Congressman George Mahon, of the district of Texas, who heads the House of Appropriations sub-committee on appropriations is having a difficult time getting staff at the Pentagon to face up to liabilities as defenders of the nation.

Higher Social Security Tax Seen in 1960

Beginning January 1 the cost of financing the social security program will be higher, employees and employers are reminded by John G. Hutton, manager of the Lubbock Social Security District.

Beginning January 1, 1960, the social security contribution rate will be three per cent each for wage earners and their employers, and four and one-half per cent for the self-employed. These rates will apply to the first $4800 of earnings.

The district manager pointed out that the present rates of two and one-half per cent each for wage earners and employers, and three and one-half per cent for the self-employed, will be effective through December 31, 1959.

The Bureau of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance provides protection for most Americans against the hazards of retirement, disability, and death. Today over thirteen million beneficiaries are receiving over eight hundred million dollars each month in social security benefits, and the beneficiary rolls are increasing with each passing year.

The protection afforded by this social security program has become a major factor in the American economy and its continuance depends on the stability and soundness of the old-age, survivors, and disability insurance trusts.

To assure the financing of the program on a sound actuarial basis, Congress, in August 1953, approved the contribution schedule which provides for the increased rate beginning January 1, 1960.

A representative of social security will be in Floydada at 9:30 a. m. in the Courthouse, Room 106 on Mon., Dec. 14, to assist in matters pertaining to Social Security.

Thespians To Present Big Broadway Hit

"Junior Miss," the play to be presented by the Thespian Club of Floydada High School (two nights next week—December 17 and 18—is the same play which ran for two and a half years on Broadway and had 716 performances.

Mrs. J. T. Graves, speech teacher, who is coaching the big cast of 19, thinks the play should have a strong appeal to the parents of the filling line which shines away from soap opera.

Written by Jerome Chodorov and Joseph Field, the play does not have a sober scene, nor does it have a pointed moral. On the contrary it is for an evening of easy relaxation.

The play dates are Thursday night and Friday night. The Thespians usually give performances of high quality and their presentation next week is expected to be no exception.

The Floydada Whirlwinds dominated the all-district 3AA football balloting when the dream team was named last Wednesday night in Slaton. Named from Floydada were seven members of the defensive unit and six members of the offensive team, with several others getting honorable mention.

Six other Whirlwinds received honorable mention, these including Henry Self, Bob Ed Dempsey, Hal Hines, Rodney Teague, Van Stovall and Larry Orman. Of these Self, Dempsey and Hines are members of the senior class, Orman is a junior and Stovall and Teague are Sophomores.

They are: President Don Pemberton, educational vice president Clay Heaton, administrative vice president of Floydada High School is Aldine Williams, secretary-treasurer Ralph Mardis, and secretary of the club is Ray McNeill.

The Floydada Club will be in District 44 of the national organization. The club is an organization for self-improvement. It will have any civic objectives except for the betterment and development of the membership into better citizens of the community, the organization made the long journey together.

The scores of Floydada fans who saw Stamford defeat Denver City at Snyder Saturday saw a very close ball game. Denver City made a fight of it all the way but lady luck deserted the Mustangs in this outing after she had helped them squeeze by Seminole and Floydada.

Stamford showed their play-off poise. They were never rattled in the game and moved the ball when they had to for the 14 points scored. Denver City moved well in mid-field but could not go at the goal line and suffered their first shut out of the season.

Stamford as a team did not impress most Whirlwind fans as having as tough a defense as Floydada had shown this year though they did show more balance in their offense.

Crowds of Christmas Shoppers Tour Stores

Find Wider Selections, More And Brighter Retail Places

With Floydada retail establishments going all out to improve selections and give wider variety in their stocks the response of the Christmas shoppers this year has been marvelous and there appears to be no let-up in the buying to date. On the contrary interest of the shoppers is growing apace.

Since the opening night last mid-week when the Yule season was inaugurated there has been a steady flow of Christmas shopping a survey by The Hesperian yesterday indicated.

Saturday was a good shopping day and Monday's Dollar Day offerings added impetus to the movement of merchandise. At one store it was pointed out that shopping reached a faster pace right after Thanksgiving and there has been a steady increase since.

People may be shopping a little earlier and a little more thoughtfully, one retailer said, who noted that some shoppers have found they can go farther and do worse. The last three days in particular have been good, one store manager said.

Free gift wrapping, which is general over town, seems to appeal to shoppers who have time to wait for their parcels. The families, where both the head of the house and the wife as well as workers, found the opening night of the Christmas season a boon to family buying. Several of the stores are making plans to take care of this type of shopper and are expected to announce a closing hour beginning next week-end and continuing through Christmas Eve.

People seem to be shopping for the best and finding what they want at the stores and shops. One thing is apparent. Stores are prettier this season than ever before. Windows are more attractive throughout the shopping district. The stores are full to overflowing with merchandise.

