TERRELL AND PECOS COUNTY OFFICIALS HELD A MEETING

Judge G. J. Henshaw, county commissions W. A. Cochran, W. J. Banner, Monte Corder, and county highway engineer John Stovell, of Terrell county, met sheriff Jud Barker, county commissioners Buck Pyle, J. T. Baker and Tom Cope of Pecos county at the old Campbell ranch Wednesday. This meeting was held for the purpose of deciding on the most direct road from Sanderson to Fort Stockton. Several roads were talked over and after all coming to an agreement on one route they will give the plans to the State Highway Engineers when they come next Monday, as the State is taking over the road to maintain it, and asked Terrell and Pecos counties to decide which road they should have for the most direct route between the two cities.

The most important topic of the day was "chuck" time when barbecued chicon, frijoles, carne, hot biscuits, coffee and "lick" was prepared at the road camp.

Deputy Collector Will be in Sanderson

A Deputy Collector will be in Sanderson, Wednesday, February 20th, from 8:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m., at the Kerr Hotel, to assist taxpayers in filing their 1923 income tax returns.

This service will be furnished without charge and the public should avail themselves of this opportunity as it will not be possible for a deputy to return to this city before March 15th.

James W. Bass, Collector.

Wednesday Bridge Club.

The Wednesday Bridge Club met at the Kerr Hotel, February 6th, with Mrs. B. P. Franklin as hostess. A very pretty decoration and the favors were carried out in the form of St. Valentine motifs.

The usual four tables were played. Mrs. Max Bogusch was awarded high score, a beautiful hand made 3 piece buffet set; the second high score was won by Mrs. Burns an embroidered center piece. Table numbers was the booby prize was won by Mrs. P. B. Carter and the consolation prize, a pretty handkerchief, went to Mrs. Will Savage.

Refreshments consisting of chicken sandwiches, lovely white cake and coffee.

HENRY GATES ANNOUNCES FOR TAX ASSESSOR

In the proper column of this paper will be found the name of Henry Gates, who announces himself as a candidate for tax assessor of Terrell county.

In announcing for this office Mr. Gates says he desires to assure every man and woman voter in the county that he will appreciate their vote in the November election, and if elected he will endeavor it all times to fulfill the duties of the office to the best of his ability.

BALLOT BOXES SENT TO WASHINGTON

Terrell county ballot boxes, in which the ballots of the last general election are stored, were turned over to the United States messengers, Emmitt Curran and Gilbert La Beaume, who were here Monday.

The messengers stated that Terrell county's boxes were found to be in perfect condition and that they were in the best shape of all the cities they have collected them at.

The boxes were sent by mail to the Senate committee, at Washington, having the election contest in charge. Terrell county was the last county visited by the messengers.

HARLEY SADLER'S SHOW

Harley Sadler's Show, the well known tent theatre, has been enjoyed in Sanderson this week. Besides having high grade and clean cut play each night, they give the audience a rare treat of vaudeville between the acts and are most all new and entertaining. Carl Thomas, announcing himself as "Carl" has been immensely popular and good medicine for gloom hunters. Credit is also given to the various actors which have shown splendid talent. The music furnished is above the average tent shows. As a whole the Sadler Show has been refreshing and entertaining. Tonight will be their last night in Sanderson and they will offer the comedy "The Man From Out Yonder" for their final performance.

HARRELL ANNOUNCES FOR RE-ELECTION

In another column of this paper will be found the announcement of Frank K. Harrell, for re-election to the office of county treasurer of Terrell county.

Mr. Harrell has proven in the past years of being able to capably fill the office in which he seeks re-election. He has always been a strong believer in handling the county's money in a business-like and conservative manner and has always carried out this principle.

Mr. Harrell solicits the support of the voters of Terrell county, and if re-elected will endeavor to carry out his duties of office in the same manner as he has heretofore.

