SANDERSON, TEXAS, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 22, 1963

LISTEN TO LUKE

We could not help but be elated over the failure of the poll tax repeal amendment in Texas. We feel that its defeat was in part the result of some of those who were working so hard to get the repeal through. And this is another reason for our opposition to the measure. It was widely circulated also that the wording of the bill aided its defeat. If this is true, then that, too, is a good thing, in our opinion. If a person doesn't understand how to vote for or against a proposition or an individual, then he has no business voting, in our opinion.

It's the same as an umpire calling a ball or strike, or an off-side penalty, it's an opinion. Like the two sides that have been taken in the Foreman-Gonzalez bout, it's an opinion who is right and who is wrong — and most of the opinions are based on how it is seen.

It was impossible for us to see how the voters of Terrell County could possibly object to the pension plan proposed by Jefferson County, but that measure was also voted down state-wide.

There is also the possibility of voters just being against things — in an effort to appraise the voting habits of the masses — a foolish pastime to begin with.

The end of the year is drawing nearer daily — and that's a real good observation! Thanksgiving is just around the corner, deer season follows soon after, then the first thing we know it will be Christmas time, and then we'll soon be singing or hearing sung "Auld Lang Syne. We shudder at the rate with which tempus fugit.

Thanksgiving Day and the day after will bring witness to the annual trek of the thousands of hunters who are taking to the Trans-Pecos area in search of the black tail deer. Letters have been received almost daily from hunters over the state wanting information on the availability of a place to hunt.

This country is becoming more and more popular as a hunting area, and more and more ranchmen each year are looking at the possibility of a quick buck from the buck hunters. It is a growing business and it helps to pay taxes or lift a mortgage or something of the kind. Local businesses, too, are looking at the possibility of expanding their services to attract that element.

If Sanderson can get a large percentage of those cars to stop her for gas and other such products, if a large percentage of them will eat a meal in Sanderson, it's a good honest reputable way to boost local business.

It's a thing that should be of interest to all business men.

Citizens Reminded To Pay Poll Taxes

Terrell County voters were reminded this week by Mrs. Tol Murrah, deputy tax collector, to pay their poll taxes, since the proposed amendment to abolish the poll tax as a voting requirement was defeated.

Poll taxes can be paid only through Sheriff's Cooksey's office, it was pointed out, and citizens are urged to pay their poll tax as soon as possible before the January 31, 1964, deadline, in order to prevent a work load on the office deputy.

Previously eligible citizens were advised to not pay their poll taxes in order to possibly avoid the unnecessary expenditure of the cost — $1.75 — pending the outcome of the constitutional amendment balloting.

A voter must have lived within in the county for six months prior to an election to be eligible to vote in the election, and for a year within the state. If a voter has not lived within Terrell County for the past six months before paying his poll tax, but lived in another part of the state, this information will be so stated on the poll tax receipt.

The sign will be erected several feet above the ground to insure greatest attractiveness and will have a solid ship-lap backing for the tempered masonite sign.

Employers Told Of SS Reporting

H. P. Thomas, district manager of the Social Security Administration in Odessa, said today that all employers who have employees working at jobs covered by social security are required to report their earnings accurately and promptly. He said many employers think it is not important to report earnings when a worker only earns "a little bit". But a "little bit" may be the factor that determines whether the worker's family gets social security benefits when the worker retires, dies, or gets disabled.

Thomas said there are three employer classifications: (1) Employers who operate a trade or business; (2) housewives who have domestic workers in and around their homes; and (3) farm operators who hire farm hands.

"All these employers should ask the worker to show his social security card when he is hired," Thomas said. "You, as the employer, should put in your permanent records the name and social security number exactly as they are shown on the card. You will need these two items when you report the worker's earnings to Internal Revenue Service."

An employer who operates a trade or business should keep a record of all wages paid within a calendar quarter, Thomas added. During the month following the end of the quarter, the employer prepares a report of wages paid to each worker on Form 941, available at the Internal Revenue Office.

There is a different set of rules for each class of employer, and Thomas urged all employers to be sure of the proper method of reporting for their category.

