While The Iron Is Hot ----

Often said that opportunity knocks but once. This is the case, then it is very likely that there is at the door of Rankin at this time. A good number of people have indicated that they will build houses to enable a new concern to move to Rankin. Thirty-two or three houses have been promised and more will be built. Whether or not they can be built in time to enable the company to get into operation June will be a very important question. If the plan can be completed on time and to the general satisfaction of everyone involved, it will go further than anything toward proving to any future concern that Rankin is interested in coming here that the people of Rankin want to see their town grow and are willing and able to fill their promises.

It will encourage newcomers to look to Rankin for location but it will serve to assure our present residents such as Halliburton and others that we can take care of their needs for expansion when and if they arrive. The present program might well determine the future growth of this community.

Not only thirty some houses now promised, more are needed on the present project and there are indications at this point to still more being needed in the near future by the new comers as well as our older firms. From the beginning, the Halliburton Company has encouraged their holdings in Rankin until they employ around 100. They expect to enlarge even more.

If there is any indication, the new companies that are coming will also expand and enlarge and the need for more houses will go on and on.

Rankin can produce these houses there will be little need to worry about the future progress of this town.

Those who have taken a lead in this program should be given a deserved salute from the citizens of the town. The future is encouraging to all and will serve as an example that this is still a land in which individuals can make their efforts toward a common cause that will mean a better way of living for all concerned.

Western Pushing Construction; Plan To Open Rankin Office In June

(See related story of "Thirty-Two Homes Promised" on fifth page of this issue.)

"Pour the cement, Mr. Herrick." With these words Western Acidizing's "Chuck" Elwood gave the signal for full steam ahead on that company's plans for moving into Rankin.

Speculation here had reached a high pitch over the week-end as to whether or not the company was going to continue their building program or change their minds and not move into Rankin when officials of the company expressed deep concern over the progress being made here in supplying housing for their employees. When in Rankin last Thursday on an inspection tour, Western representatives had told leaders in the community that they did not see how they could move into Rankin with only a few houses being built.

Last Monday night members of the company met with the Rankin Lions Club and their guests. With an overflow crowd on hand including visitors from McCamey, Dunn Lowery, president of the First State Bank and one of the more active local backers of the housing program, told the gathering that he had bonified commitments from business concerns and individuals in Rankin for 32 houses which would be rented to personnel of the Western Company.

PLANS ACCEPTED

It was following this announcement that Mr. Elwell, speaking on behalf of his company and explaining that when the concrete was poured at their plant location on the Midland highway, they would have their roots in Rankin, turned to Mr. Herrick, their building contractor, and said, "Pour the cement when you are ready, Mr. Herrick."

Further explanations by those who plan to build the houses (Continued to back page)

BAND WILL STAGE ANNUAL CONCERT FRIDAY NIGHT

Rankin's prize winning Red Devil Band will stage their annual Spring concert this coming Friday night, April 27, in the high school auditorium. With the opening number scheduled for 8:00 p.m., the affair is open to the public with no charge for admission.

Rated as one of the top Class B bands in the state and ranked high among much larger aggregations, the Red Devil band won a sweepstakes trophy in the recent regional band contest in Odessa and also holds numerous trophies and awards from past years. On May 9-12 the group will go to Enid, Oklahoma to enter the Tri-State Band Festival where they will compete against top high school bands from throughout the southwest.

In this event last year, the local group won just about every honor that was open to them and with a number of last year's students making the return trip, expectations are high for another good showing by the band.

The Friday night concert is the last planned public appearance of the group for the current school season.

WARREN OUT OF HOSPITAL

Omar Warren, city secretary, returned Tuesday from a San Angelo hospital and is reported to be feeling well.

However, Omar is having a little trouble with his voice and has asked that people keep their conversations with him on a very simple level—something that he can answer by shaking his head. He expects to be back in voice in a few days.

SMALL ACTIVITY BY FIREMEN

A minor blaze in a pile of lumber at Red Bluff Lumber Co. last Tuesday afternoon and a false alarm last Thursday afternoon brought out the Rankin Volunteer Fire Department on two occasions over the past week.

Filler by J. B.

Principal topic of discussion over the coffee cups this past week has been whether or not Western will go ahead with their plans to move a district office to Rankin or whether they will go elsewhere because they cannot seem to find suitable housing here.

When the company first questioned business men and individuals about available housing here in Rankin, they were considering twenty houses. A little later this figure was raised to thirty houses and last week was upped again to 40 houses. Whether they need 20 or 40 houses, we would not know but that Rankin desperately needs more houses at this time seems to be very definite.

Not only does the Western Company want houses, but our long-time residents, the Halliburton Cementing Company is also needing more houses.

