EDITORIALS

Our Thirty-sixth division lads undoubtedly are in the fighting in Italy, probably were part of the invasion spearhead that stormed the beaches at Salerno. Bated breath for Texans now. Bad news for many homes. The enemy already knows the story of September. It is not giving anything away in the way of military information to say that what we suspected all along is true, that Clark's men were southwesterners and the hell of Salerno and the subsequent advance on Naples was a job largely for our own boys. To say that it is war and that these things must have been anticipated is scant, so scant, comfort for many. Steel in our hearts to go ahead and see the madmen wiped out and with them the professional war makers of whatever tongue and nationality. Apparently the only way out—horrible thought—is to give our sons to save our grandsons. An awful thing is war, awfuller is the wrath against those who deliberately plot and diabolically carry out the destruction of all the things that we hold dear.

The late September showers and continued dews and cloudy weather into October put a lot of growth on the tomato vines and a dandy late crop is coming along. Just in case our scouts got the right sign why not gather all the green ones around the 19th that are big enough to ripen or would make good chow chow, leaving the little to come on just in case. They wouldn't be ready to gather anyhow. Recall, this is war times and we are not in position to get out there and find out about things for ourselves. The fact is, you don't find out anything in time when you are too busy to attend to your business. We are in that kind of a pickle, but we are not alone. A good many people have their business in that kind of a mess.

Cotton is coming along better than anybody anticipated. It is yielding more per acre, giving a better turn out and a better staple, weighing out heavier and ginning out better cottonseed. The fact is, in most fields, it is a better crop than was had last year. The fly in the ointment for the renter, of course, is that his gathering bill is going to be far any way higher than he anticipated. In some instances this week boll pulling is going at $2 per hundred. That is $36 per bale to begin with. Then dividing with the landlord and the other run of expenses brings the cost up to a pretty steep figure, so that the "overall picture" at the "renter level," to borrow expressions now rolling so glibly off the tongues of our masters at Washington and Dallas is not altogether a rosy one, good as it is.

Wish not so much to live long as to live well.—Franklin.

But be this as it may, high cotton boll pulling certainly puts "money in the country" at a rapid pace. Folks who pick cotton are the ones who must have their money for the necessities of life and want with all their hearts to have a few of the luxuries. They are the ones who get rapid action for the retailer and make things look really rosier to the man on Main street than they might actually be. But this is one year when everybody must admit that, except for the 15 per cent who got caught in the wrong type of business, the money is rolling in. And you see people getting rid of their dough for whatever is offered them at whatever price. It must be a good thing for us that mighty forces of the federal government are working overtime to protect us from ourselves.

Folks whom liquor shortages do not bother probably are unaware that drinking material is getting mighty hard to get. Furthermore, they will be pleased with the news. Perhaps we shall have "prohibition" without prohibition, or something equal to the same thing. It is said by travelers that bar whiskey is practically undrinkable and way, way too high, and that liquor brands they are used to seeing are off the shelves and new and unfamiliar kinds are offered them at prices that triple prices even of recent years. Human nature being what it is, something will be done about it. The drinking man will figure something out for sure to have his and others will follow suit just for the venture-ousness of it. Let us hope the mania, however it catches on, will come in a light form.

It is a bit difficult at this time in October to believe that our scouts on the weather front were not fooled by the camouflage when they foresaw frost around October 20. The thermometer has been wig-wagging but it has lacked a lot of dipping low enough to approach freezing as yet. Does the weather man have something drastic up his sleeve for us in the near future? Is the Juggernaut of the north churning up the elements for an attack on a huge scale against the Gulf coast forces? Now, if our scouts studied the mesquites and the prairie life and such things as the broom weeds and the cactus they told the story like it would be, and around the 20th it is going to happen. But if they did not—it was just another case of being kidded.

You'll find just about three kinds of folks in the world. The wills, the won'ts, and the can'ts. The first get everything done; the second are agin everything; the third fail in everything.

Stopping at third base adds no more to the score than striking out.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

By Nellie Witt Spikes

October is the month of birthdays in our family. Wilson the 25, Wilda and Wilma, 3rd, Joe Ellis 16th and brother Joe 27th and James 16th.

Wilda's husband is now in the service in the Middle East and a number of my near neighbors. I find in Star-ology that October's children are "fitted to fill high places in life. They have sound minds, strong wills and sound judgment. They are at heart kind, generous and sympathetic. Women born under this sign are extremely fond of pleasure and are free spenders of money and so on. Some of it true and some not, running. I think like astrology for children of all the other months.

Now I just got through bragging a week or so ago about what a fine frame garden I had, and in this case as in many, pride went galloping before a hard fall. The wire got unfastened at one corner, the greedy chickens crept in and well you know there was nothing left worth saving. I would not have been quite so angry if the chickens had eaten it all, but most of it was just scratched to pieces and into the earth. Now we will await new plants to come up and grow for our greens.

I am of the opinion the older folks when I was a child knew what they were talking about when they said "we have a bad cold." There are no other kinds and the one you have now like I have, is the worst one you ever had or anyone else for that matter.

