John Allen received a letter from his son, Pvt. William (Bill) Allen stating that he will be allowed to start for home on the 12th of October. Pvt. Allen has been in India and Burma for nearly two years, having gone there via the Atlantic, North Africa, Suez Canal and Indian Ocean. Should he be routed home via the Pacific and San Francisco he will have made a complete circumnavigation of the globe.

Clifford Boatman, of Hub community, brought to the Star office last Saturday afternoon a Japanese Army rifle, that had been sent home by his brother, Sgt. Gilbert Boatman, who is now on one of the Pacific islands. The rifle was rather old in good condition and was one that Sgt. Boatman had picked up on one of the many battle fields where he has seen combat service. Clifford stated that his brother had also sent one of these guns to him, but his gun seems to have more or rougher usage and is not in as good condition as the one he had with him.

Sgt. Carl Schlenker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Schlenker, arrived home last week. Sgt. Schlenker has been in Europe for more than a year and has been in some of the most severe combat service of the war. It is not known whether or not he will receive his permanent discharge at this time.

THE U S IDAHO
By Seaman Noal Garrett
In the early morning of Aug. 27, 1945, the great armada sea force; the U S Idaho included, were steaming for our objective—Tokyo. Above, the dawn patrol of Hellcats, Wildcats, Helldivers and Avengers was maintaining its ceaseless vigil over the armada below.

Many miles ahead, the haughty summit of Mount Fujiyama could be seen. This sight, this almost legendary symbol of the Imperial Empire, brought home the unassailable realization and soulfilling satisfaction that we had achieved our ultimate destination.

The Navy stood in the Tokyo Area.
The Iraho has been to Iceland, Panama, Alaska, Hawaii, Australia, Philippines—and Japan. Those we visited. Less pleasant places—Attu, Kiska, Gilbert Islands, Marshal Islands, Kavieng in New Ireland, Saipan, Guam, Palau, Iwo Jima and Okinawa. Wherever the Pacific war was active, the Idaho was active too.

Tokyo Bay

Dearest Mother, Dad and all: Received Mickey's two letters today of Aug. 8 and 15. Sure was glad to get them and am grateful for the good news of Mothers operation and that she is on the road to recovery.

This was the first mail in three weeks, the last letter I had was the one of July 31.

Today is the day that we have all worked forward and hoped for so long. From topside one can see the Jap's sacred volcano, Fujiyama, and the Jap homeland but I can think of a lot of places that I had rather be looking at right in the good old USA.

Everything has been going good with me although I still have no idea when I may expect to get home.

There isn't much to write so will close.

Love to all,
Noal.

A letter received later states that the Idaho left Tokyo immediately after the signing of the peace. Noal is to be stationed on the East Coast, hoping eventually to get a leave to visit his parents. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Garrett, formerly of Friona and now of near Muleshoe. Another son of the Garretts is on Luzon, near Manila. He is eligible for discharge and is hoping to be home for Christmas.

The following telegram was received by Carl Bender from his son, Cpl. Vernon Weis:

New Orleans, La., Sept. 22, Back in States, Feeling fine. Furlough soon. Love, Cpl. Vernon Weis.

15th Army Air Force in Italy—Cpl. Melford Stowers has recently been assigned to the 529th Air Service Group, which has been named as a part of the European Occupational Air Force. Cpl. Stowers wife, Mrs. M. W. Stowers, resides at Friona. Before entering the Army in January, 1943, he was employed at the Stowers farm. He has been overseas since February 1944.

