Lebanese Armor Moves Toward Palestine

Portentous of full-scale war possibilities in the Holy Land partitioning bloodshed, a squadron of armored cars of the Lebanese army moves near the seething Palestine border, where many Lebanese are crossing over to help Palestine Arabs fight the Jewish army. These are French armored cars, as is most Lebanese equipment—Lebanon was a French protectorate before World War II.

School Census Is Being Taken In Friona District

During the month of March, the Friona School District has been enumerating the children in the school district who come between the ages of 6 and 18 for school purposes.

It is the desire of the Board of Education of the Friona School District that any child in this age group who has been missed, will his parents please come to the office of the high school and turn the census of the child in.

Each student means a financial help of $55 from the State to the school if enumerated. If not, it means a financial loss to the school—yet the child will have to be instructed in the school without the financial aid of the state.

If you know of any child between the ages of 6 and 18 who has not been enumerated or who has recently moved into the school district, will you, as a citizen of Friona School District, feel obligated to notify the office by telephone or in person for another term if he is successful in getting this census.

Eric Rushing Opens New Store Here This Week

Eric Rushing, a former business man of Friona, this week opened a place of business in Friona, with a comparatively new line of goods, which is known as "Rushing's Food & Supply."

The new business occupies the building on Euclid Avenue, formerly occupied by O. C. Jones garage and later by W. B. Wright's machine and blacksmith shop. Just across the street from the Helpy-Selfy Laundry.

Rushing came to Friona when he was a lad of about ten years, with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Rushing, who owned and operated a local store until Mr. Rushing was elected as County and District Clerk when the family moved to Farwell.

Eric attended the Friona schools while here and graduated from Farwell High School and later from Texas Tech College at Lubbock, after which he came to Friona and established a variety store, which he operated until he was called to the Armed service, where he served until the end of the war. Since the war he has been in business at other places, but seems to have a preference for his boyhood home for establishing a permanent business.

Eric will handle a complete line of stock feeds such as hay, corn, oats, etc., and will handle the Nutrena and Rancho lines of commercial feeds for all kinds of livestock and poultry. He will also handle a large variety of field seeds, including the more popular sorghum grains, corn, oats, barley, etc. He will welcome a share of your patronage. FRIONA WEATHER

We have received a mild chiding from a California man for omitting our weather report occasionally. We sincerely beg his pardon, and offer as our only excuse, the fact that we sometimes get too busy to think of the weather.

Anyway, our weather here is usually so irrefragable that we sometimes feel that everybody should consider it unless otherwise stated. And that is just the sort of weather we have been having for the past several weeks. Only that a good soaking rain will be very acceptable to our people and thereby forming and crop conditions will be greatly improved. We have had a few rather windy days with some dirt flying, but that only helps us to remember the sorry weather they are having in other parts of the country and to appreciate our usually lovely weather all the more.

Two Candidates For Sheriff Are Now in Race

In this week's issue of the Star will be found the announcements of two of Parmer County's most estimable and efficient men, who are aspiring for the office of Sheriff-Assessor-Collector of Parmer County.

These men are Earl Booth, the present incumbent and who has held the office for a number of years and ministered the duties thereof to the satisfaction of the voters of the county and who promises a continuation of the same satisfactory service for another term if he is successful in securing the nomination at the forth-coming Democratic Primary Election. Earl is so well known throughout the county that any additional introduction on the part of the Star will be utterly superfluous.

The other aspirant, Mr. Wilfred Quikell, is a new-comer in Parmer County. He is a native born in the Bovina Precinct, where he has lived for many years. He is a young man, 28 years old, and a veteran of World War II, having served four years in the European theatre of the war.

He is now employed by the Veterans Administration where he is rendering efficient and satisfactory service.

Both of these candidates are handsome men and of prepossessing appearance and fully qualified to properly administer the duties of the office they are seeking and voters cannot go wrong regardless of which one they support at the election.

