

Heavy Vote Marks Election Of City Officials Tuesday

Snodgrass Mayor, Three New Names On Council's List

Vote Nears 90 Per Cent As Citizens Name Preference Tuesday

Glad Snodgrass was re-elected mayor of the City of Floydada in Tuesday's election, Morgan Wright was re-chosen city marshal and Silas E. Duncan was re-elected city secretary.

In an election marked with much interest 3 new aldermen were elected. They are J. W. Lanier, M. H. Martin and Conner Oden. W. U. White and R. E. Fry were re-elected as aldermen.

The highest vote cast was in the marshal's race in which 511 votes were cast. Total vote was about 520, indicating many "overs" and practically all of the poll tax payers cast votes in the election.

It was indicated yesterday afternoon that the official count of the ballots would be made in a special meeting of the council tonight and the results of the election declared.

Retiring members of the council are B. K. Barker, who offered as mayor, J. B. Bishop and F. C. Harmon.

The vote was as follows:
For mayor: Snodgrass, 520; Barker 187;
For marshal: Wright 275, Cardinal 31, R. D. (Bob) Smith 204;
For secretary: Duncan 282, Henderson 222;
For aldermen (5 to elect): W. U. White 448; Fry 331; Lanier 330; Martin 338; Oden 335; Harmon 297; Bishop 300. It was estimated that at least 90 per cent of the possible vote in the city was cast in the election.

Floydada Band Will Compete In Week-End Contest At Plainview

Floydada band members will join with bands over the plains area in what is expected to be one of the largest assemblies of school children to be held in the state, and possibly in the entire southwest, this week-end in Plainview, when young bandmen of Regional, Texas Music Educators' association, assemble for their annual band contest.

Fifty bands and orchestras and nine choruses are scheduled to appear on the three day program. The schedule of playing has had to be changed because of the large number of registrations. Class EE bands will play Thursday afternoon beginning at 3 o'clock at the city auditorium.

Friday night will be one of the high lights of the three day meet, when thirty-nine bands will take the field in a marching contest. This feature in which all bands above class EE, must participate, will take place at the football stadium at junior high school.

Judges have been selected from outstanding musicians over the southwest.

Floydada band will compete in the Class B division with bands from Borger, Dalhart, Electra, Hereford, Lamesa, McLean, Memphis, Perryton, Phillips, Plainview, Portales, New Mexico, Post, Shamrock, Slaton, Spur and White Deer. The girls' chorus from Floydada will also compete with a number of others.

Parcel Post Free Delivery Granted; Work Out Details

Several weeks ago Mrs. Smith asked for the parcel post service. She was notified Saturday the plan for a free delivery on parcel post had been considered and decided favorably for Floydada.

The new service will be made available to patrons of the office within parcel post area at an early date. At this time the details of a temporary service are to be worked out.

First delivery of parcel post packages will be made following approval of bids for temporary service of a vehicle without driver.

Free delivery of parcel post packages is to be made only within the limits of the free delivery service for first class mail for the city, she said.

All the area of free city delivery for first class mail in Floydada will also have free delivery of parcel post packages soon, an announcement this week by Mrs. Barbara H. Smith, postmaster, advised.

One of the presently eligible civil service men on the post office list will have charge of the parcel delivery service, Mrs. Smith said.

New President of the Santa Fe Railway Company's Far-flung Rail Empire is E. J. Engle, Above, Whose Appointment to Fill the Vacancy Caused by the Death of Samuel T. Bledsoe, was Announced Last Week. Advice that the Works Progress Administration had approved allotment of $23,228 to maintain and operate sewing rooms throughout Floyd county was received last week-end by County Judge G. C. Tubbs from Senator Tom Connally in a telegram from Washington.

"The project is now eligible for operation at the discretion of the state works progress administrator," Judge Tubbs was advised in the telegram.

Since the amount approved is expected to afford funds for operating the sewing rooms at Floydada and Lockney and apparently gives enough financial help to keep both in operation throughout the period of a year, Judge Tubbs was much pleased with the telegraphed information.

The telegram, dated March 29, indicated that formal approval of the allotment for this county had been set up and put into the year's activities funds.

Plans Completed Beef Cattle Tour On Friday April 7

George Barnes, beef cattle specialist, is principal speaker. Plans for the beef cattle feeding tour which will be held Friday, April 7 are completed, D. F. Breadhauser, county agent, announced Wednesday. The members making the tour will gather on the farm of Chas. Viegel at 9:30 o'clock.

At 10 o'clock the party will inspect the feed lots of Ben Brades; from there they will visit the farm of Ben Quebe. The inspection group will again assemble at the Viegel farm at 11 o'clock.

George Barnes, beef cattle specialist, will arrive in Floyd county early Friday morning and will be the principal speaker on this program. R. E. Dickson, superintendent of the experiment station at Spur, has promised to be present and take part in the program.

This program is in connection with the Feeder-Breeder movement which is being sponsored by all industries that are interested in the feeding of livestock. All feeder, breeders and ranchers are urged to be present and a very worthwhile program is being planned. Lumbermen, implement dealers, druggists, bankers, millers, editors and feed dealers are especially invited to be present at this feeder-breeder program in Floyd county.

Mrs. Wilbur Wilson Buried Here Wednesday

Mrs. Wilbur Wilson, niece of Mrs. Fannie Montague, city, whose home was near Silvertown died Tuesday morning in a Plainview hospital. Funeral services were held Wednesday at 3 o'clock in the Baptist church at South Plains, former home of the deceased, with Rev. Charlie Joiner in charge of the services.

Burial was made in the Floydada cemetery.

Mrs. Wilson was born November 14, 1898, in Jones county. She made her home at South Plains for the past 15 years until about 6 months ago.

Besides her husband, deceased is survived by two children, Wanda Mae, 8 years old, and Wilbur Troy, 5, two sisters, Mrs. L. N. Yantis of Stamford and Mrs. Bert Copeland of California; two brothers, Luther Campbell of South Plains and Homer Campbell of Amson. All were here for the funeral.

Mrs. Montague and R. A. Garrett were among those who attended the funeral.

Mrs. Price, Former Resident Floydada Buried At Plainview

Funeral rites for a former resident of Floydada, Mrs. J. A. Price, 66, were held at 3 p. m. Wednesday at the First Baptist church at Plainview officiated at by Rev. J. Pat Horton assisted by Rev. G. I. Brittain. Interment was made in the Plainview cemetery beside her husband who died nine years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Price and the only surviving child, Dewey Price moved to Plainview from Floydada in 1921. They operated a grocery business there.

Surviving relatives other than Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Price, of Plainview are Mrs. J. S. Rowland of Harrison, Arkansas, a sister and R. Felton, of Mariana, Arkansas, a brother of the deceased.

Death was attributed to a heart ailment.

New Golfing Club Takes Shape, Many Members

Prospects for a new golfing club located near Floydada seem to be considerably brighter at this time, Wayne Gound and Hal Hay said early this week. The new golfing club, yet unnamed, has enlisted some 23 members already and has several more on the promised list.

The grounds, located about 1 mile from the city limits on the Ralls highway, have been leased and work is expected to begin this week on the course. The course will have nine holes and it is hoped that playing can begin on April 15 at least.

Matched games by the club are to be arranged with Matador, Ralls, Crosbyton and other nearby towns to begin soon. Considerable enthusiasm has been met by the organizers.

"Two Consumers Per Mile" Is Required By Rules, Supt. Chapman Announces

Testing of the Floyd County Rural Electric Co-op lines will likely take place on April 10, L. W. Chapman, project superintendent said this week. Whether or not the "juice" will be left on after the testing of the line depends upon the number of customers ready to receive the power, Chapman said.

Only approximately 100 homes had been inspected by the Deputy Fire marshal up to Monday morning of this week. The government requires that at least two patrons per mile of line be ready for the power before it can be left on. If this average is not reached by the time the test is made the electricity must of a necessity shut off until that average is reached, the superintendent said.

It is believed that 30 or 40 houses are expected to be completed this week. Transformers and concrete have been set and steel work is expected to be completed this week for the Allmon substation. Chapman said that everything was going according to schedule and that he hoped that enough customers would be ready for the power on April 10 to warrant leaving it on.

Plans for the April 15 co-op meeting are going forward with one well known speaker already contacted. A number of electrical appliances will be given away by merchants during the meeting, Chapman said. The purpose of the meeting is to have a "family get-together" for all users of REA power. An election will be held at that time and other official business will be attended to.

The complete program for the meeting will be announced next week, Chapman said. Several important speakers are likely to be here for the occasion.

McCoy Farmers Form One Variety Cotton Organization On Thurs.

Sixty-nine farmers of the McCoy community met Thursday, March 30, and formed one-variety cotton organization. W. E. Ferguson, H. L. Hartzell, and S. L. Holmes were elected committeemen to make a thorough study and give recommendations as to improving the grade and staple of the cotton raised in that community.

At this meeting it was estimated that 100 per cent of the cotton-acreage planted in the community for the 1939 harvest would be cotton of the one variety of 80 farmers operating and raising something over 4,000 acres of cotton.

John Gray, local ginmer was named by the organization as an ex-officio member of the committee to work on the improvement plan. This movement will give farmers of this community access to the farm government classification and all cotton under this classification put into the government loan will not be subject to reclassification. These grades will be accepted as final.

This is the third one variety cotton community to be organized in Floyd county this year.

Bob Medlen Elected President Of School Board Tuesday Night

Bob Medlen was elected as president of the Floydada school board for the coming year at the meeting held Tuesday night at the high school. Mal Jarboe was re-elected vice-president and O. P. Rutledge was elected secretary. The board re-elected Jim Houston to serve as secretary and assessor and collector of taxes in the Floydada Independent School district.

Members of the board now are Bob Medlen, Mal Jarboe, Mrs. Jim Wilson, O. P. Rutledge, Mrs. Geo. Lidner, M. L. Probasco, and W. G. Collins. Mrs. Lidner and Mr. Rutledge were elected to the board Saturday.

The election of teachers was postponed until Friday night when the board will reconvene to take care of this business. The regular meeting date has been changed from the first Monday of each month to the first Tuesday of each month.