The first of the three weeks of drawings for prizes which was staged yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock is to be followed by a drawing next week and the next week, Wednesday, Dec. 16, and Wednesday, Dec. 23. Valuable prizes are being awarded, ten or more in number each Wednesday. Each week's drawing is independent of the other. There is no hold-over of tickets from one week to the next.

Results of the drawing held yesterday at 4 o'clock were announced by the Retail Trades (See WINNERS, Page 6)

Post Office Asks Help In Card Mailing
A new Christmas Card Drop has been added at the post office for Patrons, courtesy Hammond Sheet Metal.
In past years patrons have placed their Christmas Cards that were separated, into local and Out-Of-Town bundles, in cardboard boxes placed in the lobby. This year they may be placed in one drop.
The Post Office asks your cooperation in separating your cards in two groups, Local and Out-of-town, to be securely and place the forms furnished you by your Carrier on top, and drop all bundles in the Christmas Drop.
The Christmas Drop for bundles is removable, constructed of metal, painted in red, lettered in white, and decorated for the Christmas Season. It helps to receive mail in the working area of the Dispatch Clerk, and is for this construction and for his ideas to aid the collection of the clerks and speed mail to its destination. The Postal employees wish to thank Ed Hammond for this construction and for his mail. When you visit the Post Office, we hope you will appreciate it too. If so, tell Ed when you see him," the postmaster said.

Would Avoid Pile-Up
Postmaster Wester said this week, "our patrons can still help the Postal Service avoid a tremendous last-minute pile-up of Christmas mail by sending all packages and cards right now!"
To the inevitable last-minute mailers he suggests that Air Mail postage be used on all gifts and cards going to distant cities.
The Postmaster said that Regional Postal officials were expecting the Christmas mail volume this year to break all previous records. And this mail load is expected to hit its peak next week.
He cautioned local post office patrons to make sure that all packages are addressed carefully and that zone numbers are included on mail going to large cities with zoned delivery.
"There is still time to mail cards for local delivery," Mr. Wester said, "but they should all be in the mail by the end of next week."
He recommended that cards going out of town be sent by first class mail (4 cents postage) in order that they may be returned or forwarded in case the addressee has moved. And he pointed out that it is quite proper to affix your return address on Christmas cards.

They went to the Windy City in the hope of finding ideas that would be useful for the Floyd County Fair.
"They didn't have anything for us and we decided we had as well come on home," Irwin said.
Puckett was the winner of a trip to the meeting last summer at a Dallas meeting of fair workers. He is secretary of the local fair. Irwin is a director.

Wesleyan Group Is Honored With Christmas Party
The Women's Society of Christian Service honored members of the Wesleyan Service Guild in Fellowship Hall Monday night with a Christmas party and program.
Tiny Christmas corsages were presented to the honorees on their arrival. They gathered in Fellowship Hall for the program which followed under the direction of Mrs. Jack McIntosh. Speaker for the evening was Mrs. Rex Brown, who gave an informative review on the book, "Exodus".
Instead of exchanging gifts at the social a love offering was taken for the building fund of the Wesley Community Center in Amarillo. This was done as the glow of a gaily-lighted Christmas tree fell upon the group.
The serving table in the parlor of the church was laid with a white net Christmas cloth over white satin, and held a lovely center-piece of poinsettia. Mrs. Jack Jordan poured from a silver-service and Mrs. Jack McIntosh served cake.
Decorations were done by members of Mrs. O. G. Glassmeyer's committee.
During the evening, Mrs. D. D. Shipley, who will be celebrating her 90th birthday Sunday, was surprised with the gift of a beautifully decorated birthday cake.

HOW MUCH SHALL I SAY?

A classified ad say as much as is necessary to completely describe what you are offering of goods or services, little more. Be brief, concise, and to the point. Tell all you would like to know if you were the prospect.

Readers are what count in a classified ad. Superlatives are to be avoided. Readers of classified pages are looking for something. If you have it, your copy adequately describes it, leaves no question in prospect's mind, you will get action... a sale if terms are right.

A buyer looking for something in classified pages will read most of the ads. The judicious use of display type, a little white space at the top and bottom, the boxed ad—as in display ads on these pages—command attention, adding to the pulling power.

What is essential in your ad; use display space where competitive advertising dictates the need.

To date they have produced three types of Truetone Game Calls. During the next two years they will have six more calls, including domestic big game calls — for use in Africa to call lions, tigers and other big predator animals.

Their calls are made entirely of anodized aluminum and stainless steel, and therefore are virtually indestructible.

Not content merely to produce a lifetime guaranteed call, Fred made a recording of instructions for the hunter to follow in using each call. Furthermore, he tells how to give the proper inflection — and demonstrates by sounds the exact tones the hunter must endeavor to obtain.

