Hospital Committee Okays Bill For State Legislature

Bond attorneys Dumas, Huguenin and Boothman of Dallas completed the draft of a proposed act to authorize the creation of Caprock Hospital District for precincts 1, 3 and 4 of Floyd County last week and copies were sent to a local temporary committee to approve.

The committee approved the draft with two exceptions. One change regarded the authority of a permanent hospital board to employ doctors. It was felt by the committee that the hospital should not employ doctors and that all Floydada or area doctors should be in practice in their individual clinics and not be employed as such by the hospital. The other change was the amount of money that the county tax collector should be allowed from the hospital district to take care of the tax collecting of the new hospital district. It was decided to make a decision later on.

This problem which is quoted in section 13 as follows: "For his services the County Tax Assessor-Collector shall be allowed such compensation as may be

GRADE SCHOOL

School Board Okays Massie Land As Building Site For New School

In a special called meeting last week the Floydada school board accepted the gift of two blocks of land from Bert Massie as building site for a new grade school.

The location is approximately eight acres and is bordered by Texas street on the east, Ross on the north and Lee Street on the south. It is 500 ft x 725 ft.

The board was deadlocked for two hours in deciding which of two locations to accept. The gift of Massie or the gift of Mrs. Maud Hollums, a site located in southeast Floydada.

C. Lyman Ellis, Jr., consultant of school architecture and school plant section from Austin first to the board at the first of the meeting before the new school site vote was taken.

Ellis recommended the site that was chosen, also recommended years into the future. The new that the school board take into grade school would also have a consideration the need of maintenance on the high school building, remodeling jobs for junior high and Andrews Ward. He also recommended that the new grade school house the first three grades.

The architect firm of Stiles, Roberts and Messersmith has been selected by the school board and will begin study of the needs and facilities needed for at least five years into the future. The new that the school board take into grade school would also have a cafeateria. In the meantime the McMorrie property evaluation team continue to re-evaluate the school district's 400 sections of land and city properties.

The board hopes to have the occupancy in September of 1964. The board expressed its gratitude to both Massie and Mrs. Hollums for the offers of both properties.

Yes... Sometimes We're Partial

The Hesperian newspaper is partial to some churches and some organizations... partial in printing more of their news... simply because they have active reporters.

Needless to say, we can't afford to employ enough reporters to assign one to each church and each organization, but we are happy to report them all if the results are phoned or brought into our offices. We'll be glad to print you a good story from your notes or your phone call to YU 3-3737.

That's it in a nutshell... prod your organization's reporter... we'd love to have the news... our readers will appreciate it.

On the other hand we are happy to take pictures when something special comes along. We're not interested in shooting a picture of your group every time it has a meeting (think our subscribers would tire of that too), but we are interested in taking pictures of new officers or of a particular big project for the year.

And when you do have something big that merits a picture, we'd appreciate a day or two notice so that we may get you on our picture schedule. There's nothing that shakes us up more than for an organization to meet, then decide, "sav, this would make a good picture..." so at 9 p.m. they begin to phone around for one of the newspaper folk.

On the other hand when you see a fire, an auto accident... some exciting big news, we don't mind being called any hour of the day or night to come shoot a picture... we like to be on the scene when a picture is necessary to portray the graphic details.

All this is to explain why we're partial to some... likewise it's a sincere effort to invite you to help us bring all the news to our readers...

We've got enough horse sense to know we'll never get the newspapering business just like we want it... but we surely like to try... THANKS!

(GUEST EDITORIAL)

The Line Is A Fine One

Somewhere else in this issue we made the statement that the line between a blessing and a curse is often a fine one. To borrow our own expression, we might also say that the line between news and advertising is also a fine one. In fact it is so fine as to be unseen.

All of our papers are inconsistent when it comes to separating the advertising from news, not because we want to be but because we aren't wise enough to know how not to be.

Sometimes a patron raises an eyebrow when he places a classified ad and discovers that there is a charge. He reasons to himself, "I placed this same ad on the 'trading post' of some radio station and there was no charge, so why can't the newspaper carry it free?"

The answer to this one is easy. It might be noted that these "trading post" programs have sponsors who pay for the program and give the time to the public for an assortment of announcements. The newspaper can do the same thing if some sponsor wants to buy a page and donate it to the public.

Then there are times when persons want "news" stories inserted which are designed to promote a private project which will put dollars in the pockets of these persons. They want the newspaper to promote their project — free. There are other problems when private groups promote money making projects which are in competition with established business houses which buy advertising. There are times when merchants support a particular project, then the sponsors of the project come to the newspaper asking that it give free advertising to the merchants because they supported the project.

Occasionally a paper is asked why it doesn't have a "home furnishings" section, an agricultural section devoted to stock show, or something similar, "like they have in the dailies." When one examines these "special sections" in the dailies, it is always noted that these sections are sponsored by merchants directly or indirectly connected with these promotions. Advertising to support the entire section is extra advertising by dealers in home furnishings, or perhaps by concerns dealing primarily with farmers who welcome visitors to the stock shows or publicly congratulate the youth who exhibit the animals.

Most papers want to serve, to please their readers. They want to carry all the stock show or home furnishing news they can. But a paper is a business institution. It takes advertising revenue to pay for almost all the overhead in running a paper. Subscriptions are a business liability. It is the advertiser, not the subscriber, who carries the load. Advertisers, like it that way because the more subscribers there are, the more valuable is his advertisement. We wish we could devote all our space to news and promotions — but we can carry only as much free material as the advertising revenue will permit. A paper is a business institution first, a public service organization next — economics makes it that way.

We try to apportion our free space in such a way that there will be something of interest for everybody. Club women want space. The school wants space. The chamber of commerce wants space. The communities surrounding Tulia want space. The local farm agencies want space. Space is wanted for wedding stories and pictures, anniversaries, and feature stories. Numerous groups want stories to promote projects and causes. We're glad it's that way, else several thousands of people wouldn't want the paper each week.

Newspaper charges for its non-free services are neither fines or attempts to extort the public. No

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex. — A complete overhaul of the election code is due. Senate already has passed a bill correcting scores of errors in the old law, which was overhauled in haste in 1951.

House members amended the bill to eliminate the "agent form" of paying poll taxes. Instead, prospective voters would have to go to the court house or get a deputy tax collector to certify qualification to vote.

House also refused to require county tax assessors to name civic workers as deputies.

Progress is slow on the proposals to abolish the poll tax as a prerequisite to voting. Senators passed a proposed constitutional amendment to let the people say whether they want to keep the poll tax. But after some delay, a House committee put it in subcommittee.

Meanwhile, the national constitutional amendment to outlaw the poll tax in election of President, Vice President, Senators and Congressmen has been ratified by 30 states. When eight more ratify it, use of the poll tax in Texas would be out the window.

Lareco envisions the possibility that the 1964 election could be held with state officers elected by poll tax holders, federal officials by everybody.

SHORTEST SESSION? — A modern-day record for short legislative sessions may be set if Lt. Gov. Preston Smith and Speaker Bym Tunnell can get legislators to wind up their business May 7.

A May 7 adjournment has been filed. But the Constitution would allow them to work until May 27 if they can't finish by the 7th.

Both houses have been making fast progress on "local and uncontested bill" days.

BIG BILLS PENDING — Length of the legislative session hinges on the three biggest issues yet unsettled.

One is the House-passed tax bill to provide $32,000,000 to finance Gov. John B. Connally's higher education, tourist and industry-catching programs.

Then there's the appropriations bill, which is being worked out in conference committee headed by Sen. Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo and Rep. Bill Healy of Paducah.

It allocates the funds to each agency for spending during the next two years.

And there is the loan regulation bill, which Speaker Tunnell and Governor consider "must" bills.

It may be in trouble since the Senate bill, which mustered a bare majority, was changed considerably by a House subcommittee.

RURAL DEVELOPMENT ACT — Rep. Joe Cannon of Mexia told the House State Affairs Committee that Texas' rural counties are in "tremendous trouble" and need help from the state.

Cannon appeared on behalf of his bill co-sponsored by Rep. H. G. Wells of Tulia, which would apply to nine-tenths of the counties in Texas. Specifically those with less than 45,000 population.

