Easter Is A Joyous Occasion

Easter is a joyous occasion, the festival of the resurrection of Christ. It re-establishes the great historical fact and fundamental truth upon which the Christian faith is based . . . the deliverance of man from the bondage of death.

Over the earth's war-scarred surface dawns an Easter morning, the hope of the world, belief is undying in the human heart that the errant race of man may yet come to spiritual victory through faith.

Pagans celebrated the coming of Spring with a festival called Eostre. The early Christian Church adopted some of the Pagan customs to aid the transition to Christianity. Colored eggs were used in rites among the Egyptians, Persians, Greeks and Romans.

The rabbit was their symbol for fertility. White is the liturgical color for Easter . . . the sign of joy, light, a new grace of life, and the hope of immortality.

Easter is many things to people all over the world . . . in Floydada it's part of the spring season . . . it's the keynote or fashionable new hats and wearing apparel . . . It's an opportunity to visit loved ones . . . college students return home . . . blooming lilacs and trees are enjoyed . . . and most important of all, it is a time of gathering at churches to hear the greatest story ever told.

And it isn't just a story . . . the resurrection means that there is a hereafter . . . it means that Christ gave his life that we might have life and that we might have it more abundantly . . . and it is the strength of Christianity.

THIS EASTER would be a good time for Christians to renew their faith . . . it would also be a wonderful time for non-Christians to select the church of their choice for spiritual enrichment of life as a Christian.

Learn To Let Go

In response to reader request we reprint an editorial which first appeared in The Herald about 31 years ago. You may want to clip it for reference:

If you want to be healthy morally, mentally and physically, just let go.

Let go of the little bothers of everyday life, the irritations and the petty vexations that cross your path daily. Don't take them up and nurse them, pet them, and brood over them. They are not worth while. Let them go.

That little hurt you get from a friend perhaps it wasn't intended, perhaps it was, but never mind, let it go. Refuse to think about it.

Let go of that feeling of hatred you have for another, the jealousy, the envy, the malice, let go all such thoughts. Sweep them out of your mind, and you will be surprised what a cleaning and rejuvenating effect it will have upon you, both physically and mentally. Let them all go; you house them at deadly risk.

But the big trouble, the bitter disappointments, the deep wrongs and the heartbreaking sorrows, tragedies of life, what about them? Why, just let them go too. Drop them, softly maybe, but surely. Put away all regret and bitterness, and let sorrow be only a softening influence. Yes, let them go too, and make the most of the future.

Then the little pet ailment that you have been hanging on to and talking about, let it go. It will be a good riddance. You have treated it royally, but abandon it; let it go. Talk about health, instead, and health will come. Quit nursing that pet ailment, and let go.

It is not so hard after once you get used to the habit of—letting go of these things. You will find it such an easy way to get rid of the things that may mar and embitter life that you will enjoy letting them go. You will find the world such a beautiful place. You will find it beautiful because you will be free to enjoy it—free in mind and body.

Learn to let go. As you value health of body and peace of mind, let go—just simply let go. (Plainview Daily Herald)

Exposure To Meaningful Aids To Education

The number and the kind of books, art and magazines a child is exposed to in the home and the school has a very definite bearing on the educational progress of the child.

The home which provides ample and easy access to good dictionaries, to encyclopedias, and to scientific and literary magazines, offers incentive to the eager young mind. These and the family attitude toward knowing what's being talked about and written about—comprehension—broaden the knowledge of the child and create a habit of "looking things up."

Thanks to that Dad who provided his family with ample means of finding out what words mean. Thanks for the exposure to good literature—the classics included.

One of the most challenging inscriptions ever read, which is believed to be original with that dad, was in clear, legible, and beautiful penmanship of that day: "FOR THE ACQUISITION OF KNOWLEDGE, SEEK THE MOMENT OF EXCITED CURIOSITY."

If the means is not available for seeking knowledge while the curiosity is aroused, how can one expect a habit of "looking things up" to be created.

There's a lot to be said about the danger of ruining a child's eyes by poor light, by television-watching. We believe the authority who said that you cannot injure the normal eye by doing close work, even in poor light.

There's more harm to come from constantly absorbing a lot of insipid trash, day after day continuity of the same outlandish themes of nonsense, watching what one family appropriately calls "that box," than will come from eye-strain. Think of the mind as well as the eye.

The impact of the tv on the nation is not readily assessed. Much of it is good. Much of it is inane. Much of it is downright harmful. It has become an obsession with altogether too many children in their impressionable and character-forming years.

Don't forget good books, good literature, and sources may satiate the child's thirst for useful knowledge. (Plainview Herald) change student from Norway Waage had never ridden until he came to Texas a year ago — and now he is the top in ranching — he's worked on cattle roundups the last two days.

Saturday he worked on the Barleson ranch and the Saturday on the Dock Bur-ranch.

He experienced every phase of the round-up from hazing the out of the brush to flank-ing the branding job.

He admits that he didn't know about rounding up cattle, but said the cow pony he bor-rowed from Louis Cardinal cer-tainly knew what to do and all he had to do was "hang on."

He got a little exciting in the "business" — one year-ling wind up on top of Sig-urd. Fred Cardinal said he had let the year-ling go and started all over, but Sigurd had a lot of de-stination and hung on even when he was down with the year-ling on top.