On the other side of his quail call platter Fred discusses the birds and their habits — and their habitats.

About quail hunting Fred has this to say: "Anyone who has hunted quail knows that the cheerful bobwhite will freeze you like it does an old pointer on the first covey of the season. "If you've never been quail hunting, all we can say is that when you do go out you'll proclaim it the finest of all wing-shooting sports. The quail is the perfect game bird. He is plentiful. He hides well for a dog. He flies fast and straight. And he is unsurpassed on the table. A crisp Autumn day afield

Outdoors In Texas

By Vern Sanford

When you want information where do you look for it? Best bet is to seek out a person well informed on the subject, then quiz him for all the facts you can get.

That's why, when we decided to write something about quail hunting, we went direct to Fred Palmer.

Why Fred? Well, in the first place, Fred has spent the major part of his life in the great outdoors. The handsome Houstonite has hunted since he was a mere boy. And he has loved it since his first day out.

In the second place, he is a master of the art of game calling. Not only does he know how, but he knows how to teach others how.

Fred was born in Inverness, Miss., on Nov. 27, 1920. His father was a hunter and a fisherman of some ability. He devoted much time to teaching his boy to hunt and fish.

Being a natural athlete, Fred caught on quickly. During the depression the youngster earned his spending money hunting and trapping. He sold quail, squirrels and rabbits to hotels in Hot Springs, Arkansas, where the was reared.

Because money was scarce, Fred learned to make every shot a kill. With that type of upbringing he trained his eye to be acute and his coordination perfect.

In high school Fred was active in athletics — in football, boxing and track.

His real interest was in boxing. He became a Golden Gloves finalist as a welterweight and won the Golden Gloves championship in Chicago in 1939.

Out of his 73 fights as a professional he won 71. In a rematch he won over the two earlier victors in all of the fighting he was never knocked down or out and he scored 23 knockouts.

The last four years of his fighting Fred spent in Hollywood as a stunt man and actor. He still holds a screen-actors guild card.

Fred has played in "Treasure of Sierra Madre" with Humphrey Bogart and Walter Huston. He also was filmed in "Johnny Diamond" with Dick Powell.

calls — for use in Africa to L. Sullivan in the film "The Great John L." He was typed in gangster parts, bit parts — and earned 32 screen credits.

Tiring of screen work and longing for the great outdoors, Fred left Hollywood in 1953. He came to Houston to engage in home construction work. Four years later he became associated with Bud Hagner in the game call business. Fred designs the calls and Bud makes the finished product.

To date they have produced three types of Truetone Game Calls. During the next two years they will have six more calls, including domestic big game calls — for use in Africa to call lions, tigers and other big predator animals.

Their calls are made entirely of anodized aluminum and stainless steel, and therefore are virtually indestructible.

Not content merely to produce a lifetime guaranteed call, Fred made a recording of instructions for the hunter to follow in using each call. Furthermore, he tells how to give the proper inflection — and demonstrates by sounds the exact tones the hunter must endeavor to obtain.

On the other side of his quail call platter Fred discusses the birds and their habits — and their habitats.

About quail hunting Fred has this to say: "Anyone who has hunted quail knows that the cheerful bobwhite will freeze you like it does an old pointer on the first covey of the season. "If you've never been quail hunting, all we can say is that when you do go out you'll proclaim it the finest of all wing-shooting sports. The quail is the perfect game bird. He is plentiful. He hides well for a dog. He flies fast and straight. And he is unsurpassed on the table. A crisp Autumn day afield with your favorite gun, a fine dog and friend bobwhite, is one of the rare treats in a sportsman's life."

That Fred is enthused about the pastime, there is no doubt. We asked him about hunting with dogs. To this he replied, "With a good quail call you can hunt very successfully without a dog. But a good pointing dog will find more birds. Furthermore, he'll help you collect all the birds that you shoot. And there will be fewer cripples left to die."

A most interesting session with Fred Palmer ended with mutual well wishes for "good luck and good hunting for many seasons to come."

EDITORIAL VIEWS AND COMMENT

It is difficult to believe, what with all the sound and fury of the opening of the quail season, that a man living in Texas would not know the approximate date of the opening of the quail season. Also about how many quail a hunter is supposed to bag. Peculiar instances have been occurring in Floyd and adjacent counties. Among these: hunters in Garza who were conducting a quail slaughter not a quail hunt on the theory, evidently, that if they didn't kill the birds while they were at it somebody else would come along and do it; and poachers who shot into flocks of turkeys in their tree roosts. Even the non-hunters suspect guilt in these cases.

