FORTIETH YEAR

SUDAN, LAMB COUNTY, TEXAS THURSDAY, MARCH 19, 1964

WOODWORK BY DALTON

SOME DAY the United States may find that it's too late to make a decision which should have been made already regarding our policy toward the Russians and other communists.

That decision is this: Should we continue to be a big, good-natured soft touch and let the Reds shoot down our planes, murder our servicemen, and take over nations we had promised to protect, while we react merely by sending them so-called "stern notes of protest"? Or should we get tough, and shoot back every time we're shot at, and run the definite risk of starting a big war which might in truth end all wars (and all people)?

The reason we never have come to a decision is because there is too much divided opinion on the problem. Nobody wants war. But it is sickening to read about U. S. planes being shot down and shollers ambushed, etc., while we do nothing about it. We at least should arm all our planes in the Russian vicinity with strict instructions to shoot only when fired upon, but to shoot to kill when that happens. The men in service deserve that privilege of self-protection, anyway.

WE HAVE application blanks at the office for anyone wishing to run for the title of South Plains Maid of Cotton. Deadline is March 25; the contest is April 10-11. Officials state that a candidate must never have been married, be not less than 19 years old next Jan. 1, and be at least 5-5 1/2 without shoes. I guess that Hoyt Robertson would qualify, but I can't see him appearing in a contest barefooted.

Traffic Slaughter Sets New Mark

Texas' motorists, barreling along the streets and highways at a clip of 99,000 miles each minute, killed themselves at the rate of one person every three hours and 12 minutes to rack up the worst year in history for traffic tragedy in 1963.

Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, reported this week that DPS Statistical Services' officially closed the traffic death book for 1963 at noon last Sunday, recording an all-time record of 2,729 motorcides.

"This tragic toll of lives was 308 or 13 per cent higher than in 1962, and 129 or five per cent higher than the previous all-time high of 2,611 in 1966," Garrison said.

"We are shocked and saddened by this terrible loss of human life in our state, which was accompanied by untold suffering among an estimated 161,000 persons who were injured, and a staggering economic loss of $432,715,000.

"The records consistently reflect that two things stand out in general as the leading causes for serious traffic accidents—carelessness and willful or unwitting disregard for the laws of safety.

"Therefore, we wish to issue an urgent appeal to all Texans to charge themselves with the responsibility of doing a better job of alert driving and thus bring down this terrible toll of lives and suffering and economic loss in our state."

Scripture: St. John 12: 12-18, 24-27; St. Luke 19: 36-40; 22: 39-46.

"Hosanna: Blessed is the King of Israel that cometh in the name of the Lord."

On this week before Palm Sunday we can read in any of the four Gospels (Matthew, Mark, Luke and John) of the agony and suffering of Jesus in making preparation to face death on the Cross. Jesus was not afraid of just the physical pain of death, terrible as it was. His agony in the Garden of Gethsemane was not an unwilling fear of death.

Jesus knew when He went to the cross that as a sacrifice for all our sins (offering for sin) He would become sin (guilty for our guilt). And Jesus knew that no sin can come into the holy presence of God; so as He became sin, He knew God would go away from Him.

Jesus then became sin willingly for our sakes, since there was no other way for us to ever get back to the Father. Lost without God, He cried "My God, My God, Why hast Thou forsaken me." If we stand still and look at Jesus we can see so clearly that He had become sin, for your sake and mine.

How shall we escape if we neglect so great salvation, indeed! Yes, the Father's face was hid from Jesus. He looked away from Jesus, and looked straight at me—and at you. Did Jesus die in vain for you?

The crowds hailed Jesus, waving palm branches and crying Hosanna, when they thought He was riding into Jerusalem to set up His Kingdom. True, Jesus was about to be glorified, but not as King of this earth as the crowds anticipated. So, later in that same week, the crowds yelled "Crucify Him!"

The way of the cross leads Home — the only way Home for you and me, following Jesus. (Do you know how to follow Him? Start right where you are; seek Him, in prayer, in God's word, in thought, in actions like Jesus. Learn of Jesus.)

