

Group Seeks Creation Of Caprock Hospital District

Petition Legislature For District And Bond Vote

Groundwork was laid in a special called meeting Tuesday night in downtown Floydada for a new hospital here when over 50 interested persons agreed to petition the state legislature for permission to create a hospital district and bond vote for funds to build the hospital.

The district was named Caprock Hospital District, the district includes all of the precincts in the county except the one at Lockney.

Precinct 2 was omitted from the district because the group felt that the residents in that precinct have the services of a hospital and would be reluctant to help pay for one in other precincts of the county.

The petition (which is printed in detail in this issue of the Hesperian) asks the current Legislature for permission to vote on a hospital district. If this vote is approved by the residents of the district, then a bond vote will be called for a stated amount of money to build the new hospital.

President of the Floydada Chamber of Commerce Don Pemberton presided at the meeting which was held in the Community Room of The First National Bank.

Pemberton expressed the chamber's appreciation for the large number who attended the meeting and urged them to use their influence in helping make the project a success. He thanked representatives of several clubs for attending.

Pemberton gave a report on a recent trip he made with a group to see the new hospital at Ballinger, Texas. Menard Field was then introduced, and he told of inspecting hospitals at Throckmorton and Anson. Wendell Tooley was then asked to report on a recent visit with a group to the Hansford County hospital at Spearman.

Pemberton then introduced Joe Smith, representative of the First Southwest Company of Lubbock who explained three ways of financing hospitals: voting bonds, taxation, hospital district. Smith in turn introduced Elbert M. Morrow, bond attorney representing Dumas, Huguenin and Boothman of Dallas. Morrow explained the newly written law for creating a hospital district, which (See Hospital Page 8)

S. W. Ross, lumberman, unopposed on the official ballot was returned to the mayor's office, setting 149 votes. Parnell Powell, a write-in candidate for the post received 63 votes.

Also unopposed on the ballot for council places were Lon M. Davis, Jr. who got 155 votes; and E. A. Williams, who polled 189 votes. Closest write-ins in this ballot were Mark Martin with 59 votes and M. S. Robertson with six.

Word was received last week from Dr. Ed. F. Bayouth of Memorial Hospital in Corpus Christi that he intends to move to Floydada July 15.

Dr. Bayouth is a native of Snyder and visited Floydada about three months ago. His letter of intention was received by Dr. A. E. Guthrie.

The big "IF" concerns the possibility that Dr. Bayouth may be drafted in the Army. Quotes from portions of the letter are as follows: "When I visited Floydada at Christmas time last year, I was favorably impressed with Floydada; the people, the town itself, the need there for more physicians. The impression was deep enough that despite the poor hospital facilities I had decided to open a practice there in July and

School Board Votes Saturday

In Floydada two board members seek re-election. They are Jack Stansell and Ralph Johnston. They have no announced opponents.

It looks like an interesting race is developing at South Plains where three board members are to be elected. Announcing for the offices are: Hansel Sanders, Raymond Reeves, L. N. Johnson, E. J. Kinslow and Wendell Johnson. Sanders and Johnson are seeking re-election and H. S. Calahan, who goes off the board this year will not seek re-election.

At Lakeview Odell Breed's term expires and he will seek re-election. He has no announced opponent.

Floyd Ranks 6th In Wheat

In a recent report by the Texas Employment Commission Floyd county ranks sixth in the state in wheat acreage.

The first ten counties in the state are as follows: Ochiltree, 269,000; Hansford, 225,916; Deaf Smith, 173,000; Sherman, 150,000; Moore, 129,000; Lipscomb, 121,000; Randall, 113,000; Floyd, 101,000; Swisher, 100,000; Carson, 100,000.

"Dry hard freezes during the winter caused extensive damage to wheat in some areas on the north plains, this, coupled with the fact that moisture is urgently needed over practically the entire Texas Wheat Belt, will probably reduce production considerably. Insect infestation is not considered to be serious at this time," the report continued.

Floyd's wheat crop received a good boost this week when the county received 1/2 to an inch of rainfall. Floyd county farmers also have a 13,504 barley acreage.

Laymen To Speak At Local Church

The coming week will place emphasis on an unusual event in the life of the First Christian Church of Floydada. This Sunday evening at 6:30 p. m., Ed Wester will bring the first message in the Laymen's Revival, a series of meetings to run from Sunday, April 7th through Friday, April 12th. The theme of the Revival is "Committed Unto God", and Ed will develop his talk on the aspect of being "Committed Through Faith".

A notable enthusiasm that has been building up since plans began some weeks ago promises a good turn out for Ed's message on Sunday night and for the speakers the rest of the week. All services except the Sunday service will begin at 7:30 p. m. Lon Davis, Jr. will be the Monday night speaker on "Committed Unto God Through Hope"; Preston Watson will talk on "Committed Unto God Through Love" Tuesday night; Kinder (See Layman, Page 8)

Spring, 1963

Spring, 1963, is upon us, after a cold and bitter winter. Spring lasts this year from early in the morning of March 21st to late in the evening of June 21st. The longest day of the year, then, will be June 21st, and the first day of Spring is divided about equally between night and day. (Summer this year will extend until September 23rd.)

