EDITORIALS

A warning by State Health Officer Geo. W. Cox against the danger of malaria following the heavy rains which broke the drouth in middle and east Texas last week is reminder of a peculiar blessing which West Texans enjoy. The tropical storm, you recall, inundated some communities, ran streams more than bank-full, did damage all up and down the line, especially on the Trinity and Sabine watersheds. Our peculiar blessing is that the malaria germ is not indigenous to the high plains and the rolling country immediately east of us. It used to be thought by the old-time Texas doctor that children born in Texas were born with the malaria germ already in their systems and they were slow to conclude that there was any other probability. Malaria certainly does slow you down as many World War II campaigners can tell you. And malaria costs a pretty penny in dollars and cents, too. It is a good thing not to be bothered with.

Having fought in the war, returned home and finished his education Marshall Formby, the McAdoo boy, is finally on a straight away in his chosen career as a newspaperman. September 1 he took the helm of the Plainview Tribune, which Paul Zimmerman had been operating during the several years that Formby was in the legislature, in the army, in school. How the war changed completely so many plans of so many boys is illustrated by Marshall's experiences. Elected senator of the 30th Senatorial district, it appeared he was bound to make a whiz as a common sense legislator and also as a newspaper man. Then the war chopped this combination career short. You can't legislate for Texas in India nor print a newspaper in Plainview. Now Formby will have a chance to find out what he can do in the newspaper field. More capable than the average of us he ought to do well, we think, and please his newspaper constituency.

BIG JOB

The Texas City disaster of last April illustrated the fact that every home owner should have his fire insurance checked by an expert to make certain that it adequately covers possible contingencies.

In Texas City, most of the damage was the result of concussion—and concussion damage is not payable under an ordinary fire policy. However, Texas City was in a known hurricane area and so, luckily, the great majority of the policyholders had taken out what is known as extended coverage—an endorsement to a fire policy which, for a small sum, provides coverage for a wide variety of special hazards, including windstorm, smoke, riot, off-the-premises explosion, etc. Had they not had the endorsement, recovery would not have been possible.

Texas City also demonstrated the splendid service provided by fire insurance companies in a time of emergency. A representative of the National Board of Fire Underwriters went to the scene immediately. A Catastrophe Plan was put into effect, under which experienced adjusters dispensed with many formalities and made payments on policies in an extraordinarily short period of time. This voluntary "super-service" prevented great economic hardship for a legion of families.

Fire insurance is one of those indispensable institutions we just take for granted. Yet when disaster strikes its value is beyond measurement.—Industrial News.

Helping the gov'mint is one of the long suits of the country newspapers. You can fast-talk a country bumpkin who operates a newspaper into doing most anything you want if you'll brag on the power of the press and be especially complimentary of one certain newspaper man you know, who it just happens is the one you are talking to. Uncle Sam does his bragging by long range. His direct-by-mail appeals to the country newspapers for help to dispose of the war surplus are so well-written that he gets a column or a piece of a column in nine-tenths of the country papers you pick up. All others get paid advertisements, all the way from the New York Times and the Wall Street Journal on down to the small dailies. It was ever thus, probably always will be. "They" think the country newspaper is a small potato, and in spite of his utterances to the contrary, deep down in his heart the country newspaper man thinks so, too.

The volume of production of all U. S. crops this year is expected to be a little over last year's high record, well above the 10 year average, and slightly above the average for U. S. farmers' best years, 1942 to 1946.

Sheep raising was one of the earliest of man's land occupations. There is evidence that prehistoric man knew how to weave garments from sheep's wool.

Chick and poult brooders, using ordinary lamp bulbs as a source of heat, have been proven under test to be satisfactory and efficient.

's a Bad Day for Road Hogs Garrison Says

Col. Homer Garrison, Director of Public Safety, said the new Texas traffic law which goes into effect Friday will make it rough for those people who are the only ones on the road. The person who drives up the side of the road, or wanders from side to side, will now be liable to arrest. So will the person who passes one vehicle when another is passing another.

When you are making a left turn at an intersection, you must not cut in front of other vehicles so as to create a hazard. But you may turn ahead of opposing traffic after you have signaled for your turn and let the cars by that are in, or right at the intersection.

Observance of rural stop signs—whether on highways or country roads—has never been enforced, because the old law did not actually make it a violation to run a rural stop sign. But it's a different story under the new law. Those stop signs now mean STOP. Furthermore, after stopping, you must be careful not to start up again in such a way as to interfere with other traffic, thereby creating a hazard.

