

PROPOSED ROAD PROGRAM

Shown above is the Proposed Road System that the voters of Upton County will go to the polls to vote on Saturday, November 24. Proposal No. One will extend about a mile and a half on the farm road leading into the Pecos county Farm Road south of McCamey and will carry the road to the Upton County line. Proposal No. Two, will establish a road to run off Highway 67 about four miles east of McCamey. This road will run north around the East of Kings Mountain on to the Wilshire Oil Field and north to a point on the north boundary between the Sweetie Peck and Pegasus Oil Fields. Proposal No. Three, will establish a road off the Midland-Rankin Highway and will run east to intersect a road to be established in Proposal No. Four. Proposal No. 4, calls for building a road running north from a point near the Plymouth Oil Company in the Benedum Oil Field on to the Pembroke and Spraberry trend in North and Northeast Upton County. Proposal No. Five, calls for the extension of paving of present road to the Shell Pump Station on Northeast to the road to be established in Proposal No. Four. The amount of the entire road will call for the issuance of $1,050,000 involved.

More Beef From Same Pasture

CLIFTON STATION. — Clifton Wheeler, Jr., a McMullen County ranchman, has demonstrated that it pays to balance livestock numbers with range forage production. In 1949, with assistance from the county agent, L. E. Franks, Jr., Mr. Wheeler established a demonstration on his ranch to show the value of proper stocking rates along with other range management practices. A 1,250-acre pasture was used. This pasture previously had been used to graze 100 head of grown cows. In 1949, these cows produced a 60 per cent calf crop and at weaning time the 60 calves weighed an average of 300 pounds each. The range vegetation was eaten to the ground and the mother cows were in poor condition. In 1950, the number of cows on the pasture was reduced to 65 head. This increased the number of acres available for each cow from 12.5 to 19. The calf crop jumped from 60 to 85 per cent or 82 calves from the 65 cows. These calves averaged 425 pounds each at selling time and the gain in pounds of beef was more than 8,000. In 1951, despite the serious drought, balanced livestock numbers and the available range forage again paid off. The number of cows on the pasture was increased to 74 head in order to lighten the load on other pastures but the calf crop still went to 88 per cent and the calves averaged 340 pounds each in June. This demonstration pasture, despite the drought, was rated fair. Overstocking, says Wheeler, costs the ranchman in four ways: smaller calf crops, ruins the turf, the breeding cattle do not stay in good condition, and the calves do not bring the top market prices. A. H. Walker, Extension Range specialist of Texas A&M College, points out another big advantage for balancing the livestock numbers with the available range forage and that is water penetration and absorption. He cites as an example another demonstration. Moisture penetration tests were made on two adjoining ranches following a two and one-half inch rain. On one of the ranches, the range improvement practices including proper stocking and deferred grazing, had been used and a good cover of grass and litter covered the ground. Moisture on this ranch penetrated to a depth of 15 inches. Just across the fence on the other ranch, Walker says the ground was practically bare of vegetation due to excess grazing. Moisture penetration here amounted to only four inches. Most of the badly-needed moisture was lost as run-off. Walker adds that it is not good business to stock heavily during periods of above average rainfall following a drought. This heavy stocking prevents recovery of density and vigor of the range plants. He says many ranchers practice running only about three-fourths the number of breeding animals they think their range will carry. In the good years they carry over their calves or lambs through the winter, and in bad years, such as this, they sell in the fall. By balancing livestock numbers with the available range forage supplies, Walker says ranchmen can go a long way toward removing one of the biggest range problems: namely, keeping a good cover of grass and litter on the ground at all times. This would result in more feed for the livestock, less damage from erosion, less winter feeding, better conditioned livestock, larger calf crops, more meat production and deeper moisture penetration which means more water stored in the soil where it is needed. It all adds up to more income for the operator over the long haul, says Walker.