When we say that the longest day will be summer solstice, June 21st, this is correct but sometimes misleading. For example, starting about the 8th of June, the difference in the time the sun rises differs only by seconds until the last days of the month. In April and May, however, the sun rises a minute or two earlier every day of the month.

But whatever the facts and figures on the astronomical chart, the pleasing symptoms of warmer weather are already appearing and the sun is shining longer and longer each day.

Baseball is back, taxes are just ahead (April 15th), vacations are not far away, school is nearing its climatic end, outdoor life is once again beckoning. In enjoying the warmer weather, it might help to remember that March and April are dangerous months as far as sudden illness and death are concerned, because of the tricky weather and the temptation of many to forget that the nights can still be bitter in late March and April — even though the sun warms the days.

Baseball Fever

The baseball fan is a peculiar sort of nut. He loves the game for things he knows, and has studied and followed for years, whereas the uninitiated merely thinks the game lacks the head-bonking and body contact some other sports offer. It is not spectacular all the time, and it is not enjoyable if you do not know enough about the game to know what to watch for and what to appreciate. In this way baseball is a little like art, because to appreciate it, one must understand it.

Gardening, too, is an art. And so here is hoping every fan and every gardener success in his 1963 hopes. The pictures in seed catalogues and the optimistic write-ups of baseball teams will look silly in October, but right now they bring a sigh of hope and enthusiasm. It's good we don't always know what's in store for us, that whatever will be will be! It would take so much fun out of life, in so many things.

A surprising number of people get really enthusiastic about their baseball team at about this time of year. It's the same illness that affects people who plant gardens at about this time.

The baseball fan considers his favorite team a pennant contender and every Spring hope springs eternal in his breast. The garden planner sees visions of wonderful food or flowers at about this time of year.

A Disheartening Sign

It is particularly disheartening to note that The Springs Cotton Mills, world's largest producer of exclusively cotton textiles, will soon enter the synthetic blend field. The announcement was made recently by Hugh W. Close, president of Springs, confirming rumors that have been circulating abroad for several months.

Although the company expects to maintain its position of leadership as the world's largest producer of cotton fabrics, Mr. Close explained that Springs will continue to expand—regardless of support or lack of support from the government — and that this will mean going further and deeper into weaving man-made fibers.

This is another sad omen for the cotton industry, for once a mill turns to synthetics there seems to be no turning back — or so the records indicate. While this is another in a long series of textile firms turning to synthetics, it is far from just an ordinary example.

In 1962, The Springs Cotton Mills produced more than 500,000,000 linear yards of finished cotton cloth, consuming 395,000 bales of cotton, more than 7,000 bales per week.

The company employs 12,500 people, operating 850,000 spindles, 18,500 looms and 350 sewing machines. The Springsmaid product line, which includes some 25,000 items, is among the industry's best known. When a company like Springs, which takes considerable pride in its traditional role as a leading cotton cloth maker, enters the synthetics field it is a sign not to be ignored by those who would try to preserve the cotton industry.

You may be sure that the decision by Springs was not made lightly. If a company expects to market its products competitively, it must buy raw materials on the same basis. This an American cotton mill cannot do, so there would seem to be little choice for those who wish to expand.

The problems facing U. S. cotton mills were summarized recently by the USDA.

"Factors which are having a depressing effect on cotton consumption during the current season include imports of cotton textiles and production and use of synthetic fibers. Cotton textile imports totaled the record equivalent of 595,800 bales of cotton in the first 11 months of calendar 1962 — 71 per cent more than in the comparable period of 1962. For the first three quarters of 1962, manmade fiber production rose 25 per cent from a year earlier (emphasis ours.) A continuation of these increases could contribute to a lower level of cotton consumption than currently estimated for 1962-63."

How long can we expect a "continuation of these increases?"—as long as there is uncertainty about new cotton legislation . . . as long as U. S. cotton is priced out of the market.

ture of decision to be made. One of these, Patton said, is the decision farmers will make on the 1964 wheat program in the wheat referendum late this spring. Patton said that while the individual farmer's decision should—and would be based on economic judgement, the outcome of the wheat vote will be taken into consideration in the determination of future agriculture program.

The delegates spelled out the legislative detail for achieving progress in both policy statement and in acceptance of report and committee which dealt with specifics for various commodities.

Delegates also approved a special statement on the up-coming wheat referendum. "Inasmuch as all farm programs hinge on the results of the wheat referendum, we unanimously go on record favoring a 'Yes' vote and urge every effort be made to bring about an overwhelming victory for family farmers," the resolution said.

Secretary of Agriculture Freeman, in his address to the convention, told the delegates that the administration's wheat and feed programs of the past two years are increasing farm income, cutting surpluses and reducing the storage costs. Freeman blasted his critics for peddling sour grapes.

"It's hard to tell whether the critics are complaining that farmers have better incomes — or whether these same critics are afraid farmers might ask why the critics couldn't provide such real progress when the responsibility I now have was in their hands."

