

If you have been watching the daily papers, you have probably seen stories of the recent controversial decision by the Supreme Court in which prayers in public schools were ruled unconstitutional.

Admittedly, the schools and church as well as the government and church are separated and are not to control each other. But, I am of the opinion that the Court overstepped its jurisdiction in this case. It is my belief that the Court should have ruled the case beyond their authority and left the fight to be settled by the individual schools and churches.

So far as I can see, there is only one basis for the decision and that is the ever growing amount of government control in our schools. With this growing control, the schools are becoming more and more, a part of the government and therefore, religion in the schools would be mixing government and religion.

I do not believe that any one denomination should be taught in our public schools but that is not to say that prayer and the Pledge Of Allegiance to the flag should not be acceptable -or even desirable.

We have the constitution which is supposed to insure that we have freedom of religion. This is the reason why I cannot approve a particular denomination being taught in a school where the child is forced to attend. If the parents desire that their offspring be taught one religion, there are church schools for that purpose. But the teachings from the Bible, the oldest textbook in history, should be allowed and approved in every school.

I can see no future for this country where religion is banned from the institutions of learning. For that matter, the future is not too bright from where that we are following in the sized if they were. footsteps of Rome--straight to History, as I have learned it, seems to show that a government can tamper with most every facet of a man's life except his religion. As a rule, when the government begins to tell the people how to worship or what they may worship or when they may worship, that government is not long for this earth. Of course, there are exceptions but I do not believe in Friona had that "patriotic In addition to the Fleming resithis nation is one of them. -TH-

Hamilton-Bagwell Exchange Double Ring Vows

Miss Helen Ruth Hamilton and Truett Perry Bagwell exchanged wedding vows at 3 p.m. July 1 in the First Baptist Church of Friona.

Mr. and Mrs. H.P. Hamilton, Jr., of Friona, are parents of the bride, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Loyd L. Bagwell of Floyd, New Mexico.

Bro. C. M. Fields of Ralls officiated at the double ring ceremony as the couple stood before an arch covered with greenery decorated with wedding bells and flanked by candelabras, palms, and baskets of white gladioli.

Mrs. Roy Miller, organist, played traditional wedding marches, and accompanied Mr. Clyde Powell of Portales as he sang, "Oh Promise Me." "Whither Thou Goest," and "Lord's Prayer."

Candlelighters were Misses Trudy Henry of Floyd, N. Mex. and Vickie Gilmore of Elida, N. Mex., cousins of the bridegroom. Guests were registered by Mrs. Paul Gibson of San Jon. N. Mex. and Miss Anna Ruth Fraze of Dora, N. Mex.

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of Chantilly lace and net over silk. The lace bodice, which came to a V at the waistline, featured a sabrina neckline accented by pearls and se-

The Associated Press carried a story recently of a fourteen-year-old East German boy who made his way through three rows of barbed wire and finally crossed the border into West Germany. His first glimpse of freedom was a large group of fellow refugees who had made their escape several years before him. The refugees had assembled for a memorial meeting on a hilltop from which they could look back on the village where they had once lived. Shortly after they lit their fire, they saw the bruised and bleeding boy walking up to them in a torn shirt.

When a person escapes from Communism we regard it as "newsworthy." In fact it quite often makes the front page of our leading newspapers. We often do not realize that every church, that is made up of people who can see clearly the old life that they have put behind them, holds the promise of a new life to the spiritual refugee. Such a promise is often lost in our talk of the current "cold war," The above story could be the story of any person who picks his way out of the grip of self pride and worldly domination and finds himself in the fellowship of free and redeemed men. In the context of the gospel, this story is always the most "newsworthy."

Fact: Monsanto Anhydrous Ammonia is 82.2% nitrogen . . . more nitrogen per pound than any other carrier. Fact: You cut it right into the root zone. It's ready to work without dissolving. Fact: Compare costs . . . currently most inexpensive nitrogen carrier...there are no bags or bagging costs, nothing to tear or carry. Applicator tanks are easy to fill. Fact: Monsanto Anhydrous Ammonia stays "locked" in the soil, ready to use. You can put your complete nitrogen requirements down in one application. Fact: You can save an extra trip through your fields by making the application as you plow. The proof: That's the check strip you leave in the field. It seems that changes have been coming so thick and fast in the Friona Star-Plains Publishers organization during recent months that it has been most difficult for any of us to keep things done in order and on time. This condition has resulted in our failure to keep the deadlines that have been

In many instances we have accepted news items so close to our dealine -- or even after it -that it has been impossible for us to do a good job on stories. In order for us to eliminate this "lateness" hazard, each of us will need the cooperation of everyone who assists us in any way with gathering information for stories or

Beginning with the next issue of the Star, we want each reporter to contact some member of the staff as soon as possible after an event has taken place. Our deadline is Tuesday night before publication Thursday morning and any items received after that time will be used the following week.

By observing this deadline all stories will have time to go through proper channels before publication and there will be fewer errors and our papers will be on time.

Cooperation of all news sources will be greatly appreciated. Of course, this rule will not apply to events that Lord, Thou knowest better than happen after the deadline and we will continue to accept late happening page one stories.

