

JUNIOR LIVE STOCK SHOW BRINGS FINE ANIMALS TO THE SHOW RING

The junior live stock show, run off by and for the boys of 4-H club and PPA in Floyd county last Thursday and Friday, was viewed as the most satisfactory in recent years, due to some extent at least to the fact that two days time was given to the event. Show officials also give the youthful exhibitors and their advisers credit for making the show a good one by their fine sportsmanship and skill in handling their entries.

The 52 swine, the 37 fat lambs, the 13 head of beef type animals and the dairy animals were shown by a total of 75 boys and two girls all of whom were guests of the show officials, the Lions, the Jaycees, and others at the Lions club meeting at high noon Thursday.

Guests for the luncheon, also, were judges and visiting officials of the show and Lloyd Otten, the auctioneer, Otten and Stanley Anderson, Tech jacking coach, who placed the animals in the Floyd county show, spoke briefly.

The guests were introduced by Henry G. Barber, vocational teacher of Floydada high school.

Among the guests were eight members of the judging team, students of Texas Tech. One hundred sixteen in all were present at the luncheon.

Lyndell Roberts, president of the Lions club, presided at the meeting. The fact that the live stock markets have broken severely in the past 12 months did not mar the enthusiasm of the youngsters in the show, said O. M. Watson, Jr., general manager. While the number of entries was slightly below the total of last year, the show itself was better in some respects, the quality of animals shown, for one thing. Grooming and showmanship, the quality of animals shown, for one thing. Grooming and showmanship both excelled over former years, also.

This is the famous Ford Rotunda with its redesigned exterior. Inside, the entire building, long Detroit's principal tourist attraction, will have a completely new series of displays and exhibits to show the progress of the automobile industry and its effect on American life. This artist's conception shows how the building will look when it is reopened to the public about June 1 as part of the company's 50th anniversary observance.

land of the county.

Also the adoption of Article 2.02, Section A, paragraph 7, in the proposed law will permit such corporations to purchase, own, hold or otherwise to use and deal in, etc., the stock or interests in any other corporation, association, partnership or individual ownership, as they desire, the effect of which is that one or more of the large corporations can acquire all or any part of other and smaller corporations, associations, partnerships or individual ownerships so that within a few years free enterprise will be destroyed for the reason there will be no property worthwhile for the public to buy.

Many other provisions are objectionable in the proposed law, the proposed bill should be defeated.

The period of escheat in the present law should be reduced from 15 to two years.

Consult a lawyer that is not attorney for one of the Major Corporations, of whom a list will be furnished you at your request. Then ask your representative and Senator to oppose this proposed bill. Any further information will be gladly furnished you at your request.

This measure is proposed stating that it has the endorsement of the Bar Association of Texas. I find few lawyers expect those employed by the major oil companies know anything about the proposed change, that will permit the large corporations to acquire most and the better part of our properties both real and personal.

Write your senator and representative at once. Next week may be too late.

Respectfully,
 Paul W. Jeffery

Peoples Forum . . . New Law Would Be Injurious to the Rights of People

HOUSTON, Texas, March 9th — There is pending for adoption in our State Legislature, a measure known as House Bill No. 27 and Senate Bill No. 69, to repeal the present corporation law and adopt a new law injurious to the rights of the people.

The present corporation laws limit the ownership of land by private corporations to such lands as is necessary to operate their business, as shown in Article 1359 of the present statutes, under the proposed statutes, Article 2.02 Section A, Paragraph 4, the proposed law reads: "To purchase, take, receive, lease or otherwise deal in, and with, real or personal property, or any interest therein wherever situated."

The adoption of this change in our statutes, permitting private corporations to own any amount of land and personal property, without restraint, can and will probably result in the Standard Oil Company and its subsidiaries with other major corporations now purchasing and holding lands in violation of the land laws, to acquire, own and hold most of the lands in Texas thus destroying the people's opportunity to buy land.

These corporations in violation of the land laws already hold a large part of the lands not being used for the purpose for which they are incorporated, in many counties of Texas. In Tyler county their holdings include more than 80% of the

LIPSTICK LOGIC
BY LOUISE ALLEN

Baby-sitting is one of the oldest occupations. In earlier times, keeping small ones was more often an act of friendship or family loyalty than it was either duty or a way to make money.

