Rankin Methodist Ask Relief Clothing

More than a million homeless people in the eastern provinces face the cold months ahead without adequate clothing or bedding. This help has been received by churches of Church World Service, according to Rev. J. Ross Johnson, pastor of the Rankin Methodist Church.

Mrs. Norman Leach, Mrs. J. Ross Johnson, and Mrs. Gossett are a committee which will receive and crate clothing and used clothing to take to the center. Masterson has said, "The extra blanket in your closet can save a life in Algeria."

Algeria, Algeria, will distribute this clothing and blankets. The League of Red Cross Societies, Catholic Relief Services and the American Friends Service Committee are cooperating with the Church World Service in this project.

Because of the urgent needs of Algerians now freezing in mountain areas, the Methodist Church has advanced funds to send an emergency air shipment of blankets, which will already be keeping chilly people warm by the time this article is read.

"The extra blanket in your closet can save a life in Algeria," Masterson pointed out.

Rankin Tournament Set December 7 & 8--

Basketball Play Highlights Local Activities in Rankin

Basketball opened this week in Rankin schools on all fronts with games scheduled for the boys and girls in high school as well as the 7th and 8th Grade boys and girls.

The high school went into action Tuesday night in a game with Barnhart, winning the boys' contest by a 48-45 mark and taking the girls' game 54-31. Originally scheduled to play Garden City, the game was changed last Monday when it was learned of a mix-up in the schedule. The boys' team had a one-day workout prior to their game in which Jerry McDonald was high point man with 17 points, followed by Larry Braden at 12. Ruth Brummett led the girls with 26 points, followed by Jeanne Smith with 18.

The week's schedule of basketball appears elsewhere in this issue of The News and will be a regular weekly feature for the remainder of the season.

On the roster for the boy's high school team are: Billy Adams, a

Stock Show to Include Lam-A-Rama This Year

Even attended a Lam-A-Rama? You'll get your chance on January 12, date of the annual Upton County 4-H Club Livestock Show in Rankin.

County Agent Dub Day, in setting the January date for the show, said that an all-day Lam-A-Rama would be held in connection with the livestock exhibit. This will be a cooking demonstration, put on by a specialist from Texas A&M College, showing the many different ways to cook and serve lamb. On hand will be a butcher who will demonstrate the cuts of lamb from a dressed sheep. The cooking instructor will then take the cut of meat, prepare it and cook it and then put it out for sampling. West Texas Utilities Company will assist in the demonstration by furnishing stoves, cookers, etc.

The demonstration will be held at the elementary school cafeteria all day on the 12th and will be followed by the livestock show that night in the school bus barn.

The public is to be invited at no charge to the entire event.

Day said that he believes housewives will be particularly interested in the Lam-A-Rama and that many helpful hints on cooking and serving lamb can be learned.

Mrs. W. M. Day Is New Ele. Teacher

Mrs. W. M. Day has been employed on a permanent basis as a third grade teacher by Rankin Schools. She has, in the past, done substitute work for the school.

Mrs. Day, the former Christine Yopham, is a native of Rankin, having herself graduated from the local high school. She holds a BS degree from North Texas State College. This is her first regular teaching job.

She is the mother of three daughters and has been active for a number of years as a member of the Exemplar Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi and other club and civic affairs in Rankin.

Her husband, Dub, is the County Agent for Upton County and is noted for his prize-winning 4-H teams and for raising a fine group of daughters.

Deer Are Hard To See Anyway

to have been a picture of Workman and Bobby and two deer that they P. McKavit—they were a "bair" of dandies—but something, she went wrong—the deer you no can see. The News has never been late in 10 years and after trying 250 sheets of newsprint—with time running out—you will just have to imagine that you can see the deer.

BAGGED A BAIR—

Newspapering is a sorry way to make a living. One should take up ranching but the bank takes you over sooner or later either way—if you can talk them into it.

Last week, in an effort to plug a hole, I dropped in a little item about a couple of Rankinites who when deer hunting. And I found out that a lot of readers read even the little hole pluggers—in an effort to find a mistake, I suspect.

In any case, the article stated that the two hunters bagged "a bair near Brady." After the News came out, three different batches of hunters packed up and headed south to try their luck with this new sport.