Flu Victims Improving

Robert Smith, proprietor of the McCoy store has been considered quite ill with flu and a slight attack of pneumonia. Latest reports are that he is much improving.

J. C. Wester, O. M. Watson, Mrs. R. Fred Brown, Mrs. Maud Burrus and Mrs. Victoria Asher are all reported improving following illness the past week.

One Year Ago Big Freeze Hits Here

One year ago today, beginning at 3 p. m., the worst day-blizzard, April freeze in the memory of the old timers swooped down on the Panhandle and Plains country. The finest wheat prospects in many a year were wiped out in the first two days of the freeze. Ice and flying snow and sleet covered trees and tender wheat stalks, breaking both and causing untold damage. Old timers gave considerable thought to the matter but could recall no freeze in April that was so severe. Of course there have been worse freezes but none came quite so late or caused the damage the late freeze caused.

Yessir, if you lived on the plains in April last year, you saw Old Mother Nature carving out a place in Plains history.

Plainview, Floydada Bowlers Meet Thurs. Night At Club Here

Plainview pin topplers will invade Floydada Thursday night at 8 o'clock to do battle with a select team of Floydada bowlers on the Floydada Bowling club alleys.

Donald "Wimpy" Thomas, Bloddy Finley, "Long John" Smith, Walter Hale, and Bill Dally will do the routing for Floydada. At this time Thomas is leading the high scoring with a 214. The other boys are consistent 200 men and should give the Plainview team a run for their money.

Bowling fans are invited to be on hand for the meet. Plenty of seats are available for visitors.

Bill Hodel, owner of the club, announced Wednesday that "ladies night" would be held at the club on Tuesday night beginning at 8 o'clock. Floydada women are invited to be on hand at that time to try their hand at the pin toppling game.

Spring Football Is Begun Here Monday

Spring football practice began this week at Floydada high school with some 25 boys reporting, a number of them entirely new men from the sophomore and junior classes. Several veterans were conspicuous because of their absence, including Lidner, Golightly, Patterson, and other boys from the 1938 team.

Work was begun immediately on the tackling dummy and the crop of aching and sore muscles was expected to increase rapidly. The boys were working with a vim and if they all "stick" the prospects for a strong team next year will be considerably brighter. All of the boys reporting are large enough to stand contact and take care of themselves.

Spring practice began at Lockney on Monday with over 40 boys reporting. The Longhorns again loom as the team to beat for the district title. Considerable rebuilding must be done by Coach Leo Cooper but it seems that replacements will be available for most of the spots. Lettermen will be located at the vital spots of guard and backfield but a new center, tackles, and ends must be found.

Snow, Rain, And Hail All Hit Floyd Co

"Freak" Weather Of Last Year Is Recalled As History Repeats Itself

Floyd county had rain, hail and snow this week in a storm period that opened Tuesday afternoon to give portions of the east plains excellent seasons, and this morning at 9 o'clock heavy snow was falling in Floydada.

Floydada was in the area of the heavy hail storm that north of town was just a good rain Tuesday afternoon. One-half of an inch to 2 inches of moisture were reported from over the county.

Wednesday found the plains area covered with billowing clouds that kept the residents with a weather eye upon the sky. These clouds threatened most of the morning finally breaking into a light rain about 11:30 a. m. and later into a heavy downfall that registered 1 inch in town.

With the wind remaining in the northeast after the Wednesday threatening clouds continued to hover over the area. This morning light rain, sleet, and snow began to fall, breaking into a heavy fall of wet snow about 8 o'clock.

West Texas Gas company thermometer showed that high temperature for Wednesday was 58 degrees and the low was 35 degrees. The temperature had fallen to 27 degrees at 8:45 this morning.

The weather calls to mind last year's blizzard which hit Floyd county at approximately 3 p. m. on April 6. The extreme weather brought sleet, snow and freezing rain which destroyed fruit trees, wheat, and caused some losses to live stock. The temperature dropped to 19 degrees on April 8, one year ago.

The late blizzard last year was registered by many as a "freak" and not likely to happen again in "twenty years..." but this morning many predictors of Plains weather were seeing the weather repeating history along almost the same lines of last year... many doubt that the damage will be so severe since the temperature change has been more mild and most of the shrubbery and crops are covered with moisture from the rain and snow.

Prominent Churchmen Of Area To Take Part In Afternoon Program

The new church home of the congregation of the First Christian church in Floydada will be dedicated at a special service Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, when Rev. W. P. Jennings, pastor of the First Christian church at Plainview will deliver the dedicatory sermon, and Patrick Henry, of Fort Worth, state secretary of the brotherhood, will formally pronounce the dedication of the building for the members.

Rev. Joe Frederick, of Spur, and Judge E. L. Pitts of Lubbock will be among the prominent churchmen of the area participating in the dedicatory service.

Formalities of the hour will include the formal presentation of the completed building to the congregation by Marvin English, and the building will be accepted on behalf of the congregation by J. C. Wester, chairman of the building committee.

Six of the charter members of the church will be among those present for the dedicatory service when the building is formally received. They are Dr. V. Andrews, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Fawver, Mrs. R. H. Willis, Mrs. J. D. Starks and Mrs. Dora Reagan. Thirty years is the record of service credited to the old building of the First Christian church congregation. It was built in the spring of 1909 from enthusiasm growing out of a revival meeting in the fall of 1908 by Rev. Hamlin. The revival was held in the old Methodist church building that was located, at that time, at the intersection of Main and Virginia streets.

As early as 1901 the church has had an organization. Meeting first in the homes of the members, at

Accidental Discharge Of Pistol Injures 5-Year-Old Last Friday

Marion Martin, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Martin, who was accidentally shot last Friday morning, is recovering this week from his injuries with no complications set up to date.

Physicians feel that he will be well soon.

The pistol was a 32 automatic and he and his brother Jennings were playing at home at the time of the accident.

The wound was dressed at Floydada Hospital & Clinic.

Mrs. Lidner, O. P. Rutledge Elected As Board Members

Mrs. Geo. A. Lidner and O. P. Rutledge were elected members of the Floydada Independent School District board Saturday in the election held to choose successors for Dr. C. M. Thacker and J. B. Turner, whose terms expire with the election and qualification of their successors.

Hold over members of the board are Walter Collins, presently serving as president, M. L. Probasco, Mal Jarboe, Robt. Medlen, and Mrs. J. M. Wilson.

Balloting Saturday largely revolved around the names of Mr. Rutledge, who led the ticket with 173 votes. Mrs. Lidner with 134 votes and Dr. C. M. Thacker, 113 votes.

J. B. Turner, retiring member, asked that his name not be considered for re-election and Dr. C. M. Thacker was a receptive candidate only. Others for whom votes in considerable numbers were P. F. Bertrand who received 43 votes and Lorin Leibfried 19 votes. Turner was given 11 complimentary votes. Scattering vote was given to several citizens of the district.

J. T. McLain And J. F. Dollar Re-elected To Co. Board

According to incomplete returns reported at the county school superintendent's office J. F. Dollar and J. T. McLain were re-elected as members of the Floyd county school board.

Mr. McLain represents commissioners precinct No. 1 and Mr. Dollar was elected from precinct No. 2.

SUNRISE PRAYER SERVICE

Easter sunrise prayer service will be held at 6:15 o'clock Sunday morning at the new building of the First Christian church. The theme of the service will be "What Easter Should Mean to a Christian."

Individuals whose names appear on the program are Miss Myrtice Meador, J. C. Wester, Mrs. J. N. Johnston, Miss Ruby Tribbie and W. Ed Brown.

The early-morning Easter service has been a custom of the congregation for many years. The schedule of other services of the day include Sunday school 9:45; Easter message by the pastor at 11 a. m.; dedicatory service 2:30 p. m.; baptismal service 8 p. m. and young people's meeting at 7 o'clock.

Editorial

TO THE CONTRARY NOTWITHSTANDING

The Hesperian climbed out on a long limb weeks ago to venture the suggestion that no tax measure of any kind might be passed by the present long session of the legislature. This, we think, may still stand good, despite the governor's declarations on Sunday mornings and the thousands of letters the members of the legislature get on Tuesday following.

The point that some citizens overlook is that when you shoot with a blunder bus or a sawed off shotgun everybody understands many individuals may be missed. And, accordingly, the huzzas for the program are immediate and wholesale. But when you put on a choke barrel and aim closer to home the tone of the acclamation changes from howls to growls. If "they" pay the bill we approve. If "we" pay the bill we do not approve. The governor can broadcast every half-hour and still not make me (and you) want to like it if you and I are scheduled to have our necks cut off.

Because you haven't changed human nature yet, we venture that no tax measure will pass the legislature in this long term, but if we are wrong and such a measure does pass, it will be a mild one indeed. We are getting down close to home with this tax business.

TEXAS COULD WHIP WISCONSIN

Texas could whip Wisconsin in the dairy industry as easy as easy.

The only reason this state won't do that very thing is that our people will not make up their minds to it.

At this time Texas is number 4 in the United States in the number of dairy cows but number 42 in production per cow.

Incidentally the state is far below the average of the nation in the consumption of dairy products.

And yet we wonder why Texas, with all its wonderful natural advantages over most of the rest of the world does not assume leadership. The answer may be that our people do not want to pay the price for leadership. Texas could whip Wisconsin but Wisconsin is pretty well certain Texas won't even try it.

THOUGHTS FOR DAIRYMEN

Developments from a national standpoint make it necessary for the dairy industry to face four big issues, says an authority on the production and sale of butterfat. These issues include:

- 1. The production of milk and dairy products to sell to poor people;
- 2. Competition with a horde of substitute products;
- 3. Cut the cost of production; (the survival of the fittest will be the answer on the farm and in the factory);
- 4. Produce a quality product.

ECONOMY MINDED LEGISLATORS

Speaking of taxes, The Hesperian management and the management of many other small businesses are indeed gratified that we have an economy-minded legislature and congress this year.

Reading of our economy-minded representatives at Austin, we note that they are determined—grimly it might be—that the tax bill for Texas business shall not be increased this year over $25,000,000. They may even hold the increase down to $20,000,000.

All very fine. Just suppose they were not economy-minded, what might happen!

