SERVING THE INTERESTS OF RANKIN AND UPTON COUNTY

LXXVI—NUMBER 8

RANKIN (79778), UPTON COUNTY, TEXAS

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 26, 1970

Tuesday is big day for Rankin system --

Public School Week will be Observed March 2-6

Plans are well along on observance of Texas Public School Week in Rankin, according to H. G. Adams, superintendent of the district.

Scheduled for the week of March 2-6 in connection with the

Cathy Merwin is top Junior honor student

Twenty-two Rankin Junior High students were listed on the 4th Six Weeks Honor Roll this week. Eight are 6th Graders, ten are 7th Graders, and four are from the 8th Grade.

Top student for Rankin Junior High during the six-week period was Cathy Merwin, a 6th Grade student. She posted a 96.

Top 7th Grader was Mark Wheeler with a 94.6 while Angela Vick at 94.8 was the high 8th Grade student.

Other 8th Graders were Marilyn Braden, Denisa Day, and Jimmy Eggemeyer.

Others in the 7th Grade included Dianne Absher, Curtis Copeland, Gary Dupriest, Billy Helms, Kathy Hoelscher, Pan Hooper, Bobby Johnson, Sherry Page, and Ronnie Surber.

Others in the 6th Grade were Joyce Austery, Sarah Barrett, Hugh Jackson, Kent Peacock, Tammy Smitherman, David Story and Gary Varnadore.

annual state-wide observance, the big day for Rankin Schools is Tuesday, March 3.

On that date, in addition to the day-long school visitation, Rankin Lions Club will hold their pancake supper at the school cafeteria from 5:00 - 7:00 p.m. This supper has become a prime attraction over the years with the public getting the benefits of bargain rates on pancake eating — with all the trimmings.

Beginning at 7:30 p.m., at the high school auditorium, a Public Schools Week program will be held at which awards will be made to school personnel and entertainment will be presented by the Rankin Red Devil stage band under the direction of Gordon Schultz.

School will be dismissed Friday, March 6 in order that the local teachers may attend their annual West Texas State Teacher Association meeting.

Throughout the week, patrons of the district are being urged to visit the Rankin School during regular school hours. In addition, they are invited to eat lunch at the school cafeteria where meals are 75-cents for adults—or they may purchase a cafeteria - style meal, ranging in price from 50-cents upward.

"We always look forward to Public School Week in Rankin," said Supt. Adams. "It is our hope that every parent and interested person in the district will visit us next week and will attend the special program on Tuesday evening."

Commissioners hear Two Delegations

In their special meeting held last Monday, Feb. 23, the Upton County Commissioners Court met with two separate delegations — one from Rankin and one from McCamey.

Representing the Rankin Little League were Tommy Latham and Leon Feuge. They presented the court with a request for an additional Little League baseball field to be used as a practice field.

This request was approved by the court and work on the field is to get underway in the near future on county-owned property near the current Little League ball park.

The McCamey delegation was composed of Harry McAdams, a McCamey city councilman; Loyd McKinney, city secretary; Jim Pirkle, city water superintendent in McCamey; and C. C. Carll, editor and publisher of the McCamey News.

They discussed the upkeep of paving on McCamey Streets that have been deeded to Upton County. The Court requested that a survey be made of all the city streets and that they be graded according to their condition.

Then, at a future date, the Commissioner's Court would meet with the McCamey City Council and determine what further action is needed.

A five-year program was suggested at the Monday meeting.

Little Moisture falls in area damp spell

Mr. Fred Welling, official weather watcher in Rankin, reported a total of .31 inches of moisture has fallen in Rankin during the last week—up to Wednesday a.m.

Of this amount, .23 of an inch was received two days ago and .58 within the last 48 hours.

Blue - Gold Banquet will be held Thurs.

Thursday, February 26 is the date set for the annual Cub Scout Blue-Gold banquet in Rankin. The affair will be at the school cafeteria at 6:30 p.m.

This year marks the fifteen year of continuous Cub Scouting in Rankin. Sponsored by the Rankin chapter of the Rebecca Lodge, the Cub's will have Mr. Marvin Upshaw as their guest speaker for the evening. Mr. Upshaw is the Juvenile Officers for this area and is headquartered in Ft. Stockton.

Cub Scout officers include Ed Harris as the Institutional Representative; T. J. Kendrick, chairman; Bud Poage, Cubmaster; Roger Goodwin, assistant Cubmaster and Webelos leader; and Committeemen Tommy Wilkes, J. L. Johnson, Lee Casey, Glen Burns and Don Peters.

Den Mothers are Nelda Johnson, Hazel Kendrick and Mrs. Leon Feuge.

Adult Class Offered by School in Family Money Management

Beginning March 10, an adult education course, "Family Money Management" will be offered in Rankin under the sponsorship of the West Texas Education Service Center in Midland and the Texas Bankers Association.

Two-hour classes, beginning at 7:00 p.m., are to be held March 10, 17, and 24 and April 7, 14 and 21. There is no charge for attendance and those completing the course will be given certificates.