John A. Baker, Assistant Secretary of Agriculture, said Government-owned holdings of wheat and feed grains, "have been reduced by over one billion bushels from the peak quantities held in 1961 before the new supply management programs were effective." It means, he said, "the delegates had NFU Pres. J. G. Patton say in his charges on these grains will be annual report that this is the $264 million less than was spent "decision-making" era for agri-in 1961 or $770,000 per day.

He said the grain storage charge are $813 million less than or not farmers would have been this year. If no action would have been taken to change the programs of culture abundance in the previous administration. President John F. Kennedy in his greeting to the convention, said that the wheat referendum this spring in which producers of wheat will vote for or against the 1964 wheat program will be important test of this policy. I think it will show whether policy of farm supply income stabilization. most important reason for both a source of revenue and weapon against progress throughout the one of our best farmers.

Recipe Of The Week

We are sure housewives have a favorite recipe, one that is quick, appetizing, a fancy dish, a new dessert. Share it with your friends and neighbors. We would like to know about it and so would our readers, so we've begun this column to give you the opportunity to exchange recipes with your friends and neighbors. Each Thursday we will carry a favorite recipe and a picture of the housewife submitting it. Call Peggy Medley at the Hesperian or mail your recipes to Box 848, City. We'll pick one each week, it may be yours. This week we are sharing with you a recipe out of the kitchen of Mrs. G. T. Arwine.

THE FIVE DAYS

The Palms and the Cross were but five days apart!
 On Sunday, down a road strewn with palms, Christ rode triumphantly into Jerusalem . . . and men hailed Him as their King.
 On Friday He climbed the rugged slope of Calvary . . . and they nailed Him to a Cross.
 How suddenly good turns to evil! How quickly we sometimes lose our vision of God!
 The paradox of those five days is history's striking lesson in the importance of a constant faith. The faltering, hot and cold sort of religion made possible the Crucifixion!
 Palm Sunday you'll be going to Church. In a quiet moment in the sanctuary remember those five days . . . resolve to worship EVERY Sunday, and to live your faith EVERY day.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

plenty of good food and sweets. "Bird" Buchanan was the hostess and besides serving a delicious meal she had some prizes to award various winners. I still haven't figured out the part about taking off the shoes. I thought "Bird" was a native of Missouri — not Arkansas!

"NOW TO the more serious phase of Floydada Community life. The wife and I certainly enjoyed visiting First Baptist's revival meeting Friday night. The revival preaching was good and it looks like the Baptists continue to enjoy good singing — congregational and special.

John McKay of Fort Worth is a most outstanding song leader and singer, and the folks from Wayland were also very enjoyable. These out of towners combined with the wonderful talent of the McGrews and the local choir members made the song service most enjoyable.

I still get a chuckle when I remember what John said about Saturday night services and pastor Floyd Bradley's answer to him.

John said, "now don't you farmers work yourselves to death on Saturday — take it sorta easy so you'll be sure to attend Saturday night services" — "go fishing on Saturday he added.

Pastor Bradley was quick to take the floor and explain, "John, please don't ask them to go fishing — it's several hundred miles to fishing in this country — and they would never make it back for preaching on Saturday night."

A NUMBER of newspapers have recently been publishing a clever interpretation of expressions used in newspaper reports on committee meetings. Since we have been guilty of the same thing, we got a chuckle out of it. No indication is given of the author of the piece, but he must have been a veteran.

"The committee met and evaluating the situation" (Half the members showed up and talked for a while.)

"We explored all possible solutions to the problem" (Everybody talked too much.)

"A great deal of additional work will be necessary before the proposal can be acted upon" (Nobody understood it.)

"The results were inconclusive" (Nothing was accomplished.)

"While no agreement was reached, we feel that definite progress was made toward resolving differences" (Nobody budged an inch.)

"The estimate has been that" (Somebody guessed.)

"It is suggested that the wisest and more feasible course" (This is what I think.)

"It is widely accepted that" (One other person agrees with me.)

"Therefore the consensus is" (A couple of others think so too.)

"As yet, it has not been possible to provide definite answers" (Nobody understood the questions.)

"Further investigation is recommended" (Delayed indefinitely.)

"This concludes the committee's appraisal of the situation" (We absolve ourselves of all future responsibility.)

"It is hoped that this report will stimulate increased interest in the problem" (Let somebody else do it next time.)

THE FLOYD Philosopher just isn't going to like it at all when he sees the story on front page about the county weed control folk's annual meeting. It seems they have a herbicide that will kill — probably slow down! Johnson grass. If this happens the Philosopher won't have anything to blame his laziness upon!

REA FOLK will be in Floydada Saturday from seven area counties for the annual meeting of Lighthouse Electric at the High School auditorium.

We join others in their invitation to visit Floydada for the big event.

"We'll see you there!"

SHUFFLEBOARD is one of the most enjoyable games for both children and adults. I have a former neighbor at Littlefield, Jack Barton, who has a brand new slab of slick concrete and a shuffleboard game. Occasionally, I have to go over and teach him the rudiments of the game.