He learned to high jump on the round-up — Fred said it looked more like a bull when two bulls started to fight — one made a lunge at the other — missed and headed Sigurd. Sigurd said he high jumped the seven foot fence — he said it looked more like a bull.

As you can see by the picture Sigurd was well equipped for the round-up — the hat from Rotary, the spurs from the club and the boots from the student council. The chaps loaned to him by Fred. Sigurd was very complimentary of the work. He said that he puts in a man's day's work both Saturdays. About 30 worked the round-ups.

County Agent Reports

By Tom Davison

This week has presented a number of meetings for me which have included two on the current wheat situation and the Floyd County Noxious Weed Control District Annual meeting.

The annual meeting of the weed control district proved successful. Those attending heard presentations by Fred Elliott, Extension Cotton Specialist, who spoke on the latest weed controls, and Alan Weise who is Agronomist at the Southwestern Great Plains Field Station at Bushland.

From Bill Bennett, extension soil chemist at College Station comes word that more soil samples were handled by extension laboratories during January and February than any other previous two months period. Floyd County farmers submitted 120 samples during this period. In order to spend fertilizer money wisely for the lush yield returns you must remember, DON'T GUESS SOIL TEST.

Although our screwworm problems are minor compared to down state, counties don't forget that it only takes one case to have an outbreak. Liberty County was the scene of the first infestation in 1963 to occur outside of the fly overwintering area. After the first case was detected sterile flies were flown in and dropped in the county within 48 hours.

As warm weather approaches and you should have a case of worms please collect a sample of worms, let me know and we will send it to Mission, Texas. If you would like to have a vial or two to carry in your pickup, we have plenty to supply the cattle owners.

Exchange Student Gives Account Of Nativeland

Mrs. Kenneth Bain Sr., and speaker appropriately and charmingly. Mrs. Edd Johnson were hostesses for the monthly meeting held Thursday night of the 1962 Study Club. Sigurd Waage, foreign exchange student, gave a splendid account of his native Norway for the meeting held in the Community Room of the First National Bank.

Sigurd showed slides of Norway and his companions talk gave concrete and challenging information. Most of those present were eager to accept his invitation to ask questions.

The educational system of Norway, a constitutional monarchy, with a parliament and a prime minister whose delegated power is considerable, differ quite a bit from our own, the youth said. Members of the club said they admire a young man who typifies the best of his country and is profiting in the experience of a year of high school study in the "States".

The devotional and program leader for the meeting was Mrs. Wilson Kimble, club president, who also introduced the guest

Only opposition was from Bay or and University of Texas es am Collins. He talked about angueland traditions. Harrington and Rudder told the committee that A&M could act more outstanding faculty members if the institution were called a university.

Both Houses have adopted the bill, with a small difference. Sen. School Board Vote Quiet

School board elections in Floyd County were relatively quiet when light voter turn-outs were registered at most of the county's schools last Saturday.

Floydada school district voters returned two incumbents to office in a light turnout with 37 votes recorded.

Ralph Johnston, now president of the board, and Jack Stansell, both unopposed, received 37 votes each to return to office.

Two incumbents were also returned to office in light balloting for trustee positions at Lockney.

R. C. Mitchell, now vice president of the board led the ballot with 101 votes. Harold Griffith was re-elected with 82 votes. He posed out Royce Hillman, who got 76 votes. Martin Bradley received 57 votes.

Three board members were elected at South Plains; M. W. Johnson received 42 votes, Hansell Sanders, 33 and Raymond Reeves 31.

Odell Breed was elected at Lakeview with 35 votes, a close runner-up was Milton Harrison with 22.

At Dougherty two board members were elected, Roy Crawford with 27 votes and J. R. Pernell, 26.

Bernard Breland was elected at Providence with 12 votes.

A BEAUTIFUL day like Sunday comes along and we all hit the highways — we get out — and the odds are that there will be more accidents of all sorts as we crowd the highways.

You can always expect to read of many tragic accidents in the Monday morning paper that occurred over the weekend.

A motor scooter ran into a youth here Saturday and broke his leg. Another motor scooter was involved in an accident near Kress late Saturday that resulted in the death of a 13 year old.

A little later boat and drowning accidents will begin to appear in the Monday morning news.

All of this is to say enjoy the summer time — but BE ALERT, BE CAREFUL!

board will be the governing board for the hospital district and will have tax levying powers. The board will be in office until April 1965, at which time new directors will be elected by popular vote.

Should the new hospital cost $500,000, and a bond vote is used to raise half of the amount, approximately 25c per $100 county property evaluation would be levied. This would cost the average taxpayer according to one estimate about the cost of a trip a year to visit someone in the hospital at Lubbock.

ed as city health officer and The Hesperian was approved as the city's official newspaper.

Councilman Clem McDonald was appointed to personally confer with three individuals who have bid on the service of collecting the city's garbage.

The council agreed to lease out the city swimming pool again this year.

A new water meter installation policy was approved. Beginning April 10 any new water user must pay cash for installation of meter before water will be turned on. This cost to the resident usually averages $25 to $35. Cost of materials is charged and no labor costs are assessed in the installation.

Aldine Williams was re-elected Mayor Pro-Tem.

In the past the city administration group has received its salaries directly from the electrical plant fund. The council voted to transfer $1500 a month from the electrical fund into the general fund for payment of the administration salaries.

