ment. On the other hand, I cannot accuse the mob being wholly devoid of worthwhile sentiment.

But why blame the juvenile reader, who may have acquired a hunger for reading, if his desire for reading shall run along such lines, for although I am not about much, especially in the homes of my neighbors, I do not see much of any other line of reading matter exposed to his observation. In most public places that I have had occasion to stop for a while, the only thing in the way of reading for those of the early "teen" age, is the "funny" book, and they are not slow in making use of them. IF THESE "FUNNIES" ARE HARMFUL TO THESE YOUNG FOLKS why not make some effort to place before them something of a nobler nature?

nothing better for creating a desire for reading for young people of the adolescent age, than good clean humor, most of which is "really" funny, and the young mind may have its desire for reading gratified without being filled with the breath-taking scenes of murder and similar atrocities, but I have seen no evidence of any efforts being made to give the adolescent such an opportunity. Part of the matter is, that should be the duty of securing any of this "clean" humorous literature for the use of these young people to whom to go to secure it. Part of the matter is—I do not know that there are any professional humorous writers in the day and age. Many years ago there were such writers as Mark Twain, Peter Pad, Artemus Ward and Josh Billings; but these men are long since gone over to the "Happy Land." And I am not sure that their books may yet be secured.

May be I shall be criticized by many of my good friends and foes, for even mentioning such a project as securing humorous writings for our young folks and, really, my only excuse, I may have for so doing, is the possibility of creating a desire for reading in the minds of our young people who are getting nothing else but the "funnies" for their reading. The plan of reading pure humor may be no better, but it will be, at least a change and a variety.

I wonder what would happen if some of our people should take it up on themselves to start such a movement. If they should, I wonder what success they would have. If they were successful, I wonder if they would be criticized or complimented. If their efforts met with the approval of the public, generally, I wonder what effect it might have character of the rising generation.

At any rate, I am not for condemning the boys and girls of our rising generation, for their tendency to delinquency, so long as the things that are classed as its cause are constantly thrown in their way, and nothing is being done, either experimental or actually, that will produce the effect or creating a preference for moral intelligence and honorable citizenship.

The second greeting was received from the Staley Sisters, of Springfield, Missouri. These ladies own a quarter section of land adjoining the west border of Friona.

New Quarters For City Library Are Nearing Completion

The new home for our City Library, which will be in the American Legion Hall, is rapidly nearing completion.

Miss Eida Hart, in addition to her other duties, has kindly consented to serve as librarian, and within the week we should be moved if all goes as planned.

All the books are being stamped and an at-to-card system is being set up instead of the single card system. However, when we move we will be needing a desk, a few chairs and a heater. If anyone wishes to donate any of these articles it will certainly be appreciated.

This is your library. We hope you use it and enjoy it. More news next week.

Friona Group Goes To Dalhart For District American Legion Conclave

There was a mishap in the Legion News of last week, covering the report of those who took part in the 18th District Convention, held at Dalhart, Nov. 13 and 14.

Those who attended the convention were: Service Officer Foster Rector, and Mrs. Rector; Library representative and Mrs. Johnny Blackburn; Adjutant and Mrs. Roy Wilson, Commander and Mrs. Joe Brummitt.

All report an unusually nice time Sunday, November 14. One of the most impressive speeches was made by our attorney general, Price Daniels, who made quite a record for himself in the state of Texas.

A barbecue, with all the trimmings of a Thanksgiving dinner was a part of the program and was fully enjoyed by the entire group. A movie, showing the training of disabled veterans in hospitals, was shown.

The meeting created great interest among all members of the Legion, toward making 1949 the biggest membership yet.

There are several laws passed which the Legionnaires have put into most every place for the benefit of all veterans of both World Wars.

The 60 per cent guests from Post 206, was reached before the convention and Friona was among the top few. Our quota is 118, so let's all get busy with those membership blanks. What you say?

All Friona delegates returned by way of the famous Boys Ranch at Old Tascosa Ranch, except Service Officer and Mrs. Rector. Those who visited the ranch enjoyed a very pleasant hour or so, there. They then traveled on to a certain eating place at Amarillo for a steak supper, and later, a show.

We arrived home in the late hours but figuring in our minds that we had more knowledge of what the American Legion is doing and is going to do.

Our next local meeting will be Monday night, November 29. It is hoped that every one will come out and bring a friend. Don't forget the date—November 29.