Do you ever try to follow out the old admonition to make one trip do for two or to save steps when one can? Well, when I have an errand in the cellar or upstairs I always try to think what other job could be accomplished at the same time, saving steps. But I always end by doing the last thing I think of forgetting the main first thing and oft-times stand helplessly wondering what I started out to do in the first place, anyway.

This afternoon I started reading "Paris Underground" by Eita Shirer and did not put it down till it was finished. It is the thrilling story of how an American woman with the aid of a friend operated an "Underground" through which many British soldiers escaped from France. Mrs. Shirer was put in a German prison. She tells of how the five occupants of one cell stayed all day long through the bitter winter with only filled sacks on the cement floor and a thin blanket covering. They zealously kept the heat generated by their bodies by lying as still as possible. This book starts out as nothing else that has come from war-torn France. Almost two hundred British soldiers passed through to safety back to England and to fight again, helped by those two brave courageous women. This is a book to read, a true story of the war.

Lakes Of The Plains
No tall trees stand by the lakes of the plains country and shed gay leaves of red and gold and brown in the autumn. They are open to the sun that shines unhidden from the time it scatters the darkness of the night, creeping over the prairies till it slips in the blue and the crimson of the western horizon and lets the dark gather in again. The lakes are always full of beauty. Now they are sunken gardens, holding masses of soft pink blossoms, fringed by a ring of green grass, breath-taking in beauty. Some falls find them full of blue water, covered with thousands of green headed ducks floating on the wind-stirred waves.

Floyd County 14 Years Ago

News Items from the Files of The Hesperian (Issue of October 17, 1929)

Farm work in Floyd county, the principal jobs right now being the gathering of the forage feeds and picking cotton, has been at a standstill in practically all sections since Friday of last week when rains began falling.

Mrs. Geo. A. Lider, secretary and treasurer of District 8 of the Baptist Woman's Missionary union of Texas, left Tuesday night for Dallas, where she is attending a board meeting Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Martin and son left Wednesday of last week for Gainesville where they will visit with his mother, Mrs. J. L. Martin, and Valley View, where they will visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Slinkers. They plan to be gone three weeks.

Leaving Floydada Saturday afternoon 33 strong, the Floydada Municipal band will enter the third year group of the $10,000 State Fair band contest at Dallas Sunday, and hope to return home carrying off one of the prizes.

Sponsored by the Floydada Lions and Rotary clubs, a style show, reviewing the new and correct woman's wearing apparel for Fall, will be held at the Palace Theatre tomorrow evening beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

The following have already consented to act as models. Misses Maxine Norris, Adelaide Scott, Virginia Lewis, Helen McKinney and Bonnara Stephens and Mrs. Jack Henry, Mrs. L. C. Wheeler, Mrs. W. C. Newsome, Mrs. A. D. White, Mrs. Lorraine Britton and Mrs. Elza Guillion.

Mrs. Homer McDonald left Saturday for Clarkburg, West Virginia, to be at the bedside of her brother, Edwin Flory, who is seriously ill. Mr. Flory has visited his sister here from to Mr. and Mrs. Herschell Stanley, a 10 pound girl Monday, October 14.

They are always a canvas painted by a master artist. In the spring, heavy rains run down the gentle slopes and gurgle in deep cracks, bringing forth legions of frogs to croak. The snipe comes back the killee runs and bobs his funny heads. Water grasses grow tall above the waves, the sweet scented water-lily spring into white bloom. Like patches of foam here and there, cows run bawling from stinging heel flies to bury their heels in cool water.

The north wind sweeps across the waters of the lakes and turns it in smooth sparkling ice, the moon finds a silver path to walk across on warm summer nights. I take up mind pictures of the lakes and look at each:

A covered wagon stopped near, the horses hobbled to eat the tall grass, a woman bending over a Dutch oven turning over sour dough bread in the melted grease, children wading and kicking the shallow water near the lake shore.

Here is another: An Indian woman carrying water in a woven basket to cook huge chunks of fresh buffalo meat; a freighter camped near the frozen water, an icy fog veiling the gray world, the only spot of color the red of the burning chip fire; pictures given to the people of the plains, the ever-changing beauty of the lakes.

People drive miles to see the blue bonnets of Texas, artists catch their loveliness on canvas, but have you ever seen a pasture on the prairies with patches of purple in the fall? Or even the yellow of broomweed? Or the snow of asters just before frost?

The Word
Richard Realf
O, Earth! Thou hast not any wind that blows
Which is not music; every wheel of thine
Pressed rightly flows in aromatic wine;
And humble hedge-row flower that grows,
And every little brown bird that doth sing,
Hath something greater than itself, and bears
A living word to every living thing.
Albeit holds the message unawares,
All shapes and sounds have something which is not
Of them, a spirit broods amid the grass;
Vague outlines of the Everlasting thought
Lie in the melting shadows as they pass;

Buying Is Big Part Of Program Of Chick Raising

Rush business that hatcheries had this season will probably be repeated this coming season, reports H. G. Barber, Agriculture teacher. To avoid difficulty in securing the number and quality of chicks desired, the poultryman should make his orders as far ahead of delivery date as possible.