All of Friona can be justifiably proud of the newly constructed Friona Country Club House out on the end of West Fifth Street near the swimming pool.

A noon luncheon of the Ladies Golf Association one morning last week was the initial meeting in the building. At this meeting officers for the association were elected and plans were made for the coming year. Members in the association is not limited to those who play golf. It is open to any member of Friona Country Club who wishes to join. The next luncheon will be July 19.

Two items appeared in the July Grain Producers News that provide a lot of food for thought, They are being reprinted here for benefit of those who do not read Grain Producers News .

Have You a Friend? FRIEND is a person who is for you always, under all

He never investigates you. He likes you fust as you are. He does not alter you.

He likes your success and your failure endears him more. He wants nothing from you except that you be yourself. He is the one being with whom you can feel safe. With him you can utter your heart, its badness and its goodness.

Like the shade of a great tree in the noonday heat is a friend. Like the home port with your country's flag flying after long journey is a friend. friend is an impregnable citadel of refuge in the strife of existence.

He is the antidote to despair, the elixir of hope, the tonic for depression.

You give to him without reluctance and borrow from him without embarrassment.

When you are vigorous and spirited, you like to take your pleasure with him; when you are sick you want to see him; when you are dying you want him near you.

Friona Hosts Leaders In Irrigation League

The chips will be on the table Thursday night (July 5) at Reeve Field, when the league-leading Umbarger team visits a redhot Friona nine in what should be a fine ball game.

Friona will be out to stretch its winning streak, and pull a bit closer to the Irrigation Belt League kingpins. The action starts at 8 p. m.

The local nine won its seventh straight game Sunday at Silverton, bringing home a 12-3 victory. Friona had taken a nonleague win over Graham Plowof Amarillo last Thursday, 11-4.

FARM BUREAU

BY RAYMOND EULER

If you can find some land for Harry Hamilton to rent or buy, it will simplify things in the fall. He is looking around all over the state of Texas and other states, and we are afraid he will have to move out of the county to find what he needs. This would necessitate your finding a new president for next year. We hope he gets to stay, but just in case he moves, think of someone you think would make a good president so that you can help the nominating committee in their nomination in October.

All Farm Bureau officers and directors devote a great dealof time to executing policies the membership develops each year, but the president has more responsibility as the leader, and spends a lot of time and money working for you.

The Weed Committee has its work completed for the year with one exception. That is the walking of the railroad and highway 60 from Friona to Bovina. We have flags here in the office. and if you would like to volunteer for the job, please let us know. The idea is to locate bindveed plots on these right of ways and mark them with a small

Then the maps, showing locations of weeds will be turned over to the respective departments and they will poison the weeds. Any farmer living in this such well or upon public area should be interested in getting this done, and we hope someone will respond to the call right away. J. T. Jones, committee chairman and his committee and the county agent, ASC Office Manager, and SCS personnel have done a great deal of work to continue this program of eradication.

The Louisiana Farm Bureau added 1,629 farmers to its membership about a monthago with this question and proposition: "Do you agree with Farm Bureau's opposition to the Administration's farm proposal? If you do, will you join and pay your dues?" As we said, over sixteen hundred farmers responded. You would be welcomed as a new member in Parmer County. We have a few less than five hundred fifty a hundred or . more, says membership chairman Calvin

As a whole, cotton is really growing and looking good. Early cotton is beginning to fruit or put on squares and thus fleahopper damage is something to start looking for,

Fleahopper populations should begin to increase at a more rapid rate from now on. Cotton growers should check their fields closely as fruiting begins to prevent the loss of the early forms or "bottom crop," This is especially important where cotton is a little late, Flea-hopper control, when needed is also important from the standpoint of taking advantage of the higher prices and better quality of cotton during the early

Cotton fields shouldn't be sprayed if there is not enough harmful insects and enough damage to warrant treatment, but if cotton is being damaged it will certainly pay to apply an insecticide. Cotton gins, farmers, or anyone who should Show had 36 girls participating in the annual event in Canyon, Tuesday, June 26, Girls entered displays of their favorite foods in four different food groups. These food groups included meat, milk, vegetable-fruit, and bread-cereal.

Representing Parmer County were Reba Lesly and Katle Blackstone in the senior division. Rebs made and displayed weiner sandwiches according to recipes in the Unit Favorite Foods member guide, Katie Backstone made and displayed peach delight also in the same member guide.

Jill Mimms and Janis Billingsley were junior division winners in the county show and entered the district show, [ill made and displayed fluffy mashed potatoes, and Janis made and displayed butter sandwiches and banana milk shake.

Not only did the girls make the foods themselves, but they had to know the nutritive value of each of the four foods groups. ludges asked several questions on how they prepared the foods and why the food made a difference in their daily food

Each girl had to choose attractive luncheon clothes, center pieces, dishes, and silverware to set a place setting for service of one. Judges scored proper setting of the table and also neatness of the girlas well as her poise in answering the nutritive value questions, Record books rated one-half of the total score.
