NUMBER 8

WEN TO LUKE

W. McKee has been a lot of help to a sufficient number of boys to rear a family of her own. McKee has watched boys in her neighborhood grow into manhood many times, with many processes of time. McKee has seen this happen many times, but she is now very conscious of a situation that is facing the Sanderson, especially the boys of almost any age. McKee stated that she did not want anyone to consider this as a way to get the boys away from their neighborhood or out of town, but rather that one of the boys should have a window of mine with a ball this year, than break the ball of another boy or man in the future year. A torn tree is better than a torn home," McKee continued, "I love boys and have an interest in their future. I think that if some of the fathers had the same deep-felt interest, I would not have to be an old busy-body. We would have a Boy Scout troop; we would have happy boys."

Figures Set For Lamb, Wool Ads

Allocation of $800,000 for lamb and wool advertising in the fiscal year beginning July 1 has been made by directors of the American Sheep Producers Council. The Council's 16 directors, who represent nine affiliated associations, heard proposals from the two advertising agencies retained for lamb and wool advertising, as well as from other groups with programs to aid the sheep industry. Further details will be worked out when the Council directors meet on May 21-23 in Denver. Funds for the Council's lamb and wool advertising are derived from a cent-a-pound deduction from wool incentive payments to be made to all domestic producers. Producers themselves approved the deduction in a national referendum last year.

Large Crowd Attends Easter Sunrise Service

A large crowd gathered at the Eagle football field Sunday morning for the Easter sunrise service which began at 6:30. Three crosses had been erected on the hill to the east and the playing of "Heralds of Christ" opened the service with Rev. J. W. Byrd, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Sanderson, giving the invocation. The opening chorus was an instrumental quartet by Kenneth Shurley on the baritone, Irvin Robbins and Bob Spears on the cornets and J. R. Spurlin, trombone. A choir made up of youths from the churches of the community with a few adults, furnished appropriate music for the occasion. L. G. Hinkle and Rev. J. J. Spurlin had directed the practice sessions of the choir which was directed by Mrs. Spurlin Sunday morning. Rev. Spurlin, pastor of the Methodist Church, read the Biblical story of Easter and Rev. Gene Medaris, associate pastor of the First Baptist Church, gave the benediction. Mrs. Chester Smith and her son, Don Smith, served hot doughnuts, coffee and cocoa to those participating in the service who gathered in the Smith home at the conclusion of the service.

WATER PROBLEM SERIOUS TO TEXAS

Austin — Texas and the entire southwest are gripped by the worst drought in 600 years, according to the U. S. Geological Survey. Critical throughout most of the state, the water supply problem promises to tighten even more during the summer months unless the sub-normal rainfall takes a drastic swing upward. From a problem of local and statewide crisis, Texas' water supply problem has become a matter of national concern. Since President Eisenhower's flying trip in 1953 to gain first hand knowledge of the Texas drought, federal agencies have shown increasing awareness of its impact. As recently as February 29, the Agricultural Department designated 21 Texas counties disaster areas where eligible farmers and ranchers may participate in the emergency feed grain program. There are two reasons for this grave concern. The prolonged drought has greatly reduced surface supplies and is steadily draining away the underground reserves. Population and industry — both agricultural and manufacturing — are growing by leaps and bounds and with each passing week competition for available water supplies becomes more intense. If the drought should break suddenly and rainfall return to normal the state still would be in urgent need of a more effective water plan and conservation program. With the great distances involved in Texas, it is easy for one portion of the state to concentrate on its particular water needs to the exclusion of other areas. Realistically East and West Texas are mutually dependent, and prosperity in the Rio Grande Valley is affected by that of the Panhandle, no less surely than the amount of beef eaten affects the price of cattle. Texas has only a certain amount of water. If it isn't shared to the greatest possible benefit, the entire state will suffer.

Helicopter Visits Here Thursday Morning

A large two-rotor helicopter of the U. S. Air Force landed near the TEXNO roundhouse Thursday morning at about 8:30. The aircraft had flown very low over the railroad track the east-west length of town twice before landing. A very large crowd of adults and children were on hand immediately after the landing. Two officers and one enlisted man were in the helicopter, and when asked if they were in trouble, one of the officers replied, "No, we just landed to eat breakfast."

