

WITH THE COUNTY AGENT

DERYL COKER

July 22-28 is National Farm Safety Week and the theme for this year is "Family Safety At Work and Play".

This theme should be a year-round goal for all of us in Farmer County. Consider the sobering fact that agriculture is the most hazardous industry in the nation in so far as total number of deaths of workers are concerned. Farm people suffer 11,300 fatal accidents each year. Of this total, approximately 3300 deaths occur as occupational or work accidents. At the present time the death rate of farm workers stands at 58 deaths per year per 100,000 workers. This is the highest occupational death rate in the nation.

Sixty five per cent of all fatal traffic accidents occur within 25 miles of home, maybe this is because we become familiar with our surroundings, perhaps too familiar.

In driving the same automobile or tractor over the same roads countless times we tend to become overly confident of our ability to handle any situation. We let down protective defenses, become less alert, and begin to take chances.

Let's use the opportunity of National Farm Safety Week to take a critical look at the way we do things. The extra margin of care will pay off. I am listing some safety tips that we should abide by:

1. Pull off the side of the road and allow cars to pass if traffic piles up behind a slow-moving vehicle, it takes a few minutes longer but it could avert an accident.

2. Clear shrubbery and tall crops from driveways, field entrances and blind intersections to permit easy visibility in all directions.

3. Install and use seat belts in cars and trucks. They won't prevent accidents but they will save lives.

4. Wear simple close-fitting work clothes, when working around machinery.

5. Always turn off machinery before adjusting, unclogging or servicing.

6. Always keep shields and guards in place when operating.

7. Refuel machinery only when the motor is off and has cooled.

8. Take a short break every few hours to forestall fatigue.

Last week I was in several cotton fields checking on the insect situation, and I don't recall seeing so many beneficial insects. On an average I would say that the beneficial insects outnumber the harmful insects 4 to 1. A lot of flower bugs assassin bugs and lady bugs are present. As long as we have this kind of situation we will be in good shape.

We should continue to check for a build-up of fleahoppers and bollworms because field insect conditions can change from week to week.

TURN ABOUT

When a wheeler-dealer goes sour for millions of dollars and the ensuing scandal reveals that government officials are involved in one way or another, who usually is the scapegoat? Private business, of course!

Politicians appear to be well versed in tactics intended to divert the searing glare of publicity from themselves to the innocent. Of course, they eventually are trapped in their own web of intrigue. But the true story takes overly long in catching up with the initial sensational headlines.

A case in point is the Billie Sol Estes affair, which rocked the nation and sent political Washington into a tizzy when it was learned that this relatively unknown Texas entrepreneur was involved right up to his bespectacled eyes in a multi-million dollar scandal, with important names involved.

This time, however, diversionary tactics backfired and Commercial Solvents Corporation, a nationally known and highly respected chemical, animal nutrition and pharmaceutical firm, apparently is emerging from the mess with flying colors. A heavy Estes creditor, the worst that could be said about the company was that it held sound collateral for every dollar owed it by the Texan.

To the finance companies, involved to the tune of $22 to $30 million, this was most unpleasant because, unlike the money-lenders, Solvents took the trouble to check its security.

Maynard C. Wheeler, president of Solvents, has made the sound position of the company abundantly clear to a Congressional Committee and, as a result, put to rest many of the early misunderstandings.

Clearly, newspapers and other media cannot be blamed for publishing the news as it was reported to them. But it is equally clear that the reputation of any sound business should not be put on the block to save any political hides. The McClellan Committee, it is to be hoped, will shed more luster on the Congressional investigatory procedure, by placing responsibility where it should lie, no matter how politically unpleasant this may prove to be.

Connie C. Kesler Buried Tuesday

Connie C. Kesler, 83, a retired butcher, formerly of Friona, died July 22 in Madill, Okla., where he had been living since 1951.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday at 2:30 p.m. in the First Baptist Church of Friona with Rev. Bill Burton officiating.

Mr. Kesler moved to Friona in 1942 from Bovina, and in 1951 he moved to Madill.

Survivors include his wife; a son, Jack Kesler of Bovina, a daughter, Mrs. Grady Whit of Amarillo and three grandchildren.

Pallbearers were Eric Rushing, John Burrow, Denver Smith, Bill McGlothlin, Dick Habbinga and J. V. Houser. Honorary pallbearers included Joe Collier, C. O. Houser, Joe Johnson, Ed White Sr., Elroy Wilson, C. A. Turner, L. R. Dilger and Jake Lamb. Burial was in the Friona Cemetery under the direction of Claborn Funeral Home.

Machines Have Big Farm Role

Today's farmer may use as many as 35 different types of machinery during the year.

"The increasing variety and complexity of machinery helps get the job done faster and easier than ever before, but not necessarily more safely," said Marvin J. Nicol, the National Safety Council's director of farm safety.

Nicol's comment came on the eve of the 19th annual National Farm Safety Week, to be observed July 22-28.

