A Ford dump truck which has traveled 411,000 miles—or the equivalent of more than 16 times around the earth at the rate of 30 miles an hour—is en route here from Golden Gate International Airport, it was announced today by W. J. Ferguson of Ferguson Motor Company, local Ford agent.

A veteran of the highways, the truck has transported more than 200,000 tons of sand, gravel, other building materials, or cement to fill 2,000 railroad cars, has been on display at the Ford Exhibit at Treasure Island where it attracted wide attention from truck operators on the Pacific coast.

The truck was operated by S. J. Peterson Materials Co. of Huntington Park, Calif., transporting building materials from pits 25 miles outside the city and making numerous 24-hour-a-day cement pouring jobs. It has the record for one of the longest mileages ever attained by a V-8 truck, which have been to the attention of the Motor Company.

The truck is now traveling from Exposition to the Ford Exhibit at the New York State Fair.

will stimulate more interest in future rodeos by letting the future cowboys of the country try their skill and become accustomed to the work that has to be done both in the arena and on the range.

To start the day off with a bang, a big street parade is planned each morning at ten o'clock with the rodeo scheduled to start at 2 in the afternoon. A big dance each night will bring to a close a full day of entertainment with music to be furnished by Mack Rogers and his orchestra from the Gunter Hotel of San Antonio, assuring couples of the best music that can be had in this section of the state.

Numerous reports have come from cowboys over the state saying that they will be on hand to try for the purses that will be offered in the rodeo events. And Mr. Robertson has obtained the best stock available so that the spectators will see plenty of action during the show.

The American Legion Park has been repaired and the grandstand has been rebuilt so that there will be ample seating room. A shade will also be placed overhead to provide a cool place and the arena is to be sprinkled each day before the show to keep the dust down as much as possible, according to Mr. Robertson.

Stockton defeated Fort Stockton 15 to 10 in a game held at the home of Mrs. John Reninger Thursday last week. ## OLD-TIMERS PLAY LOCAL BASEBALL NINE SUNDAY

Fort Stockton Club Fail to Appear For Scheduled Game

Spectators Sunday afternoon enjoyed one of the best games of the season when the Longhorns tangled with a group of players consisting of old-timers of the community. There were several players in the line-up who at one time were considered among the best in this part of the country, although age and years without practice has done much to slow them down. Balance of players who faced the Longhorns pitcher were composed of business men and others of Sanderson. The line-up was as follows: D. L. Duke, catcher; M. H. Gray, pitcher; F. M. Weigand, 1st F. Robertson, second; Milton Smith, third; Ed Robbins, shortstop; Hollis Haley, left field; Dick Sullivan, center field; and O. T. Schuppach Jr., right field.

Those who composed the line-up for the Longhorns were: Pat Harris, catcher; Richard Haley, pitcher; Albert Weigand, first; Jesse Loehausen, second; Jess McDonald, third; Austin Nance, shortstop; Bill Stavley, left field; Denny Sullivan, center field; O. T. Sudduth, right field.

The score stood nothing to nothing at the end of the fourth inning with the Old-Timers giving the regular nine plenty of competition, both from the pitcher's mound and from the infield. In the fifth inning, the regulars ran in three counts to start the scoring. This was followed by one score in the seventh inning and four in the eighth. The opposition retaliated with two scores in the sixth, two in the seventh, and one each in the eighth and ninth innings, with the final score standing at 8-6 in favor of the regulars.

Contract Not to Be Let For Mile Road Construction

Word was received by E. L. Pearce, resident engineer, that the contractors notice as published in the Times last week for sealed proposals for the construction of approximately 1 mile of grade drainages and structures, flexible base and double asphalt surface treatment west of Sanderson had been withdrawn and the contract would not be let at this time because of lack of funds for carrying out the project.

Mr. Pearce stated that he was sure the project, which would change the present curved highway going out of town into an almost straight line from the street east of the power plant to the new bridge being constructed about a mile from town, would be let at a later time.