Then everybody got busy. Grandmothers became ardent club workers. Maiden aunts went to New York or Los Angeles or Chicago and became career women. Big brothers and sisters developed such a list of extracurricular activities they couldn't even keep their own rooms, much less stay home with baby. And mother decided the way to discourage father's wandering eye was to be ready to go herself any time he suggested it.

That's when the trouble began. Almost anyone was called in, for a fee, to keep junior company. Instead of being considered an important assignment, it has become a much joked about job. And what happens to junior's personality in the midst of it is anybody's guess.

We sat at a luncheon table the other day with a well-dressed woman whom we've known for years. Her sons are grown. Her doctor husband, when he died, left her "comfortably fixed" as the saying goes. Yet while the others lingered over coffee, she said she must go. She was baby-sitting that afternoon.

"I've never met these children before," she said with a little undertone of excitement, "and I want to get there early."

Seems she has been doing this for several years. She loves children. She's lonely. She saw a need. This way she constantly meets interesting new people, she said (yes, children are people to her).

How much pleasure she gets from making herself loved by dozens of children. How much richer her life is for having found a useful occupation for otherwise lonely days!

Simpson, Jr., N. E. Tyler, Ham Smith, Jr., Bob Copeland, Edward Wester, Gene Probasco and Mrs. Kenneth Ring.

Guided Missiles Rolling Off of Assembly Lines

On a chilly morning in March, 1952, Brigadier General Merle H. Davis appeared before a Congressional subcommittee which was seeking information about guided missiles development by the Army.

"Gentlemen," he said, "for many years Army Ordnance people appearing before this subcommittee have talked about futures. Now some of these missiles are a reality."

Army Ordnance finally had reached the production stage on two Army missiles.

This was heartening news to the people of a nation who vividly recalled the advent of Hitler's rocket blitz against England and Belgium in 1944 and 1945. It also was heartening to the Army Ordnance technical intelligence teams which ranged through Germany on the heels of the American Army during the closing phases of World War II in search of the devastating super-sonic V-2 rockets.

Their discovery of the test stations, the great underground production lines and the evacuation of scientists and rockets to the United States, greatly assisted the Army in developing the guided missiles to which Davis referred.

"We have reached the stage where we are ready not only to produce them for more extended firings, but we are actually organizing units to use these missiles," Davis continued.

What the general referred to was of far greater importance than a mere super-sonic rocket such as the Germans unleashed in 1944. He spoke of guided missiles—rockets which could be guided in flight to their destinations. Once launched, the V-2's flight path could not be controlled or changed by external means.

The whole story of how the V-2—German Vengeance Weapon Number Two—got to the United States is a thrilling tale of wild adventure. German scientists and their families, rockets, everything that looked like it might be a part of a rocket, and documents were found and evacuated. All this had to be done in a precious few days and in the face of a Russian advance toward Hitler's rocket laboratories.

The fact that it was done—that 120 scientists and 100 V-2 rockets were evacuated by the Army to the United States—gained additional importance eleven months later. On April 16, 1946, the first American-fired V-2 rocket shot into the air above the New Mexico desert to initiate the Army's V-2 program.

"We were merely babies in the woods when my staff brought back the V-2's from Germany," said Brigadier General H. N. Toftoy, Director of the Ordnance Missile Laboratories at Redstone Arsenal, Huntsville, Ala.

"Since then, we have made tremendous strides in this brand new field of American military technology."

Toftoy—who, since World War II, fathered the Army rocket and guided missile program in the United States—continued: "The V-2's provided us with such fundamental data that we were able to save more than $50,000,000 (M) in our guided missiles program, and five years in research and development time."

Although much was learned from V-2 rocket firings at White Sands, the rocket—fore-runner of guided missiles—has been serving the Army as a research workhorse for many

Friday, 13, Good Club Meeting Day

Friday, March 13, was not unlucky for the Homebuilders demonstration club when it met in the home of Mrs. Willie Bunch in south Floydada.

Mrs. E. G. Norrell, vice-president, presided over the business meeting and introduced Mrs. D. D. Shipley who gave an article "Mrs. Smith, Uncle Sam and You." This article dealt with the inefficiency of government spending. It was humorously presented.

The audience participation in this demonstration was especially good.

The finance committee, with Mrs. B. A. Robertson as chairman sponsored an auction sale which netted $30.30. Mrs. W. R. Daniel acted as auctioneer.

Members enjoying the event were years.