Oliver Allen was in the office the other day and he was telling me of his trip to Mesa, Arizona, and some trips he's made to Truth or Consequences, N. M. He mentioned that he certainly enjoyed playing shuffleboard.

That's one reason my Dad likes to go to Truth or Consequences, he likes to go down to the big recreation hall — play shuffleboard and dominoes.

Do we have a shuffleboard game in Floydada? If we do, Mr. Allen and I are ready to take on all comers!

THIS FELLOW Kemp couldn't be too unhappy with editor-publisher Turner at Oltan because I notice Wednesday morning when votes were counted he had been elected to one of the council posts.

farmers and other people to get electricity. REA is a part of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. REA makes long-term loans to enable rural people to build electric lines and, where necessary, to build and operate electric generating plants. It can also lend money to finance most of the cost of purchase by a co-op member for wiring or plumbing his farmstead, or for electrical equipment.

As REA Co-op is a corporation, locally owned and privately operated on a non-profit basis — paying every tax anyone else pays except income tax. Income tax is paid on the profit made and the electric cooperative is a non-profit organization. All profits are paid back to the user in the form of dividends — the user in turn members at their annual meeting because they are confident he is willing to serve his community —unprejudiced, fairly and honestly. So any time an individual member is not pleased with the policies under which his cooperative is operating it behooves him to do some good hard thinking, avail himself of all the facts he can get and then discuss it with his director and his fellow members.

The manager, hired by the Board of Directors in its full charge of the actual operation of the co-op system. He takes his orders from the Board as a whole — and not from an individual director. All other employees work under his direction.

So you see it is necessary for a Director to give a lot of time and thought to the Board on which he has been elected to serve. The annual meeting each year is a MUST in order for the members to transact their duties. So the Directors for the last several years have each named a couple from their district to serve on the Board.

his firm helped to write. He explained that in order to form a district constitutional provision through the state legislature would be necessary and that thirty days notice to the public must be published through the local news media.

He said unless the petition was presented at the current session of the legislature that a delay of two years would occur, unless there was a special session of the legislature before that time.

Morrow said that in order to start the effort for a hospital through a hospital districting plan that the group should decide upon a name for the district, boundaries of the district and how its management would be controlled.

District Attorney John Stapleton reported that in a conversation with state senator Andy Rogers Tuesday, Rogers said that if the petition were submitted immediately, it would have a good chance for passage during this session. If any delay, the prospects for creation of a district would be disappointing.

Pemberton asked Morrow, "Can this group ask for a petition to the legislature?" Morrow replied, "Yes, any taxpayer can petition by notice of intention to apply for legislative action by publishing once a week for four weeks in a local news media his district desires." "The bill must be drawn up within the next ten days to comply with the time limit during the session of the legislature," Morrow continued.

Stapleton then made the following motion which was seconded by S. W. Ross: "I move we authorize the publication of this notice with eight to twelve signatures and the name be Caprock Hospital District including commissioners precincts 1, 3, and 4 this date, and the first Board of Managers be appointed by the Commissioners Court of Floyd County, with a term to expire the following April and then to be elected by qualified electors."

The motion carried.

In order to facilitate immediate work on the petition a temporary committee was appointed by Pemberton to work with Morrow: Arthur Wylie, John Smitherman, Dr. Andrew McCulley, John Stapleton and Wendell Tool-

Two architects who were present, John Work and Bill Myers were then introduced to the group and explained possibilities of financing partially through Hill Burton and answered questions about building costs and plans of hospitals.

Four candidates seek election to two spots on the Lockney school board. Incumbents Harold Griffith and R. C. Mitchell seek re-election and Martin Bradley and Royce Hillman are opponents.

ing to keep dogs from depre-dating on other peoples' property runs into many hundreds of dollars which should not be permitted.

The Garden Clubs of the city are trying to beautify the grounds which have been designated as a park and have gone to considerable expense in getting the grounds in shape, but some people continue to dump rubbish on this property.

This warning is to warn those if those who violate these things that the city council will be forced to take what ever steps necessary to stop this depre-dation. If those who violate these things do not have enough civic pride to help your city council and your neighbors in seeing these things stopped then it becomes the duty of the city council and those officers who are responsible for the orderly conduct of the city to take the only course left to them within the law.

"If you have a person in your home who has any kind of a gun capable of doing damage, take him outside the city limits away from any place where he might inflict damage to do his shooting. If you have a dog, you must keep the animal on your own property or run the risk of having him destroyed. If you do not have a trash container or if you have more trash or garbage than your container will hold then you must secure enough containers to hold your trash and garbage to keep it from blowing on your neighbors' property."

All of the ordinances which have been enacted were for the sole purpose of creating orderly and decent surroundings for the citizens and the city council is asking for your cooperation in trying to make our city a decent and pleasant place to live.

