WOODWORK

BY DALTON

THERE HAS been no Woodwork column for the last two weeks. Because of the limitations of space and lack of interest we have been considering dropping this feature. However, the ensuing storm of protests has caused us to reconsider (one person mentioned it).

The following column actually was written for use last week, but we didn't have room. After reading it over, I decided a week's delay didn't hurt it any. It didn't help it any, either.

IN THE LAST few days, I have listened to the radio a little bit more than usual, mainly because I have been on the road some, and in the car is about the only time I ever listen to radio.

On a trip to Oklahoma City (pulling a crashed airplane on the back of a cotton trailer at 35 mph ... getting a ticket ... running onto dirt roads, etc. ... but this is another story) I heard something which I believe is considered a song.

This thing is called (I think) "Busch Bavarian", but it wasn't a wine commercial. It is a tender, sentimental ballad about a guy standing on top of a mountain yodeling, when a bird flies into his mouth. There's no music involved, and it's pretty awful, except that some of the words are sorta funny. Especially the part about the girl friend named Heidi.

ELSEWHERE on radio, I heard an interesting discussion by Robert Abernathy, NBC, about grocery stores. This probably isn't news to any of our local grocers, but he noted that only 12 per cent of all the grocery stores in the U.S. are classified as super markets (any store doing more than $500,000 in business per year).

However, he pointed out, these 12 per cent do 69 per cent of all the business. He also noted that quite a few of the "mom and pop" kind of grocery stores have gone out of business recently.

He even included a comment that supermarket people would like it very much if husbands did all the buying, because most men are "impulse buyers". By that he meant that men have a tendency to throw into the basket practically everything they see that they might like. That's why many of our wives don't want us to accompany them to the grocery.

THE LAST RADIO bit that I recall this week was a commentary by one Earl Nightingale on KGNC, Amarillo, about the word "panophobia". This is a word the big brains have come up with to describe the common feeling of "fear of everything". He says that's what many of us have who constantly experience an uneasy fear, accompanied by a lump in the stomach, that something bad is about to happen. In other words, lots of folks are afraid, but they don't know what it is they are afraid of.

All I got to say is that anyone who lives in today's strife and turmoil and isn't scared at all just doesn't understand the situation.

1917 Postoffice Fixtures 'Back Home' In Sudan

Sudan's wandering postoffice has returned home after a 40-year visit to Fieldton.

One might think that after 40 years, Fieldton would have the most claim to the old fixtures, but they really and truly belong to Sudan, because the panel of postoffice boxes surrounding a tiny window originally were built in 1917 for the first postoffice ever operated in Sudan.

"We kept track of the old fixtures all through the years," said L. E. Slate, who was Sudan's second postmaster and who used the fixtures from 1919 to 1923. "And when Fieldton stopped using them in 1963, we started trying to get them back."

Slate now has the panel of fixtures, about five feet square, at his home, and some of the names on the back of the 40 boxes — written in pencil 40 to 47 years ago — still are plainly legible and read like a roster of Sudan settlers.

The fixtures were built in 1917 and set up in the Sudan Hotel building, which had been constructed by the land company selling acreage around Sudan. Mrs. P. E. Boesen was first postmaster, and Slate became postmaster when the Slaters purchased the store business and moved the fixtures to their Sudan Mercantile, located where OK Tire Shop now stands.

"I was the postmaster, and Mrs. Slate did most of the work," he smiled. The old fixtures today are just as they were then. The center of the panel is the general delivery call window, only 9 by 13 inches, and the boxes run up and down each side. There are eight boxes with combination locks, and 32 call boxes.

When in use at Fieldton, the boxes had name tabs inserted at back for postmaster's reference, but when these tabs were removed, many of the original boxholders' names are still readable, although written years ago in pencil on the wood.

Among those names of early users of the postoffice here were these: L. P. Hamilton, Chris Furness, William Furness, W. G. Lenderson, J. H. Powell, Joe D. West, E. L. Weldon, B. F. Carpenter, R. N. Triplett, George Watkins, A. L. Davis, Simon D. Hay, Joe Wilkerson, P. E. Boesen, Perry Bates, Ves Garner, Ray and Ralph Noel and J. M. Carnuth.

The little panel constituted almost all of the post office facilities in those days, and it's quite a contrast to the modern operation of the Sudan postoffice of 1964, with its ZIP code processing, stamp canceling process, etc. But the postoffice must bring back fond memories of bygone days to folks like Wilkerson and West, the Slaters, Mrs. C. M. Furness, Mrs. Hay, and others who are still around Sudan.

BACK AGAIN — It's been quite a while since the L. E. Slaters, shown here, have operated the Sudan postoffice, but when they did so back around 1920, these same fixtures were used. The eight lock boxes are on the left, and the others are look-in boxes. At right, Slate demonstrates the "solitary confinement" look by peering through the tiny 9x13 call window. (Beacon-News Photo)

Cards Lead Loop

The Sudan Cardinals won two games in the last week to move into first place in the Intercity Little League, with the Angels and Braves close behind.