Survey Shows Upton Has 126 Rigs Running

By THOMAS H. SMITH
(Courtesy Odessa American Oil Editor)

Rotary drilling operations in the West Texas Empire have never been at a higher rate. More than one out of every three rotary rigs operating in the United States and Canada is in the West Texas and New Mexico region. The most recent survey by counties in this area shows Upton in a strong lead with 126 rigs running as of Oct. 15. This marks the first time a Permian Basin county has been over the 100 mark, at least in the last year or two. The survey, taken by Reed Roller Bit Co., shows a total of 708 rigs running in this area with the count covering a smaller area than the Hughes Tool Co. survey. The weekly Hughes survey showed 1,041 rigs running in West Texas and New Mexico as a whole as of Oct. 22nd. Although the Spraberry trend development is responsible to a large extent for the record levels of the operations, Upton and other counties also have healthy developments in both shallower and deeper pays. The Upton County total is even more surprising when you realize that as recently as July 1, this county had only 63 rotary operations. The total for Upton Oct. 1 was 99 for a 15-day increase of 27 units. Lea County in southeast New Mexico, a relatively new-comer on the Reed survey, retained second place in the tabulation with a rise of five units to 90. Midland kept its third place with a rise from 68 to 76 while Ector displaced Glasscock as the fourth biggest drilling concentration. Ector fell from 52 to 50 while Glasscock was declining sharply from 61 to 48 rigs. One of the largest increases among less active counties was Reagan which jumped eight rigs from 19 to 27. Reagan, which shares the majority of the Spraberry development with Upton, Glasscock and Midland, had only 11 rigs in operation July 1. The Reed survey showed 708 rigs Oct. 15 compared to 678 15 days earlier and only 574 a year later. Here is a breakdown of survey figures as compiled and released by Reed:

County	Oct. 1	Oct. 15

Area Scout Director To Visit In Rankin

Mrs. Starley, Girl Scout Area Director, will be in Rankin Nov. 1, 15 and 16, to conduct a training school. These will be all-day sessions for all Scout and Brownie leaders and any persons interested in helping with the Girl Scout movement in Rankin. Training will feature the handicrafts and will be offered without charge. There will also be training along other lines connected with the work. A covered-dish pot-luck luncheon will be served at noon each day to those attending the school. During the month of November, Mrs. Starley, who is an area Girl Scout executive, from Pecos, will be in Rankin to teach a course in handicraft to all leaders and others who are interested in Girl Scout work. The council is particularly interested in making contacts with parties who can teach any kind of handicraft and would be willing to devote a little of their time in helping train Rankin's Girl Scouts. At this time Mrs. Dunn Lowery is teaching a number of girls how to knit in a weekly class at her home and the organization more than appreciates the services of anyone who can and will teach the girls the crafts. If you are interested, please contact Mrs. Carl Keys of the council. Regular meetings of the Girl Scout Council are held each third Tuesday in the Park Building.

Rankin P-TA Have Successful Carnival

The Rankin Parent-Teacher Association's popular annual Halloween Carnival netted approximately $1000 Wednesday night. Those who were in charge of the event thank everyone who helped in any way, with their contributions, their work and their patronage, to make the carnival this year another success. Miss Myrna Holman and Mrs. J. W. Garner, both of whom had been in San Angelo hospitals, recently returned to their homes in Rankin.

RANKIN OBSERVES GIRL SCOUT WEEK

This is "Girl Scout Week" and the posters seen in local stores were made by the Scouts at their meeting last week in the Park Building. Mrs. D. O. McEwen and Mrs. Dorothy Ingram are the leaders of Troop 1 which made posters at their meeting last Thursday. At the meeting of this troop were Pat Dishman, Kay McEwen, Jan Daugherty, Genevieve Poage, Rovena Langford, Mary McCain. Next week is set for the raising of funds for the continuation of Girl Scout work in Rankin. This will be the only week of the year in which a drive will be made for funds for this project; a worthy one. The girls will help raise the needed money with a rummage sale and other activities and the patronage of all our citizens will be appreciated.

RHORICKS HAVE GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. Don Rhorick have as their guests, Mr. Rhorick's niece and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baker of Toledo, Ohio. Mr. Baker is manager of the Toledo Yacht Club and while on vacation, they are visiting in Texas enroute to Florida.

VISITS GRANDPARENTS

Little Nancy Rudene Jackson has been visiting in the home of her grandparents the past week while her parents, Mr. and Rudolph Jackson, of Odessa, were on a trip to El Paso.

