Twenty-Three Calves Being Fed by Pecos County 4-H Members

Twenty-three calves are on feed, or will be soon, for entry by Pecos County 4-H Club members in next season's shows. In addition, a record number of lambs are due to be finished by the Pecos County youth group, with feeding to start in the fall.

Grain and hay are being bought and stored now by club members to assure a supply when needed next fall. Youngsters planning to feed lambs next fall should lose no time in securing their feed, warns County Agent W. T. Posey, with an allowance of 2 bushels of oats and 2 of barley for each lamb. The group has in storage for the calf-feeding 2200 bushels of oats and 1200 of barley.

G. H. Crone provided straw for bedding at the spring shows, charging club members only the cost of baling. The Pecos County State Bank is financing the feed buying, and it was hauled on a truck loaned by M. C. Puckett. N. M. Mitchell is providing storage space.

Calves will be fed by the following members:

Sonny Warnock has 8 Herefords from ranches of M. C. Puckett, Alf Ten Eyck, Howard Hampton of Lubbock, and the Garrens at Van Horn.

FT STOCKTON PIONEER—Possibilities of a bond-financed public hospital adequate to take care of the medical needs of the Trans-Pecos region centering about Pecos County are being studied by the board of directors of the Pecos County Chamber of Commerce. Investigation has been in progress for the last year on possibilities of increased hospital facilities for Pecos County

A suggestion that a $250,000 institution be financed by Pecos County has been studied by Judge H. H. Butz and County Auditor W. P. Rooney in light of the county's present favorable financial condition, and Judge Butz states that a $250,000 bond issue could be retired in ten years with a levy of 7 cents on the hundred dollars.

Tentative plans for a county hospital propose a 30 to 40-bed hospital in Fort Stockton, with a clinic and several beds for emergency cases at Irran. The central hospital would have adequate laboratory facilities and complete surgical and technical equipment, as well as quarters for the nursing staff.

HEALTH NOTES—

AUSTIN, Texas, June 13—There are many persons who naturally hoard anything and everything including old clothes, boxes, and other useless articles some of which constitute no greater danger than a possible fire hazard, but a very real danger is present when this tendency is applied to hoarding old medicine in any form.

Most medicine finds itself in to the home through a doctor's prescribing it for some specific illness. For the sake of safety, left-over medicines should be destroyed immediately when they have fulfilled their purpose and never be stored in the medicine cabinet for future unprescribed use in case of another illness, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"Self-medication with the use of left-over drugs which were of great benefit to some previous illness can sometimes turn a simple ailment into a very serious condition of actual poisoning," Dr. Cox said. "This is particularly true of the indiscriminate use of sulfa drugs which have been prescribed for some previous specific condition."

"It is wise to use medicines as indicated for the illness for which they are prescribed by your doctor, and when they are no longer needed, destroy the remaining medicine immediately," Dr. Cox said. "Even if you expect a return of the same condition at some future date it would be better to obtain new medicine if the condition recurs than to retain this old medicine in the cabinet and subject the members of your family to the danger of using it unwisely."

Pat M. Neff, Jr., To Announce Platform Over Radio Network

HOUSTON, June 13—Pat M. Neff, Jr., candidate for Attorney General, will announce the principal planks in his platform over a statewide radio network (TQN) Friday night, he said here today.

Neff will ask Texas voters to check his eight-year record as an Assistant Attorney General compare his proved qualifications for the Attorney Generalship with those of his opponent and consider the recommendations of his friends as to character, courage, fairness and ability, he said.

"I am willing and eager for this election to be contested on a basis of facts, merits and qualifications," Neff declared.

Some of the specific proposals he will present in his platform announcement, he said are:

He will employ only seasoned, competent lawyers to assist him in writing the thousands of important legal opinions that the Attorney General must hand down each year. "My appointments will be made to pay off for the people of Texas—not to pay off political obligations," Neff said.

He will seek reformation of "overlapping and confusing" laws, particularly the school laws, and will cooperate with the Legislature to that end in every possible respect.

He will continue the fight against federal control of Texas' tidewater oil resources and back the Railroad Commission in its conservation program.

He will cooperate with the Texas Liquor Control Board and local officers in the strict enforcement of the liquor laws on the local option principal.

He will set up a special desk in the department for labor matters and maintain a sympathetic attitude toward labor's problems, but will insist on strict adherence to the labor laws that have been passed by the Texas Legislature and found constitutional.

"I will run the Attorney General's Department in such a manner that the most powerful corporation and the most humble citizen alike will receive their just deserts under the law, and will not be needlessly harrassed as a publicity gesture, but I shall act without fear or favor when our anti-trust, charter and corporate powers laws have been violated."

Neff's broadcast will originate at Houston. He plans to leave soon thereafter for a fast tour of West Texas and the Panhandle, with speeches scheduled at Abilene, Lubbock, Amarillo and Wichita Falls.

Ford Honored in Auto Golden Jubilee

Contrasts between 1896-1946 are shown in this photograph of the first and most recent Ford cars.