Pays to Keep Up Testing of Cows

In Well-Managed Associations There Is Gain in Average Yearly Yield.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture)
As a result of the study of records of cow-testing associations in all parts of the country, the United States Department of Agriculture has shown that in well-managed associations there is a gain in the average yearly production of cows from year to year. In other words, even though the poor cows are culled out at first, it pays to keep everlastingly at it, as there is always an opportunity for profitable improvement.

Averages Show Increase.
To illustrate this, figures of butterfat production for three associations, one each in Michigan, Ohio, and Pennsylvania, show that for the first year the average per cow was 237 pounds, Boys Learning to Make Babcock Test for Butterfat in Milk.

for the second year it was 255 pounds, for the third year 278, for the fourth 292, and for the fifth year 305 pounds. The last year in the series showed an average production of 68 more pounds of fat than the first year. At 40 cents a pound this amounts to $27.20 a head, and for a herd of 20 cows the increased value would be $544 a year.

Pure Breds Excel.
Production records of 17,405 pure-bred, grade, and scrub cows showed that in milk production the pure breeds and grades excelled the scrubs by 12.42 per cent, and in butterfat production by 17.86 per cent.

Proteins in Sour Milk Assist Egg Production

Some of the poultry departments at the agricultural colleges have been making experiments to find out why sour milk increases egg production. A study of the analysis of sour skim milk showed it to contain 90.77 per cent water, 0.10 per cent fat, 3.93 per cent milk sugar (lactose), 0.56 per cent lactic acid, 3.05 per cent protein and 0.70 per cent milk ash or salts. It was assumed that water alone was not the stimulating factor. The fat content seemed too low, and the distribution of carbohydrates did not point to milk sugar as a possible source of the problem. A comparison was made of rations containing lactic acid, milk salts, protein-free sour skim milk and sour skim milk. The results showed conclusively that lactic acid in the same solution as in sour skim milk is valueless for egg production. Besides both milk salts and ash entirely failed to stimulate increased egg production. The results all seem to indicate that it is the proteins or milk curd that is the valuable part of sour skim milk. For two years, the protein-free sour skim milk has not given as satisfactory production as the sour skim milk.

Silage in Ration Will Make Big Money Saving

It has been conclusively proved that silage in the ration makes a saving of considerable money. With dairy animals the feeding of silage saves from 8 to 15 cents on the cost of producing a pound of butter and from 30 to 50 cents on producing 100 pounds of milk. For beef production or the fattening of animals, the saving produced by silage is about $1 per 100 pounds gain, though several experiments show three and four times this figure. The average of $1 is therefore low and conservative, when we consider the growing of young stock, the feeding of dry cows and heifers, the wintering of work horses and mules.

Farm Animals Like Rye Mixed With Other Feed

Farm animals are not fond of rye, but take it willingly when mixed with other feeds. Fed alone or in large amounts it is apt to cause digestive troubles. Fed in large amount to dairy cows it produces a hard, dry butter. A limited amount gives good results. Rye is not a palatable horse feed, but may be safely fed in small amounts with oats. It should be rolled or coarsely ground. It resembles wheat in composition, but is of lower feeding value than wheat or corn. Ground rye is worth about 94 per cent as much per ton as ground corn.

SHENANDOAH TO AIR OFF FROM FT. WORTH

Big Dirigible Will Get Gas Supply in Texas for Polar Trip.

Fort Worth, Tex.—While the entire world is watching with interest the United States government's preparations for the flight of the naval dirigible Shenandoah to the north pole next summer, Fort Worth and Texas look on with added interest because of the local angle injected into the great undertaking. For Fort Worth is to be the real starting point of the Shenandoah and its intrepid crew.

The big ship will come to Fort Worth from its hangar at Lakehurst, N. J., for a supply of helium at the government's helium plant here. After the bag is filled with the non-inflammable gas, it will take the air and begin its flight of 10,000 to 15,000 miles in quest of the pole. The route already mapped out by the naval air department, takes the Shenandoah westward from Fort Worth to San Diego, up the Pacific coast to Seattle, thence to Nome, Alaska, and on to Point Barrow, the northernmost point in Alaska. Then the ship will strike out across approximately 1200 miles of unknown ice-bound territory, through uncharted air currents, to the pole.