Incidentally, there is, in our opinion, a reason why there has been little thought toward providing houses for the Halliburton Company employees. In all the hustle and bustle of trying to get 20 or 30 places for the new Western Co., we have tended to overlook the needs of a firm that has been here for "quite a spell."

We would say that a good deal of the reason Halliburton has been more or less overlooked in this need for houses derives from the fact that they have been here a long time. Their employees have become a part of Rankin, and a very respected and substantial part.

We seldom think of them as newcomers and fail to remember that they are probably the fastest growing concern in Rankin. At the present time they have something like 100 people on their payrolls and may need to add more if business continues to increase.

We would guess that if a choice had to be made between the two concerns a majority of Rankinites would pick Halliburton because of their fine reputation and good standing in the community. However, since this is not a matter of such a choice, it only points out the fact more clearly that what Rankin needs now is more houses.

There is little most of us can do toward having any part in this program, in fact there is no concern of an individual in Rankin who is solely in the house building business on anything like the scale needed to supply the demand now being made for homes. It would appear that some of the large concerns who deal in housing developments would take note of the situation and come to Rankin and construct one of their projects.

We'd say that Rankin could use 100 new houses at this time.

Ever since we have been in Rankin we have on occasions heard the expressions that at such and such a time the people of Rankin had various opportunities to do this and that which would have made Rankin a much larger town.

Having lived here only three years we, of course, would not be in a position to know about things in the past. However, we are in a position to know the efforts and concern that a good majority of the people of the town have shown toward making a better community for the short while we have lived here.

This has now perhaps reached its highest pitch. We would join with the Western official and say that never have we seen or heard of so many just plain average citizens of a town take up a burden such as the present undertaking of building 30 or 40 houses.

A house of any kind costs lots of money and the people who are undertaking the venture are not what might be termed "rich folks."

Although they may not be long on money, no one can say anymore

It's News To Us . . .

Whenever you go out of town, have a visitor, see an old friend, entertain guests, plan a trip, or attend a wedding—it's news to us.

Although you may not consider the event very important, your friends and neighbors like to know the little happenings that take place in the community from day to day. It is a proven fact that one of the most thoroughly read parts of any newspaper are the stories about people and particularly people we know.

Advertisers especially like to see news items on the page with their ads—knowing that their message will have a better opportunity of being studied when the reader becomes interested in a news item on the page.

We often work short-handed and short of time in a newspaper office with the constant aim of trying to get more news gathered, set, proof-read and printed in less time. Here at the Rankin News we keep adding more machines and trying to save on time.

This week we have added a new part-time employee in the hopes of better serving our readers. We want your news items and are willing to put out the time and expense of getting them.

We appreciate the cooperation you, our readers have given us in the past and look forward now to serving you better in the future.

LITTLE LEAGUE STAGES ANNUAL PLAYER AUCTION

On Friday night, April 20, the annual player auction of the Rankin Little League was held, according to Alvin Bushong, secretary of that organization.

This is an event held each year prior to beginning of actual play in the Little League where managers of the various clubs, each having a given number of points, bids by points for the players who will go to make up his club.

There were some 45 new candidates out this year seeking positions on the teams. Of this number about 25 players were purchased by the managers to fill vacancies on their teams, leaving about 20 players still in the farm club or minor league.

This league will continue to play during the summer months. The schedule for the major and minor leagues will be released at the earliest possible date, according to Bushong.

There will be five teams in the major league this year instead of the usual 4 as in the past. Making up the new team will be the El Paso Gasoline Plant Camp from near Midkiff. To be known as the Indians, the roster on this team is not yet available but will be published as soon as it is completed.

Each team will be required to cut back to a total of 15 players at least five days before the first league game. Plans now are to begin the regular league games on May 21.

THIRTY-TWO HOMES PROMISED AT ONCE FOR WESTERN ACIDIZING PERSONNEL

As of last Tuesday morning, definite commitments had been made by citizens of Rankin for either the construction or remodeling of 32 homes for Western Acidizing personnel. This is some eight houses short of the needs of that company with a number of other people reported to be looking for houses here.

Believed to be the biggest undertaking of its kind ever started in Rankin, the housing project is being started in an effort to provide enough homes for the immediate needs of the new company with plans shaping up to try to get more houses as the future needs arise. It is believed that if this plan proves workable, it will be used as a pattern for any future housing needs that may develop.