Dearborn, Mich.—Henry Ford, working in his machine shop at 58 Bagley avenue, Detroit, in 1893, dreamed of liberating the world from a slow, horse-drawn kind of civilization.

Three years later, on June 4, 1896, he rolled his first gasoline driven buggy into the street, and the celebration in Detroit this year of the automotive industry's Golden Jubilee is a tribute to his vision.

Today, more than 31,000,000 Ford cars and trucks have been built and Ford Motor Company plants span the earth.

The present Ford Motor Company was formed in 1903, and success was immediate. At the end of four months a dividend was paid to the original 12 stockholders.

In 1905, the company moved from the two-story Mack avenue plant to a new four-story building at Piquette and Beaubien, Detroit. Production soared as models A, B, C, F, K, S and R were introduced in quick succession, and five months later the first of the famous model T's was introduced.

In December 1909, the company moved again, this time to its new 61-acre Highland Park plant. Here the first endless chain conveyor was installed. It was the birth of low-cost production and the beginning of the liberation of labor. In 1914 Henry Ford started the world by announcing Ford employees would work only eight hours a day and receive a minimum daily wage of $5.

Again the Ford Motor Company needed breathing space, so in 1915 a thousand acres of land were acquired on the Rouge river in Dearborn.

Henry Ford had purchased the stock held by Alex Malcolmson in 1906 and had become president and controlling owner, and in 1919 the Ford family acquired the interest of the minority stockholders for $75,000,000 and became sole owners.

Eagle boats were built in the Rouge plant during World War I, and after the war many activities were transferred to the new plant from Highland Park. On Oct. 31, 1925, an all-time production record was set with 10,000 Model T cars built in a single day.

In December 1927, the new model A was introduced and the next year Henry Ford announced a minimum $7-a-day wage.

In 1922 the Ford Motor Company paid $8,000,000 to Henry M. Leland and his son, Wilfred, for the assets of the Lincoln Motor Car Co. It was not until 16 years later that the Mercury was introduced.

The miracle of Ford production continued to pour automobiles from assembly lines across the nation, and the need for more space still plagues the company. Today more than $225,000,000 has been earmarked for expansion.

On May 26, 1943, Edsel Ford, president of the company, died suddenly and Henry Ford, then past 80, again took over the presidency. Soon after this, Henry Ford II, Edsel's eldest son, was released from the U. S. Navy to assume the duties that had been his father's for so many years.

Recently, his brother Benson, after three years in the armed forces, has returned to take up duties in the company and help his brother carry on the great Ford tradition in the automobile industry.

War Heroes Will Talk Over Radio For Price Daniels

An old-fashioned political rally with placards heralding the counties represented will be staged by friends of Price Daniel in the City Music Hall at Houston, Texas, next Monday night, June 17, to officially open his statewide campaign for Attorney General. Heroes of World War II will be among the speakers on the half-hour radio program which will be broadcast over all stations of the Texas Quality Network and the Texas State Network from 8:30 to 9:00 P. M.

Supporters from nearly 200 counties have already indicated their intention of attending the Rally in behalf of Price Daniel's candidacy. The first fifteen minutes will be taken up by key speakers from various sections of the State, including G-I veterans whose exploits have been recorded in the pages of Army and Navy history. The last fifteen minutes will be used by Price Daniel in presenting for the first time to a state-wide audience the principal issues of his campaign for Attorney General.

LIONS ROAR—

At the meeting held Thursday the Lions had as their guest Rev. Clifford Spencer, Baptist minister and who spoke to the members of the Club.

Rev. Spencer touched on the highlights of the Southern Baptist Association which convened in Miami, Fla., recently. He stated that around 47,000 delegates were in attendance at the convention. One of the main topics discussed at the convention was the ways and means of helping in foreign relief problems. It was estimated by one speaker at this convention that, in India alone, unless they receive immediate relief, there will be some 30 million persons die this year.

The Lions again had a delicious luncheon which was prepared and served by the Methodist Ladies.

Some Tourist Accommodations Ready in Park

Four housekeeping cabins are now available in the Big Bend National Park and other accommodations will be provided as rapidly as materials can be obtained, Jim Rosenberger, local manager, National Park Concessions, Inc., Big Bend Operations, said while in Alpine Tuesday.

The Cabins are located in the Basin, Chisos Mountains, where other accommodations are to be provided in the near future. Work has started on four 16-foot rooms, each accommodating four persons, and a grocery store and curio shop will be opened soon and meal service provided. However, no definite date has been set when these will be ready, Mr. Rosenberger emphasized. He also warned persons going into the park area to bring their own food, bedding and extra gasoline until official announcement of additional facilities is made. The cabins now available must be reserved in advance to assure accommodations, he said.

It is hoped that all tourist needs on a limited scale, especially housing, will be available within a short time. "They're on their way," Mr. Rosenberger said, "and definite announcement will be made later when we're ready to go."—Alpine Avalanche