USS Ozark (LSV-2) Sept. 1, 1945

Dear Uncle John:
I am now in Tokio Bay, where the mighty Ozark is anchored off Tokyo, taking aboard American prisoners of war. We steamed into the bay the morning of the 30th and landed about a thousand Marines and sailors at Yokosuka Naval Base. All hands enjoyed making this "invasion" when the only thing we had to worry about was denting the bows of our landing boats on the concrete seaplane ramps where we beached. Things began to happen when we left Guam, on August 13. (Where, incidentally, the Ozark was anchored next to the British battleship, "Duke of York" during the ceremony in which Fleet Admiral Nimitz was awarded the British Order of Bath.) We embarked Brig. General William Clements, of the 6th Marines, who is now commanding General of the Yokosuka area, and set a northerly course. Off the Bonin Islands we saw the B-29's pass overhead on their last hostile run to Japan, and

Chickens Shouldn't "Touch the Stuff"

George McLean sure did not "go to roost with his chickens" at least not on Monday evening, for as George explained it—the chickens did not go to roost.

At about the time the chickens were wont to go to their roosts for the night, Mr. McLean noticed that they were acting very queerly, and this attracted his attention, so he watched them carefully. They went into the chicken house, but seemed unable to walk up the board that led to the roost. They would start and walk up a little way, then totter, flutter a little and fall to the ground.

After making several attempts they gave it up, and would stand and look up at the roosts with longing, wistful gaze then try to fly up to them, but with a jump and a flapping of their wings, they could get only about six inches from the ground, and after tiring of this attempt they dropped off and sat down on the ground and were soon fast asleep.

Still wondering at these strange actions and wondering about the cause, George turned his gaze toward the yard, where one young rooster standing with his feet spread apart, was making a comical effort at drinking from the water trough, and the solution opened at once on his mind.

It seems that George is making some good grape wine for his own personal use, (and maybe a bottle for the writer) and had been filtering the wine that day and had poured the filterings together with a small portion of the partially fermented juice into the trough from which the chickens usually drank. From this it took no great stretch of the imagination to divine the cause of the queer action of the birds.

Construction Gang Moves to Muleshoe

The group of road builders who have been here for the past four weeks, putting the blacktop on Highway "60", between the Castro-Deaf Smith county line and a mile west of Friona, completed their work here and have moved to Muleshoe, which will be their headquarters while they are doing a similar work on the highway between Muleshoe and Littlefield.

While here the Public Construction Company laid a new blacktop on Main Street, which was in addition to the work on the highway and was paid for by the city.

Both these jobs are pronounced by those who have seen them, to be the best job of road construction that has yet been done in this county, and Friona can now boast of having as good a Main Street paving as any town or city in the Panhandle.

Congregational Announcements

At the Congregational Church this Sunday, Miss Wanda Ann Hughes will lead the devotional part of the service.

On Sunday, Oct. 7, the devotional will be led by Miss Mary Broadwell. Rev. Beattie will deliver the sermon on each of these dates.

Johnson Champ Melon Raiser

W. H. Johnson, formerly of route one, Friona, but recently moved to Route Three, Hereford was in Friona Saturday and favored the Star office with a brief visit.

Mr. Johnson had with him one of those large, sweet, juicy watermelons which he raised on his farm this season, and before leaving, he turned the melon over to the tender mercies of the Star man to be appropriated as he thought best, and with Mr. Johnson's compliments.

Santa Fe Grain Makes Additions

The Santa Fe Grain Company which completed an addition of 15 feet to the top of its smaller elevator, is now adding a similar addition of 16 feet to the top of its larger elevator.

When the improvement now in progress is completed the company will have added materially to the storage and handling facilities of their plant.

According to Leo Potishman, president of the company, other and extensive additions and improvements in equipment will be added between now and the next harvest season, which will place Friona's grain storage and handling facilities on a par with any city in this part of the state.

Meeting Opens Saturday At Euclid Ave Ch.

A revival meeting will begin at the Church of Christ on Euclid Avenue east of the high school, on Saturday night, Sept. 29 and will continue each night through Sunday night, Oct. 7. These services will be conducted by Minister Earl Cantwell of Lockney, who is an eloquent and forceful gospel preacher. The public is most cordially invited to attend all of the services and all who attend will be given a hearty welcome.

Singing School At Pentecostal Church

Harley Green, of near Summerfield, announces that there will be a singing school held each Sunday afternoon at the Pentecostal Church building. All instructions will be free, and all who are interested in vocal music or those who enjoy good singing, and the public generally are invited to attend.