SCHOOL RECEIVES NEW BOOKS

A total of 1,365 textbooks have been received in Sanderson recently for use in the Terrell County Public School for the next year. These cover all grades and a wide variety of subject matter. A majority of the new books are readers for the elementary grades, each pupil receiving at least one new reader each year. The total cost of the books received is $664.70, thus making the average cost of new books less than one dollar per pupil. This is about the same as the average cost per pupil over the state.

New books received for high school grades include American History, government, economics, World History, algebra, general mathematics for the eighth grade, physics, public speaking and bookkeeping.

GAVILAN BRIDGE TO BE OPENED BY MIDDLE OF WEEK

The new highway bridge at Gavilan, about three miles west of town, will probably be opened to travel about the middle of next week according to E. L. Pearce.

The bridge about eight miles out has been open for the past month and the third bridge, just 1 mile west of town will be opened about September 1. It will be several months before the bridge at the east edge of town over the Sanderson Creek will be replaced, however, work is progressing nicely.

TWELVE GRADES ADOPTED IN LOCAL SCHOOL SYSTEM

The trustees of the Terrell County Common School District in a recent meeting voted to adopt a 12-grade plan, beginning with the 1939-40 session. This merely means that pupils starting in school in the future will have twelve years of school instead of eleven. Pupils who have already attended school will not be affected in any manner.

The change to twelve grades has been recommended by the State Department of Education and many schools have already made the change. The lowering of the age limit of the pupils to six years several years ago caused the demand for twelve grades. Primary teachers and supervisors over the state have agreed that younger pupils could not do the work which had been planned for older children. A majority of the states of the nation now have twelve grades.

Miss Doris Cochran is in San Antonio where she plans to spend the balance of the summer holidays with her grandmother, Mrs. W. A. Cochran.

Mrs. J. W. Haynes and daughters, Mrs. Clyde Carter and Miss Marzee and son, Harold, returned Friday from a two weeks visit in California with friends and attending the Fair.

A truck belonging to R. C. Hyatt of Portales, N. M. and driven by T. M. Jennings, was overturned Friday morning about 5 o'clock some 12 miles out on the Del Rio highway when the lights went out.

The truck was a Ford V-8 loaded with produce and was overturned when it hit a guard rail before it could be brought to a stop after the lights had failed. A brother of the driver, B. D. Jennings was seriously injured, receiving three gashes in the head resulting in a brain concussion and a sprained right hip and shoulder, while the driver escaped with a bruised right leg and two fractured ribs.

Both men were able to leave for their home Thursday.

Settlement To Be Made on Gaines County School Land

Commissioner J. C. Mitchell and County Attorney A. E. Creigh Jr. returned Wednesday from Gaines County where they went to make some settlement with the Biege-Forbes Land Company concerning the interest past due on school land sold by Terrell County in 1908.

The land, 17,635 acres, was sold for the sum of $62,000.00 with interest at the rate of 5%. The interest is delinquent since 1931 and has amounted to $19,000.00. The Commissioner's Court has offered to settle with them for an undivided one-fourth mineral rights in the land. The land company agreed to accept this offer by the first of September or deed the land back to the county without a court trial.

Announcement was made this week by Cage Bros. that the paving of the seventeen blocks of streets in Sanderson would start sometime the latter part of next week.

They will start this work as soon as the bridge at Gavilan, which will be about Wednesday. The streets are to be paved with asphalt and will be 20 feet in width. The work will probably be completed within two weeks after it has started.

CITIZEN'S MILITARY TRAINING CAMPS

Many young men of eligible age and qualifications do not know the benefits of the CMTC. Citizen's Military Training Camps, which are now in progress over the United States at the various army posts. These camps are not only educational and interesting but are a vacation. Although the trainees do not receive any pay for this training, they receive travel pay to and from camp and also receive uniforms, good wholesome food and medical attention. The duration of the camp is thirty days and during this time they find out how to take care of themselves, as soldiers, how to use and care for their equipment, how to get over the first rude bumps that the rookie must surmount.

