Monday it was another day of hurried activity as the Permian Mud Company joined in the action and late Monday night, calls were still being made in an effort to secure labor gangs for mud work. Tuesday, it appeared that all was under control and it is reported that drilling will continue to the contracted depth. Meanwhile, another round of interest in the oil business apparently is building up for Rankin.

Ahead Plan Started Civil Defense Class

Meeting attended by some of the last Thursday night, preparations for a civil defense class in Rankin were made. Mr. Zolte and Melvin "Sonny" Zolte, Rankin High School principal, were selected to take the course in Fort Stockton next Monday night and through Friday night for a 15 hour course. The local course will be scheduled in the near future. Thursday night meeting, explained that at least 20 had to indicate an interest in the study course before it is scheduled. This number is more than secured and more interested parties are being interested in attending. Contact is requested to contact the school business office at MY 3-2842 and leave their name. This list of interested parties is being compiled so that it will be known how large a class to make preparations for and whether or not more than one class will be necessary. 1327 POLL TAXES PAID AS OF WEDNESDAY AM Only 1327 poll taxes had been paid in Upton County as of 10 a.m. Wednesday. Voting strength for the county was expected to be between 1800-2000. Officials were still optimistic, however, and pointed out that as of last Monday, only 960 had paid and that the last day or two are always big sellers. The 1327 figure did not include any exemptions, which will be tabulated after the rush selling is over at midnight, January 31.

Local New Dimes Drive To Continue in February

Mrs. Zollie Rawlins, chairman of the Rankin New March of Dimes, announced this week that the drive would continue into the month of February and that anyone who wished to mail in contributions should make their check payable to "Rankin New March of Dimes" and mail to Mr. or Mrs. J. T. Bushong, treasurers of the Rankin portion of the Upton County fund raising. She also added that the "House to House" drive would be under the direction of Mr. Bill Cook and the Boy Scouts and warned residents against giving donations to anyone other than youths properly dressed in Scout uniforms and wearing proper identification when they call door-to-door for funds.

This drive will be made February 8. Other committee workers include Mrs. Claude Sheffield, poster and publicity; Mrs. O. R. Adams, store counter containers; Mrs. Ross Wheeler, activities; and Mrs. Lloyd Harlan, Midkiff Camp Area chairman.

"We especially want to thank the people of the community for their past donations to the Dimes (Continued to Back Page)

Freak Accident Hits Trash Hauling Truck

A freak accident Monday afternoon resulted in some damage to the City trash truck and a good bit of excitement for all concerned. In unloading the truck, Red Holcomb, operator, backed up to the edge of the canyon at the dump ground. Along this edge is an accumulation of old trash and rubbish and this gave way under the rear wheels of the truck, causing it to roll back and over the edge of the cliff and into a part of the dump that was on fire. Without traction under the rear wheels, Holcomb could not drive the truck forward and before it could be moved, the tires caught fire and all four were burned off. Rankin Volunteer Fire Department answered the call and the blaze was put out without any further damage. New tires were on the truck and trash hauling was resumed Wednesday.

10-CENTS FOR THAT !

The moans and groans that had been expected when it was announced last week that the news stand price of The News would be 10-cents effective February 1 have failed to materialize—with just a few exceptions. This worries me a little. It either means that the folks who get their paper at the newsstand are going to go ahead and keep getting it at 10-cents—or (1) they are going to stop getting it at all; (2) they are going to go right on paying 5-cents for it; or (3) they will just pick it up and put in nothing. See how exciting newspapering is?

About that 10-cent price. Now I could say that all the rest of the weekly newspapers in this area get a dime—which they do—or I could say it's because prices keep going up—which they do—but the real reason is, I just need the money. I don't say it's worth a dime—I never said it was worth a nickle. You can always pay a subscription and get it cheaper. But if the post office can sell a piece of paper no bigger than a postage stamp for a nickle—which they appear to be well on the way toward doing—I certainly ought to get a dime for the few sheets that make up The News.

Besides, where else can you pick up a five-cent newspaper that has about two-cents worth of news, for a dime—and not pay for it anyway? Buddy, there's a bargain in there someplace.

THANK GOODNESS—

Somebody has observed that the cause of all that is wrong with the United States is the fact that we are trying to run the country with only one vice-president.

TOGETHERNESS—

Togetherness is the very latest for families and we at our house have had about a week of it—all sick together. It's really lots of fun though. You argue about the TV programs, who's time it is to feed the animals, who is the more able to go after the mail and all those little things. We even all took our pill together—and used about three bottles each doing it.

