Scouts Home Project Would Be Led by Willson

Proposal of J. M. Willson, business man and Boy Scout leader, to give material aid to construction of a suitable building for the Boy Scouts of America is being given thought by county officials and members of the American Legion post this week.

Mr. Willson offers to furnish all materials for the construction of a building 30 by 30 feet on the corner of 5th and 10th streets, if others of the community are interested in successful work here will furnish labor for the project.

Brick tile and concrete construction is indicated for the building, except where wood is proposed, except where wood is proposed, except where wood is proposed.

Democratic Campaign Funds Come in Slowly; State Leaders Say Time Short and Need Urgent

Floyd county Democrats up to yesterday noon had not swamped the county chairman with funds asked for last week to carry on the party campaign for the national campaign, with stress on congressional seats in Texas and other states.

Urgent need for money to finance the campaign was flashed this week by Myron G. Blalock, national committeeman for this state, who pointed out that the need is serious and the time short.

Yesterday $37.50 had been contributed to the fund and was forwarded to the national committeeman, with more promised. Probability is that personal solicitation will not be made, however, and added funds will have to come from volunteer donations. Contributions can be left at the First National bank in Floydada for the account of the Democratic campaign fund or with Homer Steen, who has been named finance chairman for the county.

A goal of $200 has been set. Following are the contributors and the amounts paid today:

Jno. A. Hollums	$ 5.00
Lon M. Davis	1.00
Ed Griffin	5.00
M. B. Johnston, Rt. 5	1.00
W. G. Collins	10.00
Mrs. Grace Johnston	5.00
Mrs. J. M. Willson	1.00
J. M. Willson, Jr.	1.00
Louise Willson	1.00
J. C. Wester	5.00
Total	$37.50

Two Week Old Injury Puts Deen in Bed

Tom W. Deen, representative and representative-elect of the 120th Representative District of Texas, is confined to his bed at the family home on North Main street in Floydada, due to hip injuries received in a fall two weeks ago.

Hospitalized following the accident the state official returned to his home the latter part of last week but his recovery has been slow.

Dr. D. H. Pitts, who put the leg in a cast said the patient wrenched his hip, injuring the tendons and that he would have to remain in the cast for a month or six weeks.

Formal Opening Dispensed With At New Store

There will be no formal opening of the Jones Pay & Paek market and grocery, newly established in the Martin building on West California, Edgar Jones said the first of the week. Lack of help to do a good job of it was assigned as the cause.

The store was open throughout the moving period last week to serve what customers called in and Saturday installations had been so far completed as to make service to the public approach normal. "We feel sure that more room for display, more room for shopping and parking are going to be helpful to the public as well as ourselves," said Mr. Jones, who said the regular force greatly appreciated the fact that the army gave W. Fred Jones of the firm a few days at home to help with the big job of getting out of one location and into another.

'Hen Number 164', With 615 Egg Production in Two Years, Is Sensation of Poultry World

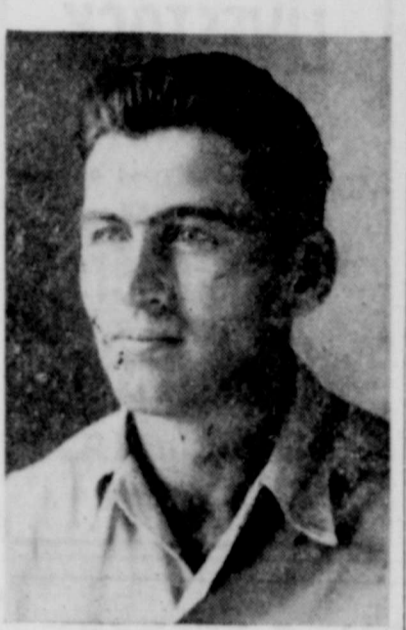

A hen that lays 615 eggs in two years is a sensation, and rightly makes the headlines, such as Oliver Allen's Rhode Island red, "Hen number 164" has been doing ever since she made her first year record by laying 344 eggs.

In September a feature writer for the Farmer-Stockman, Oklahoma farm paper, made a special trip to Floydada to see this record-making hen and write about her, her owner and his flock. This story appearing in the October number of that farm magazine, pictures Hen Number 164 sky-lighted against a five-pointed Texas star and is headed "Food Factory in Feathers." The article is reproduced here:

Oliver Allen has raised chickens off and on during most of his adult life (he's a grandpa now) but it looks as if he never really got "in the groove" until a couple of years ago when he started a new flock of Rhode Island Reds with just one big idea—to have the "laying-reds" in Floyd county, or maybe in Texas and the United States.

"I have always enjoyed competition," says Allen; "I liked trying to beat the other fellow, and when

After Two Years

Ben P. Eudy

After two years in the service, most of the time in the African and Italian campaigns, Ben P. Eudy in his most recent letter (September 23) sends a picture of himself to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Eudy. "A few lines tonight to let you know I am all right," he says. "Summer is about finished and glad to see winter again. Sure hated to learn about Dale (Strickland). He was such a swell guy, and know you all took it plenty hard."

The letter was written from Italy, where Ben is stationed at a general hospital.

20 Head Swine Average 217 Lbs. At Six Months

Twenty head of swine marketed Tuesday by J. C. Ginn, of Cedar, made unusual records of gains topped the scales at an average of 217 pounds and bring the top price of $14.25 at the age of six months.

The hogs farrowed in two litters of 10 each, were farrowed respectively on April 20 and April 22, making both litters three or four days less than six months old. Gross weight on the buying scales of Lubbock Hog and Cattle company was 4340 pounds.

Sam Moore, buyer, wrote a check for $618.45. The swine were produced at a profit, Mr. Ginn said, their good start and consistent gains being attributed to the fact that the grower was milking several cows and giving the shoats some milk in their rations.

Ginn operates a 120-acre farm and has consistently raised some hogs every year of the war to help out in the pork production needed for the fighting men and civilian population.

TWIN DAUGHTERS ARE BORN TO DR. AND MRS. PRUITT

Dr. and Mrs. J. G. Pruitt are the parents of twin daughters born at the Pitts hospital Tuesday morning. One weighed one ounce less than six pounds and the other one ounce more than six pounds.

