The Odd Fellows and Rebekahs of Floydada will be host to the South Plains Association of Odd Fellows & Rebekahs on Saturday, April 15th.

Meeting of the Association will be held in the new Duncan Elementary School. Some 250 to 300 people are expected to attend from the surrounding towns on the South Plains.

The morning session will be open to the general public from 8 a.m. to 12 noon. This will consist of the Presentation of the Flag by Junior Odd Fellows of Lubbock, Presentation of the Bible, and the Welcome address by Mayor Leonard Matisler. Mr. Arnold Bishop of Plainview is President and Mrs. Lawlis Parkey of Floydada is Vice President of the Association. All Odd Fellows and Rebekahs are urged to attend.

Clouds Dump Moisture In Some Areas

Rain clouds played "skip and jump" over Floyd County Tuesday night, dumping up to .70 at the Weldon Hammonds place and leaving only a trace at Dougherty, McCoy and Barwise.

Floydada recorded .24; Milton Harrison at Lakeview .10; E.W. Walls at Fairview, half inch; Lockney .35 and half; and Parks Oil at South Plains, half inch.

No hail was reported in this vicinity as far as South Plains but it was understood that a strip through Lockney received considerable hail damage.

Floydada Merchants Agree To Follow Daylight Savings Time

Over 40 Floydada merchants attended the retail trades committee meeting last week and agreed to follow the new daylight saving time law that will begin the end of this month.

Most agreed to put in the same amount of hours in business each day. Some farm implement firms indicated they might stay open later in the afternoons, which is normal procedure for this time of the season.

Superintendent A. E. Baker said the Floydada school system would also observe the "new time."

To explain the time difference that the new law involves it might be explained as follows: "If real time is 7 o'clock . . . do you move the clock up to 8 or back to 6?" You move it up to 8 o'clock. This means that both daylight and dark will arrive an hour later than normal.

SPECIAL PROMOTIONS In other business the retail merchants agreed that they would sponsor no special promotions as a city wide effort to bring the consumer to Floydada.

84 Sign Up For Baseball

Larry Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Watson Jones Jr., won the Spelling Bee championship honors for Floyd County Monday night at the annual bee held in the court house.

Larry spelled correctly the 593rd word given him. Correcting the misspelled word "pickle", the 12 year old seventh grade student won the bee by spelling the word, "picnickian".

The youngster will represent Floyd County in the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal Spelling Bee Saturday, April 29th.

A junior bee for the fifth and sixth grade students was also conducted. This bee is given so that younger students may have the opportunity to spell without competition of older spellers, and, also, to gain experience for the following year's bee when they will be eligible to participate in the senior spelling bee.

Brian Vickers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Vickers of Dougherty, won the junior division spelling bee.

Runner-up in the senior division was Shelley Collins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Collins of Lockney. Other contestants were Mark Aldredge, Floydada; Cindy Tiner, Lockney.

