

FOOTBALL CONTEST

Contestant Goes Wild; Gets All Grid Games

Maynard Agee, one of the "regulars" each year in the Star's Cotton Bowl football contest, last week became the first contestant to achieve a perfect score this season under the 18-game contest slate.

Agee rang the bell correctly on all 18 games, and his perfect score was the first among some 508 entries received in the three weeks of the contest. A score of 16 won the first weekly contest, then last week a contestant had a 17 for the first time.

Three contestants correctly picked 17 games in the past week's contest, and two of them were awarded second and third place money. Second went to Peggy Monroe, who was the closest on the tie-breaker score.

Third place was awarded to J.P. Sims for the second week in a row. The other contestant to get 17 games was Jerry London. Mrs. Monroe had guessed the Dalhart - Friona score at 14-7 favoring the Wolves. Sims had it 17-8, and London 21-8, both favoring Friona.

All three contestants getting 17 games correct missed the same game, the West Texas-Oklahoma University game. That contest, won by WT, 7-0, was one of the most frequently missed by contestants the past week.

His 17 score shot Sims into a first-place tie with Edward White in the overall standings in the Cotton Bowl Contest. White had a score of 16 for the second straight week. Both have scores of 45.

Others with 16 games correct the past week were Robert W. Taylor, Celia Loflin and Barbara Morrow. Taylor missed the Olton-Muleshoe game and West Texas - Ohio. All the others missed West Texas-Oklahoma and Auburn - Baylor.

A total of 20 contestants correctly picked 15 games, testifying that participants in the contest are getting better.

Those picking 15 games were Mildred Agee, Elsie Allen, Floyd Brookfield, Mary Lee Cass, Paula Clements, Cecil Floyd, Burke Hand, Francis Gable, Mrs. B.C. Hartwick, Karl Kuhlman, Raymond Miller, Lesta Lee Neill, Don A. Reeve, Gaylon Rhodes, Jonell Sims, Jerry Shelton, Betty Spears, Claude Spears, C.H. Veazey and Floyd Wilkins.

There were 164 entrants in the contest's third week, including 12 new contestants, making a total of 216 contestants in all only nine short of last year's total of 221.

CUNNINGHAM TO MANAGE

Plains Publishers To Continue Printing

Plains Publishers, local printing firm, has engaged Walter Cunningham to manage the business, W.H. Graham, owner, announced this week.

"I am very happy to be able to make this announcement. We will continue to operate and to print area newspapers on a camera-ready basis in the future," he said.

Cunningham, an employee of the firm for five years was head pressman and is an experienced camera technician. Also retained are Joe Flores, cameraman, and Charles Taylor, press assistant and platemaker.

Composition and pasteup operations at Plains Publishers were suspended recently. Some of the equipment in these phases of the business was sold.

"The plant will now operate along the lines similar to central printing setups in several other Plains towns," said Graham. "We will still print a number of papers but they will be mostly small, community-size weeklies."

Being printed regularly at the Friona plant are the Star, Bovina Blade, State Line Tribune, Curry County Times, Cannon Air Base Mach Meter, Earth News, Hart Beat, Plains Farmer, Kress News, and Stratford Star.

CHIEFS HAVE OPEN DATE

The Friona Chieftains have an open date this week, having an opportunity to "lick wounds" following last week's 32-12 loss to Dalhart.

"Actually we have more hurt feelings than anything else," stated Chieftain coach Don Light, who said that there were no major injuries suffered against the powerful Wolves, although he thought the team could use the extra week's work.

Next outing for Friona will be here a week from Friday, when Friona hosts Muleshoe in what will be the homecoming battle for Friona.

Firemen Saluted For Services

Members of the Friona Volunteer Fire Department "outdid themselves" during the annual free barbecue, states A.L. Black, chairman of the barbecue portion of the annual celebration.

Black pointed out this week that the firemen served some 3,000 people in about 50 minutes. (And if your arithmetic is slow, that's about 60 people per minute.)