The girls have not been named yet.

Whirlwinds Trek To Phillips For Sat. Night Game

After a week-end without a game the Floydada High School Whirlwinds are on their mettle this week end in anticipation of their contest against the Phillips Blackhawks on Saturday night at Phillips.

Coach Murry said his charges are anxious to see if their new plays and their re-vamped line-up will get the job done. They have been unable to develop a scoring punch this season and they are going up against stiff competition. Phillips has won two games from the Whirlwinds in two years, taking two of the best teams the school has ever developed in these gridiron battles.

Not only is the squad ready and anxious to get back into action, but their enthusiasm is reflected in the spirit of the pep squad and student body as well. Yesterday it was announced that the biggest rally of the student body will be held tomorrow night down-town. The first bonfire of the season will be lit to the accompaniment of noise and enthusiasm and organized yells, the Green Peppers announce.

Coach Murry said his traveling squad will consist of 20 to 24 players. They will make the trip by chartered bus. Welcome news for the fans is the announcement that some of the faithful also will get to make the trip by bus. A bus chartered to take 25 passengers will make the trip, leaving Floydada around 3 o'clock in the afternoon for Phillips, Mr. Murry said.

The round trip will cost $4.40 for each passenger and the coach said that the nearest fair way he could devise to determine who could make the trip by bus is to announce that the first 25 who leave their names and lay down their money will be listed for the trip. Fans who are interested will find the list at Arwine Drug company, said the coach. The bus is chartered specially for the purpose and will go regardless of the weather at departing time.

WAC Recruiting Personnel Due Mon. and Tuesday

Announcement that WAC recruiting personnel from the sub-station at Lubbock will be in Floydada, Monday and Tuesday of next week for the purpose of interviewing women "who are willing to do their part" in the present conflict, says a notice from Lieutenant Julia A. Antonelli. The dates are October 23 and 24. Says the lieutenant:

"Particular emphasis is placed on the need for medical technicians at this time. Colonel Kurtz has expressed the urgent call for 48,000 women to help heal the physical hurts of the men who are every day returning to this country in ever-increasing numbers. This need increases as the days go by and the Army needs women to fulfill this requirement, because of the understanding nature, and the calm, peaceful feeling that only a woman's touch can give to a warped body, mind and spirit.

"If you are interested in answering this plea for women, please contact the Recruiting personnel at the Post Office where Lt. Antonelli, Cpl. Jabe A. Caldwell, Cpl. Dorothea Murphy or Cpl. Rachel Featherston, will be more than glad to give you the facts. They urgently request that you find out just how important you can become in doing your share to bring victory nearer and nearer."

Hermas Olson, J. T. Howard in Italy

Hermas Olson, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Olson, of this city, and J. T. Howard, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Howard of Carlsbad, New Mexico, both in the quartermaster corps of the Fifth Army in Italy, recently renewed old acquaintanceship there.

They met by chance and "batted their gums" for quite a spell about old times and former associates in Floydada. Their meeting was sometime in August. Both have been in the army quite awhile. Olson going into service with the national guard units when the state militia was first mustered into the army.

Ernest Huckabay Home After Twenty Months in the Southwest Pacific

Ernest Huckabay, carpenter's mate second class in the U. S. navy, is at home on a 30-day leave after 20 months in the Southwest Pacific. He arrived Saturday and will visit with his father, C. P. Huckabay.

Ernest has been at shore installations and on the seas in the vicinity of Guadalcanal and the New Hebrides principally during his service in the navy.

1,787 Packages Mailed Overseas To Service Men for Christmas Thru Office Here; Sat. Big Day

Heaviest mailing of overseas packages in any month since the war began from the Floydada post office was recorded in the period from September 15 to October 16—Christmas mailing period for parcels to soldiers and sailors overseas, according to Mrs. Barbara H. Smith, postmaster.

Parcels numbering 1,787 were mailed during the 31-day period. Mrs. Smith said. Heaviest day of mailing was on Saturday, October 14, when 188 parcels were received by the office and forwarded by the dispatchers in addition to their regular work. Second heaviest day was Monday of this week when 170 parcels went out to Army Post office addresses and to addresses care Fleet post masters.

The advance holiday mailing to overseas members of the armed forces was instituted to make it possible for the men to receive their parcels on or before Christmas and give the army and navy postal personnel and facilities an opportunity to spread their huge task over a greater number of days with less strain on the facilities.

"People were just fine about their parcel mailing," Mrs. Smith said, in commenting on the helpful attitude of the public. "Very strict requirements of the army and navy postal authorities, made necessary by the circumstances of long hauls and immense volume, were met by the patrons of this office with good grace," she said. Requirements as to weight and size as well as wrapping and the type of matter mailed were quite strict. "I would say that the parcels mailed were the best packed ever to leave the Floydada office."

The big task of handling the additional mail was undertaken and put over by the local postal workers with promptness and dispatch in spite of curtailed force and the usual heavy run of business being handled through local postal facilities.

Seventeen In Induction Call For October

Of 17 men forwarded from Floyd county last week by the Local board three were rejected due to the rigid physical examination now being given all registrants whose examinations are more than 90 days old.

The call for induction fills the October quota from Floyd county, the selectees being sent to Fort Bliss for induction and assignment.

Accepted for service by the induction authorities were the following:

From Lockney, Alvin H. Cunningham, Jimmie H. Allen, James W. Taylor, Lon C. Colvin, Billy L. Allen.

From Floydada, Adrin L. West, Lee W. Burton, Fred W. Lloyd, Fred D. Pope, Walter H. Simpson, Charles E. Hartsell, Elvis E. Warren; and from South Plains, John J. Lopez.

Jackson Named Wholesale Man For Magnolia

A. J. Jackson is the new agent in charge of the wholesale distribution of Magnolia Petroleum company products, succeeding H. O. Cline and A. C. Rainer in this capacity several days ago, and assuming charge of the wholesale plant and equipment.

Cline & Rainer served nearly 10 years as wholesale distributors for Magnolia and Cline has been with the company since 1928.

Resigning and checking out of the wholesale business Cline and Rainer, however, retain their relation as retail dealers and continue their auto store business.

