McCamey Hospital Ruled Responsible --

Ghost of Dalglish Comes Back

The ghost of the departed Aussie Francis William Dalglish has apparently returned to Upton County, scene of its mortal possessor's last great act, that of palming himself off as a doctor and working as such in the McCamey Hospital for a short time. Dalglish, a native of Australia who had traveled all over the world representing himself as any number of things from police officer to brush pilot to medical doctor, ended his colorful career when he was felled by a fatal kidney illness shortly after his arrest in Upton County last year.

In subsequent events, he was transferred to an Odessa Hospital where his bill reached approximately $8,000, he was released to return home — courtesy of donations of people in McCamey, and later died in Australia. The decision as to who was to pay his bill at Odessa had not, however, passed away.

Upton County Auditor Hollis Huffaker had maintained that the bill could not be paid by Upton County—that it was unlawful for the county to do so. He was backed up in this decision by County Attorney John A. Menefee with the contention being that the law that created the McCamey and Rankin Hospital Districts made them responsible for indigent patients—those who could not pay—residing within their districts.

However, McCamey Hospital apparently did not read the law in the same light and had also refused to pay the bill. In order to get a clear ruling, Menefee submitted to the Attorney General's Office in Austin three questions:

"1. Is Upton County liable for the bill for medical treatment and hospital care of the indigent prisoner, Francis William Dalglish?"

"In the event the answer to the foregoing is yes, please answer this question:

"2. Can the County place in its budget an item 'for medical care and hospitalization of sick prisoners in county jails' and levy a tax therefor?"

"3. In the event the answer to the question number one (1) is no, does the liability for the medical bill lie with the McCamey County Hospital District?"

In a rather lengthy reply that cites laws and codes, the Attorney General said in substance: "1. No", "2. No", "3. Yes."

Upton County is not liable for medical bills of indigent prisoners, they cannot levy a tax for payment thereof, and the district in which the prisoner resided prior to his arrest is responsible for payment of his medical bills.

The ghost of Francis William Dalglish must be sitting back and enjoying it all for in real life he always liked a high adventure at high stakes. The Odessa hospital probably simply wishes someone—anyone—would pay the bill.

Awe, Comeon Fellers . . . Somebody Take the Money

The picture is something like a cartoon in which several of the male characters are running around with money in hand trying to get each other to marry the not so beautiful but blushing bride. It would appear that nobody is anxious to go into the ambulance business in McCamey.

In recent news reports, it has been stated that a McCamey funeral home operator, who has been operating an ambulance service in that area, had demanded that Upton County pay him a $200 per month subsidy or he would cease ambulance service on June 1.

As reported last week, the Upton Commissioners Court voted to give $75 a month to the Rankin and McCamey Hospital Districts—trying to treat everyone alike — for ambulance service operations. But McCamey Hospital District apparently is not at all favorable toward the idea and in an emergency meeting, said "no thank you, the law doesn't permit us to operate an ambulance service and we'll give Upton County and the City of McCamey $25 each per month and either or both of them can have the job."

And so it stands. The Upton Commissioners Court is not scheduled to meet again until June 14, the meeting dates of the City of McCamey and the McCamey Hospital District are also later this month and Rankin Hospital District hasn't officially said anything. Unofficially, they have indicated that they will take any amounts offered as long as it is equal to those given for ambulance operations elsewhere in the county—by whoever.

And what of the bride—the ambulance service for McCamey? A check with a source in the sister city on Wednesday disclosed that the funeral home operator hand, indeed, ceased operation of the ambulance service as of midnight, May 31.

SIGN UP—

What has to be one of the all-time classic statements was made by RHS Counselor Melvin Wimberley last week-end following a rather trying experience in which he and Dwayne Turner ran off in a wash-out at Independence Creek got good and wet, lost half a night's sleep, and never got to wet a fishhook.

It all came about as Wimberley, Turner, the Scoop, E. M. Sullivan, Charlie Hale, Dean Nicholson and assorted womenfolk, kids and a hoot owl were attending Joe Chandler's golf tournament over the Memorial Day week-end.

Following a day of golf Saturday, a fishing expedition was planned for the night. Wimberley and Turner led off in the direction of the Pecos River and decided that the best spot would be across Independence Creek. In order to get to the other side — the creek was out of banks due to heavy rains upstream — they had to ford at a crossing which had a large sign in front of it saying: "Don't Cross"; but since they were in a Scout with a four-wheel drive and the water didn't look too deep, they decided to test it.

FROM AFAR—

In this week's mail was a note from Mrs. Fay Hall Smith, the sister-in-law of Mrs. Jim Mathews. The Smiths, former Rankinites now living in New Orleans, say that they have seen the TV commercial that was made on the Dwayne Lindsey ranch and that it makes them homesick.

Mrs. Smith also enclosed a news clipping from the "Times Picayune" of May 25 that tells of the severe drought conditions prevailing in that area of Louisiana.

