VOLUME 50

FLOYDADA, FLOYD COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, MARCH 18, 1943

NUMBER 6

Men To Army; Short Of March Requirement

Twenty-three young men of Floyd county, including some married registrants, are leaving this week for the army, the local board announced. This number has passed the physical examination and had been selected into service. Following is the list indicated:

Newell G. Parker, Ted Lee Morrison, Everett Patterson, Melvin Marshall Gilbreath, William L. Hallmark, Alfred Somer Hollingsworth, Raymond Eugene Lawson, Russell Swaffler, John Dewey Cantrell, Noble Ernest, Jesse Ray ward, Marion Van Thornton, and Ralph Winston Gates, all of Floydada.

Sydney W. Brown, H. C. Love, Charles Quisenberry, Claude Thomas Quisenberry, Robert Doyle Raper, J. Damron, Jr., all of Lockney; Bobby Covington of Dougherty; Kenneth Dale Claborn of Sterley; William H. Wharton of Petersburg; and Herman Alfred Floyd of South Plains.

These men, forwarded to fill the county's quota for March, falls short of a few selectees of meeting the quota required. The shortage must be made up as soon as possible, the board has been informed.

WAAC Recruiters Visited Floydada And Lockney

Lieut. Robt. B. Curry, Lieut. Ann Markusch, Women's Army Auxiliary Corps recruiting officer, and Auxiliary Ruth McLeod, were in Floydada Tuesday at the courthouse between the hours of 1:30 and 7 o'clock p. m. and at Lockney in the morning from 9:30 o'clock until 12.

Both the WAAC officer and auxiliary were eager to meet all women interested in joining the corps. Particularly interesting is the fact that Auxiliary McLeod is one of the very few WAAC "privates," as it were, to appear in this area. She gave applicants an idea of how the typical WAAC auxiliary looks, what she wears and how it feels to be a member of the nation's first women's army.

"At the present the West Texas district is far behind in enrollment," LA Markusch, said. "We can't let the rest of the state beat us. I'm sure there are many girls and women in Floydada eligible for the WAAC who will want to join it when they learn what a great service they can thereby contribute to their country's all-out effort for total victory in this war. The president wants and needs 100,000 WAACs by June 1st. Let's don't fall him," she concluded.

BILLY BROWN IS FLIGHT LIEUTENANT AT A. M. SCHOOL OF AVIATION

Billy Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Edd Brown of this city, is evidently making a good record at A. M. College, College Station, where he is an aviation cadet in the army air corps.

The subject of two promotions came entering school there, Brown is now flight lieutenant, leading a class of some 60 cadets.

CAMP ROBINSON, Ark. - Pvt. R. McIntosh, who was inducted recently and whose address in this city is 222 W. Mississippi St., has been assigned for training to the Medical Replacement Training center here. His training will embrace 11 weeks, after which he will be assigned for duty to some Medical Department organization.

Non-Highway Gas Rationing In New Hands

In an effort to relieve the County Price and Rationing board of some of their duties, an arrangement was made with the Department of Agriculture, was put into effect Wednesday morning in Floyd county following orders from the office of Price Administration at Washington.

The new arrangements, that will be exclusively with the processing of former non-highway gasoline applications, will be handled through the County Farm Transportation Committee cooperating with the War Relocation Authority and Rationing board.

The Amendment to the gasoline rationing regulations, effective March 1, are to be computed on established six-months requirements and are to be issued for a six-months period. The amendment was based on the idea of the USDA War board in a position to know the needs of the farmers.

The CPTC is to act upon and receive all applications within three days after receipt or will advise the applicant of the delay and the reasons therefor.

Personnel of the CPTC committee are as follows: Paul Snodgrass, Chairman, C. B. McDonald, V. D. Grier, Cecil Purcell and W. Edd Brown, members.

Training For West Texas Type Of Farming

The First Graduating Class of the initial Farm Workers training center established by the U. S. Department of Agriculture in the southwest is shown here. These year-around workers have been assigned to jobs on farms in Texas and New Mexico. Training centers are being established by the Department of Agriculture in Texas and New Mexico through the Farm Security administration and the State Vocational Agricultural departments to furnish volunteer labor available for production of War-essential crops.

Plans For Permanent Farm Labor Still Question Mark

Although both the Extension Service representatives and the Farm Security administration have laid their plans to be in readiness for any turn of events in the movement for handling permanent farm labor for this county, none of the local officials were in position this week to discuss or make any statement relative to such plans or to say what, if anything, is due to be done.

All questions were answered with the statement that until orders are received to proceed or not to proceed, and policies are settled in Washington nothing would be given out from local sources.

Last week stories emanating from Washington indicated that something big was in the wind and that a large movement of farm laborers from submarginal lands to other sections would be under way at an early date. But although Jason O. Gordon, county agent, and Arvel D. Hays, Farm Security supervisor, have been in several conferences on the matter between themselves and with their superiors, they gave no statement to the press nor, so far as is known, made any official moves.

Last week it was indicated in the Vocational Agriculture department of the state would have a part in the program to furnish year-round labor, but nothing today has been set afoot by this department locally. A statement by Hays last week said that if the demand was sufficient that workers for production of war essential crops would be supplied through his organization's regional office. Livable quarters and healthful surroundings were indicated as two of the requirements that would be made of employing farmers.

This week, however, it appears that plans and policy are still in the making in Washington, with discussions still under way as to methods and procedure.

PHYSICIAN DISMISSES DR. ANDREWS FOLLOWING CHECK-UP AT DALLAS

Dr. V. Andrews and Mrs. Bess Cantrell returned home Tuesday from Dallas, where Dr. Andrews had a physical check-up. His physician said he was much improved and dismissed him from further treatment.

Accompanying them on the trip was Mrs. E. E. Huskey and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Nolan Huskey who went to visit Nolan Huskey who is a Naval flier, stationed at Grand Prairie. Mrs. Nolan Huskey remained for an indefinite visit with her husband.

Application Car License Must Be Made By Apr. 1

Only fourteen days left to get your car license plates, Geo. B. Marshall assessor-collector of Floyd county warns car owners. With the warning also is the fact that you must have either last year's license or a photostatic copy of certificate of title with you before car license can be obtained. Deadline for registration is midnight Thursday April 1.

Only 425 of the possible 2,525 cars of the county have been registered up to Wednesday noon, Marshall said.

Registration this year is different from last year's registration in that the certificate of title must be in the owner's possession. Last year the requirements were met if the owner had in his possession an application for title. One exception to this is owners of 1935 cars that have not changed ownership during the past year.

Highlights Of Meat Rationing Program; Farm Slaughterers Must Collect Stamps, Too

Two points of view on the meat rationing program are highlighted in this week's big food news, viz. that meats, fats and edible oils will be rationed beginning March 29.

First, farmers who slaughter live stock for sale will become subject to the recent order which requires them to get permits from their County War boards. By making such sales he automatically becomes a distributor and must collect either the red stamps in Book No. 2 or ration checks or certificates and surrender the collected points to OPA. This is an official statement as made by the Office of War Information. Likewise butter, which will be rationed will be sold on the same basis. Rationed foods raised by farmers, if used on their own tables, however, are not restricted.

The Consumer's Viewpoint

Second, first news releases have the following as highlights of meat rationing from the point of view of the consumer:

1. Beginning Monday, March 29, housewives will use the red stamps in Ration Book Two to get their family supplies of meats, edible fats and oils, butter and canned fish.
2. Point values will be announced during the week of March 22.
3. These point values will be based on weight primarily, but with differences governed by supply, consumer preferences, and the edible content of the various cuts and products.
4. The official table of consumer point values will list 150 meat items.