Wounded in France

SGT. OLIVER K. EMERT

Pictured above is S/Sgt. Oliver K. Emert, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Emert of Dougherty. In a telegram received last week they were notified that he was wounded on September 5 in France and is now in an army hospital.

They have not heard from him directly as yet. Oliver trained at Fort Sam Houston three years before going overseas in September 1943. He is in the infantry and has been in England, Ireland and was in the invasion of France.

Alfalfa Mill Aid To Area; Gives Market and Work

Figures released this week by Arnold Upton, manager of the Alfalfa Milling and Products company, of Lockney, show that the mill has spent in the county and area for feed, for supplies and for labor $279,612.42 in the period of five months since May 15 when it began operating.

These figures represent the expenditures of the mill in the area for hay bought from farmers, for labor in handling and processing and for other expenditures in the area for various supplies, Mr. Upton said.

Principal value apparently is the constant and firm market the mill makes immediately available for the farmers who are producing the hay which the mill processes and makes ready for market. However, the first price which the mill pays the producer for his hay lacks quite a bit of representing all the (See ALFALFA MILL, back page)

Need Volunteers For Surgical Dressings Work

Prime need right now in the surgical dressings making room of the Floyd County chapter American Red Cross is for more volunteers who can help complete the county's quota of surgical dressings before the advent of cold weather and the beginning of the demands on housewives and women generally by the holiday season.

At present the indications are that when the present quota is finished it will be January before another assignment is received here. Mrs. S. W. Ross, production supervisor, said this week.

War Fund Drive Shows $2,500 On Quota of $6,244

Of the $6,244 quota of Floyd county for the National War fund, County campaign Chairman E. L. Norman yesterday reported in hand $2,500 less than half of the amount.

Dougherty, Baker, Allmon, Harmony and Floydada districts had made partial reports, he said, with some 25 other districts yet to make reports. The outlook for completion of the quota is bright, although many committees are getting off to a slow start. In most instances slow work is due to a multiplicity of duties which workers assigned to the job have to do.

The county is completely organized and, although the quota is larger than that of last year by a thousand dollars, the need is correspondingly greater, and Mr. Norman is confident that reaching the figures set for the county only depend on getting the message to the people.

Canvas in Floydada

In the residential district of Floydada the canvas was got under way yesterday with expectation that all residents would be seen not later than today. The business district will be covered by committees also before the end of the week, it is expected.

The remainder of Floydada district will be contacted next week, according to the plans of the local committee.

Funds obtained will be used to continue relief work, USO circuits and 15 other allied agencies of help for the men in the armed forces at home and abroad. Last year the quota assigned was exceeded by more than a thousand dollars.

Air Conference To Stress Small City Air Ports

Conference of representatives of cities and counties of the plains and panhandle and representatives of the Civil Aeronautics administration in Amarillo, set for October 25, 26 and 27, will stress correct planning for small city airports, the part they are expected to play in post-war aviation and their successful operation.

Representatives of cities and counties from many counties are expected to attend. J. C. Wester, president of Floydada Chamber of Commerce said this week that it is hoped a representative can be sent to the conference from Floyd county, who will study the suggestions with relation to the possibilities for service aviation may have for local communities and the area they serve.

Plan White Auto Store In Floyd

Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Garrett, of Amarillo, were in Floydada yesterday on a trip to look over their newly-purchased business buildings at 115-17 West California street, and to learn how soon they may hope to get a residence here into which to move.

While disposing of their property in Amarillo Mr. Garrett will also begin work here to make the store building formerly occupied by Jones & Son ready for a White Auto Associate store, he said.

Several weeks will elapse Mr. Garrett anticipates, before the new business venture will open its doors, possibly as late as January 1.

HOME ON BRIEF LEAVE

L. B. Stewart, Jr., fireman first class, is here this week on a brief leave visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Stewart, while his ship is in a home port for a short time. His ship's base is in the Marshalls, taken from the Japs this summer.

L. B. flew in home on a TWA liner Tuesday and will go back to the coast the same way this week-end.

Fire Destroys Farm Home Tues. Morning

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Byron A. Robertson, one mile south of town, was completely destroyed by fire Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Robertson went to town about 9:00 o'clock and when she returned about an hour later the house was burned completely. None of the household goods were saved. Floydada Fire department arrived too late to get the fire under control. The origin of the fire is not known.

Mr. and Mrs. Robertson have no definite plans as yet.

CASHING SAVINGS BONDS

It is not known just how much re-financing Uncle Sam's treasurer is going to have to do to meet the emergency created by the cashing of war savings bonds by the investors of the country. However, the figure will be a pretty penny if the people all over the country are doing the same as on the high plains.

We have not investigated to see whether these savings bonds have had to be sold to meet current obligations or just why. But the fact remains that, all unexpectedly, a good many people dug up their bonds as soon as October 1 rolled around and began taking them to authorized banks to get the money. Perhaps it would have been just as well we didn't mention the fact, which may get others to thinking the same way, but after all the whole thing belongs to the folks and the neighbors had just as well learn through the public prints what others are doing. We have no doubt the Treasury department is wondering about the why of it, especially in view of the fact that another big drive for funds is already in the book.

According to the rules the bonds can be cashed but we have an idea the men who are charged with financing the war and all the things that go with it will have a headache when they see the figures on what the small investor is doing.

ABOUT JUNE YOU'LL KNOW

Sometime around June first of next year it will become evident for sure whether the wheat men who have been re-planting have done the wise thing. Some are re-planting, some are not. In most instances where a good stand has been plowed up and new seed put in the ground the operator found that he had not only a good stand of wheat but also a good stand of what they call winter weeds and pepper grass.

Peculiar thing about the noxious plant they call winter weeds is that a cool to cold hard rain that packs the ground is the ideal time for it to come up and thrive. A warm rain and warm weather doesn't get the same result. The last September rain was right down the alley for these seeds that had lain dormant in spite of reasonably ample moisture for some thirty days. Accordingly the experienced wheat man when he went out and saw that he had two fine stands, one of wheat and one of winter weeds, went right back and cranked up to do the job over again. These weeds, tiny little old things at first, begin to go great guns around February 1 and by the time the wheat is ready to shoot up in the late spring they've about hogged all the subsoil moisture. Winter weeds were imported from somewhere, of course, just like Russian thistles and "goat heads," possession vines and Johnson grass.