Any questions may be directed to the IRS office at 1428 East 8th Street in Odessa.

Poll Tax Peddlers Are Curbed Under New State Law

Door-to-door poll tax "salesmen" go out, along with the old agency forms issued to any and all who wanted them, according to information received this week following defeat of the repeal of the poll tax amendment state-wide.

All eligible voters within the age limits requiring a poll tax receipt must pay poll taxes at the proper office and in person to an authorized deputy tax collector, or by mail through an application form with check enclosed.

According to the interpretation received, the deputy tax collector must be stationed in one place and it must be public, when he collects the tax.

The appointment of a deputy tax collector is up to the discretion of the tax collector and assessor, but compensation paid that deputies must be authorized by the Commissioner's Court, according to this interpretation. Individuals or clubs may issue application forms after they have been deputized by the tax collector-assessor, but it is said that it is against the law to deliver it to the tax office or mail it to the tax office for another person.

The revised code authorizes husband, wife, son, daughter, or sister to purchase poll taxes for each other without written consent. However, it is unlawful for any other person to do so, according to the information received.

Ozona Trims Eagles 30-14 In Season's Final Game

The Ozona Lions trimmed the Sanderson Eagles by a 30-14 score in the final game of the current grid season last Friday night in Ozona. The game also was a race to see which would stay out of the cellar in district standing.

The Eagles led the Lions by a 14-8 score at half-time with a scoreless third period. The Lions got two breaks in the fourth frame on top of an earned TD and garnered 22 points in that period for the final tally.

Sanderson's scoring was all in the second period and came on a 63-yard run by John Ed Robbins and a pass from John Cates to Tommy Weigand which went a total of 75-yards for the score. Cates passed to Robbins for the two extra points.

Ozona's first score was from Sanderson's 1-yard line. A running play accounted for the two extra points.

In the fourth frame, a miscue on a punting situation by Sanderson permitted an Ozona recovery of the ball on the Sanderson 4-yard line which resulted in a TD for the Lions. On the ensuing kickoff the ball went into the end zone and was covered by a Lion there for a TD since a kick-off is a free ball. The two points extra were added after each of these two Ozona scores.

A 3-yard run netted the final six-pointer for the host team.

The statistics reported for the game were only slightly in favor of the Lions, and fans stated that the game was one of the closest played by the Eagles all year against opponents.

Boys who saw action with the Sanderson Eagles for the last time last Friday night included: Abelardo Casillas, Haley Haynes, Charles Riggs, John Ed Robbins, Charles Fletcher, also Buddy Moore and John Southerland as managers.

'Sweetheart' from Day of Birth Is National March of Dimes Girl

"She was a sweetheart from the day she was born." This is the way her mother describes winsome, bright little Mary Lou Graves, 5, of Flint, Mich., who has been named the 1964 National March of Dimes Child.

Blonde, blue-eyed, vivacious Mary Lou is indeed a sweetheart, but one who has had more than her share of sadness. She was born with a birth defect called spina bifida, which means that the base of her spine was not closed properly. At the age of one month, she underwent an operation to correct this condition. Since then, Mary Lou has fought to be able to walk, and sometimes, she has had to fight to live.

Today, the lower part of her body is paralyzed, and she is extremely vulnerable to infections. In spite of this, Mary Lou is a cheerful little girl determined not to miss any of the pleasures of growing up. Proud of the fact that she lives in a state known as the auto capital of the world, Mary Lou tells visitors that her wheelchair is a "Kadiac." She has a frisky puppy named Prince, and she scurries after him as fast as Kadiac's wheels can take her. She tags along after her mother, helping to sweep the floor, dust the furniture and dry the silverware.

One of her favorite jobs is baby sitting for her two younger sisters and brother who were all born without defects.

March of Dimes Symbol The National Foundation-March of Dimes has chosen Mary Lou to symbolize the 250,000 children born with a serious birth defect each year in this country.