The council also discussed the fact that vacant lots in the city were priced at extremely high prices in comparison with the evaluations that they carried. They surmised that if the evaluations were adjusted to the current price valuations that the city would receive more tax money and at the same time induce more lot holders to sell them to prospective new home builders. This would help the city to grow both from a tax angle and more homes would be built in the city limits.

This was tabled for further consideration.

The council also granted the electric and water departments the go ahead on building a new supply storage building.

The City Hall offices will receive some remodeling work — a new drop ceiling, better heating and cooling system.

Mayor Ross presided at the meeting which was attended by Councilmen Davis, Roe Jones, McDonald, and Henry Willis. Also attending were city secretary Bill Feuerbacher, Charles Horton, Stovall, and J. D. Parks.

Votes of the recent school board election were canvassed, Jack Stansell and Ralph Johnston were declared elected for another term. Johnston remains president of the board, Ernest Lee Thomas, vice-president and Greer Christian, secretary.

The board also decided to help provide means for students of Della Plains school to enter the state interscholastic meet at Prairieview College.

In attendance at the meeting were: Johnston, Gregory, Thomas, Christian, Stansell, Buster Simpson, Lawrence Davis, Tyler superintendent A. E. Baker and Mrs. Lorin Leibfried, secretary.

"Jesus Fulfills His Mission"

By Gladys Buchanan

What meaning does the Crucifixion of Jesus have in our lives?

Judas had come with Jesus and the other disciples to Jerusalem to celebrate the Passover. Since Judas' name, Iscariot, means "dagger-bearer," students have concluded that he was a member of the insurrectionist group — one which carried on guerrilla warfare against the Romans. Like the other disciples and most of the Jews, Judas believed that Jesus was a military Messiah approaching Jerusalem at this strategic feast to muster forces. Just as the Fourth of July is a time when Americans recall their struggle to gain freedom, so the Passover feast was the time when Jewish emotions ran high, as they recalled the first time God had led them from captivity to freedom. This was the logical time for a military leader to attract support.

But Jesus made no attempt to pursue such a course. Instead, he maintained that he must suffer and die. Judas was disillusioned. He came to the conclusion that he had been following the wrong leader. Jesus would not "save" the Jews, so Judas betrayed him to the chief priests. This, to Judas, was not a sin but loyalty to God. He was fighting for his country — God's chosen country. He was a zealous Jew.

This was a fortunate occurrence to the chief priests and scribes. They had been trying all during Jesus' ministry to find some excuse on which to get rid of him. Now they had it: Blasphemy to God in his claim to be the anointed Messiah and treason to the Roman government through the implied insurrectionist activity of a Messiah. Of course, if they had understood Jesus' teachings and applied them in their lives as he did in his, this tragic mistake might have been avoided.

It was also timely that Judas came to his decision two days before the Passover feast which fell on the Sabbath. The chief priests and scribes, by fast action, could arrest, try, and kill Jesus before sunset on Friday, heralding the beginning of the Sabbath. It would have been illegal for Jews to have participated in such activities or to have corpses uncared for on the Sabbath.

The Last Supper

The disciples, unaware of Judas' betrayal, were eager to make plans for the feast-day observance. The direction which Jesus gave them has led many to believe that the householder who provided the guest room was a member of a larger organization following Jesus. Members of the Essene sect lived in cities and towns, pursuing an average life while following the teachings of the smaller group who preferred the monastic life. If the theory that Jesus belonged to a sect called the Nazoreans is correct, then it is possible that the householder also belonged and the disciples had observed the ritual up to the point of the fourth glass of wine. Then Jesus rejected the fourth glass, declaring that he would not drink it until the kingdom of God had been realized (Mark 14:25).

In the Garden

From the upper room, the company went to the Mount of Olives, and Jesus, Peter, James, and John went on into the Garden of Gethsemane. Jesus, greatly distressed, left them and went farther away to pray. The others promptly went to sleep. It was late, they had had a long day, and they had eaten a meal with wine.

Then, who heard Jesus' prayer? A close examination of traditional Jewish prayers shows that the disciples would have known with which prayer Jesus made the traditional declaration, accepting death in love.

Jesus' life was one of surrender to God's will. This Jewish prayer form would have been familiar to him and would have exemplified his understanding of a disciple of God.

As Judas approached with the Temple police, Jesus was calm and ready. There was no hesitation or resistance.

The Trial

Scripture was not to be fulfilled: the disciples had fled and Jesus was led to be tried. There was a fast, secret trial before a small, powerful group. There were some false witnesses, the direct accusation, and Jesus' dramatic response. No more witnesses were needed: Jesus had confessed.

The next step was to get the Roman government to prefer charges against Jesus. As a potential king, he would be a threat to Roman power. Pilate was too weak to resist the powerful group who wanted Jesus out of the way; to keep his governorship he needed to pacify the Jewish forces.

Down in the courtyard sat Peter, trying to hear what was happening and terrified by those who recognized him. He may possibly have recalled the time he had declared Jesus the Christ (Mark 8:29). Jesus had told the disciples not to tell this, but Judas, who was also a disciple, had heard. Did this cost Jesus his life? Peter could not have known, but he was wretched.