Before making an order a few precautions that may largely determine the success of a proposed poultry enterprise should be observed very carefully, said Mr. Barber.

First, buy chicks as close to home as possible. If the kind or breed of chicks wanted cannot be secured in the state to make the purchase. The kind of poultry that will do best on the farms in this area can be found in Texas, continued the vocational agriculture teacher.

Some causes for baby chick losses can be completely eliminated by proper buying. For example, no chicks should be lost from pulmorum disease. Chicks should be bought from chicks that have been properly tested for this disease under an intensive private testing program or under the National Poultry Improvement plan.

Most hatcheries have strict minimum qualifications that they meet before chicks are sold. Nevertheless a buyer should check his source of chicks closely in order to insure the delivery of quality birds. If a buyer has no means of making a check on the sources that provide the particular kind of fowl he wants he should want to order from hatcheries that are in the Poultry Improvement Plan program since these hatcheries are regularly checked by a State Inspector.

The items for which a hatchery of breeder should be checked, states Mr. Barber, include the freedom from pulmorum disease, the production of the flock, the weight of the birds, the size of the hens, breeding characteristics of the hens and if possible, the performance of some birds previously bought from that source.

Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Luttrell had their Sunday guests Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Flowers and baby, Kenneth Dale of Amarillo, Mrs. Haskell Redd of Wichita Falls, Mr. and Mrs. Lighthouse Teeple and baby, Shirlene Ann Redd of Amarillo, Mrs. B. Martin and Mrs. J. N. Redd of Floydada.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Gilly accompanied by Mrs. R. A. Hill returned Sunday from Glendale, Arizona, where they had been visiting their son, Gene and wife. He was returning from an appendicitis operation.

Judge and Mrs. G. C. Tubbs and Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Turner spent the Monday until Wednesday of last week in Fort Worth with Lt. and Mrs. Richard Tubbs. They were accompanied by Mrs. Charlie Spence, who visited her son, Lt. and Mrs. Orville Spence.

Conservation District News

A good example of neighborly cooperation and group planning advocated by the District supervisors, that of Ernest Lee Thomas and W. C. Snodgrass of Blanco. District technicians in planning these farms for irrigation found it impossible to get water from the Thomas well to some twenty five or more acres of his land and some ten or so acres of the Snodgrass land from individual units, but by making a tie-up between the two systems all the land on both farms can be readily watered. Drilling of the two wells is to start soon.

Wade Davenport of South Plains is ready to start some new terrace construction as soon as the District engineers can get around to surveying the lines for them. Wade has the terracing right on his place ready to go.

It is believed that many farmers who have very small grass pastures could materially benefit themselves by planning an improved pasture to fill in the gap between the time to take off their wheat and July when sudan becomes available for grazing. For irrigated farms a good mixture would be alfalfa, smooth bromegrass, western wheat, Australian blue grass and curvula. The western wheat and blue grass are good winter growers. For dry land operators it is felt that sweet clover, western wheat, buffalo, blue grama and blue tem will do the job. Any alfalfa or clover should be inoculated before seeding. The District technicians will be glad to assist in working out the proper mixture for any cooperators.

So-West Pacific Soldiers Breaks Into Verse

This verse was written by Sgt. Presley Williams, nephew of Mrs. T. T. Hamilton, who is somewhere in the South Pacific, shortly after his return from his second combat assignment. He has been serving in the army 18 months.

Over There
Now there we are, a few thousand men who've been over here since God knows when.

Now we've been in the jungles and on the range
And promised a relief, but there's never a change.
Now what of the millions that's left over there?
Living like kings and spouting hot air.

Oh, what they would do if they could get over here,
But they keep dodging the draft when their time is near.

And then comes the fellows left in camp,
Living in glory, while we live like tramps.

Eating and sleeping like wolves on the trail
With not many kind words and very little mail.

When we get news, all we hear of is Joe,
Who spent a nice time on another furlough.

To us over here he is better known
As the U. S. O. soldier that never leaves home.

So what about sending a few of them across
To replace these men and the one's we've lost?

To give us a chance for a much needed rest,
And get back in shape to finish the test.

At the bottom of the page on which he wrote this poem he wrote, "Don't get me wrong about this poem."

Stanford Funeral in Lubbock At 10:30 Tomorrow

Full military honors, after the fashion of the U. S. Marine corps, will be accorded the remains of Cpl. Thomas R. Stanford when interment is made tomorrow morning following funeral at the First Baptist church in Lubbock at 10:30 o'clock.

The 20-year-old former Floyd county boy was killed in a military plane crash in California last week, within a few hours of the time he would have reached home from three years in the Pacific war, to greet his mother once more.

Among the mourners will be his aged grandparent, Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Black, of this city, with whom the boy and his mother made their home a number of years preceding her marriage to Ted U. Glover. The Glovers have made their home in Lubbock the past five years.