LIGHTHOUSE ELECTRIC

1100 Attend Annual Meeting

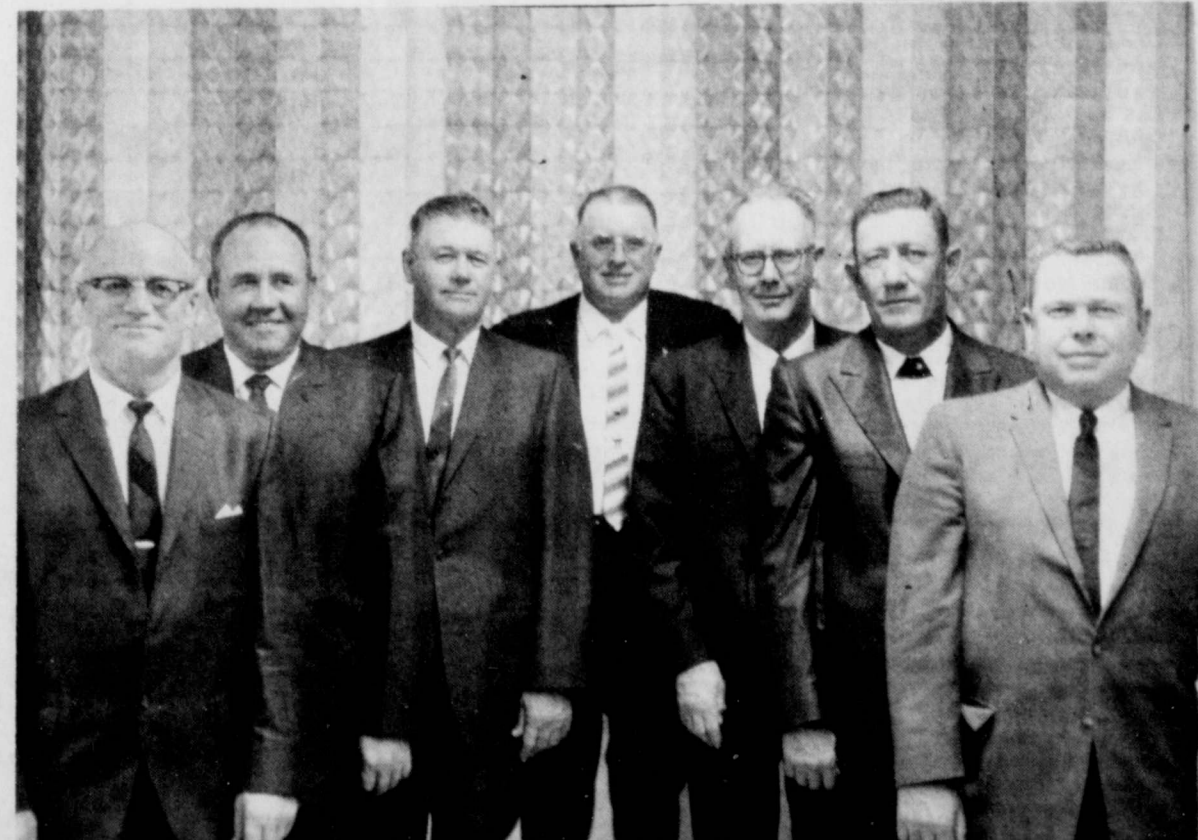

The 28th Annual Meeting of Lighthouse Electric Cooperative was held Saturday, April 8 at Floydada High School. The meeting was highlighted by the announcement of Manager Melvin Henry of the completion of another successful year and of the continued growth of the cooperative in number of members served.

Johnnie Ammons, Manager of Midwest Electric Cooperative, Roby, told the audience of his experiences in establishing rural electric cooperatives in South Vietnam and related that with the exception of the war, the problems faced there were similar to our own rural problems 30 years ago. Mr. Ammons worked with the Agency for International Development during the six months he was in Vietnam.

Others featured on the program were Margie Dean and Belvred Jack, local winners of the 1967 Government-in-Action Youth Tour Contest. Their topic was "Rural Electric Cooperatives, Helping Texas Grow." Herman King, President, R.C. Ratheal, Vice-president, and Odell Breed were re-elected to three year terms to the board of directors of the cooperative.

Approximately 1100 members and guests attended the meeting.

1970 Target Date

Target date for the project has been pegged as 1970. The water authority's board of directors includes: Jim Tom Nichols and John Ziegler, Tulsa; Charles Whitfill and Milton Dudley, Silvertown; O. C. Bailey and Tom Moore, Lockney; and S. W. Ross and Lon Davis, Floydada.

Davis is president of the board. Nichols is vice president. Report of the engineering studies in summary, presented to the directors Friday night was: "Probably one of the best locations in West Texas."

Exact location of the dam and lake will be on Tule Creek, 2,300 feet west of FMR 284, west of Silvertown in Briscoe County; and east of Tulla in Swisher County.

The 2,300-foot dam of earth fill is expected to impound 46,500 acre feet of water with a surface area under water of 886 acres, upped to 1,150 acres if flood waters escape over the spillway.

Water at the dam will be 130 feet deep, according to Davis, the water board of directors president.

"The proposed site is in a deep canyon and this offers a real good evaporation factor," Davis pointed out.

The scenic surrounding area will provide an ideal recreation area, it was noted. The site is near where Gen. Ranald Mackenzie engaged the Comanches in the last Indian wars of western Texas.

Three forks or draws of Tule Canyon feed into the proposed lake site. Tule Canyon runs into Palo Duro Canyon north of the proposed site.

The immediate contributing watershed of the site is 188 square miles with an added area of 1,150 square miles dotted with playa lakes, that could feed into the lake if flooding conditions ever existed.

A pipeline system will take waters from the lake to the four member towns. A treating plant will be located about 2 miles from the lake. Twenty-inch lines will carry water to Tulla, where a ground water storage unit will be located, with an 18-inch line to tie into Tulla's mains; a 14-inch line from the pumping station to Silvertown, the nearest town; 20-inch line to Lockney, where another underground storage unit will be located, with 14-inch line leading into Lockney's mains; and 16-inch line to Floydada, the south terminal town.

The engineer's report, which included geological foundation and soil reports; economic study and projections; statistical projections including amount of water, quality of water and water treatment; was "very favorable," according to water authority board members.

They said the economic study reflects good sound economy in the tri-counties area to be served. The composite population of the area towns to be served by the 1960 census was 11,418. This is estimated to climb to 26,000 by the year 2,000.

Quality of the water is declared "excellent," by the engineering report.

Feasibility of the dam, lake and pipeline system now is firmly established.

Towns of the water authority are expected to write their own rate structures. Bond issues will be necessary in each town. The bond proposal in the election will be two-fold: 1. Acceptance of water contracts; 2. Straight bond issues to provide money for the financing of the project.

As regards financing, the water authority hopes to sell its bonds to the Texas Water Development Board at a good interest rate. A 40-year amortization schedule will be established to repay the loan.

Notice to Parents Headstart Students

Parents of children who will be 6 years old on or before Sept. 1, 1967, and who are interested in their child attending the "Head Start School Program" this summer are requested to make a special effort to register their child or children at R.C. Andrews Elem. school April 13 and 14.

The program is expected to begin June 12 and will run for 8 weeks.

CAPROCK

Most of the men in that meeting will be dead and gone before the pay out. They are men who must plan for the future... they're looking at the very existence of these four towns (drinking water you know)... they're planning for their children and grandchildren.