Motor Vehicle Skills Versus Golf Skills

It is an interesting contradiction in human nature that many individuals who are sure of their driving skills don't feel so self-satisfied about their golf game. They voluntarily look up the golf pro when they play a bad game or when they play a good one to find out why they are slipping or hooking their drives. They accept advice and may practice long and hard to get their golf swing back in the groove.

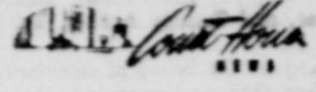

On the other hand, when they look at the highway or street, they blame it on their lack of attention or on the incompetence, or stupidity, of the other driver. They think the solution is simply to be more alert. Yet, if they were as open-minded about driving a car as they are about golf, they probably would admit that careless driving habits finally had caught up with them. The plain, hard facts are that the majority of injury-producing accidents are caused by self-accidents. Knowledgeable good drivers who are traveling at speeds under 50 miles an hour. Actually, these average drivers who become involved in an accident because of a thoughtless, unsafe maneuver like changing lanes without signaling and looking, probably have done the same thing so many times without having an accident that they have developed a false sense of security. Drivers who have satisfied themselves that they are safe drivers, even though they often have committed hazardous maneuvers, will be extremely hard to convince that they are heading for trouble.

Of all the skills practiced by mankind, there is none that is used more — and improved less — than that of driving an automobile. From the time we first learn to drive, most of us believe we have mastered the art and the art of driving is never learned. If you, the reader, still doubt the existence of this attitude, gently question the driving of a friend and you will learn what a good driver he thinks he is. By adopting a proper attitude, we will analyze our driving mistakes even more carefully than we study our golfing errors. We will resolve to practice better driving habits, knowing that, just as in golf, good results are produced by developing good habits. The difference is that in driving, the successful exercise of good habits, skill and judgement can save our life, and perhaps the lives of loved ones.

Do not forget, that attitudes of every-man-for-himself are unsafe for you and others.

FAIRVIEW, April 1 — Farmers and town folk alike are smiling over the nice rain that fell last night. Parts of Fairview Community received nearly one inch of moisture. April showers are supposed to bring May flowers but many of the flowers go here first. So many beautiful trees and shrubs in bloom over town. Really looks like spring has come to stay.

A large number of our folks attended the revival at First Baptist Church, Floydada, last week. Mrs. Fred Gross of Sand Hill visited Sunday morning with her cousin Mrs. Cecil Payne and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Burgett and Shallowater, were by here Sunday afternoon for a short visit with Mrs. Lee Burgett and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Nelson in the Nelson home. The Bill Burgetts had been at Childress and were on their way home.

Four Injured In County Mishaps

Four Floyd County residents sustained injuries over the weekend, three in a car turn-over north of Lockney and one who was painfully burned in a gasoline explosion.

Owen Emert, who is employed by Paul Kropp, was admitted to Lockney General Hospital last mid-week for burns not termed serious according to information from the parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Emert of Floydada.

Emert was trying to start an irrigation motor and was putting gasoline in the carburetor when the fuel ignited, causing an explosion. Emert was painfully burned about the neck and hands but was expected to be released this week from the hospital.

The car accident occurred Sunday afternoon on FM Road 378 about one mile and a half north of Lockney. Mr. and Mrs. Dempsey Thompson of the Sterley Community and their son, Tommy were injured. The youth was released from the Lockney hospital after emergency treatment and his parents transferred to Methodist Hospital for additional treatment.

Thompson, driver of the vehicle, sustained a broken leg and face lacerations and Mrs. Thompson, back injuries, cuts and abrasions.

Witnesses to the accident said the Thompson car went out around another vehicle traveling in the same direction. His car veered off the highway and as he attempted to pull back on the vehicle flipped turning over twice and landed on its top.

Owen Harris Dies Sunday
Owen Harris, 67, widely known member and past president of the Hale County Sheriff's Posse and one of the founders of the organization, died at noon Sunday in a Roswell, N. Mex. hospital. Mr. Harris and his wife had gone to Roswell for the weekend to visit a daughter when he was stricken at the home about midnight Saturday.

Rites were held Tuesday in the First Baptist Church in Plainview.

Mr. Harris and the former Berina Patrick were married in 1922 in Floydada. He was a native of McGregor, a retired farmer, veteran of World War I, member of the American Legion and Elks Lodge.

'Winds Place Third In Meet At Kress

The District 2AA Track and Field Meet will be held on Saturday, April 6 at Canyon, Floydada Coaches Bill Curry, Bill Carmack and Perry Lockett will carry some 60 athletes to enter the events.

Activities will get underway at 8:00 a. m. and will be run off in four divisions. The senior meet will include all boys sophomore age and above, there will be a division for freshman aged boys, one for eighth grader, and one of seventh grade age.

Not too much is known of the strength of the younger boys teams from the north part of the district, but local coaches fear they will have their hands full if they are to place well in any bracket. Canyon has some big talented boys as does Tulia.

In the senior bracket both Abernathy and Lockney have already shown their strength in winning and placing high in invitational meets this season.

