REV. BILL BURTON

Rev. W. G. (Bill) Burton of O'Donnell is the new pastor of the First Baptist Church of Friona.

The Rev. Burton and his family moved to Friona last weekend and he brought his first message in the local church last Sunday.

Rev. Burton is a 35-year old graduate of the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary at Fort Worth and received his BA degree from Howard Payne College in 1947.

Rev. Burton was graduated from Paschal High School in Fort Worth in 1941. He entered Decatur Baptist College and later transferred to Howard Payne.

He and his wife, Mildred, of Mineola, were married in 1945 and now have three children, Patricia, 13; Billy, 11; and Debbie, 7.

Rev. Burton is no stranger to the Panhandle area of Texas having served as associate pastor at First Baptist Church of Perryton and his first full pastorate was at the First Baptist Church of Gruver.

He has served, prior to coming to Friona, at Bowie, Perryton and Cleburne as associate pastor, then pastor at Gruver and O'Donnell.

He and his family are making their home in Friona in the new Baptist parsonage at 1402 West 6th.

At press time a full itinerary of their travels was not known, but the pair will write a full report of their trip for publication upon their return.

OFF TO KANSAS CITY—Carroll Bennett, left, and Tom Gee will represent the Friona Chapter of the Future Farmers of America at the National Convention to be held in Kansas City next week. The boys will leave this weekend by special train from Amarillo.

Commissioners Approve County Budget For 1961

Parmer County's commissioners court last week approved a $250,310 budget for the 1961 calendar year. The proposed expenditures are slightly higher than last year's but mostly they will come about

Muleshoe Favored In Grid Contest

Muleshoe's Mules will be getting the nod as they meet the Friona Chiefs Friday night at Friona.

Muleshoe, smarting under a 44-0 defeat at the hands of Dimmitt last weekend, will be remembering the loss handed them last year by the Chiefs and plus the defeat last week are favored to be at least a one touchdown favorite in Friday's contest.

Boasting a good all-round team, with hardly any outstanding stars, the Mules have a good passing combination in Billy Gilbreath, quarterback and Mike Cabrera, right end. Friona's Chiefs, who dropped a 54-30 decision to Sunray last Friday night have lost their first-string quarterback for the season.

Bobby Daniels, starting signal-caller, will be out with an injured knee following the Sunray contest last weekend.

The loss of Daniels will bring a total 14 boys lost in injuries to the Chiefs this season.

Coach Earl Smith says that he is planning on switching either Gary Snead or Co-captain Butch Barker from their position over to the quarterback slot for the Muleshoe game.

New Cars On Display In Friona

It has been New Car Week in Friona.

Last weekend Friona Motors got the jump on showing the 1961 models with their presentation of the new Fords and Falcon models.

But this weekend it is the new Oldsmobile and Chevrolet models which will be taking the spotlight.

Thursday will be open house at Parmer County Implement Company and the showing of the new Olds and Friday is the day over at Reeve Chevrolet and the new Chevy models.

All residents are invited to attend the showings.

from natural increases, says Parmer County Judge Loyde A. Brewer.

One increase approved by the commissioners was for county law enforcement. Starting January 1, the county will pay the salaries of full-time deputy sheriffs in Bovina and Friona. In the past the county has paid salaries amounting to $4,200 for part-time deputies in these two towns. The two men holding down these positions have also been city law enforcement officers and half of their salaries has been paid by the Bovina and Friona city commissions.

Effective January 1, the county will start paying an additional $4,200 in salaries for these two positions and the men will be full-time county deputies. Total cost to the county for the two positions will be $8,400.

The breakdown of all the proposed expenditures for the coming year is as follows:

General Fund - administrative salaries, $30,700; administrative supplies and expenses, $16,330; charity and direct relief, $9,420; public service salaries, $9,525; judicial salaries and jury fees, $12,815; law enforcement salaries, $15,800; law enforcement supplies and expenses, $8,000; operation and maintenance salaries, $3,900; operation and maintenance supplies and expenses, $3,820; debt service, $400; employee welfare (social security), $4,000.

Amounts budgeted for other funds were: jury, $7,300; permanent improvement, $5,000; road and bridge, $17,400; lateral road, $27,500; and road and bridge special, $80,200.

Anticipated revenue from various sources is as follows: Ad valorem taxes, $152,675; auto-registration fees, $101,000; refunds and reimbursements, $350; machine hire, $6,000; state salary aid, $375; state lateral road aid, $27,500; fees of office, $38,930.

The total anticipated revenue is $326,860, a difference of $76,550 from the proposed expenditures. While not included in the budget, this extra revenue (Continued on page 3)

FOOTBALL CONTEST--

Mildred Agee Wins; Allen, Hart Next

Mildred Agee of Friona was the winner of the Friona Star's Cotton Bowl Football contest this week.

Mrs. Agee missed only the Pittsburgh vs Oklahoma game in picking the winners and picked Sunray by a score of 28-16 over Friona in the tie breaker.

Frankie Allen of Friona also missed only one game, his was the Baylor-LSU tussle and he had Sunray picked over Friona 24-16.

Laura Hart, nosing into the winner's circle for the first time this year but a regular winner last year, was third with her only wrong guess in the Hereford and Olton contest. She figured Hereford to take that game. She had Sunray picked over Friona 24-12.

Dolph Moten of Bovina finished out of the money, but in fourth place, also missing only one game, and that was the Muleshoe versus Dimmitt contest in which he figured Muleshoe as the victor. He picked Sunray to win 20-12.

Richard Hapke of Farwell missed only one, the Hereford-Olton contest and picked Friona to beat Sunray by a score of 20-6.

Waymon Wilkins missed only one game, the TCU-Arkansas contest and he picked TCU to take the Hogs. He had Friona over Sunray 22-14.

Sonny Weeks of Friona also missed one game, the Muleshoe-Dimmitt battle and he picked the wrong one there, he also had Friona picked over Sunray in the tie breaker.

So, all in all in a week of upsets, we had seven "arm-chair quarterbacks" who only missed seven out of eight in the regular picking, and four of these really picked eight out of nine if you count the tiebreaker. Next week should be some interesting happenings with the Southwest Conference getting into full swing and all the high schools moving into district play.

FOOTBALL CONTEST WINNER—Mildred Agee was tops in the football contest this week with a total of seven only missing one game in the topsy-turvy weekend of ties and upsets. Frankie Allen and Laura Hart were second and third place winners, respectively.

there we bet--the bootleggers won't give up that easy money that easily you can bet on that.

On national level, Kennedy and Nixon are still yakking all over the country.

As to their now-infamous "debate"--ha ha!

If they had been a featured bill on vaudeville I bet both of them would've been covered with rotten tomatoes following that sorry performance.

We never were on a debating team in school, but I never heard one like that before. Personally, after all the build-up we were disappointed in both of them for such an appearance. And, the folks who like that debacle to the famous debates of yesteryears are really stretching things.

As the road narrows down, and November becomes closer the national election has boiled down to just about one issue in our part of the country.

Police File On DWI In Friona

Ira R. Elder, 61, of Portales, N. M. was released on a $100 bond by Judge Loyde Brewer in county court Monday morning pending trial following his arrest Sunday afternoon in Friona.

Elder was arrested in Friona about 5:45 p.m. Sunday for driving while intoxicated.

