We will have no way of knowing until a long time from now, but we wonder if the reaction of most of the people, generally, is not one of disgust at the sham of importance that is given to lesser things, and the downgrading of the more important things. No date has been set for retrial of the case.

Wool Referendum Ballot Is Mailed

Wool referendum ballots have been mailed to all known Terrell County wool producers by the local ASCS office. All ballots must either be mailed or delivered to the ASCS office no later than September 21. Preliminary results will be announced by the Department of Agriculture late

The purpose of the vote is to determine whether wool and lamb growers approve or disapprove of a new agreement to continue financing an advertising and market-development program for wool and lambs. These promotional activities have been financed through deductions from the incentive payments received annually by wool growers since the start of the program in 1955, as authorized by the National Wool Act. The vote will not affect the wool payment program, but it will determine whether or not the advertising and promotional activities to enlarge and improve the market for wool and lambs are to continue.

If the agreement is renewed by a favorable vote, it will continue for four more marketing years. through 1965. Legislation extended the National Wool Act for that length of time. Under a renewed agreement deductions from producer wool payments could not exceed what they have been under previous agreements- le per pound for shorn wool and 5c per hundredweight for lambs.

If producers vote not to renew the agreemnt between the Secretary of Agriculture and the American Sheep Producers In Local Schools be made from wool incentive payments for the next four years, and whatever funds remain on hand from previous deductions will be used by the Council until expended.

Producers who are eligible to vote are all those who have owned sheep or lambs, six months of age or older, for any one period of at least 30 days since January 1 of this year. A producer must vote in the county where the producer's ranch headquarters is located. Each producer will report the number of sheep and lambs on his ballot, and the agreemnt will not be put into effect unless approved by producers owning two-thirds of the sheep and lambs represented by votes in the referendum. However, in determining whether of not the referendum results adeately reflect producer approval on a representative basis, consideration will also be given to the number of votes cast for and against the agreement.

If a grower thinks he is eligible to vote in Terrell County and has not received a ballot through the mail, he should contact the ASCS office not later than September.

Area-Wide Clinic To Fight Polio To Be November 11

ANDERSON I IMES

Terrell County will participate in an area-wide campaign for innoculation with the new Sabin oral polio vaccine. The beginning of the project is scheduled for Sunday, November 11, in a dozen counties of this area.

Jim Bennett of Lubbock, district manager, was here last week to confer with Dr. C. H. Spencer and a committee from the American Legion headed by L. E. Muller to set up the program for the project which is being sponsored by the Legion and Auxiliary.

The oral vaccine is being given in three doses and in keeping with the slogan "Victory Ove: Polio" every resident of the county will be urged to participate. Anyone over six weeks old may take the vaccine and those having received the Salk vaccine are urged to take the new vaccine also. The Salk vaccine was for the prevention of the crippling effects of polio; the Sabin oral vaccine is for the prevention of polio. A nominal charge, probably 25c per dose, is planned, but no one will be denied the protection of the new vaccine regardless of cost. It will be made available to every resident. Cooperation of many civic organizations and clubs will be sought in assuring success for the campaign to stamp out po-

In the third period Robbins went over from the 8-yard line to recover a six-point tally by the Shorthorns which was on a John Ed Robbins, Eagle fullback, 34-yard pass play from Calderon to Roy Pirtle.

> In the fourth period, Rogers closed the gap with a 20-yard run and the conversion of a twopoint PAT.

The statistics in the Marfa game showed: Eagles Marfa first downs yards rushing 151 yards passing passes tried passes completed passes intercepted punts average yards fumbles recovered own yards penalized

Eagle Coach Paul Hatem was high in his praise for the way the offensive unit handled the winged-T formation, stating that he had never coached a team that ran the formation more smoothly in their opening game. He also gave credit to John Cates and John Wilcox for their work in the line defensively.

The Eagles were less experienced and lighter in weight than the Shorthorns and were expected to meet stiffer competition than they encountered.

Friday night the Eagles will be in Alpine for their second game and it, too, will be a non-conference game. The Bucks are in Class AA and are slated to give the Eagles a run for their money, but they, too, are low on experience and figure to have their edge, if any, in depth and weight.

All fans who can are urged to be in Alpine for the game Friday

makes studying easier

Good lighting is important to everyone, but particularly to school age children for home study. Proper light helps prevent eyestrain, aids concentration, makes home study more effective. For good light from a table lamp, make sure it is equipped with a 150watt bulb and a diffusing bowl to prevent glare. Have enough other light in the room, too, to prevent harsh contrasts of brightness and shadow.

Better light means better sight and better learning.