Floydada's Lon Davis made a very good presentation of the facts and figures to the group... Lon is president and it's evident that he has spent many hours of study on the project.

We have said for the past three years that the cost of dam water is going to be high in comparison with the underground water. We had been looking at the cost of the White River dam project which ran a little over four and a half million dollars... we knew that the Mackenzie dam would be larger and had estimated that it might cost over five million dollars. Of course everyone was very surprised when the estimate came in at almost eight million dollars.

When you look at the cost breakdown... the dam is one of the smaller items. The pumping station and pipelines to the cities add much to the cost of the project.

I've reprinted a summary of the project from H. M. Baggarly's column in the Tulla paper last week over on page ??? of this edition of the Hesperian.

I believe it is a pretty accurate report except for his indications that Floydada's been rationed water. We have plenty of water now... and probably the main reason that the records show that Tulla people are using over 100 gallons of water per capita a day more than Floydada people is because the Tulla city office doesn't have as good metering record of their park water service as the Floydada city office.

I GOT A report from Aldine Williams who flew to Washington D.C. last week on Farmers Union's Cotton Fly-In. He visited with some 24 congressmen.

Aldine thinks that the cotton support price program is on the way out. Of course the present program is good for this year and two more.

Aldine thinks that the cotton program may eventually go to a program similar to the wool government marketing plan.

In looking at the booklet Aldine brought back, it is interesting to note that Farmers Union has several suggestions about what will help the cotton farmer:

1. Add cotton to the food stamp program.
2. Increase government payments and diversion payments.

3. Non recourse price support loan program.
4. CCC sales policy to move the cotton directly from farmer to user.

5. Quality price differentials should be widened.
6. Continue skip row program like in 1966.

7. Curb cotton imports.

The study also revealed that in 1947 a businessman's shirt retailed for $4.17. The farmer received 28 cents for the cotton, or 7 percent. Latest available information shows that the shirt cost $4.24 and the farmer's return for the cotton was 27 cents, or 6 percent.

BILL CAGLE was by the office just before press time with a bulletin from A & M warning horse owners about feeding sorghum sudangrass type forage hybrids. Said this type feed might be related to a little known horse disease...cystitis syndrome. I suggest you ask your favorite feed dealer about this warning.

Bob Taylor of Floydada Cable Vision was in at press time yesterday to say that if he gets the Ralls franchise, he'll soon be able to announce construction date for the Floydada service.

Plans Made For Annual Old Settlers Gathering

Members of the Floyd County Pioneers Association met Friday afternoon to make plans for the Old Settlers Reunion in Floydada May 28. The date falls on a Sunday but festivities will be held Saturday, May 27.

Joe Reeves of Lockney presided over the meeting.

The program starts with registration at 9 a.m. with Margaret Collier in charge. The usual business meeting and election of new officers will follow at 10 a.m. Plans were discussed on securing addresses of each out of town pioneer registrant in order that the association can send them special written invitations each year to attend the event.

Mrs. Goree Applewhite of Lockney and Mrs. Jack Henry of Floydada will be in charge of the morning memorial services and Mrs. Maud Hollums and John Stapleton are in charge of securing a guest speaker, scheduled for 11 a.m.

Joe Reeves will be in charge of the pioneer and traditional songs prior to the noon luncheon of barbecue to be served by a catering service. Meal tickets will be sold this year. Gospel singing will follow at 1 o'clock.

Floyd Jackson and Sid Walker will head the parade committee, which starts at 2 p.m.

Several changes in the parade program there will be a 32 largest participation parade and the coronation "Miss Old Settlers" prize that as junior band participating band.

Also eliminated fiddlers contest of this year will be a Floydada and chairman will be soon as confirmation is received. Mrs. Williams was named and Mrs. Lockney. A parade event is scheduled to be followed by the dance at 6:30.

A.V.O.L. TROOPS The latest Plans show that the number going A.V.O.L. has increased to 55,190 instances men falling to the posts on time last year.

Mansfield bids peace talk.

HOW TO REMOVE STAINS FROM PLASTIC FABRICS

Plastics require special treatment. They should never be cleaned with a solvent. After cleaning wax to restore luster. To remove dirt and grime - Sponge with warm water and mild detergent and allow to soak for a few minutes to loosen dirt; then rub briskly. Repeat the process when necessary. Rinse and wipe with a damp cloth until nearly dry.

Nail polish, nail polish remover, shoe polish and ball-point pen ink - These substances will cause permanent harm to plastics. Remove as quickly as possible with a clean cloth. To remove paint - Wipe off with a clean white cloth dampened with turpentine or kerosene. Do not use paint remover on plastic. Use care when using turpentine - It is suggested that you pretest a small, inconspicuous area.

To remove sulphide stains - Atmosphere permeated with coal gas or direct contact with hard-boiled eggs, permanent wave hair solutions and other sulphur solutions can stain plastic. These stains may be removed by placing a clean white cloth over the spotted area and pouring a liberal amount of 6 percent hydrogen peroxide (available at any drugstore) on the cloth and allowing it to remain on the spot from 30 minutes to one hour. If spot persists, allow the cloth to remain overnight. Do not let the hydrogen peroxide solution come in contact with stained or lacquered wood, or permit it to seep into seams of upholstery, since it will weaken cotton thread.