Jesus said (St. Matthew 7:14) "Because strait is the gate, and narrow is the way, which leadeth into Life, and few there be that find it: You can be among that "few", or you can be with the crowd that goes down the broad way which leads to destruction and hell. It is now up to you to choose. Jesus has paid for your sins (bought your ticket to Heaven), and for almost 2000 years He has been held high so all could see Him. Your part to do is to accept Jesus as your sin-offering, Your Savior, a free gift from God, or else His buying your eternal life with His life is wasted. I plead with you to make a choice now to go the way of the cross, following Jesus. It is not always an easy way, sometimes a terribly difficult upward path, but the narrow way is also the challenge, of joy and peace. And Jesus is always there to forgive, to have mercy, to help you up if you fall. The joy of His presence makes His power real to us, and sufficient for any and every trial or triumph!

Choose Jesus, that such love as Jesus has for you might not be ignored or passed by. Jesus! For He is the only way into life eternal—the way is narrow; just wide enough for you and Jesus. Be careful; think of this; and don't miss the way. Take Jesus and He will never leave you nor forsake you, and will guide you upward all the way Home.

Halfway Research Station Work Respected In Area

In only seven years the High Plains Research Foundations at Halfway has carved a monumental niche in the area's agricultural landscape.

Since January, 1957, when the research program got underway, the Foundation has become a virtual byword among farmers and agri-businessmen in the Panhandle, South Plains, and in western New Mexico. Foundation research has been a vital factor in the continuing climb of the area's agricultural economy.

The High Plains Research Foundation was born in late 1956, thanks to the efforts of the late Clyde Bray of Muleshoe and a nucleus of farmers who were interested in having more information on crops, soil and water conservation, fertilizer, and cultural practices.

They had visited the Texas Research Foundation at Renner, north of Dallas, and liked what they saw. These men felt that the free enterprise research accomplishments achieved at Renner could pay off in a similar manner for farmers on the High Plains.

They interested such men as Jesse Osborn, Bill Millen, Robert King and others in the project and they also helped to spread the word. In July 1956, Renner representatives met with area farmers and their interest convinced the men from Renner of their need.

C. H. Janeway was assigned from Renner to help in organizing a small station as a branch of the Texas Research Foundation. First money for the project was raised in Muleshoe, Progress, Y. L. Bula, Springlake and Bevisia.

The idea found fertile ground and in October 1956, the organization was completed with 60 representatives from 26 counties. They purchased the headquarters farm at Halfway after comparing the 310-acre site with dozens of others over the High Plains. It was selected chiefly because it contained both Amarillo clay loam and Pullman clay soils, representative of 60 percent of the tillable soils in the area.

Initial research got underway in Jan. 1957, with a staff of five, headed by Dr. Tom Longnecker, the Foundation's first Director.

In 1959 the station became independent and all properties were transferred to the present

High Plains Research Foundation.

The staff and work load have increased considerably since 1957. As the Foundation enters its eighth year, the staff totals 22 members working on approximately 75 research projects.

The Board of Trustees has also grown and now boasts 98 men who guide the Foundation's activities.

Philosophy of the Foundation is a simple one: Its only goal is to improve the agricultural economy of the High Plains, thus improving the living standards of the area's farmers and agri-businessmen. In short, it is designed to help put dollars in their pockets.

SHORT AND SWEET

The egg and rabbit as symbols of the Easter season derive from the ancient festival of the Norsemen called Ostara or Eastre which commemorated the birth and divinity of spring. . . They represent the life-giving force in the reproduction of new species. . . Coloring for Easter eggs was originally practiced to capture the beauty given off by the rays of the Aurora borealis, northern lights and dawning hues of the sun. . .

Rubies and sapphires are basically the same stone; corundum, second only to the diamond in hardness.

The dictionary is the only place where success comes before work.

Although Americans spend more than $2.4 billion annually on dentist bills, the entire country is not footing the bill—about one-third of the population never darkens the door of a dentist's office.

Let you and me, my brother, be what we feel that we would want the other fellow to really truly be:

Enjoy Gulf Coast pleasures

General Telephone invites you to visit the Texas Gulf Coast where we serve many waterfront towns, including Aransas Pass, Ingleside, Palacios, Port O'Connor, and Port Lavaca. This area is world-famous for salt water fishing, and offers the ideal holiday blend of blue sky, pounding surf and warm sand. It is one of the many places to go, things to see in General Telephone Country. If your community has visitor attractions, perhaps we can help you develop them.