One of the first shipments, a small one, of the tires bought, inspected and re-fitted for re-sale as a result of the "idle tire" purchase of the government some weeks ago, reached the market here over the week-end. They were shipped to the Nabors Conoco station and were being shown there.

USDA War Board Takes Initial Steps To Prevent Meat 'Black Market' In Floyd County

Initial steps to prevent a meat "black market" in Floyd county were announced by the Floyd County USDA War Board when the release of Food Distribution Order 26 and 27 was made. These orders become effective mid-night March 31, 1943 and require permits for the slaughter of livestock for sale and permits for dealers and agents engaged in the purchase and sale of livestock.

"Large scale 'black market' operations have made it necessary to control the slaughter of livestock for sale by licensing butchers, local slaughtering plants, and farm slaughterers," a member of the board said. "With the beginning of meat rationing steps will have been taken to make it impossible for the wealthy to buy large amounts at prices higher than the less fortunate can pay, or for persons to get more than their share by going from store to store, thus leaving little or no stock for sale to other consumers. The effectiveness of the black market order will depend upon the support given by local citizens and their determination to see that the orders are carried out."

Farmers who slaughter exclusively for home consumption on their farms are not covered by the order. Farmers are not required to obtain a permit to buy or sell livestock, but are expected to keep records covering purchases and sales of livestock. Individuals engaged in the handling of livestock as a dealer or as an agent are required to have a permit.

After April 1 each wholesale cut of meat must be identified in a plain and conspicuous manner giving the permit number assigned to the local slaughterer, butcher, or farm slaughterer. In the case of meat sold directly to a consumer, the meat will be identified if it carries a tag bearing the permit number.

Each local slaughterer, butcher, or farm slaughterer shall collect ration points and make reports for all meat sold or transferred by him after meat rationing goes into effect. It must be clearly understood that slaughter for home consumption exclusively is not affected by the order but any farmer who sells or transfers meat in any amount is required to have a slaughter permit.

Further information is available at the Floyd County USDA War Board Office (Agricultural Building) Floydada, it was announced.

Funeral Rites For Jack Gilbert At Lockney Wed.

Funeral services for Jack Gilbert, 41, were held Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the First Baptist church of Lockney. Rev. Jaudon Cobb, pastor of the church officiated.

Mr. Gilbert had been ill for several weeks and died Monday in a local hospital following an operation for a ruptured appendix.

A resident of the county since a youth, Mr. Gilbert, made his home with his mother, Mrs. T. J. Gilbert, 4 miles northeast of Lockney. He was engaged in farming.

Survivors besides his mother are two sisters, Miss Ethel Gilbert, chief operator of the Southwestern Bell Telephone company, of Floydada, Mrs. L. C. Hicks of Lockney; and four brothers, Marvin Gilbert, of Lockney; Edd Gilbert of Plainview; Leslie Gilbert of Amarillo; and Franz Gilbert of Lampasas, all of whom were present for the last rites.

Mrs. Lillie Britton of Floydada is an aunt of the deceased.

MARRIAGE RECORD

Licenses to marry were issued by County Clerk Margaret Collier to Fred Morris Bishop and Dorothy Smith, March 11; Arthur Barker Jr. and Muriel Faye Phegley, March 15.

Terms of three members of the board of trustees of Floydada Independent district will expire with the election of their successors at an election scheduled to be held on April 3.

Quota Exceeded In Campaign For Red Cross Funds

Floyd county has far exceeded its quota already in the March campaign nation-wide for Red Cross War fund, R. E. Fry, county chairman, announced yesterday, although he was not in possession of the exact figures.

Assigned a quota of $2,750, Fry said the county's citizenship had not only responded liberally when seen by workers but scores had mailed their donations in or had left amounts at the banks or stopped solicitors on the streets to pay off. "I've never been in a campaign in my experience before in which the workers were so willing or the donors so liberal."

Will Exceed $4,000
That the county certainly would pass $4,000 in the drive and might go higher was Fry's confident prediction. Eight or 10 of the very best communities in the county have not reported as yet, he said, and several of them only partially. In these communities the delay has been incident to committees having time and opportunity to go see their citizenship.

"Apparently there is no 'best' community in the county so far as this campaign goes," Fry declared. "They are all helping to a man, some a lot, some not so much, according to their ability. They don't want any question marks about whether the Red Cross War fund is ample for all needs of our soldier boys. Not only adults but children of the schools are putting in their dimes and nickels and several schools are reporting 100 per cent subscribers to the fund."

Several days will elapse before exact totals will be known. In fact the drive originally was slated to continue for several more days.

Chapter Chairman Clarence Guffee wired midwestern headquarters the first of the week that the quota had been met, and that the campaign was still breezing along and funds rolling in.

Among the communities still to report as late as Tuesday night, but which had reported definite campaign plans, are Allmon, Sand Hill, Pleasant Valley, Lone Star, Prairie Chapel, Irick and Edgin. Also Floydada and Lockney campaigns were incomplete.

For the campaign more than a hundred persons promptly laid down any other activities they were engaged in to work the drive for Red Cross War funds.

Plans For Last Rites Mrs. Dyer Are Incomplete

Funeral arrangements for Mrs. W. M. (Bill) Dyer are incomplete this morning. She died at 11 o'clock Wednesday night at the Pitts hospital following the birth of a daughter Friday, March 12.

The deceased is survived by her husband and three daughters. They are Wilma, Doris and the infant, Martha Angelina; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Chancellor of Shawnee, Oklahoma; four sisters: Mrs. Elsie Bohannon, Talequah, Oklahoma; Mrs. Dorothy Strickland, Mrs. Violet Hutcherson of near Los Angeles, California and Miss Alpha Chancellor of Shawnee; two brothers Jim Chancellor of Brownfield and Glen Chancellor of Los Angeles.

Born Mable Lee Chancellor August 30, 1908, she was married November 24, 1929 to W. M. (Bill) Dyer at Alden, Oklahoma. Mr. and Mrs. Dyer came to Floyd county in 1934 and have made their home here since that time.

Flower Show Will Have New Features

Plans for the annual Fall Flower show with added features were announced by the show committee of the Floydada Garden club at the meeting Friday morning at the home of Mrs. Olin Watson. Final details will be worked out this week and announced to the public in the near future so that those who wish to make entries may plant accordingly. Vegetables are to be added to the entry list and the colored people are being asked to participate in the show.

Mrs. J. D. McBrien, flower show chairman, will be assisted by Mrs. L. J. Welborn, Mrs. G. V. Smith, Mrs. J. M. Willson and Mrs. J. B. Claiborne.

Mrs. E. J. Morehead presided over the meeting in the absence of the president, Mrs. Alton B. Chapman. Mrs. Geo. Smith, leader of the program introduced the subject by reading the poem "Trees." Members answered to roll call with "My Favorite Tree."

So. Plains Dairy Show Plans Get Under Way Here

Committees and executives are at work this week in preparation for the Sixteenth Annual Dairy show that will be held at Plainview April 13, 14 and 15. County Agent Jason O. Gordon has been assigned chairman of the Jr. Boys Dairy show.

Preliminary production tests will start on Monday, April 12 with official tests and production records announced the first day of the show.

Local enthusiasts are looking forward to entries for the annual sale that will be held the last day of the show. Geo. B. McAllister is offering one mature Milking Shorthorn sire and one cow, Williams & Schacht have one heifer that will be in the sale and others are expected from Lerds of Earl Edwards, Clyde Farris, O. L. Stansell and others.

A Victory Round-Up in which the queen of the Dairy show will be crowned, many patriotic features in which students from the Army division school at Plainview will have a part is supposed to add color and interest to the show.