Along with a good many other space-minded citizens—or saps—we got up about 5 a.m. last Saturday to see them shoot Mr. Glenn into orbit and after spending a few million in tax payers money they decided that it wasn't a good day for shooting people into orbit and called the whole thing off. The only ones who didn't seem to mind too much was that crowd gathered down on the beach—they just drank their beer and had a big time anyway.

If they have to have me on hand for the next try Thursday, they're going to be one hand short.

EXPLAIN, PLEASE—

How do you account for the fact that almost half the citizens of Upton County wait until the last three days before the deadline to pay their poll taxes?

CHEERS—

Of late there has been considerable publicity in local and daily newspapers about the program now underway by livestock raisers to try to eradicate the screwworm fly. A similar program has been worked almost to perfection in Florida. Most authorities are of the opinion that it can and will be done in Texas.

The thing that looks good to me about this program is the fact that most of it appears to be in the hands of the individual raisers and their own organizations—they are putting up a good sized chunk of money and are doing most of the leg work—instead of waiting for the federal or state governments to do the job for them—which would have taken many months longer. It's good to see that there are still those who believe that individuals can accomplish a goal without the all-wise and benevolent aid of big government. To be sure, the state and federal agencies will have a hand in the project—we will never again likely see anything in which they do not—but the individual ranchers and farmers are taking the lead and it is well in order to say: Cheers.

PROSPECTS—

It now appears to be almost a sure thing that the residents of Texon will be looking for new home sites before too long. With the change in ownership of the Plymouth Oil Company, the word is out that Texon will be closed as an oil camp and that residents may move to any nearby town they choose. In the main, this will mean either Big Lake or Rankin.

It would seem likely—without having talked directly to any of the people in Texon, that Big Lake will draw most of them if they do make a move since they have long been associated with the Reagan County town by way of schools, county seat, etc.

This, however, should not mean that Rankin ought to pass up the opportunity of at least making known to the Texon residents that they would be most welcome here. Reliable information says that the values of lots and property in Big Lake are already going up as a result of speculation that more people will be moving in there. Let's hope that Rankin has had enough sad experiences in the past with this sort of think to have learned that it is the best way NOT to get folks to move in.

A few fair deals could go a long way right at this time toward helping some Texon people decide where they will relocate.

TAKE A "REST BRAKE"

The coffee break both morning and afternoon seems to be well established American custom.

Now comes the suggestion for a "rest break". The idea back of this is that many home accidents (and they are still the most common, you know) are caused by fatigue. It is when a person is tired that everything seems to go wrong, fingers are all thumbs, everything's in the way to trip us, and things of that kind. So, it is suggested that when tired, take off five minutes and just re-

One way to keep from being tired so often is to put first things first when planning work for the day or week—or is the trouble that we don't plan? Plan the kitchen for easy working, keep equipment in good working order, and use the right tool for the job, a sharp knife is less apt to cause an accident than a dull one. Leave out any part of the job you can, work in correct position, use both hands, and have things within easy reach.

FOOD IS CHEAP—

Well, I doubt if you would agree with that, but here is what the figures show—the average family spends 21 percent of its take-home pay on food now as compared with 26 percent in 1947-1949. Or another way of figuring it is that it now requires 38 hours of work to pay for one month's supply of food as compared with 59 hours in 1947-49. In many hours of work food costs less than in any other country.

So maybe it isn't cheap, but we could be a lot worse off!

Local Men Cited for Work on Animal Health Program

The Animal Health Foundation released the following news this week:

The local committee, composed of Hamp Carter, Norman Elrod, DeWayne Lindsey, Jack Garner, Ray Barrett and Preston Patton have done an outstanding job in the fund collection for Upton County.

The recent extremely cold weather, in the estimation of authorities, has reduced the over-wintering area of the screwworm fly to such an extent that they feel this will be an ideal year to initiate the control program. It is, services chairman brought before the chapter the plan for the chapter project of the development of the park in Rankin.

It was also reported that a pledge meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Ricky Mantooth on the evening of January 15, 1962 and that the forthcoming meeting of pledges is to be held in the home of Mrs. Bob Peacock on the evening of January 29 at 7:30 p. m.

therefore, of the utmost importance that producers' contributions be collected as quickly as possible. The amount of money collected locally will be an indication to various state and federal appropriating bodies of the producer interest in this program. Many authorities feel that it likely will be many years before we will have such an ideal year in which to start the program.

It would be unfortunate if this program were to fail due to lack of enthusiasm of the producers' part. By and large, most of our counties have done a very fine job. Explanation to your local committee of the effect of the recent hard freeze on the screwworm over-wintering area and its implications will help your committee understand the urgency of