Apparent Heart Attack Fatal For A. H. Boatman Of Hub Community

People of Friona and vicinity were saddened Friday morning last week, when it was announced A. H. Boatman, living in the north part of Friona, had passed away, apparently in his sleep, at about four o'clock.

Mr. Boatman bought land in the Hub community and moved to it sometime during the "twenties," and proved himself to be a successful and prosperous farmer, a good citizen and won the esteem and respect of his neighbors.

His health began failing about three years ago, and he moved to a home in Friona, where, for a while his health continued, but during the past year or more he had apparently regained a normal condition of health, and the announcement of his death was a shock to the entire community.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at the local Baptist Church, with interment in the Friona Cemetery.

Mrs. A. H. Boatman was born Dec. 3, 1882 at Jacksboro, Texas. He passed away Nov. 25, 1948. Mr. Boatman was reared in Texas and Indian territory. He filed a claim in Tucuman, N. Mex. in 1906. He met and married his childhood sweetheart April 21, 1907 in Comanche, Okla. Mr. Boatman bought a farm in the Hub community where he moved his family in Feb. of 1928. Due to ill health he moved to Friona in December 1944 where he resided until his death.

He is survived by his wife, his four children: Mrs. B. E. Todd, Mrs. S. L. McLeilan, Clifford W. Boatman, and Gilbert R. Boatman, all of Friona. Also surviving are one sister, Mrs. O. J. Knight, Dill City, Okla., and two brothers, Luther Boatman of Bovina, Jim Boatman of Anadarko, Okla., six grandchildren, and many friends.

The expansion program got under way in July when work on 150 miles of short lines bringing electricity into 174 rural homes in Deaf Smith, Parmer and Castro Counties was begun.

Has Received $2,292,900 Since the Deaf Smith County Electric Cooperative Inc. was organized in 1937, it has received $2,292,900 in allocations from REA. The co-op is meeting payments on schedule and has paid REA a total of $196,862.66 in principle and interest on its loan.

The Rural Electrification Act requires that REA loans be made on a self-liquidating basis, and the cooperative received approval of its new $760,000 loan only after REA had completed a thorough study of the application. This study indicated that the cooperative will be able to make these additions to the system and have adequate revenue from consumers' power bills to meet operating expenses and repay, with interest, all money borrowed from REA for its rural power facilities. Mr. Roberson said. Rates charged consumers by the cooperative are based on the actual cost of service.

Robert L. Lloyd, Stationed At Spokane

Private First Class Robert L. Lloyd, son of Fred and Florence Lloyd, of Friona, Texas, was recently assigned to the 92nd Bombardment Wing, Spokane Air Force Base.

Spokane Air Force Base is the largest bomber base on the west Coast and is under the jurisdiction of the Fifteenth Air Force, Strategic Air Command. It is also the home of the famous 92nd and 98th Bomb Groups. Planes and personnel from this wing may be ordered to such places as Germany, Japan, and Alaska to further their operational training.

Private Lloyd attended the Friona High School prior to his entry into the military service on July 1948.

Weather Equitable In Friona Vicinity

While our neighbors in other Panhandle counties suffered severely a part of last week from snow and blizzards, the Friona country suffered only from some rather stiff winds and cold.

The temperature did not even get too near zero, making 22 about its lowest notch. Our streets and highways were not blocked or even made slippery, as there was no snow or moisture in any form to glaze the pavement.

The weather moderated quite a bit on Sunday, and has not been anything like severe during the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Marshall had as their Thanksgiving guests, their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. James E. Brown and son, Larry, of Muleshoe.

Approval of a $760,000 Rural Electrification Administration loan to the Deaf Smith Electric Cooperative, Inc. will provide Parmer County with an additional 35.8 miles of new rural electric line construction.

In announcing the REA's sanction of the loan Monday, Mr. T. W. Roberson, Cooperative board of director's president, said work on the new lines would be pushed as soon as material and labor could be obtained.

The loan also will provide for 154.5 miles of line construction in Deaf Smith county and 88 in Castro county.

The new construction will include 137.4 miles of single phase line; 79.8 miles of three phase line; 9.4 miles of service and 51.7 miles of single phase converted to three phase line, system improvement.

Will Include Four Transformers Also included will be four 2,000 KVA transformers to double the capacities of Substations 1 and 4, and two-way radio systems for co-op trucks.

