona and Nikki Jones of Spearman; a brother, Joe Bob Jones of Canadian; and a grandmother, Mrs. Mae Leverton of Spearman.

Five FFA Members To Attend Convention

Five members of the Friona Future Farmers of America chapter will attend the 52nd FFA Convention in Houston, July 9-11, in the Astroarena.

Joel Hight, an outstanding Friona FFA member, is to receive a fouryear $6,000 scholarship from the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo.

Joel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Hight of Friona, is a May graduate of Friona High School.

An FFA member for four years, Joel served as chapter sentinel for two years. He was also invalued in exhibition of show barrows, winning breed champion at the County Show and participated on the leadership team and judging teams while serving on several committees.

While in high school, he earned the Lone Star Farmer Degree, participated in football four years, basketball two years and track one year. He was selected honorable mention tight end and defensive end, and most valuable football player his senior year. He was a member of the National Honor Society and graduated seventh in his class.

Joel plans to attend Southwest Texas State in San Marcos and major in agricultural business.

The Houston Show will present fifty four-year, $6,000 scholarships to FFA members during their state convention. The show is the largest donor of agricultural scholarships in the United States. During the coming year 389 students will be on Houston scholarships, representing an investment of $2.1 million.

The winners are carefully selected from hundreds of applicants and represent the best in the state from the standpoint of academic and leadership abilities. The only requirement made of the students is that they major in some form of agriculture in college within the state of Texas.

The money for these scholarships is derived from proceeds generated by spectators at the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo, a civic, charitable organization whose efforts and actions are directly to benefit youth and support educators.

Four Lone Star Farmer Degree winners and chapter advisors will attend the three day meeting of representatives of over 920 chapters from throughout the state which will include the awarding of advanced degrees, scholarships and the awards to outstanding members of the Texas Future Farmers of America.

Joel Hight, Craig Lookingbill, Micah London, Mike Schueler and Rondee Clark will be voting delegates at the convention.

David Alders of Nacogdoches, State FFA President, will preside. He will be assisted by Vice Presidents:

David Rattan, Boys Ranch; Don Parrish, Plains; Stu Harris, Houston; Terry Gerhart, Winters; Dan Thomas, Weatherford; Chuck Littlefield, Mineola; Charlie Phillip, Boerne; Randy Holcomb, Brownsboro; and Monty Vesper, Cotulla.

Convention registration will begin at 2 p.m. Tuesday in the Astroarena Concourse. The State FFA officers will conduct a Vesper Service at 8 p.m. that evening in the Grand Ballroom, Astro Village Hotel.

The Honorable John Connally, former Governor of Texas, will be the keynote speaker at the first general session on Wednesday. He will talk to the FFA members on the opportunities of rural youth in agriculture and agribusiness. During the Wednesday afternoon session, Phil Benson, National FFA Student Secretary from California, will address the group. Scholarships and awards will be presented on Thursday. Gil Stricklin, well-known humorist from Dallas, will challenge the young people's minds and the Stars over Texas awards program will be the highlight of the Thursday evening program. On Friday the new State FFA President will be elected and the 1980-81 State FFA Sweetheart will be

In Erick, Oklahoma, we were Saturday night guests in the home of one of my aunts, Mrs. Ora Wooley, and visited briefly with some cousins.

Then, Sunday afternoon we drove farther over into Oklahoma, for a very nice reception for Raymond and Lillie Mae Hughes. It was held in the attractive new farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hughes, who live north of Arapaho.

Raymond and Lillie Mae were married at Butler, Oklahoma, in 1930 and moved to the Friona area about 23 years ago. They have lived in Friona, in the Black Community, south of town and northwest of town. At the present time they're living in the Walcott Community Enroute home we stopped in Sayre, Oklahoma, for a visit with another aunt, Mrs. Edna McCown, and in Amarillo to visit a cousin, Mrs. Irene Barker.

Another aunt, Mrs. Stella Brown of Wichita, Kansas, came home with us from Amarillo.