Bill would require State Comptroller to compile a list of the low-population counties and set up a rural development fund. It would be built up through a refund of two per cent of all taxes collected by these counties.

Rural development fund would provide about $2,000,000 annually that could be spent to lure industries to counties that lack money to advertise their attractions.

Reps. J. Collier Adams of Lubbock, Ben Jarvis of Tyler and Donald K. Shipley of Houston are on the subcommittee studying the bill.

DROP-OUTS DEADLY — Some startling facts about the high school drop-out problem have been revealed by the Texas State Teachers Association. They stated that "drop-outs face a dead end in a world where education and its skills in the employment field are becoming a necessity."

Victor Sumner of the Texas Education Agency predicted that in the next five years about a third of a million young Texans will leave high school between ninth grade and graduation.

He estimated this fatal step would cost these youngsters nearly $75,000,000,000 in lifetime income.

"People in the employment field tell me that the hard-core of unemployment now is composed of drop-outs from 20 to 30 years ago," Sumner stated.

CODE OF ETHICS — Tighter rules over the private business activities of state officials has been the talk of the Capitol since William J. Murray Jr. resigned from the Railroad Commission. Murray said he made more than $1,000,000 in oil deals while regulating that industry.

Reps. Bob Eckhardt of Houston, James Nugent of Kerrville and Travis Peeler of Corpus Christi introduced a bill to outlaw investments by state officials in the fields which they regulate.

Old Code of Ethics law — passed in 1957 — merely called on them to disclose any such interests.

Rep. John Allen of Longview, chairman of the House State Affairs Committee, names a subcommittee to go over the bill.

It is to tighten up the tightening up. He indicated that he will try to bring the bill out for House action quickly.

Bill would prohibit legislators from appearing for pay before state boards and commissions while they are considering appropriations which are the life-blood of state agencies.

MURRAY SUCCESSOR SPECULATION — Big guessing game these days is "Who will Connally appoint to fill Murray's place on the Railroad Commission?"

Eugene Locke, Wally Scott Jr. and Claude Brown — all three members of the State Democratic Executive Committee — have been mentioned. Also discussed have been U. S. Rep. Joe Kilgore and Secretary of State Crawford Martin.

Scott has withdrawn his name. Others who have oil or gas interests which would have to be divested before they could accept an appointment are expected to do the same.

Murray's empty chair — which also is perched on top of the slant hole oil well investigations — is a hot seat.

SECURITIES REGISTRATION — State Securities Board granted investment permits in Texas totaling $25,000,000 last month. February total ran only $17,000,000.

Thirteen of the 42 companies granted the right to sell stocks in Texas were Texas firms.

HOUSE BILLS — Beetles better beware if Conroe Rep. David Crews' bill to cause forest landowners to pay for their extermination becomes law.

Victoria Rep. Dick Cury's bill authorizing district judges to provide jurors' meals in the jury room, rather than dismiss them, is ready for Governor Connally's signature.

House endorsed a bill to require school boards to advertise for competitive bids on purchases totaling $1,000 or more.

Kerrville Rep. Jim Nugent gained approval of his bill to set up strict supervision by the Secretary of State for charity fund-raising organizations which solicit $10,000 or more a year.

Women's righters gained a small victory when the House passed bills, authored by Rep. George Cowden of Waco, to allow a woman to make contracts concerning her own property.

A bill by Rep. Don Kennard of Fort Worth to increase longevity pay for firemen and policemen across the state was given a second chance when Senate Counties Committee chairman Martin Dies Jr. of Lubbock "fired" a subcommittee that couldn't reach a decision on the bill and set up a new committee.

PANHELLENICS ARE PLANNING FORUM

A Panhellenic Forum will be staged April 28, from 2:30 to 4:00 in the downstairs Ballroom of the Student Union Building at Texas Tech.

Graduating Senior girls from Lubbock and the surrounding area, who plan to participate in Rush Week next fall at the various colleges of their choice are invited to attend. The mothers of the senior girls are also invited to attend.

The College Panhellenic group will be in charge of the program, which will consist of a skit concerning Rush activities. Following the skit, a style show will be given showing suitable attire for Rush Week.

H. E. GRAHAM IMPROVING

H. E. Graham, brother of Herman A. Graham of Floydada, who was seriously injured in a plane crash which took the lives of three members of his family, is reported to be showing improvement in a Dallas hospital.

Graham was taken to Dallas for treatment and skin grafting the next day following the accident. He sustained serious burns.

Friends and relatives said Graham had been moved from the intensive care ward to a private room and was now able to have visitors. If all continues well Graham will be in the hospital about three or four more weeks it was said.

CALORIES DO COUNT

Calories do count, despite all you may have heard otherwise, says Louise Mason, Extension Service food and nutrition specialist.

Technically a calorie is a heat unit designed to measure the amount of energy or heat released by various foods as they are utilized by the body, she explains.

"Both the energy you supply in the food you eat and the energy you need for all you do is measured in calories," Miss Mason adds.

The balance between the energy is important to growth and weight in youth and especially to weight in the adult. You need to supply enough calories to meet the body's need but not more than your body can use.

When you eat food that gives more calories than your body uses for energy, the excess or leftover will be stored as fat.

County Sec Be Put In In Amphitheater

Mrs. E. J. Barker of Floydada was named a contest for an amphitheater in the county. The contest is being held for the entrance of the new amphitheater in the county. Mrs. Barker's contest is one of seven mile entries in the county, highlighted by a home, windmill and a foreground. This with 39 others, will be judged in the entrance theater as soon as completed.

The Floydada amphitheater is related with the new amphitheater. "I had no idea I was part of the amphitheater," Barker said she considered entering the contest in January, but in doing so she became chairman of the County Club. The contest is through a Federation of Clubs.

Dedication of the amphitheater is to be held last Sunday at the amphitheater.

At the present time with the many highly refined cereal products on the market it is especially important to read the labels when buying cereal products. Enriched or whole grain cereals products contain thiamine, niacin, and iron. It is especially important to eat foods containing thiamine because without thiamine food is not utilized properly and will cause deposition of fat in unsightly places and the build-up of acids in the body.

SO REMEMBER BUY CEREAL PRODUCTS WHICH SAY ENRICHED OR WHOLE GRAIN ON THE LABEL.

Old Violin Comes Home

Floydada's Flynn Thagard has many fond memories of watching his father play an old violin that has been in the family for the past 150 years. This was about 50 years ago when the family lived near Lakeview.

When his father passed away in March of 1913, Flynn had hopes of getting the old violin that his father had enjoyed so much, but unluckily a brother of his father, Henry Thagard took the violin to California.

Fifty years almost to the month from the time the old violin was taken from Floydada, it has been returned from California.

Flynn's uncle Henry died about 10 years ago and this past March his aunt gave the violin to Flynn.

Great grandfather Tom W. Thagard first possessed the violin in Jackson, Miss., it was then handed down to Tom W., Jr., Flynn's grandfather, who then gave it to Flynn's father. Actually, Flynn's father was the only one of the three who could play the violin.

An inscription in the violin prompted Flynn to have it examined by Tension Bros., a violin shop in Fort Worth; the inscription reads as follows: "Fried lug class verfertigt nach Antonius Strativarius Fies Facibat in Cremona is 1736."

Tension Bros. said it was not a "Strativarius", but it was their opinion that it was 227 years of age and in very good condition. They described it as "color varnish is dark brown with an amber back."

The inscription was written with a pen quill.

In describing the wood, "the back is of highly flamed curly maple and the top is of fine grain spruce. The neck is of birdseye maple."

Flynn became a little excited when he first recognized the word "Strativarius" in the inscription, but knew that it was most likely a copy and not an original.

In the meantime Tension Bros. is tracing down the maker of the violin, probably in Germany. What does the inscription say? To date no one has been able to decipher the meaning of the words.

