Petitioners Ask That Election be Called--

Decision on Low Rent Pending in City Council

As of Wednesday morning, the Rankin City Council was awaiting an opinion from the city attorney, John Menefee, before taking their next step on the proposed low rent housing program for Rankin. Mayor J. B. Pettit had contacted Mr. Homer Pace, Jr. of Midland who has been the steering agent to this point of the project, and Mr. Pace had mailed requested information to Menefee. An opinion from attorney Menefee was expected some time Wednesday.

In question was what to do about a petition bearing thirty-three names and submitted to the City by W. O. Adams, local rent property owner and business manager of Rankin Schools. The petition requested that an election be held by the City before further action is taken to determine whether a majority of residents approve of the program.

From information available, it would appear that the petition does not have sufficient names to require an election. Pace told Mayor Pettit that 100 names was necessary. There is still some question that the council would be required to call an election even if a 100-name petition was submitted; or, whether it might not be possible for them to call for a vote without any petitioners. These are some of the questions awaiting answers from the city attorney.

Mayor Pettit has indicated that he will call the council together and decide upon their next step sometime this week.

In discussing the petition with the News, Adams stated that he feared the low rent housing would be detrimental to local rent property owners. He further stated that he felt that the present Federal spending policy was unsound and that Rankin's participation in any of the programs would only make matters worse. He suggested that if Rankin wanted to go into the low rent housing business, a better way would be for a bond election to be held within the City of Rankin and if it should pass, for the city to issue its own bonds to cover cost of the program.

Adams said that he had long been a supporter of Rankin and has always tried to help build up the town. He said that he decided to oppose the low rent program only after giving it considerable thought. He further expressed the opinion that those who oppose the program should not be ridiculed or made to feel that they were being unpatriotic.

"We should be able to disagree with one another and still be on friendly terms," he said.

NEXT STEPS

Should the City Council decide to go ahead with the low rent program, one of their next steps would be to appoint a five man local housing board. This board would then take over the project and carry it on to completion and would continue to administer it in Rankin.

Among the first steps that would be taken by the local board would be to secure a survey by the Federal Housing Authority. This survey would determine first whether or not Rankin could qualify for Federal sponsored low rent housing. If it did not, that would, apparently, be the end of the matter. If Rankin did qualify, it would then be determined how many houses or units and their type—one-bedroom, two bedroom, duplexes, etc.—would be necessary and at what wage level renters would be eligible to live in the units.

It might be found that Rankin needed only one unit, or six units or two dozen. The wage level might be $2,000, $3,000 or $4,000—lower or higher.

But as of Wednesday, the only question to be decided was: what is the next step? Do we go ahead, call it quits or call an election?

Some decision will likely be reached before the week's end.

Yule Lights Go Up; Contest Scheduled

Christmas lighting went up in Rankin last Monday and the project was carried out quicker than it had ever been done previously. The speed-up in installation of the Yule lighting was made possible by the new pole arrangement installed last year on Main Street and a portion of Highway 67.

And, to add further to the spirit of the season, the Exemplar Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi announced this week that they will again sponsor a home light-and-decorating contest. Prizes of $15, $10 and $5 will be awarded for 1st, 2nd, and 3rd place winners. Judging will be carried out by a committee who will make an inspection of the town and announce their selections on December 23. Mrs. Lucy Simpson is chairman of the contest.

Boy Scouts Slate

Christmas Tree Sale

Rankin Boy Scouts of Troop 56 have taken over the duties of selling Christmas trees. This endeavor was formerly handled by the Girl Scouts, now inactive in Rankin.

Trees are scheduled to arrive within the next few days and will be sold out of the Hogan Motor Company, just North of Cashway Grocery and the same site as used last year.

Scouts have requested the public to hold off buying Christmas trees until their supply arrives.