A catalogue of entries is expected to be released soon by members of the Sales committee of which Judge Alton B. Chapman is a member.

Official Ballot Has Full Slate Of Candidates

The municipality's official ballot on Tuesday, April 6, will carry a full slate of candidates, that is at least one candidate for every office, including those of aldermen.

Following is the way the ticket will size up:
For mayor, W. U. White;
For marshal: R. D. (Bob) Smith; E. A. Grigsby;

For secretary: Silas E. Duncan, T. T. Hamilton;
For aldermen (five to be elected): Conner Oden, F. C. Harmon, J. D. McBrien, J. W. Lanier, Walton Hale.

Although active candidates had announced for city secretary a bid for city marshal several days prior, it was not until late Tuesday, a few hours before the deadline that the city had candidates for the office of mayor and aldermen. These offices, which offer much opportunity for service to the community have little reward financially for the holders. They in fact are assumed reluctantly as a community responsibility only under draft. In an election, as applied to cities with charters like that of Floydada, a requirement of the law now, it was announced in Austin, is that no name appear on the ticket unless the candidate had taken an oath of allegiance. This step, easily complied with, however, made it necessary for a candidate to indicate his acquiescence in offering for the place. With manpower shortages looming the sacrifice might be a considerable one.

City Secretary Duncan, whose duty it was to receive the applications, had a lone vigil Tuesday night as he waited for the clock to pass the midnight deadline, to make it certain that any last-minute applicants for places had their opportunity to file.

EDITORIALS

What will the war bring to us next? This week it is used tires, those "idle tires" the OPA told us to sell a few weeks or months ago. OPA or who ever bought them from the users is distributing them back through the tire companies, after inspections, vulcanizing, et cetera. Looks like to us, and doubtless will be found to be that way after all is said and done—looks like the very most wasteful (in money and effort and storage) way the job could have been done. Many a man who had an extra tire or two that had five to ten thousand miles left in them, sold to the government for 20 cents apiece and now will buy them back at the least possible price the government can let them go at. But the folks must keep in mind that these very estimable gentlemen who are handling OPA and all the other alphabet things never fought a war before nor attempted an all-out offensive against a powerful enemy. In their zeal and hurry they have done some powerful unwise things and are still piling them on. The folks are going along with them wonderfully, not assuming they know too much, and hoping the patriotic citizens who do assume to know do actually know. However, from this long distance from Washington, it is most difficult to see how it will all add up to advantage. That's what many of the folks are thinking.

And another thing is wooden tires for one-way plows. We saw our first of them this week, too. They look funny but they sure ought to last, and we may be mighty proud we have them, and they may work as good or better than the rubber ones. The fact is what we are in the habit of having we want to continue to have. To give the wooden wheels a fair trial and make them work will be the logical thing to do, where you can't get what you are used to having. We have thought a good many times that the one-way plow ought to have something like that done to it, anyhow. Like a rougey cow the one-way oughtn't to have any sympathy. Anything to make it look like what it is. Understand, we know that all the best farmers and all the smart men all over the country use them. They cut down expenses and they do the job the way the farmer wants it done. But we claim that the one-way is chargeable with about half the blowing dirt that has got away from our fields, and we further charge the one-way with furnishing good cultivation for the goat heads and winter weeds. As long as we have the one-way in all its magnificent usefulness that long the noxious weeds will continue to multiply on the high plains. Thinking the way, of course, you'd expect us to think that wooden wheels, even wooden axles that you grease with a paddle, ought to be good enough for any one-way that ever fooled a man into using it.

If you succeed in life, you must do it in spite of the efforts of others to pull you down. There is nothing in the idea that people are willing to help those who help themselves. People are willing to help a man who can't help himself, but as soon as a man is able to help himself, and does it, they join in making his life as uncomfortable as possible. —E. W. Howe.

A few people do make a success of taking things easy—kleptomaniacs, for instance.

Chided last week by Mrs. A. Farmer's Wife for saying that the women were cruel to the men, not wanting to permit them to help with the gardening, the writer hurries to assure Mrs. A. F. W. that we think her husband one of the very finest of men. We do not know just who he is but we know his neighbors by the score, (doubtless know him also) and there were never any finer men than they. We have, in fact, reminded the women of this several times, among other things suggesting that in present times the old boy is likely to overwork himself and if she can she should phenagle around and maneuver about to make him get a little much-needed rest. Short of manpower he is going to try to get around too much. This is especially true if he is fifty-ish and above. A husband in the hospital with a bad heart from overwork is not a very big asset. We were also kidding Mrs. Town Feller too, when we said she was so willing for her husband to help in the garden she would telephone along about the time he was the busiest at the office, store or shop. Mrs. T. Feller's husband, also, probably is working too many hours for the same reason Mrs. A. F. Wife's husband is trying to make two of himself. And are they good to their wives! Believe it or not, present-day American wives can't imagine how much better their lot is than that of women in benighted lands and in Nazidom and similar wide expanses of this old world's area. Christianity and democracy, in the fertile soil of a good people's hearts, have made wonderful changes in the outlook of the women of the world as we know it. At that, the Old Man hates to bend his back over a few rows in the garden just when he has his four-row outfit rigged up and ready to turn a hundred acres a day out in the field!

Of course, it doesn't do any good to tell a young feller around twenty-five that he is working too hard. He has to find that out about the time he's forty-five or fifty. Meanwhile, he is so busy doing things, ambitious for himself and the family he is rearing, the days go so fast and so much to do, he refuses to believe that he is over-doing the thing. He rests so fast and recovers from that tired feeling so quickly, and anyhow, he is going to be wealthy pretty soon, and can let up then. And if Mrs. A. F. W's husband is that age no use for her to try to keep him from overworking and neglecting to watch out for his own physical welfare.

A friend wrote us recently of being asked to witness a cremation. Of all things it seems to us that would be the spookiest in the world to be asked to do, almost to the point of shocking to people of our kind, reared to burial rites. "It was not as bad as I thought it would be," said this friend. This deceased "had asked that I witness her cremation and I did not feel I could very well refuse. A blue heat was used and it only took about an hour for the cremation," the correspondent wrote. "The bones kept their shapes" and they had to be powdered up, later to be put into an urn and kept "until the daughter felt like sprinkling the ashes around her rose bushes." Creepy-sounding to some of us mortals, assuredly, but a rite much more observed than is ordinarily known.

A nice thing about a one-way street is that you can only be bumped from the rear.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

By Nellie Witt Spikes

A FARM WOMAN THINKS—
I have been copying some recipes for the club. I think these are worth passing on.
Tamale Pie
1 lb. hamburger meat, 1 cup corn grits, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup water, 1/4 of an onion, 1 tablespoon fat and one cup canned tomatoes. Cover meat with hot water, salt and cook till tender. Soak one cup corn grits overnight in warm water, cook grits one hour in double boiler or fruit jar in tea kettle. Chop onion and cook in 1 table spoon fat. To this add one cup tomatoes and cooked meat. Line a pan with a layer of corn grits about 1/2 inch thick? Add meat mixture and cover with remainder of grits. Cook in hot oven about twenty-five minutes. Enough meat broth should be added with the meat to give additional moisture.