According to a study in Indiana, one out of six non-fatal farm accidents involves machinery other than tractors. Tractors account for about 45,000 non-fatal injuries each year, and fatalities are on the increase.

"Despite variance in machines, common sense and basic rules of safe handling apply to all," added Nicol. "If followed consistently, the needless waste of human resources can be drastically reduced."

The Council lists these reminders:

- Wear simple, close-fitting work clothes.
- Always turn off machinery before adjusting, unclogging or servicing.
- Always keep shields and guards in place when operating.
- Refuel machinery only when the motor is off and has cooled.
- Take a short break every few hours to forestall fatigue.

GOP BRASS . . . Getting together at a meeting last Friday in Muleshoe are County Republican chairman Les Bruns (l) and Republican candidate for governor Jack Cox, with his wife. Cox said he was getting good response all over the state, and was confident the people would elect a "governor rather than a puppet" in November.

Tuesday Night's Rain Measured .35 Inches

	Max	Min
Tuesday night's rainfall measured .35 inches in Friona, according to official figures by the City Hall. The rainfall from 3 p. m. Tuesday amounted to .41, since .06 was recorded between 3 p. m. and 5 p. m., when the re-ding is taken.	July 18 88 60	July 19 93 63
	July 20 93 65	July 21 92 66
	July 22 98 65	July 23 90 65
	July 24 87 64

Only other rainfall during the past week was .02 recorded Monday. Temperatures for the week remained in the nineties or high eighties.

Rural Traffic Rising

"With traffic increasing on rural roads and highways, the farm resident cannot rely solely upon his own good driving habits to keep him out of trouble," said Pyle. "He must consider the other driver whose operating skill and judgment may be lacking.

"Defensive driving calls for alertness and the ability to compensate for mistakes of others. It is knowing and adjusting to special hazards presented by traffic, weather, amount of light and road conditions. It is willingness to yield right of way to avoid an accident.

Miss Ann Baxter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Baxter, and Jerry L. Rankin, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Rankin, were married in a double ring ceremony July 21 at 7 p.m. in the Friona Methodist Church. Miss Janet Smith, pianist, and Miss Pat Foster, organist, played traditional wedding selections and Miss Suzanne Taylor sang "O Promise Me" and "The Lord's Prayer". Rev. Hugh Blaylock of Dimmitt read the wedding vows as the couple stood before an altar decorated with an array of greenery featuring a green archway centered with wedding bells tied with rainbow colors of ribbon and flanked by candelabra holding white tapers and baskets of pastel colors of gladioli and asters. Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride was dressed in a formal peau de sois gown styled with a Queen Anne skirt and a chapel length train. The rounded neckline and elbow length sleeves were highlighted with tiny bows at the waist. Her veil of silk illusion was attached to a tara of miniature pearlized lily-of-the-valley flowers. She carried a white orchid surrounded with tiny white ribbons and stephanotis atop a white Bible.

Mrs. R. N. Castleberry was her sister's matron-of-honor. Debra Baxter, niece of the bride, served as junior bridesmaid. They wore pearl necklaces, gifts from the bride, and carried nosegays of pastel asters representing each color worn.

"South" Has Bad Luck In All-Star Contests

It was a bad weekend for the "South" in the all-star games which wound up summer baseball activity in Friona last week.

On Friday, the "North" Pee Wee all-stars swamped the "South" all-stars, 16-2, and the "North" Intermediate League all-stars blanked the "South" stars, 9-0. Then Saturday, the "North" Pony League stars defeated the "South," 18-7.

The Pee Wee winners wrapped up their game with a big third inning, which gave them more than the required 10-run lead. Gary Pope and Don Fortenberry led the North to victory with three hits apiece. Leon Mendoza, winning pitcher, hurled a three-hitter.

Larry Graves pitched a five-hit shutout for the North Intermediate team in their 9-0 win.

Eugene Weatherley pitched a three-hitter and led his team in hitting as his North Pony League all-star team won over the South. Weatherley had three hits himself, the same number the entire South team got off his pitching.

Sportsmanship awards were presented in each league prior to the all-star games. Winner of the Pee Wee award was Terry Mabry. Tommy Mars was the award winner in the Intermediate League and Eugene Weatherley took the prize in the Pony League.

It's the Law in TEXAS

RIGHT OF WITNESSES
By far the most vital people in our system of justice are witnesses. Everyone else in a trial exists to hear what they have to say.
Our courts need witnesses. A jury to find the facts. The judge to apply the law. The lawyer to tell his client's story. Chances are you worry about stepping up, taking an oath, and telling your story in court.

On some rare occasions you could be called upon to testify about something affecting your own standing in the community. As a witness you too may have the right, for example, not to testify against yourself in somebody else's lawsuit or crime trail.
If you are ever in such a bind, consult a lawyer of your own choice on what to do. The lawyer who called you to testify has a sworn duty to protect his client, not you. But your lawyer is sworn to keep what you tell him secret and to advise you in your own interests within the law. Wise lawyers tell their witnesses to obey twelve rules:
1. Go to the place (say, the scene of an accident). Check your memory before you go to court. People forget and get caught up on details. But if you check what you saw and heard you are on solid ground.