The course of CMTC is divided into four stages: basic, red, white and blue. The basic course consists of close order drill, camp routine, personal hygiene, citizenship and the basic elements of military life. Beginning with the red course, the trainee has the opportunity to choose what branch of service he wishes to take up: field artillery, cavalry, infantry, engineers, coast artillery or signal corps. The trainee then progresses through the red, white and blue courses in his chosen branch until he graduates from the blue course at which time he is required to complete a correspondence course which requires another year of home study. After the completion of these correspondence courses, he is eligible to make application for commission of second lieutenant in his chosen branch. He is then called before a board of officers who examine him orally and with everything in proper order and after he passes a rigid physical examination he is given oath of office as second lieutenant in the Army of the United States.

His military career as an emergency officer has just begun. To hold his commission he is required to complete a minimum number of hours of home study. Each year he is ordered to active duty training for two weeks. Also during the course of his military career he may be ordered to the service school of his branch, Field Artillery school at Fort Sill, Okla. Infantry School at Fort Benning, Ga., and other various service schools. After completion of courses at the service school, he may be ordered to the Command and General Staff School at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, and on completion of this course he is eligible for duty with the General Staff at Washington, D. C. So one may see that a properly trained emergency officer is qualified to take his place along side of the professional officer in time of war. Many qualified reserve officers are assigned to regular army units and will move out with the units the day war is declared.

The cost of this training to the government is negligible in relation to its value as a preparedness measure.

Astair and Rogers Re-Crete Careers In Latest Screen Hit

Offering a glittering pageant of American progress as reflected in the victorious sweep of the world's most illustrious dancing duo, Fred Astair and Ginger Rogers bring to the screen Monday and Tuesday as their latest offering, "The Story of Vernon and Irene Castle." The filming of this picture in Hollywood under the watchful eye of Mrs. Vernon Castle herself, has just been completed, after months spent on production and more than a year spent in planning and research.

Fred Astair and Ginger Rogers

As the title indicates, the picture tells the sensational story of Vernon and Irene Castle who skyrocketed to fame overnight as the world's greatest dancing team of the Pre-War era. It is told against a memorable background of period settings, and revives a wealth of period tunes—"By the Sea," "Rose Room," "Waitin' for Robert E. Lee," for example, and "Pretty Baby," "Smiles," "Darktown Strutters' Ball," among many others. This parade of musical hits of long ago, together with its stirring romance and its dramatic conclusion, promise to make the picture the outstanding musical film of recent years.

The current number, "Only When You Are in My Arms," by Con Conrad, Herman Ruby and Bert Kalmar, is sung by Fred Astaire.

When Vernon Castle, aspiring young dancer and comic, meets Irene Foote, daughter of a New Rochelle doctor, it is a case of love at first sight. Vernon is "stogging" for Lew Fields in a musical comedy hit at the time, and throughout the winter he and Irene practice dance steps, hoping Fields will give them a chance.

Instead, they get married, go to Paris through a misunderstanding, and find themselves penniless. They are rescued by the efforts of an elderly theatrical agent, Maggie Sutton, who gets them an offer to dance at a Paris cafe. They are an immediate sensation.

In a week, all Paris knows them. In a month they are famous all over Europe, and when they return to America they find themselves acclaimed everywhere. Triumphs follow, and tour until they tire. They finally decide they've made enough money, and that they will retire. Then the World War breaks out and Vernon, a British citizen, feels he must enlist.

OK Roadshow At Princess Theatre Wed. and Thurs.

Robert Young in boots and sombrero is a novel sight that awaits motion picture fans at the Princess Theatre, where he makes debut Wednesday and Thursday as a he-man of the plains in "Maisie," the new comedy-drama in which he is featured with Ann

Sothorn. Although fans should not be surprised, because horses are Young's sideline in private life, they probable will be when they see him as a two-fisted, woman-hating rancher who can ride man-hating rancher who can ride mands. "Maisie" is a story laid in the West, but is not a horse opera in any sense of the word. It is a very modern story of the tangled lives of four people—a rancher, a honky-tonk showgirl, an Eastern business man and his wife who are brought together through circumstances that at times are humorous yet build to a dramatic climax when a suicide leads to a murder trial.