Spanish Rice

This morning as I listened to an advertisement of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, I glanced in the book shelves at the worn copy of that famous book by Dr. Pierce. This was the only book on diseases I owned when I was rearing my family. I think it cost me twenty-five cents and words of grief because every time the children stopped playing or fussing for a few minutes, I hurried to the book and began to search for symptoms. I had the children having everything from Enemias to yellow jaundice. I would read, then take up the protesting child and peer in his throat for the signs of diphtheria, or search his skin for the first sign of something or other breaking out, especially scarlet fever. By the time the child was thoroughly examined and the symptoms all studied, he was either worse, more often or well. At the end of the paragraph terrible symp-

Old Doc Smith with his pills and such, Is wise and shrewd with the human touch. And he knows right off that you ate too much, So he shakes a finger for a warning. Then he gives you a dose that is black and strong, And its taste is bitter and lasts too long. But you're glad when he laughs— for he can't be wrong— "You'll be alright in the morning." Old Doc Smith has a lot to do. He has far to go and he's never through, So you can't see how he has time for you. With all the dying and a-boring. But he'll put you to bed and he'll tuck you in. And you know you'll live for you see him grin. And you hear him growl as he strokes his chin. "You'll be alright in the morning."

Thought for the week: We never know where God hides his pools. We see a rock and we cannot guess it is the home of the spring. We see a flinty place and we cannot tell it is the hiding place of a fountain. God leads me into the hard places and then I find I have gone into the dwelling place of eternal springs.—Selected.

Easterner Says Angus-Hereford Good Cross

Using a Black Angus bull with white face cows from an Aberdeen Angus-Hereford cross makes a very acceptable animal for the feeder to handle, says F. A. Reed, of Philadelphia, Pa., who was in Floydada this week receiving 123 head of long Hereford steer calves from Cannaday brothers for shipment back home.

Reed was talking about the fine grade of cattle grown in this section of the country, their uniformity and the success which eastern feeders had with them making prime beef for the market. It was his second trip here to buy cattle from the Cannadays and others in this section. The reporter asked why a Philadelphia man came all the way to north-west Texas plains to buy cattle and the conversation about types of cattle followed. Reed's answer to the question of why to this country to buy cattle for Philadelphia pens was quality and uniformity found here. "We can buy cattle in West Virginia and Virginia that feed well in our pens but they do not have the quality that calves from the panhandle of Texas have; also the larger herds here make it possible to get calves that will fatten out very close together as to weight and finish. I imagine Virginia cattlemen are about where the plains country was 20 or 30 years ago as to quality cattle."

Black Animal With White Face
Then came the talk about the Angus and white face cross. The cross, which has not been tried in this section and might be an interesting matter to growers here, results in a hornless black animal with a white head, very pretty in a way. He was speaking of the first cross only and said the mixing of the blood strains seemed to result in an animal of unusual vigor and stamina. Reed did not suggest that such a cross should be tried in this section but said that in the lots he supervised the cross had been fed quite successfully.

How the easterner can come 1,750 miles from home, pay long freight hauls, take the shrink and still come out ahead of the game was explained by Reed when he said the animals were handled very carefully when they got into the lots, fed just exactly right and sold in a strong, competitive market for high quality. "We are right in the city, you might say," Reed declared, "and usually have the advantage of selling not only to small packers but to retailers as well." How the fat feeder will fare under new OPA regulations which practically make prime beef move through the big packers Reed said is still to be found out.

Asked about the "black market" scare heads that ran in the eastern newspapers a short time ago, Reed said that four different agencies investigated closely in Philadelphia. He didn't know what they found in other cities of that section but so far as Philadelphia was concerned the "black market" charges were not substantiated. There just wasn't any material violation of the regulations taking place," he said.

The eastern fattener takes advantage of every opportunity to make his operations pay, giving attention to many things the western feeder does not concern himself about. For one thing, fertilizer from feeding pens in Pennsylvania is carefully saved and marketed for use on the lands in contrast with the practice in this section where accumulations of manure are looked upon as nuisances. For every thousand pound steer the Pennsylvanian sells he figures about $3.25 for fertilizer sales also. Pennsylvanians evidently take care of and feed their land, for Reed declared their acres are producing more now than they did 250 years ago, according to records.

Cannaday was showing the easterner several loads of cattle around over the plains. In addition to the purchase here Reed was considering animals in Swisher and Castro counties as well as in Moore county. His experience last year was that white faces from this area show good gains and that they recover much of the shipping shrink. Freight costs represent about $8 per animal that must be added to the cost of the stock here. A college man Reed adheres very closely to formulas which have been found successful in the experiments constantly carried on by animal husbandry experts of his section.

Many of the cattle carried on pasture in his immediate vicinity are located on large estates right up in the city's environs, where they are used to help keep premises cleaned of tall grass and growths which otherwise would have to be disposed of by hand labor. One such place he spoke of was surrounded on two sides by row on row of apartment houses such as one sees by the monotonous thousands in Philadelphia suburbs.

The sweet young thing had never before seen an elephant. Therefore when she looked out in her garden one day, and saw one there she became quite excited. Hurriedly calling the police, she exclaimed: "Oh! officer, hurry out here. There's a horrible looking monster out in my garden; he's pulling up all of my vegetables with his tail."

"And what's he doing with them, Madam?" asked the officer.

"Oh! officer, you wouldn't believe me if I told you."

Bobby: "Daddy, that carpenter who's building the back steps must be an awful good man."

Daddy: "What makes you think so?"

Bobby: "He hammered his thumb, and then talked to God for five minutes."

The panhandler is in his glory now. Everybody gives him a nickel for a cup of coffee. The only hitch is they all follow him to see where he's going to get it!

Ross Hanna Writes Parents Of Army Life In Florida

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Hanna, of Lubbock, former residents of Floyd county recently received the following letter from their son, Ross. The letter mentions in his letter are Mrs. Hillary Shurbet and Mrs. J. W. Clonts.

Mr. Hanna was formerly employed in the local Piggly Wiggly store and for the past ten years has been manager of Piggly Wiggly store No. 4 of Lubbock. His present address is Pvt. Ross Hanna, 585-T. S. S. A. A. P. R. T. C., Flight 424, Prather Hotel, St. Petersburg, Florida.

Dear Mother and Dad:
Well here I am in Florida and a long way from home. I have crossed seven states since I left Lubbock. Don't have time to tell you about them now but I will later. They were Oklahoma, Arkansas, Tennessee, Mississippi, Alabama and Georgia and Florida.

I have been assigned to the Air Force and I am in the signal corps. I probably won't be here very long but I want you to write and if I am gone they will send my mail on to me. St. Petersburg is the name of this town and Air Base. They have moved the people out of the hotel and moved the Army in. They march up and down the street all day just like they were out on the field. I live in a hotel down in the main part of town and just one block from the ocean. I can see the ships come in from my window. I think after I have had my basic training I will be moved from this state.

It is a beautiful place all kinds of fruit and lots of palm trees. The oranges are ripe here now. Don't worry about me because I am getting along O. K. We get plenty to eat and have a nice place to stay. I weighed 170 pounds today. Guess you had better send this letter on to Oia and Louise because I won't have time to write them now. Hope you and Dad are feeling O. K. We are only about fifty miles from Tampa, Florida.

P. S. I had an easy time in Ft. Sill. Bill Grigsby was in charge of our barracks and he put me to work in the barracks supply house. I didn't have to do K. P. or guard duty a single time.

SMALL FARMS GO TO WAR

Small farmers are coming to the aid of their country. As an example, the U. S. Department of Agriculture cites the 1942 production story of Andrew M. Murphy, a farmer in Craven County, North Carolina. Murphy planted peanuts in 1942 for the first time. There is an oil scarcity and he planted peanuts because they were needed—then named the fields for his two soldier sons. Proceeds from these two fields of peanuts bought War Bonds in the name of the two sons. Murphy says he intends to hold the bonds for the boys until they come home.