The Cross — an End

What an ignominious death for one whose life had been spent healing, teaching, and loving people! Jesus encouraged people to obey God because they loved him and to give their lives in concern for others. But this is not why Jesus was crucified.

When Jesus overturned the tables of the money-changers in the Temple, he hit a vulnerable spot in the Sadducee party. The Sadducees controlled the Temple and the city as a concession from the Roman governor on the condition that they maintain peace and order. The Sadducees were also the most ardent advocates of literal carrying out of the Law. They had frequently come into conflict with Jesus on matters of interpretation of the Law.

The Pharisees, too, did not have "clean hands." They knew the Temple needed cleansing, but it would be embarrassing to have an "outsider" take over their authority. This was particularly true since the Pharisees were moving away from the Temple as the center of the Jewish religion and life. Jesus was obviously cleansing the Temple so that it might be prepared for pure worship of God.

Together, the Pharisees and Sadducees could seize Jesus and accuse him of blasphemy in calling himself the Messiah, but the Sanhedrin did not have the authority for capital punishment. Therefore, they added the charge of civil insurrection so that the Roman governor could condemn Jesus.

Pilate, reluctant to sentence Jesus, knew that it was wiser to acquiesce than to take a chance on a wild uprising of the Jews.

A few hours later, Jesus was dead. The people had heard him cry out; the soldiers had pierced his side as a test; his disciples had fled; only a few women remained nearby. The man who had called himself the Christ, the Messiah, had let himself be captured, tried, and executed without resistance. Surely the Pharisees, Sadducees and Roman government could now relax and return to their pursuits without this reformer.

The Cross — a Beginning

This should have been the end of a promissory career, but it was instead, the beginning of a way of life. During his ministry, Jesus taught his disciples that his role — and theirs — was that of sacrifice and suffering. In none of his teachings did Jesus indicate that only one person in the Jewish community was to be holy, but rather that every believer in God should start anew to establish a right relationship with God. He taught them to humble themselves like children (Matthew 18:4); to have faith in God (Mark 11:22); to keep the laws (Mark 10:19); to give everything to the poor (Mark 10:21); to maintain the Temple as a place of prayer (Mark 11:17); and to serve as witnesses to all the nations (Mark 13:10).

Protestant theologians have tended to represent Jesus as prophet, priest, and king. In his position as a humble servant, he was a prophet who taught the people the right way of life and revealed God to them. In humility, he served the people as a sacrifice for their sins. And dying in humiliation, he was raised to kingship over the kingdom of God whose foundations he had laid while on earth.

Jesus, however, did not claim these titles for himself. He struggled to determine God's will and then do it. He considered this the responsibility of every person. Jesus so filled himself with the spirit of God that he felt in unity with God. In this relationship he understood how God works in the lives of people who are willing to let him.

Whatever is the theological answer to the divine nature of Jesus, it is certain that Jesus was so nearly one with God that God was able to work through him to help mankind. God can be seen in Jesus — not the warlike, vengeful, jealous God seen in much of the Old Testament, but a God of love and mercy, seeking out sinners and waiting with abundant grace to pardon all men's sins.

The cross was the end of Jesus' earthly life, but it was the beginning of his heavenly life. For Christians, the cross is the beginning of the way of life on earth and the promise of a life to come.

The Cross — a Stumbling Block

It is not easy to say that Christianity begins with the cross. When a Christian makes this confession, he means by it that Christ lived and died for the sake of mankind. Jesus' entire life was so directed that he gave up all earthly, material comforts in order to devote himself to preparing his life and the lives of others for the kingdom of God.

He was the supreme example. A Christian standing at the foot of the cross cannot accept this sacrifice for himself without in turn sacrificing for others. It is in the acceptance or rejection of the cross that mankind uses the free will God gave him.

To those who fail to see beyond the death of the Messiah, the cross is a stumbling block. To the Galatians who were disturbed about circumcision, Paul said, "But if I, brethren, still preach circumcision, why am I still persecuted? In that case the stumbling-block of the cross has been removed" (Galatians 5:11).

The cross would be no problem if the people accepted circumcision and all the Law. But if they accepted the cross, then they would have to accept the life of the spirit. Apparently, it has been easier through the ages to select the Law than the cross.

"For he who sows to his own flesh will from the flesh reap corruption; but he who sows to the Spirit will from the Spirit reap eternal life" (Galatians 6:8).

Paul could say, "Likewise, my brethren, you have died to the law through the body of Christ, so that you may belong to another, to him who has been raised from the dead in order that we may bear fruit for God" (Romans

7:4) because he understood that man in himself is a sinner. There is no way for man to change this condition by himself. God tried to help his people by the covenant with Abraham; by the Ten Commandments; by the wise leaders and prophets he raised up. But the people forgot the covenant, stoned the prophets, and worshiped the Law instead of God.

The people missed the point that the Law was only a means by which they could obey God and keep in right relation to him. When they twisted the Law to fit their own corrupt nature, they were trying to manipulate God to their wills.

Jesus understood this and tried to teach people who God is and what he wants his children to be. He lived the sacrifice he taught and then died the full and perfect sacrifice for all men. The Christian who grasps the meaning of the cross and puts its spirit of humility, love, and total obedience into his life has found salvation. He has discovered the only way to reconciliation with God.