The barbecue chairman also expressed his thanks to Eddy Willmon, who was in charge of the lemonade portion of the noon meal.

'Back To School Nights' Planned September 28-30

Back To School Night for all parents of students in the first four grades of Friona schools has been set for September 28 and 30.

Parents of first grade pupils have been invited to meet in their children's home rooms from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. Tuesday evening.

Then from 8:00 to 9:00 parents of second grade pupils will meet in homerooms.

Next Thursday evening parents of third grade pupils will be invited to meet in home-rooms from 7:30 to 8:30 and parents of fourth grade pupils will be invited from 8:00 to 9:00.

Purposes of these meetings are to better acquaint parents with subject matter being taught and the methods of presentation; to encourage parents and teachers to become better acquainted and to create opportunities for better understanding between teachers and parents in order to enable teachers to work more successfully with pupils.

runnerup, Cindy Ingram. The ceremonies came at the end of the annual queen's contest last Thursday.

FHS JUNIOR

Susan Neill Chosen Friona's Maize Queen

Susan Neill, 16-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Neill and junior at Friona High School, was crowned Maize Queen in Friona for 1965-66 as a highlight of the 1965 celebration last Thursday night. Miss Neill, a striking blonde, won out over 25 other contestants to claim the title. She was sponsored by Murphree's Texaco station. For her talent portion of the contest, Susan did a pantomime act to a record, "Hair Oil On My Ear."

Runnerup honors went to Carolyn Hamilton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Hamilton. Carolyn presented songs from "Six Flags Over Texas," and designed her background set herself.

Cindy Ingram was named second runnerup. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dub Ingram, she presented a piano number, "Autumn Leaves." Gail McGlothlin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill McGlothlin, was fourth. She played an organ number for her talent act - "Moon-

FIRST BALE . . . E.G. Phipps, right, is congratulated by Earl Chester on having the first bale of cotton to be ginned in Friona. Phipps' bale was ginned Tuesday.

Phipps Gins Friona's First Bale For 1965

E.G. Phipps ginned the first bale of 1965 cotton in Friona, bringing a bale to Chester Gin shortly after noon on Tuesday. The first 1965 bale weighed 534 pounds ginned, and produced 900 pounds of seed. Phipps grew the cotton, which was Paymaster 101-A, on a 47-acre plot three and one-half miles south-east of Friona.

Phipps stated that he planted the cotton around April 25, and had irrigated it twice -- every other row on both occasions. The first bale was gathered by some 22 field hands Tuesday morning off about 10 acres of Phipps' acreage.

"If it hadn't rained last week, I would have had the bale marketed before the Maize Days celebration was over," Phipps said. It was the first time for the Friona farmer to have a first bale, although he marketed the first load of maize in town several years ago.

Extra Papers Are Available

The Friona Star has available several extra copies for themselves or relatives.

"We will keep extra copies on hand for some time, but would urge those wanting them to stop by at their earliest convenience to secure their copies," says editor Bill Ellis.

Also, those who contributed old pictures for the Star's issue are reminded that they may pick them up at the Star office.

PROCLAIMS "WEEK" . . . Mayor J.C. Claborn signs a proclamation making the present week "Young Homemaker's Week" in Friona, as Mrs. Jimmy Mabry, president of the Friona Young Homemakers, looks on.

Another Maize Days celebration is now history, and for many, a big sigh of relief was in order.

We've heard some people say that there wasn't as much spirit exhibited by this year's Maize Days celebration. Perhaps this is right.

The weather, in particular Friday's rain which all but ruined the annual parade, must certainly have been counted as a factor. Some have suggested that we move the celebration up to July of each year, when we can more readily use the moisture.

At least one person remarked that we should either buckle down and pump some "new life" into the celebration, or do away with it entirely.

We would suggest that his suggestion, at least the first part of it, merits some thought.

Next year, 1966, will mark the 60th anniversary of the city of Friona. It will be the 10th anniversary of our Maize Days celebrations, which grew out of the city's 50th birthday party in 1956.

