Rankin May Hold "Big Onion" Title

Recently, the News carried an item about the king-sized carrots grown in Rankin. Now, it seems that we also ought to lay claim to the title of champion onion growers.

Last Tuesday, Mrs. W. O. Adams brought to the office, one of their "graden variety" onions that measured a full five inches across and weighed in at one and a half pounds. Not having the breath fresher at hand, the editor did not test the product, but Mrs. Adams assured us that they were "sweet as apples."

Sewing Classes for Girls Starts June 3

Beginning on Tuesday morning, June 3 at 9 o'clock, sewing classes will be held for all girls from the Sixth Grade through high school, according to Mrs. George Weinkauf, instructor of the program. Classes will be held in the Yates Hotel and are sponsored by the OEO.

Classes will be for two hours a week from 9 to 11 a.m.

"Girls will learn to make their own clothes, and have fun doing it," Mrs. Weinkauf said.

Adult classes, already underway at the center, will continue their Thursday sessions with the time changed to 9:00 - 11:00 a.m.

Mrs. Weinkauf also indicated that the adults would try including an upholstery class in their work if enough interest developed in the project.

"Any lady who wishes to learn to re-do her furniture is invited to attend the sewing class Thursday, June 5 beginning at 9:00 a.m." the instructor stated.

Variety of Events to be Offered --

SUMMER ACTIVITY PROGRAM TO START MONDAY AT SCHOOL

For the second year in a row Rankin Schools will sponsor a summer activity program. This year's program will get underway next Monday and will continue through the latter part of July.

Open to both boys and girls, any student who wishes to participate and who has not already signed up may do so next Monday.

Instruction will be under the supervision of coaches Bill Beasley and Wayne Mitchell with the pace of activities to be set by the participating students themselves. Activities offered will include weight lifting, track, flag football, tennis, volleyball, swimming and similar recreational outlets.

Boys and girls who will be in Grades 6, 7 and 8 next fall are to hold their "workouts" in the mornings. Those who will be in Grades 9 through 12 next fall are to hold their activities in the afternoon and evening after working hours.

There will be opportunities to enter track meets beginning in early June and continuing thru July when the State TAAF meet is held in Fort Worth.

Closings Set May 30 for Memorial Day

A general closing of offices and business houses will mark Memorial Day in Rankin, Friday, May 30. Generally, a one-day shut down will be followed with the exception of those places that are usually closed Saturday and Sunday.

Exceptions to the closing will include Cashway Grocery, most of the service stations and the cafes.

No special attractions have been announced on a local basis to mark the observance. However, a number of local residents are said to be making plans for fishing trips and other out-of-town activities.

Dwayne Holder is Recipient of Booster Scholarship for 1969

Dwayne Holder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Holder of Rankin, has been named recipient of the 1969 Rankin Booster Club scholarship, it was announced this week. Selection of Holder, who plans to attend Angelo State this fall, was made by voting of the club's membership.

The graduating senior was active in all sports at RHS and also participated in other school extracurricular activities. Currently, he will serve as life guard at the county pool this summer.

June 1 is Deadline for Trash Can Installation

June 1 is the deadline for having the new trash cans—with lids—in place in order to avoid an increase in the trash hauling fee charged by City of Rankin. The new requirement was set out in a recent ordinance approved by the city council.

Currently a charge of $1 per month is made for trash service; however, after June 1, all who do not have the required cans in place will be charged a $3 fee.

A check this week with local business houses selling the new cans reveals that approximately 300 cans have been sold locally. It is not known how many have been purchased out of town. Total estimated number required to put an average of two cans per resident is guesstimated at 800 - 900.

A check of alleys this week would tend to indicate that about half of the users have their cans already in place with a lot of last minute activity underway. Sales of stands, offered by local firms and several individuals, have also been brisk while a number of homeowners have put theirs in on a "do it yourself" basis.

IT'S HOME—

There are those who turn up their noses at living in a small town and who think that the big city life is where it's all happening. I guess it's whatever turns you on but for me, Rankin's just about the right size.

In a small town, you get to know the people. You know what the neighbors are doing and they know what you are doing. For the details, all you have to do is check with the kids.

In a small town, life is a lot easier—and safer—for you know people's driving habits. When you see Aunt Sue coming down the street, you know she always swings wide to turn onto Main so you allow plenty of room. If your car is broke down and at the garage, you use the mechanics until he gets yours fixed.

In a small town, the bank will sometimes honor your check even when you forget to sign it—if they figure you owed your local grocery store anyway—and you don't have to have ones box number in order to mail him a letter. Usually, the first name will even get the letter delivered.

Standing on the street watching a rodeo parade, you not only know the kids who ride but the names of a good many of the horses.