Murphy is operating a farm purchased in January, 1941, through the farm ownership program of the Farm Security Administration. At that time his family numbered 13. Since then his sons, Ervin and Selby, have gone into the army, and a daughter, married, has volunteered for four-year government service. All the family remaining on the farm, except the youngest children, are working to make the farm produce the maximum of Food for Freedom. The 86 acres in cultivation included 16 acres of soybeans for oil, 3 of sweetpotatoes, 6 of cowpeas, 7 in cotton, 1 1/2 acres in garden, and 4 in peanuts.

Ireland was once known as Inis-Fail—the isle of destiny.

Income Tax Delinquents Are Few

The final night sessions and last minute rectification of returns and deductions came to a close Monday with an estimate of between six and seven hundred persons in the county who filed income tax returns. For those who chose to pay their tax on the installment plan, the second quarterly payment will be due June 15. As late as Wednesday one official in Floydada was busy with a late applicant. No deferment was given by the Internal Revenue department without substantial grounds as sickness, out of state or inability to make their returns. Possibly seventy-five percent of income tax payers had never had to pay income tax before, one business man, who had been assisting with returns the past few weeks, said.

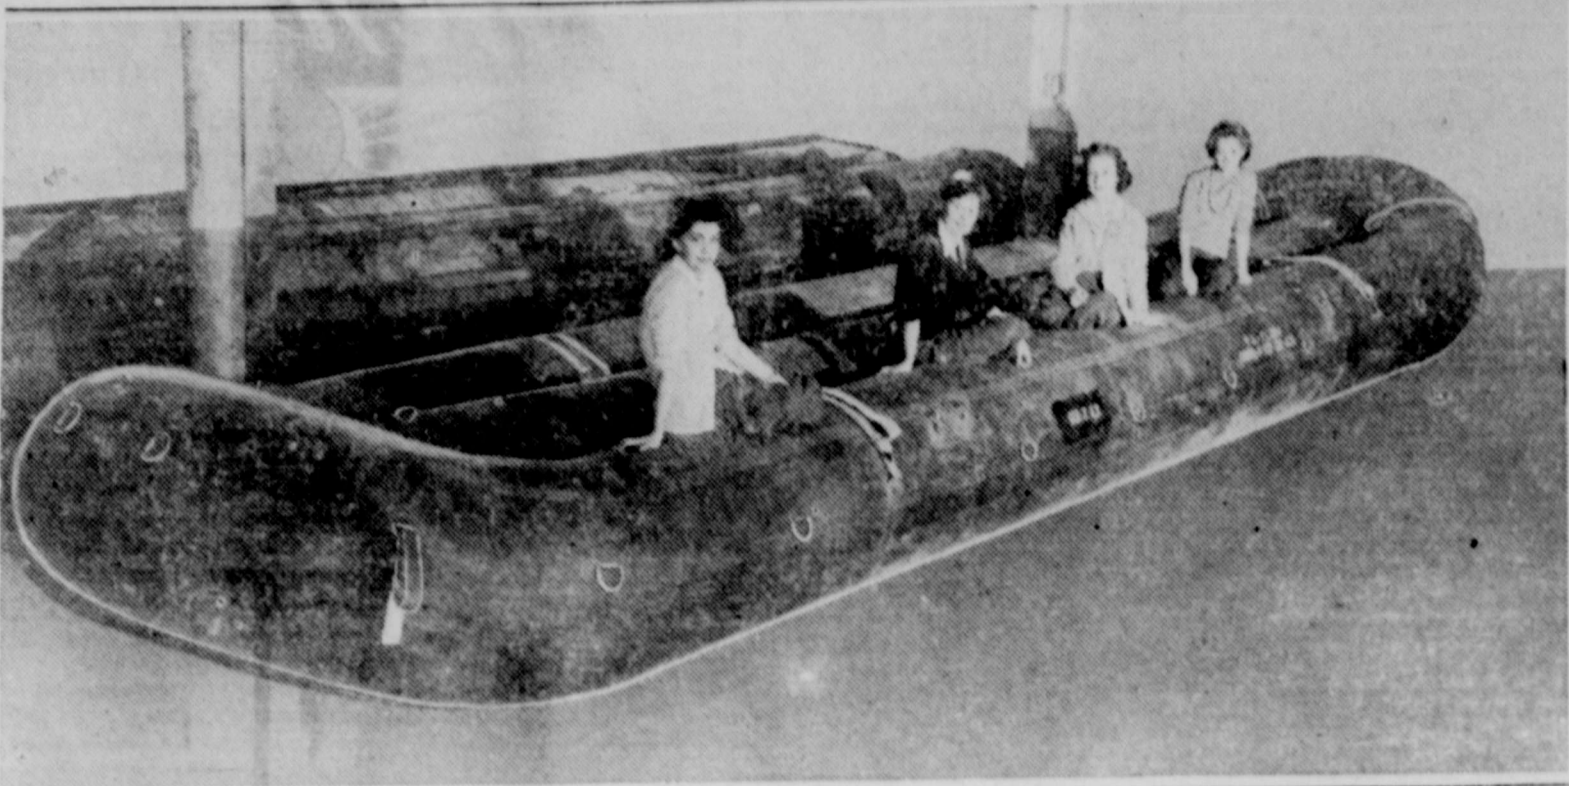

Carl Lester Minor, student of Tech college spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Minor. John Colville of Amarillo spent the week-end with his grandmother, Mrs. W. M. Colville.

Treasury officials regard the purchase of life insurance as particularly helpful in heading off inflation because money paid for life insurance premiums is definitely withdrawn from spending channels and more permanently than through other forms of savings.

U. S. Tanks Ride More Safely on These New Pontons

In all quarters of the globe U. S. Army engineers are throwing ponton bridges across streams to carry the troops and equipment of the fighting forces. This new ponton has been developed with turned up edges to give more stability to the ponton and to prevent capsizing. Heavy tanks can pass over the bridges made of these pontons without fear that unequal distribution of the load will cause the pontons to turn over. They are longer than the original pontons used and the stability. They were engineered as the result of actual war time experience and are being built for the army by The General Tire & Rubber Company.

Lakeview Store Purchased By Sand Hill Man

SAND HILL, March 15.—A large crowd attended services at both churches Sunday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Claude Norris of this community have recently purchased the Lakeview store. They will take possession in a few days. Wheat alone can be fed with legume hay, but it is advisable when possible, to feed some corn or grain sorghums. One of the feeder's most serious problems is getting lambs on full feed. Nisbet suggests giving them as much roughage as they will consume at all times. At the same time build up the grain portion of the ration at the rate of one-twentieth of a pound of grain per head daily. When they are eating two pounds of concentrates daily they may be considered as on full feed. It requires 40 to 50 days properly to reach that stage, and 100 days of feeding to fatten a lamb.

He's A Production Patriot

In hard times and good, in peace and war, American farmers are real production patriots, declares the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Prices haven't always been good during the past 12 years, but farmers have kept the nation's pantries full. Today farm prices are 2 percent above those of 1929—but farmers are producing more than 25 percent more than in 1929, an all-time record harvest.

Caring for shoes now rationed; darning and mending also food rationing will be given.