To remove tar, asphalt, creosote - Wipe off as quickly as possible with a cloth dampened with kerosene or naphtha. Tar left for any length of time will produce an indelible, yellow-brown stain.

In all, 31 golfers took part in the two-day meet which was marred slightly Tuesday morning by a light rain. It didn't seem to bother the players, however.

"THANKS LAWRENCE"

The following statement of appreciation to retiring school board member Lawrence Davis was approved by the Floydada board Monday night:

"Whereas, it was the lot of our retired associate, W. L. Davis to make for himself a place of honor and loyalty, and to be given the satisfaction of knowing that the ample fruits of his labors will remain for years to come for the enrichment of the school and the community;

"Whereas it has been a service, though often unpleasant, and at sacrifice to his personal affairs, nevertheless a service rich in results for education in the present, and the future of the Floydada Independent School District and to the community;

"And whereas, the board has suffered a loss in the retirement of so faithful a worker;

"Be it therefore resolved, that the board of trustees of this Floydada Independent School District express to W. L. Davis in writing, the deep appreciation of its members for what he has done for the organization, and these trustees, their sense of loss in his departure from the group, as well as the expression of their good wishes for his future endeavors wherever he may be led to serve;

"Be it further resolved that a copy of this resolution be spread upon the Minutes of the board meeting held on this 10th day of April 1967.

Sister Of Mrs. Simmons Dies Of Injuries

Rev. and Mrs. R. C. (Doc) Tension of Brownwood were involved in an accident Saturday morning, April 1 in which Mrs. Tension received fatal injuries. She died some twelve hours later in Hendricks Memorial Hospital in Abilene. Rev. Tension sustained bruises and shock. Mrs. Tension is the sister of Mrs. W. S. Simmons of Floydada.

The couple were enroute to Idalou at the time of the mishap and were planning to attend a Homecoming at the Baptist Church there the following day. Rev. Tension was to bring the message. He had pastored the church in two separate occasions and it was the first church he pastored following the couple's marriage.

The accident occurred near Benjamin. Mrs. Tension, driver of one car, was attempting to turn around on the highway to retrace a short distance and did not see an approaching car driven by a young man by the name of Welch, son of a minister. Welch, who resides in Munday, Tex., stated that he came over a rise in the highway and saw the car turn onto the highway but was unable to stop in time to avoid the collision. He said after applying the brakes he turned his car into a skid and it slammed sideways into the driver's side of the Tension vehicle.

Welch was uninjured and rendered assistance to the couple until additional help arrived. Funeral rites for Mrs. Tension were conducted at the First Baptist Church in Brownwood April 3. Burial was in the cemetery at Hamilton. Mrs. W. S. Simmons, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Cates and Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Cates of Floydada attended last rites.

Survivors include the husband; two sons, Bob of Arlington and Rev. Isaac Tension of Sherman; one daughter, Mrs. Ferris Aiken of Ballinger; three step-sons, Rev. Clifton Tension, West Monroe, La., Eugene of Wichita Falls and Rev. Grayson Tension, missionary to Portugal and 14 grandchildren. All were present for the funeral with the exception of the Grayson Tension family.

Also surviving Mrs. Tension is her mother, Mrs. H. I. Cagle of Amarillo; three sisters, Mrs. Simmons of Floydada, Mrs. Otis Milton and Miss Daisy Cagle both of Amarillo and three brothers, Rev. R. H. Cagle, Colorado Springs, Fred Cagle of Amarillo and Bill Cagle of Hollis, Okla.

Radio Hams Now Link Soldiers With Homelinks

22 Army Military Radio System is operational in Thailand serving messengers and according to the Fourth Army, contacts are handled by the overseas stations. First is the phone-patch or radio-telephone link by which the serviceman is enabled to talk with his folks back home. Second is the wireless written-type message which, when it reaches its destination, is mailed or phoned by a MARS operator to the recipient.

Families in the United States are not permitted to initiate a phone-patch due to the difficulty in contacting specific areas in Vietnam and Thailand. However, anyone desiring to send a written message to service personnel overseas has only to contact any MARS member. In Hawaii, Alaska and the other 48 states there are 32 stations authorized to handle both phone-patch and written messages. Of these, six are in the Fourth Army area: Headquarters Fourth Army Command MARS Station, Fort Sam Houston, Tex.; Fort Hood, Tex.; Fort Sill, Okla.; Fort Polk, La.; Fort Bliss, Tex., and U.S. Army Aeronautical Depot Maintenance Center, Corpus Christi, Tex.

Once the radio circuit is established between the MARS station overseas and an authorized MARS station in the Fourth Army area (Arkansas, Louisiana, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas), phone-patches are handled as accurately and as quickly as possible, depending on the quality of the radio signals being received, Belk said.

On the other hand, wireless type or written messages from senders in the Fourth Army area to Vietnam and Thailand must be relayed through the Headquarters Fourth Army Command MARS Station. This station recently increased its capabilities to permit an attendant to monitor Four Army MARS 24 hours daily, seven days a week. Anyone desiring to contact this station, A5USA, may do so by calling San Antonio CA 1-3003.