Talked By Telephone Home

A few hours before the take-off from the military base in California Cpl. Stanford talked by telephone for 25 minutes to his mother in Lubbock, his grandfather said here Monday, and told her of his return to the states and of plans for the future that included work as an enlistment officer.

Bureau of Public Relations U. S. War Department
SEE THIS BOMB BARBER POLE?—Here is a characteristic scene at the Warhawk Barber Shop on an island base somewhere in the South Pacific. It affords tonsorial service for an entire Army Air Force squadron. The barber is Corporal George Longfellow, R. D. 1, St. Joseph, Michigan. His customer is Corporal Robert W. Morgan, Los Angeles, California. A bomb, properly painted, serves as an attractive sign in front of the shop.

Thrice-wounded and sick of tropical illnesses the boy had landed in California after a 28-day trip from the Southwest Pacific, diagnosed as unfit for further campaigning at the front. At 17 years of age he had begged so hard to enlist that his mother finally consented and he quit school to carve out a military career in 1940, a month after he was 17.

He was at Pearl Harbor with the Marines and later served in Lt. Col. James Roosevelt's raiders. The family was notified three times that he was hospitalized for wounds and Mr. Black said the boy spent several months in Southwest Pacific hospitals. A Jap bayonet made one of the wounds (in the stomach) and a shrapnel fragment another. He was hospitalized on P.I., in New Zealand and in Australia.

Long delay in reports of the grandson's recovery and general uneasiness as to his welfare caused the maternal grandfather to write the president, asking that the boy be returned home to recover. The letter was referred to Southwest Pacific headquarters and Mr. Black had letters from these sources concerning the son and the difficulties of passage way home.

Crash Near San Bernardino
Landing in San Francisco, Cpl. Stanford had been transferred to San Diego for passage and was aboard a bomber when it crashed near San Bernardino, according to newspaper reports. The story Mr. Black has is that the bomber was taking off and crashed before it had sufficient altitude for the occupants to bail out to safety, and that both the pilot and co-pilot were killed at the same time his grandson was. The plane did not burn, he said.

Cpl. Stanford has a brother also in the Marines and in the Southwest Pacific the past three years. He is Master Sergeant H. R. Stanford, jr., 22.

The youth's father is H. R. Stanford of Fort Worth and his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Ollie Stanford, also lives there.

LET EXPERTS GROW SEED
The U. S. Department of Agriculture does not recommend saving seeds from plants in Victory gardens for use next year. It is better for amateurs to depend upon commercial seed produced under controlled conditions by experienced growers. The best commercial seed growers take precautions to insure against mixtures and to insure that the seed shall be clean and true to variety. For most crops this requires experience, skill and natural conditions not available to the average home gardener.

SEEDING SAVES YEARS IN RESTORING PRAIRIE
Scientists have found many short cuts for nature's leisurely processes. The U. S. Department of Agriculture reports such a "short cut" that saved 18 years in restoring wornout crop lands in Kansas to their original prairie state. Instead of leaving abandoned fields to come slowly back to a cover of perennial tall prairie grasses—which takes about 20 years—scientists of the Soil Conservation Service got as good grass cover for these lands in two years by experimental plantings of several kinds of tall prairie grasses. As a check area they used a fence row that had never been plowed and that was unusually well protected from wind and grazing.

The species in the test were typical of the original prairie sod—side-oats grama, Indiangrass, switchgrass, big bluestem, little bluestem, and tall dropseed. The first four gave best results. Two years out of three, the investigators got strong seedlings when they planted on land which had been in oats the previous year. The land was plowed in July and a firm seedbed prepared in late April of the following spring.

In spite of severe weed competition, if a square yard of test plot produced 16 thrifty seedlings the investigators could usually count on a satisfactory sod in 3 years. If more seedlings survived weed competition, sod-formation was cut to two years.

"Did you call up that man about that unpaid bill?"
"Yes, sir."
"Any results?"
"Excellent results, sir. He said he was worrying about it."
Dumbell (at police station): "Has anybody brought in a bottle of brandy I left in the bus?"
Police Sergeant: "No, but a constable has just brought in the man who found it."

THEY ARE GOOD EGGS
Dried whole eggs—nearly all of them going to war this year—are of high quality and fit to use as table eggs—scrambled, and in omelets and custards, as well as in baked goods, formerly the chief outlet for dried eggs. Within less than two years the industry has grown from 10 plants with a capacity of 10 million pounds a year to 108 plants supplying nearly 375 million pounds. This rapid increase in commercial output of superior dried eggs is traceable, in part, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture, to the joint work of the Bureau of Agricultural and Industrial Chemistry and the egg-drying industry, both in improving plant sanitation and in devising new methods of handling to retain natural egg qualities.

Olin Watsons Sell Home In So-West City To Cooks

The Olin M. Watsons have sold their home in the southwest suburbs of Floydada to the Ray I. Cooks and will give possession on December 1. Mr. Watson said this week. Transfer of title to the property has been made already.