ON COUNTING TEN

The story of the little boy who decided to take his elder's advice and count ten before he let his temper get the better of him illustrates the resoluteness with which we have decided not to be mad about taxes.

Recently completing an income tax report which we do hope does not fly back for re-doing, but which probably will. The Hesperian, a little hole in the wall sort of business, reported on eleven—count them—different kinds of direct taxes, for which checks were issued and receipt taken, some of them paid monthly, some quarterly, some yearly. Actually, one person in this office spent more than two months in the twelve of 1938 making out reports and paying the eleven taxing authorities who had legal claims against us. All along a lot of indirect taxes were accumulating and being paid—or charged.

We call on Mr. Tarwater and Mr. Nelson, Mr. Mahon and the Messrs. Connally and Sheppard to witness, that, while we think it is a shame and a disgrace and intolerable, insufferable and unendurable; dreadful, formidable, alarming, frightening, shocking and nefarious—having counted ten—we maintain our good humor. We are not mad.

But one can keep in a good humor and still hunt for more adjectives.

NATURE HAS A WAY

Nature has a way of preserving balance that, when man intervenes, is sometimes thrown out of plumb in ways you'd hardly expect.

As for instance, years ago it became the thing, the law, in fact, that one must not permit prairie dogs to grow on his land. And now that the prairie dogs have been so greatly diminished the grazing land is beginning to be taken by the mesquite trees. The cow man's worries have been added to materially this way.

In the battle between prairie dogs and mesquites the prairie dogs had the better of it, biting back the tender mesquite shoots early in the spring and retarding growth. But now, their enemies gone, the mesquites multiply.

PROTECTING WILD LIFE

Protection for wild life has also brought about a change that is interesting. Game preserves in which one could not hunt freely with gun and dog, have become the happy home of an increasing number of coyotes, bobcats, civets, pole cats and what not. Even opossums have multiplied in a brief two or three years almost beyond belief, in the rough places, canyons, and even out on the prairies where there is some type of protection.

With the increasing quail and game bird population these others also have come along. Nature will have her way, whatever puny man may do. It is a lesson, perhaps, in persistence.

THE PRETTIEST GOLF COURSE

Whose community in northwest Texas has the prettiest golf course?

Some, we'd say, have prettier courses than the Floydada Country club but none have a prettier natural layout and a more "sporty" one. Some of these days the members of the club will undertake to develop its possibilities. When they do this the prettiest golf course in northwest Texas will be at Floydada.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

(By Nellie Witt Spikes)

Every day for a week there has been something different. Rocks were hauled from the canyon hills and a new fence across the west side of the yard was made. Somehow these rocks bring a part of the canyon to me. They tell me of the time, of the Indians who shouted war cries from the hills, of dark brown mothers who sang strange lullabies to tiny black eyed babies. They whisper of cowboy romances and of a swift turning lariat and the smell of burning hides. They bring the roar of the thundering feet of the thousands of buffalo as they rushed over the unbounded green prairie blending against the blue heavens. They saw the world carpeted with an endless expanse of curly mesquite grass. Some of them might have been the seat of some of Coronado's ragged tired men as they hunted for the silver and gold that Spain wanted so badly. Just a plain stacked rock fence to some, but history romance and love to me.

On the top of my fence are the rocks given me. Only last week a little brown haired, black eyed boy brought me three. From his Uncle's home near Lexington, Oklahoma, they came. Two pink ones that have the shape of a rose, the other a white one. This little boy is Harvey Dale Tardy. We had a nice visit, he and his pretty aunt Clara and I. He told of his new baby sister, Dorothy Lanette. Said he needed new bearings in his little red wagon so he could haul her around. Come again Harvey Dale and bring that new girl.

Went to Lubbock to a shower given my niece who married T. Graves recently. I was late and arrived at the door with my gift. Dropped my purse on the floor, other wise made it all right.

My mother's brother Frank Jones of Corona, New Mexico was a visitor in our home the week-end. His home is in the mountains where stately pines and pinons march up the steep slopes, where quaking aspens quiver when there is no breeze. Uncle Frank has hauled rocks and made his home, a barn, a blacksmith shop and a rock cistern. What a job for two hands to do.

He has walked over the mountains and down the valleys to carry the word of God. Put up huge mills so that water could be had for the ranchers. Water is scarce and deep in that country, from five hundred to one thousand feet the drillers go. To let you have an idea of what water costs mean to these people here are some figures. The drilling of the well starts at $1.50 per hundred till a certain depth is reached twenty five cents is added the next hundred then seventy five cents more put on till the bottom is reached. There has to be casing all the way eight and ten inch, a forty foot length that costs $100 for making. The material is gotten at the saw mills. The corner posts are 12 by 12, the other part of the tower in proportion. Huge 16 foot wheels costing around $500.00 turn in the mountain wind. I figured the

FLOYD COUNTY 14 YEARS AGO

News items taken from files of the Floyd County Hesperian published in Floydada, Texas, fourteen years ago.

(Issue of April 9, 1925)

Any doubt that Floydada's first Monday would go off with a bang, was dispelled long before noon Monday, April 6, and by night evidences that the widest trade territory Floydada has ever reached had sent people here from six or eight counties was dispelled. It was the biggest, most representative crowd ever in Floydada on business. Estimates vary from four thousand to five thousand visitors.

All citizens of the county who are interested in the proposition of placing a bounty on jackrabbits, either for or against the proposition, are invited to meet the commissioners' court on Tuesday afternoon of next week, April 14, at 2 p. m. The proposition will be presented to the court at that time.

B. J. and B. L. Dooley have bought the Awtry Grocers and Produce company, southwest corner of the square, on south side and have taken charge of the business. They will continue the store at the present location under the name of Dooley Bros.

Seale-Robbins Dry Goods company are highly pleased at their opening business in Floydada. Their doors were first opened Monday morning of this week.

Floydada, Sand Hill and Fairview were winners in the Class A, Class B, and rural school divisions respectively in the Intercholastic School Meet and County School Fair held last Friday and Saturday.

Jeff D. Ayres, C. R. Houston and J. V. Daniel were elected trustees of the Floydada Independent School district in Saturday's school trustee election, each receiving a majority of the votes cast.

Mrs. Edgar Jones accompanied by her son Fred and Buster Eubank, are enjoying an outing in New Mexico. They were in Hot Springs, the southern part of the state the last of last week.

Several business firms in Floydada have begun applying paint and otherwise brightening up their business premises in a general spring cleaning.

cost of a five hundred foot well, the amount was near two thousand or more dollars.

It made me think and appreciate our plains water more than ever. We take it so for granted. Of course I have always been aware of the fact that water was a problem for a great deal of the world, but as I have always lived here it had become so commonplace to have an abundant supply of good, pure water, I never gave the rest of the world's problem any attention till lately.

Uncle Frank told of the cowboy who came to Crosby county from Kentucky in early days. Shirley said he took a good bath before he left home to come west. After ten years spent in chasing little doggies, he had had no need of further washing. He decided to go back to his home state on a visit. He carried an old black wash kettle up the steep hill to the spring, got mesquite wood and soon had a kettle of water hot enough to take the prairie dirt off of any old cowboy. The soap was ready to do its full duty. Off came the old cowboy's pants and shirt, he gave himself a look over, saw that he was not dirty, dressed, kicked over the pot of hot water and walked down the steep hill with the heavy iron pot and the bar of unused soap.

Uncle Frank says he will always hate white pants. His mother made him a pair of white linen, he felt like he was in his underwear. When they got to the place where they were to visit, he sat down in a mud puddle and changed the color of his pants.

Mrs. Davis, of Lockney, and I had a nice visit in the back of a store last Saturday. Her feet hurt and my knees were painful with rheumatism. We talked of these and those good old days of sewing and gardening. Well, some of you who read this are women and know the general run of conversation between two women.

Uncle Frank told me I could cure my rheumatism by never grunting or telling anyone about it. Some people like to take all the pleasure out of ailments. Sounds to me like he and my husband must have talked this cure over with one another before advising me.

Do you like your music jazzy, and do you feel that classical music is only for highbrows and sissies? Then you have a wiser sense of musical values—a sense that has been bred into you by several generations of superrhythmic American music. Recent experiments conducted in the jungles of Africa reveal that savages who had never been "educated" to appreciate jazz and jitter became enraptured when classical numbers were played. They turned away in neutral disgust when fast-stepping modern music hit their eardrums.—Scurry County Times

'Dawn Patrol' Air Thriller Of Aviation in World War

'Must Be Seen' Picture Coming To Palace First Of The Week

Right up on top of your "must-be-seen" list goes "Dawn Patrol," Warner Bros. thrilling document of British wartime aviation, which opens for preview Saturday midnight and will be shown Sunday night and Monday. The great cast headed by Errol Flynn and including David Niven, Basil Rathbone and Donald Crisp, plus some of the most breath-taking aerial combat scenes ever taken, all serve to make "Dawn Patrol" one of the more important offerings of the season at the Palace.

Death in the Sky lurks in wait for the brave British aviators, whose dramatic story is told in "The Dawn Patrol," Warner Bros. production starring Errol Flynn, which will have its local premiere at the Palace Saturday midnight, Sunday and Monday.

'Ice Follies Of 1939' In Technicolor

Breath Takingly Beautiful Picture Has Joan Crawford In Cinderella Part

Back to the type of role in which she rose to stardom comes Joan Crawford in "The Ice Follies of 1939" which will be shown at the Palace Theatre Thursday and Friday nights of next week, April 13 and 14.

A picture designed for the entire family, "The Ice Follies of 1939" has "everything." There are breath-takingly beautiful Technicolor skating scenes for those who like pageantry in the films; a story with a Hollywood background and intimate glimpses into studio life; original songs destined to take first place on the popular poll lists of the country.

"The Ice Follies of 1939" deals with the story of a team of fancy skaters, portrayed by James Stewart and Lew Ayres. When Stewart marries Joan Crawford and adds her to the double act, trouble ensues. The loss of a job in a skating rink causes the girl to seek employment on her own and because of her unusual voice she lands a film contract and signs it before she notices the "no marriage" clause buried in the legal terms. The three finally drift apart. Stewart to seek backing for his dream of staging an Ice Follies, Ayres to one night stands in skating rinks, and Miss Crawford to film stardom.