Descendants Of Mr. & Mrs. L. E. Williams In Reunion

By Blanche Scott Rutherford

Harmony Community Center was the scene of gay festivities and much visiting as members of the L. E. Williams family met together there for a three day reunion. On Friday April 12, Cars began driving in from five different states. All nine of the sons and daughters of the late Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Williams and their husbands or wives were present for this happy occasion. They are:

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bagwell, (Robert) of Clayton, N. Mex., Mr. and Mrs. Erx Williams of Petersburg, Tex., Mr. and Mrs. Henry Allmon (Edith) of Granis, Ark., Mr. and Mrs. Leo Williams of Durango, Colo., Mr. and Mrs. Albert Clubb (Thalia) of Lubbock, Tex., Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Williams of Plainview, Tex., Mr. and Mrs. Paul Williams of Deval Oiaa, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Williams of Crosby, Tex., Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Williams of Farmington, N. Mex.

In addition to these direct descendants, there were 34 grandchildren and great grandchildren present part or all of the time.

Mr and Mrs. L. E. Williams settled on one-half section of land in Harmony in November 1904. They immediately entered into the spirit of the newly organized community, doing more than their share in church work and in all phases of community life during the many years they resided there. Their home was always open to both stranger and friend.

The highlight of this recent gathering came on Easter Sunday morning when this group of 52 family members met with friends in Carrs Chapel for the preaching service. The world's turmoil and problems of this space age seemed far away as we sat in the peaceful, little country church and recalled days long past when we gathered there with our parents and others of yesteryear whom we loved and have lost for a while.

We felt an inner strength as we listened to God's word given out by the pastor, Rev. Don Merriam. Tears filled many eyes as we sang together, "The Little Brown Church in the Vale," and united in silent prayer that we would strive to live better Christian lives.

We think Mr. and Mrs. Williams may have looked down from their portal on the other side, smiled and said: "These are our children. With them we are pleased."

R. C. ROSS GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Ross of Gruver visited in the R. C. Ross home Thursday afternoon of last week. They left three of their children, Donald, Larry and Sandra for a longer visit while they continued on to Lubbock where their oldest son, Ronald, entered the regional tract meet.

4-H'ers Urge: 'Belt 'em For Safety'

"Don't be caught dead sitting on your seat belt," was the theme of a safety article by 4-H National Safety Winner Gayle Gillen, 17, of Sparta, Tennessee. Gayle was typical among eight national winners of $400 General Motors scholarships for outstanding 4-H farm, home and highway projects. The winners also received all-expense trips to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago. The "safety-prone" boys and girls pointed out that all new model cars since 1962 are equipped with front seat belt connections. Safety authorities estimate that some 5,000 lives would be saved annually if everyone wore a seat belt. Moreover, traffic accident injuries could be reduced more than one third. "Despite increasing purchases of the belts and widely published information on their effectiveness, many people who have belts don't use them," said Gayle. "They feel they're safe just driving to the store," she added, "but it has been established that three out of four traffic fatalities happen within 25 miles of home. Over half of traffic accidents resulting in either injury or death involve speeds under 40 miles per hour."

The national winners were selected from a group of 42 state safety winners. General Motors, now in its 19th year as safety awards donor, also gave state winners all-expense trips to the Club Congress. The 4-H safety program is conducted by the Extension Service of the state agricultural colleges, the United States Department of Agriculture and the National 4-H Service Committee. Other national winners include: Leeland Alexander, 17, Okmulgee, Okla.; Jeanette Arburua, 18, Bakersfield, Cal.; Phyllis Brooks, 18, Auburn, Mass.; Bobby Cofer, 18, Forest, Va.; Jim Lowe, 17, Morrison, Col.; Sandra Price, 18, St. Francis, Kan. and Jewell Yorly, 21, Morton, Ill. Their advice for the nation's motorists: WHEN YOU GET IN YOUR CAR, FIRST FASTEN YOUR SEAT BELT, THEN FLIP THE KEY.

Texas Farmers Union President Visits Floydada; Plugs For Wheat Referendum

Outspoken support of the May 21 wheat referendum, in which Floyd County farmers and those over the nation will vote, was voiced over the High Plains last week by Jay Naman, Waco, president of the Texas Farmers Union.

Naman spent a day in Floyd County visiting with members of Farmers Union.

Naman spoke at Hereford, Lubbock, Muleshoe, Nazareth, Tulia, Silverton and Floydada on a 5-day schedule in the area.

He declared for "a positive vote favoring the wheat referendum," to obtain the two-thirds majority required to make the program effective.

In his talks, the FU president took issue with farmers organizations that are opposing the referendum. He charged "those who oppose — have lost sight of the real determination to be made by farmers in the critical referendum —" The controls that the program will impose "are no tighter than those in effect for tobacco and cotton and not nearly so rigorous as those in effect for sugar."

"The facts are that if two-thirds of the farmers vote for this program, every wheat grower will be required to comply with his acreage allotment. He can grow as much wheat as he is able to on the allotted acres, but he will receive full support only on the number of bushels to be determined by his share of the national supply used for domestic food consumed, plus a portion of exports."

Naman argued that the issue was not one of whether the federal government would increase its control over farming, but "whether farmers are willing to limit production in return for a fair price for their products."

"The farmer will simply decide whether he wants $2.00 or $1.00 wheat," Naman declared.

The Waco man is a farmer and hog grower.

Walter's In Jail, Iolia's In Hospital

Walter Leadon, Floydada negro told his employer he had to have a day off to straighten up some family affairs. He made a trip to Post, purchased some booze and then headed for his home early Friday morning.

About 5 a. m. Friday morning he chased another negro man from outside his home, went inside and proceeded to break a whisky bottle over his wife's head, according to reports from the County sheriff's office.

At approximately 5:30 a. m. Iolia Leadon and her three children burst into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Plumlee, who live a block from the Leadon home. Iolia was bleeding from numerous cuts about the face, arms and legs. The Plumlees summoned an ambulance which took Iolia to the Peoples Hospital where between 100 and 150 stitches were used to sew on a piece of her ear and to sew up deep bottle gashes on other parts of her body. Walter surrendered to sheriff's officers.

Walter is in jail and charged with aggravated assault.

SISTER OF MRS. BROCK DIES

Funeral rites were held Tuesday in the Assembly of God in Christ church in the Colored section of town. Burial was in Floydada Colored cemetery under the direction of Harmon Funeral Home.

AMERICA'S JUNIOR MISS GIVES POSING POINTERS

Local beauty queens, June graduates or anyone told they "ought to be in pictures" will want to take note of the posing pointers America's Junior Miss of 1963 offers.

Pretty Diane Sawyer of Louisville, Ky., won the title this spring in Mobile, Ala., and promptly launched her reign by posing for Carol Case's new, quick-load Kodak Instamatic Camera. Miss Case, first runner-up, is from Rapid City, S.D.

One of the most photographed teenagers in the United States, Miss Sawyer won a $6000 college scholarship in the contest and Miss Case a $4000 one. This summer she will tour major cities in the United States where she will be the subject of hundreds of popping flashbulbs and clicking lenses.

Her posing advice boils down to "Look pleasant and natural. Use make-up sparingly, to enhance rather than hide your attractiveness. Above all, just be yourself."

Other hints gleaned from her career thus far before television, movie and newspaper cameras include: when posing for a picture, try to remember to busy your hands. Point to something. Hold flowers or your own camera and you'll look more natural.

When standing for a full-length shot, take a tip from the models and place one foot behind the other at a slight angle. When sitting, cross legs above or below the knee. When you're part of a group shot, try concentrating on others rather than the camera.

Give some thought and attention to clothes and make-up. For clothes, medium tones are a better choice than dark colors. The more classic your clothes, the less dated your photograph will look in years to come. Moisten your lips just before the camera clicks. A hairdo photographs best a day or two after it's freshly set. And eyes will look luminous in a close-up if they have a touch of cold cream on the lids and a bit of mascara on the upper lashes.

KNOW YOUR INSECT ENEMY THE COTTON FLEAHOPPER

This cotton pest is hard to see, but its damage isn't. Deformed leaves, whiplike terminal growth and reduced fruit set are characteristic of fleahopper infestation.