There is no cattle rustling or gold claims at stake. There is no chase in the final reel with the hero arriving in the nick of time to save the girl from the convincing villain. But it is replete with smart story angles and sums up to fine, intelligent, and at all and Tom Brown, as the adopted son torn between loyalty to his father and his idolization of his foster-brother, stand right beside Curtis in sincerity and conviction, while memorable work in featured parts is turned in by such players as Fay Holden, Marc Lawrence, Marion Martin, David Gorrey, Donald Haines, Ben Welton and Etta McDaniel.

The story is permeated with suspense and dramatic power from start to finish, rising to a gripping climax when Curtis, a fugitive from justice, dares to visit his wife and new-born son in a New York hospital while Beery waits outside to take him banded.

While first honors go to the picture's star, Director von Sternberg, has kept his entire cast keyed to telling heights. Producer J. Walter Ruben, director of man J. Walter Ruben, director of many earlier Beery successes, has given the authority of authentic detail to every note struck.

Wallace Beery In "Sergeant Madden" Friday and Saturday

The power and sincerity of a magnificent portrayal by Wallace Beery, the camera magic of Director Josef von Sternberg, the crackling action with which he has infused his film, and a group of inspired performances by a trio of young secondary leads make "Sergeant Madden," showing at the Princess Theatre Friday and Saturday, memorable and thrilling entertainment.

Story of the New York police, "Sergeant Madden" presents Beery in the title role as a 30-year veteran of the force. His despair is his son, Dennis, played by Alan Curtis, a hot headed young "smart guy" who knows a quicker way to success than his father's plodding methods, but runs afoul of the law and becomes a snarling, defiant criminal. Curtis, as a result of his work, becomes the season's finest young "menace".

Ann Sothorn plays Maisie Ravelier who is stranded in Big Horn, Wyoming, when the manager of her honky-tonk show vanishes with the funds. She meets Slim Martin, a ranch manager and woman hater when she is accused of stealing his wallet at a carnival concession in which she gets a job.

Trying to get out of town, Maisie climbs into Slims wagon and finds herself at his ranch. He tries to get rid of her but she bounces back because she is determined to make him like her. When Clifford Ames (Ian Hunter), owner of the ranch, arrives with his life (Ruth Hussey) the complications set in.

Ames has brought his wife out West to break up flirtation with another man. She tries to make an impression on Slim but he will have none of it. So she sends secretly for Dick Raymond (Anthony Allen). Maisie comes upon them in an old ranch house but rather than hurt Ames, who has become her friend, she keeps the news to herself. Ames learns of Raymond's presence and, distraught, commits suicide. But this takes place after Maisie the ranch following a fight with Slim. Martin finds Ames' body and is charged with his murder.

The motive is his supposed infatuation for Mrs. Ames, founded on remarks he has made to Maisie. The situation is cleared up by a letter written to Maisie before his death.

An excellent cast support of Young and Sothorn. Besides Martin and Hunter, it includes Edwards, Anthony Allen, Mix, George Tobias, Carle, Minor Watson and Briggs. It has been directed by Edwin L. Markson.

Hon. Morris Sheppard, U. S. Senator from Texas, Hon. Clyde M. Hoey, Governor of North Carolina, Hon. E. D. Rivers, Governor of Georgia, and Hon. John M. Daniel, Attorney General of South Carolina, will participate in the program. Other speakers will include Niles Trammell, executive vice-president of the National Broadcasting Company, and L. F. Livingston, manager, Agricultural Extension Division of the E. I. Du Pont de Nemours Co.