Basil O'Connor, president of The National Foundation, explains the problem of birth defects, and the voluntary health organization's attack on it, in this way:

"Why did something go wrong when Mary Lou's tiny body was being formed? Why is a seriously defective child born to one out of 10 American families?"

"Can more of these children be helped with present medical knowledge?"

Favorite hairdresser of Mary Lou Graves, 1964 National March of Dimes Child, is her mother, Mrs. Raymond Graves of Flint, Mich.

"What more must we know to prevent this from happening to babies yet unborn? Simply stated, these are the questions for which hundreds of March of Dimes-supported scientists seek answers."

Because the answers which come from scientific research will come too late to help children already afflicted like Mary Lou, the March of Dimes is fighting the problem of birth defects in still another way—through a growing nationwide network of March of Dimes hospital centers seeking the most effective treatment for these children. Currently, there are 44 of these centers across the country.

Grateful for Help Mary Lou may be unaware of all the national and international efforts to help solve the birth defects mystery, but her parents are not. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Graves are grateful to the Genesee County (Mich.) Chapter of The National Foundation for financial aid to help with Mary Lou's frequent hospitalizations. "The March of Dimes is the greatest friend we ever had," Mrs. Graves says. "The March of Dimes helped us pay for hospital bills, medications, the wheelchair and other necessary items."

Mary Lou wants to be a nurse when she grows up, Mrs. Graves reports. "Wouldn't it be wonderful if she could be?" the March of Dimes Child's mother says. "Then maybe she could pay back some of the kindness shown to her. Until then, my husband and I can only say thank you to everyone who contributes to the March of Dimes, because more knowledge might mean more medical techniques that may help our Mary Lou."

As March of Dimes President O'Connor points out, the ultimate aim of knowledge gathered from this scientific research is to prevent birth defects from harming thousands of tiny bodies not yet born.

Hot Jam Sandwiches

A Treat With Raisinbread

Apricot jam and a whiff of cinnamon between slices of taste surprising raisinbread makes these hot jam sandwiches. Their scrumptious coating of butter and flaked coconut browns fragrantly in a skillet or sandwich grill. This coffee cake treat goes together almost instantly.

Serve these hot raisinbread sandwiches with bacon and eggs for a hearty breakfast. When it's coffee time for the girls, cut them in dainty fingers after they're browned.

HOT JAM SANDWICHES

1/4 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup flaked coconut
1/2 cup apricot jam

1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
8 slices raisinbread

Cream butter until soft and fluffy; mix with coconut. Blend apricot jam with cinnamon. Make 4 sandwiches from raisinbread and jam. Spread both sides of each sandwich with coconut butter mixture. Brown in hot skillet on both sides. Sandwiches may also be toasted in sandwich grill. Serve immediately. Makes 4 servings.

Oil Production Up
Texas Railroad Commission has increased allowable oil production for December to 28 per cent of potential. This will permit Texas oilmen to produce more oil during 1963 than any year since 1959.

Commission's new order set December daily allowable production at 2,856,214 barrels. November's was 2,808,183 under a 27.5 per cent order.

Total 1963 production is estimated at 918 barrels. That's the highest annual figure since the 944,400,000 barrels in 1959. Partial credit for the increase was given to success of the percentage factor adopted in place of the shut-in day method of Commission calculation on production last January.

Agencies Picked
Board of Advisors of the Texas Tourist Development Agency has selected the advertising firms which will compete for the state's first $200,000 travel promotion account.

At a board meeting to be held here January 16-17 each agency will submit a detailed presentation showing how it proposed to "Night baseball has cut way down on the number of grandmothers' funerals office boys have to attend."

NOTICE
Effective Nov. 22, Mrs. Geraldine Hutchins will assume management of the Vanity Beauty Shop. Your business is appreciated. 40-31c

Each girl will treasure the memory of the very enjoyable day.

advertise Texas' tourist attractions. State contract will go to the agency whose presentation is judged best by the Board.

New Legislators
Recent special elections sent three new members to the State House of Representatives.

Dallas picked two more Republicans, Jack Sampson and Hugh Brown, leaving Ben Atwell as the only Democratic House member from Big D.