Winged adults and wingless young fleahoppers are extremely active. They both drain sap from tender parts of cotton plants, primarily terminal buds and small squares. Many tiny squares can be killed and fall from the plant before other damage signs become evident.

Good farming practices help prevent fleahopper problems. Every fall adults lay eggs in weeds near cottonfields. Effective field cleanup and weed control cuts down on spring hatches.

When cotton is tender, fleahoppers move in from nearby weedy areas, usually about April. Greatest damage is reported in Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana. In some years, other states are hard hit too. Rainy weather favors this pest, which continues to attack cotton as long as it remains succulent.

Fleahopper populations can build fast. Entomologists recommend early control with insecticides to stop this profit-robbing insect. Cotton growers have found that a new pesticide, called Sevin, provides excellent fleahopper control even in areas where some older materials are not giving satisfactory results. This new insecticide is a carbamate, and is chemically different from phosphates, arsenicals and chlorinated hydrocarbons. It combines high toxicity to insects with less hazard to field workers who apply it as dust or spray.

Production economy is important to maintain cotton profits. Entomologists favor using a broad-range insecticide early in the season. That way, all major cotton pests can be controlled with fewer applications before they can do much damage to the crop. FHS

Gov. Connally In Paducah This Friday

Gov. John Connally will meet constituents of West Texas here Friday, April 26, during an informal open house in his honor at the Cottle County courthouse in Paducah.

The governor will be at the courthouse approximately one hour, to greet the public before making an address and participating in a western parade.

He will be at the courthouse at about 3:45 p.m. Friday. At about 4:45 p.m. the governor will make a short public address then take his place at the head of the parade.

Gov. Connally will come to Paducah to lead the western parade that will officially open the 21st Annual Cottle King Horse and Coll Show and Rodeo.

The parade, which will begin at 5 p.m., will consist of a menagerie of white horses ridden by ranch managers in West Texas, bands, floats, and riding clubs.

The two-day western affair will get underway Friday morning with an old settlers' reunion in honor of Cottle and King Counties' senior citizens and former residents. It will begin at 9 a.m. at the Veterans' Building here.

Rodeo performances are scheduled both Friday and Saturday nights, beginning at 8 p.m. Rodeo fans will see events in bare back bronc riding, calf roping, saddle bronc riding, bull dogging, bull riding, head and heels, and girls' barrel races. Stock is furnished by Ratjen Brothers of Happy, Texas.

The horse show, approved by the American Quarter Horse Association, will feature some of the finest show horses in a three-state area. Judge of the show is Ralph Howe of Seymour, an experienced horseman and approved judge of the American Quarter Horse Association.

Halter classes of the horse show are to begin at 1 p.m. Friday in the Paducah rodeo arena, and on Saturday, April 27, performance classes of the show will begin competition at 1 p.m.

Performance classes include reined junior and senior cutting, open cutting, and restricted cutting contests, along with registered junior and senior reining and open reining contests.

Rounding out festivities, a western dance festival is on the agenda both Friday and Saturday nights at the livestock grounds. It will begin at 9 p.m. in Barn No. 3.

Gov. Connally's appearance here is at the invitation of the Cottle-King Livestock and Rodeo Association in cooperation with the Paducah Chamber of Commerce and Agricultural Development. W. S. (Bill) Healy of Paducah, state representative of the 82nd Legislative District, extended the invitation on behalf of the two groups.

The 82nd District includes Cottle, Motley, Childress, Hall, Foard, Hardeman, Donley, and Wilbarger Counties.

Beef Kebabs And Salad With Safflower

New but popular is safflower oil.

Acclaimed as the most highly poly-unsaturated vegetable oil available, this new all-purpose cooking and salad oil has won the praise of chefs and homemakers for other reasons. It is light and mild-flavored — qualities which enable it to bring out the natural flavors of other foods.

With increasing attention being focused upon the importance of poly-unsaturates in the diet, safflower oil has become a regular item on food store shelves. This popular oil also is available as an ingredient in margarine.

A new easy-to-hold amber bottle protects the flavor of Saffola safflower oil.

A year-round favorite meal combines beef and vegetable kebabs and tossed salad. Both are enhanced with Saffola safflower oil.

Funeral Rites Yesterday For James Elliott

Funeral rites for a long time resident of Floydada, James Erwin Elliott, 60, were held yesterday morning in the First Methodist Church. Rev. Perry Threadgill, pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church officiated, assisted by Rev. Charles Lutrick, pastor of the Methodist Church.

Burial was held in the Strawn Cemetery near Mineral Wells. Arrangements were under the direction of Harmon Funeral Home.

Elliott was a former employe of Sparks Garage. He had terminated his employment there due to a heart attack. After recovering to an extent, he had recently accepted employment at McDonald's Implement.

The Floydada man became ill early Sunday morning at the family home on Main Street and was admitted to Peoples Hospital in the afternoon. Death occurred, apparently from a heart attack, about 8:15 Monday morning.

Mr. Elliott was a native of Falls County, Tex. He moved to Floydada in 1927 and was married here on March 3, 1929 to the former Lucille Raley. She is among survivors.

Other survivors include one son, James Erwin Jr., of Houston; one daughter, Mrs. Wesley Southernland of Floydada; two grandchildren; his mother, Mrs. G. W. Elliott of Strawn; three sisters, Mrs. Mack Herring of Strawn, Mrs. Carl Alsop of Whitesboro and Mrs. Almer Watson of California.

Pallbearers were Alva Sparks, Clem McDonald, Wayne Finley, Porter Finley, Claude Price and Harold Woody.

The children all had a dime or two. To spend as they might wish. For perhaps a five-cent movie. Or a nickel ice cream dish. For nickels then had value. And we, with childish skill. Could have more fun than youngsters today.

Get from a dollar bill. The load of groceries Dad picked up. And carried to the rig. Cost almost five dollars. But, gee, it sure was big. And packed amongst the groceries.

Were yard goods, buttons, thread. No store-bought clothes for most of us. Mom made them all instead. And on the night that Dad went in.

To pay his monthly bill. We crowded very close to him. For that extra pleasant thrill. Of the big free bag of candy. That the grocer always gave.

We not only filled our pockets. But our nickel, too, we'd save. Yes the Saturday night tradition. Is stealing fast away. Along with many other things. Of that slower, happier day.

NO DOUBT about it, this is an exciting community — if you get lonely any night, it's no trouble to find three or four meetings or programs of some sort going on. If we can get just half of what is going on each week in the paper it should be pretty lively!

I've never lived in a town that had more study clubs — if these women are reading and studying at all these meetings each week they certainly should be well-read — gosh, I tremble to attempt writing an intelligent editorial with all these studious women in the community.

My friend John Reue snooped around the Library this week since it's National Library Week, and he says we've got good readership all over Floyd County with over two books per person checked out of the Lockney and Floydada libraries this past year.

Now back to these study clubs: they're sponsoring all sorts of projects this week — one sponsors the Mrs. Floydada contest, another the Home Tour — the Garden Club sponsors the style and talent show.

In the meantime, if you men tire of all this culture, there's a big golf tournament set at the Country Club.

Chamber's Program Of Work Goes Into Mail This Week

Chamber manager John Reue announced that the annual program of work went into the mail this week and he urged all members to study the program, find their committee assignments — and "go to work."

Reue reported that over 300 committee appointments were made in over 30 projects for the year.

He pointed out that three of the projects were well underway — a new hospital for Floydada, plans for street markers, sugar beets planted in the county.

He said that Dr. Tom Theford would soon announce a clean-up campaign for the city. "Over 100 are on committees that concern agriculture," Reue continued.

Country Club. A MOTORCYCLE policeman was about to write up a ticket charging a motorist with speeding, when a woman in the back seat who could restrain herself no longer, began this tirade: "There! Didn't I tell you to watch out? But you kept right on speeding all morning, getting out of line, not blowing your horn, passing stop streets, and every thing else. Didn't I tell you, 'Drive on my friend,' exclaimed the officer, pityingly, as he proceeded to tear up the ticket. "—drive on — and may the Lord have mercy on you!"