The item said that New Orleans proper had received only 3.92 inches of rain in March, .74 of an in. in April and 1.14 in May up to the 25th.

In all, they were about six inches short of the normal and the weathermen were calling it the "driest spring we've had in many years."

Shucks, I guess we could send them a little of our moisture. We've been without it so long that we hardly miss it anymore.

IT HARD SOMETIMES—

Sometimes it's hard to give money away. At least, that's the way the Upton Commissioners are finding it. Last week they voted to give McCamey and Rankin Hospital District $75 each per month to help defray ambulance operations.

The McCamey Hospital apparently decided that they didn't want anything to do with ambulances and—to return the favor—voted to give Upton County and the City of McCamey $25 each per month for either or both of them to operate ambulances.

And so it stands at the moment this is written. Who's on first? Heck, who knows.

Anyway, it's nice to know that there are those about willing to put a little money into the venture.

And, in a more serious trend, it's nice to know that the Commissioners Court is—as it has always been—willing to respond to any reasonable request—and to some not so reasonable. Practically every year, there is a move afoot somewhere in Texas to take away some of the stroke of the Commissioners Courts, either by consolidation or other means.

It speaks well of these bodies that they have managed to keep their own identity through it all, although it gets harder every year. The County Road Commissioner is traditional in Texas. He has long been the one political office holder that the average citizen can approach with a problem and expect to get an answer without a lot of beaucratic red tape.

I, for one, would dread to see the day when this body might be shackled by consolidation or whatever. The County Commissioner is one of the most responsive office holders we have and those who do not respond are short timers in office. It seems to me that that is the basic concept of Democratic government and it would indeed be a tragedy to alter it in any form.

Big 4-H Roundup Slated at A & M

Probably the only thing outnumbering the 1800 4-H Club members at the Texas 4-H Roundup June 2-3 at Texas A&M University will be their talents and hopes.

The 4-H Members will come from every part of the state to compete in over 30 contests and demonstrations. State 4-H officials say that about 600 adults including county and assistant Extension agents, adults 4-H leaders, friends of 4-H, contest donors, and members of the Board of Directors of the Texas Youth Development Foundation will attend the Roundup.

Representing Upton County will be the Livestock Judging team composed of Tommy Johnson of McCamey, Diane Day of Rankin, Jimmie McBee and Tommy Bachelor, both of Midkiff.

All members attending the Roundup have already been named in county and district contests in their demonstrations and judging. State 4-H leaders say that only those members who have won first or second place in district competition are eligible to compete in the State contests.

One of the special activities of the Roundup is an adult leader recognition luncheon where those giving strong support to 4-H will be honored. The Texas 4-H Council Roundup Committee will also meet. On June 3, at 6:30 p.m., a banquet will be held honoring the contest winners and recognizing contest donors.

State leaders add that the Roundup is one of the oldest statewide 4-H gatherings in the nation and traces its beginning back to near the turn of the century before 4-H officially became the youth phase program of the Cooperative Extension Service.

Reflections . . .

by Ann Richardson

Have you ever considered what an inhuman world this would be without the "senior citizens" of our society? If you have ever had the privilege of listening to one of the older generations tell about events long passed then you will understand what I mean. Through them we have the opportunity of learning things that are not included in history books since history books deal only with dry facts whereas our senior citizens add the human factor in their remembrances.

From the time a child is old enough to understand, he should be taught to have respect for his elders and that the older a person is, the more respect he should be shown. Remember, it took a great deal of experience, mistakes and heartbreaks, plus a lot of wisdom to reach the age they possess!

Never should we allow ourselves to become so over-protective toward our elders that we cause them to feel as though they are not needed because the older a person becomes, the more he needs to be needed! We must remember that while years may wrinkle the skin, it is lack of interest and not being needed that wrinkles the soul and dulls the mind.

Our senior citizens do not want to be waited on hand and foot; rather, they need to feel that they have not outlived their usefulness because as long as a person lives he has something to contribute to those around him. They know that a person cannot be busy and feel sorry for himself at the same time.

One of the worse things that can happen to an older person—indeed, to any of us—is to lose all sense of direction in life and feel that there is no place left to go. We must try to prevent this from happening.

Above all else, we must learn to never count a person's years until there is nothing else to count.

REPORT

from Austin

by
GEORGE BAKER
 Representative, 66th District
 Home Address: Ft. Stockton

The sprawling 66th legislative district, covering over 17,000,000 acres of 13 fine West Texas counties, will cease to exist if the House redistricting bill passed in a marathon session Friday is finally enacted into law and with stands promised court suits.

Originally created as a collection of small counties (small only in population) which were left over after single-county districts were created in Tom Green and Midland in 1965, the district became the victim of the one man-one vote balancing act theory imposed by court decisions.

The result Friday was that it was chopped in several pieces to fill out other population deficits and only five counties of the original 13 remain—Brewster, Terrell, Pecos, Crane and Upton. With slightly more than 32,000 people between them, they have been attached to a segment of Midland county and city which contains approximately 40,000 — for a total of 72,000 plus to meet minimum number tolerance.