2. Visit a court. Hear how other witnesses testify. It will help you see your role on the witness stand.
3. Wear clean, conservative clothes.
4. Don't memorize your story word for word. That's the surest way to sound bad. But think of what you saw and heard.
5. Listen to the questions you are asked with care and answer thoughtfully.
6. Give a simple, direct answer in your own words. Don't be rushed.
7. If you err--and people often do--correct yourself at once. If you can't remember some detail, say so. Don't bluff.
8. Tell the truth. Don't figure which side you may help. Don't identify yourself with either side.
9. Stop when the judge breaks in, and don't try to sneak an answer in before he can stop you. What you might say could end in a "mistrial."
10. Keep cool and don't sass back.
11. If they ask you: Certainly, you have talked to other people--the lawyer, for example; and yes, you may be reimbursed for certain of your expenses incurred in attending the trial.
12. Remember, without witnesses our law would fail to do justice. If you are called, be a good witness.
(This newsfeature, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform--not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

GOING UP . . . Construction began last week on the new Farmers' Co-op Gin, two miles south of Friona off Highway 214. The gin is to be completed in time for the fall harvest season.

" . . . I will bring them back to their own land which I gave to their fathers. 'Behold, I am sending for many fishers, says the Lord, and they shall catch them . . .'" Jeremiah 16:14-16

"And Jesus said to them, 'Follow me and I will make you become fishers of men, And immediately they left their nets and followed him.'" Mark 1:17-18

LOOSE TACKLE
When Jesus addressed Simon and Andrew as they cast their nets, we know that he was talking to two men who knew their business. These were commercial fishermen, skilled in the business of catching fish. We read that they left their nets behind. Perhaps, to those of us who are not in the business of fishing for a living, this phrase does not reach us with its proper meaning. Couched in our own economical language it could as well have said, "And they left their cash-registers behind," or, "And they left their tractors behind." This is the hard part of this story for modern readers. These men were called from their livelihood to follow Christ. They were called to be adept at their discipleship as they were at their old trade.

The fact that most of us must remain at our work benches in no way removes from us this command of Christ to become "fishers of men." Certainly it has something to say to those of us who can do highly skilled labor at our farms and our offices and offer only unskilled labor to our churches. Surely if we have bothered to learn one skill we can take the trouble to become skilled in our Christian service.

Though none of us are commercial fishermen, quite a few of us like to fish. Without the flicker of an eyelash, an amateur fisherman might spend several hundred dollars on one fishing excursion to the Gulf of Mexico. He will buy an expensive rod, a box of complicated tackle, subscribe to several magazines, and undergo any number of hardships to get to where the fish are biting. This man might call himself a "sportsman." He would hardly think of going after a fish with "loose tackle." We wonder what he would use if he went after men in the service of his church?

ANOTHER FISH TALE . . . Dee Harvey, who works for T. A. Shirley, was the second person to bring in live evidence of finding minnows in an irrigation ditch. Harvey made his "catch" last Saturday. Previously, H. G. Houston had brought a similar "fish" in for photographing.

Haven't heard any report on M. A. Black's lost articles mentioned in this column last week. If it is any consolation to him, he was not born on Friday the thirteenth. Mrs. Nell Davis, local Farm Bureau secretary, has one of those 200 year calendars and was kind enough to look up the day of Mr. Black's birth.

Several persons have been kind enough to call and express appreciation of the first of our World's Fair series. This feature was written by Mrs. Bruce Parr and we plan to run one each week, if possible. Mrs. Nelson Welch is cooperating with us on an article for this week's paper.

It is not our intention to overlook or slight any resident of the area who attends this gigantic performance. However, unless someone informs us, you may go the World's Fair without us knowing it. If you or any of your neighbors have attended this event, we would appreciate hearing about it.

Reader cooperation is essential in all phases of news writing, but if this series is to be a success and representative of all persons who attend, it is essential. Just call 2291 and leave word with Bill Ellis or Ella Faye Holcomb and we will take it from there.

Anyone who has difficulty remembering anything he wants to should read an article in the most recent issue of Reader's Digest. Before you read it, though, you might think seriously about being ready to accept suggestions given therein.

When we consider any subject and begin with the thought, "I just can't do it," we have placed the first barrier in place to defeat the purpose we started out to accomplish.

Someone said, "Don't ever say I can't remember!" Begin any course with the idea "I CAN" and then do it.

An interesting item on remembering has lodged on my desk. It goes like this:

THINGS TO REMEMBER
The value of time; the necessity of perseverance; the pleasure of working; the worth of character; the dignity of simplicity; the power of kindness; the wisdom of saving; the virtue of patience; the job of originality; the beauty of cheerfulness; the influence of example; the obligation of duty.