The Cooks will occupy the place as a residence, while the Watsons will move to another residence owned by them to make way for the new owners.

L. P. DENISON ON LEAVE, HAS BEEN IN FOUR MAJOR MILITARY CAMPAIGNS

Talk about getting action and a run for your money, Machinist Mate 3-c L. P. Denison, Floyd county boy, could give you a half hour's start and still out-point you—if you would talk, which he won't but little.

However, his campaign ribbons give him and his record away and here it is:

At Pearl Harbor on December 7 and in subsequent naval actions when American forces were stabbing back at the onrushing Japs.

In the North Atlantic convoy service when his destroyer was helping to battle the all but over-powering submarine menace of the Nazis.

In the invasion of North Africa; and

In the invasion of Sicily.

His ship is back in its home port for a few days for some reason best known to the authorities, and L. P. was given a nine-day leave. Seven of these days he is spending in travel, 48 hours at home. The son of P. A. Denison, he made a pop call here and also spent some time with the Misses Tommie Ruth and Leona Jones, daughters of Frank Jones, now making their home in Lubbock.

Young Denison has two brothers in the service, one in the navy, the other in the army. He has done three and a half years of a six-year "cruise," and, of course, is "in" for the duration.

West Tex Chamber Of Commerce Referendum 'Convention' Under Way This Month And Next

The 1943 referendum convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce will be held in the period from October 1 to November 3 inclusive, says announcement from the organization's headquarters office. It says that for the second consecutive year the WTCC will, as a wartime travel conservation measure, substitute the referendum-by-mail plan for the large general gatherings of the past years.

Starting October 1 the WTCC's 200 directors throughout West Texas began presiding at meetings in their towns at which the 1943 policies and work program, as recommended by various committees were being considered and voted upon. The proposed policies and all procedure for the referendum are contained in a 12-page document that has gone out from WTCC headquarters to all directors and chambers of commerce in the affiliated towns. The directors are doing the voting, counseled by their local groups, and results of the 11-point ballot will determine the regional organization's policies and program of work for 1944. New officers and directors—both district, assistant district and local—also will be elected.

It is expected that around 150 town meetings will be held around the territory during October. Following these, a windup clearance session composed of the officers, directors, past presidents and committees will be held at the WTCC headquarters office on Wednesday, November 3. At that one-day all-business meeting the referendum ballots will be canvassed, results announced and the program set up.

Plans for the 1943 referendum were made by the officers' committee in a recent meeting at Lubbock. Present there were President M. C. Ulmer, Vice-Presidents G. A. Simmons and E. W. Hardin, and Manager D. A. Bauden.

LOCAL MAN PURCHASES REGISTERED JERSEY

NEW YORK, N. Y.—A registered Jersey cow has been purchased by C. B. Carmack of Floydada from L. G. Withers. The name of the animal is Combination Dream Duchess and her registration number is 1411786.

The whereabouts of all registered Jerseys is known and carefully watched over by The American Jersey Cattle Club, with offices in New York City. This important job is made possible through registrations and transfers made by Jersey Breeders everywhere. Tattoo identification, somewhat similar to fingerprinting, keeps individuals of this dairy breed always known.

Jerseys make up 42% of all dairy cows in the United States.

Texas Licenses Begin To Expire In This Month

AUSTIN, October 8.—State Police Director Homer Garrison today asked Texas drivers to take a look at the dates on their operator's licenses. The first group of the new type licenses, which are good for two years from the date of issue, begin expiring this month.

Renewal forms are available at drivers license offices in all court houses, and in some localities at other places.

"Texas people are bothered with so much red tape now that we are especially anxious to carry out the renewal program with a minimum of inconvenience to them," Garrison said. "It will help the people and the Department of Public Safety a great deal of applicants for renewal will be careful to observe the following points:

"Be sure the application is properly filled out.

"The application must be accompanied by the renewal stub, which is to be torn off the present license.

"The application must be mailed prior to the expiration date of the current license.

"The application must be mailed to the Department of Public Safety in Austin.

"The application should be accompanied by a money order or cashier's check for $.50, the fee for a two-year license."

Slight Decline In Assistance Rolls For Aged

AUSTIN, Oct. 1.—The old age assistance rolls made a net decline of 313 cases during September, leaving on the rolls for payments in October 182,305 persons. Total payments amount to $3,776,807.80, which is $18,930.32 more than the cost the previous month. The October payment averages $20.72. Nine hundred thirty-six recipients were removed from the rolls because of current ineligibility and 937 died during September while 1,560 new names appeared on the rolls during the month.

The blind rolls made a net gain of 61 persons. A total of $112,970 will be paid in October to 4,604 recipients, averaging $24.54 per person.

The aid to dependent children rolls sustained a net loss of 362 families, representing 838 children. A total of $233,938 will be distributed ed in October to 11,018 families representing 24,295 children. The payment averages $21.23 per family.