Thus, we would think this should be an excellent opportunity to dig down for a little "something extra," and make next year's celebration one that will beat all former ones.

To this end we publicly pledge our support and aid, and shall endeavor to do anything within our power personally to see such a celebration realized.

These yearly celebrations serve to "pull the community together," and are a sign of a progressive city. The fact that a by-product of Maize Days, the queen's contest, gave a "start" to someone like Kay Hurlson is just one good solid argument for keeping it alive.

Perhaps there are parts of the celebration which could be altered, or omitted entirely. We have a full year to think on this, and come up with something better.

We'd like to see the celebration held a week later than it has been, so that it would fall during the open date which has been observed on Friona High School's football schedule for the past several years.

I'm sure the coaches would like this arrangement better, and by having the celebration on an open week for football, the carnival and local booths wouldn't have the "Friday night letdown" which it now does.

There are, of course, problems in such a minor change as this. For example, our Maize Days celebration has been pretty well governed by the dates on which the Lone Star Amusement Company can come to Friona with its rides.

However, they came a week later this year, so perhaps another week's delay would be possible. And, if there had to be any re-scheduling to get the rides here during the fourth week in September, at least there would be the year's notice to help the cause.

We would like to solicit ideas from readers on the subject. After all, you are the ones for which the annual celebration is staged.

Drop us a card listing your ideas about how to improve the celebration, and suggestions for making the 60th anniversary fete a good one. We shall be more than happy to get them.

One of those quotes which you would think a comedy writer would come up with, but you'd never hear in everyday life came out of the pie-eating contest in connection with the "Kids Contest" last Saturday.

Brian Hall emerged as the champ pie eater, nosing out his competitors in a two-minute duel to see who could eat the most pie in that length of time.

After it had been ascertained that young Hall was the champ he astonished the contest officials by asking "Can I finish the pie now?"

And he did.

The little boy came bursting into the living room when his father arrived home from work.

"Remember last month you promised me a dollar if I made an 'A' in Arithmetic?" he asked his dad.

"Yes, I remember," his father replied, smilingly.

"Well, I saved you a dollar," was the quick-thinking reply.

AN EDITORIAL

What's Wrong With Friona? Nothing That We Can See

Lately we have heard several people remark "What's wrong with Friona?," explaining their question by the fact that the city has recently lost some citizens who were counted among the most stable and in some cases, community leaders.

We'd like to hazard the answer that there is nothing wrong with Friona which has caused these people to move away.

Mainly, these individuals thought they had an opportunity to better themselves, either financially or for other reasons, so they made the decision to move.

We're not going to be so naive as to deny the fact that some who have left recently had a good deal to do with the moulding of our community, but at the same time, we as a community must realize that we must continue to go forward.

If we but look around, we will see that for every one of these former citizens who has left, a new, eager, and in each case, young face has moved to Friona as a replacement.

These young people are the very "raw material" from which a growing community must be fashioned.

What's wrong with Friona? Nothing that a little work and dedication wouldn't cure. For our money, the Friona area still offers the best opportunities to be found anywhere in our state and nation.

We are all prone at one time or another to have to make up our minds whether the grass is actually greener "on the other side of the fence," when opportunities come our way.

However, we don't feel that because certain people have left our midst that Friona is "on its way down."

FHA Conducts Tour In Area

A farm tour was conducted by the Farmers Home Administration in the Lazbuddie Community recently. Stops were made at the K.J. Gallman, Andrew Fuqua, and Lynn Cox farms.

The group inspected the new house of K.J. Gallman which was built with an FHA loan. It was pointed out to the group that FHA loans can be made on small tracts in rural areas and in towns of less than 5500 population.