DOG POISONED IN YARD AT ANDERSON HOME

A three-month old puppy was poisoned Tuesday in the back yard at the D. E. Anderson home. A fence surrounds the yard, and according to Anderson, the puppy had not been out of the yard for many days, and only then with either him or his wife. The Andersons have two small children, both of whom play in the fenced back yard due to their young age. Mr. and Mrs. Thurman White and son, Clifford, of Winters, spent the week-end here with her mother, Mrs. C. P. Peavy. Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Sudduth and Nelda Kay were Fort Stockton visitors Thursday.

STOLEN CAR FOUND IN LAS VEGAS, NEV.

The 1955 Plymouth stolen from James Word Motors was reported recovered in Las Vegas, Nev., according to word received by Sheriff Lee Billings last week. The car was picked up by a routine check at a highway checking station, according to reports. The driver of the car, Harlan Roy Levey, was charged with violation of the Dyer Act, and held under custody of a U. S. Marshal, it was reported. According to information received by local authorities, Levey had left Sanderson going east and circled back north and west and had gone through the mid-west and into Idaho before going back south into Nevada. Some checks had been written on checks stolen from the local garage and were signed by a James Angelo. According to the report given local authorities, none of the merchandise taken from the local business was in possession of Levey when the car was recovered.

25-Minute Massage Revives Heart Beat Of Marcus Fury

Marcus Fury, Fort Stockton taxi firm owner, is alive and making steady recovery in a Fort Stockton hospital two weeks after his heart stopped beating, thanks to a miracle of modern medical technique. Mr. Fury was undergoing major surgery and, as the operation neared an end, his heart stopped beating. Attending physicians made an incision in the chest cavity to lay the heart bare and began artificial manipulation of the heart to cause it to pump blood through the patient's body. This in turn restored breathing. After 25 minutes of manual massage, the heart resumed normal action and the patient has continued to progress steadily since. It was the first known instance of this type of treatment in Fort Stockton. Mr. Fury formerly drove a bus between Fort Stockton and Sanderson.

Loans Approved For REA Facilities

The Rio Grande Electric Cooperative, Inc., Brackettville, has received approval of a Rural Electrification Administration loan in the amount of $2,340,000.00 for the construction of approximately 1,100 miles of rural electric lines of which approximately 95 per cent will be located in counties of West Texas, west and north of Terrell County, and in Terrell County. It was pointed out that certain portions of this loan cover rural areas that have been waiting for service for several years due to the fact that the areas consisted of large ranches which resulted in a minimum number of consumers. It is estimated that the project will be completed in 1956 and that this will give approximately 90 or 95 per cent electrification to the area served by the Cooperative.

JACK RIGGS HAS FASTEST TIME AT PECOS ROPING

Jack Riggs had the fastest single calf time in the roping at Pecos last week-end, 10.0 seconds. He also had the fastest time in the jack-pot ropings 10.3. Riggs' brother-in-law, Jim Bob Altizer, won second place in the roping event.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK:

"And we have known and believed the love that God hath to us. God is love; and he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and God in him." I John 4:16. God is powerful, God is our creator, but concern yourself with this most of all that God is love. That love is more than a match for any circumstance, but available only through His son, Jesus Christ the righteous. — H. B. Dean

An AP story this week noted that a California man had gone a step beyond the pushbutton craze.

He has installed automatic dialing to manipulate a thousand and one gadgets in his home.

One gadget is a thermostat responding to the sun's heat, operates the awning over the kitchen window. Then he has a lawn watering device that goes into action at 1 a. m. daily. An automatic switch activates a detector to determine the moisture in the ground and shut the thing off accordingly. The same testing and resprinkling is repeated hourly until 5 a. m.

Besides these he has, according to the story, many other gadgets that just do the job needed without any physical effort being expended.

This type of ingenuity, in order to really be beneficial, should be extended to the realm of column writing. That would save a lot of work and cussings. We will work on it.

The thing the California man invented would never work in West Texas though, because the ground is eternally so dry that the thing would never shut off. Now if it had been going the first of the week, none of the moisture would have ever gotten to the ground. It would have been absorbed by the dust and wind and sand and grime that blew in here from out west.