PRETTY TOUGH ASSIGNMENT

Most all of us envy the wheat grower whom we think of as hitting the ball a little while in the fall, taking the winter and spring season at his ease, and then another 45-day hitch in the summer at harvest time and plowing a few days afterward.

Except for the exaggeration of it and the heavy financial outlay the small grain man lays on the line twelve months ahead of time, some of this is true.

However, right now one of the toughest assignments is the night-plowing schedules some of the wheat men have been assuming in order to get a crop in right while the season and the time are right. You get so cold about 4 o'clock in the morning, regardless of the number of layers of clothes, that you've paid a pretty high price before dawn breaks and a relief man shows up on the job. Perhaps when the war is over and the down clothes suits the flying boys wear become available to civilians the night plowing squad will plow in a bit more comfort. Until that time comes, however, the assignment is a pretty tough one.

THE NATIONAL WAR FUND

If you haven't been contacted for the National War fund which will be used for seventeen different types of help for soldiers and civilians to fill the breach caused by war conditions of one kind and another—if you haven't been contacted—keep it in mind and make it a point to help out. The USO, for one thing, probably is the National War fund's most direct contact with your sons and husbands in service. These funds are carefully supervised as to the manner in which they are spent and it seems most unlikely there will be any after-the-war scandal develop concerning them. The National War fund is our manifestation of direct interest in affairs which it is not the job of our military organization to carry on. Remember to remember.

Mrs. Robert Sore was elected new director of the Floydada Little Theatre at a meeting of the directors Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock in the Chamber of Commerce office. Mrs. Sore will direct the first play which is to be selected next week and is to be sponsored by the 1922 Study club.

Trains and bus line over West Texas are gradually resuming normal schedules again after being disrupted since last mid-week by heavy rains that took out numerous rail bridges over a wide area and made dirt roads in this section seas of mud and water, some areas recording a series of the heaviest rains in years.

Additions, repairs, and improvements made for Floyd county rural schools this year total $30,025, according to figures obtained from the office of Price Scott, county superintendent. The two largest items of recent investments have been made by Fairmont and Center on new school buildings, and the other portions of the total represent equipment, walks, busses, repairs, and teacher's homes.

Dr. Wilson Kimble suffered a severely sprained right wrist Sunday morning while returning home from church. He fell on the slippery cross walk south of the Miniature Golf course.

Extensions of gas lines to accommodate several new customers of the West Texas Gas company in east Floydada were made last week-end. Manager G. L. Kirk said Monday, the new line extending through Blocks 78, 79, 80 and 81 for a total of about 1850 feet.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

(By Nellie Witt Spinks)

INLETS TO INFINITY
By Ruth Harwood

Sometimes such simple, lovely things can be our magic inlet to infinity.

The rainbow jewels upon the morning grass. The winging birds that lift us as they pass.

A smile of understanding from some kindred heart. A poem, a song, some shining glimpse of art.

These may be potent as majestic sights to lift us to the Spirit's glowing heights.

And any moment of our patterned day may be the magic inlet to this wondrous way!

From Capper's Farmer October 1944:

A plumbing concern in Los Angeles has established a unique "wash your own clothes" laundry. Twelve rebuilt washing machines are provided in an empty store building, each renting for sixty cents an hour. Hot and cold water are furnished. Customers bring their own soap. This unusual enterprise operates at capacity most of the time. Dirty clothes come by bicycle, wheelbarrow, taxi, and the rich man's chauffeur. Well, well, something just starting in California.

It had been sometime since I had been in Floydada. The women go now when the men go for repairs and business trips and our way has been in other direction for some months. Saturday was a lovely day. Friends still stop on the streets to visit in Floydada, and I met some new friends for they told me they have known me sometime in the paper.

Mr. Steen looks thin, getting out a paper is not all play and no work these days. But he is doing a good job and is still able to see the humorous side of things. Short on help, on paper, on time, and no one but an editor knows what else. The county papers are needed now as perhaps never before. So lets give a big hand to the ones who keep them going, and also coming to us.

You can almost always find Judge Howard at the apple store on the corner. I don't blame him, it is a nice place to be and how good apples smell.

Joe Ellis blew out six candles on his birthday cake with one big puff that rounded out his cheeks like toy balloons. His piece of cake held the quarter and the right to get the prize, his birthday presents. Just now he and his grandfather are making a battlefield under the mulberry tree and the toy soldiers, guns, tanks and airplane are getting ready for the big push. If you don't think Grandpa Spikes can play, come here and watch for a few minutes.

Now our packages are all off, nothing to do only worry about whether they will get there, or what shape they will be in if they do.

Fred Jones of Floydada looks very nice in uniform, but his wife still thinks he looks better in civilian clothes.

Every fall for some years, when I stir up a batch of chow chow, I plan to send a jar to Ed Bishop, who it seems, just "eats it up", or rather that is what Lewis Nordyke said over the radio. Now Lewis is far away this fall and if somebody does not keep the folks chow chow minded towards Ed Bishop he may take one of his Ed Aches. So grind a few more tomatoes and cabbage and plenty of onions and peppers, spice it up, and pepper it up and cook it up and send it up to Ed Bishop at the Texan office in Dalhart.

Mrs. Boydston of near Cone said the other day they were getting ready to go to a shower and the little grandson said, "I will take a shower, too, when they got there."

I wanted something new and pretty to put on top of my book shelves so I filled a big gallon bottle which was covered with raised designs full of water and colored it pale blue with blueing. A stopper is a very pretty round bottle with neck turned into the large bottle. On another shelf I put a blue and white pitcher which was given us when we married. One of those pitchers which set in a big bowl and was set on the washstand.

When I want a pink bottle I will use some red fruit color Or purple or green with the same fruit color. I had better enjoy it before cold weather or some frosty morning I will have a broken bottle.

The degree is in recognition of outstanding work in vocational agriculture. Billy Glenn graduated from the Plainview high school in 1943 and is now farming at his Floyd county home.

