SPREAD OF THE BLUE BONNET

One of the interesting developments of Texas landscaping the past few years has been the spread of the blue bonnet to points hundreds of miles from the hill country of the state where they have been indigenous since the first settlers began to drift in around the lower reaches of the Brazos and other Texas streams.

Recently acres and acres of blue bonnets, said to have been seeded through the instrumentality of the State Highway Department, have appeared in cities and towns and along highways miles and miles from where they originally grew. Nobody would change the official state flower. The beauty of the massed flower is too breath-taking. And it is a happy thing that more and more counties can have them to enjoy

Four Years Old, the CCC Now Looks Ahead to a Permanent Setup

WASHINGTON - WITH TOUT years of major accomplishment behind it the Civilian ward to a permanent place in the life of the nation. President Econevell has asked Congress to duced CCC Maintenance of the existing 2002 camps scattered years to come Present enrollments expire June 30 in the light of these circumstances, then what is the record story is revealed in the recent report of Robert Fectines its director It shows what was accomplished by the 2,000,000 men, enrollees and non-enrolled since President Roosevelt signed the executive order establishing this unique organization in April,

XCEPTIONALLY meaty, Mr. Fernner's report sets out these basic facts:

1-in four years $700,000,000 has been expended for foodstuffs, wearing apparel, work equipment, and miscellaneous 2-Enrollees have sent home, in addition, an aggregate of $360,000,000 in wages under the compulsory allocation order of 2-The CCC has revitalized public interest in the needs of their regular work. Getting down to figures, Mr. Fechner reports that the workers in the four years have expended 3,800,000 man-days fighting forest fires; conducted campaigns against insects and destructive timber diseases over 15,000,000 acres; built 87,000 miles of truck trails, minor roads, highways, and park roads; constructed more than 45,000 miles of telephone lines, and erected more than 2000 fire lookout and observation towers.

Life for the CCC in America's vast outdoor accomplished things in the last four years—it rehabilitated thousands of the tion's youth and made the United States conservation of In these pictures the CCC goes to work, fines up for the "chuck," and returns to labors again on a reforestation proje jects, while 50,000 others

MOREOVER, the CCC has planted more than 1,000,-900,000 trees, most of them on wastelands; improved 2,700,000 acres of timber lands, developed thousands of public camp grounds, and extended erosion control programs across the length and breadth of the nation. Nor is this all. More than 50,-000 of these young men, once in poor bealth, nimiessly wandering

Dixie May Potter Has Interesting Work In College At Placentia

The following is a letter received recently from Miss Dixie May Potter in which she describes her duties in college Placentia, California,

April 24, 1937. To The Hesperian

Here are a few items which I think might interest my friends at home, as they often ask my mother

I am a freshman in Fullerton college of Commerce, a large division of the Fullerton Junior College. Last SemesterI was initiated into the Alpha Gramma Sigmas, a scholarship sorority and this last week was initiated into the Theta Nu Theta, Junior College social sorority.

I have been an active member of the Y. M. C. A., acting in the capacity of program chairman.

The Bank and secretarial offices in the college are the only ones of their kind in the world. The Bank is now a chartered member of the Los Angeles Securities First National Bank and during the first five months of this school year approximately $1796.00 passed into the vaults of our bank

In the secretarial offices I do mimeographing, duplicating of vraious kinds, dictaphone, telephone op eration, adding machines, calculators, filing, typing, mimeoscope, etc The girls in this department are the private secretaries to the teachers.

SUNDAY, MAY 9 IS DEDICATED

To Mother

On that day we render homage to her devotion, her Courage, her Self-Sacrifice. And no tribute can be too Great.

> To set the day apart is merely to emphasize and express our year-round feeling that mother is the breath of divinity in human life and that she will be anshrined forever in our hearts.

It is in such a reverent spirit that this message is penned.

Lesson Comment find, is the more instinctive. Prayer in its deepest aspect is that outreach of the soul toward some power or strength that is needed.

But prayer in its truest aspect is much more than that. It is associated with the reality of faith, with spiritual vision, and with the commitment of the soul in definite ways. The man who cries to a God in whom he does not believe is, after all, making something of a mockery of prayer; but where a man has yielded himself to the divine will and the divine control, and his whole being is attuned to truth and righteousness, prayer is of a different quality. It was concerning such prayer that the ancient writer said that "the prayer of a righteous man availeth much.

It is constructive and interesting to study this lesson in the light of these things. Abraham was making a prayer for Sodom and Gomorrah. that they might not be destroyed because of their sin.

What we have in this prayer is a onception of mercy and grace, so in advance of conceptions of God that are more definitely related to the New Testament that one marwels to find such an expression in the Book of Genesis, which goes so far back in the history of the race. "Wilt thou consume the righteous with the wicked?" asks Abraham. It is more than a prayer-it is a questioning; it is a reasoning; it is in a sense,a trial of the God in whom Abraham believes. It is a striking and pentrative question. Are not the good and the innocent. even if they be few, to be considered as well as the guilty? "Suppose