Thank goodness, though, in this part of the country we can always know that tomorrow will bring something different, maybe.

COOKE'S FOOD MARKET

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

Battle lines are fast forming. The scrap for control of the Texas delegation to the Democratic national convention is a high-tension argument. Harmony is out. Now it's a no-holds-barred, toe-to-toe slugfest.

It started when House Speaker Sam Rayburn, leader of Texas' liberal-loyalist forces and Godfather of the Democratic Advisory Council proposed that U.S. Sen. Lyndon Johnson be Texas' favorite son candidate for President of the U.S. — and head the Texas delegation to the nominating convention in Chicago.

George W. Sandlin, chairman of the Democratic State Executive Committee, had proposed Gov. Allan Shivers as chairman.

Shivers charged that Byron Skelton, chairman of the DAC, had thought up the favorite son and chairman idea — and that Rayburn "is just his mouthpiece."

Shivers denounced Rayburn's proposal as a "cynical and calculated effort to divide the conservative Democrats of Texas — an attempt to maneuver the senator into the DAC-PAC camp."

Then he challenged Johnson to denounce Liberal-Loyalist backing and take a stand for states' rights.

Johnson's answer was that he would head only a middle-of-the-road delegation. Not one "from either fringe" either ultra-conservative or ultra-liberal.

"No one knows better than Allan Shivers that I am not a creature of the ADA, DAC, PAC, NAACP, CIO or any other group he may have named," snapped Johnson. "Nor am I an errand boy of reactionary big business or the Republican party."

Verbal blasts between Washington and Austin continues. Shivers accused Rayburn of "trying to run Texas from Washington." Rayburn termed Shivers "an angry, confused, frustrated man — on a sinking ship." Adding "I belong to no faction but the Democratic party."

Shivers replied that had he gotten in the boat with Rayburn and Adlai Stevenson in '52, "we would have lost both the boat and the Tidelands!" He charged Rayburn with being "a Democrat first and an American second."

Shivers has declared he will not pledge himself to support "any nominee," and will hold himself free to vote for the man he considers best for President, regardless of party — "and I hope it is a Democrat."

Fencing between Johnson and Shivers was in milder tones, with Shivers concluding that he had no desire to do battle with "my old friend, Lyndon Johnson." Without withdrawing his demand for Johnson to state his position on the issues, Shivers said, "I would not stand in the way of Texas honoring him as chairman of the delegation or as favorite son."

Johnson has not said whether he would permit his name to be presented as a favorite son candidate, or whether he would take the chairmanship. He has said, however, that he hopes to be a delegate.

All of which means a show-down fight for control of the Democratic State Convention in Dallas, set for May 22. Liberals have promised a contest there — and if they lose they will attempt to bar the conservatives from the national convention. Rayburn will be temporary chairman of the national convention.

Interposition Approved

Complying with Governor Shivers' request, the Democratic State Executive committee has ordered on the July ballot a referendum vote on "interposition." This seeks a voters' mandate for the Texas legislature to petition Congress for a constitutional amendment re-establishing and protecting states' rights.

It is an attack on U. S. Supreme Court decisions, such as the Tidelands, school segregation, federal control over natural gas, etc., which Texas conservatives have branded as an unauthorized invasion of states' rights.

Ineligible for Office?

C. T. Johnson, who testified five times under oath that he had spent "no more and no less" than $125 in traveling the length and breadth of Texas while campaigning for Lt. Governor in 1954, now admits spending $1200 more than he reported.

This exposure resulted from charges by Russell W. Bryant, Italy publisher, that Johnson could not have traveled an admitted 12,000 to 15,000 miles for $125 (or approximately 1¢ per mile).

"There isn't a standard make automobile made that doesn't cost nearly 2¢ per mile for gasoline alone," said Bryant. "And Johnson testified under oath that the $125 included not only gas, oil, tires, batteries, etc., but also such other necessary travel expenses as lodging and meals."

It admitting the $1200 additional expenditure Johnson stated that he did not report any expenses under $10. State laws require the reporting of all expenditures, and the names and addresses of persons with whom more than $10 was spent.