Award of the degree was announced at High school assembly when H. M. Bainer, agricultural agent for the Santa Fe Railroad presented a check from the railroad to cover expenses of the trip. Bainer, R. A Lone Star Farmer Billy Glenn is the second Plain-

He will receive a gold key, significant of his degree.

NO CERTIFICATE NEEDED FOR THESE "SPARES"

Keep spare lamp bulbs on hand in your home to replace burnouts as soon as they occur. Most electric dealers now have bulbs in all common home sizes. You need no points, coupons or certificates to buy them—never did, in fact. So don't be without light these dark fall days and longer evenings.

It costs you little to have light in your home where you need it. You can be sure you are getting all you pay for if you keep your home lighting equipment in shape this way:

Begin by putting the RIGHT SIZE bulb in each lamp or fixture. Then keep the shades and diffusing bowls, as well as the bulbs, free of dust and dirt.

Use white or light-lined shades on your lamps, to reflect more usable light.

Move lamps closer to points of use, to shed more light directly on the work. You can often increase their usefulness by re-arranging furniture so that one lamp will serve two people.

Your eyes need the correct amount of diffused light to perform difficult seeing tasks like reading or sewing without strain. Now is the time to see that your home lighting equipment can furnish proper illumination.

Big Bales Will Be Turned Down By Compresses

As a few bales of cotton began to reach Floydada and other Floyd county points this week, cotton growers are being warned that bales weighing over 600 pounds will be rejected by all compresses of the area, including Plainview, Ralls, Quitaque and Roaring Springs.

Compresses are designed for bale of about 500 pounds weight, a statement issued this week declares, the most desirable weights being from 450 to 550 pounds, as is generally known. However, bales varying from 300 pounds to 800 pounds have been accepted in prior years.

Extreme difficulties in repairing or replacing damaged or broken machinery during the present emergency are given as the reason for the warning that bales of excessive size (over 600 pounds) will be turned down. The number of too-heavy bales of cotton being offered to compresses has increased a great deal in the past 12 months. "We are compelled to make this ruling in order to handle cotton at all," the warning signed by 17 compress and warehouse companies declares.

Fair Cotton Weather
Fair cotton weather has prevailed over the area for the past week. No killing frost has fallen, although a slight touch of gray formed on auto tops and other exposed surfaces Thursday morning of last week when a low of 36 was recorded. The low of the week following was yesterday morning at 42 degrees. High for the week was 84 degrees last Friday afternoon.

Cotton growers say there are not many pullers in the country to help harvest the crop and that most of these are complaining at the heavy foliage on the cotton, especially at the top of stalks. Heavy leaves make harvesting slow. Instance of one crew quitting a field where 15 bales were open this week is cited to indicate some of the troubles of the cotton producers. Cotton is coming in slowly and irregularly, ginners say.

Magician To Play Return Date Here Tuesday Night
Dr. O. C. Boone, pioneer citizen of Floydada, is bringing his own show again to our city after playing here two years ago.

Floydada was first visited on "Pasqua Florida" or Easter Sunday.

First Christian's New Minister Due Here Next Month

Members of the First Christian church are getting everything in readiness this week for their new minister, Otto F. Marshall, who will assume his duties here the first Sunday in November.

The church has been without a pastor since the resignation of Rev. L. W. Bridges, who went to the pastorate at Hereford First Christian church.

Mr. Marshall, his wife and six-year-old son are moving here from Stamford.

Assembly of God Church News
The revival at the Assembly of God church will continue through Sunday, Rev. Hundley, pastor announced this week. The regular radio broadcast will be from 6:15 to 6:45 Sunday afternoon over KVOP, Plainview.

The public is invited to attend services Monday night at which time the young people of the congregation will present a dramatization of the song, "I Dreamed I Searched Heaven for You." Come and see it and hear God's sentence on a lost soul, Bro. Hundley said.

James A. Norvell Was In on Peleliu Island Invasion
Following are portions of a letter from Pvt. James A. Norvell, U. S. M. C., with the armed forces in the southwest Pacific. He is a son of J. H. Norvell, Route 3.

I sure would like to be back home to help with the work but I guess that will have to wait for awhile.

Well, I guess you heard about the invasion of Peleliu Island. I was in on that. And believe me I found out what it feels like to have bullets whizzing all around your head. But I am still all in one piece and feeling fine.

I got the birthday card but it was a little late. I was glad to get it just the same. That was the first birthday I ever spent in a foxhole.

You Learn To Dig Fast
I didn't know that a person could dig a foxhole as quick as I did. But when things started to popping I really went into the ground. I came through without a scratch. Guess I was one of the lucky ones. But I sure thought my number was up for a while.

Sgt. and Mrs. B. C. Lanier of Olympia, Washington, left Wednesday after a week's visit with relatives and friends here. Sgt. Lanier is stationed at Fort Lewis and Mrs. Lanier is employed with the telephone company in Olympia.

The Three-Year-Old Has Diphtheria

The fact that the family lost two daughters last year from influenza adds edge this week to the anxiety of Mrs. Silas E. Dunaway and the immediate relatives of the illness of Dorothy D. Silas E. III, 3, who became ill last week and was taken to West hospital in Lubbock Friday.

Duncan and both the children were suffering from diphtheria and were quarantined but the little girl recovered this week. Both are suffering with bad throats. The clinical indicates only the little boy is recovering. Dorothy D. became ill and was taken home. Her mother and parents with children associated with the little girl were relieved considerably by the doctor's pronouncement that she is not a diphtheria carrier.

The children's father, an army aviator, who had been home on leave from a hospital for 30 days, returned for duty at Santa Barbara last of the week before the boy became ill. He was assigned as a radio operator.

The two little girls the family lost last year from influenza while their father was in command of the southwest Pacific War. They were Ruth Elaine, 10, and June, 8. It was almost a year before the husband and father was relieved of duty and returned home for hospitalization.

Lost His Bracelet; Used Hesperian Want Ad; All Is Lovely

When S. R. Russell, of Crowell, visited Floydada in mid September for the Crowell-Floydada football game, he lost a valued bracelet, a fact which he discovered when he got home.