Ward, Jeff Davis and Presidio counties go to fill out the deficits in Rep. Richard C. Slack's 69th district. They are added to Culberson, Hudspeth, Reeves, Loving, Winkler and a portion of Ector which he now serves.

On the east end of the present 66th district, Irion, Reagan and Coke counties were attached to Hilary Doran's 65th district, with Coke connected to Irion by the "Tom Green Panhandle" to maintain a continuous boundary for the district.

Rep. Doran, of Del Rio, represents the state's second largest land mass already, and it will be considerably larger under the new plan, in which he is handed Val Verde, Kinney, Maverick, Edwards, Cracker, Sutton, Schleicher and part of Uvalde, while dropping Menard and Concho.

Both of these men are experienced legislators. Both know the problems shared by all the counties of West Texas.

Two counties, Sterling and Glasscock, are attached to a part of Midland county (that portion not included in the 66th) and in turn linked to Mitchell, Nolan and part of Taylor county to form a largely new 71st district. Resident members of the new district are Representatives Tom Craddick of Midland and Grant Jones of Abilene.

Debate on the appropriation bill took many hours, because of many amendments proposed for changes here and there. I voted for an early amendment which raised a question of interpretation of the state constitution on the time for redistricting, and provides a possibility that the job cannot be done legally until 1973. This would preserve districts as they now are for another session, which would suit me best of all.

It is a fine district to serve and my first preference is to keep the present district exactly as it now is.

I voted against a later amendment to take Glasscock and Reagan counties from the present district and attach them along with Martin to Midland county. I did so because it would take away five of the easternmost counties I now serve, with no provision to balance the lost population.

On final passage I voted for the total plan as the best available for our area under all circumstances, and with the thought that I would like to serve where assigned in a new district which includes a majority of Midland county residents. I welcome the opportunity to serve them since changing conditions and population requirements have voided the previous district.

I would like to express appreciation for the many expressions of support from all over the pre-

Homeowners who have St. Augustinegrass or Bermudagrass in lawns which are turning yellow instead of growing thick and green should look for nitrogen and iron deficiencies in their soil.

The nitrogen deficiency causes a general yellowing of the lawn while the symptoms of iron deficiencies are the yellow, bleached spots in the turf.

Iron deficiencies develop mainly in alkaline soil such as we have in our area.

For the most rapid and effective correction of iron deficiencies, spray applications of iron chelates or iron sulfate. Soil applications are also helpful, but they may not correct severe iron deficiencies.

sent district during the redistricting proceedings.

I would also point out that while legislators will campaign next year in new districts, they still serve the present districts until January, 1973, and to emphasize that I am still just as concerned for the counties about to be lost as for those retained. This office is available to help the officials and citizens of all those 13 counties with their state governmental problems for as long as I remain their representative.

Fertilizer containing phosphorus, and potassium should be applied in the early fall again in the early fall. In addition to this, apply nitrogen as ammonium sulfate at intervals during the season are recommended.

The additional application to maintain vigor, and form growth of the grass.

A soil test is extremely useful in determining exact needs, showing the pH and indicating soil salinity, but there are general guidelines to follow in fertilizing St. Augustine and Bermudagrass.

Applications of the fertilizers in early spring should be made at 10 pounds of nitrogen per 1000 square feet of area. Additional applications during the growing season should be made so that approximately 1000 square feet in each section. Examples of proper application would be five pounds of ammonium sulfate (21 percent nitrogen) per 1000 square feet of area.

 According to the Scripture, Jesus Christ is coming to earth again. Much could be said about this. To say the least, it will be a time of rejoicing only for those who know Him as "Lord". God has given Him the name, "Lord". Have you confessed Him as "Lord"?
 Wherefore God also hath highly exalted Him, and given Him a name which is above every name: That at the name of Jesus every knee should bow, of things in heaven, and things in earth, and things under the earth; and that every tongue should confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the Glory of God the Father.

Longhorn Heards Continue to Grow

SAN ANGELO — Texas' state parks have some of the finest longhorn cattle left in Texas, says Bob Hauser, regional director for parks in the West Texas area. Several of them will be branded and moved this week.

Of the 111 animals now in such parks as Longhorn Caverns, Lyndon B. Johnson, Possum Kingdom, Abilene, Fort Griffin, Palo Duro, Copper and Dinosaur Valley, a total of 31 animals will be selected and branded, then registered.

Before an animal is registered, officials of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department allow it to reach about 18 months of age, then carefully select those with characteristics most like the traditional cattle that populated the early day ranches and trails of the state.

Also this week nine longhorns will be moved from Kerrville State Park to the new Dinosaur Valley State Park near Glen Rose.

CARD OF THANKS

WE, the Rankin Cemetery Association, want to thank the Commissioners Court for the nice shade they built for us to register visitors Memorial Day.
