Caroline Resigns School Board Post; Ed Kerr Appointed

Jimmy Caroline announced his resignation from the board of the Terrell County Independent School District at a meeting of the group Monday night.

Ed Kerr was named to fill the unexpired term.

Caroline stated that he had no intentions of seeking re-election when the school board is named in an April balloting and felt a successor named now would be an advantage for the school district's populace, and best for the

The board is setting up the tax structure for the district at this time, plans are being formulated for a possible building program an entirely new system of operations is beginning for the board and some new member should have benefit of working from the start with the group, Caroline asserted. He stated that there was absolutely no animosity or hard feelings toward the individual members of the board, the school officials, or the actions taken by the board. He added that he was available at any time for help of eny kind needed by the school administration or governing

Caroline added that with the possibility of the passage of the water board's bond election and the purchase of the local utility he would have added and increased duties to perform if he served as manager of the utility and felt that his work there was not necessarily of greater imtime and ability to such an ex tent that he might be forced to neglect school board business.

Caroline was appointed to the school board in August of 1943 succeeding Judge G. J. Henshaw and has served since that time

Kerr stated that he appreciated the confidence expressed by the school board in naming him to succeed Caroline, and added that he would devote as much time as was necessary to fulfilling his duties in that capacity.

Since the organization of the Independent School Board last fall, the entire board will have to be elected in April. Some will be named for alternating terms so that in the future only some members will be up for election each year rather than a complete

Those serving on the present board include: Herbert Brown president: A. J. Hahn, Jr., secre tary; John T. Williams, Dudley Harrison, Jack Hardgrave, F. M. Wood and Edward Kerr.

Austin - as a news-making year, 1958 lacked the lid-blowing scandals and sensational headlines that erupted from the Capitol in '56 and '57.

But it was a momentous year in many ways. Elections. Recession. State treasury bankrupt Much talk of new taxes.

Many reesarch reports were made - by the State Tax Study Commission, the Texas Research League, the Hale-Aikin Committee. Required reports came from the Board of Water Engineers Higher Education Commission and Legislative Council.

All in all, 1958 was a year of surveys, a time of critical selfexamination. All the research reports made lengthy stories, little headlines. Few are complete stories. Most will be continued into the turbulent Legislative year of 1959.

A month by month review of 1958, including top news events tion pattern continued. Gov. Danboth good and bad, depending on your viewpoint, follows:

from the governor. Sate Comptroller Robert S Calvert predicted a $12,000,000 stat: revenue deficit and need of $100,000,000 in new taxes by 1959 Economists bluntly announced

We wish for the town and county and all of its subdivisions civic and government, success in their efforts and pledge again our efforts toward that end, if our efforts can be used.

The new year is a lot like a new day - we have a fresh beginning. We have a new opportunity to do the things that we should have done yesterday or last year. A chance to make restitution or amends for some or all of our past mistakes of judgement or action.

A new year may be new or it may be a repetition of the one just ending. There are 365 days for us to improve on last year's actions. If we let one opportunits pass, we may not be able to improve on the last year.

We appreciate the support of our friends and customers in business doing the past year and will make every effort to give better service and be more appreciative of your business than we were during the year past.

We, like many others, did not mail many Christmas greeting cards locally. As we met friends we tried to express our wish for a Merry Christmas season to them in person.