Rankin chalked up their sixth victory of the year last Friday night against Forsan by a score of 46-0, against no defeats. Scoring started early with Yocham carrying the ball. The score at the half was 24-0. Rankin's second and third stringers played most of the second half. Statistics was Rankin 237 yards rushing as compared to 90 yards rushing for Forsan. Rankin attempted four passes and completed two for 45 yards. Forsan attempted ten and completed nine. In first downs Rankin led 11-5. Outstanding for Rankin was Norman Yocham who scored four of Rankin's touchdowns, and Jimmy Yocham and Joe Ellis. Three three boys did most of the heavy carrying of the ball.

On defense the outstanding players were Joe Garner Loftin, George Broyles and Lloyd Yocham. This weekend Rankin will be host to Water Valley in another conference ball game. If Rankin can win this game she has cinched at least a tie for district champs. A hard-fought ball game is expected. The outstanding boys of the week for the Red Devils were Jimmy Yocham and Joe Ellis. Jimmy was selected because of his outstanding run of 75 yards for a touchdown along with doing a nice job of quarterbacking the Rankin team. Joe Ellis did an outstanding job of blocking and hard running to gain his honor.

NO WITCH HUNTS

The American Communists and their fellow travelers have trained their big guns on the Federal Bureau of Investigation. This is perfectly natural — it was FBI evidence, painstakingly gathered and sifted over the years, that led to the conviction of the eleven top Communist leaders. FBI evidence was also a dominant factor in the Hiss, Coplan and other such cases.

The Communist strategy is to try to sell the idea that the FBI is the sworn enemy of civil rights and liberties, and that it is little different from Hitler's dreaded Gestapo. The primary danger in this is that some sincere but uninformed and misguided people outside of the Communist ranks have fallen for the red line, and are honestly concerned lest the FBI turn America into a police state.

The fact is that the FBI has leaned over backward to protect the innocent and to scrupulously avoid anything that might even remotely resemble a witch hunt. In the FBI's report on its activities during the last fiscal year, this paragraph appears: "The FBI is concerned only with acts, not thoughts; with deeds, not beliefs. So far as the FBI is concerned, a man may think what he likes so long as his thoughts are not translated into action by engaging in either criminal or subversive activity." That is basic FBI policy, and it is rigidly adhered to.

Of necessity, more and more of the FBI's resources and manpower are being utilized for work relating to the activities of the Communist Party, USA. Today the FBI is as vital to our security as an army, navy or air force.

"A QUIET REVOLUTION"

Did you ever hear of petrochemistry? Very likely you haven't—the word doesn't even appear in most dictionaries. But in years to come, petrochemistry's influence on our way of living—and possibly on our nation's very survival—promises to become immense.

Petrochemistry means the making of chemicals from oil and natural gas. The Lamp, a publication of Standard Oil of New Jersey, recently carried an article called "Quiet Revolution," describing its incredible potentialities. As an example, more than 500,000 compounds could now be synthesized from petroleum if there were uses for all of them. Petrochemistry made it possible to start from absolute scratch and build a billion-dollar synthetic rubber industry in two short years during the last world war. Petrochemistry supplied about 40 per cent of the nation's organic chemicals in 1948, and today is supplying well over half. Petrochemicals manufactured in 1950 reached the astounding total of some 14,000,000,000 pounds, more than twice the 1949 production. Yet this huge production required less than 0.5 per cent by weight of the nation's oil and natural gas output. Many of our oil companies are now engaged in petrochemistry, and some of them have opened vast new plants, distinct from their refineries, for the manufacture of petrochemicals alone.

This is the sort of thing that staggers the imagination. Chemistry, in its many branches, is transforming the economy of this nation, and petrochemistry will be one of the most important influences of all. Today oil drives machinery, heats homes, washes clothes and does a multitude of other things. No one can safely forecast what it will do ten years or fifty years from now.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

Elmer, N. J., Times: "It is agreeable to observe at this late date—34 years after the tragic establishment of Communism in Russia—that the United States Government is fully and amply clothed with constitutional powers to protect itself at all times . . . against the threat of imported anarchy and revolution. The power of the government to defend itself—and the people—against violence and terrorism in no way conflicts with the protections of free speech and free press guaranteed to law-abiding citizens under the Bill of Rights."

