of undetermined origin from 9 to 29 a combination barn and garage in the old Jack Smith home Thursday afternoon about 10:30 a.m. seriously damaged the building and its contents. Mrs. J. E. Smith estimated that approximately $10,000 worth of furniture, camp equipment and miscellaneous items were destroyed, much of it of sentimental value.

Carried by a brisk west wind, the fire presented a difficult task for Rankin Volunteer Firemen. A large amount of items in the building, including a car, were saved. For a while, it was feared the blaze might spread to the buildings in the immediate vicinity, including the home of Mrs. J. E. Smith.

to express our appreciation to the firemen for the fine work which they worked at the Smith home. The firemen's actions undoubtedly saved other buildings and property as low as was possible. The fire was carried on the contents, Mrs. J. E. Smith.

WEATHER REPORT—

Commenting on last week-end's weather: Awe, come on, now.

HOW ABOUT THAT—

J. L. Manry, who will give you the family tree on any real estate that you happen to own, is also an authority on pens. Pens that write under water, pens that write while flying upside down in an airplane, pens that write left-handed—he's had experience with them all.

At the present time, he is involved in making a study of ball point pens. He finds that the people who advertise that their pens will write on eggs and window glass have a very good product when one has cause to write on eggs or window glass but he says that somehow, he never seems to have much occasion to slap his John Hancock on any of these items.

When you think about it, you do get to wondering just who does use all those pens that will write so well on eggs and window glass.
 For that matter, we cannot recall ever having written many letters with our heads under water.

But should you ever need a pen for any of these purposes, see J. L. He more than likely has an extra that he will lend you.

PITY THE KIDS—

This a second in a series of articles on the "younger generation." This series will run until we get tired of fuming over the situation.

Every since the first Sputnik hit the front pages of the newspapers, the air has been filled with screams for more scientists, rocket experts, before the courts of public opinion etc. Our schools have been hauled and accused of having been lax in their instruction of the students.

The hue and cry is for a system that will turn out great brains in every field of science.

Now we're all for having better schools and for possibly making them tougher for the students. But we're not for this business of turning everything toward producing scientists. There may come a time when everyone will need to be an expert in this field but a lot of years are going to have to be lived by a lot of people—many not yet born—and we'd better give a little attention to the matter of educating them for this purpose.

Not all are going to be geniuses.
 There will have to be some knot-editors of weekly newspapers if heads in the crowds to be the editors of weekly newspapers if for nothing else. There is going to have to be someone to drill for the oil, to raise the sheep and cattle, to plow the land, to run the little businesses and do a zillion other every-day, unscientific jobs.
 For that matter, we sorta doubt that the business of being a housewife is on the way out. It just might be well to prepare a few students for these fields.

Already, we have what is called a "juvenile problem." Kids are said to be very strange now-a-days.
 They don't act responsible, it is said.
 They seem "all shook up" some say.
 Who can blame the kids. We have created for them an era in which the get rich quick idea is supreme, an era in which keeping up with the Joneses is a must, an era in which one is judged by his bank account or his material possessions; an era in which a kid can't even play cowboys and Indians without having to be a Matt Dillon or a Wyatt Earp.

He must be the greatest. On the football team, only the stars make the headlines. In science, you must launch a rocket. In industry he must be an executive—whatever field, only the top dog is considered.

Now we can see where a kid just might get a little "shook up" over such a situation. In the mind of a budding teenager, there just could be some doubt that he or she will be able to reach all of these goals. In many cases, the kids are not sure just what they want to do —much less know in advance whether or not they can be a success in their field—or at anything for that matter.

If the average teenager is confused—which we don't believe—but, for the sake of argument, say that he is—then, who can blame him.

We say encourage the kids, give them a challenge, try to lead them but drive them—never.

There was a time when there was a place for everyone whether he was a bum, a mediocre being or the best. If we keep insisting that only the top ring on the ladder is worthwhile, we will find that more and more our kids will turn to the type of things that make the sensational headlines of today since not all are qualified to make that top spot to seek their hook or crook.

 If we are to ments in our
 the business of little stronger.

FOR EVERY FAMILY BY 1975 CED'S PREDICTION OF U.S. GROWTH

Can Be Achieved Only by Wise Handling Major Economic Issues, Committee Warns

By 1975, the average American family will have a present average income of $5,300, the Committee for Economic Development predicts. This high income is not an imagination, it is a practical goal for men," CED's Research Policy Committee releasing the results of a subcommittee of businessmen and economists led by Harry Scherman, chairman of the board of the Month Club, Inc., of New York.