Around to the Floyd County News he took himself and told Publisher T. B. Klepper his woes. Klepper, whose newspaper has been declared one of the best allround weekly newspapers in the state, immediately knew the answer—a want ad in The Hesperian, back in Floydada where the valued jewelry was lost. With this done, the story goes on from there in Mr. Klepper's words, recently remitting the sum total of 50 cents for the ad:

Ad found the bracelet, but the man who found it, mailed it in an envelope and it was lost again in the Floydada postoffice. Cancellation machine knocked a whole in the envelope and the letter came on to Crowell with a whole in the corner. However, our postmaster sent it back and the bracelet was returned. The young man has his bracelet, the reward has been paid and every thing is o. k., thanks to the Hesperian classified section.

SEARCH FOR BETTER PLANTS BESET BY MANY PROBLEMS

After learning of some remarkable successes in breeding plants for resistance to certain diseases, gardeners often wonder why plant breeders do not hurry and develop varieties of all crops resistant to all diseases. Few realize the odds against finding resistant individuals or closely related species that can be used in developing a new variety that is disease-resistant and at the same time productive and of high quality. Sometimes the search for a resistant parent is promptly successful; sometimes it takes many years for success; and in most cases the search is still going on with no success in sight.

At the Plant Industry Station of the U. S. Department of Agriculture several years ago, plant breeders searched for four years and tested hundreds of varieties and types of tomatoes from all over the world. Then they found a particular strain of wild currant tomato that was immune to damage by wilt. It crossed rapidly with cultivated tomato, and the new Pan American variety was produced in only eight generations of back-crossing and selection.

Many more years have been spent in trying to find a form of lettuce that is resistant to aster yellows, a serious disease of lettuce. One of hundreds of cultivated kinds none showed resistance; and out more than a score of wild species (collected from all over the world) only a few showed any resistance. Unfortunately those few happened to be so distant of related that all efforts to hybridize them with lettuce were unsuccessful, and the wild forms alone are useless for salad. So the search has run into a stone wall. Some day a resistant kind may yet be found, but so far no one knows where in the world it may be.

An immediate search for a particular kind of parent may have to be abandoned for a time, while the plant breeder turns to another task or search that promises success or is more urgent. But the old objective is kept in mind. The breeder is still on the alert for any possibly useful plant that might come to light anywhere, any time. If a yellow-resistant lettuce suitable as a parent exists anywhere, it is likely to be found although maybe not for many years.

RANGE OF VISION AT SEA

Due to the curvature of the earth, the ocean ten miles from any point is 67 feet lower. Therefore a sailor in a crow's nest would have to be 67 feet in the air to see an object 10 miles away. A pilot in a plane for this reason has excellent visibility. His visibility depends upon altitude, range of vision, etc. The following table is an approximate range if vision from a plane at various heights:

1,000 ft.	39 miles, 2,000 ft.	67 Miles, 4,000 ft.	77 miles, 5,000 ft.
87 miles, 10,000 ft.	123 miles, 15,000 ft.	150 miles, 20,000 ft.	173 miles, 25,000 ft.
194 miles.

CRITICAL SITUATION

We've heard a lot about the critical paper situation. Almost every flier, pilot, magazine, newspaper, ink, typewriter, airplane, airplane, airplane has contained helpful hints on how to save this vital commodity. Cutting down borders, making margins smaller, eliminating french folds, using condensed type faces are a few that have been recommended. Without trying to be funny we're submitting this suggestion. If all the words in this article had been spilled out, it would have taken 36 percent more space.

Mrs. Slaughter and Children Together After 18 Years

Mrs. Lulu Slaughter returned home Friday of last week after a 30-day visit in Long Beach, California, where she was guest of her daughters, Mrs. W. C. Wright and Mrs. Joe M. Day, and while there she enjoyed the occasion of the first re-union the family had had in 18 years.

This event was on Sunday a week ago when all the family gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Wright. Other members of the family present were Mrs. W. L. Fry of Floydada, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Slaughter of Santa Monica, Mr. and Mrs. Joe M. Day and son Keith of Long Beach, Mr. and Mrs. G. V. Slaughter, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Slaughter and daughter, Carol Ann.

Burning of Crop Residue Harmful To Farm Lands

Burning has no place in conservation farming because it increases soil erosion and water losses, destroys organic matter needed for soil improvement, causes loss of nitrogen, and increases losses of other plant nutrients by leaching or by rainfall run-off.

That statement was made last week by Chairman W. F. Ferguson of the Floyd County Soil Conservation district when he discussed Fire Prevention week observance.

Besides destroying valuable needed grasses and legumes, a pasture fire leaves the soil unprotected and subject to erosion's destructive force, explained Edgar H. Kemp, work unit conservationist for the Soil Conservation service in the district. Additional loss is occasioned by burning of organic matter which should be returned to the soil, and the important element nitrogen actually "goes up in smoke."

Soil Loss Is Heavy

Soil conservation experiment stations have shown that soil losses are increased 12 times and water losses are increased 31 times by annual burning of crop residues. When a good pasture, with a heavy crop of grass is burned, the nitrogen loss probably will average $2.50 an acre at current prices for nitrogen fertilizer, the soil conservationist declared.

Increased floods and siltation of streams and lakes are among the undesirable by-products of erosion and excessive rainfall run-off following burning, Kemp explained.

"Returning crop residues to the soil in cultivated fields is essential to maintaining fertility," the conservationist explained.

"Crop residues should be returned to the soil rather than burned," the conservationist added. "Many fires burning over thousands of acres of good grassland have been started in field fires set to destroy crop residues."

Use Caution With Fire

"Every one should use caution in using fire around the farm, because a small fire starting around the house or barnyard may spread to adjoining pastures or cropland," Kemp emphasized.

"Organized effort for the prevention of fires can accomplish much," Kemp pointed out, "and district cooperators are encouraged to expand activities designed for fire prevention and control."

The Home Front

Edith L. Wilson, Home Demonstration Agent, Floyd county.

October 15 to November 15 is the best time to set strawberry plants in most sections of Texas, says J. F. Rosborough, horticulturist for the A. and M. College Extension Service.

If the old planting survived the summer in good shape, take the largest and thickest "daughter" plants and put into a new location for next year's production. "Daughters" usually are those nearest the mother plant. Discard any having reddish brown spots or margins.