Taylorville, Ill., Breeze-Courier: "Some sage whose identity is lost in the mists of time spoke truly at a bygone congressional hearing. 'The typical American,' he said, 'wants to put a setting of eggs under the old hen in the evening and have broilers for breakfast.'"

Silver City, N. M., Enterprise: "Having removed ourselves from participation in government, we look upon it as a wealthy old uncle whom it would seem we wish to die that we may inherit mythical benefits . . . We storm the ramparts of our economy to demand that which will impoverish us. Americanism is a beautiful and workable thought but it takes people to make it work and to make it beautiful. The same people can destroy it through selfishness."

V. F. W. Drive On For Warm Springs Fund

The Veterans of Foreign Wars are staging its Second Annual Campaign for the Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation Fund. The campaign opens Oct. 5, and will close on Nov. 11. Containers have been placed in downtown stores of McCamey.

Herschel Curry, VFW Post Commander of McCamey, urges McCamey citizens to be liberal in their donations for this very worthy cause.

The need is great and every year tragedy strikes in thousands of Texas homes, and sturdy little bodies, once busy at school or play, are broken and crippled. Polio is often the cause, but other neuromuscular diseases leave wadded limbs and heartbreaks in their wake, and accidents also take their toll among our future citizens. In 1937 the Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation for Crippled Children was established as a treatment center for these handicapped children of Texas. It is a non-profit, charitable hospital chartered by the state, but depending upon generous Texans for support.

Facilities now exist at the Gonzales Foundation to care for more than 100 children with physical therapy, in and out of treatment pool; muscle re-education and re-building; occupational and recreational therapy.

And the children go to school and to church. They have social and recreational activities. They are happy, determined and courageous.

In the hospital of physical medicine and rehabilitation, each day is planned to bring the utmost return to the patients for the tremendous and inspiring efforts they are making to fight their way back to independence. The atmosphere is cheerful and friendly because the brave, unconquerable spirit of the patients dominates every activity.

And we can help. Texans have been most generous in their support of this state-wide treatment center, but additional facilities are vitally needed. A building program to care for more handicapped children has been begun. Funds must be provided to insure continued operation of the hospital on a scale expanded to meet present and future needs. Your support and the support of every VFW member is an investment in hundreds of tiny lives. "We honor the dead by helping the living"

Rankin Youth Council Plans Fall Program

At the Adult Council for Youth meeting held recently at the Park Building, Mrs. Ross Wheeler's resignation as secretary-treasurer was accepted and Mrs. F. H. Goodwin was elected to fill the vacancy.

The group voted $15 for the purpose of buying a variety of phonograph records for the youth parties. Miss Neva Rae Taylor, Mrs. Gordon Steele and Miss Nola Grace Boyd were appointed as a committee to select the records.

A handicraft department for the Youth Council is being worked out. The first class, that of the High School Knitting Club, has been started under the direction of Mrs. Dunn Lowery, at her home at four o'clock on Monday afternoons. The girls are showing great interest.

A Community Forum Committee was appointed to work with the young people. They are Leola Hurn, Mrs. G. C. Fitzgerald and W. H. Martin.

A program of parties for the fall was planned. The Council will cooperate with the teachers and the Home Room Mothers' group in working out and sponsoring these parties.

Last Friday night, Mr. Ledger's eighth grade section were hosts at the party after the football game. Mrs. Preston Patton, Mrs. George Patton and Mrs. Ledger served doughnuts and soda pop. Miss Neva Rae Taylor played for the sing-song and Mr. Joe Scrivner directed folk dances. A large group of Rankin students attended. Several members of the Forsan team were special guests.

The freshman class will be hostess tonight (Nov. 2) with Mrs. D. S. Anderson, Mrs. McDaniels and Mr. Scrivner as chaperones.

The Youth Council will have a reorganization meeting next Tuesday night at the Park Building at 7:30 o'clock. Each Junior High and High School class is entitled to send its president and an elected representative.