If it were not for this rocket, guided missiles now rolling off assembly lines for the Army in all probability would be non-existent.

Mesdames F. F. Williams, P. F. Williams, W. R. Daniel, T. J. Heard, D. T. May, D. D. Shipley, O. G. Bratton, Lovell Jones, Howard Gregory and Bunch.

Sentence Passed On Guilty Pleas For Lakeview Job

Sidney J. Cole and Bobby Hummel, the Odessa men who qualified as experts in picking county jail locks in February, Friday had their day in district court for Floyd county.

Both pled before Judge Alton B. Chapman, waiving jury.

Hummel drew 5 years on the Lakeview store burglary charge, 10 years in the jail break charge and 10 years for the theft of the W. H. Furrow pick-up the morning he got out of jail.

Cole's sentences were 5 years for the Lakeview store burglary and 10 years for the jail break.

All their sentences ran concurrently.

Port Stockton authorities who were wanting the two men picked them up Saturday from Pecotas here and took them to Pecotas county to answer charges there.

In their jail break here the two young men demonstrated considerable ingenuity. They took a mop handle and a coat hanger to improvise a device that would release the jail door. With the freedom of the run around they sawed on an outer window bar until they could squeeze through the opening and let themselves down from the second floor on a rope made of jail bedding.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Stephens of Amarillo were visitors here at the Floyd county Junior livestock show and Mrs. Stephens remained over Sunday with her mother, Mrs. J. R. Terry and other relatives.

Fines in Court Help Expense Bill

County court business Monday morning, covering misdemeanor charges that usually go with Saturday night and Sunday, equalled up to a little income to butt against the considerable outgo incident to maintaining the peace and dignity of the state.

Judge Moore heard a plea of guilty on a DWI charge from a colored man, who was assessed $100 fine and costs.

A Negro man paid a fine for disturbing the peace, and two Negro women paid $5 each plus costs, one on drunkenness charge and one for disturbing the peace.

After the court session was over the sheriff's office was on the look out for a colored man, alleged to have used a knife on a woman of the same race. The Negro departed barefooted from the premises where he was sought, the sheriff learned shortly before the officer got there.

One of the victims of the Knox City tornado at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon was J. T. Darr, an uncle of Mrs. Wiley Rogers of Floydada and J. W. Clary of Lockney.

Mr. and Mrs. Rogers and Mr. and Mrs. Clary went to Knox City on Saturday to be with the relatives. The funeral for Mr. Darr was on Sunday afternoon. In the storm Mrs. Darr was very seriously injured but was thought to be improved this midweek.

The irony of fate was that the home of Mr. and Mrs. Darr in another part of the town, was untouched by the storm, but the home of a granddaughter where the Darrs were visiting at the time of the storm, was demolished. Two small children were blown out of the house but not injured.

Seek Soap Box Derby Entries

Parnell Powell, Gayle Mayo, C. E. Pyffe and James H. Word are among Floydada citizens who are interesting themselves in entries from Floyd county for the Soap Box derby this spring.

They announced yesterday they are finding some youngsters interested and now have available the first of the official derby wheels, registratin blanks, rule books, etc.

Tonight one or more of the quartet will journey to an initial meeting of the derby, which will be staged at Kuykendall Chevrolet company.

The entry blanks for Floyd county youths may be obtained this week at Oden Chevrolet company from Mr. Pyffe.

Coincident with the announcement of the Soap Box Derby party was the announcement that wheels and axles and steering gear sets had arrived and would be available to those boys who want to compete in this year's big race.

Boys Must Do Work
Each boy is limited to spending $10 on materials for his racer, exclusive of the cost of his wheels and axles. Together with the steering gear assembly, these units will cost approximately $16. Each boy may secure a sponsor — a business firm, individual or organization — to pay this cost.

A boy must do all of the actual work on his racer, although he may seek advice and council of his parents, his sponsor or older brothers.

Standard Must Be Met
Each racer must conform to certain requirements as to workmanship, height, length, width, road clearance and weight. A Soap Box Derby racer and driver must not weigh more than 250 pounds.

In the Derby the youngsters race against each other down a 1,000-foot straightway course on U. S.

Champion Goes to Akron

Champions of the two classes will then compete for the Derby championship, with the winner getting an all-expense trip to Akron, Ohio, where he will race against champions from approximately 150 other cities of the U. S., Canada, Alaska and the Occupied Zone of Germany.