WELL, LET'S look at a couple more funnies and go to press — The minister had just finished with the wedding ceremony when the groom, a plumber, moved over to him and said in a low whisper, "I'm sorry, parson, I haven't any money but I can stop your gas meter from registering!"

A gambler died. The funeral was well attended by his professional friends. In the eulogy, the minister said: "Spike is not dead. He only sleeps." From the rear of the chapel came the interrupting voice: "I got a hundred that says he's dead!"

The complete draft includes 21 clauses and will now go to the State Legislature to become a bill allowing the qualified voters of the above precincts to vote on whether or not they want to compose the hospital district.

If this vote receives unanimous approval, then the Commissioner's Court will appoint an official five man hospital committee to work out plans and costs with an architect, decide upon financing of the new hospital, and submit bond vote to the district's qualified voters.

To be a qualified voter, the resident of the district must be a property owner in the district. The State Legislature can consider the bill anytime after May 4, 1963. Public notification of the bill will have been published in the local paper 30 days as of that date.

The temporary committee who approved the bill met last week and includes: John Stapleton, Arthur Wylie, Dr. Andrew McCulley, John Smithner and Wendell Tooley.

heard a representative of Vibra Whirl explain the construction plans of a new stadium for the west side of the football field. He was introduced by high school principal Charles Tyer.

The board approved a reserve seat charge of $4.00 for seats in the new stadium, or $3.75 if a purchase of three years in advance.

Several bids were placed by local farm implement dealers on a new tractor and mower for the school system. They approved the bid on a Massey Ferguson 35 Deluxe and a Ford shredder.

Bob Aldredge was hired to teach school next year in Junior High school.

The board also approved the following tentative schedule for the school calendar 1963-64: Tuesday, September 3, Opening of School; September, Lubbock Fair Holiday; Thursday, November 28, Thanksgiving Holiday; Friday, November 29, Thanksgiving Holiday; Friday, December 20, Dismissal School for Christmas; Monday, January 6, Take

Annual Banquet Meeting Tonight For SP Coop Gin

Roy Bass of Lubbock will be featured speaker tonight at the banquet dinner and annual meeting of the South Plains Co-op Gin and Elevator.

The nine hole course at Floydada Country Club has gained quite a reputation for being tough even for par golfers and the number of entries seem to grow at each successive tournament.

The scenic grounds of the club wrap around historic Cochran Peak in the Blanco Canyon at a point where Colonel Mackenzie once pursued the warring Comanche.

Indefers find themselves crossing the creek some six times in negotiating the nine holes.

Chamber Board Hears Reports

The Floydada Chamber of Commerce board heard several reports at its regular meeting last Friday morning.

Chamber manager, John Reue gave the financial reports for the past three months and end of year report. The reports and the reading of the minutes were both approved. Reue also made a financial report on the Jr. Fat Stock Show.

Wayne Brown made a report on the Christmas promotion staged by the retail merchants and reported $892.00 were taken in and expenses amounted to $861.76.

This year's retail merchant Chairman Ralph Mardis reported that the retail group was sponsoring a very successful "Dollar Day" each first Monday, and that plans were being made for the Harvest of Values days beginning June 15 and "Back to School" event August 14.

Wendell Tooley reported to the group on the current phases of the proposed new hospital.

Reue told the group that his office handled 1,092 pieces of mail in December, 621 in January and 504 in February.

In other business the group discussed the need of street markers, a clean-up campaign and other coming events.

Chairman of the board Don Pemberton presided at the meeting which was attended by: Mardis, Tooley, Edell Moore, Brown, Arthur Wylie, Jack McIntosh, Reue, Ray Reed, Judge J. R. McBrien, Mayor S. W. Ross and Dr. Andrew McCulley.

Dickie Atteberry suffered a severe heart attack Friday morning, members of his family said. He is hospitalized in Peoples Hospital.

Letters To The Editor

Editor,
 Floyd County Hesperian
 I think it only fair to report that I DID attend The John Birch Society Meeting, and that I did enjoy it from the standpoint of our Birthrights of Freedom and liberty as well as a duty to see, hear and learn what is being said both in defense or offense of our National heritage and Constitution. I am proud that I had the guts to do it.

I am still not a member, nor was I solicited to become one. I heard a Christian Preacher render the most profound and divine pledge of sincerity to his God and his belief in Jesus Christ that I ever heard from a Protestant Minister.

He stated his fears of the United Council of Churches, and clearly defined his reasons and thoroughly convincing, at least to me, since I have been trying to warn my friends of these very maneuvers taking place for many years.

stated, "one must go thru Hell to get to Heaven, and I just came thru Coffeyville!" —Without defining the moral of his statement. He surrendered all the votes he had gained. Perhaps he was right, seems we have a lot of folks taking that route with this promise and display of a synthetic prosperity. Brewster too, sold his soul to Satan for a one year fling at the high spots and all he could spend.

Heaven was NOT the reward. Our new frontiersmen are practical devils too. Taking the money from the boy that gasses your car and cleans your windshield, the waitress and the store clerk to keep the fair weather boys in clover.

At the same time, surrender our Liberty to non-religious despots power and control. And while we bow our heads in silent, trusting prayer the evil knife is thrust in our backs. They really intend to take over. Truly, it was a morbid feeling to attend a meeting out here on these High Plains where the finest people on earth dwell, to see a police escort guard a Minister of the Gospel and a sacrificing American patriot endeavor to point out the imminent forces of evil that have engulfed this land of the free, regardless of the various opinions, to see our high school pupils parading with heckle signs in picket line.

Others spotted in the gallery, hired, to go these and heckle defenders of freedom and decency. Albeit - they did not heckle, one picket disappeared, two others said they needed the money, two school couples sitting by me.

They agreed that the meetings was nothing like what they had been told and even wound up dropping their checks in a pass hat, seemingly the other spotted youngsters grasped the same significance of Godliness. Frankly it was the most attentive audience I have ever sat in, and the applause was certainly jubilant and rewarding to these men.

Then compare. In Lubbock The Committee of the Council of United Nations came in by chartered plane and had the red carpet rolled out to them. Texas Tech gave a United Nations stage performance. There was no police escort or heckling reported.

In the Lubbock news cast, it was announced that the American Legion had refused to lend their Bank of Flags to Birch meeting in Amarillo. But he was wrong, there was one dissent<sup>r</sup> that caused this report. These men were surrounded with a beautiful bank of Old Glory, something few of us see anymore.

War I Veterans displayed their flags on all occasions as long as they were able to buy them. I want to add, it has been gratifying that many of our fine citizens have come to me and inquired about this meeting in earnest desperation. I can truly say the Birchers are closer with God than any of the Federal Bureaus are or the Representative from this district.

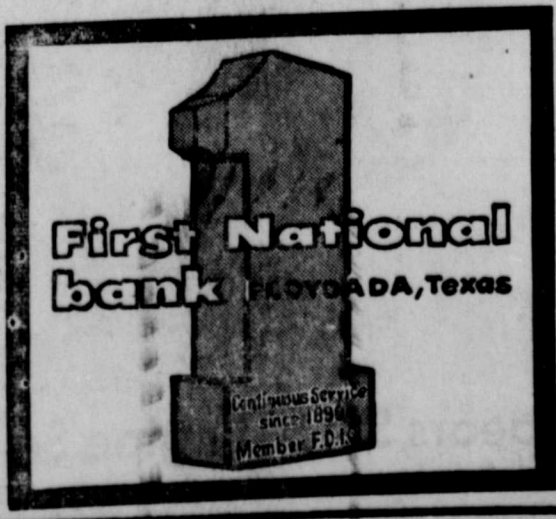

Whether Birchers, Conservatives or any other league, we truly need some organizations of patriotic committees to start some investigations of our own. Our National Party Systems have been led astray and dissipated, we need a Christian and a Gentle at the head of our national front, definitely and quick. Think of the importance, not of me.

15,580 Books In County Library; Tenth Anniversary Set For July

This being National Library Week, special displays will be found in the First National Bank of Floydada and the First National Bank of Lockney.

Floyd County is proud of its library which will celebrate its tenth anniversary in July of this year. There are 13,475 books owned presently in the Floyd County Library, besides the 2,105 state books borrowed, a total of 15,580.

