Baird Receives Federal Approval For Sixteen Low-Rent Units

Chamber of Commerce President Randall Jackson and Local Housing Chairman Charles Walker, received telegrams from Congressman Omar Burleson verifying federal approval of appropriations for sixteen low-rent units for the elderly to be constructed in Baird. No contract has been signed by the local authority nor have any further arrangements been made. Other details of the project will be subsequent to the signing of the contract.

The promotion of the housing project to the formation of the local authority was a specific item on the original program of work of the Baird Chamber of Commerce at its inception in the fall of 1960. The project was turned over to the Housing Committee for study and recommendations. Chairman L. C. Cash's committee was broken down into sub-committees for specific study of each phase of housing.

Raymond Young was appointed chairman of the Housing Subcommittee on Federal Housing. John Towler and Jerry Loper were also on the committee. After examining available information on the subject and meeting with housing authorities in other areas, the committee made recommendations to the directors that representatives be sent to meet with the City Council.

L. C. Cash, Raymond Young, Randall Jackson and David Noble met with the Council in January. The Council approved the program by unanimous vote.

Immediately following the Council's endorsement of the program, a local Housing Authority was appointed by Mayor Lynn Ault, composed of Chairman Charles Walker, Vice-Chairman John Towler, S. L. McElroy, B. H. Freeland and Jon Hardwick.

A survey was made by Mrs. Homer Driskill, Mrs. Gilbert Franks and Mrs. P. E. Dungan following meetings with authorities from the Ft. Worth office. The survey, made according to federal requirements, determines whether or not there is sufficient need for this type of housing. The results qualified sixteen units for Baird subject to final approval and new appropriations.

All subsequent activities and necessary red tape were handled by the newly organized authority. Reports received from the office in Ft. Worth indicated that these men had done an exceptional and thorough job and that the only delay to final approval was lack of funds until such time as Congress approved new appropriations.

Baird's new Housing Program will be a reality as soon as the local authority signs the official contract.

SWEET-N' SOUR

By A. Dill

The keeps say that football not only builds men, it produces old men in a hurry -- fully ripened specimens complete with limp, wheeze and aches. Football practice, the best little ager yet contrived by athletic coaches, is well under way in Baird but out of the sighs and groans, linement and alcohol rubs Coach Townsend hopes to emerge with the finest team the school has ever known. First game, by the way, is scheduled for September One and that's only days away.

The Callahan County Pioneer Reunion last week brought some mighty nice visitors to town. The Barney Gibbs had special guests - Mrs. Gibbs' relatives, W. A. Smedley and daughter, Mrs. Truman Patterson of Galesville, and N. L. Smedley and son Virgil, of Big Spring.

Maggie and Ben Ross welcomed guests in their home this week. Mr. and Mrs. Tom Walker of New Boston, who attended the reunion plus the World War I vets reunion.

Mr. and Mrs. Elihu Grinder and son, of Houston, were here over the week end to visit his grandmother, Mrs. Beck, who returned to Houston with them for a few weeks vacation.

Agnes Eastham of Ft. Worth visited with her mother this week to attend the Old Settlers reunion.

Sophie and Eddie Blair of California are in Baird now, renewing friendships with one-time neighbors and enjoying a visit with Mrs. Blair's brothers, Rob, Les and Vernon Walker and other relatives.

Mildred Ann King Gardiner and children of Dallas, are visiting now with the Coleys and Mrs. Ida King.

Lee Abernathy is home now after a week in Dallas with his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Ludlow. Joaquin Abernathy recently returned from a week's stay with the Ludlows.

This was a happy week end indeed for the Lois V. Hagans of Rt. 1, Baird - all of the children were home, including James and Edward Hagan of Lubbock, Edna Hagan of Fort Worth, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Corcoran and baby daughters, Mary Ann and Lynn of Ft. Worth. While here the Hagan grandchildren celebrated birthdays - three and one. The Hagan family attended the Vets reunion in Baird and also the picnic and outing in Buffalo Gap arranged by the Texas Sheep & Goat Raisers Assn.

The Bonnie Thompsons are home now after a most pleasant vacation in Arizona, California and the West Coast. They visited Ting and Helen in Arizona, Mr. and Mrs. Dee Thompson in California. While in Long Beach the Thompsons dropped in on Mrs. E. C. Fulton and tells us that she is progressing toward a perfect recovery from that.

SCD Board Inspects Improvement Of Range on Edwards Ranch

Members of the board of supervisors of the Central Colorado Soil Conservation District inspected range improvement and management practices by Weldon Edwards, Monday.

Edwards, who operate 5,200 acres between Clyde and Denton Valley, is secretary of the Central Colorado board.

Following a morning tour of the ranch, the board convened in Baird where progress on flood control projects in the district were studied and discussed.

Edwards started an extensive range improvement program more than 10 years ago by planting some of the old field in soil conditioning crops, a mixture of small grain and legumes, mainly vetch and rye.

On a 200-acre field, he planted vetch and rye three years and plowed under the residue. He followed with a seeding of KR bluestem, sidecoats grama and buffalo in mixture. He got excellent stand. This field has been in the conservation reserve and has not been grazed. Next spring Edwards plans to fertilize at least a part of this grass.

In another old field, Edwards did not plant a soil conditioning crop. However, he prepared and excellent seedbed and followed the grass drill with a packer. Using the same mixture of grasses, he has a tremendous yield. This also is in conservation reserve and has not been grazed.

In one of his pastures, Edwards seeded a mixture of the same grasses on a bare point. He got an excellent stand, especially of sidecoats grama, which is his favorite grass.

CONVERSION — A few years ago the area where this quartet is kneeling was a bald, bare hilltop on the Weldon Edwards ranch south of Clyde. Using an SCD grass drill, Edwards seeded a mixture of KR bluestem, sidecoats grama and buffalo and got this excellent stand. From left, Edwards, owner of the ranch and SCD board secretary; Eldon Knox Coleman, board chairman; Leon Copeland, Lawn, and J. W. Vance, Coleman, board members.

Tecumseh Topics
 By Lillian Crawford

Glad to report that J. B. (Bill) Sherrod is better at this time, after suffering a heat stroke a week ago Monday. He was able to leave the hospital Saturday and is at home in Abilene. Bill was on the critical list several days and will probably be unable to work for some time.

Mrs. Hulon Crawford and Dana went with her mother and sisters to California to visit a sister, Della, and back through Kansas to see their only brother Robert. They returned the past week end, saying they enjoyed their visit and the drive by car. Visiting your reporter and family Sunday were very special guests, my aunt, Mrs. Rosa Taylor, her daughter Minnie Bradford and husband from Ranger. Aunt Rosa's health is not good, but what could we expect for one 84 years old. She went to the revival this summer and the pastor asked her to sing with him, The Great Physician. After singing this good old song, she was blessed of the Lord and continued going to church all the week.

Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Harris visited Mr. and Mrs. Todd Windham Saturday night.

Many are still saying how nice the Tecumseh Cemetery looks since it was decided to try mowing instead of hoeing, as in past years.

Auvin Grantham of Freer recently donated $5.00 to the Cemetery funds. There have been other donations, but since our secretary, Mrs. Frank Windham lives at Baird, I just don't get the names, but thanks to all for your donations.

We are missing the Ray Harrisons, as they moved last week end to Tatum, N. M. We wish for them health and happiness in their new location.

Mrs. O. D. Brown visited her mother, Mrs. J. H. Wolf, of Rochester, last week end.