Construction has been started on the new Friona Farmers Co-op Gin south of town. It is amazing how soon men and modern machinery can erect buildings and install equipment for a cotton gin. Completion date of this enterprise is scheduled for early October and just a few days ago the only visible thing on the ground was wheat stubble.

Through the Girl Scout and Boy Scout organizations many Friona youngsters are participating in camping activities this summer. Several boys spent some time recently at Camp Don Harrington near Amarillo and now some girls are down near Crosbyton.

Some other Girl Scouts went camping earlier, and some are scheduled to go later this summer.

mer. A lot of work has been done on the permanent Girl Scout camp and facilities for camping are ideal.

Other Frionans are attending church camps. All in all it adds up to a lot of camping and for parents at home this makes a lot of trips to the post office necessary.

Happiness is that sensation you acquire when you are too busy to be miserable.

Mrs. Armstrong Commended For Cancer Crusade Work

Mrs. Troy Armstrong, Chairman of the 1962 Cancer Crusade for Farmer County has received commendations from the state Chairman, Dr. G. V. Brindley, Sr., for the outstanding success of the educational and fund-raising campaign here this year. Farmer County is one of eighty-three leading counties in the state which have accomplished the special goal of the 1962 Crusade in "Bettering Their Best." The best previous year for the Farmer County Crusade was 1958 when the total raised was $496,42. This year the total has already reached $500,00.

Dr. Brindley's letter pointed out that Mrs. Armstrong and all who helped with the Crusade here furnished inspiration to the entire state Crusade. "As a state," he said, "we could not have "Bettered Our Best" except with the leadership of counties like yours which adopted and accomplished this goal."

"Throughout Texas we are in the closing phases of the most successful Crusade we have ever conducted against cancer," Dr. Brindley said. "The gains made this year in reaching people for education and contributions are not limited to any one area of the state and are, in fact, a reflection of widespread knowledge and enthusiasm of thousands of volunteers."

Dr. Brindley reported that as a result of the leadership of such outstanding counties, Texas has already made a record contribution to cancer control in 1962. More than $1,320,000 has already been contributed by Texans for the Society's program of research, education and service.

Sixty cents of every Crusade dollar will be immediately available for use in these programs within the state of Texas. In addition to this, the national Society supports research in Texas directly to the tune of around forty cents of this dollar in the average year.

During the current year, support of this Texas research reached a record level and the Society is actually spending one dollar and ten cents in Texas, for all programs, for every dollar contributed by Texans during the Crusade.

Saddles Stolen From Wooley

Bill Wooley, of 1401 West Sixth Street in Friona, reported the theft of two new saddles, bridles and blankets from his barn south of town, the total value of goods taken topping, $300.

Wooley, who just recently purchased the horses and equipment, told officers that the goods were taken sometime the night of Saturday, July 21. They were in place Saturday and first missed about noon Sunday.

All of the equipment had been in Wooley's possession barely 30 days at the time of the theft. One of the saddles was new, the other used. The new saddle didn't even have a scratch on it, Wooley said.

Welch Family Sees Fair On Western Trip

(Editor's Note: The following is the second in a series of articles written for the Star by area residents who have attended the World's Fair in Seattle, Wash. The Nelson Welch, who recently returned from their trip, are this week's subject, although Mrs. Welch warns "I'm not very fond of fairs.")

By MRS. NELSON WELCH
The World's Fair was a disappointment to me in many ways. I think you could see more interesting exhibits at many of our state fairs. But then, I'm not a real "fair fan."

About 52,000 people were at the fair when we were there. There were long lines for almost everything. The papers said the crowds had not reached the figures which were predicted, but it was the first fair to be operated in the "black." They were to have paid back the money borrowed for the fair by now.

We were lucky in getting lodging right downtown, just a few blocks from the fair. We had been told all along of the lodging problem, so we considered ourselves very fortunate.

Some of the people who had registered for the "Expo Lodging" program as early as April found when they got there that their rooms were either out of town, or in some cases were confused. But with that many people, it's logical that some mistakes were made.

The people in Seattle recommend that visitors eat at the fair grounds, and rightly so. The "Food Circus" in the Armory Building features all types of foods from many different countries.

A person could watch the food being prepared. It was very good as well as economical.

As I said, the other members of the family enjoyed the fair more than I. We all enjoyed the water ski show. Monte enjoyed the rides. Mikie the exhibits and Bob liked a helicopter ride over Seattle and the bay area. We went by way of Phoenix, visiting a wax museum in Scottsdale that fascinated the entire family. Different personages of U. S. history were beautifully depicted, leaving you spell-bound.

Our stay in Phoenix also provided the opportunity for a visit with a friend of days gone by. Inasmuch as we hadn't seen one another in fifteen years, this was truly a treat for me.

On we rolled to San Diego and a visit to their world-famous zoo. This, too, was thoroughly enjoyed by all. The beautiful setting, great variety of beautifully-kept animals and the numerous flowering shrubs and trees kept Mikie and me busy exclaiming, touching and smelling.