In addition to the Rural Housing Loan there are loans for labor housing and senior citizen rental housing loans. The last two stops were at the farms of Andrew Fuqua and Lynn Cox who have operating loans with the Farmers Home Administration. The group inspected the crops and looked at some of the practices which were being carried out. The group was informed that a young man with initiative and proper management can succeed. It was pointed out that 57 per cent of the operating loan borrowers in Parmer County were under 35 years of age. The operating borrowers of Parmer County have a gross income of about $1.5 million. Considering the normal turnover of money, this should contribute about $6 million to the economy of Parmer County, according to Bill Boling, supervisor of Parmer County's FHA office.

Booster Club Meets Monday

Danny Mac Balmum, president of the Friona Booster Club, pointed out this week that the club will meet next Monday, despite the fact that the Chiefs will have an open date this week.

On hand will be Lee Jackson, executive secretary of Texas Tech's Red Raider Club, who will show the Southwest Conference highlight film of 1964, produced by the Humble Company. This is a color sound film, and should be a good one, Balmum says.

Everyone, members or not, is urged to attend. The current membership in the club is 194, Balmum says.

Citizens Warned Of Check Fraud

Sheriff's officers warned Friona residents this week to be on the alert for magazine salesmen working in the area. At least one out-of-town group which made calls in Friona September 20 is charged with altering a check which was given them.

Citizens are asked to be on the alert for this type of fraud, and to report any information to the authorities which might lead to the arrest and conviction of the forgers.

light and roses."

Rounding out the top five was Sherri Tannahill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C.W. Tannahill. Sherri played a medley of organ numbers.

Others chosen to the contest's "top ten," along with their talent acts, included: Glenda Mingus, a skit entitled "Teddy Bears' Picnic;" Darla Howell, who played piano selections and accompanied herself on a vocal number.

Also Donna Shackelford, who did a reading, "Betty at the Baseball Game," Debbie Hays, who also did a reading, "Susy Entertains a Caller," and Judy Shirley, who presented a pantomime entitled "Honey Bun" from the Broadway musical, "South Pacific."

Mrs. Bill Nunn, director of the queen's contest, praised the entrants in this year's contest. "They all had their talent acts worked out in advance, and we did not have to help a single one work out their talent numbers," she said.

NEW SURVEY SETTLES THE QUESTION:

"When you have an accident, who is more likely to help you—an independent agent or a one-company salesman?"

ANSWER:

An independent agent, by a big margin.

The National Association of Insurance Agents asked an impartial, nationally recognized research organization to accurately measure the difference. Here is what their research showed:

9 out of 10 independent agents help with claims.
A far lower percentage of other agents do.

This research proved that The Big Difference in insurance is the continuing, personal attention of an independent agent.

To insure your car, home, or business through an independent agent, look for this seal. Only an independent agent—a man pledged to help you when you have a loss—can display it.

Dalhart Adds Game To Their Personal Streak

Special Week

Mayor J.C. Claborn signed a proclamation this week proclaiming this week "Young Homemakers Week" in Friona. It is being similarly recognized throughout the state. The young homemakers have had a window display at Bi-Wize Drug this week. They have as their projects to work with school counselor, Baker Duggins, and are serving as room mothers to second and third graders. The club has bought magazine subscriptions for the new waiting room at Farmer County Community Hospital.

It will be at least one more year before the Friona Chiefs can claim a win over Dalhart's Wolves. The Wolves claimed their fifth straight win over Friona last Friday, brushing the Chieftains aside, 32-12 in a cold wet contest.

The Wolves lost little time putting their brand on the game. They scored the first three times they had the football in racking up their third straight win of the young season. The loss left Friona at 1-2 for the season.

Down by 24 points at half-time, the Chiefs finally broke into the scoring column in the third quarter, only to have Dalhart retaliate with a touchdown and two-point conversion for a commanding 32-6 lead.

The 20 - point loss was the worst suffered by a Don Light-coached Friona team. It tied the Olton game of 1963 for that dubious record. Olton won that one in the season finale, 20-0.

Asher Isaacs, fantastic Dalhart quarterback, sparked the Wolves to the win. The Dalhart signal-caller has carried the ball only three times this season, and each time it has resulted in a touchdown.