Hay-wagon turns are outlawed. To make a left turn, you must start the turn from the position nearest the center of the street or road. A right turn must be made only from the lane nearest the right side of the street or road. Turns should be short, not on a wide angle such as one must make when he's driving a hay wagon with a double span of horses.

Definite signals must be given before a driver turns, slows down, or stops.

Most of us will use the prescribed hand-and-arm signals. But busses and trucks will have to be equipped with electrical or mechanical signaling devices if they are built so that hand-and-arm signals cannot readily be seen. Owners of farm trucks with wide, blind bodies or narrow cabs should check up on this matter right away.

Hand and arm signals are given in this manner: the hand and arm are extended out and up for a right turn; straight out and pointing to the left for a left turn; and out and down toward the ground for slow or stop.

Bainer Announces Cross Assistant Santa Fe Ag Man

Ronald I. Cross, soil conservationist with the United States Department of Agriculture at Clovis, N. Mex., has been appointed agricultural agent for the Santa Fe Railway.

R. I. Cross, new agricultural agent of the Santa Fe Railway.

Mr. Cross will act as an assistant to Bainer and in that capacity will handle agricultural matters for the railroad's Western Lines in Western Kansas, Oklahoma, Colorado and New Mexico, and the Panhandle and Santa Fe lines in Texas. He brings to his new position a background of knowledge of various types of farm work, having had 12 years experience in irrigation and dry land farming.

The Barry Rossen, Jerry and Geary Oden went to the Gulf coast on a fishing expedition last week was a novel experience and a moderately successful one. Their fathers, R. B. Rossen and Conner Oden went along and they fished in Corpus bay and up the coast as far as Aransas Pass.

FISH, EVEN THE BIG ONES, ARE WHERE YOU FIND THEM. GEARY ODEN GLADLY LEARNS

Biggest thrill of the trip came for Geary Oden who landed a 15-pound fish with a pole while fishing from the back of the fishing boat, tied at the dock. Geary broke his pole and the fish straightened out the hook just as the big fish plopped on the deck.

The young buckaroos wrestled mightily (and noisily) with the fish before he was really under control and ready to take in for supper.

On their run up the gulf coast the Floydada fishermen ran into game fishing where sharks and other predatory fish were following schools of smaller fry.

WEEK-END GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Moore had as week-end guests recently Dennis Barnett of Olton, Texas, Dan McMillan of Stephenville, Texas, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Sizemore and son of Cyrus Christi, Mrs. Beverly Taylor and daughter Kaeli Lynn of Fort Worth and Mrs. Lillie Moore of Dickens City, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Steen returned home last mid-week from a 25-day trip to Lansing, Michigan, Niagara Falls, and other points east, including Philadelphia. At the latter place they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Steen, a brother of Calvin.

Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Dillard left last Thursday morning for Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, where they will make their home. They have been living in Lubbock since Mr. Dillard's discharge from the navy over a year ago. He is connected with civil service as a metalsmith.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Foster, of Canyon, spent the week-end here visiting with Mr. Foster's mother, Mrs. Mabel Foster and with other relatives. Mr. Foster will enter medical school at Houston the latter part of September.

Mrs. Jessie Brown returned last week-end from San Francisco, where she spent the month of August with her daughter, Mrs. D. G. Ridge, Mr. Ridge, and their sons, while absent from duties as sales lady for J. C. Penney company.

APPLY 24-D IN AUTUMN

Early fall is recommended as the desirable season for using 24-D sprays to kill weeds in lawns in an article by John W. Mitchell in the current Yearbook of Agriculture.

"24-D," says Mitchell, "will not kill grasses that occur as weeds, such as crabgrass, guinea grass, and others, without injuring also the desirable grasses (bluegrass, fescue, or red top) present in the turf. It is simple enough to rid a lawn of common broad-leaved weeds, like dandelion and plantain, by spraying the area with 24-D, but after those weeds have been killed the task is only partly done, because as the broad-leaved weeds die and rot away, bare areas are exposed. In most locations the bare spots will soon become infested with weeds of the grass type that cannot be controlled with 24-D. We recommend therefore that the control of lawn weeds be undertaken in the season (usually autumn) that is most favorable to the growth of lawn grass and that bare areas that result from killing the weeds in the turf be replanted to grass within two weeks or a month after the area is treated."