The kids wanted to spend at least one night on the sea shore, and this we did at Oceanside, Calif. We were able to hear the pounding surf the whole night through.

We went on up the coast to Los Angeles, to visit relatives the Rex Johnstons-- and to see the sights: Disneyland, Knotts Berry Farm, Hollywood, Farmer's Market and Beverly Hills.

Certainly one sight we couldn't overlook was the California traffic. Our driver's training program was put to the test as Nelson allowed Mikie and Bob to test their skill on the busy highways of California, and also to do considerable mountain driving.

However, one of the greatest feats of the entire trip was to pack and unpack the car. Yep, we made it every time, but I sometimes wondered just how. From Los Angeles we headed for San Francisco and arrived about noon on Sunday, having spent the night in San Jose, attended church in Palo Alto and arrived at Fisherman's Wharf for dinner.

We enjoyed a delectable meal at Tarantino's, overlooking the bay, and the bill of fare, naturally, was fish.

We took a long guided tour of the entire city and also a three-hour boat tour of the bay area, passing under both the Golden Gate and Bay Bridges, around Alcatraz Island and other points of interest in the bay. I might add that one of the more interesting aspects of our trip was the interesting people we met along the way. Bob was making a survey of sorts, as to whether or not the people of the New York Mets at Candlestick Park, and had the satisfaction of seeing Willie Mays knock one "over the fence," and to view through binoculars the mad pacing of Casey Stengel. From S. F., we journeyed on northward to Seattle, enjoyed fruits in season and ate fish again at Lazio's in Eureka. By now no one is hungry nor mentions fish.

on open deck--where we really wanted to be--we would nearly freeze.

On this trip we became acquainted with people from all over the U. S., and enjoyed exchanging ideas on weather, land, schools, politics and future prospects of our country.

The Butcher Gardens of Victoria were the highlight of our trip there--as they must be for TAKING IN FAIR . . . Mikie, Bob and Monte Sue Welch were caught in this snapshot at the World's Fair in Seattle. The Welch's included the fair on their western tour.

Western United States were as friendly as Texans.

His conclusion was--he didn't believe they were. (How is that for prejudice?). It tickled Monte that so many thought she talked so queerly. I knew "git" for "get" and "wuz" for "was" would trip her up some day.

A zippy ride by taxicab up and down Market Street and others added to our enjoyment of the unique city of San Francisco.

Nelson and Bob witnessed a game between the Giants and

The entire drive up Highway 101 on the West Coast was enjoyable: the drive along the ocean, through vineyards, orchards, Redwoods and the lush grass country of Oregon and Washington.

By the time we reached Seattle, Monte Sue and I were ready to be at home, but Seattle is a long way from Friona.

The four-hour boat cruise to Victoria was very pleasant except that when we ventured out all who see them.

We were all happy to see the car head homeward, and even Bob said he had had enough "togetherness."

We nevertheless took time to see the sights of Salt Lake City, Utah, and the kids had a chance to swim in Salt Lake.

The pile of dirty clothes and knee-high grass in the backyard could not mar our joy of being "back home."

Frank Spring On Honor Roll

Frank L. Spring, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Spring of Friona, freshman student at the University of Texas, had a 2.6

grade point average the spring semester, which placed him on the Dean's list.

Spring, a 1961 graduate of St. Stephens Episcopal Prep School in Austin, is a non-major as yet at the University. He is participating in "Plan 2," of UT's honors program, which consists of stepped-up courses in English, math and history. He was carrying 18 hours for the semester, scoring four A's and two B's. He is also attending summer school at the University of Texas.

Gaines Ends Aviation Class

Alvin K. Gaines, jr., airman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin K. Gaines, Sr. of Friona, was graduated, June 29, from Aviation Familiarization School at the Naval Air Technical Training Center, Memphis, Tenn.

The two-week school covers the basics of flight theory, types and missions of aircraft, airfield operations and firefighting techniques.