Danny Bush, the 205-pound fullback, raced 45 yards on the third play from scrimmage for the Wolves' first score early in the game. A run for two points was successful, and Dalhart led, 8-0.

Isaacs scored the second Dalhart touchdown, on an 87-yard run. He then passed to Stanley Moore for two points and the home team led, 16-0.

With Friona already reeling from these two blows and not able to get organized as they had been the previous week, Dalhart took advantage of the disorganization to add yet another eight points to the scoreboard.

This time it was a 67-yard pass play from Isaacs to Ricky Cunningham which dropped like a bomb in the laps of the Chieftains. Isaacs then tossed to Moore for two points and Dalhart's lead, which was also the halftime score, stood at 24-0.

Friona finally broke the ice in the third quarter, aided by a blocked punt by center Bing Bingham. The blocked kick gave Friona the ball on the Dalhart 32-yard line, and the Chiefs used the momentum to post their first score.

Joe Mabry got the six points moments later from a yardout. Quarterback Lonnie Ellis had the big gainer enroute to the touchdown, a 15-yard run.

The Chiefs tried to follow Dalhart's example and went for two points, but a pass try failed, leaving the score at 24-6.

The Wolves were not shaken by the Friona TD; at least if they were they used it as impetus to score another one themselves. With bull-like charges by the fullback, Bush, Dalhart From there, Isaacs took over once again, making it two-for-two for himself during the game. He raced 25 yards for the score and then passed for two more points and Dalhart had a 32-6 lead.

Dalhart reserves played the last portion of the game, and it was at this point that Friona got its second TD. Travis Graves directed the Chiefs 55 yards to paydirt, and got the final yard himself. A pass try again failed, and the score stood at 32-12, which turned out to be the final count.

The Wolves had 365 total yards, to just 110 for Friona.

week, downing Dimmitt, 24-6. The B-team Chiefs scored in the second and fourth quarters, and Dimmitt scored in the last minute of play to avert a shut-out.

After a scoreless first quarter, halfback Eddie Barker broke the ice by running 17 yards to paydirt. Jimmy Grimsley ran the points for an 8-0 Friona lead. Later in the quarter, Danny Batze intercepted a pass and ran 70 yards for the TD. Eddie Barker carried for two points and a 16-0 lead.

In the fourth quarter, quarterback Eddie Wood ran 30 yards for a score. Randy Milloy converted, for a 24-0 lead. Dimmitt drove 65 yards in the last minute of play, aided by 35 yards of penalties against Friona, and scored on a fourth down play to keep from being held scoreless.

Coach James Anglin credited Jimmy Grimsley, Larry Graves, Danny Batze and Joe Moet for their defensive play, and Milloy, Wood, Barker and Larry Lee on offense.

CANNED AND FROZEN CHILLI

Chilli-fresh, canned or dried is an excellent source of vitamin A. The fresh green and red chillies are very rich source of C. Most of the C vitamin is lost in drying, so why not try freezing or canning those pods of chilli for your family.

Many requests have been received lately on how to freeze or can chilli, so for those others who may like to have information on this subject, here is a good method:

OVEN OR BROILER METHOD OF FREEZING

... Place peppers in a hot oven or broiler at 400 degrees to 450 degrees F. for six to eight minutes.
... Remove from heat and allow to stand in a wet towel to steam for 15 minutes.
... Remove, skin, stems, and membrane.
... Pack for canning or freezing.

TO FREEZE CHILLI

... Chillies peeled by this hot process need no further blanching for freezing.
... Select the size of containers suitable for your family. Chilli should be used soon after thawing.
... Pack into small moisture-vapor-proof containers or bags. Fill to shoulder of glass jar.
... Place filled sealed containers in your refrigerator until a load is ready to be put into your home freezer. Home freezers should not be opened too often, as this prevents your food from holding its best quality.
... Place packages in the coldest part of the home freezer for fast freezing. There may be a special space in your home freezer for this. If not, place containers against sides and bottom of freezer.
... Label each package with the name of the product and the date. If any special method of preparation is used, put this on the label too.
... Best storage temperature for your home freezer is 0 degree F.