The Supreme Forest Woodmen Circle, meeting in its quadrennial convention will convene with the Sovereign Camp for the opening program June 26. The Woodmen of the World Life Insurance Society is the world's strongest fraternal benefit society. President Bradshaw said. It now has assets of more than 128 million dollars, and has paid out in benefits to members and their beneficiaries more than 275 million dollars since its organization 49 years ago. Members are protected by nearly 400 million dollars of insurance in the Society.

TEXAS OUT-O-DOORS

regular session of the 46th Legislature set what Game Department officials believe to be an all-time record in the passage of game and fish laws. In all, 94 new laws relating to wildlife were enacted out of a total of 134 wildlife bills introduced, 113 originating in the House and 21 in the Senate.

At the start of the session, 545 applications of county game and fish laws were on the statute books. The new crop of laws, officials said, adds considerably to the number although in several cases the new regulations merely extend the life of old laws about to expire.

Only seven of the 94 new laws are general laws, applicable to the state as a whole, the Department announced. The rest apply only to individual counties or groups of counties.

Fishing received more attention than hunting. An analysis shows the Legislature passed 30 new laws dealing with the regulation of fishing or sale of fish. Fourteen new laws dealing with deer and turkey hunting were passed, 10 relating to fox, 9 to quail, and five to squirrels and fur bearing animals. Various other local laws were enacted.

Most important among the general laws passed was that declaring the Collared Peccary or Javalina a game animal. Killing of the animals was declared illegal except during an open season, from Nov. 16 to Jan 1 and the bag limit was declared to be two per season. Sale of javalinas or their hides was declared unlawful, except that javalinas or their hides imported from other states or countries might be sold. Many of the animals are imported annually from Mexico.

Other general laws included that placing the Starling on the unprotected list; forbidding fishing from bridges or causeways maintained by the State Highway Department; allowing the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission to condemn lands for use in construction of fresh water fish hatcheries or passes leading to one tidal body of water to another; providing for the issuance of non-resident trapper's licenses at a cost of $200 each; and placing the brown pelican on the protected list.

Another general law had the effect of giving the Game Department permission to accept federal funds to be used in an extensive game management, survey and research program.

Part of the federal money already had been received for this purpose and the program had been inaugurated with the executive approval of James V. Alford before his term as governor expired.

The game restoration program, being undertaken in cooperation with the U. S. Bureau of Biological Survey, was expected to last five years as originally conceived. The Game Department was to match federal money in the ratio of 1 to 3. Several projects for the restoration of quail, antelope, mountain sheep, turkey, dove, deer and fur-bearing animals have been evolved during the first year of the federal-state project, and were due to get under way in the near future.

Veto of many Game Department items by Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel last week, however left the fate of the entire cooperative program in doubt.

Inroads of domestic sheep and elk upon the range of the wild mountain sheep in Texas will keep those nimble-footed and interesting animals from increasing much beyond their present number, it is reported by Bob Snow of the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission, who has just completed a survey of wild sheep with the assistance of the U. S. Bureau of Biological Survey.

Mountain sheep, which are found in the Beach and Diablo Mountains of West Texas, now number fewer than 400, according to Snow, who counted 130 in the Beach Mountains and who believes, after his survey, that there are approximately 250 in the Diablos. Those mountains are the only ones upon which there is suitable range for wild sheep. Elk have taken over some of it and domestic sheep are making huge inroads upon part of the range.

While it is not likely sportsmen will ever have an open season on wild sheep, which are among the most colorful animals in the Lone Star State, three ranchmen of the Trans-Pecos are leading the fight to help the species to survive. They are A. F. Yeates, Vivian McAdoo and T. M. Pyle, upon whose lands wild sheep range is found.

Neal Wood of near Tatum, Rush County, Texas, is one former who will not allow insectivorous birds to be killed on his lands and especially sparrows, that species which is regarded in many quarters as a distinct nuisance. Mr. Wood found that the sparrows had entirely cleaned out the army of worms from his cotton patches.