Mrs. A. T. Hull has been librarian in the Floydada library for five years. Mrs. H. H. Mills is librarian in the Lockney branch and has been for nine and one-half years.

"Some enthusiastic citizens conceived the idea of a library around 1950-51 or 52. In 1952 the Commissioners Court was presented with a petition with well over 50 per cent of the qualified voters signatures for such a library.

According to Mrs. J. H. Barlow of Floydada, the first hearing for a budget for the library was in August of 1952, and the first half year budget was accumulated for the purpose of buying extra books and the library was opened in Floydada, July 1, 1953, and the Lockney branch was opened the following day.

Mrs. Rosita Holler was the first librarian, who had a wealth of experience in the field. She was assisted by a very qualified volunteer, Mrs. J. H. Barnard, who had kept the library at A & M College for a number of years, and many others. The cooperation of the library board at that time co-ordinated their efforts with these professional library people. They accepted very few donated books, working towards current reading classics, and reference books. To this date, if and when a book is presented to the library, and an adequate supply of this book is in the local shelves, it is forwarded to a library in an area just getting started.

AUSTIN, April 5 — LIBRARY WEEK IN TEXAS, April 21-27, was proclaimed recently by Governor John Connally when he signed an official memorandum setting the dates to coincide with the national observance of Library Week. Governor Connally urged all citizens to avail themselves of the library facilities in their area and to aid and encourage the development of libraries in areas not served. Witnessing the proclamation as executive director of the event: Dr. Robert R. Douglass, director of the Rosenberg Library, Galveston, who is serving as executive director of the event; Dr. Robert R. Douglass, director of the Graduate School of Library Science, The University of Texas, Austin and president of the Texas Library Association; Governor Connally, signing were: left to right, Charles O'Halloran, director of public relations, United States Steel Corporation, Houston, who is Texas state chairman for Library Week and Dr. Dorman H. Winfrey, dir. and librarian.

Floydada library received many books under such plans from other libraries at its beginning. According to County Judge J. D. Mc'Brien, the county has raised the libraries budget from $2,750 in 1952 to $100,000 within the last year. According to state laws, they are allowed up to 12c per $100 valuation.

June is the busiest month for the circulation standpoint, July, second, August third, and December the low. This is partially due to a vigorous reading program, that gets repeating without tiring youngsters to use the library. The board issues a certificate to the youngest reading twelve books and a gold seal is added to the certificate for each additional twelve books he might read.

The circulation for the Floyd County Library in 1962 was: 17,664 juvenile books, 13,896 adult books, a total of 31,560 books. Breaking that down, almost 2 1/2 books read by each man, woman and child of all ages in Floyd County.

Another source of income for the library is that of memorial books and gifts. Almost 2,000 books have been donated as memorials since the opening of the library.

The creation of this library has also motivated the use of better library facilities in all of the schools. As the library board members and enthusiasts have worked with the PTA in helping with the physical set-up of the school libraries, as well as helping them attain more and better books. By the same token, the school people of Lockney and Floydada are invaluable to the librarians in their assistance and selection of books which will be used by the students of the public schools.

"Books on Bikes" was initiated in Floydada by youngsters volunteering their services to take books to invalids and people who might not have transportation. This received statewide recognition on TV and news medias. Mrs. Alva Hull, present librarian, stated this might be re-activated as it has been in a lull. The library is open five days a week. Among other things it has growing nois, shelf space being one of these which is another reason unread books are not found on the Floydada free library shelves.

Present board members are: Mr. Weidon Harris, chairman, of Floydada, Mrs. Hollis Bond of Floydada, Mrs. Tommy Montandon, Mrs. Clyde Briley of Lockney, Mrs. W. L. Davis, Starkey Community, Mrs. D. M. Cogdell Jr., Cedar Hill area, Mrs. L. B. Brandes, Providence Community, and Mrs. Earl Edwards, S., of Lakeview Community.

Mrs. Sally Fry of Dallas, sister of Mrs. Joe Wilson, visited here with the Wilson family this past week.

Kitchen And Field News

from Lighthouse Electric Cooperative, Inc. by Nancy Morckel, Home Economist

Let's glance at what's happening in the 1963 appliance world —

At first glance you may think that not many changes have been made since this time last year. Not too many manufacturers have redesigned their appliances to make them look very different.

But it seems the differences are on the inside where they may not show — but each of these changes — even though they are unseen — were made to give the homemaker more for her money. We are told that in general, 1963 appliances will require less service. However, when the serviceman must be called he should be able to get at the mechanism that needs repairing without tearing apart either the appliance or the kitchen; the trend also continues of putting special features on medium priced as well as on top-of-the-line models. After a shopping tour of 1963 appliances might be made probably the following conclusions would be reached:

ELECTRIC RANGES: Models that look like built-ins are increasingly popular — the shelves, drop-ins, and those with eye-level ovens. The 30-inch size seems the most popular among free-standing ranges, although a number of sizes is available. A number of compact models are offered for vacation homes. In most lines it seems that ease of cleaning could scarcely be improved upon.

Refrigerators and Freezers: A half dozen or so manufacturers now have an "all-refrigerator" model, and at least three now offer a side-by-side combination refrigerator-freezer. Most all manufacturers have a no-defrosting model to offer. The talked of thermoelectric refrigerators still very expensive and not widely available when perfected, we are told will have advantages such as these to offer: no moving parts, compact, space saving size, completely silent operation, and no servicing.

Freezers are following the same design trends: smart styling, thin wall construction, and no defrosting. In 1962 forty one out of every hundred freezers sold were chest-type. Laundry Equipment: Increased capacity is a noticeable trend in both washer and dryer design. Dependability is expressed by a minimum of servicing. Dishwashers: Continue to enjoy increased sales. Continuing trends are larger capacity, quieter operations, improvement in cleaning and rinsing effectiveness. Ed Pollan went to Seagraves on Saturday with the Floydada Junior High Band students.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. James visited Mrs. James brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Vickers in Anton, over the week end. Mr. and Mrs. Grady Freeman spent the weekend in Sweetwater with their daughter and her family, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Webb and girls. Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Dalton spent the weekend in Littlefield with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Dalton. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Tate and children of Silverton spent Sunday afternoon and were supper guests in the home of her father, Doyce Smalley and Mr. Smalley. Mr. and Mrs. Alton Higginbotham and Kelly spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. DuWayne Brewer and Debbie at their home in the Broadway community, in Crosby County.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hutchins and Dale spent Sunday in Amarillo with Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Courtney. Mrs. Courtney is Mrs. Hutchins sister. According to "Research notes from Pennsylvania State University", "unblanched quick frozen peas and asparagus were judged inferior in flavor, texture and color and had higher bacterial counts than the blanched products."

Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Keisinger and children of Sunray spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Corley Guffee and children, Mrs. Guffee and Mrs. Keisinger are sisters. Mrs. Alene Thornhill and her niece, Karen Winegar of the Broadway community visited in our home Sunday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Bud Goen and Mr. and Mrs. Bud Sparks went to Lake Champion at Colorado

City last Thursday morning fishing. Mr. and Mrs. Sparks returned home Friday morning but Bud and Barbara went on to Lake Stamford and Lake Kemp for the weekend. They spent Friday night in Haskell, had supper and a nice visit with the Adron Fields family.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Barrow, Bradley Hagood, and Harry Morckel and I attended the Formal Opening and Silver Anniversary of the South Plains Electric Cooperative, Inc., in Lubbock last Friday night.

Melvin Henry attended the Annual Meeting of the South Plains Electric Cooperative, Inc., at their lovely new building, 110 N. Amarillo Road, Lubbock, last Saturday.

Congratulations to Miss Janice Trapp, on being chosen MISS F.H.S. Janice is a Lighthouse employee; she has been working after school now for several weeks. After school is out she will work regularly as General Office Clerk.