"Yes," said my friend reflectively, "she is not a brilliant woman; she is not even an intellectual one, but there is such a thing as genius for affection and she has it." —H. Jackson.

Governor Jester To Speak for Old Settlers Sept. 12

CROSBYTON, Aug. — Arrangements are fast taking form to hold the West Texas Old Settler's Reunion in Crosbyton on September 11, 12 and 13, Will F. Ewell said Tuesday. At a meeting with the City commission Tuesday afternoon, permission was granted to hold the reunion this year in the City park in the center of the square.

A regular carnival could not be secured this late in the season, said Mr. Ewell, but arrangements have been made for several riding devices including a ferris wheel and children's rides.

Big day for the reunion will be Friday, when Governor Beauford Jester is scheduled to speak in the afternoon from the grandstand in the park.

Patrolmen Give New Law Angles

More details of how city governments are going to be expected to work with the state in the enforcement of the safety measures in the Uniform Traffic rules adopted by the state legislature were given a considerable group at the city hall Tuesday night by Patrolmen Slivas and Waters of the Department of Public Safety. The new rules become effective tomorrow.

Several city officials, city employees, members of the police and fire department heard the talks of the patrolmen and saw demonstrated measures which owners of trucks will have to take to insure compliance with the state law.

GOBBLEDYGOOK CONCEALS MEANING

Reporting on recent air crashes, President Truman's Air Safety Board said: "It is now possible to deduce those elements of causation from the inherent fallibility of the aneroid altimeter" which lead to "collision with terrain."

Therefore, opined the board, what is needed is "more adequate clearance of terrain when barometric variations are likely to occur."

Twin Killed When Car Turns Over With Colored Boys

Leonard Williams (colored), of Lockney, was killed Tuesday evening when the car he was riding in with his two brothers overturned several times north of Lockney near the Herman King farm. The brothers escaped injuries. The body was taken to Arkadelphia, Arkansas Wednesday for burial under the direction of Crager Funeral home.

Leonard is a 15 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Williams, of Lockney. His twin brother, Lanard, survives, as do two more sets of twins and another child.

HIGHWAY DEATH TOTAL

Nearly 30,000 Americans will die in automobile accidents in 1947 warns Pathfinder.

On Dec 31 when this year's casualties are added to the grim list that has been piling up since 1923 (the first year that records were kept) about 750,000 people will have died on the country's streets and highways—a toll more than half as great as the 1,130,000 lives lost in all U. S. wars.

Some such fatalities were—and will continue to be—inevitable. But many a sudden death could have been prevented—and some still can be—by the passage of long-needed uniform, country-wide traffic laws.

For more than 29 years experts have been fighting for uniform traffic laws, sure that once they were on all states' books the highway death toll would drop sharply.

INDIANS OBJECT

Heat has hung thick and dry over Arizona this summer. At a Fourth of July pow-wow near Flagstaff Hopi Indians stomped out their rhythmic snake dance, watching the sky. Still no rain fell, says Pathfinder.

Weeks later an airliner flew over Arizona to test out a General Electric Co. technique. Into a high-flying cloud over Roosevelt Dam the aviators dropped 500 lbs of dry ice pellets. As G. E. predicted, rain fell—in torrents.

When they heard of it the Hopis were furious. That cloud was con-higher they wouldn't hit mountains. Gobbledygook, ex - Congressman Maury Maverick's name for bureaucrats' practice of making ten big words do the work of one simple one, seems here to stay. Maverick, as Congressman and later as a "bureaucrat" himself, waged unceasing war against it. But it outlasted him.—Pathfinder.

Cashing leave bonds gave the First National bank in Floydada a bit of business Tuesday, said C. H. Bedford, vice-president, who summed up the total of leave bonds cashed at about $16,000 on that day. The bonds, issued to veterans in payment for terminal leave by act of Congress mature in five years, according to their terms, but are cashable in cash on and after September 2, by the terms of a new law.

A seven hundred dollar bond was the highest one cashed and a few as low as $50 were offered. "The money wanted for many different things, was the information volunteered," said Mr. Bedford. "I thought that Tuesday, September 2, was the only day they had cash their bonds in order to get the money in any event and most of these decided not to cash their bonds when they found out they were good indefinitely and would interest until their maturity," Bedford said.