Texas sold more than 1-20th tieth of the federal duck stamps purchased by sportsmen throughout the United States during the period from July 1, 1938, to June 15, 1939, being fifth in total sales, a report of the United States Bureau of Biological Survey reveals. A total of 57,675 $1 duck stamps were bought by Texas hunters.

Total sales for the 1938-39 period were 984,401. Funds are used by the Biological Survey to supplement other funds used for the purchase and maintenance of migratory wildfowl refuges in the United States and Alaska. Duck stamps for the 1939 season went on sale July 1 at all first and second class postoffices.

Bats, protected by law in Texas because of the effective work in helping to keep down insect crops can be seen by tens of thousands in some places in the State. Dr. A. J. Nicholson, Reginal Game Manager for the Game Department, recently observed a flight of bats from a big cave in Bracken in Comal County which continued for one hour and forty five minutes. The flight was approximately twenty-five feet wide and a foot thick. One bat didn't get to its usual night foraging spot for a blue-darter hawk swooped down into the flight of bats and carried one off to be part of his evening meal. The Mexican three-tailed bat is the most common of a large number of species found in Texas.

No water need be added to lamb roast, and the pan should be left uncovered, say food specialists of the Texas A and M College Extension Service.

This veteran Ford V-8 truck, which has been on exhibition at the Ford Exhibit at the Golden Gate International Exposition, will arrive here en route to the New York World Fair. It was announced today by W. J. Ferguson of Ferguson Motor Co., local Ford dealer. The truck piled up the amazing record of 411,000 miles in 54 months of service for the S. H. Bacon Materials Co. of Huntington Park, Calif. Its log book shows it has hauled 100,000 tons of sand, gravel and other building materials. It also was used on cement-pouring jobs which required 24-hour-a-day service. Another Ford V-8 truck, which is west-bound from the World Fair, has rolled up 784,000 miles. The two units have seen nearly 1,200,000 miles of service.

HUGE LIVESTOCK SHOW PLANNED

Plans are being made to have one of the largest livestock shows ever held in the entire South at the 1939 State Fair of Texas, October 7 to 22. It has been announced by Franz P. Holland, director in charge of livestock. Premiums have been increased in practically every classification of livestock. Beef cattle alone have been increased to more than $20,000, and one of the features of the livestock show will be the Hereford classification for which $10,000 in awards will be made. Due to the increased herds of dairy cattle in Texas premiums for this classification has been increased to $7,500, as have the awards offered in the various swine classifications. Texas has rapidly forged ahead during the past few years as the outstanding beef cattle state in the entire union and are selling many animals of registered stock to farmers of the South and Southeast for breeding purposes.

State Fair officials plan to invite many officials and visitors from Southwestern states to visit the Hereford and other livestock shows at the Texas Fair. The governmental cotton program of the past few years has necessitated the change of cotton acres to feed stuffs and farmers in former cotton belts are turning to livestock to dispose of the feed.

"The Breeder-Feeder movement has thoroughly demonstrated the fact that beef cattle can be bred, fed and finished in Texas or any other cotton state,"

Rabies Controlled By Vaccination of Dogs Says Doctor

Rabies is increasing in prevalence in many parts of Texas, although it may be controlled and even exterminated by intelligence measures, according to the State Department of Health. Unfortunately it has been the practice of people to wait to apply control measures until the disease is widespread. The dog is the chief source of rabies infection in man, but all warm-blooded animals are susceptible. Contrary to a widespread belief, rabies is not a warm weather disease. It occurs just as frequently in cold months too. The most logical procedure in the control of rabies would be to vaccinate all dogs. Where this is impossible the stray dog should be immediately impounded, for the stray dog is chiefly responsible for the spread of rabies. Public health authorities are handicapped in their fight against the spread of rabies in humans occurs only frequently. However, it is must be remembered that rabies is 100 per cent fatal once the disease is developed. Treatment is only preventive and must be taken in time. Do not kill the dog that is behaving strangely or immediately after it has bitten someone. The animal should be captured and kept under observation for ten days to determine whether it has rabies or not. The confinement should be ample secure, for a dog in the frenzy of furious rabies requires a much stronger collar and chain or enclosure than a non-rabid dog.