Enrolls at ACC

Miss Thelma Mae Boggess, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Boggess of Friona has enrolled at Abilene Christian College. Thelma Mae was graduated from the Friona High School in 1942.

Grady Whit returned Tuesday evening from East Texas, where he had been called last week on account of the serious illness of his father, who died Friday and was buried Sunday.

Locker Opens For Business

On Monday the Friona Locker Company opened its doors for business and in the afternoon at least four hogs were slaughtered and placed in the cooling room, preparatory to the processing and conversion into bacon, cured hams and shoulders, sausage, etc.

Owing to the failure of the locker boxes to arrive, the Company is not yet prepared to offer cold storage service, but that is expected to begin within the very near future, as that equipment has been shipped for some time and is expected to arrive any day.

The operative work of the company is in charge of Wilmot Cow, one of the proprietors of the business, and he is ably assisted by A. L. Talley and T. B. Whitfield.

Mrs. Henry Lewis, (Tom) is serving as secretary, bookkeeper and office manager.

All these people are well and favorably known in Friona and throughout the territory, and are fully backed by the confidence and respect of the people whom they will serve.

BAPTIST CHURCH NEWS

Prague Is Confused

People of Prague, Czechoslovakia, are having difficulty getting used to the startling sight of Frantisek Holub walking about the streets, he looks so much like you know who. Holub's been a train conductor 30 years, wore the moustache before "he" did, and was an underground worker during war.

The Germans are beating their steel helmets into cooking utensils. Here a worker collects an armload of the 10,000 or so salvaged each month for processing into saucepans and pots.

Here a hausfrau demonstrates the finished product. The part that fans out over the neck and face has been cut off and a handle fitted into ventilation holes on each side.

Which man are YOU...in 1955?

You and the man you work next to, are in about the same spot—today.

Tomorrow, your positions may be widely different.

In 10 years, one of you may be a decided success. The other—frankly—a failure.

No one wants to be a failure. Most failures hope for great success to come—even as you do now.

But failures, somehow, lack just a bit of the resolution, the self-discipline, that successes are apt to have.

Take War Bonds, for instance . . . Victory Bonds, now.

The way of success is to stick to your resolutions—to buy more and more Bonds, and keep them! Knowing they'll form a nest egg to help you feel secure . . . to give the confidence that contributes to success!

More: those Bonds can mean a home of your own. An education for your children.

Your own business when opportunity knocks!

And the extra money that holding them to maturity will mean: four dollars for every three you invest in "E" Bonds.

Those Bonds are your future.

But the way of the failure is to forget those things. To sluff off on bond buying—to be tempted to cash unnecessarily the bonds he already holds . . .

Keep those bonds! Buy more! And more! Think of your future—hang on to your bonds!

soon after received the word that Hirohito had accepted unconditional surrender. We were, naturally, happy to hear it, but also a little restrained, since having previously heard several false reports. At any rate, all tendency to relax our degree of readiness was abruptly spiked the next day when a torpedo crossed our path just ahead of the bow. Right then we decided that while the Japs may have accepted the surrender terms, there are always the ten percent, who never get the word. We maintained our usual sharp lookout. The next thing I knew we were joining the Third Fleet, about 300 miles off the Japanese coast, with orders to prepare to transfer at sea a thousand Marines and Sailors to the Ozark. The Third Fleet, as you probably know, is Admiral Halsey's outfit, which includes the battleships, cruisers, carriers, etc., that had been bombing and bombarding Japan. These major units of the fleet each carry a group of Fleet Marines, who man anti-aircraft batteries, and they—plus landing force sailors from the same ships—were the ones we took aboard. The first ship to come alongside was the USS Bon Homme Richard, one of the Navy's big carriers. As she came alongside our starboard side, and as she got in position the ships band on the Bon Homme Richard played "Don't Fence Me In", dedicated to the Ozark. As transfers were completed by each ship, another moved up to take its place, until 1,016 officers and men had been received from over 20 ships, including the battleships, North Carolina, and South Dakota; the carriers, Shangri La, Independence, Cowpens, Yorktown, Randolph, Ticonderoga and Bataan; the cruisers, Springfield, Monterey, Pasadena and Wilkes-Barre; the destroyers, Twining, Taylor, Woodward, Smalley, Hale, Buchanan and several others. The operation with each ship was timed and we think we set a record when 38 men were brought over from the South Dakota in 19 minutes. The whole maneuver is certainly a record, as such a mass transfer at sea had never before been attempted. At the completion of the transfer we became a part of the Task Force "31" and proceeded into Sagami Wan. (Bay) just across the peninsula from Tokyo Bay. We anchored there and saw several Jap submarines, each flying the black flag of surrender from its conning tower. Early morning of the 30th we weighed anchor and moved down around the peninsula and up into Tokyo Bay for the landing. It has been an honor to participate in this final amphibious landing and more so to be able to help evacuate our recently freed prisoners of war. May this begin a lasting peace!