TO CAN CHILLI IN PRESSURE CAN

... Select fresh, tender chilli to can.
... Wash chilli carefully.
... Select the method preferred to remove the tough peel.
... Remove peel, stems and seeds.
... Pack prepared chilli in jars to 1/2 inch from top.
... Cover with boiling water to insure a more even temperature. If preferred, chilli may be canned without adding water.
... Add salt if desired.
... Adjust lids of jars.
... Place hot containers on the rack in the canner.
... Fasten lid on tight so that no steam escapes around edge.
... Let steam escape from petcock for a full 10 minutes. Then close petcock.
... Process 1/2 pints 20 minutes at 13 lb. pressure and 1 pint jars for 25 minutes at 13 lb. pressure. Keep an even pressure for the time recommended for processing.
... At end of processing period, turn off heat or slide to cooler place on stove, and let cool normally.
... Arrange the jars to cool quickly out of a draft and uncovered.
... Next day, check the seal on the jars. Label, polish, and store them in a cool, dark, dry place.

AWARDED ASSISTANTSHIP . . . Mrs. Jimmy Patton, 1959 graduate of Friona High School, has been awarded a graduate assistantship in the biology department at West Texas State University, Canyon, for the 1965-66 school year. She will resume some teaching responsibilities, enroll in limited course work, and conduct a research program applying toward a master's degree. Mrs. Patton is the former Pat Cranfill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Cranfill, Friona. She received her bachelor of science degree in the spring of 1964.

Maize Days has come and gone. Every year there are many attractions, a lot of people and everyone seems to be having fun. The 1965 edition was the same in many ways, yet different in several aspects. It must have been superlative in many ways. Some of the ones which were obvious to me were:

First . . . Queen contestants have never been more beautiful nor more talented.

Second . . . The barbecue which was served at noon by members of Friona's Volunteer Fire Department could not have been more tastefully prepared.

Third . . . Friendship was never more evident. Everywhere you looked you could see people chatting up a storm. A number of out of town visitors were present at every event and were made feel welcome by local residents.

Fourth . . . Floats were never more soggy.

It seemed such a shame for beautifully constructed floats to be water soaked before the end of the parade. Plans had been made for floats to be displayed between City Hall and City Park, but steadily falling rain left them in no condition to be displayed.

This parade might have made a first in one category. Have you ever seen a Queen and members of her court wrapped in plastic? It looked as if more plastic was needed before time for these young ladies to disembark from the float.

One onlooker said, "There's nothing wrong with the parade that a nice sunny morning would not have taken care of."

Some former residents who never miss attending Maize Days are Mr. and Mrs. Bud Squyres and sons of Amarillo. This year their number one son, Larry, was absent. He is attending Abilene Christian College on a track scholarship.

Larry was a member of the track team of Tascosa High School, Amarillo, several years.

Phyllis reports that he is enjoying himself very much in Abilene and is renewing acquaintanceships with former classmates in Friona High School.

Kenny, the second son, is a junior at Tascosa High this year and Buddy Gale, the youngest, attends Olsen - Park school. Phyllis is employed by Kids, Inc.

lived here. . . . Where would you look for a Friona building contractor? That is a good question, but when you change the question to read, "Where would you look for a certain building contractor . . . Raymond Fleming?" there would be two probable answers.

The first one would be real easy and might be worded like this: "Why look for him at all. He is likely to turn up wherever you are."

Another, and possibly more logical answer, would be, "Inside a house which is under construction."

Last month the Floyds spent a few days at Tres Ritos, while driving along a scenic drive in that area, we met Fleming and Ralph Price on the highway. This chance meeting resulted in a very enjoyable forty-two session with these two Friona men, their wives and Mr. and Mrs. Ennis Cummings later the same day.