In choosing varieties, he reminds gardeners that in west, west central and northwest Texas plant Gem or Mastoron Everbearing. If possible select a fertile, well-drained sandy loam soil for the planting site. Plants should be spaced ten or twelve inches and not set too deep.

In home gardens five hundred to one-thousand plants should bear enough for the table and for preserving, Rosborough believes. Usually one hundred plants for each member of the family is a safe guide.

In preparing the soil the site first should have heavy application of well rotted barnyard fertilizer, broadcast then plowed and well pulverized. In areas of heavy rainfall, the soil should be plowed into beds eight to ten inches high and two to three feet wide. Where moisture is limited, it should be so prepared that irrigation can be used when needed. In sandy land where commercial fertilizers may be used put down and mix well into the soil five to six pounds of 5-10-5 or similar material per hundred feet of row space. Apply this at least two weeks before setting out the plants.

Lastly, keep weeds and grass under control.

D-DAY IS HISTORY. And V-Day may be, by the time you read these words!

But as a recent editorial in the September 9 issue of Collier's points out: "If we don't baby our cars and tires along as carefully as we can, the ominous fact is that we can run into a serious motor-transport breakdown on the home front."

The blunt words of the editorial echo what Phillips and its service station men have been saying month after month, beginning even prior to Pearl Harbor.

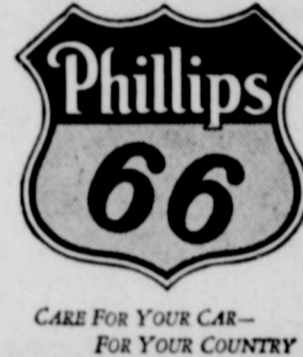

We quote it because some few motorists may have thought that our insistent emphasis on tire and car care was motivated by self-interest rather than by our patriotic sense of duty. So again we say, in our country's interest and in your own, be frugal with your dwindling stock of tire and car miles. Visit your Phillips 66 Service Station at least once a week for tire and car-saving services.

Phillips Tire Saving Service includes checking pressures . . . inspecting for nail holes, cuts, and bruises . . . examination of the tire carcass to warn you when re-capping is necessary and still possible . . . crisscrossing with the spare every 3,000 miles.

Phillips Car Saving Service includes inspection of battery, air filter, and anti-freeze protection . . . regular lubrication of every friction point specified by the maker of your car.

With tires for A-card motorists not promised before mid-1945 . . . with cars wearing out and disappearing from the road at the rate of more than 5,000 a day . . . you must Care for your car in your Country, to help prevent a crisis in domestic transportation.

Drive in at any Orange and Blue 66 Shield, the sign of famous Phillips 66 Gasoline and Phillips 66 Motor Oil, and you will get the patronage cooperation and aid of the Phillips 66 Service Man in making your car and tires go farther and last longer.

Former Floydada Pastor Rev. C. B. Meador Is Dead

News of the death of Rev. C. B. Meador, Methodist minister who held the church pastorage for four years in the mid-1930s, is contained in an obituary in the Southwestern Advertiser, a Methodist church periodical, Rev. J. O. Haymes.

Rev. Meador died, says the obituary, on August 22, at the age of 48, having been a member of the Texas conference since 1925. He was admitted on trial in 1925 and retired from active service in 1935. In addition to pastoring 16 churches of the Methodist faith, Meador served for four years as business manager of the college and as evangelist for eight years.

Several churches and parsonages built under his leadership and more than 10,000 conversions are attributed to his ministry.

Surviving are his wife, one daughter, Mrs. Marvin Boyd of Hereford, Texas, Lt. Col. Clark B. Meador of the U. S. Army, in France, and Mrs. E. Meador of Abilene. Five children also survive.

Funeral rites were held in St. Abilene church by Rev. J. O. Haymes, assisted by four other ministers.

Well known over the conference, he will be remembered in the obituary of the church as a friend and a preacher.

Col. Myron G. Blalock.

Ken Stephenson Gets Citation Ribbon in Italy

Another boy reared in Floydada, now come to manhood and a place in the armed forces, has been significantly honored for outstanding performance of duty. He is Kenneth G. Stephenson, 26, son of Mrs. C. M. Stephenson of Amarillo, formerly of Floydada.

A dispatch from the headquarters of the 15th AAF in Italy says that he has been awarded the blue and gold Presidential Distinguished Unit Citation ribbon. He is a Radio Operator and Mechanic in the top scoring P-51 Mustang Fighter group in the Mediterranean Theatre.

The Mustang group was cited for its outstanding performance of duty against the enemy on April 21. In this action the P-51's fought off a total of sixty enemy fighters, in two groups of thirty each, which threatened the bomber formation. By destroying sixteen and probably destroying or damaging a number of others, the Mustangs enabled the seven groups of 15th Air Force heavy bombers, which had not received the recall signal sent out because of adverse weather conditions, to complete a highly successful mission against the important enemy installations and production centers in the Ploestie-Bucharest area in Rumania.

Cpl. Robt. Warren Writes Parents From East Indies

Cpl. Robert L. Warren, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Warren, is in one of the new theatres of war that the American troops are opening up in the Southwest Pacific, it is indicated in a recent letter home. He is in the Netherlands East Indies as indicated in the paragraphs used below.

Robert went into the service in January of 1943, trained at Camp Haan and sailed in March of the same year. His letter is full of questions and references to home affairs, like those of most of the other boys. About himself and his location he says:

"I have been in on a landing. I saw the naval and air bombardment. We came up on a ship. I saw a lot of places I enjoyed seeing. We have air raids here now and then. They don't really amount to anything. In fact I enjoy them. I can't say I did at first for I sure was scared for a few days. But now it is just like playing a game. At one time a plane came over and I could see the Jap pilot in it. I sure did wish I could have gotten my hands on him. I am not in New Guinea any more. I will be paid in Dutch money.

"Well I wrote you that it did not rain here as much as it did in New Guinea. I will take that back. It has rained practically every day I have been here. Where I am at now is still jungle, but I like it very much. We have a lot more to eat here. We have a tobacco patch about 50 yards from me. I suppose the Japs were trying to grow it. When we ran the Japs off here they left quite a few nice garden spots. Wild peppers, squash, lettuce, potatoes, and several other things. They also had cows, goats, and chickens.