PURCHASING POWER "BACKLOG" GROWING IN COUNTRY BANKS

An accumulation of unused farm purchasing power has accompanied the rise in farm income, Norman J. Wall of the U. S. Department of Agriculture points out in an analysis of country bank deposits. In 29 leading agricultural states demand deposits in country banks were 67 percent higher in June 1943 than in December 1941. Since the middle of 1942 the increase in country bank deposits has been more rapid than for all banks.

Net cash income is at a record level, but Wall points out that a considerable part of this income "represents payments for the wearing out of capital equipment and other resources that can not be replaced under wartime conditions."

If farmers resist the temptation to buy land at inflated prices, says Wall, these deposits and investments in war bonds may be retained as reserves for re-equipping farms with machinery and buildings that they were unable to replace during the war period.

Farm expenditures on buildings and machinery dropped the Bureau of Agricultural Economics estimates, from $1,802,000,000 in 1941 to $1,359,000,000 in 1942, about 25 percent.

Sure, I'll take a Texan's Share

Your County War Fund is another "Victory weapon."

The United War Chest of Texas through war fund organizations in every county of the state is charged with the responsibility of raising $4,885,781.00 for the 17 approved war appeals of the National War Fund. The national goal is $125,000,000.

Each of the 17 participating agencies was carefully budgeted to stretch every dollar contributed before it received the approval of the President's War Relief Control Board.

Texans now are being asked to take a Texan's share in their County War Funds to aid three fronts with one gift—the Military Front, the United Nations Front, and the Home Front. Remember, President Roosevelt has said that a share in the National War Fund is a share in winning the war. Use this "Victory weapon." Give to your County War Fund.

Scarlet Fever Is Above Average Incidence Now

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 30.—Scarlet fever, now considerably above the normal incidence in Texas, is one of the more disabling and dangerous diseases usually associated with childhood, although actually confined to no age limit, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

Scarlet fever is an acute infectious disease, the onset of which is sudden. First symptoms include sore throat, vomiting, fever, and a red rash which gives this disease its name," Dr. Cox stated.

"Scarlet fever is an acute infectious disease. Three to five days after exposure to the disease the first symptoms, fever, sore throat, and headache, appear and a day or two later the rash appears. Complications may cause prolonged disability or death. Children suffering with scarlet fever may have sinusitis and middle-ear infections which can lead to mastoiditis. As the germs spread through the child's system, the joints, kidneys, and heart may become involved, causing life long invalidism.

"A child with any kind of a sore throat should be seen by the family physician promptly. If scarlet fever is present, the treatment recommended will do much to alleviate discomfort and reduce the possibility of complications," Dr. Cox asserted.

The child with scarlet fever or scarlatina, a common name for mild scarlet fever, really is a sick child, Dr. Cox declared. In fact, he is likely to be far more ill than he appears to be. To be safe, the child under fifteen years of age should remain in bed during the acute stage of the disease.

Center Has Oil Derrick Now

—And Oil, Maybe

CENTER, October 13.—Guess it will get around to a real rain one of these days, but hope it does not rain as long as we have had threatening weather.

Bryan Meredith arrived home Monday from Fort Worth. He will take his physical for army induction.

Clyde Green spent the week end here with home folks. Clyde has been chosen president of the senior class at Wayland and is also accompanying the piano for both boys and girls chorals clubs. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. E. Green of this community.

Mr. and Mrs. Olin Miller made a week end trip here to attend business.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Frizzell were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Meredith.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Bailey and Mrs. J. L. Montgomery attended the singing in Floydada Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Jordan visited their daughter, Mrs. L. E. Maggard and little son in Lockney Sunday afternoon.

The church did not hear from the Rev. Burnham last week, so cannot say whether there will be services Sunday, but come to Sunday school.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Meredith returned from Novice, Coleman county, Friday night where they had been called Thursday because of the death of his sister's son, Randall Parker, who was fatally hurt while working in an oil field.

So many of our people would have gone to the O. H. Johnston home, they are known about it. We surely need a telephone line out this way.

We are always glad to have Mrs. Travis Lightfoot and Mrs. J. O. Smith and children out to services with us as they were Sunday.

We have an oil derrick up in our community whether we ever have an oil well or not. It is located on northeast quarter of the place farmed by E. W. Lightfoot and owned by Bernard Martin.

Miss Alma Graves and brother Carl continue to spend week ends judgement referred to above.

And in compliance with law, I give this notice by publication in the English language, once a week for three consecutive weeks immediately preceding said day of sale, the first publication being not less than 20 days preceding the date of sale.

Mrs. A. L. Spence returned home last Tuesday from Abilene where she visited her son Donathan and a sister at that town. She and Mr. Spence had their daughters, Mrs. Tom Noland and Mrs. Burl Huckabee and their families to dinner Sunday.

(Too late for last week)
CENTER, October 6. — It is still misty each morning. With dryer weather cotton pulling will be the order of the day in a good many fields.

Services were held at Center Sunday morning since only two families came. Rev. Burnham was expected to preach, but he didn't come.