Just when the airship will arrive in Fort Worth has not been determined, according to officials at the helium plant. It is known, however, that the ship will be in no hurry to depart, as the final preparations for the trip will be made at Fort Worth. Every detail of equipment and supplies will be checked and rechecked here so that nothing can happen to deter the flight after the big ship is on its way.

While the Shenandoah will take on its main supply of helium after it leaves Fort Worth, steel drums containing the non-inflammable gas will be shipped ahead to San Diego, Seattle or to Alaska, as an extra supply.

Five Men Die In Electric Chair

Huntsville, Tex.—In a brightly lighted room of the state prison at Huntsville, with prison and state officials, doctors and newspaper men present, the lives of five negroes, sentenced to pay the extreme penalty for their crimes, were snuffed out in the new electric chair of the State of Texas Thursday or early Friday morning.

The execution of the five marks the inauguration of a new legal method for the state to exact the death penalty of the criminal, taking the place of hanging in the county jails of the state, which method had been in use since Texas joined the Union.

One of the negroes was granted a reprieve of one hour shortly before his turn came to be placed in the chair, in order to allow his attorney to make a last-minute attempt to save his life. A long distance call to Acting Governor Davidson proved unavailing and the man went to his death.

All the negroes were convicted on murder charges. Two of them, Ewell Morris and Charles Reynolds, were tried on charges of having slain white men, the former in Red River and the latter in Victoria county.

A third, Mack Mathews, was tried for the death of his wife in Newton county, and George Washington was sent up from the same county on conviction of murder in connection with the death of a negro man. The fifth, Melvin Johnson, received the death penalty following his trial on a charge of having slain a negro woman in Liberty county.

Reynolds was the first to be placed in the chair. Morris, Washington and Mathews came next in the order named. Johnson was the last executed. Johnson was the negro granted an hour's reprieve.

THE WOODPECKER'S HINT

MARY GRAHAM BONNER

It was early, early, early in the morning. Dolly had been sound asleep. And when she awoke she knew it was early. Daylight was just beginning to appear. It was not time to get up. Dolly knew that. And why had she awakened so early? This was not her usual time for waking up. Not quite, so early as this. Then she heard a tapping, tapping, tapping on the tin roof outside her room.

She wondered what it was. Should she tell the rest of the family? What might it be? For some little while she kept very still, listening to the tapping, tapping, tapping which kept up steadily. Sometimes she felt afraid and would have liked covering her head with blankets. But she knew she must not do that. It was a dangerous thing to do, and even if nothing dreadful happened from doing it, anyone would have had dreams if they pulled the bedclothes over their heads.

So she kept her head above the bedclothes and listened. Tap, tap, tap. The sound kept on and on. It was very clear, very sharp, very steady. Certainly it couldn't be anything dreadful, because anyone who was trying to do harm would not make such a noise about it. They would be quieter. And that kept her from worrying. Yet it was all very mysterious. Very mysterious indeed.

Then Dolly got up and put her head out of the window and tried to see. But the tapping came from the part of the tin roof which was hidden by another window. She could see nothing. But the tapping, tapping, tapping kept up. Then she spoke. "Who is there?" she said in a very low voice, so as not to awaken anyone. "And what do you want?"

Tapping, tapping, tapping was the answer, the only answer she received. For an hour the tapping kept up. Then it stopped and for an hour all was still. But just as Dolly was getting up and getting dressed, suddenly the tapping started again. She went to the other window from where she was quite sure she could see what was happening.

She had not wanted to go there before because as long as the tapping kept up and she had made up her mind nothing dreadful could happen when a creature was making so much noise, she didn't want to disturb the rest of the family. Then she saw what had happened. A woodpecker had been tapping to let her know that he was all out of suit and that he would like some.