How to glaze a ham: One half hour before ham has finished baking, remove from oven. Pour off drippings and remove skin, if any is present. Score top in diamond shapes. Cover with the following glazes:

1. One cup of red currant jelly mixed with 1/2 teaspoon mustard and two teaspoons horse-radish.
2. Thaw and drain one 10-ounce package cranberry-orange relish, and add 1/2 cup corn syrup.
3. Mix well 1 cup light brown sugar, sifted; 1 tablespoon vinegar, 1 tablespoon yellow salad mustard, 2 tablespoons strained honey. Taste occasionally with fruit juices, cider, or juice from pickled peaches.

Spread the glaze of your choice over the top. Stud the ham with cloves if desired, and return ham to oven for about 30 minutes. After ham is baked, allow 15 to 20 minutes for ham to "set" for ease in carving.

If there is baked ham left, there are many uses in which it lends itself nicely for snacks and even luncheons.

This "Ham and Lima Salad" is a nice way for ham to take its place as the hearty basis for a luncheon main dish. Generous equal portions of cubed ham and drained lima beans are the foundation. Chopped hard-cooked eggs, crisp minced celery and onions, curly-tined mayonnaise, and seasonings to taste are the finishing touches. Crusty rolls, a drink, and a fruit pie complete the meal.

Something to Think About: It was once said: There's no free gate to anything worth while — Not to skill nor health, nor to success nor friendship, nor even to the lasting love and respect of those who are nearest and dearest to us — These are the items that make up the best income that any human being can have, and the sum of that income will be measured by the sum of what we are willing to pay to get it.

The Crosbyton Needle Club spent Friday in the Lighthouse Kitchen. The demonstration was Portable Appliances — or the so-called "small appliances" in our kitchens and the help they can be to a busy homemaker. Chickens were prepared on the rotisserie in the portable oven with scalloped potatoes. A pound cake was baked in the electric sauce pan. These along with salads and desserts brought by the needle club members were served for lunch to around twenty members. Candies were discussed in the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy N. Tyler and Betty Jean and Johnny of Amarillo visited Sunday with Mrs. Tyler's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. McLain. They were met there by Mr. and Mrs. Hollis McLain, Marilyn and Alison of the Sand Hill community and in the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Smith Mickey of Plainview were callers.

Grain Sorghum Industry To Fight Midge Threat

A concerned grain sorghum industry is joining together to underwrite an extensive midge control project according to Elbert Harp, President of the Grain Sorghum Producers Association. All segments of the concerned industry are collecting funds to initiate the work, beginning immediately.

Officials of Grain Sorghum Producers Association, the Texas Certified Seed Producers Association, Inc. and other interested people have held several meetings with the entomologists and officials of Texas Agricultural Experiment Station to work out the details of an "Emergency Control Study". Texas Experiment Station and the Grain Sorghum Industry will conduct this project on a matching fund basis.

G.S.P.A. officials estimate that the area economy will suffer a loss of 30 to 50 million dollars annually if the midge damage should increase to 20 percent of the crop production. Although heaviest infestations have been in the South Plains of Lubbock, Terry, Floyd, Hale and Crosby Counties, the midge has left its mark on sorghum grown throughout the

MAN'S INVENTION

Cotton Gleaner To Be At Littlefield

The Littlefield Manufacturing Co., and the product will be known as the LFD Cotton Gleaner. The "LFD" was the cattle brand of the old Littlefield Ranch, according to residents here.

The gleaner, invented by Thomas, is a 5-row piece of equipment. It picks up cotton that has fallen on the ground, Garrison said. The machine could be used to advantage after other mechanical harvesters have worked a field, Thomas said.

Experimented Several Years

Organizational directors of the new manufacturing company are: Joe Montgomery, Production Credit official; John D. Smith, farmer and Jim Mangum, insurance man. Stockholders all Littlefield businessmen, include: Troy Armes, R. B. Chandler, Arthur Duggan, E. O. Feagley, Man-cil Hall, Arnold Neumann, Skipper Smith, E. J. Wicker, and Birkelbach.

Montgomery, who set out to sell stock in the corporation, said he sold the $500,000 capital stock before a committee meeting could be called.

Thomas had experimented with the gleaner machine several years before perfecting it, he said.

Di-Syston-Treated Plants Are Stronger, Straighter... Produce More Squares Earlier

West Texas and New Mexico cotton growers now have a new way to control thrip damage and early-season stunting... with Di-Syston granular insecticide. Di-Syston is placed in the soil with the seed or side dressed after planting. The chemical is then absorbed by the growing roots and carried to all parts of the plant through the sap stream—as soon as the plant emerges. No part of the plant is unprotected—even tender new growth as it is formed.

The result? With Di-Syston, your early cotton grows faster, has stronger, straighter stems, more vigorous foliage. Squares form earlier and the plant produces more of them. Many growers in the Lubbock area have reported full season control of thrip with just the one application. You get higher yields because of the good Di-Syston start. This year, get your crop off to a good start with Di-Syston. Complete instructions for use are printed on the label on every package. Use Di-Syston.

General Motors Science Show Comes To Floydada Schools, Wednesday, May 1

"Liquid sunshine" powers a portable radio. A small boat-shaped vehicle floats on a cushion of air. And a "misbehaving" suitcase illustrates principles used in modern guidance systems. Floydada students will see these and other interesting demonstrations when the famed General Motors science show, "Previews of Progress," appears at the school on Wednesday, May 1.

"We seek through Previews to inspire more young people to science and engineering and provide the trained talent America must have to keep pace with the promise of the future," John F. Gordon, president of General Motors, declares.

Bruce Schroffel and Jerry Bishop of General Motors Public Relations Staff will narrate the 45-minute, non-commercial presentation. They are one of seven teams that take the show to more than a million students each year.

One of the highlights of the show is a fuel cell, a device that converts chemical energy into electrical power. Potentially one of the most significant scientific developments of the century, the fuel cell manufactures electricity with much greater efficiency than is now obtained from conventional power plants.

In the show, a few drops of "liquid sunshine" added to the cells provide enough energy to operate a portable radio.

Another example of solar energy, the amazing Sunmobile, will be demonstrated. The 15-inch model car depends on eight photoelectric cells for its operation. The button-like cells on the hood of the car convert light rays into electricity which drives a small electrical motor inside the car. A 300-watt lamp is used to simulate the sun's rays in the show. As the light strikes the cells, the Sunmobile moves smoothly across a table.

In addition to sun power, the Previews audience will see a Ground Effect Machine in operation. The small craft that resembles a boat is designed to skim over land or water on a cushion of air.

The operation of the Previews GEM is simple. Air pulled through the top is blown out at the bottom by a model airplane engine. Higher pressure under the vehicle keeps the craft floating on air.

Another Previews sequence illustrates principles used in modern guidance systems. A student volunteer will manipulate a suitcase with "a mind of its own" as the lecturer explains how today's planes, ships and missiles are safely guided along predetermined courses.

Students will also see the Exploding Wire Phenomenon. Using the principle of stored energy, a 10-watt power supply furnishes over 30-million watts in an instant to demonstrate the electrical disintegration of a fine wire. This phenomenon may some day propel space vehicles.

Other Previews demonstrations include examples of the wonders of modern chemistry and a capsule history of jet propulsion traced from 200 B. C. to futuristic gas turbine power.

Previews of Progress has already been seen by more than

THE SUNMOBILE—WATCH IT GO!—The amazing Sunmobile, a car that runs on sunshine, is shown in action in this time exposure. The button-like photovoltaic cells on the hood turn light energy into electrical energy to move the model car. A 300-watt lamp simulates the sun. The Sunmobile is one of the demonstrations in the General Motors science show Previews of Progress. The 40-minute, admission-free, stage show dramatizes the wonders of science before two million American students and adults each year.

County Agent Warns Of Bugs On Fruit Trees

Many people are looking forward to having an abundant supply of backyard peaches and plums in a few months but unless proper care is rendered the bugs will leave little fruit, states H. T. Davison, Floyd County Agent.

Trees should have received a second spraying since it has been about 15 days since about 75 percent of the petals have fallen on most trees. For small home orchards a hand spray that will supply about 75 pounds of pressure can be used. Insecticides that should be applied by spraying are Methoxychlor or malathion plus wettable sulphur.