Even playing golf in Rankin has its advantages. You're never out much money for tees. You can hill it up on a rock just about any place on the course and when you go to the drive-in picture show, you can count the jack rabbits in the parking lot while you wait for the feature to get underway.

It's not real exciting but it's home.

The Scoop --

pay reparations to the blacks for past injustices. In the first place, many of these churches have Negroes among their membership and since any money a church might decide to pay would come from combined donations, it's a little like robbing Peter to pay Paul.

But this is a minor point. The thing that makes it close to hilarious to even think of such a thing is the fact that Negroes are not the only ones who have suffered injustices during the history of this nation. There are cases and causes that could be made on these grounds for a dozen or so nationalities and uncountable instances of individual situations—white, black, yellow, green or red.

And why churches? Why not the government for after all the churches are generally operated as single units and one might be guilty as charged while another might have a long record of social service to all races.

Actually, what we have here is someone who has thought up a good way to draw attention to himself and is playing the part with the idea in mind that anything that comes of it will be of benefit—primarily to him and his supporters.

I seriously doubt that the average Negro in this country has and more idea that churches owe him a chunk of money than any of the rest of us. I think it has been pretty well agreed that the Negro people are due a better shake in this country than they have gotten in the past and that a big majority of people are willing to give it to them. The same can be said for practically every minority as we grow more liberal in our outlook and more aware of how others live.

Aside from that, they probably realize that they're going to have to scratch out their living right along with everybody else.

I'll bet that if all the money in the U. S. was divided equally among each man, woman and child, it wouldn't be six months before it would again be piled up on about the same proportion as it now stands. Some seem to have a knack for getting money together—some don't—and the color of ones skin doesn't seem to have much to do with it.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith were at Saturday breakfast and he stated that he didn't have to go to the office that day.

"Well, don't think," said the wife, "that you're going to run off and play golf today and leave me alone with all this work to do."

"Why, golf is the furthest thing from my mind," replied the husband, "and please pass me the putter."

REPORT FROM AUSTIN

BY GEORGE BAKER
State Rep., 66th District

As the 61st Legislature heads into final days of the regular session it still is uncertain—at least at the time of writing this report—that a solution has yet been found to the division of opinion between Gov. Preston Smith and his sponsorship of two-year budgeting and Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes and Speaker Gus Mutscher in their position favoring single year appropriations.

The week saw action in the House on many bills of importance, with some going through and others failing.

Of great interest was the Kothmann resolution to submit the horse racing issue to voters in a constitutional amendment in November, 1970.

The issue was debated in a circus-type atmosphere. Kothmann's presentation started off on a light note, and the matter ended in uproarious laughter at numerous points—but beneath all the levity was an issue of intense interest to many Texans.

Most amazing to all was the 84-57 margin by which the measure lost. Most observers had predicted a defeat, on the basis of a required 2/3 majority vote—or 100 aye votes—but when only 57 members voted for the measure it astounded almost everyone. Apparently the mood of levity in which the matter was debated lost some expected support.

I voted with the majority against the proposal, realizing that this would be a vote disappointing to many voters in the 66th district.

In referendums last summer a majority of the total voters in the 66th district voted against the legalization of pari-mutual betting, which the amendment provided on a local option basis.

I was following both that mandate and my own convictions in the matter.

Earlier I had issued a statement in opposition to a pay raise amendment for legislators setting a maximum salary pegged to that of district judges.

Both Senate and House since have adopted enabling legislation which would set the annual salary at a more realistic figure—$9,800 in the Senate bill, amended to $6,800 by House action, and referred back to the Senate.

I voted for the amendment in the House setting the $6,800 annual salary, which represents a $2,000 increase in the present salary of $4,800, with no increases in expense or mileage allowances.

It has been ten years since the present salary was set, and in that period there have been sharp increases in all salary and cost areas—plus a substantial increase in the amount of work being handled and growing complexity in the state government and its affairs.

I would hope that voters of the 66th district will support the amendment as it now is pegged.

Status of my bills affecting the 66th district follows: East Coke County District enabling bill has been heard by the committee on counties, and should come out of committee for early action with favorable recommendation.

Authorizing a weed control district to be created by land owners and operators of Jeff Davis, Presidio, and Brewster counties, approved by Agriculture committee; held off the calendar at request of area residents pending further study.

Bill to authorize county commissioners to set up trust plans for maintenance of rural cemeteries; approved by committee.

Amendment to another bill put scheduled for consent calendar, giving Ward County under regulatory authority of Parks & Wildlife Commission.

The session ends June 2, and there will be few new bills added to the 2300 now in the hopper in both houses.

Many, many measures will be considered in the remaining days as the hours of work become longer and longer. Opinions of citizens of the district are always welcome, and are most helpful in determining the best interests of our 13 counties.