The leave bond cashing business is not nearly so brisk on Wednesday here.

New Machine Increases Tube Safety

In a remarkable demonstration of the effectiveness of a new tube splicer, a 16 x 5.00-8 industrial tube was inflated 19.25 times above its normal capacity, by engineers of the experimental division, the General Tire & Rubber Company.

Before inflation the wall gauge of the tube was 90/1000 of an inch thick and after inflation the thickness had been reduced to 10/1000 of an inch. Not only does the test prove the strength of the splice, but it also shows the increased adhesion of the valve to tube.

Designed by Max Engler, and demonstrated by Harold Lewis, right, and Harvey Scott, the new development gives General Tire, which pioneered pneumatic industrial tire usage, the industry's most advanced method of sealing industrial tubes.

Change in Law on Registration Re-Built Motors

AUSTIN, Aug.—Changes in title and registration laws made by the Fifty-fifth Legislature will sooner or later affect all owners of motor vehicles, Texas Highway Department spokesmen say.

A number of these new laws become effective September 5.

After that date, for example, the Texas Highway Department will be required to charge a fee of $1.00 for assigning motors to new or reconditioned motors. A similar fee was ordered for serial numbers on house trailers.

The growing practice of installing new and rebuilt motors, some bearing no identification number, demands a strict accounting of both motor and serial numbers on vehicles to assure valid titles in the name of rightful owners.

New laws outline a procedure giving maximum protection to legal owners of all motor vehicles. When motors are exchanged, the vehicle owner must apply promptly to the Texas Highway Department for a correction of his certificate of title. Otherwise the title to his vehicle is clouded because its motor number does not correspond to his title, an awkward situation to handle when he tries to sell his car.

If the new or reconditioned motor bears a manufacturer's number, it should be used. If it is blank, as many are nowadays, the purchaser must apply direct to the Texas Highway Department at Austin for an assigned number. Forms for this application may be obtained from any County Tax Collector's office. It is illegal to stamp any number on a motor other than a number assigned by the Highway Department.

A new service has been provided for Texans who wish to take delivery on a new vehicle at the factory or from a dealer in another State. Temporary license plates for the exclusive use of buyers while driving their new car back home are now issued under another of the Fifty-fifth Session's new laws.

Suggested by Highway Department officials for the convenience of purchasers wishing to drive their new car back from the factory, the new law eliminates many thorny legal technicalities formerly incident to the practice.

Temporary plates, good for thirty days, can now be secured without delay at the County Tax Collector's office, and carried to the factory or other out-of-State delivery point. The owner may secure certificate of title to his new car and regular registration plates after returning to Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Cornelius, of Bartlesville, Oklahoma, are here for a stay of several days while they await the opening of Texas Tech college and Mr. Cornelius' return to school as a senior student there. They are guests of Mr. Cornelius' father, E. L. Cornelius and other relatives while here.

Miss La Nell Harmon, of Lubbock, and Jack Cogswell, of Eddy, Texas, were week-end guests in the F. C. Harmon home.

Water-Laden Sand Found in Several 'Dry' Area Tests

LOCKNEY.—A number of test holes drilled east of Lockney have brought out some favorable water prospects, says The Lockney Beacon. Cecil Williams is drilling the test holes.

A test hole was drilled on the Elmo Reeves place, two miles north and two miles west of South Plains recently and good water prospects were indicated. An irrigation well was put down, which turned out to be successful.

Test holes have been drilled on the A. S. Moss land farmed by Frank Brown four miles east and one mile north of Lockney. The test showed plenty of water bearing sand and indicated that a flow of water suitable for irrigation was available.

On the Browning place, three miles east and three miles north of Lockney, a test hole was drilled recently and good sand was indicated.

Huey Davidson, living two and a half miles south of Sterley had a test hole drilled and a good showing of water-bearing sand and gravel found.

Rodeo Plant Gets Boost in Meeting Held at Crosbyton

CROSBYTON, Aug.—That Crosbyton men believe in the future of the Crosbyton Rodeo association was clearly demonstrated here Friday night when an additional $3,900 in stock was paid in at a meeting of interested persons in the district court room. Approximately 21 men were present said Tillman Reeves, secretary.

This brings the total of paid in stock to $10,300, the former amount sold amounting to $6,400. Mr. Reeves said. Cost of the entire plant will run between $16,000 and $18,000 and committees are working this week in an effort to get most of the stock sold.