FEEDING WHEAT TO LAMBS

COLLEGE STATION—Wheat can be fed to fattening lambs. But, says W. R. Nisbet, animal husbandman for the A. and M. College Extension Service, the most satisfactory ration involves a variety of feedings. And in planning any feeding operations roughage and concentrates must be considered jointly. Wheat alone can be fed with legume hay, but it is advisable when possible, to feed some corn or grain sorghums. One of the feeder's most serious problems is getting lambs on full feed. Nisbet suggests giving them as much roughage as they will consume at all times. ### MRS. EDDIE RICKENBACKER ENCOURAGES HEROES' KIN

Mrs. Eddie Rickenbacker, wife of America's Number One Hero, has a message for wives, mothers and sweethearts of men in the armed services. Like her husband, his aged mother, and so many million other people throughout the world, Mrs. Rickenbacker is a firm believer in faith and prayer. She urges all American women who have missing kin in the military service to bear their burden with indomitable faith, "with unshakable conviction that someday their men will return to them." Never gave up during the agonizing days of the search for her husband. His plane had been forced down while flying across the Pacific Ocean. In response to the messages of condolence which poured in from all parts of the world, she replied that her husband would show up again. He did, and his thrilling story is known to all Americans.

Seed Money

There's only one thing more foolish than killing the goose that lays the golden eggs. That's living up the money that has been put away to buy the seed for next year's crops.

Although G-E turbines and lamps and refrigerators don't grow from any seed you can buy at a seed store, yet any manufacturer—no matter what he makes—has a seed problem just the same. For next year's models, and improved designs, and new products—all these cost money. Money for research, and engineering, and new tools, and advertising to tell the public where a product can be obtained, and how much it will cost.

And the only place this money can come from is out of past earnings, or borrowing on the promise of earnings in the future. In other words—from seed money.

From the seed of research and engineering, planted in years past by General Electric, have come some pretty amazing crops. Incandescent lamps five times as efficient as Edison's vacuum tubes that made radiobroadcasting possible, refrigerators for the home and electric machines for industry to make important jobs easier.

Right now the crops we're growing are all of the "Garden" kind—weapons that are serving with our armed forces on land and sea and in the air.

But we mustn't neglect the seed money for the future. We're looking forward to the continuance of the industrial system that will allow us to open up and cultivate other new and promising fields. So, tomorrow, look for important developments in television, fluorescent lighting, plastics, electronics. These will be familiar words in the post-war world. GENERAL ELECTRIC COMPANY, SCHENECTADY, N. Y.

Mrs. Floyd Fuqua Elected Delegate To District Meet

At the meeting of the Home Builders Home Demonstration club held Friday at the home of Mrs. J. D. Eaves, Mrs. Floyd Fuqua was elected delegate to the district meeting which will be held at Lubbock. Miss Edith Wilson gave a demonstration on the seating of chairs "Be sure to tie a square knot on the chair at the beginning" she said.

In seating chairs tie every knot with a square knot. To tie a square knot put right over left and left over right. Use about seven yard lengths of material, tie on pieces so the knot will not be on top. Use only shucks finely torn for the padding and the chair will have a lasting smooth finish.

The president presided over the business session. The club decided to go to the Red Cross room and help make surgical dressings at every opportunity. Mrs. O. G. Mayfield gave the council report. The president urged members to pay the educational fees.

Mrs. S. D. Scott gave a very interesting demonstration on Bermuda fagoting and hot dish mats.

Those present were Meses. T. J. Heard, Raymond Teeple, S. D. Scott, P. F. Bertrand, D. D. Shipley, R. H. Teague, Floyd Fuqua, John A. Lloyd, C. W. Denison, Elbert Parks, C. B. Smart, O. G. Mayfield, Fred Lloyd, Gilmer Denison and the hostess.

Visitors were Mrs. Grady Mason, Mrs. Riley Anderson, Mrs. W. H. Nelson and Mrs. Herschell Green.

An all-day meeting will be held April 11 at the home of Mrs. D. D. Shipley with Mrs. Raymond Teeple as hostess. The meeting will begin at 10 a. m. Miss Wilson will discuss meeting the food rationing situation and members of the club are to give demonstrations on caring for shoes and mending and darning.

REX LYNN LACKEY RECEIVES BURNS TUESDAY AFTERNOON FROM BURNING TRASH

Singing Revival Special Event For April

(J. G. Malphurs, minister)

A special event for music lovers of Floydada will be a singing revival at the City Park Church of Christ from April 4 to April 11. Singing is one of the best ways to teach and preach the gospel. (Col. 3:16). Very few churches do enough of teaching through this God-given method. Instead of preaching sermons from the pulpit in the usual way, this time we are going to have the audience preach the sermons by singing them.

For this special event, Floyd Dunn, of Abilene Christian college, will be the director. We have been assured that Mr. Dunn is "one of the best song leaders we have ever had on the campus" at Abilene Christian college, and "one of the finest characters." He will conduct two or three classes during the day time, but at night he will lead the audience in singing well-chosen hymns that fit into, and preach, a gospel theme. Make arrangements to enjoy this unusual treat.

The subject for our morning sermon will be: "The Prophet Jesus." In this sermon we shall relate how true many of the prophecies of Christ have been fulfilled, and call attention to others that will assuredly come to pass. We'll not have a sermon at the evening hour, but we shall offer an unusual feast upon the word of God. Come and be with us. If you have not studied God's word in this way, you don't know what you are missing.

All Day Service At Rushing Chapel Dinner On Ground

Rev. C. A. Hartley, pastor, has announced that an all-day service will be held Sunday at Rushing Chapel with dinner on the ground. Rev. J. F. Michael, of Claude, who is holding the revival at the church this week will do the preaching. Sunday school is to start promptly at 10:30; preaching at 11:30; dinner at 12:30; preaching at 2:30 and 8:30 p. m. Services will continue for the remainder of the week at 11 o'clock a. m. and 8:30 in the evening, the pastor said.

Rev. Hartley has been ill for the past two weeks with strep throat but is improved this mid-week and hopes to be able to attend the services Sunday.

W. F. DANIEL'S SONS WRITE PARENTS OF ARRIVAL IN AFRICA

Pvts. W. R. Daniel and William F. Daniel, sons of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Daniel, sr., have arrived safely in North Africa, according to information contained in letters from each of the boys, received Monday and Tuesday of this week.

Although the boys know the other one is there they had not seen each other when they wrote their parents and before they received orders to sail W. R. was on the west coast and W. F., jr., was on the east coast but as they were getting ready to embark on the overseas trip they passed each other and had time to talk for a few minutes.

The letter from W. F. jr., told of how delighted he was when he received mail. It was waiting for him when he arrived. This included he said two quarts of home canned sausage and pop corn from home. The Floyd County Hesperian and a number of letters.

The package which contained the sausage and pop corn had been mailed before he sailed. Although in glass jars he told his mother the sausage reached Africa in first class shape and was he tickled.

IRISHMAN ADDRESSES CLUB ON ST. PATRICK'S DAY: SAYS MUST BUY MORE BONDS

To prosecute the war and drain off funds from commercial channels to prevent inflation the American people are going to have to invest 32 billion dollars in their own government this year, Chas. M. Smith, of Plainview, told members of the Rotary club Wednesday. He was speaking in serious vein when he declared that April would see the hardest drive for non-bank bond subscriptions in the history of the country. Floyd county people will be asked to invest more money in one month than they subscribed all of last year, the speaker declared.

Except for this five minutes of serious talk the speaker handed his audience jokes and blarney from the old sod. It was St. Patrick's day, Carl Minor was program chairman.

T. W. Brown suffered a stroke of paralysis the first of the week and is undergoing treatment in the Floydada Hospital and clinic. He was reported to be slightly improved Wednesday afternoon.

SWEETBREADS A DELICACY

Sweetbreads have long been considered a delicacy. Since they are one of the non-restricted items in the "Share the Meat" program, they may be served often in a variety of ways.

They are pre-cooked before being fried, creamed or made into a salad. To pre-cook, wash the sweetbreads and simmer for twenty minutes in water to which one teaspoon of salt and one tablespoon of vinegar have been added for each quart of water used. After they are drained, the membrane is removed.