For Dolly had kept suit on the lilac bush all through the winter and it had all been eaten up. He tapped on the tin roof to let them know that he was hungry and that he was waiting for breakfast. And as he kept getting more and more hungry he kept letting them still know that he had no food. What had happened when there had been quiet for an hour? Dolly found that out later in the day. Her little friend, Lowell, who kept suit on a lilac bush outside of his house had heard a tapping, tapping, tapping on the tin water pipes, which ran down the side of the house. When the woodpecker had found that his hint was not taken by Dolly he went to Lowell's house, and when he found it was not taken there he went back to try All Through the Winter.

NERVOUS & HALF-SICK WOMEN

Relieved by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

These Three Letters Prove It

Lowell, Mass.—"I am sending you a few lines to let you know what good your medicine has done for me. I want you to let every one know that it has helped me in nervous troubles. I have four children and you know there is a lot to do where children are. They would come in from school and they would start telling me about their little troubles but I could not stand it. I had to send them away. I could not even walk on the street alone I was so nervous. I found one of your books and read it and then I saw in the paper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I got it and had taken one bottle when I saw a change in myself. I was surprised. The children can talk all they want to now and it does not bother me. I am still taking the Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. JOSEPH LEMERE, 84 South Street, Lowell, Mass.

Felt Like A New Woman

Springfield, Missouri.—"For four or five months I was run-down, nervous, my back ached and I did not feel like doing a thing. Sometimes my legs ached and felt like they would break and I had a hurting in my sides. I had been reading in the newspapers the letters of other women who had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and the advertising of it appealed to me so I bought some and saw results in almost no time. I had hardly been able to do my own work and after taking the Vegetable Compound I felt like a new woman. I recommend it to my friends who have troubles like I did, and hope they will find the same results."—Mrs. M. CARPENTER, 607 W. Chase Street, Springfield, Missouri.

Laxatives do not overcome constipation

"More Important to Internal Cleanliness"

LAXATIVES and cathartics provide temporary relief only, at the expense of permanent injury. In time, says an eminent physician, an almost incalculable amount of harm is done by the use of pills, salts, mineral waters, castor oil and the like. Some laxatives, according to an intestinal specialist, contain poisons which affect the stomach and intestines, resulting in grave disorders. Certain laxatives are a direct cause of piles.

Physicians Advise Lubrication for Internal Cleanliness

Medical science, through knowledge of the intestinal tract gained by X-ray observation, has found at last in lubrication a means of overcoming constipation. The gentle lubricant, Nujol, penetrates and softens the hard food waste and thus hastens its passage through and out of the body. Thus Nujol brings internal cleanliness.

Not a Medicine

Nujol is used in leading hospitals and is prescribed by physicians throughout the world. Nujol is not a medicine or laxative and cannot gripe. Like pure water it is harmless.

Get rid of constipation and avoid disease by adopting the habit of internal cleanliness. Take Nujol as regularly as you brush your teeth or wash your face. For sale by all druggists.

Kissing Termed Crime in Puritan New England

Kissing is considered an unhealthy practice by some people. A few years ago the physicians of Milwaukee prepared a bill for the absolute suppression of kissing, on the ground that the practice was hygienically dangerous.

The bill did not become a law, or it would have made Milwaukee more famous, but somewhat similar laws existed in Puritan New England. In 1656 Capt. Kemble of Boston was "set for two hours in the public stocks for his lewd and unseemly behaviour," which consisted in "kissing his wife publicly on the Sabbath day, upon the doorstep of his house, when he had just returned from an absence of three years." Twelve years later "Jonathan and Susannah Smith were each fined 5 shillings and costs for smiling on the Lord's day." The smile, it would appear, was only less heinous than the kiss itself.—Detroit News.

Passion Fruit

Passion fruit has long been popular in Australia for flavoring ice cream and cold drinks, being refreshingly delicious. Here in California the vines have been used in screen buildings, and some few for commercial purposes, but it is just recently that the cultivation of the passion vine has been begun on an extensive scale.

An Amazing Fact

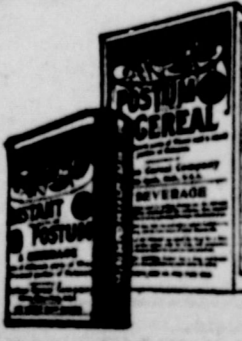

TO many people it may seem incredible that a habit so common as coffee-drinking can be harmful. Yet if your doctor were to enumerate the common causes of indigestion, headache, and run-down condition, he would be likely to mention coffee.