The increased substation capacity will enable the cooperative to give service to an additional 152 irrigation wells and 178 single phase consumers as well as keep more constant voltage for irrigation consumers.

Has 1,051 Miles Of Lines The co-op now has 1,051 miles of power lines which bring service to 1,654 rural consumers. Upon completion of its present building plans, the system will be increased to 1,329.3 miles of lines which will serve 1,964 consumers.

In announcing approval of the loan, Mr. Roberson said it was his organization's purpose to see that rural electrification in this area kept pace with programs in other sections of the nation.

"Congress has indicated," Mr. Roberson said, "its interest in rural electrification by making more than a billion dollars available since 1935."

He said the greater part of the vast appropriation is being utilized by rural cooperatives such as the Deaf Smith County Electric Cooperative Inc.

"This Federal rural electrification program has been a leading factor in raising the nation's level of electrified farms from one out of ten in 1935 to six out of ten today."

—Going Ahead With Plans —"We're going ahead with plans to serve the greatest possible number of rural people in our area. We operate on an area coverage basis—in other words we hope to eventually bring service to every rural resident who wants electricity instead of those in our more thickly settled communities," Mr. Roberson concluded.

The expansion program got under way in July when work on 150 miles of short lines bringing electricity into 174 rural homes in Deaf Smith, Parmer and Castro Counties was begun.

Has Received $2,292,900 Since the Deaf Smith County Electric Cooperative Inc. was organized in 1937, it has received $2,292,900 in allocations from REA. The co-op is meeting payments on schedule and has paid REA a total of $196,862.66 in principle and interest on its loan.

Mr. Roberson said. Rates charged consumers by the cooperative are based on the actual cost of service.

Strength Ceilings On Texas National Guard Units Lifted

Strength ceilings on National Guard Units, imposed when enlistments ballooned before passage of the Selective Service law, have been lifted on both Army and Air Force units, the Texas adjutant general was informed by telegram recently from the National Guard Bureau.

Ceilings will not be re-imposed until the end of the Government fiscal year, June 30, 1949, or until strength over the nation reaches 341,000, whichever comes first.

The Texas ceiling was 13,059. The present strength is 12,711. In order to assure full attendance at summer camp in 1949, and to furnish replacements for personnel lost by attrition, the Bureau feels that each unit should be permitted to enlist up to its ability.

Ceilings were lifted on certain types of air units last October. The present ruling relieves pressure on all air force units.

The Adjutant General has informed all unit commanders that they may recruit up to full

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Why Dutch is Growing a Beard

That beard on Dutch Miller's chin doesn't mean that he's getting ready to play Santa Claus. He's simply paying off the election bet he lost to Cappy Swanson. And while some folks allow it's all a lot of nonsense—like the wheelbarrow ride that Cappy had to give Dutch after last election day—from where I sit, it's a mighty wholesome aftermath to a difference of opinion.

Because good Americans all take their politics and voting seriously. But when the issues settled, and the die is cast, they accept the verdict in a spirit of good humor.

And that's as it should be when it comes to any difference of opinion. Some folks vote for beer as their favorite beverage—others vote for cider. In fact, we all have differences of taste in almost everything! But that doesn't mean that we can't live together in a spirit of good fellowship.

Standing in a wrecked stock car, these cattle seem as contented as they were out in the pasture. Two crew members were injured when the stock train collided with a freight train at a crossover of the Santa Fe and Indiana Harbor Belt railroads in Chicago.

Helmeted guards patrol a bridge that runs over a number of mine pits in the St. Etienne sector of France. The idle mines, guarded by troops, symbolizes the general situation throughout French coal fields, as government troops and guards took over mines from Communist-led strikers. Some 550,000 miners are involved.

Carasello's El Zorro, Two-pound Chihuahua, looks a bit anxious, hoping maybe that Evanger's Monitor, 150-pound Great Dane, won't suddenly decide that they are no longer friends. The two are entrants in Chicago's Western Specialty Dog Show.

Complete with cement mixer, left, in which the batter was mixed, this Paul Bunyan pancake supper took on gigantic proportions in Iron Mountain, Mich. About 4000 persons attended the party, a batch given by Iron Mountain and nearby Kingsford Boy and Girl Scouts to aid their local Community Chest drives. Hungry guests kept the mixer mixing batter at top speed.

This is Annie III, one of the six baby elephants whose near-mutiny because of reduced rations 1500 miles out in the Pacific made headline news. Here, she amuses a crowd at the Chicago airport during a stopover en route to the Madison, Wis., Zoo. One of the spectators offers "Annie" a handful of hay.

