LISTEN TO LUKE

This column has realized great benefit from the many words printed in recent months about cleaning and painting in Sanderson. There has been a decided change in appearances for some property owners. We are not claiming credit for all that has been done that line but we do have enough to think that some of it may have been done if we hadn't been constantly driving the need for beautification home to property owners.

Several business firms have done the "spot cleaning" while others have done all-out jobs. This week we noticed a neighbor woman out painting her fence early every morning. The fence with a fresh coat of white paint looks so much better than the unpainted portion that she no doubt is proud of her efforts.

If you haven't tried it yet just paint a few boards on the fence or house and then you will go ahead and finish the entire job.

Last week there was a candidate for a district office in Sanderson passing out cards and contacting voters. This column noticed that the cards were printed outside of the district. It hardly seems a sensible argument for a candidate to assert that they want to represent this section of Texas in Austin and work for the interests of this district when the campaign literature distributed has been printed outside the district.

The possible theory behind the "outside" printing is that, as a rule, candidates prefer to have the "bug" put on campaign literature. This is done for the effect it might have on union men who are voters, and with the idea that it might not make a difference to a non-union voter.

This column is a union man and has carried a card for thirty years. I naturally admire the "bug" printed matter. Since there are printing establishments in this district with enough members of the typographical union to get union jurisdiction none have the right to use the label. We believe, however, that the candidate should be doing the proper thing in this district if that campaign money was spent where the votes are expected. The railroaders in this section are union men but we believe that a card printed in this district would be received with much more interest than one printed in San Antonio or El Paso. If they were interested in a candidate who would work untriflingly for the interests of this section they would spend their money in this section.

This column is not in politics and is not trying to influence any voters but we have consistently urged trading at home and that all apply to candidates as well as any other citizen. Del Rio, Eagle Pass, Alpine, Sanderson and many other towns are equipped to do equally as good a job of printing as the San Antonio firm who operates as No. 12.

Politicians in county affairs are hard to find in Terrell County. Not one of the candidates has an opinion so they are showing little interest. This paper will try to see that more free drinks are available next election year. We just plain went to sleep on the job and made complete failure in raking up campaign funds that would have ordinarily added to the fund that they are trying to get together to take a trip.

The next project for this column is to make a trip next week end to the interest of new construction on Highway 90. A large delegation of Terrell County citizens will take leave from their business here to appear before the State Highway Commission in the interest of all the citizens and businesses of the county. The unfinished pavement west of town needs attention and we hope to have enough interested citizens down there to show the commission our needs.

Tourist traffic is fairly good and will be better when that short part of old paving is replaced with a good wide road. Play suits will be in evidence as the tourists increase. When we see play suits we are attracted to that the name of the suit implies play and relaxation. There are some wearers of

LEGION BEATS RR; FIREMEN DOWN VFW IN GAMES THIS WEEK

In one of the best games played thus far this season the Legion softball team downed the Railroaders 8-1 last Friday night. The Legion team played errorless ball and the Railroaders made three errors, two by one player. E. Harkins was on the mound for the Legion team with Wilton Dishman catching and the Agricola combination was the battery for the Railroad. Harkins allowed only 2 hits and Agricola Sr. allowed 10 hits. A. Dishman, J. Harkins and J. Kerr each batted 666 for the Legion and McNeil was high for the Railroad with 1 hit for 1 trip to the plate.

The game Monday night drew through 7 innings with the Firemen beating the VFW 15-11 with numerous hits, runs, and errors and walks delivered by both the pitchers. Smith served for the Firemen and G. Flores was on the mound for the VFW. McDonald and Hall each batted 1000 for the Firemen and Cobos was on the same level for the VFW.

Friday night the Lions Club will meet the Legion for the completion of the first round of the softball play. Each of these teams has lost only one game and good competition is promised by the players. Fans are urged to come out for the cool entertainment under the lights. The ladies of the Evening Study Club will be on hand as usual with plenty of iced drinks for the spectators and support is urged for the benefit of the local Girl Scout troops.

New Type Driver's License Now Used

With the issuance of the new Texas operator, commercial and chauffeur license forms, holders of the old type of permits are confused as to how renewal should be done, it was announced this week by the driver's license division of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

The top part of the old type should be torn off and mailed with a money order to the division at Box 4087, North Austin Station, Austin. Operator's permits must be renewed every two years, while commercial and chauffeur licenses require renewals every year," it was stated.