The coaches will try and use much the same boys as have placed in earlier meets this year. Names and events for most appear in other stories on this sports page.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor: Most people do not deal with loan sharks. So it is entirely possible that Texans are not aware of what would happen to credit buyers under the so-called "Anti-Loan Shark Bill" passed by the Senate.

Since this bill was authored by Corpus Christi Senator Bruce Reagan, I feel a responsibility, as a resident of Corpus Christi, to tell the people of Texas what happened during the debate on this bill, which I heard from the Senate gallery.

Senator Frank Owen of El Paso deserves the gratitude of every credit buyer in Texas for his courageous battle against the loan sharks and against this bill. Senator Owen forced the supporters of the Reagan bill to admit that Texas now has a law setting the legal limit on interest at a total of ten percent. Any charges over that amount are usurious and state and county law enforcement agencies should enforce this law. If the ten percent interest cannot be enforced, there is reason to assume that setting a higher limit would solve the problem except by legalizing it.

Had the Senate been sincerely interested in protecting the borrower, they could have placed stronger penalties on the existing law.

Senator Reagan's bill, instead of forbidding interest over ten percent, legalizes a minimum of eighteen percent on loans of $1500.00. The minimum rate of interest on smaller loans is progressively higher. And on top of that interest, the bill legalizes all kinds of extra insurance charges.

Most credit buyers do not consider their installment buying as

WARNING!

The City Council does not want to be dictatorial, it is our desire to be fair and reasonable in all matters pertaining to city business, but there are some things which are continually called to our attention which is a strict violation of city ordinances and is a hazard to the citizens health and to property.

The citizens have been warned a number of times through news media but some persist in going ahead and doing presumably as they please.

It is a violation to shoot any kind of fire arms within the city limits this applies to air guns or any gun that is capable of doing damage to persons or property, many citizens have had windows shot out causing expense and annoyance.

Citizens have been asked and warned to secure proper trash containers to take care of their trash and garbage, but some continue to disregard all warnings and friendly reminders and continue to dump their trash and garbage in the alley ways.

The expense to the city in trying to keep dogs from depreddating on other peoples property runs into many hundreds of dollars which should not be permitted.

The Garden Clubs of the city are trying to beautify the grounds which have been designated as a park and have gone to considerable expense in getting the grounds in shape, but some people continue to dump rubbish on this property.

This warning is to warn those who are guilty of these things that the City Council will be forced to take whatever steps necessary to stop this depreddation. If those who violate these things do not have enough civic pride to help your city council and your neighbors in seeing these things stopped then it becomes the duty of the city council and those officers who are responsible for the orderly conduct of the city to take the only course left to them within the law.

If you have a person in your home who has any kind of a gun capable of doing damage, take him outside the city limits away from any place where he might inflict damage to do his shooting. If you have a dog and want to keep the dog, you must keep the animal on your own property or run the risk of having him destroyed. If you do not have a trash container or if you have more trash or garbage than your container will hold, then you must secure enough containers to hold your trash and garbage to keep it from blowing on your neighbors property.

All of the ordinances which have been enacted were of the sole purpose of creating orderly and decent surroundings for the citizens and the city council is asking for your cooperation in trying to make our city a decent and pleasant place to live.

Philosopher Doubts Medicine Is Ready To Affect A Coin-Diagnosis Machine

The Floyd Philosopher doubts a few seconds, and scientifically and electronically diagnose you. I have been giving this machine some thought, and I suspect there'll have to be some improvements and added attachments before it'll come into popular use.

For example, say it's coin-operated. All right, you drop $25 in the slot, the door opens, and you step in. After the gears get through grinding, and the lights through flashing, and the diagnosis comes out on a printed slip, ordinarily the door would open and you could step out and head for the drugstore with your prescription.

But what if you've got a complicated case, not just a handy virus? They'll have to have another coin slot inside to deposit more money in before the machine will let you out. No machine is going to treat you for a bad cold at the same rate it charges for a psycho-neurological break-down.

This thing is going to take a lot more study and research before it's ready to be put on the market. It'll take years, and it's a good thing, because when it sets time to get around to it, science is bound to come out eventually with a coin-operated farm tractor, but we want to postpone it as long as we can. Yours faithfully, J. A.

SATISFIED - - -

Our 'lectric light bill seemed very, very high. So, I hurried to the Co-op office to try to find out why. When, there, a fine young lady came up to me and said, "May I help you, sir, with something?" "You bet you can!" I yelled at her. "This bill is way too high. If this blamed thing keeps going up, it's bound to hit the sky!" She took a sheet of paper, and I noticed her nice smile. When asking me to fill it out with data for her file. It called for all appliances that we now have in use; I figured she would use that form.