The Cross and God's Love

In the Old Testament it was taught that God's wrath needed to be averted and sin paid for:

"The rich shall not and the poor shall not give the Lord's atonement for yourselves" (Leviticus 19:15). "On the day I will go up to the Lord, I can make atonement for you" (Exodus 22:30).

In the New Testament one atonement — only so, but we do God through our Christ, through whom now received our sins (Romans 5:11).

This was God's love. "For God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish but have eternal life" (John 3:16). No atonement will ever be made the sacrifice of all. For salvation, now needs only faith and commitment to

Many a dedicated man given his life for loyalty to God. The Christian gives his talents to God in his own position in the most kind and best cross.

Water District Gives Year's Water Level Measurements

The High Plains Undergrround Water Conservation District has announced the publication of water-level measurements made during January 1963. Allan White, Director of Education for the Water District, said concerning the water-level report, that a majority of the official measurements in observation wells throughout the 13-county District have been published in "The Cross Section," the official publication of the High Plains Water District. He says that a map which indicates the approximate location of the observation wells accompanies the measurements.

White states that the measurements are made each year during January prior to the beginning of extensive pumping for pre-plant irrigation. They are made by the Texas Water Commission in cooperation with the Water District.

In the recently published tabulation of measurements, the years 1953, 1962 and 1963 are reported. Measurements for these years were used so that a 10-year period and a one-year period of fluctuation could be studied.

White states that those persons who are interested in receiving the water-level measurements and who do not receive "The Cross Section" should write to the High Plains Water District, 1620 15th Street, Lubbock, Texas, and ask for a copy. It will be mailed at no charge to the recipient.

Success Or Poverty

When one is planning his future one of the greatest decisions he must make is whether to go to college.

Some people go to college because they have nothing else to do or to have a "good" time; whereas, others go to prepare for careers to meet requirements for a fuller life and citizenship. Whatever the reason, may be, most people could get more from their college years if they would give more thought to the purposes of attending.

Some people think that college will guarantee them a job or success, but this idea is not true. Although college is a wonderful privilege, one gets out of it only in proportion to what he puts into it. High standards of conduct and achievements in college record may be a handicap.

If one has the money, he can meet the entrance requirements, and he is free to go anywhere in the country. He can choose among a wide variety of colleges, and universities. He can live in the mountains, on the plains, or by the sea, in a small, friendly school or in a great impersonal university; in a man's, woman's or coeducational college; in one

SC Conducts Car Smash

Car smashing was one of the money-making projects for the Student Council on Friday, April 5.

Across the street from Floydada High School, a very unusual sight was seen. Freshmen and sophomores competed against juniors and seniors to see which group could smash their part of the old car first.

Whacks at the old car were 5 cents each or six whacks for a quarter. This event began at 3:45 p.m.

Also on Friday an ice cream supper began at 5:30 p.m. Student Council members furnished homemade ice cream and cake. A small price of 50 cents entitled everyone unlimited refills. Beginning at 7:30 p.m. a talent show was given. Students participating in the talent assembly earlier and all others interested performed.

The Student Council earned money for the next year's foreign exchange student.

Morgan's Guide To The Comma

The Comma, comes from the Greek word KOMMA, which means pretty much the same thing. Few words have as dull an etymology. If you take away the top half of a semi-colon, what's left is a comma; come to think of it, the word colon comes from the Greek KOLON. Well, you can't win 'em all.

The comma is used to separate Faith, Hope, and what begins at home. And by bad writers to keep their foolish, boring, misleading, noxious, aimless, space-filling, time-wasting, nonsensical, vexing adjectives away from their nouns.

Without the comma it would be difficult to keep track of the naughts in the federal deficit. Bunched together — 000,000,000 — it's easier for Congress to tell when they have to raise the debt limit. (If you happen to be a Zulu, who is reading this, I should explain that in the USA we have a law which prohibits the government from going too far into the hole. When it goes too far the law is changed. This happens once a year. The process is known as "the democratic way" from the Greek word DEMOS meaning that whatever 51 per cent of the clockheads do is automatically right. This peculiar concept is guaranteed by the terms of the Constitution, a set of statements which suggest that the people have certain inalienable rights, which, in turn, are taken away by law. Why don't you go back to Zululand where you belong?)

The comma is good for keeping a man away from his job. Marvin, the fink, Jack, the ripper, Susskind, the listener. This cute little dickens is sometimes used to show where a speaker takes a breath. The most interesting case of breathing was that of one Louella Parsons, a lady who, by radio, used to broadcast from Hollywood some of the brighter doings of motion picture persons. If her script was written the way she breathed, it must have looked like this:

"Hello, from Hollywood. My first, exclusive. Hedy, Krausmeyer, the well-known, personal, just flew in from New York. She has a contract to play the part of Ghoulia in the new picture, Ghoulia, goes to, pot."

Those were probably the really great, days, in the history of, the comma.

BILL POTTS

Tracksters Make Good Turn-Out

"This year's track team is a great bunch of boys. They are young, but as a whole they have given 150 per cent. We expect them to be a lot stronger later this year and in the years to come," says Coach Bill Curry, head coach.

The Whirlwind track team of coaches Bill Curry and Billy Carmack is young but rapidly progressing. Their showings in the track meets so far this season and their most recent showing in Kress on March 30, have emphasized this fact.