Not in several years has Joan Crawford appeared to better advantage and her singing voice, featured for the first time, will undoubtedly be heard in future pictures. James Stewart, as Larry Hall, Miss Crawford's husband, proves his position as one of the screen's most popular leading men. Simple, natural, sincere, he makes the most of every scene. In line for more honors comes Lew Ayres as Eddie. Ayres' ability to mix comedy with pathos has never been more fully realized.

Elaborate ice spectacles feature the original Ice Follies Troupe.

Specialty and group numbers, executed on wet ice to give a mirror effect, are breath-taking in their beauty. This is especially true of the Indian Ballet which features, in addition to champions Roy Shipstad and Bess Ehrhardt, a chorus of twenty-four girls.

Floydada Black Buffs Play Quitaque Sunday

The Floydada Black Buffs, local Negro baseball team, will tangle here Sunday afternoon with the Quitaque Black Panthers in what is probably the first matched baseball game on the plains for the season. The game will be held in the park in the northeast part of the city with a free gate. The Black Buffs have been practicing and are already counting the Panthers as defeated. Last year the Buffs had some trouble with an "erring" outfield and second baseman but this is probably remedied, whether for the better no one can say. Comedy as well as baseball is sure to crop up at every turn at bat. The colored boys ask that when the "hat is passed" that fans help them out as these visits must be repaid during the season and it costs some money to do that. No admission is charged and the boys depend upon donations to send their own team visiting. Everyone is invited to be on hand for the game Sunday afternoon.

Fairview News

FAIRVIEW, April 3.—Rev. A. C. Huff of Plainview, district missionary, preached at the Baptist church Sunday night. SERVEL Electrolux is different from all others . . . because a tiny gas burner does the work of circulating the refrigerant in its freezing system . . . taking the place of moving, wearing parts.

As a result, Servel Electrolux is permanently silent.

In addition, its different, simple freezing system offers other advantages which you cannot get in any other type of automatic refrigeration . . . continued low operating cost, for instance, and freedom from wear that means more years of dependable, carefree service.

More than a million Servel Electrolux refrigerators are serving silently and economically—many of them as long as 12 years . . . and users say a newly-installed Servel can quickly pay for itself in the savings it effects on food alone.

Before you buy any automatic refrigerator—whether it be your first, or to replace your present one—learn why more and more people every year are changing to Servel Electrolux, the silent gas refrigerator. It's "the refrigerator you hear about but never hear!"

PURCELL'S Spinal Column

HOW LONG WILL IT TAKE ME TO GET WELL?

The answer to the above question can only be approximated, and that, too, in strict conformity to health rules, rigidly followed.

To be sure, no one will expect until spinal adjustments have had time to remove spinal nerve tension which may be causing your trouble. Therefore, no exact date can be set for the very obvious reason that there are too many factors involved. Briefly, the time of getting well will be in direct proportion to the time that you have been sick, also the nature and severity of the trouble when coming to me for adjustments.

You, probably, could greatly assist me as your chiropractor by coming to my office where a full explanation can be given. Doubtless, a spinal examination would be a fair index to your present condition as well as to the possible time that it might take to get well. Next subject: "WHAT CHIROPRACTIC IS NOT."

P. S. Be sure and keep in mind that they do get results by my ADVANCED SYSTEM OF CHIROPRACTIC.

FLOYDADA HIGH SCHOOL WINS MEET BY FIVE POINTS

Volley Ball, Jr. Track Give Small Margin in Events

Lockney Wins Senior Debates And Senior Track in Hard Fight For Points

Floydada high school garnered a small quantity of revenge and some happiness out of the current year by winning the Floyd county interscholastic league from Lockney by the narrow and almost inevitable margin of 5 points. Floydada made 126 1/2 points to Lockney's 121 1/2 points.

Floydada's margin of victory came only after the Floydada volleyball girls had pulled an upset and won their first volleyball title in a long number of years. Even with the volleyball victory Floydada was due to lose unless they won junior or senior track.

Senior track was a nip and tuck affair until Lockney turned loose their speed demons on the Floydada track to pile up a margin of 18 points.

FOUR SCHOOLS TAKE PART IN 4-H PARADE, LUBBOCK

Four school communities participated in the 4-H and FFA parade at Lubbock, Wednesday, under the direction of County Agent D. F. Bredthauer.

This parade is an annual affair of the South Plains Junior Fat Stock Show at Lubbock. After the parade, the boys together with their local leaders and sponsors, reviewed the outstanding qualities of all winning animals. The boys also witnessed the auctioning of beef cattle.

Floyd County 4-H boys are planning to send a very large exhibit to the Annual Fat Stock show at Plainview on April 10 and 11. Several entries will also be sent to the Panhandle Plains Dairy show at Plainview, April 18 to 22.

TO THE VOTERS OF FLOYDADA

No Trouble To Grow
Castor Beans, Says
Experienced Farmer

D. E. Welborn, who read the recently printed article in The Hesperian about castor beans, says that farmers who experiment with them will find that they had better have a government contract before they begin experimenting.

"The time to plant castor beans is now," said Mr. Welborn. "They are no trouble to grow, and some times they are a good money crop."

Mr. Welborn was recalling experiences his neighbors had away back in 1893 and 1894, when the castor bean craze went through the county. The first year they were planted the growers realized 10 cents per pound and the very next year one of his neighbors shipped a carload and made a lot of money.

However, the very next year one of the growers had to be threshed somewhat like maize, after they are banded, and make a maize thresher.

Mr. Welborn, who lives 4 miles northeast of Floydada, remembers that there were 2 kinds of castor beans at the time his neighbors planted—a green and a red kind. The green is the kind to plant.

However, if a man has live stock he had better watch out as castor beans are poison to many kinds of animals. As he recalls it 3 will kill a mule, 9 will kill a dog and a "ball" of them will kill a mule.

Nathan Adams, president of the First National bank in Dallas and leader in cotton and oil financing, will celebrate fifty years of continuous service with the bank April 19 to 21, inclusive. Adams went with the bank April 22, 1889, after a few months clerking for the Texas & Pacific railroad in Dallas. His bank, today, is the largest in the Southwest and ranks 60th in the nation.

Interest Shown For Farm Problems, County
Agent Discovers Here

Floyd farmers are becoming extremely interested in their agricultural welfare, County Agent D. F. Bredthauer believes, judging from the large attendance at each of the 22 meetings which were held in this county by H. H. Marshall, assistant agent, and the county agent.

At each of these meetings the economic welfare and the agricultural outlook was brought to the farmers with an explanation of the AAA program and how it applies to the Floyd county farmer in obtaining the maximum payment for his farm.

At each of these meetings farmers expressed their belief that if there was ever a time when community, county, state and national farm organizations were needed it is now.

At a meeting held in the Aiken community Friday night 69 farmers were present. A committee, composed of Tom Weeks, Guy Ramsey and C. W. Ginn, was appointed to confer with local leaders and make plans for a definite community organization, working out a program planning committee and to hold regular monthly meetings. These meetings would consist of discussions relating to agricultural problems, extension and school activities.

Monday night at Erick 40 farmers were present. This community also voted to organize a community organization. Luther A. Hooten, Harold Dollar and Oliver W. Holmes were elected as committeemen to work out a plan for a definite community organization with regular monthly meetings.

The block was donated to the church by J. B. Bartley and wife.

W. A. Gound was contractor for the building. He received the bid at $1300. The lumber was hauled from Plainview by wagon.

The baptistry and pulpit were added several years later under the supervision of the woman's organization of the church.

—Dr. R. C. Andrews, father of Dr. V. Andrews, was a substantial donor both of time and finances, as were others and the church was paid for by members and friends when completed, as will be the new edifice, being dedicated free of indebtedness when completed.

—In 1910 a storm damaged the building and repairs were made by Dr. V. Andrews, John Farris, Sr., and W. A. Gound. Railroad jacks were borrowed for the repair work. The building originally had a porch across the front but in 1923 was removed to make more room on the interior.

Pastors who have served during the past years include Rev. Jewel Howard, first pastor who preached two Sundays a month for a number of years; Rev. Moore, John Matthews, W. T. Cochran, W. M. Pearn, Willis Archer, J. C. Hunt, W. H. Marler, G. B. Schmid, F. L. Davis, Claud Wingo and the present pastor Gordon G. Voight.

The membership of the church at the last census indicated 150 persons.

DANGEROUS COSMETICS HIT BY NEW FOOD AND DRUG LAW

The cosmetic provisions of the new Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act mark an important advance in the protection of the public, says W. G. Campbell, in charge of enforcement. The old law did not include cosmetics and the Food and Drug Administration has not been able to act against dangerous cosmetics, except in a roundabout fashion when manufacturers labeled them with curative claims—a face cream to cure skin ailments, for example— which made them "drugs" and so liable to regulation.

It could not confiscate dangerous cosmetics like "Lash Lure" which blinded users. This was the first product seized under the new law. It could not prosecute the makers of a depilatory such as "Koremilu," containing the poison, thallium acetate, advertised as "harmless" which in some cases caused users to lose hair from the head and eyebrows and might cause serious glandular disturbance. Officials could only warn against these and similar products containing highly dangerous ingredients.

Under the new law all cosmetics except toilet soaps come under regulations. Labels will have to tell the truth. Sponsors will be held responsible. Cosmetics dangerous to users may be kept off the market. This last was regarded as so important that Congress made the ban on injurious cosmetics effective immediately, although most provisions of the act do not go into effect for 1 year.

Misses Vida and Zelta Battey, teachers in the Fritch and Wildorado schools visited over the week-end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Battey.

HURRY!

If Floydada High school is out May 19, there are exactly 3,662,000 seconds until school is out from today at noon.

So you see that the time to get down to business, brass tacks, cases, or what have you has come and little time remains to convince teacher that you know enough to be a full fledged upper classman or whatever you are aspiring to be. The crisis of school work has appeared. At this time of the year, ambition is at an ebb and spring fever has the most avid student in a death-like grip. It is just as Mr. Cummings said in chapel this week: In the spring a young man's fancy lightly turn to thoughts of love. Although Tennyson said it first, Mr. Cummings came in a close second. Several students have altered this opinion to: In the spring a young man's fancy slightly turns from thoughts of books.