Winner at Akron will receive a $5,000 four-year college scholarship to any school of his choice. Second place winner will receive a $4,000 scholarship; third place a $3,000 scholarship; fourth place a $2,000 scholarship and fifth place a $1,000 scholarship.

In addition there will be valuable merchandise prizes for winners both at Akron and in the local race.

Upwards of 300 entries are expected in this year's race. Any boy has the same chance as another to carry off the championship.

Mr. Sanders said the ginner told him he would build a gin on the site when the property is finally transferred. The parties have 60 days in which to complete the details. J. G. ## VIEWS AND COMMENT

Probably the campaign to open the doors of Texas A. and M. to girl students may not down as easily as it may be thought. Since the enrollment of girls at the school would increase the attendance figures by some thousands every year the leanings of the people who serve the school's needs would be toward opening the doors. One argument for opening enrollment to girls is that the enrollment is declining and will continue to do so unless it does become a co-educational school. Perhaps the would-be male enrollees at the school may have a more potent influence on the future of the school than those who have already played their parts on the college campus and have moved on to other things.

Pink bollworm scare will have cotton men jumpy. The men of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine, pink bollworm project, have been getting around to see how they're faring in the battle against pink bollworm. In Floyd county they found quite a bit of infestation, the report released says. They sifted 214 bushels of gin trash in this county—what gin, what part of the county not stated—and got 19 pink bollworms. Two hundred fourteen bushels of gin trash would be a good-sized pick up bed full, wouldn't it? They say the pink bollworm can put a cotton grower out of business. The tendency locally has been one of impatience with the regulations put into effect, quarantine, disposal of gin trash and the like. But if the pink bollworm assumes proportions as a menace as it seems indicated the cotton people will like whatever it takes to control the insect.

Our weather bulletin: Still time for rain before the planting season begins, but part of the signs have been crossed, resulting in slight rainfall. In due time the signs will get right, then gather in the chickens so they won't drown. What we anticipate is a slow drizzle for about 18 hours, ending up with a big rain. However, we can't foresee enough to guarantee such. And as regards the temperatures: Write off that pretty peach tree full of ripe, red, luscious peaches. Sorry. That's the way it is. Watch the mesquites. They'll tell you when.

They say we all are working for the insurance companies these days, meaning that they own the country. If so suffice it to say at the moment it is pleasant to know some of the companies live in Texas and have their corporate beings here. The other day the report was made by one important company that it now has a billion dollars worth of insurance in force. It, the report, said the company operates in no state other than Texas. Time was when there were no insurance companies worth the name (we may get picked up on that one) in this state. And it looked bad when a state legislature, according to history books, passed a law requiring the "foreign" companies to keep some of their assets in Texas so they could be "got at", and would integrate part of their interest in this state. The big shots—you know them—left in a huff. They'd never be back and Texas would go to a certain warm place on roller coasters. Now, practically all of them are back and complying with the law requiring investments in Texas and begging for more of the same. Time changes the face of things. The big shots are wrong as often as the peanut shooters are. It takes time to prove it. The mills of the gods grind slowly. They grind up fine, though.

An informed public is our greatest strength. This is the basic reason for the proposed publication laws now up for consideration of the legislature. One of these, to illustrate their tenor, would give publicity to proceedings of the Commissioners court, in particular where the money comes from, whence it goes. Not only would this information be helpful to the public in forming their opinions, it would be a help to the commissioners court in getting factual information to the taxpayers instead of gossip. Four such bills have been put in the legislative hopper. What they will be amended to look like and how they will fare in the debate and voting of the house and the senate, is to be found out. Such bills heretofore have been killed outright or emasculated so they had little real value for the average man. For the most part the proposed laws have been represented as coasting the taxpayer too much money. Proponents of the measure have maintained that the cost to the public would be negligible, if only the information is given in a forthright manner. As the law stands now a Commissioners' court for instance, has no authority to pay out money to have its proceedings published and to pay the cost of such publication. People should think on these things and tell their legislators what they want them to do.

Not a thing in the news, or in the gossip of which we are aware, that would give hope there is to be more oil activity in Floyd county at an early date. As May rolls around we blush to read things we wrote back in the spring of 1952 about what all was due to take place in the next 12 months. All it goes to prove is that one could say less and get credit for being smarter and better informed. But it would not be near so interesting.