When the rabies virus is put into the body by a biting dog, the virus travels slowly from the wound along the nerves until it reaches the brain and spinal cord. Thus if the bite is on the face the virus does not have far to travel to reach the brain. Consequently bites on the face are the most dangerous and immunization must be started at once. It is possible to control rabies, but, owing to the large territory included in Texas, it will take extra efforts on the part of the public health workers and the cooperation of the people of each town and country to carry on an educational program for this control.

One of the most unusual instances of wildlife charity on record was discovered recently by Horace LaGrone, a school teacher of Deadwood, Panola County, Texas. It is reported by Herbert R. Siegler, Regional Game Manager for the Game Department. Mr. LaGrone recently observed a bluejay repeatedly feeding another adult jay. After calling State Game Warden Ray Biggerstaff's attention to the unusual occurrence, LaGrone killed the bluejay receiving the food. He discovered this jay could not have fed himself because he had no lower mandible, or beak.

Take hold of a thought, make it work for you.

Make good where you are. Then look for something better.

Mr. Holland said. "The government program has helped in this and Texas and other cotton states will be furnishing more livestock each year."

Mrs. Charlie Murray and sons, Wilton and Eldridge, have gone to New Orleans for a visit.

Mrs. Joe Bean and children are visiting in Houston and Lufkin and Orange for a few weeks.

Mrs. Theresa Friend, formerly of Sanderson, has charge of the Friend's Variety Store while Mr. Prater is away. Mrs. Friend has a store in Robert Lee.

Nearly One-Half Accidents Occur Over Week-end

State police today sought an explanation as to why nearly half the people killed in traffic are fatally injured on Saturdays and Sundays.

The death toll is far out of proportion to the volume of traffic on those days, even though week-end travel is high. Much of the blame, state police believe, must be laid to the "week-end driver"—thoughtless, careless, joy-riding, sometimes drunk and often inexperienced. He must shoulder the responsibility for an appalling toll which in five months this year has claimed the lives of 279 out of a total of 567 fatalities for that period, they declared.

The five-month survey disclosed that 49 per cent of the traffic deaths occurred on week-ends, 26 per cent on Saturdays, 23 per cent on Sundays. But less than 34 per cent of all traffic moves on week-ends—18 per cent on Saturdays, 15.7 per cent on Sundays, state officers pointed out. The volume of traffic was taken from average figures developed by the state-wide highway planning survey based on a year's actual count.

Week-end fatalities were highest in January, when 73 lives were claimed on four Saturdays and five Sundays and have declined appreciably since then, the survey showed. February had 56 deaths for four Saturdays and four Sundays; March, 50 deaths for four Saturdays and four Sundays; April, 53 deaths for five Saturdays and five Sundays; May, 47 deaths for four Saturdays and four Sundays.

New Method For Preserving Fresh Vegetables Found

Just as waxing floors protects them from deterioration and blemishes, waxing vegetables produces similar results. Numerous inquiries with regard to this innovation have come recently to Grace I. Neely, specialist in food preservation for A. & M. Extension Service. Even commercial growers and shippers are studying how much longer waxed vegetables will keep when waxed, the approximate cost and necessary equipment. One method developed at Cornell University which is gaining in popularity is the use of a cold wax emulsion. Miss Neely points out. Those emulsions can be applied by dipping carrots, beets, squash, cucumbers, tomatoes, eggplants, peppers, and many other vegetables now preserved in Texas. On drying, a very thin film of wax is left on the vegetable. The thinness of the coating is effective in reducing water loss and shriveling. The wax is less and harmless and is removed with warm water. According to Miss Neely, experiments reveal that waxed vegetables may be kept for three times longer than unwaxed ones before the signs of deterioration appear. In addition, the cost is nominal, a bushel of root crops waxed at an expense from 10 to 15 cents.