So I reckon it is the time to get down the old algebra book, dust it off, and read the contents. The seniors especially should make this six weeks count for something. It is rather necessary that the majority of seniors graduate and there is no time like the present to insure oneself of a cap and gown. Altogether now, let's all study just a little harder for our own sakes and to keep our parents from biting their nails and acquiring any more gray hairs.

BAND GOES TO PLAINVIEW

The Floydada High School band and the Glee club will go to the Band Festival at Plainview, Thursday and Friday to enter in the various contests. There will be instrumental solos, vocal solos, quartets, duets and a number of different contests.

Band directors from colleges and the leading high schools will serve as judges. Director D. O. Wylie of the Texas Tech Band will judge a number of the Floydada entrants in their contests. The results of these contests will appear in next week's edition so keep the band report in mind.

Sophs Plenty Years From Now

"Tonight is the night of Edith's barn dance," exclaimed Leroy Chowning one afternoon to himself. As he climbed the fence around his barn lot his thoughts wandered again. While patting his pet horse's neck he thought, "I wonder if I can find the diary of Edith's that I have been looking for. She keeps all her thoughts and things in it. But I'm sure I can because I saw her writing in it the other night when I was passing by. She was sitting near the window at that old writing desk. I also saw her put it in the small drawer of the writing desk. I wonder who the guy was that Edith talks about so much since she came back from her trip to the 'Beach Resort.' I just have to know if he meant anything to her before I can propose to her myself."

That night at the dance Leroy was anxious to get away to try to find Edith's diary. With so many people present it wouldn't be hard to slip out the side entrance of the barn. He wishes someone would dance with Edith. Usually he is in opposition to this but there are exceptions. A man can change his mind once in a while, too.

Here comes Bertha Lee Jernigan and Derwood Knight. They make a nice couple. Matty Lee Womack and David Kirk seem to be having a very nice time indeed! What lovely red hair that girl has! I do believe its—why yes it is, Eula Barbee, and Gilbert Bambeur is her escort. What a crowd! I see Duane Johnson and Lois Pelps Martha Yearwood and Calvin Hill, Frances Davis and Leon Handley, Jack Smith and Alene Leckie, Louise Willson and Joe Schultz, Bruce Foster and Arlene Pyffe. Oh, well, why try and name them all? The older people of the town term all of us as the up-starts of the town. Well, after all, we haven't settled down yet.

Leroy thinks: "I wish someone would come and dance with Edith so I could leave. Bennie Crawford isn't doing anything at present. I just bet he would like to dance with my partner. Here he comes, hope he wants to cut in. Yes, he does, now I'm on my way." There's Layverne Handley and Robert Arnold sitting in the corner on a bale of hay.

As Leroy enters the house several more cars drive up. He hides quickly so the headlights of the cars don't shine on him. He closes the heavy door behind him with a determined push, after looking to see if anyone was following him, or had seen him. He finds his way from a hall into a small room. Going directly over to a writing desk he opens a tiny drawer. He fumbles with several books and finally comes across a red imitation leather-bound book. Hastily slipping it into his pocket, he leaves the house.

Leroy goes back to the barn dance after depositing the diary in his saddle-bag. He is very miserable during the rest of the party, because he wants to go to his cabin and read Edith's diary. He begins to feel ashamed for taking it when Edith is so extra nice to him.

Now see Leroy riding up to his ranch. A one room cabin on his claim is his home. After unsaddling his horse and taking the diary from the saddle bag he runs to the cabin. He lights a lamp and draws a chair near the crude, hand-made table. He takes the diary and opens the small lock with his knife and begins thumbing through the pages. They are filled with a tiny, ink written scrawl—Edith's adventures, thoughts, obstacles and everyday occurrences.

He reads: Father and mother insist that I take a trip. I have decided where I will go.

I believe I will go to visit an aunt of mine who is going to spend her summer at a Beach Resort. I also want to go to a small island off the coast of Florida. Will leave tomorrow.

I have seen so many beautiful things today. I wish there was more space to write in. I will meet my aunt tomorrow.

Blackman and Janette Bratton.

Today I decided to visit a beauty shop and see if my locks could be helped. Two of the operators were Helen Woodward and Virginia Yoakum. They looked very cute in their blue uniforms. As I walked home from town today, after attending a movie owned by R. S. Daniel and Jack Daily, I saw a lovely lady speaking to a little lad. The little boy was eating a cookie much too fast. Lee Dale Clubb was the lady and she was keeping up her usual doings, making cookies for the neighbors' little children. Trying to make others contented and happy with their lot.

Aunt and I started on today. We stopped for refreshments this afternoon in front of a swell drug store. J. P. Jester came running out to take our order. Imagine seeing him after all these years. I also saw Keith Mason and Fred Lloyd standing near other cars in front of the drug store.

The next town we came to, I wanted to buy me a sports out fit. I had forgotten that item when packed. Norma Harris and Marjorie Duncan I found were designers for sport clothing. Nice job and suitable too! We are spending the night in an expensive hotel tonight. The landladies are Verna Lynn Olson and Eugenia Martin. I also met Maxine Officer in a room across the hall. Bell boys ars Phil Steen, Maurice Steen and Tommy McIntosh. Geneva Connelly was telephone operator, and Wilda Ruth Finley was spending her vacation checking keys.

My aunt and I being very tired tonight, stopped to enjoy a floor show at a well-known inn. On the program was Nelda Pagan accompanying J. L. Nichols and James Wester in a religious duet; Norman Goen in a classical song. V. P. Switzer and Presley Kennamer owned the Inn and were doing very nicely. Later we saw Jr. Thomas behind the bar.

We stopped for gas today at the Three Patterson's filling station in Gordon. Dillon and Russell are making lots of money, but they are bachelors.

On meeting Tommy Griffin as a traffic cop today I asked him about his home life. He told me one of his brothers had married Irene Reagan. He invited me to come to his home, but since his wife was a stranger, I preferred going to see Gertrude Brownlow. I asked her about Juanita Millan and she said she ran off from home and joined a circus as a midgeet. Today while having a new horn put on our car at Billy Joe McPeak's garage, I walked across the street to use a phone and call up an old friend of mine, Ella B. Crabtree. In the air-conditioning shop I found Joe Arwine and David Beck owners and L. H. Smith and James Turner traveling salesmen.

My aunt stopped at the beach. I met Buddy Norman as the owner of the resort. The manager Greer McCleskey was happy writing in his spare time. Douglas Pitts, Royce Turner and Weaver McClure were life-savers. Spending their vacation at this resort, I found Bobby Covington and his family. A very pleasing group. I flew in an airplane today to the boat landing. The pilot was Billy Asher, co-pilot was Leslie Copeland, air hostess was Betty Joe McCleskey. Seated beside me were Bennie Ruth Jackson, and Ellen Brock. I learned that they were both secretaries with the same company.

On the boat I met Captain Brown, or Winston Brown; he was a most charming fellow. Hope I shall see more of him. I also met R. E. Gollightly today. His hobby is collecting stamps and he lives in Brazil, so I promised to send him a few stamps I had saved up at home.

Winson and I played tennis today. I see more of him every day and like him more each time. He is so nice. Gee, I'm getting lonesome already. Wish I could see Leroy. Wonder if he wants to see me? I have been here two weeks today. I am going to leave tomorrow for home. I can hardly wait. I just found out last night that Winston is married, and after all he's said to me. Oh! I hate him so I can hardly wait to see mother and daddy and Leroy.

As Leroy sits at his own desk in his own cabin and reads these words he feels very mean and cheap for doubting Edith's love for him. Edith was too tired to write in her diary after the dance, she will never know that Leroy slipped her diary from her home. He returned it next day without her knowledge and then proposed to her. But as Leroy finishes reading the diary we read with him.

When I got home today I found that I had several letters from some of my friends. One from Nellie Day, who is a well known poet.

Volley Ball Girls Win From Lockney

The contest which Floydada is probably proudest of is the sweeping exciting, glorious victory brought in by the hard-fighting volleyball girls who have worked so loyally every afternoon for just such a game as they played in the meet.

The spectators enjoyed this game as they haven't enjoyed a bout since basketball and football season were finished. Plenty of credit for this championship team goes to the coach, Miss Reba Copeland, who has given her time and talent every day so that Floydada could boast a hard fighting team.

With the strong material both from Floydada and the rural district schools, and with practice as the steady diet, the Floydada volleyball girls will probably go to R. C. A. gymnasium and encounter Dougherty for the county championship. May the best luck go with our team and may Floydada prove her worth as a volleyball champ.

Sophomores Thank Officers

We, the students of the Sophomore class wish to express our feeling toward our sponsors and class officers.

The girls have had two sponsors this school term the first being Mrs. Jones and at the present, Miss Howell. We appreciate the spirit and cooperation that Miss Howell has always had in trying to help us accomplish anything.

So thanks to Miss Howell and better happiness and success to you. The boys have had as their sponsor, Mr. Russell. He, too, has helped us in every way he could and we hope he continues to be as well liked as he is now.

The class officers are president, James Wester; vice-president, R. E. Gollightly; secretary and treasurer, David Kirk.

There are ninety-five in the sophomore class. Fifty-six boys and 39 girls. They are in classes of home economics, agriculture, general science, Spanish and many other subjects.

Chapel

One of the most exciting programs of the year took place Thursday at the regular chapel hour at Floydada High. As preliminary practice for the debaters before the interscholastic league meets, the girl debaters of Floydada, Ruth Simpson and Lola Mae Billington and the debaters of Tulla High school staged a debate on the league question: Resolved: That Texas should adopt a Uniform-Retail sales tax.

Mr. Cummings introduced the debaters, gave a few pointers, and Mr. Davis acted as time keeper for the debates and the rest was in the hands of the debaters. The argument came thick and fast with strong points for each side. Tulla had the affirmative and Floydada the negative. To have a complete debate during chapel hour and to miss two periods was almost too good to be true.