The team is composed mainly of freshmen and sophomores. The only two graduating seniors are Tommy Watts, who has been hampered with a muscle injury, and Darryl Lindsey, who has been the team's top point winner in most meets.

The regional meet at Lubbock will be on April 19 and 20. The Whirlwinds may also attend the future track meet at Andrews on April 16.

Regional Meet Scheduled For April 19-20

Vying for regional honors at Texas Tech on April 19 and 20 will be a number of district winners from Floydada and other towns. Eight districts are to be represented from District I.

Floydada High School representatives in golf are Dickie Watson, Thumper Morgan, James McNeil and Jerry Allen.

Tennis representatives are Lucy Cogdell, Suzie Badgett, Ann McIntosh, Dwight Teeple, Jimmy Oden, and Dee Ann Wilson.

On April 20, Janice Trapp and Larry Faan will compete in Journalism at 8:30 a.m. Darryl Lindsey will compete in science at the same time.

Ann McIntosh and Sharon Burton will enter typing at 8:45 a.m. at the C. O. B. Building on the Tech campus.

Billy Stanforth will compete in boys' persuasive speaking. Sue Johnson will enter girls' prose poetry at 9:00 a.m.

Other entries are Dennis Deavenport, ready writing; Clinton Pawwer, and Fred Thayer, number sense; Rita Colley, shorthand; and Bill Potts, slide rule.

In all speech events, tennis, and golf, only first-place winners qualify for the State Meet May 2 and 4. The top two contestants in ready writing, journalism, science, shorthand, typing, number sense, slide rule, and track and field qualify.

Cruel Masters Buy Slaves

Cries and pleas for mercy were heard Monday, April 8, while healthy young girls were sold as slaves to cruel masters.

The auction started in the high school auditorium at noon, and continued after school for those who were not sold during the lunch hour. Boys started their bidding at $25 and could bid up to $5 on a slave.

Slave duties began Monday afternoon and will continue until seven o'clock tonight. They are not required to do anything more difficult than lawn work, caddy, or car washing. They work during school and until 7 o'clock that night if the master needs them.

Proceeds from the slave sale will go to next year's foreign exchange student fund. The Student Council sponsored the event. Dale West and Max Rucker acted as auctioneers.

After one's sugar count has reached a normal level, the diabetic is required to watch his diet very carefully for sugar content. Failure to do so results in a severe coma.

"If a person's metabolism falls into a coma, it is usually caused by two factors. The diabetic either has too much insulin or too much sugar. If the coma remains severe, they have to remain on a strict diet. It is then very hard to return to a normal sugar count," she elaborated.

A diabetic may easily develop gangrene or other diseases very easily if he is not well taken care of, according to Mrs. Pratt.

Mrs. Pratt concluded by saying that millions of people in the world have hidden diabetes and it is often not found until its victim is about to die because

Book Binding Discussed At Conference

The Texas Library Conference was one of the most enjoyable as well as profitable business trips I have taken," says Mrs. Helen Patterson, Floydada High School Librarian, after returning from the Conference in Dallas.

What's A Penny Worth?

What's a penny worth? It's Post Office Department some of the smallest of small change. $2.25-million to carry company mail.

So the extra penny it now takes to mail a first class letter probably doesn't seem very significant to most people.

Businessmen take a different view.

For instance, officials for American Oil Company, a marketer of petroleum products, estimate that the increase in postal rates that took effect Jan. 7 adds nearly a half million dollars a year to their cost of doing business.

Final figures on 1962 expenses show that American Oil paid the higher.

More than a million dollars went for postage to handle billing and correspondence with credit card customers. Regional sales centers accounted for nearly another million. The remainder came from other American Oil operations such as refineries, pipe-lines and terminal locations.

With the new rates in effect, American Oil officials estimate the '63 company-wide postage bill will be 16 to 20 per cent higher.

In short, American Oil officials will have to find an additional $360,000 to $450,000 to pay for handling the mail the company needs to keep its complex business operating efficiently.

That's not small change by any stretch of the imagination.

To a company like American Oil that must try — and is trying — hard to improve its rate of return on investment, figures like these cast a new and revealing light on what a penny is really worth.

Farm Bureau Facts & Faces

SOMETHING TO CROW ABOUT! Our County Farm Bureau has retired the first five building bonds as of April 1, 1963. One hundred bonds were issued at one hundred dollars each at twenty year pay with the organization retaining the right to retire them earlier if possible. When the bonds were issued it was hoped that payment on them could begin in ten years. The plans now are to retire as many as possible each quarter, and at the present rate the building will be paid for in five years.

WITH REGRET: We are sorry to learn that Mr. Feldman, J. D. Hill, has resigned his position and is moving to Seury County to handle the Farm Bureau Agency there. We wish him success in his new responsibility.

BETTER NEWS: Reports are that our District Director, Hub Kins, is recovering satisfactorily from surgery and is now at his home in Brownfield. We understand that blood is still needed to replace the sixty-eight pints that was given to Hub.

NOTICE: Thursday, April 11, 7:30 p. m. is his monthly meeting of the board of directors at the county office.

A meeting of the Young People's Committee will be held April 15, at 7:30 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Adams of Lockney. The most important item on the agenda will be the Citizenship Seminar for high school students. Announcement of the two students from Lockney and Floydada to travel to Sam Houston State Teachers College at Huntsville, Texas in August will be made in the near future. We feel that this will be a wonderful opportunity for the young people of our County and of our State. They will meet and hear outstanding leaders from throughout America.