TEXAS DRIVERS MUST DIM LIGHTS OR FACE FINE

AUSTIN.—Dim your lights even if the other fellow is a heel and doesn't dim his—that was the advice today of Department of Public Safety Director Homer Garrison to Texas motorists.

Garrison urged immediate observance of this practice. After Sept. 5 it must be done under the new uniform traffic code, effective that day.

"As for the other fellow who doesn't dim his lights, he'll meet a police car somewhere down the road," Garrison said.

L. H. Smith Sees Toots Mansfield as King Pin of Ropers

Leonard H. Smith, of McCoy, who saw Toots Mansfield, of Big Springs, win the worlds greatest steer roping contest at Clovis, New Mexico, on Labor day, brought home a program of the event.

In this contest, a winner take all event, Mansfield, had an average for five steers of 29.36 seconds and carried off a purse of $11,500 and one-third of the gate.

There were 12 contestants from among the king pins of the southwest roping talent. Second man was Everett Shaw of Stonevale, Oklahoma and Carl Arnold of Buckeye, Arizona, placed third.

The entrance fee in the roping event was $1,000 per man, Smith said, a figure he estimated as a wee bit high.

Conservation District News

Bert Bobbitt, a cooperater with the Floyd County Soil Conservation district who lives in the North Sterley group is constructing terraces and completing construction on an elevated ditch on his farm this week. This work is being done with a new type elevating grader terracer and the contractor who is doing this work is John Downel from Halfway, in Hale county. The terraces will enable Mr. Bobbitt to conserve the moisture on his farm as well as the soil.

Soil Conservation technicians serving the Floyd County Soil Conservation district assisted the following farmers during the past week: Raymond Rucker, Bert Bobbitt, Moody Adams, C. O. Roberts, W. C. Wisdom, S. A. McGowan and Bruce Whitlock. These farmers are all cooperaters with the Floyd County Soil Conservation district.

Robert Lee Smith, Bert Bobbitt and Joe Reeves, of the North Sterley conservation group, have recently overseeded now feed with vetch. This vetch is up and growing well. This vetch was inoculated at seeding time and will help in adding nitrates to the soil. The practice of overseeding winter legumes has gained much in popularity in Floyd county.

H. E. Blenden and Raymond Rucker of the Pleasant Valley conservation group, H. E. Graham of the McGowan conservation group and W. L. Livingston of the North Sterley conservation group have recently overseeded some of their cotton feed land with vetch. This vetch was seeded by airplane.

Now is the time to seed those improved pastures. The Soil Conservation Service technicians assigned to the district have been studying the improved pastures in the past years and are recommending the following grasses in their mixtures this year: Smooth Brome grass 6 pounds per acre; Crested wheat 8 pounds per acre; and Perennial Rye 4 pounds per acre. To this you should add one legume which, of course, should be inoculated. You can either add 2 pounds of alfalfa or 2 pounds of clover or if you prefer you can add 6 pounds of hairy vetch. The above is a general formula and may be varied to suit individual conditions. If you have any pasture problems the Soil Conservation Service boys will be glad to discuss them with you.

When overseeding cotton or feed with hairy vetch about 20 pounds per acre is the amount to use.

PATTON'S DAIRY

TEXAS WHEAT AND TEXAS FLOUR

Texas and Texans face a serious problem that must be met and solved, for I was surprised, as well as astounded, to learn that very little, if any, Texas flour is sold in California, they obtaining most of their flour from Montana, which to my mind is not only unnecessary, but absolutely ridiculous, but in talking to the trade they told me that Texas flour would not stand up against the Montana flour, and I am compelled to say that the bread I ate in California was far superior to anything you can buy in Texas.

Why is this? Simply because Texas produces too much undesirable wheat, having very poor baking qualities, and this, to my mind, MUST be changed, for some of these days your export demand is going to die, and you will need a market for Texas wheat, and it is ridiculous to learn that very little Texas wheat or flour goes to California.

Understand, I am not posing as an Economist, Agronomist, or any other kind of an "ist", but if desirable varieties of wheat will produce as much as undesirable varieties, then every grain shipper, elevator man, and flour miller should join forces and endeavor to persuade the farmers to plant wheat that they can sell.

For the first time in the 37 years I have been in Fort Worth, several mills in Texas, Oklahoma, and Kansas, as well as California, have refused to buy wheat from me coming for certain Texas counties.