Willson & Son Display The New Economy Model G-E

The biggest refrigeration value offered by the General Electric company in more than a dozen years of refrigeration experience, according to J. M. Willson of Willson and Son Lumber Co. is the 1939 Thrifty-Six model which is now on display.

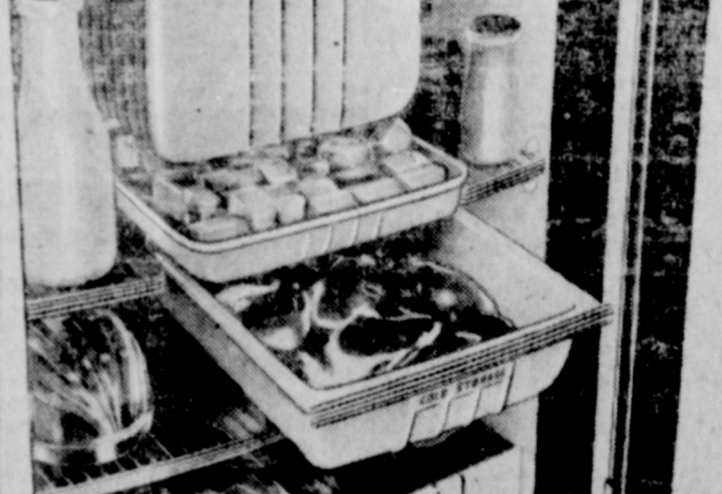

"This particular model of the 1939 G-E line is designed for people who have to watch their pennies—for those budget-minded people who have always wanted General Electric quality in a refrigerator and yet have felt the initial cost to be slightly beyond their means," Mr. Willson said.

"The G-E Thrifty-Six is a new 1939 model. It is of generous capacity—more than six cubic feet—and its appearance will grace any kitchen. True, it is not equipped with all of the convenience features which are standard equipment on other G-E models. This would be impossible at the amazingly low price asked for the Thrifty-Six."

"The Thrifty-Six is, however, powered by the famous General Electric oil cooled and vacuum sealed mechanism just the same as other models in the 1939 line. Its seal-off mechanism carries the standard five year protection plan. The cabinet construction is of all steel, the insulation of thermocraft, just as in the most expensive models in the 1939 General Electric line.

"For more than a dozen years it has been generally conceded that General Electric refrigerators are of top quality. Over this period, General Electric has established an unequalled performance record for sealed machines. For those people who have been waiting for the price of quality G-E refrigerators to come down, the Thrifty-Six is the answer," Mr. Willson said.

Housewives of this area are invited to see the Thrifty-Six now on display at Willson and Son Lumber Co.

Sophs Review All Sporting Events

Last week Mr. Russell, the sophomore boys' sponsor, organized a tennis tournament for freshmen, sophomores and juniors. The winner of the singles will get a medal and the winners of doubles will get a medal also. Boys from the sophomore class who entered the tournament are Donald Cornelius, Norman Goen, Buddy Norman, Keith Mason, James Wester, Junior Thomas, Greer McCleskey, LeRoy Chowning, J. I. Nichols, Joe Arwine, Robert Arnold and Kenneth Bishop.

Mr. Linder is the coach of the junior track. The sophomore boys are LeRoy Chowning, Junior Thomas, Calvin Hill, Robert Arnold and Kenneth Dodge.

In the county meet Friday and Saturday LeRoy Chowning won first place in the following events: 100 yard dash, 50 yard dash, high jump and broad jump.

Gordon Patterson won first place in the mile run. Calvin Hill won third place in chinning.

In the boxing tournaments that were formerly held here, Floydada was represented in practically every weight. The sophomore boys who entered are Benny Crawford, R. E. Gollightly, Kenneth Hodge, Weaver McClure and Douglas Pitts. Some of our boys won and went to other towns to compete.

Cancer Ranks Second In Texas As Cause Of Deaths, Says Dr. Cox

Danger Signals Are Listed Together With Fundamental Rules For Treatment By Physician

AUSTIN, Texas.—The fact that cancer ranks second as a cause of death in Texas, that 4370 Texans died of cancer last year and that the death rate has increased 172 per cent in the last fifteen years makes cancer one of our greatest medical and public health problems," states Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health officer.

Two fundamental rules should be followed in cancer treatment. First, have an annual physical examination by a reputable physician. In this way incipient cancerous conditions can be discovered and by proper treatment the disease can be conquered. The second rule is to steer clear of 'cancer quacks' and 'amazing cures'.

The month of April has been proclaimed Cancer Control Month by Governor W. Lee O'Daniel in a proclamation issued at Austin. The Women's Field Army for the Control of Cancer and the Texas State Department of Health are collaborating in an intensive campaign of education against the disease, the control of which depends above all else on an intelligent and alert public.

Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Williams and son, J. P., and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Morris of Whitewright came here Thursday evening to visit in the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Hamilton. They were enroute home from attending the funeral services in Amarillo of their sister-in-law.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Henry had as their guests over the week-end her brother, Maury Hopkins of Chicago, Illinois, who came Friday and left Sunday morning; Mrs. Henry's sister, Miss Joyce Hopkins of San Angelo and Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Merriott of Wichita Falls.

Tate Fry, teacher of voice and piano at Norman, Oklahoma, came Friday for a visit with his sister, Mrs. G. A. Lider and brothers, R. E. and W. L. Fry. Mr. Fry will make an indefinite visit while he takes a rest.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Henry and son, Jack Hopkins, and Mr. and Mrs. W. Luther Fry visited in Lubbock Sunday afternoon as guests of Mr. Henry's brother, Sam Henry and Mrs. Henry.

Flu Epidemic Hits In Center Community

CENTER, April 4. — The flu epidemic seems to have spread to our community this week as there are several cases listed. They are Bob Bradford, Mrs. Roe Jones and children, Dorothy Anderson, Mr. Collins and son Raymond and Miss Faye Marble. Tuesday neither of the teachers were able to be in the school room. Mrs. Collins substituted for her husband and Mrs. Hugh Marble substituted for Miss Faye Marble.

Rev. Martin filled his regular appointment here Sunday.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Travis Lightfoot Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Leo Frizzell, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Rutledge, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Mankins and Miss Viola Golightly.

Floyd Montgomery was home for the week-end visiting in the home of his mother Mrs. J. L. Montgomery. He returned to school but will be home again the latter part of the week for the Easter holidays.

We are glad to report the condition of Roe Jones, who is ill with pneumonia in a Floydada hospital, is much improved the past few days. He has been ill since Wednesday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Meredith were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Meredith. Other guests in the home were Mrs. C. E. Meredith and daughters Misses Maudie and Vera.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Golightly visited his parents Sunday afternoon. James Peyton Corder fell from a tractor Wednesday and mashed and lacerated his lip rather badly. It is doing nicely at this time however. Muncy community presented a play in this community Tuesday night that was good entertainment.

Miss Viola Golightly spent from Monday until Thursday in Lubbock a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Golightly.

As I See It

Bill Hams

On Easter Sunday afternoon the Floydada Black Buffaloes will open the local baseball season with a game against the Quitaque Black Panthers on the diamond located in the northeastern part of the city.

Last year the Floydada colored boys turned in a better than average season so far as wins and losses are concerned. Baseball fans who saw the games played here still tell of some of the hilarious "errors" made by some of ball players, and some of the bantering and comedy that goes hand in hand with the Negro baseball game.

It is not at all unusual for a fluky bingle to count for a home run because of some terrible ball handling, and on the very next play a "cinch" triple goes for naught on a sensational fielding catch. Yes, anything can happen when the Black Panthers and Black Buffs tangle, but it is a cinch that the spectators will get their money's worth. The gate is "free" but the boys request that fans help them out when the hat is passed since that is their only means of raising money to return the visits of teams... and it does cost some money to run a truck to repay a visit.

Speaking of baseball, Donald "Wimpy" Thomas, soda-jerker deluxe and sport gossip special, has left Floydada to join the Amarillo Gold Sox and his face behind the fountain at Arwine's will be missed. Wimpy will toss them up for the Gold Sox this year, having received his release from an Arkansas league to join the Texas-New Mexico league and the Amarillo club in particular. With hot weather just around the corner, Wimpy will likely do some neat elbowing for the Gold Sox since he says he likes to do his pitching in a blazing sun. Wimpy lost some heart breakers last year but compiled a fairly decent earned-run average for the season.

Floydada fans will get their chance to see Donald in action from time to time either at Amarillo or Lubbock since both towns have a team in the Tex-New Mex league.

Spring football training will begin at Lockney and Floydada this week or next. The Whirlwinds and Longhorns are due to be hotter enemies than ever next fall and everyone in District 4-A will be gunning for the Lockney boys. The extra special thing will be that every team in the district is required to play every other team in the league and all chances of a tie have been settled by the committee... so next year this district should have one champion without a clouded title.

It is a long time until the Fourth of July, yet a great many persons are getting interested in the prospects of a big "to-do" on that date.

The Legionnaires have already contracted for one of the finest amateur circus attractions in this part of the country. The remainder of the program must be worked up by the Lions, Rotary, and Chamber of Commerce and other clubs or organizations.

With an early start and careful planning the celebration should be everything that last year's fourth of July wasn't. It may be arranged so that the Lion and Rotary clubs will have concessions around the square to take care of the crowds. Entertainment for the youngsters should be worked out, bicycle races, sack races, etc. with appropriate prizes might solve this, a street dance with music contracted for a month or so ahead would help entertain a huge crowd. The fire-boys might find a suitable spot for a modern dance with a hot swing band. To avoid last year's unfortunate mishap, Floydada organizations should start early and plan carefully for the fourth. The folks will come if the town will have a good, entertaining program outlined in advance and the right kind of publicity in advance.

There are a jillion things that can be done to entertain people if someone will just think of them and then everyone get on the job and put it over. It will take cooperation and hard work to undo last year's bad impression but Floydada can do that and make the Fourth of July one of the biggest events of the year.

Miss Adeline Foster, who is in the Plainview hospital training for a nurse, spent the week-end with her father, Paul Foster, and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Foster.

MRS. SWITZER IMPROVING

Mrs. V. P. Switzer is thought to be improving nicely since the first of the week from an attack of pneumonia that at first was thought to be serious. She will not be able to be out for several days however.