Parables of Jesus Will Always Be Needed in World

A PARABLE is a story told to point a moral, or to illustrate truth.

The Gospel records show how extensively and effectively it was used by Jesus as He taught the multitudes who pressed to hear His words. But the parable in such use was not unique with Jesus. It was a form widely used, in the East, as in Aesop's famous "Fables."

What is unique in the parables of Jesus is their quality, their simplicity and perfection in expressing what Jesus had to declare, and in the greatness of the truth itself.

That is a point that cannot be too strongly stressed in appreciating the greatness and power of those parables. I suppose that thousands of sermons have been preached upon such parables as those of The Prodigal Son, and The Good Samaritan, sermons that have used up hundreds of words for each of the comparatively few in the original stories.

But it is doubtful whether all these sermons have added anything to the effectiveness of the simple stories as told by Jesus in making known the message of God's love.

What was it that made these parables of Jesus so effective? And what is it that keeps them fresh and new today?

I think it is the fact that the parables of Jesus are true to life. If Jesus had been inventing something that couldn't have happened, the stories would have lost their force. But the stories, whether of actual occurrences or of details chosen to make plain the message, are so true to human experience. They live today with a power as real in our modern setting as in their ancient setting.

It is this element of universality that underlies their persistent freshness. The parables are ageless in their application, as they are universal in their human outreach. At any time, anywhere in the world, among any race or people, they would still have their message. That is why they are unique and why they will always be needed in a world that lags so far behind in the appropriation of their truth.

Christian Church Was Established On Organization

WE date our years Anno Domini, "the year of the Lord," and B. C., "Before Christ," with the implication that the Christian era began with the birth of Jesus. Actually Christianity began much farther back, and its roots and foundations were laid in Judaism.

It was in the words of the prophet Isaiah that Jesus announced the beginning of His ministry, "The spirit of the Lord is upon me, because He hath anointed me to preach the gospel to the poor (Luke 4:18)."

But Jesus was a founder as well as a teacher, and He built anew upon all that had gone before.

Bruce Barton in his book, "The Man Nobody Knows," compared Jesus to a modern big business executive. This conception was offensive to many readers, who could see in the meek, lowly and unorganized Jesus little in common with the conventionally successful big business executive. But Barton was right in so far as the comparison emphasized the unrecognized extent to which Jesus was an organizer.

The picture of Jesus as an unconventional teacher, going about in the villages and fields, or upon the Sea of Galilee with His disciples, is inadequate to what the Gospels themselves reveal.

He chose 12 men as key men in the purposes He had to fulfill. Though one of them proved a traitor, their future course and their effectiveness in the founding of the church showed what insight and vision He had chosen them, and the rare power that His teaching and training had imparted to them. Then, we are told, He appointed "other 70 also," and these He also taught and trained, and sent them out into the villages, two by two.

But the result of it all was that when He was crucified, He left a group well trained and equipped to carry on His work.

Thus the Christian Church began and grew with life and truth, furthered by organization. And thus the church must still fulfill its purpose and carry on the Master's work by proclaiming the truth and gaining new life.

The youngsters at Whittier Elementary School in Harvey, Ill., were given a rare treat when Lou Koudreas, player-manager of the world champion Cleveland Indians, came back and occupied the same seat he had in the first grade. With Lou is his son, Lou Jr.

Texas 4-H'ers Win Chicago Trips

Ann Peterson, Wayne White, Betty Blackerby, Reuben Rother.

SUPERIOR records of achievement in National 4-H Better Methods Canning, Clothing and Garden programs have won 1948 state championship honors for four Texas club members. Each received an expense trip to the 27th National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, Nov. 25 to Dec. 2. The winners, who were selected by the state club officer and brief outlines of their records follow:

Getting that well-known "new-look" was little trouble for Ann Peterson, 17, of Devine, who selected, sewed, made over or mended 26 garments for herself and other members of the family during three years of 4-H club work. In addition to completing five 4-H projects, of which three were in clothing, Ann served as president and leader. She gave a talk at a community meeting and wrote three stories about 4-H tours, camps or special events. Ann has done some interesting things with textile paints. A peasant blouse which was plain white she painted attractive Mexican girl and ivy flower vendors around the neckline. She painted bath towels with a design taken from the bathroom wall paper, painted initial A on the cuffs of a sock and a pillow top with Mexican design, which was done in six colors. Named State winner in the 1948 National 4-H Clothing Achievement program, she was awarded an educational trip to the Chicago Club Congress provided by Spoon Cotton Educational Bureau.