Wildlife Coming Back. But the situation is so much better as to the protection of wildlife in this part of the world and its restoration as a resource of the foothills country, it is a matter of great satisfaction. Antelope, wild turkeys, deer, quail, game fish, all on the comeback trail through the wise use of authority. Oldtimers had taken for granted that these would go the way of the buffalo. But wiser people came along, got the public, in particular the hunters and the ranchmen, to agree to a restoration program.

Now the fellow who jumps the season, kills off his neighbors' quail or deer or antelope may find himself in hot water with the law and nobody to serve on a jury that would turn him loose, when proof of guilt is plain. The people want a restoration program for wildlife and are going to back the authorities in all reasonable measures they take. This is particularly true of the hunters themselves.

A 120-Page Edition. What a considerable community Denver City is indicated by a 120-page edition of The Denver City Progress, off the press last week just after that community's football team lucked out on The Whirlwinds. A good newspaper in a good community it is in the middle of the second largest oil field in the state, the envy of people in all the neighboring communities, especially the school teachers. Schools of Denver City have had no financial problems in many years.

No Screwworm Campaign. A few days ago we mentioned the great success that resulted from a campaign to rid a wide area of screwworm infestation in the far southeast part of the cattle raising country. At that time the authorities had in mind they might attempt the same thing in the southwest. But the limitless area of the vast southwestern states and the country across the international boundary lacks barriers. The method used in the southeast was to release sterile screwworm flies to mate with the native female of the species. The eggs produced did not hatch, so the strain just ran out instead of multiplying.

Fried Sweet Potatoes. Lady, if your heart softens sometime toward friend husband and the children, leave off the salad, forget the home demonstration agent, Betty Crocker and the other authorities—and just fry them a few sweet potatoes for a change. The "recipe" is simple. Peel and slice (not too thin) the sweet potatoes, sugar them very lightly, then fry in a regular, old-fashioned skillet. Have the cooking fat really hot when you put the slices in. Don't be in too big a hurry, be a little late for the meeting, if need be. The sweet potato crop is the best in years.

Once World Conqueror. Spain is still extracting gold from the New World. Once upon a time, 400 years ago in the days of Cortez and Pizarro, the land of castles and castanets squeezed 350 million dollars worth of gold and silver out of America. This paid for Spain's wars and that country emerged from feudal Europe as the top nation of the European continent. But Spain lived it up. Nothing was left as a foundation to build up for modern competition. Next to Portugal Spain is the poorest country in Western Europe. But Spain is in luck again. Her location is highly important to the west and Uncle Sam is spending, spending there, a billion dollars in the last six years. Now, more to come. Our president has gone bearing gifts.

State Park Problems. Something we saw in the papers or heard somebody say the other day reminded us of a problem state park operators have. State park funds all go into a pot and the money that one earns from visitors may be spent on a park hundreds of miles away. All depends on what the state park board decides. Except for one thing—if your park has some kind of a debt, like bonds to build roads through it, construct housing or other improvement, you can keep the money your park takes in to meet this debt. You can imagine how the park managers plan to have something they have to pay for, to keep a grasping state board from grabbing their money and spending it on a project miles and miles away.

Maintaining The Roads. What we like among the things we like—about the Highway Department in Texas is that they plan to keep up their roads, the FM roads as well as the others, the cardinal highways. The news stories of the week contain the information that more than 40 miles of Floyd County roads will have a seal coat applied this coming year. The cost is estimated at slightly less than a thousand dollars a mile.

The Legislature makes the laws and the highway department has to adopt a mode of operation that will function within these laws. This is, we presume, why the department and the Commissioners Court have been moving like tortoises on the cardinal road jobs in this county. There still is a lot of work to be done before the department is ready to accept bids west of Floydada. Our curbstone information is that south from Floydada to the Crosby County line the right-of-way problems are about ironed out.

The forty miles of seal coat, the 4.2 miles of road building from Allmon to tie in with Harmony Road No. 784, the Lakeview Road (if the right-of-way gets ready), the 3-tenths of a mile widening job in west Floydada, added to the paving to be done in Floydada should make quite a bit of public works in the county next year, and make an appreciable change in appearance by the end of 1960. But a road job, these days, is not like it once was. The use of machinery is so much cheaper and more efficient that the number of things that a man can do working with his hands on road building is quite limited.

Hog Outlook Seems Better As To Price

Texas, which produces far less pork than it consumes, had an estimated hog population of 1,225,000 at the beginning of this year with an average value of $25.10 and a total farm value of $30,773,000. However, as the year progressed, this estimated value went down as the hog market dropped, says John C. White, Commissioner of Agriculture, in a look at the hog situation this week.

The hog population in Texas has fluctuated widely through the years. Back in 1870, there were as many as 1,004,000 hogs on Texas farms, with an average value then of $1.67 and a total farm value of $2,681,000. The all-time high in Texas hog production was in 1944, when 3,106,000 head were counted carrying a total farm value of $36,535,000. The current condition of the market offers little incentive, but it is figured that Texas now raises sufficient grain sorghum and corn to produce as many as 4,000,000 hogs a year. Texas now has about 46 per cent of the grain sorghum acreage in the nation, and in a normal year can be counted on for about 270,000,000 bushels. A continuing increase in corn production also can be anticipated.