90% For! 10% Against

Railroad workers are represented by 23 standard unions. By mutual agreement, 20 of these unions—comprising about 1,200,000 men, or more than 90%—are working under wages and rules agreed to by them and the railroads. But leaders of three unions—with only about 130,000 men, or less than 10%—still refuse, after more than a year of negotiations, to accept similar wage and rules agreements. These are even more favorable than the terms recommended by the Emergency Board appointed by the President.

Time to settle...

Yes, it certainly seems to be finally about time that the leaders of the three unions stop their delaying tactics—their quibbling. But the leaders of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, and the Order of Railway Conductors continue to refuse. They continue a course of dillying and dallying. It is definitely time to END THIS QUIBBLING!

On June 15, 1950, an Emergency Board appointed by the President under the terms of the Railway Labor Act—an Act largely fathered by the unions themselves—made its recommendations on certain wage and working conditions ("rules" in railroad language) which had been in dispute between employees and the railroads.

More Than 90% of Employees Accept
Since then, terms equal to or better than the Board recommendations have been accepted by about 1,200,000 railroad employees—more than 90% of the total of all workers. They are represented by 20 of the 23 standard railroad unions.

Less Than 10% Refuse
But three unions—with about 130,000 men, or less than 10% of the total—have refused to accept, even after months of negotiations. These three unions are the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, and the Order of Railway Conductors. These are three of the so-called "operating" unions. Already the highest paid men in the industry, their leaders demand still further advantages over other workers.

In all, there are about 270,000 operating employees. But not all of them, by any means, are represented by BLE, BLF&E, or ORC. As a matter of fact, less than half—132,000 to be exact—are in these three unions. More than half—about 140,000—are in other unions, principally the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. What makes the whole situation so hard to understand is that these 140,000 operating employees are working under wages and rules which the leaders of the other 130,000 say they cannot agree to.

What Do the Railroads Offer?
They offer these three unions the same settlement which was contained in a Memorandum of Agreement signed at the White House on December 21, 1950, by four brotherhoods and the railroads. Later these brotherhoods sought to repudiate this agreement. But on May 25, 1951, the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen signed a complete agreement carrying out the principles of the Memorandum Agreement of December 21. They have been working under this agreement since May 25.

What About Wages?
Under the terms of the agreement, yard engineers, firemen and conductors would now be receiving a wage increase of $.34 an hour ($2.72 a day) and road engineers, firemen and conductors would now be receiving an increase of 19½ cents an hour ($1.56 per day). Large sums of retroactive pay have already accrued and if the agreement is carried out, will be paid promptly.

What About "Cost of Living" Increases?
The White House Agreement includes an "escalator" clause under which wages will be geared to changes in the Government's cost-of-living index. Two such increases—April and July, 1951—have already been paid to the 90% of railroad employees covered by signed agreements.

What About the 40-Hour Week?
The White House Agreement calls for the establishment of the 40-hour week in principle, for employees in yard service. The employees can have it any time after January 1, 1952, provided the manpower situation is such that the railroads can get enough men to perform the work with reasonable regularity at straight time rates. If the parties do not agree on the question of availability of manpower, the White House Agreement provides arbitration by a referee appointed by the President.

What Else Do the Union Leaders Demand?
The continued quibbling of the leaders of the three unions has to do principally with rules changes, which have already been agreed to by the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. Of these, the principal one seems to be that having to do with so-called "interdivisional service"—runs which take in two or more seniority districts.

The union leaders would bar progress and efficiency in the industry, and better service to the public, by maintaining a situation where they can arbitrarily stop a railroad from establishing such interdivisional runs. The carriers propose that if a railroad wishes to set up an interdivisional run, the railroad and the unions should try to agree on such run and the conditions which should surround its establishment, and if the railroad and the unions can't agree, the matter will be submitted to arbitration.

But the three union leaders still refuse.

Rules Can Be Arbitrated
The railroads have not only offered these three unions the same rules agreed to by the BRT and covered by the White House Agreement, but have even agreed to submit such rules to arbitration.

The Industry Pattern Is Fixed
With the pattern so firmly established in the railroad industry, it seems fair to suggest that the leaders of BLE, BLF&E, and ORC stop their quibbling and take action to make the railroad labor picture 100% complete. Certainly today's economic and international situation calls for a united front. And certainly no good reason has been advanced why these three unions should be preferred over all other railroad employees.