Officer Bill Morgan of the Friona Police Department picked up the suspect on Highway 60 after he had "weaved his way through town."

Reeve combo paid off for another Friona score making the board read 44-24.

Sunray bounced back early in the fourth, moving from a first and 25 situation and calling on Carroll Bedwell for a scoring run covering 56 yards. The extra points were no good and it was 50-24.

With less than six minutes to go Sunray called again on Gunn for another passing play which covered 49 yards and another TD moving them out in front 56-24.

Late in fourth Butch Barker, calling signals in place of the injured Daniel rounded left end on a keeper adding the final six points for Friona.

Homecoming Conscious Cats Claw Chieftains 56-30

Friona came out on the short end of a scoring melee at Sunray last Friday night when either team seemed unable to put up much of a defensive battle.

The scoring was too one-sided to be of much interest to Chieftain backers who made the long trip however, as the superior blocking and speed paid off for the Sunray Bobcats.

It was only 2:33 gone in the first quarter when Jesse Gunn (the big gun for the 'Cats) gathered in a pass and sped 25 yards to paydirt.

The try for points failed. Friona quickly retaliated for this particular insult, by taking over following the kickoff on their own 44 and moving quickly downfield using the speed of Floyd Reeve and the line-smashing of Tom Massey and Butch Barker for their weapons.

With a second and eight situation on the Sunray 35 Massey crashed across into the secondary and boomed the remaining distance to score for the Chiefs. The try for points was good and Friona led briefly 8-6.

Friona kicked off to Sunray and three plays later it was Gunn again, on a delayed cross buck who sped 41 yards to put Sunray out in front and never to be caught by the Chiefs again.

The try for points was good and the score was 14-8.

Friona fumbled on the kickoff return and Sunray recovered on the Friona 30 yard line. Three plays later it was Kenneth Bingo who moved 20 yards for the score. No extra points this time and the score was 20-8 at the end of the second quarter. Following an exchange of punts in the second quarter Sunray took over on their own 43 yard line for a first and ten.

This time it was Bingo who binged with the big play, this time another draw the play covered 59 yards plus two extra points and the score jumped to 28-8.

Friona fumbled the ball seven plays following this kickoff and Sunray, on a first and ten on the Friona 12 called on Gunn on the end of another pass play covering the 12 yards for another TD and two more extra points and the score was 36-8 at the half.

Bad luck pursued the Chiefs into the second half as they fumbled the ball on the second play after the kickoff and Sunray recovered.

This time it took 12 downs for the Bobcats to move across the double stripe, aided by a personal foul penalty on the 25.

This time it was Gunn again who moved across for the TD and 2 more points were added making it 44-8.

This next play was one for the books for Friona's Floyd Reeve, as he gathered in the kickoff he sped to the center of the field, cut to his left and turned on the steam and was finally caught on the Sunray 6 yard line. This return was the longest of the evening covering a total of 76 yards.

Reeve scored two plays later and added the two extra points making the scoreboard read 44-16.

Late in the third Bobby Daniel found the range of Reeve downfield and in a passing play covering 56 yards the Daniel-see it--most folks won't be voting Democratic or Republican, but will probably go all out to vote against Ezra Taft Benson. This is a heckuva way to vote, but in the past 10 years I don't believe the voters have been offered a choice of platforms, but rather have been voting against one party individual or the other. And this is a sorry way to do things. But--at this point I'll stick out my neck and say that Farmer county will go Democratic for this very reason, and none other. You have two choices to make right now, Kennedy and more socialism or Nixon and more Benson--take your choice and we think most folks hereabouts will go toward the Kennedy ballot.

 On the football front our local stalwarts haven't fared so well of late, but this weekend will face the Muleshoe Mules in their last non-district tilt of the year before going down murderer's row in the way of Canyon, Tullia, Dalhart and Dimmitt. We thought we had it all figured out that Muleshoe would take Dimmitt last week, basing our reasoning on the Hereford-Muleshoe and Hereford Dimmitt scoring results--but--who knows! Then, down in the Southwest Conference, a place where you never know what is going to happen except perhaps the most unlikely thing you could've thought of is always bound to pop up--well this week it looks as if Texas Tech will get some more lumps; A&M will edge out Houston; Texas will take Oklahoma; Arkansas and Baylor, well they will play in the Ozarks so we'll go with the Hogs over the Bears and Navy will sink SMU. On the baseball front, we are experts in that we never keep up with that phase of sports, so being unbiased and unknowing we'll say that Pittsburgh will take the series. (We think they are underdogs so for no better reason we'll support them, and I never did like Yankees either on or off the baseball field.)

Farmers in this area were presented an opportunity to view the growing results of some of the newer hybrid varieties of maize at a tour sponsored by the Texas Extension Service, under the direction of County Agent Joe Jones last week. The Extension Service has made available seed of several new varieties of maize and this has been planted by Jack Tomlin and Bob Reithmayer of the Hub Community. The group met at the Tomlin farm at the Hub, and later toured by the Reithmayer farm. Each farmer had about 12 different varieties growing in eight rows. This seed will be harvested separately and full records kept on yield, weight, standing ability, fullness of head and percent of moisture.

FRIDAY! THE GREATEST

SIXTY-ONE DEDERFUL CHEVROLET

Here's the car that reads you loud and clear—the new-size, you-size '61 Chevrolet. We started out by trimming the outside size a bit (to give you extra inches of clearance for parking and maneuvering) but inside we left you a full measure of Chevy comfort. Door openings are as much as 6 inches wider to give feet, knees, and elbows the undisputed right of way. And the new easy-chair seats are as much as 14% higher—just right for seeing, just right for sitting.

Once you've settled inside you'll have high and wide praises for Chevrolet's spacious new dimensions (in the Sport Coupes, for example, head room has been upped as much as 2 inches, and there's more leg room, too—front and rear). Chevy's new trunk is something else that will please you hugely—what with its deep-well shape and bumper-level loading it holds things you've never been able to get in a trunk before.

Yet, generously endowed as this car is with spaciousness and clean-etched elegance, it holds steadfastly to all the thrifty, dependable virtues Chevrolet buyers have come to take for granted. Your dealer's the man to see for all the details.

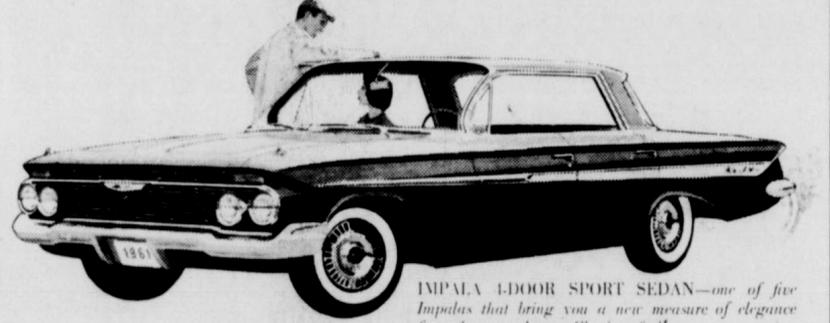

There's never been a trunk like it before! The floor's recessed more than half a foot and the loading height is as much as 10 1/2 inches lower.