Grand Ole Opry Star, Billy Grammer will be at Floydada High School April 13.

Floyd Philosopher Says He Tries To Manage The News Frequently Without Much Luck

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm discusses managed news this week, his letter reveals. Dear editor: I've been reading about managed news out of Washington the last few weeks and I'm not sure I understand what all the talk is about.

For example, one complaint is that Washington officials like to see their achievements printed, will even help reporters get the facts, but are out to hunch and unavailable when their failures come to light. The complainers seem to feel the officials ought to be as energetic about getting their mistakes into print as their achievements.

I guess they should, but that ain't the way I operate this Johnson grass farm. If I'm talking to a banker on a financial matter, I don't mind telling him how much cotton I made last year, how high the yield was per acre, provided it was pretty good, but if it wasn't, I emphasize something else. Nobody in his right mind seeks a loan or runs for office, as the case may be, on a crop failure or a Bay of Pigs. The only time I'm interested in listing my failures is on my income tax report.

However, I've found it's pretty hard to keep a banker or the American public in the dark very long, and most things eventually come out. The average man makes so many mistakes he's not going to be too harsh on an official when he makes one, and most people are judged not on how many mistakes they make but that they do in between mistakes. At least that's what I try to tell my banker.

Now in Russia they've got managed news all right. When the government owns the newspapers and the television and radio stations, it's no trick at all. That is, it's no trick to keep it out of print and off the air, but keeping it out of the people's mind is another thing. The Russian people may not be able to read about Russian crop shortages, but I have a notion they know something happened to the food. Yours faithfully, J. A.

THE W. H. BLACKWELL GENERATION number in five as seen above. In the front row are Jackie McGuire, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Blackwell and Jerry McGuire; in the back row are Mrs. W. H. He will enjoy a thirty day leave after which he will report to Washington for further duty assignments. We are happy for his safe return and wish him a happy vacation.

Mrs. Rosa Helen Hart and daughter of Hereford spent Saturday night in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Beard. They attended services at the Baptist Church Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Beard, Mrs. Hart and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Lackey, Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey Lackey and Mrs. Ruby Lee Higginbotham were visitors in the home of

TOTAL PERFORMANCE:

YOU'LL KNOW WHY FORD SWEEP THE FIRST FIVE PLACES AT DAYTONA...WHEN YOUR '63 FORD IS STILL GOING STRONG YEAR AFTER YEAR

Daytona's big, banked oval puts unbelievable stresses and strains on engines, steering gears and frames. The Fords that won at Daytona took all the punishment this famous track could dish out over 500 miles of grueling competition without missing a beat. In this toughest of all stock car events, mechanical failures claimed over fifty per cent of the starting field. But of twelve Fords entered, nine went the distance. Ford took six of the first ten places.

Five-hundred-mile events like Daytona are a public demonstration of toughness, reliability and sheer engineering excellence that are part of the new generation of Fords. A test like this can't be duplicated on anybody's testing grounds—it's run right out in the open. Any car can enter. But only the car that has the best total combination of strength, balance, precision control and road-clinging suspension can win... we mean by total performance.

Visit your Ford Dealer before you buy any other. Here's what you'll find: a new kind of total-car durability kind of handling ability, a suspension that's startlingly yet sticks to the road like tar. If you haven't driven one, you can't really know what a new Ford is like. Remember, built by Ford, it's built for performance... total performance.

Texas Padre It won Senate approval. House shore project endorsement virtually is assured, and closer to this will convert the northern 81 miles of Padre Island into a natural reservation of seashore to be kept unspoiled for the enjoyment of future generations.

LOANS — One phase of the Project could be the battle over interest rates has ended. But more rounds likely are to come.

The bill giving the state's in debate before passing a bill which allows those who lend $1,000 or more to charge more than 10 per cent interest. It does not apply to banks, savings and loan organizations of cooperative lending organizations. But it does apply to all finance companies.

Sponsors of the bill wanted to allow more than 10 per cent interest on loans up to $3,000. But the Senate cut it down to $1,500. Rates as high as 464 per cent were permitted on loans as small as $5, under a fixed fee basis of calculating charges on loans under $100.

Further revision in the House, and probably thereafter in conference committee, is expected.

NETS — While one state agency was burning fishing nets, another was advertising for bids to buy some net. So a law change sailed through the Legislature to put a stop to that.

Old law says that when Game and Fish Commission men find an illegal net, they confiscate it, advertise for the owner, and when he does not appear to claim it, they burn it.

New law will say that when they get to the burning stage, they can give it to the Marine Research agencies of the University of Texas or Texas A&M.

BILLS KILLED — Legislators appear to have killed some hot proposals.

One is the effort to abolish the state tax on property. Senate voted 23-4 to kill a proposed constitutional amendment to do away with the smallest part of that tax - that which furnishes cash for state office buildings and pensions for old Texas Rangers and Confederate widows.

House killed a bill by Rep. Howard Green of Fort Worth to prevent city councils from saying that employees of their cities must live in the cities.

Also, House killed a proposal by Rep. "Red" Berry of San Antonio to allow 18-year-olds to vote. It got a bare majority - 72-71 - but as a constitutional amendment, it needed a two-thirds majority. Berry abandoned his proposal to allow betting on horse races in Bexar County.