MRS. LELA LLOYD ILL

Mrs. Lela Lloyd has been in bed for the past two weeks suffering from an attack of the flu. Her condition is thought to be improved Tuesday morning her son, Rev. I. J. Lloyd said.

Rev. Lloyd of Sunray, Texas visited his mother Tuesday and Wednesday.

Mrs. Floy Selsor of Eastland came Thursday for an indefinite visit with her daughter, Mrs. Homer Steen and family.

FRAME GARDEN DEMONSTRATION

Last Thursday the Farm Security administration conducted a frame garden demonstration at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Mangum, of Route 1, Lockney, Texas. The frame garden was constructed under the supervision of home and farm supervisors Mary W. Jones and William T. McKinney. Those attending the demonstration were Mr. and Mrs. George L. Sims, Mrs. R. C. Phillips, H. H. McPherson, Mr. and Mrs. George Danheim, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Collins, Lloyd L. Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Mangum and Paul Mangum.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Martin of Wichita Falls visited from Friday until Sunday with his brothers, J. G. and C. M. Martin and families and his sister, Mrs. W. M. Massie and family.

Trucks are taxed more per $1.00 of cost, or per $1.00 of earning than any kind of property in existence.

The taxes paid by trucks flow first into the coffers of the State and thence into the highways and schools of Texas. Too often this source of revenue is not appreciated by the beneficiaries because of the method of collection. The burden remains the same upon the truck operator, regardless of the method.

Improved Lands, Short Tenure System, Poor People Problems

Successful Farming Most Highly Complicated Of All Businesses, Says Farm Expert

The problems of impoverished lands and poor people, deficient schooling, declining church attendance, and economically unsound communities are closely allied with the short tenure system in American agriculture, in the opinion of Floyd F. Higbee, farm management adviser, in charge of tenure improvements for the Farm Security Administration in Region Twelve.

"The United States," Higbee says, "recently has become alarmed over the rapid depletion of its soil resources. Most research has been centered on land-use adjustment problems and we have often lost sight of the fact that the only reason we need be concerned about these problems is because of their relationship to human welfare and the security of our business life."

"We have become solicitous about the erosion of the soil and have been willing to spend more time and money in correcting it than we have been willing to spend in assisting the human beings living on eroding land to adjust themselves to a new economy where they can attain social and economic security for themselves and their children."

Higbee contends that one of the most direct approaches to a new economy for farm tenants is through long-time leases upon their farms, adequate leases to provide for diversification, soil conservation practices and an all around better kept farm.

In areas where tenancy prevails there are various individuals who annually ask such questions as "Will my farm be for rent next year?" "Will I have a farm to work next year?" "What kind of farmer customers will I have next year?"

Proper farm management, incorporating the different approved farm practices and the keeping of records are other factors Higbee considers to be of vital importance in establishing a sound economic system in rural America.

He believes the day is past when just anyone can farm successfully. "Successful farming," Higbee says, "is one of the most complicated of all businesses and requires considerable managerial ability."

To further assist in stabilizing both the soil and human elements in agriculture, Higbee explains, the Farm Security Administration is sponsoring flexible farm leases for both landlords and tenants. These leases are said to include all of the desirable fundamentals of all good

FHA Plans for Sounder Home Bldg.

Materials Dealers, Realtors, Discuss Details Of Sound Building

Details concerning the eligibility requirements of FHA loans were discussed last Thursday night at a meeting of lumber dealers, architects, contractors, realtors and representatives of financial institutions, newspapers, and utilities with representatives of the Federal Housing Administration.

The meeting was attended by J. A. Riley, Jr., valuator, and R. E. Sikes, mortgage conference representative.

J. M. Willson, of Willson & Son Lumber Company, presided and explained that it is the desire of FHA to inform those connected with the building industry, especially dealers and lending institutions, as to the requirements so that they may in turn inform the people of the community and assist them in making applications for FHA loans.

Wm. H. Clark, Jr., state director of the Federal Housing Administration, recently stated that 9,010 mortgages on homes in Texas have been accepted for insurance, amounting to $3,311,125.00 as of December 30, 1938. He said that October, 1938, showed a volume increase of 271 per cent over 1937 and that indications pointed to a far greater increase in home building during 1939.

Eligibility requirements of the borrower, property and location were explained by Judge Riley, valuator who emphasized the importance of selecting a suitable location or building site with desirable neighborhood features upon which to build a new home.

It was pointed out that a borrower with a good credit rating and sufficient income can obtain an FHA loan for 50 per cent of the appraised value from a private lending institution with whom the government agency agrees to underwrite or guarantee the repayment of the mortgage funds.

The term of the loan, in cases of property valued at not more than $3,000, not to exceed 25 years with maximum interest rate of 5 per cent plus 1/2 per cent mutual mortgage insurance premium on the outstanding monthly balance.

The risks involved in every transaction under the Federal Housing Administration's Insurance Mortgage system are studied and rated from five distinct points of view, a procedure which provides a sound measure of safety for lenders, borrowers, and the mutual mortgage insurance fund, according to Judge Riley.

The anticipated ability of borrowers to liquidate mortgage indebtedness constitutes the "solid foundation" of the proposition, Mr. Riley pointed out. The individual transaction then comes under the study of five separate men who approach the problem of the risk from five separate angles.

Thorough Examination
A thorough and careful examination to determine whether the case really warrants appraisal is first made by a preliminary examiner.

Next, a trained architect analyzes the case to be sure of compliance with minimum construction requirements established by the Federal Housing Administration.

Following that, the security is studied from all economic angles by a valuator who examines the rental value, location and special characteristics of the neighborhood, and marketability of the property. Simultaneously, a mortgage risk examiner investigates the relationship between the borrowers income and the contemplated mortgage debt.

Reports from each of these men are brought together and reviewed by the FHA chief underwriter whose duty it is to measure the over all degree of relative safety which characterizes the mortgage.

Considerable interest in the FHA plan was indicated by the large number of questions asked during the open forum.

Mr. Riley and Mr. Sikes remained in Floydada Friday for the purpose of making informal inspections of proposed sites for residential construction and furnishing information to lumber and material dealers, realtors and representatives of financial institutions.

Frigidaire Engineers Devise 'Meat-Tender' For 1939 Model Boxes

Controlled Circulation Of Air Maintains Color, Prevents Excessive Drying, Sweating

For many decades housewives have known that unless they cover the uncooked meat they place in their refrigerator—either with wax paper or a dish—discoloration will set in within a short time, and the particular cut of beef or pork loses its appearance of freshness. This is one reason why some women often keep these types of meats in the original wrappers that come from the butcher, although it is not considered the best practice.

Sometimes the housewife places the meat either right on top of the cake of ice in an ice box or open on a shelf of an electric refrigerator. In either case, the meat frequently loses its appetizing appearance, and often its tastiness.

For the past several years, scientists and electric refrigeration engineers have been working on the problem of overcoming this condition.

With this thought in mind, a container known as a Meat-Tender has been devised by Frigidaire engineers, a feature which is incorporated in their Master and Cold-Wall series of 1939 refrigerators. It consists of a special compartment, located conveniently under the freezer unit, intended primarily for meat storage. It is designed to perform two important functions in connection with meat storage. First, air circulation is controlled, and second, all exterior surfaces of the meat are exposed to such controlled circulation of air.

In order that the meats do not rest on the bottom of the container, a special bar rack has been provided which allows the controlled circulation of air to surround the meat completely. Special vents in the side of the container permit the proper circulation. Thus, prevention of excessive drying or excessive sweating of meat is provided by such a control of air circulation.

When the Meat-Tender is not required for the storage of meat, it may be used to hold an extra supply of ice cubes, frozen foods and other Golden Text: "But now has Christ risen from the dead, the first-fruits of them that are asleep."—I Cor. 15:20.

16 And Paul stood up, and beckoning with the hand, said, Men of Israel, and ye that fear God, harken:

23 Of this man's seed hath God according to promise brought unto Israel a Savior, Jesus;

24 When John had first preached before his coming the baptism of repentance to all the people of Israel.

25 And as John was fulfilling his course, he said, What suppose ye that I am? I am not he. But behold, there cometh one after me the shoes of whose feet I am not worthy to unloose.

26 Brethren, children of the stock of Abraham, and those among you that fear God, to us is the world of this salvation sent forth.

27 For they that dwell in Jerusalem, and their rulers, because they knew him not, nor the voices of the prophets which are read every Sabbath, fulfilled them by condemning him.

28 And though they found no cause of death in him, yet asked they of Pilate that he should be slain.

29 And when they had fulfilled all things that were written of him, they took him down from the tree, and laid him in a tomb.

30 But God raised him from the dead:

31 And he was seen for many days of them that came up with him from Galilee to Jerusalem, who are now his witnesses unto the people.

32 Be it known unto you therefore, brethren, that through this man is proclaimed unto you remission of sins:

OUR NEW DEAL FOR More And Better Colts

(SEE LAST PARAGRAPH FOR TERMS)

If your mare does not raise a profitable colt we both lose. We can only expect good colts from the best sires. A good sire from superior ancestors will produce better and more uniform colts than the ordinary animal. An inferior sire usually means that the colts will not pay for their feed and care. A badly formed sire will usually produce inferior and unsound colts.

Good colts are the most profitable stock you can raise and will be high in price for years. Be sure to raise good ones. In order to be of more service to you I have attended a school of scientific breeding. The best breeders in every state that have attended the school have actually proven its value to the advantage of the mare owners. The United States government has sent more than 40 students to the school who were engaged in government breeding.

I want to talk to all of my customers on how to prevent a serious disease and other local conditions so that we can raise a higher percentage of foals. I examine all mares so as not to spread disease from one mare to another.

By my new method of testing the semen, mare owners can see the sperm cells that look like wiggle tails in rain water. If a stallion makes a good test it is then up to the mare and her management to raise a good colt. If a stallion is not in a breeding condition or has made too many services there will be no sperm cells or life-giving power. There might be plenty other fluid but that service is of no value.