POSITIVELY UNSPORTING

The youth of the nation makes up the largest group of participants in sports. It was the youth of Japan who raised such a hullabaloo that President Eisenhower recently had to forego his visit to that country. Therefore, it is rather ironical that Japan is flooding America with sporting paraphernalia.

In excess of one-quarter of all tennis rackets sold in the U. S. A. last year were made in Japan; three-quarters of badminton rackets; and nearly 90 per cent of baseball gloves and mitts.

American sporting-goods manufacturers are disturbed. They have appealed to the Tariff Commission, asking for import duties higher than the 15 per cent now imposed on sporting goods. They point out that while the sporting-goods market is expanding rapidly, sales by U. S. manufacturers are actually decreasing.

The reason the Japs are able to undersell us on sporting goods is the same as we have repeatedly pointed out regarding other products. Japanese wages in sporting goods plants are 22 to 30 cents an hour compared to American wages of $2.00 or more.

We hope the Tariff Commission ups the tariff on sporting goods imports. Meanwhile, America's youth can patriotically pay a higher price for American sports equipment, which definitely is of superior quality to the Japanese. Japanese youth didn't want like

More space... more spunk and wagons, too!

The newest car in America: the CORVAIR 700 LAKE-WOOD 4-DOOR STATION WAGON.

Here's the new Chevy Corvair for '61 with a complete line of complete thrift cars.

To start with, every Corvair has a budget-pleasing price tag. And Corvair goes on from there to save you even more. With extra miles per gallon... quicker-than-ever cold-start warmup so you start saving sooner... a new extra-cost optional heater that warms everyone evenly. Riding along with this extra economy; more room inside for you, more room up front for your luggage (sedans and coupes have almost 12% more usable trunk space).

And our new wagons? You'll love them—think they're the greatest thing for families since houses. The Lakewood Station Wagon does a man-sized job with cargo, up to 68 cubic feet of it. The Greenbrier Sports Wagon you're going to have to see—it gives you up to 175.5 cubic feet of space for you and your things.

Corvair's whole thrifty lineup gets its pep from a spunkier 145-cu.-in. air-cooled rear engine. Same rear-engine traction, same smooth 4-wheel independent-suspension ride. See the polished and refined 1961 Corvair first chance you get at your Chevrolet dealer's.

CORVAIR 700 CLUB COUPE. Like all coupes and sedans, it has a longer range fuel tank.

Spare tire is in the rear in coupes and sedans—leaving more luggage space up front.

CORVAIR 700 4-DOOR SEDAN. Provisions for heating ducts are built right into its body by Fisher.

Even middle-seat passengers sit pretty, thanks to Corvair's practically flat floor.

Now in production—the GREENBRIER SPORTS WAGON with up to twice as much room as ordinary wagons (third seat optional at extra cost).

"SEVEN DAYS, SEVEN WAYS"

Mark 10:23-27
 Here are seven constructive ways, suggested by Wallace C. Speers, a business man, in which you can put religious faith to work every day in your business or in our home.

- I. Have faith in God, in man, in yourself - faith in the ultimate victory of right over wrong. Have faith in our leaders and in God's ability to use them for His purpose.
- II. Be an island of calm confidence in a world of turmoil - not blind wishful thinking, but relief in the power for right of God who cares.
- III. Be friendly to everyone you meet. Throw a pebble of kindness into the pool of human relations to help overcome hatred.
- IV. Pray repeatedly, realizing that you are using an overwhelming power for good. Use spot prayers more and more frequently during the day to try to condition beneficially destructive situations as they are reported.
- V. Practice the exclusion of doubt and fear from the mind. Keep a record of constructive thoughts put into words during the day and of destructive thoughts not uttered. Be sure the balance at evening is on the positive side.
- VI. Develop the consciousness that there is a constructive answer no matter how depressing events may seem.
- VII. Look upon yourself as a child of God, made in His image. Then love your neighbor as yourself.

John Andrew Guyer

Pioneer Resident Dies Over Weekend

Parmer County lost one of its early-day civic supporters with the death of John Andrew Guyer, pioneer farmer, public official and businessman, who passed away early Sunday at the Parmer County Community Hospital in Friona.

Funeral services for Mr. Guyer were held Tuesday afternoon in the Friona Congregational Church, with Rev. Hudson Phillips, pastor, officiating. Burial was in Friona Cemetery, under the direction of Claborn Funeral Home of Friona.

Mr. Guyer had been in ill health for about 10 years, and had been confined to his home for about a year. He was hospitalized last Monday with pneumonia.

Born in 1874 in Marion County, Indiana, Mr. Guyer moved with his family to Friona in 1918. He had purchased land in the county about 1909, and the family farmed for several years after taking up residence here. In 1922, he became postmaster in Friona and retained that position until 1934. He then operated a feed mill for a few years before retirement.

After retirement, the Guyers lived in Washington for three years, then moved back to Parmer County, making their home in Farwell. They had resided in the county seat town for about five years.

Before ill health curtailed his activities, Mr. Guyer had been active in civic work, and always showed special interest in the schools. He was on the school board in Friona for a number of years, and was president of the organization when the first old brick building was constructed. He was a 50-year Mason, having joined that group at the age of 21.

When the family moved to Friona in 1918, the Congregational Church was the only church in the town. The Guyers became members, and he was deacon of the church at one time. He served as Santa Claus for a number of years, when the Christmas programs were held.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Mary Reeve Guyer of the home; two sons, William of Sunnyside, Wash., and Reeve Guyer of Pasco, Wash.; two daughters, Mrs. Charles Lovelace of Farwell and Mrs. Myron Bayless of Richland, Wash.; a brother, Charlie Guyer of Daytona Beach, Fla.; and a sister, Mrs. Kate Byers of Arlington, Va. Nine grandchildren and four great grandchildren survive.

Pallbearers for the services were Clifford Crow, Clyde Goodwine, Ralph Wilson and Carl Maurer of Friona; J. R. Schlenker of Portales and Woodrow Lovelace of Farwell.

Friona Couple Announce Arrival Of Granddaughter

Mr. and Mrs. Kenyth Cass announce the arrival of a granddaughter, Laurie Allyson Price, born in St. Mary's Hospital in Lubbock Tuesday, September 27 at 7:07 p.m. She weighed 7 lbs and 5 ozs.

Other grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Dave M. Price of Fort Worth. Great grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Jones of Hereford.

Incidentally, Laurie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George S. Price and will be at home at 306 North Third, Brownfield, Texas.

(Editor's note: In order to protect the innocent, the source of following information cannot be revealed. It seems that in the race to the Lubbock hospital to meet the parents and beat the stork, Mrs. Cass may have been just a bit nervous. Instead of applying cream as usual, she applied deodorant to her face. She may not be the grandmother with the softest skin, but it is our guess that she is better deodorized than most.)

Farmers Redeem 1960 Wheat From Government

With the market price for good milking quality wheat now ranging from $1.81 to $1.85 per bushel, many Parmer County farmers have already redeemed the 1960 wheat placed in government loans, reports Prentice Mills, manager of the Parmer County ASC office.

As of Monday of this week, there had been 296,451 bushels of the 1,078,116 bushels placed in government loan redeemed, 27 per cent of the total. Mills says that probably all of the wheat would be redeemed before the loan maturity date, March 30.

In all, there were more than four million bushels of wheat placed in storage during the past wheat harvest, but only 25 per cent of it went into government loans.