4-H Club Members Attend Record Book Workshops

Twenty-three 4-H Club boys and girls attended special county-wide 4-H Record Book workshops conducted July 17 and 18 in Bovina High School Study Hall and Hub Community Center. Extension Service Agents, Miss Ettie Musil and Deryl L. Coker conducted the training. Instructions for the record books have been revised for this year. Record books are very different with the organization and stories of new instructions. Record books are an important part of the 4-H Club program. They give special training for youth in the importance of keeping records of time, money and energy management of all projects. Four-H record books are due August 1 in the Extension Service Agents' office in Farwell. Record books will be judged in the county and district for the senior division. Boys and girls who are 14 to 21 years of age are eligible for the senior division. Junior division books will be judged in the county. Four-H members must be nine to 13 years of age for junior division. These record books will determine the awards to be presented at the annual Achievement Awards Program in November. Four-H members must enter completed record books before they are eligible to receive awards, medals or year pins. Records may be entered in the following awards programs: achievement, agricultural, automotive, beautification of home grounds, beef, canning, citizenship, clothing, crop protection-crop production scholarship, dairy, Danforth leadership training, dog care and training, dress revue, electric, Texas Electric, entomology, field crops, foods-nutrition (Favorite Foods), fire prevention, garden, grain marketing, health, home economics, leadership, poultry, poultry fact finding, recreation, safety, Santa Fe, swine, tractor, wildlife conservation. Four-H Club certificates and seals will be presented to clubs completing certain requirements. As one of the sixteen requirements for each club, 50 per cent of the club members must submit 4-H record books to be eligible for a certificate. To be eligible for a certificate with a red or blue seal 75 per cent of the members must submit records. For a purple seal 90 per cent of the club members must submit 4-H records. Attending the workshop at Bovina High School were Tina Runel, Mary Coffey, Martha Coffey, Sharon Martensen, Roger Martensen, Dwayne Bauer, Wayne Schueler, Danny Schueler, Darrel Schueler, Shirley Schueler, Dale Schueler, Kathryn Gober, Janis Billingsley, and Bruce Billingsley. Attending the workshop at Hub Community Center were Judy Koelzer, Jill Mimms, Terri Sue Mabry, Adrian King, Marsha Schumann, Karen King, Patrice Broyles, Pat and Serri Tannahill. Mothers and leaders attending were Mrs. Franklin Bauer, Mrs. Johnnie Rundell, Mrs. Leon Billingsley, Mrs. C. W. Tannahill, and Mrs. Ralph Broyles. Junior Assistant Extension Agent, Miss Celia Patton, also attended.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Wherever you live—in the country, suburbs, or urban area — you live in a watershed, an area where runoff water from rain and melted snow drains in a common outlet such as a stream, creek, river or lake. The watershed can be as small as a few acres or as gigantic as the Mississippi River Basin. On a well-protected watershed, the excess water finds its way slowly down grassed waterways taking very little of the valuable top soil with it. The chance of flooding on the bottomland is greatly reduced. Therefore the damage to private and public property is lessened. In fact, of the 13,000 small watersheds in the United States more than 8,000 need protecting.

The protection of our land from floodwater and erosion damage is so vitally important nationally that in 1954 Congress passed a bill, Public Law 566, which enables local groups to obtain technical and financial aid from the Federal government in planning and developing watersheds under 250,000 acres in size.

Through a watershed project, conservation measures are established on the land, flood prevention dams are built, and channel improvements made where needed. The dams are designed to catch and hold peak runoff water and discharge it at a reduced rate down the streams and creeks.

In many cases these dams are designed for multiple use. The permanent pool of water backed up by the structure can be an important source of water for industrial, domestic and irrigation use. Most of the multi-purpose reservoirs provide ideal recreational facilities for swimming, fishing, boating and wildlife habitats.

Where these multi-purpose watershed projects have been established, the results have been extremely gratifying. It has meant less risk in farm-

WITH THE COUNTY AGENT

DERYL COKER

The current situation indicates that we could have a potential problem with the sorghum midge in grain sorghum this year. Last year the sorghum midge caused a great deal of damage on grain sorghum. Losses ranged from 20 to 100 per cent in a number of the High Plains counties. 1961 was the first year that we on the Plains encountered this particular insect, although we were fortunate that Farmer County was not affected as much as counties to the east and south. We could be affected this year, so farmers should be on the look-out for this insect.

Midge have already been observed in Lubbock county. As the situation looks now we should not develop a serious problem for the next two to four weeks, and let's hope we have no problem with midge at all.

As a general rule the sorghum midge is a tropical pest and is most injurious in the humid parts of the state. The adult midge is an orange colored, fragile -- looking gnat or fly about 1/12 of an inch long. Adult females lay their eggs in the spikelet or seed husk of the plant.

Midge will attack grain sorghums, sweet sorghums, sudan grass and other wild or uncultivated grasses. The female adults mate and begin laying, a lower road and bridge maintenance cost, the addition of small industry and a general uplift in the economic conditions of the area.

Each female is capable of laying from 50 to 250 tiny white eggs during the 24 to 48 hours which it lives as an adult. A single larvae is capable of destroying the developing seed. The adult male lives only a few hours to one day, but an average number of 16 days are required for the midge to develop from egg to adult.

Midge damage closely resembles blasted or blighted sorghum heads resulting from disease and hard rain during the flowering stage. Control recommendations are extremely difficult to make due to the lack of information on the habits of this insect. But insecticides such as Sevin, Toxaphene, Endrin, and Parathion have been effective when applied at the correct time. Insecticide treatments must be made one to four days after 90 per cent of the heads have emerged from the boot. There is no indication that sorghum midge problem exists in this area at this time, but farmers should check their fields at regular intervals, while the crop is booting.