W. B. Jordan spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Jordan of McCoy.

C. M. Meredith has been on the sick list the past few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Allen visited their daughter in the Plainview hospital Saturday evening. Mrs. Dorrell and small son were brought to her parents' Monday for a weeks stay.

Mrs. W. B. Jordan went to the Plainview hospital Saturday afternoon to be with her daughter, Mrs. Leighton Maggard, who has a baby son born October 2. The young man weighed six pounds and five ounces. He has been named Leighton Carroll.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Anderson visited with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Anderson Sunday. Mrs. Lamb and children were other visitors in the Anderson home Sunday afternoon.

MRS. J. L. MONTGOMERY HOSTESS AT CENTER H. D. CLUB HOLDS MEETING

The Center Home Demonstration club met with Mrs. J. L. Montgomery Monday.

In absence of both the president and the vice president, Mrs. W. B. Jordan was chosen to preside.

Before reading the minutes of the last meeting the members repeated the club prayer.

Utilities Active In Conservation Of Resources

For the second time in its history the electric utility industry embarks on a national program to curtail the use of electricity. In World War I the government ordered "lightless nights" and "workless Mondays" to save fuel which was dangerously short in many cities.

This time the government issues no orders. The program is purely voluntary with all utilities companies. Never before have the utilities undertaken nationally to emphasize the forces of salesmanship and advertising to effect a decrease in the use of electricity. The occasion is unique but the electric utilities are definitely interested in supporting the war effort in every way possible.

Will Effect Fuel Saving. Definitely there is not a general shortage of electricity supply capacity. So far as ability to serve is concerned, the utilities are in very good shape. In the 21 months since Pearl Harbor they have never faltered in the job of serving the nation.

Save Manpower, Too. The important thing and prime consideration of the use of electricity, residential and commercial, is that acting as good, patriotic citizens they are joining with other industries—transportation, water, gas, coal, petroleum and communications—to save critical resources of manpower and material in order to shorten the war.

The program is voluntary, as mentioned above; willingly the utilities will promote conservation and hope that their customers will willingly respond by saving electricity.

The annual production of 3,249 dairy cows in Texas goes down the sewerage drain for human consumption. The time, expense and feed required to keep these cows in production is lost—the food that should have helped the United Nations in the war effort went to help Hitler.

The annual production of two dairy cows was refused at Armour Creamery in Floydada. From October 1, 1942, to October 1, 1943, a total of 671.1 pounds of cream valued at $318.03 was rejected because of high sediment or DIRT. We are not concerned about the loss in production of the cows—they can be sent to the butcher, but the food is forever lost to our fighters.

One way to reduce the sediment count is to feed ground feeds after the cows are milked. Feed only the concentrate feeds to the cows in the barn and provide a good trough or self-feeder for the herd to consume all of the dry bundles they want when they want dry feed.

Secondly, use cotton strainer pads if possible. Where these are not available make the cloth strainer a little thicker.

An interesting wheat test was conducted by John Hammonds of Floydada community this past year. Mr. Hammonds decided to determine for himself the best varieties of wheat for this county so he secured good seed of four varieties, namely, Chiefkan, Blackhull, Red Chief and Tenmark.

Each plot was accurately measured and a ten foot fallow strip was left around each lot so none of the crop would be lost in harvest. Each variety was harvested separately and weighed over the scales to determine the total production.

Here are the results as reported by Mr. Hammonds: 20 acres of Chiefkan seeded two weeks after the other varieties had an average yield of 18.82 bushels per acre; 10 acres of Blackhull with 22.3 bushels per acre; 20 acres of Red Chief was third with 20.17 bushels per acre; and 15 acres of Tenmark having the advantage of being seeded on the best land had a yield of 26.57 bushels per acre. On this test the yield per acre ranked Tenmark, Blackhull, Red Chief and Chiefkan.

Mr. Hammonds is not satisfied with the results recorded thus far and he plans to have a baking test run to determine the baking qualities of these wheats. These reports will be interesting to observe because it is now possible to secure the loaf sample and the dough curve of each test.

Albert Mize of Cedar Hill community has been using sulphur for the past 15 years to clear up colds in his poultry flock. He uses about one-half pound to each 100 birds and allows free choice until this sulphur is consumed.

"Sulphur is one of the best tonics I have ever found for poultry," Mr. Mize reported. "I feed it about every three months to my flock and I can see a difference in the general appearance of the birds," he said.

Mr. Mize has a laying flock of 475 birds at the present time.

Miss Louise Hyatt of Borger spent the week end with Mrs. Jesse Brown. Mrs. Jesse Brown attended the funeral for Weldon Westmoreland at Matador Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. (Buster) Simpson of Tuscaloosa, Alabama are here visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Simpson. They arrived October 1 and plan to stay until Friday.

Cpl. Billy Joe McPeak, Ludean Ray, Mrs. George McPeak and Mrs. Margaret Ann Jones visited friends in Amarillo last week.