"Economic Growth in the United States—Its Past and Future" is the statement called "Economic Growth in the United States—Its Past and Future" by both the business and government to that the most is made of the nation's growth-producing factors. It stressed improvement of public education, conservation of energy, investment in enterprise, increased private savings, and efficient management of labor and of government, and foreign trade as among the factors for growth.

"If we manage our economic affairs with intelligence, we expect such a 'good life' material side, shared among the entire population," the statement asserted. Our growth will depend mainly, it stressed, "on millions of daily private decisions."

"The initiative and wisdom shown in the conduct of every business enterprise, large or small, and in the actions of every individual in pursuit of his welfare, will add up to the grand result and be the principal determinant of the outcome," the report declared.

Pointing out that future economic growth also will be affected "to a very large extent by the policies and activities of government," the Committee declared "we must be more concerned than ever about two controlling matters: first, the need of attracting competent individuals into government service; and second, to broaden and clarify public understanding of governmental matters."

Continued growth is the more important today, the statement said, because of competition by the Communist bloc.

CED is composed of 150 business executives and scholars who conduct research and develop recommendations for promoting national economic development.

Rankin Scout Troop Wins High Honors

Boy Scout Troop No. 56 sponsored by the Rankin Lions Club under its Scoutmaster Bill Cook had a very successful time at the Permian Basin District First Aid Meet at the McCamey Park Building Saturday afternoon, February 22nd.

The Troop entered four teams in the meet. Scoring for the meet was against a standard with 400 points the top possible score for the four problems that each team was required to work. Teams scoring 310-400 points were awarded blue first place ribbons. Teams earning 235-309 points were awarded red second place ribbons. Teams scoring less than 235 points would have rated yellow ribbons.

Each team had two minutes after the starting whistle to decide on their course of action after reading their problem. After the second whistle, the team had 10 minutes to treat its problem. Following each problem, the judges counseled with each team on their treatment of the problem.

Top scorer for the meet was team No. 3 of Troop 56. Second place went to Team No. 2 also of Troop 56. Teams 4 & 5 of Troop 56 won red ribbons.

The Troop was accompanied to the meet by a fine group of Patrol Dads and Assistant Scoutmasters.

SCOUT ROUND TABLE TO BE THURSDAY NITE

Boy Scout round table will be held at the Park Building Thursday night at 7:30 p.m. All adults interested in the Scouting program are urged to be on hand, especially the new men that have been signed up for committeemen and leaders in the three units of Scouting, Cubs, Scouts and Explorers.

Scout Leaders and members of the Lions Club want to compliment the Scouts that helped out at the Pancake supper. These boys did an excellent job of taking care of the tables.

UN EXAMINATIONS RE-SET FOR MARCH 12

Due to heavy school schedule and some students attending 4-H shows, the examinations for the UN trip has been re-set for 9:00 a.m. Wednesday, 12th. Students should call on Mr. Adams for the study kit to study for this examination.

Committees have been named with various churches and school and as soon as examination blanks are turned in, these committees will then get down to the task of selecting a delegate.

HAD YOUR CEMENT TO-DAY?

Cement, that is, in the form of Vitamin C which acts as a cement to hold body cells together. Failure to get enough vitamin C causes walls of tiny blood vessels to collapse, causing hemorrhaging; gums become spongy and bleed, causing teeth to loosen; cartilage and connective tissue is weakened and nerves are damaged. Bones lose calcium because their connective tissue is unable to hold it. Wounds fail to heal and bones break easily. In most cases an orange, half grapefruit, or a larger serving of tomato daily will provide the vitamin C needed. Don't forget that you have to get this "cement" every day since it isn't stored in the body. Citrus fruits are available in so many forms that anyone can manage some each day. We just finished some brought directly from the orchards—Yum, good!

CLOTHING WORKSHOP

Eight women cut dresses and got all set for dress construction at the first workshop session last Thursday.

Those doing simple dressmaking are meeting on Thursday morning and those more advanced in the afternoon.

Those in other communities who are interested in workshops for the future may turn their names into the agent or club presidents.

DRAPERY WORKSHOP

Members of the McCamey club are holding a drapery making workshop on Wednesday, March 12th. It is hoped to have draperies in all stages of construction at this time so that all points may be seen and demonstrated. Any others interested in making draperies or attending, may contact the agent or club members.