Theme of the 1953 Texas Safety Association meeting is "Your Business, Safety."

News of Dougherty

(By Mrs. W. J. Ross)
(Too late for last week)
DOUGHERTY, March 10 — There was a large crowd present at the community club celebration of public school week.

The rhythm band played several numbers which were well received. Henry Tuebel of Tulla was the guest speaker and warned the audience of the dangers of communism. He said that this was one of the darkest times in history. He also praised the blessings of our educational system and our privilege of worshipping as we please.

A social hour was held and coffee and cookies were served. Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Tubbs and Mr. and Mrs. Billy Gene Warren and son attended the meeting, also.

Following patrons visited school last week: Jim Morrison, Mesdames Howe Hines, W. J. Ross, R. T. Jones, W. H. Smith and G. W. Smith. Brother Harris brought an interesting message Sunday morning. There were 70 present, and a number of visitors also present among these Mrs. McWilliams of Whiteflat and Mrs. Wilkerson of Matador and eight teen-age girls. Two of the girls played violin numbers and the sextet from the Matador music club sang a number. The girls were Raynita Dunning, Betty Neighbors, Alice Martin, Glynda McWilliams, Christine Green and Sue Maguen.

Mr. and Mrs. Mac Ward visited in Spur Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Chick Wilson of McCoy were Sunday guests in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Malcom Ward.

Agriculture

Released by
The Texas Department of Agriculture

LEGISLATION
Action now brewing in the Texas Legislature which will affect every person in the state is the Texas Seed Act. This act which directs the Texas Department of Agriculture to enforce, therefore, every farmer and grower.

Several of those violations, the state's hands were tied due to loopholes in the law.
The Texas Seed Act specifies, in part, that samples from each bag of seed will be inspected and the bag must be properly labeled as to content and seed quality. It doesn't necessarily guarantee the "best" seed—merely says "what kind" and lets the purchaser be the judge.
Activities of the Department of Agriculture have been handicapped by a lack of adequate funds for providing enough inspectors to keep a check on seed sales and prevent switching of tags.
Instead of completely re-writing the TSA, some amendments have been offered. One of them provides that the project will become self-financing and that revenue will be derived from sale of seed tags. Last year, 3,600,000 tags were sold at one cent a piece, bringing in 36,000 dollars. This was not enough, considering that the cost of printing the tags has increased from $700 a million two years ago to nearly $2,000 per million tags.
This year, the Legislature has been asked to raise the price of seed tags to two cents which will double the revenue. The additional money will be used to expand the force of inspectors, increase the amount of certification and provide adequate double-checks on selling activity.

An equally important amendment would allow the department to put any noxious weed seed on the Texas quarantine list as soon as it becomes a threat to farmers and ranchers. Instead of having to wait until the Legislature comes in session before taking action, the amendment will permit a quarantine to be slapped on the seed when it occurs in another state. This would immediately prevent its entry into Texas.

These proposals of course, are subject to review of local courts and will not give the Department of Agriculture any dictatorial powers. They merely help to put some "teeth" in the present program.

Couple Wed 50 Years Observe Event at Home

Thursday, February 26, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Price celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at their home when their children were present to help in the hospitalities.

More than fifty friends and neighbors called during the afternoon to wish the couple much happiness and extend congratulations.

Mrs. Monroe Price and Newman Price, daughters-in-law, greeted the guests at the door who registered in the guest book.

Mrs. Pernal Price and Mrs. W. S. Yingling, a daughter-in-law and a daughter of the honored couple, served gold punch and wedding cake from a table covered with a yellow linen cloth, having a centerpiece made of large yellow mums and having a gold "50" over the center. White napkins with gold letters, "Billy-Lela" were used.

The wedding cake was made in the form of an open book, decorated in gold and white, having the names of the couple on each side.

Mr. and Mrs. Price were the recipients of many lovely gifts. One of the most valuable gifts was a 21-foot home deep freeze, from their children.

Guests registered from Amarillo, Post, Ralls, Lubbock, Wayside, Portales, New Mexico, and Floydada.

Mr. Price has a son who lives in Alamosa, Colorado, who was unable to be present for the celebration.

Mr. and Mrs. Price were married in Dierks Arkansas, February 26, 1903, and came to Texas in 1922. He was born, August 9, 1877 and Mrs. Price was born July 29, 1884.