In addition to these, there will be others with special knowledge in specific categories on hand to lend their assistance.

There is no charge for attending the classes and indications are that there will be considerable interest, both locally and from the surrounding area towns.

Further information can be obtained from Supt. of Schools, H. G. Adams in Rankin.

... by now they would
... that—in West Tex-
... the weather is going
... it had-burned pleases
... ore times than not be
... opposite from what
... are are calling for.

... k, as far back as
... ese reports were call-
... spring like week end.

A bunch of folk went fishing — departing Rankin in a snow storm but assured that that would be only a temporary situation. Still others polished their golf clubs or planned out-door outings of one type or another.

So what'd we get? A week-end of weather that forced everyone inside to sit like the dunces we are and watch — among other slanted bits of broadcasting, the weather reports.

Just on the chance that these reports are having the opposite effects on the weather, I think we ought to get Spiro to pass a law banning all such efforts except on late Sunday evenings—after their chances of goofing up the works is past.

And another thing — talking about slanted news—did you ever notice that most of the time they don't tell it like it is? For instance, the guy will say, "chance for rain in the area is 15 percent". Well, heck, with odds like that why bother to mention rain.

What he should say is that it's five to one it won't rain.

But then, as you recall, Spiro warned us about these birds.

GREAT—JUST GREAT—

Last Monday, area newspapers carried a tall tale about a resolution being considered in the United Nations that would put a world-wide sales tax on luxury items such as automobiles, boats, tv sets, refrigerators and a few other items—with the big majority of the world market being in the U. S.

This money is proposed to help out the poorer nations. And its only one-half cent on the dollar.

Now how does that grab you? In the first place, can you remember when the sales tax in Texas was only 2 percent? And in the second place, how much of that money do you suppose the people in the poor nations would get? You don't think the rulers of these poor nations would spend it on such things as big government, fancy armies and the like do you?

Actually, the whole idea is too cockeyed even to discuss — but I, for one, would not take even a one dollar bet at 2 to 1 odds that it's not passed one of these days. With the lack of backbone displayed nowadays by "our leaders" when the world poor is mentioned, it wouldn't surprise me if they assigned each of us a couple of citizens in some foreign nation as our personal responsibility.

If it did pass and we stood still for it, however, I'd say we deserved every dime they were able to bleed from us.

ANOTHER NUTTY ONE—

In the matter of fruit-cake ideas that get started, a recent one that is being expounded is to the effect that there is no such thing as a "silent majority". This train of thought holds that only those who speak out, who protest and who raise hell in general are concerned—that all the rest of us are too wrapped up in ourselves to care one way or another.

The silent majority is becoming the butt of jokes and is held up to ridicule by the left wingers and the radicals.

And still the majority is silent. One wonders just how far—with the trial of the Seven Nuts in Chicago as an example—will these people have to go before the silent majority has something to say?

Or can it be that they're right and that the silent majority will remain silent while the house is torn down around their heads? I don't think so but there again, I'd be afraid to wager even a small bet.

A CAP TIP—

From time to time this column has had a few unkind words for Preston Smith—not as harsh as has been the case for some of our past governors, but still critical.

This time, I'd like to ask you to join me in a tip of the cap to Gov. Smith. Despite the howlings of the socialites, he refused to be stampeded into calling a special session of the Legislature to deal with the "shortage" of welfare money brought on by President Nixon's veto of the HEW bill.

Apparently he has worked out a solution—short of putting a bunch of them to work—and Texans have been spared the everlasting antics of the Legislature whenever it gets a chance to go into session.

Somehow, every time for the last fifteen or twenty years the Legislature has met in Austin, we out here in the boondocks have been tagged for a little more in tax money. There's no reason to think it would have been any different had they managed to get their heads together this time.

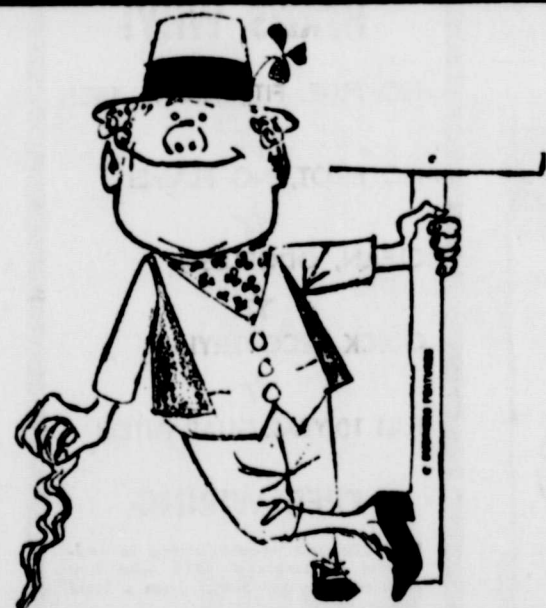

And they tried. Chief among the callers for a special session was Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes. Remember the fair-haired boy. He'll be back. At one time, he looked like he had the makings of a pretty good hand in state affairs. And then he found out that he could buy votes by espousing the big spender bit.