Jessie Cline, home economist, suggests that a sweetbread salad be served in a large bowl or on individual salad plates.

Sweetbread Salad
 1/2 pound sweetbreads
 1 1/2 cups diced celery
 2 chopped tomatoes
 1 cup cooked or canned peas
 1/4 cup mayonnaise
 1 1/2 teaspoons lemon juice
 Salt, pepper, lettuce.
 Wash sweetbreads. Simmer 20 minutes in water to which one teaspoon of salt and one tablespoon of vinegar have been added for each quart. Cool. Remove any membrane. Break into small pieces. Combine with other ingredients using enough mayonnaise to moisten. Chill. Serve in lettuce cups. Serves 6 to 8.

UNBLEACHED MUSLIN TESTED

Laundry unbleached muslin before making it into sheets, curtains, underwear, or other articles in which size is important, suggest textile specialists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, following a recently completed analysis of 33 qualities of this fabric.

Since it is unprofitable for most mills to preshrink unbleached muslin, the consumer needs to allow for shrinkage the testers point out. Average shrink among the 33 representative qualities analyzed was found to be 8 percent in length, 7 percent in width. This is enough to affect the fit of a garment or make several inches difference in the size of a sheet. Tests on the muslin also included determination of the breaking strength, thread count, thickness amount of sizing and weight per square yard for each fabric tested.

Many of the large areas of American hardwood forests which have been repeatedly harvested for more than 140 years are growing more and better timber now than ever before, according to Prof. Donald C. Nelson of the New York State college of Forestry.

He Fights On the Farm Front

Like thousands of other Texas farmers, J. Y. Martin, Tarrant county farmer living near Arlington, keeps his farm in the fight by working out a plan to produce more food this year than he grew last year. Here he's shown reporting how he expects to market nearly twice as much pork from his farm in '43 as he sold in 1942, and at least 25 percent more beef. He is feeding out 30 steers that soon will be ready for market, and he has 25 cows each with a calf by her side. Using soil and water conservation practices and operating under a planned production program, Martin produces all the corn, oats and grain sorghums his livestock need.

This week, more than 418,000 farmers and ranchers of Texas were busy mapping out Food for Freedom plans with their local USDA War Boards. On each individual plan sheet, they were itemizing specific amounts of food, feed and fiber they could be depended on to produce this year.

Heaviest increases in Texas have been called for in pork, beef, milk, eggs, poultry, soybeans and peanuts.

Axis cuts your driving - Terrorizes your engine with ACID!

Every time short rations keep your car idle it's really like the Axis trying to dose your engine with acid. All the Axis needs is the acid products of combustion always left in your engine when it stops. This unavoidable acid wasn't so bad when cleaned out pretty well, several times a day, on fast runs that warmed the engine completely. But now with slow short runs often keeping the engine too cool, acid's chance has increased to corrode metal.

To keep your tools from corroding you apply oil—again and again. In your engine you can have a more lasting preservative. It's designed to combat internal acid corrosion.

It's surfaced to metals as closely as any protective plating. That's why this inner engine preservative—made possible by the quick, simple, economical change to Conoco Nth motor oil—is known as OIL-PLATING.

Conoco Nth—patented—brings you the special synthetic invented to make metal surfaces cover themselves with OIL-PLATING. It may be quite a while "between coupons" now. But you needn't give hungry acids all that while to gnaw at your engine, yet! The Axis won't let you replace yet! OIL-PLATE it now. Change to Conoco Nth for Spring. Continental Oil Company

Scat, Gremlins!

You say there ain't no such thing as farm gremlins? Maybe not—but our boys in the air forces are well acquainted with these imps who ice airplane wings, frost windshield, and slyly drink gasoline out of the tanks. Farmers who are part of the "ground crew" in World War II are having plenty of troubles too—tires wearing out, truck motors needing new parts, not enough gasoline, etc. Whether from gremlins or not, the troubles are all too real. The County Farm Transportation Committee says if you have troubles that are hampering transportation of vital farm produce, be sure to see them immediately and they'll do their best to help. And, study the booklet, "America's Trucks—Keep 'Em Rolling."

HEART HITS HEARTY APPETITE JUST RIGHT

Hungry folks welcome the filling taste-tempting qualities of heart. It is one of the popular variety meats which is not figured in the weekly ration plan.

Jessie Alice Cline, home economist, points out that there is variation in the size of beef, pork, lamb and calf hearts. One beef heart will serve the average family; a lamb heart is the right size for an individual serving; pork heart will serve one or two, and a calf heart will serve two.

Heart should be washed and any hard parts trimmed away before it is cooked.

Culinary experts will give a high rating to Veal Hearts with Noodles. This dish is easy to prepare, tender and delicious. The noodles go well with the gravy and extend the good flavor of the heart.

Veal Hearts With Noodles
3 veal hearts
Flour
2 tablespoons lard or drippings
8 small onions
1 1/2 cups water
Salt
Pepper
1 8-oz. package noodles.

Cut hearts in half and wash well. Dredge with flour and brown in hot fat. Add onions, water and seasonings. Cover and simmer 2 hours or until tender. Cook noodles in boiling salted water. Drain, season and place on chop plate. Arrange meat on noodles and pour liquid remaining in pan over all. Serves 6 to 8.

A border of hot buttered peas on the platter of hearts and noodles is a colorful garnish. The flavor is right, too. Hard rolls, cranberry salad and date pudding—and the menu is complete.

WILDLIFE PROGRAM POPULAR

COLLEGE STATION — Teaching boys the principles of sportsmanship and proper regard for laws protecting wildlife is one of the objectives of the wildlife conservation program offered Texas' 36,000 4-H club boys. R. E. Callender, game management specialist for the A. and M. College Extension Service, says this program is growing in popularity among club boys every year.

As a part of the program, county agricultural agents and local leaders train boys in the methods of conservation on the farm or ranch which are favorable to the increase of desirable kinds of wildlife. Club members also are encouraged to study the life habits and economic value of game and fur-bearing animals, birds and fish. And through conservation measures, many are producing wildlife as a crop of the land, Callender says.

During the past year some clubs visited nearby government fish hatcheries and attended encampments to study wildlife conservation. Others established sanctuaries offering both food and cover to wildlife. Teaching boys to shoot a rifle properly and accurately always has been a part of the sportsmanship program, and it is even more popular in war-time, the specialist reports.

Many of the thousands of game preservation demonstration markers on fences along Texas roads and highways were erected by teen-age 4-H club boys who are cooperating in the program. Some of them take an annual census of the wildlife on their farms and ranches, some establish feeding stations for birds in winter, while others may help protect nests from livestock. Fire prevention and controlled hunting also are encouraged.

Texas wealth is usually estimated as between $11,000,000,000 and $13,000,000,000.

Many people are talking about planting a Victory Garden this year, and if you expect to be well fed you better think about the matter seriously.

Two new bulletins are just off the press to help you select the best adapted varieties and methods of planting. City gardeners will be interested in C-193. We expect to have a few free copies for distribution . . . so if you desire a copy make your request known.

We had a good attendance at the Poultry Clinic; however, there must be more poultry problems than people who attended. All we can say is those who attended seemed to be pleased with the school.

Tires and gasoline must be conserved, but sick poultry will not feed a fighting army and our responsibility is production. These schools are scheduled to provide information and suggestions on better management to insure greater production.

R. B. Gery of Harmony community has apparently opened a "oil factory" on his farm. One of his good sows delivered 17 pigs to help the war effort. The regrettable thing about this situation was the fact there were not enough "milk fountains" and three pigs soon gave up the fight.