Falsification of a campaign expense report prohibits such candidate's name from appearing on the ballot at any succeeding election.

Yarborough After Grassroots Votes

A down-to-earth intensified campaign for governor now is under way by Austin attorney Ralph W. Yarborough.

His first official move was a cross-roads plea for contributions and support "from the common people who believe in the Democratic form of Government."

Aids appear this week in weekly newspapers throughout Texas soliciting one dollar or more from small-town contributors. It's a "Dollars for Democracy" appeal. Short Shorts — Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd has called for the establishment of a Texas commission to define the boundaries in which the federal, state, county and city governments should operate — Also advocated is a code of ethics for public officials, those at local level as well as state level — Injunction suits have been filed in various counties by the State Bar of Texas, to restrain four non-attorneys from engaging in alleged unauthorized practice of law — Newspaperman Ed Kilman of the Houston Post is the newest member of the State Parks Board. Supreme Court Justice W. St. John Garwood, a long-time personal friend of Kilman's administered the oath of office in a ceremony in the Governor's office on Tuesday.

Famous bulletin from Mobilgas Economy Run

FORD WINS IN ECONOMY TOO!

V-8 WINS CLASS A

In this year's Economy Run a new Ford V-8, with Fordomatic, was the official victor over every car in its field, with a winning average of 47.743 ton-miles per gallon. This means that the sturdier, heavier Ford carried more weight, with greater gas economy per pound, than any car in its field.

This latest Ford victory was scored over a rough and rigorous 1,468.8-mile route running from Los Angeles to Colorado Springs. Through the heat of Death Valley and over chilling mountain heights . . . through gas-eating city traffic and over the straight-line open road . . . Ford proved anew its traditional reputation for economical performance.

The winning Ford was a regular-production model taken right from the assembly line. It was no different than thousands of '56 Fords you see on the road and in dealer's showrooms. This proves that Ford, the Performance, Style and Safety leader, leads in Economy, too! That adds up to four big reasons why the '56 Ford is worth more when you buy it, while you drive it, and when you sell it, too!

The "ton-mile" formula is used by contest officials to insure equal chance for all cars in each class, regardless of size or weight. Ton-miles per gallon equals the car weight (including passengers) in tons, multiplied by the number of miles traveled, divided by number of gallons of gasoline consumed.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh
Happy Ending With A "Familiar Ring"
Buck Howell says he and his Missus had quite a time at the Stockman's Convention in Chicago. But for a while they had a "breakdown in communications." The phone bell in their hotel room was pitched so low they often didn't answer their calls. "Never knew if it was for us or not," Buck said, "always sounded far off—like it was ringing in someone else's room." Finally, Buck hit on the obvious solution. He just made a deal with the hotel switchboard operator that whenever she called them she'd use two long rings and a short—their party-line signal back home. From where I sit, our own familiar routines tend to make other ways of doing things seem strange. That's natural. For instance, if you've always had hot water with your meals, you might think it's odd that lots of us prefer a bottle of beer at dinner-time. I say you've a right to pour own customs... but don't call mine wrong.

A Little Vacation In Every Day!

What's it like to take the wheel of a 1956 Cadillac? If you don't already know, then we hope you'll come with us now on a little imaginary journey in the "car of cars". Suppose, if you will, that you're in the driver's seat. How wonderful you feel. Those deep, luxurious cushions hold you in perfect comfort—your hands rest naturally on the slender wheel—and all about you are vision... and beauty... and luxury. And how quiet and restful it is! The car is so smooth and silent in operation that your only sense of motion comes from the sound of the wind and from the passing landscape. Starting... stopping... turning—all are regulated with the lightest touch of toe and hand. You simply lean back and enjoy the ride. We've heard it said that a drive in a new Cadillac isn't really a drive at all, in the normal sense of the word. It's a time for rest and pleasure and relaxation. Better come in for a visit some day soon. If you should decide to move up to a Cadillac, it will be our purpose to make you as pleased with your relationship with us, as your dealer, as you are certain to be with the car itself. The Cadillac name has long been a symbol of automotive integrity and honesty of purpose—and we make every effort to have our own business reflect the same ideals in our dealings with owners. It would be a pleasure to see you—at any time.