10th Annual Tournament Crane Wins Friday in Rankin

Crane will tee up the tournament at 2:30 p.m. Friday, as the Rankin Red Devils defend their tenth annual title. Defending champion Crane will be back and in the role of the two-time defending champion. Other teams entered include Balmorhea, Monahan, Big Lake, McCamey and host Rankin. Balmorhea open the tournament and will be followed by the Crane team. For the afternoon game, Rankin takes on McCamey at 6:00 p.m. and at 8:30 p.m. Rankin and Wink are to meet. The Red Devils won their title in a game in Rankin Monday by a slim margin and were defeated Tuesday night to McCamey. The Badgers are considered to be the team that may challenge Crane the strongest with possible stout opposition from Iraan, Big Lake and Rankin. Balmorhea usually fields a good small team while the Wink Wildcats are always good competitors. The Monahans "B" team can be a serious threat, depending on the boys assigned to the squad from the large Class 3A school.

Action Saturday will get underway at 9:10 a.m. and will feature games throughout the day. Consolation finals will be at 6:00 p.m. and the championship finals start at 9:00 p.m., Saturday.

PAST HISTORY

Only four champions have won top honors in the previous nine tournaments. McCamey won the first two in 1956-1957. Ft. Stockton then took three in a row and dropped from contention because they wanted to find stronger competition. In 1961, 1962 and 1963, Big Lake was winner and were unseated last year by Crane. The past history of repeating winners makes the Golden Crane entry look even more secure.

Rankin has finished second in two of the tournaments—in '63 and '64—going down in the final match by a total of some six points. Other second-place winners has been Iraan ('56), Ft. Stockton ('57), McCamey ('58) Crane ('59, Big Lake ('60), Ozona ('61 and '62).

Rankin finished third in the first year of play, followed by O-

DOES IT NOW—

It's sometimes amusing to consider how rumors get started.

A few years back some fellow wrote a song that said in part: "The headbone connecteth to the backbone; the backbone connecteth to the backbone; the backbone connecteth to the hipbone; etc." It was a hit song and was generally accepted by one and all as—if not musical—at least a reasonable composition of facts as related to the human anatomy.

But is it really?

Anyone who has ever seen a Go-Go dancer when he or she gets up a full head of steam will readily realize that there ain't nothing connecteth to nothing in the human body.

SORRY ABOUT THAT—

If you are one of those who has been accustomed to "picking up" your Rankin News each week in front of the post office, you likely failed to get last week's issue unless you got there pretty early. Some petty thief stole the paper rack. It was the last one I had on hand so that ended the paper business in front of the post office for last week.

That was the first rack belonging to the News to be stolen in almost seven years. It seems we have either inherited a sneak thief into town or raised up one of our own. At least two different homeowners have reported theft of coins from their homes in recent weeks—one for about $150 in silver.

If you are planning to be out of town for even a few hours, it might be well to lock up your place, something most never do—or leave your coin collections, etc. with relatives or friends if you plan an extended trip. In the meantime, report any suspicious characters or activities to the sheriff's office. They have already put in a good bit of time, have some pretty good

... situation was faced here several years ago and the News lost about three racks. The long arm of the law put a stop to that episode. When a thief gets down to stealing paper racks, it means one of two things: either he's a mighty petty thief or—in the case of the News—he will work for peanuts. I'll bet it took him three hours to get that thing open—and for naught. I had taken the money out shortly before it was stolen. Some days it just don't pay.

THE ALMANAC—

Every two years, the Dallas Morning News publishes the "Texas Almanac." The 1966-1967 edition is a beautiful book—a work of art—and on page 41 of its 736 pages, has a picture with the following description beneath: "Modern public buildings and plaza greet visitors to Mexico; this (the picture) is at Piedras Negras, across from Del Rio."

"Nah" to you who think the Rankin News is the only one that ever makes a boner. We may go a little over our quota but we've got company—even in high places.

Anyway, despite not being an authority on Mexico, the Almanac is a book well worth having around the house. You can win a lot of arguments with it. And it is chock full of information.

On the portion about Upton County, it shows that in 1960, we had a total of 3,147 men and 3,082 women; that the average age was — women please note— 24.2 years. 1,572 children were enrolled in schools; there were 2,165 people employed from 1,604 families and each family had an average income of $5,595.

Annual rainfall is 12.62 inches; average January temperature is 33 degrees while the average July temperature runs 96. In 1964, passenger car registration stood at 2,143—and these's probably almost that many trucks—while the poll tax was 1,766. Wages paid in the county in '64 amounted to $4,236,308 while retail sales amounted to $5,088,000—which goes to prove that our rate of "foreign exchange" is in pretty fair condition.