Mr. Gary realized the mother was not feeding these pigs as well as she should and was advised to clip the "needle teeth" of the youngsters.

"These teeth were the longest and sharpest I have ever seen on pigs," Mr. Gary reported.

Incidentally the dental pliers were borrowed from the county agent, and in return for the favor Mr. Gary left a sack of home cured sausage. Now that meat rationing is coming on, I have two sets of calf dehorning horns.

Increased hog production creates the possibility of more disease troubles. The hog farmer should survey his equipment, buildings, feed supply, and most important the time available to spend in management.

Worms and lice will start about 85% of all the trouble. The worms start with the new-born pig and hinder his growth until they are eliminated. The time for control is before the pig arrives. Make sure the sow and her quarters are clean.

A few days before a sow's farrowing time scrub her thoroughly with warm water and soap. Use a brush and pay especial attention to the udder. Do not allow the baby pigs to get on soil to which other hogs have had access.

Within ten days after farrowing haul . . . Do Not Drive . . . the sow and pigs directly to a field previously sown to a forage crop, and which has not been occupied by hogs since planting. Allow no other hogs in this pasture except sows and litters similarly treated. Provide plenty of shelter and shade, and a safe supply of fresh water. Leave the pigs on the pasture for at least four months. After that danger from roundworms is not great.

Use of this program should make the pigs ready for market from four to eight weeks earlier, and the herd is more likely to be practically free from runts.

James Johnston Writes Parents Of Camp Life

Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Johnston recently received the following letters from their son, James, who is now stationed at Atlantic City, New Jersey.

705 Tech School Squadron Dear Mom and Dad:

Received your letter yesterday with the letter you had from Otho. I am always glad to hear he is all right. I have an idea he will be though, because those Marines are sure tough. It seems as if they are going to win the war alone.

Everything is O. K. with me except it is a little cold up here. But I guess it will get warmer. Boy I mean it is sure going to be nice here in the summer time. They sure have some pretty beaches. It will just about be my luck to get shipped out of here about the time it gets warm, back to where it is hotter than heck in the summer time.

How is Sharron getting along? I hope she is all right. I wrote Irene a letter not so long ago, I will be expecting one from her before long. How is sis and Courtney getting along? Does he still work at the laundry?

I got a letter from Johnnie McCleskey last week. He is at Sheppard Field, Texas. That is near Wichita Falls. Boy I sure wish I was there. I could come home on a three day pass then, or I might even get a furlough if I was close enough. Shirock is also at Sheppard Field so I would really be among friends there.

Listen, Mother I want you to look in my photograph album and find the picture of me and Monki, Bill and Shirock and send it to me. I would like to have it so I can think of old times. I would also like to have the one of me standing in front of my car. Be sure and do this for me.

I run around with a boy I came up here from Luke Field with, and he has just become a father, and I mean he is really proud. He is from Texas and his wife is there now, and I mean he really wants to go home. I enlisted in San Diego the same day I did, but I didn't know him until we got to Luke Field. He has sure turned out to be a good friend of mine.

I haven't heard from Uncle Silas and Aunt Renee for quite a while. I don't know why they haven't written to me, they owe me a letter. Guess I will get one soon.

I haven't had time to look up George Fry but I have his address all right, thank a lot. I know where

During March 4-H girls clubs were organized at Floydada Grade school, Aiken, Fairview and Baker. The presidents of these clubs are Emma Goo, Floydada; Laverne Scott, Aiken; Dorothy Bartlett, Fairview; and Jean Cardinal, Baker.

Providence 4-H club girls are 100% in buying war bonds and stamps. They have purchased $137.70 worth of war bonds and stamps since the first of December.

Council members please remember that council meets Saturday, March 20, at 2:30.

Home makers who have stored canned food consider it very valuable and want to take the very best possible care of it. Specialists recommend that canned food in glass should be kept in a cool, dark place. The darkness helps the food hold color and vitamins. Tin cans need to be kept in a dry place to prevent rusting, as rust might eat a hole in the can which would cause the food to spoil.

In keeping with the Victory Demonstration Pledge, "to buy carefully everything I buy," there are several things homemakers want to keep in mind in order to make the most of their stamp points. Before buying any container read the label carefully so you will know how much the jar contains and something about the quality of the product and remember you don't need fancy packed fruit if it is to be cut up and put into salads or a pie. Learn the size of can you need for your family. Remember a number 1 can contains about 2 cups and provides 3 to 4 servings. A number 2 can would give 4 to 5 servings. Another thing that will help in buying carefully is to plan meals for at least a week in advance. That way you will come nearer knowing what points you will want to use.

It is but I just haven't had time to go over there.

I have an idea that if Otho stays over seas much longer he will get to come home. I don't think they will allow them to stay overseas over a year. He has been over there for six months already. Maybe he will get to come home soon. I hear that the army is taking over there now and the marines are coming home. I hope that is right, maybe he will get to come home.

Well, I can't think of much more to say so I will sign off until next time and then I will write more.

TWO FLOYD CO. STUDENTS QUALIFY FOR PI LAMBDA BY UNUSUAL SCHOLARSHIP

AUSTIN, Texas, March 15 — A partial answer to the manpower shortage in Texas' public schools is found in the class of students who will receive degrees in education this year or next, becoming eligible for teaching posts.

Twenty-four University of Texas co-eds, out of an enrollment of several hundred in the School of Education, have done outstanding work in education, and were recently elected to membership in Pi Lambda Theta, honorary education fraternity for women. To qualify for membership, a student must maintain a high scholastic rating and receive the recommendation of faculty members.

Among those initiated into Pi Lambda Theta this week were Ruth Kreis, of Floydada and Lucille West of South Plains.

St. Sgt. James M. Gilbreath of Orlando, Florida came Saturday, while on a five-day leave, to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Gilbreath. Sgt. Gilbreath is in the guard squadron of the air corps.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Fogerson and sons Dave and Don of Lubbock spent Sunday with Mr. Fogerson's mother Mrs. F. W. Fogerson. Mr. and Mrs. Fogerson are employed at the Air Base in Lubbock and Mr. Fogerson is teaching parachute packing.

THE REAL VALUE OF YOUR SMILE

- It costs nothing but creates much.
- It enriches those who receive, without impoverishing those who give.
- It happens in a flash and the memory of it sometimes lasts forever.
- None are so rich they can get along without it, and none so poor but are richer for its benefits.
- It creates happiness in the home, fosters good will in business, and is the countersign of friends.
- It is rest to the weary, daylight to the discouraged, sunshine to the sad, and nature's best antidote for trouble.
- Yet it cannot be bought, begged, borrowed, or stolen, for it is something that is no earthly good to anybody 'til it is given away!

We know it is extremely difficult to smile on wash day, even with all of our efforts and expense to have a clean Laundry and plenty of steam, soft hot water and etc. But should we or our help become so tired and fail to give you a smile, please may we ask you to leave one of yours?

For nobody needs a smile so much as those who have none left to give.

Want To Help Uncle Sam?

... Then Do These Things Before Calling the Serviceman

He's mighty busy doing war-vital work!

First, if an appliance fails to work . . . see if it's connected. You'll be amazed how often a disconnected extension cord is the only trouble.

If only one light is out, replace the bulb. If several lights go out, check the fuses. Replacing a burned out fuse may be all that's necessary . . . and you can change a fuse as well as the serviceman. You'll save yourself inconvenience and delay, too!

If ALL your lights are out . . . all your fuses are okay . . . and your neighbors' lights are out, too . . . then call the serviceman.

. . . and for more light with no more electricity here's another tip . . . clean light fixtures increase light 20 to 40 percent!