SLIPPERY LOVE GRASS SEED NUMBER TWO MILLION TO POUND Method of Sowing Love Grass With Ordinary Seed Drill Discovered by Dalhart Farmers

Three Dalhart farmer-stockmen have discovered a method of sowing the elusive "love grass."

Their discovery will be good news to farmers and ranchers of the High Plains area, who have been unable to plant love grass seed on range land because the seed is so tiny that an ordinary drill won't handle it.

The three Dalhart men have worked out a system, using a suspension mixture, which will enable them to plant love grass with an ordinary drill, regulating it to seed the grass as thickly or as thinly as they please. The men are Ed Pritchard Jr., and O. V. Hartshorn, stock-farmers, and Dick Peck in charge of soil conservation offices at Dalhart.

Their mixture is made up of 74 per cent cracked or ground grain sorghum, 8 per cent cotton seed meal, and 18 per cent love grass seed. The drill can be adjusted to plant the grass thickly or sparsely.

Hartshorn and Pritchard each plan to seed about 30 acres, and will use about three quarters of a pound of grass seed per acre.

Love grass seed has to be mixed in a suspension for ordinary planting, because there are about two million seeds to the pound. The seed are so tiny and slippery that they can't be handled in the ordinary manner. If a drill won't hold water, it won't hold pure love grass seed, the men report.

The love grass is believed to be ideal for planting range land to grass in arid areas. Hard ground is the best seed bed. If the drill penetrates only half an inch, the Dalhart SCS men says, it is ideal.

Agriculturists recommend that the grass be planted in stubble which will protect it from wind and shifting soil, but when stubble is not available, it can be successfully planted in weed cover.

It can be drilled on pastures where part of the grass has died or been killed out.

Sand love grass was originally a native plant in the Eastern Panhandle, but disappeared many years ago.

Experiments indicate that love grass will produce at least twice as much beef per acre as the average pasture now native to the Plains, and the grass is exceptionally palatable to cattle, agriculturists say, and theorize that this was probably the reason why it disappeared from the Panhandle when the first great well that they ate it all up.

With the Dalhart discovery of the suspension mixture for planting love grass seed, however, the way has been opened for stockmen on the Plains to return sand love grass to its native soil.

MARKETS

USDA—Corn and livestock had lower trends as most other southwest farm products sold steady to strong during the past week, according to the Production and Marketing Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Last week's steady to weaker trends continued Monday at southwest cattle markets. Stocker and feeder cattle enjoyed relatively better demand than slaughter classes, and often brought higher prices. Medium and good stocker calves brought $21 to $25 at Houston, $24 to $26.50 at San Antonio, and $21 to $26 at Fort Worth, while choice lots sold to $30 at Denver. Oklahoma City bought common and medium stocker yearlings and calves at $17 to $23.

All hog classes suffered net losses of largely $1 to $1.50 a hundred pounds for the week. Top butcher hogs brought $20 at San Antonio Monday, $21 at Fort Worth, an $21.25 at Oklahoma City. Wichita bought good and choice medium weights from $20.25 to $20.75, while Kansas City paid $20 to $21, and Denver bid $20.50.

Slightly greater sheep numbers at southwest markets brought generally steady to 50 cents lower prices the past week. Monday found lambs weak at Fort Worth, with a $22 top on choice spring lambs. Oklahoma City paid up to $22.50. Denver paid $21 for medium and good truck-ins. San Antonio paid to $8.50 for common and medium goats.

Vegetables were getting scarce in the Lower Rio Grande Valley the past week. Good cabbage brought growers $60 a ton, and carrots were unsettled. Beets and parsley still moved freely, but many growers "stayed planting cotton in the fields. Citrus fruits continued very weak in dull markets. Spinach season neared a close. Strawberry prospects in Louisiana appear good, but sweet potatoes remained slow.