Mrs. Paul Williams and daughters, Gaynelle, Sherron and Brenda, of Plainview, spent last Friday with Mrs. Williams' sister, Mrs. Collis Roland.

Mrs. Geo. Turner Elected Secretary

LOCKNEY — The City council in a session last Friday named Mrs. Leo Maudie Turner, widow of George Turner, Jr., as secretary of the city of Lockney. Her husband was killed a month ago in an airplane accident near San Antonio.

Three other applications sought the office. The position was made appointive in an ordinance adopted by the council last year.

Mrs. Pay Messer, who has held the office for the past three terms has resigned.

Heart Trouble Victims Learn To Plan Life

Worried about your heart? If so, it doesn't help to hear that deaths from diseases of the heart and the blood vessels are the leading cause of death in Texas. Yet, if you have heart trouble today, you are better off than you would have been at any previous time in the history of the world, says Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. Cases, which in former years were considered hopeless, are now being treated successfully. Most heart patients who follow their physician's directions can lead relatively normal lives, carrying on most of the activities they did before they became ill with heart disease.

Over-fatigue, over-exertion, worry, and prolonged emotion disturbances also make additional work for the heart. The heart slows up somewhat when you lie down and a little more when you fall asleep, but the person who is constantly on the go, and gets too little sleep, does not give his heart much of a chance to rest. Whenever you become worried or excited, your heart is the first part of the body to react. It immediately starts to beat faster. If you really become frightened or over exercise, it may start pounding.

Many people, when they realize they have heart trouble, fortunately learn a new way of living. They acquire a more wholesome and happier way of life. Their work is planned so that they do not get overtired, and are not pushed to get the job done; when they get tired stop and rest. Few heart patients have to give up all of their usual activities. They learn a different and better way of doing them that does not put such a strain on the heart, for they have found that it is the way they do things, rather than what they do that is so very important.

Early treatment for heart disease will help to relieve your worries and will set you on the right road to good health, with a chance for a normal span of life, if you obey your doctor's orders.

Benjamin Franklin was born in America.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

(by Nellie Witt Spikes)

These beautiful lines by an unknown author are especially dedicated to my friend, Alma D. Crump on the passing of her dear mother:

Mother Has Fallen Asleep

Mother was tired and weary,
 Weary with toil and pain;
 Put by her glasses and rocker,
 She will not need them again.
 Into Heaven's mansions she's entered,
 Never to sigh or to weep;
 After long years with life's struggles,
 Mother has fallen asleep.

Near other loved ones we laid her,
 Low in the church yard to lie;
 And tho' our hearts are near broken,
 Yet, we would not question
 "Why?"

She does not rest 'neath the grasses,
 Tho' o'er her dear grave they creep;
 Mother has fallen asleep.

Rest the tired feet forever,
 Dear wrinkled hands are so still;
 Blast of the earth shall no longer
 Throw o'er our loved one a chill.
 Angles through Heaven shall guide her,
 Jesus will still bless and keep;
 Not for the world would we wake her,
 Mother has fallen asleep.

Beautiful rest for the weary,
 Well deserved rest for the true;
 When our life's journey is ended
 We shall again be with you.
 This helps to quiet our weeping—
 Hark! Angel music so sweet!
 He giveth to His beloved,
 Beautiful, beautiful sleep.

A sudden parting and neighbors of some forty five years are separated—
 death came and our friend,
 Mrs. Mandy Crump, went with him.
 Over and over again my mind has traveled the years since we first met. I walked the mile across the pasture to spend the day with her or she came to our house. We had Christmas and New Year's dinner together. We sat up with the sick.
 We stood in the cemetery as friends and her loved ones were laid away.
 We worked in our fields just across from their home in the draw. We saw her very busy, going from the garden to the house with new potatoes, or beans and tomatoes, for her family. Or maybe she picked some blackberries for a cobbler. Delicious meals she served always. She went to the milk house where the cool water ran in a trough over the sweet butter and milk, taking some into the house. She ran to the chicken house for some eggs, or to take some water for the baby chicks.

I can see her as she walked slowly toward the draw, driving an old turkey hen with her babies to find bugs and grass seeds. See her in her yard that was always beautiful with flowers shrubs and trees which she loved so well.