"The wheat program this year is working just like it should," Mills says. The loan program was originally set up so that it would spread the marketing of wheat out evenly over the year, rather than having it all hit the market at harvest time.

This program has not always worked because there has been a surplus of the commodity and the market price has not always exceeded what the farmer received by placing it in the government loan. Thus, the farmer would default on the loan and the grain would be left in the hands of Commodity Credit Corporation.

However, during the past two years the situation has changed somewhat. Most of the wheat produced in this area is a good milling quality and there has been a demand for it.

One reason for this demand for wheat is that Northern European countries are beginning to make use of more

U. S. grain, Mills points out. The wheat produced in these countries is not of as high a quality as U. S. wheat and the Europeans will mix the high protein American wheat with their own before using it. Government regulations in some of these foreign countries require that locally grown wheat be blended with at least 25 per cent U. S. wheat before milling, Mills says.

The amount of Parmer County wheat redeemed so far this year is considerably more than had been taken from the loans last year at this time. Last year only 1.2 per cent of the 911,616 bushels placed in the loan had been redeemed by Oct. 1. The market price did rise later in the year, however, and it had all been redeemed and sold by the March 30 maturity date for the loans.

Because of our expanding population, it has become almost impossible to find public land to hunt on. If you are refused permission to hunt on someone's farm or ranch, it is probably because of discourteous or irresponsible actions of some hunter before you. Ed Cooper, extension wildlife specialist, says that courtesy and responsibility on the part of the hunter is the best way to keep available hunting areas open.

Armyworms are again making themselves felt across the state. There are several insecticides available for treating these pests. Before any of these chemicals are used, however, the local county agent should be consulted to make sure that the insecticide has been cleared by the Pure Food and Drug Administration.

Champions are made at home--not in the show ring. Whether or not your animal is in good condition and performs well before the judge depends on the feed, care and training given weeks before the show. A copy of L-302 "Score Card for Fitting and Showmanship" should be in the hands of every junior making plans to exhibit dairy animals at any of the fall shows and fairs. Ask the county agent for one.

Parmer County ASC Committees Elected

Parmer County's three-man ASC committee was elected last week to new one-year terms. The three men are Archie Tarter, Lazbuddie, chairman; Tom Beauchamp, Bovina, vice-chairman; and Lewis Welch, Friona, committeeman.

The three men were elected Friday by representatives of the county's three local committees. The local committees, which represent the northern, central and southern sections of the county, were elected by mail ballot in August.

Two alternates who were also elected to the county committee are Robert Schueler, Rhea, and Dick Gerles, Farwell. Schueler was re-elected to a second term and Gerles is a new member, replacing Virgil Woodson, Oklahoma Lane.

Members of the three local committees are as follows: Community A (Friona and the northern part of the county)-- Roy Miller, chairman; Fern W. Barnett, Richard Rocky, Billy Dean Baxter and Melvin Sachs. Community B (Bovina and the central part of the county)-- Joe Bates Jennings, chairman; A. E. Redwin, Ben Foster Jr., Jimmy Seaton and D. B. Ivy.

Community C (Farwell and the southern part of the county)-- Darrell Norton, chairman, Joe McWilliams, Jim Curtis and J. C. Redwine.

Dairy men are warned to watch for mastitis when purchasing dairy replacements. Arch Meekma, extension dairy husbandman, suggests that all animals be checked by a veterinarian before the purchase is made; that you'll be wise to beware of the seller who is unwilling to have his animals examined; that you be extra careful in loading, hauling and unloading dairy animals and that new additions be isolated for a week or longer before turning them with the herd.

Poultry and poultry products, in many new forms, will soon be on the market. F. Z. Beanblossom, extension poultry marketing specialist, reports that such goodies as frozen French loaf, chicken-franks, chicken loaf, chicken bologna and turkey sausage are on their way to the consumer. These products, which are low in fat and high in protein, will add taste treats to many meals.

WITH THE COUNTY AGENT

JOE JONES

If you are planning to defoliate cotton, here are some things to keep in mind. Desiccants kill the plant and stop all growth. True defoliants do not kill the plant but cause the leaves to shed if applied properly to plants that are ready to be defoliated.

True defoliants should be applied when 50% or more of the bolls are open. Desiccants should not be applied until at least 60% of the bolls are open and preferably 80 to 90%. The use of a true defoliant for the first application followed by the use of a desiccant has worked well for some in years past. Where desiccants have been used before cotton was ready, the results here in the county have been very unsatisfactory and the farmer's loss was rather great.

In general, farmers and ginners have discussed the use of desiccants with say we should be very careful how and when we apply them.

While we are on the subject of cotton we might consider the use of burrs for increased yield and increased efficiency of water as shown by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Lubbock.

Some of you are near enough to gins to take advantage of the burrs. The figures below are average production of lint cotton per acre with the following application rates made annually for six years. The rates were two, four, and six tons per acre with an average lint production of 649, 705, and 762 pounds per acre. Where no burrs were applied there was an average of 539 pounds per acre.

On untreated land each acre inch of water produced 19 pounds of lint and where two, four, and six tons of burrs were used each acre inch of water produced 23, 25, and 27 pounds of lint. This helps point up the need for organic matter and the reason for not burning wheat and grain sorghum stubble as well as showing the value of cotton burrs.

Last Friday morning a short tour was held to observe variety demonstrations on Jack Tomlin's and Bob Rietmayer's farms. Another field day is being planned for Wednesday morning, Oct. 12, at 9:30 a.m. to observe 15 different varieties on Melvin Sachs' farm two miles west and one-half mile north of Rhea Parish Hall.

All these demonstration plots will be harvested and weighed separately and results published.

Social Security Changes Made

About 25,000 people -- widows, aged dependent parents, and disabled children age 18 and over -- the survivors of workers who died before 1940, will now be able to collect monthly social security benefits, according to Harold S. Geldon, Manager of the Amarillo Social Security Office.

As a result of a change in the social security law this year, payments can now be made to the widows of insured workers who died after March 31, 1938, and before January 1, 1940; to their aged dependent parents; and to their disabled sons and daughters. The deceased worker must have been employed under social security for a year and a half before his death.

To qualify for benefits a widow or dependent mother of a worker who died before 1940 must be 62 years of age or over. A dependent father must be 65 or over. A disabled son or daughter must have a disability so severe that it keeps him or her from doing any substantial gainful work. Also, the disability must have begun before the child reached his 18th birthday.

Persons who believe they may be eligible for these payments should write the social security office at 1006 Adams Street, Amarillo, to see about filing an application for them.

Vaccination alone should not be depended on to prevent hog cholera. Dr. C. M. Patterson, extension veterinarian, says that a prevention and control program should go hand in hand with a good, sound vaccination program.

Under conditions of good management, feeding aureomycin to milking cows at a low-level apparently has no advantages, reports A. M. Meekma, extension dairy husbandman. On the other hand, the dairyman may run the risk of having his milk condemned because of faulty feed mixing or may create antibody resistance disease organisms in his herd and is sure to increase feed costs if the antibiotic is fed.

Guard Against Cholera

Hog cholera can wipe out a drove of hogs in very short order. This results in the farmer taking an unnecessary financial beating. Dr. C. M. Patterson, extension veterinarian, says that vaccination is the first line of defense against a cholera outbreak, but that vaccination alone should not be depended on to prevent the disease. Prevention and control should go along with the vaccination program, Dr. Patterson explains.