Home Demonstration Agent
Texas A. & M. College Extension Service

A food exhibit showing enough processed food for one person for one year will be shown in the Southwestern Public Service Building Saturday, October 16. This exhibit is being sponsored by the Home Demonstration clubs of the county in connection with a flower exhibit sponsored by the Floydada Garden club.

A joint program has been planned for the afternoon.

Canning chicken by the new raw-pack method is the demonstration being given to the Home Demonstration clubs this month. Canned chicken will assure the family many tasty, easily prepared meals and this gives a chance to get rid of scarce expensive feed.

The old birds are better canned than the young ones. It takes a long time to process any kind of canned meat in a pressure cooker to make it safe, so the younger birds would be overcooked. The younger birds are better stored in the freezer locker.

There are a few things to keep in mind when getting ready to can chicken. The first thing is—let the bird go without food from 12 to 24 hours before they're killed. They can be watered but not fed because you don't want the craw and the intestines to be full.

The next thing is—be sure to bleed the chickens well. To do this cut the blood vessels at the base of the throat. It isn't wise to wring the chicken's neck because the chicken don't bleed thoroughly that way. The meat will be darker in color and the flavor won't be as good and the bird may be bruised if it flops around on the ground. It's a good idea to hang the bird in a tree to bleed.

Further instructions on canning chicken by the new raw-pack method may be obtained from this office—or persons interested in seeing the demonstration may attend one of the ten demonstrations yet to be given Home Demonstration clubs.

CPL. R. V. BARTLETT STILL IN ENGLAND, WRITES ABOUT THINGS AT HOME, ABROAD

A letter to his mother and dad, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bartlett, from Cpl. R. V. Bartlett in England at the time the letter was written in September, gives some interesting sidelights on soldier life and what the interests of the boys are:

"Here are a few lines to let you know I am all right, and I hope this finds both of you well and happy. I guess you have been working hard as usual I have been working all day, and I'm as greasy as a grease monkey, but I like that kind of work. I'm doing the same work that I have been doing. I have a fine bunch of boys to work with.

"Those pictures sure were good and boy, those kids sure have grown a lot. Martha Lee is almost as large as sister. The picture of my cow and calf was good too.

"Peaches A Little Steep. I went on a furlough the 13 of this month. Sure had a good time too. I sure did see a lot of London. I saw a lot of old places in London and lots of pretty country too. I was going to buy some peaches up there, but they wanted 4 shillings for one peach. That is $1.00 of our money and they wanted $6.00 for one pound of grapes, but I did not buy either. I ran across a boy from Amarillo. He was a sailor, but it sure was good to see some one close to home.

"Oh, yes mother, you know the pup I told you about. Well, some one got him. He sure was a pretty little booger. I hope I find him.

"I've had my watch for a month. I sure do like it. I have not got my razor blades yet, but I guess that I will soon.

"I just wonder what you all are doing right now. It is 11 o'clock here now. I just imagine that you are washing the supper dishes.

"Got a paper today dated August 6. Sure did enjoy it. Tell every one hello for me at home and sure would love to see everybody."

R. V.'s address is Cpl. R. V. Bartlett, 38067217, APO No. 505, Care Postmaster, New York, N. Y.

Mrs. Ray Horn and Edna Mae Smith of Lubbock spent Friday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Fields of Loperizo visited over the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Fields.

Phillis Jean and Geraldine Simon of Tulla, spent the week end here with friends.

Overweight Oil Undermines Your Car

Why Lightest grades of oil are made safe for you by changing to Winter OIL-PLATING

Any oil that has been doing its best in your car for a while back, will be badly overweight this Winter. Everything ever said about not being caught with overweight oil goes double today on account of rationing. Your battery has been undercharged, because your car now runs fewer miles per start. Your gasoline has been wasted by the drag of overweight oil. Your engine has been abused because it hasn't been warm steadily enough for ideal lubrication. Your car could approach the end of its rope with any overweight oil apt to become jelly-like. Before Winter causes that, go light.

Whatever you do, change oil for lightness. At the same time though, you can make the whole big change to an OIL-PLATED engine, by getting popular-priced Conoco Nth motor oil—just as light as needed. OIL-PLATING is applied to inner engine surfaces as closely as chrome plating on your bumpers. The "magnet-like" properties of a Conoco Nth synthetic are the basis of OIL-PLATING. No plating would all drain down to the crankcase fast. It can long remain at its topmost point to safeguard the very first starting stroke. And right after that, even the lightest Conoco Nth oil assures an extremely strong normal type of fluid oil film. Oil film and OIL-PLATING are both present to rebuff wear, and that's how your engine can go through a long Winter—and a long War—always using its lightest possible Nth oil economically. Change at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station today. Continental Oil Company

Dread Engine Acid is Fought by OIL-PLATING

Normal combustion always leaves acids inside of your engine when it stops. Formerly it seldom stood idle long. Soon mileage and speed heated your engine enough to oust acids. But nowadays rationing may force long rests, while corrosive acids gnaw. To combat corrosion, metals are plated. You combat acid corrosion with your engine OIL-PLATED.