Some springs her yard would be a splash of pure gold of California poppies. Some years it was purple with sweet smelling petunias. Roses bloomed under her loving care. Everywhere she went some one shared with her and she always had plants and cuttings for others. For her leisure hours, there was a quilt hanging from the ceiling for her busy hands to make "squares" or "shells" on its surface. There was always a ball of crocheted thread handy to her chair, or a bit of knitting to do. Never idle, always busy, she went her way. I recall her at our Center Circle club, always gay, laughing and teasing, helping with the work of the hostess.

On Saturday afternoons the Crump car pulled out to town, sometimes Ralls, sometimes to Floydada. Big ten gallon cans of cream, cartons of eggs, these were the "gold" of the farm to buy with. Through the years we visited back and forth, then sorrow and death came. Wood-tie passed away. Only a year later, Mr. Crump was laid by her side in the Cone cemetery. Now we have placed her by their side.

We moved to Floydada, Mrs. Crump and Alma D. moved there a year later. We were still neighbors. Mrs. Crump was bowed low with sorrow, her body was frail from long hours by the side of her loved ones. She was having to make a new life, building again. But she did not falter. She fenced and planted another garden, set out her flowers to bloom around a new door.

There were new neighbors to make, there was a new church to attend. She missed the soft whirl of the windmill, the cackling of her big bunch of hens. She missed the milk and butter and cream and eggs, the noises were strange to her, the sudden shriek of the siren in the night, the slamming of car doors and rattling trucks.

But Mrs. Crump made friends with the neighbor's children, and new neighbors were given slips of her plants and flowers. Not a life to her choosing but she made the best of it, giving out happiness to others as her flowers gave fragrance to the passerby.

Now her hands, unshaped by arthritis, are folded and at rest. Her frail body has been given ease. Her tears have been dried by her Father's hand.

I sit here thinking of the ties that bound us, ties as strong as if made of iron, ties as tender and shining as if made of threads of gold. And I am glad that she had been a neighbor of mine and that some day, God willing, we will be neighbors again.

God bless and richly guide and keep you, Alma D. is my prayer for I know that tho' you are
 A child in the darkness,
 A little frightened child;

Wedding Party 50 Years Ago Was Snowbound

(In a recent account of her wedding day 50 years ago on February 15, 1903, Mrs. Geo. W. Smith, now of Route 2, Crosbyton, recounts a well-remembered bitter cold mid-winter snow period that hit the plains country during pioneer days. Her account of her wedding, written recently for the Crosbyton review, is given below. — Ed Note.)

A Pioneer Marriage

To Our Many Friends:

Fifty (50) years ago today, February 15, a terrible snow storm was raging. One could see a few feet ahead. The storm lasted two days and nights; drifts of snow 10 to 15 feet piled up in places. The roads in the Canyon and down the caprocks were most impassable.

Judge Auther B. Duncan, the first county judge of Floyd county, said he had never disappointed any couple who was to be married. George W. Smith and Sallie Mae Adams were to be married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Adams, 12 miles south of Floydada. How could the Judge manage to get to the Adam's home at 9:30 a.m.?

Judge Duncan saddled his big grey horse, put on all the clothes he could wear and started out, the snow being 12 to 15 inches on a level. He could see no road—only the rutts the heavy rains had left. The heavily loaded freight wagons passed by. Judge Duncan saved at the Adams house at 4 p.m. and the couple took the marriage vows at 5 p.m. None of the invited guests could come. Just one cousin of Sallie's who lived near, was present.

"Two days after cold and the Judge and Sallie, were housed two days and nights at the Adams home. But like all things, on February 17 the sun came out and Judge Duncan left for Floydada. George and Sallie must try to get to the rock house, the home of George's parents, Uncle and Aunt Hank Smith. We arrived at the Rock House at 7:30 p.m.

A warm welcome waited us, as well as a warm house. A big fire in the fire place, made of cotton-wood logs and mesquite, was a welcome sight.

George is now 76 years of age and Sallie 75 years of age. We have spent all of our 50 years in our little ranch near Mt. Blanco, and at the Rock House.

How we wished for a little party today for our old friends (and new ones), but owing to George's bad health, we could not have one. We hope to sometime.

We have three children, Evelyn Smith Lowrie, who lives at Wellington and teaches there; Allan Boyle Smith, who lives near us on the ranch, and Georgia Mae Ericson of New York City; three grandchildren the children of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Smith. They are Hank Smith III, Billy Smith and Danny Boy Smith (the joy of my life). They are a very fine bunch of boys.