Egg and poultry markets remained slightly, in the week after Easter. Dallas and Denver paid 38 to 39 cents a dozen Monday for current egg receipts, while Fort Worth gave 40 to 41 cents. The Dallas-Fort Worth area took heavy hens largely from 27 to 28 cents a pound, and fryers 38 to 40.

Rice planting started in Texas and Louisiana last week and Arkansas had considerable ground ready for planting. Alfalfa hay found active demand at fully steady prices, but prairie hay markets continued to drag. Light peanut offerings sold about unchanged. Southwest wools remained in good demand.

Corn registered net losses of one to six cents a bushel, while other grains showed gains of one to five cents for the week. No. 1 ordinary hard wheat closed Monday around $2.59 in bulk carlots at Texas common points. No. 2 white corn sold around $2.90 and oats $1.42 to $1.45. Milo brought $3.88 to $3.93 a hundred.

Cotton climbed almost $5 a bale in the week's trade. Spot middling 15/16 inch closed Monday at 36.10 cents a pound at Dallas.

Judge Schultz Tries Rugged Cure For Drunk Driver

Dumas, April 8—District Judge Harry Schultz tried hard here last Monday to cure Willie White of the habit of driving while intoxicated. White, who hails from Dalhart, was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary for second offense, having been previously convicted of drunk driving in Dalhart.

Judge Schultz also added one to the customary two-year sentence after Charles Johnson had pleaded guilty to forging and passing a forged instrument. Johnson was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary.

M. G. Petty, youthful car thief, had better luck. Charged with theft over fifty dollars in District Court in Dumas, Petty pleaded guilty to the theft of a car last October. Judge Schultz pronounced sentence at two years, then placed young Petty on parole.

Try Unusual Vegetables to Liven Up Both Garden Plot and Family Menus

COLLEGE STATION, Mar. 29—Try growing the unusual vegetables in your garden this spring to dramatize the garden, says J. F. Rosborough, extension horticulturist of Texas A & M College. The usual garden has carrots, beans, tomatoes, beets, cabbage, spuds and other well-known foods that the children fuss about eating.

Chives, the first of these unusual vegetables, is a small onion-like variety very good for flavoring soups and stews. Just plant a part of a raw chive on one side of the garden out of the way, and a small amount is all that is necessary for the whole family. Space the plants one-half to one inch apart in rows 16 to 18 inches apart. Then every three or four years—just years—take up the old clumps and re-set them so they won't get too thick and matted. Chives grow best in areas of considerable rainfall.

Corn salad, also called dandy lettuce, is an annual that may be mixed with lettuce or water cress as a salad. It is sown in the early spring in 16 to 18 inch rows about a foot apart in the row, and is handled about the same as lettuce or mustard in fertilization and cultivation. The flavor of corn salad is very mild, and may be improved some by mixing with other salad plants.

Endive is another crop similar to lettuce, but is more tolerant to the summer heat. It should be planted about the same time as lettuce, and thinned to 8 or 10 inches in the row. The other instructions are the same as the plants already named.

Garlic is another of those onion plants, and the main thing to remember about garlic is that a little goes a long way. They are planted and handled like onions and chives. When the tops break and fall over, the bulbs are pulled, dried, and braided into strings by their tops or tied in bunches and stored in a cool dry place. Be sure they don't freeze.

Here is an unusual vegetable that is not commonly grown anywhere in Texas, but will do well in the Panhandle. It's rhubarb, sometimes called pieplant. This is a hardy perennial that will live for several years; the small, rooted crowns are planted about this time of the year, there to four feet apart each way. Give them plenty of space, and six crowns will be enough for the entire family. The edible part is the leaf-stalk or petiole, and the gardener is reminded not to eat the leaves. After the plants are out, give them a year before harvesting, so there will be plenty year after year without replanting.

These are a few of the more unusual vegetables that will give the garden the "new look" in foods, says Rosborough, and add zest to the family meals.