Our economic index stood at 0.296 as compared to 0.088 for Upshur County, 0.099 for Uvalde County, 0.157 for Reagan County, 0.175 for Crockett County, 0.051 for Glascock County, 0.667 for Crane County and 0.432 for Pecos County. I'm not sure what economic index means but we're way out ahead of most of the counties.

A note to water well drillers in Upton County: you can stop saying you have drilled into Trinity Sand. Water maps of Texas show the Trinity Sands to be about where they should be, namely, along the Trinity River Basin.

And, in case you're interested, you can place your order for a Texas Almanac at The News, naturally.

Rebekahs' Bazaar

Opens on Saturday

Friends and supporters of the Rankin Rebekah Lodge, and the public in general, are reminded of the Christmas Bazaar that is slated to be opened Saturday, December 4 by that organization. Officially, the Bazaar will get underway at 10:00 a.m. in the Ford Theatre Building in the former quarters of the Norman Elrod Insurance office. Everyone is invited to drop in and look over the wide selection of items to be offered—all made by local members of the lodge.

The assortment will include delicious homemade cakes, cookies, candy, etc. for the Yuletide. Also, a number of handmade household items will be offered.

Funds derived from the project will be used by the Lodge in their work in Rankin. Among these activities is the sponsorship of Rankin Scout Pack 56.

Bell Have 24 Home for Thanksgiving

Some thirty-two years ago, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bell came to Rankin. At that time, the family consisted of the two parents and five children. When the family met at the Bell home in Rankin for the traditional Thanksgiving dinner last Thursday, twenty-four of the now thirty members of the "clan" were on hand.

Among those attending were Mr. and Mrs. James Mims, David, Nancy and Martha; Mr. and Mrs. Al Owens, Janice and Vickie; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Priddy, Curt, Kent and Kim Larue. Mr. and Mrs. Curlin Hawkins, Clay and Debbie; and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lee Bell, Tommy and Johnnie.

PESTICIDE POINTER— FALL CONTROL

The careful disposal of empty pesticide containers and surplus pesticides, during the fall season, is an important part of safe pesticide use. Specialists in the safe use of pesticides point out that following safe disposal procedures are vital for those farmers and ranchers who use pesticides extensively, because their errors could lead to serious hazards to themselves and others.

"Empty" pesticide containers can be a hazard to children, pets and livestock. Barrels and drums converted into livestock feed troughs, water storage tanks, or raft floats can become sources of contamination of feed and water.

Your responsibility as a pesticide user continues until any "empty" pesticide containers and any surplus pesticides are disposed of safely and properly. Contact your county Extension agents for proper methods of disposal.

FALL STORAGE—

The producer who makes extensive use of pesticides needs two safe storage areas in the safe use of pesticides and "empty" pesticide containers.

CAUTION: Do not store weed-killers, herbicides or defoliants in the same room with insecticides. Materials that change to vapor readily can contaminate other pesticides. Chlorate salts can create a fire or explosion hazard.

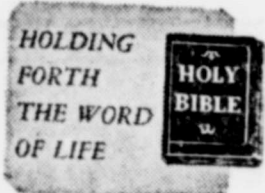

Buildings or rooms used for storage purposes should be dry, ventilated and under lock and key. Outside storage areas should be fenced in to protect children and animals.

Remove only the amount of pesticides needed for one day's

Study Club Meeting Will be Thursday

Rankin Study Club will meet on Thursday afternoon, December 2, for their first monthly meeting. Time will be at 4:00 p. m. at the Rankin Park Building.

"Conservation" will be the topic of the meeting with roll call to be answered by naming "My favorite flower."

Included in the program will be the usual interlude of music. Slated to address the gathering is Mr. J. R. Haralson, US Department of Agriculture Specialist for this area. Mrs. Jack Smith is the leader for the afternoon.

Hostesses are to be Mrs. R. L. Craig and Mrs. C. A. Shaffer.

Next regularly scheduled program to follow for the Study Club is scheduled for December 16.

Oh Yes, We Are Too, Invited . . .