This condition is further emphasized by the fact that for the first time, to my knowledge, Kansas City cash wheat, Southwestern origin, 13% protein, is selling at 6c per bushel under Northwestern origin 13% protein wheat.

So, I am sounding a warning to the members of this Association, without prejudice or bias, as something should and must be done, as Texas wheat and Texas flour are certainly entitled to every available market outlet. THINK IT OVER.

Strong Gluten High Factor In New Varieties

Wheat quality means gluten strength according to Kents Soder, director of the Texas-Oklahoma Wheat Improvement Association, Oklahoma City, who made a variety tour of this county just before harvest. "Some varieties like the Turkey and the new Comanche wheat have a strong gluten and will stand the mechanical handling of the commercial baker where a single dough weighs up to a thousand pounds," explained Mr. Soder.

Other varieties may have the same amount of protein yet their gluten may be weaker, or 'mellow' as the baker calls it, and thus be suitable for family-type flour that will be kneaded by hand," continued Soder. "Wheats in this group are the new Triumph and Wichita as well as the old Early Blackhull. The new wheats are higher yielders and slightly higher in quality. Farmers are pleased with these varieties too because they are early and stand up better for combining than Early Blackhull," stated Soder.

"Principal offenders among the varieties with a weak gluten are the beardless Chiefkan and Red Chief," according to Director Soder. "These wheats have such a weak gluten that it won't hold the gas from the yeast finely dispersed throughout the dough. The loaf settles instead of rises, the dough is sticky and roppy, and the loaf turns out small, coarse and heavy. All this means the housewife won't buy the flour or the bread and nobody can blame her."

"Millers and the grain trade generally know where the poor quality wheat is raised. So far they have been able to buy it all and export the wheat the housewife won't buy. This year for the first time they started out of certain areas almost entirely rather than fill their bins with undesirable varieties," advises Soder.

who is in a position to know. "Our big export demand will fold up over night some one of these times and wheat buyers will be forced to discriminate or go out of business. When that day comes I believe the discounts for undesirable wheats will shock a lot of people," states Soder.

"The job of wheat improvement is really a simple one," believes Soder, who is heading this work. "The new varieties are consistently the highest in yield, good in test weight and stand better for combining, all important to the producer. They are the best in gluten quality too, and will bring top prices for they make the best loaf of bread. Nebraska has 96% good varieties and Kansas has 43% of these new wheats this year. It is our job to catch up," concludes Soder.

people who own some three sections or more. The Mather and Wesley Carrs are neighbors on the north, close to Harmony school. Eight different crews, some of them "shooting" the same holes over again...

Assembling Block in Briscoe The Briscoe county report has a block being assembled in the area north, northeast and east of the acreage on which Phillips made an unsuccessful test two years ago...

No Granite At Cedar Contrary to report common at the time the Phillips test on the Whiteley land did not stop at the granite. In fact the drill did not reach granite. The test was abandoned at 8,200 feet.

A similar report can be made, it appears, as to the Cedar test, which the driller abandoned four weeks ago. This hole was bottomed below 7,700 feet when the drillers were called off. The Hesperian's report has it that the driller ran out of a water supply and the Humble was not sufficiently impressed with the structure to do whatever was necessary to get water to go ahead.

RACKETEER TRICKS REPORTER

The bored boys in the press room picked up the announcement of the Treasury's cash balance—on this particular day $3,032,794,863.59—and put it on their tickers.

It was a chore they faithfully performed at 10 a. m. every weekday. But this time, a minor incident broke the routine. Two minutes after they flashed the "news," a "Treasury press officer" called to say there had been a mistake. The total should be $3,032,722,185.59.

Most reporters sent through a routine correction. But one played safe, called the Treasury first. Nobody had authorized the correction. The "press officer" who actually changed the last five dollar numbers to win the day's prize (ranges from $500 to $10,000, based on the Treasury balance.—Pathfinder.

FARMERS

Stanton's Lay Mash is rich in corn and oat products with the correct amount of meat and mineral products. Some Mill added.

All you farmers who doubt the quality of maize as compared with corn—come in and see the Bulletin we have. U. S. Dept. of Agr. (1932 year) Kansas Station since—U. S. D. A. 1945—and A. & M. Tex. as last month; all found our maize or milo just as good as corn for poultry feeds.