To make up some excuse. But when I'd finished with the list, I felt somewhat ashamed; "Cause forty-eight appliances are what I should have blamed!" "Let's see," she said, "A toaster, Washer, dryer, sweeper, iron and large refrigerator; A brooder, freezer, water pump and range on which you cook; If there's one thing you don't have, sir,

"You have lighted barn and poultry house. And several bulbs outside. You see, sir, you are fortunate. You've drifted with the tide. And have an all-electric farm! That takes the strife from life! Just like this gadget, you list here. That sharpens up a knife. "At night, you light a spacious home. And watch your TV set. Why, soon you'll use electricity, sir. To heat your home, I'll bet. Cause you're a man that likes good things. That prove convenient. Now, won't you reconsider, sir. And be a bit more lenient?" Right then, I made my mind up. I was sorry I'd complained. And thanked that fine young lady. For all that she had explained. I noticed, as I left her desk. In stamping on that sheet of mine. "Complaint, SATISFIED!"

The Bill, I then, so gladly paid. Was round about twenty bucks; Just think of all six people got for that amount; why shucks, We're going to use electricity like we never have before; It's our best and cheapest servant; So, who could ask for more? Ever have a feeling like this? If, and when, we do possibly check list of the things we have and the big job they do for us, day in and day out, would give us an incite into something we are just taking more or less for granted.

PROGRAM EXPLAINED

Scheduled May 21 Wheat Referendum

WASHINGTON — The administration has set the date and rules for the referendum on its proposed wheat program.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman said Friday that wheat growers will vote May 21 on the program. Under the law, 1964 plan enacted by Congress, wheat price supports would be automatically reduced to about 10 percent below the present level.

Administration farm officials have been plugging hard for the program in recent months, claiming that the only way to cut down wheat surpluses is to accompany the price support program with stiff controls.

Wheat acreage now is limited to 55 million acres—the 1938 figure—but farmers have increased their per-acre yield so much it has led to a surplus of wheat. Some farm groups, particularly the American Farm Bureau Federation, have urged defeat of the program, contending that Congress would step in and pass new legislation. Other farm groups favor the program. Congress members also are sharply—and untararily withdrawn land would loudly—divided.

To pass, the administration program must win the votes of two-thirds of the wheat growers taking part in the referendum.

Some people believe cooperatives are "tax free" . . . that they get a free ride at the expense of the taxpayers. Cooperatives do pay taxes and play a vital part in the progress of not only Floyd county but any county or area in which they are located. A "true cooperative" is an organization where a group of people pool their resources for the purpose of securing a service or product. Most of us, in the past, have more or less organized and pooled our resources in order to either get service or purchase a product at a saving. There is nothing illegal or un-American with this type of activity.

The cooperatives in Floyd County pay taxes, contribute to charities, pay for services received from local firms, and contribute generally to the betterment of the County. In some cases, cooperatives offer services and facilities which would not be available from any other source. Patrons of these institutions who receive dividends pay federal income taxes on the dividends. When you check the reports on this page, you will find the cooperatives are a vital part of the community . . . a part no citizen would want to be without.

LOSSES DUE TO SORGHUM MIDGE — This table shows grain sorghum yield reductions at the Lubbock Experiment Station during 1961 and 1962. Early, medium and late maturing sorghums were those which bloom 45 to 55 days, 55 to 65 days and 67 to 78 days, respectively, after planting. May planted grain sorghums would require more days from planting to bloom. Yields from plantings shown here during 1962 were reduced by unfavorable growing conditions. Reductions here were 10 and 43 per cent for the early maturing hybrids, 35 to 29 per cent for the medium and 55 and 56 per cent for the late hybrids.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ LATE SEEDED SORGHUM Poses Yield Hazard in Crops Over Area

It's the sorghum midge, an orange-colored "fly" which made its appearance in damaging numbers on the High Plains only a few years ago and has created growing concern.

Shelby Newman of the Lubbock Experiment Station says yields from June-planted grain sorghum were reduced an estimated average of 25 to 50 per cent in infested areas over the High Plains during 1961 and 1962.

"Should the heavy infestations experienced in 1961 and 1962 continue, the midge for all practical purposes has eliminated the month of June for commercial grain sorghum planting on the High Plains," he says flatly.

Newman says many producers have experienced "almost total loss of grain crops" when large populations were present at the late boot and bloom stages of growth.

Injury Caused By Larva
Injury to grain sorghum is caused by the larva or maggot which feeds on and consumes the internal content of the seed. Infested grain heads appear "blighted" or "blasted."

Newman points out that no significant midge damage has been observed on grain sorghum planted earlier than May 15 during the past two years.

There are a number of reasons why the pests do more damage on late-planted sorghum, the assistant agronomist says, noting that, for one thing, "it requires a certain temperature for them to hatch and develop."

"As the season progresses, they sort of undergo a population explosion," he added, "and late-developing sorghum is particularly vulnerable to these heavy populations."

The midge deposits most of its eggs in sorghum heads within four days after the heads emerge completely from the boot of the plant.

Yield Losses Measured
Yield reductions attributed to midge have been measured in grain sorghum date of planting tests conducted by the Lubbock Experiment Station in Lubbock and Terry Counties.

Newman explained that data was collected two years before the midge showed up (1959-60) and during two years (1961-62) when it developed into a feared production hazard.

"The number of days from planting to bloom for each hybrid planted in these tests," Newman reported, "has been helpful in establishing precise dates of significant midge infestations."