"Transmission of written messages for soldiers and their families serves a twofold purpose," Belk emphasized. "Most important, it serves as a training means which is invaluable to civilian MARS members in mastering the military radio operating procedures. In doing so, these individuals may some day provide the only communication link during a national emergency or disaster. Secondly, the messages serve soldiers overseas and in the states who are separated from their families with a speedy and cost-free means of communication."

All MARS members are amateur operators. In the Fourth Army area there are more than 30 military or club-type MARS stations and about 700 individual MARS members, 95 percent of whom are civilians such as doctors, lawyers, printers and housewives, who operate amateur stations in their homes.

Since Jan. 1 they have averaged more than 10,000 volunteer hours a month in MARS activities, helping servicemen and their families to communicate with one another.

By IDA SING

THIS country was founded on freedom and—not freedom from—discipline. But today problem children and delinquents are developing earlier, criminals are starting younger, parents have less control over their offspring, and schools are less able to cope with behavioral problems and dropouts.

Federal, state, and local governments are spending more money, hiring more experts, and doing more and more research, trying to bring some order out of the chaos we have brought on ourselves. Still, our children have greater and greater freedom from discipline.

The father of one six-year-old girl asked the superintendent of a training school if he could bring her to visit "to show her where she might wind up if she doesn't start minding me."

The mother of a four-year-old boy was heard to remark as he took a second package of cookies from the supermarket shelf: "I just can't do anything with him any more."

A young mother left her guests to lie down with her eight-month-old baby. "She won't let me put her down alone," she apologized.

Thousands of other examples demonstrate how early we lose control over our children. Why? Because we are afraid of our children's disapproval, or of causing some terrible trauma. Or we are just too busy to get intimately acquainted with our youngsters.

There still are mothers and fathers who, with God's guidance, confidently and matter-of-factly, assume they know best for their baby. As the child increases in understanding, parents spend time and thought explaining the "why" of things to him, all the while showing their love in a very positive way.

Regrettably, though, a larger number of us are too busy, too soft, and too scared to be more than nominal parents. We try to kid ourselves into believing we are good parents if we provide material necessities and a few luxuries.

Have we misinterpreted the books on child psychology? Are we convinced we will do irreparable harm to their little psyches if we keep our children from doing just what they want? Perhaps we should give some thought to the danger of letting them feel we do not love them enough to set standards or give direction and restraint to their impulsiveness.

Self-expression? By all means. But if a child feels that nobody at home takes the time and trouble to make him behave, it is damaging to his self-esteem; and his conduct is likely to correspond to his low opinion of himself.

To know that someone cares what we do is to feel loved. So, even though they fight it all the way, children crave to be controlled. A 16-year-old boy visiting us made this clear to me. He mentioned some things he wanted to do, and I replied: "I don't care." When he repeated what he had said, I told him again: "I don't care." At that he pounded the table and roared in a voice half playful, half plaintive: "Don't tell me you don't care! Teen-agers want discipline, don't you know that?"

Not many youngsters have his insight. Undisciplined, most of them only know they feel angry without knowing why, and they release their anger through unacceptable behavior. If they have not received discipline from parents, if they do not understand that discipline represents love and concern, they are not going to accept discipline from institutions, or the law. The responsibility, thus, is tossed right back into the home, where it always has belonged.

When Junior wails: "Everybody else does it," or "Everybody has one," the logical caring adult's reply is, "But you are not just everybody, you are my own special child. And I don't think this is the best thing for you (or we can't afford it), and here is why . . ."

So he has a tantrum. He will get over it, and even if he tells his friends you are a stingy killjoy, he will say it with a certain amount of pride. And his friends will envy his security.

I spanked my daughter until she was old enough to understand other discipline, and even after that I sometimes emphasized my explanation of "why not" with a spat on the behind. When a foster daughter, new in our home, saw me do this, she complained, "You never love me that way."

In the Sermon on the Mount, Jesus Christ asked: "Or what man of you, if his son asks him for a loaf, will give him a stone?"

Today we might ask: What parent is there of you, if his child asks for security and protection from his own unpredictable urges, will give him the means of destroying himself in the form of freedom to do as he pleases? □

FLOYD PHILOSOPHER

RUSSIA JUST AIN'T GONNA GET INVOLVED IN WORLD WAR III

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm this week discusses either the international situation or barbering, we can't tell which.

Dear editor: As I understand the international situation, one reason the Vietnam war is such a delicate matter where we can't do this or that to speed things up is that we might get Russia involved and open the way for World War III, and the Secretary of State is constantly pointing this out. I understand his position and it's his job to think about these things and keep cautious, but I was just wondering if he noticed a small news item out of Russia which might be an index.

According to a newspaper I found on my front gate today — this is the second time in two weeks I've pulled a paper off that gate and I don't know how much more it can take before it topples — there are now about a million barbers and beauty shop operators in Russia. Many of the barbers are women. One woman barber, the article said, is such a favorite at cutting hair in such a stylish manner that men wait as long as four hours for a haircut by her.

I tell you, any country that's producing men who can wait four hours for a haircut is not about to start a war.