Many farmers are confusing the corn leaf aphid with sorghum midge, so no one should take control measures for sorghum midge until they know that the insect is present. The corn ear worm also known as the cotton boll worm or tomato fruit worm is fairly numerous in some fields of grain sorghum in the county. Serious grain sorghum losses can result where populations are large. This fact may be more important this year where yields have apparently already been reduced by weather conditions. The presence of these ear worms or boll worms in grain sorghum does not guarantee that we will have a serious boll worm problem in cotton but indications are that our boll-worm population will be larger than in the past three or four years. I strongly urge that fields be checked to determine whether the problem exists. A large infestation of these worms can definitely lower your yields.

HD Agent's Notes

BY MISS LITTLE MUSIL

This is Farm Safety Week, July 22-28. The theme for this week is "Family Safety at Work and Play." Never a day goes by that we do not hear of serious accidents happening on the farm and in the house. Many accidents occur within our homes that do not get publicity in the newspapers or on the radio.

I'm sure many of you have had cut fingers, scalds or burns, or ripped clothes because of carelessness. After it happened, I'm sure you could think back to say, "I knew better, I should have held the knife a little straighter" or "I should have been a little more careful and took my time."

Yes, we have to take time to practice safety. Safety is always in season, whether fall, spring, summer, or winter. We could even consider safety as good management. Remember the extra time it took you to apply first aid to a bruise or cut? These accidents usually occur when you are busy and every minute is precious to you.

We can learn to incorporate safety into everything we do. How many times have you read on the label of an aerosol cannot to puncture it or throw it into the incinerator. It may explode while you are still holding it or explode from the trash you are burning. We know this, but we ignore the directions.

For appliances we have many safety rules we ignore. For instance, never plug a portable dishwasher into an outlet that is not grounded. Water and electricity do not get along together. Never use a combustible cleaning ingredient or solution in an automatic dryer or combination washer-dryer. That is unless you don't object to blowing out the front of it.

We've mentioned the hazards of clothing before, but we'll mention them again. Shoes rate high as causes for accidents. Broken-down counters on shoes or too-high heels often cause falls or sprained ankles. Slippery finishes on the soles of new shoes are often hazardous, especially on children's shoes. You can rub the shoe sole with light sandpaper, or over some sand, to prevent slipping.

Unbuttoned long sleeves are dangerous for you men while checking irrigation wells or working on tractors and implements. Many an arm has been twisted off or badly injured from loose shirt tails or sleeves.

Are you taking time to practice safety? Do you have guards on tractor shafts or irrigation motor shafts? Loose clothing could very quickly pull you into the shafts. Maybe you homemakers could insist that these guards be replaced for safety's sake.

Have you heard your friends say, "We surely were lucky"? Practice safety, don't leave safety to your guardian angel. We often take needless chances with little practices such as standing on a wobbly chair or reaching to the top shelf. Steady chairs or stools are so much easier to stand on.

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

BY RAYMOND EULER

"The agnostic can't find God for the same reason a thief can't find a policeman."

PCA, back in 1951 and 1952 was becoming increasingly aware of bureaucratic pressures concerning the operation of the various activities. They responded by making a hard, but determined effort to become independent of the USDA as soon as they were able to repay government funds.

Farm Bureau gave full and successful support to this movement which resulted in the present independence of the agencies which are now under the management of their own farmer members. This might be an indication of what should happen to some other government-aided agencies which have since become able but not willing to launch out on their own.

This is National Farm Safety Week, and farmers and all others should be glad for the cooperation given by newspapers, radio, T.V. and other mediums of publicity. If the emphasis makes each of us just a little more conscious of our responsibility to our fellow man, ourselves and our families in our driving, work and play, it is well worth while.

There has been a lot of information regarding the frequency and types of accidents, but we would like to mention two or three of particular importance to rural areas such as ours: 1. One-third of tractor fatalities occur on the highways. 2. Three out of four traffic deaths occur on rural roads and highways. 3. Accidents happen close to home. Facts reveal that 65 per cent of all fatal accidents occur within 25 miles of home. 4. It is important to insure adequate and proper marking of slow-moving farm vehicles, including lights. 5. Encouragement should be given to regulations requiring that the operation of tractors and self propelled farm equipment on public highways be restricted to qualified vehicle operators.

As we said last week, office secretary Nell Davis is spending this week down at Corpus Christi at the annual Farm Bureau Institute. We are not sure at this time whether others from the county have been able to go or not.

Cards are being mailed soon, and we hope you will neglect filing for your five cents per gallon state and four cents per gallon federal tax refund on non-highway used fuels.

Plainview PCA Retains Top National Rankings

The Plainview Production Credit Association held its place in 1961 as the nation's largest, according to figures recently released by the Farm Credit Administration. Serving an eight-county area of the High Plains, the Plainview association ranked first in three categories among nearly 500 associations serving the United States and Puerto Rico.

The association led in total loan volume, net worth and amount of capital stock owned by association members. It also held high rankings in the nation in two other categories, loans outstanding on December 31, 1961 and in accumulated earnings.