Another bill to regulate companies which sell funerals in advance on the easy payment or "lay-away" plan was killed on a point of order.

FASTER SPEEDS — The long talked-about proposal to allow 70 miles an hour speeds on open highways went to Gov. John Connally for signature. Rep. Forrest Harding of San Angelo was the sponsor.

Proposal sets top speed at 70, but gives State Highway Department the power to reduce that speed limit where it is not safe.

LICENSE FEES — House passed a bill to exempt anhydrous ammonia tanks from the license plate fee if they weigh less than 1,000 pounds and are on wheels. If weight is between 4,000 and 10,000 pounds, license fee will be $5.

Cotton seed trailers were given the same treatment, extending to them the exemption which already applies to stock trailers. Senate action now is required.

HOME-TOWN TREATMENT — A program aimed to save money and do a better job on treating mental illness went to Governor Connally for signature.

Rep. Malcolm McGregor of El Paso and Sen. Don Kennard of Fort Worth sponsored the plan. It allows the Board for State Hospitals and Special Schools to contract with local city or county hospitals to treat mentally ill or tuberculars in their home counties.

Authorization of such a program on a statewide basis followed a test at El Paso which proved highly successful from both medical and financial standpoints.

STUDY ORDERED — A group of 25 Texans to be named by Governor Connally will take a long look at the state's system of education beyond the high school. Bill to allow him to appoint such a group went to his desk.

Group will report back to the next Legislature in 1965.

LAND — A dispute over ownership of 1,812 acres of land in Laguna Madre in Cameron County has resulted in a House resolution by Rep. Eligio (Kika) de la Garza of McAllen.

Resolution now is in a House State Affairs subcommittee. It would allow J. W. Luttes and Shell Oil Company to sue the state and establish title to the Laguna Madre tract.

WATER FOR ALICE — The city of Alice in Jim Wells County proposes to solve its water problem by creating a reservoir to capture water from Chilitipin Creek and drawing on Lake Corpus Christi for an additional supply.

Project was approved by the Texas Water Commission.

Alice has been depending on wells, but C. R. Marks, engineer for the project, said the wells are no longer sufficient. However, they will be continued in use after the Chilitipin-Lake Corpus Christi project is completed.

SLICK OPERATORS IN LIQUOR — An illicit liquor scheme being worked along the Texas border in such a way as to escape taxes, is the target of Rep. John E. Blaine of El Paso.

He says his bill - or the committee substitute for it - would mean thousands of additional dollars to state and federal governments.

Bill, which is in a House Liquor Regulation subcommittee, would authorize Liquor Control Board to require a bonded liquor exporter, with a state license fee of $750 per year, and eliminate a "bootlegging" operation along the border, Blaine said.

Operational which is devious and complex, would be hampered by requiring the Texas-Mexican liquor traffic to move by common carrier.

CANDY BARR — Governor Connally approved recommendation of the Board of Pardons and Paroles to parole Juanita Dale Phillips, known as Candy Barr, who has been serving a prison sentence for narcotics violation.

SHORT, SHORT SNORTS — Governor Connally urged Congress to reject the changes in oil and gas tax laws proposed by President Kennedy - Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr said he will send an assistant to help in the Jim Wells County grand jury investigation of last November's general election - Hardin, Jasper, Stonewall and Tyler Counties are among those for whom hospital district laws are being passed under a new constitutional authority. If legislators authorize them, voters in the counties can tax themselves to set up and operate hospitals. - Rep. Charles Wilson of Trinity wants to outlaw professional boxing in Texas, as an aftermath of deaths of fighters - A Senate committee killed a bill which would have prohibited the state or local units of government from discriminating against anyone because of sex, race, creed, color or national origin. Vote was 12-4 - Flying while intoxicated will be against the law if Governor Connally signs a bill to that effect by Rep. Stanford Smith of San Antonio - Texans who run crop-dusting services want a state licensing agency, but there is legislative resistance to setting up any new state agencies. Trend this year is to abolish them, not create them - Higher retirement benefits for teachers will be possible under a bill by Rep. George Hinson of Mincoola awaiting the Governor's signature. Rep. Alonzo Jamison of Denton, one of the original sponsors of the bill, voted against it on final passage because he felt it had lost its original purpose - improvement of benefits for those who retired when teacher salaries were low.

TEXAS COTTON GROWERS REPORT:

Entire Season Control of Thrips, Aphids and Mites...

Di-Syston

The result? With Di-Syston, your early cotton grows faster, has stronger, straighter stems, more vigorous foliage. Squares form earlier and the plant produces more of them. Many growers in the Lubbock area have reported full season control of thrip with just the one application. You get higher yields because of the good Di-Syston start. This year, get your crop off to a good start with Di-Syston. Complete instructions for use are printed on the label on every package. Use Di-Syston.

Di-Syston-Treated Plants Are Stronger, Straighter... Produce More Squares Earlier

West Texas and New Mexico cotton growers now have a new way to control thrip damage and early-season stunting... with Di-Syston granular insecticide. Di-Syston is placed in the soil with the seed or side dressed after planting. The chemical is then absorbed by the growing roots and carried to all parts of the plant through the sap stream - as soon as the plant emerges. No part of the plant is unprotected - even tender new growth as it is formed.