I can understand how Sec. Rusk could overlook this, I've seen him on television and he certainly hasn't got enough hair to wait four hours to get it trimmed, but he ought to recognize that any man who can sit that long in a barber shop is a very poor prospect for starting World War III.

Furthermore, this particular woman barber the article was talking about said she had rather cut men's hair than women's because "they appreciate the work more than women, and besides they want to be handsome." Also, the article said, Russian men are complaining because the barbers are using "atomizers from grandfather's time and are far behind barbers in other countries."

I may be all wrong, but this certainly must be a significant piece of news out of Russia and I hope the Secretary of State takes it under advisement. When Russian men get interested in hair spray bombs, they may be getting less intrigued with the nuclear types. Yours faithfully, J.A.

Letter To The EDITOR

April 10, 1967 Mr. Wendell Tooley Hesperian Publishing Co. Floydada, Texas Dear Wendell:

All I hear is what I read in the papers, and the letters last week about our new police department were very interesting. I might say I have never met the new police officers, but perhaps will when I violate some of our traffic rules.

Floydada has gone a long way in improving the police force since I was a member of the City Commission. For many years, all the City had on the night police force was a watchman who punched the time clock every night from 7:00 p.m. to 5:00 a.m., not riding, but walking. I might say I am very satisfied with the present police set-up, but I might also say they will be very popular until they do their duty and give our little 15 to 20 year old angels, like your children and my grandchildren, tickets for various traffic violations, who we parents think are beyond doing wrong. When this day arrives, it will be like in the past; start yelling police brutality!

Also I would like to say a good word for our past and forgotten night policeman who were on duty riding in cars the last few years that I was on the City Council. They were hated by the younger generation, but were very courteous to strangers.

I could recall many courteous things our police did to make a stranger remember Floydada. Nothing was ever said about their good deed one morning about 1:00 a.m. An eager beaver night flyer just had to get to his destination. He became lost over Floydada and landed by following a car on the highway south of the cemetery. He explained his trouble to our night patrolmen, who had him to crank his plane, and with lights blinking like a flying saucer, taxied through Floydada to the old Floydada Airport, and with the help of several, got on the field, and a very scared, but grateful pilot was on his way.

I also notice in the letter from the Dallas party that several months ago might involve the old Floydada Airport, and if this is where they landed, it was their own fault that they were stranded for over five minutes. For the past 26 years, we have had a family living there and when they were gone, there was a sign saying there was a telephone inside and numbers to call. In the past years hundreds have called and as this is a private phone, there should have been no waiting period. The phone was there for the use of the flying public, and they didn't have to have a dime to make the call. At all times the one who brought the visitors to town let them know when they were ready to leave, free passage would be available. Knowing Brother Bradley and the leaders of his church as I do, it is hard to believe that someone didn't volunteer to take them to the airport when they were ready to go.

"I'm on the floor and I need help!"

These were the first words Mrs. Myrtle Allen heard when she answered the call on her switchboard. A telephone operator in Dallas, Mrs. Allen tells what happened next: "He could hardly talk," she recalled, "but it was evident he was stricken, on the floor helpless and had managed to dial 'Operator' for help. I told him to stay on the floor and not to worry because I wouldn't leave him."

With practiced efficiency, Mrs. Allen swung into action. Using another line, she called for an ambulance, alerted the man's next-door neighbor and notified his nearby relatives.

All the while, she kept the man on the phone, cautioning him not to move.

An ambulance arrived and rushed the man to a hospital. After being assured he was taken care of, Mrs. Allen returned to her normal work routine.

Later, the man, who had suffered a heart attack, called the telephone company and told how he had been helped. "Had it not been for that operator, I would have died," he said. "She was insistent that I keep quiet on the floor. The doctors told me it saved my life."

"It was thanks enough to me that he got help on time," said Mrs. Allen. "Any operator would have done the same thing."

We're proud of Mrs. Myrtle Allen. Her actions in a time of trouble exemplify the highest ideals of the spirit of service of telephone people.

FLOYD FARMERS TO PLANT 62,679 ACRES OF COTTON

Floyd County will have 95,740 acres available for the 1967 cotton crop, according to a release from Plains Cotton Growers. Original allotment was 94,747 acres, but 993 acres were transferred to this county. Property owners may buy or lease cotton allotments from farmers in other Texas counties, or they may transfer acreage from different farmland which they own. PCG reports that 95,585 acres have been signed to the Cropland Reserve or Cropland Adjustment program. Of this total, farmers have indicated intentions to divert 32,906 acres - 34.4 percent of the avail-

Facts And Figures About The Mackenzie Dam

Tulia Editor Discusses Dam Project

THIS IS THE YEAR when Tulians will face the most momentous decision in the history of the community, a decision that can alter the course of local history.

We are speaking of the Mackenzie dam project which would supply municipal water to Tulia, Silverton, Lockney and Floydada.

Never before have we faced an issue on which we cannot afford the luxury of making a mistake. The issue is of such magnitude that we certainly are not going to presume to tell people how to vote. And the officials of the water authority feel much the same way.

Between now and election time, we hope to pass on to our readers all the information we can find, particularly the report of the engineers. But we're "too chicken" to endorse the project. We will vote for it, but don't want to take responsibility for influencing someone's vote.