"I am right in the middle of a big banana grove. I have bananas anytime I want them. As soon as I can I will have my picture made with some and send it to you.

Driving that's easy on passengers and cars is one far-reaching good outcome of War!

Handling the wheel and pedals like a professional became a wartime necessity. It favored the car—and quit scaring the rear-seat riders. Now it's a great point of pride. Yet an even more envied proof of fine car-sense is to own an engine that isn't showing its age. That demands sparing your engine from acids; from fiercely corrosive acids inside. You can do it by having your engine OIL-PLATED. All you need is a change to Conoco Nth motor oil...oil that OIL-PLATES.

gine's fine inner finish as if by magnetism—an effect you must credit to costly pioneer research, responsible for the special ingredient in popular-priced Conoco Nth oil, patented.

You can't apply keener intelligence to the car that must last you, than to equip it with an OIL-PLATED engine—simply by changing to Conoco Nth oil for Winter. Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station knows your correct grade. Go now. Continental Oil Company

In the extra-limited seasonal driving that's now the rule, your engine "hoards" a surplus of acids. Every explosion adds to these acids. You don't drive enough for engine heat to eject them safely. But they won't go biting right through OIL-PLATING! This highly corrosion-resistant surfacing is attached all over your en-

Supply Sweet Sudan Seed Is Limited

The number of sources of supply for sweet Sudan seed will be limited this winter and next spring but right now a considerable quantity is available, or was last week, according to County Agent L. C. Ranson, who said that 100 thousand pounds raised by Joe W. Jennings, Floyd county seed grower at Aiken, had been disposed of to a Farwell, Texas, dealer. Jennings had 200 acres this year and sold it wholesale. Mr. Ranson says that in addition to the seed in Farwell the Lubbock Experiment station also had 100 acres and may have some seed left. These two sources, in addition to a farmer near Littlefield, may be the only ones available to Floyd county farmers. Sweet Sudan apparently is much more palatable to live stock than the old style crop and is much in demand. It is recommended by Extension service men throughout the area. "However, farmers should be warned not to buy just anything called sweet Sudan," said Mr. Ranson last week.

The county agent has samples of the seed for comparison should a prospective raiser be offered sweet Sudan and not be sure of what he is buying.

Farmers who feel sure they will want some sweet Sudan seed should not pass up any opportunity they may have to buy at any reasonable price, the agent stated.

Hen Number 164—

It isn't my kind of breeding stock. Also her eggs should have high hatchability. This was a pretty stiff standard to set and the fact that only five out of the 31 were kept for the top breeding pen in 1944 shows that Allen had the courage of his convictions.

There is one hen—No. 164—that laid 344 eggs in her first year, 615 in two years, and her eggs hatched well.

Makes Breeding Plans
Out of the 344-egg hen 36 pullets were raised. Losses and culling brought the number down to 29 with which to start the 1944 breeding season. Old No. 164 molted only 56 days before starting off her second year at a promising rate, so naturally Allen wanted a cockerel worthy of mating with No. 164's daughters.

He sent the New England breeder a signed check with the specification that the cock should be a good prospect for breeding, having no broodiness in his near ancestry and must have consistently high egg production back of him. The bird he got is out of a 310-egg dam and being mated with pullets from the hen which has laid 615 eggs in two years some mighty good ones are expected.

Two Lines of Descendants
Sons of No. 164 are mated with pullets from other hens, so there will be two lines of her descendants in the Allen flock, one from the sons and one from the daughters. On August 24, less than three weeks from the completion of her two-year laying record, this remarkable hen weighed 7½ pounds, and had previously maintained a weight of 7½ pounds while making the 344-egg record. To reproduce and perpetuate this vitality and production is Allen's goal.

The 24 surviving daughters of No. 164 lacked 8 to 50 days of completing their first year's record when the dam completed her second year. Their average production to date was 249 eggs. One sickened and quit laying, another quit laying early, definitely a cull. The other 22 had averaged better than 255 eggs, a few were safe for the 300-egg mark, barring accidents, and six had laid from 277 to 293 eggs with 19 to 20 days to go.

Other High Records
Sisters of the above on the sire's side, with 31 to 73 days left for their first-year record, had produced 266, 273, 298, 305, and 316 eggs, four being assured of 300 eggs or better.

One pen mate of No. 164 finished her second year with 516 another 509 with 12 days to go, and still another 492 with 22 days in which to boost her two-year production above the 500 mark. White No. 164 stands high above her pen mates.

three of them have qualified for breeding stock with enviable two-year records.

Allen will have the records of every pullet, from each hen, and his experiment in creating a long-lived high-producing strain will be watching. He is on the right track.

money the establishment expends on each bale in making it ready for the market.

In addition to the hay which the company has bought from the farmer in the field to be dehydrated immediately upon reaching the mill, purchases of baled hay have been made readily, so that any farmer who had to sell had a firm offer and no market worries.

Seventy-three hundred tons of hay are now on the yards of the mill for processing after the last haying is over, to make a constant job for several men in handling and processing it during the winter months.

Transportation And The War Is Rotary Subject

Transportation of every type, with emphasis on the part that railways of the nation are playing, in the global war effort of America, was pictured in sound film at the Floydada Rotary club yesterday at their noon-day luncheon.

Roy Sutton agent of the Santa Fe Railway company, was program chairman for the day, introducing Sam Kidwell, of Amarillo, to give the program.

The films, with explanatory context and speech, showed a part of the immense job railways of the nation undertook in preparation as war clouds gathered. The huge operations of the Santa Fe were shown as a "small part" in the tremendous nation-wide effort. This picture story was followed by a similar one which gave the experiences of a rookie from the time he began his 17 weeks of basic training until he was a finished fighter. The picture, made at Camp Hood, Texas, was realistic in every sense. Both pictures were prepared by the Public Relations department of the Santa Fe Railway company.

The name Idaho is derived from an Indian word meaning "Gem of the Mountains."

The name Illinois is a combination of Indian and French words meaning "land of men".