The association's 1961 loan volume totaled $37,205,000, highest in its history. Total net worth and reserves was $4,292,183, and capital stock, all member owned, totalled $2,792,370.

The agricultural credit organization had $12,833,000 in loans outstanding on December 31, 1961, fourth highest in the nation and highest among 36 associations in Texas.

"We are gratified that our association earned this recognition among the nation's Production Credit Association," commented L. R. Durham of Plainview, association president. "The figures themselves are important only in the fact that they reflect our continuous effort to provide dependable and progressive agricultural credit to our stockholders."

The Plainview Production

Credit Association, owned and operated in its entirety by more than 1,700 farmers and ranchers, provides agricultural credit in Farmer, Castro, Swisher, Briscoe, Bailey, Lamb, Hale and Floyd counties. Offices are operated in Plainview, Friona, Dimmitt, Tullis, Silvertown, Muleshoe, Littlefield and Floydada.

Fred Conner of Plainview is acting general manager of the association. In addition to President Durham, other directors are Vice President Henry Hayes, D. S. Anderson of Muleshoe, Grady Shepard of Hale Center and Don Garrison of Silvertown.

The 36 Production Credit Associations, serving all 254 Texas counties, loaned nearly $400,000,000 in 1961. The nation's 500 PCAs had a loan volume of $2.9 billion, a record high for any single year.

The HAPPY HOMEMAKER

BY JUNE FLOYD

Oven dishes are simple to prepare and a homemaker is able to obtain a subtle blend of flavors impossible to obtain in any other method of preparing food. Since complete meals are prepared in one all-purpose cooking pan, this method eliminates some dishwashing, too. Basic instructions for preparing one dish meals in the oven or on top of the stove are as follows:

1. Brown meat over medium-high heat. Add fat if meat is very lean.
2. Cover pan after browning for two or three minutes. Then reduce heat to low and cook until nearly done.
3. Arrange vegetables around meat and complete the cooking over low heat.

IRISH STEW
3 lbs. lamb shoulder (cut in two inch cubes)
Stewing beef may be used if preferred
2 tablespoons fat
2 teaspoons salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/8 teaspoon rosemary
1/8 teaspoon marjoram
1 onion, sliced
1 stalk celery, cut up
2 cups water
6-8 small, whole onions
6-8 medium potatoes
6-8 small carrots
Place cooking pan over medium heat. Brown meat thoroughly in hot fat. Season then add sliced onion, celery and water. Cover. After 2-3 minutes, reduce heat to low and cook about 45 minutes.
Then add remaining vegetables and thicken juices to desired consistency. Add cooked vegetables, mix lightly and heat thoroughly. Serves six to eight persons.

BEEF POT ROAST
3 1/2 to 4 lb. beef roast (chuck, round or rump)
6 potatoes, peeled
6 carrots
8 small onions
salt and pepper
Brown roast on all sides over medium high heat. Season with salt and pepper. Cover cooking pan and reduce heat to low. Cook slowly until roast is nearly done (2 to 2 1/2 hours).
Arrange vegetables around roast. Baste with meat juices and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Recover pan and cook until vegetables are tender -- 30 to 40 minutes. Serves 8 to 10.

CORN AND HAM CASSEROLE
1 1/2 cup chopped ham
1 cup whole kernel corn
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
1 cup milk
1 tablespoon green pepper
1/4 teaspoon paprika
1 tablespoon onion
1/3 cup cheese, grated
1/4 cup cracker crumbs
2 tablespoons butter
Cook ham. Make a white sauce of the butter, flour, milk and paprika. Add corn, chopped pepper, paprika and onion. Pour into a greased casserole. Cover with a mixture of cheese, cracker crumbs and butter. Bake at 300-325 degrees for 30 minutes.

SKILLET HAM SALAD
1/4 cup chopped green onion
1/4 cup chopped green pepper
2 cups cooked diced ham
1 tablespoon fat
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/4 cup water
1/2 pound sharp cheese, diced
3 to 4 potatoes
Cook and dice potatoes. Cook onion, pepper and meat in hot fat. Stir occasionally until meat is slightly browned. Add potatoes, salt pepper and water. Heat mixture slightly and stir in cheese. Heat just until cheese begins to melt.

PORK CHOPS BAKED IN TOMATO SOUP

Another hazard of outings that is very prevalent during summer months is water. It is always a good idea to be well acquainted with any body of water before you go swimming or wading in it.
Before any group enters any water an expert swimmer should explore the bottom for sharp dropoffs. If there is any, non-swimmers should be sure to stay in the shallow water area. Diving should always be limited to supervised swimming areas or bodies of water with which the diver is well acquainted.

With the new ice chests now on the market any picnic can be a cold lunch picnic and there's no end to the delicious dishes that can be prepared ahead of time and then served on the spot cold.
Or, if you want to serve sandwiches, you can make a variety of spreads which have been prepared and make sandwiches just before serving time.