Travis County voters selected a young Democrat, Bob Armstrong. He came out first in a big field, by a narrow margin, over Republican Pete Hord. No runoff is necessary in the legislative contests.

Drought Puts Dairymen In Danger

Agriculture Commissioner J. C. White said denied by railroads of an urgent request for freight-rate reductions on hay to be shipped into drought disaster areas "squeezed out the last hope of dairymen to stay in business during the present emergency".

White said hay costs have increased from 75 to 100 per cent over normal and probably would go higher due to high freight charges on bringing in hay from other parts of the country.

State's General Revenue Fund was $18,500,000 in the red at the end of October. Receipts totaled $5,000,000 less than revenue.

State governmental expenses totaled $128,800,000 last month. Income from various taxes and collections came to only $123,900,000. Cigarette, beer and wine taxes provided $9,700,000. A total of $10,000,000 came from the sales tax. Other big income producers included: crude oil production tax, $10,200,000; motor fuel taxes, $16,800,000; federal highway grants, $15,000,000; and federal public welfare grants, $14,300,000.

Keep Poll Tax
A lopsided majority of Texas counties voted in favor of retaining the poll tax as a qualification for voting. In all, only 25 - mainly in South and Central Texas - wanted to repeal it.

Rural areas voted strongly against repeal. Metropolitan areas voted to repeal the tax - but few took the time to vote. Other explanations as to how come vary widely.

Not enough hard work by the proponents, suggested Mrs. Maurice Brown of Waco, head of the League of Women Voters - a light vote, apathy and disinterest, said Sen. Ralph Yarborough - the race issue was the downfall of the amendment, figured Clarence Laws, NAACP regional director - Republicans are "solidifying their vote in Texas," said Horace Houston, GOP candidate for lieutenant governor - Failure of the poll tax amendment cannot be credited to partisan efforts, concluded Rep. Geo. Hinson.

Of the four amendments submitted, only one passed. It raised to $60,000,000 the state fund ceiling on aid to the needy and liberalized administration of the programs.

Texas Traffic
Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the State Department of Public Safety, told Governor Connally, "It is almost certain that the death toll in traffic in Texas for 1963 will be the greatest on record."

"From July 5 to November 8, there was an average increase of motorcides of 8 per cent over the same period in 1962. On this basis, a projection to the end of this year indicates a death toll of 2,615, which would exceed the 1956 record of 2,611."

In reply, Connally issued his ideas on priority traffic safety needs:

- (1) Improve competence and responsibility of drivers by revision of present obsolete driver license law.
(2) Improve police supervision of traffic on rural highways by increasing the salary and benefits of DPS patrolmen and increasing the number of patrolmen by 200 each two years to an eventual strength of 1,800.
(3) Include approved high school driver education courses in the Foundation School Program.
(4) Improve administration of justice and public respect for traffic laws through the creation of modern Traffic Courts of Record, as recommended by the American Bar Association.

Dredging Issue
Republican National Committeeman Albert B. Fay charges that the three-member Parks and Wildlife Commission is made up of Central and South Texans, thus leaving "most of the state with no regional representation." He sharply criticized Governor Connally for the Commission's decision permitting dredging of shell within 300 feet of live oyster reefs in Galveston and Trinity Bays.

A coastal group, "Save Our Shell", formed to fight the decision through court action, demanded resignation of the Commission. Connally said he had faith in the members or he would not have named them in the first place. Dredging dispute is shaping into a major issue, with strong statewide political implications.

Water Rights Expansion
State water rights of the Neches Valley Authority would be clarified and expanded under an application filed with the Texas Water Commission a permit to use the entire of San Rayburn Dam and "B" Reservoirs.

Irrigated area below Reservoir would be expanded by 35,000 year. Bed and banks of the Neches and Pine Island Bayou would be used to transport water to LNVA canal system. Original authorization was to irrigate 60,000 acres annually, from within an area of 445 acres. If the new permit is granted, this would be expanded to 115,000 acres annually, to be selected from a 985 acre area.