It's sad.

Rankin Reading Program Featured in TSTA Magazine

In the February issue of "The Texas Outlook", official publication of the Texas State Teachers Association, is a featured article by Mrs. Carol Gary, former resident of Rankin and a teacher of a special reading program within the local system.

Mrs. Gary, now in the Del Rio School System, submitted her article for publication while still a member of the Rankin faculty and drew heavily from her experiences while working here.

In connection with publication of the article, "The Outlook" has sent a letter of commendation to Supt. H. G. Adams and to Mrs. Gary—along with complimentary copies of the February issue for members of the school board.

Entitled, "Now is the Time to Make Plans for a Summer Reading Program," the writer states: "Children need a rest from regular school activities and an opportunity to receive experiences outside the school such as vacation trips, visiting relatives, and other home-centered activities. However, they do not need a rest from reading or a chance to forget reading skills.

GARY

"The majority of students do not read or even see a book during the summer. Some students speak an entirely different language all summer, and it may take two months for them to relearn their school language."

Among remedies for this situation, as called for by Mrs. Gary, are:

- A . . . mailing of studies or units such as a correspondence course on a lower level or a program of written letters to an instructor . . .
- . . . students meeting once or twice a week . . .
- A program similar to the regular school program but consisting of more entertainment activities . . .

• A program beginning a few weeks before school so that students might get a small review of words and other areas which need refreshing. This would give them more security among their peers when the regular school term begins. This plan might be carried out on the order of a day camp.

In still another part of the article, Mrs. Gary points out: "Awards might be given to encourage interest and participation . . .

RANKIN PROGRAM

In urging the use of reading programs in all schools, the author tells of the beginning of such a program in Rankin Schools:

"In the summer of 1969 the reading program became a reality in the Rankin ISD. With the help of administration, FTA members, parents and many others, a carefully constructed summer school program was developed. Reading, arithmetic, art, and physical education were offered to students from beginning first through eighth grades, with classes from 9 a.m. to 12 NOON on weekdays in June and part of July.

"The program was especially recommended for children with a reading problem. Notices were sent home with the pupils and placed in the local newspaper. The staff was composed of teachers, coaches, aides, volunteer FTA members, and the administration.

"Conclusions were that the program was a success. Although it was not compulsory for students to participate, attendance was good. Those involved had fun at the same time they were learning through a well-organized program keyed to suit their interests. Some students made gains at their own level which is sometimes difficult for a great many to do during a regular school term.

"The Rankin summer reading program proved that summer can be a time for both relaxation and learning," concludes Mrs. Gary.

Rankin fishermen find too much water

Mr. and Mrs. Archie McDonald called home last Monday to report that they were "rained-in" on a fishing trip on the Rio Grande near Eagle Pass.

They had had four days of rain at the time they called and it was still raining and they were unable to get their camper trailer onto firm ground.

And, due to the dampness, the fishing had been on the poor side.

"The Cheating Five" tells of defense used by Red Devil teams

BEASLEY

For the second time in less than a year, a member of the Rankin Schools coaching staff has had an article published in "Texas Coach" which is the official publication of the Texas High School Coaches Association. In their February issue they feature an story submitted by Bill Beasley, assistant Red Devil football coach and head track coach. Previously, the magazine had published a writing by RHS head coach George Boal.

Titled "The Cheating Five" — a defense for a small school—Beasley states:

"This article deals with a defense that is very appealing to me because of its simplicity and because it is designed for the school with a small enrollment.

"When I came to Rankin . . . we had a fine bunch of boys who were short of ability but long on pride and desire and this is all you need to run this defense."

In his writing, Beasley used a number of play illustrations showing the assignments of the various defensive men relative to actions taken by the opposing offense. With his article written a number of months prior to publication, Beasley describes the defense installed by Coach Wayne Mitchell. He explains that "it has been good to us and we feel we have gotten a little more out of our personnel than we might have otherwise.

"Since 1966 we have won 19 games, lost 11, and tied one, playing a non-district schedule against mainly AA opponents and such Class A adversaries of Coahoma and Sonora."

Easter Seal Appeal letters are being delivered this week in Upton County, according to Derwood Langston, who is the County Easter Seal Representative for the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Texas.

The 1970 Easter Seal Campaign will run through Easter Sunday, March 29.

Langston is urging increased support for the Easter Seal Society and its program of services to crippled children and adults.

Former Rankinite is song publisher, has album marketed

A religious album, "Songs We Learned at Church," released by a son of a Seminole resident and a resident of Rankin for some twelve years, is now in its second publication.

Weldon Kennedy second tenor with the a cappella quartet who sings the album is the son of Mrs. Mary Jo Kennedy and the late Jim Kennedy of Seminole. He is a graduate of Rankin High School, as was four other members of the Kennedy family. In addition, two of his sisters were formerly employed by Rankin Schools.

Kennedy, 35, lives in New Iberia, La. with his wife, Mary, and three children. He is a salesman for National Supply.