If you are troubled with insomnia, nervousness, or are inclined to be high-strung, try Postum in place of coffee for thirty days, and note the difference in the way you feel, and how much better you sleep.

Postum is a pure cereal beverage, absolutely free from caffeine, or any harmful drug.

of Sanderson

Tomorrow, February 17th, is Rev. Bell's regular appointment for Sanderson. All cordially invited to be present. Services at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

Rev. J. A. McMillian's subject last Sunday morning was "The Carpenter." Evening subject was "The Why of My Faith," text from Peter, 2nd chapter 15th verse. A large attendance at both services.

The ladies of the W. M. U. did not meet last Monday on account of so much sickness. The president, Mrs. T. L. Williams, will call a meeting when sickness is over with.

The Presbyterian S. S. only had an attendance of 68 last Sunday.
The teachers of the four older classes, Mrs. Duke, Mr. Lee, Mrs. H. D. Williams and Mrs. des Landes, all pupils came up with their memory verses, good work young people, keep it up.

The Methodist S. S. had an attendance of only 25 last Sunday, on account of so much sickness.

The ladies auxiliary to the Presbyterian church met with Mrs.
W. H. Savage last Monday with 12 members present and all had good lessons. Next meeting will be with Mrs. W. A. Cochran, February 25th, social meeting. Mesdames Cochran and Bodkin will be hostesses. All welcome.

The week of special prayer for and in the interests of foreign mission closed last Sunday at the Presbyterian church with a very interesting meeting. Leaflets were read showing the needs and necessity of keeping the missionaries there for the cause of Christianity and God's work.

BASKETBALL SEASON

CLOSES.

Looking back over the basketball season which was brought to a close last week by the district basketball meet held in Alpine, we should not feel that we have not had a successful season.
Success cannot be measured by the mere winning in our efforts, but as to how we "played the game." No one can say that the boys on the Sanderson high school basketball team did not play the game, and play it well, too—fighting to the last.
Some of the boys were playing their last game of basketball for Sanderson, and it seemed that they were determined to make it their best.

Shortly after arriving in Alpine Friday morning, the drawing for the games took place.
Sanderson drew Marfa to open the meet. Marfa had one of the best teams in the district, and the game between Marfa and Sanderson was a clean, hard-fought affair. The guarding of Cavender and Kessler was too much for the Marfa forwards and they had to resort to long shots from near the center of the court. Sanderson succeeded in taking most of the balls from the tip-off, and the Williams-White-Kessler combination put the ball down the court by some pretty passing to shooting distance. Even at that the score at the end of the first half was 15 to 10, Sanderson leading.

The second half opened with both teams fighting hard. Neither scored in the first ten minutes of play. Marfa succeeded in making only one goal from the field in this period, bringing their score up to 12. Sanderson made three from the field and one from the free throw line, the game ending with a score of 22 to 12.

It would be very hard to point out the stars in this game for either side, as both teams were composed of boys who put all that they had into the fight.
Malone Mitchell, although the smallest man on the court and this his first year as a regular, played a good game. We can expect much from this player next year. Williams outplayed every man who opposed him. His passing and guarding was excellent. Cavender and Kessler played the best game of their basketball career. Cavender was especially good in breaking up long passes and in guarding the goal against crisp shots. Kessler was all over the court from the first whistle to the last. He broke up play after play, and

Hall's Catarrh Medicine

Those who are in a "run down" condition will notice that Catarrh bothers them much more than when they are in good health. This fact proves that while Catarrh is a local disease, it is greatly influenced by constitutional conditions.

was instrumental in bringing the ball down the court time after time. Minton White was high point man of the game. He accounted for 12 of the 22 points, and at the same time played an excellent defensive game.