The nation's hogs consume about 40 per cent of the feed grains produced, and by applying this percentage to Texas and using average feeding rates and slaughter weights it can be seen that the 4,000,000 head production rate could easily be achieved.

Prospect Less Bleak As for the present market situation and the outlook for the immediate future, Marvin L. McLain, Assistant Secretary of Agriculture, told The National Swine Industry Conference in Iowa the other day that prospects are not as bleak as might be expected. "Price-wise," he said, "developments of the past few months have been about what would be expected when hog production goes up materially. Hogs got a little below $13 in October. For 1959 as a whole, the average is expected to be about $14.50 a hundredweight.

Summing up the overall situation, as far as prices are concerned we are obviously in the low phase of a hog cycle. However, there are good indications that producers are working out from under the current situation—as they always do if given a chance. The whole situation is much better than some pessimists were expecting a little while ago."

Fire Threatens Lakeview Gin

Floydada fireboys got a good work out in the high winds last Friday when they fought a gin-vary fire three hours at Lakeview.

In the highest wind to hit so far this season lint and burrs accumulated in places over the gin lot caught from sparks from the burr pit.

The call came at 10 o'clock. The tank truck and crew fought the blaze until 1 o'clock before getting it under control.

Fire Marshal B. J. Baker said after all the water was used up in the truck tank, water from a nearby irrigation well was used, to keep the fire from destroying the gin plant. No heavy damage resulted.

Firemen were called out earlier the same morning at 7:30 to a car at the corner of Price and White Streets, belonging to a Mexican resident. The car was parked. It was practically a total loss.

A lint fire Thursday night was confined to the yard at Farmers Coop gin, to which the firemen were called at 9:55.

Thanksgiving guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Bullock were her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Hatley of Shamrock.

Cotton Bars And Barnyard Manure
Cotton Bars applied at the rate of 2, 4, and 6 tons per acre has produced lint yield increases of 105, 160, 216 pounds of lint per acre. Thirty to 60 pounds of nitrogen has given good increase applied with cotton bars and should be used the first 2 years that bars are applied.
Barnyard manure applied at 6, 11 and 15 tons per acre has produced yields increases of lint 72, 103 and 108 pounds respectively. Manure should be compared with inorganic fertilizers.
These are two practices that will help build the water holding capacity of the soil, prevent soil baking and crusting.

Soybeans
A new variety of soybeans has been released called Hill.
This variety recommended for the High Plains. It is a good yielder, early maturing and resistant to lodging and shattering of pods. Yields are comparable with Lee, and is about 2 weeks earlier than Lee. Seed will be available for small acreages in 1960. If you grow soybeans you might be interested in growing some of the Hill variety.

CHEWING GUM, THE RELAXER

Chewing gum is a fairly new invention for the relaxation of the "chewer." School, however, is no place to relax, although some students feel that it is. Some students in FHS "chew" non-chalant rules state that there will be no gum chewing on campus.

If students will not abide by the rules, or teachers will not enforce them, why have rules? This question is age-old, and experience has answered it many times. The rules must either be enforced or done away with.

All students know the disadvantages of gum chewing. High schools are supposed to look dignified, intelligent, and mannerly. How can a boy or girl look dignified while chewing like "Bessie," the cow? There are advantages. Students use gum to replace the toothbrush, but ample time is provided for noon. Chewing shouldn't spread over into the next three periods.

Teachers could help if they would remind students more often and enforce the rule more thoroughly, without prejudice. They must have your cooperation though.

Will you be responsible for one person's enforcement of the rule — yours?

George Mahon Now Means More Than a Name at FHS

The future of this nation belongs to those who care. The greatest threat to our country is not Khrushchev or Russia, but the Americans with the "I couldn't care less" philosophy. This is only one of the meaningful statements made by Congressman George Mahon when he spoke to the faculty and students of FHS on Dec. 2.

Mr. Mahon, a graduate of Hardin-Simmons, now makes his home in Lubbock. His home town is Colorado City.

After being introduced by SC President Hal Hines, Mr. Mahon presented an unusual and interesting television quiz program which he entitled "Congress Wants to Know."

The purpose of this question-answer session, said Mr. Mahon, was to determine the alertness of the youth of America and their knowledge of world affairs.

I find this an exceptionally alert audience. You must watch television and read newspapers a lot for current events," said Mr. Mahon after a series of political questions.

The first question Mr. Mahon asked resulted in the showing of a large majority of hands. "Who is the star of 'Gunsmoke'?" was immediately answered as James Arnes.