A prevention and control program must include:

Strict cleanliness and sanitation.

Disinfection of pens, houses and vehicles after each use.

Prevention of visitors in hog pens or lots.

Purchase of only healthy animals from farm free of the disease, and isolation of all incoming animals for at least 30 days.

Cooking of any garbage that is fed to the hogs.

A vaccination program should include all hogs on the farm and all animals bought to be added to the drove. Several types of vaccines are available, and each has its own place under certain conditions. Dr. Patterson concludes by saying that a local veterinarian should be consulted about which type of vaccine to use and what vaccination schedule to follow.

Pesticides and other agricultural chemicals should be stored in labeled containers and kept away from children.

Management Vital In Today's Farming

Methods of farming have undergone many changes in recent years and along with these changes has been an increasing awareness among farmers that farm and home management is more vital now than ever before.

Gone are the days when farming was only a small scale operation and the farmer had only a small amount of money invested in his crop. Today, agriculture has become "big business," as was revealed last year in the average gross income per farm family in Farmer County.

Average income for the 905 farm families in the county was $43,000, according to statistics released by the Better Business Research Bureau.

Because of this high gross income, a farmer can increase his net profit considerably by keeping records and spending a little time each month at farm management, points out Farmer County Agent Joe Jones. "If a farmer could save only five per cent of his gross income, this would boost his net income by a large margin," Jones says.

The state extension service at College Station is aware of the fact that farm management is most important to today's farmer and it will in the future start stressing this aspect more, Jones says.

Already steps have been taken in Farmer County to assist the farmer in better managing his affairs. Last year a county committee on farm management was organized.

Only a few farm families have been participating in the activities, outlined by a three-family planning committee, "but we hope to get more people interested in the program," says Jack Patterson, chairman of the planning committee.

On the committee are Mr. and Mrs. Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schlenker and Mr. and Mrs. Dee Chitwood. Also assisting the group with its work has been Mr. and Mrs. James Mabry.

The committee outlines activities and programs for county families interested in management and the group has been meeting each month at Friona State Bank. So far, there have been about 10 families participating.

"During the past year we have concentrated mostly on records keeping," Patterson says, but the group has also had special speakers and programs on other phases of farm management.

Commenting on the necessity for such a farm management program, Patterson, who farms near the Rhea community, says "We've got to live on what we make."

"It takes an effort, but by concentrating on farm management, a person can realize things he can do that will save him money," Patterson says. "You can cut down on some expenses and add to others that will save you money."

In an interview last week, Mr. and Mrs. Patterson cited several instances where a check into their activities revealed costly and unnecessary expenses. "Repair bills are one thing that a person spends a lot of money on," Patterson explains, "and many of them can be avoided."

Other things the Patterson's cited as adding to farming costs were: 1) having too much insurance; 2) not understanding the depreciation schedule for equipment, thus not taking full advantage of possible income tax deductions; 3) neglect of crops; and 4) poor management of time.

These are only a few of the many and varied things a farmer can find that are unnecessary in his farm operations. They will vary from farmer to farmer, but the important thing is that a person considers everything, Patterson points out.

"You've got to tie farming operations in with activities in the home," he says.

Another aspect of better management that the Patterson's pointed out as being beneficial was "living at home, and raising cows, chickens and hogs."

Both Mr. and Mrs. Patterson admitted that by raising cows, chicken and hogs, they cut down a great deal on their cost of living. All of these activities take a little time, but they are well worth it, they explained.

As the county farm management committee starts its second year, it plans to start stressing phases of management other than records keeping. Among some of them will probably be land, labor and capital management; new crops and enterprises; managing family income; insurance, getting the most out of the dollar, savings and investments, as well as many other subjects.

The planning committee invites all Farmer County farm families interested in the program to participate in their activities. Further information on the schedule of meetings and topics of discussion can be obtained from the county agent or any of the committee members.

The HAPPY HOMEMAKER

BY JUNE FLOYD

If you are one of the homemakers who annually make a large number of Christmas gifts for friends and relatives, it isn't too early to begin. Whether your gift is a jar of jam, an apron or a box of candy, you will get much more enjoyment from making it if you do the entire job in a leisurely manner.

Most of us are in such a hurry that there never seems to be time enough for the things we really enjoy doing. Perhaps it would be well if we'd sit down and work out a schedule that eliminates some of the unnecessary time consuming things we've been doing.

A schedule isn't really workable for a homemaker, but perhaps by making one some of our lost time could be accounted for.

Some foreigners have made the observation that Americans are the most wasteful people they've ever seen. Think there used to be a Poor Richard's Almanac saying that went like this, "Wasteful waste makes woeful want."

Before any of us deny that we are wasteful, we should give serious consideration to our habits. This is something we should think about seriously. In most instances practices carried out in our homes are carried out in our national affairs.

Next time your cookie jar is empty, try the following recipe: Lemon Crisps
1 cup sugar
1/2 cup butter or margarine
2 eggs
1/2 teaspoon soda
1/2 cup sour cream
1 3/4 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon grated lemon rind
Cream sugar and butter or margarine together thoroughly. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Dissolve soda in sour cream. Add flour and sour cream alternately to creamed mixture. Stir in lemon extract and lemon rind. (This makes a very soft dough.) Chill for several hours.

With floured hands form dough into 1 inch rounds and place on well greased cookie sheet about two inches apart. Dip a glass into granulated sugar and press cookie round flat. Bake in 375 degree oven from 12 to 15 minutes. Yields about six dozen cookies.

Cotton Market News Reports Available

Four cotton market news reports of interest to farmers and the cotton trade are available from the Agricultural Marketing Service, according to John L. McCollum, manager, Southwest Area, Cotton Division, Dallas.

These reports are designed to keep all interests abreast of cotton and cottonseed developments during the market season. They include, The Cottonseed Review, The Cotton Quality Report, The Cotton Classing Report, and the Weekly Cotton Market Review.

These reports are mailed free upon request. Farmers and others in Texas should address inquiries to: Cotton Division, AMS, U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, Room 404, 708 Jackson St., Dallas, Texas.

Net income for a typical Southwestern sheep ranch was $10,812 per ranch in 1959. This figure compares to $8,181 for Northern Plains sheep ranches and $8,319 for Southwestern cattle operations.

FWS Asks Hunters To Cooperate In Annual Survey

Daniel H. Janzen, Director of the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife, at Washington, D.C., today urged all waterfowl hunters who have received registration cards with the purchase of their Federal duck stamps to cooperate with the Fish and Wildlife Service of the U.S. Department of the Interior by filling out and promptly returning the indicated portion of the form.

This year more than 1400 post offices throughout the country have been furnished with double postcard forms which are handed to purchasers of duck stamps at these particular post offices.

One-half of the card is to be filled out by the hunter and returned at once to the Bureau. The other half is to be retained as a sort of scorecard on which the hunter can list the numbers and kinds of waterfowl which he bags during the coming season, and the number of days he hunted.

"This sample of hunters who return the cards," said Director Janzen, "will receive questionnaires at the end of the hunting season in which they will be asked to report their seasonal hunting success. It is highly important that all duck stamp purchasers receiving registration cards fill them out and mail them promptly. Cards from everyone contacted are necessary to make our sample representative of the entire hunting population."