Ellen Estes Gives State GOP News

Ellen Estes of Bovina, County Republican chairman, attended the recent Republican State Convention in Houston as a delegate, and reports that the meeting was very harmonious and showed that the state is becoming a strong two-party force in politics.

Also attending from Parmer County were Clarence Mason and Frank Hinkson of the Lazbuddie area. Huston Hoover of Bovina was also a delegate, but was unable to attend.

The Parmer County residents were part of over 3800 delegates who attended the meeting from across the state.

"All of the resolutions passed were very conservative in nature. We also felt that the resolution passed on agriculture was as good a resolution as we could ask for. We were very pleased with the convention," Mrs. Estes said.

"We were in session from 9 a.m. until after 10 p.m. It was a busy day," Mrs. Estes said.

Speakers at the state GOP meeting included Governor Bill Clements, Senator John Tower and Representative Jack Kemp, whom Mrs. Estes described as "very dynamic." She also attended a county chairmen's luncheon or Thursday of the meeting, at which Rep. Barry Goldwater III of California was featured speaker.

"I think the Republicans are growing in strength in Texas. All of the delegates elected to the national convention were Reagan delegates. It was the feeling at the convention that Reagan is the 'man of the hour'," Mrs. Estes said.

In all, the convention passed 17 resolutions on to the national convention

They concerned agriculture, appointment of federal judges, busing, education, energy, Equal Rights Amendment (opposing further time extension), federal budget and national defense.

Also, a resolution opposing adoption of a national health insurance program, one supporting pro-life, one to reduce taxes, supporting the right to bear arms, supporting right to work, traditional families, voluntary prayer for students and reform of welfare.

At a time when our economy is suffering from a shortage of saved money for homeowners and businesses to borrow, it is completely absurd to take an action guaranteed to make the problem even worse. Yet that is what the Administration proposes to do - by requiring that 15 percent of interest or dividend income be withheld for income taxes before the recipient gets the money.

The people of Texas are unhappy about the proposal and I don't blame them. In fact, in the last week of May alone, I received 1,047 letters on the subject - each one individually composed by a concerned citizen. I don't remember any other single issue drawing that kind of response. I couldn't be more pleased that you see the proposal for what it is.

The rate of savings in this country has dropped to the lowest level ever. That has added to inflation in two ways. First, interest rates went up because investors had to compete more for fewer dollars available from the pool of saved money. Second, money that isn't saved or invested is spent, causing more dollars to be in circulation and driving up prices. One of the best ways to fight inflation is to encourage people to save more, not less. That's what we in Congress were trying to do when we passed a tax exemption for the small saver and investor. The Administration's proposal to withhold taxes from that income is directly contradictory to that legislation. I am at a loss to understand this apparent confusion of purpose.

Furthermore, the withholding requirement is tantamount to forcing retired citizens or others whose income comes from invested money to make interest-free loans to the government out of their savings accounts. Although the Administration insists that it will develop an exemption plan for people who aren't liable for income taxes, the individual would have the burden of having to file forms with every source of interest or dividends and of keeping detailed records.

Finally, the record-keeping requirements of financial institutions and corporations would be increased greatly by the new requirement. Naturally, these increased costs would be passed along, in whole or in part, to the consumer

What is the purpose of a plan with such obvious bad effects? The stated goal is to catch tax evaders, but quite likely it won't do that. It would, however, be the functional equivalent of a tax increase, falling primarily on the middle class and our senior citizens.

None of us condones evading our fair share of taxes. However, most people do pay the taxes due on the interest they earn annually. Already the IRS can check to see if interest and dividend income is being declared, since it receives a copy of the "information return" sent by each institution that pays interest and dividends. Withholding an arbitrary 15 percent - which may not begin to approximate the actual percentage due from an individual taxpayer - simply raises revenue for the government. Its only use would be to help "balance" the budget without reducing excessive government spending.

The tax-writing committees of both the House and Senate have expressed their strongest disapproval of the President's withholding proposal. I am cosponsor of a Senate resolution condemning the proposal as the potentially disasterous disincentive to savings that it is. In the unlikely event that the proposal actually reaches the full Senate, I certainly will make the strongest effort to give it a swift burial.