Another question about entertainment, which was of a deeper nature, concerned the gifted pianist, Van Cliburn. A surprising number could name Tchaikovsky as one of the composers of his music Van Cliburn played on his tour in Russia.

With a switch to sports, Johansen from Sweden was established as the Heavyweight Boxing Champion of the World. Only a few boys at FHS knew the deal and Dan Whitaker for making a name.

Thanksgiving was different for my family this year. A member — an important and dear one — of our family was missing. My grandfather was buried the day before Thanksgiving.

Each previous Thanksgiving I had always tried to acknowledge my many blessings and all the things I had to be thankful for.

This year, though, there was an empty place in my heart. Nothing seemed to fill it or lessen my sorrow.

Then, through a power beyond this earth, I found consolation as I recalled the facts of my grandfather's death. As I counted them, there were so many things to be thankful for that I felt lifted. He died in his own home which he loved and found comfort in. He suffered no pain. He didn't have to lie helpless and suffer, slowly fading away. He was the kind of man that never wanted to be waited on, so this was indeed a blessing. He had led a rich, full life, had great influence over many people, and was held in high esteem by all who knew him.

Above all, being a devout Christian, he was ready to meet his Lord. He now rests in peace in his heavenly home — so unlike this world of turmoil which troubled him so.

(Ed's Note — The above composition was written by Sue Williams for an assignment in short-story class.)

Newly Initiated Thespians Get Pins

Recently ordered Thespian pins and guards were received by four newly-initiated Thespians: Larry Coltharp, Freida Smith, Carolyn Cates and Janice Noland.

Beth Scott received a Thespian charm. The pins and charms range in price, $1.25 plus tax to $8 plus tax, plus the cost of the guard.

A check was sent to the Bal-four Jewelry Company of Attleboro, Massachusetts, to cover the cost.

In order to receive a pin, one must be a member of the National Thespian Society.

Matador Teacher Observes Methods

Mrs. Josh Oden, teacher at Matador High School, recently visited in FHS to observe English and Speech classes.

At Matador she teaches English I, II, III, and IV and also finds time to teach speech.

Mrs. Oden was impressed with our building and the large number of students as compared with those in Matador.

Mrs. Oden was also impressed with the students' responses in the classroom and added, "I just wish I could spend more time here so as to learn more about your school system."

Mr. Mahon said, "The gifted student is the one who is ambitious and determined. To succeed, we must be willing to pay the price of success — work, concern, ambition, and determination."

Concerning military affairs, the B-32 Hustler was answered as the largest bomber and Rikover was given as the father of the atomic submarine.

A great number of the student body could identify Billy Graham as a great evangelist. Many also knew the location of "The Lord is my shepherd." However, only a few knew that it was on the cross that Jesus said, "Father, forgive them for they know not what they do."

With regard to politics the leaders of various countries were named, such as Nasser of Egypt, McMillan of England, Mateos of Mexico, and Mao of China. Only five could spell Khrushchev, but a large majority knew his first name, Nikita.

A very small per cent knew that Lyndon Johnson is the leader of the Senate and only six knew that Will Wilson is the Attorney General of Texas.

Several could answer 100 as the number of U. S. senators. A very few could name the one female member, Margaret Chase Smith from Maine.

When the question arose about the 49-star flag, Mr. Mahon said he would see that a new history-making 50-star flag is sent to FHS immediately after they are released, next July 4.

While addressing the student after the game.

Boys Come Back; Win Consolation

In the recent Olton tournament the Whirlwind boys came back to win consolation after being beaten by the tournament winners, Abernathy, 42 to 23.

The comeback included beating Muleshoe 46 to 42 and the Olton Mustangs 49-30 with Don Vickers high point man with 19 points. Don Vickers also made the all-tournament team and a gold medal.

The Whirlwind girls were not so lucky after being beaten by Dimmitt 49 to 47 in the first round and Muleshoe 23 to 40 in the second. Carolyn Moore was high scorer with 9 points in the game against Muleshoe, and Veronica Pat was high with 18 points in the game against Dimmitt.

The boys were feted with steaks after the game.

THE OBSERVATORY

NAMES, QUOTES, FUNNIES

Senior boys were discussing which lotion was better for their dish-pan hands — Jergens or Avon — after the Turkey Supper.

Talk is going around about taking up a collection for Mr. B. J. Eudy — he is using a large safety pin for a key chain.

FHS witnessed an extraordinary day. Bill Gilliland and Don Vickers both combed their hair the same morning.

In English IV, Danny Shipley seemed to have a full understanding of the word marital. Hmmm!

Some basketball girls should be professional boxers. Pat Tucker O'd a fellow player, and Verna Pate gave a girl a black eye in the Floydada vs. Lockney game.