Sorghum planted during April and May bloomed during the latter part of June and throughout July. Early maturing hybrids planted in May bloomed as late as July 27-29.

Early Plantings Not Hurt
"In all cases, April and May planted grain sorghum didn't suffer significant yield reductions due to midge," Newman said. "Early and late June planted grain sorghum which bloomed during August, however, suffered substantial yield reductions from the minute pest."

Newman said early maturing hybrids planted the first week of June bloomed as early as Aug. 1, and the late maturing hybrid planted the last week of June bloomed as late as Aug. 30-31.

Midge in 1961 and 1962 first was observed on sorghum heads blooming during the first week of August.

"Based on these facts," Newman said, "it's apparent that any grain sorghum planted during June likely will be subject to damage if heavy infestations of midge develop as they have during the past two years."

Newman said it also should be pointed out that medium and late maturing grain sorghum planted after May 15 and before June 1 could suffer midge damage if blooming was delayed five to seven days by cool or wet weather or if the midge population builds up earlier than Aug. 1.

He pointed out that average yields from April and May planted grain sorghum were higher than plantings made in June in the Lubbock-Terry tests in both 1961 and 1962.

"Early maturing hybrids produced 43 per cent less than those planted in April-May of 1962 and 10 per cent less in 1961," Newman reported.

Newman said the severe yield reduction of June plantings in 1962 reflected a large midge buildup during the first week of August.

"Midge was observed on grain sorghum heads blooming during the first week of August in both years," he added. "However, the midge population wasn't large enough in 1961 to cause substantial damage."

Late Strains Hurt Most
Newman said the medium maturing hybrids planted in June in the two years produced 35 and 29 per cent less than the April-May plantings. He said the biggest part of the yield loss was attributed to midge.

"Midge damaged the late-maturing hybrids more than any other maturity group planted during June," the researcher continued.

Newman said yields of the late maturing hybrids were reduced 55 and 56 per cent below April-May plantings in 1961 and 1962, respectively.

The overall average yield reduction of all three grain sorghum maturity groups planted at four different dates was figured at 24 per cent in comparison with years before midge became a problem.

Newman says the dryland grain sorghum producer "Possibly will be hurt worse than others, since he will be able to plant only when there is sufficient moisture provided by weather to obtain a stand."

Big Dryland Problem
"Should there be insufficient planting moisture until June, the probability of producing an economical grain sorghum crop will be low if the midge continues to damage this crop on the Plains," he added.

"Dryland plantings should be made during April or May if at all possible. If planting moisture is received during the latter part of May, late maturing hybrids shouldn't be planted, since the first week of August, subjecting the crop to possible severe midge damage."

Newman said midge has been controlled with insecticides. He added, however, that success depends upon proper timing of the application.

Insecticidal applications, he added, should be started when 90 per cent of the heads have emerged from the boot and before the head blooms if they are to be effective.

TEXAS COTTON GROWERS REPORT:

Entire Season
Control of Thrips, Aphids and Mites...

Di-Syston-Treated Plants Are Stronger, Straighter... Produce More Squares Earlier

West Texas and New Mexico cotton growers now have a new way to control thrip damage and early-season stunting... with Di-Syston granular insecticide. Di-Syston is placed in the soil with the seed or side dressed after planting. The chemical is then absorbed by the growing roots and carried to all parts of the plant through the sap stream—as soon as the plant emerges. No part of the plant is unprotected—even tender new growth as it is formed.

The result? With Di-Syston, your early cotton grows faster, has stronger, straighter stems, more vigorous foliage. Squares form earlier and the plant produces more of them. Many growers in the Lubbock area have reported full season control of thrip with just the one application. You get higher yields because of the good Di-Syston start. This year, get your crop off to a good start with Di-Syston. Complete instructions for use are printed on the label on every package. Use Di-Syston.

Farm Bureau Facts & Faces

Floyd County was well represented at the wheat referendum meeting in Lubbock March 27. Attending the meeting were J. R. Turner, Max Jordan, Don Probasco, Horace Marbie, Marvin Wells, A. C. Pratt, Chester Cartel, and L. B. Brandes. Director Hub King was in the hospital for an ulcer operation and unable to preside at the meeting.

The House Committee on Education and Labor is now considering H. R. 3060, the Federal Aid to Education Bill, which proposes to spend $3,300,000,000 during the next 5 years on 18 different programs to aid education. FARM BUREAU OPPOSES. Our Texas Farm Bureau policy reads in part, "We favor local control of public schools, especially regarding financing and curriculum." Our national policy says, "We oppose expanded federal subsidization of education because:

- (1) Experience has proved that Federal controls follow federal redistribution of local wealth.
 - (2) Local initiative diminishes as local responsibility is transferred.
 - (3) Indirect suspension of school finances leads to increased over-all school costs as well as increased taxes.
 - (4) Our system has clearly demonstrated its ability to meet needs and effectively adapt to changing conditions.
- We suggest that you write your Congressman and your Senator, letting them know how you feel about this bill and about local school conditions. Letters should be written by April 10.