In the new type of permit, holders will be notified by the department 30 days in advance of the expiration date of their licenses. The new forms went into effect in February.

Ceramics Painting Demonstrated At Ranch Club Meet

The Ranch Home Demonstration Club met at the Masonic Hall Friday morning with Mrs. H. E. Schroegler presiding at the meeting. Following the Club Collect, repeated in unison, the group sang "America the Beautiful." A record of the work done to date was filled in on the T. H. D. A. sheet.

Each member brought a school girl lunch which was enjoyed at noon.

In the afternoon, Mrs. H. D. Price displayed a line of ceramics and Dresden figurines from her gift shop in San Antonio. She demonstrated four different finishes on the figurines, showing how to apply the paint and acquire the different finishes.

Those present were Mesdames N. M. Mitchell, E. J. Hanson, Sid Harkins, I. B. Rusk, J. W. Byrd, Wayne Watkins, E. E. Farley, C. C. Mitchell, E. F. Pierson, H. E. Schroegler, M. C. Dye and H. D. Price of San Antonio and Mrs. O. T. Sudduth and Sidney Louise Harkins.

Mrs. Sudduth served iced tea and cake at the close of the meeting.

The next meeting will be at the Masonic Hall with Mrs. A. W. Pope and Mrs. M. W. Duncan as hostesses.

majority of the Congressmen from Texas. I have opposed certain socialistic proposals of what has been mis-called the "Fair Deal." I have opposed socialized medicine. I have opposed and still oppose repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act, an act which I think has been of great benefit to the public generally and also to the individual worker.

"I supported repeal of the tax on oleomargarine. In the interests of the continued exploration and development of the great oil and gas resources of our state and our district, I supported the retention of the oil depletion allowance. I voted for the Kerr Bill which would have left to state authorities the regulation of the actual production and sale of oil and gas by the independent producer. My position on the Kerr Bill was also that of our good Texan, Sam Rayburn, Speaker of the House, the two Texas Senators and other Congressmen from Texas.

"My opponent, Judge Paul Moss of Odessa, last Saturday night said of the Kerr Bill: 'But I am against anything so nasty and crooked as the Kerr Bill that would have put added costs on the housewives'. In so doing he took a stand opposed to that taken by Senators Tom Conally and Lyndon Johnson, Speaker Sam Rayburn, the Texas Railroad Commission and by every Texas Congressman who voted for the bill. He has taken a stand opposed to the best interests of every citizen of this district and of this state.

"There," Regan said, "he spoke the words of his master, Editor Edgar Bergen Pooley, Judge Charles McCarthy Moss has taken another leaf from the page of Mr. Pooley. He raises the cry of 'king-makers' and says I represent oil companies and special interests. Let him be specific and state when and how I voted in the interests of any corporation, group or individual and not in the best interests of the people of my district.

"Editor Pooley in the last two elections voiced the same cry of anguish. Then he said in speaking of El Pasoans supporting a Midland oil man, '... the oil industry, a business which is not of prime importance to El Paso.'

"I have consistently supported the Marshall Plan and have voted for aid to the Democratic countries in Europe. I have voted for adequate funds for the support of our armed forces and voted for appropriations for our war veterans and their dependents. I think I know something of their needs; I saw active service in the army during two years of World War I and two years of World War II.

"I have supported every move for economy consistent with our national requirements, I supported and worked for the bill to reduce the so-called 'war-time' luxury taxes."

"I have worked hard, and I believe effectively, toward securing an adequate supply of labor for our cotton farmers and ranchers. On 173 roll calls, I missed voting on the passage of only seven bills. The records clerk of the House stated that I had one of the best records he had checked.

"I believe my record will reflect that I have voted the views of the majority of real Americans in our district who believe in economy in government, in liberty and free enterprise, and the continuing opportunity of each individual to attain that measure of success to which his energy, character and intelligence entitle him."

ONE HOSPITALIZED WHEN CAR WRECKS ON HIGHWAY 285

Felipe Jaso, about 17, was taken to a Fort Stockton hospital by the O. T. Sudduth, Inc., ambulance Friday evening following a wreck at the Dean Word equipment lots just west of Sanderson on Highway 285. Jaso was examined by a local physician and was found to have a broken collar bone and suffering from major shock. In the car with Jaso were Baldemar de la Cerda, who received numerous skin abrasions and Ramon Vesquez who was uninjured.