Here comes Santa Claus. No it's only Sandra Wright in her red car coat with the Santa Claus trim.

The girls didn't get much studying done Wednesday of last week in fourth period study hall because Coach Bob Shields was the teacher.

Some FHS students are sporting jackets with different inscriptions — like the black and white jackets with the letters DO, the gray jackets with flames and gray bones, or the jackets with hot rods on them boasting the words Outlaws and Floydada, Texas.

Mr. Dan Whitaker came up with a new idea for people who weren't picking up their feet before marching contest last Saturday. Those students had to carry a big, worn-out brogan (shoe) around with them for 24 hours. On the shoe was written, "I can't lift 'em." Charter members of the Non-feet Lifters Club were Mary Word and Melinda Goen. Gay Grundy is becoming famous for turning ankles. Every two or three weeks she turns her ankle and can be seen limping around.

Ronnie Fullerton, sophomore, seems to have a way with the stand of 4.

Mrs. Graves To Present Players In Broadway Hit

Hurry, hurry, hurry! Plan an but is instead purely relaxing evening of theater Dec. 17 and 18 at the high school auditorium.

It was described as "a delightful and winning comedy of much charm and brightness," by the New York Herald Tribune, and "one of the most successful comedies of wit and satire, Jerome Chodorov and Joseph Fields will be presented by FHS Thespians and directed by Mrs. I. T. Graves.

"Junior Miss" is an outstanding theatrical success and ran continuously for 89 weeks (716 performances on Broadway).

The play has a strong appeal to that tremendous public which shies away from the "soap-box" drama, and it has no messages, moral theme, or a pointed moral.

There is a nostalgic appeal to adults in the play's investigation of the wry comic trials and tribulations of parents and their teen-ager's antics, which is doubly effective to those who have children who have passed or are going through the "growing-pains" age.

As a remarkably accurate mirror of the strange world of adolescence, there is a big appeal to teen-agers themselves. There is even an appeal to their younger brothers and sisters who are awed by the activities of the Judys and Fuffys in their own home.

Eric Christensen, son of the director, Mrs. L. H. Christensen, was made an honorary member of the choir.

A musical game, a duet, and a trio composed the entertainment. After the program was presented, the entire group sat around and sang Christmas carols for about 20 minutes.

Turkey, dressing with giblet, gravy, green peas with carrots, fruit salad, ice tea, and cake and pie made up the menu at the banquet.

Donna Welborn — I think it is a good thing if the students are willing to give full cooperation. It might help. Certain amount of cheating will be continued but it could help.

Sue Edmonds — Students will get the understanding some wants them to pass and try. But I don't think it would help cheating.

Mary Alice Withers — Students who are willing to try and who are willing to learn will profit from this, but otherwise, it won't help. It could help the student and cheating.

Wesley Denning — Yes, I think it could help the student think it would eliminate cheating more if their classmates helped.

Helen Whitfill — Yes, I'm in favor of this system — it will help up the ones that want to be helped. I don't think it will help cheating.

Pat Drysdale — I think it will be pretty good. For I need some help on some of my subjects. I think it could help the student think it would eliminate cheating more if their classmates helped.

Helen Whitfill — Yes, I'm in favor of this system — it will help up the ones that want to be helped. I don't think it will help cheating.

Joan Meek — Yes, because for some students don't have a help cheating. chance to have conference with their teachers. Also, it will help think it is a good idea, for I'm sure it will help some students. But, as far as helping the problem of cheating, it is impossible to help cheating students because the only reason I cheat is because I don't understand it.

Required Science Projects Scheduled

Talks, experiments, or themes are required semester projects of physics students. Each student has to consult Mr. J. L. McKinney, Head of the Science Department, before beginning a project.

Each student will have a different project, and grades will be based upon preparation, effort, and presentation to the class.

"Each project must be connected with what the class is studying. It will provide experience in writing themes, speaking, and experimentation," says Mr. McKinney.

Biology class projects are due before the Christmas holidays, and chemistry projects are due the first week after the holidays.