In one of the better games of the season, the Angels defeated the Sudan Dodgers 3-0 Saturday, with Alan Black of the winners and Shawn Potter engaged in a tight pitching duel. On the same night, the Cards outslugged the Amherst Cubs 21-9 despite a 3-run homer by Young of the Cubs. Winning pitcher was Steve Edwards, and Jerry Bellar and his brother Roger each hit home runs for the winners.

On Friday night the Cards won behind Jerry Bellar's pitching against the Dodgers, 24-6. The Dodgers were hit by the loss of one of their batting stars, Van Wallace, who suffered a broken leg last Thursday night when he was struck by a car. Wallace hit two home runs in his last game.

The Braves won a close one from the Cubs Tuesday night, as Larry Black's home run gave them a margin in a 5-3 ball game. Winning pitcher was Mickey Johnson and the loser was Gary Robinson.

Sudan Pee Wee ball teams got organized recently and the two Sudan teams played each other Saturday, with the Blues beating the Reds 11-5. Eddie Powell pitched for the Blues, and the Reds used several pitchers. One of the Red pitchers, Andy Perez, pitched shutout ball, but the others gave up the 11 runs.

Skinny Gage, one of the managers of the Pee Wees, said the managers had agreed that a boy must be accompanied to each game by a parent or guardian in order for him to be eligible to play in that game.

Sudan and Amherst Colt League teams will begin their schedule next week, with Sudan to play REA at Amherst, which Sudan is using for its home field, at 8 p. m. Tuesday. Amherst opens its schedule with Sudan as the opponent.

Farmers Can Market Peas

A new plant for processing peas is being installed at Sudan Elevators, and will provide a close market for farmers in this region who want to grow peas as an additional money crop.

Edwin Brown of Littlefield and J. H. Vincent of Sudan reported that Brown has leased facilities located at Sudan Elevators and is now in the process of installing the new plant.

"What we're doing is giving the farmers who want to grow peas a handy market for them," Brown said. He pointed out that peas have been grown in this area on a limited scale for some time, and that Lamb County soil is well suited to growing peas of practically every variety.

"We even have some contracts for growing peas available," Brown said. Seed is also available at the Sudan Elevators, or from Western Mills in Sudan.

MUMPS CAUSE BUMPS IN BAPTIST SCHEDULE

Sudan First Baptist Church this week postponed its annual Vacation Bible School to June 8, because so many workers and prospective students have the mumps. The information was reported by one of the Bible School workers, who passed the word along for the minister, Rev. Willie Hazel, who was not available.

The reason? He also has the mumps.

Visiting Tuesday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Curry were Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Pike, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Curry, and Mrs. Alta Sanders all of Lubbock. They were here to attend commencement exercises when the Curry's daughter, Dyanna, was a member of the graduating class.

Scripture: St. Luke 16: 19-31; St. John 3: 7-8, 16; 11: 25-26.
IF A MAN DIE, SHALL HE LIVE AGAIN?
If you are man, unless you are a complete fool, you want to know the answer to the above question. If you have the answer, then all other problems of today are only incidental.
I know the answer! And I want to share that answer with you, for both of us, you and I, are of the same family of Man. And, we need to know where we are going into death, into eternity. If a man die, shall he live again? Yes, he shall live again! For as in Adam all die (spirit and body) even so in Christ shall all be made alive (spirit and body!) —I Corinthians 15:22. So, Jesus is the one, the only one who can give us abundant, eternal light and life—yet the soul, the spirit of man never dies!

When I think of man, any man, living eternally in a slimy, evil, dark, remorseful, burning hell, I cry—out within me "Oh, my God, have mercy on me, and on my fellowman!" God cried out, too, and loved us so deeply he could not bear to see us go away from Him, so He came down in Jesus, His only begotten Son, to die for our sins—to give us a new chance to live in love and joy and happiness and peace eternally with Him again! "For God so loved the world, that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life."

So, God has done everything (and continues to have mercy on us, giving each and everyone their opportunity over and over again to make their own personal choice), even to dying for us, to keep man out of hell and to freely give us the Kingdom—if we will choose Jesus and in repentance give ourselves back to Him.
So, make your choice, and weigh this thought carefully: which is the most important, to have riches and many things in this world (physical life is only a 100 years or so, at most) and then spending an eternity with the devil in the hell prepared for him and his demons—or to suffer awhile on earth going the way of sacrifice and giving of yourself in service to others, following Jesus. And living in riches and glory eternally with God, the Father! And, even in this present suffering and life of trial or pain, He gives us greater joy in His loving assurance of what is truly ours!
If a man die, shall he live again? You may say "How can you know this answer for sure, for you have never seen God face to face?" And I say that you have never seen the wind, either, but when the trees blow back and forth, (and in West Texas when the sand starts moving) you know there is wind. Even so, I have seen and felt and heard the evidence that Jesus saves! I know Him, for He has saved my soul, and now I am His, a born-again child of God! Now as I walk with Him, He continually cleanses me and renews my strength day by day, by His Word His presence, His loving assurance in being always in me, and abiding with me, as He said, Now, I can obey, understand, and please God, for I am His and He is mine!

If a man die, shall he live again? Yes! I know this is so, for Jesus Christ said:
I am the resurrection, and the life; he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live; and whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die. Believest thou this?
I believe — do you?

the truth, and the life; no man cometh to the Father but by me." — St. John 14:6.