Wayne White, 17, of Coahoma, has applied many better feeding and housing methods in his livestock activities because of 4-H achievement through the National 4-H Better Methods Electric program. Wayne has been named State winner in the program in recognition of the many better methods he has developed for doing farm tasks. He has given demonstrations on trimming calves feet, grooming livestock, terracing, culling chickens and pruning trees. In addition to project work, he has served as junior leader of his local club for five years. Wayne received an educational trip to the National 4-H Club Congress, Chicago, provided by the Westinghouse Educational Foundation.

The Blackerby family of White-wright has no worries when it comes to being supplied with a variety of healthful foods all year around. Canning 1,984 quarts of meat, fruit and vegetables helped 4-H'er Betty Blackerby, 16, win State honors in the National 4-H Canning Program. She also has served her club in many offices and is a junior leader. Betty was provided an all-expense trip to the National 4-H Club Congress, Chicago, by the Kerr Glass Mfg. Corp. as recognition for her outstanding achievements.

Providing his family with plenty of healthful home-grown vegetables was a major achievement for Reuben Rother, 20, of McAdoo, but he has now also been recognized with State honors in the 1948 National 4-H Garden program. Reuben planted and tended cantaloupe, tomatoes, squash, blackberries, melons, potatoes, cabbage and corn during his seven years as a 4-H'er. He has used crop rotation and learned their value in both garden and field crop projects. As a recognition of his achievements, Alis Chalmers provided Reuben with an educational trip to the National 4-H Club Congress, Chicago.

All of these activities are conducted under the direction of the Extension Service of the State Agriculture College and USDA cooperating.

Inactive Texas National Guard Re-established

The Inactive National Guard, quiescent since before the war, has been re-established by the National Guard Bureau to provide a back-log of trained Guard personnel immediately available in time of emergency.

It provides for certain classes of officers and enlisted men who had previous active Federal military service but who are now in the active National Guard according to National Guard Regulations no. 30 just issued.

Officers may be administratively transferred to the Inactive National Guard who are now on, or later enter, extended active duty, those who were in Federal service but are required to remain in a reserve status for the duration and six months, and those who are unable to perform full duty because of temporary change of address or business reasons. Transfer will insure retention of Federal recognition.

Regulations for enlisted personnel are the same as for officers, except as to term of enlistment. Men will be enlisted for one term of three years and will be transferred to active service as vacancies occur. They will be transferred from the active to the inactive Guard only for the unexpired period of their current enlistment.

All personnel will be required to meet the same professional and physical fitness and age-grade limitations as the active Guard, except that those who become over-age-in-grade but hold a certificate of eligibility for a higher grade may be placed in the inactive Guard until a vacancy occurs.

Officers will not be eligible for armory drill, but may attend army service schools when necessary to promotion, and summer field training when funds are available.

IN TEXAS

4-H Clubs Do Here's What

Ever wondered just what the 4-H Club boys and girls in Texas do? Here's the answer.

This is last year's record of nearly 5,000 4-H Clubs in Texas with a membership of over 110,000 youngsters.

These kids produced food, and they conserved food. And they made more food available to their families, as well as to families overseas. J. W. Potts, extension state 4-H club specialist of Texas A&M College, says they had more than 23,000 gardens. The boys have raised more than 368,500 chickens and turkeys. The girls had nearly 7 thousand poultry flocks.

Store Food in Lockers
The 961,000 quarts of food these youngsters put up in cans and jars doesn't include the hundreds of pounds stored in the freezer locker.

Food wasn't the only item on the program by any means. These 4-H boys and girls helped make their homes more attractive and livable. The girls' projects included making more than 59,000 new garments and remodeling over 33,000 other items of clothing.

Fire and accident prevention programs also held the interest of many of the club members. They spent time improving their own health as well as that of their families and communities.

Conservation Has Big Part
Soil and water conservation practices played a big part on the 4-H Club program, too. The boys had nearly 110,000 acres in conservation management. Besides this, they raised more than 54,500 head of livestock, while the girls were planning more than a million and a quarter meals.

That's what the record shows. In doing all these things, says Potts, they gained a better understanding of their place in the world today.