In the Alpine game Sanderson worked hard but the speedy Alpine forwards were too much for their larger opponents. Sanderson had played a hard game with Marfa in the morning, and Alpine had an easy affair with one of the weakest teams in the meet, enabling them to rest their men by playing substitutes. The first half was close, ending with a score of 20 to 14 for Alpine, but in the second half the strain began to tell on the Sanderson five and Alpine was allowed to ring several goals in succession, bringing their score up to 45.
Sanderson succeeded in totaling only 25.

As in the first game, every man played his part. White played a good game for Sanderson even though he was closely guarded throughout the contest, and was handicapped by cramps for which he had to receive medical treatment after the game.
He totaled 13 of the 25 points made by the entire team. Williams continued his splendid playing of the morning, and by doing so secured his hold on the position of center on the All-District team. James Smith was substituted for Mitchell in the last half of this game. He played a very good game, advancing the ball down the court by a fast dribble and completely outdistancing his guard.

In picking the stars for the All-District team, the committee had a difficult task in filling some of the positions. Tom Williams of Sanderson was easily the outstanding center of the meet. His jumping, coupled with his guarding and passing ability would make him a valuable player for the all-star team.
Cavender earned a berth on the team by his consistency. He played back guard and played an excellent defensive game. The forward positions were harder to fill. Lease and Deagon of Alpine won these positions. They are indeed a fast pair, but White of Sanderson should have given them a close call for one of the positions. White was handicapped in the last game, and even then played an excellent game.
He handled the ball perfectly and made shots from very difficult angles. The other guard position was given to Smith of Alpine. This choice might easily be disputed by some. Smith played at the pivot position for Alpine and played more of an offensive game than a defensive one. On the other hand Marfa might have placed a guard in this position, or Kessler of Sanderson might have been placed in that place.

Next year we will have White, Kessler, Mitchell, Smith, Henshaw, Grigsby and McDonald back. These strengthened by others coming on will enable Sanderson to put another team in the field which should win first place in the district.

America's Marvels

NATURAL AND OTHERWISE

By T. T. Maxey

THE AMERICAN SPHINX

Set high above the shimmering waters of the picturesque Rock river on the shores of a huge bluff near Oregon, Illinois, ninety-nine miles (by rail) from Chicago, and looking out over a country that is indeed good to look upon, is the colossal statue of the Indian Chief, Blackhawk—the largest concrete monument in America, if not in all the world—the American Sphinx.

This statue is the enduring tribute of the sculptor, Lorado Taft, to the American Indian. It depicts the famous chief standing erect, with folded arms, garbed in a long, flowing robe or blanket, which folds gracefully about the figure, gazing silently and in farewell attitude over the fertile valley which the members of his tribe were wont to roam.

The attention-inviting location and pleasing proportions of this noble figure lend to its likeness a nobleness of poise that is in complete accord with the courage displayed in the counteenance of this splendid warrior.

This American sphinx rises from a huge concrete pedestal which rests upon the solid rock of the river bluff and weighs something like 300 tons.
In its construction approximately 400 barrels of cement and 4,000 pounds of twisted reinforcing steel rods were used.

The subject was so unique and the construction so unusual that peculiar methods were of necessity called into play. These methods and their applications excited extraordinary attention.

In order to insure the preservation of correct proportions a working model six feet in height was made.
This model was then enlarged seven times. Then a mold was built over it.
Afterward the model inside of the mold was dismantled and removed.
Then the mold was filled with concrete. Pink granite dust or screenings was mixed with the concrete. This process gave to the finished figure a granite-like appearance. This mass was next allowed to set. After the setting process had terminated, the mold was razed and carried away and to there emerged and stood in all its glory an everlasting memorial to the passing of the Red Man—the American Sphinx.

Next Spring—

With over 200,000 orders for Ford Cars and Trucks already placed for delivery during the next few months, we are facing a record-breaking spring demand.

Each successive month this winter has witnessed a growth in sales far surpassing that of any previous winter season. This increase will be even greater during the spring months, always the heaviest buying period.

These facts suggest that you place your order early to avoid disappointment in delivery at the time desired.