Then last week we went to Lubbock. Incidentally, this was our first out of town excursion since the August trip. When we are away from home, keeping up with my other half proves to be one of my largest problems. Saturday was no exception. While Frieda, Susan and I were going through a newly constructed house in the north part of the Hub City, we soon discovered that our party of four had dwindled down to three. A few minutes later we found our missing family member visiting with Raymond and Marie Fleming in an adjoining house.

Don't know for sure where we will go next, but when we get there I'm going to be expecting to run onto Raymond and Marie.

Learned while visiting with Mrs. Vernon Roberts in the office briefly Tuesday morning that interest in TOPS in Friona is lagging. This group meets regularly each Monday evening at 7 in the Community Room of Friona State Bank.

Mrs. Roberts, who is currently serving as leader, invites any woman in the Friona area who is interested in losing weight and having fun at the same time to attend the meetings and further acquaint themselves with activities of the organization.

About a year ago there was a great deal of confusion about the FHA sponsored Tasting Bee. Several persons apparently associated the annual fall Tasting Bee with the spring Mother-Daughter Salad Supper.

The Tasting Bee is a money raising event and everyone in the area is invited to attend.

Last year the Mother-Daughter Salad Supper, which is a social event, was changed to a family affair to which all members of families of Future Homemakers of America are invited to attend. Probably the affair has a new name, but I don't know what it is.

At any rate, when a member of the club contacts you and asks you to buy tickets for the Tasting Bee, we want everyone to remember that it is an "open to the public" affair and all are supposed to attend.

Instead of loving your enemies, treat your friends a little better.

Rhea Pioneer Families

HOME OF PIONEERS . . . This house, which was built by pioneer Rhea Community residents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gallmeier, was a landmark for many years and was converted into a barn by one of their grandsons Walter Schueler, about fifteen years ago. Schueler lives on land which was originally purchased by his late grandparents before they moved from Indiana to Texas in 1910. The Gallmeiers are both buried in the cemetery at Emmanuel Lutheran Church.

When Robert Schueler and Anna Gallmeier were first married they built a new home on the quarter section where their son Raymond and his family now live. The house is still standing and is being used for a shop. It is possible that this couple had the first house with an attached garage in Parmer County. The house had three rooms and one end of the sideroom had a sliding door and house the family automobile.

Mrs. Schueler remembers the demise of the garage as such. She said, "Our garage didn't last long. When our family began to increase it had to be converted into another bedroom."

Later the couple built a larger house and live in it until 1949 when they built a new brick home east of the church. At the present time Mr. and Mrs. Roy Zieschang live in their second home.

Children of this couple are Raymond, Norbert, Elnor Meissner, Irene Graham, Arnold, Floyd and Robert Jr.

Raymond, Norbert and Floyd are farmers in the Rhea community and with their father own about 3900 acres of farming land including the original quarter purchased by the father of Robert and Herman.

It is interesting to note that at the present time these two pioneer farmers and their son own approximately the same number of acres and much of it is the same land that was included in the original contract to be sold to Lutherans.

Elnor Meissner of Glencoe, Minn., is a registered nurse, Irene Graham is a classroom teacher at New Buffalo, Mich, Arnold is a music teacher in Dallas and Robert Jr. lives with his parents.

All of the Schueler children went to school in the Rhea Community first and later to Friona.

Robert Schueler owns several rent houses and business buildings in Friona including the shopping center which contains White's Super Market, Anita's, the Coin Operated Laundry and the Mademoiselle Beauty Shop.

While discussing improvements made in the community, he said, "We used to haul our grain to Friona in wagons -- sometimes taking more than one day to make a trip. Now we have an elevator in our community and hardly need our trucks to haul the grain."

"We used to have chickens, cows, a garden and everything right here at home," said Mrs. Schueler. "Now we just buy our milk, butter and eggs because we like to visit the children who do not live here and don't want our chores to be a problem for the ones who live near us."

This couple also has twenty-one grandchildren.

It is unlikely that the Rhea Community will ever be without descendants of the Gallmeier - Schueler families and working for the betterment of the church and community is an inherited characteristic.

These four have made great contributions to the future of the community as well as the nation.