Highway Patrol Investigates Seven Accidents

The Highway Patrol investigated 7 rural accidents in Floyd County during the month of March according to Sergeant D. S. Lawson, Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These wrecks accounted for three persons killed, fifteen persons injured and an estimated property damage of $8,656.00.

The rural traffic accident summary for Floyd County from January through March of 1963 shows a total 12 crashes resulting in 3 persons killed, 15 persons injured and an estimated property damage of $10,841.00.

Each year, with the coming of April, it seems natural for motorists to want to get back on the highway and enjoy the invigorating atmosphere and colorful countryside. Many of these motorists are apt to forget that increased violations of traffic laws play a vital roll in the annual traffic accident toll.

The motorist should realize that highway travel multiplies by leaps and bounds in April. The Sergeant stated, "What better time than April to remind motorists, pedestrians, and all street and highway users about the importance of knowing and obeying traffic laws."

Reduction Program Could Help Ease Vast Acres Of Farm Land

The Kennedy reduction and could help untold millions of acres of older farm land because they sold under the present proposal.

"Here's the Bird To Call For Protection" Insurance Agency

Half of this, or $50 billion, would be subject to a capital gains tax which, under existing tax rates, would be upwards of $10 to $12 billion.

Tax Bite Limits Sales

Some real estate authorities believe the sharp increase in land values during the past 20 years has been due to the limited supply of land offered for sale. This supply has been limited in turn, they say, by the big capital gains tax the seller would have to pay.

As a result, beginning farmers and those who want to enlarge their units must pay more than perhaps would be the case if the would greatly ease this tax liability and might lead to the sale of many farms.

The nation's farmlands and buildings at present are valued by the Agricultural Department at 140 billion. This is an increase of more than 400 per cent since 1940. A large portion of the farms were under their present owners in 1940.

Under present tax laws, the amount by which the sales price exceeds the price paid is classed as a capital gain. If the property has been held longer than six months, 50 per cent of the gain is taxable. Thus if all the farms were sold this year under the present provisions, there would be a capital gain of upwards of $100 billion. This assumes that all farms were acquired at the 1940 values, which they were not. Some were bought earlier and some later.

Under the Kennedy proposal, only 30 per cent of the gain value would be subject to taxation. In addition the rates on the taxable gain would be reduced. Those rates now range from 10 to 25 per cent, depending on the amount of the gain and other income. They would be reduced to rates ranging from 4.2 to 19.5 per cent.

For example, a farmer who bought a farm in 1940 for $50,000 and sold it under the present tax structure for $150,000 would pay a capital gains tax of $23,800 on the $100,000 gain. Under the Kennedy plan, the tax would be only $9,312.

The administration plan also would change tax treatment of farms left to heirs on the owner's death or transferred by him as a gift. Under present law, inherited land is subject to gift taxes, but not to capital gains taxes. The new plan would make it subject to capital gains taxes at the death of the owner or at the time of transfer as a gift.

The administration has said that it is unfair for the appreciation in value of some property to escape taxation because the property is held until the owner's death, while other owners, who sell property during their lifetimes, are required to pay a heavy tax on the appreciation.

This latter proposal, however, would have little effect on small and medium-sized farms. The first $15,000 of gain would be permanently exempted from tax and the tax on the gain on property passing to a spouse, up to one-half the total gain, would be postponed until the spouse's death. A personal residence could be exempted in all cases.

Floyd Philosopher Claims Russians Use Lie Detector Test In Reverse To Select Diplomats

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass mats. They pick out a large group of prospects and give them a lie detector test. The last thing the Russians would want in their diplomatic service would be a man who had the unstable trait of men who make the lowest cost of telling the truth. I don't know what brand of machine the Russians use, but obviously they're years ahead of us.

Dear editor:

I've been noticing lately that more and more people are taking lie detector tests. Football and basketball players take them, coaches take them, criminals take them, suspects take them, etc. But more than now employing the lie detector, and prospective employees are sometimes required to take the test to see if they can be trusted later on.

Why some people have even suggested that politicians take the tests, but nothing much has come of it. I guess they're waiting till sturdier models of the machines come out.

Another use for the lie detector machine which nobody else seems to have thought of and which I offer free of charge would be in the public schools. One of the worst chores of teaching, I understand, is grading papers. My system would eliminate this. All you'd have to do is strap each kid in a lie detector machine at examination time. Then instead of asking him if Columbus discovered America in 1492, ask him simply if he knows when Columbus discovered America. If he says yes he knows, the machine will automatically record whether he's telling the truth or not, and an adding machine attached to it would register the grade at the bottom of the test. By using the machines from first grade through college, I figure one billion man-and-woman hours of labor per month grading papers will be eliminated.

I don't know whether this is true or not, but I've heard a rumor, which I made up myself, that the Russians are years ahead of us in the use of the lie detector machine.

For example, say the Russian

Lon Miller Places In FFA Contest

Lon Miller won second in public speaking at the FFA district contests in Plainview last week. His speech topic was, "Making A Start in Farming."

Lon was also selected as a nominee for state office. Officers will be selected May 11 at the Amarillo High School.

Farm Bureau Facts & Faces

Attending a Young People's Committee meeting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Adams, Monday, April 15 were Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Wells and Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Pratt. Discussion about the High School Citizenship Seminar was the main topic for the evening. The student and alternates have been chosen from Floydada High School and probably balloting was completed among the Lockney High School Faculty some time this week.

The last word received from the office in Waco indicated that as of April 1 we lacked about seventy-five students having the minimum required. We feel that possibly many of the counties had not answered and will have done so by now. We did notice that Hale County is sending ten students.

Tentative plans were discussed concerning a Talk Meet and Talent Find for Floyd County. Further action was tabled until approval from the Board of Directors is sought. June and Marvin Wells agreed to handle any radio publicity necessary. The Young People's Committee also was appointed to act as the publicity committee. Any member desiring to place news in this column should contact the county office or Mrs. A. C. Pratt.

Miss Valdene Garner of Brownfield, Texas Farm Bureau Queen, addressed the Senate and the House of Representatives the week of April 12. She was a genuine credit to the Texas Farm Bureau, as her charm, poise, and beauty brought many favorable comments from lawmakers.

Social Security Benefits Increase

Monthly old-age, survivors, and disability insurance benefits in Floyd County now top $60,400. John G. Hutton, District Manager of social security in Lubbock, said today on releasing his annual county benefit data report.

The new monthly figure represents an increase of 10 percent over the corresponding period last year.

"This increase can be attributed to the changes in the law in recent years, as well as to the growth of our aged population," Mr. Hutton said. "This money stimulates county business; most of it is spent for food, clothing and shelter."

"There is no longer any doubt, Social Security benefits are helping to stabilize the income and spending power of many residents in Floyd County."

Monthly benefits first became payable in January, 1940, and they have continued without interruption for 23 years, accompanied by a steady growth in the number of beneficiaries. Mr. Hutton noted that as of December 31, 1962, some 1,143 residents of Floyd County were collecting about $724,000 annually from social security, an increase of 13 percent over 1961.

More people in Floyd County, he said, could draw social security benefits if they knew more about the law, and for that reason they are urged to visit or call the local social security office whenever they have a question concerning their benefits or responsibilities.

As of January, 1963, in the nation at large, more than 18 million beneficiaries were receiving payments at the rate of over $1 billion per month.

The average monthly old-age retirement benefit in January was $76.19 for all States, while in the State of Texas the average was $68.49, Mr. Hutton said.

MRS. D. S. BATTEY ON CONTINENTAL TOUR

Mrs. D. S. Battey left Tuesday for a Continental Trailways Tour and will return to her Floydada home about the 7th of May. Mrs. Battey is being accompanied by her daughter's mother-in-law of Perryton.

The tour will take in the states of Arkansas, Tennessee, Oklahoma, Texas, North Carolina, Virginia and along the coastal region to see other characteristics, National and historical scenes. The tour will also include Washington D. C. and New York where the women will be for two days, then on to Niagara Falls and back through the Central States.

Asked if Mr. Battey wasn't making the tour, Mrs. Battey said he commented "I'd rather go fishing".