This was a large converted freighter, called the Frederic P. Lykes and was meant for heavy freight loads instead of the light load we troops made. When she got out where the water was rough, she rolled and tossed like a cork and most of us were ill during the entire voyage. We next pulled land on Nov. 16, when we pulled into the Firth of Clyde, Scotland. Next morning we disembarked at Greenock, Scotland, and boarded a train for Camp Stranrear and left there the next morning by boat for Larne, Ireland, where we boarded another train for Belfast, where we transferred for our first home overseas, Camp Knockmore, and set up shop there. Most of our work consisted of assembling and repairing trucks as they arrived from the States. We left Camp Knockmore on March 4, and conveyed to the southern part of N. Ireland, where we again set up shop. It was here I learned that a day could be so long. The sun set about 2200 hours and it began to get dark at 2300 hours. We were told that it stayed light until after midnight in the summer. On May 20 we started a three-days convoy to our new destination in England. We stopped for the night at Carlisle, England and the next day drove to Wellington, where we again set up for the night. On the third day we reached our destination at Kiddington, Eng., five miles from Oxford. There was always a lot of aircraft up on this area, but on D-Day it was only necessary to look up to know something big was up. Shortly after we got the flash that troops had landed in France, and for the next few days large formations of transports could be seen pulling gliders towards France. Late in the evening of July 9th our orders came through for shipment to France. The next morning we left in a convoy of 85 vehicles for the marshalling area in Weymouth. We arrived there that night and waited several days for orders to cross the channel. Just before dark on the 13th we left the marshalling area to board the LST boats. The next morning we went aboard at Portland. Our convoy took off on July 15. The two ships carrying our company arrived at Omaha Beachhead. Just before midnight the trucks started to roll off the boats and simultaneously the Jerry bombers arrived and the AA opened up and made the sky look like a large scale fireworks. This was my first introduction to the sound of German bombers overhead, and one will never forget. July 17 we received orders that we were to assist in taking St. Lo, and that same day we moved to within 4 miles of St. Lo and two days later I witnessed the first German fighter I had seen knocked down, a ME 109. While in this area I saw the sight I will never forget—the 3,000 plane raid on St. Lo, that preceded the breakthrough. As our bombs dropped on the enemy the ground trembled under us. Near the end of the raid, two planes let their bombs drop over our area. None was hurt but plenty of shrapnel flew around the area. We moved up to just south of Couvain on July 30, and moved again to Monsil on Aug. 3rd. The Division was joined there by the 4th Armored and we started the historic dash across France. On Sept. 27 we moved to Chateau Montor, on Nancy. We were glad to get indoors for the next six weeks. After a long stay in Nancy we moved to Brim. Here some of the men had to sleep with the farm cattle. On Thanksgiving Day, we moved to Achins near Chateau Salins. This was the town S-Sgt. Spurrier had taken single handed a few days earlier. On March 8, we moved to Beurg. The company drank a 250 gallon barrel of wine here. That country is all wine.