The chief purpose of the survey is to determine as accurately as possible the extent of the waterfowl hunting kill for the season in order that a proper balance between the harvest of these birds and the hunting regulations may continue to be maintained.

This annual mail survey was inaugurated on a national basis during the 1952 hunting season when 150 post offices cooperated with the Service in handing out the card forms.

Stored Grains May Require Fumigation

Grains cannot be stored and then forgotten. Insects may infest the grain in the field, and infested grain may be brought into storage. C. F. Garner and R. L. Ridgway, extension entomologists, say that fumigation is the best protection against insect damage to stored grain.

Several fumigants are effective for killing stored grain insects, the specialists continue. They are formulated as various combinations, and are sold by companies under different trade names. When applying liquid fumigants, the storer should be careful to spray the entire surface of the grain. Fumigant application may be accomplished with hand pump sprayer for small quantities of grain, or with some form of power operated sprayer for larger amounts.

The bin should be closed after the fumigant is applied, and it should not be opened for at least 24 hours—preferably 4 or 5 days. As a safety precaution, at least two men should be present when the fumigants are being applied, the specialists continue.

Garner and Ridgway suggest that anyone planning fumigation contact the local county agent. He can supply specific information for the particular situation, and he can also offer valuable suggestions and advice. Farmers and ranchers cannot afford to be dull and lazy during late summer and early fall. Extension range specialists say that winter is not very far away, and now is the time to make preparations for carrying the livestock until next spring.

"Vitamins for Beef Cattle" is the subject of a new Extension publication. Copies are available from the office of local county agents or the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas. Ask for MP-415.

You Hear Strange Things About Catholics
Yes, you can hear some strange things about Catholics.
You hear it said that Catholics believe all non-Catholics are headed for Hell . . . that they believe non-Catholic marriages are invalid.
Some think Catholics believe the Pope is God . . . that he can do no wrong . . . that they owe him civil allegiance and that he should have the political power to rule America.
It is said that Catholics want religious freedom only for themselves . . . that they oppose public schools and separation of Church and State as evils which should be destroyed.
The claim is made that Catholics pay the priest for forgiveness of their sins . . . that they must buy their departed relatives and friends out of Purgatory . . . that they adore statues . . . are forbidden to read the Bible . . . use medals, candles and holy water as sure-fire protection against loss of a job, lightning or being hit by an automobile.
But what is worse, some say, Catholics corrupt the true teachings of Jesus Christ with the addition of pagan superstitions and practices that are nothing less than the inventions of the devil.
If all these things — or any of them — were true, it would be a pity. For at least one out of every four Americans is a Catholic — and it would be a national tragedy if one-fourth of all Americans entertained such erroneous ideas.
If you have heard and believed any of these false claims, and want the truth, we will gladly send you a free pamphlet on the Catholic religion.

High Plains Dependent On Underground Water

The High Plains Underground Water Conservation District states that surface stream water in the southern High Plains of Texas is capable of furnishing only a fractional part of the fresh water needed for irrigation, municipal and industrial purposes; consequently, virtually all the water used comes from a vast underground reservoir that lies beneath the area.

The water stored in the reservoir beneath the land's surface results largely from rain water falling in the local area and running into the many thousands of wet-weather lakes and depressions that dot the Plains. Only a small per cent of the lake water percolates through the bed of the lake to the underlying formations; consequently, many centuries of time were required to fill the reservoir.

Annual natural replenishment to the underground water is meager indeed when compared to the amount of water in storage, or when compared to the amount of water presently being pumped from storage each year.

According to the High Plains District, more than 35,000 wells furnish water to more than 4 million acres of land in the southern High Plains for irrigation, and to fulfill all the needs of industry and municipalities.

About 98 per cent of the total amount of ground water pumped in the southern High Plains is used for irrigation.

Because we have been pumping about 5,000,000 acre-feet of underground water annually while receiving only about 100,000 acre-feet of water as natural recharge annually, it is apparent that a very real problem confronts the people of our area.

Artificial recharge will probably play a major role in prolonging the economic life of the underground reservoir. Experimentation has been conducted by the High Plains Water District since 1953 in an attempt to determine the most practical methods for transferring wet-weather lake water, the only known economical source of surface water available to the area, from the surface where the evaporation rate is very high to the underground formations where the water can be stored for future use.

Draining raw lake water directly into production wells has proven to be partially, if not completely, satisfactory.

The High Plains Underground Water Conservation District, and others in the field of water conservation, are leading in the continuing search for facts concerning the water situation as it exists in our area, and are recommending programs of conservation that will assuredly serve to prolong our present relatively-high economic standards.

Some suggestions for maximum water conservation are:

1. Conserve rainfall by proper soil and water management.

2. Select agricultural crops that will produce the greatest net income per acre-foot of water required.

3. Locate new wells as far from existing wells as is practical to minimize interference.

4. Reduce evaporation and seepage losses by replacing open irrigation ditches with closed distribution systems.

5. Apply water to crops at proper times and in proper amounts.

SORRY SEED PRODUCE POOR CROPS

A campaign to acquaint farmers with the value of registered and certified seed is being waged by various agricultural groups throughout the state.

"In spite of all the many advances that have been made regarding agriculture in the past few years, one fact still stands out, and that is you can't produce a good crop from sorry seed," said R. J. Hodges, agronomist of the Texas Extension Service.

Strict rules and regulations have been set up for producing registered and certified seed in Texas. "The registered and certified seeds are reliable seeds a farmer can depend on as to quality and germination and other good characteristics," Hodges said.

Texas has a State Seed and Plant Board composed of five members - a representative of Texas A and M College, a representative of Texas Tech, a representative from the Texas Department of Agriculture, and a Texas Certified and Registered seed grower, and a marketer of seeds in Texas.

This group is charged with setting up rules and regulations that govern the production of registered and certified seeds.

A certified or registered seed producer must follow these rules and regulations. To make sure this is done, impartial crop inspectors with the Texas Department of Agriculture check fields of certified or registered producers as many times as necessary in each growing season.

They are checked for mutations, cross-pollinated plants, noxious weeds, diseases, isolation from other crops, and all sorts of other things, Bill Staffel, chief of the Texas Department of Agriculture seed division explained.

Even the harvesting and processing equipment is checked to make sure there are no seeds or other foreign material from previous field work left on or in them.

After harvest the seed is sampled and analyzed. If the seed passes all of these inspections, checks and tests, it can be packed and labeled with either the purple tag for Texas

Social Security Benefits 302 People In County

At the end of 1959, as Federal social security was starting its twenty-fifth year, old-age, survivors, and disability insurance monthly benefits were being paid in Parmer County to 302 persons at the rate of $2,021.41 a year, according to Hal Geldon, Manager of the Amarillo Social Security Office.

Payments in the entire Panhandle were going to 17,391 persons at the rate of $11, 880,036 a year.

Nationally, Geldon said, about 13 3/4 million persons were receiving old-age, survivors, and disability insurance monthly benefits at the end of 1959 at an annual rate of more than $10 billion.

At the end of 1940 - the first year in which monthly benefits were payable - beneficiaries throughout the nation totaled 200,000. Almost half a million disabled worker beneficiaries and their dependents receiving benefits at a yearly rate of over $400 million are included in the figures for 1959.