I use the special pointed breeding capsules and all the modern equipment. This should convince any mare owner that my methods are far superior to the old plan of waiting a year to see if he will get a colt, only taking 120 to 140 days to diagnose pregnancy.

You have probably wondered why many mares did not settle. Many breeders who have attended school have more than doubled their percentage of foals through the mare examinations alone.

I am now in position to make many mares breed that have not been bred. It was emphasized at the school that a public spirited breeder who maintained a good sire and went to a great expense in securing a high class education in that special line should be recognized as a great benefactor in that locality. The man who maintains a high class sire that will double the value of the colts over the ordinary stallion or jack, will add great wealth to that community. The American farmers are just realizing the value of good stallions and jacks.

When a stallion or jack serves a mare that is making a limited number of services there should be millions of sperm cells at every service. It only requires one sperm cell to produce a colt if the mare is in a breeding condition. It is also very easy to get an infection to a good mare and stop a foal. When capsules are used as I have been taught to use them, much time is saved for the mares will not need to be returned so often. Nearly 10,000 of the best breeders have successfully used capsules in nearly every section of the country.

The mare owner can readily see that once this system is adopted a high class sire can be maintained at a smaller fee with less danger to the mare and very little danger of spreading disease. When there are several mares present, a clean, healthy mare can be selected for service to prevent the spread of disease. When the breeder has an advertised hour the mare owner learns that he can get his mare bred at that hour without making dates. When the natural service only is employed the stallion will service every mare which may spread disease. The mare examinations and the capsule method are of great importance to the mare owner. I have learned the most modern methods on these horse-breeding subjects.

I am willing to spend sometime getting these mares to breed, as then they should produce colts regularly and be profitable to you and me, also. To all whom this concerns come, and see the stock or come and see what I have to offer. I am prepared to test our stallion and show you the live sperm cells which will convince my jacks and stallion are fertile and that the capsule method should be employed.

I haul my stock to your farm. My terms, $10 insure foal, $2 cash when first service is made and $8 in 120 to 140 days if foal is showing. Or will give treatment and wait 120 days longer. This is up to the owner of the mare. If you are wanting my services please see me as there are some parts of the country that do not have any service, trying to make dates with me for service. The thing is not to lose a year on your mare if possible. If you breed under the 12 months plan you are apt to lose a year on your mare.

SOIL TESTS BEST USED TO CHECK EACH OTHER

A productive soil is the pride of any good farmer. He knows by its productivity crops it produces, but the chemical element or elements needed in deficient soils is a problem for the soil scientist. The nature and extent of deficiencies can be found by using one, two, or all three test methods—field plots tests, pot tests in the greenhouse, or laboratory tests. The last two are best used when they supplement results of field test experiments.

Specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture look upon field tests as the most reliable means of determining fertilizer needs for any soil. The Department and many of the State Experiment Stations have field plot tests under way on a large number of the important soil types with different crops and different combinations of crops.

It is not possible, however, to have controlled field experiments everywhere. Federal scientists and at least three-quarters of the states use laboratory tests to supplement field observations of soil types and of crops to detect unusual conditions and as an aid in planning and interpreting field experiments. They find that, although chemical analyses show the total of various soil constituents, they may not show the supply available to plants. Special chemical methods are required to show relative amounts of available plant nutrients.

In addition to the tests for soil acidity, the so-called "rapid" chemical tests are widely used to estimate the phosphate and potash requirements of soils. At present these tests are not well standardized. Those most widely used as the ones that correlate best with field tests. Yet even tests that correlate well with field tests on one group of soils may not correlate well with field tests on a different group of soils.

Soil specialists in the Department and in most of the State Experiment Stations use pot tests in the greenhouse largely to determine soil deficiencies of secondary elements such as manganese, boron, and zinc. They are also valuable in the preliminary testing of new fertilizers and new fertilizer mixtures. Through use of pot tests in the greenhouse it is frequently possible to eliminate some field plot tests and concentrate on those most necessary.

FSA AIDS IN REDUCING FARM DEBTS ONE-FOURTH

The farm debt adjustment service of the Farm Security Administration has completed settlements in 80,255 cases since 1935, involving $265,803,668. Reductions of $65,961,643 reduced debts about 25 percent and enabled farmers benefited to pay $4,175,759 in back taxes to local governmental agencies. In many instances where the total debt was not reduced, terms and interest rates were revised.

The adjustment committees have settled indebtedness of 59 group enterprises—such as irrigation, drainage, and diking associations—involving 8,724 farmers and 754,490 acres of land. Debts totaling $13,888,762 were reduced 32 percent.

Officials appointed by the FSA work with local voluntary committees in every state. They study debt problems at the request of either the debtor or the creditor. Each case is considered on its own merits. A farmer with but a $50 equity in a farm is relieved by a $10 reduction as much, comparatively, as a large-scale operator who has his debts reduced by thousands of dollars.

The committee has no authority to force adjustments. It merely brings together the debtor and his creditors, and offers advice on the best means of reaching a mutually satisfactory agreement. There is no charge for this help.

Many farmers contracted debts when prospects were favorable for repayment under terms which are now stiff for them to meet. The farmer faces foreclosure as the creditor, loss of a part, if not all, of his investment. In such cases, a reduction of the principal is sometimes necessary in order for the farmer to retain his farm and the creditor to realize the best return on the loan. Sometimes extensions of changes in the amortization system are all that is needed. Frequently no drastic changes are required. An opportunity for the farmer and his creditors to meet and talk things over with a third party often leads to a better understanding all around.

THIN LAWNS USUALLY NEED FERTILIZING, NOT SEEDING

Every spring thousands of homeowners, recalling that the lawn looked rather thin last summer, scatter seed in hopes that a dense stand of green grass will hide the bare spots.

Experience with lawns and pastures has proved to United States department of Agriculture workers that by far the most frequent cause of thin turf is infertile soil. Grass plants usually adjust themselves to the plant food available in the lawn or pasture. When the grass cover is thin it usually is a sign that there is not enough plant food to feed each member with a lovely cor-

Mrs. Bill Cauley of Lubbock came Wednesday for a visit with her mother, Mrs. A. J. Welch.

Her Mother was very proud of Mary Martin, above, when she heard her for the first time in her song, "My Heart Belongs to Daddy," hit song of the musical comedy, "Leave It to Me." Mrs. Martin is visiting her daughter in New York. The photo is a recent one from the Dallas Dispatch-Journal.

STUDENTS AT HOME

Students who have arrived home this mid-week from Tech college at Lubbock to spend the Easter holidays are: Gerry Gamblin who will visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Gamblin; Hershell, Jim and Ralph Hammonds are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Hammonds; Keith Tye will visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Tye; Ham Smith, Jr. is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ham Smith; Martha Lee McCleskey is to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John McCleskey.

Avon Powell is here from Portales, New Mexico, where he is a student in the New Mexico Junior college.

Irvin Allen and Wilbert Matthews, students in T. C. U. at Fort Worth are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Allen and Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Matthews.

The hero of the story that had been making the rounds is a prominent business man who had the bad luck to be bitten by a mad dog. He was rushed to the hospital for the Pasteur treatment.

While the anti-rabies serum was being prepared, the attending physician noticed that the patient was very busy making a long list of names, and he asked:

"Are those the names of the people you wish to be notified if your condition should become serious?"

"No," said the victim. "This is a list of the people I'm going to bite if I go mad."

Experience to Spare

"I'm not quite certain about engaging you," said the prospective mistress to the applicant for a situation. "You don't seem to me to have had enough experience."

"Experience is it that's troubling you? I should think that 13 places in less than six months, same as I've had, would be experience enough."

Miss Maxine Fry of Littlefield spent the past week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Fry.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank McDuff of Tucson, Arizona, came Tuesday for several days visit with his uncle, Lon M. Davis and Mrs. Davis.

Oden Will Represent Oklahoma City Zone In Chevrolet Meeting

Conner Oden, of the Oden Chevrolet company, will be a member of the regional Chevrolet dealer planning committee which is due to meet in Dallas soon. He will represent the Oklahoma City zone in a conference of dealers of the southwest where used car sales and service policies of the company will be discussed.

Oden spent Monday and Tuesday in Oklahoma City. At that place he was chairman of the zone planning committee in a meeting Tuesday.

He was honored Monday as a member of the 100-car club of the zone.

TOO FEW ACRES IN FARM MAY LEAD TO SOIL MISUSE

One of the big problems in remedying soil misuse is the small farm where the operator often is forced to overwork the soil in an effort to make a living income for his family.

In the Yearbook of Agriculture for 1938, "Soils and Men," it is pointed out that of the approximately 67 million farms in the United States reported in the last census, nearly 37 percent were less than 50 acres in area, and almost half of these produced crops with a gross value of less than $1,000 annually. Their net value was considerably less.

These small areas become farms for several reasons. Often the prospective farm operator can afford only a small place. Promotion and real estate subdivision have lured many people to purchase small holdings on which it is difficult to produce a living. Sometimes a unit too small for family needs is inherited.

Some small farms, with intensive crops such as poultry, fruit, and truck, produce relatively good incomes. Farms of this type, however, are few in number and are not suited to many sections of the country. The majority of small farms are heavily planted to cash and soil-depleting crops. Injury to the soil is not apparent at first, but when it becomes apparent, the damage is done and retreat is impossible.

Any solution to the problem, the Yearbook continues, must be founded on an understanding of the agricultural possibilities of various areas. Within each area are profitable crop rotations and livestock enterprises based upon the best interrelation of soil, slope, climate, labor power, use of equipment, and managerial ability.

FOOD IN TIN AND GLASS

The history and development of the widespread canning industry is illuminatingly depicted in a booklet entitled, "Delicious Foods in Tin and Glass," published by the Santa Fe railway.

The booklet also points to the railway's part in aiding the industry to far flung markets. Attractively illustrated, it carries the reader from the first practical attempt to preserve foods in 1782 down to the present day when virtually every table staple is placed under glass or tin.

ADVERTISED GOODS

People know more about advertised goods than about those which are not advertised. If you ask what is a good thing to buy for some need, people will usually quote some widely advertised article that everyone has heard of. If you ask about some competing article that is not advertised, they will usually say that they never heard of it, consequently they are not likely to