THERE IS NO QUESTION about the feasibility of the project. The engineering firm has been very conservative in all its studies. It is likely that it tended to underestimate rather than overestimate the potential of the proposed lake and its water supply.

The proposed reservoir would have a conservative capacity of 46,000 acre-feet, yielding safely 5,200 acre feet per year, more than enough water to supply the four towns until the year 2000 if projected population gains hold true. The water yield was based on actual records going back to 1940. In other words, we haven't had a year since 1940 that wouldn't have supplied more than enough water from rainfall in the Tulia watershed to supply the needs of the four communities up to the year 2000. Furthermore, the water is of good quality.

The ability of the Mackenzie project to supply the municipal needs of the four communities is much more certain than the ability of the Canadian river project to serve its commitments.

AS CERTAIN AS THE ability of the project to supply the water needs of the communities is the ability of our underground water to take care of our water needs beyond the next five years.

The other three communities are already in trouble, waterwise. They have already tasted some of the bitter fruits of water shortage, rationing, prohibited lawn irrigation, etc.

Engineers say Tulia will have to ration water within five years unless a supply other than ground water is found.

It was interesting to note a dispatch by Tulians is 244 gallons daily, while the figure is 151 gallons daily. Lockney, 130 gallons, 142 gallons. The higher rate is the fact that we have not been forced to use water in the past, particularly in

ALSO ON THE POSITIVE side of the development of the project are the recreational areas, comparable to that of the Canadian River project. In this area where recreational spots are so scarce, it is easy to contemplate the construction of a resort to this area of the Panhandle Plains. It would be a mecca for fishing, hunting, etc. The natural beauty would be to that provided by the Canadian River. There will be areas for cabins, areas for picnicking, etc. Thousands of persons would be attracted to the resort features just as they are to Silverton.

Obviously all this would have a beneficial effect on the communities involved.

ALSO ON THE POSITIVE side is that the municipalities already thirsty will be glad to get it and Tulia creek water will be scarce. Tulia and the other towns. In fact, they will have to ration water in the year 2000.

And where is another source of water to which we could turn?

SO FAR, THE PICTURE is bright. The source of water which we will need for years. And there are desirable side effects, the recreational features.

And for once we caught the train before it got away from us.

But the sour note is the cost, which is high. And Tulia's share would be about 40 percent of the total cost. That is the relative amount of the water use.

To finance such a project would require a tremendous increase in water rates. The increased cost to the residents of the communities would be so great that we feel we could afford it. If there was no other way out.

After communities have experienced water shortages, they don't even inquire about the water can be found. Crosbyton, Spear and other towns south of here didn't but as a result of the issue. Silverton, Floydada will not bat an eye. They have already experienced water shortage.

But here in Tulia, it is different. It interests people in huge expenditures for water as they can still get water when the spigots stop.

EVEN THE MEMBERS of the water authority are most aware of the needs of the community. When we consider whether or not we should buy this or that item, an affirmative decision when the value of the item looms large resources.

For example, we buy a television set. We decide we would rather have a set than trip, a new car, or something else. We have to sacrifice in order to get the TV.

There are certain other things that we want regardless of the cost. We want for a seriously ill child, a place to sleep, and we suspect that water for Tulia would also enjoy a high priority.

ANOTHER RAY OF SUNSHINE is that in a project of this magnitude, mates necessarily must be the highest. It's better to tell the people the tax will be able to drop it to 40c than to have to estimate. Engineers privately indicate costs are more than those in the estimates; however, the fact is to underestimate. Bids will be some phases of the project, and there is no way of knowing how low the bid will be. Also, the fact is that the concessions and rebates are expected of the project, but again, the fact is that water changes. Not anticipated recreational concessions.

Also not considered is growth of the cities continue to grow, the cost burden will be over a larger base. But again, the fact is that plan to finance such a project, the money interested only in the present.

There are hundreds of such projects of this kind which have been voted by small communities. The history is that after the first five years, costs tend to drop. The communities are getting it possible for the communities to get money from the sale of water, the tax rate to new construction, recreational income in some instances it has been possible to 50c tax rate to as little as 10 or 15c.

IT WILL BE NECESSARY for all four communities to get into the Mackenzie Municipal Authority. Should any community turn down the proposal, it simply means that the authority would include only those towns voting themselves remaining had more water than they would likely accept another town needing the authority.

That is the way the Canadian River project was handled.

It was a mistake when Tulia failed to get into the Canadian River project. However, the Mackenzie project could mean more to the long run.

IN ROUND NUMBERS, cost of the dam and reservoir would be something over $2 million; treatment plant, $750,000; water supply system, $3 million; pump stations and transmission lines, $340,000. There are other costs such as interest, during construction, engineering, etc.

There are two sources of revenue to offset the cost of the project. One is the sale of water. The other is the sale of power. The water would be sold at a rate of 50c per 100 gallons. The power would be sold at a rate of 50c per kilowatt-hour.

One's first reaction is that we simply cannot afford such a project. Yet, somewhere along the way, water becomes worth almost any cost as we have already discovered.