Among those who have definitely signified that they will participate in the program are O. R. Adams, 2 two-bedroom houses; W. O. Adams, 4 two-bedroom houses; J. P. Rankin, 1 two-bedroom house; Mrs. Zack Monroe, 1 two-bedroom house and possibly a second; Henry Neal, remodeling of two existing houses; L. Porter Johnson, 1 two-bedroom house; Clay Taylor, rental of one existing two-bedroom house to Western; A. E. Ivy, 2 either two or three bedroom houses; Dr. J. D. Gossett, 1 two-bedroom house;

Joe Powell, 4 two or three bedroom houses; Ray Boggs, 1 two-bedroom house; John Wimberly, remodeling of one 3-bedroom house; Carl Shaffer, one 3-bedroom house; F. E. Covill of McCamey, one 2-bedroom house;

Dunn Lowery, either four 2-bedroom or one 3-bedroom and two 2-bedroom houses; R. L. Bell, one 2-bedroom house; Grace Roach, 2 two-bedroom houses; J. W. Pollard, one 2-bedroom house; L. D. Sipes and Vernon Black, two 2-bedroom houses;

Henry Scarborough, one 2-bedroom house; J. L. Clark, one 3-bedroom house; Mrs. Billy Rankin, remodeling of one 2-bedroom house.

Walton Poage, to build two 2-bedroom houses to be rented on "first come—first serve" basis.

MORE HOUSES NEEDED

With several persons indicating that they are interested in joining the project, it is believed that there is still a substantial number of houses needed. Anyone who would be interested in backing the construction of a house, either two or three bedroom, is asked to contact either Mayor Ivy or Dunn Lowery. The Western Company will begin paying rent on the property as soon as it is completed and will hold it until their employees move in.

HOUSING NEEDED IN JUNE

Principal obstacle facing the program presently is the element of time. Company officials have indicated that they plan to begin full scale operations in Rankin around the latter part of June.

A severe shortage of carpenters and plumbers is reported by building contractors; however, it is felt that this can be overcome and those who have pledged their support to the program are urged to make every effort to get their projects underway.

Allen Shaffer, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Shaffer, spent the weekend with his grandparents in Crane.

FORMER RESIDENT'S BOOK NOW BEING PUBLISHED

"Louder Than Guns," the second Western story of Paul Patterson, journalism instructor in Crane High School and former resident of Rankin, will be off the press around June 1.

A story of cowboy life in West Texas, the events take place in the space of a few months time in 1879 and from the author's research and knowledge of West Texas and his love for the lore of this section comes a story that is different from the accepted Western.

Recalling that in early days in West Texas the cowboy—even if he owned the ranch—"wouldn't have turned his mount over to the Lord himself," Mr. Patterson's hero "rubs down" his own pinto. And so, a reader, already stepped in Westerns of other sections of the country may be inclined to doubt the author's knowledge of cowboy life. Mannerisms introduced are authentic West Texas history.

Born on a Gaines County ranch and reared on a ranch in Upton

County near Rankin, Patterson has moved in the best cowboy circles, though his rodeo performances always take place behind the "mike" in the press box, since he failed to master the art of riding and roping, prerequisites of the rough and ready cowboy.

"Sam McGoo and Texas, Too," published in 1947, made the author famous

LIONS HONOR TEACHERS; PLAN BROOM SALE 8th

Five Rankin school teachers, coaches Ted Kirby, Bill Cook, D. E. Jones and Mike Hughes and band director Fred Prentice were honored with $20 gift certificates by members of the Rankin Lions Club last Monday night.

In making the presentations, Lion president Joe Powell pointed out that the organization was not necessarily trying to award the coaches and instructor a gift of value but rather a token of the fact that their work over the past year has been appreciated by the club.

"We believe that these men have brought good sports and entertainment to Rankin and that they have provided a high type of leadership for our school students," Powell stated.

BROOM SALE SCHEDULED

On Tuesday, May 8, the club will stage their annual broom sale in Rankin.

Each year, in cooperation with the Texas Blind Institute, the club sells brooms, mops, dust clothes, and other household cleaning items, all made by the blind people of Texas. This group gets a percentage of the sales which in turn is used to aid more blind people in Texas.

Prices on the products are comparable to those found in the average store and quality is guaranteed. Sales will be made by members of the group on a door-to-door basis.

A hazard rougher than a tree—
A tree o'er which my ball must fly
If on the green it is to lie;

And makes the shot extremely hard;
A tree whose leafy arms extend
To kill the meshie shot I send;
A tree that stands in silence there
While angry golfers rave and swear,
Niblicks were made for fools like me,
Who cannot ever miss a tree.

interviewed drank no milk. Since milk is essential to get an adequate amount of calcium and riboflavin, milk used in prepared foods becomes very important. Cereal is one good method of including milk in the diet. Milk drinks are another. The dried milk powder makes it possible to get the milk nutrients in more or less concentrated form. It may be added to any recipe containing milk or flour. As much as two tablespoons of extra milk powder may be added to any recipe for each cup of flour used. Whole milk may be further enriched by the dried milk solids.