Although that newspaper that is printed in that town 101 miles east Rankin named everyone in West Texas except Rankin as being interested and invited to attend a meeting on Horsehead Crossing and Castle Gap, a letter received this week from Dorsey B. Hardeman states that we are—in fact—even encouraged to attend this meeting. Originally scheduled last month, the get-together was delayed due to the death of Senator Hardeman's father.

Date for the meeting will be December 13 at 4 o'clock in the Community Hall at Crane. Representatives of the Parks and Wild Life Commission, the Texas Highway Department and the Tourist Development Agency are to be present to discuss the feasibility and the potential of the development of these points (into tourist attractions), according to Hardeman.

Also slated to be present is John Ben Shepperd, President of the State Historical Survey Committee.

Senator Hardeman has expressed the hope that a good delegation from Upton County will attend the meeting.

LOCAL PLANS

The projects of development of both Horsehead Crossing on the Pecos River and Castle Gap in Upton County into historical attractions has been underway in counties in this area for a good many years. Both points figure extensively in early-day Texas history. It is now felt by local supporters of the programs that with the state agencies beginning to show interest, there is—at last—a good chance of carrying out the development plans.

Local planners are pushing for state parks at both locations. These plans also call for paved all-weather roads to be built into the Horsehead Crossing and the Castle Gap areas.

HINTS for the HOMEMAKER

By Mrs. Louie S. Jeffers, County Home Demo.

THRIFTY MEAT BUYING—

Here's a thrifty way to buy beef, suggested by the meat specialists of the Consumer and Marketing Service—the USDA agency handling both meat inspection and grading.

Check the prices of the beef-arm. This is a thick, round-bone pot roast, which is part of the chuck or shoulder. It is usually a very economical cut of beef.

Buy a 4 or 5 pound arm roast. With a little bit of kitchen surgery, you can cut portions for three meals. Cut the roast in thirds. Slices from one portion make good Swiss steak. The center portion with bone in is the pot roast. The remaining portion can be cut into cubes for stew.

Long, slow cooking is necessary for a beautifully browned, juicy pot roast. Coat the meat with flour to brown. Cook slowly; pour off drippings, then season. Add a small amount of liquid and simmer. Do not boil. Cook for 3 to 4 hours.

For variety, give your pot roast some glamour treatment. Try this next recipe with the center-of-arm cut of any beef pot roast.

Calypso Pot Roast call for 3 to 4 pounds of beef arm or blade pot roast, 3 tablespoons flour, 3 teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 3 tablespoons drippings or lard, 1 can or 1 pound of tomatoes, 1 medium onion sliced, ½ teaspoon ginger, 1 clove garlic, minced.

The Rankin (Tex.)
Thursday, Dec. 2,

Dredge meat in flour, drippings or lard. Potatoes. Season meat with pepper. Add tomato, ginger and garlic. Cook and simmer 3½ to 4 hours until tender. Thicken gravy if desired. Serve with potatoes.

Robert Cox of Ozona was high in 1962 while Big Lake retained the slot with Alton Wilborn in '63 and Rankin's Roy Winters was the winner last year.

High tournament team score was first set ten years ago by McCamey when they posted a three-game total of 198 points. Currently, that honor is held by Crane when they won last year with a total of 229 counters. High one-game score was held by Iraan when they ran up 88 marks in 1959 but this too, fell to Crane last year as they put 91 points on the board in one game. Another honor, not so much sought after, is that of low one-game score. Iraan also held this from 1958 until last year at 21 points. Currently, however, the spot is occupied by the McCamey Badgers who last year managed only 17 points in one of their games.

In 1958, the Sportsmanship Award to individual players was started. Imperial's Sonny Smith won that one. In 1959, McCamey Badger Mike Pirkle carried home the trophy and in 1960, Phillips Carnes of Ozona won. Rankin got their hands on the merchandise in 1961 when Bucky Scarborough was winner. In '62, they repeated with Ray Winters. Imperial came to the front again in 1963 with Alfred D'Vintella and McCamey took it for the 2nd time last year with B. Molina.

1964 All-Tournament selections were Roy Winters and Robert Brummett from Rankin, Bob McCoy and Richard Hayes of Crane, Wayne Smith of McCamey, G. Wolf of Wink, A. Mendey from Monahans, Micky Wann of Rock-springs, Chuck Reel of Iraan and Ismael Saligar of Ft. Stockton.