As social security celebrates its Silver Anniversary (the original Act was signed into law on August 14, 1935) about 74 million working people are in covered employment or self-employment in the course of a year. They are building old-age survivors, and disability protection for themselves, their dependents, and their survivors under the social security law.

Soil testing is a tool you can use on your farm to help determine the level of fertility of your soil. The recommendations which you will receive from the soil testing laboratory, based on the analysis of the soil samples you submit, will give the amounts of fertilizer needed for the most profitable crop or pasture production. Local county agents can supply information on soil testing.

Will you harvest crops or accidents this year? Machine harvesting can be extremely dangerous if it is done in a hurry, or if the equipment is not in the best possible condition. Be sure the seats, controls and steps are in good repair. Keep the shields and safety guards in place. Wear the right clothes for the job. Also, the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council points out, children are definitely out of place around harvesting machinery. Prevent accidents and reap the rewards of safer farming.

Do You Have Household Insects?

It is next to impossible to observe a home and its surroundings without finding some form of insect life. This is not strange because insects and related species constitute the largest number of animals found in the world.

Some insects feed on fabrics, contaminate food, attack dwellings, bite humans, carry disease, cause secondary infections and make themselves generally obnoxious. On the other hand, some insects are very beneficial to mankind. But, generally, the control of insects in and around the household is a very real problem, says C. F. Garner, extension entomologist.

Certain pests may be found and controlled outside but some live entirely within the home.

The only way to control these house-dwellers is to apply insecticides, either sprays or dusts, inside the home, Garner continues. Fumigation is seldom necessary, but in case it is, the homeowner should rely on a professional exterminator.

Chemical control should be supplemented with sanitation and good housekeeping if it is to do its job properly. Insects live in cracks, under bits of wood and other debris, in the walls and beneath the floors of homes, and in almost any dark, quiet place. Hiding places such as these should be cleaned, but even the most spotless homes may occasionally become infested.

The Texas Agricultural Extension Service has prepared a leaflet, L-311 "Texas Guide for Controlling Household Insects," which contains the latest recommended controls for 24 pests. In addition to the controls, the leaflet contains a section on insecticidal formulation and one on equipment needed for application. A copy of this guide may be obtained from the local county agent.

Another important section of this leaflet is a list of cautions. Garner says that anyone using insecticides should read, learn and observe the do's and don'ts contained in this list.

"Remember," he concludes, "insecticides are poisonous to species other than insects."

Farm Products Excel

In spite of being caught in one of the most drastic cost-price squeezes in history--lower prices for what they sell, higher prices for what they buy--American farmers have increased their production efficiency at a rate far ahead of workers in industry.

One hour of farm labor in 1960 produces four times as much food and fiber as it did in 1920. Crop production is 56 per cent higher per acre. The output per breeding animal is 81 per cent greater.

Productivity of the American farmer is now increasing at a rate more than twice as high as the productivity of workers in industry. Since 1950, the output per man-hour in non-agricultural industry has risen two per cent per year. In agriculture the increase has been at the rate of five per cent per year.

In Russia, one agricultural worker produces for four or five people.

If American farmers were no more efficient than those of the Soviet Union, 22,500,000 Americans who now work in manufacturing, construction, mining, the trades, transportation and other non-farm business would be required to produce the essential needs in food, clothing and forest products.

In spite of all this efficiency, the average per capita income of the farm population is still less than half the income of non-farm population.

The average income per capita of those who live on farms in the United States in 1959 was $965 for the year--$644 from farming plus $321 from non-farm sources such as outside employment. At the same time, the per capita income of the non-farm population was $2,216.

The net income for one hour of farm work in 1959 was $1.29. One hour of work in a factory averaged $2.22. Hourly earnings of food marketing workers, those engaged in food processing, wholesale trade and retail food stores, averaged $2.10.

Farm incomes have continued to go down steadily during most of the period since World War II, while non-farm workers have had an almost steady increase in income. Since 1945, the farm value of food has risen only 16 per cent, but the marketing margin -- after processing, packaging and distribution--has increased by 93 per cent.

Second Sorghum Tour Wednesday

A second tour of a grain sorghum demonstration field in Farmer County is scheduled for next Wednesday, October 12, at the Melvin Sachs farm two miles west and one-half mile north of the Rhea Parish Hall.

The tour will get under way at 9:30 a. m. and all area farmers are welcome to attend and observe how the 15 different varieties of grain have fared, says Farmer County Agent Joe Jones.

The first tour of county demonstration plots was held last Friday. Farmers visited the sorghum test fields at the farms of Jack Tomlin and Bob Riethmayer near the Hub community.

Twenty-four rows of 15 different varieties will be observed Wednesday at the Sachs farm. The seeding date for the grain was June 16 and 17, the seeding rate was 10 pounds per acre, and it was planted in a double row.

Varieties planted at the plot include DeKalb F-63, Amak R-12, P. A. G. 625, Steckley R 108, Texas 620, Dekalb F-62, Steckleys 106, R. S. 610, Steckleys, Amak Red Raider, Amak Ranger, P. A. G. 5155, Amak Coastal, Texas 660 and Texas 650.

Seek Greek Use Of Grain Sorghums

Two U. S. agricultural leaders will push for greater use of grain sorghums and other feed grains in Greece and assist local farm leaders there with related livestock and poultry problems and opportunities.

Named as consultants to the U. S. feed grain exhibit at the International Trade Fair at Salonika, Greece during September are William W. Grisham, Jr., of Amarillo and Dr. E. L. Stephenson of Fayetteville, Arkansas.

Grisham, a District Extension Agent of the Texas A & M College System, supervises the work of the county agricultural agents in the 22 counties of District I area of the Extension Service, while Dr. Stephenson of the University of Arkansas is a recognized authority on poultry nutrition.

Goal of the pair's month long tour is to further show Greek feed industry leaders and farmers, through demonstration, the practical aspects of using grain sorghum in mixed balanced livestock rations, according to Frank Moore, president of the Grain Sorghum Producers Association, through which the arrangements for the assignments were made, in cooperation with the U. S. Feed Grains Council and Foreign Agricultural Service.

Moore said he is pleased to join V. G. Young, Director of the Texas Extension Service and Dr. John W. White, vice president of the University of Arkansas, in announcing the forthcoming 30-day activities in interest of developing further markets for U. S. feed grains.

These assignments are a continuation of the promotion of the use of grain sorghum in Greece

AMENDMENT FOUR: Would give the Legislature authority to classify loans and lenders, to license and regulate lenders, to define what part of the charge made on loans should be considered interest and to fix the maximum rate of interest which should be charged.

This is generally known as the "anti-loan shark" amendment and is being supported by a blue ribbon committee of citizens from over the state.

At present the Constitution provides that the maximum rate of interest shall be 10 per cent. This is widely, almost universally, violated by the small loan industry, usually through additional charges besides the interest -- "handling charges, service charges," etc.

Attorney General's department investigations have turned up cases of flagrant abuses by loan companies, making charges that totaled altogether as much as 300% of the amount loaned. On the other hand, the investigators themselves admit that a loan company making short-term, high-risk personal loans cannot stay in the black on 10 per cent.