George is the only living member of the Hank Smith immediate family, having lived here 75 of his 76 years. Sallie came with her parents to Floyd county 61 years ago. Guess we are real old-timers.

We love Crosby county, and our many friends, and any of you who can send us a card or come to see

KITCHEN AND ★★★ FIELD NEWS

(from Floyd County Rural Electric Cooperative, Inc.)

by Nancy Morckel and Claude Weatherbee Electrification Advisers

The annual meeting planning committee are busy with plans for the meeting to be held April 18. This is on Saturday and they are hoping every member will put forth a special effort to attend. The meeting will be held at the Graves gymnasium at Floydada high school. The committee decided that instead of the cooperative serving free lunch, as has been done the last few years, two nice attendance prizes would be given instead — probably a television and a food freezer. There will be other small prizes. There will be an electric train to make some youngsters happy. Ned Bradley will be master of ceremonies again. A good program is being planned. It will be a day of good information and good entertainment.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Jarboe, Jr., Rt. 5, Floydada; Mr. and Mrs. Billy Stanforth, South Plains; Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Scheele, Lockney; Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Gordon, Rt. 1, Plainview; Mr. and Mrs. Weldon McClure, Rt. 2, Crosbyton; and Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Baxter, Rt. 3, Floydada; and Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Lee Thomas, Rt. 1, Floydada are the annual meeting planning committee this year. All fourteen members were present for the meeting held Monday afternoon, March 16, in the co-op kitchen.

So nice to have the Maurice Steens with us again — and Maurice tells us they are here to stay.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Duke visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Duke at Barwise Sunday.

C. Ferguson returned to work on Wednesday after a tonsillectomy, the week before.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Rainer visited in Amarillo on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Doc Williams of Kerrville and Mrs. Lillie Williams of Hillsboro visited the Turners over the week-end.

We are sorry to report the condition of Grandmother Medley is not improved at this time.

Mr. and Mrs. Red Gregory of Floydada and Mrs. Pauline Williams and daughter of Lorenzo visited in Knox City Sunday. Red said, "It was simply awful to see where the cyclone hit."

Dan and Nancy Hagood of Canyon were Floydada visitors over the week end.

us, we will thank you — and God bless all of you.

The Three Little Pigs is a production that Palace is staging as a special 4 o'clock matinee on the stage announced for Thursday, March 19, this afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Knight, of the Sand Hill community, are leaving Wednesday for Hot Springs, New Mexico, for a thirty-day vacation. Walter says he hopes to catch a catfish that weighs 50 lbs. We hope he does too (you see, he told Wanda and I if he did they would invite us out to eat fish supper.)

D. T. Mayo paid the co-op office a neighborly visit on Saint Patrick's day.

Saturday morning representatives from home demonstration clubs met in the co-op kitchen to discuss food for the annual meeting of the cooperative. They decided to sell sandwiches and pie, and plans were made. The Mt. Blanco Home Demonstration club will cooperate with the Floyd county clubs in this too. Attending this meeting were: Mrs. Ross Cooper, Mrs. C. B. Hartsell, Mrs. D. D. Taylor, Mrs. C. W. Payne, Mrs. Howard Drysdale, Mrs. Vernon Gross, Mrs. M. J. McNeill, Mrs. J. W. Day, Mrs. Malvin Jarboe, Mrs. Marvin Scheele, Mrs. D. W. Burke, Mrs. G. N. Shirey, Mrs. W. C. Sims, Mrs. Wiley Nance, Mrs. Raymond Teeple, Mrs. Bob Hopper, Mrs. Glenn Pool, Mrs. A. H. Kreis, Mrs. L. T. Wood, and Mrs. W. R. Daniel, is chairman of the Floyd county Home Demonstration council.

Wayne Collins says: "I've still got a headache from making out my income tax" but, he added — "Oh, boy! Van will be home to-night." Van is the "little brother" who has just finished his basic training at Camp Roberts, California, and is coming home on furlough. We are all looking forward to seeing Van and Tom Bob. (Tom Bob Jarboe is just finishing basic training at Camp Roberts.)

On Sunday, Edith Wilson, former Floyd county Home Demonstration agent, now district agent for District V, Extension Service, attended church in Floydada and visited until bus time at the Jarboe home. So nice to see Edith again and we were all so sorry that she could not stay longer. She promised to come again and stay long enough to visit all her Floyd county friends. She lives in Mount Pleasant, Texas.