The car, a 1941 4-door was coming toward Sanderson when it went out of control of Jaso, the driver, and turned over on the highway, momentum causing it to jump the fence into the lumber storage of the Dean Word Construction Co. The car turned over twice and was a total loss, according to a local garage owner.

Activities Planned To Keep Citizens At Home On July 4

According to Carlton White, local manager for the Princess Theatre, the chain of 88 theatres in the show business of which the Princess is a part, is planning an excellent program for the night of July 4 in an effort to keep people of the county at home and off the highways during the holiday. The move is planned to cut down, if possible, the number of traffic accidents that have been so numerous during such holidays. This program, according to White, will round out a full day of activities for local citizens and will give them reason to stay at home rather than be endangered by heavy traffic so prevalent at this time.

Other events planned for the day are a free barbecue at noon at the courthouse lawn by the Clarence Hallie Mulkey Post No. 160 American Legion at which a $500 bond, a purebred Hereford bull calf donated by N. M. Mitchell and a Model 70 .170 calibre rifle will be given away. Plenty of food is promised to those attending the noon-day meal.

Tuesday afternoon the Sanderson Roping Club will have calf and goat roping, ribbon roping, matched ropings and girls' barrel races. pounds of the fall wool and Emery, Russell and Goodrich of Boston, represented by Jackson Hughes, has contracted approximately 230,000 pounds of area wool. This information was released Wednesday by the Sanderson Wool Commission Co.

According to the wool and mohair merchants all the mohair of the area has been contracted and the biggest part of the product was contracted in the 80-81 bracket with the succeeding price raise taking in all the mohair growers. The prices of sheep have been holding steady and sales have been reported from many ranchmen at good prices with the weight of the lambs up in the 70-pound range, with some reports going into the 80-pound class on fag stock.

All ranchmen of the county are reporting their ranges to be drying fast even though some have had rains recently and those who have received little or no rain report grasses and weeds in hard shape.

Moisture over the area now in sufficient quantities to maintain sheep until fall in good condition would mean a substantial income from the lambs that are now contracted for fall delivery that otherwise must be sold prematurely to insure good weight for their present size and age.

Most ranches have had more rainfall this year already than they got last year and with a little good fortune will get more than the annual average for the county.

Tuberculosis and Diet

This may seem hard to believe, but there are still people who believe that certain foods cure tuberculosis. They seem to think that some type of magic diet will stop the destructive work of tuberculosis germs in the patient's lungs and restore him to health in short order.

No tuberculous patient was ever cured by diet alone. There are many aspects to the treatment of tuberculosis, basic among which is complete rest under medical supervision, preferably in a tuberculosis hospital.

At the tuberculosis hospital, in addition to his supervised rest, the patient may receive other types of treatment, such as surgery or drugs, depending on the type of illness. His diet is also planned there to fit his specific needs and to give him strength to fight his illness.

But although diet is only a part of the treatment, it is an important part. The patient's food must serve the double purpose of helping the body to repair the damage the germs have done to his lungs as well as to build up his body's defenses against the spread of the disease.

Meals served to tuberculous patients are usually simple and well balanced and contain calories and vitamins needed. In general, the diet includes milk (a quart a day), meat, eggs, fish, cheese, fruits, vegetables, cereals and desserts.

It is true that at one time great emphasis was placed on fattening the tuberculous patient and he was fed great quantities of eggs and milk. But today we know that a well-balanced diet of simple, nourishing foods is better than concentration on a single type of food.

Patients sometimes feel that the menus in the tuberculosis hospital lack variety. Simple but wholesome and nutritious food—the kind that is best for tuberculosis patients—does not provide for great diversity. But it must be remembered that the food is of good quality, prepared by expert dietitians under medical supervision, with the aim of giving the patient's body the proper "fuel" to help him fight his illness.

The person who contracts tuberculosis need not worry about the diet that he should have while he is ill if he takes prompt steps to enter a tuberculosis hospital. The doctors will work with trained dietitians at the hospital to make certain that the patient gets the proper foods, in the right amount, to help him successfully overcome his disease.