If this amendment is passed, it will be up to the Legislature to decide what is a fair charge. Even those legislators who voted for this proposal admit they dread the prospect of having to decide what rates are fair.

after a visit there in 1959 of Association officials and that of Dean Gerald W. Thomas of Texas Technological College and E. Martin Gossett, County Agricultural Agent of Dumas.

Besides serving as consultants with the U. S. exhibit, Grisham and Stephenson will visit with Greek Government Ministry of Agriculture officials, feed manufacturers, livestock and poultry producers and other agricultural officials relative to the use of American feed grains -- corn, grain sorghum, oats and barley -- in balanced mixed feeds.

Enroute to Greece the pair will stop for consultation with officials of several of England's larger feed manufacturing firms.

Following the trade fair assignment, Dr. Stephenson will proceed to Ankara, Turkey where he will spend several days working with Harold Akers, American Agricultural Attaché and Dr. L. S. Ellis, agricultural economist, who is on an International Cooperation Administration assignment.

Both Grisham and Stephenson will confer with the staff of the European office of the organization in Rome, Italy prior to their return to the States in early October.

Extension cotton specialists recommend the grouping of seed cotton on the gin yard according to moisture and trash content. When cotton is ginned by lots so grouped, more efficient and better quality ginning can be expected.

Shows No Advantage For Low-Level Feeding Antibiotics To Dairy Cows

What about routine low-level feeding of antibiotics to dairy herds? This question is being asked by Texas dairymen, says A. M. Meekma, extension dairy husbandman.

In answer to this question, Meekma points out that the Food and Drug Administration okayed the feeding of aureomycin to dairy cattle at the level of 0.1 milligram daily per pound of body weight. The clearance merely stated, says Meekma, that if aureomycin were fed at the recommended level, no antibiotic would carry through to the milk.

Texas dairymen are also debating the merits of routine low-level antibiotic feeding. As a possible guide, Meekma cites research recently conducted by the Tennessee Agricultural Experiment Station. This research, says Meekma, found no detrimental effects, but neither did it note any advantages in milk production. Likewise, there was no significant differences between the controls and the antibiotic-fed animals in resistance to mastitis, foot rot or other bacterial infections. Body weight changes were not affected, either.

Meekma points out, however, that the negative results might possibly reflect the excellent management and low incidence of disease typical of this herd. Where management is not so good, and where disease is ordinarily a problem, the results might differ.

The specialist concludes by saying that, under conditions of good management, feeding aureomycin to milking cows apparently has no advantages. On the contrary, he says, the dairyman may run the risk of having his milk condemned because of faulty feed mixing, he may cause the creation of antibody resistant disease organisms in his herd, and he will certainly raise his feed costs.

Amendments Important

By Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN, Tex.—With all the hoopla over the national elections, many Texans may get to the polls Nov. 8 before they realize they have other important decisions to make that day.

Four proposed amendments to the Texas Constitution will be voted on at the general election. Voting to approve or reject alternatives in the state's basic law is one of the most important responsibilities a voter has. It is the average citizen's one and only opportunity to participate directly in the lawmaking process.

Here, in brief, are the proposed amendments (in the order they will appear on the ballot) and what they would do:

AMENDMENT ONE: Would authorize creation of special hospital districts in Lamar County, Hidalgo County and Commissioners Precinct No. 4

CLOVIS MUFFLER SHOP
Mufflers, Tail Pipes & Shocks
Bob's '66'
Ser. Sta.
Ph. PO 2-0254 101 Main, Clovis

Dutch Quickel
MONEY Now
Means
MONEY Later

of Comanche County.

Approval of this amendment would not actually create these hospital districts, but would give local voters authority to do so in a local election.

Amendments such as this one, which apply only to the areas specifically mentioned, usually are passed on the grounds that they give local voters authority to take care of local affairs. Since it is permissive rather than mandatory, local voters can decide for themselves whether they want to carry it through.

Some argue against such amendments on the grounds that such details as this should not be added to an already over-long Constitution.

AMENDMENT TWO: Would permit a rate of interest not to exceed 3 1/2 per cent on bonds issued hereafter for the benefit of the Veterans Land Fund. Present constitutional ceiling is 3 per cent.

Veterans Land Board is authorized by law to sell bonds and use the money from these sales to buy land which is resold to qualified Texas veterans. Law provided for the sale of $200,000,000 in bonds, but the Board has not been able to sell the last $62,500,000 of these bonds because, in today's market, 3 per cent interest does not make them an attractive investment.

Financial experts think that raising the permitted interest rate to 3 1/2 per cent should be sufficient to make the bonds salable again.

AMENDMENT THREE: Would change the pay scale of members of the Legislature to give them annual salaries of $4,800 plus $12 a day for each

FARM & RANCH LOANS
Long Term -- Low Interest
Ethridge-Spring

day in session. It would limit regular sessions to 140 days (present limit is 120 days). Lawmakers would receive $12 a day for each day of a 140-day regular session plus $12 a day for each day of a 30-day special called session.

At present, legislators receive no annual salary. They get $25 a day for each day, up to 120 days, of the regular session plus $25 a day for each day of a 30-day called session. They receive no pay in years the Legislature does not convene (such as 1960). Under this proposal, they would receive $4,800 a year base pay whether they spent any time in session or not.

Present provisions for travel expenses would not be changed. These provide for the lawmaker to receive $2.50 for each 25 miles of the round trip between his home and Austin once each session.

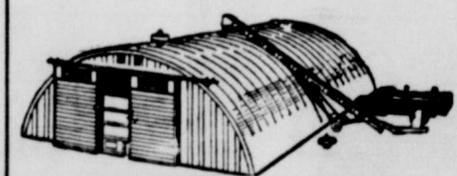

This amendment is essentially a compromise between the present arrangement and the constitutional change proposed in 1958. Last time the proposal was for annual salaries of $7,500 and no per diem. It also provided for annual sessions which, many think, contributed to its defeat.

Proponents of the current plan say that it will make it possible for better qualified people to serve in the Legislature without having to make so much of a personal financial sacrifice to do so.

Opponents argue that it will create "professional legislators." They contend that it is better for the lawmaker to have another job in private life to keep him closer to the problems of the people.

If the amendment is passed, a Texas legislator would receive for his two-year term of office minimum pay of $9,600. In other states, the pay for a two-year term ranges from $200 in New Hampshire to $15,000 in New York. Average is about $3,600.

Osborn Uses BJ Pump To Supplement Wells

Sloan H. Osborn of Friona makes use of a 5 inch Byron Jackson pump on his farm west of Friona to supplement what would otherwise be waste tail-water to add to his supply of available water for his farming operation.

Mr. Osborn has several locations in which he can make full use of the pump, which is powered by the power take off on a tractor.

In the instance in the above picture Mr. Osborn had the pump pulling water from a catch pond and was running 45 two inch gates on wheat land from the pond.

At this rate the gated aluminum pipe, supplied by the BJ Pump can move about 1,000 gallons per minute across land.

This saves Mr. Osborn money two ways--one by utilizing tail water which would foul valuable farming land or run across roads in the area and also provide a cheap source of irrigation water for his crops.

PUMPING 1,000 GPM TAILWATER--Hollis Horton Jr. of Farmer County Pump Company looks over the installation of a BJ Pump powered by a tractor on the Sloan Osborn place near Friona. The small pump provides Osborn with additional supplies of cheap irrigation water.