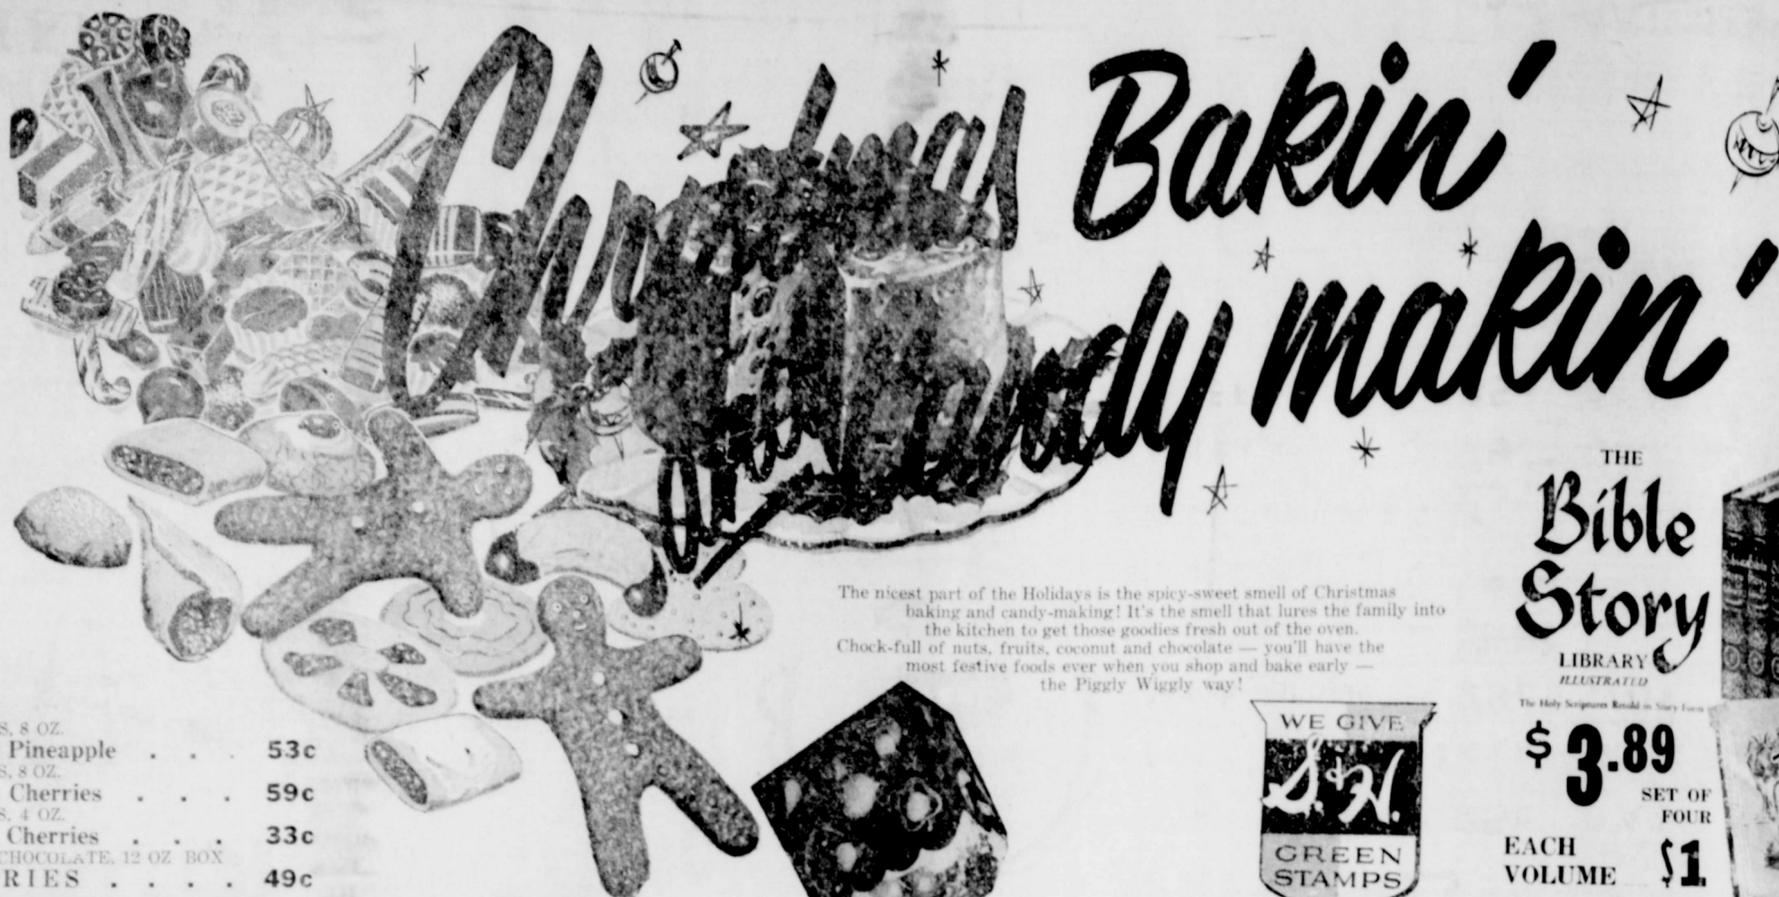

MAPS DUE JAN. 8

"American History students will make maps again this year for their term projects," says Coach Preston Watson. These maps will be due Jan. 8.

In the past, Coach Watson has received various kinds of maps such as seed, leather, embroidery, wood, cooper, cakes, pillows, glitter, paint, paste, and plain cardboard.