Now that word bair might have been a bear, or beer, or deer or dear but it was supposed to have been pair, or pear or peer but if it had been, we'd not have had near as buch bun.

And a little word to the wise—local law enforcement officers said that game wardens are thick as hops down south with road blocks and strict inspection. They require that those having deer in their possession have their hunting licenses punched on the proper dates—a new requirement for this year. One group of Upton County hunters have already laid out over $200 in fines—plus some jail time—for opening the season a little early.

Better play it safe whether you hunt deer, deer, or bair.

ASPIRIN, ANYONE—

Up in Kennedyville, D. C. last week, the Number One Brother picked up a pen and signed his name to an order that had something to do with federal money, lent for the purpose of house building that said in sorts that such funds could not be used in any instance where race discrimination was practiced.

I would say that this is a reasonable requirement for taxes are collected from one and all alike—

The Rankin (Tex.) News— Thursday, Nov. 29, 1962

regardless of race, color or creede. But the fact that one man can put his John Kennedy on a piece of paper and then say that it is the law of the land smirks—as the noted columnist David Lawrence has pointed out—of pure and simple dictatorship.

Congress passed no such law. The Supreme Court didn't even twist the constitution in this case. Kennedy just made the rule all by his lonesome—and tacked on the penalty that brother Bobbie, as Attorney General, was to take whatever steps he saw fit to see that it was carried out.

Shades of Adolph Hitler!

And while the president—as he is called—was enacting himself a law that was supposed to make us all equal, a Negro leader in St. Louis was telling a gathering that you could not do such things by law, that you could only get equality through the heart.

What a quaint attitude. One would suspect that he had been reading after the preacher who said about the same thing some 1962 years ago when he came out of the carpenter shop in Nazareth.

We just naturally like to do things the hard way.

FOR SHAME—

Most of us remember former school superintendent Joe Scrivner, now head of the Dumas system. Well, it seems that Jose has become a man to watch—at least in the opinion of one Texas publication, a newspaper printed in Austin and called "The Texas Observer."

The Observer bills itself as the voice of liberalism in Texas and is not above being rather vicious in its attacks on those who manage to come under its definition of being too conservative. It even takes the position a good bit of the time that President Kennedy is a fellow to be watched, that he is too conservative, that he rattels for starting a program on Americanism in Dumas schools. The paper did not—in so many words, say that Scrivner was some kind of nut but it left the impression that he ought to be watched.

"Compulsory Patriotism" is what they labeled the effort in Dumas schools to teach students more about the Nation, to impress upon them the values of their heritage.

Like I said, most of us know Joe pretty well, but did you ever figure him for a trouble maker? Imagine, forcing patriotism upon those school kids when—according to some views right here in Texas, he ought to be teaching them one-worldism.

For shame.

WHY NOT?—

Each year, one hears more and more people complaining about having to shop for Christmas.

Most of the time they will tell you that the big trouble is the crowds and finding suitable presents.

Have you ever tried doing your Christmas shopping right here at home? There's a good many advantages to such a suggestion.

In the first place, you don't have to drive a couple of hundred miles—and with the money saved in that department, you could more than pay for a big Christmas dinner. Then, there's no big rush—plenty of time tomorrow if you don't get everything the first day. Selections are actually better when you consider that the merchandise has not been culled over by a few thousand shoppers. And if you don't find exactly what you're looking for, local merchants have time to make a special order for you.

You get personal attention. Most of us know one another and there is no big hassle when we want to give a check or just say "charge it."

And Price. Well, not many people go bargain hunting when Christmas shopping and you will find many items to be brand name products which sell for the same price regardless of where you buy.

Then there's returns. Everybody gets gifts that he either will return or at least wish he could. If the gift had been bought locally, the chances are there would be no questions asked when it is returned for exchange. Did you ever get a gift bought in a far away place, that you didn't really want or couldn't use but kept it anyway because of the trouble and expense involved in returning it for exchange? Most of us have at one time or another.

So why not try doing your Christmas shopping at home this year and then, if you don't want to use the money saved for a big dinner, take it and "go to town" and treat yourself to a ball.