TO BE CONSIDERED is the fact that the project has not been conceived primarily as a means of providing water. It is a means of providing water and power. The project is a means of providing water and power.

The reservoir would be located on the Canadian River, just above Farm Road 284 east of the water pump station and pipeline would be constructed from the reservoir to the water pump station.

Two Floyd Boys Are Inducted

On April 6, 1967, Texas Local Board No. 45, Plainview, Texas sent the following registrants to the Armed Forces Examining and Entrance Station, Amarillo, Texas for induction: Carroll Joe Hull and Silvestre Rodriguez Perez, both of Floyd County; Klitrick Lee Braga and Alejandro Reolo of Hale County; and Leonard Williams, Swisher County.

This local board's quota for April was nine (9). However, due to four (4) registrants being a full-time student at the time they were mailed an order to report for induction, it is mandatory they be re-classified S-S (C) until the end of their academic school year or until they cease satisfactorily to pursue such course of instruction whichever is the earlier.

There was no call for pre-induction physical examination for April. BY DIRECTION OF THE LOCAL BOARD Bertha M. Clapp, Clerk

ASST. COUNTY AGENT REPORT

JOHN FIELDS

The Floyd County Junior Fat Stock Show Board held a meeting at Lighthouse Electric on April 3.

Officers for the 1967 term were elected. They are as follows: Travis Jones, president; L. N. Johnson, vice president; and Alton Higginbotham, Sec. Treasurer. Board members were also elected. Zant Scott was re-elected for Precinct I, Eddie Fortenberry was re-elected for Precinct II, Jake Colston was elected for Floydada, Porter Finley was re-elected for Precinct 4, Jerry Bartram was elected for Lockney and "Button" Beedy was elected for Precinct III.

The stock show rules were studied and a few changes were made. Probably the most important rule change was on steer weight. The minimum weight has been set at 800#. The classes for the 1968 show will be lightweight 800-900#, medium weight 901-1000# and heavy weight 1001-1200#.

The Floyd County Senior Club was given the job of cleaning the show barns.

A committee of L. N. Johnson and Alton Higginbotham was appointed to investigate the possibilities of making further improvements on the fence north of the show barn.

It was decided that the board president, Vo. Ag. teachers, and the county agents would form a committee to make recommendations for judges for the 1968 show.

Other small matters and rule changes will be public with the printing of next year's catalog.

FLOYD DATA Kearney Edmiston was able to come home Thursday from Methodist Hospital in Lubbock where he underwent ear surgery. He is reported to be doing well.

A castor production meeting will be held at 8 p.m. April 13 in the Agricultural Center in Plainview.

According to specialists in this field 1967 will be a good year for castors. Only 15 percent of the 158 million pounds of castor oil consumed in the United States last year were produced in this country.

With the recent breakthrough in the use of castor meal as an economical, high protein livestock feed, increased demands for castor seed should result.

The price situation also presents a favorable front since oil prices were up in 1966 and appeared to be on the increase in early 1967.

Another enticing situation to growers is that this year they are allowed to plant castors on the 20 percent mandatory diverted feed grain acreage.

Furthermore, seed producers have a good supply of high yielding castor planting seed available in the form of six hybrids and two varieties.

It is suggested that farmers contact castor firms and sign a contract for a guaranteed price before planting the crop.

With above normal temperature prevailing over the South Plains area many farmers are getting anxious to plant cotton.

The possibility of a cold spell is still rather great. The average last frost in Floyd County generally comes between April 1 - 10. The latest frost ever recorded in this area was on May 4 in 1935 and 1954.

I do not think we will have another frost but a cool spell could drop the soil temperature enough to cause bad germination of seed or seedling disease.

Seedling disease has been a problem in early planted cotton in previous years in Floyd County.

There are some practices that will help control this disease.

First, bury surface trash below the planting level and plant on a bed to help proper drainage. Many tests show planting on a bed superior to planting in the water furrow.

Plant seed which have been treated with a chemical fungicide to control seed surface born organisms and to prevent seed rot.

Use high quality seed. High quality seed will germinate normal seedlings at 65 degrees F. in seven days. Lower quality seed needs longer germination periods and higher temperatures. Plant high quality seed when morning soil temperatures at planting depth are above 60 degrees F. for three days. When lower quality seed are used, wait for higher temperatures.

If seedling disease has been a problem in the past, an in-cropping soil fungicide should be used. Sprays, dusts or granules may be used but care must be taken to see that they are mixed well in the soil used to cover seed in the furrow. Hopper box application is not suggested for use in Texas.

Conference For Teachers Set

PLAINVIEW (Spl.) - A Service Center conference for teachers is scheduled on the Wayland College campus April 15.

The conference aim will be to bring teachers, especially history teachers, up to date on interpretations of history. The program is scheduled from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. in the Home Life building. There will be no charge.

Conducting the conference will be Dr. J. Meredith Neil, assistant history professor at Sam Houston State College, and Dr. Jack P. Greene, associate professor of history at John Hopkins University.

Dr. Neil, native of Idaho, received his A.B. degree at Yale, his M.S. at the University of Wisconsin and his Ph.D. at Washington State University with political science, history and American studies among his majors and minors.

Definite plans as to how many local teachers would attend this meeting was not certain.
